GOLDMINE

- The 49ers hosted a flag football clinic for local first responders and their children at the team facility on October 23, 2018. Powell and his teammates taught the children the fundamentals of the game before hitting the field for drills and games. The 100-plus guests also had the opportunity to try on equipment and participate in a photoshoot.

- Powell credits his high school football coach and former Kansas City Chiefs defensive back, Sean Williams, for playing a major role in elevating his game to where it is today. While at Bedford (OH) High School, Powell considered getting a job and no longer playing sports since no one he knew had ever earned a college scholarship. Coach Williams reassured him if he put in the work he could be a guy that kids in the Cleveland area look up to for years to come. "He just pushed me really hard to see how tough I was mentally. He just wanted to see if I really wanted what I said I wanted," said Powell who went on to earn a scholarship and play three seasons at Ohio State before entering the NFL in 2016. After winning the 2015 College Football National Championship, Powell returned to Bedford with the Championship trophy.

POWELL'S GOLDEN NUGGETS

- Won the 2015 College Football Playoff National Championship with the Buckeyes.
- In an attempt to improve his speed on the football field at Bedford High School, went from playing baseball to running track.
