- Registered his first career 2 INT game at NE (10/25), picking off both Patriots QB Cam Newton and Patriots QB Jarrett Stidham. GOLDMINE

- In June of 2019, Taylor returned to Helix High in La Mesa, CA, to host the Jamar Taylor Skills and Drills Football Camp. The camp, which was free to participants, was open to kids ages 8-18. Taylor, who also hosted the camp in 2017, walked the children through various drills and workouts. After the on-field work, Taylor and various NFL players joined the attendees in the classroom to have a discussion panel. "We want to teach the kids as much as possible, but also I'm going to be real with them. I'm not going to sugar coat nothing," said Taylor. "A lot of people tell them what they want to hear. That's not what this camp is about but that doesn't mean they can't have some fun."

TAYLOR'S GOLDEN NUGGETS

- Participated in football, basketball and track & field at Helix (La Mesa, CA) HS.
- Taylor and his wife, the former Mackenzie Flanagan, were both student athletes at Boise State. While Taylor was a member of the football team, Flanagan was a record-setting sprinter as a member of the track & field team.

GOLDMINE (CONTINUED)

- Despite plans to host his youth football camp in the summer of 2020, Taylor had to rethink his approach due to the COVID-19 outbreak. Taylor decided to move his camp onto a virtual platform, expanding on various skills he's learned. He launched the Jamar Taylor Life Skills Academy, which included four free virtual workshops for high school students, taking place in June and July of 2020. The workshops included resume building, interview preparation with mock interviews, networking advice and more. Additionally, Taylor spoke about the financial aspects of being a student athlete and later a professional athlete, touching on subjects like scholarships and the importance of building credit. "One thing we talked about this year was, 'How is our camp going to be better than last year?'" said Taylor. "Last year, we did a thing where we had NFL players come and they did a panel, so this year we wanted to add a financial part of it."
