Setting the scene: The Bengals enter a two-game road swing at a crucial point in the season when they travel to Tampa Bay to take on the Buccaneers on Sunday at Raymond James Stadium. Cincinnati has won five straight contests for the first time since 2015, and is coming off a 23-10 victory over Cleveland in Week 14 that saw the Bengals snap a five-game losing skid against their in-state rival.

Though Cincinnati's offense, which had strung together several impressive performances in previous weeks, did not find a rhythm until the second quarter, the defense had a dominant showing and held Cleveland's rushing attack to just 71 yards for the afternoon.

"We settled in and found a way to move the ball, and that's really because our defense allowed us to," head coach Zac Taylor said. "They gave us the time by limiting the points off the board to let our offense find a way to take that lead. It was really a good team effort of finding a way to win in December in a divisional game."

The Bengals' defense has frustrated some of the NFL's top playmakers over its past three games. In Week 12 at Tennessee, the unit held RB Derrick Henry, who entered with the league's most rushing yards, to just 38 yards on 17 carries. The following game vs. Kansas City, QB Patrick Mahomes threw for a season-low 223 yards and was sacked twice, while TE Travis Kelce had just 56 receiving yards and committed a game-changing fumble in the fourth quarter. Browns RB Nick Chubb came into Sunday's game at Paycor Stadium averaging 5.5 yards per carry, but was bottled up by the Cincinnati defensive line for 2.4 (34 yards on 14 attempts).

Leading the effort for the Bengals was their two starting defensive tackles, DJ Reader and B.J. Hill. Reader, who is gaining notoriety as one of the league's top run stuffers, had five solo tackles and batted down a pass at the line for the fourth time in the last three games. Hill swatted down a pass as well and totaled three tackles. The duo also opened lanes for LB Logan Wilson to make plays throughout the afternoon, as the third-year pro collected a career-high 17 tackles (14 solos) with a half-sack.

The offense broke through on its fourth drive of the game, when a series of defensive penalties on Cleveland set up Cincinnati at the Browns' 30-yard line. QB Joe Burrow capitalized on the opportunity with a pinpoint 15-yard TD pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase, who was double-covered and admitted he didn't know the ball was coming his way until it was already in his hands.

"Fortunately, when Ja'Marr doesn't think he's getting the ball, he's still the best receiver in the league," Burrow said.

The Bengals answered a Browns FG with a nine-play, 75-yard drive just before halftime that was capped off by HB Samaje Perine navigating his way through tackles to the end zone. Cincinnati's three points allowed were its second-fewest in a first half this season.

Cincinnati broke the game open midway through the third quarter, when a perfectly executed flea flicker play resulted in Burrow launching a 45-yard TD pass to a wide-open Trenton Irwin. Irwin, who has emerged as a reliable option on the outside over the past six games, finished with two grabs for a season-high 58 yards, while slot receiver Trent Taylor added a 34-yard catch in the first half that helped lead to the Perine TD. Both players saw increased action with WR Tyler Boyd (finger) and WR Tee Higgins (hamstring) out for the majority of the game.

"We didn't have to make an adjustment," Burrow said. "That's what's great about those guys that come in for them. We have all the faith in the world that they're going to do the job. There can't be any drop off, and there really wasn't any today."

Though Cleveland cut its deficit to 10 later in the third quarter with an 81-yard TD drive, the Bengals' defense buckled down in the fourth quarter and did not yield any points. The secondary stepped up with key plays, led off by S Jessie Bates III's third INT of the season when he stepped in front of a deep pass from QB Deshaun Watson that would have put the Browns in Cincinnati territory. The final two possessions saw the Bengals force a turnover on downs, highlighted by a pass breakup by rookie CB Cam Taylor-Britt on a fourth-and-goal from the Cincinnati six-yard line.

"Those guys come in and they're ready for downhill, physical games like that," said Mixon on the defense's performance. "They show up each and every week. Every opposing back, they've pretty much been imposing their will on the offense. I'm very glad for the defense. They showed up today."

The Bengals now prepare for a Buccaneers passing attack that ranks fifth in the NFL (265.7 yards per game) and is led by three-time MVP Tom Brady. On the defensive side, Tampa Bay is allowing just 195.3 passing yards per game, good for sixth in the league. Cincinnati has already beaten three NFC South teams this season in New Orleans (Week 6), Atlanta (Week 7) and Carolina (Week 9), and has a chance to sweep an NFC division for the first time since going 4-0 against the NFC North in 2005.

The series: Tampa Bay leads 7-5, thanks to a six-game series win streak in meetings spanning from 1995 through 2010. The series is tied 2-2 in Tampa, while the Buccaneers hold a 5-3 lead in games played in Cincinnati.

The Bengals, however, have won the last two meetings — 14-13 in 2014 at Tampa Bay, and 37-34 in '18 at Cincinnati. Prior to that '14 victory, the Bengals had not beaten the Bucs since 1989, when they prevailed 56-23 at Riverfront Stadium.

Team bests from the series:

Bengals — MOST POINTS: 56, in a 56-23 win at Riverfront Stadium in 1989. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 33, from the 1989 victory. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 0, in a 21-0 victory in 1976.

Buccaneers — MOST POINTS: 35 (twice), most recently in a 35-7 win at Cincinnati in 2002. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 35, in a 35-0 win at Cincinnati in 1998. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 0, in the 1998 game.

The last meetings: Summaries of the two most recent Bengals-Bucs meetings — in 2014 at Tampa Bay, and in '18 in Cincinnati — are on page 17 of this news release.

Bengals career records watch: Here is a look at potential upcoming movement on the Bengals' career records lists (regular season):

- HB Joe Mixon has 5265 career rushing yards, 156 shy of FB Pete Johnson (5421) for fourth place all-time. Mixon in 2021 passed Cedric Benson (4176).
• Mixon had four rushing TDs in Game 9 vs. Carolina, moving his career total to 39. That surpassed HB James Brooks and FB Larry Kinnebrew (37 each) for fifth place all-time.
• Mixon also has 14 career games with 100 or more rushing yards, tied with FB Pete Johnson for fifth place all-time.
• Mixon in Game 1 had 27 rushing attempts and surpassed Cedric Benson (1109) for fifth place all-time.
• QB Joe Burrow has 15 career games of 300 or more passing yards, two shy of QB Carson Palmer (17) for fourth place all-time.
• WR Tyler Boyd in Game 8 surpassed WR Cris Collinsworth (417) for fifth place all-time on the team's career receptions list.

Records vs. Buccaneers: The Bengals set several offensive team records — which stand to this day — in their 1989 victory over Tampa Bay, a 56-23 verdict at Riverfront Stadium.

The list includes most team touchdowns scored (eight; since tied), most passing touchdowns (six; since tied), and most PATs (eight). An individual TD pass mark does not stand from the game, as the six TDs included five by Boomer Esiason and one by Erik Wilhelm (Carson Palmer set the club individual mark with six of his own at Cleveland in 2007). Jim Breech, the Bengals' all-time leading scorer, was the kicker who set the PAT mark.

The 56 points scored by Cincinnati stands as the team's most ever against an NFC opponent and the fourth-most in club history.

Individually vs. Buccaneers: Here is a brief look at offensive statistics for current Bengals against Tampa Bay:

- WR Tyler Boyd: One game; Nine receptions for 138 yards (15.3-yard average) and one TD; One rush for minus-two yards.
• HB Joe Mixon: One game; 21 rushes for 123 (5.9) yards and two TDs; Three receptions for 15 yards (5.0).

Uniform watch: The Bengals are slated to wear white jerseys, white pants (black stripes) and black socks in Week 15 at Tampa Bay. Cincinnati is 6-1 when wearing that combination, which was last featured in the team's Week 11 win at Tennessee. The Bengals also donned this look in two consecutive road postseason victories last season (at Tennessee in AFC Divisional, at Kansas City in AFC Championship).

Cincinnati unveiled new uniforms in 2021, marking the team's first significant uniform redesign since '04. There are three different color options for the current jerseys — black, white and orange. The pants also feature three different options — black with orange stripes, white with orange stripes, and white with black stripes. Options for sock color include black, white and orange.

This year, with the NFL's approval for the use of alternate helmets, the Bengals unveiled a new helmet branded as the "White Bengal," featuring a white base coat and the team's iconic black stripes. The helmet debuted in the Week 4 Thursday Night Football matchup against the Miami Dolphins, which saw the Bengals earn a 27-15 win in front of a white-out crowd at Paycor Stadium. They sported the "White Bengal" again in Week 11, in a 37-30 victory at Pittsburgh.

In the league's revised uniform policy, teams can pair their new helmet with an alternate, classic or Color Rush uniform. To accentuate the "White Bengal" helmet, the Bengals chose to bring back the fan-favorite Color Rush look — a white jersey/pant combination featuring black stripes and black lettering. The team wore the Color Rush uniform seven times from 2016-20.

Here are the Bengals' records in every possible uniform combination (regular season plus postseason):

Table with 6 columns: JERSEY, PANTS (STRIPES), SOCKS, HELMET, W-L-T, PCT. Rows list various uniform combinations and their corresponding win-loss-tie records and percentages.

* — NFL rules allow teams to wear designated alternate jerseys and/or color rush (CR) uniforms and/or throwback uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. Orange is the Bengals' designated alternate jersey. In 2022, Cincinnati may wear its new alternate white helmet with its previous color rush uniform. The Bengals do not have a throwback uniform.

THE HEAD COACHES

Zac Taylor was named the 10th head coach in Bengals history on Feb. 4, 2019. The 2022 season is his fourth in the position.

In 2021, Taylor led Cincinnati to an AFC North Division championship, an AFC championship and a berth in Super Bowl LVI. Working with one of the NFL's top young offenses, he helped guide second-year QB Joe Burrow to a breakout year in which he set team records for passing yardage (4611), TD passes (34) and passer rating (108.3), as well as recording a league-high 70.4 completion percentage. Burrow was named the AP NFL Comeback Player of the Year — becoming the second player in franchise history to do so — after missing the final six weeks of his rookie season due to a knee injury. Taylor also oversaw the rapid rise of first-year WR Ja'Marr Chase, who posted the most receiving yards by a rookie in the Super Bowl era (1455) en route to winning AP Offensive Rookie of the Year honors. Chase and fellow WR Tee Higgins (1091 yards) became the first duo in NFL history to record 1000 receiving yards in the same season before the age of 23. Fifth-year HB Joe Mixon further established himself as one of the NFL's premier backs under Taylor, ranking third in the league in rushing yards (1205) and fourth in rushing TDs (13). Overall, the Cincinnati offense finished the regular season in the top half of the NFL in yards (13th, 361.5 per game), passing yards (seventh, 259.0) and points (eighth, 27.1).

Defensively, the Bengals showed marked improvement from 2020 to '21, improving their league ranking in rushing yards allowed (29th to fifth), total yards allowed (26th to 18th) and points allowed (22nd to 17th).

In 2020, Taylor helped transition Burrow, the No. 1 overall pick in the NFL draft, to the pros, despite the absence of an in-person offseason program due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Burrow had one of the most productive starts to a career by a QB in NFL history before a knee injury ended the rookie's season after 10 games. Still, Burrow's 264 completions were the most ever by an NFL QB through their first 10 career games, while his 404 pass attempts were second and his 2688 passing yards were fifth. Defensively, Taylor oversaw the onboarding of seven new starters, and helped Cincinnati hold opposing passers to just a 62.8 completion percentage (sixth-lowest in the NFL).

In 2019, his first season as head coach, Taylor headed off a wave of early season injuries to lead Cincinnati to second-half turnarounds on both offense and defense. Offensively, the Bengals' per-game rushing average jumped 70.6 yards from the first half of the season (59.5) to the second (130.1), while their per-attempt average jumped 1.26 yards (3.17 to 4.43) and they allowed 10 fewer sacks (29 to 19). The team's top four WRs — Boyd, Alex Erickson, Auden Tate and John Ross III — all posted career-highs in both receptions and receiving yards. Defensively, Cincinnati notched 11 more sacks in the second half of the season compared to the first, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game.

Taylor came to Cincinnati after two seasons (2017-18) with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant wide receivers coach in '17 and quarterbacks coach in '18. In 2018, he helped guide Rams QB Jared Goff to career highs in every major passing category. Goff ranked fourth in the NFL in passing yards and eighth in passer rating. The Rams' QB play was a key component to their offense, which finished the regular season ranked second in the NFL in total net yards (421.1 per game), fifth in net passing yards (281.7), second in scoring (32.9), first in first downs (401) and fifth in third-down percentage (45.0). Los Angeles won the NFC West with a 13-3 regular-season record and advanced to Super Bowl LIII against the New England Patriots.

In 2017, Taylor helped oversee an emerging Rams passing offense that ranked 10th in the NFL in passing yards per game (239.4). Taylor directed a

Rams' young receiving corps headed by rookie Cooper Kupp, who finished the season with 62 catches, a team-high 869 receiving yards and five TDs.

Prior to his time with the Rams, Taylor had a one-year stint in the college ranks, serving as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Cincinnati in 2016. Taylor served under head coach Tommy Tuberville at UC.

Taylor broke into NFL coaching in 2012 with the Miami Dolphins as assistant quarterbacks coach. He was elevated to quarterbacks coach from 2013-15, and spent the final five games of '15 as the Dolphins' interim offensive coordinator and primary play-caller, after the team made coaching staff changes.

During his time in Miami, Taylor was instrumental in the development of QB Ryan Tannehill, the team's first-round draft pick in 2012.

Taylor's coaching career began at Texas A&M University, where he served as offensive graduate assistant and tight ends coach under head coach Mike Sherman from 2008-11. The Aggies shared the Big 12 South Championship in 2010 and played in three bowl games during Taylor's time in College Station.

As a player, Taylor began his college career at Wake Forest (2002-03) before transferring to Butler County Community College in Kansas ('04) and then playing his final two seasons ('05-06) at the University of Nebraska. Taylor had a decorated career with the Cornhuskers, setting numerous school records and passing for 5850 yards and 45 touchdowns. In his 2006 senior season, he was named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year after passing for 3197 total yards and leading the Cornhuskers to a 9-3 record, an appearance in the Big 12 Championship Game and a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017.

Taylor joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but he was waived prior to the start of training camp and never saw NFL action. Later that year, he joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League, where he spent one season (did not play).

His father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at the University of Oklahoma, playing under Sooners head coach Barry Switzer from 1976-79. Sherwood Taylor later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State University. Taylor's younger brother, Press, played quarterback at Marshall University and currently is the offensive coordinator for the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Taylor was born in Norman, Okla., on May 10, 1983. After attending Norman High School, he earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from the University of Nebraska in 2006. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children — Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah Taylor is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman.

Todd Bowles was named the 13th head coach in Buccaneers history on March 31, 2022, following a three-year stint as the team's defensive coordinator, a role in which he transformed the unit into one of the most productive, opportunistic defenses in the NFL.

From 2019-21, Tampa Bay ranked third in the league in takeaways (82) and third in sacks (142), joining the Pittsburgh Steelers as the only teams to place in the top five of both categories. In addition to the sacks and takeaways under Bowles' guidance, the Buccaneers ranked first in fewest rushing yards allowed per game (82.5), first in fewest rushing yards per attempt (3.72), first in defensive fumble recoveries (37), first in passes defended (241), third in tackles for loss (262), fourth in forced fumbles (52), tied for fourth in defensive touchdowns (nine), fifth in fewest yards per play allowed (5.13), and fifth in fewest passing yards per attempt allowed (6.78). From 2020-21, Buccaneers have allowed the sixth-fewest points per game (21.5) and the fifth-fewest yards per game (329.4). In six postseason contests in those two years, Tampa Bay tallied 16 takeaways, seven more than any other team. Bowles was the architect behind a historic defensive performance that catapulted the Buccaneers to a Super Bowl LV victory.

Bowles joined the Buccaneers after spending the previous four seasons as the head coach of the N.Y. Jets (2015-18). Under Bowles, the Jets posted one of the best run defenses in the NFL, holding teams to just 4.0 yards per carry, the sixth-lowest figure in the NFL during that span, and allowing only 44 rushing touchdowns, tied for the eighth-fewest in that timeframe. Bowles' Jets defense also allowed opposing offenses to convert only 36.0 percent of third downs, the fourth-lowest mark in the league. Opposing passers completed just 60.6 percent of their passes against the Jets under Bowles, the third-lowest mark in the NFL.

Prior to serving as the head coach of the Jets, Bowles spent two seasons as the defensive coordinator of the Arizona Cardinals (2013-14), where he won Assistant Coach of the Year honors from the Pro Football Writers of America and the Associated Press in 2014. Bowles spent one year with the Philadelphia Eagles (2012), serving as the team's secondary coach, before being named interim defensive coordinator for the final 10 games of the season. Prior to the Eagles, Bowles worked as the assistant head coach/secondary coach for the Miami Dolphins for four seasons (2008-11). In 2011, he was named interim head coach for the final three games of the year, going 2-1. Bowles also worked as the defensive backs coach for the Dallas Cowboys from 2005-07. His NFL coaching career began in 2000 as the defensive backs coach of the Jets prior to spending four years with the Cleveland Browns, working as the team's nickel package coach (2001-03) and secondary coach (2004).

Bowles got his start as the defensive coordinator for Morehouse College in 1997, followed by a two-year stint as defensive coordinator at Grambling State from 1998-99. He played collegiately at Temple, and despite going undrafted in 1986, played eight years in the NFL, with Washington ('86-90 and '92-93) and the San Francisco 49ers ('91). He was a starter on the 1987 Washington team that won Super Bowl XXII. Following his retirement as a player, Bowles spent two seasons (1995-96) with the Green Bay Packers' player personnel department.

Bowles is an Elizabeth, N.J. native. He and his wife Taneka have three sons — Todd Jr., Troy and Tyson.

Taylor vs. Buccaneers: No previous meetings.

Taylor vs. Bowles: No previous meetings.

Bowles vs. Bengals: Bowles leads 1-0 (with N.Y. Jets in 2016).

BENGALS NOTES

2022 Bengals captains: In September, Bengals head coach Zac Taylor announced the team's captains for the 2022 season, which were decided through a players-only vote. Wearing the captains' patch this year are three offensive players, three defensive players and one special teams representative.

On offense, the captains are third-year QB Joe Burrow, sixth-year HB Joe Mixon and seventh-year C Ted Karras. This is Burrow's third consecutive season as a captain and the second straight for Mixon. Karras, who joined the Bengals as a free agent in March, will serve as a team captain for the second time in his career, after doing so with the Miami Dolphins in 2020.

On defense, the captains are seventh-year S Vonn Bell, fifth-year DE Sam Hubbard and seventh-year DT DJ Reader. Bell has been voted a captain in each of his three seasons in Cincinnati, after joining the team as a free agent in 2020. It is the second captain nod for Hubbard and the first for Reader.

The lone captain on special teams is S Michael J. Thomas, who is in his ninth NFL season in 2022. Thomas has earned the respect of each locker room he has been in throughout his career, as this year is his seventh as a team captain while playing for four different teams. He held the title with the Miami Dolphins each season from 2015-17, with the N.Y. Giants from 2018-19, and with the Houston Texans in 2020.

Bengals lead weekly award haul since '21: QB Joe Burrow was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week for Week 13 in recognition of his performance in a 27-24 win over Kansas City. It was the 12th AFC Player of the Week award won by a Bengals player since the start of the 2021 season, the most weekly honors netted by any team in the NFL. Kansas City (AFC) and Philadelphia (NFC) are tied for the second-most with 10 each.

DE Trey Hendrickson in Week 3 of this season recorded 2.5 sacks and two forced fumbles in a win at the N.Y. Jets, and became the first Bengal to earn AFC Defensive Player of the Week status since DE Carlos Dunlap in 2019. K Evan McPherson took home AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors in Week 4, when he made both of his two FG attempts including a 57-yarder in the fourth quarter to help beat Miami.

Cincinnati has boasted the AFC Offensive Player of the Week in three of the past seven weeks dating back to Week 7, when Burrow received the award after passing for 481 yards and three TDs in a win over Atlanta. In Week 9, HB Joe Mixon claimed the honor with a career-high 211 scrimmage yards and five total TDs (four rushing, one receiving) to lead the Bengals to a dominant home victory over Carolina.

The Bengals are the only team this season with an AFC Offensive, Defensive, and Special Teams Player of the Week. Minnesota, Philadelphia and Seattle have all done so in the NFC. In 2021, Cincinnati garnered five Offensive and two Special Teams Player of the Week awards for a total of seven, tying Arizona (NFC) for the league-lead.

Hubbard named WPMOY nominee: The Bengals announced DE Sam Hubbard as their nominee for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award presented by Nationwide. This is the second consecutive year Hubbard has earned the team's nomination, following a 2021 year in which he created the Sam Hubbard Foundation to bring equitable access to food, education and a healthy lifestyle for all Cincinnatians.

Considered one of the league's most prestigious honors, the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award recognizes an NFL player for outstanding community service activities off the field, as well as excellence on the field. Three players in Bengals history have received the award — QB Ken Anderson in 1975, LB Reggie Williams in '86, and OT Anthony Munoz in '91.

A Cincinnati native who attended Archbishop Moeller High School before playing three seasons at Ohio State, Hubbard has been committed to serving his home community since being drafted by the Bengals in 2018. He continued several annual events through the Sam Hubbard Foundation this year, including his Shop with a Pro Night, Sam's Thanksgiving Food Drive, and The Sam Hubbard Youth Football Camp. Hubbard additionally started two education-focused projects in partnership with local non-profit Crayons to Computers. He hosted a backpack drive in August, in which over 650 backpacks were distributed to every student in the Bellevue school district, and in October launched Hubbard's Cupboards, which serves as an on-site supplement that provides school supplies, healthy snacks and hygiene products for students in the Mt. Healthy school system.

"I consider this nomination to be the highest honor in our league because of the incredible people that have come before me, and because of the resources and awareness it will bring to my foundation and our mission," Hubbard said.

Offense finds rhythm in recent wins: The Bengals have recorded 400 or more offensive net yards in four games since Week 7, tied for the third-most such games in the NFL in that span. The stretch began with a season-high 537 net yards in a 35-17 Week 7 win over Atlanta. That performance was largely fueled by 459 net passing yards, which marked the second-most passing yards in a game by any team this season (Miami, 462 in Week 2), and the third-highest total in Bengals history. QB Joe Burrow was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week after completing 34 of 42 passes for 481 yards and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). He became the third player in NFL history with at least 475 passing yards, three TD passes and one rushing TD in a single game, joining Norm Van Brocklin (Sept. 28, 1951) and Billy Volek (Dec. 19, 2004).

Cincinnati's second-most net yards this season came in Week 9 against Carolina, when it logged 464 in a 42-21 win. The Bengals did much of their damage on the ground, as their 241 rushing yards were the most by a Cincinnati offense since Oct. 23, 2016 (271 vs. Cleveland). HB Joe Mixon led the way with 153 yards on 22 carries (7.0 average) with four TDs, becoming the second straight Bengals player to earn AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors. Mixon's stat line, combined with a one-yard sneak for a TD from Burrow, marked the third time in team history that the Bengals had five rushing TDs in a single game.

In Week 11 at Pittsburgh, another big passing day from Burrow contributed to the Bengals totaling 408 net yards in the 37-30 win. Burrow finished with 355 yards through the air and four TDs, marking his sixth career game with over 350 passing yards and three passing scores — the third-most such games in a player's first three seasons in NFL history. HB Samaje Perine had three TD catches, setting a single-game record for a Bengals halfback/running back/fullback, while WR Tee Higgins recorded season highs in receptions (nine) and receiving yards (148).

Though the Bengals finished shy of 400 net yards in Week 12 at Tennessee (recorded 374), they did churn out 108 rushing yards, becoming the Titans' first opponent since Week 2 to go over 100 yards on the ground.

Cincinnati relied on a balanced attack to outgun Kansas City in Week 13, recording 431 net yards in the 27-24 victory. Burrow again was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week after completing 80.6 percent of his passes (25 of 31) for 286 yards and two TDs, while WR Ja'Marr Chase had seven catches for 97 yards in his first action since the Atlanta game on Oct. 23. The Bengals also registered 152 rushing yards — its second-highest total this season — led by 106 from Perine.

Burrow's NFL journey: After being selected No. 1 overall by the Bengals in the 2020 NFL Draft, former Heisman Trophy winner Joe Burrow had one of the most productive starts to a career by a QB in league history, as his 264 completions still count as the most ever by an NFL passer through their first 10 career games, while his 404 pass attempts are the second-most in that same category and his 2588 passing yards are fifth.

In the third quarter of Cincinnati's Week 11 game at Washington, Burrow suffered a season-ending left knee injury, halting a campaign that was on pace to shatter several NFL rookie passing records. He embarked on a rehab process that lasted over eight months and received medical clearance to participate in training camp in 2021.

Shortly after his injury in 2020, Burrow vowed publicly that he would start Cincinnati's '21 season opener. On Sept. 12 vs. Minnesota, not only did he make good on that promise, but he posted then-career highs in passer rating (128.8), completion percentage (74.1) and yards per attempt (9.67) in a Bengals OT win.

Burrow in 2021 completed 366 of 520 passes (70.4 percent) for 4611 yards, 34 TDs and 14 INTs (108.3 rating). His passing yardage, TD pass total and passer rating were all single-season team records. And although the NFL season expanded to 17 games in 2021, Burrow sat out the regular-season finale (rest/knee) and thus played in only 16 games. He was named the NFL's Comeback Player of the Year for 2021, becoming the second player in Bengals history to receive the award (QB Jon Kitna, 2003).

In the postseason, Burrow completed 97 of 142 passes (68.3 percent) for 1105 yards, with five TDs and two INTs (97.3 rating), and became the first No. 1 overall draft pick in NFL history to lead his team to a conference championship game (let alone a Super Bowl berth) in either of their first two seasons.

On July 26, the day before the first official training camp practice of 2022, Burrow was forced to undergo surgery to remove his appendix. He remained involved in team meetings and attended practices on a golf cart during a three-week recovery process, before returning to the field on Aug. 14.

Through 13 games this season, Burrow ranks second in the NFL in passing TDs (27), third in passing yards (3685), and sixth in passer rating (102.4).

Burrow surpasses 10K: QB Joe Burrow surpassed 10,000 career passing yards in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, in what was just his 36th career game. That made him tied for the third-fastest QB in NFL history to reach 10,000 passing yards. He is the fastest Bengal ever to 9000 passing yards (33 games), 8000 (29), 7500 (27), 7000 (26), 6000 (23), 5000 (19) and 4000 (16).

Over the last 15 regular-season games in which Burrow has been active (inactive in 2021 finale to rest), he has passed for 4656 yards (310.4 average) and 35 TDs. He has 300 or more passing yards in eight of his last 18 regular-season appearances. Burrow's 3685 passing yards through 13 games this season rank third in the NFL.

Burrow enters Week 15 at Tampa Bay with 10,984 career passing yards in 39 games. Should he pass for 16 yards in what will be his 40th game, he will tie for the fourth-fastest QB in league history to get to 11,000.

Here's a look at the fastest QBs in NFL history — in terms of games played — to reach 10,000 passing yards:

PLAYER	TEAM	GAMES TO REACH 10,000 YDS
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	34
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	35
Kurt Warner	St. Louis Rams	36
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	36
Matthew Stafford	Detroit Lions	37

Burrow racks up yardage: QB Joe Burrow's 481 passing yards in Game 7 against Atlanta were the second-most by an NFL QB since the start of the 2021 season, trailing only ... Joe Burrow. The former No. 1 overall pick threw for a Bengals-record 525 yards on Dec. 26, 2021 vs. Baltimore, which also marked the fourth-highest single-game total in league history. Only Norm Van Brocklin (554 yards in 1951), Matt Schaub (527 in 2012) and Warren Moon (527 in '90) have put up more yards in a single contest.

In fact, three of the four highest single-game passing yardage totals since the start of last season belong to Burrow. His 446 yards against Kansas City on Jan. 2, 2021 are tied for fourth in that category. That game, he hit five passes for 30 or more yards, including TD throws of 72 and 69 yards to WR Ja'Marr Chase as Cincinnati clinched the AFC North Division title for the first time since 2015.

Burrow has five career games with 400 or more passing yards, surpassing Pro Football Hall of Famer Dan Marino (four) for the most such games by a player in his first three seasons in NFL history. Game 10 at Pittsburgh marked the 15th time Burrow threw for 300 or more yards, the fifth-most such games in team history. QB Carson Palmer's 17 games of 300-plus yards rank fourth on that list.

Here's a look at the list of most passing yards in single games since the start of the 2021 season:

PLAYER (TEAM)	DATE AND OPPONENT	PASSING YDS
Joe Burrow (Cincinnati)	Dec. 26, 2021 vs. Baltimore	525
Joe Burrow (Cincinnati)	Oct. 23, 2022 vs. Atlanta	481
Tua Tagovailoa (Miami)	Sept. 18, 2022 at Baltimore	469
Joe Burrow (Cincinnati)	Jan. 2, 2022 vs. Kansas City	446
Patrick Mahomes (Kansas City)	Nov. 6, 2022 vs. Tennessee	446

Burrow masters the deep ball: QB Joe Burrow in Game 13 vs. Cleveland executed a flea flicker play for a 45-yard TD pass to WR Trenton Irwin in the third quarter. It marked Burrow's 17th career TD pass of 40 or more yards, three more than any NFL QB since he entered the league in 2020.

Burrow also has 12 TD passes of 50 or more yards, the most in the NFL since 2020, and tied with Pro Football Hall of Famers Dan Marino and Fran Tarkenton for the most by any player in league history in his first three seasons.

Six of Burrow's 40-plus yard TD passes came during Weeks 3-8 of this season. In Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets, he hit WR Tyler Boyd for a 56-yard TD on the final play of the first quarter. The following game against Miami, Burrow launched a pinpoint pass down the left sideline that was grabbed by WR Tee Higgins and taken in for a 59-yard score. He threw the game-winning TD pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase in Week 6 at New Orleans, a 60-yard catch and run that gave the Bengals their first lead with 1:57 left. In Week 7 vs. Atlanta, Burrow aired out a 60-yard TD to Boyd just two minutes into the first quarter, and in the second quarter found Chase for a 41-yard score. He connected with Higgins again for a 41-yard TD in the fourth quarter of Week 8 at Cleveland.

Burrow has eight 50-plus yard TD passes over his last 16 regular-season games, dating back to Week 15 of the 2021 season — the most by any QB in that span. In Game 16 of 2021 vs. Kansas City, he threw TD passes of 72 and 69 yards to Chase in what was a 446-yard passing day that helped Cincinnati clinch the AFC North Division title.

Burrow additionally had an NFL-best 15 TD passes of 30 yards or more during the 2021 regular season. The next closest players in that category were Buccaneers QB Tom Brady (eight), Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes (seven) and then-Seahawks QB Russell Wilson (seven). It counted as a Bengals single-season record, surpassing the previous mark of nine that was shared by Ken Anderson (1973), Boomer Esiason ('89) and Carson Palmer ('06).

Here is a look at the QBs with the most TD passes of 40 or more yards since the start of the 2020 season:

PLAYER	TEAM	40-YARD TDs
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	17
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	14
Russell Wilson	Seattle Seahawks/Denver Broncos	14
Derek Carr	Las Vegas Raiders	13
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	12
Matthew Stafford	Detroit Lions/L.A. Rams	12

Joe throws 50th career TD: In the fourth quarter of Game 2 at Dallas, QB Joe Burrow capped off a 19-play, 83-yard drive by finding WR Tee Higgins on a scramble drill for the Bengals' first TD of the day. It marked Burrow's 50th career TD pass in just his 28th game, making him tied for the seventh-fastest QB in NFL history to throw for 50 TDs.

The third-year signal caller had 13 TD passes in 10 games as a rookie before suffering a season-ending knee injury. In his sophomore campaign, Burrow set a team record with 34 TD passes, which ranked eighth in the NFL. A league-best 15 of those came from 30 yards or longer. Burrow has thrown at least one TD pass in each of his last 20 regular-season games, the longest active streak in the NFL and second-longest streak in Bengals history (Jeff Blake, 21 straight games from 1994-95).

Burrow's performance in Game 10 at Pittsburgh marked the 12th time in his career — and sixth time in his last 15 regular-season games — that he passed for three or more scores. His 27 passing TDs this season rank second in the NFL.

Earlier in the game-tying drive at Dallas, Burrow hooked up with Higgins for 16 yards on a third-and-10 in what was his 1000th career pass attempt.

Coincidentally, former Bengals QB Carson Palmer also passed for his 50th TD in his 28th game. Palmer did so on Dec. 24, 2005 against the Buffalo Bills. Next up for Burrow is 75 career TD passes, which he enters Game 14 just one shy of. Should reach the mark in what will be his 40th career game, he would become the fifth-fastest player in league history to throw 75 career TD passes. Burrow would also join Andrew Luck as the only players in NFL history with 75 TD passes and 10 rushing TDs in their first three seasons.

Here is a look at the fastest QBs in NFL history — in terms of games played — to reach 50 passing TDs.

PLAYER	TEAM	GAMES TO REACH 50
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	17
Kurt Warner	St. Louis Rams	21
Dan Marino	Miami Dolphins	22
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	24
Deshawn Watson	Houston Texans	26
Matthew Stafford	Detroit Lions	27
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	28
Carson Palmer	Cincinnati Bengals	28

Burrow's college connections: Bengals QB Joe Burrow may only be in his third NFL season in 2022, but he has plenty of familiar faces around him in Cincinnati. The Bengals locker room (active roster and practice squad) currently features six players who played with Burrow in college at either Ohio State or LSU. He spent the first three seasons of his collegiate career (2015-17) at Ohio State, including a redshirt year in '15, before transferring to LSU for his final two seasons ('18-19).

Bengals assistant wide receivers coach Brad Kragthorpe was also on the LSU coaching staff in 2018, serving as an offensive analyst during Burrow's first year in Baton Rouge.

Here's a look at the Bengals who played with Burrow in college, along with the years they played together:

NAME	POSITION	SCHOOL	SEASONS WITH BURROW
Eli Apple	CB	Ohio State	2015
Vonn Bell	S	Ohio State	2015
Ja'Marr Chase	WR	Louisiana State	2018-19
Sam Hubbard	DE	Ohio State	2015-17
Keandre Jones*	LB	Ohio State	2016-17
Isaiah Prince*	OT	Ohio State	2015-17

Three-headed monster at WR: The Bengals' offense features arguably the top receiving trio in the NFL, consisting of seventh-year veteran Tyler Boyd, second-year pro Ja'Marr Chase and third-year pro Tee Higgins.

Though each player has missed substantial action due to injuries, including Chase being out for four games (hip), Cincinnati is the only team this season with three WRs that have recorded 600 or more receiving yards. The Bengals are also the only team in 2022 with three players that have each netted 130 or more receiving yards in a single game. Boyd, Chase and Higgins are each averaging 12 or more yards per reception and have at least one TD catch of 50-plus yards.

In the Game 7 win over Atlanta, they became the first Bengals trio to each log 90 or more receiving yards since Dec. 30, 2001 (T.J. Houshmandzadeh, Darnay Scott and Peter Warrick vs. Pittsburgh). The Game 6 victory at New Orleans marked the first time all three players tallied at least six receptions in the same game. Chase in that contest led the way with seven receptions for 132 yards and two TDs, while Boyd had six for 66 yards and Higgins, who was battling through an ankle injury, added six for 47 yards.

The trio had another strong output in Game 4 against Miami, led by a seven-catch, 124-yard stat line from Higgins. Boyd had two grabs for 47 yards, including a 43-yard reception on the opening play of the fourth quarter that set up a go-ahead FG. Chase caught four passes for 81 yards, none bigger than his 36-yarder late in the fourth that led to a game-sealing TD.

They combined for 3374 receiving yards during the 2021 regular season, the most among any trio of pass catchers in the NFL (second was L.A. Rams — WR Cooper Kupp, TE Tyler Higbee and WR Van Jefferson combined for 3309 yards). Chase finished his rookie campaign with a team-record 1455 receiving yards, which also counted as the most by an NFL rookie during the Super Bowl era (started in 1966), while grabbing 13 TDs. Higgins had 1091 yards and six TDs in just 14 games played — he missed two games early in the season with a shoulder injury, and then was inactive (rest) for the regular-season finale at Cleveland. Boyd added 828 yards and five scores.

Chase (21 years old in 2021) and Higgins (22) became the first duo in league history to post 1000 receiving yards in the same season before the age of 23. It marked the third time in Bengals history in which the team had multiple 1000-yard receivers — WRs Chad Johnson and T.J. Houshmandzadeh did it twice, in 2006 and '07.

Chase picks up where he left off: WR Ja'Marr Chase missed four games from Weeks 8-12 due to a hip injury, but has shown no rust since returning to action in Week 13 vs. Kansas City. He led the Bengals with seven catches for 97 yards (13.9 average) in the win over the Chiefs, including a 40-yard catch and run down the sideline that set up Cincinnati at the Kansas City 13 near the end of the first half. It was Chase's fifth reception of 40 or more yards since the start of his rookie season in 2021, tied for the most in the NFL.

Chase also had three grabs in the fourth quarter, none bigger than a third-and-five conversion in which he fought through contact to keep a drive going with under three minutes remaining.

He followed up with his fourth 100-yard receiving game of the season in Game 13 against Cleveland, finishing with 119 on 10 catches (11.9 avg.) and a TD. Chase opened the scoring with a 15-yard TD reception on a perfect throw from QB Joe Burrow in the second quarter, marking his 20th career TD in just his 26th game. That tied him with Rob Gronkowski and Daryl Turner for the fourth-fewest games since 1970 to reach 20 TD catches. Only Pro Football Hall of Famer Randy Moss (20 games), Odell Beckham Jr. (22) and John Jefferson (24) reached that total in fewer games. Chase also joined Moss as the only players under the age of 23 with 2000 receiving yards and 20 TD receptions in NFL history.

Despite being sidelined for four games, Chase this season ranks 18th in the NFL in receiving yards (821) and tied for sixth in receiving TDs (seven). Among his other notable performances was a season-high 132 receiving yards with two TDs in Game 6 at New Orleans. Chase, who grew up in Metairie, La. (part of New Orleans metro area), caught the game-winning TD with 1:57 left in the fourth quarter when he took a quick back-shoulder throw and turned it into a 60-yard score. That marked his sixth career TD catch of 50 or more yards, the most in the NFL since 2021. His teammate, Tyler Boyd, is second on that list with four such TDs — the latest of which was a 60-yarder on the opening drive in Game 7 vs. Atlanta.

Here is a look at the WRs with the most receptions of 40 or more yards since the start of the 2021 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	CATCHES OF 40 OR MORE YARDS
Ja'Marr Chase	Cincinnati Bengals	11
Justin Jefferson	Minnesota Vikings	11
Cooper Kupp	L.A. Rams	11
Mike Williams	L.A. Chargers	11
Deebo Samuel	San Francisco 49ers	10

Chase set Bengals rookie records in '21: WR Ja'Marr Chase in 2021 was named the Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year after turning in perhaps the best statistical season ever by a Bengals rookie regardless of position. Here's a look at Cincinnati's rookie records that Chase broke during the 2021 regular season. Although the NFL schedule was expanded to 17 games in 2021, Chase broke all of the previous Bengals rookie records in no more than 16 games.

- Chase's 81 receptions topped the previous team rookie record of 67, shared by WRs Cris Collinsworth and Tee Higgins. Chase caught his 68th pass in the 15th game of the season (Dec. 26 vs. Baltimore).

- Chase's 1455 receiving yards topped the previous team rookie record of 1057, held by WR A.J. Green. Chase passed 1057 receiving yards in the 15th game of the season (Dec. 26 vs. Baltimore).

- Chase's 13 receiving TDs topped the previous team rookie record of nine, held by WR Isaac Curtis. Chase caught his ninth receiving TD in just the 13th game of the season (Dec. 12 vs. San Francisco). Curtis' record was set in a 14-game season in 1973.

• Chase's five 100-yard receiving games topped the previous team rookie record of four, held by Green. Chase's fifth 100-yard receiving performance came in the 16th game of the season (Jan. 2 vs. Kansas City).

Healthy Higgins among best receivers: WR Tee Higgins has faced three on-field setbacks so far this season, beginning in the season opener against Pittsburgh when he suffered a concussion in the second quarter and missed the remainder of the game. He left early in Game 5 at Baltimore with an ankle injury, then played just one snap in Game 13 vs. Cleveland due to a hamstring injury. When healthy, however, Higgins has proven himself as one of the NFL's elite young receivers.

The third-year pro has 60 catches for 861 yards this season (14.4 average), good for the 17th-most yards in the NFL despite missing nearly nine full quarters of play. With WR Ja'Marr Chase out of the lineup in Games 10-11, Higgins was relied on as the team's No. 1 receiver and delivered with back-to-back 100-yard performances. He had a season-high nine catches for 148 yards in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, including a Bengals TD drive in the second quarter in which he netted four grabs for 55 yards. His 148 yards were the second-most in a game in his career (194 on Dec. 26, 2021 vs. Baltimore).

Higgins followed up his showing in Pittsburgh by recording seven catches for 114 yards and a TD in Game 11 at Tennessee. Three of his receptions went for over 20 yards, highlighted by a contested 27-yard TD that gave Cincinnati a fourth-quarter lead. Though he had just 35 receiving yards in Game 12 vs. Kansas City, Higgins made a pair of impact plays beginning with a 12-yard TD in the second quarter in which he fought through contact and extended his body to break the plane. With Cincinnati facing a third-and-11 at the two-minute warning of the fourth quarter, Higgins came up with perhaps the play of the game, catching a 14-yard dart through traffic from Burrow that essentially secured the win.

Higgins has seven games with 100 or more receiving yards since the start of the 2021 season, tied for the eighth-most in the NFL in that span. In Game 4 vs. Miami, he totaled seven catches for 124 yards, including a 59-yard TD snag that saw him beat Pro Bowl CB Xavien Howard down the left sideline and track a deep ball from QB Joe Burrow.

A 2020 second-round pick of the Bengals, Higgins had 74 catches for 1091 yards and six TDs during the '21 regular season, despite missing three games — Games 3-4 (shoulder), and Game 17 (rest). He also had four 100-yard receiving games, including in Game 15 vs. Baltimore, when he posted career-highs in catches (12) and receiving yards (194) and scored two TDs.

He continued his production in the postseason, with two 100-yard receiving performances — 103 yards in the AFC Championship at Kansas City, and 100 in Super Bowl LVI vs. the L.A. Rams. His 18 catches in the postseason tied teammate Joe Mixon and former teammate A.J. Green for fourth-most in Bengals history. His 309 receiving yards were fourth-most in team postseason history. His 75-yard TD on the first play of the second half in Super Bowl LVI was the longest play from scrimmage in Bengals postseason history, and he joined TE Dan Ross as the only Bengals ever with multiple TDs in a single postseason game — Higgins had two TDs in the Super Bowl.

Higgins has 1506 receiving yards over the last 21 weeks of regular-season football, dating back to Week 12 of the 2021 campaign. That total ranks sixth leaguewide — his teammate, WR Ja'Marr Chase, ranks eighth in that timeframe with 1409 yards, despite playing in just 16 games.

Mixon's historic day: HB Joe Mixon had perhaps his best career performance in Game 9 vs. Carolina, as he rushed for 153 yards on 22 attempts (7.0 average) with four TDs, and caught four passes for 58 yards and a TD. His five total TDs and 30 points accounted for each set a Bengals single-game record, while his four rushing scores tied HB Corey Dillon (Dec. 4, 1997) for the team's single-game mark. Mixon's 211 yards from scrimmage were also a career high.

Mixon became the sixth player in the Super Bowl era (started in 1966) with at least 200 scrimmage yards and five total TDs in a game. He also joined Shaun Alexander (Sept. 29, 2002) and Jonathan Taylor (Nov. 21, 2021) as one of three players in the Super Bowl era with at least four rushing TDs and one receiving TD in a game. Mixon's five total TDs and four rushing TDs are both the most by an NFL player in a single game this season.

Mixon wasted little time making an impact on the game, as he recorded 47 total yards on the opening drive and finished it off with a two-yard plunge into the end zone that gave Cincinnati an early lead. He finished the first half with 15 carries for 113 yards (7.5 avg.) and three TDs, becoming the second player in team history with three rushing TDs in a single half (Corey Dillon on Dec. 4, 1997). His receiving TD came with four seconds remaining in the half, when QB Joe Burrow rolled out to his right and found Mixon in the back of the end zone for a 12-yard score.

Mixon recorded his 14th career game of 100 or more rushing yards, which tied FB Pete Johnson for the fifth-most such performances in team history. He enters Game 14 at Tampa Bay with 49 career TDs (39 rushing, 10 receiving) in 77 games. Mixon's efforts in Week 9 were rewarded with his third career AFC Offensive Player of the Week recognition.

Here are the most total TDs scored by Bengals players in single games:

PLAYER	DATE	OPPONENT	TOTAL TDs
Joe Mixon	Nov. 6, 2022	Carolina Panthers	5
Larry Kinnebrew	Oct. 28, 1984	Houston Oilers	4
Corey Dillon	Dec. 4, 1997	Tennessee Oilers	4
Marvin Jones	Oct. 27, 2013	N.Y. Jets	4

Mixon reaches 5K: HB Joe Mixon, who was a second-round pick of the Bengals in 2017, surpassed 5000 career rushing yards on the opening drive of Game 9 against Carolina. He became the fifth player in team history to reach the 5000-yard milestone, and the first since HB Rudi Johnson in 2006.

Mixon has logged over 1000 rushing yards in three of his four full seasons (missed 10 games in 2020 due to injury). His career-high 1205 yards in 2021 ranked third in the league, while his 13 rushing TDs were fourth as he earned his first Pro Bowl selection.

Including Mixon, there are currently nine active players in the NFL with 5000 or more rushing yards. Here is a look at Cincinnati's all-time leaders in rushing yards while playing for the Bengals:

PLAYER	YEARS PLAYED	RUSHING YARDS
Corey Dillon	1997-2003	8061
James Brooks	1984-91	6447
Rudi Johnson	2001-07	5742
Pete Johnson	1977-83	5421
Joe Mixon	2017-present	5169

Mixon it up: In addition to his career-high 211 scrimmage yards in Game 9 against Carolina, HB Joe Mixon has continually proven his ability as a threat in both the running and passing game over his five-plus seasons as a pro. In the 2022 season opener vs. Pittsburgh, he had 82 yards rushing and a career-high-tying seven catches for 63 yards. It marked the third time in his career that he had 60 or more yards in both rushing and receiving. Mixon followed that up with 83 total yards (57 rushing, 26 receiving) in Game 2 at Dallas.

He averaged 5.6 yards per carry in two straight games (Weeks 5 and 6), as he had 14 attempts for 78 yards at Baltimore and then eight for 45 at New Orleans. He also caught four passes for 23 yards against the Saints, including a nine-yard TD reception to get Cincinnati on the board in the opening quarter. In Game 7 against Atlanta, he had 17 carries for 58 yards and a TD, along with three catches for 33 yards.

Mixon missed two games in Weeks 12 and 13 due to a concussion, but returned vs. Cleveland in Week 14 and posted 96 rushing yards on 14 attempts (6.9 avg.). He broke free for a 40-yard run on a toss sweep near the end of the third quarter for his longest rush since Week 17 of the 2019 season.

The University of Oklahoma product earned his first career Pro Bowl selection in 2021, a season in which he recorded a career-high 1205 rushing yards (third in NFL) and 13 rushing TDs (fourth). Mixon enters Week 15 with 5265 career rushing yards (fifth-most in Bengals history) and 1646 receiving yards. He is one of six active NFL players with 5000 career rushing yards and 1500 career receiving yards.

In 2021, Mixon became one of just four Bengals ever to surpass 4000 career rushing yards and 1000 career receiving yards, joining Corey Dillon, James Brooks and Pete Johnson. Reaching the 4K/1K mark took Mixon just 60 career games, 11 faster than the next-quickest Bengal (Dillon, 71 games). He topped 1000 career receiving yards in the 2021 season opener vs. Minnesota, and then surpassed 4000 rushing yards in Game 10 at Las Vegas.

It took Mixon just 50 games to reach 3000 rushing and 1000 receiving yards, which also was 11 games quicker than the next-fastest Bengal (Brooks, 61).

Here's a look at the fastest players ever to top 4000 career rushing yards and 1000 career receiving yards in a Bengals uniform (it should be noted that Brooks began his career with the San Diego Chargers from 1981-83; however, the data counts only rushing/receiving yardage and games played as a Bengal):

NAME	BENGALS GAMES TO REACH 4K/1K
Joe Mixon	60
Corey Dillon	71

Samaje steps up: HB Samaje Perine emerged as a key member of the Bengals' offense in the absence of HB Joe Mixon, who suffered a concussion in the first half of Game 10 at Pittsburgh and missed Games 11 and 12. Perine rushed for 30 yards on 11 carries against the Steelers, but his most notable contribution came as a receiver, as he caught four passes for 52 yards (13.0 average) and three TDs. It marked the most-ever TD receptions in a game by a Bengals player listed as a running back, halfback or fullback, and tied for the second-most in a game in team history regardless of position. Perine also became the first RB/HB/FB in the NFL with three receiving TDs in a game since Atlanta's Cordarrelle Patterson on Oct. 3, 2021. He entered the game at Pittsburgh with three receiving TDs in 69 career contests.

Perine in Game 11 at Tennessee made his first start since Week 17 of the 2020 season. He finished with 58 rushing yards on 17 carries (3.4 avg.), including a seven-yard TD run in the second quarter that knotted the game at 10-10. On the first play of that scoring drive, Perine caught a dump pass from QB Joe Burrow and took it 32 yards for his longest career reception. His 17 rushing attempts were his most in a game since Week 16 of the 2020 season, his rookie campaign in Washington.

The sixth-year back turned in one of his best performances to date in Game 12 against Kansas City, helping Cincinnati earn a needed win in the AFC playoff race. He rushed for 106 yards on 21 carries (5.0) — his most attempts and yards since 2017 — and added six catches for 49 yards. Perine's 155 yards from scrimmage were a career high, with 49 coming in the fourth quarter as the Bengals overcame a seven-point deficit.

With Mixon back in the lineup for Game 13 vs. Cleveland, Perine saw fewer touches, but made the most of his opportunities with 22 rushing yards on four attempts (5.5 avg.). He scored his second rushing TD of the season on a six-yard run in the second quarter, when he appeared to be bottled up near the line of scrimmage but bounced outside and reached the end zone.

Bengals revamp O-line in 2022: Cincinnati addressed its biggest need in the 2022 offseason, signing three premier offensive linemen to help protect QB Joe Burrow. The Bengals inked G Alex Cappa (formerly with Tampa Bay), OT La'el Collins (Dallas) and C Ted Karras (New England).

Prior to joining Cincinnati, the new additions played in a combined 236 games (regular and postseason), with 174 starts. They also provide a winning pedigree, as Karras helped the New England Patriots win Super Bowl LI and LIII, while Cappa was a key member of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers team that took home Super Bowl LV.

A fifth-year pro out of Humboldt State (now Cal Poly Humboldt), Cappa has started each his last 54 games played from 2019-22. He helped the Buccaneers offensive line allow a league-low 23 sacks in 2021, while the team led the NFL in yards per game (405.9) and passing yards per game (307.6).

Collins is in his eighth NFL season after originally signing with Dallas as a college free agent in 2015. The LSU product quickly became a mainstay on the Cowboys O-line, starting 61 of his first 62 career games before suffering a hip injury that kept him on the Reserve/Injured list for the entire 2020 season. With Collins in the lineup, Dallas ranked in the top five in rushing offense for three straight years (2017-19).

After playing his first three seasons (2016-18) primarily as a reserve, Karras became the Patriots' starting center entering '19 and has started 57 out of 61 games since then. He signed with Miami as a free agent in 2020, spending one season with the Dolphins before returning to New England in '21. He started two games at RG in 2021, then took over the starting LG spot for the remainder of the regular season and one playoff game.

The free agency trio, along with fourth-year pro Jonah Williams at LOT and 2022 fourth-round draft pick Cordell Volson at LG, has started each game for Cincinnati this season. The Bengals have allowed eight sacks over the last five games, the eighth-fewest in the NFL since Week 9.

Historic streak comes to an end: Browns QB Jacoby Brissett scored a three-yard rushing TD in the third quarter of Game 8 at Cleveland, marking the first TD allowed by the Bengals in the second half of a game this season. Cincinnati is one of only two teams since 1930 to start a season by going seven games without giving up a second-half TD, joining the 1934 Detroit Lions (eight games).

The Bengals are also one of just six teams since 1930 to go seven or more consecutive games at any point in a season without yielding a TD in the second half, and the first to do so since the 1997 Kansas City Chiefs (record 10 games). The 1973 Dolphins (seven games) are the only other team to accomplish that feat since the '70 NFL/AFL merger.

D tightens after the break: Despite their streak of not allowing a second-half TD being snapped in Game 8 at Cleveland, the Bengals remain one of the top defensive teams in the NFL coming out of halftime. Defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo's unit has allowed 109 points in the second half/overtime, tied for the sixth-fewest in the league. In 67 opponent drives in the second half/overtime, the Bengals' defense has forced 27 punts, 15 field goal attempts and seven turnovers on downs, while also recording four FRs and three INTs. Three of the defense's 10 TDs allowed came vs. Carolina in Game 9, though many of Cincinnati's starters were rested in the second half of a 42-21 win.

Cincinnati's defensive dominance in the second half is a continuation of its 2021 efforts. The Bengals during the '21 regular season allowed 168 points after halftime, the seventh-fewest in the NFL, while their 40 third-quarter points allowed were the second-fewest behind Buffalo. Cincinnati outscored their competition 102-40 in the third quarter, good for a plus-62 point differential that was third-best leaguewide behind Buffalo (plus-70) and Green Bay (plus-63).

Hubbard a Day 2 draft steal: DE Sam Hubbard, a third-round pick (77th overall) of the Bengals in 2018, ranks second in sacks (30.5) among all players from the '18 rookie class (draft picks and college free agents). His most recent came in Game 13 against Cleveland, when he brought down QB Deshaun Watson in the first quarter on a third-down play that forced the Browns to punt. After totaling 1.5 sacks over the first six games this season, Hubbard has logged five in the past seven contests. In Game 12 vs. Kansas City, he got to QB Patrick Mahomes for an eight-yard loss that put the Chiefs in a third-and-long situation.

One of Hubbard's most crucial plays this season occurred late in the fourth quarter of Game 6 at New Orleans. With the Saints driving to take the lead in the final minute and the ball at the Cincinnati 41-yard line, Hubbard and DT B.J. Hill collapsed the pocket and brought down QB Andy Dalton for a seven-yard combined sack, backing New Orleans into a fourth-and-17. He followed that up with an eight-yard sack in Game 7 against Atlanta that forced the Falcons to punt, and in Game 8 at Cleveland he teamed up with DE Trey Hendrickson for a sack of QB Jacoby Brissett. In Game 11 at Tennessee, he wrangled QB Ryan Tannehill for a 10-yard loss that forced a Titans punt in the third quarter.

Also known as one of the league's top run defenders on the edge, Hubbard leads the Bengals with 11 TFLs this season, including two in Game 11 at Tennessee.

Players' listed positions vary by media outlet (e.g. whether they're classified as a LB or DE), but according to NFL.com's draft record, Hubbard was the 13th defensive lineman selected in 2018 — five DEs and seven DTs came off the board before him. According to NFL.com, there were a total of 40 defensive linemen (20 DEs, 20 DTs) selected in the 2018 draft, along with 32 linebackers and one player classified as "EDGE."

Hubbard has been the Bengals' starting RDE since 2019, and during the '21 regular season, his 7.5 sacks were second on the team. Hubbard's three postseason sacks ranked tied for fifth among all players, second on the team, and tied for third-most ever by a Bengal for a postseason career.

Hubbard signed a contract extension with the Bengals in July 2021 that keeps him in Cincinnati through the end of the 2025 season.

Here's a look at the career sack leaders from the rookie class of 2018:

PLAYER/POSITION	TEAM	PICK (ROUND)	SACKS
Harold Landry III/EDGE	Tennessee	No. 41 (2nd)	31.0
Sam Hubbard/DE	Cincinnati	No. 77 (3rd)	30.5
Bradley Chubb/DE	Denver/Miami	No. 5 (1st)	28.5
Josh Sweat/DE	Philadelphia	No. 130 (4th)	25.0
Marcus Davenport/DE	New Orleans	No. 14 (1st)	21.5

Trey's torrid pace: DE Trey Hendrickson recorded two sacks in the fourth quarter of Game 10 at Pittsburgh, with the first coming on a third down that forced the Steelers out of Cincinnati territory. It bumped Hendrickson's sack total up to 6.0 this season, and added to his rapid rise in becoming one of the NFL's premier pass rushers.

Since the start of the 2020 season, Hendrickson's 33.5 sacks rank third in the league behind T.J. Watt (39) and Myles Garrett (36.5). A career-high 14 of those came in 2021, his first season with Cincinnati, which were good for fifth in the NFL and second-most in team history behind DE Coy Bacon's 22 in 1976 (Sacks became an official NFL statistic in 1982, however the Bengals tracked the stat back to '76 and thus recognize Bacon as the record-holder). Hendrickson's production during the 2021 regular season helped him earn his first career Pro Bowl selection.

The sixth-year pro out of Florida Atlantic continued his impressive pace in the 2021 postseason, recording a team-high 3.5 sacks and a forced fumble to help lead Cincinnati to Super Bowl LVI.

Hendrickson earned his first career AFC Defensive Player of the Week award for Week 3 of this season, when he logged a career-high 2.5 sacks and two forced fumbles in a win at the N.Y. Jets. After being held without a sack through Cincinnati's first two contests, he became the first Bengals player since at least 2000 to record two-plus sacks and two-plus forced fumbles in a single game. In Game 7 vs. Atlanta, he got to QB Marcus Mariota for a one-yard sack in the third-quarter that forced the Falcons into a third-and-long. Hendrickson notched a half-sack on the opening defensive series of Game 8 at Cleveland, when he and DE Sam Hubbard teamed up to bring down QB Jacoby Brissett.

Here is a look at the NFL sack leaders since the start of the 2020 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	SACKS SINCE 2020
T.J. Watt	Pittsburgh	40
Myles Garrett	Cleveland.....	40
Trey Hendrickson	New Orleans/Cincinnati	33.5
Haason Reddick	Arizona/Carolina/Philadelphia	33.5
Matthew Judon	Baltimore/New England	31.5

Wilson among elite young LBs: Third-year LB Logan Wilson is coming off perhaps his best performance of the season in Game 13 vs. Cleveland. Wilson totaled a career-high 17 tackles, including 14 solo stops, with a half-sack in the third quarter in which he and S Vonn Bell brought down QB Deshaun Watson on third down to force a Browns punt. Wilson this season leads the Bengals in tackles with 91, despite missing Game 7 against Atlanta due to a right shoulder injury.

Wilson has played at a high level since returning to the lineup, recording 53 tackles over the past six games. The University of Wyoming product emerged as one of the league's top young linebackers in 2021, when he led the Bengals in tackles (98) and INTs (four) in just his second pro season. His four picks also tied for the most among all NFL LBs, and were the most by a Bengals LB since 2005 (Odell Thurman, five). Consider also that Wilson missed three games (Games 13-15) with a right shoulder injury, and then was inactive (rest) for the season finale at Cleveland. In the 12 full regular-season games in which he was healthy (was injured in first half of Game 12), Wilson led the Bengals in tackles six times.

His strong play continued into the postseason, as he was on the field for all 274 possible snaps in Cincinnati's four-game run. His 39 tackles not only led all NFL players — they were the most by any player in a single postseason since Baltimore's Ray Lewis (51) in 2012. Wilson made numerous key plays throughout the postseason, including an INT with 20 seconds remaining in the Divisional Playoff at Tennessee, which gave the ball back to the Bengals' offense and helped set up K Evan McPherson's 52-yard game-winning FG as time expired. He also tackled Titans RB Derrick Henry for a loss on a fourth-and-one in the fourth quarter of that same game, thwarting a Titans drive that had reached Cincinnati's 35-yard line and giving the Bengals the ball back in what was a tie contest.

Wilson's ball skills have been a notable part of his game since he entered the league in 2020, as his seven career INTs are the most among all NFL linebackers since the start of his rookie campaign. He recorded his first INT of the 2022 season in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, when he dropped back into deep coverage and picked off QB Joe Flacco before returning it 47 yards. Head coach Zac Taylor after the game said it "took him back to his receiver and safety days," as Wilson was an all-state WR and defensive back at Natrona County High School in Wyoming.

Here is a look at the INT leaders among linebackers since the start of the 2020 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	INTs SINCE 2020
Logan Wilson	Cincinnati	7
Roquan Smith	Chicago/Baltimore	6
Eric Kendricks	Minnesota	5
Shaquille Leonard	Indianapolis.....	5
Foye Oluokun	Atlanta/Jacksonville	5

Nothing easy in the air: The Cincinnati secondary has been one of the most difficult to crack in the NFL over the last two seasons. Dating back to Week 16 of the 2021 season, the Bengals have gone 15 consecutive regular-season games without allowing an opposing QB to pass for 300 yards. They are one of five teams this season that has held every opposing signal caller under 300.

Falcons QB Marcus Mariota in Game 7 recorded a passer rating of 118.8, ending a streak of 10 consecutive games in which Cincinnati held opposing QBs to a rating under 100. The streak dated back to the Wild Card Playoff on Jan. 15 against Las Vegas, and featured 11 quarterbacks failing to eclipse a passer rating of 100 (minimum five pass attempts; Miami's Week 4 starter Tua Tagovailoa left the game in the second quarter and was replaced by Teddy Bridgewater). It becomes even more impressive when noting that two of those QBs — Las Vegas' Derek Carr and Kansas City's Patrick Mahomes — ranked in the top 10 leaguewide in passer rating during the 2021 regular season. Also, six QBs during the streak were limited to fewer than 20 completions.

Over the past 17 games (2021 postseason, plus 13 games in '22 regular season), the Bengals have held opposing passers to a 59.7 completion percentage (355 of 595) for a combined 4078 passing yards (239.9 average), while collecting 17 INTs to 20 passing TDs allowed. Cincinnati's 12 passing TDs yielded this season are tied for the second-fewest in the NFL, while its 59.1 completion percentage allowed is tied for the league-lead.

Answering the Bell: S Vonn Bell has been involved in five turnovers for the Bengals defense, including a two-game stretch in which he recorded three INTs. He collected two picks in Game 4 against Miami to help lead the Bengals to a Thursday Night Football win, with one at the Cincinnati nine-yard line as the Dolphins were driving to take the lead late in the fourth quarter.

In Game 5 at Baltimore, he intercepted QB Lamar Jackson at the Bengals' 17-yard line with the Ravens leading 10-0 in the second quarter. That INT provided a spark for the whole team, as Cincinnati's offense responded with a TD on the ensuing possession. Bell grabbed his fourth pick of the season in Game 8 at Cleveland, intercepting WR Amari Cooper on a gadget play run by the Browns in the first quarter. His four INTs through Week 13 are tied for fourth in the NFL.

Bell also forced a turnover in Game 2 at Dallas, stripping the ball from TE Dalton Schultz in the third quarter. Since joining the Bengals as an unrestricted free agent prior to the 2020 season, Bell has forced seven fumbles, tying for the 10th-most in the NFL and third-most by a defensive back in that time frame.

The Ohio State product has earned a reputation as one of Cincinnati's most consistent players and a trusted leader. Much of that status comes from his remarkable availability, as Bell began his Bengals tenure by playing every snap in his first 20 games with the team. His consecutive snaps streak was broken on Oct. 17, 2021, when the starters were rested late in the fourth quarter of a 34-11 win at Detroit.

And although he missed more snaps throughout the year, including all of Game 17 at Cleveland while on the Reserve/COVID list, Bell still led Cincinnati's defense in snaps played (1004 of 1124) during the regular season. In his now 49 games played (regular and postseason) for the Bengals, he has seen action on 3146 of 3279 possible defensive snaps (95.9 percent), including 817 of 828 through 13 contests in 2022 (missed 10 snaps in Game 9 vs. Carolina as defensive starters were rested late in 42-21 win).

Bell has been voted a team captain in each of his three seasons with the Bengals. He led the team in tackles (114) in 2020, before ranking second in that category (97) in '21. Bell this season leads the team in PDs (seven), ranks third in total tackles (64) and fourth in TFLs (four).

With INTs at Baltimore and at Cleveland, two vs. Miami and another in Game 15 of 2021 against the Ravens, Bell has five INTs in his last 15 regular-season games, tied for the third-most in the NFL in that span. He had one pick in his previous 91 career appearances.

Mr. Reliable wears No. 30: S Jessie Bates came up with his third INT of the season in Game 13 vs. Cleveland, when he stepped in front of a deep ball thrown by QB Deshaun Watson early in the fourth quarter. Bates, a fifth-year pro, now has 13 picks in 76 career games.

The Wake Forest University product earned a starting safety spot midway through his rookie preseason in 2018, and he hasn't looked back since. Bates started 51 straight games to begin his Bengals career — that's three full seasons plus three games — until a neck injury ended his streak in the fourth game of 2021 (Sept. 30 vs. Jacksonville). He missed just that one game before returning to the starting lineup the next week, and then started all but one game (pre-playoff rest) thereafter in 2021.

Still, Bates' streak of 51 tied for the sixth-most consecutive starts by a player to begin their career as a Bengal, and the second-most by a defender. Had he started the Jacksonville game, he would have tied former LB Takeo Spikes (52) for most starts to begin a career by a Bengals defender.

Over his first four-plus pro seasons, Bates has steadily established himself as one of the NFL's elite players at his position. Since entering the league as a second-round draft pick in 2018, his 460 total tackles rank 21st leaguewide and second among defensive backs. He logged at least 100 tackles each of his first three seasons, and although that number dipped to 88 in the 2021 regular season (did not play in two games), he stepped up in the postseason with a team-leading two INTs and six PDs.

Bates has showcased his ball-tracking abilities throughout his career, with this being the fourth season he has recorded three INTs. His first pick this year came in the final minute of Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets to seal a Bengals win. He grabbed his second in Game 9 against Carolina, tracking a deep ball thrown down the right sideline by QB PJ Walker and returning it 16 yards to set up an eventual Cincinnati TD.

McPherson breaks own team record: K Evan McPherson, who quickly became a fan-favorite in Cincinnati during his rookie season in 2021, notched another historic mark in the '22 regular-season opener against Pittsburgh. McPherson kicked a team-record 59-yard field goal in the first quarter to put the Bengals on the board, breaking the previous record of 58 yards that he hit on Dec. 19, 2021 at Denver.

It marked a continuation of some notable performances from training camp and preseason, as McPherson showed no signs of rust coming out of his rookie year. In three preseason games, McPherson hit nine of 10 FG attempts, with three coming from 50 or more yards. On Aug. 12 against Arizona, he converted FGs of 58 and 56 yards, both in the second quarter. His nine FGs tied for the league lead during preseason, while his 31 points accounted for (made four PATs) were third-most. In the Bengals' "Back Together Saturday" practice on July 30 at Paycor Stadium, McPherson closed out the afternoon by kicking a 65-yard FG in front of an announced crowd of 28,283.

He grabbed another spot on the team's all-time chart in Week 4 vs. Miami, as his 57-yarder in the fourth quarter tied Randy Bullock for the third-longest FG in Bengals history.

Here is a look at the longest made FGs in Bengals history:

PLAYER	DATE	OPPONENT	FG DISTANCE
Evan McPherson	Sept. 11, 2022	vs. Pittsburgh Steelers	59
Evan McPherson	Dec. 19, 2021	at Denver Broncos	58
Randy Bullock	Dec. 22, 2019	at Miami Dolphins	57
Evan McPherson	Sept. 29, 2022	vs. Miami Dolphins	57
Chris Bahr	Sept. 23, 1979	vs. Houston Oilers	55
Mike Nugent	Nov. 25, 2012	vs. Oakland Raiders	55
Randy Bullock	Oct. 18, 2020	at Indianapolis Colts	55

Mac is money from deep: K Evan McPherson has quickly earned a reputation as one of the NFL's top long-range kickers. The second-year pro out of Florida is 14 of 16 on FG attempts of 50 or more yards, marking the most FGs from that distance within a player's first 30 games in NFL history. What makes it even more impressive is that Game 10 at Pittsburgh was just his 26th career game. He knocked in his 14th such FG near the end of the third quarter at Acrisure Stadium, a 54-yarder that increased the Bengals' lead to 27-23.

McPherson is already the team's career leader in 50-plus yard FGs. It took him just 14 games into his rookie season to reach the top of Cincinnati's career chart in that category, breaking the previous record of eight. Referred to by fans as "Money Mac," McPherson made an NFL-best nine FGs of 50 or more yards during the 2021 regular season and fell just one shy of tying the NFL record for most 50-yarders. His nine such FGs were more than double the previous team record for a single season (four, by K Horst Muhlmann in 1970).

McPherson is also tied with Blair Walsh (Minnesota, 2013) for the most 50-yarders in a player's first 20 career games. In his 20th game, Week 4 vs. Miami, McPherson converted from 57 yards in the fourth quarter to earn his third career AFC Special Teams Player of the Week award.

Here is a look at the most FGs of 50 or more yards within a player's first 30 career games in NFL history:

PLAYER (GAMES)	TEAM	FGs OF 50 OR MORE YARDS
Evan McPherson (29)	Cincinnati Bengals	14
Blair Walsh (30)	Minnesota Vikings	12
Brett Maher (30)	Dallas Cowboys	10
Justin Tucker (30)	Baltimore Ravens	10
Younghoe Koo (30)	Atlanta Falcons	9
Joey Slye (30)	Carolina Panthers	9

McPherson's rookie roundup: K Evan McPherson took the league by storm in his rookie season, putting together one of the most memorable seasons by a first-year kicker in NFL history. He made 28 of his 33 FGs and 46 of 48 PATs during the 2021 regular season, with some of his highlights including an NFL-best nine FGs of 50 or more yards.

On Nov. 21 at Las Vegas, he tied a single-game NFL record with three FGs of at least 50 yards (54, 53 and 51). For perspective, there were only four instances prior to 2021 in which a Bengals kicker made as many as three 50-plus yarders in a full season. On Dec. 19 at Denver, he nailed a then-Bengals-record 58-yard FG as time expired in the first half.

The rookie sensation found a way to best his regular-season production during the Bengals' postseason run to Super Bowl LVI. Over the four-game stretch, he was a perfect 20-for-20 on placekicks, making all 14 of his FG attempts and all six of his PATs. No kicker in NFL history had previously been perfect on as many as 11 FGs in a single postseason. In his postseason debut, the AFC Wild Card Playoff vs. Las Vegas, McPherson set team postseason records for points (14) and FGs (four) in a game. In the following week's Divisional Playoff at Tennessee, he hit four more FGs, including a 52-yard game-winner as time expired in regulation — making him the first rookie kicker in NFL postseason history to kick a game-winning FG with no time remaining in the fourth quarter or overtime.

He matched that performance the next week in the AFC Championship at Kansas City, with four FGs including a 31-yarder in overtime that won the game and sent Cincinnati to the Super Bowl.

McPherson's 14 FGs tied former Colts K Adam Vinatieri (2006) for the most in a single postseason in NFL history. K Jim Breech (nine) held the previous Bengals record in that category. McPherson's 48 points are already the second-most by a Bengal for an entire postseason career, trailing Breech, who amassed 52 points in nine games.

Chrisman takes over punting duties: First-year P Drupe Chrisman, who originally joined the Bengals as a college free agent signee in 2021, was elevated from the practice squad and made his NFL debut in Game 10 at Pittsburgh. Dealing with cold and windy conditions at Acrisure Stadium, Chrisman punted three times for 162 yards (54.0 average), with two downed inside the Steelers' 20-yard line. His first attempt came at the end of the Bengals' opening drive, when he booted it 53 yards to the Pittsburgh seven, before the ball was muffed into the end zone. The returner recovered it five yards behind the goal line, making Chrisman's first career punt officially 65 yards.

He followed up his debut with another stellar performance in Game 12 at Tennessee, punting five times for 259 yards (51.8 avg.) with a long of 62 yards and two landing inside the Titans' 20. Chrisman was signed off the practice squad to the active roster on Dec. 6, and through four games he has 14 punts for 666 yards (47.6) with seven inside the 20.

Chrisman took over the team's punting role, as well as serving as a holder on placekicks, in place of 14th-year vet Kevin Huber. Huber, waived by the Bengals on Dec. 5, originally was selected by Cincinnati in the fifth round of the 2009 NFL Draft. He set multiple team records over his career, including games played (216), punts (1011), punting yards (45,766), gross average (45.27), net average (40.34) and inside-20 punts (346). Huber held a streak of 138 straight games played dating back to the 2014 season opener that was snapped in Game 10 at Pittsburgh. Huber was signed to the team's practice squad Dec. 7.

2022 draft class overview: Cincinnati's six-player draft class in April featured three defensive backs, two defensive linemen and one offensive lineman. The group played in a combined 288 college games.

Here's a closer look at Cincinnati's 2022 draft class:

• S Dax Hill, Michigan (Round 1, Pick 31): Hill was one of the fastest players in this year's draft (4.38-second 40-yard dash at the NFL Combine) and brings a highly touted versatility to the Bengals' secondary. A first-team All-Big Ten selection as a junior last season, he totaled 42 tackles, including 4.5 for losses, with two INTs and eight PDs. Hill has the ability to line up as a nickel CB or a deep safety. Hill made his regular-season career debut in Game 1 against the Steelers, and started for the first time in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets. He recorded his first tackle in Game 5 at Baltimore, stopping TE Isaiah Likely on a third down to force a Ravens FG. He was inactive for Game 10 at Pittsburgh with a shoulder injury, but returned to play six defensive snaps in Game 11 at Tennessee.

• CB Cam Taylor-Britt, Nebraska (Round 2, Pick 60): Cincinnati took a defensive back with each of its first two picks for the first time in team history when it selected the speedy Taylor-Britt out of head coach Zac Taylor's alma mater, Nebraska. After suffering an abdomen injury during training camp, Taylor-Britt was placed on the Reserve/Injured list and missed the first four weeks of the regular season. He returned to the active roster on Oct. 8 and made his career debut in Game 7 against Atlanta, recording three solo tackles on 28 defensive snaps. He logged 12 tackles (nine solos) in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, the third-most by a Bengals player in a game this season, and followed that with eight stops (seven solos) and a forced fumble in Game 11 at Tennessee. Taylor-Britt has three PDs over the past two games and has drawn praise from coaches and teammates for his play after stepping into the starting lineup in place of the injured Chidobe Awuzie.

• DT Zach Carter, Florida (Round 3, Pick 95): Carter had success lining up on the edge and at the three technique at Florida, where he collected 13 sacks over his final two seasons. Defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo has indicated Carter will play both on the interior of the defensive line and on the outside. He provides a valuable depth piece and possesses athleticism for his size. Carter started eight consecutive games from Weeks 4-12, and had his best performance in Game 7 against Atlanta with five tackles (four solos) on 34 defensive snaps. He recorded his first tackle for loss in Game 8 at Cleveland.

• G Cordell Volson, North Dakota State (Round 4, Pick 136): The first and only offensive player taken by the Bengals in the 2022 draft, Volson earned the starting role at LG during training camp. He brings a winning pedigree from an elite FCS program at North Dakota State, where he won four national championships and played in a program-record 65 career games. He has lined up for each of the Bengals' 892 offensive snaps through 13 games this season.

• S Tycen Anderson, Toledo (Round 5, Pick 166): Anderson tallied 131 tackles and 16 PDs in a five-year career at Toledo, but his earliest contributions with the Bengals may come via special teams, an area he excelled in college. As a defensive back, he relies on his size (6-2, 209) and natural speed (4.26 40-time). In Cincinnati's second preseason contest at the N.Y. Giants, Anderson recorded seven tackles (six solos). Anderson suffered a hamstring injury during preseason and was placed on the Reserve/Injured list on Sept. 2.

• DE Jeff Gunter, Coastal Carolina (Round 7, Pick 93): Bengals coaches were pleased to get Gunter in the seventh round, given his knack for rushing the passer and causing turnovers. A three-time All-Sun Belt Conference selection, he recorded 18 career sacks, nine FFs and two blocked FG attempts. In his career debut Week 1 vs. Pittsburgh, Gunter saw action on 20 special teams plays. He lined up for seven defensive snaps in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets. Gunter suffered a left knee injury prior to the Week 6 contest at New Orleans and was inactive for two games, but returned to play six special teams snaps in Game 8 at Cleveland.

Bengals home now called Paycor Stadium: Cincinnati's Week 1 game against Pittsburgh was the first regular-season contest in newly named Paycor Stadium.

The Bengals and Cincinnati-based Paycor expanded their partnership to include stadium naming rights, further strengthening their shared vision and commitment to the Cincinnati community and driving increased national awareness for both organizations.

Paycor, a leading human capital management (HCM) company, is a cornerstone partner of the Bengals, and has served as the team's official and exclusive HR software provider since 2018. Paycor has been headquartered in Cincinnati for over 30 years and this summer celebrated one year as a public company following a July 2021 IPO.

The Bengals and Paycor hosted a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the stadium on Tuesday, Sept. 6 to unveil new branding and celebrate the partnership. Paycor Stadium branding has been integrated throughout the stadium over the past three months.

The stadium was previously called Paul Brown Stadium, named after one of football's most influential coaches and the founder of the Bengals.

"This is a move that I think my father would have agreed to. He was always for what is best for the team," said Bengals President Mike Brown, son of Paul Brown. "This allows the Bengals to continue to compete at the highest level in the NFL and exemplifies our long-term commitment to the community."

The Jungle is jammin': The four highest-attended home games (and six of the top seven) in Bengals history have occurred in the 2022 calendar year. The Bengals beat the Miami Dolphins in Week 4 in front of a paid attendance of 67,260 at Paycor Stadium, marking the largest crowd for a sporting event in Cincinnati history. That figure surpassed the previous record of 66,277 set in the Wild Card Playoff victory over the Las Vegas Raiders on Jan. 15, 2022.

The attendance figure for Cincinnati's Week 13 win against Kansas City was 66,243, the third-largest in team history. The team's previous home games against Cleveland (66,222), Carolina (66,160) and Atlanta (66,158) rank fourth, sixth and seventh all-time, respectively. Adding in a figure of 65,841 for the season opener vs. Pittsburgh on Sept. 11, the Bengals have welcomed an attendance of over 65,000 in six consecutive regular-season home games for the first time since 2007. That year, Cincinnati hosted over 65,000 in each of its eight regular-season home contests.

Four Bengals listed on "Top 100": For the 12th consecutive year, current NFL players have voted to determine the top 100 players in the NFL, with the final list revealed throughout August on NFL Network.

Cincinnati was represented by four players in 2022 — QB Joe Burrow (No. 21), WR Ja'Marr Chase (No. 24), HB Joe Mixon (No. 38) and DE Trey Hendrickson (No. 78). It marks the team's second-most selections on a Top 100 list — there were seven Bengals included in 2016.

Burrow, Chase and Mixon made their Top 100 debuts, while Hendrickson made his second appearance after checking in at No. 73 on the 2021 list. Burrow's ranking at No. 21 is the fifth-highest by a Bengal, as WR A.J. Green was listed in the top 20 four times from 2013-17.

Anderson, Curtis join Bengals Ring of Honor: Bengals legends Willie Anderson and Isaac Curtis were inducted into the team's Ring of Honor at halftime of Game 4 against Miami. They joined the inaugural Ring of Honor class inducted last season, which included QB Ken Anderson, team founder/head coach Paul Brown, OT Anthony Munoz and CB Ken Riley.

Regarded as the best right offensive tackle of his era, Anderson played in 182 games (regular and postseason) for Cincinnati from 1996-2007. A four-time Pro Bowler, his 181 regular-season contests are tied for the eighth-most in team history. He blocked for HB Corey Dillon's two NFL-record setting games — an NFL rookie record 246 rushing yards vs. the Tennessee Oilers in 1997 (since broken), and an NFL record 278 rushing yards vs. the Denver Broncos in 2000 (since broken). He also helped set the club record for fewest sacks allowed twice — 21 in 2005 and 17 in '07.

Considered a game-changing WR in his era, Curtis played from 1973-84 and still holds the Bengals record for average yards per reception (17.07). The four-time Pro Bowler ranks third in team history in both career receiving yards (7101) and 100-yard games (20), and is fourth in receiving TDs (53).

Season Ticket Members selected Anderson and Curtis from a ballot that featured 15 individuals who have played a significant role in the franchise's history and tradition.

Bengals President Mike Brown on the 2022 inductees: "These are two of our finest all-time players. Willie was as good a right offensive tackle as you could draw up. He had it all — strength, movement and attitude. Isaac had incredible speed along with great hands. This is evidence for how our fans felt about Isaac during his career. They knew he was special. The Bengals are fortunate to have both of these outstanding players in the Ring of Honor."

In addition to his spot in the Bengals Ring of Honor, Ken Riley has also been elected as one of three senior nominees for the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Riley, who passed away in June 2020 at age 72 after playing cornerback for the Bengals from 1969-83, was chosen from the senior committee's list of 12 finalists. To become a member of the 2023 Hall of Fame class, he will need to receive 80 percent of the vote from the regular committee when it meets in February.

Willie Anderson is additionally one of 28 modern-era semifinalists for the Pro Football Hall of Fame's 2023 class, which were announced on Nov. 22. That list will be narrowed to 15 finalists in early January. In 2022, Anderson was a finalist for the first time in his ninth year of eligibility.

2021 Bengals O boasted young nucleus: During the 2021 regular season, the Bengals became the first team in NFL history with a 4000-yard passer, 1000-yard rusher and two 1000-yard receivers who were all under 26 years old. QB Joe Burrow (25 years old) had 4611 passing yards, HB Joe Mixon (25) had 1205 rushing yards, and Ja'Marr Chase (21) and Tee Higgins (22) had 1455 and 1091 receiving yards, respectively.

The 2006 Bengals were the only other squad in team history with a 4000-yard passer (Carson Palmer), 1000-yard rusher (Rudi Johnson), and two 1000-yard receivers (Chad Johnson and T.J. Houshmandzadeh).

Bengal bites: Since 2011, the Bengals own a 65-6-2 record in the regular season when scoring 25 or more points ... Cincinnati's Week 2 game against the Dallas Cowboys at AT&T Stadium had an attendance figure of 92,944, marking the largest crowd the Bengals have played in front of in team history ... WR Tee Higgins' 75-yard TD reception 12 seconds into the third quarter of Super Bowl LVI tied for the quickest second-half score in Super Bowl history (Percy Harvin, KOR TD in Super Bowl XLVIII) ... WR Tyler Boyd's 56-yard TD catch from QB Joe Burrow on Dec. 19, 2021 at Denver was the 2000th TD in Bengals history ... According to the NFL's Next Gen Stats service, which tracks players' speed by using GPS, the fastest speed by a Bengals ball-carrier in 2022 came from HB Joe Mixon, who reached 21.11 MPH on a 31-yard run in Game 1 vs. Pittsburgh, the 19th-fastest speed by any player through Week 14 ... The longest-tenured player on the active roster in 2022 is WR Tyler Boyd, a seventh-year pro who joined the Bengals as a second-round pick in 2016 ... The oldest Bengal on the roster is S Michael J. Thomas, who is 32 (born March 17, 1990) ... The youngest Bengal on the roster is S Dax Hill, who is 21 (born Sept. 29, 2000) ... The lightest Bengal on the roster is WR Trent Taylor, who is listed at 181 pounds ... The heaviest Bengal is DT Josh Tupou, who is listed at 340 pounds ... There is a tie for the tallest Bengal between G Max Scharping and G Cordell Volson, who are both listed at 6-6 ... There is also a tie for the shortest player on the roster between WR Trent Taylor and HB Trayveon Williams, who are both listed at 5-8.

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: Third-year pro Joe Burrow has put together one of the most promising starts to a career by a QB in NFL history. The 2021 AP Comeback Player of the Year surpassed 10,000 career passing yards in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, tying Kurt Warner as the third-fastest player in league history to reach the milestone. Burrow ranks second in the NFL in TD passes (27) this season, third in passing yards (3685), tied for second in completion percentage (68.1 percent), and sixth in passer rating (102.4). He has compiled several impressive stat lines through the first 13 contests this season, led off by a 338-yard, two-TD performance in the season opener vs. Pittsburgh that also included a career-high 47 rushing yards. In the Game 6 win at New Orleans, Burrow passed for 300 yards and three TDs, completing 28 of 37 passes while also notching a 19-yard rushing score. He followed up that performance with a record-setting day in Game 7 vs. Atlanta, passing for 481 yards (second-highest single-game total in his career) and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). Burrow received his third career AFC Offensive Player of the Week award for his performance against the Falcons. He completed 24 of 39 passes for 355 yards and a career-high-tying four TDs in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, marking his sixth career game with 350-plus yards and three passing TDs (third-most such games in a player's first three seasons in NFL history). Burrow continued his efficient streak with an 80.6 completion percentage (25 of 31) in the Game 12 win against Kansas City, throwing for 286 yards and two TDs to earn AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors for the second time this season. Burrow in Game 13 vs. Cleveland threw a 45-yard TD on a flea flicker play, marking his 17th career TD pass of 40 or more yards (most in the NFL since 2020). He produced perhaps the best season by a QB in Bengals history in 2021, when he completed 366 of 520 pass attempts for 4611 yards (sixth in the NFL) and 34 TDs (eighth) during the regular season. He led the league in completion percentage (70.4) and yards per attempt (8.87), while ranking second in passer rating (108.3). Burrow was instrumental in the team's run to Super Bowl LVI, completing 97 of 142 passes (68.3 percent) for 1105 yards and five TDs over four postseason games. Next on the depth chart is sixth-year veteran Brandon Allen, who started six games for the Bengals in his first two seasons with the team (2020-21). In 11 regular-season games with the Bengals, he has completed 107 of 176 passes (60.8 percent) for 1074 yards, with seven TDs and four INTs. The starting QB for all three preseason games, Allen completed 28 of 38 passes (73.7 percent) and finished with 264 passing yards in August. He saw his first regular-season action in the second half of Game 9 vs. Carolina, completing each of his three passing attempts for 22 yards.

Running backs: Leading the Bengals' running back room is sixth-year pro Joe Mixon, who is averaging 4.1 yards per carry this season and has six rushing TDs. Mixon enjoyed a career day in the team's win over Carolina in Game 9, totaling a career-high 211 scrimmage yards (153 rushing, 58 receiving) and a team-record five total TDs (four rushing, one receiving). He also surpassed 5000 career rushing yards in Game 9, becoming the fifth player in Bengals history and the eighth active NFL player to reach that milestone, and was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week for the third time in his career. In Game 1 against the Steelers, Mixon had 27 carries for 82 yards while also tying his career high in receptions with seven for 63 yards. He scored his first TD of the season on the opening drive in the Game 4 win against Miami, and finished with 61 yards on 24 carries. Mixon returned to action in Game 13 against Cleveland after missing the previous two games due to a concussion suffered in the second quarter of Game 10 at Pittsburgh. He totaled 96 yards on the ground on 14 attempts (6.9 avg.) in the win over the Browns, including a season-long rush of 40 yards that led to a Bengals FG. In 2021, he posted career highs in rushing yards (1205, third in NFL), rushing TDs (13, fourth) and rushing attempts (292, third) en route to earning his first Pro Bowl selection. The University of Oklahoma product has three seasons with 1000 or more rushing yards. Mixon's former college teammate, Samaje Perine, is in his fourth Bengals season after beginning his career with Washington. In Mixon's absence in Games 11 and 12, Perine shined as the bell cow back and combined for 248 scrimmage yards over the two-game span. He made his first start of the season in Game 11 at Tennessee and rushed for 58 yards on 17 attempts, while adding four catches for 35 yards, including a career-long 32-yard reception in the second quarter. In Game 12 vs. Kansas City, Perine finished with 106 rushing yards on 21 carries (5.0 avg.) and six receptions for 49 yards. It was the first time he had eclipsed the century mark in rushing yards since Nov. 23, 2017, when he played for Washington in a Week 12 game against the N.Y. Giants. His 155 yards from scrimmage against Kansas City were also a career high. Perine scored his second rushing TD of the season in Game 13 vs. Cleveland, working his way out of tackles for a six-yard TD that put the Bengals ahead 13-3 just before halftime. In Game 10 at Pittsburgh, Perine caught four passes for 52 yards (13.0 avg.) and three TDs, marking the most receiving TDs in a game by a Bengals player listed as an RB, HB or FB in team history. In 2021, he had 55 carries for 246 yards and one TD, along with 27 catches for 196 yards and a TD. At 5-11, 240 pounds, Perine brings a physical rushing style, and he's also used extensively on special teams. Second-year pro Chris Evans caught what ended up being the game-winning TD in Game 12 vs. Kansas City, on an eight-yard pass from Burrow with 8:54 left in the fourth quarter. Evans has three catches for 38 yards on the season, including a 26-yard grab in Game 8 at Cleveland. He served as the team's primary kick returner through the first nine games. Fourth-year back Trayveon Williams has played in 31 career games and totaled 238 rushing yards on 47 attempts (5.1 avg.) along with eight catches for 64 yards. He was called upon to return kicks in Game 10 at Pittsburgh when Evans was inactive and has since had eight KORs for 165 yards (20.6 avg.). Williams recorded his first carries of the season in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, rushing twice for seven yards (3.5 avg.). In Game 11 at Tennessee, he rushed twice for 18 yards (9.0 avg.) and caught one pass for 24 yards on a third-and-12 late in the second quarter, which set up a rushing TD for Perine on the next play.

Wide receivers: The top of the Bengals' wide receiver depth chart features one of the most explosive pass-catching trios in the NFL, with the oldest member being seventh-year pro Tyler Boyd. Boyd is considered one of the league's premier slot receivers that poses a challenge for nickel corners with his size (6-2, 203) and route-running ability. He has 433 career receptions (fifth in team history) for 5226 yards and 28 TDs, with consecutive seasons of 1000 or more yards from 2018-19. Boyd scored the first TD of the Bengals' 2022 season on a two-yard pass from Burrow in Week 1 vs. Pittsburgh. He caught four passes for 105 yards in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, including a 56-yard TD reception on the final play of the first quarter. Boyd amassed a career-high 155 receiving yards on eight catches (19.4 avg.) in Game 7 vs. Atlanta, highlighted by a 60-yard TD reception from Burrow on the opening drive just two minutes into the game. Boyd suffered a finger injury on the second offensive snap of Game 13 vs. Cleveland and did not return. Boyd's four TD receptions of 50 or more yards since the start of the 2021 regular season rank second in the NFL behind teammate Ja'Marr Chase (six). Chase, the team's first-round pick in the 2021 NFL Draft (No. 5 overall), had one of the top rookie seasons in NFL history a year ago. He led the Bengals and set team rookie records in catches (81), receiving yards (1455) and receiving TDs (13). His yardage total was an NFL rookie record for the Super Bowl Era and the most in team history, topping Chad Johnson's 1440 yards in 2007. Chase started off the 2022 season with a 10-catch, 129-yard performance vs. Pittsburgh in which he also caught the game-tying TD with two seconds remaining. A native of Metairie, La., Chase returned to his home state in Week 6 at New Orleans and led the Bengals with seven catches for 132 yards (18.9 avg.) and two TDs. His second score was a 60-yard catch and run that went in as the game-winner with 1:57 remaining in the fourth quarter. The following week against Atlanta, Chase caught eight passes for 130 yards (16.3 avg.) and two more TDs. Chase returned to action in Game 12 against Kansas City after missing Games 8-11 due to a hip injury. He showed no signs of rust, catching seven passes for 97 yards (13.9 avg.). Chase and Burrow showcased their chemistry once again in Game 13 against Cleveland, as Chase led the team with 10 catches for 119 yards and a TD. Despite missing four games, his seven TD catches are tied for sixth in the NFL, while his 821 receiving yards rank 18th. Another Bengals standout at WR is third-year pro Tee Higgins, who last season eclipsed 1000 receiving yards (1091) for the first time. Three separate injuries this season have forced Higgins to miss time, but when healthy he is one of the league's most productive and athletic pass catchers. The former second-round pick has 60 catches for 861 yards and five TDs this season. After suffering a concussion in the season opener, Higgins returned in Game 2 at Dallas to lead the team with six catches for 71 yards and a TD late in the fourth quarter. In the Game 4 win over Miami, he had 124 yards on seven receptions (17.7 avg.), highlighted by a 59-yard TD grab in the second quarter. Higgins logged five catches for 93 yards in Game 7 vs. Atlanta, and in Game 8 at Cleveland caught a 41-yard TD pass. In the Game 10 win at Pittsburgh, he paced the team with season highs in catches (nine) and receiving yards (148), marking the second-highest receiving yardage total of his career. Higgins returned to his home state for Game 11 at Tennessee and led the Bengals in receiving for a fourth-straight game, grabbing seven catches for 114 yards (16.3 avg.) and a game-winning TD in the fourth quarter. He caught a 12-yard touchdown pass from Burrow in Game 12 against Kansas City in the second quarter, and also hauled in a game-clinching 14-yard pass to convert a first down on the final drive that allowed the offense to kneel out the rest of the clock. Higgins was limited during Game 13 vs. Cleveland due to a hamstring injury, and saw action on just one offensive snap. WR Trenton Irwin, a third-year pro out of Stanford University, was signed to the Bengals active roster off the practice squad on Nov. 22. He has played in each of the last six games, including two starts (Game 10 at Pittsburgh, Game 13 vs. Cleveland), and has 10 catches for 169 yards (16.9 avg.) with two TDs. His first career TD reception came in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, a one-yarder in the third quarter that gave Cincinnati a 24-20 lead. His lone catch in Game 11 at Tennessee was among the most pivotal plays of the afternoon, as he came down with a back-shoulder catch in the fourth quarter for a 16-yard pickup on third-and-12. In Game 13 against the Browns, Irwin was on the receiving end of a 45-yard TD pass from Burrow on a flea flicker in the third quarter. He finished the game with a career-high 58 yards on two catches (29.0 avg.) with the TD. Fourth-year pro Stanley Morgan, a 2019 college free agent signee of the Bengals, provides depth at receiver and excels particularly as a blocker. Morgan also serves as one of Cincinnati's primary gunners on special teams and saw action at KOR in 2021. Veteran slot WR Trent Taylor was signed to the Bengals practice squad in 2021 after three full seasons (missed '19) in San Francisco. Taylor saw an increased workload in the offense throughout the four-game stretch that Chase missed, catching five passes for 28 yards. In Game 13 vs. Cleveland, he caught a short pass over the middle on third-and-10 and turned it into a 34-yard gain, continuing a drive that resulted in a Cincinnati TD. Taylor is also the team's primary punt returner. He had a strong 2022 preseason, catching six passes for 106 yards (17.7 avg.) in three games, along with a 31-yard punt return.

Tight ends: One of the headliners of the Bengals' 2022 free agency class was TE Hayden Hurst, who came to Cincinnati after two seasons with the Baltimore Ravens ('18-19) and two with the Atlanta Falcons ('20-21). Hurst provides a downfield threat for Burrow at the tight end position, with 173 career receptions for 1704 yards (9.8 avg.) and 14 TDs. Hurst this season ranks third on the team in catches (48) and fourth in receiving yards (400). He caught a TD pass in consecutive games, beginning with the fourth quarter of Game 4 against Miami to help seal the win. The following week, he got Cincinnati on the board with a 19-yard scoring grab at Baltimore in his former home stadium. In Game 11 at Tennessee, he netted six catches for 57 yards, fighting for yards after contact on multiple plays. Hurst suffered a calf injury early in Game 12 against Kansas City that forced him out for the rest of that contest, and caused him to miss all of Game 13 vs. Cleveland. The fifth-year pro has become a prominent voice in the mental health awareness and treatment community over the past three years, and earlier in November was named the team's nominee for the 2022 NFL Salute to Service Award in recognition of his military outreach. Next on the depth chart is third-year pro Mitchell Wilcox, a 2020 college free agent signee who spent his rookie year on the team's practice squad. Wilcox has caught eight passes for 70 yards this season, including two for 14 in Game 7 against Atlanta. He served as the team's emergency long snapper in the season opener vs. Pittsburgh, after veteran LS Clark Harris suffered a biceps injury. Rounding out the tight ends room is fellow third-year pro Devin Asiasi, who the Bengals acquired on waivers from New England on Aug. 31. Originally a third-round pick of the Patriots in 2020, he made his Bengals debut in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, playing 24 offensive snaps.

Offensive linemen: The Bengals invested heavily in revamping the offensive line during the offseason, signing a trio of marquee free agents beginning with C Ted Karras. Karras, a seventh-year veteran, has experience at all three interior OL positions but has cemented himself as Cincinnati's starting center this season. He also quickly became a vocal leader in the Bengals' locker room and was voted one of seven team captains. Karras was a member of two Super Bowl-winning Patriots teams in 2016 and '18, and became New England's starting C in '19. RG Alex Cappa, a fifth-year pro out of Cal Poly Humboldt (formerly known as Humboldt State), joined the Bengals after spending the past four seasons in Tampa Bay. A member of the Buccaneers' Super Bowl LV team, he has started every regular-season contest in which he has been active since the start of the 2019 season, only missing three games in that span. Cappa was placed on the Active/Physically Unable to Perform (PUP) list at the beginning of training camp, but returned to make his first start as a Bengal at RG in the regular-season opener. Fellow 2022 signee La'el Collins was placed on the Active/Non-Football Injury list at the start of camp, and also returned in time to start at ROT in the season opener. An eighth-year pro, Collins originally signed with Dallas as a college free agent in 2015 and quickly became a mainstay on the Cowboys' O-line. From 2017-19, he started all but one regular-season contest and helped Dallas rank in the top five in rushing offense each of those seasons. Now in his third season as Cincinnati's starting LOT is 2019 first-round pick Jonah Williams, who has started each of his 39 career games and played a team-high 96 percent of offensive snaps in 2021 (regular and postseason). Williams has been praised by Burrow and head coach Zac Taylor for his steady play this season. The lone offensive player selected by the Bengals in the 2022 NFL Draft, G Cordell Volson earned the starting role at LG during training camp. He has lined up for each of the Bengals' 892 offensive snaps through 13 games this season. OT Hakeem Adeniji, a sixth-round pick of the Bengals in 2020, is a versatile backup on the Bengals' O-line. Currently listed at OT, he took over as the starting RG midway through the 2021 season and earned praise from coaches for his consistent play. In the AFC Championship at Kansas City, Adeniji started and split time at RG with Jackson Carman, a 2021 second-round pick of the Bengals who is in his second season. Carman, a native of Fairfield, Ohio (approx. 25 miles north of Cincinnati), started at LG in the preseason opener against Arizona and in the finale against the L.A. Rams, but missed the contest at the N.Y. Giants due to COVID-19 protocols. Carman saw action on four special teams plays in the season opener against Pittsburgh. Another key reserve along the interior of the line is second-year pro C Trey Hill, who played in 13 regular-season games (three starts) and all four postseason contests in 2021. The Bengals added more size and experience to the interior of the line when they acquired G Max Scharping on waivers on Aug. 31. Scharping, who is listed at 6-foot-6 and 325 pounds, played in 48 games with 33 starts for the Texans in three seasons (2019-'21), and made his Cincinnati debut in Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets. Adding depth at LOT is second-year pro D'Ante Smith, a fourth-round pick of the Bengals in 2021. He earned snaps at both LOT and G during his rookie campaign.

Defensive linemen: Cincinnati native and Archbishop Moeller graduate Sam Hubbard is in his fifth Bengals season (fourth as a full-time starter). A third-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2018, Hubbard has 30.5 career sacks (second-most among all players in 2018 draft class), including 6.5 this season, and is also considered among the best DEs in the NFL against the run. His 11 TFLs this season lead the team, and he tallied his first sack of the year in the fourth quarter of Game 2 at Dallas. Hubbard had seven tackles in Game 6 at

New Orleans, including a half-sack on Saints QB Andy Dalton with under a minute remaining that forced a fourth-and-17. He filled the stat sheet in Game 8 at Cleveland with nine tackles, one TFL, a sack and a forced fumble. Hubbard has a sack in each of the last three games, while also totaling 14 tackles (10 solos) in that stretch. On the other side of the line is DE Trey Hendrickson, who joined the team as a free agent in 2021 and posted a career-high 14 sacks last season. That total ranked fifth in the NFL and second in team history. In Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, Hendrickson was a disruptive force with 2.5 sacks and two forced fumbles, becoming the first Bengal with that stat line since at least 2000. He received AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors for his performance. Hendrickson added two more sacks in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, each coming in the fourth quarter, and finished with five tackles (four solos). His 33.5 sacks since the start of the 2020 regular season are tied for the third-most in the NFL. DT B.J. Hill is in his second season with the Bengals and anchors the interior of the defensive line. Hill was acquired in a trade with the N.Y. Giants shortly before the 2021 regular season, and showed high production with 5.5 sacks (fourth-most on the team) in a reserve role last season. He has started all 13 games this season, and notched Cincinnati's first sack in Game 1 with a two-yard takedown of Steelers QB Mitchell Trubisky. He followed up that performance with five tackles and a batted-down pass for a PD in Game 2 at Dallas. Hill collected his first two career fumble recoveries in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, while also recording four tackles, a half-sack and a forced fumble. He notched a career-high seven tackles (three solos) in Game 11 at Tennessee. Seventh-year veteran DJ Reader returned to action in Game 10 at Pittsburgh after spending the previous six games on the Reserve/Injured list with a knee injury. Reader, who played his first four pro seasons in Houston, was a high-profile free agency addition of the Bengals in 2020. At 6-3, 335 pounds, he excels in run defense, and in 2021 was a catalyst for the Bengals ranking fifth in the league in rushing yards allowed per game (102.5). Reader was a key contributor in Game 11 at Tennessee, as he batted down two passes at the line of scrimmage and spearheaded a defensive front that held RB Derrick Henry to just 38 yards on 17 carries. Reader tipped another ball at the line of scrimmage in Game 12 against Kansas City, forcing the Chiefs to settle for a FG on their opening possession. In Game 13 against Cleveland, he batted down a pass from QB Deshaun Watson at the line of scrimmage for his fourth PD in the last three weeks, which surpasses his three career PDs in 85 previous games. Reader also matched his season high with five tackles (all solos) in the rematch against the Browns. Fifth-year pro Josh Tupou started five consecutive games from Week 2-6, but missed the next five contests with a calf injury. He returned in Game 13 against Cleveland and logged one solo tackle. Tupou played in 17 games with nine starts in 2021, before suffering a right knee injury in the regular-season finale that limited him to just five snaps in the first three postseason games. He returned to action in Super Bowl LVI, helping limit the Rams to just 1.9 yards per rushing attempt. A fourth-round pick of the Bengals in 2021, DE Cam Sample played in 14 regular-season games last year as a rotational defensive lineman, collecting 14 tackles including 1.5 sacks. He notched his first sack of the 2022 season in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, bringing down QB Joe Flacco for a six-yard loss in the second quarter. In Game 11 at Tennessee, Sample tackled RB Dontrell Hilliard for a five-yard loss to set up third-and-long on a critical drive late in the fourth quarter, helping the defense hold the Titans to a FG. DT Zach Carter was selected by Cincinnati in the fourth round of the 2022 NFL Draft, and has started each of the last eight games after seeing the field in a limited role over the first three contests. Carter has 18 tackles (nine solos), including five in back-to-back games against Atlanta and Cleveland. Second-year DE Joseph Ossai returned to action in the regular-season opener after missing the 2021 regular and postseason due to a knee injury. Originally a Bengals third-round pick in 2021, he moved to the United States at age 10 from Ketu Ijanikin, Lagos, Nigeria, and was raised in Conroe, Texas (outside Houston). In Game 7 vs. Atlanta, Ossai recorded his first career sack, taking down QB Marcus Mariota for an eight-yard loss in the fourth quarter. Ossai notched his second sack of the season in Game 12 against the Chiefs, when he brought down Patrick Mahomes for a loss of four yards on a third-and-three. The sack forced the Chiefs to attempt a 55-yard FG that was missed on what would be their last possession of the game. Rookie DE Jeff Gunter was also selected in the seventh round, as the Bengals coaches were pleased to get the Coastal Carolina product late in the 2022 draft. Gunter is listed as a DE, but played at different spots along the line in college and recorded 18 sacks. The most recent addition to the D-line is DT Jay Tufele, who was acquired on waivers from Jacksonville on Aug. 31. Listed at 6-foot-3, 305 pounds, Tufele originally was a fourth-round pick of the Jaguars in 2021 and played in four games last season. With the DT spot missing a few players due to injuries, Tufele took advantage of his opportunity and recorded six tackles, including a TFL, in each of his first two games played this season (Game 6 at New Orleans, Game 7 vs. Atlanta).

Linebackers: Among Cincinnati's most promising young defenders is third-year pro Logan Wilson, who wears the "green dot" as the defense's communicator. Wilson this season leads the team with 91 tackles (63 solos), despite missing Game 7 against Atlanta due to a right shoulder injury. He has 41 stops over the last four games, including a career-high 17 (14 solos) in Game 13 vs. Cleveland. He also notched a half-sack on third down against the Browns that forced a punt in the third quarter. Wilson missed four games in 2021, but still finished as the team's leader in both tackles (98) and INTs (four). His INT total tied for the most among all NFL linebackers during the regular season (Shaquille Leonard, Indianapolis). Wilson made several crucial plays during Cincinnati's postseason run to Super Bowl LVI, most notably an INT late in the Divisional Round at Tennessee that set up a game-winning FG. Wilson logged 39 tackles in the postseason, the most by any NFL player in a single postseason since Ray Lewis in 2012 (51). Ranking second on the team with 83 tackles this season is fourth-year pro Germaine Pratt. Pratt switched from S to LB late in his college career at North Carolina State, but earned a starting LB spot with the Bengals midway through his rookie season. He drew praise from coaches for his grasp of the defense, and took over the "green dot" responsibility on defense while Wilson was out with an injury late in the 2021 regular season. In the Wild Card Playoff vs. Las Vegas, Pratt intercepted a QB Derek Carr pass on fourth-and-goal late in the fourth quarter that sealed a Cincinnati win. This season, he finished as the team's leading tackler for a third consecutive week in Game 6 at New Orleans with 14 stops (five solos), the second-most in a game in his career. Pratt had his first INT of the season in Game 9 against Carolina, picking off QB PJ Walker in the second quarter. He recorded eight tackles (six solos) with two TFLs in Game 10 at Pittsburgh. He had four tackles (two solos) in Game 12 vs. Kansas City and forced a game-changing fumble in the fourth quarter, as he stripped TE Travis Kelce at the Chiefs' 45-yard line and recovered it to set up the offense for what would become a go-ahead TD drive. Pratt had two TFLs and a PD in Game 13 vs. Cleveland. Third-year pro Markus Bailey, a 2020 seventh-round pick of the Bengals, was a rotational player early in the '21 season, but late in the year he took on an increased role due to injury issues at LB. He has 12 tackles in 13 games played this season, with six (four solos) coming in the Game 9 win over Carolina. Bailey is also a key member of Cincinnati's special teams units. A 2020 Bengals fourth-round pick, Akeem Davis-Gaither turned in perhaps the best performance of his career in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets. He led Cincinnati with a career-high 13 tackles, including a TFL in the first quarter that put the Jets in a third-and-long situation. He paced the Bengals again with nine tackles (six solos) in Game 7 vs. Atlanta, and then recorded his first career fumble recovery in Game 8 at Cleveland. The Bengals added second-year pro Clay Johnston to their LB room during the 2021 bye in Week 10 to help with injury and COVID-19 issues. He led all NFL players during the 2022 preseason with 29 tackles, including 20 in the second preseason contest at the N.Y. Giants. In the Divisional Playoff win at Tennessee last season, Johnston tackled Titans RB Derrick Henry for a loss on a two-point conversion to keep the score tied. Third-year pro Joe Bachie returned to the active roster ahead of Game 7 after spending the first six weeks of the season on the Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform list with a knee injury. Bachie recorded three tackles, along with an assisted special teams tackle, in Game 9 vs. Carolina.

Defensive backs: S Jessie Bates III, a 2018 second-round pick of the Bengals, started the first 51 games of his career — the second-most consecutive starts to begin a career by a Cincinnati defender — until a neck injury broke the streak and held him out of the Week 4 game vs. Jacksonville last season. He then returned to the lineup the following week and has not missed a game since. Named the team's designated franchise player on March 7, Bates signed the one-year tender offer on Aug. 23 and was placed on the Exempt/Commissioner Permission list. He reverted to the active roster on Sept. 5 and started in Game 1 vs. Pittsburgh. Bates has 54 tackles (31 solos), two INTs and four PDs this season. His second pick came in Game 9 against Carolina, when he intercepted QB PJ Walker in the second quarter and returned it 16 yards. Bates led the Bengals in tackles in Game 12 against the Chiefs with eight (four solo). He added his third INT of the season in Game 13 vs. Cleveland, picking off QB Deshaun Watson in the fourth quarter. Bates also registered three tackles and two PDs. He made several critical plays during Cincinnati's postseason run to Super Bowl LVI, including an INT on the first play from scrimmage in the AFC Divisional Playoff at Tennessee and a pick just before halftime of the Super Bowl. In overtime of the AFC Championship at Kansas City, Bates tipped a deep pass from QB Patrick Mahomes that was intercepted by S Vonn Bell, setting up Cincinnati's game-winning drive. Bell, a seventh-year pro, joined the Bengals in 2020 after spending his first four seasons with New Orleans. He has been a team captain in each of his three Bengals seasons, and finished the 2021 regular season with 97 tackles (second on team). Bell tallied a team-high seven tackles and had a key forced fumble in Game 2 at Dallas. Against the Dolphins in Game 4, he recorded four tackles (all solos) and had two INTs, his first career multi-INT game. His second came with under four minutes left in the fourth quarter, when he picked off QB Teddy Bridgewater to end a potential go-ahead TD drive for Miami. Bell has since added two more INTs, one in Game 5 at Baltimore and the next in Game 8 at Cleveland. His four INTs are tied for fourth in the NFL. In the Game 13 win vs. Cleveland, Bell finished second on the team with seven tackles (five solos), and combined with LB Logan Wilson for a half-sack on QB Deshaun Watson that forced a Browns punt. During the 2020 offseason, the Bengals sought to bolster their pass defense and did so with several marquee free agent signings. One such name was Mike Hilton, who is widely considered among the top slot CBs in the NFL. Though one of the smallest players on the roster at 5-9, 184 pounds, he is known as a sure tackler and excellent blitz. Hilton had a 24-yard pick-six in last season's home win against Pittsburgh, his former team, and he said it was his first career pick-six at any level dating back to pee-wee football. In Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets, he recorded a season-high eight tackles (five solos). Hilton missed Game 9 vs. Carolina with a thumb injury, and returned to action in Game 10 at Pittsburgh. In Game 11 at Tennessee, he tied for third on the team with seven tackles (six solos). Four of those tackles were made on Titans RB Derrick Henry, who entered the game as the league leader in rushing yards after contact. CB Eli Apple was originally slated to add depth after signing with the Bengals in March of 2021, but he ended up starting nearly every game last season (15 of 16 in regular season, all four in postseason). He had two INTs and 10 PDs during the regular season, but his biggest play came just before halftime of the AFC Championship at Kansas City, when he tackled Chiefs WR Tyreek Hill at the one-yard line to keep the Bengals within 11 points at the break. Apple has a familiarity with Bell, whom he played alongside in college at Ohio State, as well as with defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo, who was his position coach with the N.Y. Giants in 2018. Apple has 36 tackles (24 solos) and five PDs in 12 starts this season. He missed Game 8 at Cleveland with a hamstring injury, but returned to the lineup for Game 9 against Carolina. The Bengals selected S Dax Hill with the No. 31 overall pick in the 2022 NFL Draft. Hill brings a highly touted versatility to the Bengals secondary, possessing the ability to line up as a nickel CB and occasionally on the outside, in addition to safety. A three-year standout at Michigan (2019-20), he impressed in the preseason with seven tackles, one INT and two PDs in two games. Hill made his first career start in Game 3 at the N.Y. Jets. He was inactive for Game 10 at Pittsburgh due to a shoulder injury, but returned to earn snaps on defense and special teams in Game 11 at Tennessee. Cincinnati followed that draft pick by taking CB Cam Taylor-Britt out of Nebraska in the second round. Taylor-Britt spent the first four games on the Reserve/Injured list with an abdomen injury, but returned to make his career debut in Game 7 vs. Atlanta. He has started each of the last six games and led the Bengals in tackles in Game 10 at Pittsburgh, notching a career-high 12 stops (nine solos). Taylor-Britt impressed again in Game 11 at Tennessee, registering eight tackles (seven solos) and a forced fumble on a chase-down strip of RB Derrick Henry. He had two crucial PDs in the fourth quarter of Game 13 vs. Cleveland, including a pass breakup on fourth-and-goal to thwart the Browns' late comeback effort. Despite playing in just seven games, Taylor-Britt ranks eighth on the team this season with 39 tackles. A physically imposing member of the secondary is 6-3, 200-pound CB Tre Flowers, who joined Cincinnati on waivers from Seattle in October of 2021. Flowers fills a rotational role for the Bengals, mostly used to cover TEs in passing situations. Also joining the Bengals last October was S Michael J. Thomas. In 2021, Thomas went on to play in eight regular-season games (one start) and all four postseason games, quickly becoming a core contributor on special teams. He saw 72 snaps on special teams (tied for fourth on the team) in the postseason, including 21 in Super Bowl LVI. He was elected by his teammates as one of seven team captains, marking the seventh time in the past eight seasons that he has worn the captains' patch. Third-year pro Jalen Davis has also carved out a prominent role on special teams, in addition to serving as a rotational slot CB. Davis joined the Bengals in mid-2020 and was thrust into action quickly while the team dealt with a wave of injuries and COVID-19 issues.

Special teams: First-year punter Drue Chrisman, whose hometown is roughly 35 minutes west of Cincinnati in Lawrenceburg, Ind., was elevated from the practice squad to make his NFL debut in Game 10 at Pittsburgh. Operating in less-than-optimal conditions both as a punter and holder for kicking attempts, he impressed with three punts for 162 yards (54.0), including two that pinned the Steelers inside their own 10-yard line. Chrisman followed up his debut performance by booting five punts for 259 yards (51.8) in Game 11 at Tennessee, with two downed inside the Titans' 20-yard line. He had five punts for 205 yards (41.0 avg.) in Game 13 vs. Cleveland, pinning two inside the 20. His appearance in Game 10 marked the end of a 138-game streak for P Kevin Huber. Huber, who was waived by the Bengals on Dec. 5 and signed back to the practice squad two days later, served as Cincinnati's punter for 14 years and holds several team records, including games played (216), total punts (1011), punting yards (45,766), gross average (45.27), net average (40.34) and inside-20 punts (346). LS Cal Adomitis is handling long-snapping duties for Cincinnati after being signed from the practice squad to the active roster on Sept. 12. Adomitis, who made his NFL debut in Game 2 at Dallas, originally joined the team as a college free agent in May after a five-year career at the University of Pittsburgh. K Evan McPherson became a fan-favorite during his rookie season in 2021, when he produced one of the best debut seasons by a kicker in NFL history. He made five game-winning "walk-off" kicks with no time remaining or in OT — three during the regular season and two in the postseason. He clinched the AFC North Division title for Cincinnati with a 20-yarder on Jan. 2 vs. Kansas City, securing the Bengals' first playoff berth since 2015. McPherson then knocked through a 52-yarder in the Divisional Playoff at Tennessee that sent Cincinnati to the AFC Championship, and a week later hit from 31 yards in OT of the AFC Championship at Kansas City to punch Cincinnati's ticket to Super Bowl LVI. McPherson said that entering the season, he had never kicked a game-winning FG at any level of football. He is particularly effective from long range and has converted 14 of 16 FG attempts of 50 or more yards in his career, including a perfect five of five this season. Three of the four longest FGs in Bengals history have come off the right foot of McPherson, with two occurring this season — a team-record 59-yarder in Game 1 vs. Pittsburgh, and a 57-yarder in Game 4 vs. Miami. Since the beginning of his rookie season in 2021, McPherson's field goal percentage on 50-yard-plus kicks (87.5 pct.) leads the NFL (min. 10 attempts). Through 13 games this season, he is 19 of 23 on FG attempts (82.6 pct.) and 34 of 37 on PATs (91.9 pct.). McPherson is a perfect five of five on kicks of 50 or more yards this season, one of three kickers in the league with a perfect percentage on attempts of 50-plus. WR Trent Taylor holds the role as Cincinnati's primary punt returner. He has 28 returns this season and ranks fourth in the league in PR yards (293) and 10th in PR average (10.5). HB Chris Evans and HB Trayveon Williams have each been utilized on kickoff returns this season. After not having a kick return opportunity through the first four weeks of the season, Evans amassed 211 yards on 10 returns (21.1 avg.) from weeks five through nine. He was inactive in Game 10 at Pittsburgh due to a knee injury, but Williams stepped in with an impressive performance of five KORs for 124 yards (24.8 avg.), including a 42-yarder that stands as a Bengals season long. He had two KORs in Game 12 vs. Kansas City, totaling 27 yards (13.5 avg.). Williams now is listed on the team's depth chart as the team's primary KOR.

THE LAST BENGALS-BUCCANEERS MEETINGS

2014 SEASON

WEEK 13, GAME 12

Cincinnati Bengals 14, Tampa Bay Buccaneers 13
Sunday, Nov. 30, 2014 at Raymond James Stadium

The Bengals overcame a load of mistakes — minus-two turnover differential, a failed onside kick attempt, 10 penalties — in getting by the 2-9 Buccaneers for their third straight win, all on the road. The team completed winning three road games in three weeks for the first time in franchise history. The Bucs took a 10-0 second-quarter lead, but a five-yard TD run by Dalton made it 10-7 at halftime, and Dalton found WR A.J. Green for a 13-yard third-quarter TD pass that provided sufficient points for the win. Dalton posted a 115.1 passer rating in the second half after logging 39.0 in the first half. After closing the gap to 14-13, the Bucs were apparently in position for a go-ahead FG, having advanced the ball to the Bengals' 20-yard line with 26 seconds left. But the gain to the 20 was nullified by a 12-men-on-the-field penalty against Tampa, and the Bucs were not able to move back to FG range before time expired. The Bengals improved to 8-3-1 and took a one and one-half game lead over the other three AFC North Division teams, all of whom lost on this day. The Buccaneers fell to 2-10.

2022 GAME SUMMARIES

Pittsburgh Steelers 23, Cincinnati Bengals 20 (OT) Sunday, Sept. 11, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

Despite five turnovers, including four INTs by QB Joe Burrow, the Bengals were in position to win twice, but two missed kicks led to the loss. Burrow rallied to lead two second-half TD drives, including a six-yard scoring pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase to tie the game at 20-20 with two seconds left in regulation. But K Evan McPherson's PAT attempt was blocked by Steelers S Minkah Fitzpatrick. Then, after holding Pittsburgh on the opening drive of OT, the Bengals drove into range for another potential game-winning kick, this time a FG attempt from 29 yards. But Cincinnati again failed to convert, as a high snap contributed to McPherson sailing it wide left. The Bengals had yet another opportunity for a game-winning kick when they moved into McPherson's FG range with less than two minutes left in OT, but Burrow was sacked on third down for the seventh time of the game to force a punt, and Pittsburgh quickly drove 45 yards to get in position to convert a 53-yard game-winning FG as OT expired.

WEEK 2, GAME 2

Dallas Cowboys 20, Cincinnati Bengals 17 Sunday, Sept. 18, 2022 at AT&T Stadium

The Bengals faced an early 14-3 first-quarter deficit, as Dallas opened the game with back-to-back TD drives. Cincinnati later scored FGs on consecutive drives in the third quarter, while the Bengals' defense held the Cowboys to three punts and a lost fumble on their first four drives of the second half. The Bengals logged a 19-play, 83-yard drive which took 8:54 off the clock in the fourth quarter and ended with a five-yard TD pass from QB Joe Burrow to WR Tee Higgins. Burrow then connected with WR Tyler Boyd on a two-point conversion to tie the score at 17-17 with 3:45 left. A Cowboys three-and-out gave Burrow the ball back with 2:13 remaining, but the Dallas defense forced the Bengals into a three-and-out of their own on the following drive. With less than a minute left, Cowboys QB Cooper Rush, who started in place of an injured Dak Prescott, quickly led the team on a 33-yard drive to put K Brett Maher in range for a 50-yard game-winning FG as time expired. The Cowboys improved to 1-1, while the Bengals fell to 0-2.

WEEK 3, GAME 3

Cincinnati Bengals 27, N.Y. Jets 12
Sunday, Sept. 25, 2022 at MetLife Stadium

The Bengals scored on four of their first five possessions, including an opening-drive TD, to build an early 20-6 lead. QB Joe Burrow had 95 passing yards on that initial drive, capped by a 12-yard TD throw to HB Samaje Perine on a third-and-goal. After a pair of Jets FGs, Cincinnati struck again on the final play of the first quarter when Burrow found WR Tyler Boyd over the middle, and Boyd spun off a hit and ran 45 yards to the end zone. LB Logan Wilson grabbed the Bengals' first INT of the season in the second quarter, picking off a deep pass from Jets QB Joe Flacco and returning it 47 yards. Cincinnati opened the second half with another TD, as a strip sack from DE Trey Hendrickson on the Jets' first possession set the Bengals up at the New York 24-yard line, and four plays later Burrow found WR Ja'Marr Chase alone in the end zone to make it 27-9. Another forced fumble from Hendrickson with 10:03 left in the fourth quarter led to a 13-play, 52-yard Bengals drive that drained the clock. S Jessie Bates sealed the win with an INT in the final minute. Cincinnati improved to 1-2, while the Jets fell to 1-2.

Cincinnati Bengals 27, Miami Dolphins 15
Thursday night, Sept. 29, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

The Bengals found the end zone on their opening drive for a second straight game, as HB Joe Mixon put Cincinnati ahead 7-0 with a five-yard rushing TD less than five minutes into the first quarter. Miami moved the ball early, but was held to a pair of FGs before the Bengals struck again late in the second period, when QB Joe Burrow hit WR Tee Higgins for a 59-yard TD to extend the lead, 14-6. The Dolphins answered with a TD on a shovel pass from QB Teddy Bridgewater to RB Chase Edmonds with nine seconds left in the first half. Another Jason Sanders FG in the third quarter gave Miami its first lead, but the Bengals responded with two fourth-quarter kicks from Evan McPherson, including a 57-yarder. Bridgewater drove the Dolphins into Cincinnati territory with under four minutes left, but S Vonn Bell ended their chances of a go-ahead TD with his second INT of the game. The Bengals capitalized on the turnover, as Burrow connected with WR Ja'Marr Chase for a 36-yard completion to set up first-and-goal, and three plays later TE Hayden Hurst caught his first TD of the season to cement the win. Cincinnati improved to 2-2, while the Dolphins fell to 3-1.

WEEK 5, GAME 5

Baltimore Ravens 19, Cincinnati Bengals 17
Sunday night, Oct. 9, 2022 at M&T Bank Stadium

The Bengals fell behind 10-0 early in the second quarter and were forced to punt on their first four offensive possessions, but an INT by S Vonn Bell at the Cincinnati 17-yard line kept Baltimore from expanding its lead. The offense capitalized on the turnover with a seven-play scoring drive, finished off with a 19-yard TD pass to TE Hayden Hurst to cut it to 10-7. The Bengals tied it on an Evan McPherson FG before halftime, marking the third time this season they came back from a double-digit deficit. Two Baltimore FGs bookended a 15-play Cincinnati drive in the third quarter that got down to the Ravens' two-yard line, but the Bengals were held out of the end zone on four straight snaps. Joe Burrow engineered a go-ahead TD drive in the fourth quarter that ended with a QB sneak to put Cincinnati in front, 17-16, with 1:58 left. The Ravens answered by going 50 yards to set up a game-winning 43-yard FG from Justin Tucker as time expired. Baltimore improved to 3-2, while Cincinnati fell to 2-3.

QB Joe Burrow and WR Ja'Marr Chase made their return to Caesars Superdome, where they helped Louisiana State win the 2019 college football national championship, and connected on two TDs in the second half to lead the Bengals to a road win. Chase, a New Orleans-area native, gave Cincinnati its first lead of the afternoon on a 60-yard catch and run to the end zone with 1:57 remaining in regulation. Chase finished with seven catches for 132 yards (18.9-yard average), while Burrow completed 28 of 37 passes for 300 yards and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). Former Bengals QB Andy Dalton started for the Saints and helped them build a 17-7 lead early in the second quarter, and New Orleans had 164 rushing yards in the first half against a Bengals defense that came in allowing just 99.6 per game. But the Cincinnati offense flipped its switch late in the second quarter when Burrow recorded a 19-yard rushing TD on a scramble, and the Bengals scored on their final four drives. The Saints still had a chance for the win as the end of regulation approached, but Bengals DT B.J. Hill and DE Sam Hubbard teamed up for a late sack on Dalton to force a fourth-and-17 in the final minute, and his desperation heave on fourth down with 34 seconds left fell incomplete. Cincinnati improved to 3-3, while New Orleans fell to 2-4.

WEEK 7, GAME 7

Cincinnati Bengals 35, Atlanta Falcons 17
Sunday, Oct. 23, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

The Bengals opened the game with four straight TD drives and recorded 537 net yards of offense in a dominant home win. QB Joe Burrow completed 34 of 42 passes for 481 yards and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). He started the day with a 60-yard TD pass to WR Tyler Boyd on the game's fourth play from scrimmage. Boyd caught eight passes for 155 receiving yards (118 in the first half), while WR Ja'Marr Chase added eight receptions for 130 yards and two TDs. Chase's TDs both came in the second quarter, and both on receptions of over 30 yards. The Falcons scored 17 points in the final five minutes of the first half to cut their deficit to 11 points, 28-17, but the Bengals' defense forced Atlanta to punt on each of its four second-half possessions, and Burrow led a game-ending drive that took the last 8:44 off the clock to secure the win. The Bengals' defense extended to seven the number of consecutive games in which Cincinnati had not allowed a second-half touchdown, just the third such streak since the 1970 NFL-AFL merger. The Bengals improved to 4-3, while Atlanta fell to 3-4.

Cleveland Browns 32, Cincinnati Bengals 13
Monday night, Oct. 31, 2022 at FirstEnergy Stadium

The Browns recorded 440 net yards offensively, including 172 rushing, to earn their fifth straight win in the Battle of Ohio. Cincinnati was held scoreless in the first half for the first time in 24 games, with two early possessions ended by turnovers in Cleveland territory. A six-point swing off a missed Bengals FG followed by a 55-yarder by Cade York in the final minute of the half gave the Browns an 11-0 lead going into the break. Cleveland finished off two extended third-quarter drives with TDs to grow its lead to 25-0, while Cincinnati was held to just 148 total yards through the first three frames. QB Joe Burrow threw a pair of fourth-quarter TD passes to WRs Tyler Boyd and Tee Higgins, but a 53-yard completion on third-and-nine from QB Jacoby Brissett to WR Amari Cooper helped set up a game-sealing rushing TD by RB Nick Chubb. Cleveland improved to 3-5, while Cincinnati fell to 4-4.

Cincinnati Bengals 37, Pittsburgh Steelers 30 Sunday, Nov. 20, 2022 at Acrisure Stadium

QB Joe Burrow passed for four TDs, with three going to HB Samaje Perine, to lead Cincinnati to its first divisional win of the season. Perine's three scores constituted the first time in team history that a Bengals RB recorded three receiving TDs in a game. The teams traded leads through the first half, before WR Trenton Irwin caught his first career TD midway through the third quarter to give the Bengals a lead they would not relinquish. After the Bengals' defense forced the Steelers to punt for the fifth time in the second half, Burrow led an eight-play, 93-yard scoring drive capped by Perine's third TD reception to put Cincinnati ahead 34-23 with 4:30 left and essentially secure the win. Cincinnati Bengals 20, Tennessee Titans 16
Sunday, Nov. 27, 2022 at Nissan Stadium

QB Joe Burrow found WR Tee Higgins for a 27-yard TD in the fourth quarter to break a 13-13 tie, and the offense closed the game on a drive that started with 6:07 left to secure Cincinnati's third straight win. The Bengals' defense held Titans RB Derrick Henry, the NFL's leading rusher entering the game, to 38 yards on 17 carries, and in the second half Tennessee's offense was limited to 125 total yards and six points. The Titans went up 10-3 in the second quarter when Henry took a screen pass 69 yards and fumbled the ball into the end zone, where it was recovered by WR Treyton Burks. Later in the quarter, Cincinnati answered with a 92-yard drive, capped by a rushing TD from HB Samaje Perine, who started in place of an injured Joe Mixon. Both teams traded FGs before the Bengals went on a six-play, 75-yard march that included a back-shoulder catch from WR Trenton Irwin to convert a third-and-12. The following snap, Burrow lofted a jump ball for Higgins at the goal line, and the 6-4 receiver came down with what would be the game-winning TD. WEEK 13, GAME 12

Cincinnati Bengals 27, Kansas City Chiefs 24
Sunday, Dec. 4, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

QB Joe Burrow completed 80.6 percent of his passes (25 of 31) and the Bengals overcame a seven-point deficit entering the fourth quarter to earn their fourth straight win. Cincinnati opened the game with back-to-back TD drives to take an early 14-3 lead, but the Chiefs answered with 14 straight points to march in front. Kansas City had the ball and a 24-20 lead in the fourth quarter, before LB Germaine Pratt stripped the ball from TE Travis Kelce and recovered the fumble near midfield. The Bengals capitalized with a 10-play drive which included two third-down conversions, and finished it off with an eight-yard TD pass from Burrow to HB Chris Evans for the go-ahead score. A sack by DE Joseph Ossai on the ensuing drive forced the Chiefs into a 55-yard FG attempt, which K Harrison Butker sailed wide right, and Cincinnati bled the final 3:19 of game clock to clinch the victory. WR Ja'Marr Chase caught seven passes for 97 yards in his first action after missing four games with a hip injury, and HB Samaje Perine added 155 yards from scrimmage (106 rushing, 49 receiving). Cincinnati improved to 8-4, while Kansas City fell to 9-3.

WEEK 14, GAME 13

Cincinnati Bengals 23, Cleveland Browns 10
Sunday, Dec. 11, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

Cincinnati held Cleveland, which entered as the fourth-ranked rushing offense in the NFL, to 71 yards on 25 carries (2.8 average), while QB Joe Burrow threw two TD passes to lead the Bengals to their fifth straight win. Both offenses failed to score points on their first three drives before a series of Browns penalties set up the Bengals at the Cleveland 30-yard line in the second quarter. Burrow cashed in with a pinpoint 15-yard TD throw to WR Ja'Marr Chase, who finished the game with 10 catches for 119 yards. HB Samaje Perine capped off a 75-yard scoring drive near the end of the first half to put the Bengals ahead by 10, and they increased their lead in the third quarter when Burrow hit WR Trenton Irwin for a 45-yard TD on a flea flicker. A TD by Browns TE David Njoku cut it to 20-10, but the Cincinnati defense stepped up in the fourth quarter, as S Jessie Bates intercepted a Deshaun Watson pass and each of Cleveland's final two possessions resulted in a turnover on downs. DT DJ Reader had five tackles and batted down a pass at the line of scrimmage, while LB Logan Wilson recorded 17 stops to help limit Browns RB Nick Chubb to just 34 rushing yards. Cincinnati improved to 9-4, while Cleveland fell to 5-8.
