Setting the scene: As the AFC playoff race enters the final two weeks of the regular season, the Bengals host the Denver Broncos in a pivotal matchup on Saturday at Paycor Stadium.

Cincinnati has won its last three games to improve to 7-8 on the season, and looks to get to .500 going into its Week 18 finale at Pittsburgh. Saturday marks the Bengals' final home contest of the 2024 campaign, which head coach Zac Taylor hopes will provide his team with an advantage in a must-win situation.

"We've got ourselves to a point where these games really matter," Taylor said. "We're counting on our crowd. I know what our home record is this year, but they show up, they support, they're loud. They give us that extra boost. We know this is our last (home) game, so we're counting on that crowd to show up next Saturday, and be as loud as ever and make this a tough environment."

The Bengals treated their home crowd to a 24-6 win over Cleveland in Week 16. The victory completed Cincinnati's first season sweep of its in-state rival since 2017, and was highlighted by three takeaways from the defense as well as three TD passes by QB Joe Burrow.

Burrow enters this week leading the NFL in completions (387), passing yards (4229) and passing TDs (39). He has categorized his level of play this season as the best in his young career, and he recently became the first QB in league history to pass for at least 250 yards and three TDs in seven consecutive games.

"I work really hard for this," Burrow said. "I put a lot into going out and playing well on Sundays. When you get records and when you make big-time plays, I'm trying to get better at appreciating those and being excited about that. That hasn't really been who I am, but I think if I want to have the longevity that I want to, I need to appreciate and be excited about things like that, so that's exciting for me."

Burrow orchestrates a versatile Bengals offense which ranks in the top 10 leaguewide in passing (first, 267.3 yards per game), total yards (10th, 360.1) and scoring (sixth, 28.2 points per game). Cincinnati has put up at least 24 points in each of its last seven games, the longest streak in team history.

The offense this season has featured several playmakers alongside Burrow, with the most notable being three-time Pro Bowl WR Ja'Marr Chase. Chase heads into the final two weeks on pace for the receiving "Triple Crown," as he leads all players in receptions (108), receiving yards (1,510) and receiving TDs (16). In the backfield, HB Chase Brown has 1259 yards from scrimmage this season, including at least 100 in each of the last five games.

Defensively, the Bengals have totaled nine takeaways over the past two games, their most in a two-game span since 2006. Seven different players have contributed to that tally with either an INT or a fumble recovery.

Cincinnati this week takes on a Broncos team that has won four of its past five. Denver is seeking its first postseason berth since the 2015 season.

The series: Denver leads the all-time series 22-11. Cincinnati won the last meeting at Denver, a 15-10 victory at Empower Field at Mile High in 2021.

The Bengals now have won two of the past three, with both victories coming at Denver in 2017 and '21. The Broncos, on the other hand, have won the past two meetings played in Cincinnati, in 2016 and '18.

There are no postseason meetings between the two teams. A complete recap of the Bengals-Broncos series can be found on page 201 of the Bengals' 2024 media guide.

Team bests from the series:

Bengals — MOST POINTS: 38, in a 38-21 victory at Riverfront Stadium in 1981. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 17, in the 38-21 win in '81. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 7, in a 17-7 victory at Cincinnati in 1976.

Broncos — MOST POINTS: 45, in a 45-14 victory at Mile High Stadium in 1991. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 31, in the 45-14 win in '91. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 0, in a 10-0 victory at Mile High Stadium in 1979.

The last meetings: Summaries of the two most recent Bengals-Broncos meetings — in 2018 at Cincinnati, and in '21 at Denver — are on page 13 of this news release.

Broncos represent noteworthy firsts: The Broncos have been involved in several "firsts" for the Bengals, including the following three notable events:

- The first road game of any kind in Bengals history was a preseason contest on Aug. 10, 1968 at Denver. The Broncos beat Cincinnati 15-13 at Bears Stadium, Denver's minor league baseball park (later renamed Mile High Stadium). It was the second preseason game in Bengals history, following an opener at home against Kansas City.
- The first regular-season home game and first regular-season victory for the Bengals franchise was a 24-10 decision over Denver on Sept. 15, 1968 at Nippert Stadium on the campus of the University of Cincinnati.
- The Bengals' 2004 win over Denver marked the first visit of Monday Night Football to Paycor Stadium (then named Paul Brown Stadium).

The Jungle is jammin': The Bengals have welcomed an announced attendance figure of over 65,000 at Paycor Stadium in 23 consecutive regular-season home games dating back to Week 1 of the 2022 campaign. That is the second-longest such streak in team history, one shy of a record 24 straight home contests from 2005-07.

Each of the 13 highest-attended home games in team history, in terms of announced attendance figure, have occurred since the start of the 2022 calendar year. The Bengals beat Miami on Thursday Night Football in Week 4 of the 2022 season in front of a paid attendance of 67,260 at Paycor Stadium, marking the largest announced crowd for a sporting event in Cincinnati history. That figure surpassed the previous record of 66,277 set in the 2021 Wild Card Playoff win over Las Vegas (played in January '22).

Cincinnati's game against Philadelphia in Week 8 of this season had an announced attendance figure of 67,239, which now stands as the second-largest in team history. The Bengals' 2023 Week 9 victory over Buffalo on Sunday Night Football (66,965) ranks as the third-largest, and the following week's game vs. Houston (66,526) is the fourth-largest. The fifth-largest figure in team history is 66,399 for the Bengals' Wild Card Playoff win over Baltimore in January of 2023.

Here is a look at the largest home crowds in Bengals franchise history:

Uniform watch: The Bengals are slated to wear black jerseys, white pants (orange stripes) and orange socks this week against Denver. Cincinnati is 6-4 overall when wearing that combination, which was last featured in the team's road win over Dallas in Week 14 of this season.

Cincinnati unveiled new uniforms in 2021, marking the team's first significant uniform redesign since '04. There are three different color options for the current jerseys — black, white and orange. The pants now feature four different options — black with orange stripes, white with orange stripes, white with black stripes, and orange with black stripes. Options for sock color include black, white and orange.

In 2022, with the league's approval for the use of alternate helmets, Cincinnati introduced a new helmet branded as the "White Bengal," featuring a white base coat and the team's iconic black stripes. The Bengals have worn the helmet five times and collected a 4-1 record in those games. The helmet's most recent appearance was in Week 8 of this season against Philadelphia.

Here are the Bengals' records in every possible uniform combination (regular season and postseason only) since the team redesigned the uniform in 2021:

* — The league permitted teams to create alternate helmets for the 2022 season. However, teams were required to wear those alternate helmets only with alternate, throwback or color rush uniforms (CR) that season. The Bengals donned their new alternate white helmet in 2022 with their color rush jersey, which at the time had not been worn since '20, prior to the '21 primary uniform redesign. In 2023 and thereafter, the Bengals were permitted to wear their alternate white helmet with their primary white jersey.

^ — NFL rules allow teams to wear designated alternate and/or throwback and/or color rush uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. The Bengals' designated alternate uniform includes the team's orange jersey. The Bengals do not have a throwback uniform.

+ — The Bengals added orange pants with black stripes to their uniform lineup in 2024.

Bengals career records watch: As Cincinnati continues the 2024 campaign, here is a look at movement on the Bengals' individual career records lists (regular season) that has occurred this season, as well as potential upcoming movement:

• QB Joe Burrow has 2452 career passing attempts, the fifth-most in team history. QBs Ken Anderson (4475), Andy Dalton (4449), Boomer Esiason (3564) and Carson Palmer (3217) hold the top four spots on the team's all-time list.

Burrow in Week 10 at Baltimore surpassed QB Jeff Blake (2221) for fifth.

- Burrow has 18,312 passing yards, the fifth-most in team history. Anderson (32,838), Dalton (31,594), Esiason (27,149) and Palmer (22,694) hold the top four spots. Burrow in Week 5 vs. Baltimore surpassed Blake (15,134) for fifth.

- Burrow has 25 career games with 300 or more passing yards, the second-most in team history behind Dalton (28). Burrow in Week 13 vs. Pittsburgh surpassed Esiason (23).

- WR Ja'Marr Chase has 45 receiving TDs, the fifth-most in team history. WRs Chad Johnson (66), A.J. Green (65), Carl Pickens (63) and Isaac Curtis (53) hold the top four spots. Chase in Week 13 vs. Pittsburgh surpassed WR Eddie Brown (41) for fifth.

- Chase in Week 14 at Dallas recorded his 18th game with 100 or more receiving yards, which tied WR Cris Collinsworth for the fifth-most in team history. Green (33), Johnson (31), Curtis (20) and Pickens (19) hold the top four spots for most 100-yard receiving games.

- DE Trey Hendrickson has 53.0 sacks as a member of the Bengals, six shy of DE Ross Browner (59.0) for fifth all-time. DE Eddie Edwards (83.5), DE Carlos Dunlap (82.5), DT Geno Atkins (75.5) and LB Reggie Williams (62.5) hold the top four spots.

Records vs. Broncos: The following individual and team regular-season Bengals and Broncos entries are logged in Cincinnati's team record book:

- On Oct. 6, 1968 at Denver, Bill Van Heusen of the Broncos punted 12 times for 532 yards, marking the most punts by a Bengals opponent in team history. That record was later tied by Steelers P Josh Miller, who recorded 12 punts for 526 yards on Oct. 15, 2000 at Pittsburgh.

- On Oct. 19, 1969 at Nippert Stadium, the Broncos posted 10 sacks against the Bengals, which set the record for most in a game. It has been tied twice since, both by Pittsburgh, in 1992 and '96.

- HB Corey Dillon rushed for a Bengals-record 278 yards vs. Denver on Oct. 22, 2000, at Paul Brown Stadium. The total at the time was the NFL record, breaking a mark of 275 by Chicago's Walter Payton which had stood since 1977. Dillon's 278 total now stands fourth in NFL annals. The record is now 296, posted by Minnesota's Adrian Peterson in 2007 vs. San Diego. Dillon had no receiving yards in the Oct. 22, 2000 contest, but his 278 rushing total also stands as the Bengals record for most yards from scrimmage in a game.

- The Bengals had 407 total rushing yards in the 2000 win over Denver. That is the Cincinnati team record, and it stands as the most rushing yards in a game by an NFL team in the last 74 years. The last team to top 407 was the 1950 N.Y. Giants, who gained 423 against Baltimore. The 407 total ranks fifth all-time in the NFL for rushing yards by a team.

- Denver's Trindon Holliday had a 105-yard kickoff return vs. Cincinnati in 2012, tying for the longest play ever against the Bengals. Miami's Mercury Morris had a 105-yard KOR against the Bengals in 1969.

Individually vs. Broncos: Here are regular-season offensive statistics for current Cincinnati players in Bengals games against the Broncos (ordered by total games played):

- QB Joe Burrow: One game; 15-of-22 passing for 157 yards, one TD and zero INTs (103.8 rating); Five rushes for 25 yards (5.0-yard average).

- WR Ja'Marr Chase: One game; One reception for three yards.

- WR Tee Higgins: One game; Two receptions for 23 yards (11.5).

- TE Drew Sample: One game; One reception for two yards.

THE HEAD COACHES

Zac Taylor was named the 10th head coach in Bengals history on Feb. 4, 2019. The 2024 season is his sixth in the position.

In 2023, Taylor guided the Bengals to their third consecutive winning season at 9-8, despite a few key players missing time due to injuries. During a five-game stretch from Weeks 5-10 in which QB Joe Burrow was at full health, Taylor oversaw an offense that ranked fourth in the NFL in passing yards per game (275.6) and seventh in scoring (26.6 points). Over the final seven weeks of the season, Taylor worked with QB Jake Browning as he stepped into the starting role for the first time in his career. In that span, Browning ranked second in the league in passing yards (1868) and completion percentage (71.5), and Taylor led Cincinnati to a 4-3 mark to close out the schedule.

Under Taylor in 2022, the Bengals rallied from a 4-4 start to tie a team record for regular-season wins (12) and consecutive wins (eight), earning their second consecutive AFC North Division title. With a pair of playoff victories that brought Cincinnati to its second straight AFC Championship, Taylor became the 13th head coach in NFL history to win five of his first six career postseason games. The Bengals' offense ranked in the top 10 leaguewide during the regular season in scoring (seventh, 26.1 points per game), total yards (eighth, 360.5), and passing yards (fifth, 265.0), while the defense held opposing QBs to an NFL-low 58.9 completion percentage.

In 2021, Taylor led Cincinnati to its first AFC North championship since '15, before winning three postseason games to claim an AFC title and a berth in Super Bowl LVI. Burrow, playing his first full NFL season, led the NFL in completion percentage (70.4) and set team records for passing yardage (4611) and passer rating (108.3). Taylor also helped WR Ja'Marr Chase win AP Offensive Rookie of the Year honors, as the team's first-round pick notched a Bengals-record 1455 receiving yards. In the postseason, Taylor led the Bengals to their first playoff win in 31 years in a Wild Card victory over Las Vegas, before then defeating Tennessee and Kansas City on the road to make the franchise's first Super Bowl appearance since the 1988 season.

In 2020, Taylor helped transition Burrow to the pros, despite the absence of an in-person offseason program due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Prior to his season-ending knee injury, Burrow had the most completions ever by an NFL QB through their first 10 career games (264).

In 2019, his first season as head coach, Taylor led Cincinnati to second-half turnarounds on both sides of the ball. Offensively, the Bengals' per-game rushing average jumped 70.6 yards from the first half of the season (59.5) to the second (130.1), while the defense allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game.

Taylor came to Cincinnati after two seasons with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant WRs coach in 2017 and quarterbacks coach in '18. In 2018, he helped QB Jared Goff rank fourth in the NFL in passing yards, while the Rams finished second leaguewide in passing yards per game (281.7). Los Angeles had a 13-3 regular-season record and advanced to

Super Bowl LIII.

Prior to the Rams, Taylor had a one-year stint as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Cincinnati in 2016. He served under head coach Tommy Tuberville at UC.

Taylor broke into NFL coaching in 2012 with the Miami Dolphins as assistant quarterbacks coach. He was elevated to quarterbacks coach from 2013-15, and spent the final five games of '15 as the Dolphins' interim offensive coordinator and primary play-caller.

Taylor's coaching career began at Texas A&M University, where he served as offensive graduate assistant and TEs coach under head coach Mike Sherman from 2008-11.

As a player, Taylor began his college career at Wake Forest (2002-03) before transferring to Butler County Community College in Kansas ('04) and then playing his final two seasons ('05-06) at the University of Nebraska. He set numerous school records with the Cornhuskers, finishing his two-year stint with 5850 passing yards and 45 TDs. As a senior in 2006, he was named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year after passing for 3197 yards and leading Nebraska to a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017.

Taylor joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but was waived prior to the start of training camp and never saw NFL action. Later that year, he joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League, where he spent one season (did not play).

Taylor's father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at the University of Oklahoma, playing under Sooners head coach Barry Switzer from 1976-79. Sherwood Taylor later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State. Taylor's younger brother, Press, played quarterback at Marshall University and currently is the offensive coordinator for the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Taylor was born in Norman, Okla., on May 10, 1983. After attending Norman High School, he earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from the University of Nebraska in 2006. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children — Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah Taylor is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman.

Sean Payton is in his second season with the Denver Broncos after being named the 20th head coach in franchise history on Feb. 3, 2023. In Payton's first season in 2023, the Broncos finished with their best record since '16 at 8-9.

A 35-year coaching veteran with 25 seasons of NFL experience, Payton joined the Broncos after spending 15 years as New Orleans' head coach (2006-11, '13-21). With the Saints, he accumulated a regular-season record of 152-89-0 and a 9-8 record in the playoffs. He also led the franchise to its first Super Bowl championship (Super Bowl XLIV) during the 2009 season along with making two NFC Championship Game appearances, winning seven NFC South

Division titles and making nine playoff trips. He helped lead an offense that ranked in the top 10 in each season from 2006-19. In his first season with the Saints in 2006, he received unanimous NFL Coach of the Year honors after leading the team to a 10-6 record.

Prior to joining New Orleans, Payton spent three years on the Dallas Cowboys staff as assistant to the head coach and quarterbacks coach (2003-05). Payton got his first NFL offensive coordinator position with the New York Giants (2000-02) after spending one season as the team's quarterbacks coach (1999). He first entered the NFL with the Philadelphia Eagles as their quarterbacks coach (1997-98).

Payton attended Eastern Illinois (1983-86). He coached collegiately at Illinois (1996), Miami (Ohio) ('94-95), San Diego State ('88-89 and '92-93) and Indiana State ('90-91). He had brief stops as a player with the Chicago Bruins and Ottawa Rough Riders of the CFL, as well as the Chicago Bears in 1987.

Payton was born in San Mateo, Calif. on Dec. 29, 1963. He and his wife Skylene have one daughter, Meghan, and one son, Connor.

Taylor vs. Broncos: Taylor leads, 1-0.

Taylor vs. Payton: No previous meetings.

Payton vs. Bengals: The series is tied, 2-2.

BENGALS NOTES

2024 Bengals captains: The Bengals this season are led by eight captains who were decided through a players-only vote. The captains are composed of three offensive players, three defensive players and two special teams representatives.

On offense, the captains are fifth-year QB Joe Burrow, ninth-year C Ted Karras and seventh-year OT Orlando Brown Jr. Burrow has been elected a team captain in each of his five pro seasons since entering the league in 2020. Karras, who joined Cincinnati as a free agent in 2022, serves as a captain for the third straight season with the Bengals and a fourth time overall, after doing so with the Miami Dolphins in '20. Brown, a four-time Pro Bowler who previously played for the Baltimore Ravens (2018-20) and Kansas City Chiefs ('21-22), carries the honor for the first time in his career.

The defensive captains are ninth-year S Vonn Bell, seventh-year DE Sam Hubbard and sixth-year LB Germaine Pratt. Bell was voted a Bengals captain in each of his previous three seasons with the team (2020-22), before he spent the '23 campaign with Carolina. Hubbard, a Cincinnati native and third-round pick of the Bengals in 2018, is wearing the patch for a fourth straight year. Pratt is serving as a captain for the first time in his career.

Cincinnati's two special teams captains — fifth-year LB Akeem Davis-Gaither and fifth-year K Evan McPherson — each were elected captains for the first time in their careers.

Nine takeaways in two games: Cincinnati's defense has turned its opponent over nine times over the past two games, recording six INTs and three fumble recoveries in that stretch. The last time the Bengals had that many takeaways in a span of two games was Weeks 11-12 of the 2006 season, when they also had nine (seven INTs, two FRs).

The Bengals' current takeaway surge began in Week 15 at Tennessee, when they forced six turnovers — the most by a Cincinnati team since Nov. 11, 2007 at Baltimore (also six). The effort was spearheaded by four INTs, marking the first time the Bengals logged four picks in a game since Oct. 28, 2018 against Tampa Bay.

Cincinnati followed up the performance in Nashville with two more INTs and a FR in the Week 16 home win over Cleveland. The first of those takeaways was a forced fumble and recovery by S Vonn Bell at the Bengals' one-yard line, which kept the Browns out of the end zone on the game's opening drive.

The last NFL team to total nine takeaways in a two-game stretch was Denver, which tallied nine in Weeks 8 and 10 of the 2023 season (the Broncos had a bye in Week 9).

Top-ranked passing offense: The Bengals this season are averaging an NFL-best 267.3 net passing yards per game. They have recorded 300 or more passing yards five times, including in three of the last six contests.

Cincinnati has finished a regular season with the league's best passing offense on one previous occasion, when it averaged 231.5 yards through the air in 1975. Bengals Ring of Honor QB Ken Anderson led the NFL that year in passing yards (3169) and passer rating (93.9).

The team record for passing yards per game is 265.0, set during the 2022 campaign. Cincinnati ranked fifth leaguewide in passing average that season, with QB Joe Burrow setting team records for attempts (606), completions (414) and TD passes (35; surpassed by Burrow in 2024).

99-yard march: The Bengals took over possession at their own one-yard line following an early turnover in Week 16 vs. Cleveland. Cincinnati proceeded to drive the ball 99 yards in eight plays, culminating in a two-yard TD pass from QB Joe Burrow to WR Tee Higgins that gave the Bengals a 7-0 lead. The offense featured a balanced attack during the drive, as Burrow completed each of his four passing attempts for 41 yards and the team rushed four times for 53 yards.

Cincinnati's offense now has pulled off a 99-yard TD drive in consecutive seasons. In the 2023 season finale, which also was against the Browns at Paycor Stadium, QB Jake Browning engineered a 99-yard march in the third quarter that ended with a seven-yard scoring pass to WR Andrei Iosivas.

However, prior to Week 18 of last season, the last 99-yard TD drive for the Bengals came on Sept. 18, 1994 against New England at Riverfront Stadium.

Burrow's seven-game surge: QB Joe Burrow has passed for at least 250 yards and three TDs in each of the Bengals' last seven games dating back to Week 9 vs. Las Vegas. He is the first QB in NFL history to reach those numbers in seven consecutive games, surpassing former New England QB Tom Brady, who had a six-game streak during his 2007 MVP season.

Burrow began his current streak by tying his career high with five TD passes and throwing for 251 yards in the Week 9 win over Las Vegas. He then recorded a season-high 428 passing yards with four TDs in Week 10 at Baltimore, and in Week 11 at the L.A. Chargers amassed 356 yards and three more scoring tosses.

In the Ravens and Chargers contests, Burrow also became the first QB in league history to record at least 50 passing attempts, 350 passing yards and three TD passes with zero INTs in consecutive games.

Burrow, who was named AFC Offensive Player of the Month for November, opened December with 309 passing yards and three TDs in Week 13 vs. Pittsburgh. He had 369 yards and three more TDs in the Week 14 Monday Night Football victory at Dallas, then posted a 271-yard, three-TD day in Week 15 at Tennessee. His third TD pass against the Titans was his 36th of the season, which surpassed his previous team single-season record of 35 in 2022.

Burrow is coming off 252 yards and three TDs with no INTs in Week 16 vs. Cleveland. His 134.3 passer rating was his second-highest of the season, trailing only a 137.0 figure in Week 5 against Baltimore.

Burrow's 24 total TD passes since Week 9 are the most in a span of seven games in Bengals history. It also is the most by any NFL QB in a seven-game stretch since Brady also had 24 from Week 12 of the 2020 season through Week 2 of the '21 campaign, while playing for Tampa Bay.

Burrow is the fifth QB all-time to pass for at least three TDs in seven consecutive games. The only players to previously do it are Brady (10 straight games in 2007), former Indianapolis QB Peyton Manning (eight in '04), former Colts QB Andrew Luck (eight in '18) and former Miami QB Dan Marino (seven from 1986-87).

With his recent surge, Burrow now has 25 career games with three or more TD passes. That is the third-most such games in NFL history within a player's first five career seasons, trailing only Marino (33) and Kansas City QB Patrick Mahomes (28).

Single-season TD record: QB Joe Burrow's third TD pass of the afternoon in Week 15 at Tennessee was his 36th scoring pass of the 2024 campaign. That set a Bengals single-season record, surpassing his own previous mark of 35 in 2022. Burrow now is at a league-leading 39 TD passes this season.

Burrow also holds the third spot on Cincinnati's single-season TD list, as he passed for 34 during his 2021 sophomore campaign. He is one of five players in NFL history to record 30 or more TD passes in three of his first five seasons, alongside former Miami QB Dan Marino, Buffalo QB Josh Allen and Kansas City QB Patrick Mahomes.

Burrow's 39 TD passes this season include a career-high five passing scores in two games — Week 5 vs. Baltimore and Week 9 vs. Las Vegas. He was the first NFL QB to pass for five or more TDs multiple times in a season since Mahomes and former Tampa Bay QB Tom Brady each had two such games in 2021. Baltimore QB Lamar Jackson matched Burrow in Week 15 with his second five-TD game of this season.

Burrow's career TD marks: QB Joe Burrow finished Week 16 with 136 career TD passes (regular season), the fifth-most in NFL history by a player in his first five seasons. Only former Miami QB Dan Marino (168), Kansas City QB Patrick Mahomes (151), former Indianapolis QB Peyton Manning (138) and Buffalo QB Josh Allen (138) had more TD passes in their first five years.

Burrow threw his 125th career TD pass in Week 13 vs. Pittsburgh, when he completed a jump pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase in the end zone. Playing in his 64th game, he became the third-fastest QB in NFL history to reach 125 TD passes, trailing only Mahomes (50 games) and Marino (54).

Burrow also logged his 100th TD pass earlier this season, reaching that milestone on the opening drive of Week 3 vs. Washington. He tied for the seventh-fastest QB in league history to pass for 100 TDs (55 games).

Burrow on the mark: QB Joe Burrow threw his 1500th career passing attempt in the 2022 regular-season finale, which qualified him for the NFL's career completion percentage record. With a current completion percentage of 68.19, he is the all-time leader in the category, narrowly ahead of fellow 2020 draftee and current Miami QB Tua Tagovailoa (68.09).

Burrow leads the NFL this season in passing attempts (527) and completions (361). He surpassed 2000 career attempts in Week 4 at Carolina, and his 1363 completions at the time he reached that mark were the second-most in NFL history through a QB's first 2000 throws behind former San Diego Chargers QB Brees (1444).

In Week 16 vs. Cleveland, Burrow went 23 of 30 (76.7 percent), marking his 24th career game in which he completed at least 70 percent of his passes on 30 or more attempts. That is the most such games within a player's first five seasons in NFL history, with the next closest being Kansas City QB Patrick Mahomes (21) and Tagovailoa (21).

In Week 9 against Las Vegas, Burrow recorded his 1500th career completion in what was his 61st regular-season game. That marked the second-fewest games in NFL history to reach 1500 completions, trailing only L.A. Chargers QB Justin Herbert (57).

After leading the NFL in completion percentage in 2021 (70.4; min. 14 att./game), Burrow followed up by completing 68.3 percent of his passes in the '22 regular season, the second-highest rate in the league. He did so while setting single-season team records for total attempts (606) and completions (414).

Here is a look at the NFL's all-time leaders in career completion percentage (minimum 1500 passing attempts):

PLAYER	TEAM(S)	YEARS	COMP. %
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati	2020-24	68.19
Tua Tagovailoa	Miami	2020-24	68.09
Drew Brees	San Diego/New Orleans	2001-20	67.69
Jimmy Garoppolo	New England/San Francisco/Las Vegas	2014-23	67.39
Kyler Murray	Arizona	2019-24	66.96

Joe masters the deep ball: QB Joe Burrow's 40-yard TD pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase in Week 14 at Dallas marked his 28th career scoring pass of 40 or more yards — the most in the NFL since he entered the league in 2020. It also tied Pro Football Hall of Famer Peyton Manning for the most such TD passes in a player's first five seasons among all QBs whose career began after 1990.

Burrow additionally leads the NFL in TD passes of 50 or more yards (18) and 60 or more yards (14) since 2020. Of his league-high nine TD passes of 40-plus yards this season, seven have gone to WR Ja'Marr Chase. The duo connected on two long scoring passes in Week 10 at Baltimore — a 67-yarder early in the third quarter and a 70-yarder midway through the fourth. The 70-yard bomb tied for the third-longest TD pass of Burrow's career, behind an 82-yarder to Chase in Week 7 of the 2021 season and a 72-yarder to Chase in Week 17 of that year.

Burrow had an NFL-best 10 TD passes from at least 40 yards out during the 2021 regular season, then followed up with seven in '22 and two in '23.

Here is a look at the QBs with the most TD passes of 40 or more yards since the start of the 2020 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	40/+-YARD TD PASSES SINCE '20
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	28
Derek Carr	Las Vegas/New Orleans	21
Tua Tagovailoa	Miami Dolphins	18
Russell Wilson	Seattle Seahawks/Denver Broncos	18

No. 9 hits 15K: QB Joe Burrow eclipsed 15,000 career passing yards in Week 4 at Carolina. Playing his 56th regular-season game, he tied for the fourth-fastest player in NFL history to reach that milestone.

Burrow's current career total of 18,312 passing yards rank as the eighth-most in the NFL since he entered the league in 2020, and he has played in at least four fewer games than every QB above him in that category. In Week 5 vs. Baltimore, he surpassed former Bengals QB Jeff Blake (15,134) for the fifth-most passing yards in team history.

Burrow holds the two highest single-season passing yardage marks in Bengals history, with a team record 4611 in 2021 (sixth in NFL) followed by 4475 in '22 (fifth in NFL). He also is the fastest QB in Bengals history to reach 5000 passing yards (19 games) and 10,000 passing yards (36).

Burrow leads the NFL with 4229 passing yards through 15 games this season. He is the first QB in Bengals history to pass for 4000 or more yards in three different seasons during his Cincinnati career. Former QBs Carson Palmer (2006-07) and Andy Dalton ('13, '16) each did it twice with the Bengals.

Here is a look at the fastest QBs in NFL history — in terms of games played — to reach 15,000 passing yards:

PLAYER	TEAM	GAMES TO REACH 15,000 YARDS
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	49
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	52
Matthew Stafford	Detroit Lions	53
Dan Marino	Miami Dolphins	56
Kurt Warner	St. Louis Rams	56
Marc Bulger	St. Louis Rams	56
Andrew Luck	Indianapolis Colts	56
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	56

More Burrow since '21: Since the start of the 2021 regular season, Joe Burrow is one of two NFL QBs with at least 1000 completions, 100 TD passes, 10,000 passing yards and a passer rating of 100, alongside former L.A. Rams/current Detroit QB Jared Goff.

Burrow since 2021 leads the league in passer rating (103.0; minimum 1500 attempts) and completion percentage (68.8), while ranking third in TD passes (123), fifth in passing yards (15,624), fifth in completions (1408) and sixth in yards per attempt (7.63).

Ja'Marr catches career high: WR Ja'Marr Chase's career-high 108 receptions this season are four shy of the Bengals single-season record (112), set by former WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh in 2007. In Week 15 at Tennessee, Chase surpassed his previous career high of 100 receptions, which he logged in the 2023 campaign.

Should no one overtake Chase in the next two weeks, he would become the first Bengal in history to finish a season as the NFL's outright receptions leader. Houshmandzadeh is the only Cincinnati player to come close, tying New England WR Wes Welker for the league lead with 112 catches in the 2007 season.

Chase earned his fourth career AFC Offensive Player of the Week honor in Week 14, when he totaled a season-high 14 catches for 177 yards and two TDs in a win at Dallas. His 14 grabs were his second-most in a game, one shy of his Bengals single-game record 15 in Week 5 of last season at Arizona.

Chase enters Week 17 with 376 career receptions, the sixth-most in NFL history in a player's first four seasons. The next player he can catch is his former Louisiana State teammate and current Minnesota WR Justin Jefferson, whose 392 grabs in his first four years rank fifth all-time.

In Week 6 of this season at the N.Y. Giants, Chase recorded his 300th career reception in what was his 51st regular-season game. He is the fastest player in team history to reach that mark, four games ahead of former Pro Bowl WR A.J. Green (55), and is tied for the eighth-fastest in NFL history.

Chasing history: WR Ja'Marr Chase leads the NFL this season in receptions (108), receiving yards (1510) and receiving TDs (16). Should he hold the lead in each of those categories through the final three weeks of the regular season, he would become just the fifth player since the 1970 NFL/AFL merger to claim the receiving "Triple Crown." The last player to earn the elusive honor was L.A. Rams WR Cooper Kupp, who paced the league with 145 receptions, 1947 yards and 16 TDs in 2021.

Chase is the fifth player in NFL history to record at least 100 receptions, 1500 receiving yards and 15 receiving TDs in a season. The only players who previously accomplished that feat are Kupp (2021), former Minnesota WR Randy Moss ('03), former Indianapolis WR Marvin Harrison ('01), and former San Francisco WR Jerry Rice (1995). Chase also is the first player ever with at least 80 catches, 1000 receiving yards and seven TDs in each of his first four career seasons.

Chase became the first Bengals player ever to reach 1500 receiving yards in a season, which he eclipsed on a 32-yard TD late in the fourth quarter of Week 16 vs. Cleveland. He joined Rice (1995) and Moss (2003) as the only players in NFL history with at least 100 catches, 1500 receiving yards and 15 receiving TDs in their first 15 games of a season.

The Bengals' first-round draft pick (No. 5 overall) in 2021, Chase holds a career average of 87.12 receiving yards per game (60 regular-season games). That is the second-highest mark in NFL history, trailing only his former Louisiana State teammate and current Minnesota WR Justin Jefferson (97.15).

Chase also has nine career games with at least 10 receptions, 100 receiving yards and one receiving TD. That is tied with former WR Chad Johnson for the most such stat lines in a career in Bengals history, and is one shy of former New Orleans WR Michael Thomas (10) for the most in NFL history within a player's first four seasons.

Here is a look at the players with the most receiving yards per game in NFL history:

PLAYER	TEAM	REC. YDS PER GAME
Justin Jefferson	Minnesota Vikings.....	97.15
Ja'Marr Chase	Cincinnati Bengals.....	87.12
Calvin Johnson	Detroit Lions.....	86.07
Antonio Brown	Pittsburgh/New England/Tampa Bay.....	84.18
Julio Jones	Atlanta/Tennessee/Tampa Bay/Philadelphia.....	82.55

Uno finds the end zone: WR Ja'Marr Chase's career-high 16 receiving TDs this season are one shy of the Bengals single-season record (17), set by former WR Carl Pickens in 1995. He enters Week 17 four receiving TDs ahead of Washington WR Terry McLaurin (12), and has an opportunity to become the first player in Bengals history to lead the NFL in that category.

Chase began his career with 13 receiving TDs in 2021, which tied for the second-most by a rookie in NFL history, then followed up with nine in '22 and seven in '23. His 45 career receiving TDs are tied with former Dallas receiver Bob Hayes for the third-most in league history in a player's first four seasons. Only Pro Football Hall of Famers Randy Moss (53) and Jerry Rice (49) caught more TDs in their first four years.

Chase also has 11 career games with multiple TD receptions, which are tied with Moss and former Green Bay WR Antonio Freeman for the third-most by a player in his first four seasons in the Super Bowl era. The only players with more such games in their first four years are Moss (13) and former New England TE Rob Gronkowski (12).

Of Chase's 16 TDs this season, eight came during a four-game stretch from Weeks 10-14. It marked the most receiving TDs in a span of four games in Bengals history, and the most by any NFL player since former Kansas City WR Tyreek Hill also had eight from Weeks 8-12 of the 2020 campaign.

Chase caught his 40th career receiving TD in Week 11 at the Chargers. Playing in his 56th regular-season game, he became the fastest player in Bengals history and eighth-fastest in NFL history to reach that milestone.

Chase reaches 5K: WR Ja'Marr Chase surpassed 5000 career receiving yards on his 40-yard TD late in the fourth quarter of Week 14 at Dallas. Playing in his 58th regular-season game, he tied former New Orleans WR Michael Thomas as the fifth-fastest player in NFL history to reach that milestone.

The only players who have eclipsed 5000 receiving yards in fewer games are former San Diego Chargers WR Lance Alworth (52 games), Minnesota WR Justin Jefferson (52), former N.Y. Giants WR Odell Beckham Jr. (54), and former Atlanta WR Julio Jones (56). Chase opened his career with a then-team record 1455 receiving yards in his 2021 rookie campaign (surpassed by Chase in '24), then followed up with 1046 in 12 games played in '22. His 1216 receiving yards in 2023 included five games with 100 or more, which tied for the second-most such games in a season in team history.

In Week 11 of this season at the L.A. Chargers, Chase became the sixth player in league history to record 1000 receiving yards in each of his first four seasons. He joined former Minnesota WR Randy Moss, former Cincinnati WR A.J. Green, Tampa Bay WR Mike Evans, Michael Thomas and Justin Jefferson.

On the Chase: WR Ja'Marr Chase has 12 career receiving TDs of 60 or more yards, five more than any other player since he entered the league in 2021 (regular season). It also is the most in a career in Bengals history, ahead of former WR Isaac Curtis (10), and the most in NFL history by a player under the age of 25.

Chase additionally has the NFL's most TD catches of 50-plus yards (13) and 40-plus yards (18) since 2021. His most recent 40-yarder was a catch-and-run to the end zone late in the fourth quarter of Week 14 at Dallas, which proved to be the game winner in a 27-20 result.

In Week 10 at Baltimore, Chase scored TDs of 67 and 70 yards, becoming the first NFL player this season with two scores of 65-plus yards in a game.

Earlier this season, Chase had a 41-yard TD grab in Week 3 vs. Washington, a 63-yard score in Week 4 at Carolina, and a 41- and 70-yarder in Week 5 vs. Baltimore. He became the first NFL player to log four TD receptions of 40-plus yards in a span of three games since former Dallas WR Terrell Owens in 2007.

Here is a look at the players with the most TD catches of 60 or more yards since the start of the 2021 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	TD CATCHES OF 60/+ YARDS SINCE '21
Ja'Marr Chase	Cincinnati Bengals.....	12
Tyreek Hill	Kansas City Chiefs/Miami Dolphins.....	7
Cooper Kupp	L.A. Rams.....	4

Tee time: WR Tee Higgins has been inactive for five games this season due to injuries (Weeks 1-2, Weeks 8-10), but in his 10 games played he has proven to be one of the NFL's most productive pass catchers.

From Weeks 3-7, Higgins tied for seventh in the NFL in catches (29), tied for eighth in receiving TDs (three) and ranked 10th in receiving yards (341). He passed 4000 career receiving yards in the Week 7 win over Cleveland in just his 63rd game, becoming the fifth-fastest player in team history to reach that mark.

Higgins returned to action in Week 11 at the L.A. Chargers following a three-game hiatus and caught nine passes for a season-high 148 yards and a TD. His scoring catch was a 42-yarder on a fourth-down play late in the third quarter, marking his longest reception since Week 16 of last season. The Chargers game also was his 13th career 100-yard receiving performance.

Higgins followed up his showing in L.A. with five grabs for 69 yards and a TD in Week 13 against Pittsburgh. He finished the Steelers contest with 300 career receptions, tying former WR Tyler Boyd for the fourth-fastest player in team history to reach that total (65 games).

A native of Oak Ridge, Tenn., Higgins returned to his home state in Week 15 against the Titans and brought in five catches for 88 yards, including a 38-yard TD to give Cincinnati its first lead in the second quarter. He followed up with another TD on the opening drive in Week 16 vs. Cleveland. Higgins' five TD catches over the Bengals' last six games are his most in any six-game span of his career.

Since entering the NFL as a second-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2020, Higgins ranks in the top 20 leaguewide in receiving yards (19th; 4411) and receiving TDs (18th; 31). He posted back-to-back 1000-yard receiving campaigns in 2021 and '22, then followed up with 656 on 42 catches in 12 games played in '23.

Higgins was named the Bengals' designated franchise player in February, and on June 17 he signed the one-year tender for the 2024 season.

Here is a look at the fastest players in Bengals history — in terms of games played — to reach 4000 receiving yards:

A.J. Green	2011-14.....	55

Holiday Higgins: WR Tee Higgins has saved some of his best performances for when it matters most, as five of his 13 career 100-yard receiving games have occurred in the month of December. Since his 2020 rookie season, he is tied for second in the NFL in receiving TDs (13), ranks eighth in receiving yards (1466), and 12th in total receptions (98) during the calendar's final month.

Higgins' single-game career high both for receptions (12) and receiving yards (194) came on Dec. 26, 2021, in a home win over Baltimore. He had two TDs that day, the first of which was set up by a 52-yard Higgins catch earlier in the drive. Previously in that same month, he caught nine passes for 138 yards and a TD on Dec. 5, 2021 against the L.A. Chargers.

Higgins' top statistical performance of the 2023 season occurred in Week 16 at Pittsburgh on Dec. 23, when he hauled in five catches for 140 yards and a TD. His 28.0 yards per reception were the second-most in any game of his career, and included a career-long 80-yard TD in the third quarter.

Higgins' notable production late in the year also has carried beyond December, as he ranks second in Bengals postseason history in receptions (31) and receiving yards (457). He has two 100-yard receiving performances in the postseason, with 103 in the AFC Championship at Kansas City following the 2021 season and 100 two weeks later in Super Bowl LVI.

Brown does it all: Second-year HB Chase Brown has recorded 100 or more yards from scrimmage in each of the Bengals' last five games, dating back to Week 11 at the L.A. Chargers. He is the first Cincinnati running back to go that many games with at least 100 scrimmage yards since HB BenJarvis Green-Ellis also had a five-game streak from Weeks 11-15 of the 2012 campaign.

Brown's 1259 scrimmage yards this season consist of a team-leading 923 rushing yards on 209 carries and 336 receiving yards on 50 catches. While his 1259 total itself ranks 12th among all NFL running backs this season, he did not make his first start of the year until Week 6, and became the full-time starter in Week 9. Since that Week 9 role increase, Brown has 839 scrimmage yards, the third-most among all running backs behind only Philadelphia RB Saquon Barkley (1242) and Detroit RB Jahmyr Gibbs (851). He also is one of three players in that span with at least 500 rushing yards and 250 receiving yards, alongside Gibbs and Arizona RB James Conner.

Brown has 11 total TDs this season (seven rushing, four receiving), with all coming since Week 4 at Carolina. He scored a rushing and receiving TD in the same game for the first time in his career in Week 15 at Tennessee, as he caught a six-yard scoring pass from QB Joe Burrow in the first quarter then later found the end zone on a five-yard run late in the fourth.

Trey's torrid pace: DE Trey Hendrickson's 13.5 sacks this season lead the NFL through 16 weeks of regular-season play. With this year's tally following up his career-high 17.5 sacks in 2023, he is the first Bengals player to record double-digit sacks in consecutive seasons since former DE/DT Eddie Edwards in 1980-81.

Since signing with the Bengals as an unrestricted free agent during the 2021 offseason, Hendrickson has 53.0 sacks, the third-most in the NFL in that span behind Pittsburgh OLB T.J. Watt (58.5) and Cleveland DE Myles Garrett (58.0). It also is six shy of former DE Ross Browner (59.0) for the fifth-most sacks in a player's Bengals career.

Hendrickson has led Cincinnati in sacks and been selected to the Pro Bowl in each of his three full seasons with the team (2021-23). He logged 14.0 sacks in his debut Bengals season in 2021, which ranked fifth in the NFL, then followed up with eight more in '22. His career-high 17.5 sacks last year tied for second in the NFL and ranked second in Bengals single-season history, trailing only DE Coy Bacon's 22.0 in 1976 (sacks became an official NFL statistic in 1982, however the Bengals tracked the stat back to '76 and recognize Bacon as the record-holder).

Hendrickson recorded two sacks in back-to-back games earlier this season (Weeks 6-7), becoming the first Cincinnati player to do so since former DE Antwan Odom in Weeks 1-2 of the 2009 campaign. His most recent sack came in Week 16 vs. Cleveland, when he took down QB Dorian Thompson-Robinson for a loss of eight yards in the second quarter.

A Florida Atlantic University product, Hendrickson spent his first four pro seasons (2017-20) with New Orleans, but started just three games over his first three years and totaled 6.5 sacks. He then broke out with 13.5 sacks in 2020, which tied for second in the NFL.

Hendrickson's production for the Bengals was rewarded in July of 2023, when he signed a one-year contract extension that keeps him in Cincinnati through the 2025 season.

Here is a look at the NFL sack leaders since the start of the 2021 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	SACKS SINCE 2021
T.J. Watt	Pittsburgh.....	58.5
Myles Garrett	Cleveland.....	58.0
Trey Hendrickson	Cincinnati.....	53.0
Nick Bosa	San Francisco.....	51.5
Micah Parsons	Dallas.....	50.0

Hendrickson wrecks the Raiders: DE Trey Hendrickson earned his second career AFC Defensive Player of the Week honor in Week 9, when he recorded a career-high four sacks in the win over Las Vegas. It marked the second-most sacks in any NFL game this season behind Detroit DL Aidan Hutchinson's 4.5 in Week 2 against Tampa Bay.

Hendrickson became the fourth player in Bengals history to record four or more sacks in a game, and the first since former DE Antwan Odom had five on Sept. 20, 2009 at Green Bay. Odom's total is tied for the team single-game record with former DE/DT Eddie Edwards, who notched five sacks on Dec. 21, 1980 against Cleveland.

Three of Hendrickson's four sacks against the Raiders came during the fourth quarter, including a strip-sack that led to a recovery by Bengals LB Logan Wilson. The play marked Hendrickson's 10th forced fumble since joining the Bengals during the 2021 offseason, which are tied for the second-most in the NFL in that span.

Hendrickson's previous single-game high for sacks was 2.5, which he recorded twice — in Week 3 of the 2022 season at the N.Y. Jets, and in Week 5 of '23 at Arizona.

Here is a look at the list of Bengals players with the most sacks in individual game in team history:

PLAYER	DATE	OPPONENT	SACKS
Eddie Edwards	Dec. 21, 1980	vs. Cleveland.....	5.0
Antwan Odom	Sept. 20, 2009	at Green Bay.....	5.0
Alfred Williams	Oct. 16, 1994	at Pittsburgh.....	4.0
Trey Hendrickson	Nov. 3, 2024	vs. Las Vegas.....	4.0

Pratt stuffs the stat sheet: LB Germaine Pratt's career-high 130 tackles this season lead the Bengals and rank tied for eighth in the NFL. He surpassed his previous career high of 118 (2023) during the Week 15 win at Tennessee.

Pratt also has contributed to three takeaways this season, beginning with a forced fumble and recovery in Week 2 at Kansas City that led to a Bengals FG drive. He scooped up another loose ball in overtime of Week 5 vs. Baltimore to set up Cincinnati's offense inside Ravens territory, then in Week 6 at the N.Y. Giants grabbed his first INT of the year to end a drive that reached the Bengals' 14-yard line.

Pratt has recorded double-digit tackles in 14 games in his career, including three this season. He notched a career-high 16 stops in the Week 2 contest against the Chiefs, then had 13 in both Week 7 at Cleveland and Week 13 vs. Pittsburgh.

Since the start of the 2021 season, Pratt is one of three players leaguewide with at least five INTs, five FFs and five FRs, alongside Dallas CB Jourdan Lewis and Tampa Bay S Antoine Winfield Jr.

Three straight for Stone: Bengals S Geno Stone has recorded an INT in each of the past three games. He is the first Cincinnati player with a pick in three or more consecutive games since S Reggie Nelson had one in five straight contests from Weeks 10-14 of the 2015 season.

Stone's current streak began in Week 14 at Dallas, when he picked off a deflected pass at the Bengals' four-yard line on the opening play of the second quarter. He followed up with his first career pick-six in Week 15 at Tennessee, stepping in front of a pass thrown by QB Will Levis and returning it 39 yards to the end zone. In the fourth quarter of Week 16 vs. Cleveland, Stone tracked down a tipped pass and secured it with one hand to preserve a two-score Bengals lead.

Stone, who signed with Cincinnati as a free agent this past offseason, notched his first INT as a member of the Bengals in Week 7 at Cleveland. Combining his Bengals totals with his AFC-leading seven picks as a member of the Baltimore Ravens last season, Stone's 11 INTs since the start of the 2023 campaign are tied with Detroit S Kerby Joseph for the league lead.

Stone's record for consecutive games with an INT is four, which he recorded from Weeks 6-9 of last season with the Ravens.

Stone has totaled five takeaways for Cincinnati this season, as in addition to his four INTs, he recovered a fumble deep in Bengals territory in Week 11 at the L.A. Chargers to set up a game-tying TD drive.

Here is a look at the players with the most INTs since the start of the 2023 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	INTs SINCE 2023
Kerby Joseph	Detroit Lions	11
Geno Stone	Baltimore Ravens/Cincinnati Bengals	11
Jessie Bates III	Atlanta Falcons	10
Xavier McKinney	N.Y. Giants/Green Bay Packers	10
Derek Stingley Jr.	Houston Texans	10

York ties team record: K Cade York drilled a 59-yard FG as the first half clock expired in Week 16 vs. Cleveland, extending Cincinnati's lead to 17-0 at the break. It tied for the longest made FG in Bengals history, matching Evan McPherson's 59-yarder in the 2022 season opener against Pittsburgh.

York's kick was a career long and tied for the fourth-longest made FG in the NFL this season. His previous long was a 58-yarder, which he converted in his NFL debut on Sept. 11, 2022 while playing for the Browns.

York spent his entire rookie season as Cleveland's kicker, going 24 of 32 on FG attempts and 35 of 37 on PATs. He then spent the 2023 campaign on the Browns' practice squad, and was acquired by Washington via trade during this past training camp. After being waived by the Commanders in September and not kicking for an NFL team for most of the season, he was added to Cincinnati's practice squad on Dec. 4. He has kicked in three games for the Bengals and knocked through four of five FGs, along with 10 of 11 PATs.

York was teammates with Bengals QB Joe Burrow and WR Ja'Marr Chase at Louisiana State in 2019. He led the FBS that season in points scored (152) and PATs (89), helping the Tigers to a 15-0 record and the national championship.

Here is a look at the longest made FGs in Bengals history:

PLAYER	DATE	OPPONENT	FG DISTANCE
Evan McPherson	Sept. 11, 2022	vs. Pittsburgh Steelers	59
Cade York	Dec. 22, 2024	vs. Cleveland Browns	59
Evan McPherson	Dec. 19, 2021	at Denver Broncos	58
Randy Bullock	Dec. 22, 2019	at Miami Dolphins	57
Evan McPherson	Sept. 29, 2022	vs. Miami Dolphins	57

Rehkwow's record debut: Rookie P Ryan Rehkwow kicked off his career strongly in Week 1 vs. New England, punting four times for 258 yards. His gross average of 64.5 yards set an NFL single-game record (minimum four punts), surpassing the previous mark of 63.60 by Las Vegas P AJ Cole in Week 9 of the 2023 campaign. The previous Bengals record belonged to Will Brice, who averaged 63.0 yards (189 on three punts) on Sept. 12, 1999 at Tennessee.

Rehkwow's second punt against the Patriots was booted from his own 20-yard line and rolled just past the New England goal line for a touchback. It went officially as an 80-yard punt, marking the longest in team history. The previous longest punt by a Bengal was 75 yards, shared by Kyle Larson (Oct. 9, 2005 at Jacksonville) and Kevin Huber (Dec. 1, 2013 at San Diego Chargers).

Through 16 weeks of regular-season play, Rehkwow has amassed 49 punts for 2410 yards, with 23 downed inside the opponent's 20-yard line compared to five touchbacks. His 42.8 net yards per punt rank sixth in the NFL, while his 49.2 gross average ranks 10th.

In Weeks 5-7, Rehkwow became the first punter in Bengals history to have four punts downed inside the 20-yard line in three consecutive games. He totaled season highs in punts (eight) and punting yards (354) in Week 7 at Cleveland, with zero attempts going for a touchback.

Following a four-year career (2020-23) at Brigham Young University that saw him average 47.4 yards on 176 punts, Rehkwow signed with Kansas City as a college free agent this past May. He was waived by the Chiefs in June, then joined the Bengals as a free agent on July 26, the third day of training camp.

Here is a look at the highest single-game punting averages in NFL history (minimum four punts):

PLAYER	TEAM	DATE	PUNTS-YDS	AVG
Ryan Rehkwow	Cincinnati Bengals	Sept. 8, 2024	4-258	64.5
AJ Cole	Las Vegas Raiders	Nov. 5, 2023	5-318	63.6
Corey Bojorquez	Cleveland Browns	Sept. 29, 2024	5-316	63.2
Andy Lee	Carolina Panthers	Sept. 8, 2016	4-252	63.0

Pro Bowl three-peats: WR Ja'Marr Chase and DE Trey Hendrickson have been voted to the Pro Bowl in each of the past three seasons (2021-23), becoming the 20th and 21st players in team history to receive the honor at least three times.

Chase became the fifth player in Bengals history to earn Pro Bowl honors in each of his first three career seasons, joining TE Bob Trumpy (1968-70), WR Isaac Curtis ('73-75), WR Cris Collinsworth ('81-83) and WR A.J. Green (2011-13). He led Cincinnati in all major receiving categories during the 2023 regular season, including receptions (career-high 100), receiving yards (1216) and receiving TDs (seven). Chase had four games with at least 10 catches and five games with at least 100 receiving yards.

Hendrickson posted a career-high 17.5 sacks in 2023 which tied for second-most in the NFL and ranked second in team history for a single season (DE Coy Bacon, 22.0 in 1976). He recorded at least one full sack in seven straight games from Weeks 11-17, tying for the longest such streak in the league. He also had three FFs and three PDs.

Three listed on "Top 100": For the 14th consecutive season, current NFL players voted to determine the top 100 players in the league, with the final list revealed throughout July on social media and the NFL Network.

Cincinnati was represented by three players on the 2024 list — QB Joe Burrow (No. 39), WR Ja'Marr Chase (No. 45) and DE Trey Hendrickson (No. 77). It marked the third appearance on the list for Burrow and Chase, and the fourth for Hendrickson. It also was the fifth time in the history of "Top 100" that three or more Bengals players were featured.

Dillon, Krumrie join Bengals Ring of Honor: The Bengals welcomed two new members to the team's Ring of Honor this season in former HB Corey Dillon and NT Tim Krumrie. They became the ninth and 10th members of the ROH during a ceremony in the Week 3 game vs. Washington.

Dillon is the team's all-time leader in rushing attempts (1865), rushing yards (8061) and 100-yard rushing games (28). He earned three consecutive Pro Bowl selections from 1999-2001, and owns the top three single-game rushing performances in team history.

Krumrie entered the NFL as a 10th-round pick of the Bengals in 1983 and went on to spend his entire 12-year playing career ('83-94) in Cincinnati. He played in 188 regular-season games, the most ever by a Bengals lineman on either side of the ball, and was a two-time Pro Bowler (1987-88) in addition to earning All-Pro honors in '88.

Dillon and Krumrie joined existing members QB Ken Anderson, OT Willie Anderson, team founder/head coach Paul Brown, WR Isaac Curtis, QB Boomer Esiason, WR Chad Johnson, OT Anthony Muñoz and CB Ken Riley.

Established in 2021, the Bengals Ring of Honor recognizes former players, coaches and individuals who have played a significant role in the franchise's storied history and tradition. Inductees are voted in each offseason by Bengals Season Ticket Members.

Bengals pick up 400th W: Cincinnati's 37-27 win at Tennessee in Week 15 marked the 400th regular-season victory in franchise history. The Bengals have won 241 games played at home and 160 played on the road.

The first regular-season win in Bengals history came on Sept. 15, 1968, when they defeated the Denver Broncos 24-10 at Nippert Stadium on the campus of the University of Cincinnati. One hundred and five Bengals regular-season victories have come at Paycor Stadium (formerly Paul Brown Stadium).

Here is a look at the milestone regular-season victories in Bengals history:

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: Former No. 1 overall draft pick Joe Burrow once again leads a talented Cincinnati offense in his fifth pro season. The Athens, Ohio native has nearly re-written the Bengals' quarterback record book over the past four years, as he holds single-season team records for passing attempts (606; '22), completions (414; '22), passing yards (4611; '21), TD passes (39; '24) and passer rating (108.3; '21). Through 15 games this season, Burrow leads the NFL in passing attempts (557), completions (384), passing yards (4229) and TD passes (39), while ranking third in passer rating (108.5). He has passed for at least 250 yards and three TDs in each of the Bengals' last seven games, becoming the first QB in NFL history to reach those marks in seven straight contests. He also is the first QB in team history to record 4000 passing yards in three seasons, as he hit that mark early in the Week 16 win over the Browns. He posted a 134.4 passer rating against Cleveland, completing 76.7 percent of his passes (23 of 30) for 252 yards and three TDs with no INTs. Burrow has moved closer to several Cincinnati career records this season, as he surpassed former QB Jeff Blake for the fifth-most passing attempts and fifth-most passing yards in team history. In Week 6 at the N.Y. Giants, he capped off the Bengals' opening drive with the longest rushing TD by a quarterback in team history, a 47-yarder to give Cincinnati an early lead. Prior to the start of the 2023 season, the Bengals signed Burrow to a five-year contract extension through the '29 campaign. Listed second on the depth chart is Jake Browning, who last season stepped into the starting role for the first time in his career following a Burrow wrist injury in November. He piloted the Bengals to a 4-3 record to close out the schedule, highlighted by a three-game winning streak in which the offense averaged 31.7 points. Browning completed 71.5 percent of his passing attempts for 1868 yards and 11 TDs as a starter, becoming just the third NFL QB since 1950 to record at least 1500 passing yards and 10 TDs with a completion percentage of 70 or higher in his first seven career starts. He made the 53-man roster out of training camp for the first time in 2023, after spending his first four pro seasons on the practice squads of the Bengals ('21-'22) and Minnesota Vikings ('19-'20). Browning has seen action in three games this season, taking late snaps to close out Week 8 vs. Philadelphia, Week 9 vs. Las Vegas and Week 16 vs. Cleveland.

Running backs: Second-year HB Chase Brown recently reached 1000 yards from scrimmage for the first time in his career, as he leads the Bengals this season with 923 rushing yards on 209 attempts while also contributing 336 receiving yards on 50 catches. Each of his 11 total TDs on the year (seven rushing, four receiving) have come since Week 4, which are tied for the fourth-most among all NFL running backs in that span. He is coming off his fifth straight outing with at least 100 scrimmage yards in Week 16 at Cleveland, logging 18 carries for 91 yards and three receptions for 18 yards. Brown enjoyed perhaps his best day as a pro in the Week 9 win over Las Vegas, when he set career highs in rushing attempts (27), rushing yards (120) and scrimmage yards (137). Recognized for his quick burst out of the backfield, he is averaging 4.4 yards per carry and has a team-best 23 runs of 10 or more yards. He entered the league as Cincinnati's fifth-round draft pick in 2023 and had 335 total yards (179 rushing, 156 receiving) in 12 games played as a rookie last season. The Bengals acquired HB Khalil Herbert in a trade with Chicago on Nov. 5. A fourth-year pro, Herbert played in 48 regular-season games (12 starts) for the Bears and served as a versatile back. He logged 1791 rushing yards and 291 receiving yards in his Chicago tenure, while also returning 33 kickoffs with a 25.0-yard average. He took his first carry as a Bengal for 14 yards in Week 13 against Pittsburgh, and has had three more rushing attempts in the last three contests. Trayveon Williams is in his sixth NFL season (all with Cincinnati), and has served as a reserve HB in addition to his primary role on special teams. He was the team's primary kickoff returner in the latter half of 2022 and all of '23. Offensively, he has rushed for 307 yards on 62 carries, and caught 15 passes for 74 yards. He led the Bengals this past preseason with 95 rushing yards on 20 carries (4.8 average), and he played seven offensive snaps in Week 9 vs. Las Vegas as an extra pass protector.

Wide Receivers: The Bengals' wide receiver room is headlined by one of the NFL's most productive pass-catching duos in Ja'Marr Chase and Tee Higgins. Chase, the team's first-round draft pick in 2021, leads the NFL this season in receptions (108), receiving yards (1510) and receiving TDs (16). He paced Cincinnati in all three of those categories and was selected to the Pro Bowl in each of his first three seasons, and he is one of six players in league history to begin his career with four consecutive 1000-yard receiving campaigns. A constant downfield threat, Chase also has the NFL's most TD catches of 40 or more yards (18), 50 or more yards (13) and 60 or more yards (12) since he entered the league in 2021. He broke his own single-season Bengals record for receiving yardage (1455 in 2021) during a 97-yard day in Week 16 vs. Cleveland. Earlier this season, he tied former New Orleans WR Michael Thomas for the fifth-fastest player in NFL history to reach 5000 career receiving yards (58 games). He has four 100-yard receiving games on the year, highlighted by a 264-yard, three-TD performance in Week 10 at Baltimore. His 108 receptions are a career high and are four shy of matching former WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh (112 in 2007) for the single-season team record. Higgins ranks second on the team this season in catches (58), receiving yards (727) and receiving TDs (seven). He has missed five games due to injuries, but has played in the past five contests and provides Burrow with a secondary threat on the outside. He made his return from a three-game absence in Week 11 at the L.A. Chargers and posted a season-high 148 yards and a TD on nine receptions. His seven TD grabs match his career high set in 2022, with the most recent coming in the first quarter of Week 16 vs. Cleveland. Higgins notched his 300th career reception in Week 13 vs. the Steelers, tying for the fourth-fastest player in team history to reach that mark (65 games). Listed at 6-4, 220 pounds, he has earned a reputation for being able to high-point the ball over contesting defensive backs. He logged back-to-back 1000-yard receiving seasons in 2021 and '22, then posted 656 yards in 12 games played last year. He was named the team's designated franchise player in February, and in June he signed the one-year tender for the 2024 season. Second-year pro Andrei Iosivas has contributed key plays in all areas of the field early in his career, but his most notable work comes in the low red zone. Each of his 10 career receiving TDs have come on passes from inside the opponent's 10-yard line. He has six scoring grabs this season, including a six-yarder from Burrow in the second quarter of Week 16 vs. Cleveland. A sixth-round pick out of Princeton in 2023, Iosivas earned a roster spot following his rookie training camp and contributed both offensively and on special teams last year. He is a native of Honolulu, Hawaii, and garnered All-America honors at Princeton both in the FCS division in football and as a heptathlon participant for the Tigers' track and field team. Fellow 2023 draftee Charlie Jones primarily has contributed as a punt and kickoff returner, but he also has eight career receptions for 69 yards as a reserve WR. He has missed the past seven games due to a groin injury, after suiting up in each of the first eight contests. Jones spent his final collegiate season in 2022 at Purdue University, where he led the FBS in receptions (110), ranked second in receiving yards (1361) and fifth in receiving TDs (12). The Bengals selected Jermaine Burton in the third round of the 2024 draft, adding a proven downfield threat at the college level. Burton has played in 13 games as a rookie this season and made his first career start in Week 10 at Baltimore. His first two career receptions both went for over 40 yards — a 47-yarder in Week 2 at Kansas City and a 41-yarder in Week 8 vs. Philadelphia. He also came through with a clutch grab to convert a third down in the road game against the Ravens. He spent the first two seasons of his collegiate career (2020-'21) at the University of Georgia, then transferred to the University of Alabama for his final two years. He led the Crimson Tide last season in receiving yards (798) and receiving TDs (eight), while pacing the Southeastern Conference in yards per reception (20.5). Burton led the NFL this past preseason with 157 receiving yards. Cincinnati added depth to the receiver room when it acquired Isaiah Williams on waivers from Detroit on Nov. 8. A rookie out of the University of Illinois, Williams originally signed with the Lions as a college free agent in May and played in two games earlier this season, totaling two catches for six yards. He primarily has been utilized as a punt returner through four games played for the Bengals. He earned first-team All-Big 10 honors last season at the University of Illinois, when he led the conference during the regular season with 82 receptions and ranked second with 1055 receiving yards.

Tight ends: A 2019 second-round draft pick of the Bengals, Drew Sample has played in 76 career games (48 starts) and earned a reputation as a reliable blocking TE. He took over the top spot on the depth chart in the second half of last season, and has started 21 of his last 24 appearances. In addition to his blocking responsibilities, he has 95 career receptions for 713 yards and four TDs. He missed most of the 2022 season due to a knee injury, but returned to play in all 17 games in '23. Sample caught four passes for 14 yards in Week 9 vs. Las Vegas, including his first TD of the season on a two-yard reception in the second half. The Bengals added a downfield pass-catching threat at the TE position when they signed unrestricted free agent Mike Gesicki in March. Gesicki spent his first five pro seasons (2018-'22) with the Miami Dolphins, before playing for the New England Patriots last year. He has played in all 15 games in his debut Bengals season (three starts), and leads the team's tight ends in catches (47), receiving yards (511) and receiving TDs (two). He recorded his 300th career reception in Week 14 at Dallas, and enjoyed perhaps his best day in stripes during the Week 9 win over Las Vegas, when he caught five passes for 100 yards and his first two TDs of the year. His second TD, a 47-yarder to help seal the win in the fourth quarter, was the second-longest reception of his career.

That performance also marked his first 100-yard receiving game since Week 6 of the 2021 season. Gesicki played in his 100th career regular-season game in Week 2 at Kansas City and posted seven catches for 91 yards, then eclipsed 3000 career receiving yards in Week 3 vs. Washington. Standing at 6-6 and possessing a blend of speed and agility, he challenges LBs and DBs in coverage. He topped 700 receiving yards in back-to-back years in 2020 and '21 while with the Dolphins. Fifth-year pro Tanner Hudson scored his first TD of the season in Week 10 at Baltimore, bringing in a three-yard pass to give Cincinnati the lead just before halftime. He tied his career high with six receptions against the Ravens, and his 42 yards were the fifth-most in a game in his career. He played in his 50th career game in Week 9 vs. Las Vegas and had two catches for 14 yards, including an 11-yarder to convert a fourth down. Hudson began the 2023 campaign on the Bengals' practice squad, then was signed to the active roster in November of last year and emerged as a prominent offensive contributor. He recorded career highs in receptions (39) and receiving yards (352) in just 12 games played in 2023, after totaling 15 grabs for 199 yards in his previous 33 career contests. Hudson spent time with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2019-20), San Francisco 49ers ('21) and N.Y. Giants ('22), before joining Cincinnati's practice squad late in the '22 season. He missed the Week 16 game vs. Cleveland due to a knee injury. Rookie Cam Grandy spent the first 10 weeks of the regular season on the Bengals' practice squad, then was signed to the active roster on Nov. 15. He made his NFL debut as a practice squad elevation in Week 10 at Baltimore and recorded his first career reception (no gain). He has started each of the last four games and played a combined 45 offensive snaps in those contests, while catching two passes for 12 yards in Week 15 at Tennessee. A product of Illinois State University, Grandy led all Missouri Valley Football Conference TEs with 63 catches for 612 yards and three TDs in 2023. He spent his first five collegiate seasons at Missouri Western State University. The Bengals selected Tanner McLachlan out of the University of Arizona in the sixth round of this year's draft. McLachlan was a second-team All-Pac-12 Conference selection last season, when his 45 receptions were the second-most by a TE in Arizona history and his 528 receiving yards led all Pac-12 TEs. He spent two seasons (2022-23) with the Wildcats, after beginning his career at Southern Utah University. He was inactive for the first 14 games of this season, then made his NFL debut in Week 16 vs. Cleveland. A native of Lethbridge, Alberta, McLachlan is one of two Canadians on the Bengals roster alongside HB Chase Brown.

Offensive linemen: The Bengals have invested heavily in upgrading their offensive line over the past three offseasons, signing an array of free agents and using early draft picks to bolster the unit. The nucleus of the O-line is C Ted Karras, who joined the team in free agency in 2022 and has been elected a team captain in each of his three seasons in Cincinnati. Karras has started each of the Bengals' past 51 games at center (regular season and postseason), and lined up for 3349 of a possible 3368 offensive snaps in that time (99.4 percent). Last season, he was named the Bengals' nominee for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award in recognition of his charitable work with Indianapolis-based Village of Merici through his fan-favorite "Cincy Hat." The Bengals signed Karras to a one-year contract extension in June that keeps him in Cincinnati through the 2025 season. This season's Man of the Year nominee for the Bengals is OT Orlando Brown Jr., who in addition to serving as the team's left tackle has partnered with Breakthrough T1D, the leading global type 1 diabetes research organization. Brown was perhaps the biggest free agent splash in recent years for Cincinnati, as he signed with the Bengals in 2023 following four straight Pro Bowl selections from '19-22. He spent his first three pro seasons (2018-20) with Baltimore, then played two years ('21-22) with Kansas City. He started 25 straight games to begin his Bengals career, but has missed six contests this season (Weeks 9-11, Weeks 14-16) due to knee and fibula injuries. His father, the late Orlando "Zeus" Brown Sr., was an offensive tackle for the Cleveland Browns and the Ravens. Brown Jr. was selected as a team captain this season for the first time in his career. RG Alex Cappa played in his 100th career regular-season game in Week 16 at Cleveland. He joined Karras in signing with Cincinnati during the 2022 free agency period and has started each game he has played in as a Bengal. Cappa suffered a left ankle injury in the 2022 regular-season finale and missed the entire postseason, but he recovered in time to start all 17 contests in '23. He previously was the Tampa Bay Buccaneers' starting RG from 2019-21, and was a member of the Super Bowl LV-winning team though he did not play in the final three playoff games due to injury. G/OT Cody Ford has started six games this season (five at LOT, one at LG). A sixth-year pro out of the University of Oklahoma, he has played in 80 career games with 40 starts — 15 at ROT, nine at RG, nine at LG, two as a third TE and five at LOT. Ford signed with the Bengals as a free agent in 2023 and played in all 17 games last season, utilized as a reserve guard, a sixth O-lineman in heavy packages, and a special teams contributor. He was a 2019 second-round pick by Buffalo and spent his first three seasons with the Bills, then played for the Arizona Cardinals in '22. The Bengals used their first-round draft pick this past April (18th overall) to select ROT Amarius Mims out of the University of Georgia. Mims brings a physically imposing presence at 6-8, 350 pounds, but was noted by draft analysts for his athletic potential. He was inactive for Cincinnati's first two regular-season games due to a pectoral injury sustained during preseason, but made his NFL debut in Week 3 and has started each of the past 12 contests. He spent three seasons (2021-23) with the Bulldogs, playing in 29 games with eight starts while helping UGA win back-to-back national titles in '21 and '22. Cordell Volson has started 50 out of 51 possible games (including postseason) at LG to begin his Bengals career. A 2022 fourth-round pick of Cincinnati, he has lined up for every offensive snap in games that he started. He has settled in at LG as a pro, after playing guard and tackle on both sides of the O-line during his five-year collegiate career at North Dakota State. While at NDSU, he played in a school-record 65 games, was a three-time FCS All-American and helped the Bison win four FCS national championships. OT Devin Cochran made his first career start in Week 15 at Tennessee, lining up at LOT for all 69 offensive snaps. He then followed up with 22 offensive snaps played in Week 16 vs. Cleveland, filling in for an injured Mims at ROT. Cochran has played in seven games overall this season, contributing primarily on special teams prior to his recent offensive role. He spent the first 12 weeks on Cincinnati's practice squad, then was signed to the active roster in late November. He originally joined the Bengals' practice squad in 2022 and missed the entire '23 campaign due to a knee injury. The Bengals' final selection of the 2024 NFL Draft was seventh-round C Matt Lee, who played in 51 games over a five-year collegiate career at the University of Central Florida (2019-22) and the University of Miami (Fla.; '23). He is coming off his first career start in Week 16 vs. Cleveland, as he lined up as a tackle-eligible lineman on the Bengals' first offensive snap. Lee primarily has contributed on special teams during his rookie campaign, but he also has seen action on 23 offensive snaps over the past nine contests. OT Andrew Stueber has played in seven games for the Bengals this season after being signed off Atlanta's practice squad on Oct. 8. A seventh-round pick out of New England in 2022, he spent his rookie season on the Reserve/Non-Football injury list, then was on the Patriots' practice squad in '23. He played in 34 games with 22 starts (20 at ROT, two at RG) during a five-year career (2017-21) at the University of Michigan.

Defensive linemen: Among the NFL's premier pass rushers is eighth-year DE Trey Hendrickson, who currently leads the NFL with 13.5 sacks through 16 weeks of regular-season play. Hendrickson posted a career-high four sacks in Week 9 vs. Las Vegas, which tied for the third-most in a game in team history and was the most since former DE Antwan Odom in 2009. A 2021 free agency acquisition of the Bengals, Hendrickson led the team in sacks and earned a Pro Bowl nod in each of his three full seasons in Cincinnati. He posted a career-high 17.5 sacks last year, which tied for second in the league and went in as the second-most in team history (DE Coy Bacon, 22.0 in 1976). Hendrickson's 66.5 sacks since the start of the 2020 campaign — his final season with New Orleans — rank third in the NFL behind Pittsburgh OLB T.J. Watt (73.5) and Cleveland DE Myles Garrett (70.0). He also has 14 career forced fumbles (two this season), with the most recent coming in Week 15 at Tennessee. Cincinnati native and Archbishop Moeller High School graduate Sam Hubbard started the first 14 games of this season as the team's LDE, before suffering a knee injury in the Titans contest that kept him out of the lineup for Week 16 vs. Cleveland. Hubbard was a third-round pick of his hometown Bengals in 2018 and now is the longest-tenured player on the active roster (seventh season). He has 38.5 career sacks, and his 41 tackles this season are the second-most among Cincinnati's defensive linemen. He grabbed his first career INT in the Week 7 win at Cleveland and played in his 100th career regular-season game in Week 10 at Baltimore. Hubbard entered the Week 15 game at Tennessee as an extra TE and caught a two-yard TD pass from Burrow, marking the first receiving score by a defensive player in Bengals history. Cincinnati acquired DT B.J. Hill in a trade with the N.Y. Giants prior to the start of the 2021 season, and the seventh-year pro has established himself as a key contributor during his Bengals tenure. After seeing action primarily as a reserve DT in his first season with the team, Hill has started each of his last 52 games played, including six postseason contests from 2021-22. A productive pass rusher from the interior, he has totaled 16 sacks as a Bengal, while also batting down/tipping 13 passes at the line of scrimmage. He sustained a hamstring injury in Week 2 at Kansas City that caused him to miss the next two games, but he returned to action in Week 5 and has started each of the past 11 contests. Hill posted a season-high seven tackles and two PDs against his former team in Week 6 at the N.Y. Giants. He tallied a sack in three consecutive games from

Weeks 13-15, most recently dropping Titans QB Will Levis for a seven-yard loss. Ninth-year veteran DT Sheldon Rankins has played in seven games (all starts) in his first Bengals season, after joining the team as an unrestricted free agent during the spring. He has been inactive for the past five contests with an illness and missed Weeks 3-5 due to a hamstring injury, but when healthy has contributed 18 tackles with one sack. A first-round draft pick of New Orleans in 2016, Rankins spent his first five seasons with the Saints before playing for the N.Y. Jets ('21-22) and Houston Texans ('23). He has 30.5 career sacks, with six coming last season for the Texans. DE Joseph Ossai is in his fourth season in the NFL, but third healthy year after missing his entire rookie campaign due to a knee injury. He has 37 tackles across 15 games this season, including a season-high five stops in Week 16 vs. Cleveland. Ossai has recorded a sack in four of the Bengals' last five contests, most recently taking down Browns QB Dorian Thompson-Robinson for a six-yard loss in the fourth quarter. A 2021 third-round pick of the Bengals, Ossai has played in 45 career regular-season games and totaled 64 tackles with 8.5 sacks. He was born in Nigeria and moved to the United States with his family when he was 10 years old, and that year he watched his first football game. The Bengals used their second-round choice this past April to select DT Kris Jenkins Jr. out of the University of Michigan. Jenkins sacked Thompson-Robinson twice in the Week 16 game against Cleveland, becoming the first Bengals rookie with multiple sacks in a game since Hubbard in 2018. Jenkins' first career sack came in Week 9 vs. Las Vegas. He missed the first two games of this season due to a thumb injury, but has played in each of the last 14 contests and has 28 total tackles. He was a team captain at Michigan and earned second-team All-America honors last season, while helping lead the Wolverines to a national championship. His father, Kris Jenkins Sr., played 10 seasons in the NFL (2001-10) as a DT for the Carolina Panthers and N.Y. Jets, and was a four-time Pro Bowler. DE Myles Murphy, Cincinnati's first-round draft pick in 2023, has recorded 20 tackles and a PD in 11 games played this season, after spending the first four weeks on the Reserved/Injured list with a knee injury. He played in all 17 games as a rookie last year, totaling 20 tackles and three sacks. Murphy racked up 17.5 sacks and 37 TFLs in three seasons (2020-22) at Clemson University. Rookie DT McKinnley Jackson missed the first four contests of this season with a knee injury, then made his NFL debut in Week 5 vs. Baltimore. He recorded his first career FF in Week 15 at Tennessee, knocking the ball loose from RB Tony Pollard in the third quarter, then tallied his first career sack in the Week 16 win over Cleveland. He made his first start in Week 14 at Dallas, and in 11 total games played he has 10 tackles on 205 defensive snaps. Jackson played in 40 career games and was a team captain at Texas A&M, before being selected by Cincinnati in the third round of this year's draft. DT Jay Tufele has provided depth for the Bengals' defensive line since being acquired on waivers prior to the 2022 season. He originally was a fourth-round draft choice by Jacksonville in 2021 and played in four games as a rookie for the Jaguars. He has played in 11 games this season, recording 14 tackles on 231 defensive snaps played. Tufele posted four tackles in Week 1 vs. New England, including a TFL on a Patriots first-and-goal play in the opening quarter, then tallied a half-sack in Week 3 vs. Washington. Cincinnati took DE Cedric Johnson in the sixth round of this year's draft. He has seen action in seven games as a rookie, with a season-high 13 defensive snaps played in Week 9 vs. Las Vegas. Johnson logged 40 tackles with 5.5 sacks last season at the University of Mississippi to garner All-SEC Honorable Mention. The Bengals signed DE Isaiah Thomas off the practice squad to the active roster on Monday. Thomas, a second-year player out of the University of Oklahoma, spent the first six games of this season on Cincinnati's practice squad before signing to Detroit's active roster in October. He played in two games for the Lions, totaling three tackles, then was released from their practice squad on Dec. 17. He signed back to the Bengals' practice squad the following day, and was elevated to the active roster for the team's Week 16 game against Cleveland (did not play). Thomas originally was a seventh-round draft pick of the Browns in 2022 and has played in 12 career games.

Linebackers: Sixth-year pro Germaine Pratt has set a career high in tackles in each season from 2021-23, with his team-leading 130 stops this year currently ranking tied for eighth in the NFL. He has a knack for creating game-changing takeaways, and has contributed to three of them this year with a pair of fumble recoveries and an INT. Since the start of the 2021 season, he is one of three NFL players with at least five INTs, five FFs and five FRs alongside Dallas CB Jourdan Lewis and Tampa Bay S Antoine Winfield Jr. He has started 86 of 94 career regular-season games played, with a current streak of 76 consecutive starts (including postseason). Pratt was voted a team captain this season for the first time in his career. Also wearing a captain's patch for the first time this year is Akeem Davis-Gaither, who has played in 69 games with nine starts for the Bengals. His primary role historically has been on special teams, but he has started each of the last four contests at LB with Logan Wilson on Reserve/Injured. Davis-Gaither has 40 tackles since taking over the starting spot, including a career-high-tying 13 stops in Week 13 vs. Pittsburgh. His 59 total tackles this season are a career high, and he also has four PDs and an INT. He picked off Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes in Week 2 at Kansas City for his second career regular-season INT (first since 2020). He also has lined up for 300 special teams snaps and has five ST tackles. Among the most notable stories on Cincinnati's initial 53-man roster was rookie LB Maema Njongmeta, who made the team after signing as a college free agent in May. Njongmeta (pronounced "moo-MUH jong-METT-uh") led the Bengals and ranked second in the NFL in tackles during the preseason (27). He spent four seasons (2020-23) at the University of Wisconsin, where he took over a starting LB job as a junior in '22. Njongmeta has lined up for a team-high 330 special teams snaps through 15 regular-season games, and recovered a blocked punt in Week 14 at Dallas that put Cincinnati in position to score the game-winning TD. He made his first career start in Week 15 at Tennessee, and recovered a fumble that ended a Titans drive at the Cincinnati 33-yard line, marking his second straight game with a key recovery. Njongmeta also has six defensive tackles, with three stops coming in Week 16 vs. Cleveland. LB Shaka Heyward spent his entire 2023 rookie campaign and the first 13 weeks of this season on Cincinnati's practice squad, then signed to the active roster on Dec. 2. He recorded his first tackle of the season in Week 16 vs. Cleveland on his only defensive snap. Heyward signed with the Bengals as a college free agent during the 2023 offseason, following a five-year career ('18-22) at Duke University.

Cornerbacks: Nickel CB Mike Hilton, a free agency acquisition of the Bengals in 2021, established himself as one of the NFL's top slot corners over his first three seasons in stripes. Though listed at 5-9, 184 pounds, he is a sure tackler and an excellent blitzing with 11.5 career sacks. He has 62 total tackles in 14 games played this season (inactive for Week 5 due to knee injury), and his 12 TFLs lead all defensive backs. Five of his TFLs have come over the past two games. Hilton secured his first INT of the season in Week 15 at Tennessee when he came down with a tipped pass at the Titans' 38-yard line late in the first half. He had a season-high eight tackles in Week 9 vs. Las Vegas, and broke up a pass on a crucial fourth-down play in the second half in the Week 6 win at the N.Y. Giants. Third-year pro Cam Taylor-Britt has taken on the role of the team's top boundary corner since the start of last season. The Bengals' 2022 second-round draft pick has started 36 of 37 career games played and often lines up against opposing teams' No. 1 WRs. His 15 PDs this season lead the team and are tied for third in the NFL, and he also has contributed 67 tackles and three INTs. His most recent pick came late in the first half of Week 15 at Tennessee, and he returned the INT 28 yards to set up a Bengals TD drive. His other two INTs include a highlight-reel one-handed grab on a Patrick Mahomes pass in Week 2 at Kansas City, and a 51-yard pick-six to give Cincinnati a first-quarter lead in Week 13 vs. Pittsburgh. Taylor-Britt missed five games in 2023 due to injuries, but still tied for the team lead with four INTs (tied for seventh in NFL), while collecting 11 PDs and 50 tackles. The Bengals selected Josh Newton in the fifth round of this year's draft, and the rookie earned a spot on the 53-man roster after impressing coaches during training camp and preseason. Newton recorded his first career INT in Week 15 at Tennessee, picking off QB Mason Rudolph early in the fourth quarter. He has played in all 15 games this season, with starts in each of the past four contests. In addition to his 17 defensive tackles and six PDs, Newton has lined up for 182 special teams snaps and recorded two solo ST tackles. He began his career at the University of Louisiana-Monroe, then spent his final two seasons (2022-23) at Texas Christian University. Second-year pro DJ Ivey made his season debut in Week 7 at Cleveland, after spending the first six games on the Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform list while recovering from a knee injury. He sustained the injury in Week 15 of the 2023 campaign against Minnesota, ending a promising rookie campaign in which he carved out a role as a special teams contributor and reserve defensive back. A 2023 seventh-round pick out of the University of Miami (Fla.), Ivey earned a roster spot following his rookie training camp and played in eight games last season. The most recent addition to the secondary is fourth-year pro Marco Wilson, who the Bengals acquired on waivers from New England on Nov. 19. He made his Bengals debut in Week 13 vs. Pittsburgh and played one defensive snap, but has seen an increased role over the past three contests with a combined 25 defensive snaps and 26 special teams snaps. A fourth-round draft pick of Arizona in 2021, Wilson spent the majority of his first three pro seasons ('21-23) with the Cardinals before being waived and acquired by the Patriots last December. He suited up for 10 games with New England earlier this season, logging 15 tackles and a PD. In 58 total regular-season games (37 starts), he has recorded 175 tackles, 19 PDs, three INTs and three FFs.

Safeties: Among the notable additions in Cincinnati's 2024 free agency class was Geno Stone, who recorded an AFC-leading seven INTs in his final season with Baltimore in '23. He spent his first three pro seasons (2020-22) as a reserve defensive back for the Ravens, then in '23 started 11 contests. Stone has already surpassed that total with 15 starts in his debut Bengals season, and his 76 tackles rank third on the team. He has an INT in each of his last three games, becoming the first Bengals' player to do since former S Reggie Nelson in 2015. Stone grabbed his fourth pick of the season in Week 16 vs. Cleveland on a tipped pass midway through the fourth quarter. He scored his first career pick-six in Week 15 at Tennessee, returning an INT 39 yards to the end zone. Second-year pro Jordan Battle notched his first pick of the season in Week 16 vs. Cleveland, as he secured an INT in his own end zone to preserve a two-score Bengals lead in the fourth quarter. Battle has started each of the past four games after beginning the season as a rotational safety. Of his 47 tackles this year, 27 have come over the past four contests, including a season-best 10 stops in Week 15 at Tennessee. He started seven contests as a rookie last season and ranked fifth on the team with 69 tackles. A third-round pick of the Bengals in 2023, Battle was a team captain and two-time third-team All-American at the University of Alabama. Ninth-year veteran Vonn Bell is in his second Bengals stint in 2024, after spending the '23 season with the Carolina Panthers. He previously played for Cincinnati from 2020-22, and has been voted a team captain in each of his four total Bengals seasons. Bell has played in all 15 games this season with 11 starts, and totaled 50 tackles along with two PDs, an INT, a FF and a FR. He is coming off a crucial takeaway early in the Week 16 contest against Cleveland, as he both forced and recovered a fumble near the Cincinnati goal line on the Browns' opening drive. It marked his 16th career FF, which is tied for the most among all NFL defensive backs since he entered the league in 2016. His first INT of the season came against his former team in Week 4 at Carolina. Third-year pro Tycen Anderson received a game ball from head coach Zac Taylor following the Week 6 win over the N.Y. Giants, in recognition of his effort as a gunner on special teams. Anderson has a team-leading 11 special teams tackles this season, after returning from a season-ending injury he sustained midway through the 2023 campaign. He finished last season with a team-leading eight special teams stops, despite missing the final 10 contests. A 2022 fifth-round pick of the Bengals, Anderson sat out his entire rookie year due to a hamstring injury, then in his return to game action during the 2023 preseason opener vs. Green Bay, he had two INTs including a 43-yard pick-six. Seventh-round pick Dajahn Anthony made the Bengals' roster out of his first training camp. He has lined up for 11 defensive snaps and 140 special teams snaps in 11 games played this season (inactive for three games as coach's decision). In Week 4 at Carolina, Anthony broke up a pass attempt on a fake punt in the third quarter, setting up the Bengals' offense at the Carolina 35-yard line. He worked his way from Division II Shepherd University (2019-20) to Liberty University ('21-22), before finishing out his collegiate career at the University of Mississippi in '23. His three INTs last season tied for the Ole Miss team lead.

Special teams: Second-year K Cade York signed to Cincinnati's active roster on Dec. 17, after spending two weeks on the practice squad. York has kicked in three games for the Bengals, and in the team's most recent contest against Cleveland he tied a team record with a 59-yard FG going into halftime. It tied for the fourth-longest made FG in the NFL this season. He has converted 28 of 39 FG attempts in his career, including four of five in his early Cincinnati tenure. York was teammates with Burrow and Ja'Marr Chase at Louisiana State in 2019, and entered the NFL as a fourth-round draft pick of Cleveland in '22. He played in all 17 games during his rookie campaign with the Browns, then spent the '23 season on their practice squad and was traded to Washington this past summer. He was waived by the Commanders following their season opener, and was not with an NFL team prior to joining the Bengals. Long-snapper Cal Adomitis has delivered zero unplayable snaps on 412 attempts in 50 career games (including postseason). The 2022 college free agent signee out of the University of Pittsburgh began his rookie campaign on the Bengals' practice squad, before taking over primary long-snapping duties in Week 2 of that season. Rookie Ryan Rehkow is handling punting and holding duties for the Bengals, after signing with the team two days into training camp. He originally was a college free agent signee of Kansas City in May, then was waived by the Chiefs in June. Rehkow through 15 games ranks sixth in the NFL in net punting average (42.8 net yards per punt; minimum 35 punts) and ninth in gross average (49.2). He had a historic debut in Week 1 vs. New England, as his 64.5 gross yards per punt set an NFL single-game record (minimum four punts). That included a Bengals-record 80-yarder in the first quarter, and a 70-yarder in the fourth quarter. He had four punts downed inside the opponents' 20-yard lines in three consecutive games (Weeks 5-7), becoming the first Bengals punter ever to do so in three straight contests. Rehkow averaged 47.4 yards on 176 punts in 50 games played at Brigham Young University. Second-year WR Charlie Jones earned AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors for Week 7, after returning the opening kickoff at Cleveland 100 yards for a TD. It marked the second time in team history that the Bengals scored a TD on the game's opening kick, and it was the longest KOR in the NFL this season. Jones also had an 81-yard punt return for a TD in his 2023 rookie season. He has returned 14 punts this season for 99 yards, but has missed the past seven games due to a groin injury. Rookie WR Jermaine Burton and fourth-year HB Khalil Herbert have lined up to return kicks with Jones out of the lineup. Burton has logged 10 returns for 280 yards, including five for 146 in Week 13 vs. Pittsburgh. Four of his KORs have gone for 30 or more yards. Herbert has returned three kicks since being acquired via trade in November, including two for 67 yards in Week 14 at Dallas. WR Isaiah Williams has taken over punt return duties over the past four games, contributing eight returns for 65 yards.

THE LAST BENGALS-BRONCOS MEETINGS

2018 SEASON
WEEK 13, GAME 12

Denver Broncos 24, Cincinnati Bengals 10
Sunday, Dec. 2, 2018 at Paul Brown Stadium

QB Jeff Driskel made his first career NFL start, after starter Andy Dalton was placed on Reserve/Injured earlier in the week due to a thumb injury suffered in the previous game. The Bengals' offense, however, managed just 10 points, and the team fell to its former DBs coach Vance Joseph, in his second season as Broncos head coach. Driskel completed 25 of 37 passes (67.6 percent) for 236 yards, one TD and one INT (80.6 rating) in his debut as a starter, but the Bengals committed 12 penalties and had three costly turnovers. Denver was led by rookie RB Phillip Lindsay, who rushed for 157 yards and two TDs, including a 65-yarder in the third quarter to give the Broncos a 21-3 lead. WR A.J. Green, who had missed the previous three contests with a toe injury, returned to action but left early in the second quarter after re-aggravating the injury. The Bengals fell to 5-7 while the Broncos improved to 6-6.

2021 SEASON
WEEK 15, GAME 14

Cincinnati Bengals 15, Denver Broncos 10
Sunday, Dec. 19, 2021 at Empower Field at Mile High

The visiting Bengals started slow before rookie K Evan McPherson booted a then team-record 58-yard FG as time expired in the first half to give Cincinnati a 6-3 lead at the break. The Broncos jumped ahead 10-9 with a 25-yard TD pass late in the third quarter, but it took just two plays for the Bengals to re-take the lead with a 56-yard TD pass of their own from QB Joe Burrow to WR Tyler Boyd. Denver responded by driving to Cincinnati's nine-yard line, but reserve DE Khalid Kareem stifled the Broncos' scoring opportunity by crashing into the backfield and wrestling the ball away from Denver QB Drew Lock. Cincinnati began to burn late clock time, and a 15-yard Burrow-to-Boyd completion on a third-and-10 forced Denver to spend its remaining time outs. The Broncos finally got the ball back with 1:04 to play, but the Bengals' defense capped a stellar performance by forcing a sack and three incompletions to seal the game. Cincinnati improved to 8-6 and took over sole possession of first place in the AFC North, while Denver dropped to 7-7.

2024 GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 1, GAME 1

New England Patriots 16, Cincinnati Bengals 10 Sunday, Sept. 8, 2024 at Paycor Stadium

The Bengals trimmed their deficit to six points twice in the second half, but the Patriots forced a punt late in the fourth quarter and ran out the final 2:13 of regulation to hand Cincinnati a regular-season opening loss. New England controlled the clock for much of the game while rushing for 170 yards, while the Bengals' offense had to overcome a slow start with three straight three-and-outs. Cincinnati found its rhythm during a 13-play drive in the second quarter but came away with no points, as what was originally ruled a TD catch by TE Mike Gesicki was overturned, and two snaps later TE Tanner Hudson fumbled near the goal line and New England recovered. The Patriots capitalized with a FG as the first half expired, then forced a fumble on a Bengals punt return early in the third and cashed in with another FG to extend their lead to 13-0. Cincinnati responded later in the quarter with a rushing TD by HB Zack Moss, who finished with a team-high 44 yards on the ground in his Bengals debut. A Patriots FG midway through the fourth quarter was answered with a 51-yarder by Bengals K Evan McPherson, but that proved to be the last time Cincinnati crossed midfield.

WEEK 2, GAME 2

Kansas City Chiefs 26, Cincinnati Bengals 25 Sunday, Sept. 15, 2024 at GEHA Field at Arrowhead Stadium

The Bengals and Chiefs played to a one-score result for a sixth straight time since January 2022, as Kansas City K Harrison Butker kicked a 51-yard game-winning FG as time expired. The game featured six lead changes. Cincinnati held a two-point lead and forced the Chiefs into a fourth-and-16 with under a minute remaining, but a QB Patrick Mahomes downfield heave resulted in a defensive pass interference penalty to set up the kick. The Bengals' defense had three takeaways, including a pair of INTs, and allowed just 137 net passing yards. Offensively, Cincinnati scored points on five of its first six true possessions. Bengals QB Joe Burrow completed 23 of 36 passes for 258 yards and a 103.7 passer rating, as well as two TD passes to WR Andrei Iosivas. Cincinnati fell to 0-2, while Kansas City improved to 2-0.

Washington Commanders 38, Cincinnati Bengals 33 Monday night, Sept. 23, 2024 at Paycor Stadium

Washington scored on all six of its offensive possessions which didn't end halves to defeat Cincinnati on Monday Night Football. The Bengals also were efficient offensively, totaling 436 net yards and coming away with points on six of their seven drives, but they ultimately could not climb back from a double-digit deficit in the second half. The game marked the NFL's first matchup since 1940 in which neither team punted nor committed a turnover. Commanders rookie QB Jayden Daniels completed 91.3 percent of his passes (21 of 23), which set both an NFL rookie record and a Bengals opponent record for a single game (minimum 20 attempts). Bengals QB Joe Burrow finished with 324 passing yards and three TDs, including his 100th career TD pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase on the game's opening drive. Cincinnati fell to 0-3, while Washington improved to 2-1.

Cincinnati Bengals 34, Carolina Panthers 24 Sunday, Sept. 29, 2024 at Bank of America Stadium

The Bengals scored TDs to close out the first half and open the second half on the way to earning their first win of the season at Carolina. The Panthers marched to Cincinnati's one-yard line on the game's opening drive, but DT Kris Jenkins stuffed a rushing attempt on fourth-and-goal to prevent an early deficit. Cincinnati opened the scoring with the first of two rushing TDs by HB Chase Brown, who also finished with 80 rushing yards. In the second quarter, WR Ja'Marr Chase caught a pass from QB Joe Burrow near midfield and fought off several Panthers defenders before taking it down the sideline for a 63-yard TD. Cincinnati's next possession began with 1:09 left in the half, and Burrow led a quick drive that ended with a TD pass to HB Zack Moss with one second remaining to give the Bengals a 21-14 lead at the break. The Panthers closed their gap from 17 points to seven in the fourth quarter, but Cincinnati's offense ate three minutes off the clock late in the period and an Evan McPherson 46-yard FG regained the two-score advantage. Cincinnati improved to 1-3, while Carolina fell to 1-3.

WEEK 16, GAME 15

Cincinnati Bengals 24, Cleveland Browns 6
Sunday, Dec. 22, 2024 at Paycor Stadium

The Bengals recorded three takeaways against the Browns on defense and 326 net yards on offense to complete their first season sweep over Cleveland since 2017. Browns RB Jerome Ford broke off a 66-yard run on the opening play from scrimmage, but three plays later was stripped by S Vonn Bell at the goal line to keep the game scoreless. Cincinnati followed the takeaway with a 99-yard drive, capped off by a two-yard TD pass from QB Joe Burrow to WR Tee Higgins. Burrow finished 23 of 30 for 252 yards and three TDs, becoming the first QB in NFL history to pass for at least 250 yards and three TDs in seven consecutive games. The Bengals stretched their lead to 17-0 when K Cade York tied a team record with a 59-yard FG as the first half expired. Cincinnati picked off Browns QB Dorian Thompson-Robinson twice in the fourth quarter, as S Jordan Battle and S Geno Stone had INTs on consecutive defensive possessions to maintain the Bengals' two-score advantage. Cincinnati improved to 7-8, while Cleveland fell to 3-12.
