WEEKLY NEWS RELEASE

AUG. 19, 2024

INDIANAPOLIS COLTS (1-1) AT CINCINNATI BENGALS (0-2)

PRESEASON FINALE
THURSDAY, AUG. 22
AT PAYCOR STADIUM

UP NEXT: REGULAR-SEASON OPENER
SEPT. 8 VS. NEW ENGLAND

GAME INFORMATION

Kickoff: 8 p.m. Eastern.

Television: The game will be streamed live on Prime Video. In Cincinnati, it also will air live on WXIX-TV (FOX Ch. 19). Broadcasters are Al Michaels (play-by-play), Kirk Herbstreit (analyst) and Kaylee Hartung (sideline reporter).

Radio: The game will air on the Bengals Radio Network, led by Cincinnati flagship stations WCKY-AM (1530) and WEBN-FM (102.7). Broadcasters are Dan Hoard (play-by-play) and Dave Lapham (analyst).

Setting the scene: The Bengals conclude their preseason slate on Thursday night when they host the Indianapolis Colts at Paycor Stadium.

Cincinnati dropped its first two preseason contests, with a 17-14 home loss to Tampa Bay on Aug. 10 followed by a 27-3 defeat at Chicago on Aug. 17. Though penalties and turnovers contributed to a disappointing afternoon at Soldier Field, Bengals head coach Zac Taylor remained encouraged by what his team drew from the entire week, which included a joint practice at the Bears' training facility in Lake Forest, Ill., on Thursday.

"I thought it was great from a team building standpoint," Taylor said. "The team spent a lot of time together over the nights, the rookie show, team meetings, things like that. So, I was pleased with how it turned out. We got good work. It wasn't always great production necessarily, but I thought the things that came up gave us a lot to talk about and a lot to learn from. It will help us moving forward, so I thought it was a really good trip."

The Bengals outgained the Bears in the first half of Saturday's showdown and drove the ball into Chicago territory on four of their first six possessions. But 25 yards worth of offensive penalties during that stretch coupled with a pair of INTs thrown by starting QB Logan Woodside hindered Cincinnati's chances to put points on the board, and a 10-3 halftime lead for the Bears ballooned to 24-3 late in the third quarter.

While Chicago's offense found a rhythm in the second quarter that produced points on five consecutive drives, it was the Cincinnati defense that opened the game with the upper hand. The Bengals' defensive starting lineup, which consisted mostly of players listed at second-string on the current depth chart, forced three straight three-and-outs against a Bears offense that featured presumed starters, including the No. 1 overall pick in this year's draft, QB Caleb Williams. Cincinnati limited Williams to two completions on six attempts in those early possessions, capped off by a pass defended by rookie CB Josh Newton that led to a third Bears punt.

"I thought they did a great job," said Taylor on the defense's early performance. "Three three-and-outs — that's an excellent job, giving the offense opportunity there. We did some good things on offense after that, but we just couldn't finish the drives."

The Bengals returned to Cincinnati on Saturday night having to quickly turn their attention to a short week that not only features Thursday's game against Indianapolis, but also includes another joint practice with the Colts on Tuesday at the Kettering Health Practice Fields. Both days serve as final opportunities for numerous players as they aim to crack the final roster. Cincinnati will cut down from 89 to 53 players on Tuesday, Aug. 27, just 12 days ahead of the regular-season opener on Sunday, Sept. 8 against New England at Paycor Stadium.

The series: Indianapolis leads 20-13 overall (18-13 regular season, and 2-0 postseason), but the Bengals have won three of the past four meetings.

The Colts franchise was in Baltimore prior to 1984. Overall, the Bengals were 4-5 against the Baltimore Colts and now stand 9-15 against the Indianapolis Colts.

The Bengals lead the Colts 16-12 in preseason play. Cincinnati holds an 8-7 edge at home, and a 8-5 record as the visiting team. The Colts, however, have won the last four preseason meetings, including a 13-6 victory in 2019 in Cincinnati.

From 1992-2019, the Bengals and Colts played every year in preseason except 2000. All 28 preseason games between the two franchises have taken place since the Colts moved to Indianapolis from Baltimore.

The Bengals and Colts are not scheduled to meet in the 2024 regular season.

Complete Bengals-Colts preseason results are on page 205 of the Bengals' 2024 media guide, with regular-season/postseason results on page 202.

Bengals career records watch: As the 2024 campaign approaches, here is a look at potential upcoming movement on the Bengals' career records lists (regular season):

- QB Joe Burrow has 1895 career passing attempts, 326 shy of QB Jeff Blake (2221) for fifth all-time. QBs Ken Anderson (4475), Andy Dalton (4449), Boomer Esiason (3564) and Carson Palmer (3217) hold the top four spots on the team's career list.

• Burrow has 14,083 passing yards, 1051 shy of Blake (15,134) for fifth all-time. Anderson (32,838), Dalton (31,594), Esiason (27,149) and Palmer (22,694) hold the top four spots.

• Burrow has 19 games with 300 or more passing yards, tied with Anderson for third-most all-time and four shy of Esiason (23) for second. Dalton (28) is the team's record holder in the category.

• WR Ja'Marr Chase has 29 career receiving TDs, 12 shy of WR Eddie Brown (41) for fifth all-time. WRs Chad Johnson (66), A.J. Green (65), Carl Pickens (63) and Isaac Curtis (53) hold the top four spots.

• Chase has 14 games with 100 or more receiving yards, four shy of WR Cris Collinsworth (18) for fifth all-time. Green (33), Johnson (31), Curtis (20) and Pickens (19) hold the top four spots.

• DE Trey Hendrickson has 39.5 sacks as a member of the Bengals, 19.5 shy of DE Ross Browner (59.0) for fifth all-time. DE Eddie Edwards (83.5), DE Carlos Dunlap (82.5), DT Geno Atkins (75.5) and LB Reggie Williams (62.5) hold the top four spots.

• K Evan McPherson has an 83.9 career FG percentage (78 made/93 att.), the third-highest mark in team history. K Shayne Graham (86.8 percent; 177/202) and Randy Bullock (84.9 percent; 90/106) hold the top two spots.

Uniform watch: The Bengals are slated to wear white jerseys, white pants (black stripes) and black socks this week against Indianapolis. The most commonly used combination for Cincinnati over the past three seasons, it has been worn 14 times (regular season and postseason), and led to an 8-6 Bengals record.

The Bengals unveiled new uniforms prior to the 2021 campaign, marking the team's first significant redesign since 2004. Cincinnati wore eight different uniform combinations during the 2023 season, with three different jerseys, three pants and three socks featured at least once.

NFL rules allow teams to wear designated alternate jerseys and/or color rush (CR) uniforms and/or throwback uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. In 2022, with the league's approval for the use of alternate helmets, Cincinnati introduced a new helmet branded as the "White Bengal," featuring a white base coat and the team's iconic black stripes. The Bengals have worn the helmet four times — twice in 2022 and twice in '23 — and collected a 4-0 record. The team announced last week that the White Bengal helmet will return in Week 8 of the 2024 campaign, in a 4:25 p.m. contest against the Philadelphia Eagles on Oct. 27.

Here is a look at all of the Bengals' records in every possible uniform combination (regular season and postseason only) since the team redesigned the uniform in 2021:

Table with 6 columns: JERSEY, PANTS (STRIPES), SOCKS, HELMET, W-L-T, PCT. Lists various uniform combinations and their win-loss-tie records and percentages.

* — NFL rules allow teams to wear designated alternate and/or color rush (CR) and/or throwback uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. The Bengals' designated alternate uniform includes an orange jersey with one of the team's primary pants. The Bengals do not have a throwback uniform.

^ — The league permitted teams to create alternate helmets for the 2022 season. However, teams were required to wear those alternate helmets only with alternate, throwback or color rush uniforms that season. The Bengals donned their new alternate white helmet in 2022 with their color rush jersey, which at the time had not been worn since '20, prior to the '21 primary uniform redesign. In 2023, the Bengals were permitted to wear their alternate white helmet with their primary white jersey.

THE HEAD COACHES

Zac Taylor was named the 10th head coach in Bengals history on Feb. 4, 2019. The 2024 season is his sixth in the position.

In 2023, Taylor guided the Bengals to their third consecutive winning season at 9-8, despite a few key players missing time due to injuries. During a five-game stretch from Weeks 5-10 in which QB Joe Burrow was at full health, Taylor oversaw an offense that ranked fourth in the NFL in passing yards per game (275.6) and seventh in scoring (26.6 points). Over the final seven weeks of the season, Taylor worked with QB Jake Browning as he stepped into the starting role for the first time in his career. In that span, Browning ranked second in the league in passing yards (1868) and completion percentage (71.5), and Taylor led Cincinnati to a 4-3 mark to close out the schedule.

Under Taylor in 2022, the Bengals rallied from a 4-4 start to tie a team record for regular-season wins (12) and consecutive wins (eight), earning their second consecutive AFC North Division title. With a pair of playoff victories that brought Cincinnati to its second straight AFC Championship, Taylor became the 13th head coach in NFL history to win five of his first six career postseason games. The Bengals' offense ranked in the top 10 leaguewide during the regular season in scoring (seventh, 26.1 points per game), total yards (eighth, 360.5), and passing yards (fifth, 265.0), while the defense held opposing QBs to an NFL-low 58.9 completion percentage.

In 2021, Taylor led Cincinnati to its first AFC North championship since '15, before winning three postseason games to claim an AFC title and a berth in Super Bowl LVI. Burrow, playing his first full NFL season, led the NFL in completion percentage (70.4) and set team records for passing yardage (4611) and passer rating (108.3). Taylor also helped WR Ja'Marr Chase win AP Offensive Rookie of the Year honors, as the team's first-round pick notched a Bengals-record 1455 receiving yards. In the postseason, Taylor led the Bengals to their first playoff win in 31 years in a Wild Card victory over Las Vegas, before then defeating Tennessee and Kansas City on the road to make the franchise's first Super Bowl appearance since the 1988 season.

In 2020, Taylor helped transition Burrow to the pros, despite the absence of an in-person offseason program due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Prior to his season-ending knee injury, Burrow had the most completions ever by an NFL QB through their first 10 career games (264).

In 2019, his first season as head coach, Taylor led Cincinnati to second-half turnarounds on both sides of the ball. Offensively, the Bengals' per-game rushing average jumped 70.6 yards from the first half of the season (59.5) to the second (130.1), while the defense allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game.

Taylor came to Cincinnati after two seasons with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant WRs coach in 2017 and quarterbacks coach in '18. In 2018, he helped QB Jared Goff rank fourth in the NFL in passing yards, while the Rams finished second leaguewide in passing yards per game (281.7). Los Angeles had a 13-3 regular-season record and advanced to Super Bowl LIII.

Prior to the Rams, Taylor had a one-year stint as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Cincinnati in 2016. He served under head coach Tommy Tuberville at UC.

Taylor broke into NFL coaching in 2012 with the Miami Dolphins as assistant quarterbacks coach. He was elevated to quarterbacks coach from 2013-15, and spent the final five games of '15 as the Dolphins' interim offensive coordinator and primary play-caller.

Taylor's coaching career began at Texas A&M University, where he served as offensive graduate assistant and TEs coach under head coach Mike Sherman from 2008-11.

As a player, Taylor began his college career at Wake Forest (2002-03) before transferring to Butler County Community College in Kansas ('04) and then playing his final two seasons ('05-06) at the University of Nebraska. He set numerous school records with the Cornhuskers, finishing his two-year stint with 5850 passing yards and 45 TDs. As a senior in 2006, he was named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year after passing for 3197 yards and leading Nebraska to a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017.

Taylor joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but was waived prior to the start of training camp and never saw NFL action. Later that year, he joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League, where he spent one season (did not play).

Taylor's father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at the University of Oklahoma, playing under Sooners head coach Barry Switzer from 1976-79. Sherwood Taylor later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State. Taylor's younger brother, Press, played quarterback at Marshall University and currently is the offensive coordinator for the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Taylor was born in Norman, Okla., on May 10, 1983. After attending Norman High School, he earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from the University of Nebraska in 2006. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children — Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah Taylor is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman.

Shane Steichen was named the head coach of the Indianapolis Colts on Feb. 14, 2023. He has 14 years of coaching experience, including the last 13 seasons in the NFL.

In his first year in Indianapolis, Steichen guided the team to a winning record, finishing the season 9-8. The Colts finished in the top 10 in the NFL in points per game (23.3; tied for 10th) and rushing yards per game (121.1; 10th). Defensively, Indianapolis ranked fifth in the NFL in tackles for loss (94) and sacks (51), while finishing tied for fifth in forced fumbles (17). The team's 51 sacks were the most by the Colts in the Indianapolis era (since 1984).

Prior to Indianapolis, Steichen served as the offensive coordinator of the Philadelphia Eagles for two seasons (2021-22) and helped the team reach Super Bowl LVII in '22. During his two seasons as offensive coordinator, he guided an offense that ranked first in the NFL in rushing yards per game (153.6), rushing yards (5,224) and rushing TDs (57) over that time frame. Philadelphia also ranked tied for first in fewest INTs (19) and third in fourth-down conversion percentage (58.92 percent). Additionally, the Eagles' offense set new single-season franchise records in third-down conversion percentage in back-to-back seasons.

Steichen spent seven seasons (2014-20) with the Los Angeles/San Diego Chargers, where he served as offensive coordinator ('20), interim offensive coordinator ('19), QBs coach ('16-19) and offensive quality control/WRs coach ('14-15). The Chargers' offense finished in the top 10 in passing yards per game in each of his seven years on the offensive staff, including the league's best in 2017.

In 2013, Steichen assisted the QBs as an offensive quality control coach with the Cleveland Browns.

Steichen began his NFL career as a defensive assistant with the Chargers (2011-12) after spending one season as a full-time offensive assistant at Louisville ('10). Steichen also served as an offensive graduate assistant (2008-09) and student graduate assistant ('07) at his alma mater, Nevada-Las Vegas.

Steichen was a four-year letterman (2003-06) at QB for the Rebels. He left as the school's 12th all-time leading passer with 2755 yards and 22 TDs. He also registered 399 rushing yards and five TDs.

A native of Sacramento, Calif., Steichen was born on May 11, 1985. He and his wife, Nina, have a son, Hudson, and a daughter, Stella.

Taylor vs. Colts: The regular-season series is tied, 1-1. The Colts lead the preseason series, 1-0.

Taylor vs. Steichen: Taylor leads in regular season, 1-0. There are no previous preseason meetings.

Steichen vs. Bengals: The Bengals lead in regular season, 1-0. There are no previous preseason meetings.

BENGALS NOTES

Coaching staff changes: After returning virtually the entire coaching staff from the 2022 season to the '23 campaign, head coach Zac Taylor has welcomed some new faces over the past few months, while also internally promoting several coaches to new positions. Perhaps most notably, Dan Pitcher enters his first season as the Bengals' offensive coordinator after serving as the team's quarterbacks coach from 2020-23. Pitcher fills the role left by Brian Callahan, who spent five seasons (2019-23) as Cincinnati's offensive coordinator before becoming head coach of the Tennessee Titans in January.

Taylor also promoted Brad Kragthorpe to quarterbacks coach and Fredi Knighten to assistant quarterbacks coach. Kragthorpe, a former Division-I college quarterback, served as the Bengals' assistant QBs coach last season following two years (2021-22) as assistant wide receivers coach. Knighten also was a D-I signal caller who joined the Cincinnati staff in 2022 as an offensive assistant. Additionally, Jordan Kovacs is in his first season as secondary/safeties coach, after spending the 2022-23 seasons as assistant linebackers coach and '19-21 as defensive quality control coach.

New additions to the staff include Ben Jacobs (assistant special teams coach), Justin Rascati (pass game coordinator), Ronnie Regula (defensive assistant), Jordan Salkin (offensive assistant) and Diamond Simmons (assistant strength and conditioning). Jacobs had an eight-year pro playing career that included five seasons (2014-18) with the Carolina Panthers. He broke into the coaching ranks as assistant special teams coach for the Panthers in 2019, then held the same role for the Washington Commanders from '20-23. Rascati came to Cincinnati from the Minnesota Vikings, where he served as assistant offensive line coach from 2022-23. He previously spent three seasons (2019-21) as an offensive quality control coach with the Denver Broncos.

Regula is in his first season as an NFL coach, after spending the past nine years in the collegiate ranks. He most recently served as a senior defensive analyst at the University of Notre Dame from 2022-23. Salkin spent last season as an offensive analyst at the University of Oregon, following one year (2022) as a defensive analyst at the University of North Carolina. Simmons heads into his first season on an NFL coaching staff, after spending the 2021-23 seasons as associate director of football strength and conditioning at UCLA.

TEAM

- Tied for fifth in turnover differential (plus-10)

2024 schedule notes: In addition to their six games against fellow AFC North Division teams, the Bengals will face all teams in the AFC West and NFC East divisions.

Cincinnati also will play two games — at home against New England and on the road against Tennessee — that were determined by 2023 divisional standings. As fourth-place finishers in the AFC North, the Bengals are matched up against the fourth-place teams from the AFC East (vs. New England, Week 1) and AFC South (at Tennessee, Week 15).

The NFL in 2021 added a 17th game to the regular-season schedule, and for the Bengals in '24 that will be a Week 4 road contest at Carolina. The additional game each year features an interconference matchup, and is based on the prior season's standings on a rotating four-year cycle. These contests match a first-place team from one division with a first-place team in an opposite-conference division that the team is not scheduled to play that season. The second, third and fourth-place finishers in each division are matched the same way. The home conference for this game switches each season, with the NFC teams hosting the game in 2024.

Here is a list of Cincinnati's opponents in 2024, ordered by the date of the game:

- HOME: New England, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Las Vegas, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Denver.
- AWAY: Kansas City, Carolina, N.Y. Giants, Cleveland, Baltimore, L.A. Chargers, Dallas, Tennessee, Pittsburgh.

The Jungle is jammin': The Bengals have welcomed an attendance figure of over 65,000 at Paycor Stadium for 16 consecutive regular-season games dating back to Week 1 of the 2022 season, marking the second-longest streak in team history. The longest such streak lasted 24 home games from 2005-07.

Each of the five highest-attended home contests in Bengals history have occurred since the start of the 2022 calendar year, with three of those games coming during the '23 season. Cincinnati's Week 9 win over Buffalo on Sunday Night Football had an attendance figure of 66,965, which stands as the second-largest home crowd in team history behind a record 67,260 in Week 4 of the '22 season against Miami. The Bengals faced Houston in Week 10 of 2023 in front of a crowd of 66,526, the third-largest ever, and earlier in the season had an attendance of 66,385 in the Week 6 win over Seattle that ranks fifth. The fourth-highest attendance figure is 66,399 for the team's Wild Card Playoff victory against Baltimore in January of 2023.

The Paycor Stadium crowds have coincided with a recent string of home success for the Bengals, as they have won 16 of their last 20 games played at the venue dating back to Week 16 of the 2021 season (including postseason). The last time Cincinnati had more home wins in a 20-game stretch was when it went 17-3 at Riverfront Stadium from the 1988 season opener through Week 3 of the '90 season.

Here is a look at the largest home crowds in Bengals franchise history:

| DATE | OPPONENT | RESULT | ATTENDANCE |
|----------------|-----------|----------|------------|
| Sept. 29, 2022 | Miami | W, 27-15 | 67,260 |
| Nov. 5, 2023 | Buffalo | W, 24-18 | 66,965 |
| Nov. 12, 2023 | Houston | L, 27-30 | 66,526 |
| Jan. 15, 2023* | Baltimore | W, 24-17 | 66,399 |
| Oct. 15, 2023 | Seattle | W, 17-13 | 66,385 |

* — Asterisk denotes a Wild Card Playoff.

Pro Bowl three-peat: WR Ja'Marr Chase and DE Trey Hendrickson have been voted to the Pro Bowl in each of the past three seasons, becoming the 20th and 21st players in team history to receive the honor at least three times.

Chase became the fifth player in Bengals history to earn Pro Bowl honors in each of his first three career seasons, joining TE Bob Trumpy (1968-70), WR Isaac Curtis ('73-75), WR Cris Collinsworth ('81-83) and WR A.J. Green (2011-13). He led Cincinnati in all major receiving categories during the 2023 regular season, including receptions (career-high 100), receiving yards (1216) and receiving TDs (seven). Chase had four games with at least 10 catches and five games with at least 100 receiving yards.

Hendrickson posted a career-high 17.5 sacks in 2023 that tied for second in the NFL and ranked second in team history for a single season (DE Coy Bacon, 22.0 in 1976). He recorded at least one full sack in seven straight games from Weeks 11-17, tying for the longest such streak in the league. He also had three FFs and three PDs.

Leads lead to Bengals wins: Much of the Bengals' success over the past three seasons has been built on their ability to close out games after jumping in front early. Since the start of the 2021 campaign, Cincinnati has the third-best record in the NFL when scoring first (21-4), the third-best record when leading at halftime (21-3), and the fifth-best record when leading at any point in a game (31-9). The Bengals in 2023 were 5-2 when ahead at the half and 7-1 when leading after three quarters.

Among the many factors contributing to the Bengals' knack for cementing wins has been their defensive play coming out of halftime. Since 2021, Cincinnati has allowed 50 total TDs in the second half/overtime, the second-fewest leaguewide behind Buffalo (46). The Bengals' four-game win streak from Weeks 5-9 last season was highlighted by the defense recording eight takeaways in the second half of play (five INTs, three FRs), while also forcing four turnovers on downs.

Burrow hits the mark: QB Joe Burrow eclipsed 1500 career passing attempts in the 2022 regular-season finale, which qualified him for the NFL's career completion percentage record. With a current completion percentage of 67.97, he is the NFL's all-time leader in the category, narrowly ahead of former San Diego Chargers/New Orleans QB Drew Brees (67.69).

Burrow had three games during the 2023 season in which he completed over 70 percent of his passing attempts. His career-high 87.5 completion percentage on 32 attempts in Week 8 at San Francisco marked the ninth time in his career that he completed at least 75 percent of his passes with 30-plus attempts — the second-most such games in NFL history in a player's first four seasons behind L.A. Chargers QB Justin Herbert (11). Burrow followed his 49ers performance by connecting on 70.5 percent of his passes (31 of 44) for 348 yards and two TDs in the Week 9 win over Buffalo.

Burrow in Week 5 at Arizona went 36 of 46 (78.3 percent) for 317 yards and three TDs, marking his fourth career game with a completion percentage of 75 or higher on at least 40 attempts. The only other QB in team history to accomplish that once was Andy Dalton, who went 33 of 43 (76.7 percent) on Oct. 12, 2014 vs. Carolina.

After leading the NFL in completion percentage in 2021 (70.4; minimum 14 passing attempts per game), Burrow followed up by completing 68.3 percent of his passes in the '22 regular season, good for the second highest rate in the league. He did so while setting single-season team records for total attempts (606) and completions (414) — both ranked fifth in the NFL.

Here is a look at the NFL's all-time leaders in career completion percentage (minimum 1500 passing attempts):

| PLAYER | TEAM(S) | YEARS | COMP. % |
|-----------------|-------------------------------------|---------|---------|
| Joe Burrow | Cincinnati | 2020-23 | 67.97 |
| Drew Brees | San Diego/New Orleans | 2001-20 | 67.69 |
| Jimmy Garoppolo | New England/San Francisco/Las Vegas | 2014-23 | 67.39 |
| Dak Prescott | Dallas | 2016-23 | 67.00 |
| Kirk Cousins | Washington/Minnesota | 2012-23 | 66.93 |

Joe guns for 100th TD: QB Joe Burrow enters the 2024 season with 97 career TD passes, the fifth-most in team history, in 52 games played. There are just six QBs in NFL history who have reached 100 TD passes in 53 or fewer games.

Burrow threw his 90th TD pass in Week 8 of the 2023 season at San Francisco, in what was his 49th game. That tied him as the sixth-fastest QB in league history to get to 90 scoring tosses. The former No. 1 overall draft pick threw for 13 TDs in 10 games during his 2020 rookie season, then broke out with 34 TDs in his sophomore campaign. By eclipsing his own team single-season record with 35 TDs in 2022, Burrow became the first QB in Bengals history to pass for 30 or more TDs in multiple years.

Here is a look at the fastest QBs in NFL history — in terms of games played — to reach 90 passing TDs:

| PLAYER | TEAM | GAMES TO REACH 90 |
|-----------------|--------------------|-------------------|
| Patrick Mahomes | Kansas City Chiefs | 37 |
| Dan Marino | Miami Dolphins | 40 |
| Kurt Warner | St. Louis Rams | 41 |
| Justin Herbert | L.A. Chargers | 45 |
| Deshawn Watson | Houston Texans | 48 |
| Joe Burrow | Cincinnati Bengals | 49 |
| Johnny Unitas | Baltimore Colts | 49 |

Browning as a starter: QB Jake Browning started the Bengals' final seven games of the 2023 season after QB Joe Burrow suffered a season-ending injury in Week 11. In those seven contests, Browning completed 163 of 228 passes (71.5 percent) for 1868 yards and 11 TDs with seven INTs, good for a passer rating of 99.1. His 1868 passing yards were the 13th most by any NFL QB since 1950 through their first seven starts, and he became the third QB in that time frame to pass for at least 1500 yards and 10 TDs with a completion percentage of 70 or higher in his first seven starts, joining former St. Louis Rams QB Kurt Warner and former N.Y. Jets QB Chad Pennington.

From Weeks 12-18 of last season, Browning ranked second in the NFL in passing yards and completion percentage, third in total completions and yards per attempt, and 10th in TD passes and passer rating. He connected on over 70 percent of his passing attempts in four games in that stretch, including each of his first three starts. He also passed for over 300 yards three times — Week 13 at Jacksonville (354), Week 15 vs. Minnesota (324) and Week 16 at Pittsburgh (335).

Here is a look at the NFL leaders in passing yards from Weeks 12-18 of the 2023 regular season:

| PLAYER | TEAM | PASSING YARDS |
|------------------|--------------------|---------------|
| Dak Prescott | Dallas Cowboys | 1912 |
| Jake Browning | Cincinnati Bengals | 1868 |
| Jared Goff | Detroit Lions | 1832 |
| Jordan Love | Green Bay Packers | 1828 |
| Matthew Stafford | L.A. Rams | 1705 |

Chasing history: WR Ja'Marr Chase in 2023 led the Bengals in receptions (100; 12th in NFL), receiving yards (1216; 12th) and receiving TDs (seven, T-18th) to earn his third consecutive Pro Bowl selection. His career-high 100 catches tied former WR Carl Pickens (1996) for the second-most in a season in Bengals history, and his 268 career receptions are the most in a player's first three seasons in team history.

Chase became the eighth player in NFL history to reach the 1000-yard receiving mark in each of his first three seasons, and the second player in team history to do so, joining former WR A.J. Green (2011-13). His 29 career receiving TDs tied with Green for the most ever by a Bengal in their first three years.

Chase holds a career average of 82.6 receiving yards per game (3717 in 45 games), the fourth-highest total in NFL history among all players with at least 3000 yards. He also has 10 career games with 125 or more receiving yards, the fourth-most in league history in a player's first three seasons.

A constant deep threat, Chase's nine career TDs of 50 or more yards are the most in the NFL since he entered the league in 2021. He reached a pair of milestones during the 2023 season, beginning with his 200th catch in Week 5 at Arizona. Playing in just his 34th game, Chase tied as the fourth fastest player in league history to record 200 catches. Only former N.Y. Giants WR Odell Beckham Jr. (30 games), New Orleans WR Michael Thomas (32) and former Miami WR Jarvis Landry (33) reached the mark in fewer games.

In Week 6 vs. Seattle, Chase surpassed 3000 receiving yards in his 35th career game, tying as the fifth fastest player ever to hit that mark. Beckham (30 games), former Houston Oilers WR Charlie Hennigan (31), Minnesota WR Justin Jefferson (33) and former San Diego Chargers WR Lance Alworth (34) are the only players to do so in fewer total games.

Here is a look at the players with the most receiving yards per game in NFL history (minimum 3000 yards):

| PLAYER | TEAM | REC. YDS PER GAME |
|------------------|--|-------------------|
| Justin Jefferson | Minnesota Vikings | 98.32 |
| Calvin Johnson | Detroit Lions | 86.07 |
| Antonio Brown | Pittsburgh/New England/Tampa Bay | 84.18 |
| Ja'Marr Chase | Cincinnati Bengals | 82.60 |
| Julio Jones | Atlanta/Tennessee/Tampa Bay/Philadelphia | 82.55 |

Trey's torrid pace: DE Trey Hendrickson further established himself as one of the NFL's top pass rushers in 2023, as he posted a career-high 17.5 sacks that tied for second leaguewide and rank second in Bengals single-season history. The team record is held by DE Coy Bacon, who had 22.0 sacks in the 1976 campaign (sacks became an official NFL statistic in 1982, however the Bengals tracked the stat back to '76 and recognize Bacon as the record-holder).

Hendrickson's 17.5 sacks surpassed his previous career high of 14 in 2021, his first season in Cincinnati, which ranked fifth in the NFL and helped him earn his first career Pro Bowl selection. He put together another Pro Bowl campaign in 2022 with a team-leading eight sacks. Combining his Bengals totals with 13.5 sacks in 2020, his final year with the New Orleans Saints, Hendrickson has 53 sacks over the past four seasons, the third most in the league in that span behind Pittsburgh LB T.J. Watt (62.0) and Cleveland DE Myles Garrett (58.0).

Originally a third-round draft pick of New Orleans in 2017, Hendrickson spent his first four seasons with the Saints before signing with the Bengals as an unrestricted free agent in '21. His production for Cincinnati was rewarded in July of 2023, when he signed a one-year contract extension that keeps him in stripes through the '25 season.

Here is a look at the NFL sack leaders during the 2023 regular season:

| PLAYER | TEAM | SACKS IN 2023 |
|------------------|----------------------|---------------|
| T.J. Watt | Pittsburgh Steelers | 19.0 |
| Trey Hendrickson | Cincinnati Bengals | 17.5 |
| Josh Allen | Jacksonville Jaguars | 17.5 |
| Khalil Mack | L.A. Chargers | 17.0 |
| Danielle Hunter | Minnesota Vikings | 16.5 |

And here is a look at the Bengals players with the highest sack totals in a single season:

| PLAYER | SEASON | SACKS |
|------------------|--------|-------|
| Coy Bacon | 1976 | 22.0 |
| Trey Hendrickson | 2023 | 17.5 |
| Trey Hendrickson | 2021 | 14.0 |
| Carlos Dunlap | 2015 | 13.5 |
| Eddie Edwards | 1983 | 13.0 |

Hubbard a Day 2 draft steal: DE Sam Hubbard recorded six sacks during the 2023 regular season, marking his third straight year with at least six and boosting his career tally to 36.5. That total ranks third among all players from the 2018 rookie class (draft picks and college free agents). Hubbard was the 13th defensive lineman selected that year — five DEs and seven DTs came off the board before him.

Hubbard also finished the 2023 season with 58 total tackles, the most among Cincinnati's defensive linemen. Seven of his tackles were for losses, and he added two fumble recoveries that each led to points on the ensuing Bengals offensive possession.

Hubbard has ranked second on the Bengals in sacks in each season since he became the team's starting LDE in 2019. He additionally has four career postseason sacks, tied with former DE Jason Buck for the most in team history. A native of Cincinnati who attended Archbishop Moeller High School, Hubbard also is known for contributing one of the franchise's most iconic plays, a 98-yard fumble return for a TD that proved to be the game-winner in the Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore following the 2022 season.

Here's a look at the career sack leaders from the rookie class of 2018:

| PLAYER/POSITION | TEAM | PICK (ROUND) | SACKS |
|------------------------|--------------|---------------|-------|
| Harold Landry III/EDGE | Tennessee | No. 41 (2nd) | 41.5 |
| Bradley Chubb/DE | Denver/Miami | No. 5 (1st) | 39.5 |
| Sam Hubbard/DE | Cincinnati | No. 77 (3rd) | 36.5 |
| Josh Sweat/DE | Philadelphia | No. 130 (4th) | 35.0 |
| Daron Payne/DT | Washington | No. 13 (1st) | 30.0 |

Wilson leads LBs in INTs since '20: LB Logan Wilson paced the Bengals in tackles for a third straight season with a career-high 135 stops, but perhaps his most notable contributions came when dropping into coverage. A former defensive back during his collegiate playing days at the University of Wyoming, Wilson had four INTs in 2023, which tied for the Bengals team lead and tied for seventh in the NFL. His 11 career picks are the most by any NFL linebacker since he entered the league as a third-round draft pick in 2020. It also is tied for the third-most ever by a Bengals LB, trailing Reggie Williams (16) and Al Beauchamp (15).

The 2023 season was Wilson's second in which he recorded four INTs. He also had four picks in 2021, the most by a Bengals LB in a single season since Odell Thurman (five) in '05. Wilson's 135 tackles were the most by any Bengals player since LB Vontaze Burfict had 171 in his 2013 Pro Bowl campaign.

Since the start of the 2020 season, Wilson is one of two NFL players with at least 10 INTs, five sacks and five forced fumbles, alongside Minnesota S Harrison Smith. His three FFs in the 2023 campaign came during a four-game stretch from Weeks 10-13.

Wilson additionally wears the "green dot" as the player that relays defensive play calls. He signed a contract extension in August of 2023 and will remain a Bengal through the '27 season.

Here is a look at the LBs with the most INTs since the start of the 2020 regular season:

| PLAYER | TEAM | INTERCEPTIONS |
|------------------|--------------------------------------|---------------|
| Logan Wilson | Cincinnati Bengals | 11 |
| Roquan Smith | Chicago Bears/Baltimore Ravens | 7 |
| Fred Warner | San Francisco 49ers | 7 |
| Tremaine Edmunds | Buffalo Bills/Chicago Bears | 6 |
| Matt Milano | Buffalo Bills | 6 |
| Foye Oluokun | Atlanta Falcons/Jacksonville Jaguars | 6 |

Money Mac inks extension: The Bengals signed K Evan McPherson to a three-year contract extension on Sunday, Aug. 18, securing one of the top young kickers in the NFL through the 2027 season.

A 2021 fifth-round draft pick of Cincinnati who now heads into his fourth pro season, McPherson has converted 78 of 93 FG attempts in 49 regular-season games. His 83.9 career FG percentage is the third-highest in team history (minimum 75 attempts), but it becomes more impressive when noting how often the Bengals turn to McPherson in long-distance as well as high-pressure instances. McPherson's 21 made FGs from 50 or more yards already are the most ever by a Bengal, are the most in NFL history through a player's first three seasons, and are tied for the most in the league since his rookie debut in 2021. He converted seven kicks from 50-plus yards during the 2023 campaign, highlighted by a season-long 56-yarder in Week 8 at San Francisco that marked the fifth-longest made FG in team history. McPherson owns three of the top four FGs on that list, including a team-record 59-yarder on Sept. 11, 2022 against Pittsburgh.

Referred to by fans as "Money Mac," McPherson also has seven career game-winning "walk-off" FGs, including two last season — in OT of Week 13 at Jacksonville, and again in OT of Week 15 vs. Minnesota. However, his two most notable such kicks came during the 2021 postseason, when he hit a 52-yarder in the AFC Divisional Playoff at Tennessee and followed up a week later with a 31-yarder in OT of the AFC Championship at Kansas City that sent Cincinnati to Super Bowl LVI. McPherson is a perfect 19 of 19 in seven career postseason games and is the team's all-time leader in postseason scoring (69 points).

| PLAYER | DATE | OPPONENT | FG DISTANCE |
|----------------|----------------|-------------------------|-------------|
| Evan McPherson | Sept. 11, 2022 | vs. Pittsburgh Steelers | 59 |
| Evan McPherson | Dec. 19, 2021 | at Denver Broncos | 58 |
| Randy Bullock | Dec. 22, 2019 | at Miami Dolphins | 57 |
| Evan McPherson | Sept. 29, 2022 | vs. Miami Dolphins | 57 |
| Evan McPherson | Oct. 29, 2023 | at San Francisco 49ers | 56 |

And here is a look at the kickers with the most made FGs from 50 or more yards since the start of the 2021 regular season:

| PLAYER | TEAM | 50-YD FGs |
|------------------|----------------------------------|-----------|
| Chris Boswell | Pittsburgh Steelers | 21 |
| Evan McPherson | Cincinnati Bengals | 21 |
| Matt Prater | Arizona Cardinals | 21 |
| Chase McLaughlin | Cleveland/Indianapolis/Tampa Bay | 20 |
| Matt Gay | L.A. Rams/Indianapolis Colts | 19 |

Preseason kicks: K Evan McPherson knocked through a 54-yard FG in Saturday's preseason game at Chicago, marking his ninth career preseason conversion of 50 or more yards on 11 total attempts.

McPherson's previous long-distance boots in the preseason include a 58- and 56-yarder in the second quarter alone on Aug. 12, 2022 vs. Arizona, another 58-yarder on Aug. 26, 2023 at Washington, and a 57-yarder on Aug. 29, 2021 vs. Miami. In 10 career preseason games, he is 23-for-25 on FG attempts and a perfect 10-for-10 on PATs.

Dillon, Krumrie to enter Bengals Ring of Honor: The Bengals announced in July that former HB Corey Dillon and NT Tim Krumrie will be inducted into the team's Ring of Honor at halftime of the Week 3 Monday Night Football game against the Washington Commanders. They will become the ninth and 10th members of the Bengals Ring of Honor, joining QB Ken Anderson, OT Willie Anderson, team founder/head coach Paul Brown, WR Isaac Curtis, QB Boomer Esiason, WR Chad Johnson, OT Anthony Muñoz and CB Ken Riley.

Dillon is the team's all-time leader in rushing attempts (1865), rushing yards (8061) and 100-yard rushing games (28). He earned three consecutive Pro Bowl selections from 1999-2001, and owns the top three single-game rushing performances in team history.

Krumrie entered the NFL as a 10th-round pick of the Bengals in 1983 and went on to spend his entire 12-year playing career ('83-94) in Cincinnati. He played in 188 regular-season games, the most ever by a Bengals lineman on either side of the ball, and was a two-time Pro Bowler (1987-88) in addition to earning All-Pro honors in '88.

Established in 2021, the Bengals Ring of Honor recognizes former players, coaches and individuals who have played a significant role in the franchise's storied history and tradition. Inductees are voted in each offseason by Bengals Season Ticket Members.

Three listed on "Top 100": For the 14th consecutive season, current NFL players voted to determine the top 100 players in the league, with the final list revealed throughout July on social media and the NFL Network.

Cincinnati is represented by three players on the 2024 list — QB Joe Burrow (No. 39), WR Ja'Marr Chase (No. 45) and DE Trey Hendrickson (No. 77). It marked the third appearance on the list for Burrow and Chase, and the fourth for Hendrickson. This was the fifth time that three or more Bengals players were featured.

Bengal bites: The Bengals enter the 2024 season with 394 all-time regular-season wins, just six shy of 400; Cincinnati captured its 100th regular-season victory on Sept. 12, 1982 vs. the Houston Oilers, its 200th on Dec. 22, 1996 vs. Indianapolis, and its 300th on Nov. 18, 2012 vs. Kansas City ... Since 2011, the Bengals own a 73-7-2 record in the regular season when scoring 25 or more points ... The longest-tenured player on the Bengals roster is DE Sam Hubbard, who enters his seventh season with the team ... The oldest player on the roster is C Ted Karras, who is 31 (born March 15, 1993) ... The youngest player on the roster is OT Amarius Mims, who is 21 (born Oct. 14, 2002) ... The lightest player on the roster is CB DJ Turner II, who is listed at 180 pounds ... The heaviest player on the roster is OT Trent Brown, who is listed at 380 pounds ... There is a four-way tie for tallest player on the roster at 6-8 between Brown, Mims, OT Orlando Brown Jr. and OT Eric Miller ... The shortest player on the roster is HB Trayveon Williams, who is listed at 5-8.

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: Former No. 1 overall draft pick Joe Burrow enters his fifth pro season once again leading a young and talented Cincinnati offense. The Athens, Ohio native has nearly re-written the Bengals' quarterback record book over the past four years, as he holds single-season team records for passing attempts (606; '22), completions (414; '22), passing yards (4611; '21), TD passes (35; '22) and passer rating (108.3; '21). He also currently is the NFL's all-time leader in career completion percentage, maintaining a mark of 67.97 percent (minimum 1500 passing attempts). Though his 2023 season was limited due to injuries, including a wrist injury that caused him to miss the final seven games, he was at full health from Weeks 5-10 and led Cincinnati to a 4-1 record in that stretch. During those six weeks (five games played), he led the league in completion percentage (74.1) and ranked second in passer rating (107.0). Burrow saw his first game action since the wrist injury in the preseason opener against Tampa Bay, and completed five of seven passes for 51 yards and a TD on the game's opening drive. Prior to the start of last season, the Bengals signed Burrow to a five-year contract extension which, at the time, made him the highest-paid player in NFL history (average annual value since surpassed). Listed second on the depth chart is Jake Browning, who stepped into the starting role for the first time in his career following Burrow's season-ending injury last November. He piloted the Bengals to a 4-3 mark to close out the schedule, highlighted by a three-game winning streak in which the offense averaged 31.7 points. Browning completed 71.5 percent of his passing attempts for 1868 yards and 11 TDs as a starter, becoming just the third NFL QB since 1950 to record at least 1500 passing yards and 10 TDs with a completion percentage of 70 or higher in his first seven career starts. He made the 53-man roster out of training camp for the first time last year, after spending his first four pro seasons on the practice squads of the Bengals (2021-22) and Minnesota Vikings ('19-20). Head coach Zac Taylor last week told reporters that Browning would miss some time with a rib injury. Fifth-year veteran Logan Woodside returned to Cincinnati during the offseason, after originally entering the league as a seventh-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2018. He has seen the bulk of preseason snaps among the Bengals' QBs through two games, and is a combined 25 of 37 for 281 yards with one TD and two INTs. He entered the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay in the fourth quarter and had a strong showing, completing eight of 12 passes for 149 yards including a 37-yard TD to rookie WR Jermaine Burton. Woodside has appeared in 13 regular-season games during his career, primarily as a reserve QB for the Tennessee Titans (2020-21) and Atlanta Falcons ('22-23). His career numbers are four completions on seven attempts for 34 yards with an INT. He also played in seven games for the San Antonio Commanders of the Alliance of American Football (AAF) in 2019. He is a native of Frankfort, Ky. (approximately 80 miles south of Cincinnati), and had an impressive collegiate career at the University of Toledo which included being named the Mid-American Conference Offensive Player of the Year in 2017. Rounding out the Bengals' QB room is rookie Rocky Lombardi, who signed with the team as a college free agent in May. Lombardi saw his first preseason action in the second half of Saturday's contest at Chicago, completing four of eight passes for 33 yards. He spent the past three seasons (2021-23) at Northern Illinois University, after beginning his collegiate career at Michigan State University ('18-20). He finished his Northern Illinois career ranking second in program history in passing yards per game (183.9), third in completions per game (14.5), fifth in total completions (439) and sixth in passing yards (5516). Lombardi was a four-sport athlete at Valley High School in West Des Moines, Iowa, where in addition to football, he participated in wrestling, baseball and track and field.

Running backs: The Bengals feature an explosive duo at running back with fifth-year veteran Zack Moss and second-year pro Chase Brown. One of Cincinnati's marquee acquisitions in free agency this offseason, Moss has played in 53 career games with 11 starts for the Buffalo Bills and Indianapolis Colts. He entered the league as a third-round draft pick of the Bills in 2020, and after amassing 917 rushing yards and eight TDs in two-plus seasons with Buffalo, he was traded to the Colts in November of '22. He is coming off his best statistical season in 2023, as he set career highs in rushing attempts (183), rushing yards (794), rushing TDs (five) and receptions (27). Moss did not play in the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay due to illness, then traveled with the Bengals to Chicago but did not suit up for Saturday's game against the Bears. Brown heads into his second season figuring to have a larger role in the Bengals' offense. Cincinnati's fifth-round draft choice in 2023 saw limited action over the first 12 weeks of his rookie campaign, which included four games spent on the Reserve/Injured list due to a hamstring injury, but he provided an explosive element to the offense during the final six contests of the regular season. In that stretch, he netted 322 yards from scrimmage with 4.1 yards per carry and 13.5 yards per reception. His first career TD (Dec. 10 vs. Indianapolis) came via a screen pass that he took 54 yards to the end zone, and his top speed of 22.05 mph on the play made him the second-fastest ball carrier in the NFL last season. Trayveon Williams enters his sixth NFL season (all with Cincinnati), and has served as a reserve HB in addition to his primary role on special teams. He was the team's kickoff returner in 2023, netting 290 return yards on 12 attempts. Offensively, Williams has rushed for 307 yards on 62 carries, while also contributing 15 career receptions for 74 yards. He has played in both games this preseason, and leads the team with 29 rushing yards on nine carries. Sixth-year veteran Chris Evans also has experience as a kickoff returner, taking over that role late in the 2021 regular season and maintaining it through the Bengals' postseason run to Super Bowl LVI. Evans has played in 34 career games and rushed for 89 yards on 19 attempts, along with 19 catches for 188 yards and three TDs. He saw action in eight games last season, primarily as a special teams contributor (122 ST snaps played). A pair of rookies who signed with the team as college free agents round out the running backs depth chart — Noah Cain and Elijah Collins. Cain saw his first significant action of the preseason in Saturday's game at Chicago and led the Bengals with 28 rushing yards on eight attempts. He finished his collegiate career at Louisiana State (2022-23), after spending three years ('19-21) at Penn State. He played in 51 total games in college, and rushed for 1396 yards on 306 carries with 25 TDs. A powerful short-yardage back listed at 5-10, 222 pounds, he scored 10 rushing TDs during his first LSU season in 2022, which tied for fourth in the Southeastern Conference. Collins spent the majority of his collegiate career at Michigan State University (2018-22), before finishing up with one season at Oklahoma State in '23. In 52 total games played (42 at MSU, 10 at OSU), he rushed 383 times for 1648 yards (4.7 average) with 13 TDs. He was used as a rotational back over his final four seasons, but in 2019 at Michigan State he ranked fourth in the Big Ten Conference in rushing attempts (222) and rushing yards (988). Collins caught two passes for 24 yards in the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay, then followed up with eight rushing attempts for 21 yards on Saturday at Chicago.

Wide Receivers: The Bengals' wide receiver room is headlined by one of the NFL's most productive pass-catching duos in Ja'Marr Chase and Tee Higgins. Chase, the team's first-round draft pick in 2021, has led Cincinnati in all major receiving categories and been selected to the Pro Bowl in each of his first three seasons. He is one of eight players in NFL history to begin his career with three consecutive 1000-yard receiving campaigns, and he is coming off a career-high 100 catches in 2023 that tied former WR Carl Pickens for the second-most in a season in team history. A constant downfield threat, Chase has a league-leading nine TD catches of 50 or more yards since the start of the 2021 campaign. Higgins had back-to-back 1000-yard receiving seasons in 2021 and '22, then finished with 656 yards in 12 games played last year. He missed five games in 2023 due to injuries, but when healthy he contributed five TD catches and averaged 15.6 yards per reception. Listed at 6-4, 219 pounds, Higgins has earned a reputation as an athletic outside receiver who can high-point the ball over contesting defensive backs. He was named the team's designated franchise player in February, and on June 17 he signed the one-year tender for the 2024 season. Higgins' 3684 career receiving yards rank 20th in the NFL since he entered the league as a second-round draft choice of the Bengals in 2020. He played just 10 snaps in the preseason opener against Tampa Bay but made the most of his limited action, as he caught two passes for 19 yards including a 10-yard TD to cap off the game's opening drive. Trenton Irwin spent his first three seasons with the Bengals (2019-21) primarily as a practice squad player and game day inactive, but over the past two years he has emerged as a dependable option for Cincinnati's quarterbacks. After totaling just three receptions in those first three seasons, he has 40 catches for 547 yards and five TDs since the start of the 2022 campaign, including a career-high 25 grabs for 316 yards in '23. Though listed as a backup on the depth chart last season, he started five games and showed an ability to line up at multiple WR positions. Bengals coaches and players have shared their predictions for Andrei Iosivas to make a jump in his second pro season. A sixth-rounder out of Princeton in 2023, Iosivas earned a roster spot following his rookie training camp and contributed both offensively and on special teams. He caught 15 passes for 116 yards and four TDs, highlighted by a two-TD performance in the season finale against Cleveland on Jan. 7. He possesses an ideal frame for an outside receiver at 6-3, but during the current training camp he also has seen action lining up in the slot. A native of Honolulu, Hawaii, he earned All-America honors at Princeton both in the FCS division in football and as a heptathlon participant for the Tigers' track and field team. Iosivas played 12 snaps in the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay and had a key 23-yard catch to convert a third down on the opening drive. Second-year pro Charlie Jones served as the team's primary punt returner in his rookie campaign, in addition to being a reserve receiver. He caught seven passes for 64 yards offensively, and returned 23 punts for 248 yards (10.8 average) and one TD. He missed six games mid-season due to a thumb injury, but returned to play in each of the final eight contests. Jones spent his final collegiate season in 2022 at Purdue University, where he led the FBS in receptions (110), ranked second in receiving yards (1361) and fifth in receiving TDs (12). Jones sustained an injury in practice two days before the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay, but returned to the field for last week's joint practice with the Bears in Chicago. The Bengals added another downfield threat in the third round of April's draft when they selected slot receiver Jermaine Burton. Burton played in 26 games at the University of Alabama from 2022-23, after seeing action in 24 games at the University of Georgia from '20-21. He led the Crimson Tide last season in receiving yards (798) and receiving TDs (eight), while his 20.5 yards per reception led the Southeastern Conference and ranked sixth nationally. His big-play ability was on display in the preseason opener against the Buccaneers, as he led the Bengals with 82 yards on three catches, including a 37-yard TD and a 38-yard reception late in the fourth quarter. Burton also saw action as a punt returner in Saturday's preseason contest at Chicago, returning two punts for seven yards. He has spent each offseason since 2020 being trained by former Bengals WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh in Southern California. Second-year pro Kendric Pryor originally was a college free agent signee of the Bengals in 2022 and impressed during his rookie preseason, but was waived at final cuts and spent his first regular season with the Jacksonville Jaguars (no games played). He returned to Cincinnati in October of last year and spent the final 13 games of the 2023 season on the team's practice squad. Kwamie Lassiter II spent his second straight season on the Bengals' practice squad after joining the team as a college free agent in 2022. He has played in two regular-season games as a practice squad elevation, including Week 5 at Arizona last season when he recorded his first career reception. He led Cincinnati with 33 receiving yards on five grabs in the second preseason game at Chicago on Saturday. Shedrick Jackson spent his rookie season in 2023 on the Bengals' practice squad, but was elevated to the active roster for three games and saw action on offense and special teams. He signed with Cincinnati as a college free agent in 2023 following a five-year career at Auburn University (2018-22). His great uncle, Bo Jackson, was a Heisman Trophy winner at Auburn and played four seasons as an RB for the Los Angeles Raiders along with nine seasons in Major League Baseball. The Bengals added to their receiver depth when they signed free agent Hakeem Butler on July 26. The tallest listed WR for Cincinnati at 6-5, Butler originally was a fourth-round draft pick of the Arizona Cardinals in 2019, but missed his entire rookie season due to a hand injury and was waived the following year. He played in two games for the Philadelphia Eagles in 2020 as a converted tight end, and was not on an NFL roster during the '21-23 regular seasons. He had two separate stints with the St. Louis Battlehawks of the XFL/United Football League, and in 2024 he was named the UFL Offensive Player of the Year after leading the league in receiving yards (652) and yards per reception (14.5). College free agent signee Cole Burgess put together a noteworthy career at Division III SUNY Cortland, the alma mater of Bengals offensive coordinator Dan Pitcher. His Cortland accolades included four first-team All-Empire 8 Conference selections and a D-III national title in 2023. Last season, he led the conference in catches (87), receiving yards (1375; fourth in D-III) and receiving TDs (16), and in the national championship game he caught the go-ahead TD with under two minutes left to help lead the Red Dragons to victory.

Tight ends: A 2019 second-round draft pick of the Bengals, Drew Sample has played in 61 career games with 35 starts and has earned a reputation as a reliable blocking TE. Eight of his starts came during the final nine games of last season, when he took over the top spot on the depth chart. In addition to his blocking responsibilities, he has 80 career receptions for 621 yards and three TDs. He missed most of the 2022 season due to a knee injury, but returned to play in all 17 games in '23 and post 22 catches for 162 yards and two scores. The Bengals looked to add a pass-catching threat at the TE position when they signed unrestricted free agent Mike Gesicki in March. Gesicki spent his first five pro seasons (2018-22) with the Miami Dolphins, before playing for the New England Patriots last season. In 98 career games, he has 260 receptions for 2861 yards (11.0 average) and 20 TDs. Standing 6-6 and possessing a blend of speed and agility, Gesicki challenges LBs and DBs in coverage. He topped 700 receiving yards in back-to-back years in 2020 and '21 while with the Dolphins. Fifth-year pro Tanner Hudson began the 2023 season on the Bengals' practice squad, but was signed to the active roster in early November and emerged as a prominent offensive contributor. He recorded career highs in catches (39) and receiving yards (352) in just 12 games played, after totaling 15 grabs for 199 yards in his previous 33 career contests. Hudson spent time with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2019-20), San Francisco 49ers ('21) and N.Y. Giants ('22), before joining Cincinnati's practice squad late in the '22 season. The Bengals used their fourth-round draft choice this past April to select Erick All Jr., a native of Fairfield, Ohio (approximately 25 miles north of Cincinnati). All is working his way back to full health from a knee injury and began training camp on the Active/Non-Football Injury list, but he has since been cleared to practice. He saw just two offensive snaps in the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay, then lined up for 36 offensive snaps on Saturday at Chicago and had a five-yard reception. He spent his first four collegiate seasons (2019-22) at the University of Michigan, then transferred to the University of Iowa for the '23 campaign. In 40 career games, he caught 75 passes for 864 yards and five TDs, and Bengals coaches said they were impressed with his well-rounded skill set during the scouting process. The Bengals doubled-up on tight ends during the draft when they took Tanner McLachlan out of the University of Arizona in the sixth round. McLachlan was a second-team All-Pac-12 Conference selection last season, when his 45 receptions were the second-most by a TE in Arizona history and his 528 receiving yards led all Pac-12 TEs. He spent two seasons (2022-23) with the Wildcats, after beginning his career at Southern Utah University. He has three receptions so far in preseason, including a 23-yarder against Tampa Bay and a 11-yarder at Chicago. A native of Lethbridge, Alberta, McLachlan is one of two Canadians on the Bengals roster alongside HB Chase Brown. Cam Grandy signed with Cincinnati as a college free agent during the offseason, after putting together an All-American season at the FCS level in his lone year at Illinois State University. In 11 starts for the Redbirds, he led all Missouri Valley Football Conference TEs with 612 receiving yards on 63 catches with three TDs. He transferred to Northern Illinois from Missouri Western State University.

Offensive line: The Bengals have invested heavily in upgrading their offensive line over the past three offseasons, signing an array of free agents and using early draft picks to bolster the unit. The nucleus of the O-line is C Ted Karras, who joined the team in free agency in 2022 and has been elected a team captain in each of his two seasons in Cincinnati. Karras has started each of the Bengals' past 36 games at center (regular season and postseason), and lined up for 2379 of a possible 2398 offensive snaps in that time (99.2 percent). Last season, he was named the Bengals' nominee for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award in recognition of his charitable work with Indianapolis-based Village of Merici through his fan-favorite "Cincy Hat." The Bengals signed Karras to a one-year contract extension in June that keeps him in Cincinnati through the 2025 season. Perhaps the team's biggest free agent splash in recent years is Orlando Brown Jr., who started all 17 games at LOT in his first Bengals season in 2023. Brown is a four-time Pro Bowler who spent his first three seasons (2018-20) with the Baltimore Ravens, then played two ('21-22) with the Kansas City Chiefs. He was a key piece of the offensive lines that protected QBs Lamar Jackson (2019) and Patrick Mahomes ('22) in their MVP seasons. His father, the late Orlando "Zeus" Brown Sr., was an offensive tackle for the Cleveland Browns and the Ravens. RG Alex Cappa joined Karras in signing with the Bengals during the 2022 free agency period, and he has started each game he has played in over the past two seasons. He suffered a left ankle injury in the 2022 regular-season finale and missed the entire postseason, but he recovered in time to start all 17 contests in '23. He previously was the Tampa Bay Buccaneers' starting RG from 2019-21, and was a member of the Super Bowl LV-winning team though he did not play in the final three playoff games due to injury. Former fourth-round draft pick Cordell Volson heads into his third pro season having started 36 consecutive games at LG to begin his career (including postseason). He is the only player on the Bengals to line up for every offensive snap during the 2022 regular season, '22 postseason and '23 regular season. Though he has found his role in Cincinnati as the team's LG, he lined up at guard and tackle on both sides during his five-year collegiate playing career at North Dakota State. While at NDSU, he played in a school-record 65 games, was a three-time FCS All-American and helped the Bison win four FCS national championships. A free agent signee this offseason, OT Trent Brown brings nine years of pro playing experience to the O-line room. He is the heaviest player on Cincinnati's roster, listed at 380 pounds, and at 6-8 he is tied with four fellow O-linemen for the tallest Bengal. He played for three teams prior to the Bengals, including two separate stints with the New England Patriots, and has seen action in 100 regular-season games (93 starts). He entered the league as a seventh-round pick of the San Francisco 49ers in 2015, and earned a Pro Bowl selection in '19 as a member of the Oakland Raiders. He also was a starter for the Patriots on their Super Bowl LIII winning team in 2018. Brown began training camp on the Active/Non-Football Injury list, but passed a physical and was cleared to practice on Aug. 4. Competing with Brown for the starting ROT spot is rookie Amarius Mims, the Bengals' first-round draft choice this past April (18th overall). Mims brings a physically imposing presence at 6-8, 340 pounds, but was noted by draft analysts for his athletic potential. He spent three seasons (2021-23) at the University of Georgia, playing in 29 games with eight starts while helping the Bulldogs win back-to-back national titles in '21 and '22. Last season, he started six games on an offensive line that led the SEC in fewest sacks allowed per game (0.93). Mims strained his pectoral muscle in the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay, and head coach Zac Taylor said he will be out "several weeks." Cody Ford, a former college teammate of Orlando Brown Jr. at the University of Oklahoma, signed with the Bengals as a free agent in 2023 and served as a key depth piece in his first season with Cincinnati. He saw action in all 17 games, utilized as a reserve guard, a sixth O-lineman in heavy packages, and a special teams contributor. He has played in 66 career games with 33 starts — 15 at ROT, nine at RG, eight at LG and one as a third TE. Ford was a 2019 second-round pick by Buffalo and spent his first three seasons with the Bills, then played for the Arizona Cardinals in '22. A fellow former second-rounder, Jackson Carman was drafted by the Bengals in 2021 and has played in 22 regular-season games with six starts. He has seen action both at guard and tackle, but his most notable contribution came during the 2022 postseason when he was thrust into the starting LOT role ahead of the AFC Divisional Playoff at Buffalo. That game, he helped limit the Bills to just one sack while paving the way for 172 Bengals rushing yards. He appeared in two games in 2023, primarily on special teams, while being inactive for eight contests and active/DNP for seven. Carman lined up for 40 offensive snaps in the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay, the most by any Bengals player. C Trey Hill was inactive for each game in 2023, after serving as a reserve center and special teams contributor during his first two pro seasons. A sixth-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2021, he started three games during his rookie season, and he has played in each of the team's seven postseason contests from '21-22. G Jaxson Kirkland spent the first 10 games of his rookie season in 2023 on Cincinnati's practice squad, then was moved to the Practice Squad/Injured list for the remainder of the year due to a wrist injury. A 2023 college free agent signee, he was an AP third-team All-American at the University of Washington in '22 and earned three first-team All-Pac-12 selections during his career with the Huskies. OT D'Ante Smith was active for eight games in 2023, but did not see game action. A fourth-round pick in 2021, he battled injuries throughout his rookie season and has played in just three regular-season contests, but also has seen the field in five postseason games for Cincinnati, including a pair of AFC Championship contests and Super Bowl LVI. OT Devin Cochran played 37 offensive snaps in the preseason opener, the second-most on the team behind Carman. He signed with the Bengals as a college free agent in 2022 and spent his entire rookie season on the team's practice squad, then missed the '23 campaign due to a knee injury. He started all 44 games he played in during his collegiate career at Vanderbilt (2016-19) and Georgia Tech ('21). The Bengals signed C Nate Gilliam midway through training camp in 2022, and he has spent the past two regular seasons on the team's practice squad. He previously spent time on the practice squads of the L.A. Chargers and Pittsburgh Steelers, after a four-year career (2016-19) at Wake Forest University. Gilliam lined up for each of the Bengals' 63 offensive snaps on Saturday at Chicago, one of two players to do so alongside C Matt Lee. The team's final selection of the 2024 NFL Draft, Lee played in 51 games in college, spending the first four years of his career (2019-22) at the University of Central Florida before transferring to the University of Miami (Fla.) for the '23 campaign. He was named second-team

All-Atlantic Coast Conference last season, when he helped the Hurricanes allow the second-fewest sacks in the ACC (16), while blocking for an offense that ranked second in the conference in total yards per game (431.2). G Eric Miller is a local college free agent signee from Mason, Ohio (north of Cincinnati). He spent his final collegiate season in 2023 at the University of Louisville following four years ('19-22) at Purdue. He played in 14 games for the Cardinals last season and picked up honorable mention All-ACC accolades.

Defensive linemen: Among the NFL's premier pass rushers is eighth-year DE Trey Hendrickson, who has led the Bengals in sacks and been voted to the Pro Bowl in each of his three seasons with the team. A 2021 free agent acquisition, he is coming off a career-high 17.5 sacks in '23 that tied for second in the league and ranked second in team history (DE Coy Bacon, 22.0 in 1976). Hendrickson's 53.0 sacks since the start of the 2020 season — his final year with the New Orleans Saints — rank third in the NFL behind Pittsburgh OLB T.J. Watt (62.0) and Cleveland DE Myles Garrett (58.0). On the other side of the line is Cincinnati native and Archbishop Moeller High School graduate Sam Hubbard, who enters his seventh Bengals season (sixth as a full-time starter). A third-round pick by his hometown team in 2018, Hubbard has recorded 36.5 career sacks, the third-most among all players in his draft class. He has notched at least six sacks in each of the past three seasons, and his 58 total tackles in 2023 led all Bengals D-linemen. Cincinnati acquired DT B.J. Hill in a trade with the N.Y. Giants prior to the start of the 2021 season, and the seventh-year pro has established himself as a key contributor for defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo. After seeing action primarily as a reserve DT in his first season with the team, Hill has started each of his last 39 games played, including six postseason contests from 2021-22 and all 17 regular-season games in '23. A productive pass rusher from the interior, he has totaled 13 sacks over the past three seasons while also batting down/tipping nine passes at the line of scrimmage. Ninth-year veteran Sheldon Rankins signed with the Bengals as an unrestricted free agent in March and brings 109 games of NFL experience to the D-line group. A first-round draft pick of New Orleans in 2016, he spent his first five seasons with the Saints before playing for the N.Y. Jets ('21-22) and Houston Texans ('23). Alongside Hill, he provides a strong pass rushing ability from the inside with 29.5 career sacks and 43 TFLs. His six sacks for the Texans last season were the second-most in his career, and included a career-high three on Nov. 12 at Paycor Stadium against the Bengals. DE Joseph Ossai enters his fourth season in the NFL, but third healthy year after missing his entire rookie campaign due to a knee injury. A 2021 third-round pick of the Bengals, he has played in 30 career regular-season games and totaled 27 tackles with 4.5 sacks. Ossai was born in Nigeria and moved to the United States with his family when he was 10 years old, the same year he watched his first football game. Anarumo has praised the potential of third-year DT Zach Carter during training camp, noting him among the veteran starters and recent high draft picks who can see substantial playing time. Carter played in all 17 games last season, making five starts as an extra DT. A third-round selection of the Bengals in 2022, he has 46 total tackles in 33 career appearances (14 starts). Nose tackle Jay Tufele has provided depth for the Bengals since being acquired on waivers prior to the 2022 season. He saw action in 10 games in 2023, recording 11 tackles on 96 defensive snaps played. Tufele originally was a fourth-round draft choice by Jacksonville in 2021 and played in four games as a rookie for the Jaguars. DE Myles Murphy, the team's first-round draft pick in 2022 out of Clemson University, played in all 17 games during his rookie campaign. He logged 20 tackles with three sacks, while also contributing on special teams. Murphy was the first D-lineman taken by the Bengals in the first round since DE Justin Smith in 2001. The Bengals used their second-round choice this past April to select DT Kris Jenkins Jr. out of the University of Michigan. Noted for his leadership qualities in addition to his on-field production, Jenkins was a team captain who started every game for the national champion Wolverines in 2023. He was a second-team All-American and second-team All-Big Ten selection in his final season in Ann Arbor, racking up 37 tackles, 4.5 TFLs and 2.5 sacks. His father, Kris Jenkins Sr., played 10 seasons in the NFL (2001-10) as a DT for the Carolina Panthers and N.Y. Jets, and was a four-time Pro Bowler. Jenkins notched his first sack of the preseason on Saturday at Chicago, when he used a spin move to get to Bears QB Caleb Williams for a loss of six yards in the second quarter. Forty-eight picks after Jenkins, Cincinnati took run-stuffing DT McKinnley Jackson out of Texas A&M. Jackson was a two-time team captain for the Aggies who played in 40 career games. He totaled 91 tackles, with 15.5 TFLs and 7.5 sacks. At 331 pounds, he is the heaviest defensive player on the Bengals roster (fifth heaviest overall). DT Domenique Davis has spent his two Bengals seasons (2022-23) on the team's practice squad, but three times he has been elevated to the active roster and he saw action in two contests in '22 (three tackles). He was not with an NFL team for two seasons after originally entering the league as a college free agent signee of the N.Y. Jets, and in that time he played for the Houston Gamblers of the USFL. Davis is the first player out of the University of North Carolina-Pembroke to play in the NFL. DT Travis Bell was acquired on waivers by Cincinnati in December of 2023, after spending time with Chicago and Atlanta earlier in his rookie season. He played in two games for the Falcons, then was inactive for the Bengals' final three games of the regular season. A seventh-round pick of the Bears, Bell was the first ever NFL draft pick out of Kennesaw State University. In the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay, he sacked QB John Wolford for a loss of six yards in the third quarter. DT Devonsha Maxwell spent his entire rookie season in 2023 on the Reserve/Injured list due to a knee injury, after signing with the Bengals as a college free agent last offseason. He played five seasons (2018-22) at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga, where he posted a school-record 37.5 career sacks and was the Southern Conference Defensive Player of the Year in '21. Maxwell began training camp on the Active/Physically Unable to Perform list, but passed a physical and was cleared to practice on Aug. 12. The Bengals selected DE Cedric Johnson in the sixth round of this year's draft, and the University of Mississippi product looks to carry over an honorable mention All-SEC season in 2023 to the NFL ranks. He logged a career-high 40 tackles with 5.5 sacks last season at Ole Miss, and went on to participate in the 2024 Reese's Senior Bowl. Johnson notched four solo tackles and a sack in his preseason debut against Tampa Bay. Fellow rookie DE Justin Blazek joined the Bengals as a college free agent signee following a standout career at the University of Wisconsin-Platteville (Division III). He was a two-time American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) first-team All-American, and in 33 career games he tallied 19.5 sacks and 37 TFLs. Blazek also showed capability in pass coverage with four career INTs and nine pass breakups. He was named the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WIAC) Defensive Player of the Year each of the past two seasons. DE Andre Carter and DT Joshua Pryor each signed with the Bengals on Aug. 7. Carter, a rookie out of Indiana University, originally signed with Jacksonville as a college free agent in May, then was waived in late July. He played in 58 career games in college, including 46 during a five-year career (2018-22) at Western Michigan. In his lone season at Indiana, he started all 12 contests and earned All-Big Ten honorable mention. Pryor is a second-year player who played in seven games last season as a rookie for the Washington Commanders. He saw action primarily on special teams, recording one ST tackle. A product of Bowie State University (Bowie, Md.), he was waived by the Commanders in May. Cincinnati's most recent roster addition is third-year DT Carlos Davis, who joined the team as a free agent on Aug. 8. Davis has played in 12 career games, all for the Pittsburgh Steelers during the 2020-22 seasons. He has logged 12 tackles with three TFLs and a sack. He was not with an NFL team during the 2023 season, then spent the '24 spring season with the Birmingham Stallions of the United Football League.

Linebackers: A 2020 third-round draft pick of the Bengals, Logan Wilson has developed into one of the NFL's top linebackers and is a highly productive member of the Cincinnati defense. His 11 career INTs are the most by any LB since he entered the league, and he has led the Bengals in tackles in each of the past three seasons. His career-high 135 tackles in 2023 were the most by a Bengals player since LB Vontaze Burfict had 171 in his 2013 Pro Bowl campaign. Recognized for his versatility, Wilson is one of two NFL players with at least 10 INTs, five sacks and five FFs since the start of the 2020 season, alongside Minnesota S Harrison Smith. He also wears the "green dot" as the Bengals' defensive communicator on the field. The team's starting LB tandem features Wilson and sixth-year pro Germaine Pratt, who has set career highs in tackles in each of the past two seasons. Pratt has a knack for forcing game-changing turnovers, and is one of four players leaguewide with at least 300 tackles, five INTs and five FFs since the start of the 2021 campaign. He has started 71 of 79 career regular-season games played, and brings a streak of 61 consecutive starts (including postseason) into 2024. Akeem Davis-Gaither has played in 54 games with four starts over four seasons with the Bengals, serving as a rotational LB and core special teamer. He battled through a knee injury in 2023, but managed to play in 13 contests and record 16 tackles. His 289 special teams snaps played last season were third-most on the team. Another key piece of Cincinnati's special teams units is fifth-year pro Joe Bachie. Bachie suffered an injury late in the 2021 season that caused him to miss the early portion of the '22 campaign, but he has since suited up in 26 regular-season contests, including 16 in '23. He spent time with New Orleans and Philadelphia to begin his career, then was acquired on waivers by the Bengals during the 2021 offseason. Defensively, he has 34 career tackles and one PD in 39 games played. Third-year pro Devin Harper was acquired on waivers by Cincinnati in September of last year, and saw action in six games in a special teams role. He originally was a third-round draft pick of the Dallas Cowboys in 2022, and played in the first three games of his rookie campaign before suffering a season-ending Achilles injury. LB Shaka Heyward signed with Cincinnati as a college free agent during the 2023 offseason and spent his rookie season on the practice squad. He was a two-time All-ACC performer at Duke, where he logged 340 tackles with 11 sacks in 51 games played. Rookie LB Aaron Casey signed with the Bengals as a college free agent in May, coming off a final season at Indiana University in which he tallied 109 tackles and earned first-team All-Big Ten honors. He was the first Hoosiers player since 2016 to reach 100 stops, and his 20 TFLs ranked fourth on the school's single-season record list. Fellow rookie CFA Maema Njongmeta has led the Bengals in tackles in each of their two preseason games, notching 10 stops against Tampa Bay and seven at Chicago. Njongmeta spent the past four seasons (2020-23) at the University of Wisconsin, where he took over a starting LB job in his junior season. Over his final two years, he posted a combined 154 tackles with 21 TFLs and 6.5 sacks.

Cornerbacks: Nickel CB Mike Hilton, a free agency acquisition of the Bengals in 2021, is widely considered one of the top slot corners in the NFL. Though one of the smallest players on the roster at 5-9, 184 pounds, he is a sure tackler and excellent blitzer with 11.5 career sacks. He was voted a team captain for the first time in 2023, and recorded career highs in total tackles (84) and TFLs (12). He also had a pair of INTs and eight PDs last season. Hilton entered the league as a college free agent signee by Jacksonville in 2016, and was briefly on New England's practice squad before spending four-plus seasons with Pittsburgh. Third-year pro Cam Taylor-Britt looks to continue his ascension as a bona fide number one outside CB. The Bengals' 2022 second-round draft pick has started 21 of 22 career games played and quickly proven he can match up against opposing teams' top WRs. He missed five games last season due to injuries, but still tied for the team lead with four INTs (tied for seventh in NFL), while collecting 11 PDs and 50 tackles. Taylor-Britt was not in uniform for the start of training camp as he recovered from tonsil surgery, but has since returned to action and is a full participant in practices. DJ Turner II gained valuable experience as a rookie in 2023. Turner played in all 17 games, with 12 starts in the final 13 contests, and logged 50 tackles along with seven PDs. He was a second-round draft choice of the Bengals who ran the fastest 40-yard dash time among all players at the 2023 NFL Combine, clocking in at 4.26 seconds. Dax Hill, Cincinnati's first-round draft pick in 2022 and Turner's former University of Michigan teammate, is making the transition from safety to cornerback ahead of his third season. He started every game at S in 2023, ranking third on the team with 110 tackles while adding 11 PDs and two INTs. He was a reserve S during his rookie campaign, contributing primarily on special teams. Hill notched a team-leading three PDs in the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay. Fifth-year pro Jalen Davis is a reserve slot corner and special teams contributor who joined the Bengals midway through the 2020 season. He played in 16 games last season, tallying three defensive tackles and two special teams stops. He saw action in just 11 games over his first three years in the league, spending time with Miami and Arizona before Cincinnati, but has since played in 44 regular-season contests in his past three seasons as a Bengal. Cincinnati signed free agent CB Nate Brooks on July 26, adding a second-year pro with four games of NFL experience. Brooks originally was a college free agent signee of Arizona in 2019, and he saw action in three games with Miami in '19 and one with Baltimore in '20. His career totals are 11 tackles and two PDs. Allan George came to Cincinnati as a college free agent signee in 2022 and spent most of his rookie season on the team's practice squad, but was signed to the active roster late in the year and played in seven games (four regular season, three postseason). He was on the practice squad for the entirety of the 2023 regular season, after totaling 10 tackles in three preseason contests. George played a team-high 45 defensive snaps in Saturday's preseason game at Chicago and logged two solo stops. DJ Ivey was placed on the Active/Physically Unable to Perform list as he works his way back from a knee injury he sustained in Week 15 of the 2023 season. A seventh-rounder in the 2023 draft, he carved out a special teams role during his rookie campaign and saw action as a reserve CB prior to his injury. The Bengals' fifth-round draft choice this year, Josh Newton, had an INT in his preseason debut against the Buccaneers then followed up with five tackles and a PD on Saturday at Chicago. Lou Anarumo spoke highly of Newton after his name was called on the third day of the draft, citing his ability to line up on the outside or at nickel. He started all 27 games he played in over two seasons (2022-23) at Texas Christian University, logging 68 tackles with 24 PDs and four INTs. He transferred to TCU from the University of Louisiana-Monroe, and in his first season with the Horned Frogs he ranked second in the Big 12 Conference with 12 pass breakups and helped lead the team to the College Football Playoff National Championship game. Lance Robinson joined the Bengals as a college free agent in May, coming off an impressive final season at Tulane University in 2023. His career-high four INTs tied for the most in the American Athletic Conference and helped him earn second-team All-AAC honors. He spent his final three collegiate seasons at Tulane (2021-23), after two years at Kansas State ('18-19). He played in 53 total games and closed out his career with 28 straight starts.

Safeties: Ninth-year veteran Vonn Bell returns for his second Bengals stint in 2024, after spending the '23 season with the Carolina Panthers. He previously played for Cincinnati from 2020-22, serving as a team captain in all three seasons while helping the Bengals emerge as Super Bowl contenders. He started all 48 regular-season games he played in for the Bengals, lining up for a team-high 96.3 percent of defensive snaps. His eight FFs from 2020-22 were the eighth-most in the NFL, and he also contributed five INTs and 288 total tackles. In 13 games played for the Panthers last season, he ranked third on the team in tackles (69) and had two PDs. One of the headliners of Cincinnati's 2024 free agency class is Geno Stone, who emerged as a premier ball-hawking safety in his final season with Baltimore. He spent his first three pro seasons (2020-22) as a reserve defensive back for the Ravens, then in '23 broke out with an AFC-leading seven INTs (second in NFL). His seven picks included a streak of four consecutive games with an INT, which tied for the longest streak leaguewide last season. Stone originally was a seventh-round pick of the Ravens in 2020, and 18 of his 19 career starts have come in the past two seasons. Jordan Battle looks to build off a strong rookie season in 2023 that saw him start seven straight games at S to close out the year. He recorded the fifth-most tackles on the team (69), while adding one INT, five PDs and two sacks. A third-round pick of the Bengals, he was a team captain and two-time third-team All-American at the University of Alabama. Battle played 41 defensive snaps in the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay and logged five tackles. Third-year pro Tycen Anderson was emerging as a key special teams contributor in the early half of last season before suffering a season-ending knee injury in Week 8. A fifth-round pick of the Bengals in 2022, he missed his entire rookie season due to a hamstring injury, then led the team with eight special teams tackles in '23 prior despite missing the final 10 games. He had two INTs in last year's preseason opener against Green Bay, including a 43-yard pick-six. A trio of rookies round out the Bengals' safety group, including Daijahn Anthony, who has turned heads in training camp with multiple INTs during 11-on-11 team periods. A seventh-rounder in April's draft, Anthony worked his way from Division II Shepherd University (2019-20) to Liberty University ('21-22), before finishing out his collegiate career at the University of Mississippi in '23. He started 10 of 13 games played with the Rebels last season, tying for the team lead with three INTs while totaling 61 tackles. Michael Dowell joined the roster as a college free agent signee this offseason, following two years (2022-23) at the University of Miami (Ohio). He began his career at Michigan State (2019-21), and has experience lining up at S and at nickel CB. In 58 career games played (32 at MSU, 26 at Miami), his totals included 240 tackles, 11 TFLs, 18 PDs and two INTs. Fellow CFA signee PJ Jules was a consensus first-team FCS All-American and first-team All-Missouri Valley Football Conference (MVFC) pick in 2023 at Southern Illinois University. He led the Salukis last season in tackles (111), TFLs (13) and pass breakups (11). Jules lined up for 20 defensive snaps on Saturday at Chicago and tallied four tackles.

Special teams: Fourth-year K Evan McPherson has quickly become one of the top kickers in the NFL and a fan-favorite in Cincinnati. He ranks third on the team's all-time field goal percentage list (83.9 percent; minimum 75 attempts) and has been named AFC Special Teams Player of the Week three times. Known for his long-distance accuracy, his 50 made FGs from 50 or more yards are the most in Bengals history, the most in NFL history in a player's first three career seasons, and tied for the most by any kicker since he entered the league in 2021. Last season, McPherson converted 26 of 31 FG attempts and was a perfect 40-for-40 on PATs. He inked a three-year contract extension on Sunday that keeps him in Cincinnati through the 2027 season. Long-snapper Cal Adomitis enters his third pro season having delivered zero unplayable snaps on 288 attempts in 35 career games. The 2022 college free agent signee out of the University of Pittsburgh began his rookie season on the Bengals' practice squad, before taking over primary long-snapping duties in Week 2. The Bengals' roster features two punters, including second-year pro Brad Robbins. A native of Westerville, Ohio (north of Columbus), Robbins was a sixth-round pick of the Bengals in 2023 and earned the team's punting role coming out of his rookie training camp. He punted 76 times last season with a 44.3-yard gross average and 20 downed inside the opponents' 20-yard line. He was a three-time All-Big Ten honoree at the University of Michigan who finished his career with the second-highest punting average (43.0 yards) in school history. He missed the second preseason game at Chicago due to a hip injury, leaving each punt in that contest to rookie P Ryan Rehkow. Rehkow signed with Cincinnati on July 26, nearly a month after he was waived by Kansas City. He joined the Chiefs as a college free agent out of Brigham Young University, where he played in 50 career games and averaged 47.4 yards on 176 punts. Rehkow had three punts in the preseason opener vs. Tampa Bay, averaging 56.0 yards per attempt with two at 59 yards. Second-year WR Charlie Jones earned the primary punt returner job early in his rookie season, and took firm command of that role in just his second game when he returned a punt 81 yards for a TD against the Baltimore Ravens. The play marked the Bengals' first TD on a PR since 2012, and was the 10th punt return TD by a rookie in team history (first since 2000). Jones finished the season with 248 PR yards on 23 attempts, good for a 10.8-yard average. Fifth-year WR Trenton Irwin had 10 of his 13 career punt returns last season. He averaged 9.8 yards per return in 2023, with two returns for over 20 yards in Week 5 at Arizona. HB Trayveon Williams figures to serve as the primary kick returner once again, a responsibility he has held since midway through the 2022 season. Williams has 28 career KORs for 646 yards (23.1), and last season had his career-long run back of 46 yards in Week 12 vs. Pittsburgh. Also in the mix to return kickoffs is second-year HB Chase Brown, who logged two KORs for 44 yards in the 2023 season-finale against Cleveland.
