CINCINNATI BENGALS (11-4)

REGULAR-SEASON WEEK 18
 SUNDAY, JAN. 8
 AT PAYCOR STADIUM

NEXT UP:
 AFC PLAYOFFS

GAME NOTES

Kickoff: 1 p.m. Eastern.

Television: The game will air on CBS-TV. In the Bengals' home region, it will be carried by WKRC-TV (Ch. 12) in Cincinnati, WHIO-TV (Ch. 7) in Dayton and on WKYT-TV (Ch. 27) in Lexington. Broadcasters are Kevin Harlan (play-by-play), Trent Green (analyst) and Melanie Collins (sideline reporter).

Radio: The game will air on the Bengals Radio Network, led by Cincinnati flagship stations WLW-AM (700), WCKY-AM (1530) and WEBN-FM (102.7). Broadcasters are Dan Hoard (play-by-play) and Dave Lapham (analyst).

Setting the scene: Cincinnati takes on the Baltimore Ravens in Week 18 on Sunday at Paycor Stadium. Winners of their last seven games, the Bengals have clinched a postseason berth for a second consecutive year and now look to tie the team record for wins in a regular season with 12.

Cincinnati's Week 17 contest against the Buffalo Bills was postponed shortly after beginning. As the Bengals now shift their focus to an AFC North Division rival, they remain one of the NFL's hottest teams, having won seven in a row following a 4-4 start. A victory over Baltimore would match the 2015 Bengals for the longest winning streak within a season in team history.

"I've always sat up here with the confidence that, even when things were tough at the beginning of the year, that we were going to continue to rise to the expectations," said head coach Zac Taylor last week. "I've seen that from the team all the way through."

Cincinnati clashes with a Ravens team that won the first matchup — 19-17 in Week 5 at M&T Bank Stadium — which was largely fueled by Baltimore's 155 rushing yards. A two-yard sneak from Burrow had put the Bengals ahead 17-16 with just under two minutes left, but the Ravens responded with a 50-yard drive to set up a game-winning 43-yard field goal by K Justin Tucker as time expired.

This week's game features some notable matchups of highly ranked units against each another. Cincinnati's offense, which comes in averaging 26.1 points per game (No. 6 in the NFL) faces a Baltimore defense that is yielding just 18.0 points (No. 3). Meanwhile, the Ravens' rushing attack is churning out 163.1 yards on the ground per contest (No. 2), and will go against a Bengals run defense that allows 106.4 yards (No. 5).

The series: The series is relatively even, with Baltimore currently leading, 28-25. The Bengals, however, have won two of the last three matchups. Here are some series notes:

- When Cincinnati took a 23-22 series lead in Week 2 of the 2018 season, it was the first time the Bengals had led the series since after the first of two meetings of 1998, when they were up 3-2. That lead didn't last long, however, as the Ravens have won five of the last seven meetings and currently own a three-game advantage.
- The Ravens swept the Bengals in two consecutive seasons (2019 and '20) before the Bengals swept the Ravens in '21. Prior to 2019, the Ravens had not swept the Bengals since 2011.
- The Bengals' 2021 sweep of the Ravens was their first since 2015.
- It hasn't been an easy series for the visiting team. The Bengals lead 16-10 in Cincinnati, and the Ravens lead 18-9 in Baltimore.
- Since 2010, 15 of the teams' 25 meetings have been one-score decisions, by eight or fewer points.

Complete Bengals-Ravens series results are on page 220 of the 2022 Bengals Media Guide.

Team bests from the series:

Bengals — MOST POINTS: 42, in a 42-29 win in 2005 at Paycor Stadium (then known as Paul Brown Stadium). LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 24, in the Bengals' 41-17 win at M&T Bank Stadium in 2021. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 7 (three times), most recently in a 17-7 win in 2009 at Cincinnati.

Ravens — MOST POINTS: 49, in a 49-13 win at Cincinnati in 2019. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 37, in a 37-0 win at Baltimore in 2000. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 0 (four times), most recently on Sept. 10 in the Ravens' 20-0 win in the 2017 season-opener at Cincinnati.

The last meetings: A summary of the most recent Bengals-Ravens meeting — on Oct. 9 at Baltimore — is on page 20 of this news release.

Bengals career records watch: Here is a look at potential upcoming movement on the Bengals' career records lists (includes regular season information only):

- HB Joe Mixon has 5351 career rushing yards, 70 shy of FB Pete Johnson (5421) for fourth place all-time. Mixon in 2021 passed Cedric Benson (4176).
- Mixon had four rushing TDs in Game 9 vs. Carolina, moving his career total to 39. That surpassed HB James Brooks and FB Larry Kinnebrew (37 each) for fourth place all-time. FB Pete Johnson (64), HB Rudi Johnson (48), and HB Corey Dillon (45) hold the top three spots on the team's career list.

- Mixon also has 14 career games with 100 or more rushing yards, tied with FB Pete Johnson for fifth place all-time. HB Corey Dillon (28), HB Rudi Johnson (19), HB James Brooks (17), and HB Cedric Benson (15) hold the top four spots on the team's career list.

- Mixon in Game 1 vs. Pittsburgh had 27 rushing attempts and surpassed Cedric Benson (1109) for fifth place all-time. Mixon currently has 1303 career rushing attempts and is 41 behind James Brooks (1344) for fourth place all-time.

- QB Joe Burrow has 16 career games of 300 or more passing yards, one shy of QB Carson Palmer (17) for fourth place all-time. QBs Andy Dalton (28), Boomer Esiason (23), and Ken Anderson (19) hold the top three spots on the team's career list.

- WR Tyler Boyd in Game 8 surpassed WR Cris Collinsworth (417) for fifth place all-time on the team's career receptions list. Boyd currently has 441 career receptions and trails WRs Chad Johnson (751), A.J. Green (649), Carl Pickens (530), and T.J. Houshmandzadeh (507) on the Bengals' all-time list.

Records vs. Ravens: In the first Bengals-Ravens game, Nov. 3, 1996 at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium, head coach Bruce Coslet's Bengals overcame what still stands today as the largest deficit (18 points) to win a regular-season road game in franchise history. The Ravens led 21-3 at halftime, but Cincinnati rallied for a 24-21 win on a 39-yard Doug Pelfrey field goal at the final gun. Not until last year's AFC Championship did the Bengals finally match that road feat (overcoming a 21-3 deficit to earn a berth in Super Bowl LVI).

The Bengals' second-biggest regular-season comeback in a road win also was set at Baltimore. On Dec. 5, 2004 at M&T Bank Stadium, Cincinnati rallied from a 20-3 deficit to win 27-26. The Bengals matched that 17-point deficit comeback earlier this season when they came back from being down 17-0 to win 34-23 on Dec. 18 at Tampa Bay.

Also:

- On Nov. 22, 1998 in Cincinnati, Ravens RB Priest Holmes rushed for 227 yards, the most ever recorded against the Bengals in a game.

- On Sept. 23, 2001 in Cincinnati, Ravens QB Elvis Grbac attempted 63 passes, the most ever against the Bengals in a game.

- The Bengals record for kickoff return yardage in a game (228 yards) was set at Baltimore by HB Brandon Bennett on Nov. 10, 2002. Bennett had a 94-yarder for a TD.

- Also on Nov. 10, 2002, Ravens CB Lamont Brightful recorded the longest punt return ever against Cincinnati, a 95-yarder for a TD.

- K Shayne Graham kicked a Bengals-record seven field goals — for all of Cincinnati's scoring — in a 21-7 win at Baltimore on Nov. 11, 2007. Graham did not have a missed attempt. The NFL record for field goals in a game is eight, set by Rob Bironas of Tennessee in 2007, and Graham is one of nine players sharing second place with seven.

- On Nov. 30, 2008 against the Ravens in Cincinnati, P Kyle Larson punted 11 times, which is tied with three other instances for most in a game in team history. Larson's 480 yards punting that day also stand as the third-most for a single game in Bengals history.

- In the 2014 season opener at Baltimore, Bengals K Mike Nugent tied the NFL record for field goals in a half (five; still tied). His five in the first half gave the Bengals a 15-0 lead toward an eventual 23-16 win.

- On Jan. 3, 2021, the Ravens set a record for most net rushing yards against the Bengals in a single game with 404. That total shattered the previous mark of 313, which had stood since 1969.

- In last season's second Cincinnati-Baltimore meeting on Dec. 26, Bengals QB Joe Burrow set a new team record for most passing yards in a game with 525, which was the fourth-highest single-game total in NFL history. Burrow, who eight games earlier in the season had recorded 416 passing yards against the Ravens, became first QB in NFL history to top 400 passing yards against the same opponent twice in one regular season, and his 941 combined passing yards against the Ravens were the most ever by an NFL QB against the same opponent in one regular season. The Bengals' 498 net passing yards also set a new Bengals team record and were the most ever against the Ravens in a game.

Individually vs. Ravens: Past offensive performances by current Cincinnati players in Bengals games against the Ravens include (ordered by total games played):

- WR Tyler Boyd: 13 games; 47 receptions for 636 yards (13.5-yard average) and three TDs; two rushes for 26 yards (13.0); one pass attempt (incomplete).

- HB Joe Mixon: 10 games; 165 rushes for 588 yards (3.6) and three TDs; 27 receptions for 238 yards (8.8) and one TD.

- HB Samaje Perine: Six games; 23 rushes for 120 yards (5.2) and one TD; Seven receptions for 68 yards (9.7).

- TE Drew Sample (Reserve/Injured): Six games; Eight receptions for 48 yards (6.0).

- WR Tee Higgins: Five games; 23 receptions for 318 yards (13.8) and two TDs.

- QB Joe Burrow: Four games; 103-of-149 passing for 1341 yards, eight TDs and three INTs (106.7 passer rating); Nine rushes for 27 yards (3.0) and one TD.

- WR Ja'Marr Chase: Three games; 22 receptions for 376 yards (17.1) and one TD; One rush for zero yards.

- HB Trayveon Williams: Three games; Four rushes for 74 yards (18.5); One reception for three yards.

- QB Brandon Allen: Two games; 21 attempts with six completions, 48 yards and two INTs (0.0 passer rating); One rush for two yards.

- HB Chris Evans: Two games; One rush for one yard.

- TE Hayden Hurst: One game; Six receptions for 53 yards (8.8) and one TD.

Bengals senior defensive assistant Mark Duffner was the head coach at the University of Maryland from 1992-96.

Bengals home now called Paycor Stadium: Cincinnati's Week 1 game against Pittsburgh was the first regular-season contest in newly named Paycor Stadium.

The Bengals and Cincinnati-based Paycor expanded their partnership to include stadium naming rights, further strengthening their shared vision and commitment to the Cincinnati community and driving increased national awareness for both organizations.

Paycor, a leading human capital management (HCM) company, is a cornerstone partner of the Bengals, and has served as the team's official and exclusive HR software provider since 2018. Paycor has been headquartered in Cincinnati for over 30 years and this summer celebrated one year as a public company following a July 2021 IPO.

The Bengals and Paycor hosted a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the stadium on Tuesday, Sept. 6 to unveil new branding and celebrate the partnership. Paycor Stadium branding has been integrated throughout the stadium over the past three months.

The stadium was previously called Paul Brown Stadium, named after one of football's most influential coaches and the founder of the Bengals.

"This is a move that I think my father would have agreed to. He was always for what is best for the team," said Bengals President Mike Brown, son of Paul Brown. "This allows the Bengals to continue to compete at the highest level in the NFL and exemplifies our long-term commitment to the community."

The Jungle is jammin': The four highest-attended home games (and six of the top seven) in Bengals history have occurred in the 2022 calendar year. The Bengals beat the Miami Dolphins in Week 4 in front of a paid attendance of 67,260 at Paycor Stadium, marking the largest crowd for a sporting event in Cincinnati history. That figure surpassed the previous record of 66,277 set in the Wild Card Playoff victory over the Las Vegas Raiders on Jan. 15, 2022.

The attendance figure for Cincinnati's Week 13 win against Kansas City was 66,243, the third-largest in team history. The Bengals' previous home games against Cleveland (66,222), Carolina (66,160) and Atlanta (66,158) rank fourth, sixth and seventh all-time, respectively. Adding in a figure of 65,841 for the season opener vs. Pittsburgh on Sept. 11, the Bengals have welcomed an attendance of over 65,000 in six consecutive regular-season home games for the first time since 2007. That year, Cincinnati hosted over 65,000 in each of its eight regular-season home contests.

Here is a look at the largest home crowds in Bengals franchise history:

Uniform watch: The Bengals are slated to wear black jerseys, black pants (orange stripes) and black socks in Week 18 against Baltimore. Cincinnati is 2-1 when wearing that combination, which was last featured in the team's 42-21 win over Carolina in Week 9.

Cincinnati unveiled new uniforms in 2021, marking the team's first significant uniform redesign since '04. There are three different color options for the current jerseys — black, white and orange. The pants also feature three different options — black with orange stripes, white with orange stripes, and white with black stripes. Options for sock color include black, white and orange.

This year, with the NFL's approval for the use of alternate helmets, the Bengals unveiled a new helmet branded as the "White Bengal," featuring a white base coat and the team's iconic black stripes. The helmet debuted in the Week 4 Thursday Night Football matchup against the Miami Dolphins, which saw the Bengals earn a 27-15 win in front of a white-out crowd at Paycor Stadium. They sported the "White Bengal" again in Week 11, in a 37-30 victory at Pittsburgh.

In the league's revised uniform policy, teams can pair their new helmet with an alternate, classic or Color Rush uniform. To accentuate the "White Bengal" helmet, the Bengals chose to bring back the fan-favorite Color Rush look — a white jersey/pant combination featuring black stripes and black lettering. The team wore the Color Rush uniform seven times from 2016-20.

Here are the Bengals' records in every possible uniform combination (regular season plus postseason):

* — NFL rules allow teams to wear designated alternate jerseys and/or color rush (CR) uniforms and/or throwback uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. Orange is the Bengals' designated alternate jersey. In 2022, Cincinnati may wear its new alternate white helmet with its previous color rush uniform. The Bengals do not have a throwback uniform.

THE HEAD COACHES

Zac Taylor was named the 10th head coach in Bengals history on Feb. 4, 2019. The 2022 season is his fourth in the position.

In 2021, Taylor led Cincinnati to an AFC North Division championship, an AFC championship and a berth in Super Bowl LVI. Working with one of the NFL's top young offenses, he helped guide second-year QB Joe Burrow to a breakout year in which he set team records for passing yardage (4611), TD passes (34) and passer rating (108.3), as well as recording a league-high 70.4 completion percentage. Burrow was named the AP NFL Comeback Player of the Year — becoming the second player in franchise history to do so — after missing the final six weeks of his rookie season due to a knee injury. Taylor also oversaw the rapid rise of first-year WR Ja'Marr Chase, who posted the most receiving yards by a rookie in the Super Bowl era (1455) en route to winning AP Offensive Rookie of the Year honors. Chase and fellow WR Tee Higgins (1091 yards) became the first duo in NFL history to record 1000 receiving yards in the same season before the age of 23. Fifth-year HB Joe Mixon further established himself as one of the NFL's premier backs under Taylor, ranking third in the league in rushing yards (1205) and fourth in rushing TDs (13). Overall, the Cincinnati offense finished the regular season in the top half of the NFL in yards (13th, 361.5 per game), passing yards (seventh, 259.0) and points (eighth, 27.1).

Defensively, the Bengals showed marked improvement from 2020 to '21, improving their league ranking in rushing yards allowed (29th to fifth), total yards allowed (26th to 18th) and points allowed (22nd to 17th).

In 2020, Taylor helped transition Burrow, the No. 1 overall pick in the NFL draft, to the pros, despite the absence of an in-person offseason program due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Burrow had one of the most productive starts to a career by a QB in NFL history before a knee injury ended the rookie's season after 10 games. Still, Burrow's 264 completions were the most ever by an NFL QB through their first 10 career games, while his 404 pass attempts were second and his 2688 passing yards were fifth. Defensively, Taylor oversaw the onboarding of seven new starters, and helped Cincinnati hold opposing passers to just a 62.8 completion percentage (sixth-lowest in the NFL).

In 2019, his first season as head coach, Taylor headed off a wave of early season injuries to lead Cincinnati to second-half turnarounds on both offense and defense. Offensively, the Bengals' per-game rushing average jumped 70.6 yards from the first half of the season (59.5) to the second (130.1), while their per-attempt average jumped 1.26 yards (3.17 to 4.43) and they allowed 10 fewer sacks (29 to 19). The team's top four WRs — Boyd, Alex Erickson, Auden Tate and John Ross III — all posted career-highs in both receptions and receiving yards. Defensively, Cincinnati notched 11 more sacks in the second half of the season compared to the first, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game.

Taylor came to Cincinnati after two seasons (2017-18) with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant wide receivers coach in '17 and quarterbacks coach in '18. In 2018, he helped guide Rams QB Jared Goff to career highs in every major passing category. Goff ranked fourth in the NFL in passing yards and eighth in passer rating. The Rams' QB play was a key component to their offense, which finished the regular season ranked second in the NFL in total net yards (421.1 per game), fifth in net passing yards (281.7), second in scoring (32.9), first in first downs (401) and fifth in third-down percentage (45.0). Los Angeles won the NFC West with a 13-3 regular-season record and advanced to Super Bowl LIII against the New England Patriots.

In 2017, Taylor helped oversee an emerging Rams passing offense that ranked 10th in the NFL in passing yards per game (239.4). Taylor directed a Rams' young receiving corps headed by rookie Cooper Kupp, who finished the season with 62 catches, a team-high 869 receiving yards and five TDs.

Prior to his time with the Rams, Taylor had a one-year stint in the college ranks, serving as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Cincinnati in 2016. Taylor served under head coach Tommy Tuberville at UC.

Taylor broke into NFL coaching in 2012 with the Miami Dolphins as assistant quarterbacks coach. He was elevated to quarterbacks coach from 2013-15, and spent the final five games of '15 as the Dolphins' interim offensive coordinator and primary play-caller, after the team made coaching staff changes.

During his time in Miami, Taylor was instrumental in the development of QB Ryan Tannehill, the team's first-round draft pick in 2012.

Taylor's coaching career began at Texas A&M University, where he served as offensive graduate assistant and tight ends coach under head coach Mike Sherman from 2008-11. The Aggies shared the Big 12 South Championship in 2010 and played in three bowl games during Taylor's time in College Station.

As a player, Taylor began his college career at Wake Forest (2002-03) before transferring to Butler County Community College in Kansas ('04) and then playing his final two seasons ('05-06) at the University of Nebraska. Taylor had a decorated career with the Cornhuskers, setting numerous school records and passing for 5850 yards and 45 touchdowns. In his 2006 senior season, he was named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year after passing for 3197 total yards and leading the Cornhuskers to a 9-3 record, an appearance in the Big 12 Championship Game and a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017.

Taylor joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but he was waived prior to the start of training camp and never saw NFL action. Later that year, he joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League, where he spent one season (did not play).

His father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at the University of Oklahoma, playing under Sooners head coach Barry Switzer from 1976-79. Sherwood Taylor later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State University. Taylor's younger brother, Press, played quarterback at Marshall University and currently is the offensive coordinator for the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Taylor was born in Norman, Okla., on May 10, 1983. After attending Norman High School, he earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from the University of Nebraska in 2006. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children — Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah Taylor is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman.

John Harbaugh is in his 15th season at the helm in Baltimore. He has led the Ravens to a playoff berth in nine (2008-12, '14, '18-20) of his 14 full seasons, and in 2012, captured the franchise's second Super Bowl championship.

Under Harbaugh's guidance, Baltimore is one of six teams with at least nine playoff berths in the past 14 seasons: New England (12), Green Bay (11), Baltimore (nine), Kansas City (nine), Pittsburgh (nine) and Seattle (nine). In their most recent postseason berth of 2020, the Ravens registered an 11-5 regular-season record before falling in the Divisional Round at Buffalo.

In 2019, Harbaugh became the first Ravens coach ever to win the Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year Award. He led the Ravens to the AFC's No. 1 playoff seed and a franchise-best 14-2 record. Baltimore also won a franchise-record 12-straight games to close out the regular season. In 2018, Baltimore (10-6) captured the AFC North Division title, earning a Wild Card playoff berth vs. the Los Angeles Chargers. In 2014, the Ravens posted a 10-6 record en route to capturing a 30-17 victory at Pittsburgh in the Wild Card round.

In 2012, the Ravens seized the franchise's second Super Bowl championship. Baltimore topped the Colts in the Wild Card round and followed that by earning a Divisional round victory over top-seeded Denver before advancing to Super Bowl XLVII with a win in the AFC Championship at New England. In the Super Bowl in New Orleans, the Ravens bested the San Francisco 49ers by a final of 34-31.

In his initial season with the team (2008), Harbaugh led Baltimore to an 11-5 record and a berth in the AFC Championship. Baltimore set an NFL record that season for most total wins (13) by a team with both a rookie head coach and a rookie starting quarterback (Joe Flacco).

Harbaugh spent his first 10 NFL seasons (1998-2007) with the Philadelphia Eagles. He was the team's secondary coach in 2007, after nine seasons as its special teams coordinator. He was voted the 2001 NFL Special Teams Coach of the Year by his coaching peers.

Harbaugh played defensive back at Miami (Ohio) from 1980-83 and earned a degree in political science. He has no pro playing experience. He coached collegiately at Western Michigan (1984-86), Pittsburgh ('87), Morehead State ('88), Cincinnati ('89-96), and Indiana ('97).

Harbaugh was born in Perrysburg, Ohio, on Sept. 23, 1962. He and his wife, Ingrid, have a daughter, Alison.

Harbaugh is the son of longtime college coach Jack. His brother, Jim, is head coach of the University of Michigan and played for the Ravens in 1998. John's sister, Joani, is married to Tom Crean, a longtime college head basketball coach, most recently for the University of Georgia.

Taylor vs. Ravens: The Ravens lead the series, 5-2.

Taylor vs. Harbaugh: Harbaugh leads the series, 5-2.

Harbaugh vs. Bengals: Harbaugh leads the series, 15-14.

BENGALS NOTES

Three Bengals voted to Pro Bowl: QB Joe Burrow, WR Ja'Marr Chase and DE Trey Hendrickson were all voted to the AFC Team for the 2023 Pro Bowl Games. It was the first Pro Bowl nod of Burrow's career, while Chase and Hendrickson both received their second after being selected last season.

Burrow is the sixth QB in Bengals history to be voted to the Pro Bowl, joining Ken Anderson (1975-76, '81-82), Boomer Esiason ('86, '88-89), Jeff Blake ('95), Carson Palmer (2005-06) and Andy Dalton ('11, '14, '16). The third-year pro out of Louisiana State currently ranks second in the NFL in passing TDs (34), fifth in passing yards (4260) and sixth in passer rating (102.3). He has surpassed multiple career milestones this season, including 10,000 passing yards, 75 passing TDs and 1000 pass attempts. Burrow has also thrown at least one TD pass in each of his last 22 regular-season games, the longest active streak in the NFL and longest streak in Bengals history.

Chase leads Cincinnati this season in receptions (79) and receiving TDs (eight), while ranking second in receiving yards (960) despite missing four games due to a hip injury. Earlier this season, he joined Pro Football Hall of Famer Randy Moss as the only players in NFL history with 2000 receiving yards and 20 TD catches under the age of 23. Chase is the seventh player in Bengals history to be voted to the Pro Bowl in each of his first two seasons.

Hendrickson, who is in his second Bengals season after joining the team as an unrestricted free agent in 2021, ranks second on Cincinnati in sacks (six) and third in TFLs (five). He has 33.5 sacks since the start of the 2020 season, the fifth most in the NFL in that span.

Additionally, seven Bengals were voted as alternates for the AFC squad. S

Jessie Bates III is a second alternate, WR Tyler Boyd and HB Joe Mixon are both third alternates, K Evan McPherson is a fourth alternate, and S Vonn Bell, C Ted Karras and DT DJ Reader are fifth alternates. Alternates are added to the event if voted player(s) in their position group are unable to participate. Selections from the two teams reaching the Super Bowl will be among those unable to play, as will players who are not cleared due to injury.

The 2023 Pro Bowl Games take place on Sunday, Feb. 5 at Allegiant Stadium in Las Vegas and will be televised live on ABC and ESPN.

Bengals enjoy unbeaten December: Cincinnati won each of its games in the month of December for the sixth time in team history, defeating Kansas City on Dec. 4, Cleveland on Dec. 11, Tampa Bay on Dec. 18 and New England on Dec. 24. The Bengals previously posted an unbeaten December record in 1970, '73, '78, '84 and '97. However, each of those Cincinnati teams went 3-0 in the month, making this the first time the Bengals played and won four games in December.

2022 also marked the first time in team history that the Bengals went unbeaten through both November and December. They won each of their three November games, becoming the third Cincinnati squad with no losses in that month (1981, '82).

Bengals lead weekly award haul since '21: QB Joe Burrow was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week for Week 16 in recognition of his performance in a 22-18 win at New England. It marked the 13th AFC Player of the Week award won by a Bengals player since the start of the 2021 season, the most weekly honors netted by any NFL team. Kansas City (AFC) and Philadelphia (NFC) are tied for the second-most with 11 each.

DE Trey Hendrickson in Week 3 of this season recorded 2.5 sacks and two forced fumbles in a win at the N.Y. Jets, and became the first Bengal to earn AFC Defensive Player of the Week status since DE Carlos Dunlap in 2019. K Evan McPherson took home AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors in Week 4, when he made both of his two FG attempts including a 57-yarder in the fourth quarter to help beat Miami.

Cincinnati has boasted the AFC Offensive Player of the Week in four of the past 10 weeks dating back to Week 7, when Burrow received the award after passing for 481 yards and three TDs in a win over Atlanta. In Week 9, HB Joe Mixon claimed the honor with a career-high 211 scrimmage yards and five total TDs (four rushing, one receiving) to lead the Bengals to a dominant home victory over Carolina. Burrow won it again in Week 13, when he completed 80.6 percent of his passes and posted a 126.6 passer rating against Kansas City.

Cincinnati is one of three AFC teams this season (Jacksonville, Kansas City) with an Offensive, Defensive and Special Teams Player of the Week. In 2021, Cincinnati garnered five Offensive and two Special Teams Player of the Week awards for a total of seven, tying Arizona (NFC) for the league lead.

Historic second-half performance: The Bengals scored 31 points in the second half of Game 14 at Tampa Bay to overcome a 14-point halftime deficit and earn their sixth straight win. It marked Cincinnati's most points in a second half since Nov. 28, 2004, when it put up 31 in a 58-48 home victory over Cleveland, and tied for the fourth-most second-half points in any game in team history.

The Bengals' record for most points scored after halftime of a game occurred on Dec. 17, 1972, when they scored 45 unanswered points in a road win over the Houston Oilers. Cincinnati held a 16-10 lead at halftime, which then ballooned to 61-10 in the fourth quarter.

Cincinnati's 31 second-half points at Tampa Bay were also in consecutive fashion, as a FG from K Evan McPherson early in the third quarter was quickly followed by three TDs that came off turnovers. In the fourth quarter, the Bengals fielded a punt at their own 38-yard line with just over nine minutes remaining and went on a 13-play, 62-yard scoring drive that chewed up 6:57 of game clock and resulted in TE Mitchell Wilcox's first career TD that secured the win.

Here is a look at the Bengals' highest-scoring second halves in team history:

DATE	OPPONENT	RESULT	2ND-HALF PTS.
Dec. 17, 1972	at Houston Oilers	W, 61-17	45
Dec. 21, 1986	vs. N.Y. Jets	W, 52-21	35
Oct. 29, 1989	vs. Tampa Bay Buccaneers	W, 56-23	35
Nov. 28, 2004	vs. Cleveland Browns	W, 58-48	31
Dec. 18, 2022	at Tampa Bay Buccaneers	W, 34-23	31

2022 Bengals captains: In September, Bengals head coach Zac Taylor announced the team's captains for the 2022 season, which were decided through a players-only vote. Wearing the captains' patch this year are three offensive players, three defensive players and one special teams representative.

On offense, the captains are third-year QB Joe Burrow, sixth-year HB Joe Mixon and seventh-year C Ted Karras. This is Burrow's third consecutive season as a captain and the second straight for Mixon. Karras, who joined the Bengals as a free agent in March, will serve as a team captain for the second time in his career, after doing so with the Miami Dolphins in 2020.

On defense, the captains are seventh-year S Vonn Bell, fifth-year DE Sam Hubbard and seventh-year DT DJ Reader. Bell has been voted a captain in each of his three seasons in Cincinnati, after joining the team as a free agent in 2020. It is the second captain nod for Hubbard and the first for Reader.

The lone captain on special teams is S Michael J. Thomas, who is in his ninth NFL season in 2022. Thomas has earned the respect of each locker room he has been in throughout his career, as this year is his seventh as a team captain while playing for four different teams. He held the title with the Miami Dolphins each season from 2015-17, with the N.Y. Giants from 2018-19, and with the Houston Texans in 2020.

Offense finds rhythm in recent wins: The Bengals have recorded 400 or more offensive net yards five times since Week 7, tied the fourth-most such games in the NFL in that span. The stretch began with a season-high 537 net yards in a 35-17 Week 7 win over Atlanta. That performance was largely fueled by 459 net passing yards, which marked the second-most passing yards in a game by any team this season (Miami, 461 in Week 2), and the third-highest total in Bengals history. QB Joe Burrow was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week after completing 34 of 42 passes for 481 yards and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). He became the third player in NFL history with at least 475 passing yards, three TD passes and one rushing TD in a single game, joining Norm Van Brocklin (Sept. 28, 1951) and Billy Volek (Dec. 19, 2004).

Cincinnati's second-most net yards this season was 464 in Week 9 against Carolina, a 42-21 win. The Bengals did much of their damage on the ground, as their 241 rushing yards were the most by a Cincinnati offense since Oct. 23, 2016 (271 vs. Cleveland). HB Joe Mixon led the way with 153 yards and four TDs on 22 carries (7.0 average), becoming the second straight Bengals player to earn AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors. Mixon's stat line, combined with a one-yard sneak for a TD from Burrow, marked the third time in team history that the Bengals had five rushing TDs in a single game.

In Week 11 at Pittsburgh, another big passing day from Burrow contributed to the Bengals totaling 408 net yards in the 37-30 win. Burrow finished with 355 yards through the air and four TDs, three of which went to HB Samaje Perine to set a single-game record for a Bengals halfback/running back/fullback. WR Tee Higgins recorded season highs in receptions (nine) and receiving yards (148).

Cincinnati relied on a balanced attack to outgun Kansas City in Week 13, recording 431 net yards in the 27-24 victory. Burrow again was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week after completing 80.6 percent of his passes (25 of 31) for 286 yards and two TDs, while WR Ja'Marr Chase had seven catches for 97 yards in his first action since the Atlanta game on Oct. 23. The Bengals also registered 152 rushing yards — its second-highest total this season — led by 106 from Perine.

The Bengals put up 442 net yards in Week 16 at New England, including 303 in the first half to build a 22-0 lead. Burrow completed a career-high 40 passes on 52 attempts for 375 yards and three TDs, and connected with eight different receivers throughout the game. Higgins again crossed the century mark in receiving yardage, finishing with 128 and a TD on eight catches.

Burrow's NFL journey: After being selected No. 1 overall by the Bengals in the 2020 NFL Draft, former Heisman Trophy winner Joe Burrow had one of the most productive starts to a career by a QB in league history, as his 264 completions still count as the most ever by an NFL passer through their first 10 career games, while his 404 pass attempts are the second-most in that same category and his 2588 passing yards are fifth.

In the third quarter of Cincinnati's Week 11 game at Washington, Burrow suffered a season-ending left knee injury, halting a campaign that was on pace to shatter several NFL rookie passing records. He embarked on a rehab process that lasted over eight months and received medical clearance to participate in training camp in 2021.

Shortly after his injury in 2020, Burrow vowed publicly that he would start Cincinnati's '21 season opener. On Sept. 12 vs. Minnesota, not only did he make good on that promise, but he posted then-career highs in passer rating (128.8), completion percentage (74.1) and yards per attempt (9.67) in a Bengals OT win.

Burrow in 2021 completed 366 of 520 passes (70.4 percent) for 4611 yards, 34 TDs and 14 INTs (108.3 rating). His passing yardage, TD pass total and passer rating were all single-season team records. And although the NFL season expanded to 17 games in 2021, Burrow sat out the regular-season finale (rest/knee) and thus played in only 16 games. He was named the NFL's Comeback Player of the Year for 2021, becoming the second player in Bengals history to receive the award (QB Jon Kitna, 2003).

In the postseason, Burrow completed 97 of 142 passes (68.3 percent) for 1105 yards, with five TDs and two INTs (97.3 rating), and became the first No. 1 overall draft pick in NFL history to lead his team to a conference championship game (let alone a Super Bowl berth) in either of their first two seasons.

On July 26, the day before the first official training camp practice of 2022, Burrow was forced to undergo surgery to remove his appendix. He remained involved in team meetings and attended practices on a golf cart during a three-week recovery process, before returning to the field on Aug. 14.

Through 15 games this season, Burrow ranks second in the NFL in passing TDs (34), fifth in passing yards (4260) and sixth in passer rating (102.3).

Joe throws 75th career TD: QB Joe Burrow found WR Tee Higgins in the back of the end zone for a five-yard TD pass in the third quarter of Game 14 at Tampa Bay. It marked Burrow's 75th career TD pass in just his 40th game, making him the fifth-fastest QB in NFL history to throw for 75 TDs.

The third-year signal caller had 13 TD passes in 10 games as a rookie before suffering a season-ending knee injury. In his sophomore campaign, Burrow set a team record with 34 TD passes, which ranked eighth in the NFL. In tying his own single-season record with 34 TD passes in 2022, Burrow is the first QB in Bengals history to throw for 30 or more TDs in multiple seasons.

Game 15 at New England marked the 22nd consecutive regular-season game in which Burrow has thrown at least one TD pass, surpassing Jeff Blake (21 games in 1994-95) for the longest streak in Bengals history. It is also the longest active such streak in the NFL — the second-longest belongs to Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes (20 games). Burrow's performance in Game 15 was the 14th time in his career — and eighth time in his last 17 regular-season games — that he passed for three or more scores. His 34 passing TDs this season rank second in the NFL.

Burrow also joined former Colts QB Andrew Luck as the only players in NFL history with at least 75 TD passes and 10 rushing TDs in their first three seasons. A career-high five of Burrow's 10 rushing TDs have come this season.

Here is a look at the fastest QBs in NFL history — in terms of games played — to reach 75 passing TDs.

PLAYER	TEAM	GAMES TO REACH 75
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	30
Dan Marino	Miami Dolphins	31
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	34
Kurt Warner	St. Louis Rams	35
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	40

Burrow surpasses 11K: QB Joe Burrow surpassed 11,000 career passing yards in Game 14 at Tampa Bay, in what was just his 40th career game. That tied him with Matthew Stafford as the fourth-fastest QB in NFL history to reach 11,000 passing yards. He is the fastest Bengal ever to 10,000 passing yards (36 games), 9000 (33), 8000 (29), 7000 (26), 6000 (23), 5000 (19) and 4000 (16).

Over the last 17 regular-season games in which Burrow has been active (inactive in 2021 finale to rest), he has passed for 5231 yards (307.7 average) and 42 TDs. Burrow's 4260 passing yards through 15 games this season rank fifth in the NFL.

Here's a look at the fastest QBs in NFL history — in terms of games played — to reach 11,000 passing yards:

PLAYER	TEAM	GAMES TO REACH 11,000 YDS
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	37
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	38
Kurt Warner	St. Louis Rams	39
Matthew Stafford	Detroit Lions	40
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	40

Burrow racks up yardage: QB Joe Burrow's 481 passing yards in Game 7 against Atlanta were the second-most by an NFL QB since the start of the 2021 season, trailing only ... Joe Burrow. The former No. 1 overall pick threw for a Bengals-record 525 yards on Dec. 26, 2021 vs. Baltimore, which also marked the fourth-highest single-game total in league history. Only Norm Van Brocklin (554 yards in 1951), Warren Moon (527 in '90) and Matt Schaub (527 in 2012) have put up more yards in a single contest.

In fact, three of the five highest single-game passing yardage totals since the start of last season belong to Burrow. His 446 yards against Kansas City on Jan. 2, 2022 are tied for fifth in that category. That game, he completed five passes of 30 or more yards, including TD throws of 72 and 69 yards to WR Ja'Marr Chase as Cincinnati clinched the AFC North Division title for the first time since 2015.

Burrow has five career games with 400 or more passing yards, surpassing Pro Football Hall of Famer Dan Marino (four) for the most such games by a player in his first three seasons in NFL history. He also has seven career games with at least 350 passing yards and three TD passes, tying former Colts QB Andrew Luck for the second-most in a player's first three seasons in league history. Game 16 at New England marked the 16th time Burrow threw for 300 or more yards, the fifth-most such games in Bengals history. QB Carson Palmer's 17 games of 300-plus yards rank fourth on that list.

Here are most single-game passing yard totals since 2021:

PLAYER (TEAM)	DATE AND OPPONENT	PASSING YDS
Joe Burrow (Cincinnati)	Dec. 26, 2021 vs. Baltimore	525
Joe Burrow (Cincinnati)	Oct. 23, 2022 vs. Atlanta	481
Tua Tagovailoa (Miami)	Sept. 18, 2022 at Baltimore	469
Kirk Cousins (Minnesota)	Dec. 17, 2022 vs. Indianapolis	460
Joe Burrow (Cincinnati)	Jan. 2, 2022 vs. Kansas City	446
Patrick Mahomes (Kansas City)	Nov. 6, 2022 vs. Tennessee	446

Burrow masters the deep ball: QB Joe Burrow in Game 13 vs. Cleveland executed a flea flicker play for a 45-yard TD pass to WR Trenton Irwin in the third quarter. It marked Burrow's 17th career TD pass of 40 or more yards, three more than any NFL QB since he entered the league in 2020.

Burrow also has 12 TD passes of 50 or more yards, the most in the NFL since 2020, and tied with Pro Football Hall of Famers Dan Marino and Fran Tarkenton for the most by any player in league history in his first three seasons.

Six of Burrow's 40-plus yard TD passes came during Weeks 3-8 of this season. In Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets, he hit WR Tyler Boyd for a 56-yard TD on the final play of the first quarter. The following game against Miami, Burrow launched a pinpoint pass down the left sideline that was grabbed by WR Tee Higgins and taken in for a 59-yard score. He threw the game-winning TD pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase in Week 6 at New Orleans, a 60-yard catch and run that gave the Bengals their first lead with 1:57 left. In Week 7 vs. Atlanta, Burrow aired out a 60-yard TD to Boyd just two minutes into the first quarter, and in the second quarter found Chase for a 41-yard score. He connected with Higgins again for a 41-yard TD in the fourth quarter of Week 8 at Cleveland.

Burrow has eight TD passes of 50 or more yards over his last 18 regular-season games, dating back to Week 15 of the 2021 season — the most by any QB in that span. In Game 16 of 2021 vs. Kansas City, he threw TD passes of 72 and 69 yards to Chase in what was a 446-yard passing day that helped Cincinnati clinch the AFC North Division title.

Burrow additionally had an NFL-best 15 TD passes of 30 yards or more during the 2021 regular season. The next closest players in that category were Buccaneers QB Tom Brady (eight), Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes (seven) and then-Seahawks QB Russell Wilson (seven). It counted as a Bengals single-season record, surpassing the previous mark of nine that was shared by Ken Anderson (1973), Boomer Esiason ('89) and Carson Palmer ('06).

Here is a look at the QBs with the most TD passes of 40 or more yards since the start of the 2020 season:

PLAYER	TEAM	40-YARD TDs
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	17
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	14
Russell Wilson	Seattle Seahawks/Denver Broncos	14
Derek Carr	Las Vegas Raiders	13
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	12
Matthew Stafford	Detroit Lions/L.A. Rams	12

Burrow's college connections: Bengals QB Joe Burrow may only be in his third NFL season in 2022, but he has plenty of familiar faces around him in Cincinnati. The Bengals locker room (active roster and practice squad) currently features six players who played with Burrow in college at either Ohio State or LSU. He spent the first three seasons of his collegiate career (2015-17) at Ohio State, including a redshirt year in '15, before transferring to LSU for his final two seasons ('18-19).

Bengals assistant wide receivers coach Brad Kragthorpe was also on the LSU coaching staff in 2018, serving as an offensive analyst during Burrow's first year in Baton Rouge.

Here's a look at the Bengals who played with Burrow in college, along with the years they played together:

NAME	POSITION	SCHOOL	SEASONS WITH BURROW
Eli Apple	CB	Ohio State	2015
Vonn Bell	S	Ohio State	2015
Ja'Marr Chase	WR	Louisiana State	2018-19
Sam Hubbard	DE	Ohio State	2015-17
Keandre Jones*	LB	Ohio State	2016-17
Isaiah Prince*	OT	Ohio State	2015-17

Three-headed monster at WR: The Bengals' offense features arguably the top receiving trio in the NFL, consisting of seventh-year veteran Tyler Boyd, second-year pro Ja'Marr Chase and third-year pro Tee Higgins.

Though each player has missed substantial action due to injuries, including Chase being out for four games (hip), Cincinnati is the only team this season with three WRs that have recorded 700 or more receiving yards. The Bengals are also the only team in 2022 with three players that have each netted 130 or more receiving yards in a single game. Boyd, Chase and Higgins are each averaging 12 or more yards per reception and have at least one TD catch of 50-plus yards.

In the Game 7 win over Atlanta, they became the first Bengals trio to each log 90 or more receiving yards since Dec. 30, 2001 (T.J. Houshmandzadeh, Darnay Scott and Peter Warrick vs. Pittsburgh). The Game 14 victory at Tampa Bay marked the first time all three players had a TD catch in the same game, with each coming in the second half to help Cincinnati erase a 17-point deficit.

The trio had another strong output in Game 4 against Miami, led by a seven-catch, 124-yard stat line from Higgins. Boyd had two grabs for 47 yards, including a 43-yard reception on the opening play of the fourth quarter that set up a go-ahead FG. Chase caught four passes for 81 yards, none bigger than his 36-yarder late in the fourth that led to a game-sealing TD. Game 6 at New Orleans was the first time each player had at least six receptions in the same game. Chase paced the group with seven catches for 132 yards and two TDs, while Boyd added six for 66 yards and Higgins, who was battling through an ankle injury, recorded six for 47 yards.

They combined for 3374 receiving yards during the 2021 regular season, the most among any trio of pass catchers in the NFL (second was L.A. Rams — WR Cooper Kupp, TE Tyler Higbee and WR Van Jefferson combined for 3309 yards). Chase was named the AP Offensive Rookie of the Year after posting a team-record 1455 receiving yards, which also counted as the most by an NFL rookie in the Super Bowl era (started in 1966), while grabbing 13 TDs. Higgins had 1091 yards and six TDs in just 14 games played — he missed two games early in the season with a shoulder injury, and then was inactive (rest) for the regular-season finale at Cleveland. Boyd added 828 yards and five scores.

Chase (21 years old in 2021) and Higgins (22) became the first duo in league history to post 1000 receiving yards in the same season before the age of 23. It marked the third time in Bengals history in which the team had multiple 1000-yard receivers — WRs Chad Johnson and T.J. Houshmandzadeh did it twice, in 2006 and '07. They are in striking distance to do it again this season, as Higgins went over the 1000-yard milestone in Game 15 at New England while Chase enters Week 18 just 40 yards away (960).

Chase picks up where he left off: WR Ja'Marr Chase missed four games from Weeks 8-12 due to a hip injury, but has shown no rust since returning to action in Week 13 vs. Kansas City. He led the Bengals with seven catches for 97 yards (13.9 average) in the win over the Chiefs, including a 40-yard catch and run down the sideline that set up Cincinnati at the Kansas City 13 near the end of the first half. It was Chase's 11th reception of 40 or more yards since the start of his rookie season in 2021, tied for the most in the NFL.

Chase also had three grabs in the fourth quarter, none bigger than a third-and-five conversion in which he fought through contact to keep a drive going with under three minutes remaining.

He followed up with his fourth 100-yard receiving game of the season in Game 13 against Cleveland, finishing with 119 on 10 catches (11.9 avg.) and a TD. Chase opened the scoring with a 15-yard TD reception on a perfect throw from QB Joe Burrow in the second quarter, marking his 20th career TD in just his 26th game. That tied him with Rob Gronkowski and Daryl Turner for the fourth-fewest games since 1970 to reach 20 TD catches. Only Pro Football Hall of Famer Randy Moss (20 games), Odell Beckham Jr. (22) and John Jefferson (24) reached that total in fewer games. Chase also joined Moss as the only players under the age of 23 with 2000 receiving yards and 20 TD receptions in NFL history.

Chase added another TD catch in Game 14 at Tampa Bay, an eight-yard pass from Burrow early in the fourth quarter that increased Cincinnati's lead to 10. He finished with seven grabs for 60 yards. In Game 15 at New England, he posted eight catches for 79 yards, marking the seventh consecutive game Chase has played in that he recorded at least seven receptions.

Despite being sidelined for four games, Chase this season ranks tied for seventh in the NFL in receiving TDs (eight) and 21st in receiving yards (960). Among his other notable performances was a season-high 132 receiving yards with two TDs in Game 6 at New Orleans. Chase, who grew up in Metairie, La. (part of New Orleans metro area), caught the game-winning TD with 1:57 left in the fourth quarter when he took a quick back-shoulder throw and turned it into a 60-yard score. That marked his sixth career TD catch of 50 or more yards, the most in the NFL since 2021. His teammate, Tyler Boyd, is second on that list with four such TDs — the latest of which was a 60-yarder on the opening drive in Game 7 vs. Atlanta.

Here is a look at the WRs with the most TD catches of 50 or more yards since the start of the 2021 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	TD CATCHES OF 50 OR MORE YARDS
Ja'Marr Chase	Cincinnati Bengals.....	6
Tyler Boyd	Cincinnati Bengals.....	4
(six players tied)	—.....	3

Tee tops 1000: WR Tee Higgins in Game 15 at New England had eight catches for 128 yards to surpass the 1000-yard milestone for a second consecutive season. He is the fourth player in Bengals history with multiple 1000-yard receiving seasons within the first three years of his career, joining WR Cris Collinsworth (1981, '83), WR Chad Johnson (also previously known as Chad Ochocinco, 2002-03), and WR A.J. Green ('11-13).

Higgins has faced three on-field setbacks so far this season, beginning in the season opener against Pittsburgh when he suffered a concussion in the second quarter and missed the remainder of the game. He left early in Game 5 at Baltimore with an ankle injury, then played just one snap in Game 13 vs. Cleveland due to a hamstring injury. When healthy, however, the third-year pro has proven himself as one of the NFL's elite young receivers.

Higgins this season has 73 catches for a team-leading 1022 yards (14.0 average) and seven TDs. His yardage ranks 14th in the NFL, despite missing nearly nine full quarters of play. With WR Ja'Marr Chase out of the lineup in Games 10-11, Higgins was relied on as the team's No. 1 receiver and delivered back-to-back 100-yard performances. He had a season-high nine catches for 148 yards in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, including four for 55 yards during a Bengals TD drive in the second quarter. His 148 yards were the second-most in a game in his career (194 on Dec. 26, 2021 vs. Baltimore).

Higgins followed up his showing in Pittsburgh by recording seven catches for 114 yards and a TD in Game 11 at Tennessee. Three of his receptions went for over 20 yards, highlighted by a contested 27-yard TD that gave Cincinnati a fourth-quarter lead. Though he had just 35 receiving yards in Game 12 vs. Kansas City, Higgins made a pair of impact plays beginning with a 12-yard TD in the second quarter. With Cincinnati later facing a third-and-11 at the two-minute warning of the fourth quarter, Higgins caught a 14-yard dart through traffic from Burrow that essentially secured the win.

He caught another TD in Game 14 at Tampa Bay, grabbing a five-yard pass from QB Joe Burrow in the back of the end zone that closed Cincinnati's deficit to 17-12 in the third quarter. Two of Higgins' eight receptions in Game 15 at New England went for over 30 yards, and he capped off the team's dominant opening drive with a nine-yard TD. He has four receiving TDs since Week 12, tied for the fourth-most in the NFL in that span.

Game 15 at New England was Higgins' eighth 100-yard receiving game since the start of the 2021 season. A 2020 second-round pick of the Bengals, Higgins had 74 catches for 1091 yards and six TDs in 2021, despite missing three games — Games 3-4 (shoulder), and Game 17 (rest). In Game 15 vs. Baltimore, he posted career highs in catches (12) and receiving yards (194), and scored two TDs to help the Bengals put up 41 points.

Higgins continued his production in the postseason, with two 100-yard receiving performances — 103 yards in the AFC Championship at Kansas City, and 100 in Super Bowl LVI vs. the L.A. Rams. His 18 catches in the postseason tied teammate Joe Mixon and former teammate A.J. Green for fourth-most in Bengals history. His 309 receiving yards were fourth-most in team postseason history. His 75-yard TD on the first play of the second half in Super Bowl LVI was the longest play from scrimmage in Bengals postseason history, and he joined TE Dan Ross as the only Bengals ever with multiple TDs in a single postseason game — Higgins had two TDs in the Super Bowl.

Mixon's historic day: HB Joe Mixon had perhaps his best career performance in Week 9 vs. Carolina, as he rushed for 153 yards on 22 attempts (7.0 avg.) with four TDs, and caught four passes for 58 yards and a TD. His five total TDs and 30 points accounted for each set a Bengals single-game record, while his four rushing scores tied HB Corey Dillon (Dec. 4, 1997) for the team's single-game mark. Mixon's 211 yards from scrimmage were also a career high.

Mixon became the sixth player in the Super Bowl era with at least 200 scrimmage yards and five total TDs in a game. He also joined Shaun Alexander (Sept. 29, 2002) and Jonathan Taylor (Nov. 21, 2021) as one of three players in the Super Bowl era with at least four rushing TDs and one receiving TD in a game. Mixon's five total TDs and four rushing TDs are both the most by an NFL player in a single game this season.

Mixon wasted little time making an impact, as he recorded 47 total yards on the opening drive and finished it off with a two-yard plunge into the end zone that gave Cincinnati an early lead. He finished the first half with 15 carries for 113 yards (7.5 avg.) and three TDs, becoming the second player in team history with three rushing TDs in a single half (Corey Dillon on Dec. 4, 1997). His receiving TD came with four seconds remaining in the half, when QB Joe Burrow rolled out to his right and found Mixon in the back of the end zone for a 12-yard score.

Mixon recorded his 14th career game of 100 or more rushing yards, which tied FB Pete Johnson for the fifth-most such performances in team history. He enters Week 18 vs. Baltimore with 49 career TDs (39 rushing, 10 receiving) in 79 games. Mixon's efforts in Week 9 were rewarded with his third career AFC Offensive Player of the Week recognition.

Here are the most total TDs scored by Bengals players in single games:

PLAYER	DATE	OPPONENT	TOTAL TDs
Joe Mixon	Nov. 6, 2022	Carolina Panthers.....	5
Larry Kinnebrew	Oct. 28, 1984	Houston Oilers.....	4
Corey Dillon	Dec. 4, 1997	Tennessee Oilers.....	4
Marvin Jones	Oct. 27, 2013	N.Y. Jets.....	4

Mixon reaches 5K: HB Joe Mixon, who was a second-round pick of the Bengals in 2017, surpassed 5000 career rushing yards on the opening drive of Game 9 against Carolina. He became the fifth player in team history to reach the 5000-yard milestone, and the first since HB Rudi Johnson in 2006.

Mixon has logged over 1000 rushing yards in three of his four full seasons (missed 10 games in 2020 due to injury). His career-high 1205 yards in 2021 ranked third in the league, while his 13 rushing TDs were fourth as he earned his first Pro Bowl selection.

Including Mixon, there are currently nine active players in the NFL with 5000 or more rushing yards. Here is a look at Cincinnati's all-time leaders in rushing yards while playing for the Bengals:

PLAYER	YEARS PLAYED	RUSHING YARDS
Corey Dillon	1997-2003.....	8061
James Brooks	1984-91.....	6447
Rudi Johnson	2001-07.....	5742
Pete Johnson	1977-83.....	5421
Joe Mixon	2017-present.....	5351

Mixon it up: In addition to his career-high 211 scrimmage yards in Game 9 against Carolina, HB Joe Mixon has continually proven his ability as a threat in both the running and passing game over his five-plus seasons as a pro. He has netted over 100 scrimmage yards in two of the last three contests, beginning in Game 13 vs. Cleveland when he had 96 rushing yards on 14 carries, while catching two passes for 10 yards. Mixon broke free for a 40-yard run on a toss sweep in the third quarter that marked his longest rush since Week 17 of the 2019 season.

In Game 15 at New England, Mixon helped provide balance for the offense and contributed 65 rushing yards on 16 attempts along with 43 receiving yards on a career-high-tying seven catches. He had 62 scrimmage yards in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, before exiting the contest with a concussion in the second quarter. Mixon's injury caused him to miss the following two games, before returning to the lineup against Cleveland. He kicked off the 2022 season with 82 rushing yards and 63 receiving yards against Pittsburgh, marking the third time in his career that he had 60 or more yards in each category.

The University of Oklahoma product earned his first career Pro Bowl selection in 2021, a season in which he recorded a career-high 1205 rushing yards (third in NFL) and 13 rushing TDs (fourth). Mixon enters Week 18 with 5351 career rushing yards (fifth-most in Bengals history) and 1722 receiving yards. He is one of six active NFL players with 5000 career rushing yards and 1500 career receiving yards.

In 2021, Mixon became one of just four Bengals ever to surpass 4000 career rushing yards and 1000 career receiving yards, joining Corey Dillon, James Brooks and Pete Johnson. Reaching the 4K/1K mark took Mixon just 60 career games, 11 faster than the next-quickest Bengal (Dillon, 71 games). He topped 1000 career receiving yards in the 2021 season opener vs. Minnesota, and then surpassed 4000 rushing yards in Game 10 at Las Vegas.

It took Mixon just 50 games to reach 3000 rushing and 1000 receiving yards, which also was 11 games quicker than the next-fastest Bengal (Brooks, 61).

Here's a look at the fastest players ever to top 4000 career rushing yards and 1000 career receiving yards in a Bengals uniform (it should be noted that Brooks began his career with the San Diego Chargers from 1981-83; however, the data counts only rushing/receiving yardage and games played as a Bengal):

NAME	BENGALS GAMES TO REACH 4K/1K
Joe Mixon.....	60
Corey Dillon.....	71
James Brooks.....	76
Pete Johnson.....	77

Samaje steps up: HB Samaje Perine emerged as a key member of the Bengals' offense in the absence of HB Joe Mixon, who suffered a concussion in the first half of Game 10 at Pittsburgh and missed Games 11 and 12. Perine rushed for 30 yards on 11 carries against the Steelers, but his most notable contribution came as a receiver, as he caught four passes for 52 yards (13.0 average) and three TDs. It marked the most-ever TD receptions in a game by a Bengals player listed as a running back, halfback or fullback, and tied for the second-most in a game in team history regardless of position. Perine also became the first RB/HB/FB in the NFL with three receiving TDs in a game since Atlanta's Cordarrelle Patterson on Oct. 3, 2021. He entered the game at Pittsburgh with three receiving TDs in 69 career contests.

Perine in Game 11 at Tennessee made his first start since Week 17 of the 2020 season. He finished with 58 rushing yards on 17 carries (3.4 avg.), including a seven-yard TD run in the second quarter that knotted the game at 10-10. On the first play of that scoring drive, Perine caught a dump pass from QB Joe Burrow and took it 32 yards for his longest career reception. His 17 rushing attempts were his most in a game since Week 16 of the 2020 season, his rookie campaign in Washington.

The sixth-year back turned in one of his best performances to date in Game 12 against Kansas City, helping Cincinnati earn a needed win in the AFC playoff race. He rushed for 106 yards on 21 carries (5.0) — his most attempts and yards since 2017 — and added six catches for 49 yards. Perine's 155 yards from scrimmage were a career high, with 49 coming in the fourth quarter as the Bengals overcame a seven-point deficit.

With Mixon back in the lineup for Game 13 vs. Cleveland, Perine saw fewer touches, but made the most of his opportunities with 22 rushing yards on four attempts (5.5 avg.). He scored his second rushing TD of the season on a six-yard run in the second quarter, when he appeared to be bottled up near the line of scrimmage but bounced outside and reached the end zone.

Bengals revamp O-line in 2022: Cincinnati addressed its biggest need in the 2022 offseason, signing three premier offensive linemen to help protect QB Joe Burrow. The Bengals inked G Alex Cappa (formerly with Tampa Bay), OT La'el Collins (Dallas) and C Ted Karras (New England).

Prior to joining Cincinnati, the new additions played in a combined 236 games (regular and postseason), with 174 starts. They also provide a winning pedigree, as Karras helped the New England Patriots win Super Bowl LI and LIII, while Cappa was a key member of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers team that took home Super Bowl LV.

A fifth-year pro out of Humboldt State (now Cal Poly Humboldt), Cappa has started each his last 56 games played since the 2019 season opener. He helped the Buccaneers offensive line allow a league-low 23 sacks in 2021, while the team led the NFL in yards per game (405.9) and passing yards per game (307.6).

Collins, who is in his eighth NFL season, was placed on the Reserve/Injured list on Dec. 30 with a left knee injury sustained in Week 16 at New England. He originally entered the league as a college free agent signee of Dallas in 2015. Collins quickly became a mainstay on the Cowboys' O-line, starting 61 of his first 62 games. With him in the lineup, Dallas ranked in the top five in rushing offense for three straight years (2017-19).

After playing his first three seasons (2016-18) primarily as a reserve, Karras became the Patriots' starting center entering '19 and has started 59 out of 63 games since then. He signed with Miami as a free agent in 2020, spending one season with the Dolphins before returning to New England in '21. He started two games at RG in 2021, then took over the starting LG spot for the remainder of the regular season and one playoff game.

Historic streak comes to an end: Browns QB Jacoby Brissett scored a three-yard rushing TD in the third quarter of Game 8 at Cleveland, marking the first TD allowed by the Bengals in the second half of a game this season. Cincinnati is one of only two teams since 1930 to start a season by going seven games without giving up a second-half TD, joining the 1934 Detroit Lions (eight games).

The Bengals are also one of just six teams since 1930 to go seven or more consecutive games at any point in a season without yielding a TD in the second half, and the first to do so since the 1997 Kansas City Chiefs (record 10 games). The 1973 Dolphins (seven games) are the only other team to accomplish that feat since the '70 NFL/AFL merger.

D tightens after the break: Despite their streak of not allowing a second-half TD being snapped in Game 8 at Cleveland, the Bengals remain one of the top defensive teams in the NFL coming out of halftime. Defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo's unit has allowed 133 points in the second half/overtime, the third-fewest in the league. In 80 opponent drives in the second half/overtime, the Bengals have forced 30 punts, 15 field goal attempts and nine turnovers on downs, while also recording seven FRs and five INTs. They came up with four turnovers on four consecutive drives in Game 14 at Tampa Bay, giving the offense advantageous field position to stage a double-digit comeback. Three of the defense's 13 TDs allowed in the second half this season came vs. Carolina in Game 9, though many of Cincinnati's starters were rested late in the 42-21 win.

Cincinnati's defensive dominance in the second half is a continuation of its 2021 efforts. The Bengals during the '21 regular season allowed 168 points after halftime, also the seventh-fewest in the NFL, while their 40 third-quarter points allowed were the second-fewest behind Buffalo. Cincinnati outscored their competition 102-40 in the third quarter, good for a plus-62 point differential that was third-best leaguewide behind Buffalo (plus-70) and Green Bay (plus-63).

Hubbard a Day 2 draft steal: DE Sam Hubbard, a third-round pick (77th overall) of the Bengals in 2018, ranks second in sacks (30.5) among all players from the '18 rookie class (draft picks and college free agents). His most recent came in Game 13 against Cleveland, when he brought down QB Deshaun Watson in the first quarter on a third-down play that forced the Browns to punt. After totaling 1.5 sacks over the first six games this season, Hubbard has logged five in the past eight contests he's played in. In Game 12 vs. Kansas City, he got to QB Patrick Mahomes for an eight-yard loss that put the Chiefs in a third-and-long situation.

One of Hubbard's most crucial plays this season occurred late in the fourth quarter of Game 6 at New Orleans. With the Saints driving to take the lead in the final minute and the ball at the Cincinnati 41-yard line, Hubbard and DT B.J. Hill collapsed the pocket and brought down QB Andy Dalton for a seven-yard combined sack, backing New Orleans into a fourth-and-17. He followed that up with an eight-yard sack in Game 7 against Atlanta that forced the Falcons to punt, and in Game 8 at Cleveland he teamed up with DE Trey Hendrickson for a sack of QB Jacoby Brissett. In Game 11 at Tennessee, he wrangled QB Ryan Tannehill for a 10-yard loss that forced a Titans punt in the third quarter.

Also known as one of the league's top run defenders on the edge, Hubbard leads the Bengals with 11 TFLs this season, including two in Game 11 at Tennessee.

Hubbard was inactive for Game 15 at New England due to a calf injury, marking the first time he missed a game because of an injury since Game 8 of the 2020 season. He sat out the 2021 regular-season finale at Cleveland as the Bengals rested most of their starters with the AFC North Division already clinched.

Players' listed positions vary by media outlet (e.g. whether they're classified as a LB or DE), but according to NFL.com's draft record, Hubbard was the 13th defensive lineman selected in 2018 — five DEs and seven DTs came off the board before him. According to NFL.com, there were a total of 40 defensive linemen (20 DEs, 20 DTs) selected in the 2018 draft, along with 32 linebackers and one player classified as "EDGE."

Hubbard has been the Bengals' starting RDE since 2019, and during the '21 regular season, his 7.5 sacks were second on the team. Hubbard's three postseason sacks ranked tied for fifth among all players, second on the team, and tied for third-most ever by a Bengal for a postseason career.

Hubbard signed a contract extension with the Bengals in July 2021 that keeps him in Cincinnati through the end of the 2025 season.

Here's a look at the career sack leaders from the rookie class of 2018:

PLAYER/POSITION	TEAM	PICK (ROUND)	SACKS
Harold Landry III/EDGE	Tennessee	No. 41 (2nd)	31.0
Sam Hubbard/DE	Cincinnati	No. 77 (3rd)	30.5
Bradley Chubb/DE	Denver/Miami	No. 5 (1st)	28.5
Josh Sweat/DE	Philadelphia	No. 130 (4th)	28.5
Marcus Davenport/DE	New Orleans	No. 14 (1st)	21.5

Hubbard named WPMOY nominee: The Bengals announced DE Sam Hubbard as their nominee for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award presented by Nationwide. This is the second consecutive year Hubbard has earned the team's nomination, following a 2021 year in which he created the Sam Hubbard Foundation to bring equitable access to food, education and a healthy lifestyle for all Cincinnatians.

Considered one of the league's most prestigious honors, the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award recognizes an NFL player for outstanding community service activities off the field, as well as excellence on the field. Three players in Bengals history have received the award — QB Ken Anderson in 1975, LB Reggie Williams in '86, and OT Anthony Munoz in '91.

A Cincinnati native who attended Archbishop Moeller High School before playing three seasons at Ohio State, Hubbard has been committed to serving his home community since being drafted by the Bengals in 2018. He continued several annual events through the Sam Hubbard Foundation this year, including his Shop with a Pro Night, Sam's Thanksgiving Food Drive, and The Sam Hubbard Youth Football Camp. Hubbard additionally started two education-focused projects in partnership with local non-profit Crayons to Computers. He hosted a backpack drive in August, in which over 650 backpacks were distributed to every student in the Bellevue school district, and in October launched Hubbard's Cupboards, which serves as an on-site supplement that provides school supplies, healthy snacks and hygiene products for students in the Mt. Healthy school system.

"I consider this nomination to be the highest honor in our league because of the incredible people that have come before me, and because of the resources and awareness it will bring to my foundation and our mission," Hubbard said.

Trey's torrid pace: DE Trey Hendrickson recorded two sacks in the fourth quarter of Game 10 at Pittsburgh, with the first coming on a third down that forced the Steelers out of Cincinnati territory. It bumped Hendrickson's sack total up to 6.0 this season, and added to his rapid rise in becoming one of the NFL's premier pass rushers.

Since the start of the 2020 season, Hendrickson's 33.5 sacks rank fifth in the league. A career-high 14 of those came in 2021, his first season with Cincinnati, which were good for fifth in the NFL and second-most in team history behind DE Coy Bacon's 22 in 1976 (Sacks became an official NFL statistic in 1982, however the Bengals tracked the stat back to '76 and thus recognize Bacon as the record-holder). Hendrickson's production during the 2021 regular season helped him earn his first career Pro Bowl selection.

The sixth-year pro out of Florida Atlantic continued his impressive pace in the 2021 postseason, recording a team-high 3.5 sacks and a forced fumble to help lead Cincinnati to Super Bowl LVI.

Hendrickson earned his first career AFC Defensive Player of the Week award for Week 3 of this season, when he logged a career-high 2.5 sacks and two forced fumbles in a win at the N.Y. Jets. After being held without a sack through Cincinnati's first two contests, he became the first Bengals player since at least 2000 to record two-plus sacks and two-plus forced fumbles in a single game. In Game 7 vs. Atlanta, he got to QB Marcus Mariota for a one-yard sack in the third-quarter that forced the Falcons into a third-and-long. Hendrickson notched a half-sack on the opening defensive series of Game 8 at Cleveland, when he and DE Sam Hubbard teamed up to bring down QB Jacoby Brissett.

Here are the NFL sack leaders since the start of the 2020 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	SACKS SINCE 2020
Myles Garrett	Cleveland	43.0
T.J. Watt	Pittsburgh	42.5
Haason Reddick	Arizona/Carolina/Philadelphia	39.5
Matthew Judon	Baltimore/New England	34.0
Trey Hendrickson	New Orleans/Cincinnati	33.5

Reader leads stout D-line: DT DJ Reader has been touted by his coaches and teammates as one of the NFL's most underrated players this season. QB Joe Burrow was recently asked about the 6-3, 335-pound run stuffer and said: "He's one of the best defensive tackles in the league and, for some reason, not really anybody knows about him. It's time people start knowing about him."

Now in his seventh pro season and third with the Bengals, Reader anchors a defense that ranks fifth in the NFL in rushing yards allowed per game (106.4). He missed Games 4-9 due to a knee injury, but returned to help Cincinnati hold some of the league's top backs well below their season averages. In Game 12 at Tennessee, he contributed a tackle and batted down two passes as RB Derrick Henry was limited to just 38 rushing yards on 17 carries. Taking on Cleveland in Game 13, Reader logged five solo tackles and swatted another pass at the line of scrimmage while RB Nick Chubb was bottled up for 34 yards on 14 attempts.

In Game 14 at Tampa Bay, Reader had a hand in turnovers on back-to-back Buccaneers drives in the third quarter. With 5:06 remaining in the quarter, he pressured QB Tom Brady on third-and-10 and punched the ball out, leading to DE Joseph Ossai recovering at the Tampa Bay 13-yard line. Less than four minutes later, a Brady handoff to RB Leonard Fournette was fumbled, and Reader dove on the loose ball to set up the offense at the Buccaneers' 39. Both turnovers were followed by a Bengals TD to help erase a 14-point halftime deficit.

Reader, who signed with the Bengals as a free agent in 2020, played in just five games that year before suffering a season-ending quad injury. He returned in 2021 and started 15 of 17 games at nose tackle, racking up 43 tackles and two sacks while helping the team's run defense rank fifth in the NFL (102.5 yards per game allowed). He added 12 more tackles, including three for losses with one sack, in the postseason run to Super Bowl LVI.

Wilson among elite young LBs: Third-year LB Logan Wilson has put together three consecutive monster stat lines, beginning with a season-high 17 tackles (14 solos) in Game 13 vs. Cleveland. Wilson also recorded a half-sack, his first of the season, when he and S Vonn Bell brought down QB Deshaun Watson in the third quarter to force a Browns punt. In Game 14 at Tampa Bay, Wilson logged 15 more stops, including a sack on QB Tom Brady that led to DT DJ Reader punching the ball out and DE Joseph Ossai recovering it at the Buccaneers' 13-yard line. Wilson notched another sack in Game 15 at New England, corraling QB Mac Jones on a third down in the first quarter to force a Patriots punt. He has 2.5 sacks over the past three games, compared to two in his previous 36 career contests.

Wilson has already notched a career-high 115 tackles in just 14 games this season. He leads Cincinnati in that category, despite missing Game 7 against Atlanta due to a right shoulder injury.

The University of Wyoming product emerged as one of the league's top young linebackers in 2021, when he led the Bengals in tackles (98) and INTs (four) in just his second pro season. His four picks also tied for the most among all NFL LBs, and were the most by a Bengals LB since 2005 (Odell Thurman, five). Consider also that Wilson missed three games (Games 13-15) with a right shoulder injury, and then was inactive (rest) for the season finale at Cleveland. In the 12 full regular-season games in which he was healthy (was injured in first half of Game 12), Wilson led the Bengals in tackles six times.

His strong play continued into the postseason, as he was on the field for all 274 possible snaps in Cincinnati's four-game run. His 39 tackles not only led all NFL players — they were the most by any player in a single postseason since Baltimore's Ray Lewis (51) in 2012. Wilson made numerous key plays throughout the postseason, including an INT with 20 seconds remaining in the Divisional Playoff at Tennessee, which gave the ball back to the Bengals' offense and helped set up K Evan McPherson's 52-yard game-winning FG as time expired. He also tackled Titans RB Derrick Henry for a loss on a fourth-and-one in the fourth quarter of that same game, thwarting a Titans drive that had reached Cincinnati's 35-yard line and giving the Bengals the ball back in what was a tie contest.

Wilson's ball skills have been a notable part of his game since he entered the league in 2020, as his seven career INTs are the most among all NFL linebackers since the start of his rookie campaign. He recorded his first INT of the 2022 season in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, when he dropped back into deep coverage and picked off QB Joe Flacco before returning it 47 yards. Head coach Zac Taylor after the game said it "took him back to his receiver and safety days," as Wilson was an all-state WR and defensive back at Natrona County High School in Wyoming.

Here is a look at the INT leaders among linebackers since the start of the 2020 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	INTs SINCE 2020
Logan Wilson	Cincinnati.....	7
Roquan Smith	Chicago/Baltimore.....	6
Eric Kendricks	Minnesota.....	5
Shaquille Leonard	Indianapolis.....	5
Foye Oluokun	Atlanta/Jacksonville.....	5

Nothing easy in the air: The Cincinnati secondary has been one of the most difficult to crack in the NFL over the last two seasons. Prior to Buccaneers QB Tom Brady throwing for 312 yards in Game 14 (67 came on final drive when trailing by 17), the Bengals had gone 16 consecutive regular-season games without allowing an opposing QB to pass for 300 yards. Cincinnati's defense this season is holding opposing QBs to a 60.2 completion percentage, the lowest rate in the NFL, while its 17 passing TDs given up are tied for the third-fewest in the league.

The Bengals have also allowed just four QBs this season to post a passer rating of 100 or higher. Falcons QB Marcus Mariota in Game 7 had a rating of 118.8, ending a streak of 10 consecutive games in which Cincinnati held opposing QBs below triple digits. The streak dated back to the Wild Card Playoff on Jan. 15 against Las Vegas, and featured 11 quarterbacks failing to eclipse a passer rating of 100 (minimum five pass attempts). It becomes even more impressive when noting that two of those QBs — Las Vegas' Derek Carr and Kansas City's Patrick Mahomes — ranked in the top 10 leaguewide in passer rating during the 2021 regular season. Also, six QBs during the streak were limited to fewer than 20 completions.

Over the past 19 games (2021 postseason, plus 15 games in '22 regular season), the Bengals have held opposing passers to a 60.4 completion percentage (406 of 672), while collecting 19 INTs to 25 passing TDs allowed.

Answering the Bell: S Vonn Bell has been involved in six turnovers for the Bengals' defense this season, the most recent coming late in the fourth quarter of Game 15 at New England. With the Patriots driving to take the lead in the final two minutes and the ball at the Cincinnati five-yard line, Bell forced a fumble by RB Rhamondre Stevenson which was recovered by DT B.J. Hill, potentially saving the game for the Bengals. It was Bell's second FF of the season and his eighth since signing with Cincinnati prior to the 2020 campaign, which ties for the sixth-most in the NFL in that span.

Bell also has a career-high four INTs in 2022, tied for the ninth-most in the league. He recorded three in a two-game stretch from Weeks 4-5, beginning with a pair in Week 4 against Miami to help lead the Bengals to a Thursday Night Football win. In Game 5 at Baltimore, Bell picked off QB Lamar Jackson at the Cincinnati 17-yard line with the Ravens leading 10-0 in the second quarter. That INT provided a spark for the whole team, as the Bengals' offense responded with a TD on the ensuing possession. Bell grabbed his fourth pick of the season in Game 8 at Cleveland, intercepting WR Amari Cooper on a gadget play run by the Browns in the first quarter.

Bell has earned a reputation as one of Cincinnati's most consistent players and a trusted leader. Much of that status comes from his remarkable availability, as he began his Bengals tenure by playing every snap in his first 20 games with the team. His consecutive snaps streak was broken on Oct. 17, 2021, when the starters were rested late in the fourth quarter of a 34-11 win at Detroit.

And although he missed more snaps throughout the year, including all of Game 17 at Cleveland while on the Reserve/COVID list, Bell still led Cincinnati's defense in snaps played (1004 of 1124) during the regular season. In his now 51 games played (regular and postseason) for the Bengals, he has seen action on 3275 of 3409 possible defensive snaps (96.1 percent), including 945 of 957 through 13 contests in 2022 (missed 10 snaps in Game 9 vs. Carolina as defensive starters were rested late in 42-21 win).

Bell has been voted a team captain in each of his three seasons with the Bengals. He led the team in tackles (114) in 2020, before ranking second in that category (97) in '21. Bell this season ranks third on the team in total tackles (67), is tied for third in PDs (seven) and tied for fourth in TFLs (four).

With INTs at Baltimore and at Cleveland, two vs. Miami and another in Game 15 of 2021 against the Ravens, Bell has five INTs in his last 17 regular-season games, tied for the fourth-most in the NFL in that span. He had one pick in his previous 91 career appearances.

Mr. Reliable wears No. 30: S Jessie Bates III came up with his third INT of the season in Game 13 vs. Cleveland, when he stepped in front of a deep ball thrown by QB Deshaun Watson early in the fourth quarter. Bates, a fifth-year pro, now has 13 picks in 78 career games.

The Wake Forest University product earned a starting safety spot midway through his rookie preseason in 2018, and he hasn't looked back since. Bates started 51 straight games to begin his Bengals career — that's three full seasons plus three games — until a neck injury ended his streak in the fourth game of 2021 (Sept. 30 vs. Jacksonville). He missed just that one game before returning to the starting lineup the next week, and then started all but one game (pre-playoff rest) thereafter in 2021.

Still, Bates' streak of 51 tied for the sixth-most consecutive starts by a player to begin their career as a Bengal, and the second-most by a defender. Had he started the Jacksonville game, he would have tied former LB Takeo Spikes (52) for most starts to begin a career by a Bengals defender.

Over his first four-plus pro seasons, Bates has steadily established himself as one of the NFL's elite players at his position. Since entering the league as a second-round draft pick in 2018, his 469 total tackles rank 23rd leaguewide and second among defensive backs. He logged at least 100 tackles each of his first three seasons, and although that number dipped to 88 in the 2021 regular season (did not play in two games), he stepped up in the postseason with a team-leading two INTs and six PDs.

Bates has showcased his ball-tracking abilities throughout his career, with this being the fourth season he has recorded three INTs. His first pick this year came in the final minute of Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets to seal a Bengals win. He grabbed his second in Game 9 against Carolina, tracking a deep ball thrown down the right sideline by QB PJ Walker and returning it 16 yards to set up an eventual Cincinnati TD.

McPherson breaks own team record: K Evan McPherson, who quickly became a fan-favorite in Cincinnati during his rookie season in 2021, notched another historic mark in the '22 regular-season opener against Pittsburgh. McPherson kicked a team-record 59-yard field goal in the first quarter to put the Bengals on the board, breaking the previous record of 58 yards that he hit on Dec. 19, 2021 at Denver.

It marked a continuation of some notable performances from training camp and preseason, as McPherson showed no signs of rust coming out of his rookie year. In three preseason games, McPherson hit nine of 10 FG attempts, with three coming from 50 or more yards. On Aug. 12 against Arizona, he converted FGs of 58 and 56 yards, both in the second quarter. His nine FGs tied for the league lead during preseason, while his 31 points accounted for (made four PATs) were third-most. In the Bengals' "Back Together Saturday" practice on July 30 at Paycor Stadium, McPherson closed out the afternoon by kicking a 65-yard FG in front of an announced crowd of 28,283.

He grabbed another spot on the team's all-time chart in Week 4 vs. Miami, as his 57-yarder in the fourth quarter tied Randy Bullock for the third-longest FG in Bengals history.

Here is a look at the longest made FGs in Bengals history:

PLAYER	DATE	OPPONENT	FG DISTANCE
Evan McPherson	Sept. 11, 2022	vs. Pittsburgh Steelers	59
Evan McPherson	Dec. 19, 2021	at Denver Broncos	58
Randy Bullock	Dec. 22, 2019	at Miami Dolphins	57
Evan McPherson	Sept. 29, 2022	vs. Miami Dolphins	57
Chris Bahr	Sept. 23, 1979	vs. Houston Oilers	55
Mike Nugent	Nov. 25, 2012	vs. Oakland Raiders	55
Randy Bullock	Oct. 18, 2020	at Indianapolis Colts	55

Mac is money from deep: K Evan McPherson has quickly earned a reputation as one of the NFL's top long-range kickers. The second-year pro out of Florida is 14 of 16 on FG attempts of 50 or more yards, tying for the fourth-most FGs from that distance since he entered the league in 2021. It is also the most such FGs within a player's first 30 games in NFL history. What makes it even more impressive is that McPherson's 14th FG of 50 or more yards, kicked in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, came in just his 26th career game. He drilled a 54-yarder near the end of the third quarter at Acrisure Stadium to increase the Bengals' lead to 27-23.

McPherson is already the team's career leader in 50-plus yard FGs. It took him just 14 games into his rookie season to reach the top of Cincinnati's career chart in that category, breaking the previous record of eight. Referred to by fans as "Money Mac," McPherson made an NFL-best nine FGs of 50 or more yards during the 2021 regular season and fell just one shy of tying the NFL record for most 50-yarders. His nine such FGs were more than double the previous team record for a single season (four, by K Horst Muhlmann in 1970).

McPherson is also tied with Blair Walsh (Minnesota, 2013) for the most 50-yarders in a player's first 20 career games. In his 20th game, Week 4 vs. Miami, McPherson converted from 57 yards in the fourth quarter to earn his third career AFC Special Teams Player of the Week award.

Here is a look at the kickers with the most FGs of 50 or more yards since the start of the 2021 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	FGs OF 50 OR MORE YARDS
Daniel Carlson	Las Vegas Raiders.....	16
Chris Boswell	Pittsburgh Steelers.....	15
Graham Gano	N.Y. Giants.....	15
Evan McPherson	Cincinnati Bengals.....	14
Justin Tucker	Baltimore Ravens.....	14

McPherson's rookie roundup: K Evan McPherson took the league by storm in his rookie season, putting together one of the most memorable seasons by a first-year kicker in NFL history. He made 28 of his 33 FGs and 46 of 48 PATs during the 2021 regular season, with some of his highlights including an NFL-best nine FGs of 50 or more yards.

On Nov. 21 at Las Vegas, he tied a single-game NFL record with three FGs of at least 50 yards (54, 53 and 51). For perspective, there were only four instances prior to 2021 in which a Bengals kicker made as many as three 50-plus yarders in a full season. On Dec. 19 at Denver, he nailed a then-Bengals-record 58-yard FG as time expired in the first half.

The rookie sensation found a way to best his regular-season production during the Bengals' postseason run to Super Bowl LVI. Over the four-game stretch, he was a perfect 20-for-20 on placekicks, making all 14 of his FG attempts and all six of his PATs. No kicker in NFL history had previously been attempted on as many as 11 FGs in a single postseason. In his postseason debut, the AFC Wild Card Playoff vs. Las Vegas, McPherson set team postseason records for points (14) and FGs (four) in a game. In the following week's Divisional Playoff at Tennessee, he hit four more FGs, including a 52-yard game-winner as time expired in regulation — making him the first rookie kicker in NFL postseason history to kick a game-winning FG with no time remaining in the fourth quarter or overtime.

He matched that performance the next week in the AFC Championship at Kansas City, with four FGs including a 31-yarder in overtime that won the game and sent Cincinnati to the Super Bowl.

McPherson's 14 FGs tied former Colts K Adam Vinatieri (2006) for the most in a single postseason in NFL history. K Jim Breech (nine) held the previous Bengals record in that category. McPherson's 48 points are already the second-most by a Bengal for an entire postseason career, trailing Breech, who amassed 52 points in nine games.

Chrisman takes over punting duties: First-year P Druce Chrisman, who originally joined the Bengals as a college free agent signee in 2021, was elevated from the practice squad and made his NFL debut in Game 10 at Pittsburgh. Dealing with cold and windy conditions at Acrisure Stadium, Chrisman punted three times for 162 yards (54.0 average), with two downed inside the Steelers' 20-yard line. His first attempt came at the end of the Bengals' opening drive, when he booted it 53 yards to the Pittsburgh seven, before the ball was muffed into the end zone. The returner recovered it five yards behind the goal line, making Chrisman's first career punt officially 65 yards.

He followed up his debut with another stellar performance in Game 12 at Tennessee, punting five times for 259 yards (51.8 avg.) with a long of 62 yards and two landing inside the Titans' 20. Chrisman was signed off the practice squad to the active roster on Dec. 6, and through six games he has 21 punts for 976 yards (46.5) with 10 inside the 20. In Game 14 at Tampa Bay, he booted a 46-yard punt that landed out of bounds at the Buccaneers' two-yard line as the Bengals were protecting a 10-point lead in the fourth quarter.

Chrisman took over the team's punting role, as well as serving as a holder on placekicks, in place of 14th-year vet Kevin Huber. Huber, waived by the Bengals on Dec. 5, originally was selected by Cincinnati in the fifth round of the 2009 NFL Draft. He set multiple team records over his career, including games played (216), punts (1011), punting yards (45,766), gross average (45.27), net average (40.34) and inside-20 punts (346). Huber held a streak of 138 straight games played dating back to the 2014 season opener that was snapped in Game 10 at Pittsburgh. Huber was signed to the team's practice squad Dec. 7.

2022 draft class overview: Cincinnati's six-player draft class in April featured three defensive backs, two defensive linemen and one offensive lineman. The group played in a combined 288 college games.

Here's a closer look at Cincinnati's 2022 draft class:

- S Dax Hill, Michigan (Round 1, Pick 31): Hill was one of the fastest players in this year's draft (4.38-second 40-yard dash at the NFL Combine) and brings a highly touted versatility to the Bengals' secondary. A first-team All-Big Ten selection as a junior last season, he has the ability to line up as a nickel CB or a deep safety. Hill made his regular-season career debut in Game 1 against the Steelers, and started for the first time in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets. He recorded his first tackle in Game 5 at Baltimore, stopping TE Isaiah Likely on a third down to force a Ravens FG. He was inactive for Game 10 at Pittsburgh with a shoulder injury, but returned to play six defensive snaps in Game 11 at Tennessee. Hill started at nickel CB in Game 14 at Tampa Bay, and recorded season highs in snaps played (66) and tackles (eight).

- CB Cam Taylor-Britt, Nebraska (Round 2, Pick 60): Cincinnati took a defensive back with each of its first two picks for the first time in team history when it selected the speedy Taylor-Britt out of head coach Zac Taylor's alma mater, Nebraska. After suffering an abdomen injury during training camp, Taylor-Britt was placed on the Reserve/Injured list and missed the first four weeks of the regular season. He returned to the active roster on Oct. 8 and made his career debut in Game 7 against Atlanta, recording three solo tackles on 28 defensive snaps. He logged 12 tackles (nine solos) in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, and followed that with eight stops (seven solos) and a forced fumble in Game 11 at Tennessee. Taylor-Britt has five PDs over the past four games and has drawn praise from coaches and teammates for his play after stepping into the starting lineup in place of the injured Chidobe Awuzie.

- DT Zach Carter, Florida (Round 3, Pick 95): Carter had success lining up on the edge and at the three technique at Florida, where he collected 13 sacks over his final two seasons. Defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo has indicated

Carter will play both on the interior of the defensive line and on the outside. He provides a valuable depth piece and possesses athleticism for his size. Carter started eight consecutive games from Weeks 4-12, and had his best performance in Game 7 against Atlanta with five tackles (four solos) on 34 defensive snaps. He recorded his first tackle for loss in Game 8 at Cleveland, and his first half-sack in Game 15 at New England.

- G Cordell Volson, North Dakota State (Round 4, Pick 136): The first and only offensive player taken by the Bengals in the 2022 draft, Volson earned the starting role at LG during training camp. He brings a winning pedigree from an elite FCS program at North Dakota State, where he won four national championships and played in a program-record 65 career games. He has lined up for each of the Bengals' 1040 offensive snaps through 15 games this season.

- S Tycen Anderson, Toledo (Round 5, Pick 166): Anderson tallied 131 tackles and 16 PDs in a five-year career at Toledo, but his earliest contributions with the Bengals may come via special teams, an area he excelled in college. As a defensive back, he relies on his size (6-2, 209) and natural speed (4.26 40-time). In Cincinnati's second preseason contest at the N.Y. Giants, Anderson recorded seven tackles (six solos). Anderson suffered a hamstring injury during preseason and was placed on the Reserve/Injured list on Sept. 2.

- DE Jeff Gunter, Coastal Carolina (Round 7, Pick 93): Bengals coaches were pleased to get Gunter in the seventh round, given his knack for rushing the passer and causing turnovers. A three-time All-Sun Belt Conference selection, he recorded 18 career sacks, nine FFs and two blocked FG attempts. In his career debut Game 1 vs. Pittsburgh, Gunter saw action on 20 special teams plays. He suffered a left knee injury prior to the Game 6 contest at New Orleans and was inactive for two games, but returned to play six special teams snaps in Game 8 at Cleveland. He played 18 defensive snaps in Game 14 at Tampa Bay and recorded his first career tackle.

Four Bengals listed on "Top 100": For the 12th consecutive year, current NFL players have voted to determine the top 100 players in the NFL, with the final list revealed throughout August on NFL Network.

Cincinnati was represented by four players in 2022 — QB Joe Burrow (No. 21), WR Ja'Marr Chase (No. 24), HB Joe Mixon (No. 38) and DE Trey Hendrickson (No. 78). It marks the team's second-most selections on a Top 100 list — there were seven Bengals included in 2016.

Burrow, Chase and Mixon made their Top 100 debuts, while Hendrickson made his second appearance after checking in at No. 73 on the 2021 list. Burrow's ranking at No. 21 is the fifth-highest by a Bengal, as WR A.J. Green was listed in the top 20 four times from 2013-17.

Anderson, Curtis join Bengals Ring of Honor: Bengals legends Willie Anderson and Isaac Curtis were inducted into the team's Ring of Honor at halftime of Game 4 against Miami. They joined the inaugural Ring of Honor class inducted last season, which included QB Ken Anderson, team founder/head coach Paul Brown, OT Anthony Munoz and CB Ken Riley.

Regarded as the best right offensive tackle of his era, Willie Anderson played in 182 games (regular and postseason) for Cincinnati from 1996-2007. A four-time Pro Bowler, his 181 regular-season contests are tied for the eighth-most in team history. He blocked for HB Corey Dillon's two NFL-record setting games — an NFL rookie record 246 rushing yards vs. the Tennessee Oilers in 1997 (since broken), and an NFL record 278 rushing yards vs. the Denver Broncos in 2000 (since broken). He also helped set the club record for fewest sacks allowed twice — 21 in 2005 and 17 in '07.

Considered a game-changing WR in his era, Curtis played from 1973-84 and still holds the Bengals record for average yards per reception (17.07). The four-time Pro Bowler ranks third in team history in both career receiving yards (7101) and 100-yard games (20), and is fourth in receiving TDs (53).

Season Ticket Members selected Willie Anderson and Curtis from a ballot that featured 15 individuals who have played a significant role in the franchise's history and tradition.

Bengals President Mike Brown on the 2022 inductees: "These are two of our finest all-time players. Willie was as good a right offensive tackle as you could draw up. He had it all — strength, movement and attitude. Isaac had incredible speed along with great hands. This is evidence for how our fans felt about Isaac during his career. They knew he was special. The Bengals are fortunate to have both of these outstanding players in the Ring of Honor."

In addition to his spot in the Bengals Ring of Honor, Riley also has been elected as one of three senior nominees for the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Riley, who passed away in June 2020 at age 72 after playing CB for the Bengals from 1969-83, was chosen from the senior committee's list of 12 finalists. To become a member of the 2023 Hall of Fame class, he will need to receive 80 percent of the vote from the regular committee when it meets in February.

Willie Anderson is additionally one of 28 modern-era semifinalists for the Pro Football Hall of Fame's 2023 class, which were announced on Nov. 22. That list will be narrowed to 15 finalists in early January. In 2022, he was a finalist for the first time in his ninth year of eligibility.

2021 Bengals O boasted young nucleus: During the 2021 regular season, the Bengals became the first team in NFL history with a 4000-yard passer, 1000-yard rusher and two 1000-yard receivers who were all under 26 years old. QB Joe Burrow (25 years old) had 4611 passing yards, HB Joe Mixon (25) had 1205 rushing yards, and Ja'Marr Chase (21) and Tee Higgins (22) had 1455 and 1091 receiving yards, respectively.

The 2006 Bengals were the only other squad in team history with a 4000-yard passer (Carson Palmer), 1000-yard rusher (Rudi Johnson), and two 1000-yard receivers (Chad Johnson and T.J. Houshmandzadeh).

Bengal bites: Since 2011, the Bengals own a 66-6-2 record in the regular season when scoring 25 or more points ... Cincinnati's Week 2 game against the Dallas Cowboys at AT&T Stadium had an attendance figure of 92,944, marking the largest crowd the Bengals have played in front of in team history ... According to the NFL's Next Gen Stats service, which tracks players' speed by using GPS, the fastest speed by a Bengals ball-carrier in 2022 came from HB Joe Mixon, who reached 21.11 MPH on a 31-yard run in Game 1 vs. Pittsburgh ... WR Tee Higgins' 75-yard TD reception 12 seconds into the third quarter of Super Bowl LVI tied for the quickest second-half score in Super Bowl history (Percy Harvin, KOR TD in Super Bowl XLVIII) ... WR Tyler Boyd's 56-yard TD catch from QB Joe Burrow on Dec. 19, 2021 at Denver was the 2000th TD in Bengals history ... The longest-tenured player on the active roster in 2022 is WR Tyler Boyd, a seventh-year pro who joined the Bengals as a second-round pick in 2016 ... The oldest Bengal on the roster is S Michael J. Thomas, who is 32 (born March 17, 1990) ... The youngest Bengal on the roster is S Dax Hill, who is 21 (born Sept. 29, 2000) ... The lightest Bengal on the roster is WR Trent Taylor, who is listed at 181 pounds ... The heaviest Bengal is DT Josh Tupou, who is listed at 340 pounds ... There is a tie for the tallest Bengal between G Max Scharping and G Cordell Volson, who are both listed at 6-6 ... There is also a tie for the shortest player on the roster between WR Trent Taylor and HB Trayveon Williams, who are both listed at 5-8.

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: Third-year pro Joe Burrow has put together one of the most promising starts to a career by a QB in NFL history. The 2021 AP Comeback Player of the Year surpassed 10,000 career passing yards in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, tying Kurt Warner as the third-fastest player in league history to reach the milestone. Burrow this season ranks second in the NFL in passing TDs (34), fifth in passing yards (4260), third in completion percentage (69.0), and sixth in passer rating (102.3). He has compiled several impressive stat lines through the first 15 contests, led off by a 338-yard, two-TD performance in the season opener vs. Pittsburgh that also included a career-high 47 rushing yards. In the Game 6 win at New Orleans, Burrow passed for 300 yards and three TDs, completing 28 of 37 passes while also notching a 19-yard rushing score. He followed up that performance with a record-setting day in Game 7 vs. Atlanta, passing for 481 yards (second-highest single-game total in his career) and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). Burrow received his third career AFC Offensive Player of the Week award for his performance against the Falcons. He completed 24 of 39 passes for 355 yards and a career-high-tying four TDs in Game 10 at Pittsburgh. Burrow completed 80.6 percent of his passes (25 of 31) in the Game 12 win against Kansas City, throwing for 286 yards and two TDs to earn AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors for the second time this season. Burrow in Game 14 at Tampa Bay completed 27 of 39 passes (69.2 percent) for 200 yards and threw four TD passes in the second half, the highest mark in any half of a game in his career, to pull off a comeback win after trailing 17-0. In Game 15 at New England, he tied his career high with 40 completions (tied Bengals single-game record), for 375 passing yards and three TDs. It marked Burrow's eighth career game with at least 350 passing yards and three passing TDs, tied for the second-most in a player's first three seasons in NFL history. He now has 34 TD passes on the year, which ties his own franchise record set last season. Burrow produced perhaps the best season by a QB in Bengals history in 2021, when he completed 366 of 520 pass attempts for 4611 yards (sixth in the NFL) and 34 TDs (eighth) during the regular season. He led the league in completion percentage (70.4) and yards per attempt (8.87), while ranking second in passer rating (108.3). Burrow was instrumental in the team's run to Super Bowl LVI, completing 97 of 142 passes (68.3 percent) for 1105 yards and five TDs over four postseason games. Next on the depth chart is sixth-year veteran Brandon Allen, who started six games for the Bengals in his first two seasons with the team (2020-21). In 11 regular-season games with the Bengals, he has completed 107 of 176 passes (60.8 percent) for 1074 yards, with seven TDs and four INTs. The starting QB for all three preseason games, Allen completed 28 of 38 passes (73.7 percent) and finished with 264 passing yards in August. He saw his first regular-season action in the second half of Game 9 vs. Carolina, completing each of his three passing attempts for 22 yards.

Running backs: Leading the Bengals' running back room is sixth-year pro Joe Mixon, who is averaging 4.0 yards per carry this season and has six rushing TDs. Mixon enjoyed a career day in the team's win over Carolina in Game 9, totaling a career-high 211 scrimmage yards (153 rushing, 58 receiving) and a team-record five total TDs (four rushing, one receiving). He also surpassed 5000 career rushing yards in Game 9, becoming the fifth player in Bengals history and the ninth active NFL player to reach that milestone, and was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week for the third time in his career. In Game 1 against the Steelers, Mixon had 27 carries for 82 yards while also logging seven catches for 63 yards. He scored his first TD of the season on the opening drive in the Game 4 win against Miami, and finished with 61 yards on 24 carries. Mixon missed two games with a concussion suffered in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, but returned to action in Game 13 vs. Cleveland and totaled 96 yards in 14 attempts (6.9 avg.). That included a season-long rush of 40 yards, his longest run since 2019. Mixon posted 108 yards from scrimmage in Game 15 at New England, with 65 yards coming on the ground and 43 through the air while tying his career high for receptions in a game (seven). He has recorded 100-plus yards from scrimmage in two of the last three games. In 2021, he posted career highs in rushing yards (1205, third in NFL), rushing TDs (13, fourth) and rushing attempts (292, third) en route to earning his first Pro Bowl selection. The University of Oklahoma product has three seasons with 1000 or more rushing yards. Mixon's former college teammate, Samaje Perine, is in his fourth Bengals season after beginning his career with Washington. In Game 10 at Pittsburgh, he caught four passes for 52 yards (13.0 avg.) and three TDs, marking the most receiving TDs in a game by a Bengals player listed as an RB, HB or FB in team history. In Mixon's absence in Games 11 and 12, Perine shined as the bell cow back and combined for 248 scrimmage yards over the two-game span. He made his first start of the season in Game 11 at Tennessee and rushed for 58 yards on 17 attempts, while adding four catches for 35 yards. In Game 12 vs. Kansas City, Perine finished with 106 rushing yards on 21 carries (5.0 avg.) and six receptions for 49 yards. It was the first time he had eclipsed the century mark in rushing yards since Nov. 23, 2017, when he played for Washington in a Week 12 game against the N.Y. Giants. His 155 yards from scrimmage against Kansas City were also a career high. Perine scored his second rushing TD of the season in Game 13 vs. Cleveland, working his way out of tackles for a six-yard TD. In 2021, he had 55 carries for 246 yards and one TD, along with 27 catches for 196 yards and a TD. At 5-11, 240 pounds, Perine brings a physical rushing style, and he's also used extensively on special teams. Fourth-year back Trayveon Williams has played in 33 career games and totaled 238 rushing yards on 47 attempts (5.1 avg.) along with eight catches for 64 yards. Williams recorded his first carries of the season in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, rushing twice for seven yards (3.5 avg.). In Game 11 at Tennessee, he rushed twice for 18 yards (9.0 avg.) and caught one pass for 24 yards on a third-and-12 late in the second quarter, which set up a rushing TD for Perine on the next play. Second-year pro Chris Evans caught what ended up being the game-winning TD in Game 12 vs. Kansas City, on an eight-yard pass from Burrow with 8:54 left in the fourth quarter. Evans has three catches for 38 yards on the season, including a 26-yard grab in Game 8 at Cleveland. He served as the team's primary kick returner through the first nine games.

Wide receivers: The top of the Bengals' wide receiver depth chart features one of the most explosive pass-catching trios in the NFL, with the oldest member being seventh-year pro Tyler Boyd. Boyd is considered one of the league's premier slot receivers that poses a challenge for nickel corners with his size (6-2, 203) and route-running ability. He has 441 career receptions (fifth in team history) for 5282 yards and 29 TDs, with consecutive seasons of 1000 or more yards from 2018-19. Boyd scored the first TD of the Bengals' 2022 season on a two-yard pass from Burrow in Week 1 vs. Pittsburgh. He had four receptions for 105 yards in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, including a 56-yard catch and run for a TD on the final play of the first quarter. Boyd amassed a career-high 155 receiving yards on eight catches (19.4 avg.) in Game 7 vs. Atlanta, highlighted by a 60-yard TD reception just two minutes into the game. After suffering a finger injury early in Game 13 vs. Cleveland, Boyd returned to tally five catches for 35 yards in Game 14 at Tampa Bay, including a three-yard TD in the third quarter that gave Cincinnati its first lead. Also among that trio is WR Ja'Marr Chase, the team's first-round pick in the 2021 NFL Draft (No. 5 overall), had one of the top rookie seasons in NFL history a year ago. He led the Bengals and set team rookie records in catches (81), receiving yards (1455) and receiving TDs (13). His yardage total was an NFL rookie record for the Super Bowl Era and the most in team history, topping Chad Johnson's 1440 yards in 2007. Chase started off the 2022 season with a 10-catch, 129-yard performance vs. Pittsburgh in which he also caught the game-tying TD with two seconds remaining. The native of Metairie, La., returned to his home state in Week 6 at New Orleans and led the Bengals with seven catches for 132 yards (18.9 avg.) and two TDs. His second score was a 60-yard catch and run that went in as the game-winner with 1:57 remaining in the fourth quarter. The following week against Atlanta, Chase caught eight passes for 130 yards (16.3 avg.) and two more TDs. Chase returned to action in Game 12 against Kansas City after missing Games 8-11 due to a hip injury. He showed no signs of rust, catching seven passes for 97 yards (13.9 avg.). Chase and Burrow showcased their chemistry once again in Game 13 against Cleveland, as Chase led the team with 10 catches for 119 yards and a TD. He paced the Bengals in catches again in Game 14 at Tampa Bay with seven receptions for 60 yards, including an eight-yard TD catch to extend the lead in the third quarter. He has recorded at least seven catches in the last seven games in which he's been active. Despite missing four games, his eight TD catches are tied for seventh in the NFL. Completing the Bengals' starting WR trio is standout Tee Higgins, a third-year pro who in Game 15 at New England eclipsed 1000 receiving yards for the second straight season. He is the fourth player in team history with multiple 1000-yard receiving seasons within his first three years. Three separate injuries this season have forced Higgins to miss time, but when healthy he is one of the league's most productive and athletic pass catchers. The 2020 second-round pick has 73 catches for 1022 yards (14th in NFL) and seven TDs this season. In the Game 4 win over Miami, Higgins had 124 yards on seven receptions (17.7 avg.), highlighted by a 59-yard TD grab in the second quarter. He logged five catches for 93 yards in Game 7 vs. Atlanta, and in Game 8 at Cleveland caught a 41-yard TD pass. In the Game 10 win at Pittsburgh, he paced the team with season highs in catches (nine) and receiving yards (148), then followed up in Game 11 at Tennessee with seven grabs for 114 yards and a game-winning TD in the fourth quarter. Higgins caught a 12-yard TD pass from Burrow in the second quarter of Game 12 against Kansas City, and also hauled in a game-clinching 14-yard pass to convert a first down on the final drive that allowed the offense to kneel out the rest of the clock. He had eight catches for 128 yards and a TD in Game 15 at New England, with two grabs going for over 30 yards. WR Trenton Irwin, a third-year pro out of Stanford University, was signed to the Bengals active roster off the practice squad on Nov. 22 and has quickly emerged as a trustworthy receiver for Burrow. Over the last eight games (two starts), Irwin has 14 catches for 219 yards (15.6 avg.) and four TDs. His first career TD reception came in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, a one-yarder in the third quarter that gave Cincinnati a 24-20 lead. His lone catch in Game 11 at Tennessee was among the most pivotal plays of the afternoon, as he came down with a back-shoulder catch in the fourth quarter for a 16-yard pickup on third-and-12. In Game 13 against the Browns, Irwin was on the receiving end of a 45-yard TD pass from Burrow on a flea flicker in the third quarter. He finished the game with a career-high 58 yards on two catches (29.0 avg.). Irwin caught two TDs in the first half of Game 15 at New England to help Cincinnati build a 22-0 halftime lead. Fourth-year pro Stanley Morgan, a 2019 college free agent signee of the Bengals, provides depth at receiver and excels particularly as a blocker. Morgan also serves as one of Cincinnati's primary gunners on special teams and saw action at KOR in 2021. Veteran slot WR Trent Taylor was signed to the Bengals practice squad in 2021 after three full seasons (missed '19) in San Francisco. Taylor saw an increased workload in the offense throughout the four-game stretch that Chase missed, catching five passes for 28 yards. In Game 13 vs. Cleveland, he caught a short pass over the middle on third-and-10 and turned it into a 34-yard gain, continuing a drive that resulted in a Cincinnati TD. Taylor is also the team's primary punt returner.

Tight ends: One of the headliners of the Bengals' 2022 free agency class was TE Hayden Hurst, who came to Cincinnati after two seasons with the Baltimore Ravens ('18-19) and two with the Atlanta Falcons ('20-21). Hurst provides a downfield threat for Burrow at the tight end position, with 173 career receptions for 1704 yards (9.8 avg.) and 14 TDs. Hurst this season ranks fourth on the team in receiving yards (400) and fifth in catches (48), despite missing the past three games with a calf injury. He caught a TD pass in consecutive games, beginning with the fourth quarter of Game 4 against Miami to help seal the win.

The following week, he got Cincinnati on the board with a 19-yard scoring grab at Baltimore in his former home stadium. In Game 11 at Tennessee, he netted six catches for 57 yards, fighting for yards after contact on multiple plays. Hurst suffered a calf injury early in Game 12 against Kansas City that forced him out for the rest of that contest, and kept him inactive for Games 13-16. The fifth-year pro has become a prominent voice in the mental health awareness and treatment community over the past three years, and earlier in November was named the team's nominee for the 2022 NFL Salute to Service Award in recognition of his military outreach. Next on the depth chart is third-year pro Mitchell Wilcox, a 2020 college free agent signee who spent his rookie year on the team's practice squad. He has caught 17 passes for 139 yards and one TD this season. A Tampa-area native who played at the University of South Florida, Wilcox made his return to Raymond James Stadium in Game 14 and caught his first NFL TD, a 12-yard pass from Burrow late in the fourth quarter that helped seal the win. He finished with three receptions for 34 yards against the Buccaneers. Wilcox in Game 15 at New England posted career highs in catches (six) and receiving yards (35). Rounding out the tight ends room is fellow third-year pro Devin Asiasi, who the Bengals acquired on waivers from New England on Aug. 31. Originally a third-round pick of the Patriots in 2020, he made his Bengals debut in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, playing 24 offensive snaps.

Offensive linemen: The Bengals invested heavily in revamping the offensive line during the offseason, signing marquee free agents beginning with C Ted Karras. Karras, a seventh-year veteran, has experience at all three interior OL positions but has cemented himself as Cincinnati's starting center this season. He also quickly became a vocal leader in the Bengals' locker room and was voted one of seven team captains. Karras was a member of two Super Bowl-winning Patriots teams in 2016 and '18, and became New England's starting C in '19. RG Alex Cappa, a fifth-year pro out of Cal Poly Humboldt (formerly known as Humboldt State), joined the Bengals after spending the past four seasons in Tampa Bay. A member of the Buccaneers' Super Bowl LV team, he has started every regular-season contest in which he has been active since the start of the 2019 season, only missing three games in that span. Cappa was placed on the Active/Physically Unable to Perform (PUP) list at the beginning of training camp, but returned to make his first start as a Bengal at RG in the regular-season opener. Now in his third season as Cincinnati's starting LOT is 2019 first-round pick Jonah Williams, who has started each of his 40 career games and played a team-high 96 percent of offensive snaps in 2021 (regular and postseason). Williams has been praised by Burrow and head coach Zac Taylor for his steady play this season. The lone offensive player selected by the Bengals in the 2022 NFL Draft, G Cordell Volson earned the starting role at LG during training camp. He has lined up for each of the Bengals' 1041 offensive snaps through 15 games this season. OT Hakeem Adeniji, a sixth-round pick of the Bengals in 2020, is a versatile backup on the Bengals' O-line. He took over at ROT in Game 15 when OT La'el Collins went down with a left knee injury, playing 64 offensive snaps, and now figures to see increased action with Collins placed on the Reserve/Injured list. Currently listed at OT, Adeniji was inserted as the starting RG midway through the 2021 season and earned praise from coaches for his consistent play. In the AFC Championship at Kansas City, he started and split time at RG with Jackson Carman, a 2021 second-round pick of the Bengals who is in his second season. Carman, a native of Fairfield, Ohio (approx. 25 miles north of Cincinnati), started at LG in the preseason opener against Arizona and in the finale against the L.A. Rams, but missed the contest at the N.Y. Giants due to COVID-19 protocols. Carman saw action on four special teams plays in the season opener against Pittsburgh. Another key reserve along the interior of the line is second-year pro C Trey Hill, who played in 13 regular-season games (three starts) and all four postseason contests in 2021. The Bengals added more size and experience to the interior of the line when they acquired G Max Scharping on waivers on Aug. 31. Scharping, who is listed at 6-foot-6 and 325 pounds, played in 48 games with 33 starts for the Texans in three seasons (2019-'21), and made his Cincinnati debut in Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets. Adding depth at LOT is second-year pro D'Ante Smith, a fourth-round pick of the Bengals in 2021. He earned snaps at both LOT and G during his rookie campaign.

Defensive linemen: Cincinnati native and Archbishop Moeller graduate Sam Hubbard is in his fifth Bengals season (fourth as a full-time starter). A third-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2018, Hubbard has 30.5 career sacks (second-most among all players in 2018 draft class), including 6.5 this season, and is also considered among the best DEs in the NFL against the run. He filled the stat sheet in Game 8 at Cleveland with nine tackles, one TFL, a sack and a forced fumble. Hubbard recorded a sack in Games 11-14, while also totaling 14 tackles (10 solos) in that stretch. He left Game 14 at Tampa Bay due to a calf injury and was inactive for Game 15 at New England, marking the first time since Week 8 of the 2020 season that he missed a game because of an injury. On the other side of the line is DE Trey Hendrickson, who joined the team as a free agent in 2021 and posted a career-high 14 sacks last season. That total ranked fifth in the NFL and second in team history. In Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, Hendrickson was a disruptive force with 2.5 sacks and two forced fumbles, becoming the first Bengal with that stat line since at least 2000. He received AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors for his performance. Hendrickson added two more sacks in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, each coming in the fourth quarter, and finished with five tackles (four solos). His 33.5 sacks since the start of the 2020 regular season are the fifth-most in the NFL. Seventh-year DT DJ Reader returned to action in Game 10 at Pittsburgh after spending the previous six games on the Reserve/Injured list with a knee injury. Reader, who played his first four pro seasons in Houston, was a high-profile free agency addition of the Bengals in 2020. At 6-3, 335 pounds, he excels in run defense, and in 2021 was a catalyst for the Bengals ranking fifth in the league in rushing yards allowed per game (102.5). Reader was a key contributor in Game 11 at Tennessee, as he batted down two passes at the line of scrimmage and spearheaded a defensive front that held RB Derrick Henry to just 38 yards on 17 carries. Reader tipped another ball at the line of scrimmage in Game 12 against Kansas City, forcing the Chiefs to settle for a FG on their opening possession. In Game 13 against Cleveland, he batted down a pass from QB Deshaun Watson at the line of scrimmage for his fourth PD in the span of three weeks, which surpassed his three career PDs in 85 previous games. Reader put together another impressive performance in Game 14 at Tampa Bay, with three tackles, a forced fumble on QB Tom Brady in the third quarter, as well as a fumble recovery later in the period. DT B.J. Hill is in his second season with the Bengals and anchors the interior of the defensive line. Hill was acquired in a trade with the N.Y. Giants shortly before the 2021 regular season, and showed high production with 5.5 sacks (fourth-most on the team) in a reserve role last season. He has started all 15 games this season, and notched Cincinnati's first sack in Game 1 with a two-yard takedown of Steelers QB Mitchell Trubisky. He collected his first two career fumble recoveries in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, while also recording four tackles, a half-sack and a forced fumble. Hill had seven tackles (two solos) in Game 14 at Tampa Bay, tying his career high that he had set in Game 11 at Tennessee. In Game 15 at New England, he came up with a crucial fumble recovery as the Patriots were driving to take the lead in the final two minutes. Fifth-year pro Josh Tupou started five consecutive games from Weeks 2-6, but missed the next five contests with a calf injury. He returned in Game 13 against Cleveland and has logged five tackles (three solos) in the past three games. Tupou played in 17 games with nine starts in 2021, before suffering a right knee injury in the regular-season finale that limited him to just five snaps in the first three postseason games. He returned to action in Super Bowl LVI, helping limit the Rams to just 1.9 yards per rushing attempt. A fourth-round pick of the Bengals in 2021, DE Cam Sample played in 14 regular-season games last year as a rotational defensive lineman, collecting 14 tackles including 1.5 sacks. He notched his first sack of the 2022 season in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, bringing down QB Joe Flacco for a six-yard loss in the second quarter. In Game 15 at New England, Sample made his first career start at LDE to fill in for the injured Hubbard, and finished with a career-high six tackles (three solos) and a five-yard sack on QB Mac Jones to force a punt in the second quarter. DT Zach Carter was selected by Cincinnati in the fourth round of the 2022 NFL Draft, and started eight consecutive games this season from Games 4-11, after seeing the field in a limited role over the first three contests. He recorded two tackles and notched a half-sack on QB Mac Jones in Game 15 at New England, combining with DE Joseph Ossai to bring down the Patriots' signal-caller for a one-yard loss in the third quarter. Ossai, a third-round pick of the Bengals last season, returned to action in the 2022 season opener after missing the 2021 regular and postseason due to a knee injury. He moved to the United States at age 10 from Ketu Ijanikin, Lagos, Nigeria, and was raised in Conroe, Texas (outside Houston). In Game 7 vs. Atlanta, Ossai recorded his first career sack, taking down QB Marcus Mariota for an eight-yard loss in the fourth quarter. Ossai notched his second sack of the season in Game 12 against the Chiefs, when he brought down Patrick Mahomes for a loss of four yards on a third-and-three. In the third quarter of Game 14 at Tampa Bay, he recovered a fumble that set up a Bengals TD, then later tipped a pass from QB Tom Brady that was intercepted by LB Germaine Pratt. Rookie DE Jeff Gunter was selected in the seventh round, as the Bengals coaches were pleased to get the Coastal Carolina product late in the 2022 draft. Gunter is listed as a DE, but played at different spots along the line in college and recorded 18 sacks. The most recent addition to the D-line is DT Jay Tufele, who was acquired on waivers from Jacksonville on Aug. 31. Listed at 6-foot-3, 305 pounds, Tufele originally was a fourth-round pick of the Jaguars in 2021 and played in four games last season. With the DT spot missing a few players due to injuries, Tufele took advantage of his opportunity and recorded six tackles, including a TFL, in each of his first two games played this season (Game 6 at New Orleans, Game 7 vs. Atlanta).

Linebackers: Among Cincinnati's most promising young defenders is third-year pro Logan Wilson, who wears the "green dot" as the defense's communicator. Wilson this season leads the team with a career-high 115 tackles (79 solos), despite missing Game 7 against Atlanta due to a right shoulder injury. He has 65 stops over the last six games, including a career-best 17 (14 solos) in Game 13 vs. Cleveland. He also notched a half-sack on third down against the Browns that forced a punt in the third quarter. He continued his dominance in Game 14 at Tampa Bay, totaling 15 tackles (nine solos) and a sack that led to a forced fumble by DJ Reader. Wilson missed four games in 2021, but still finished as the team's leader in both tackles (98) and INTs (four). He made several crucial plays during Cincinnati's postseason run to Super Bowl LVI, most notably an INT late in the Divisional Round at Tennessee that set up a game-winning FG. Wilson logged 39 tackles in the postseason, the most by any NFL player in a single postseason since Ray Lewis in 2012 (51). Ranking second on the team with 95 tackles this season is fourth-year pro Germaine Pratt. Pratt switched from S to LB late in his college career at North Carolina State, but earned a starting LB spot with the Bengals midway through his rookie season. In the Wild Card Playoff vs. Las Vegas, Pratt intercepted a QB Derek Carr pass on fourth-and-goal late in the fourth quarter that sealed a Cincinnati win. This season, he finished as the team's leading tackler for a third consecutive week in Game 6 at New Orleans with 14 stops (five solos), the second-most in a game in his career. Pratt had his first INT of the season in Game 9 against Carolina, picking off QB PJ Walker in the second quarter. He had four tackles (two solos) in Game 12 vs. Kansas City and forced a game-changing fumble in the fourth quarter, as he stripped TE Travis Kelce at the Chiefs' 45-yard line and recovered it to set up the offense for what would become a go-ahead TD drive. He finished Game 14 at Tampa Bay with seven tackles (two solos), two PDs and his second INT of the season. His pick came in the fourth quarter, when he got his hands underneath a tipped pass in what Zac Taylor called "one of the best interceptions I've seen in my life." Third-year pro Markus Bailey, a 2020 seventh-round pick of the Bengals, was a rotational player early in the '21 season, but late in the year he took on an increased role due to injury issues at LB. He has 13 tackles in 15 games played this season, with six (four solos) coming in the Game 9 win over Carolina. Also a key member of Cincinnati's special teams units, Bailey was in on a momentum-shifting play in Game 14 at Tampa Bay, when the Buccaneers' punt team fumbled a fake-punt attempt and he was the first to make the tackle. A 2020 Bengals fourth-round pick, Akeem Davis-Gaither turned in perhaps the best performance of his career in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets. He led Cincinnati with a career-high 13 tackles, including a TFL in the first quarter that put the Jets in a third-and-long situation. He paced the Bengals again with nine tackles (six solos) in Game 7 vs. Atlanta, and then recorded his first career fumble recovery in Game 8 at Cleveland. The Bengals added second-year pro Clay Johnston to their LB room during the 2021 bye in Week 10 to help with injury and COVID-19 issues. He led all NFL players during the 2022 preseason with 29 tackles, including 20 in the second preseason contest at the N.Y. Giants. In the Divisional Playoff win at Tennessee last season, Johnston tackled Titans RB Derrick Henry for a loss on a two-point conversion to keep the score tied. Third-year pro Joe Bachie returned to the active roster ahead of Game 7 after spending the first six weeks of the season on the Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform list with a knee injury. Bachie recorded three tackles, along with an assisted special teams tackle, in Game 9 vs. Carolina.

Defensive backs: S Jessie Bates III, a 2018 second-round pick of the Bengals, started the first 51 games of his career — the second-most consecutive starts to begin a career by a Cincinnati defender — until a neck injury broke the streak and held him out of the Week 4 game vs. Jacksonville last season. He then returned to the lineup the following week and has not missed a game since. Named the team's designated franchise player on March 7, Bates signed the one-year tender offer on Aug. 23 and was placed on the Exempt/Commissioner Permission list. He reverted to the active roster on Sept. 5 and started in Game 1 vs. Pittsburgh. Bates has 63 tackles (35 solos), two INTs and seven PDs this season. His second pick came in Game 9 against Carolina, when he intercepted QB PJ Walker in the second quarter and returned it 16 yards. Bates led the Bengals with eight tackles (four solos) in Game 12 vs. Kansas City. He added his third INT of the season in Game 13 vs. Cleveland, picking off QB Deshaun Watson in the fourth quarter. Bates also registered three tackles and two PDs. He made several critical plays during Cincinnati's postseason run to Super Bowl LVI, including an INT on the first play from scrimmage in the AFC Divisional Playoff at Tennessee and a pick just before halftime of the Super Bowl. In overtime of the AFC Championship at Kansas City, Bates tipped a deep pass from QB Patrick Mahomes that was intercepted by S Vonn Bell, setting up Cincinnati's game-winning drive. Bell, a seventh-year pro, joined the Bengals in 2020 after spending his first four seasons with New Orleans. He has been a team captain in each of his three Bengals seasons, and finished the 2021 regular season with 97 tackles (second on team). Bell tallied a team-high seven tackles and had a key forced fumble in the second half of Game 2 at Dallas. Against the Dolphins in Game 4, he recorded four tackles (all solos) and had two INTs, his first career multi-INT game. His second came with under four minutes left in the fourth quarter, when he picked off QB Teddy Bridgewater to end a potential go-ahead TD drive for Miami. Bell has since added two more INTs, one in Game 5 at Baltimore and the next in Game 8 at Cleveland. He posted seven tackles (five solos) in the Game 13 win over Cleveland, including a half-sack that forced a Browns punt in the third quarter. Bell came through with perhaps the biggest play of Game 15 at New England, a forced fumble when the Patriots were driving to take the lead with under two minutes remaining. His eight FFs since the start of the 2020 season are tied for the fifth-most in the NFL. During the 2020 offseason, the Bengals sought to bolster their pass defense and did so with several marquee free agent signings. One such name was Mike Hilton, who is widely considered among the top slot CBs in the NFL. Though one of the smallest players on the roster at 5-9, 184 pounds, he is known as a sure tackler and excellent blitz. Hilton had a 24-yard pick-six in last season's home win against Pittsburgh, his former team, and he said it was his first career pick-six at any level dating back to pee-wee football. In Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, he recorded a season-high eight tackles (five solos). In Game 11 at Tennessee, Hilton tied for third on the team with seven tackles (six solos). Four of those tackles were made on Titans RB Derrick Henry, who entered the game as the league leader in rushing yards after contact. CB Eli Apple was originally slated to add depth after signing with the Bengals in March of 2021, but he ended up starting nearly every game last season (15 of 16 in regular season, all four in postseason). He had two INTs and 10 PDs during the regular season, but his biggest play came just before halftime of the AFC Championship at Kansas City, when he tackled Chiefs WR Tyreek Hill at the one-yard line to keep the Bengals within 11 points at the break. Apple has a familiarity with Bell, whom he played alongside in college at Ohio State, as well as with defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo, who was his position coach with the N.Y. Giants in 2018. Apple has 43 tackles (29 solos) and eight PDs in 14 starts this season. He missed Game 8 at Cleveland with a hamstring injury, but returned to the lineup for Game 9 against Carolina. The Bengals selected S Dax Hill with the No. 31 overall pick in the 2022 NFL Draft. Hill brings a highly touted versatility to the Bengals secondary, possessing the ability to line up as a nickel CB and occasionally on the outside, in addition to safety. A three-year standout at Michigan (2019-20), he made his first career start in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets. Hill started his second game of the season in Game 14 at Tampa Bay and finished with a career-high eight tackles (five solos) in 66 defensive snaps played. Cincinnati followed that draft pick by taking CB Cam Taylor-Britt out of Nebraska in the second round. Taylor-Britt spent the first four games on the Reserve/Injured list with an abdomen injury, but returned to make his career debut in Game 7 vs. Atlanta. He has started each of the last eight games and led the Bengals in tackles in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, notching a career-high 12 stops (nine solos). Taylor-Britt impressed again in Game 11 at Tennessee, registering eight tackles (seven solos) and a forced fumble on a chase-down strip of RB Derrick Henry. He has five PDs over the past four contests, including two in Game 15 at New England. Despite playing in just eight games, Taylor-Britt ranks eighth on the team this season with 46 tackles. A physically imposing member of the secondary is 6-3, 200-pound CB Tre Flowers, who joined the Bengals on waivers from Seattle in October of 2021. Flowers fills a rotational role for the Bengals, mostly used to cover TEs in passing situations. In the third quarter of Game 14 at Tampa Bay, Flowers jumped a route on third down and grabbed his first INT since the 2019 season. It was also the first INT by a Bengals CB this season. Also joining the Bengals last October was S Michael J. Thomas. In 2021, Thomas went on to play in eight regular-season games (one start) and all four postseason games, quickly becoming a core contributor on special teams. He was elected by his teammates as one of seven team captains, marking the seventh time in the past eight seasons that he has worn the captains' patch. Third-year pro Jalen Davis has also carved out a prominent role on special teams, in addition to serving as a rotational slot CB. Davis joined the Bengals in mid-2020 and was thrust into action quickly while the team dealt with a wave of injuries and COVID-19 issues. The team's most recent addition to the active roster is rookie CB Allan George, who was signed off the practice squad on Monday. George, a college free agent signee who spent four seasons at Vanderbilt, has played in three games this season and logged two solo tackles.

Special teams: First-year punter Drue Chrisman, whose hometown is roughly 35 minutes west of Cincinnati in Lawrenceburg, Ind., was elevated from the practice squad to make his NFL debut in Game 10 at Pittsburgh. Operating in less-than-optimal conditions both as a punter and holder for kicking attempts, he impressed with three punts for 162 yards (54.0), including two that pinned the Steelers inside their own 10-yard line. Chrisman followed up his debut performance by booting five punts for 259 yards (51.8) in Game 11 at Tennessee, with two downed inside the Titans' 20-yard line. He had three punts for 130 yards (43.3) with one pinned inside the 20 in the Game 15 win at New England. His appearance in Game 10 marked the end of a 138-game streak for P Kevin Huber. Huber, who was waived by the Bengals on Dec. 5 and signed back to the practice squad two days later, served as Cincinnati's punter for 14 years and holds several team records, including games played (216), total punts (1011), punting yards (45,766), gross average (45.27), net average (40.34) and inside-20 punts (346). LS Cal Adomitis is handling long-snapping duties for Cincinnati after being signed from the practice squad to the active roster on Sept. 12. Adomitis, who made his NFL debut in Game 2 at Dallas, originally joined the team as a college free agent in May after a five-year career at the University of Pittsburgh. K Evan McPherson became a fan-favorite during his rookie season in 2021, when he produced one of the best debut seasons by a kicker in NFL history. He made five game-winning "walk-off" kicks with no time remaining or in OT — three during the regular season and two in the postseason. He knocked through a 52-yarder in the Divisional Playoff at Tennessee that sent Cincinnati to the AFC Championship, and a week later hit from 31 yards in OT of the AFC Championship at Kansas City to punch Cincinnati's ticket to Super Bowl LVI. He is particularly effective from long range and has converted 14 of 16 FG attempts of 50 or more yards in his career. Three of the four longest FGs in Bengals history have come off the right foot of McPherson, with two occurring this season — a team-record 59-yarder in Game 1 vs. Pittsburgh, and a 57-yarder in Game 4 vs. Miami. Since the beginning of his rookie season in 2021, McPherson's field goal percentage on 50-yard-plus kicks (87.5 pct.) ranks second in the NFL (min. 10 attempts). Through 15 games this season, he is 22 of 27 on FG attempts (81.5 pct.) and 37 of 41 on PATs (90.2 pct.). McPherson is a perfect five of five on kicks of 50 or more yards this season, one of three kickers in the league with a perfect percentage on attempts of 50-plus. WR Trent Taylor holds the role as Cincinnati's primary punt returner. He has 31 returns this season and ranks fourth in the league in PR yards (328). HB Chris Evans and HB Trayveon Williams have each been utilized on kickoff returns this season. After not having a kick return opportunity through the first four weeks of the season, Evans amassed 211 yards on 10 returns (21.1 avg.) from weeks five through nine. He was inactive in Game 10 at Pittsburgh due to a knee injury, but Williams stepped in with an impressive performance of five KORs for 124 yards (24.8 avg.), including a 42-yarder that stands as a Bengals season long. In the six games since taking over as the team's primary KOR, Williams has 14 KORs for 308 yards (22.0 avg.), with four returns over 25 yards.

IMPORTANT DATES

2023

- Jan. 7 — A claiming period of 24 hours shall be in effect for any waivers requested during the period from the Saturday of the final regular season weekend through the conclusion of the final postseason game, except for waiver requests on Friday and Saturday of each week, which shall expire at 4 p.m. Eastern on the following Monday. # 2022 GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 1, GAME 1

Pittsburgh Steelers 23, Cincinnati Bengals 20 (OT) Sunday, Sept. 11, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

Despite five turnovers, including four INTs by QB Joe Burrow, the Bengals were in position to win twice, but two missed kicks led to the loss. Burrow rallied to lead two second-half TD drives, including a six-yard scoring pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase to tie the game at 20-20 with two seconds left in regulation. But K Evan McPherson's PAT attempt was blocked by Steelers S Minkah Fitzpatrick. Then, after holding Pittsburgh on the opening drive of OT, the Bengals drove into range for another potential game-winning kick, this time a FG attempt from 29 yards. But Cincinnati again failed to convert, as a high snap contributed to McPherson sailing it wide left. The Bengals had yet another opportunity for a game-winning kick when they moved into McPherson's FG range with less than two minutes left in OT, but Burrow was sacked on third down for the seventh time of the game to force a punt, and Pittsburgh quickly drove 45 yards to get in position to convert a 53-yard game-winning FG as OT expired.

Dallas Cowboys 20, Cincinnati Bengals 17 Sunday, Sept. 18, 2022 at AT&T Stadium

The Bengals faced an early 14-3 first-quarter deficit, as Dallas opened the game with back-to-back TD drives. Cincinnati later scored FGs on consecutive drives in the third quarter, while the Bengals' defense held the Cowboys to three punts and a lost fumble on their first four drives of the second half. The Bengals logged a 19-play, 83-yard drive which took 8:54 off the clock in the fourth quarter and ended with a five-yard TD pass from QB Joe Burrow to WR Tee Higgins. Burrow then connected with WR Tyler Boyd on a two-point conversion to tie the score at 17-17 with 3:45 left. A Cowboys three-and-out gave Burrow the ball back with 2:13 remaining, but the Dallas defense forced the Bengals into a three-and-out of their own on the following drive. With less than a minute left, Cowboys QB Cooper Rush, who started in place of an injured Dak Prescott, quickly led the team on a 33-yard drive to put K Brett Maher in range for a 50-yard game-winning FG as time expired. The Cowboys improved to 1-1, while the Bengals fell to 0-2.

WEEK 3, GAME 3

Cincinnati Bengals 27, N.Y. Jets 12
Sunday, Sept. 25, 2022 at MetLife Stadium

The Bengals scored on four of their first five possessions, including an opening-drive TD, to build an early 20-6 lead. QB Joe Burrow had 95 passing yards on that initial drive, capped by a 12-yard TD throw to HB Samaje Perine on a third-and-goal. After a pair of Jets FGs, Cincinnati struck again on the final play of the first quarter when Burrow found WR Tyler Boyd over the middle, and Boyd spun off a hit and ran 45 yards to the end zone. LB Logan Wilson grabbed the Bengals' first INT of the season in the second quarter, picking off a deep pass from Jets QB Joe Flacco and returning it 47 yards. Cincinnati opened the second half with another TD, as a strip sack from DE Trey Hendrickson on the Jets' first possession set the Bengals up at the New York 24-yard line, and four plays later Burrow found WR Ja'Marr Chase alone in the end zone to make it 27-9. Another forced fumble from Hendrickson with 10:03 left in the fourth quarter led to a 13-play, 52-yard Bengals drive that drained the clock. S Jessie Bates sealed the win with an INT in the final minute. Cincinnati improved to 1-2, while the Jets fell to 1-2.

WEEK 4, GAME 4

Cincinnati Bengals 27, Miami Dolphins 15
Thursday night, Sept. 29, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

The Bengals found the end zone on their opening drive for a second straight game, as HB Joe Mixon put Cincinnati ahead 7-0 with a five-yard rushing TD less than five minutes into the first quarter. Miami moved the ball early, but was held to a pair of FGs before the Bengals struck again late in the second period, when QB Joe Burrow hit WR Tee Higgins for a 59-yard TD to extend the lead, 14-6. The Dolphins answered with a TD on a shovel pass from QB Teddy Bridgewater to RB Chase Edmonds with nine seconds left in the first half. Another Jason Sanders FG in the third quarter gave Miami its first lead, but the Bengals responded with two fourth-quarter kicks from Evan McPherson, including a 57-yarder. Bridgewater drove the Dolphins into Cincinnati territory with under four minutes left, but S Vonn Bell ended their chances of a go-ahead TD with his second INT of the game. The Bengals capitalized on the turnover, as Burrow connected with WR Ja'Marr Chase for a 36-yard completion to set up first-and-goal, and three plays later TE Hayden Hurst caught his first TD of the season to cement the win. Cincinnati improved to 2-2, while the Dolphins fell to 3-1.

WEEK 5, GAME 5

Baltimore Ravens 19, Cincinnati Bengals 17
Sunday night, Oct. 9, 2022 at M&T Bank Stadium

The Bengals fell behind 10-0 early in the second quarter and were forced to punt on their first four offensive possessions, but an INT by S Vonn Bell at the Cincinnati 17-yard line kept Baltimore from expanding its lead. The offense capitalized on the turnover with a seven-play scoring drive, finished off with a 19-yard TD pass to TE Hayden Hurst to cut it to 10-7. The Bengals tied it on an Evan McPherson FG before halftime, marking the third time this season they came back from a double-digit deficit. Two Baltimore FGs bookended a 15-play Cincinnati drive in the third quarter that got down to the Ravens' two-yard line, but the Bengals were held out of the end zone on four straight snaps. Joe Burrow engineered a go-ahead TD drive in the fourth quarter that ended with a QB sneak to put Cincinnati in front, 17-16, with 1:58 left. The Ravens answered by going 50 yards to set up a game-winning 43-yard FG from Justin Tucker as time expired. Baltimore improved to 3-2, while Cincinnati fell to 2-3.

QB Joe Burrow and WR Ja'Marr Chase made their return to Caesars Superdome, where they helped Louisiana State win the 2019 college football national championship, and connected on two TDs in the second half to lead the Bengals to a road win. Chase, a New Orleans-area native, gave Cincinnati its first lead of the afternoon on a 60-yard catch and run to the end zone with 1:57 remaining in regulation. Chase finished with seven catches for 132 yards (18.9-yard average), while Burrow completed 28 of 37 passes for 300 yards and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). Former Bengals QB Andy Dalton started for the Saints and helped them build a 17-7 lead early in the second quarter, and New Orleans had 164 rushing yards in the first half against a Bengals defense that came in allowing just 99.6 per game. But the Cincinnati offense flipped its switch late in the second quarter when Burrow recorded a 19-yard rushing TD on a scramble, and the Bengals scored on their final four drives. The Saints still had a chance for the win as the end of regulation approached, but Bengals DT B.J. Hill and DE Sam Hubbard teamed up for a late sack on Dalton to force a fourth-and-17 in the final minute, and his desperation heave on fourth down with 34 seconds left fell incomplete. Cincinnati improved to 3-3, while New Orleans fell to 2-4.

WEEK 7, GAME 7

Cincinnati Bengals 35, Atlanta Falcons 17
Sunday, Oct. 23, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

The Bengals opened the game with four straight TD drives and recorded 537 net yards of offense in a dominant home win. QB Joe Burrow completed 34 of 42 passes for 481 yards and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). He started the day with a 60-yard TD pass to WR Tyler Boyd on the game's fourth play from scrimmage. Boyd caught eight passes for 155 receiving yards (118 in the first half), while WR Ja'Marr Chase added eight receptions for 130 yards and two TDs. Chase's TDs both came in the second quarter, and both on receptions of over 30 yards. The Falcons scored 17 points in the final five minutes of the first half to cut their deficit to 11 points, 28-17, but the Bengals' defense forced Atlanta to punt on each of its four second-half possessions, and Burrow led a game-ending drive that took the last 8:44 off the clock to secure the win. The Bengals' defense extended to seven the number of consecutive games in which Cincinnati had not allowed a second-half touchdown, just the third such streak since the 1970 NFL-AFL merger. The Bengals improved to 4-3, while Atlanta fell to 3-4.

WEEK 8, GAME 8

Cleveland Browns 32, Cincinnati Bengals 13
Monday night, Oct. 31, 2022 at FirstEnergy Stadium

The Browns recorded 440 net yards offensively, including 172 rushing, to earn their fifth straight win in the Battle of Ohio. Cincinnati was held scoreless in the first half for the first time in 24 games, with two early possessions ended by turnovers in Cleveland territory. A six-point swing off a missed Bengals FG followed by a 55-yarder by Cade York in the final minute of the half gave the Browns an 11-0 lead going into the break. Cleveland finished off two extended third-quarter drives with TDs to grow its lead to 25-0, while Cincinnati was held to just 148 total yards through the first three frames. QB Joe Burrow threw a pair of fourth-quarter TD passes to WRs Tyler Boyd and Tee Higgins, but a 53-yard completion on third-and-nine from QB Jacoby Brissett to WR Amari Cooper helped set up a game-sealing rushing TD by RB Nick Chubb. Cleveland improved to 3-5, while Cincinnati fell to 4-4.

Cincinnati Bengals 42, Carolina Panthers 21
Sunday, Nov. 6, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

HB Joe Mixon scored a team-record five TDs (four rushing, one receiving) and totaled 211 yards from scrimmage to lead Cincinnati to its third straight home win. The Bengals' offense found the end zone on five of their seven first-half possessions while the defense forced two turnovers en route to a 35-0 halftime lead — the team's largest lead at the break since 1983. Four of Mixon's TDs were scored in the first half. He totaled 153 rushing yards on 22 attempts (7.0-yard average), as well as another 58 yards on four receptions. Bengals QB Joe Burrow completed 22 of 28 passes for 206 yards and a TD. Panthers QB PJ Walker completed just three of 10 passes for nine yards in the first half and was picked off twice in the second quarter, by LB Germaine Pratt and S Jessie Bates III. QB Baker Mayfield played in the second half for Carolina and led three TD drives, though many of the Bengals' starters had been pulled by the end of the third quarter. Cincinnati improved to 5-4, while Carolina fell to 2-7.

WEEK 11, GAME 10

Cincinnati Bengals 37, Pittsburgh Steelers 30
Sunday, Nov. 20, 2022 at Acrisure Stadium

QB Joe Burrow passed for four TDs, with three going to HB Samaje Perine, to lead Cincinnati to its first divisional win of the season. Perine's three scores constituted the first time in team history that a Bengals RB recorded three receiving TDs in a game. The teams traded leads through the first half, before WR Trenton Irwin caught his first career TD midway through the third quarter to give the Bengals a lead they would not relinquish. After the Bengals' defense forced the Steelers to punt for the fifth time in the second half, Burrow led an eight-play, 93-yard scoring drive capped by Perine's third TD reception to put Cincinnati ahead 34-23 with 4:30 left and essentially secure the win. WEEK 12, GAME 11

Cincinnati Bengals 20, Tennessee Titans 16
Sunday, Nov. 27, 2022 at Nissan Stadium

QB Joe Burrow found WR Tee Higgins for a 27-yard TD in the fourth quarter to break a 13-13 tie, and the offense closed the game on a drive that started with 6:07 left to secure Cincinnati's third straight win. The Bengals' defense held Titans RB Derrick Henry, the NFL's leading rusher entering the game, to 38 yards on 17 carries, and in the second half Tennessee's offense was limited to 125 total yards and six points. The Titans went up 10-3 in the second quarter when Henry took a screen pass 69 yards and fumbled the ball into the end zone, where it was recovered by WR Treyton Burks. Later in the quarter, Cincinnati answered with a 92-yard drive, capped by a rushing TD from HB Samaje Perine, who started in place of an injured Joe Mixon. Both teams traded FGs before the Bengals went on a six-play, 75-yard march that included a back-shoulder catch from WR Trenton Irwin to convert a third-and-12. The following snap, Burrow lofted a jump ball for Higgins at the goal line, and the 6-4 receiver came down with what would be the game-winning TD. Cincinnati improved to 7-4, while Tennessee fell to 7-4.

WEEK 13, GAME 12

Cincinnati Bengals 27, Kansas City Chiefs 24
Sunday, Dec. 4, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

QB Joe Burrow completed 80.6 percent of his passes (25 of 31) and the Bengals overcame a seven-point deficit entering the fourth quarter to earn their fourth straight win. Cincinnati opened the game with back-to-back TD drives to take an early 14-3 lead, but the Chiefs answered with 14 straight points to march in front. Kansas City had the ball and a 24-20 lead in the fourth quarter, before LB Germaine Pratt stripped the ball from TE Travis Kelce and recovered the fumble near midfield. The Bengals capitalized with a 10-play drive which included two third-down conversions, and finished it off with an eight-yard TD pass from Burrow to HB Chris Evans for the go-ahead score. A sack by DE Joseph Ossai on the ensuing drive forced the Chiefs into a 55-yard FG attempt, which K Harrison Butker sailed wide right, and Cincinnati bled the final 3:19 of game clock to clinch the victory. WR Ja'Marr Chase caught seven passes for 97 yards in his first action after missing four games with a hip injury, and HB Samaje Perine added 155 yards from scrimmage (106 rushing, 49 receiving). Cincinnati improved to 8-4, while Kansas City fell to 9-3.

WEEK 16, GAME 15

Cincinnati Bengals 22, New England Patriots 18
Saturday, Dec. 24, 2022 at Gillette Stadium

The Patriots stormed back from a 22-0 halftime deficit and were driving to take the lead with one minute remaining, but S Vonn Bell forced a fumble that was recovered by DT B.J. Hill to help Cincinnati win its seventh straight. The Bengals recorded 303 offensive net yards in the first half to build their lead, with QB Joe Burrow throwing for 284 yards and three TDs. Burrow finished the day with a career-high 40 completions for 375 yards, and connected with eight different pass catchers. WR Tee Higgins contributed five catches for 128 yards and capped off the game's opening drive with a TD, while WR Trenton Irwin added a pair of TD receptions. New England's comeback began with a 69-yard pick-six by CB Marcus Jones in the third quarter, Burrow's second INT of the afternoon. Patriots QB Mac Jones threw two TD passes in the fourth, including a 48-yarder that was batted into the hands of WR Jakobi Meyers to make it a one-score game. New England had one last chance following the fumble, but could not advance past its own 39-yard line as the Bengals' defense stood tall. Cincinnati improved to 11-4, while New England fell to 7-8.
