CINCINNATI BENGALS (2-1) AT ATLANTA FALCONS (1-2)

WEEK 4, GAME 4
SUNDAY, SEPT. 30
AT MERCEDES-BENZ STADIUM

NEXT WEEK: WEEK 5, GAME 5
OCT. 7 VS. MIAMI

GAME NOTES

Kickoff: 1 p.m. Eastern.

Television: The game will air on CBS-TV. In the Bengals' home region, it will be carried by WKRC-TV (Ch. 12) in Cincinnati, WHIO-TV (Ch. 7) in Dayton and on WKYT-TV (Ch. 27) in Lexington. Broadcasters are Greg Gumbel (play-by-play), Trent Green (analyst), Bruce Arians (analyst) and Melanie Collins (sideline reporter).

Radio: The game will air on the Bengals Radio Network, led by Cincinnati flagship stations WCKY-AM (ESPN 1530; all sports) and WEBN-FM (102.7). Broadcasters are Dan Hoard (play-by-play) and Dave Lapham (analyst). The first half of the game also will be aired by WLW-AM (700), until the station breaks away to broadcast the Cincinnati Reds' season finale.

The game also will air nationally on Compass Media Networks. Broadcasters are Chris Carrino (play-by-play) and Brian Baldinger (analyst).

Setting the scene: The Cincinnati Bengals this week travel to Atlanta to play the Falcons on Sunday at Mercedes-Benz Stadium.

The 2-1 Bengals go in to the contest looking to bounce back from a 31-21 loss last week at Carolina. Despite the setback, Cincinnati still owns a share of first place in the AFC North Division, standing tied with the Baltimore Ravens, who also are 2-1. The Bengals, however, currently hold an edge for the top spot over Baltimore by virtue of a win over the Ravens in Game 2.

Cincinnati jumped out to an early 7-0 first-quarter lead on Carolina, but the Panthers capitalized on four Bengals turnovers and relied on the strength of a solid rushing attack that logged 230 net yards en route to the win. Seventeen of the Panthers' points — two TDs and one FG — came on drives that followed Bengals turnovers. Carolina RB Christian McCaffrey rushed for 184 yards on 28 carries (6.6-yard average), while QB Cam Newton added two rushing touchdowns to go along with his two passing TDs. The Panthers also converted six of 13 third downs.

Despite the statistical particulars, the Bengals still were within striking distance until late in the fourth quarter. Not until the Panthers converted a 40-yard field goal to go up by two scores with 1:16 left was the game considered out of reach.

"That was a football game where we had every opportunity to get it done and finish the thing out," said head coach Marvin Lewis. "We gave up too many opportunities with the turnovers. We gave them good field position too often, and they capitalized on it. We didn't do enough. We didn't make the ball bounce our way, and we have to do a better job with our assignments. We knew we would be tested with that, and that was the difference.

"We didn't play well enough to win, particularly defensively. We had moments where we did things very well. It's always easy to be negative about it, but we weren't very consistent. Same thing offensively — we were able to move the ball at times and do very well, and other times we stalled out and shot ourselves in the foot. ... The thing we have to do better is be in the right spots defensively."

The Bengals played the Panthers game without several starters who were inactive due to injuries. That list included HB Joe Mixon (knee) and C Billy Price (foot) on offense, and DE Michael Johnson (knee) and LB Preston Brown (ankle) on defense. During the game itself, the team lost WR A.J. Green (pelvis) early in the second half, and DT Ryan Glasgow (knee) midway through the fourth quarter. In addition, the Bengals were without LB Vontaze Burfict, who is out the first four games while serving a suspension. The injured players' statuses for the Falcons game will not be known until later in the week.

"It's part of the NFL," Lewis said. "You've got to have other guys ready to go. They have to step up, and everyone has to put themselves in position to make plays."

Despite being shorthanded against the Panthers, the Bengals came away from the loss with positives to build upon. WR Tyler Boyd caught six passes for 132 yards and a touchdown. His two longest receptions — a 49-yarder and his 27-yard score — came on improvised patterns when QB Andy Dalton was flushed out of the pocket.

"We always work on the scramble drill," said Boyd, whose 249 yards receiving leads the team and ranks seventh in the AFC. "When I see him (Dalton) rolling out, I have to find an open space on the field. Andy does a great job escaping the pocket and finding open targets."

Also against the Panthers, TE Tyler Eifert caught six passes for 74 yards. Eifert, who was limited to just 10 total games played in 2016 and '17 due to back and ankle injuries, already has 11 catches for 141 yards on the season.

As Lewis pointed out, however, it's the defense that Cincinnati coaches perhaps will focus on most this week while preparing for Atlanta. The Bengals rank 26th in the NFL in net yards allowed per game (394.0) and 32nd in third-down efficiency (24 of 46; 52.2 percent).

"Believe it or not, I think we are really close to fixing it and getting it done," said Bengals defensive coordinator Teryl Austin, when asked about the defense's production on third downs. "There have been some bang-bang plays where I feel like we were just a hair short, or just a hair inside or outside of where we should be. I think we have a good opportunity to fix that. ... We just have to continue to work to clean it up and get better at it each week. Once we do that, we'll start making those stops."

The Falcons lost 43-37 in overtime to the New Orleans Saints last week to fall to 1-2. They are led by QB Matt Ryan, who ranks fourth in the NFC and seventh in the NFL with a 106.5 passer rating.

The series: The Bengals lead 8-5 overall, including 3-3 as the visiting team. But the Falcons have won three of the past four meetings — at Atlanta in 2002, at Cincinnati in '06, and at Atlanta in '10.

The Bengals won the most recent meeting, 24-10 at Paul Brown Stadium in 2014.

Team bests from the series:

Bengals — MOST POINTS: 41, in a 41-31 victory at Cinergy Field in 1996. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 30, in a 37-7 win at Riverfront Stadium in 1978. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 7, in the 37-7 win in 1978.

Falcons — MOST POINTS: 39, in a 39-32 win at Atlanta in 2010. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 27, in a 30-3 Falcons win in Atlanta in 2002. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 3, in the 30-3 win in '02.

The last meetings: Summaries of the two Bengals-Falcons meetings — in 2010 at Atlanta and in '14 at Cincinnati — are on page 13 of this news release.

Records vs. Falcons: The 13 games of the Atlanta series have produced no Bengals individual or team records, nor any Bengals-opponent record by Falcons players.

The closest accomplishments on the Bengals side have been 36 completions by Carson Palmer at Atlanta in 2010 and an 86.96 completion percentage (20-23) by QB Turk Schonert at Cincinnati in 1984. Both of those marks rank third in Bengals history. The top individual Falcons performance against the Bengals has been 201 receiving yards by Roddy White at Atlanta in 2010. That's the fourth-most ever for a Cincinnati foe.

Bengals' red-zone streak a league best: The Bengals have come away with points on their last 29 trips to the red zone dating back to last season, the longest current streak in the NFL ahead of New England (25) and Baltimore (21). Cincinnati has scored TDs on 21 of those 29 trips.

Here are the longest current streaks of red-zone drives that resulted in points.

THE HEAD COACHES

Marvin Lewis in 2018 extends his Bengals-record head coaching tenure to 16 seasons, twice that of Paul Brown (1968-75) and Sam Wyche ('84-91), who are tied for second with eight seasons each.

Lewis has 127 career victories, the most in Bengals history by a margin of 63 over Wyche (64). His record is 127-113-3 in the regular season and 127-120-3 including postseason.

The Bengals' 65-45-2 record over the last seven regular seasons (2011-17) gave the team a .589 winning percentage for that span, ranked sixth in the NFL.

Lewis has led his teams to the postseason seven times, including a five-year run from 2011-15. The total number of playoff trips and the five-year streak of consecutive appearances are Bengals records, and the Bengals were one of only four NFL teams to reach the playoffs every year from 2011-15.

Lewis in 2018 ranks second among NFL head coaches in longest current tenure with one team, trailing only Bill Belichick, who is in his 19th straight season with New England. In the category of most seasons as head coach with one or more teams, Lewis ranks third among active coaches, behind Belichick (24th season in '18) and Andy Reid (20).

Lewis has developed an impressive "coaching tree" during his Bengals tenure. Five of his former assistants have become NFL head coaches, and four of those are leading teams in 2018. The list, including their teams and head coaching tenures, includes former Bengals offensive coordinators Jay Gruden (Washington, 2014-18) and Hue Jackson (Cleveland, '16-18), former defensive coordinators Leslie Frazier (Minnesota, '10-13) and Mike Zimmer (Minnesota, '14-18), and former defensive backs coach Vance Joseph (Denver, '17-18).

Lewis was the consensus choice for NFL Coach of the Year in 2009, when the Bengals won the AFC North Division while sweeping all six division games. The Bengals also were AFC North champions under Lewis in 2005, '13 and '15.

Named the ninth head coach in Bengals history on Jan. 14, 2003, Lewis started quickly. His '03 club finished 8-8, six games better than the '02 club, good for the biggest improvement in the NFL.

Lewis came to the Bengals with credentials as a record-setting NFL defensive coordinator, having played a huge role in a championship season. His six seasons (1996-2001) as Baltimore Ravens coordinator included a Super Bowl victory in '00, when his defense set the NFL record for fewest points allowed in a 16-game campaign (165). That team clipped 22 points off the previous mark. The 2000 Ravens are always an entry in discussions regarding the best NFL defensive units of all time.

In 2002, the season before he joined the Bengals, Lewis led the Washington Redskins to a No. 5 NFL defensive ranking, serving as assistant head coach as well as defensive coordinator.

He had his first NFL assignment from 1992-95, as linebackers coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. He aided the development of four Pro Bowl players — Kevin Greene, Chad Brown, Levon Kirkland and Greg Lloyd. Greene has since been inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Lewis began his coaching career as linebackers coach at his alma mater Idaho State from 1981-84. ISU's team (also nicknamed the Bengals) finished 12-1 in Lewis' first season there and won the NCAA Division 1-AA championship.

Lewis played LB at Idaho State, earning All-Big Sky Conference honors for three consecutive years (1978-80). He also saw action at quarterback and free safety during his college career. He received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Idaho State in 1981, and earned his master's in athletic administration in '82. He was inducted into Idaho State's Hall of Fame in 2001.

Born Sept. 23, 1958, Lewis attended Fort Cherry High School in McDonald, Pa. (near Pittsburgh), where he was an all-conference quarterback and safety. He also earned high school letters in wrestling and baseball. He and his wife, Peggy, have a daughter, Whitney, and a son, Marcus. Marcus Lewis joined the Bengals' coaching staff for 2014 and remains on the staff for '18.

Dan Quinn was named the sixteenth head coach in Atlanta Falcons history in 2015, taking over the club after serving as the Seattle Seahawks defensive coordinator from 2013-14. His career record is 33-23.

In 2016, Quinn guided the Falcons to their second Super Bowl in franchise history. Atlanta scored 540 points, 97 more than any other team in the league. From 2013-14, Quinn oversaw the NFL's top defensive unit as Seattle led the League allowing 270.4 yards per game, 15.2 points per game, and 178.8 passing yards per game while holding opponents to 91.6 rushing yards per game.

Quinn originally joined the Seahawks in 2009, after spending the previous six years coaching the defensive lines for the San Francisco 49ers ('03-04), Miami Dolphins ('05-06) and the New York Jets ('07-08). He previously served as the Seahawks assistant head coach/defensive line coach in 2009. He began his NFL coaching career in San Francisco as its defensive assistant in 2001 before moving on to coach the 49ers defensive line from '03-2004.

Quinn got his start coaching the defensive line at William and Mary in 1994, followed by a season at Virginia Military Institute. He held the same position with Hofstra for four seasons before being promoted to defensive coordinator in 2000.

Quinn was a four-year letter winner and two-time co-captain at Division III Salisbury (Md.) State as a defensive lineman, where he recorded 139 tackles and eight tackles for loss. He also lettered in track and held the school record in the hammer throw. He was inducted into the Salisbury State Athletic Hall of Fame in 2005.

Quinn was born on Sept. 11, 1970 in Morristown, New Jersey.

Lewis vs. Falcons: Falcons lead, 2-1

Lewis vs. Quinn: No previous meetings.

Quinn vs. Bengals: No previous meetings.

BENGALS NOTES

Six new coaches join Bengals: This season, head coach Marvin Lewis welcomes six new coaches to his staff. It marks the highest coaching turnover of Lewis' 16-year tenure at the helm in Cincinnati.

- Defensive coordinator Teryl Austin comes to Cincinnati after serving in the same role with the Detroit Lions from 2014-17. Prior to joining the Lions, he spent 10 seasons as a defensive backs coach in the NFL, including stints with the Seattle Seahawks (2003-06), Arizona Cardinals ('07-09) and the Baltimore Ravens ('11-13).

- Wide receivers coach Bob Bicknell comes to Cincinnati after spending last season (2017) as wide receivers coach at Baylor University. Bicknell has 25 years of professional and collegiate coaching experience. His pro experience includes a total of 10 seasons in the NFL as an offensive assistant coach with Kansas City (2007-09), Buffalo ('10-12), Philadelphia ('13-15) and San Francisco ('16). He also coached eight seasons in NFL Europe with Frankfurt ('98-99), Berlin ('00-03) and Cologne ('04-05). His previous collegiate experience includes seven seasons as an assistant coach at Boston University (1993-97), Temple University (2006) and Baylor ('17).

- Offensive line coach Frank Pollack comes to the Bengals from the Dallas Cowboys, where he had been an assistant coach from 2013-17. He was the Cowboys' offensive line coach from '15-17 after being promoted from assistant offensive line coach ('13-14). Prior to the Cowboys, Pollack spent one season with the Oakland Raiders as offensive line coach (2012) and five seasons with the Houston Texans as assistant offensive line coach ('07-11). Pollack began his coaching career at his alma mater Northern Arizona ('05-06). Former Bengals assistant head coach/offensive line coach Paul Alexander now is the Cowboys' offensive line coach.

- Quarterbacks coach Alex Van Pelt comes to Cincinnati from the Green Bay Packers, where he served as quarterbacks coach since 2014. He also coached wide receivers in '15, and he coached the Packers' running backs from '12-13. Prior to Green Bay, Van Pelt spent two seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as quarterbacks coach ('10-11) and four seasons on the offensive coaching staff of the Buffalo Bills ('06-09). Van Pelt started his coaching career in NFL Europe as the Frankfurt Galaxy's quarterbacks coach (2005). The Bengals QBs finished 2017 being coached directly by offensive coordinator Bill Lazor.

- Secondary/cornerbacks coach Daronte Jones joins the Bengals from the Miami Dolphins, where he was assistant defensive backs coach from 2016-17. His previous collegiate experience includes assistant coaching roles at Wisconsin (2015), Hawaii ('12-14), UCLA ('10), Bowie State ('05-09), Nicholls State ('02) and Lenoir-Rhyne ('01). He also coached defensive backs for the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League (2011). He works closely with Bengals secondary/safeties coach Robert Livingston, who served as one of two Bengals secondary coaches in 2017. Kevin Coyle, the other '17 secondary coach, did not return for '18.

- Defensive assistant/assistant defensive line coach Matt Raich comes to Cincinnati from the Detroit Lions, where he was an assistant coach from 2014-17. While with the Lions, he served as assistant defensive line coach from '16-17, defensive assistant/defensive ends in '15 and defensive quality control in '14. Raich's NFL coaching experience also includes six seasons with the Arizona Cardinals as linebackers coach ('09-12) and defensive assistant ('07-08), as well as three seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers as offensive assistant ('04-06). Raich previously held collegiate assistant coaching positions at Duquesne (2013), Robert Morris ('00-02; '96-98), Glenville State (1999) and Westminster (Pa.) College ('93-94).

It should also be noted that offensive coordinator Bill Lazor, who began 2017 as Bengals QBs coach before being elevated to offensive coordinator following Week 2, spent the '18 offseason installing his own offensive system and philosophy. Team officials and coaches have frequently referred to Lazor as a "new" coach for 2018, despite his two previous years of experience in Cincinnati.

Bengals career records watch: Here is a look at potential upcoming movement in the Bengals' career records book (regular season) this season:

- QB Andy Dalton has 23 career 300-yard passing games, tied with QB Boomer Esiason for the Bengals' all-time lead.

- Dalton also has 26,394 passing yards, 755 short of Esiason (27,149) for second place all-time. QB Ken Anderson (32,838) is the Bengals' all-time leader.

- Dalton also has 175 passing touchdowns, 12 shy of Esiason (187) for second place all-time. Anderson (197) is the Bengals' all-time leader.

- Dalton also has 3672 career passing attempts, 803 shy of Anderson (4475) for the Bengals' all-time lead. Dalton passed Esiason (3564) for second place in Game 1 at Indianapolis.

- WR A.J. Green has 31 career 100-yard receiving games, tied with WR Chad Johnson for the Bengals' all-time lead.

- Green also has 61 career receiving TDs, two shy of WR Carl Pickens (63) for second place all-time. Johnson (66) is the Bengals' all-time leader.

- Green also has 61 career total TDs, three shy of Pickens and RB James Brooks (64) for third place all-time. FB Pete Johnson (70) is the Bengals' all-time leader.

- DE Carlos Dunlap has 66.5 career sacks, 17 short of DE Eddie Edwards* (83.5) for the Bengals' all-time lead.

- DT Geno Atkins has 64 career sacks, 2.5 short of Dunlap for second place all-time. Edwards* (83.5) is the Bengals' all-time leader. Atkins passed LB Reggie Williams (62.5) for third place all-time in Game 2 vs. Baltimore.

- P Kevin Huber has 708 career punts, 38 shy of P Lee Johnson (746) for the Bengals' all-time lead. Huber passed P Pat McInally (700) for second place all-time in Game 2 vs. Baltimore.

- P Kevin Huber also has 31,968 punting yards, 228 shy of Johnson (32,196) for the Bengals' all-time lead.

NOTE: The NFL has counted sacks as official statistics since 1982. However, the Bengals have sack statistics compiled since 1976 and recognize those sacks recorded from '76-81 in its records. Thus, please note that, because the NFL has sacks statistics for all teams only since 1982, the Bengals' sack statistics for players whose careers included seasons prior to '82 will not be included in league information.

Marvin's youth movement 2.0: At an average age of 25.38 years old, the Bengals' roster on opening week this season was the youngest in the 16-year tenure of head coach Marvin Lewis, narrowly edging out last year's roster (25.45). Cincinnati also ranked as the second-youngest team in the NFL behind Cleveland (25.19), and came in well below the league average of 26.06. (Opening-week roster information, released each year by the NFL, is considered the baseline for comparing year-to-year roster information.)

The average age dipped this year thanks to seven picks from April's draft making the roster and the departures of veterans like CB Adam Jones, WR Brandon LaFell and S George Iloka. The Bengals' opening-week roster in 2017 ranked as the third-youngest in the NFL, behind Cleveland (24.17) and the L.A. Rams (25.11). Prior to 2017, Lewis' next-youngest opening-day rosters were in 2004 (25.7) and '11 (25.74).

Also on opening day, 35 of Cincinnati's 53 players were 25 years old or younger, compared to just 23 players in Week 1 last year. This year's total marks the most players 25 or younger ever on a Bengals opening-day roster, edging out the 1993 squad (34).

But perhaps the most telling sign of the youth movement is this — QB Andy Dalton and WR A.J. Green, who just a few short years ago were the faces of Cincinnati's young offensive core, are currently the oldest players on the Bengals' offense (both 30 years old).

25 points does the trick: Since 2011, the rookie season of both QB Andy Dalton and WR A.J. Green, the Bengals own a 42-1-2 record (.956) when scoring 25 or more points. Only Miami has a better winning percentage, at .968 (30-1-0), when topping the 25-point mark over that span.

The Bengals are already 2-0 when scoring 25 or more in 2018, after winning 34-23 in each of their first two games.

Here are at the top five teams in the NFL since 2011, in terms of winning percentage, when hitting the 25-point plateau.

TEAM	WINS	LOSSES	TIES	WINNING PCT.
Miami Dolphins	30	1	0	.968
Cincinnati Bengals	42	1	2	.956
Arizona Cardinals	34	3	0	.919
New England Patriots	71	7	0	.910
Denver Broncos	50	6	0	.893

Three Bengals hail from Queen City: The Bengals this season have three players — LB Preston Brown, DE Sam Hubbard and P Kevin Huber — who grew up in Greater Cincinnati.

Brown, who grew up in College Hill and attended Northwest High School, is in his first year with the Bengals, after spending his first four NFL seasons with the Buffalo Bills. His 504 tackles from 2014-17 were a league-best, and his 144 tackles last season also topped all defenders. After signing with Cincinnati as an unrestricted free agent in March, Brown called his new opportunity “living out a dream.”

“When I started looking around (in free agency), I knew there might be a spot here,” Brown said. “And the Bengals definitely jumped to the top of my list when I found out they had interest in me as well.”

Hubbard, a Moeller High School alum, is in his rookie season, after a standout career at Ohio State. The Bengals selected Hubbard in the third round (77th overall) of April’s draft, and the rookie has already worked his way into the defensive line rotation.

“It’s insane,” Hubbard said of being drafted by his hometown Bengals. “Seeing that 513 area code pop up on my phone on draft day was just incredible. To get an opportunity to represent the city of Cincinnati one more time, and to do it for the pro team in this city, is a dream come true. I watched every game the Bengals played. I was there when Carson Palmer got hurt in the playoff (in the 2005 season). I’ve just always been a big fan.”

Huber, an Anderson Township native and alum of McNicholas High School and the University of Cincinnati, was a fifth-round draft choice of the Bengals in 2009. He has played in all but two games over his 10-year career in Cincinnati, and he currently stands as the Bengals’ career leader in both gross (45.2) and net (39.9) punting average.

“It’s already been an amazing nine years,” he said of his time in Cincinnati. Huber and his wife, Mindi, have been active in the local community throughout his Bengals career. The couple started their own charity, The Foundation for Underserved Rescues, which “provides resources and support to underserved Cincinnati-area animal rescues.”

Geno aims for another crown: Bengals DT Geno Atkins has gotten off to a strong start this season, with a team-high three sacks through the Bengals’ first three games. Through three weeks, Atkins’ three sacks rank tied for sixth in the NFL. He’s also in a five-way tie for second place among all NFL interior defensive linemen, with San Francisco’s DeForest Buckner (3.5) leading holding a slight edge.

Last season, Atkins finished with the most sacks of any NFL interior defensive lineman (nine), marking the third consecutive season and fifth time in eight years he’s finished in at least a tie for the top spot. He claimed the honor outright in 2012 (12.5 sacks), ’16 (nine) and ’17 (nine), while sharing it in ’11 (7.5) and ’15 (11).

Late last year, Atkins was selected to his sixth Pro Bowl in eight seasons. Those six selections are the most of any Bengals defensive lineman in team history — no other DL has had more than two — and he’s now tied with CB Lemar Parrish for the most selections by a Bengals defensive player (six). He currently stands at 64 career sacks, the most by a Bengals interior lineman and third overall.

On Aug. 28, the Bengals signed Atkins to a contract extension that runs through the 2022 season.

Geno on HOF pace: Bengals DT Geno Atkins, who this year is playing his ninth NFL season, currently stands at 64 career sacks, third in team history and the most ever by a Bengals interior defensive lineman.

But a closer look reveals that Atkins is on a Hall-of-Fame pace. Only three DTs in NFL history had more sacks through their first eight seasons than Atkins’ 61 — John Randle (85.5), Warren Sapp (72) and La’Roï Glover (61.5). Randle and Sapp are in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

It should also be noted that Atkins missed nearly half of the 2013 season, due to a torn ACL.

Here’s a look at the sack totals of notable Hall-of-Fame DTs through their ninth seasons, as well as where they stood at the end of their careers. (NOTE: This list includes only DTs whose careers started after 1982, when the NFL began counting sacks as official statistics.)

NAME	YEARS ACTIVE	THRU 9 SEASONS	CAREER SACKS
John Randle.....	1990-2003.....	96	137.5
Warren Sapp.....	1995-2007.....	77	96.5
Geno Atkins.....	2010-present.....	64*	64*
Cortez Kennedy.....	1990-2000.....	50.5	58

*NOTE: Atkins is playing his ninth season in 2018.

Only A.J.: Cincinnati’s A.J. Green was selected in 2017 to his seventh Pro Bowl in seven seasons, making him the only NFL receiver since the 1970 merger to start his career with seven consecutive Pro Bowl nominations. He is also the only Bengal at any position to make the Pro Bowl in each of his first seven seasons. Only one other Bengal, WR Isaac Curtis, made it for as many as his first four seasons (1973-76).

In total Pro Bowl selections, Green’s seven selections move him ahead of WR Chad Johnson and CB Lemar Parrish (each with six) for second-most in Bengals history, behind Hall of Fame OT Anthony Munoz, who had 11.

Although he was selected last year, Green opted not to play in the Pro Bowl due to an injury. He also opted not to play in 2016, due to a hamstring injury that cut his season short after 10 games.

Green and some gold jackets: Bengals WR A.J. Green has 10 career games of at least 150 receiving yards and one TD, making him one of only six receivers to ever reach as many games through their first eight NFL seasons. Green in 2018 is playing his eighth season.

Here’s a look at the list of players with 10 or more games of 150-plus receiving yards and a TD through their first eight seasons.

PLAYER	TEAM	NO. OF GAMES
Lance Alworth.....	San Diego Chargers.....	16
Jerry Rice.....	San Francisco 49ers.....	14
Calvin Johnson.....	Detroit Lions.....	12
Torry Holt.....	St. Louis Rams.....	11
A.J. Green.....	Cincinnati Bengals.....	10
Randy Moss.....	Minnesota Vikings.....	10

A.J. finds paydirt: Bengals WR A.J. Green has 61 receiving TDs since entering the NFL in 2011, which ranks fifth in the NFL over that span. Green is one of only six players with at least 60 receiving TDs. This season, Green has four receiving TDs (tied for most in the NFL), thanks in large part to a three-TD performance in Game 2 vs. Baltimore.

Green entered 2018 with 57 receiving TDs, good for an 8.1 per-year average. It should also be noted that Green missed the final six games of 2016, due to a hamstring injury.

Here’s a look at the NFL’s leaders in receiving TDs since 2011.

Andy and A.J. stretch the field: Since entering the NFL together in 2011, QB Andy Dalton and WR A.J. Green have connected on more passes of 50 yards or longer (21) than any other QB-WR tandem in the league.

Through three games this season, Dalton and Green have yet to connect on a pass longer than 50 yards. The pair connected on three passes of 50 yards or longer in 2017 — a 50-yarder vs. Houston, a 77-yard TD vs. Buffalo and a 70-yard TD at Tennessee.

The two have started 102 of a possible 115 regular-season games together over their eight seasons.

Here's a look at QB-WR duos with the most pass plays of 50 or more yards since 2011 (regular season only).

QB	WR	TEAM	NO. OF 50+ PASS PLAYS
Andy Dalton	A.J. Green	Cincinnati	21
Aaron Rodgers	Jordy Nelson	Green Bay	19
Matthew Stafford	Calvin Johnson	Detroit	15
Matt Ryan	Julio Jones	Atlanta	15
Eli Manning	Odell Beckham	N.Y. Giants	12

Dalton aims to go eight-for-3000: A season passing total of 3000 yards is not in itself a stupendous NFL feat — 22 passers reached it in 2017, and 25 reached it the previous season. But hitting 3000 in the first seven seasons of an NFL career still is an event worth noting. Bengals QB Andy Dalton achieved just that last season, when in Game 16 vs. Detroit he broke the 3000-yard barrier for the seventh time in seven seasons (ended the season with 3320 yards). Incidentally, Panthers QB Cam Newton, who was selected first overall in the same draft the Bengals took Dalton at No. 35, also achieved the feat in the same week (Newton totaled 3302 yards).

Dalton and Newton now join cinch NFL Hall-of-Famer Peyton Manning as the only QBs in NFL history to go seven-for-3000. Manning reeled off 13 straight 3000-yarders before missing the 2011 season due to injury.

Dalton's 860 passing yards through two games this season put him on pace for 4576 through 16 games. Dalton's career high for passing yards in a season came in 2013, when he passed for a Bengals-record 4293 yards.

Dalton chasing Kenny in TDs: Although he has been held out of the end zone since 2016, QB Andy Dalton still stands at 19 total TDs for his career, just one short of the franchise record for touchdowns by a QB, held at 20 by Ken Anderson. Dalton is playing his eighth season in 2018, while Anderson played 16 Bengals seasons (1971-86).

All of Anderson's 20 TDs were rushing scores. Dalton has 18 rushing TDs, and he has 19 total by virtue of being the only Bengals QB ever to catch a touchdown pass. He scored on an 18-yard gadget connection from WR Mohamed Sanu vs. Tennessee in 2014.

The next-most TDs by a Bengals QB is 10, by Jeff Blake.

Dalton and Jack Thompson share the Bengals season record for touchdowns by a QB, at five. Dalton had five in 2014, tying the record first set by Thompson in 1979.

'Crazy Legs' Andy: QB Andy Dalton's 18 career rushing TDs not only puts him in rare company in team history, he's also among the best when compared to his current NFL peers. In the category of rushing TDs by a QB, only Carolina's Cam Newton, whose 57 rushing TDs are beyond similarity, ranks higher than Dalton since 2011. Dalton and Newton both entered the NFL in '11.

Russell Wilson (16), Tyrod Taylor (16) and Andrew Luck (14) round out the top five.

An Andy roundup: Other records and notable accomplishments in QB Andy Dalton's career include:

- He is one of only three QBs in the Super Bowl era to lead a team to the postseason in each of his first five campaigns. Dalton did that from 2011-15, while Baltimore's Joe Flacco did it from '08-12 and Seattle's Russell Wilson did it from '12-16.
- Dalton has posted 44 career games with a passer rating of 100 or more, and the Bengals are 37-7 (.841) in those contests.
- Dalton's .589 winning percentage (65-45-2) is the best of any Bengals QB with 10 or more starts.
- Dalton holds club season records for passing yards (4293) and TD passes (33), both set in 2013.
- He is the only Bengals passer to throw for 300-plus yards in four consecutive games (2013).
- He opened his career with 77 consecutive regular-season starts, a Bengals record for quarterbacks at any point during a career. The previous mark had been 61, posted by Boomer Esiason from 1985-89. Dalton's streak ranks tied for fourth in NFL history for the start of a career by a QB, trailing only Peyton Manning of Indianapolis (208), Joe Flacco of Baltimore (122) and Russell Wilson of Seattle (98 and counting). Dalton is tied with Miami QB Ryan Tannehill, whose streak of 77 ended in 2016 due to an injury.

15 carries for Gio does the trick: With Cincinnati's No. 1 HB Joe Mixon sidelined due to a knee injury, the Bengals figure to put more of their rushing workload on the shoulders of sixth-year pro Giovanni Bernard. Historically speaking, that's proven successful for the Bengals.

Cincinnati is 9-1-1 in games in which Bernard has at least 15 rushing attempts. In those 11 games, Bernard has averaged 79.0 yards, scored five rushing TDs and topped the 100-yard mark three times.

But after hitting the 15-carry plateau eight times in his first three seasons, Bernard has done so just three times since the start of 2016. His last game with at least 15 carries came in Game 15 last season vs. Detroit, when he rushed for 123 yards and a TD on 23 carries.

Last week at Carolina, with Mixon inactive, Bernard carried 12 times for 61 yards (5.1) and a TD.

Ross' preseason statement: The third preseason game is often referred to as the "dress rehearsal" for the regular season, because starters see extended action and play-calling more closely resembles what fans will see when the games start counting. On Aug. 26, Cincinnati traveled to Buffalo for their "dress rehearsal" game, which was also broadcast nationally on FOX, and they immediately made a resounding statement to the rest of the NFL: Beware of John Ross.

On the Bengals' first offensive play, QB Andy Dalton tossed a 57-yard TD to Ross. The second-year speedster left his defender in the dust with a stutter-step move, hauled in Dalton's pass at the 10-yard line, made two nifty moves to out-manuever two Bills defenders, and then glided into the end-zone.

For Cincinnati, it was less about the TD and more about the statement made on a national stage to the rest of the NFL. Ross, who famously set an NFL Combine record with a blazing 4.22-second 40-yard dash in 2017, was limited by injuries to 17 offensive snaps as a rookie and failed to record a catch. But he reported healthy to the Bengals' offseason program last spring and immediately turned heads, before later becoming the talk of training camp with a steady stream of highlight-reel plays.

"I was excited because the whole team knew about (the play call), so everybody said, 'First play we're going to score,'" Ross said of his TD at Buffalo. "Everybody was basically getting me ready, pumping me up. Then it happened. It was crazy when I got back to the sideline, everybody was so excited. The finish was the best part, so for me to be able to go out there and do that is amazing."

Added Dalton: "I said in the huddle it was going to be a touchdown. I said on the sidelines before the game it was going to be a touchdown. I'm glad it happened that way."

Even the always-modest A.J. Green candidly told reporters after the game that he cut his route off short so he could watch the play. "You've seen what he can do with the ball in his hands. He's very electric," Green said. "It was great for him just to get in the end-zone and get his feet wet. I was very happy for him."

Ross' first career catch came in Week 1 at Indianapolis, and it went for a three-yard TD. The catch occurred on the same field where Ross set the 40-yard dash record at the NFL Combine, just feet from the starting line.

Lawson tops rookies in sacks in 2017: Last season as a rookie, Bengals DE Carl Lawson proved to be not only one of the most promising young defensive players on the Bengals' roster, but also across the entire NFL. Lawson ended his first NFL season with 8.5 sacks, the most among all rookies, topping Cleveland DL Myles Garrett and Pittsburgh LB T.J. Watt, who had 7.0 apiece. Among all players, Lawson finished in a tie for 25th, with Arizona LB Chandler Jones leading the way at 17.0.

Lawson, who was officially moved to DE this year after spending his rookie season listed as a LB, finished 2017 with at least a shared sack in seven games, including two multi-sack efforts. The highlight of his stellar rookie season came in Game 3 at Green Bay, when he registered 2.5 sacks, the most by a Bengals rookie in a game since Justin Smith on Dec. 9, 2001 vs. Jacksonville (three).

Lawson has also showed a knack for making sacks in key moments. In Game 7 vs. Indianapolis last season, his seven-yard sack of Jacoby Brissett on the Colts' final drive, as they were looking to get into range for a potential game-winning FG, helped secure a Bengals victory. And on Dec. 24 vs. Detroit, Lawson's nine-yard sack of Matthew Stafford on fourth-and-15 with one minute remaining in the game ended the Lions' comeback hopes and turned the ball back over to the Bengals.

Carl falls short of Carlos' rookie record: DE Carl Lawson's impressive rookie campaign in 2017 entered rare Bengals territory late in the season. Going into the final game, Dec. 31 at Baltimore, his 8.5 sacks stood just one shy of DE Carlos Dunlap's rookie record of 9.5, set in 2010.

But after being held without a sack in the finale, Lawson finished in a tie for second on the Bengals' rookie sack list, matching DE Justin Smith's 8.5 in 2001.

In 2010, Dunlap played in only 12 games — inactive for four of the first five contests — and didn't record a sack until the team's ninth game (Nov. 14 at Indianapolis). He finished the season on a tear though, recording at least a half sack in seven of the last eight games, including four multi-sack efforts.

Lawson, on the other hand, started hot, with a 2.5-sack effort in just his third game. He maintained a steady pace thereafter, with at least a shared sack in seven of his 16 games.

Lawson led all NFL rookies in sacks, by a margin of 1.5 over Pittsburgh LB T.J. Watt and Cleveland DL Myles Garrett (each with 7.0). In 2010, Dunlap narrowly missed out on the rookie sack crown when Detroit's Ndamukong Suh logged his 10th sack late in the fourth quarter of the Lions' finale.

As far as quarterback pressures, Lawson's 21 QB hits in '17 topped Dunlap's rookie season total of 14.

Three Big 12 DPOYs now in stripes: The Bengals this season have three players on their roster who earned at least a share of the Big 12 Conference's Defensive Player of the Year Award in each of the last three seasons.

In 2017, LB Malik Jefferson of Texas — now a Bengals rookie — shared the award with Ogbornia Okoronkwo of Oklahoma. Jefferson racked up a team-leading 110 tackles on the season, including 10 for losses and four sacks, and posted double-digit tackles in six of his team's 12 games.

In 2016, DE Jordan Willis of Kansas State — now in his second Bengals season — won the award outright, after recording 52 tackles, including 17.5 for losses and 11.5 sacks (led Big 12 and tied school record). Willis logged at least a shared sack in eight of 13 games in his senior season of 2016, and he left KSU tied for seventh in Big 12 history in career sacks (26). As a rookie last season, Willis saw time as a rotational player (played 31 percent of defensive snaps), and totaled 25 tackles, with one sack, and a blocked punt on special teams. This season, he was two tackles, three QB hits, a pass defended and fumble recovery.

In 2015, DT Andrew Billings of Baylor — now in his third season with the Bengals — shared the award with Emmanuel Ogbah of Oklahoma State. Billings totaled 40 tackles that season, including 14 for losses and 5.5 sacks. Billings missed his entire rookie season for the Bengals in 2016 due to a knee injury, before totaling 13 tackles as a rotational player in '17 (played 29 percent of defensive snaps). This season, Billings is serving as the team's No. 1 NT.

It should also be noted that the 2014 Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, P.J. Dawson of Texas Christian, was a '15 Bengals draftee and was with the team through the '16 season.

Other former Bengals to win the award include CB Terence Newman of Kansas State (2002) and S Roy Williams of Oklahoma (2001). Newman was with the Bengals from 2012-14, and Williams was with the team from '09-10.

Dunlap's PD frenzy: Through the first three weeks of the NFL season, Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap is in a four-way tie for the league lead in passes defended, with five. Bengals CB Dre Kirkpatrick is also in that group.

The ninth-year defensive lineman is well on his way to topping his 2016 total of 15 PDs, which led all Bengals defenders and all other NFL defensive linemen. It was the first time since Cincinnati began recording defensive stats in 1976 that a Bengals defensive lineman had ever led the team in PDs.

To paint a clearer picture of just how effective Dunlap has been at batting passes, here's a list of non-defensive backs with the most passes defended since the start of the 2016 season.

PLAYER	POS	TEAM	PDs SINCE 2016
Carlos Dunlap	DE	Cincinnati	27
Alec Ogletree	LB	St. Louis/L.A. Rams/N.Y. Giants	23
Deion Jones	LB	Atlanta	23
Ryan Shazier	LB	Pittsburgh	20
Cameron Jordan	LB	New Orleans	19

Dunlap shines in big moments: Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap has started the 2018 season where he left off last year — making big plays in key moments. Here's a roundup of Dunlap's game-changing plays so far this season.

• In Game 1 at Indianapolis, with the Bengals trailing by six points late in the third quarter, Dunlap sacked Andrew Luck for an eight-yard loss. The play pushed the Colts back to the Bengals' 37-yard line and set up a 55-yard FG attempt, which Indianapolis K Adam Vinatieri left just feet short. Cincinnati's offense would take advantage of the short field on the ensuing possession, and a Joe Mixon TD put the Bengals ahead for good.

• In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, with the Ravens driving in the third quarter and trying to cut into Cincinnati's 11-point lead, Dunlap raced around a blocker and hit the arm of Ravens QB Joe Flacco as he was releasing a deep pass. The hit caused the ball to fall well short of the intended receiver and into the arms of Bengals S Shawn Williams for an INT.

• In the fourth quarter of Game 3 at Carolina, Dunlap had batted a pass on third down to force a Panthers punt, a strip-sack of Cam Newton (Panthers recovered) and a tackle for a loss. All three plays came with the Bengals trailing by seven points and attempting to mount a comeback.

Here's a look at some of Dunlap's key plays from last season, when he finished with 7.5 sacks, an INT, a FF and seven PDs.

• In Game 7 vs. Indianapolis, Dunlap made perhaps the defensive play of the year for Cincinnati, when he tipped a Jacoby Brissett pass in the fourth quarter, hauled it in and returned it 16 yards for a touchdown. The score, which came with 6:58 remaining in the game and the Bengals trailing by six, put Cincinnati on top to stay, 24-23. It was Dunlap's third career TD and second pick-six. Dunlap also recorded a sack of Brissett earlier in the contest.

• In Game 10 at Denver, he recorded two sacks of Brock Osweiler, including a seven-yarder on Denver's final drive as they were driving for a potential game-tying FG attempt. Two plays later, the Bengals forced the Broncos into a turnover on downs.

• In Game 15 vs. Detroit, he recorded a five-yard sack on Detroit's final drive, helping snuff out the Lions' last-ditch comeback effort.

• In the season finale at Baltimore, he had a key sack of Joe Flacco on Baltimore's final drive, as the Ravens attempted a potential game-winning drive.

Dunlap currently stands at 66.5 career sacks, second in team history behind DE Eddie Edwards (83.5). And at 29 years old (turns 30 after the 2019 season), Edwards' record is beginning to come into focus. Dunlap, who is playing ninth season in 2018, signed a contract extension on Aug. 28 that will keep him in Cincinnati through the 2021 season. He has averaged 8.1 sacks per season over his first eight years (2010-17) in Cincinnati, while Edwards averaged seven sacks over 12 seasons (1977-88). At his current pace, Dunlap would catch Edwards early in the 2021 season.

Dunlap has made the Pro Bowl twice — in 2015 and '16. His 13.5 sacks in 2015 were the second-most in Bengals history. Besides his 66.5 sacks, Dunlap's career totals include 17 FFs, eight FRs, 53 PDs, four blocked FGs and three TDs scored.

Gio sets sights on Brooks: HB Giovani Bernard in 2018 has re-started his long pursuit of the all-time Bengals leads in both receptions and receiving yards by a running back. With 240 receptions, Bernard stands 57 short of James Brooks' record of 297. And with 2111 receiving yards, Bernard is 901 short of Brooks' record of 3012. Brooks played eight seasons with the Bengals (1984-91), while 2018 is Bernard's sixth.

Last season, Bernard returned to action to play in every game, less than a year after suffering a torn ACL (Nov. 20, 2016 vs. Buffalo). He led the Bengals in yards per carry, at 4.4 (minimum five carries), while also adding 847 scrimmage yards and four total TDs (two receiving, two rushing), including a 61-yard catch-and-run in Game 4 at Cleveland.

Bernard averaged 1147 yards from scrimmage over his first three seasons (2013-15), before finishing with 673 scrimmage yards in his injury-shortened '16 campaign (10 games).

So far this season, Bernard has 10 catches for 51 yards.

Some very good rushing numbers: The Bengals have fallen just short of having a 100-yard rusher so far this season, with HB Joe Mixon rushing for 95 and 84 yards respectively in Games 1 and 2. Last year, the Bengals had two games in which a player reached 100 yards rushing — Game 11 vs. Cleveland, when Mixon gained 114 yards on 23 carries (5.0), and Game 15 vs. Detroit, when HB Giovani Bernard rushed for 116 yards on 23 carries (5.0).

Both of those performances came in winning efforts, bringing the Bengals' record under Marvin Lewis with a 100-yard rusher to an impressive 46-7-1 (.861). What's more, their record with a rusher who hits the 25-carry plateau is 39-2 (951). Reaching 30 rushes as a team usually spells success under Lewis as well. The Bengals were 4-1 when rushing 30 times as a team in 2017.

"It's not always the rushing yardage total that's most important," Lewis has said. "When you're running the ball a lot, it's a sign that even though the yardage will vary, you're controlling the ball, controlling the clock, and keeping your defense off the field. As it shows for us, that is going to be a winning combo."

"We love seeing a guy get 100 yards, but sometimes he can break one big gain and then get to 100 even though you may not be running as consistently well and controlling the game like you do when you get high-carry numbers."

A stat that matters: During the full term of head coach Marvin Lewis (2003-present), a plus-differential in turnovers is linked to a big plus in wins. And the reverse has gone for a minus.

The Bengals are 77-19-1 in regular season under Lewis with a plus (.799 winning percentage), but they are only 18-70-2 with a minus (.211).

"It makes a huge difference," Lewis says. "You see it game after game. You have to possess the football to win. If you possess the football, good things happen. If you turn the ball over to opponents, you have a much harder day."

The Bengals' experience with turnovers under Lewis is backed up by league numbers. Since the start of the 2003 season, Lewis' first as head coach, here are the records of teams with varying turnover differentials.

(NOTE: Minus differentials are not included because they are the exact reverse of the plus figure for the same numbers.)

DIFFERENTIAL	W-L-T	PCT.
Plus 1.....	942-441-5	.680
Plus 2.....	758-158	.828
Plus 3.....	426-40-1	.913
Plus 4.....	222-6	.974
Plus 5.....	99-3-1	.966

Plus teams so far in 2018 are 25-9-2 (.722 winning percentage).

And when it's even? The Bengals are 32-24 under head coach Marvin Lewis in games when the turnover differential has been even, for a winning percentage of .571. The Bengals have won 15 of their last 23 with an even differential (.652), dating back to 2012, including 4-2 in '17 and 1-0 in '18.

Turnover tables are turned: During the tenure of head coach Marvin Lewis (2003-present), the Bengals rank ninth in the NFL in turnover differential, at plus-41.

Prior to Lewis' tenure, the Bengals had posted a minus turnover differential for five straight years (1998-2002).

Since 2003, NFL teams with just a plus-one differential have won 68 percent of those games. At plus-two, the percentage has been 82.8. Teams with any plus have won at a 79.0 percent clip.

Here are the top nine teams in differential since 2003:

TEAM	TAKEAWAYS	GIVEAWAYS	DIFFERENTIAL
New England Patriots.....	445	278	+167
Seattle Seahawks.....	415	350	+65
Kansas City Chiefs.....	400	336	+64
Carolina Panthers.....	445	385	+60
Green Bay Packers.....	411	352	+59
Indianapolis Colts.....	385	332	+53
Baltimore Ravens.....	433	384	+49
Atlanta Falcons.....	396	348	+48
Cincinnati Bengals.....	421	380	+41

Since 2003, the Bengals rank sixth in takeaways (421) and 10th in points off turnovers (1281).

The Huber roundup: Already a considerable presence in the Bengals' record book, P Kevin Huber is set to take over first place this year in two more Bengals career punting categories.

The 10th-year pro currently stands at 708 career punts 38 short of Lee

Johnson (746) for the Bengals' all-time lead. Huber passed Pat McInally (700) for second place in team history in Game 2. McInally played 10 Bengals seasons (1976-85), while Johnson played 11 (1988-98).

Huber also figures to take over first place in career punting yards. Currently he's second with 31,968 yards, just 228 behind Johnson's record of 32,196.

A Bengals fifth-round selection in the 2009 draft, Huber has particularly excelled throughout his career at pinning opponents inside the 20-yard line.

In 2016, just his eighth season, Huber passed Johnson (186) for most inside-20 punts in team history. He's now up to 243 career inside-20 punts.

Huber also owns the franchise's all-time best ratio of inside-20 kicks to touchbacks (4.12-to-1, with 243 inside-20s and 59 touchbacks).

Huber's other top accomplishments with the Bengals include:

- He is the franchise leader in career gross average (45.2) and net average (39.87).

- He holds the top four Bengals season averages in gross and the top five Bengals season averages in net. His gross record is 46.84, and his net record is 42.10 — both were set in 2014.

- He shares the team record for longest punt (75 yards) with Kyle Larson.

- His 33 inside-20 punts in 2012 is a single-season franchise record.

- His six inside-20 punts on Sept. 14, 2017 vs. Houston are tied with Lee Johnson (Nov. 2, 1997) for the most in a game in Bengals history.

Huber was an initial-ballot Pro Bowl selection in 2014 and also was named first-team All-Pro by The Sporting News that year.

Uniform watch: The Bengals are scheduled to wear white jerseys and black pants this week at Atlanta. Since 2004, the year of the Bengals' last significant uniform redesign, a number of color options for jerseys and pants have been available. Below are the records (regular season plus postseason) for the different combinations:

JERSEY	PANTS	W-L-T	PCT.
Orange*	Black.....	6-0-0	1.000
Orange*	White.....	15-6-1	.705
White (CR)*	White (CR)*.....	2-1-0	.667
Black	Black.....	16-12-1	.569
Black	White.....	34-33-1	.507
White	Black.....	27-30-0	.471
White	White.....	19-29-0	.396

* — The NFL this season implemented a new rule, which states teams may wear designated alternate jerseys, color rush (CR) uniforms and/or throwback uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. Orange will continue to be designated as the Bengals' alternate jersey, and the team will again use their color rush uniforms (white jersey, white pants) that debuted in 2016. Cincinnati does not have a throwback uniform.

Bengal bites: Marvin Lewis' winningest month has been November (33-26-1, .558), followed closely by September (29-24-0, .547). His teams are also above .500 in December/January (38-33-0, .535 [regular season]). Lewis' only losing month has been October (27-30-2, .475) ... The attendance of 91,653 on Oct. 9, 2016, at Dallas was the largest ever for a Bengals regular-season game, topping a house of 87,786 for a 2004 visit to FedEx Field in Washington. The largest crowd for any Bengals game remains 92,045, for a 1990 season playoff game against the Los Angeles Raiders at the L.A. Coliseum ... The tallest Bengal is DE Michael Johnson, who is 6-7 ... There is a tie for shortest Bengals player between K Randy Bullock and HB Giovanni Bernard, who are both 5-9 ... There is a tie for the heaviest Bengals player between OT Cordy Glenn and DT Josh Tupou, who are both 345 pounds ... There is a tie for lightest Bengals player between WR John Ross and CB Darius Phillips, who are both 190 pounds ... The oldest Bengal is LS Clark Harris, who is 34 (born July 10, 1984) ... The youngest Bengal is HB Mark Walton, who is 21 (March 29, 1997).

BENGALS QUOTES

Former Bengals WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh, on WR John Ross (Houshmandzadeh and Ross worked together in the 2018 offseason):

"The quarterback says, 'Set, hut!' and he's gone. He's not just fast. He's quick. He's got good lateral quickness. And he's got some size. He's bigger than you think. He's 5-11 and 190 (pounds). He's short, but he's not small. He's got some thickness to him."

HB Joe Mixon, on the progression of WR John Ross after an injury-filled rookie season:

"I really feel like John (Ross) is going to come out strong in this offense. I would bet on it. John is a gifted athlete — very, very talented — and I feel like he's going to have something in store for us."

Mixon, on the Bengals' new-look offense:

"The offense can be very dynamic. It can be one of the best in the NFL. Everybody's got to come show up to work each and every day. No matter how good the team is, if the chemistry is there, everything is going to fall into (place). I really feel like we can be one of the very best (offenses) in the NFL because the talent we have is unbelievable."

Bengals RBs coach Kyle Caskey, on Mixon:

"He's a very disciplined runner right now, and a very disciplined student. He's grown up. As a rookie (last year), he really didn't know what he was getting himself into at times. Now, he has been through it. He has a different mindset now than he had then. He really has taken ownership of where he's at on the team at this point."

Offensive coordinator Bill Lazor, on HB Giovanni Bernard:

"To me the guy is a warrior. Coming off the knee surgery two years ago and what he did last year, I just think he's a warrior. He really is physically unique being able to do what he does with his stature — to play the way he plays. He finishes runs, he doesn't run out of bounds, and he doesn't go down easily. He's a warrior. I have great respect for him."

Lazor, on the ability of G/C Trey Hopkins to play both guard and center:

"He's obviously helped us have success before as a guard. I think it's a great credit to him that, when he did come in (at center in Game 2), we had no communication problems and we had no snap problems. One of the first things the center has to do before he has to worry about blocking the nose guard is get the calls right and get the snap, and he did that. That was a great credit to him. We have a lot of faith in Trey. He's helped us play winning football before."

OT Bobby Hart, on negative news reports about his time with the N.Y. Giants, Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis, and why he signed with Cincinnati:

"It's frustrating seeing all those things about you that you know are not true. The main thing I took from (Marvin Lewis) is he's not just blowing smoke. You can just feel the genuine aspect coming from him. When you get labelled those things, you start to develop a wall — a shield, where you block people out and don't let people in. But when you talk to him and you feel how genuine he is, that wall just comes down. You just listen to him and you can feel he cares."

WR John Ross, on TE Tyler Eifert:

"He draws so much attention. And then when I draw attention, he's wide open. He's just a big-play guy. Whenever he's in the game, you have to hold your breath. He's going to make a play."

QB Andy Dalton, on WR Tyler Boyd getting open during scrambles:

"He does a great job with reacting once I'm out of the pocket. I think for him at that point, it ends up being backyard football — just go get open. He does a great job of that. He understands the game really well, and he understands what we are trying to do, so it's natural for him, and it shows on those plays."

WR Tyler Boyd, on connecting with QB Andy Dalton on scrambles:

"We always work on the scramble drill. When I see him (Dalton) rolling out, I have to find an open space on the field. Andy does a great job escaping the pocket and finding open targets."

Dalton, on WR A.J. Green:

"If he's not in there, he's watching the other guys, and if he sees something he thinks he can give them help with, he'll do it. It's his personality. He's not going to be outspoken or looking to get noticed doing it. He has the guys' respect. Not only is he the best player on this team, but he's also one of the best players in the NFL."

DE Carlos Dunlap, on the Bengals' defensive line:

"We want to lead the league in sacks, whatever number it takes. We definitely have the depth. This is one of the few times we've had this many guys that can get after it. I remember back in 2012, the young guys were coming in as the pass rushers. Now they're the starters and we have young guys again coming in to rush — guys like Carl Lawson and Jordan Willis, plus Sam Hubbard is going to be a really good addition to the rotation. This is one of the best D-lines I've been a part of, pass rushing wise."

DE Michael Johnson, on team drafting defense, including a defensive end in the third round:

"Competition breeds excellence. And I'm all for it. The more competition we can have, the better. It's only going to make us better. The chips fall where they may. I'm excited for this year. We took a lot of defensive guys, so apparently we're trying to get better on defense. We had some flashes last year. We had a lot of different lineup changes throughout the season, but even with that I feel like we've got a lot to build on. The motto this year is 'build it better,' so I guess that's part of that process. I'm excited to get everybody in and get to working and just get better so we can be a dominant defense like we have the ability to be."

Head coach Marvin Lewis, on DE Sam Hubbard:

"He has been way ahead of the curve. We're just excited about that. He's going to really complement and add to our football team right away. I'm just excited because he's probably out here a little mature beyond his years right now. ... He'll be part of our rotation in the defensive line group. That's what I see for him looking into the future, very early, right away this year. That's what we were looking for when we picked him."

DE Carl Lawson, on the Bengals' young defensive line:

"We definitely feed off each other, and I hope, when we get into the regular season, we'll be able to have that rotation. The best teams in the league have a good rotation where guys aren't getting tired and there isn't a dropoff when guys go in or come out. I think we have that here. Hopefully, we carry that into the season."

Baltimore Ravens QB Joe Flacco, on DT Geno Atkins, DE Carlos Dunlap and the Bengals' defensive line:

"Their front seven is really good. Geno Atkins is arguably the best at his position. Carlos Dunlap is a monster — he deflects balls, he gets to the quarterback and pins his ears back. They don't rely on pressure by blitzing a lot. They rely on those guys to get to the passer."

DT Geno Atkins, on being an older leader on the defensive line:

"I embrace them. I used to be one of those young guys coming in and having veterans like Domata Peko, Robert Geathers and Tank Johnson to help me along the way. Now it's come full circle. Now I am doing the same thing by helping them. If I make them better, it's going to help the team in the long run. If everybody gets better, the team wins."

Atkins, after signing a contract extension in August that keeps him in Cincinnati through the 2022 season:

"They are the team that drafted me. I love this city and the organization. It's something to have legacy here. I think it's important to finish where I started. We have unfinished business here. Carlos (Dunlap, who also signed an extension) and I want to bring a Super Bowl to Cincinnati."

Atkins, on the relation between age and career length in today's NFL:

"I don't really consider age honestly, with today's sports science, advancements in how to take care of your body, and all of the knowledge that goes into what we do now with modalities. The training staff helps to try to keep us fresh for game day with their cold tubs, hot tubs, NormaTec (compression) and (electrical) stimulation. I think age isn't even a factor any more. Guys now can continue their career — barring any injuries — until their mid-30s."

Defensive coordinator Teryl Austin, on DE Sam Hubbard during team's minicamp in June:

"The first thing is, I think he's a really smart football player. He's picked up the things that we are doing technique-wise and scheme-wise, and he's doing a really good job of applying them. ... I am excited about Sam and the prospects of the type of player he will be. I think he has a chance to be a really good player — a solid player. He's one of those guys that you know what you are going to get day in and day out, and when you are trying to call a defense and put a defense together, it's important to know the pieces you have. I think he can be a really solid piece in the years to come."

Austin, on S Jessie Bates:

"When we watched video of him playing in college, we knew he had really good movement and range. He was really good at getting around the ball. The biggest question was how he would be as a tackler in the NFL. He has shown a willingness to tackle, and he's been a really solid tackler. He takes really good angles and gets guys down. That was the only question we needed answered, and he has answered it."

S Jessie Bates, on his development during the preseason:

"Confidence in getting in there and getting your feet wet throughout the preseason is huge. You get comfortable, not only with the coaches, but with the players on the field you are playing with. I'm a younger guy, so I have to communicate with older guys for them to feel comfortable that I know my stuff, so they can play fast as a defense."

Lewis, on CB/nickel DB Darqueze Dennard:

"Darqueze had a really strong season last year, and he has continued to grow. More importantly, he has been our quarterback on defense. He (performs) a great deal of verbal communication between the corners and safeties. It's pretty cool to see him grow in that way.

"At one point early last season, he thought playing that spot (nickel DB) was a downgrade. I said, 'No, no, no. That's the most important guy. That's the guy that's setting things in place and making a lot of decisions. He works with the corners, linebackers and the safeties.' When I told him it was the position that was always the most valuable spot wherever I have coached, I think he embraced it."

LB Vontaze Burfict, on the addition of LB Preston Brown, who signed as an unrestricted free agent in the offseason:

"I think it's going to work out well. He was the league's leading tackler last year and he's a good communicator, so in the long run, he's going to help us. I'm excited to play with him. We're both 250 (pounds), and Nick (Vigil) is the fast guy of the group. We all will scheme off of each other, guide each other and talk to each other. We'll understand what's coming before it comes."

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: With a 65-45-2 regular-season record as a starter, eighth-year pro Andy Dalton owns the top winning percentage (.589) of any Bengals QB with 10 or more starts (next-best is Virgil Carter, who was 12-10, for a .545 percentage). Dalton posted 109.7 and 107.7 passer ratings in his first two games, and for the season he is 74 of 116 for 860 yards, eight TDs and five INT (91.2 rating). In Game 3 at Carolina, Dalton passed for 352 yards, his 23rd career 300-yard game, tying him with Boomer Esiason for most in Bengals history. Dalton is the Bengals' all-time leader in career passer rating (88.8), and is second in career completions (2291), completion percentage (62.39). Last season, he and Carolina's Cam Newton joined Peyton Manning as the only NFL passers to hit 3000 passing yards in each of their first seven seasons. Dalton's 175 career TD passes against 98 INTs works out to a ratio of 1.79-1, the best in Bengals history ahead of second-place Carson Palmer at 1.54-to-1 (154-100). Dalton has posted 44 career games with a passer rating at 100 or above, and the Bengals' record in those contests is 37-7 (.841). Dalton led Cincinnati to the playoffs in each of his first five seasons (2011-15), joining Baltimore's Joe Flacco as the only QBs to do that in the Super Bowl era (Seattle's Russell Wilson has since joined that list, from '12-16). Dalton this season will be backed up by Jeff Driskel, a third-year player who has spent the last two seasons with the Bengals. Last season, Driskel landed on Reserve/Injured after suffering a hand injury in the preseason finale. Driskel originally joined the Bengals in 2016 prior to Week 1, as a waiver acquisition from San Francisco. In college, Driskel played for Louisiana Tech in 2015, after spending his first four collegiate seasons at Florida. As a senior at Louisiana Tech, Driskel passed for 4033 yards (third in school history) and 27 TDs.

Running backs: Second-year HB Joe Mixon, a 2017 second-round pick out of Oklahoma, is Cincinnati's No. 1 HB for '18. Mixon has started his 2018 season with 236 yards from scrimmage on 44 touches — 38-for-179 and a TD rushing, six-for-57 receiving. Last year, Mixon began his rookie season as Cincinnati's No. 3 HB and was slowly worked into the rotation. And despite battling injuries late in the season, Mixon ended the 2017 as the team's leader in carries (178), rushing yards (626) and rushing TDs (four), and added 30 catches for 287 yards. In just two years of action at Oklahoma, and despite splitting time in the Sooners' backfield, he posted lofty career totals of 300 carries for 2027 yards (6.8) and 17 TDs, along with 65 receptions for 894 yards (13.8) and nine TDs. Returning for his sixth season is HB Giovani Bernard, who played in every game last year after suffering a torn ACL in November of 2016. Bernard, who was the team's 2017 Ed Block Courage Award recipient, rushed for 458 yards and two TDs on 105 carries last season, good for a team-best 4.4-yard average. He also added 43 catches for 389 yards and two TDs. Bernard ranks second in Bengals history in both receptions (240) and receiving yards (2111) by a RB, trailing only James Brooks (297 and 3012), who played seven Bengals seasons from 1984-91. In 2015, Bernard set a team record for receiving yards in a game by a RB, with 128 at Arizona. In 2014, his 89-yard TD run vs. Carolina counted as the second-longest rush in team history. In Game 3 at Carolina, Bernard started in place of the injured Mixon and rushed 12 times for 61 yards and a TD. He also added five catches for 25 yards. New to the Bengals' RBs room this year is rookie fourth-round pick Mark Walton of Miami (Fla.). Walton, who was touted by NFL scouts for his athleticism and versatility, played three seasons for the Hurricanes. In 30 career games at Miami, he compiled 2630 total yards (2006 rushing, 624 receiving) with 28 TDs (26 rushing, two receiving). As a sophomore in 2016, his only full season as starter, he rushed for the seventh-most yards (1117) and third-most rushing TDs (14) in school history. He made his NFL debut in Game 3 at Carolina, but recorded no statistics. HB Thomas Rawls was signed on Sept. 19 after injuries to Mixon and Carson. The fourth year player spent 2015-17 with Seattle, where he totaled for 1336 rushing yards and seven TDs. He was a member of the New York Jets this training camp before being released as part of final cuts.

Wide receivers: A.J. Green, who turned 30 in July, returns for his eighth season as a pro and leads a young Bengals receiving corps. Green this season has caught 16 passes for 219 yards and four TDs (tied for most in the NFL). His four TDs in the first two games were the most ever by a Bengals WR through the first two games of a season. In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, Green totaled five catches for 69 yards and three TDs, all of which came in the first half. Green suffered a pelvic injury in Game 3 at Carolina, and his status for this week's game at Atlanta is uncertain. Green was selected last year to the Pro Bowl in the initial vote for the seventh time in seven NFL seasons, making him the only WR since the 1970 merger to start his career with seven consecutive Pro Bowl nominations (he did not play in the Pro Bowl game due to injury). Green's seven Pro Bowl selections also rank second in Bengals history, behind HOF OT Anthony Munoz (11). Green stands second in Bengals history in career receptions (572) and receiving yards (8432); Chad Johnson, who played 10 Bengals seasons, is first in both categories (751 and 10,783). He has reached 1000 receiving yards in six of his seven seasons, with his injury-shortened 2016 season (10 games, 964 yards) serving as the only outlier. Green's total of 31 career 100-yard receiving games is tied with Johnson for the most in team history. Green's 10 career games with at least 150 yards and one TD are the most among active players. Third-year pro Tyler Boyd, who will turn 24 in November, suddenly finds himself as a veteran in Cincinnati's receiving corps this season. Boyd this season has caught 15 passes for 249 yards and two TDs. In Game 3 at Carolina, logged career highs in both catches (six) and receiving yards (132), and he added a 27-yard TD reception. It was Boyd's first game of 100 or more receiving yards. In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, Boyd recorded six catches for 91 yards, while also hauling in a TD. Boyd, who has played primarily as a slot receiver, was slowed by a knee injury for much of the 2017 season, but he managed to finish his season on the ultimate high note. In the 2017 season finale at Baltimore, Boyd caught a 49-yard TD on fourth-and-12 with 44 seconds remaining, putting the Bengals ahead for a dramatic 31-27 win. Boyd has also caught at least one pass in all 29 of his games played. The player with perhaps the most anticipation surrounding him is second year WR John Ross, the Bengals' first-round pick (ninth overall) in the 2017 draft. Ross has five catches for 27 yards and a TD so far this season. Ross' first career catch came in Game 1 at Indianapolis, and it went for a three-yard TD. Ross gained notoriety in the pre-draft process when at the 2017 NFL Combine he ran a blistering 4.22-second 40-yard dash, considered to be the fastest in the history of the combine's marquee event. As a rookie though, Ross was slowed by shoulder and ankle injuries. He saw only limited time in three games, before being placed on Reserve/Injured in early December. Ross participated in the Bengals' offseason program and was a full participant in training camp. Another second-year WR looking to make a major sophomore jump is Josh Malone. Last season, Malone was eased into playing time, and saw action in 11 games (seven starts), with six catches for 63 yards and a TD. Malone, considered a deep-ball threat, averaged a school-record 19.4 yards per reception in 2016 at Tennessee. Returning for a third Bengals season is Alex Erickson, a 2016 college free agent signee of the Bengals, has served as the team's No. 1 PR and KOR since his rookie season. As a rookie in 2016, Erickson averaged an AFC-best 27.9 yards (second-best in team history) on punt returns. On Sept. 8, Erickson signed a two-year contract extension that lasts through the 2020 season. Also returning is WR Cody Core, a third-year player out of the University of Mississippi who saw extended time on offense as a rookie in 2016 after Green was lost for the season due to injury. Core, who is considered a key player on special teams, was inactive for Games 1-2 due to a back injury. New this season is WR Auden Tate, a seventh-round Bengals draft selection out of Florida State. At 6-5, 228 pounds, Tate is a big-bodied, sure-handed receiver known for his proficiency in the red zone — 15 of his 16 career TD catches at FSU came from the 20-yard line or closer.

Tight ends: Tyler Eifert returns to the Bengals in 2018 after missing most of the last two seasons with back and ankle injuries. When healthy, Eifert has proven to be one of the top TEs in the league. Eifert so far this season has caught 11 passes for 141 yards. In 2015, his last healthy season, Eifert scored 13 TDs, the most ever by a Bengals TE and one short of the overall NFL lead. In Eifert's absence last season, TE Tyler Kroft stepped up to log career-highs in catches (42), receiving yards (404) and TDs (7). Last year, Kroft had two different two-TD games — Game 4 at Cleveland and Game 16 at Baltimore — making him the first Bengal with two or more multi-TD games in a season since 2015. Fellow fourth-year pro C.J. Uzomah, who also found his way to more offensive action in Eifert's absence last year, has caught six passes for 68 yards and a TD this season. Uzomah is also a key figure on the Bengals' special teams units, and last season ranked second on the team with 12 special teams tackles. Also returning this season is 2017 seventh-round pick Mason Schreck, who made a successful roster bid after a strong training camp and preseason. Schreck spent his rookie season on Reserve/Injured, after suffering a knee injury in preseason.

Offensive linemen: In March, the Bengals acquired OT Cordy Glenn in a trade with Buffalo, helping secure the LOT position with a proven and reliable veteran. The 6-6, 345-pound Glenn is in his seventh NFL season in 2018, and has played in 81 career games (80 starts). Glenn played collegiately at Georgia, where in his first three seasons he played alongside Bengals veteran LG Clint Boling. Boling, an eighth-year player in 2018, is the longest consecutively tenured lineman on the roster. Last season, Boling was one of only two Bengals to play all 962 offensive snaps. In the season's final two games, with the Bengals' starting OTs out due to injury, Boling filled in admirably as the starting LOT, helping Cincinnati to two wins. Boling also started two games at ROT in 2014. The Bengals used their first-round selection (21st overall) in April's draft on Ohio State's Billy Price, who is the team's No. 1 center this season. Price, though, suffered a foot injury in Game 2 at Baltimore, and missed Game 3 at Carolina. His status for this week's game at Atlanta is uncertain. Last year, in his first-ever season playing center, Price earned unanimous All-American honors and was named the Rimington Trophy winner as college football's top center. Price was a four-year starter for the Buckeyes — his first three seasons were at G — and his 55 career starts set a school record. A two-time captain at OSU, Price was noted by scouts for his leadership, intelligence and powerful blocking. Listed as the No. 1 RG is Alex Redmond. Redmond saw action along the OL in the final two games last season, and helped the Bengals to two wins. Last year, Redmond occasionally served as an extra defensive lineman in goal line situations. Close observers will also notice a much slimmer Redmond in 2018, as the G dropped significant weight over the offseason. Redmond is listed at 310 pounds, after being listed at 330 last season. OT Bobby Hart is listed as the Bengals' No. 1 ROT. Hart joined the Bengals over the offseason, after spending his first four seasons with the New York Giants. Hart has played in 36 career games (24 starts). Adding depth to the line is third-year pro Trey Hopkins. Hopkins was thrust into action at C in Game 2 vs. Baltimore, after Billy Price left with a foot injury. Made first career start at C Game 3 at Carolina. Hopkins has been praised by coaches for his versatility, and has lined up at all five OL positions in practice. Hopkins battled injuries throughout 2017, but managed to play in 13 games (12 starts). OT Cedric Ogbuehi, the Bengals' first-round draft selection out of Texas A&M in 2015, will also add valuable depth to the line. Ogbuehi has played in 33 career games (25 starts), however each of his last two seasons have ended prematurely due to injury. Ogbuehi saw action at both ROT and LOT in 2016 and '17. OT Jake Fisher, a second-round Bengals draft choice in 2015, adds more depth at OT. Fisher was the Bengals' No. 1 ROT in 2017, but his season ended after eight games when he was placed on the Reserve/Non-football Illness list. As a rookie in 2015, Fisher served as a "big TE" in extra-blocker formations and saw time at H-back as an injury replacement. He had a 31-yard catch in 2015 vs. San Diego in the extra-TE spot, the longest in history by a Bengals OL and longest by an NFL OL since 1988. Providing depth at G is third-year pro Christian Westerman. Westerman made his NFL debut last season in Game 15 vs. Detroit and helped pave the way for a 100-yard rushing game by HB Giovanni Bernard.

Defensive linemen: DT Geno Atkins returns for his ninth season in 2018, having signed a contract extension in August that lasts through the 2022 season. Atkins has started his 2018 campaign with three sacks through three games. He stands tied for sixth overall in sacks, and is tied for the lead among interior linemen. Last season, Atkins led the Bengals in sacks for the fourth time in eight seasons. He also led all NFL interior linemen in sacks (nine), marking the fifth time in his career he's finished in at least a share of that crown — he claimed it outright in 2012, '16 and '17, and he shared it in '11 and '15. Atkins in 2017 was voted to his sixth Pro Bowl in eight campaigns, the most ever by a Bengals defensive lineman and tied with CB Lemar Parrish for the most by a Cincinnati defender. With 64 career sacks, Atkins stands 2.5 sacks shy of teammate Carlos Dunlap (66.5) for second place in team history. Atkins passed LB Reggie Williams (62.5) for third place in Game 2 vs. Baltimore, when he had two sacks. DE Eddie Edwards is the franchise's all-time leader with 83.5. Dunlap has two sacks so far this season, and he's tied for the league lead in passes defended (five). In Game 1 at Indianapolis, his sack proved critical, as it pushed the Colts' FG attempt back to 55 yards, and K Adam Vinatieri's kick fell just feet short. In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, he hit QB Joe Flacco's arm as he attempted a pass, altering the flight of the ball and forcing an INT. In Game 3 at Carolina, he strip-sacked Cam Newton in the fourth quarter as Cincinnati attempted to rally, however Carolina recovered. Dunlap was third on the team in sacks (7.5) last season, but he was his usual playmaking self in key moments. In the fourth quarter of the Bengals' comeback win over the Colts last season, Dunlap intercepted a pass at the line of scrimmage and returned it for a TD, putting the Bengals ahead to stay. Known for batting passes at the line, Dunlap led the team in 2016 with 15 PDs, becoming the first Bengals defensive lineman to ever lead the team in that category. Dunlap's career-best 13.5 sacks in 2015 were the second-most in a season in team history, behind DE Coy Bacon's 22.0 in 1976. For his career, Dunlap has 17 FFs, eight FRs, 53 PDs, four blocked FGs and three TDs. Listed at DE this season, after spending his rookie season at LB, is Carl Lawson. Lawson recorded a team-high 3.5 sacks in preseason, including 2.5 in preseason Game 3 at Buffalo. Lawson led all NFL rookies in sacks (8.5) in 2017, and enters 2018 widely considered to be one of the NFL's best young pass-rushers. After playing 42 percent of the defensive snaps last season as a rush end, Bengals coaches have said they will look to involve Lawson more in his sophomore campaign. Lawson's 8.5 sacks in 2017 fell one short of the Bengals' rookie record of 9.5, set by Dunlap in 2010. Lawson burst onto the scene last season in Game 3 at Green Bay, when he recorded 2.5 sacks of Aaron Rodgers (another sack was negated by an unrelated penalty). Third-year pro Andrew Billings returns this season and is listed as the No. 1 NT alongside Atkins. A fourth-round Bengals draft selection in 2016, Billings missed his entire rookie season with a knee injury (meniscus tear) suffered early in the team's training camp. He returned last season to play in 15 games (seven starts), in a rotational role at NT. At RDE, veteran Michael Johnson returns for his 10th NFL and ninth Bengals season. Johnson suffered a knee injury early in Game 2 at Baltimore, and missed Game 3 at Carolina. Johnson's status for this week's game is uncertain. Johnson, the Bengals' 2017 nominee for the Walter Payton Man of the Year Award, was originally a third-round Bengals draft pick in 2009. He spent his first six seasons in Cincinnati, before signing with Tampa Bay as a UFA in 2014, and then returning to the Bengals in '15. Johnson played in 15 games last season and led the defensive line in tackles (49), with five sacks and 11 TFLs. Johnson has played in 132 of a possible 134 games (including postseason) during his Bengals tenure. Second-year DE Jordan Willis has seen increased time on defense this year, after seeing action on 31 percent of the Bengals' defensive snaps as a rookie last season. Started Game 3 at Carolina at RDE in place of the injured Johnson. Willis, a third-round draft pick out of Kansas State in 2017, totaled 25 tackles, a sack and a blocked punt as a rookie. Also seeing increased time is second-year DT Ryan Glasgow, who has 11 tackles, including one for a loss. Glasgow, however, suffered a knee injury in Game 3 at Carolina, and his status for this week's game is uncertain. Glasgow played in all 16 games as a rookie and was a regular contributor in the defensive line rotation, with 23 tackles. Cincinnati have had an increased level of anticipation this season with the debut of rookie DE Sam Hubbard, a Cincinnati native and former player at Moeller High School and Ohio State. The Bengals selected Hubbard in the third round (77th overall) of April's draft. Hubbard has eight tackles and a sack so far this season. He shined in Game 2 vs. Baltimore, when he logged his first career sack, made a TFL and was a regular contributor on defense. Hubbard has also served as a lead-blocker for the Bengals in goal line situations, and helped HB Joe Mixon to a one-yard TD in Game 1 at Indianapolis. In 40 career games at OSU, Hubbard totaled 116 tackles, including 29.5 for losses and 17 sacks. DT Josh Tupou, a 2017 CFA out of Colorado who saw action in one game as a rookie, provides depth at NT. At 345 pounds, Tupou is the heaviest Bengal on the roster and a prototypical run-stuffer.

Linebackers: New to the Bengals' LB room this season is MLB Preston Brown, a Cincinnati native (Northwest High School) who the Bengals signed in March as a UFA. Brown got his Bengals career off to a fast start in Game 1 at Indianapolis, when he snagged an INT at the Cincinnati seven-yard line on the Colts' first offensive possession. But he suffered an ankle injury against the Colts, and in Game 2 vs. Baltimore missed his first career game due to injury. Brown spent his first four seasons in Buffalo, where he played in all 64 possible games (62 starts) and accumulated an NFL-best 504 tackles between 2014-17. Brown led the NFL in tackles last season, with 144. At SLB, Nick Vigil returns after an injury-shortened 2017. Vigil leads the Bengals in tackles (32) through three games. Despite missing the final five games due to injury, Vigil finished 2017 ranked fourth on the team in tackles (77). After being selected by the Bengals in the third round of the 2016 draft, Vigil saw limited time on defense as a rookie before earning the No. 1 SLB spot in 2017 preseason. At WLB, Jordan Evans, a sixth-round Bengals draft selection in 2017, looks to build on a solid rookie season in which he started the final four games due to injuries to the starting LBs. Evans played in 15 games as a rookie and totaled 33 tackles, seeing action on 27 percent of the defensive snaps and 55 percent of special teams snaps. Evans will be filling the spot of seventh-year pro Vontaze Burfict, who will not play in the first four games of 2018 due to suspension. Originally a CFA signee of the Bengals in 2012, Burfict has become a cornerstone of Cincinnati's defense. Despite playing in only 10 games last season, Burfict totaled 69 tackles, 1.5 sacks, two PDs and a FF. He also had the Bengals' two highest single-game tackle totals — 13 on Oct. 8 vs. Buffalo, and 12 on Nov. 19 vs. Denver. Second-year LB Hardy Nickerson a 2017 CFA signee of the Bengals, has been a key contributor to the defense in Burfict's absence and is tied for second on the team in tackles (19). As a rookie last season, Nickerson played in 14 games, with two starts, and totaled 14 tackles. Veteran Vincent Rey, the longest-tenured LB on the roster, led the team in tackles (84) last season for the third time in his eight Bengals seasons. Originally a 2010 CFA signee out of Duke, Rey began his career as a core special teams player before growing his role to include regular LB duties on defense. Rey has the ability to play all three LB spots, and is considered a veteran leader on the defense. A hamstring injury last season caused Rey to miss Games 11-12, ending a streak of 108 straight games played; those were the only two games Rey has missed since his NFL debut in Game 15 of 2010. Rey holds the distinction as the only player in Bengals history to log three sacks and one INT in a game (Nov. 10, 2013 at Baltimore). Rookie Malik Jefferson of Texas, a third-round pick in April's draft, will look to add depth to the LB corps in his first NFL season. Noted by scouts for his speed and athleticism, Jefferson played three seasons at Texas and last year was named the Big 12 Co-Defensive Player of the Year after totaling 110 tackles, including 10 for losses and four sacks.

Defensive backs: Third-year pro William Jackson enters 2018 as Cincinnati's No. 1 RCB, after a strong first season of action. Jackson was the Bengals' first-round draft selection in 2016, but his rookie season was lost in training camp when he suffered a torn pectoral muscle prior to the first preseason game. Jackson burst onto the scene in 2017 though, earning increased playing time at RCB as the season progressed. He finished the season with 25 tackles and 14 PDs, including a 75-yard pick-six of Aaron Rodgers in Game 3 at Green Bay; it was only the second pick-six of Rodgers' career. Manning the LCB spot is veteran Dre Kirkpatrick, who is in his fourth season as a full-time starter. So far this season, Kirkpatrick has 13 tackles and a tie for the league lead in PDs (five). Kirkpatrick has 10 career INTs, including two returned for TDs, in 80 career games. CB Darqueze Dennard, considered the team's primary nickel DB, played in all 16 games last season and saw action on 899 snaps on defense (second on team) and 149 on special teams. The 2014 first-round pick enjoyed his best season as a pro in '17, leading the team in INTs (two) and finishing second in tackles (83). Noted for his versatility, Dennard was the only player in the secondary to start at more than one position in 2017, as his six starts included two games each at RCB, LCB and nickel DB. Dennard recorded his first-career pick-six in last season's finale at Baltimore, when he intercepted a pass at the Bengals' 11 and weaved through defenders on the way to an 89-yard return for a TD. At SS, veteran Shawn Williams is in his third season as starter. In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, Williams recorded and INT and forced a key fumble on Ravens QB Joe Flacco late in the fourth quarter, thwarting a Ravens comeback effort and helping seal a Bengals win. Williams battled injuries throughout 2017 and was limited to 11 games, but he still managed 49 tackles, one INT, three PDs and two FRs. Rookie S Jessie Bates, the Bengals' second-round draft pick, takes over the No. 1 FS position, after the release of veteran S George Iloka on Aug. 19. Iloka had held the No. 1 FS spot since 2013. In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, Bates recorded his first career INT, when on the first drive he picked off Ravens QB Joe Flacco and returned it 21 yards to help set up a Bengals TD. He is tied for second on the team with 19 tackles. In three seasons at Wake Forest, Bates totaled 179 tackles, including nine for losses, with six INTs, nine pass breakups and two FFs. Third-year pro Clayton Fejedelem was the hero of Game 1 at Indianapolis, when he forced a fumble on Colts TE Jack Doyle, recovered it and returned it 83 yards for a game-sealing TD. The play came with 24 seconds left in the game, as the Colts were driving for a possible game-winning TD. Fejedelem saw extended time on defense last season in Williams' absence, and totaled 42 tackles and an INT. Originally a seventh-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2016, Fejedelem has become a special teams ace, and last year led the team with 16 special teams tackles. Adding depth to the Bengals' CB rotation is rookie fifth-round pick Darius Phillips. Phillips finished his career at Western Michigan as one of the top defensive/special teams playmakers in college football history, with an FBS record 12 total returns for TDs (five KOR, one PR, five INT, one FR... also had two receiving TDs). Phillips' five career pick-sixes tied for the most in FBS history. S Brandon Wilson, a sixth-round Bengals draft pick out of Houston in 2017, started his rookie season on Cincinnati's practice squad. He was promoted to the active roster in November and played in the team's final eight games. Wilson developed into a key special teamer, and finished with five ST tackles. Providing depth at CB is second-year pro Tony McRae (CB), who spent 2016 and '17 between the Bengals' practice squad and roster. McRae last season played in four games for Cincinnati, and totaled two tackles.

Special teams: Seventh-year pro Randy Bullock has started his season four-for-five on FGs and 11-for-11 on PATs. Last season, Bullock made a career-best 90 percent of his FGs (18 for 20). Bullock also made 93.9 percent of his PATs (31 of 33), his best percentage for a season since the PAT distance was moved to 33 yards in 2015. Bullock, who was acquired on waivers from Pittsburgh during the 2016 season, has NFL experience with five teams — Houston, N.Y. Jets, N.Y. Giants, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. He owns an 83.0 career percentage on FGs (105 of 127) and 96.0 percentage on PATs (139 of 145). Veteran long-snapper Clark Harris in 2017 became the first-ever Bengals LS to earn a Pro Bowl nod. Harris has been a paragon of reliability since taking over as Cincinnati's LS in 2009, with no unplayable snaps in 1318 attempts as a Bengal (704 punts and 613 placekicks). During a Pro Bowl practice last season, Harris set a new Guinness World Record for longest recorded snap at 36 yards, eight inches, breaking the previous record of 34 yards by Jase Whitner of Perrysburg, Ohio in 2017. P Kevin Huber, the longest consecutively tenured Bengal on the roster, enters his 10th season as a pro. Huber, a Cincinnati native (Archbishop McNicholas High School) and University of Cincinnati alum, originally joined the Bengals in 2009 as a fifth-round draft choice. Huber is the Bengals' career leader in both gross (45.15) and net (39.87) punting average, as well as total inside-20s (243). Huber also shares the franchise record for longest punt, at 75 yards. Huber has served as the holder on placekicks his entire career. Listed as the No. 1 PR and KOR is third-year WR Alex Erickson. As a rookie in 2016, Erickson's 27.9-yard average on KORs was tops in the AFC and the second-best mark in Bengals history. Listed as Erickson's backup at both positions is rookie CB Darius Phillips, who in college at Western Michigan had five career KORs for TDs and one PR for a TD. Also listed as backups in the return game are WR Tyler Boyd, who is listed as the third-string PR, and S Brandon Wilson, who is listed the third-string KOR. Wilson had two KORs for TDs in college at Houston. The Bengals in 2018 also return the core of their special teams coverage units, headed by S Clayton Fejedelem, who had a team-best 16 ST tackles last season, and TE C.J. Uzomah, who was second with 12. DB Tony McRae leads the team in ST tackles, with two, and also has a forced fumble.

THE LAST BENGALS-FALCONS MEETINGS

2010 SEASON
WEEK 7, GAME 6

Atlanta Falcons 39, Cincinnati Bengals 32
Sunday, Oct. 24, 2010 at Georgia Dome

The Bengals staged an exciting comeback, but in the end did not win. Down 24-3 at halftime, they struck for a FG and three TDs in the third quarter and entered the final period with a 25-24 lead. The go-ahead TD was provided by CB Adam Jones, who forced a fumble by WR Roddy White and returned 59 yards for a TD. But the Falcons responded to Jones' TD by driving 74 yards in eight plays, with White scoring on an 11-yard pass. Following a Bengals turnover, the Falcons drove 48 yards for another score and a 39-25 lead. The Bengals closed to 39-32 on WR Chad Johnson's eight-yard TD catch with 1:33 remaining, but Cincinnati did not get the ball back again until it took over on its own four-yard line with only 28 seconds to play. Johnson's TD catch was the 64th of his Bengals career, pushing him out of a tie with former WR Carl Pickens for the franchise all-time lead, and Bengals WR Terrell Owens scored his 150th NFL TD on a 19-yard reception. Atlanta's White, however, had 201 receiving yards, most against the Bengals since 1991. The Bengals fell to 2-4, while the Falcons improved to 5-2.

2014 SEASON
WEEK 2, GAME 2

Cincinnati Bengals 24, Atlanta Falcons 10
Sunday, Sept. 14, 2014 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals started slowly, missing two FGs with the score tied 3-3. But Cincinnati broke ahead 10-3 late in the second quarter, as a 91-yard drive featured a 46-yard gain by HB Giovani Bernard on a short pass and a four-yard TD run by Bernard. Bernard had 169 yards from scrimmage (90 rushing and 79 receiving). His 27 rushing attempts topped by 12 his previous career high. Two more TDs in the third quarter sealed the deal as Cincinnati went ahead 24-3. One of the TDs came on a 76-yard pass from QB Andy Dalton to WR Mohamed Sanu, as Dalton became the first Bengals QB to complete a pass of 75-plus in each of two consecutive games. A week earlier, the Falcons had won their opener in OT against New Orleans with 568 yards of offense. QB Matt Ryan had passed for three TDs and no INTs against the Saints. But the Bengals held Atlanta to 309 yards and intercepted three Ryan passes. The victory was Cincinnati's 10th straight in the regular season at home, tying a franchise record set in 1988-89. The Bengals completed a second straight game without allowing a sack or turnover on offense, marking the first time in franchise history for such a feat in Games 1-2. Cincinnati improved to 2-0 and took an undisputed one-game lead in the AFC North. Atlanta dropped to 1-1.

GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 1, GAME 1

Cincinnati Bengals 34, Indianapolis Colts 23 Sunday, Sept. 9, 2018 at Lucas Oil Stadium

The Bengals captured their first win in Indianapolis since 1997, thanks to 24 unanswered points in the second half that were punctuated by an 83-yard scoop-and-score by reserve S Clayton Fejedelem with 24 seconds left, as the Colts were attempting to drive for a game-winning TD. Fejedelem had been thrust into extended action after starting SS Shawn Williams was ejected for a personal foul penalty in the first half. The defense gave up 319 passing yards and two TDs to Colts QB Andrew Luck, who made his first start since the 2016 season. Big plays on defense by the Bengals were key. In addition to Fejedelem's FR, LB Preston Brown had an INT at the Cincinnati seven-yard line on the Colts' first drive, and DE Carlos Dunlap sacked Luck at the end of the third quarter to push a Colts FG attempt back to 55 yards (Colts K Adam Vinatieri's attempt fell short). On offense, QB Andy Dalton posted a 109.7 passer rating, his highest in 10 games while HB Joe Mixon had 149 yards from scrimmage (95 rushing, 54 receiving) and a TD.

WEEK 2, GAME 2

Cincinnati Bengals 34, Baltimore Ravens 23 Thursday night, Sept. 13, 2018 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals scored 28 first-half points, including TD passes by QB Andy Dalton on four of the team's first five possessions, and then held on late for the win. Three of Dalton's TDs went to WR A.J. Green, who had the first three-TD game of his decorated career. The Bengals held the Ravens without a sack despite 42 pass attempts by Dalton, who finished with a 107.7 passer rating. The Bengals' defense allowed 425 total yards, but it had four sacks and three takeaways. S Shawn Williams made perhaps the game's biggest play when he sacked Ravens QB Joe Flacco and forced a fumble the Bengals recovered with 2:52 left. K Randy Bullock's ensuing 40-yard FG extended the Bengals' lead to 11 and secured the win. The Bengals improved to 2-0, while the Ravens fell to 1-1.

WEEK 3, GAME 3

Carolina Panthers 31, Cincinnati Bengals 21
Sunday, Sept. 23, 2018 at Bank of America Stadium

The Bengals were minus-four in turnovers and surrendered 230 net rushing yards to the Panthers, including 184 to RB Christian McCaffrey. Panthers QB Cam Newton accounted for all four Carolina TDs (two rushing, two passing), despite being held to just 150 yards through the air. Several key Bengals were inactive due to injuries, including HB Joe Mixon (knee), C Billy Price (foot), RDE Michael Johnson (knee) and LB Preston Brown (ankle). In addition, during the game itself, WR A.J. Green (pelvis) and DT Ryan Glasgow (knee) both left in the second half with injuries. Andy Dalton passed for 352 yards and two TDs, but three of his four INTs resulted in 17 Panthers points. WR Tyler Boyd led Cincinnati with a career-high 132 receiving yards and a TD, while TE Tyler Eifert, who battled injuries much of the last two seasons, recorded his most receptions (six) and receiving yards (74) in a game in nearly two years. The Bengals fell to 2-1 but kept a share of the lead in the AFC North, while Carolina improved to 2-1.
