NEXT UP:
SUPER BOWL LVII, FEB. 12

GAME NOTES

Kickoff: 6:30 p.m. Eastern.

Television: The game will air on CBS-TV. In the Bengals' home region, it will be carried by WKRC-TV (Ch. 12) in Cincinnati, WHIO-TV (Ch. 7) in Dayton and on WKYT-TV (Ch. 27) in Lexington. Broadcasters are Jim Nantz (play-by-play), Tony Romo (analyst), Evan Washburn and Tracy Wolfson (sideline reporters), Jay Feely (special teams reporter) and Gene Steratore (rules analyst).

Radio: The game will air on the Bengals Radio Network, led by Cincinnati flagship stations WLW-AM (700), WCKY-AM (1530) and WEBN-FM (102.7). Broadcasters are Dan Hoard (play-by-play) and Dave Lapham (analyst). The Bengals Radio Network's broadcast also will be available on SiriusXM 82 or 225 and on the SXM app.

The game also will air nationally on Westwood One Radio. Broadcasters are Ian Eagle (play-by-play), Tony Boselli (analyst) and Laura Okmin (sideline reporter).

Setting the scene: The Bengals travel to Arrowhead Stadium looking to defend the Lamar Hunt Trophy when they take on the Kansas City Chiefs in the AFC Championship Game.

Cincinnati is making its fourth-ever AFC Championship appearance, and will face Kansas City for the fourth time in the last 13 months. The Bengals have held the upper hand against the Chiefs, winning each of the past three matchups including last season's conference title game. They earned their spot in the NFL's final four by way of a dominant 27-10 road win over the No. 2-seeded Buffalo Bills in a snowy AFC Divisional Playoff last Sunday. Cincinnati battled through the conditions to record 412 net yards of offense, including 172 rushing, while defensively it held the high-scoring Bills to season lows in points (10) and rushing yards (63).

"It was one of the best games of the year," said QB Joe Burrow after the game. "Rushing, pass blocking — it might be our most complete game of the season as a team."

Burrow completed 23 of 36 passes for 242 yards and two TDs, while committing zero turnovers. His best work was done early on, however, as on the opening two offensive drives he went nine for nine for 105 yards and a pair of passing scores to give the Bengals a 14-0 lead in the first quarter. Cincinnati was given the first possession of the game and marched 79 yards in six plays, capped by a 28-yard pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase, who found the end zone for his ninth TD in his last nine games played.

Following a quick three-and-out forced by the Bengals' defense, Burrow went right back to work, steering a five-play, 72-yard drive that finished with a 15-yard TD pass to TE Hayden Hurst.

"Our guys believe. They walk on the field ready to attack," head coach Zac Taylor said. "We were taking the ball whether we won the coin toss or not. Those guys want to walk on the field and start attacking other teams, and that's what happened today."

The offense was able to sustain drives throughout the afternoon, totaling a Bengals postseason record 30 first downs to slowly drown out the raucous Buffalo home crowd. Perhaps the most impressive performance on that side of the ball came from the offensive line, which was missing three starters entering the game but limited the Bills to just one sack and consistently provided Burrow with time in the pocket.

"To rush for over 170 yards in this environment, to handle the noise the way they did, to protect Joe the way that they did — I thought our offensive line was outstanding," Taylor said.

Defensively, the Bengals shut down a Bills side that ranked in the top 10 in scoring, total offense, passing and rushing during the regular season. Coordinator Lou Anarumo's unit forced four punts, and a FG that cut Buffalo's deficit to 17-10 midway through the third quarter proved to be its final points of the day. The 10 points given up tied for the second-fewest yielded in a postseason game in Bengals history.

The Bengals answered that third-quarter FG with a methodical 12-play, 75-yard drive which featured seven runs and five passes. HB Joe Mixon punctuated the drive with a one-yard TD that regained Cincinnati's two-score advantage. Mixon, who has spent each of his six pro seasons in Bengals stripes, logged a postseason career-high 105 rushing yards on 20 carries (5.3 average).

Buffalo put together two extended drives in the fourth quarter, desperately trying to close the gap as time wound down. The Bills came up empty on both possessions, though, beginning with a fourth-down from the Cincinnati 16-yard line that saw QB Josh Allen's pass to the end zone broken up by CB Eli Apple. Allen then drove Buffalo inside Bengals territory on a last-gasp possession with under two minutes left, but the game was put to bed when rookie CB Cam Taylor-Britt grabbed his first career INT, leading to the Cincinnati defense celebrating with snow angels as chants of "Who Dey" reigned down from the traveling fan base.

"I thought Lou and the staff did a great job formulating a plan," Taylor said. "Our defensive line led the way by harassing (Allen), and everybody else fed off that. There was great communication on the back end. I'll highlight the defensive ends, because they really got the party started, but I thought our whole defense played excellent throughout the whole game."

The Bengals, which won at top-seeded Tennessee in the Divisional Playoff last year before taking the AFC title at Kansas City, now have a chance to become the fifth team in NFL history to win four consecutive road postseason games. Standing in their way of a second straight Super Bowl berth is once again Arrowhead Stadium, where they will meet a Chiefs offense that led the league during the regular season in points and passing yards per game. While Cincinnati enters with the advantage of three consecutive wins over Kansas City, Taylor has stressed that each new matchup presents its own challenges, despite the recent history between the two contenders.

"We've got to beat them one time in a row," Taylor said. "Obviously, there's more familiarity personnel-wise amongst both teams now. We understand the environment we're walking into — that doesn't hurt. But at the end of the day, it feels like we played them a really long time ago. Teams continue to evolve. Different strengths pop up, different weaknesses pop up, and so you've got to do the whole game planning thing all over again and get your guys ready to go."

Cincinnati is 3-0 in its previous AFC Championship Game appearances, with wins in the 1981, '88 and 2021 seasons. The Bengals are the only team in NFL history that is unbeaten in the AFC title game. Sunday will mark just the third time over the past 35 years that the AFC Championship is a rematch of the same teams from the previous season, with the last two instances coming in 2011-12 (Patriots vs. Ravens) and 1986-87 (Broncos vs. Browns).

The series: The Bengals lead the series 18-14 overall, including 1-0 in postseason. Cincinnati has won seven of the last eight meetings, including the three most recent contests, all which occurred in the calendar year of 2022. The Bengals are 8-9 overall at Kansas City, though they own a 10-5 mark at home and have won six straight in Cincinnati dating back to 1987.

This weekend's game will mark the fourth meeting in 13 months between the two non-division opponents. Their three 2022 calendar-year games include two '21 season contests played last January — a 34-31 Week 17 win at Cincinnati, and a 27-24 OT victory in the AFC Championship at Kansas City — as well as a 27-24 Week 13 win at Cincinnati this season.

The Bengals' first game of any kind was against the Chiefs, in Cincinnati's inaugural preseason contest, played Aug. 3, 1968 at Nippert Stadium on the University of Cincinnati campus. The Chiefs won that preseason game, 38-14.

The Bengals began regular-season play in 1968 as co-members with Kansas City in the American Football League's Western Division, and the teams played each other twice in both 1968 and '69.

Team bests from the series:

Bengals — MOST POINTS: 36, in a 36-21 win at Paul Brown Stadium in 2015. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 27, from a 33-6 win at Riverfront Stadium in '74. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: Six (five times), most recently in a 28-6 win at Arrowhead Stadium in 2012.

Chiefs — MOST POINTS: 45, in a 45-10 win at Arrowhead Stadium in 2018. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 35, in the 2018 win. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: Three (twice), most recently in a 37-3 win at Arrowhead Stadium in '05.

The last meetings: Summaries of the three most recent Bengals-Chiefs meetings can be found in this release. From the 2021 season, the regular-season matchup at Cincinnati and the AFC Championship game at Kansas City are on page 19. And, from this season, the Dec. 4 meeting at Cincinnati is on page 25.

Bengals career records roundup: Here is a look at the movement this season in Cincinnati's individual career record book (regular season):

- HB Joe Mixon had 814 rushing yards during the regular season, moving his career total to 5378. That ranks fifth in Bengals history, and is 43 yards shy of FB Pete Johnson (5421) for fourth place.
- Mixon also had seven rushing TDs, moving his career total to 40. That ranks fourth in team history, and is five shy of HB Corey Dillon (45) for third place. Mixon in Week 9 vs. Carolina surpassed HB James Brooks and FB Larry Kinnebrew (37 each).
- Mixon had 210 rushing attempts, moving his career total to 1314. That ranks fifth in team history, and is 30 shy of HB James Brooks (1344) for fourth place. Mixon in Week 1 vs. Pittsburgh surpassed HB Cedric Benson (1109).
- Mixon additionally has 14 career games with 100 or more rushing yards, tied with FB Pete Johnson for fifth place. HB Corey Dillon (28), HB Rudi Johnson (19), HB James Brooks (17), and HB Cedric Benson (15) hold the top four spots on the team's career list.
- QB Joe Burrow had five games with 300 or more passing yards, moving his career total 16. That ranks fifth in team history, and is one shy of QB Carson Palmer (17) for fourth place. QBs Andy Dalton (28), Boomer Esiason (23), and Ken Anderson (19) hold the top three spots on the team's career list.
- WR Tyler Boyd had 58 catches, moving his career total to 446. That ranks fifth in team history, and is 61 shy of WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh (507) for fourth place. Boyd in Week 8 at Cleveland surpassed WR Cris Collinsworth (417).
- P Kevin Huber (practice squad) played in nine games this season, moving his career total games played to 216. That is a Bengals record, as Huber entered the season tied with CB Ken Riley for the most games played in team history (207).
- Huber has also accrued 14 NFL seasons, tied with LB Reggie Williams for the third-most in team history.

Bengals single-season records set in 2022: Here's a look at the single-season team records that were set during the 2022 regular season. Full details on individual records entering the 2022 season can be found on page 186 of the '22 Bengals Media Guide.

- QB Joe Burrow completed 414 passes, which counts as a new Bengals record. The previous record was 373, by Carson Palmer in 2007.
- Burrow had 606 pass attempts, which counts as a new Bengals record. The previous record was 586, by Carson Palmer in 2010 and Andy Dalton in '13.
- Burrow threw 35 TD passes, which counts as a new Bengals record. The previous record was 34, by Burrow in 2021.
- K Evan McPherson kicked a 59-yard FG (Sept. 11 vs. Pittsburgh), a new Bengals record. The previous record was 58 yards, by McPherson in 2021.

Other record-book movement: Here's a look at other movement on the Bengals' single-season record charts that occurred during the 2022 regular season. Full details on individual records entering the 2022 season can be found on page 186 of the '22 Bengals Media Guide.

- QB Joe Burrow had a 68.32 completion percentage, third-highest in team history. The record is 70.55, by Ken Anderson in 1982. Burrow's 2021 completion percentage of 70.38 ranks second in team history.
- Burrow passed for 4475 yards, second-most in team history. The record is 4611, by Burrow in 2021.
- Burrow had a 100.8 passer rating, fourth-highest in team history. The record is 108.3, by Burrow in 2021.
- Burrow had five games with 300 or more passing yards, tied with four players for second-most in team history. The record is six, by Burrow in 2021.
- WR Trent Taylor had 340 punt return yards, fourth-most in team history. The record is 543, by Brandon Tate in 2011.

Regular-season records vs. Chiefs: The following Bengals team records have been set in previous Cincinnati-Kansas City games:

- As noted above, Bengals WR Ja'Marr Chase set the NFL's single-game receiving yardage mark for a rookie and the Bengals' single-game receiving yardage mark overall with 266 on Jan. 2, 2022 vs. Kansas City.
- Former Bengals S David Fulcher had three interceptions in a 21-17 win at Kansas City on Oct. 1, 1989, tying a Bengals record that now has been achieved eight times, including a second time by Fulcher on Dec. 17, 1989 vs. the Houston Oilers.
- Chiefs K Cairo Santos kicked seven field goals at Paul Brown Stadium on Oct. 4, 2015, setting a record for most field goals by a kicker in a game against the Bengals. He connected on all seven of his attempts and accounted for all 21 of Kansas City's points in the 36-21 Cincinnati win.

Postseason records vs. Chiefs: Three individual postseason records were either tied or set by Bengals players in the AFC Championship game on Jan. 30, 2022, last season, including the following:

- Bengals K Evan McPherson tied his own postseason record for most FGs in a postseason game with four. He originally set the mark two weeks earlier in the team's Wild Card Playoff vs. Las Vegas, then tied it a week later in the Divisional Playoff at Tennessee, then tied it again against the Chiefs in the championship game. No other Bengals kicker has recorded more than three FGs in a postseason game.
- Bengals QB Joe Burrow tied the team mark for most touchdown passes in a postseason game with two, a mark matched six times previously, including by Burrow two weeks earlier in the team's Wild Card game vs. Las Vegas.
- Bengals DE Sam Hubbard set the team record for most sacks in a postseason game with two.

Individually vs. Chiefs: Offensive statistics for current Bengals in Cincinnati games against the Chiefs in both regular season and postseason include (ordered by total games played):

- WR Tyler Boyd: Four games; 15 receptions for 142 yards (9.5) and one TD.
- QB Joe Burrow: Three games; 78-of-108 passing for 982 yards, eight TDs and one INT (121.0 passer rating); 21 rushes for 81 yards (3.9) and one TD.
- WR Ja'Marr Chase: Three games; 24 receptions for 417 yards (17.4) and four TDs; One rush for three yards.
- WR Tee Higgins: Three games; 12 receptions for 200 yards (16.7) and one TD.
- HB Joe Mixon: Three games; 46 rushes for 184 yards (4.0-yard average); 13 receptions for 68 yards (5.2).
- HB Samaje Perine: Three games; 22 rushes for 110 yards (5.0); 10 receptions for 102 yards (10.2) and one TD.
- WR Trent Taylor: Three games; One rush for minus-three yards; One two-point conversion (pass).
- TE Mitchell Wilcox: Three games; One reception for 13 yards.
- TE Drew Sample (Reserve/Injured): Two games; One reception for four yards.
- QB Brandon Allen: One game; 0-for-1 passing; One rush for zero yards.

- HB Chris Evans: Three games; One reception for eight yards and one TD.
- TE Hayden Hurst: One game; Two receptions for 12 yards (6.0).
- WR Trenton Irwin: One game; One reception for 12 yards.
- HB Trayveon Williams: One game; One rush for three yards.

Uniform watch: The Bengals are slated to wear white jerseys, white pants (black stripes) and black socks this week at Kansas City. Cincinnati is 8-1 when wearing that combination, which was last featured in the team's 27-10 win in the AFC Divisional Playoff at Buffalo. The Bengals also donned this look in two consecutive road playoff victories last season (at Tennessee in AFC Divisional, at Kansas City in AFC Championship). The eight wins are the team's most in any combination since it unveiled new uniforms in 2021.

Cincinnati's new look marked the team's first significant uniform redesign since 2004. There are three different color options for the current jerseys — black, white and orange. The pants also feature three different options — black with orange stripes, white with orange stripes, and white with black stripes. Options for sock color include black, white and orange.

This year, with the NFL's approval for the use of alternate helmets, the Bengals unveiled a new helmet branded as the "White Bengal," featuring a white base coat and the team's iconic black stripes. The helmet debuted in the Week 4 Thursday Night Football matchup against the Miami Dolphins, which saw the Bengals earn a 27-15 win in front of a white-out crowd at Paycor Stadium. They sported the "White Bengal" again in Week 11, in a 37-30 victory at Pittsburgh.

In the league's revised uniform policy, teams can pair their new helmet with an alternate, classic or Color Rush uniform. To accentuate the "White Bengal" helmet, the Bengals chose to bring back the fan-favorite Color Rush look — a white jersey/pant combination featuring black stripes and black lettering. The team wore the Color Rush uniform seven times from 2016-20.

Here are the Bengals' records in every possible uniform combination (regular season plus postseason):

* — NFL rules allow teams to wear designated alternate jerseys and/or color rush (CR) uniforms and/or throwback uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. Orange is the Bengals' designated alternate jersey. In 2022, Cincinnati wore its new alternate white helmet with its previous color rush uniform. The Bengals do not have a throwback uniform.

THE HEAD COACHES

Zac Taylor was named the 10th head coach in Bengals history on Feb. 4, 2019. The 2022 season is his fourth in the position.

In 2021, Taylor led Cincinnati to an AFC North Division championship, an AFC championship and a berth in Super Bowl LVI. Working with one of the NFL's top young offenses, he helped guide second-year QB Joe Burrow to a breakout year in which he set team records for passing yardage (4611), TD passes (34) and passer rating (108.3), as well as recording a league-high 70.4 completion percentage. Burrow was named the AP NFL Comeback Player of the Year — becoming the second player in franchise history to do so — after missing the final six weeks of his rookie season due to a knee injury. Taylor also oversaw the rapid rise of first-year WR Ja'Marr Chase, who posted the most receiving yards by a rookie in the Super Bowl era (1455) en route to winning AP Offensive

Rookie of the Year honors. Chase and fellow WR Tee Higgins (1091 yards) became the first duo in NFL history to record 1000 receiving yards in the same season before the age of 23. Fifth-year HB Joe Mixon further established himself as one of the NFL's premier backs under Taylor, ranking third in the league in rushing yards (1205) and fourth in rushing TDs (13). Overall, the Cincinnati offense finished the regular season in the top half of the NFL in yards (13th, 361.5 per game), passing yards (seventh, 259.0) and points (eighth, 27.1).

Defensively, the Bengals showed marked improvement from 2020 to '21, improving their league ranking in rushing yards allowed (29th to fifth), total yards allowed (26th to 18th) and points allowed (22nd to 17th).

In 2020, Taylor helped transition Burrow, the No. 1 overall pick in the NFL draft, to the pros, despite the absence of an in-person offseason program due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Burrow had one of the most productive starts to a career by a QB in NFL history before a knee injury ended the rookie's season after 10 games. Still, Burrow's 264 completions were the most ever by an NFL QB through their first 10 career games, while his 404 pass attempts were second and his 2688 passing yards were fifth. Defensively, Taylor oversaw the onboarding of seven new starters, and helped Cincinnati hold opposing passers to just a 62.8 completion percentage (sixth-lowest in the NFL).

In 2019, his first season as head coach, Taylor headed off a wave of early season injuries to lead Cincinnati to second-half turnarounds on both offense and defense. Offensively, the Bengals' per-game rushing average jumped 70.6 yards from the first half of the season (59.5) to the second (130.1), while their per-attempt average jumped 1.26 yards (3.17 to 4.43) and they allowed 10 fewer sacks (29 to 19). The team's top four WRs — Boyd, Alex Erickson, Auden Tate and John Ross III — all posted career-highs in both receptions and receiving yards. Defensively, Cincinnati notched 11 more sacks in the second half of the season compared to the first, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game.

Taylor came to Cincinnati after two seasons (2017-18) with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant wide receivers coach in '17 and quarterbacks coach in '18. In 2018, he helped guide Rams QB Jared Goff to career highs in every major passing category. Goff ranked fourth in the NFL in passing yards and eighth in passer rating. The Rams' QB play was a key component to their offense, which finished the regular season ranked second in the NFL in total net yards (421.1 per game), fifth in net passing yards (281.7), second in scoring (32.9), first in first downs (401) and fifth in third-down percentage (45.0). Los Angeles won the NFC West with a 13-3 regular-season record and advanced to Super Bowl LIII against the New England Patriots.

In 2017, Taylor helped oversee an emerging Rams passing offense that ranked 10th in the NFL in passing yards per game (239.4). Taylor directed a Rams' young receiving corps headed by rookie Cooper Kupp, who finished the season with 62 catches, a team-high 869 receiving yards and five TDs.

Prior to his time with the Rams, Taylor had a one-year stint in the college ranks, serving as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Cincinnati in 2016. Taylor served under head coach Tommy Tuberville at UC.

Taylor broke into NFL coaching in 2012 with the Miami Dolphins as assistant quarterbacks coach. He was elevated to quarterbacks coach from 2013-15, and spent the final five games of '15 as the Dolphins' interim offensive coordinator and primary play-caller, after the team made coaching staff changes.

During his time in Miami, Taylor was instrumental in the development of QB Ryan Tannehill, the team's first-round draft pick in 2012.

Taylor's coaching career began at Texas A&M University, where he served as offensive graduate assistant and tight ends coach under head coach Mike Sherman from 2008-11. The Aggies shared the Big 12 South Championship in 2010 and played in three bowl games during Taylor's time in College Station.

As a player, Taylor began his college career at Wake Forest (2002-03) before transferring to Butler County Community College in Kansas ('04) and then playing his final two seasons ('05-06) at the University of Nebraska. Taylor had a decorated career with the Cornhuskers, setting numerous school records and passing for 5850 yards and 45 touchdowns. In his 2006 senior season, he was named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year after passing for 3197 total yards and leading the Cornhuskers to a 9-3 record, an appearance in the Big 12 Championship Game and a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017.

Taylor joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but he was waived prior to the start of training camp and never saw NFL action. Later that year, he joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League, where he spent one season (did not play).

His father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at the University of Oklahoma, playing under Sooners head coach Barry Switzer from 1976-79. Sherwood Taylor later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State University. Taylor's younger brother, Press, played quarterback at Marshall University and currently is the offensive coordinator for the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Taylor was born in Norman, Okla., on May 10, 1983. After attending Norman High School, he earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from the University of Nebraska in 2006. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children — Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah Taylor is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman.

Andy Reid was named the 13th head coach in Kansas City Chiefs history on Jan. 7, 2013. He is in his 31st season in the National Football League and his 24th season as an NFL head coach in 2022.

In 2021, his ninth season with the Chiefs, Reid led Kansas City to a 12-5 regular-season record and their fourth consecutive berth in the AFC Championship.

In 2020, Reid and company tallied a franchise best 14 wins, bringing his total to 91 victories in his first eight seasons with Kansas City, the most by any head coach in franchise history in that time frame. After that record-setting regular season in 2020, the Chiefs made their third-consecutive appearance in the AFC Championship and their second-consecutive berth in the Super Bowl.

In 2019, Reid led the Chiefs to their first Super Bowl appearance and victory in 50 years, bringing the Lombardi Trophy back to Kansas City for the first time since 1969. Additionally, the Chiefs' 35-24 victory over the Tennessee Titans in the AFC Championship Game brought the Lamar Hunt Trophy to Kansas City for the first time since then.

In 2015, Reid also led the Chiefs to their first playoff win since 1993, with a win at Houston in the Wild Card round of the playoffs. In his first season in Kansas City in 2013, he helped orchestrate the franchise's best single-season turnaround as the Chiefs won 11 games and made the playoffs after going 2-14 the previous season.

Prior to joining the Chiefs, he served as the head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles for 14 years (1999-2012), earning NFL Coach of the Year honors three times. Reid compiled the best win total (140) and playoff victory total (10) in Philadelphia Eagles history. He captured six division titles and five trips to the NFC Championship Game.

In his 31-year NFL career as a head coach or assistant, Reid's teams have made the playoffs 21 times (26-20 record). He has coached in the Super Bowl four times, the NFC Championship Game nine times and the AFC Championship Game on four occasions. Reid was an assistant coach with Green Bay (1992-98) under Mike Holmgren. With Green Bay, he helped the Packers earn a Super Bowl XXXI victory over New England.

Reid coached at Brigham Young (1982), San Francisco State (1983-85), Northern Arizona (1986), Texas-El Paso (1987-88) and Missouri (1989-1991). Reid was an offensive tackle and guard on three Brigham Young University Cougars Holiday Bowl teams. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He also received a master's degree in professional leadership in physical education and athletics.

Reid was born in Los Angeles, Calif. on March 19, 1958. He and his wife Tammy have five children— Britt, Crosby, Drew Ann, Spencer, and the late Garrett — and 11 grandchildren.

Taylor vs. Chiefs: Taylor leads, 3-0 (including an AFC Championship Game victory after the 2021 season).

Taylor vs. Reid: Taylor leads, 3-0 (including an AFC Championship Game victory after the 2021 season).

Reid vs. Bengals: The Bengals lead 6-2-1 overall, including 2-1-1 vs. Reid while he was coach of Philadelphia and 4-1 while he has been coach of Kansas City (those records include a Bengals AFC Championship win vs. Kansas after the 2021 season).

Bengals on 10-game winning streak: Cincinnati won its final eight games of the regular season to capture the AFC North Division crown, then defeated Baltimore (Wild Card Playoff) and Buffalo (AFC Divisional) to make it 10 in a row. That marks the most consecutive games won in team history (regular and postseason), with the next longest streak being an 8-0 start to the 2015 campaign.

The Bengals also won eight straight regular-season contests from Games 8-14 of the 1970 season to Game 1 of the '71 campaign. However, that streak was interrupted by a loss in the 1970 AFC Divisional Playoff.

The last time this Cincinnati team suffered a defeat was on Halloween night, in a Week 8 matchup at Cleveland. Since then, it became the first team in Bengals history to go unbeaten through both November and December. With a 3-0 mark in November, they joined the 1981 and '82 Bengals as the only teams in franchise history to not drop a game in that month. Cincinnati won each of its December contests for the sixth time in team history, after previously doing so in 1970, '73, '78, '84 and '97. However, each of those teams went 3-0 in the month, making this the first time the Bengals played and won four games in December.

Back-to-back division champs: The Bengals captured the AFC North Division title for the second consecutive season, marking the first time in franchise history that Cincinnati won a division in back-to-back years. 2022 was the team's 11th division title all-time.

While some databases list the Bengals as repeat division winners in 1981 and '82, the '82 postseason featured a special 16-team format (dubbed the "Super Bowl Tournament") that was implemented by the NFL, as the regular season was reduced to nine games due to a players' strike. Eight teams from each conference were seeded 1-8 based on their regular-season records, so despite the Bengals boasting the top record in the AFC Central, they went in as the conference's No. 3 seed and were not recognized as division champions.

Second-half turnovers fuel postseason success: Cincinnati's ability to create game-altering turnovers at key moments has been a catalyst for the team's 5-1 record over the past two postseasons. In fact, the Bengals have recorded at least one takeaway in the second half/overtime of each of the six games. Here is a closer look at those turnovers, which have either secured wins or allowed the offense to climb out of halftime deficits:

- In the 2021 AFC Wild Card Playoff, LB Germaine Pratt intercepted a pass thrown by Las Vegas QB Derek Carr with 17 seconds remaining to clinch the Bengals' first postseason victory in 31 years. The Bengals were clinging to a 26-19 lead as the Raiders faced a fourth-and-goal from the Cincinnati nine-yard line, and Pratt stepped in front of the throw to pick it off at the two.

- In the '21 AFC Divisional Playoff, Tennessee was set up with a first-and-goal at the Bengals' nine-yard line in the third quarter, before CB Mike Hilton intercepted a pass by QB Ryan Tannehill to negate the scoring opportunity. Then with 20 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter and the score tied at 16-16, LB Logan Wilson picked off Tannehill at the Cincinnati 47-yard line, setting up a game-winning 52-yard FG by K Evan McPherson as the clock expired.

- The '21 AFC Championship at Kansas City also featured two takeaways after halftime, beginning with DT B.J. Hill intercepting a Patrick Mahomes pass at the line of scrimmage that led to a game-tying TD drive in the third quarter. With the Chiefs later facing a third-and-10 in overtime, Mahomes launched a deep ball that was tipped up and picked by S Vonn Bell, who returned it to the Cincinnati 45-yard line to make way for a game-winning FG drive.

- On the first defensive snap of the second half of Super Bowl LVI, CB Chidobe Awuzie intercepted a pass by QB Matthew Stafford at the Rams' 32-yard line. The Bengals turned the short field into points, kicking a FG to extend their lead to 20-13.

- In the '22 AFC Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore, Wilson and DE Sam Hubbard teamed up for what is arguably the most iconic defensive play in Bengals postseason history. With just under 12 minutes left in the fourth quarter and the score knotted 17-17, Ravens QB Tyler Huntley tried to reach the ball over the goal line on a third-and-goal at the Cincinnati one. Wilson met Huntley above a pile of linemen and knocked the ball loose. It fell right to Hubbard, who sprinted 98 yards the other way for what ended up being the game-deciding TD.

- The Bengals continued their streak of second-half takeaways in the AFC Divisional Playoff at Buffalo, when rookie CB Cam Taylor-Britt picked off QB Josh Allen with just over a minute left to punctuate a dominant defensive showing.

Bully-ball in Buffalo: Cincinnati controlled the line of scrimmage on both sides of the ball in its 27-10 Divisional Playoff win at Buffalo. Offensively, the Bengals rushed for 172 yards, the fourth-most in a postseason game in team history (most since Jan. 6, 1991). Spearheading that effort was HB Joe Mixon, who finished with 20 carries for 105 yards (5.3 average), the third-most rushing yards ever by a Bengal in a postseason contest. The Bills during the 2022 regular season ranked fifth in the NFL in rushing yards allowed per game (104.6).

Buffalo on the other side ranked seventh leaguewide in rushing yards per game (139.5), but was held to just 63 against a dominant Cincinnati defensive front. It marked the fourth-fewest rushing yards given up in a postseason game in Bengals history, and tied for their fewest allowed this season (Week 12 at Tennessee).

Facts from Hubbard's fumble recovery return: DE Sam Hubbard's 98-yard fumble return for a TD that proved to be the difference in the Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore will go down as one of the most memorable defensive plays in Bengals history.

The return was dubbed by some as "The Hubbard-Yard Dash," while others dubbed the fumble itself as "The Fumble in the Jungle." Regardless of the name, here are some notable facts on the play:

- The 98-yard return is the longest fumble return for a TD in NFL postseason history. The previous longest was a 93-yard return by Andy Russell of the Pittsburgh Steelers in an AFC Divisional Playoff on Dec. 27, 1975.

- It is the longest TD of any kind in a postseason game in Bengals history. The previous longest was a 93-yard kickoff return by RB Stanford Jennings in Super Bowl XXIII on Jan. 22, 1989.

- It is the longest go-ahead TD in the fourth quarter in NFL postseason history. The previous longest was a 90-yard blocked FG return by Anthony Mitchell of the Baltimore Ravens in an AFC Divisional Playoff on Jan. 7, 2001.

- It marked the longest defensive TD in an NFL postseason game since Taron Johnson of the Buffalo Bills returned an INT 101 yards against Baltimore in an AFC Divisional Playoff on Jan. 16, 2021.

- According to NFL's Next Gen Stats service, Hubbard's top speed on the return was 17.43 mph. He also traveled 123.6 total yards, the most distance traveled by a ball carrier on a TD in the 2022 regular season or postseason.

- It marked Hubbard's second career TD on a fumble recovery. As a rookie in 2018, he ran a fumble back 19 yards in the fourth quarter of Week 5 against Miami that sealed a 27-17 Bengals win.

Three Bengals voted to Pro Bowl: QB Joe Burrow, WR Ja'Marr Chase and DE Trey Hendrickson were all voted to the AFC Team for the 2023 Pro Bowl Games. It was the first Pro Bowl nod of Burrow's career, while Chase and Hendrickson both received their second after being selected last season.

Burrow is the sixth QB in Bengals history to be voted to the Pro Bowl, joining Ken Anderson (1975-76, '81-82), Boomer Esiason ('86, '88-89), Jeff Blake ('95), Carson Palmer (2005-06) and Andy Dalton ('11, '14, '16). The third-year pro out of Louisiana State finished the regular season ranked tied for second in the NFL in passing TDs (35), fifth in passing yards (4475) and sixth in passer rating (100.8). He surpassed multiple career milestones, including 10,000 passing yards, 75 passing TDs and 1000 pass attempts. Burrow has also thrown at least one TD pass in each of his last 23 regular-season games, the longest active streak in the NFL and longest streak in Bengals history.

Chase led Cincinnati during the regular season in receptions (87), receiving yards (1046) and receiving TDs (nine), despite missing four games due to a hip injury. Earlier this season, he joined Pro Football Hall of Famer Randy Moss as the only players in NFL history with 2000 receiving yards and 20 TD catches under the age of 23. Chase is the seventh player in Bengals history to be voted to the Pro Bowl in each of his first two seasons.

Hendrickson, who is in his second Bengals season after joining the team as an unrestricted free agent in 2021, led Cincinnati during the regular season in sacks (eight) and was tied for second in TFLs (six). He has 35.5 sacks since the start of the 2020 season, the fourth-most in the NFL in that span.

Additionally, seven Bengals were voted as alternates for the AFC squad. S Jessie Bates III is a second alternate, WR Tyler Boyd and HB Joe Mixon are both third alternates, K Evan McPherson is a fourth alternate, and S Vonn Bell, C Ted Karras and DT DJ Reader are fifth alternates. Alternates are added to the event if voted player(s) in their position group are unable to participate. Selections from the two teams reaching the Super Bowl will be among those unable to play, as will players who are not cleared due to injury.

The 2023 Pro Bowl Games take place on Sunday, Feb. 5 at Allegiant Stadium in Las Vegas and will be televised live on ABC and ESPN.

Bengals lead weekly award haul since '21: QB Joe Burrow was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week for Week 16 in recognition of his performance in a 22-18 win at New England. It marked the 13th AFC Player of the Week award won by a Bengals player since the start of the 2021 season, the most weekly honors netted by any NFL team. Kansas City (AFC) and Philadelphia (NFC) are tied for the second-most with 11 each.

DE Trey Hendrickson in Week 3 of this season recorded 2.5 sacks and two forced fumbles in a win at the N.Y. Jets, and became the first Bengal to earn AFC Defensive Player of the Week status since DE Carlos Dunlap in 2019. K Evan McPherson took home AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors in Week 4, when he made both of his two FG attempts including a 57-yarder in the fourth quarter to help beat Miami.

Cincinnati boasted the AFC Offensive Player of the Week four times since Week 7, when Burrow received the award after passing for 481 yards and three TDs in a win over Atlanta. In Week 9, HB Joe Mixon claimed the honor with a career-high 211 scrimmage yards and five total TDs (four rushing, one receiving) to lead the Bengals to a dominant home victory over Carolina. Burrow won it again in Week 13, when he completed 80.6 percent of his passes and posted a 126.6 passer rating against Kansas City.

Cincinnati is one of three AFC teams this season (Jacksonville, Kansas City) with an Offensive, Defensive and Special Teams Player of the Week. In 2021, Cincinnati garnered five Offensive and two Special Teams Player of the Week awards for a total of seven, tying Arizona (NFC) for the league lead.

Historic second-half performance: The Bengals scored 31 points in the second half of Game 14 at Tampa Bay to overcome a 14-point halftime deficit and earn their sixth straight win. It marked Cincinnati's most points in a second half since Nov. 28, 2004, when it put up 31 in a 58-48 home victory over Cleveland, and tied for the fourth-most second-half points in any game in team history.

The Bengals' record for most points scored after halftime of a game occurred on Dec. 17, 1972, when they scored 45 unanswered points in a road win over the Houston Oilers. Cincinnati held a 16-10 lead at halftime, which then ballooned to 61-10 in the fourth quarter.

Cincinnati's 31 second-half points at Tampa Bay were also in consecutive fashion, as a FG from K Evan McPherson early in the third quarter was quickly followed by three TDs that came off turnovers. In the fourth quarter, the Bengals fielded a punt at their own 38-yard line with just over nine minutes remaining and went on a 13-play, 62-yard scoring drive that chewed up 6:57 of game clock and resulted in TE Mitchell Wilcox's first career TD that secured the win.

Here is a look at the Bengals' highest-scoring second halves in team history:

DATE	OPPONENT	RESULT	2ND-HALF PTS.
Dec. 17, 1972	at Houston Oilers	W, 61-17	45
Dec. 21, 1986	vs. N.Y. Jets	W, 52-21	35
Oct. 29, 1989	vs. Tampa Bay Buccaneers	W, 56-23	35
Nov. 28, 2004	vs. Cleveland Browns	W, 58-48	31
Dec. 18, 2022	at Tampa Bay Buccaneers	W, 34-23	31

2022 Bengals captains: In September, Bengals head coach Zac Taylor announced the team's captains for the 2022 season, which were decided through a players-only vote. Wearing the captains' patch this year are three offensive players, three defensive players and one special teams representative.

On offense, the captains are third-year QB Joe Burrow, sixth-year HB Joe Mixon and seventh-year C Ted Karras. This is Burrow's third consecutive season as a captain and the second straight for Mixon. Karras, who joined the Bengals as a free agent in March, will serve as a team captain for the second time in his career, after doing so with the Miami Dolphins in 2020.

On defense, the captains are seventh-year S Vonn Bell, fifth-year DE Sam Hubbard and seventh-year DT DJ Reader. Bell has been voted a captain in each of his three seasons in Cincinnati, after joining the team as a free agent in 2020. It is the second captain nod for Hubbard and the first for Reader.

The lone captain on special teams is S Michael J. Thomas, who is in his ninth NFL season in 2022. Thomas has earned the respect of each locker room he has been in throughout his career, as this year is his seventh as a team captain while playing for four different teams. He held the title with the Miami Dolphins each season from 2015-17, with the N.Y. Giants from 2018-19, and with the Houston Texans in 2020.

Offense heats up in late season: The Bengals recorded 400 or more offensive net yards in five of their final 10 games during the regular season, after hitting that mark just once in the first six contests. The stretch began with a season-high 537 net yards in a 35-17 win over Atlanta in Week 7. That performance was largely fueled by 459 net passing yards, which marked the second-most passing yards in a game by any team this season (Miami, 461 in Week 2), and the third-highest total in Bengals history. QB Joe Burrow was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week after completing 34 of 42 passes for 481 yards and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). He became the third player in NFL history with at least 475 passing yards, three TD passes and one rushing TD in a single game, joining Norm Van Brocklin (Sept. 28, 1951) and Billy Volek (Dec. 19, 2004).

The team's second-most net yards this season was 464 in Week 9 against Carolina, a 42-21 win. The Bengals did much of their damage on the ground, as their 241 rushing yards were the most by a Cincinnati offense since Oct. 23, 2016 (271 vs. Cleveland). HB Joe Mixon led the way with 153 yards and four TDs on 22 carries (7.0 average), becoming the second straight Bengals player to earn AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors. Mixon's stat line, combined with a one-yard sneak for a TD from Burrow, marked the third time in team history that the Bengals had five rushing TDs in a single game.

In Week 11 at Pittsburgh, another big passing day from Burrow contributed to the Bengals totaling 408 net yards in the 37-30 win. Burrow finished with 355 yards through the air and four TDs, three of which went to HB Samaje Perine to set a single-game record for a Bengals halfback/running back/fullback. WR Tee Higgins recorded season highs in receptions (nine) and receiving yards (148).

Cincinnati relied on a balanced attack to outgun Kansas City in Week 13, recording 431 net yards in the 27-24 victory. Burrow again was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week after completing 80.6 percent of his passes (25 of 31) for 286 yards and two TDs, while WR Ja'Marr Chase had seven catches for 97 yards in his first action since the Atlanta game on Oct. 23. The Bengals also registered 152 rushing yards — its second-highest total this season — led by 106 from Perine.

The Bengals put up 442 net yards in Week 16 at New England, including 303 in the first half to build a 22-0 lead. Burrow completed a career-high 40 passes on 52 attempts for 375 yards and three TDs, once again netting AFC Offensive Player of the Week recognition. Higgins crossed the century mark in receiving yardage for the second straight game, finishing with 128 and a TD on eight catches.

Burrow sets Bengals postseason records: In just six career postseason starts, QB Joe Burrow has already become the Bengals' franchise leader in several passing categories, including attempts (210), completions (143), completion percentage (68.1), passing yards (1556) and passer rating (98.4).

He set the franchise records for completion percentage and passer rating while helping lead Cincinnati to Super Bowl LVI last season. During the four-game run, Burrow completed 97 of 142 passes (68.3 percent) for 1105 yards and five TDs, good for a rating of 97.3. In the AFC Divisional Playoff win at Tennessee, he threw for 348 yards, the second-most in a game in team history behind Ken Anderson's 354 yards in the 1982 First-Round Playoff.

He completed 23 passes on 32 attempts in this season's Wild Card Playoff victory over Baltimore, overtaking Anderson for the top spot in each of those categories. Burrow then surpassed Anderson in passing yards when he recorded 242 in the divisional round at Buffalo. He enters the AFC Championship with eight postseason TD passes, one shy of Anderson (nine) for the team record.

Joe throws 75th career TD: QB Joe Burrow recorded his 75th career TD pass in the third quarter of Week 15 at Tampa Bay, when he found WR Tee Higgins in the back of the end zone for a five-yard score. It came in Burrow's 40th career game, making him the fifth-fastest QB in NFL history to throw for 75 TDs.

The third-year signal caller had 13 TD passes in 10 games as a rookie before suffering a season-ending knee injury. In his sophomore campaign, Burrow set a then-team record with 34 TD passes, which ranked eighth in the NFL. By eclipsing his own record with 35 TDs in 2022, Burrow became the first QB in Bengals history to throw for 30 or more TDs in multiple seasons. He is one of three players in NFL history with at least 30 TD passes and 4000 passing yards in two of his first three seasons, alongside Pro Football Hall of Famer Dan Marino and Chargers QB Justin Herbert.

Week 16 at New England marked the 22nd consecutive regular-season game in which Burrow has thrown at least one TD pass, surpassing Jeff Blake (21 games in 1994-95) for the longest streak in Bengals history. Now at 23 games, it also remains the longest active streak in the NFL — the second-longest belongs to Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes (22 games). Burrow's performance in Week 16 was the 14th time in his career — and eighth time in his last 18 regular-season games — that he passed for three or more scores. His 35 passing TDs during the regular season tied for second-most in the NFL.

Burrow also joined former Colts QB Andrew Luck as the only players in NFL history with at least 75 TD passes and 10 rushing TDs in their first three seasons. A career-high five of Burrow's 10 rushing TDs came this season.

Here is a look at the fastest QBs in NFL history — in terms of games played — to reach 75 passing TDs.

PLAYER	TEAM	GAMES TO REACH 75
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	30
Dan Marino	Miami Dolphins	31
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	34
Kurt Warner	St. Louis Rams	35
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	40

Burrow surpasses 11K: QB Joe Burrow surpassed 11,000 career passing yards in Week 15 at Tampa Bay, in what was just his 40th career game. That tied him with Matthew Stafford as the fourth-fastest QB in NFL history to reach 11,000 passing yards. He is the fastest Bengal ever to 10,000 passing yards (36 games), 9000 (33), 8000 (29), 7000 (26), 6000 (23), 5000 (19) and 4000 (16).

Over the last 18 regular-season games in which Burrow has been active (dates back to Week 16 of 2021; inactive in '21 finale to rest), he has passed for 5446 yards (302.6 average) and 43 TDs. Burrow's 4475 passing yards during the regular season ranked fifth in the NFL.

Here's a look at the fastest QBs in NFL history — in terms of games played — to reach 11,000 passing yards:

PLAYER	TEAM	GAMES TO REACH 11,000 YDS
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	37
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	38
Kurt Warner	St. Louis Rams	39
Matthew Stafford	Detroit Lions	40
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	40

Burrow racks up yardage: QB Joe Burrow's 481 passing yards in Week 7 against Atlanta were the second-most by an NFL QB since the start of the 2021 season, trailing only ... Joe Burrow. The former No. 1 overall pick threw for a Bengals-record 525 yards on Dec. 26, 2021 vs. Baltimore, which also marked the fourth-highest single-game total in league history. Only Norm Van Brocklin (554 yards in 1951), Warren Moon (527 in '90) and Matt Schaub (527 in 2012) have put up more yards in a single contest.

In fact, three of the five highest single-game passing yardage totals since the start of last season belong to Burrow. His 446 yards against Kansas City on Jan. 2, 2022 are tied for fifth in that category. That game, he completed five passes of 30 or more yards, including TD throws of 72 and 69 yards to WR Ja'Marr Chase as Cincinnati clinched the AFC North Division title for the first time since 2015.

Burrow has five career games with 400 or more passing yards, surpassing Dan Marino (four) for the most such games by a player in his first three seasons in NFL history. He also has seven career games with at least 350 passing yards and three TD passes, tied with former Colts QB Andrew Luck for the second-most in a player's first three seasons in league history. Week 16 at New England marked the 16th time Burrow threw for 300 or more yards, the fifth-most such games in Bengals history. QB Carson Palmer's 17 games of 300-plus yards rank fourth on that list.

Here is a look at the highest single-game passing yardage totals since 2021:

PLAYER (TEAM)	DATE AND OPPONENT	PASSING YDS
Joe Burrow (Cincinnati)	Dec. 26, 2021 vs. Baltimore	525
Joe Burrow (Cincinnati)	Oct. 23, 2022 vs. Atlanta	481
Tua Tagovailoa (Miami)	Sept. 18, 2022 at Baltimore	469
Kirk Cousins (Minnesota)	Dec. 17, 2022 vs. Indianapolis	460
Joe Burrow (Cincinnati)	Jan. 2, 2022 vs. Kansas City	446
Patrick Mahomes (Kansas City)	Nov. 6, 2022 vs. Tennessee	446

Burrow masters the deep ball: QB Joe Burrow in Game 13 vs. Cleveland executed a flea flicker play for a 45-yard TD pass to WR Trenton Irwin in the third quarter. It marked Burrow's 17th career TD pass of 40 or more yards, three more than any NFL QB since he entered the league in 2020.

Burrow also has 12 TD passes of 50 or more yards, the most in the NFL since 2020, and tied with Pro Football Hall of Famers Dan Marino and Fran Tarkenton for the most by any player in league history in his first three seasons.

Six of Burrow's 40-plus yard TD passes came during Weeks 3-8 of this season. In Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets, he hit WR Tyler Boyd for a 56-yard TD on the final play of the first quarter. The following game against Miami, Burrow launched a pinpoint pass down the left sideline that was grabbed by WR Tee Higgins and taken in for a 59-yard score. He threw the game-winning TD pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase in Week 6 at New Orleans, a 60-yard catch and run that gave the Bengals their first lead with 1:57 left. In Week 7 vs. Atlanta, Burrow aired out a 60-yard TD to Boyd just two minutes into the first quarter, and in the second quarter found Chase for a 41-yard score. He connected with Higgins again for a 41-yard TD in the fourth quarter of Week 8 at Cleveland.

Burrow has eight TD passes of 50 or more yards since Week 15 of the 2021 season — the most by any QB in that span. In Game 16 of 2021 vs. Kansas City, he threw TD passes of 72 and 69 yards to Chase in what was a 446-yard passing day that helped Cincinnati clinch the AFC North Division title.

Burrow additionally had an NFL-best 15 TD passes of 30 yards or more during the 2021 regular season. The next closest players in that category were Buccaneers QB Tom Brady (eight), Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes (seven) and then-Seahawks QB Russell Wilson (seven). It counted as a Bengals single-season record, surpassing the previous mark of nine that was shared by Ken Anderson (1973), Boomer Esiason ('89) and Carson Palmer ('06).

Here is a look at the QBs with the most TD passes of 40 or more yards since the start of the 2020 season:

PLAYER	TEAM	40-YARD TDs
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	17
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	14
Russell Wilson	Seattle Seahawks/Denver Broncos	14
Derek Carr	Las Vegas Raiders	13
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	12
Matthew Stafford	Detroit Lions/L.A. Rams	12

Burrow's NFL journey: After being selected No. 1 overall by the Bengals in the 2020 NFL Draft, former Heisman Trophy winner Joe Burrow had one of the most productive starts to a career by a QB in league history, as his 264 completions still count as the most ever by an NFL passer through their first 10 career games, while his 404 pass attempts are the second-most in that same category and his 2588 passing yards are fifth.

In Week 11 of his rookie year at Washington, Burrow suffered a season-ending left knee injury, halting a campaign that was on pace to shatter several NFL rookie passing records. He embarked on a rehab process that lasted over eight months and received clearance to participate in training camp in 2021.

Shortly after his injury in 2020, Burrow vowed publicly that he would start Cincinnati's '21 season opener. On Sept. 12 vs. Minnesota, not only did he make good on that promise, but he posted then-career highs in passer rating (128.8), completion percentage (74.1) and yards per attempt (9.67) in a Bengals OT win.

Burrow in 2021 completed 366 of 520 passes (70.4 percent) for 4611 yards, 34 TDs and 14 INTs (108.3 rating). His passing yardage and passer rating stand as single-season team records. And although the NFL season expanded to 17 games in 2021, Burrow sat out the regular-season finale (rest/knee) and thus played in only 16 games. He was named the AP Comeback Player of the Year for 2021, becoming the second player in Bengals history to receive the award (QB Jon Kitna, 2003).

In the postseason, Burrow completed 97 of 142 passes (68.3 percent) for 1105 yards, with five TDs and two INTs (97.3 rating), and became the first No. 1 overall draft pick in NFL history to lead his team to a conference championship game (let alone a Super Bowl berth) in either of their first two seasons.

On July 26, the day before the first official training camp practice of 2022, Burrow was forced to undergo surgery to remove his appendix. He remained involved in team meetings and attended practices on a golf cart during a three-week recovery process, before returning to the field on Aug. 14.

Burrow finished the 2022 regular season tied for second in the NFL in passing TDs (35), fifth in passing yards (4475) and sixth in passer rating (100.8). He set Bengals single-season records in passing TDs and total completions (414).

Burrow's college connections: Bengals QB Joe Burrow may only be in his third NFL season in 2022, but he has plenty of familiar faces around him in Cincinnati. The Bengals locker room (active roster and practice squad) currently features six players who played with Burrow in college at either Ohio State or LSU. He spent the first three seasons of his collegiate career (2015-17) at Ohio State, including a redshirt year in '15, before transferring to LSU for his final two seasons ('18-19).

Bengals assistant wide receivers coach Brad Kragthorpe was also on the LSU coaching staff in 2018, serving as an offensive analyst during Burrow's first year in Baton Rouge.

Here's a look at the Bengals who played with Burrow in college, along with the years they played together:

NAME	POSITION	SCHOOL	SEASONS WITH BURROW
Eli Apple	CB	Ohio State	2015
Vonn Bell	S	Ohio State	2015
Ja'Marr Chase	WR	Louisiana State.....	2018-19
Sam Hubbard	DE	Ohio State	2015-17
Keandre Jones*	LB	Ohio State	2016-17
Isaiah Prince*	OT	Ohio State	2015-17

Three-headed monster at WR: The Bengals' offense features arguably the top receiving trio in the NFL, consisting of seventh-year veteran Tyler Boyd, second-year pro Ja'Marr Chase and third-year pro Tee Higgins.

Though each player missed substantial action during the regular season due to injuries, including Chase being out for four games (hip), Cincinnati was one of two teams (L.A. Chargers) with three WRs that recorded 700 or more receiving yards. The Bengals were also the only team with three players that had a game with 130-plus receiving yards. Boyd, Chase and Higgins each averaged at least 12 yards per reception and had at least one TD catch of 50-plus yards.

In the Week 7 win over Atlanta, they became the first Bengals trio to each log 90 or more receiving yards since Dec. 30, 2001 (T.J. Houshmandzadeh, Darnay Scott and Peter Warrick vs. Pittsburgh). The Week 15 victory at Tampa Bay marked the first time all three players had a TD catch in the same game, with each coming in the second half to help Cincinnati erase a 17-point deficit.

The trio had another strong output in Week 4 against Miami, led by a seven-catch, 124-yard stat line from Higgins. Boyd had two grabs for 47 yards, including a 43-yard reception on the opening play of the fourth quarter that set up a go-ahead FG. Chase caught four passes for 81 yards, none bigger than his 36-yarder late in the fourth that led to a game-sealing TD. Week 6 at New Orleans was the first time each player had at least six receptions in the same game. Chase paced the group with seven catches for 132 yards and two TDs, while Boyd added six for 66 yards and Higgins, who was battling through an ankle injury, recorded six for 47 yards.

Even with the missed time due to injuries, along with the team officially playing just 16 games, they combined for 2837 receiving yards during the regular season. That total was the fifth-most among any trio of pass catchers in the NFL. Their 3374 combined receiving yards in the 2021 regular season led all trios, with Chase posting a Bengals-record 1455, Higgins going for 1091 and Boyd netting 828.

Chase (1046 yards) and Higgins (1029) each posted 1000 receiving yards for the second straight season, marking the fourth time the Bengals had multiple 1000-yard receivers — WRs Chad Johnson and T.J. Houshmandzadeh also did it twice, in 2006 and '07. In 2021, Chase (21 years old) and Higgins (22) became the first duo in league history to log 1000 receiving yards in the same season before the age of 23.

Chasing history: WR Ja'Marr Chase led the Bengals in receptions (87), receiving yards (1046) and receiving TDs (nine) during the regular season, despite missing four games from Weeks 8-12 due to a hip injury. The 2021 first-round draft pick joined A.J. Green (2011-12) as the only players in team history with consecutive 1000-yard receiving seasons to begin their career.

Chase finished the regular season tied for ninth in the NFL in receiving TDs, 14th in receptions and 17th in receiving yards, and earned his second career Pro Bowl honor. He also eclipsed two career milestones, beginning with 2000 receiving yards which he reached in Week 7 vs. Atlanta. That came in just his 24th career game, tying Chase as the fourth-fastest player in NFL history to hit the 2K mark. He recorded his 20th TD catch in Week 14 vs. Cleveland, in what was his 26th game — that tied him as the fourth-fastest since 1970 to reach that number. Chase (22 years old) joined Pro Football Hall of Famer Randy Moss as the only players under the age of 23 with 2000 receiving yards and 20 TD receptions in league history.

Chase went for 100 or more receiving yards in four games this season, led off by a 129-yard performance in Week 1 against Pittsburgh. That total came on 10 catches, which tied for the third-most receptions by a Bengals player in a regular-season opener. It was also the second time in Chase's career that he logged double-digit catches. His final grab of the day was a six-yard TD with two seconds remaining in the fourth quarter that tied the score at 20-20.

Chase, who is from Metairie, La., and helped Louisiana State win a national championship at Caesars Superdome, returned to the venue in Week 6 and played a key role in a 30-26 Bengals victory. He caught seven passes for 132 yards (18.9 average) and two TDs, including a 60-yard catch and run to the end zone that gave Cincinnati its first lead of the day with 1:57 left in the fourth quarter. He followed up with another big day of eight receptions for 130 yards and two more TDs in Week 7 vs. Atlanta, but aggravated a hip injury sustained against the Saints and went on to miss the following four contests.

The reigning AP Offensive Rookie of the Year showed no rust when he returned to the field in Week 13 vs. Kansas City. Chase led the Bengals in that game with seven catches for 97 yards, including a 40-yard grab toward the end of the first half. That marked Chase's 11th career reception of 40 or more yards, tied for the most in the NFL since 2021. His fourth 100-yard game came in Week 14 against Cleveland, when he caught 10 passes for 119 yards and a TD.

Chase has nine receiving TDs over his last nine games played. Since entering the NFL, he has a league-leading six TD catches of 50 or more yards. His teammate, Tyler Boyd, is second on that list with four such TDs — the latest of which was a 60-yarder on the opening drive in Week 7 vs. Atlanta.

Here is a look at the WRs with the most TD catches of 50 or more yards since the start of the 2021 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	TD CATCHES OF 50 OR MORE YARDS
Ja'Marr Chase	Cincinnati Bengals	6
Tyler Boyd	Cincinnati Bengals	4
(six players tied)	—	3

Uno heats up in postseason: WR Ja'Marr Chase has led the Bengals in receptions and receiving yards in each of their two wins this postseason, while also grabbing a receiving TD in both contests. He finished with nine catches for 84 yards, including a seven-yard TD in the second quarter, in the Wild Card Playoff victory over Baltimore, marking his ninth straight game with at least seven receptions (dating back to Week 5). That tied for the fourth-longest such streak in the NFL within a season (including playoffs) since 1970. Chase followed up with five grabs for 61 yards in the Divisional Playoff at Buffalo, highlighted by a 28-yard catch and run to the end zone that capped off a dominant opening drive.

Through six career postseason games, Chase has 39 catches for 513 yards, both the most in Bengals history, while his three receiving TDs are tied with former TE Dan Ross for the team's all-time postseason record. He ranked second in the NFL in receptions (25) and receiving yards (368) during the 2021 postseason.

In the win over the Bills, Chase surpassed Randy Moss for the second-most postseason receiving yards by a player in his first two seasons. Former Washington WR Charlie Brown holds the record with 643 yards.

Combining the regular season and postseason, Chase has 3014 career receiving yards, joining him with Moss (3189) and former LSU teammate Justin Jefferson (3016) as the only players in NFL history with at least 3000 receiving yards in their first two years.

Here is a look at the players with the most postseason receiving yards within their first two career seasons in NFL history.

PLAYER	TEAM	RECEIVING YARDS
Charlie Brown	Washington	643
Ja'Marr Chase	Cincinnati	513
Randy Moss	Minnesota	463
T.Y. Hilton	Indianapolis	393

Tee tops 1000: WR Tee Higgins in Week 16 at New England had eight catches for 128 yards to surpass the 1000-yard milestone for a second consecutive season. He is one of five players in Bengals history with multiple 1000-yard receiving seasons within the first three years of his career, alongside WR Cris Collinsworth (1981, '83), WR Chad Johnson (also previously known as Chad Ochocinco, 2002-03), WR A.J. Green ('11-13) and WR Ja'Marr Chase ('21-22). Higgins' 3028 career receiving yards are the second-most by a Bengals player through their first three seasons, trailing only Green (3833).

Higgins faced three on-field setbacks during the regular season, beginning Week 1 against Pittsburgh when he suffered a concussion in the second quarter and missed the remainder of the game. He left early in Week 5 at Baltimore with an ankle injury, then played just one snap in Week 14 vs. Cleveland due to a hamstring injury. When healthy, however, the third-year pro has proven himself as one of the NFL's elite young receivers.

Higgins finished the regular season with 74 catches for 1029 yards (13.9 average) and seven TDs. His yardage ranked 20th in the NFL, despite missing nearly nine full quarters of play and the team playing just 16 games. With Chase out of the lineup in Weeks 11-12, Higgins was relied on as the team's No. 1 receiver and delivered back-to-back 100-yard performances. He had a season-high nine catches for 148 yards in Week 11 at Pittsburgh, including four for 55 yards during a Bengals TD drive in the second quarter. His 148 yards were the second-most in a game in his career (194 on Dec. 26, 2021 vs. Baltimore).

Higgins followed up his showing in Pittsburgh by recording seven catches for 114 yards and a TD in Week 12 at Tennessee. Three of his receptions went for over 20 yards, highlighted by a contested 27-yard TD that gave Cincinnati a fourth-quarter lead. Though he had just 35 receiving yards in Week 13 vs. Kansas City, Higgins made a pair of impact plays beginning with a 12-yard TD in the second quarter. With Cincinnati later facing a third-and-11 at the two-minute warning of the fourth quarter, Higgins caught a 14-yard dart through traffic from Burrow that secured the win.

Week 16 at New England was Higgins' eighth 100-yard receiving game since the start of the 2021 season. A 2020 second-round pick of the Bengals, he had 74 catches for 1091 yards and six TDs in 2021, despite missing three games — Games 3-4 (shoulder), and Game 17 (rest). In Game 15 vs. Baltimore, he posted career highs in catches (12) and receiving yards (194), and scored two TDs to help the Bengals put up 41 points.

Higgins has continued to produce during his brief but impressive postseason career. His 374 receiving yards rank second in Bengals postseason history behind Chase (513), while his 25 catches rank third. He had back-to-back 100-yard performances in last year's postseason run, beginning with 103 in the AFC Championship at Kansas City. Seventeen of those yards came during an overtime drive that helped set up a game-winning FG. In Super Bowl LVI, Higgins caught four passes for 100 yards, including a 75-yard TD on the first play of the second half that went in as the longest play from scrimmage in Bengals postseason history. He also had a six-yard TD grab in the second quarter, joining him with former TD Dan Ross as the only players in team history with multiple TDs in a single postseason game.

Here's a look at the most receiving yards in a players' first three career seasons in Bengals history (regular season):

PLAYER	FIRST THREE SEASONS	RECEIVING YARDS
A.J. Green	2011-13	3833
Tee Higgins	2020-22	3028
Chad Johnson	2001-03	2850
Cris Collinsworth	1981-83	2839
Darnay Scott	1994-96	2520

Mixon reaches 5K: HB Joe Mixon surpassed 5000 career rushing yards early in the first quarter of Week 9 against Carolina. He became the fifth player in team history to reach the 5000-yard milestone, and the first since HB Rudi Johnson in 2006. A 2017 second-round draft pick of the Bengals, Mixon has logged over 1000 rushing yards in three of his five full seasons (missed 10 games in 2020 due to injury). His career-high 1205 yards in 2021 ranked third in the league, while his 13 rushing TDs were fourth as he earned his first Pro Bowl selection.

Including Mixon, there currently are 10 active players in the NFL with 5000 or more career rushing yards. He also has proven himself to be a threat in the passing game, with 231 catches for 1763 receiving yards. Mixon recorded 100-plus yards from scrimmage four times this season, including in three of his last six games played.

In 2021, Mixon became one of just four Bengals ever to surpass 4000 career rushing yards and 1000 career receiving yards, joining Corey Dillon, James Brooks and Pete Johnson. Reaching the 4K/1K mark took Mixon just 60 career games, 11 faster than the next-quickest Bengal (Dillon, 71 games).

Here is a look at Cincinnati's all-time leaders in rushing yards while playing for the Bengals:

PLAYER	YEARS PLAYED	RUSHING YARDS
Corey Dillon	1997-2003	8061
James Brooks	1984-91	6447
Rudi Johnson	2001-07	5742
Pete Johnson	1977-83	5421
Joe Mixon	2017-present	5378

Mixon's historic day: HB Joe Mixon had perhaps his best career performance in Week 9 vs. Carolina, as he rushed for 153 yards on 22 attempts (7.0 avg.) with four TDs, and caught four passes for 58 yards and a TD. His five total TDs and 30 points accounted for each set a Bengals single-game record, while his four rushing scores tied HB Corey Dillon (Dec. 4, 1997) for the team's single-game mark. Mixon's 211 yards from scrimmage were also a career high.

Mixon became the sixth player in the Super Bowl era with at least 200 scrimmage yards and five total TDs in a game. He also joined Shaun Alexander (Sept. 29, 2002) and Jonathan Taylor (Nov. 21, 2021) as one of three players in the Super Bowl era with at least four rushing TDs and one receiving TD in a game. Mixon's five total TDs and four rushing TDs were both the most by any player in a single game during the regular season.

Mixon wasted little time making an impact, as he recorded 47 total yards on the opening drive and finished it off with a two-yard plunge into the end zone that gave Cincinnati an early lead. He finished the first half with 15 carries for 113 yards (7.5 avg.) and three TDs, becoming the second player in team history with three rushing TDs in a single half (Corey Dillon on Dec. 4, 1997). His receiving TD came with four seconds remaining in the half, when QB Joe Burrow rolled out to his right and found Mixon in the back of the end zone for a 12-yard score.

Mixon recorded his 14th career game of 100 or more rushing yards, which tied FB Pete Johnson for the fifth-most such performances in team history. His efforts in Week 9 were rewarded with his third career AFC Offensive Player of the Week recognition.

Here are the most total TDs scored by Bengals players in single games:

PLAYER	DATE	OPPONENT	TOTAL TDs
Joe Mixon	Nov. 6, 2022	Carolina Panthers	5
Larry Kinnebrew	Oct. 28, 1984	Houston Oilers	4
Corey Dillon	Dec. 4, 1997	Tennessee Oilers	4
Marvin Jones	Oct. 27, 2013	N.Y. Jets	4

Samaje steps up: HB Samaje Perine emerged as a key member of the Bengals' offense in the absence of HB Joe Mixon, who suffered a concussion in the first half of Week 11 at Pittsburgh and missed Weeks 12 and 13. Perine rushed for 30 yards on 11 carries against the Steelers, but his most notable contribution came as a receiver, as he caught four passes for 52 yards (13.0 average) and three TDs. It marked the most-ever TD receptions in a game by a Bengals player listed as a running back, halfback or fullback, and tied for the second-most in a game in team history regardless of position. Perine also became the first RB/HB/FB in the NFL with three receiving TDs in a game since Atlanta's Cordarrelle Patterson on Oct. 3, 2021. He entered the game at Pittsburgh with three receiving TDs in 69 career contests.

Perine in Week 12 at Tennessee made his first start since the 2020 season. He finished with 58 rushing yards on 17 carries (3.4 avg.), including a seven-yard TD run in the second quarter that tied the game 10-10. On the first play of that scoring drive, Perine caught a dump pass from QB Joe Burrow and took it 32 yards for his longest career reception. His 17 rushing attempts were his most in a game since Week 16 of the 2020 season, his rookie campaign in Washington.

The sixth-year back turned in one of his best performances to date in Week 13 against Kansas City. He rushed for 106 yards on 21 carries (5.0) — his most attempts and yards since 2017 — and added six catches for 49 yards. Perine's 155 yards from scrimmage were a career high, with 49 coming in the fourth quarter as the Bengals overcame a seven-point deficit.

With Mixon back in the lineup for Week 14 vs. Cleveland, Perine saw fewer touches, but made the most of his opportunities with 22 rushing yards on four attempts (5.5 avg.). He scored his second rushing TD of the season on a six-yard run in the second quarter, when he appeared to be bottled up near the line of scrimmage but bounced outside and reached the end zone.

Defense opens season with historic streak: Browns QB Jacoby Brissett scored a three-yard rushing TD in the third quarter of Game 8 at Cleveland, marking the first TD allowed by the Bengals in the second half of a game this season. Cincinnati became one of only two teams since 1930 to start a season by going seven games without giving up a second-half TD, joining the 1934 Detroit Lions (eight games).

The Bengals are also one of just six teams since 1930 to go seven or more consecutive games at any point in a season without yielding a TD in the second half, and the first to do so since the 1997 Kansas City Chiefs (record 10 games). The 1973 Dolphins (seven games) are the only other team to accomplish that feat since the '70 NFL/AFL merger.

D tightens after the break: Despite their streak of not allowing a second-half TD being snapped in Game 8 at Cleveland, the Bengals remain one of the top defensive teams in the NFL coming out of halftime. Defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo's unit allowed 142 points in the second half/overtime during the regular season, the fifth-fewest total in the league, while its 8.9 average points allowed was seventh best leaguewide.

In 88 opponent drives in the second half/overtime, the Bengals forced 32 punts, 18 field goal attempts and 10 turnovers on downs, while also recording eight FRs and five INTs. They came up with four turnovers on four consecutive drives in Game 14 at Tampa Bay, giving the offense advantageous field position to stage a double-digit comeback. Three of the defense's 13 TDs allowed in the second half this season came vs. Carolina in Week 9, when many of Cincinnati's starters were rested late in the 42-21 win.

Through four second-half quarters in the 2022 postseason, Cincinnati has allowed just 10 points while recording two takeaways, four forced punts and two turnovers on downs.

Hubbard a Day 2 draft steal: In addition to his 98-yard fumble recovery for a TD in the Wild Card Playoff against Baltimore, DE Sam Hubbard has been a consistent and versatile playmaker for the Bengals during his five-year career.

Hubbard, a third-round pick (77th overall) of the Bengals in 2018, ranks second in sacks (30.5) among all players from the '18 rookie class (draft picks and college free agents). His most recent came in Week 14 against Cleveland, when he brought down QB Deshaun Watson in the first quarter on a third-down play that forced the Browns to punt. After totaling 1.5 sacks over the first six games this season, Hubbard logged five in his final nine contests he played in. In Week 13 vs. Kansas City, he got to QB Patrick Mahomes for an eight-yard loss that put the Chiefs in a third-and-long situation.

One of Hubbard's most crucial plays this season occurred late in the fourth quarter of Week 6 at New Orleans. With the Saints driving to take the lead in the final minute and the ball at the Cincinnati 41-yard line, Hubbard and DT B.J. Hill collapsed the pocket and brought down QB Andy Dalton for a seven-yard combined sack, backing New Orleans into a fourth-and-17. He followed that up with an eight-yard sack in Week 7 against Atlanta that forced the Falcons to punt, and in Week 8 at Cleveland he teamed up with DE Trey Hendrickson for a sack of QB Jacoby Brissett. In Week 12 at Tennessee, he wrangled QB Ryan Tannehill for a 10-yard loss that forced a Titans punt in the third quarter.

Also known as one of the league's top run defenders on the edge, Hubbard led the Bengals with 11 TFLs during the regular season, despite missing the Week 16 game at New England due to a calf injury. That marked the first time he missed a game because of an injury since Week 8 of the 2020 season. Hubbard sat out the 2021 regular-season finale at Cleveland as the Bengals rested most of their starters with the AFC North Division already clinched.

Players' listed positions vary by media outlet (e.g. whether they're classified as a LB or DE), but according to NFL.com's draft record, Hubbard was the 13th defensive lineman selected in 2018 — five DEs and seven DTs came off the board before him. According to NFL.com, there were a total of 40 defensive linemen (20 DEs, 20 DTs) selected in the 2018 draft, along with 32 linebackers and one player classified as "EDGE."

Hubbard has been the Bengals' starting RDE since 2019, and during the '21 regular season, his 7.5 sacks were second on the team. Hubbard's three postseason sacks ranked tied for fifth among all players, second on the team, and tied for third-most ever by a Bengal for a postseason career.

Hubbard signed a contract extension with the Bengals in July 2021 that keeps him in Cincinnati through the end of the 2025 season.

Here's a look at the career sack leaders from the rookie class of 2018:

PLAYER/POSITION	TEAM	PICK (ROUND)	SACKS
Harold Landry III/EDGE	Tennessee	No. 41 (2nd)	31.0
Sam Hubbard/DE	Cincinnati	No. 77 (3rd)	30.5
Bradley Chubb/DE	Denver/Miami.....	No. 5 (1st)	28.5
Josh Sweat/DE	Philadelphia	No. 130 (4th)	28.5
Marcus Davenport/DE	New Orleans	No. 14 (1st)	21.5

Hubbard named WPMOY nominee: The Bengals announced DE Sam Hubbard as their nominee for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award presented by Nationwide. This is the second consecutive year Hubbard has earned the team's nomination, following a 2021 year in which he created the Sam Hubbard Foundation to bring equitable access to food, education and a healthy lifestyle for all Cincinnatians.

Considered one of the league's most prestigious honors, the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award recognizes an NFL player for outstanding community service activities off the field, as well as excellence on the field. Three players in Bengals history have received the award — QB Ken Anderson in 1975, LB Reggie Williams in '86, and OT Anthony Munoz in '91.

A Cincinnati native who attended Archbishop Moeller High School before playing three seasons at Ohio State, Hubbard has been committed to serving his home community since being drafted by the Bengals in 2018. He continued several annual events through the Sam Hubbard Foundation this year, including his Shop with a Pro Night, Sam's Thanksgiving Food Drive, and The Sam Hubbard Youth Football Camp. Hubbard additionally started two education-focused projects in partnership with local non-profit Crayons to Computers. He hosted a backpack drive in August, in which over 650 backpacks were distributed to every student in the Bellevue school district, and in October launched Hubbard's Cupboards, which serves as an on-site supplement that provides school supplies, healthy snacks and hygiene products for students in the Mt. Healthy school system.

"I consider this nomination to be the highest honor in our league because of the incredible people that have come before me, and because of the resources and awareness it will bring to my foundation and our mission," Hubbard said.

Trey's torrid pace: DE Trey Hendrickson closed out the regular season with two sacks and a forced fumble in Week 18 vs. Baltimore. In the final minute of the second quarter, he took down Ravens QB Anthony Brown one yard behind the goal line and knocked the ball out, before it was recovered by DE Joseph Ossai for a Bengals TD. Hendrickson led the team with eight sacks this season, adding to his rapid rise as one of the NFL's premier pass rushers.

Since the start of the 2020 season, Hendrickson's 35.5 sacks rank fourth in the league. A career-high 14 of those came in 2021, his first season with Cincinnati, which were good for fifth in the NFL and second-most in team history behind DE Coy Bacon's 22 in 1976 (Sacks became an official NFL statistic in 1982, however the Bengals tracked the stat back to '76 and thus recognize Bacon as the record-holder). Hendrickson's production during the 2021 regular season helped him earn his first career Pro Bowl selection.

The sixth-year pro out of Florida Atlantic continued his impressive pace in the 2021 postseason, recording a team-high 3.5 sacks and a forced fumble to help lead Cincinnati to Super Bowl LVI.

Hendrickson earned his first career AFC Defensive Player of the Week award for Week 3 of this season, when he logged a career-high 2.5 sacks and two forced fumbles in a win at the N.Y. Jets. After being held without a sack through Cincinnati's first two contests, he became the first Bengals player since at least 2000 to record two-plus sacks and two-plus forced fumbles in a single game. He added two more sacks in Week 11 at Pittsburgh, with both coming in the fourth quarter to help Cincinnati hold onto a late lead.

Here are the NFL sack leaders since the start of the 2020 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	SACKS SINCE 2020
Myles Garrett	Cleveland.....	44.0
T.J. Watt	Pittsburgh.....	43.0
Haason Reddick	Arizona/Carolina/Philadelphia.....	39.5
Trey Hendrickson	New Orleans/Cincinnati.....	34.5
Nick Bosa	San Francisco 49ers.....	34.0
Matthew Judon	Baltimore/New England.....	34.0

Reader leads stout D-line: DT DJ Reader has been touted by coaches and teammates as one of the NFL's most underrated players. QB Joe Burrow was recently asked about the 6-3, 335-pound run stuffer and said: "He's one of the best defensive tackles in the league and, for some reason, not really anybody knows about him. It's time people start knowing about him."

Reader, who is in his seventh pro season and third with the Bengals, anchors a defensive line that ranked seventh in the NFL in rushing yards allowed per game during the regular season (106.6). He missed Weeks 4-9 due to a knee injury, but returned to help Cincinnati hold some of the league's top backs well below their season averages. In Week 12 at Tennessee, he contributed a tackle and batted down two passes as RB Derrick Henry was limited to just 38 rushing yards on 17 carries. Taking on Cleveland in Week 14, Reader logged five solo tackles and swatted another pass at the line of scrimmage while RB Nick Chubb was bottled up for 34 yards on 14 attempts.

In Week 15 at Tampa Bay, Reader played a role in turnovers on back-to-back Buccaneers drives in the third quarter. With 5:06 left in the quarter, he pressured QB Tom Brady on third-and-10 and punched the ball out, leading to DE Joseph Ossai recovering at the Tampa Bay 13-yard line. Less than four minutes later, a Brady handoff to RB Leonard Fournette was fumbled, and Reader dove on the loose ball to set up the offense at the Buccaneers' 39. Both turnovers were followed by Bengals TDs to help erase a 14-point halftime deficit.

Reader, who signed with the Bengals as a free agent in 2020, played in just five games that year before suffering a season-ending quad injury. He returned in 2021 and started 15 of 17 games at nose tackle, racking up 43 tackles and two sacks while helping the team's run defense rank fifth in the NFL (102.5 yards per game allowed). He added 12 more tackles, including three for losses with one sack, in the postseason run to Super Bowl LVI.

Wilson among elite young LBs: Third-year LB Logan Wilson has emerged as one of the NFL's top LBs over the past two regular seasons, but his most crucial plays since being drafted by the Bengals in 2020 have come in the postseason. The latest of Wilson's game-changing — and possibly season-changing — contributions occurred in the fourth quarter of the Wild Card Playoff against Baltimore. With the ball at the Cincinnati one-yard line and the score tied at 17-17, Wilson met QB Tyler Huntley above a pile of linemen as Huntley tried to reach over the goal line. Wilson knocked the ball loose and into the arms of DE Sam Hubbard, who returned it 98 yards for a TD that proved to be the game-winner.

During the Bengals' four-game postseason run to Super Bowl LVI last year, Wilson was on the field for all 274 possible snaps and logged 39 total tackles — the most by any NFL player in a single postseason since Baltimore's Ray Lewis (51) in 2012. He made two memorable plays in the AFC Divisional at Tennessee, beginning with a tackle of RB Derrick Henry for a loss on fourth-and-one in the fourth quarter to end a Titans drive that reached Cincinnati's 35-yard line. He later intercepted QB Ryan Tannehill near midfield with 20 seconds remaining, setting up a game-winning 52-yard FG by K Evan McPherson that sent the Bengals to the AFC Championship.

Wilson during the 2022 regular season notched a career-high 123 tackles (led team) in just 15 games. He also recorded 2.5 sacks over the final four contests, compared to two in his previous 36 career games. He wrapped up the season with some eye-popping stat lines, beginning with a career-best 17 tackles (14 solos) in Week 14 vs. Cleveland. In Week 15 at Tampa Bay, Wilson logged 15 more stops, including a sack on QB Tom Brady that led to DT DJ Reader punching the ball out and DE Joseph Ossai recovering it at the Buccaneers' 13-yard line.

The University of Wyoming product also led Cincinnati in tackles (98) and INTs (four) in 2021, his second pro season. His four picks tied for the most among all NFL LBs, and were the most by a Bengals LB since Odell Thurman had five in 2005.

Wilson's ball skills have been a notable part of his game since he entered the league in 2020, as his seven career INTs are the most among all NFL linebackers in that span. His lone INT of the 2022 season came in Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets, when he dropped back into deep coverage and picked off QB Joe Flacco before returning it 47 yards. Head coach Zac Taylor after the game said it "took him back to his receiver and safety days," as Wilson was an all-state WR and defensive back at Natrona County High School in Wyoming.

Here is a look at the INT leaders among linebackers since the start of the 2020 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	INTs SINCE 2020
Logan Wilson	Cincinnati.....	7
Roquan Smith	Chicago/Baltimore.....	6
(four players tied)	—.....	5

Nothing easy in the air: Cincinnati's defense held opposing passers to a 58.9 completion percentage during the regular season, the lowest rate in the NFL, while its 17 passing TDs allowed were tied for the third-fewest leaguewide. The Bengals also allowed just one opponent (Tampa Bay, Week 15) to record 300 net passing yards.

Just three QBs this season posted a passer rating of 100 or higher against the Bengals (minimum 20 attempts). Prior to Browns QB Jacoby Brissett having a 133.7 rating in Week 8, Cincinnati had gone 11 consecutive games (regular and postseason) holding opposing QBs below triple digits. The streak dated back to last season's Wild Card Playoff against Las Vegas, and also featured six starting QBs being limited to fewer than 20 completions.

Over the past 22 games (2021 postseason, 16 games in '22 regular season and two in '22 postseason), the Bengals have held passers to a 59.3 completion percentage (467 of 787), while collecting 23 INTs to 27 passing TDs allowed.

Answering the Bell: S Vonn Bell was involved in seven turnovers for the Bengals' defense during the regular season, but the most crucial came late in the fourth quarter of Week 16 at New England. With the Patriots driving to take the lead in the final two minutes and the ball at the Cincinnati five-yard line, Bell forced a fumble by RB Rhamondre Stevenson which was recovered by DT B.J. Hill, potentially saving the game for the Bengals. It was Bell's second FF of the season and his eighth since signing with Cincinnati in 2020, tying for the sixth-most in the NFL in that span.

Bell also had a career-high four INTs this season, including three in a two-game stretch from Weeks 4-5. He grabbed a pair in Week 4 against Miami to help lead the Bengals to a Thursday Night Football win, and in Week 5 at Baltimore he picked off QB Lamar Jackson at the Cincinnati 17-yard line when the Ravens were leading by 10. Bell's fourth INT was in Week 8 at Cleveland, when he intercepted WR Amari Cooper on a gadget play run by the Browns in the first quarter.

In the regular-season finale against Baltimore, Bell recovered a fumble at the Cincinnati 32-yard line with 3:10 remaining in the fourth quarter that essentially sealed the win.

Bell has earned a reputation as one of Cincinnati's most consistent players and a trusted leader. Much of that status comes from his remarkable availability, as he began his Bengals tenure by playing every snap in his first 20 games with the team. His consecutive snaps streak was broken on Oct. 17, 2021, when the starters were rested late in the fourth quarter of a 34-11 win at Detroit.

And although he missed more snaps throughout the year, including all of Game 17 at Cleveland while on the Reserve/COVID list, Bell still led Cincinnati's defense in snaps played (1004 of 1124) during the regular season. In his now 54 games played (regular and postseason) for the Bengals, he has seen action on 3484 of 3619 possible defensive snaps (96.7 percent), including 1154 of 1167 this season (missed 10 snaps in Week 9 vs. Carolina as defensive starters were rested late in 42-21 win).

Bell has been voted a team captain in each of his three seasons with the Bengals. He ranked third on the team during the regular season in total tackles (77), second in PDs (eight) and tied for fourth in TFLs (four).

Mr. Reliable wears No. 30: S Jessie Bates III grabbed a career-high four INTs during the regular season, with the fourth coming in Week 18 vs. Baltimore when he picked off QB Anthony Brown midway through the first quarter. Bates had 14 INTs in 79 career regular-season games.

The Wake Forest product earned a starting safety spot midway through his rookie preseason in 2018 and hasn't looked back since. Bates started 51 straight games to begin his Bengals career — that’s three full seasons plus three games — until a neck injury ended his streak in the fourth game of 2021 (Sept. 30 vs. Jacksonville). He missed just that one game before returning to the starting lineup the next week, and then started all but one game (pre-playoff rest) thereafter in 2021.

Still, Bates’ streak of 51 tied for the sixth-most consecutive starts by a player to begin their career as a Bengal, and the second-most by a defender. Had he started the Jacksonville game, he would have tied former LB Takeo Spikes (52) for most starts to begin a career by a Bengals defender.

Over his first five seasons, Bates has steadily established himself as one of the NFL’s elite players at his position. Since entering the league as a second-round draft pick in 2018, his 477 total tackles are tied for 21st leaguwide and rank second among defensive backs. He logged at least 100 tackles each of his first three seasons, and although that number dipped to 88 in the 2021 regular season (did not play in two games), he stepped up in the postseason with a team-leading two INTs and six PDs.

Bates has showcased his ball-tracking abilities throughout his career, with this being the fourth season he has recorded at least three INTs. His first pick this year came in the final minute of Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets to seal a Bengals win. He second was in Week 9 against Carolina — a deep ball thrown down the right sideline by QB PJ Walker which he returned 16 yards to set up an eventual Cincinnati TD. His third occurred in Week 14 vs. Cleveland, when he stepped in front of a pass thrown by QB Deshaun Watson early in the fourth quarter.

McPherson breaks own team record: K Evan McPherson, who quickly became a fan-favorite in Cincinnati during his rookie season in 2021, notched another historic mark in the ’22 regular-season opener against Pittsburgh. McPherson kicked a team-record 59-yard field goal in the first quarter to put the Bengals on the board, breaking the previous record of 58 yards that he hit on Dec. 19, 2021 at Denver.

It marked a continuation of some notable performances from training camp and preseason, as McPherson showed no signs of rust coming out of his rookie year. In three preseason games, McPherson hit nine of 10 FG attempts, with three coming from 50 or more yards. On Aug. 12 against Arizona, he converted FGs of 58 and 56 yards, both in the second quarter. His nine FGs tied for the league lead during preseason, while his 31 points accounted for (made four PATs) were third-most. In the Bengals’ “Back Together Saturday” practice on July 30 at Paycor Stadium, McPherson closed out the afternoon by kicking a 65-yard FG in front of an announced crowd of 28,283.

He grabbed another spot on the team’s all-time chart in Week 4 vs. Miami, as his 57-yarder in the fourth quarter tied Randy Bullock for the third-longest FG in Bengals history.

Here is a look at the longest made FGs in Bengals history:

PLAYER	DATE	OPPONENT	FG DISTANCE
Evan McPherson	Sept. 11, 2022	vs. Pittsburgh Steelers	59
Evan McPherson	Dec. 19, 2021	at Denver Broncos	58
Randy Bullock	Dec. 22, 2019	at Miami Dolphins	57
Evan McPherson	Sept. 29, 2022	vs. Miami Dolphins	57
Chris Bahr	Sept. 23, 1979	vs. Houston Oilers	55
Mike Nugent	Nov. 25, 2012	vs. Oakland Raiders	55
Randy Bullock	Oct. 18, 2020	at Indianapolis Colts	55

Mac is money from deep: K Evan McPherson has quickly earned a reputation as one of the NFL’s top long-range kickers. The second-year pro out of Florida is 14 of 16 on FG attempts of 50 or more yards, good for the fifth-most FGs from that distance since he entered the league in 2021. It is also the most such FGs within a player’s first 30 games in NFL history. What makes it even more impressive is that McPherson’s 14th FG of 50 or more yards, kicked in Week 11 at Pittsburgh, came in just his 26th career game. He drilled a 54-yarder near the end of the third quarter at Acrisure Stadium to increase the Bengals’ lead to 27-23. McPherson finished the regular season a perfect five of five on 50-plus yard FG attempts.

McPherson is already the team’s career leader in 50-yard FGs. It took him just 14 games into his rookie season to reach the top of Cincinnati’s career chart in that category, breaking the previous record of eight. Referred to by fans as “Money Mac,” McPherson made an NFL-best nine FGs of 50 or more yards during the 2021 regular season and fell just one shy of tying the NFL record for most 50-yarders. His nine such FGs were more than double the previous team record for a single season (four, by K Horst Muhlmann in 1970).

McPherson is also tied with Blair Walsh (Minnesota, 2013) for the most 50-yarders in a player’s first 20 career games. In his 20th game, Week 4 vs. Miami, McPherson converted from 57 yards in the fourth quarter to earn his third career AFC Special Teams Player of the Week award.

McPherson’s sensational postseason: Though K Evan McPherson had a spectacular regular season as a rookie in 2021 that included making 28 of 33 FGs, he found a way to best that production during the Bengals’ postseason run to Super Bowl LVI. Over the four-game stretch, he was a perfect 20-for-20 on placekicks, making all 14 of his FG attempts and all six of his PATs. No kicker in NFL history had previously been perfect on as many as 11 FGs in a single postseason.

In his postseason debut, the AFC Wild Card Playoff vs. Las Vegas, McPherson set team postseason records for points (14) and FGs (four) in a game. In the following week’s Divisional Playoff at Tennessee, he hit four more FGs, including a 52-yard game-winner as time expired in regulation — making him the first rookie kicker in NFL postseason history to kick a game-winning FG with no time remaining in the fourth quarter or overtime.

He matched that performance the next week in the AFC Championship at Kansas City, with four FGs including a 31-yarder in overtime that won the game and sent Cincinnati to the Super Bowl.

McPherson’s 14 FGs tied former Colts K Adam Vinatieri (2006) for the most in a single postseason in NFL history. K Jim Breech (nine) held the previous Bengals record in that category. McPherson’s 48 points are already the second-most by a Bengal for an entire postseason career, trailing Breech, who amassed 52 points in nine games.

McPherson had his first career postseason miss in the 2022 Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore, as his extra point attempt following a Bengals TD in the second quarter sailed wide right. He opened the game with a 39-yard FG to cap Cincinnati’s first drive, and later drilled a PAT in the fourth quarter that extended the lead to 24-17. In snowy conditions throughout the AFC Divisional Playoff at Buffalo, McPherson was a perfect five-for-five, with FGs of 28 and 20 yards to go along with three successful PATs. He has accounted for 61 points in his young postseason career, already the most in Bengals history.

Chrisman takes over punting duties: First-year P Drupe Chrisman, who originally joined the Bengals as a college free agent signee in 2021, was elevated from the practice squad and made his NFL debut in Week 11 at Pittsburgh. Dealing with cold and windy conditions at Acrisure Stadium, Chrisman punted three times for 162 yards (54.0 gross average), with two downed inside the Steelers’ 20-yard line. His first attempt came at the end of the Bengals’ opening drive, when he booted it 53 yards to the Pittsburgh seven, before the ball was muffed into the end zone. The returner recovered it five yards behind the goal line, making Chrisman’s first career punt officially 65 yards.

He followed up his debut with another stellar performance in Week 12 at Tennessee, punting five times for 259 yards (51.8 avg.), with a long of 62 yards and two landing inside the Titans’ 20. Chrisman was signed off the practice squad to the active roster on Dec. 6, and in seven regular-season games he had 28 punts for 1338 yards (47.8 gross avg.) with 13 inside the 20. In Week 15 at Tampa Bay, he booted a 46-yard punt that landed out of bounds at the Buccaneers’ two-yard line as the Bengals were protecting a 10-point lead in the fourth quarter.

Chrisman had perhaps his most productive day in the regular-season finale vs. Baltimore, punting seven times for 362 yards (51.7 gross avg.), with three downed inside the 20. In the second quarter, he dropped a 56-yarder out of bounds at the Baltimore five-yard line.

The Ohio State product took over the team’s punting role, as well as serving as a holder on placekicks, in place of 14th-year vet Kevin Huber. Huber, who was waived by the Bengals on Dec. 5, originally was selected by Cincinnati in the fifth round of the 2009 NFL Draft. He set multiple team records over his career, including games played (216), punts (1011), punting yards (45,766), gross average (45.27), net average (40.34) and inside-20 punts (346). Huber held a streak of 138 straight games played dating back to the 2014 season opener that was snapped in Week 11 at Pittsburgh. He was signed to the team’s practice squad on Dec. 7.

2022 draft class overview: Cincinnati’s six-player draft class in April featured three defensive backs, two defensive linemen and one offensive lineman. The group played in a combined 288 college games.

Here’s a closer look at Cincinnati’s 2022 draft class:

- S Dax Hill, Michigan (Round 1, Pick 31): Hill was one of the fastest players in this year’s draft (4.38-second 40-yard dash at the NFL Combine) and brings a highly touted versatility to the Bengals’ secondary. A first-team All-Big Ten selection as a junior last season, he has the ability to line up as a nickel CB or a deep safety. Hill made his regular-season career debut in Game 1 against the Steelers, and started for the first time in Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets. He recorded his first tackle in Week 5 at Baltimore, stopping TE Isaiah Likely on a third down to force a Ravens FG. He missed Week 11 at Pittsburgh with a shoulder injury, but returned to play six defensive snaps in Week 12 at Tennessee. Hill started at nickel CB in Week 15 at Tampa Bay, and recorded season highs in snaps played (66) and tackles (eight).

- CB Cam Taylor-Britt, Nebraska (Round 2, Pick 60): Cincinnati took a defensive back with each of its first two picks for the first time in team history when it selected the speedy Taylor-Britt out of head coach Zac Taylor's alma mater, Nebraska. After suffering an abdomen injury during training camp, Taylor-Britt was placed on the Reserve/Injured list and missed the first four weeks of the regular season. He made his career debut in Week 7 against Atlanta, recording three solo tackles on 28 defensive snaps. Taylor-Britt has drawn praise from coaches and teammates for his play after stepping into the starting lineup in place of injured CB Chidobe Awuzie. He had 55 tackles in the regular season, the eighth-most on the team, and has seen action on 129 of a possible 132 defensive snaps through two postseason games. Taylor-Britt recorded his first career INT to seal Cincinnati's win over Buffalo in the AFC Divisional Playoff.

- DT Zach Carter, Florida (Round 3, Pick 95): Carter had success lining up on the edge and at the three technique at Florida, where he collected 13 sacks over his final two seasons. Defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo has indicated Carter will play both on the interior of the defensive line and on the outside. He provides a valuable depth piece and possesses athleticism for his size. Carter started eight consecutive games from Weeks 4-12, and had his best performance in Week 7 against Atlanta with five tackles (four solos) on 34 defensive snaps. He recorded his first tackle for loss in Week 8 at Cleveland, and his first half-sack in Week 16 at New England. Carter had four tackles (three solos) in his postseason debut vs. Baltimore.

- G Cordell Volson, North Dakota State (Round 4, Pick 136): The first and only offensive player taken by the Bengals in the 2022 draft, Volson earned the starting role at LG during training camp. He brings a winning pedigree from an elite FCS program at North Dakota State, where he won four national championships and played in a program-record 65 career games. He is the Bengals' only player that lined up for 100 percent of the offensive snaps during the regular season (1106).

- S Tycen Anderson, Toledo (Round 5, Pick 166): Anderson tallied 131 tackles and 16 PDs in a five-year career at Toledo, but his earliest contributions with the Bengals may come via special teams, an area he excelled in college. As a defensive back, he relies on his size (6-2, 209) and natural speed (4.26 40-time). In Cincinnati's second preseason contest at the N.Y. Giants, Anderson recorded seven tackles (six solos). Anderson suffered a hamstring injury during preseason and was placed on the Reserve/Injured list on Sept. 2, but was designated to return and cleared to practice on Jan. 11.

- DE Jeff Gunter, Coastal Carolina (Round 7, Pick 93): Bengals coaches were pleased to get Gunter in the seventh round, given his knack for rushing the passer and causing turnovers. A three-time All-Sun Belt Conference selection, he recorded 18 career sacks, nine FFs and two blocked FG attempts. In his career debut Week 1 vs. Pittsburgh, Gunter saw action on 20 special teams plays. He suffered a left knee injury prior to the Week 6 contest at New Orleans and was inactive for two games, but returned to play six special teams snaps in Week 8 at Cleveland. He played 18 defensive snaps in Week 15 at Tampa Bay and recorded his first career tackle.

Four Bengals listed on "Top 100": For the 12th consecutive year, current NFL players have voted to determine the top 100 players in the NFL, with the final list revealed throughout August on NFL Network.

Cincinnati was represented by four players in 2022 — QB Joe Burrow (No. 21), WR Ja'Marr Chase (No. 24), HB Joe Mixon (No. 38) and DE Trey Hendrickson (No. 78). It marks the team's second-most selections on a Top 100 list — there were seven Bengals included in 2016.

Burrow, Chase and Mixon made their Top 100 debuts, while Hendrickson made his second appearance after checking in at No. 73 on the 2021 list. Burrow's ranking at No. 21 is the fifth-highest by a Bengal, as WR A.J. Green was listed in the top 20 four times from 2013-17.

Bengals home now called Paycor Stadium: Cincinnati's Week 1 game against Pittsburgh was the first regular-season contest in newly named Paycor Stadium.

The Bengals and Cincinnati-based Paycor expanded their partnership to include stadium naming rights, further strengthening their shared vision and commitment to the Cincinnati community and driving increased national awareness for both organizations.

Paycor, a leading human capital management (HCM) company, is a cornerstone partner of the Bengals, and has served as the team's official and exclusive HR software provider since 2018. Paycor has been headquartered in Cincinnati for over 30 years and this summer celebrated one year as a public company following a July 2021 IPO.

The Bengals and Paycor hosted a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the stadium on Tuesday, Sept. 6 to unveil new branding and celebrate the partnership. Paycor Stadium branding has been integrated throughout the stadium over the past three months.

The stadium was previously called Paul Brown Stadium, named after one of football's most influential coaches and the founder of the Bengals.

"This is a move that I think my father would have agreed to. He was always for what is best for the team," said Bengals President Mike Brown, son of Paul Brown. "This allows the Bengals to continue to compete at the highest level in the NFL and exemplifies our long-term commitment to the community."

The Jungle is jammin': The five highest-attended home games (and seven of the top eight) in Bengals history have occurred since the start of the 2022 calendar year. The Bengals beat the Miami Dolphins in Week 4 of the '22 season in front of a paid attendance of 67,260 at Paycor Stadium, marking the largest crowd for a sporting event in Cincinnati history. That figure surpassed the previous record of 66,277 set in the 2021 Wild Card Playoff victory over the Las Vegas Raiders on Jan. 15. This season's Wild Card Playoff win over Baltimore had an attendance of 66,399, the second largest in team history.

The attendance figure for Cincinnati's Week 13 win against Kansas City was 66,243 (fourth largest), while previous home contests against Cleveland (66,222), Carolina (66,160) and Atlanta (66,158) rank fifth, seventh and eighth all-time, respectively. Adding in figures of 65,841 for the season opener vs. Pittsburgh on Sept. 11, and 65,849 for the Week 18 finale vs. Baltimore, the Bengals welcomed an attendance of over 65,000 in seven consecutive regular-season home games for the first time since 2007. That year, Cincinnati hosted over 65,000 in each of its eight regular-season home contests.

Here is a look at the largest home crowds in Bengals franchise history:

DATE	OPPONENT	RESULT	ATTENDANCE
Sept. 29, 2022	Miami	W, 27-15	67,260
Jan. 15, 2023*	Baltimore	W, 24-17	66,399
Jan. 15, 2022*	Las Vegas*	W, 26-19	66,277
Dec. 4, 2022	Kansas City	W, 27-24	66,243
Dec. 11, 2022	Cleveland	W, 23-10	66,222

Anderson, Curtis join Bengals Ring of Honor: Bengals legends Willie Anderson and Isaac Curtis were inducted into the team's Ring of Honor at halftime of Game 4 against Miami. They joined the inaugural Ring of Honor class inducted last season, which included QB Ken Anderson, team founder/head coach Paul Brown, OT Anthony Munoz and CB Ken Riley.

Regarded as the best right offensive tackle of his era, Willie Anderson played in 182 games (regular and postseason) for Cincinnati from 1996-2007. A four-time Pro Bowler, his 181 regular-season contests are tied for the eighth-most in team history. He blocked for HB Corey Dillon's two NFL-record setting games — an NFL rookie record 246 rushing yards vs. the Tennessee Oilers in 1997 (since broken), and an NFL record 278 rushing yards vs. the Denver Broncos in 2000 (since broken). He also helped set the club record for fewest sacks allowed twice — 21 in 2005 and 17 in '07.

Considered a game-changing WR in his era, Curtis played from 1973-84 and still holds the Bengals record for average yards per reception (17.07). The four-time Pro Bowler ranks third in team history in both career receiving yards (7101) and 100-yard games (20), and is fourth in receiving TDs (53).

Season Ticket Members selected Willie Anderson and Curtis from a ballot that featured 15 individuals who have played a significant role in the franchise's history and tradition.

Bengals President Mike Brown on the 2022 inductees: "These are two of our finest all-time players. Willie was as good a right offensive tackle as you could draw up. He had it all — strength, movement and attitude. Isaac had incredible speed along with great hands. This is evidence for how our fans felt about Isaac during his career. They knew he was special. The Bengals are fortunate to have both of these outstanding players in the Ring of Honor."

In addition to his spot in the Bengals Ring of Honor, Riley also has been elected as one of three senior nominees for the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Riley, who passed away in June 2020 at age 72 after playing CB for the Bengals from 1969-83, was chosen from the senior committee's list of 12 finalists. To become a member of the 2023 Hall of Fame class, he will need to receive 80 percent of the vote from the regular committee when it meets in February.

Willie Anderson also is one of 15 modern-era finalists for the Pro Football Hall of Fame's 2023 class, announced on Jan. 4. This year's inductees will be announced during the NFL Honors ceremony on Thursday, Feb. 9. Anderson in 2022 was a finalist for the first time in his ninth year of eligibility.

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: Third-year pro Joe Burrow has put together one of the most promising starts to a career by a QB in NFL history. The 2021 AP Comeback Player of the Year finished this past regular season tied for second in the NFL in passing TDs (35), fifth in passing yards (4475), second in completion percentage (68.3), and sixth in passer rating (100.8), despite officially playing in just 16 games. He surpassed several notable career milestones in 2022, including 75 TD passes, 10,000 passing yards and 1000 pass attempts. He went over the 10K mark in Week 11 at Pittsburgh, his 36th career game, which tied him with Kurt Warner as the third-fastest player in league history to reach that total. He compiled several impressive stat lines during the regular season, led off by a 338-yard, two-TD performance in the season opener vs. Pittsburgh that also included a career-high 47 rushing yards. In the Week 6 win at New Orleans, Burrow passed for 300 yards and three TDs, completing 28 of 37 passes while also notching a 19-yard rushing score. He followed up that performance with a record-setting day in Week 7 vs. Atlanta, passing for 481 yards (second-highest single-game total in his career) and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). He completed 24 of 39 passes for 355 yards and a career-high-tying four TDs in Week 11 at Pittsburgh, then two weeks later vs. Kansas City went 25 for 31 (80.6 percent) for 286 and two TDs. In Week 16 at New England, he tied his career high with 40 completions (tied Bengals single-game record), for 375 passing yards and three TDs. It marked Burrow's eighth career game with at least 350 passing yards and three passing TDs, tied for the second-most in a player's first three seasons in NFL history. He broke his own franchise record for passing TDs in a season in Week 18 vs. Baltimore, when he found WR Ja'Marr Chase down the left sideline for a 26-yard TD early in the second quarter. Burrow threw for 242 yards and two TDs in the AFC Divisional Playoff win at Buffalo, posting a passer rating of 101.9. He is the Bengals' career leader in several postseason passing categories, including attempts (210), completions (143), completion percentage (68.1), passing yards (1556) and passer rating (98.4). He was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week three times this season (Week 7, Week 13 and Week 16). Burrow in 2021 passed for a Bengals-record 4611 yards (sixth in NFL) and 34 TDs (eighth) during the regular season. He is one of three players in NFL history with at least 4000 passing yards and 30 TD passes in two of his first three seasons. He also led the league in completion percentage (70.4) and yards per attempt (8.87) in 2021, and set a team record for passer rating (108.3). Burrow was instrumental in the team's run to Super Bowl LVI, completing 97 of 142 passes (68.3 percent) for 1105 yards and five TDs over four postseason games. Next on the depth chart is sixth-year veteran Brandon Allen, who started six games for the Bengals in his first two seasons with the team (2020-21). In 11 regular-season games with the Bengals, he has completed 107 of 176 passes (60.8 percent) for 1074 yards, with seven TDs and four INTs. The starting QB for all three preseason games, Allen completed 28 of 38 passes (73.7 percent) and finished with 264 passing yards in August. He saw his first regular-season action in the second half of Game 9 vs. Carolina, completing each of his three passing attempts for 22 yards.

Running backs: Leading the Bengals' running back room is sixth-year pro Joe Mixon, who averaged 3.9 yards per carry in the regular season and had seven rushing TDs. Mixon enjoyed a career day in the team's win over Carolina in Week 9, totaling a career-high 211 scrimmage yards (153 rushing, 58 receiving) and a team-record five total TDs (four rushing, one receiving). He also surpassed 5000 career rushing yards in that contest, becoming the fifth player in Bengals history and the ninth active NFL player to reach that milestone (now 10 active players), and was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week for the third time in his career. In Week 1 against the Steelers, Mixon had 27 carries for 82 yards while also logging seven catches for 63 yards. He scored his first TD of the season on the opening drive in the Week 4 win against Miami, and finished with 61 yards on 24 carries. Mixon missed two games with a concussion suffered in Week 11 at Pittsburgh, but returned to action in Week 14 vs. Cleveland and totaled 96 yards on 14 attempts (6.9 avg.). Mixon posted 108 yards from scrimmage (65 rushing, 43 receiving) in Week 16 at New England. He had 20 carries for a postseason career-high 105 yards and a TD in the Divisional Playoff at Buffalo, which also marked the third-most rushing yards in a postseason game in Bengals history. In 2021, he posted career highs in rushing yards (1205, third in NFL), rushing TDs (13, fourth) and rushing attempts (292, third) en route to earning his first Pro Bowl selection. The University of Oklahoma product has three seasons with 1000 or more rushing yards. Mixon's former college teammate, Samaje Perine, is in his fourth Bengals season after beginning his career with Washington. In Week 11 at Pittsburgh, he caught four passes for 52 yards (13.0 avg.) and three TDs, marking the most receiving TDs in a game by a Bengals player listed as an RB, HB or FB in team history. In Mixon's absence in Weeks 12 and 13, Perine shined as the bell cow back and combined for 248 scrimmage yards over the two-game span. In Week 13 vs. Kansas City, he posted 106 rushing yards on 21 carries (5.0 avg.) for his first 100-yard rushing game since 2017. His 155 yards from scrimmage against the Chiefs were also a career high. At 5-11, 240 pounds, Perine brings a physical rushing style, and he's also used extensively on special teams. Fourth-year back Trayveon Williams has played in 34 career games and totaled 238 rushing yards on 47 attempts (5.1 avg.) along with eight catches for 64 yards. He had six carries for 30 yards in the regular season, including two for 18 in Week 12 at Tennessee. Second-year pro Chris Evans caught what ended up being the game-winning TD in Week 13 vs. Kansas City, on an eight-yard pass from Burrow with 8:54 left in the fourth quarter. Evans had three catches for 38 yards in the regular season, including a 26-yard grab in Week 8 at Cleveland. He served as the team's primary kick returner through the first nine games.

Wide receivers: The top of the Bengals' wide receiver depth chart features one of the most explosive pass-catching trios in the NFL, with the oldest member being seventh-year pro Tyler Boyd. Boyd is considered one of the league's premier slot receivers that poses a challenge for nickel corners with his size (6-2, 203) and route-running ability. He has 446 career receptions (fifth in team history) for 5333 yards and 29 TDs, with consecutive seasons of 1000 or more yards from 2018-19. Boyd scored the first TD of the Bengals' season in Week 1 vs. Pittsburgh. He had four receptions for 105 yards in Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets, including a 56-yard catch and run for a TD on the final play of the first quarter. Boyd amassed a career-high 155 receiving yards on eight catches (19.4 avg.) in Week 7 vs. Atlanta, highlighted by a 60-yard TD reception just two minutes into the game. WR Ja'Marr Chase, the team's first-round pick in the 2021 NFL Draft (No. 5 overall), is already the Bengals' career leader in postseason receptions (39) and receiving yards (513). He has led the team in catches and receiving yards in both of its wins this postseason, while also grabbing a TD catch in both games. He had five receptions for 61 yards in the Divisional Playoff win at Buffalo, with a 28-yard TD to cap the opening drive. Chase during the regular season totaled a team-leading 87 receptions for 1046 yards and nine TDs, despite playing in just 12 games (missed Weeks 8-12 due to a hip injury). He joined A.J. Green (2011-12) as the only players in Bengals history with consecutive 1000-yard receiving seasons to begin their career. Chase had four 100-yard performances, beginning in Week 1 vs. Pittsburgh when he caught 10 passes for 129 yards and a game-tying TD with two seconds remaining. The native of Metairie, La., returned to his home state in Week 6 at New Orleans and led the Bengals with seven catches for 132 yards (18.9 avg.) and two TDs. The following week against Atlanta, Chase caught eight passes for 130 yards (16.3 avg.) and two more TDs. He returned from his hip injury in Week 13 vs. Kansas City and led the team with seven grabs for 97 yards. Chase and Burrow, who played together for two seasons at LSU, showcased their chemistry once again in Week 14 vs. Cleveland, as Chase went for 119 yards and a TD on 10 catches. The two-time Pro Bowler has nine TD catches over his last nine games played. He was named the AP Offensive Rookie of the Year in 2021, as his 1455 receiving yards set an NFL rookie record in the Super Bowl era and stand as the most in a season in team history, topping Chad Johnson's 1440 in '07. Completing the trio is standout Tee Higgins, a third-year pro who also surpassed 1000 receiving yards for a second straight season (1029). Higgins became the fourth player in team history with multiple 1000-yard receiving campaigns within his first three years (Chase joined that list as the fifth player in Week 18). Three separate injuries forced Higgins to miss time during the regular season, but when healthy he is one of the league's most productive and athletic pass catchers. In the Week 4 win over Miami, he netted 124 yards on seven receptions (17.7 avg.), highlighted by a 59-yard TD grab in the second quarter. He caught five passes for 93 yards in Week 7 vs. Atlanta, and in Week 8 at Cleveland caught a 41-yard TD pass. Higgins stepped up with Chase out of the lineup in Weeks 11-12, recording back-to-back 100-yard stat lines. He had nine catches for 148 yards in Week 11 at Pittsburgh, then followed up with seven for 114 and a game-winning TD in Week 12 at Tennessee. Higgins had four TD catches in the last six games of the regular season. WR Trenton Irwin, a third-year pro out of Stanford University, was signed to the Bengals active roster off the practice squad on Nov. 22 and has quickly emerged as a trustworthy receiver for Burrow. Over the last nine games of the regular season (two starts), Irwin registered 15 catches for 231 yards (15.4 avg.) and four TDs. He had two TD grabs in the first half of Week 16 at New England. Fourth-year pro Stanley Morgan, a 2019 college free agent signee of the Bengals, provides depth at receiver and excels particularly as a blocker. Morgan also serves as one of Cincinnati's primary gunners on special teams and saw action at KOR in 2021. Veteran slot WR Trent Taylor was signed to the Bengals practice squad in 2021 after three full seasons (missed '19) in San Francisco. Taylor saw increased work on offense throughout the four-game stretch that Chase missed, catching five passes for 28 yards. In Week 14 vs. Cleveland, he caught a short pass over the middle on third-and-10 and turned it into a 34-yard gain, continuing a drive that resulted in a Cincinnati TD. Taylor is also the team's primary punt returner.

Tight ends: One of the headlines of the Bengals' 2022 free agency class was TE Hayden Hurst, who came to Cincinnati after two seasons with the Baltimore Ravens ('18-19) and two with the Atlanta Falcons ('20-21). Hurst provides a downfield threat for Burrow at the tight end position, with 177 career receptions for 1718 yards (9.7 avg.) and 14 TDs. Taking on his former team in the Wild Card Playoff contest vs. Baltimore, he caught four passes for 45 yards, including a 19-yarder that set up a Burrow rushing TD in the third quarter. Hurst in the regular season ranked fifth on the team in receiving yards (414) and fifth in catches (52), despite missing three of the last four games with a calf injury. He caught a TD pass in consecutive games, beginning with the fourth quarter of Week 4 against Miami to help seal the win. The following week, he got Cincinnati on the board with a 19-yard scoring grab at Baltimore. Hurst suffered the calf injury early in Week 13 against Kansas City, which forced him out for the rest of that game as well as the following two contests. Hurst had five catches for 59 yards and a TD in the Divisional Playoff win at Buffalo. The fifth-year pro has become a prominent voice in the mental health awareness and treatment community over the past three years, and earlier in November was named the team's nominee for the 2022 NFL Salute to Service Award in recognition of his military outreach. Next on the depth chart is third-year pro Mitchell Wilcox, a 2020 college free agent signee who spent his rookie year on the team's practice squad. He caught 17 passes for 139 yards and one TD during the regular season. A Tampa-area native who played at the University of South Florida, Wilcox made his return to Raymond James Stadium in Week 15 and caught his first NFL TD, a 12-yard pass from Burrow late in the fourth quarter that helped seal the win. He finished with three receptions for 34 yards against the Buccaneers. Wilcox in Week 16 at New England posted career highs in catches (six) and receiving yards (35). Rounding out the tight ends room is fellow third-year pro Devin Asiasi, who the Bengals acquired on waivers from New England on Aug. 31. Originally a third-round pick of the Patriots in 2020, he made his Bengals debut in Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets, playing 24 offensive snaps.

Offensive linemen: The Bengals invested heavily in revamping the offensive line during the offseason, signing marquee free agents beginning with C Ted Karras. Karras, a seventh-year veteran, has experience at all three interior OL positions but has cemented himself as Cincinnati's starting center this season. He is a vocal leader in the Bengals' locker room and was voted one of seven team captains. Karras played for two Super Bowl-winning Patriots teams in 2016 and '18, and became New England's starting C in '19. RG Alex Cappa, a fifth-year pro out of Cal Poly Humboldt (formerly known as Humboldt State), joined the Bengals after spending the past four seasons in Tampa Bay. A member of the Buccaneers' Super Bowl LV team, he has started every regular-season contest in which he has been active since the start of the 2019 season, only missing three games in that span. Cappa was placed on the Active/Physically Unable to Perform (PUP) list at the beginning of training camp, but returned to make his first start as a Bengal at RG in the regular-season opener. He suffered an ankle injury in the season finale against Baltimore which forced an early exit in the third quarter, and was inactive for both the Wild Card and Divisional Playoff contests. Now in his third season as Cincinnati's starting LOT is 2019 first-round pick Jonah Williams, who has started each of his 42 career games and played a team-high 96 percent of offensive snaps in 2021 (regular and postseason). Williams has been praised by Burrow and head coach Zac Taylor for his steady play this season. He suffered a left knee injury in the Wild Card Playoff win over Baltimore, and Taylor said that his status is week-to-week. The lone offensive player selected by the Bengals in the 2022 NFL Draft, G Cordell Volson earned the starting role at LG during training camp. He lined up for each of the Bengals' 1106 offensive snaps in the regular season. OT Hakeem Adeniji, a sixth-round pick of the Bengals in 2020, took over at ROT in Week 16 at New England after starter La'el Collins suffered a left knee injury. Adeniji played 64 offensive snaps in that contest, then went on to start and play all snaps at ROT in Week 18 vs. Baltimore. With Collins placed on the Reserve/Injured List, Adeniji has played 100 percent of the team's offensive snaps at ROT since the start of the postseason. In last year's AFC Championship at Kansas City, Adeniji started and split time at RG with Jackson Carman, a 2021 second-round pick of the Bengals who is in his second season. Carman, a native of Fairfield, Ohio (approx. 25 miles north of Cincinnati), was thrust into the LOT role in the Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore following Williams' left knee injury. Carman made his first career start at LOT in the Divisional Playoff win over the Bills, lining up for all 75 offensive snaps. Another key reserve along the interior of the line is second-year pro C Trey Hill, who played in 13 regular-season games (three starts) and all four postseason contests in 2021. The Bengals added more size and experience to the interior of the line when they acquired G Max Scharping on waivers on Aug. 31. Scharping, who is listed at 6-foot-6 and 325 pounds, played in 48 games with 33 starts for the Texans in three seasons (2019-'21), and made his Cincinnati debut in Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets. Scharping started at RG and played 100 percent of the team's offensive snaps in both the Wild Card and Divisional Playoff. Adding depth at LOT is second-year pro D'Ante Smith, a fourth-round pick of the Bengals in 2021. He earned snaps at both LOT and G during his rookie campaign.

Defensive linemen: Cincinnati native and Archbishop Moeller graduate Sam Hubbard is in his fifth Bengals season (fourth as a full-time starter). A third-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2018, Hubbard has 30.5 career sacks (second-most among all players in 2018 draft class), including 6.5 during the '22 regular season. He is also considered among the best DEs in the NFL against the run and led the Bengals in the regular season with 11 TFLs. Hubbard recorded a sack in three straight games from Weeks 12-14, while also totaling 14 tackles (10 solos) in that stretch. He left the Week 15 contest at Tampa Bay due to a calf injury and was inactive for the following game at New England, marking the first time since Week 8 of the 2020 season that he missed a game because of an injury. He made one of the most memorable plays in recent team history during the fourth quarter of the Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore, returning a fumble 98 yards for what proved to be the game-winning TD. It was Hubbard's second career fumble returned for a score (regular and postseason). On the other side of the line is DE Trey Hendrickson, who led Cincinnati with eight sacks during the regular season to earn his second straight Pro Bowl nod. Hendrickson joined the team as a free agent in 2021 and in his first year posted a career-high 14 sacks, the second-most in a season in team history. In Week 3 of this season at the N.Y. Jets, Hendrickson was a disruptive force with 2.5 sacks and two forced fumbles, becoming the first Bengal with that stat line since at least 2000. He added two more sacks in Week 11 at Pittsburgh, both coming in the fourth quarter, and finished with five tackles (four solos). In Week 18 against the Ravens, Hendrickson totaled two tackles, two sacks, one TFL and one FF that resulted in a defensive TD for the Bengals. His 35.5 sacks since the start of the 2020 regular season are the fourth-most in the NFL. Seventh-year DT DJ Reader returned to action in Week 11 at Pittsburgh after spending the previous six games on the Reserve/Injured list with a knee injury. Reader, who played his first four pro seasons in Houston, was a high-profile free agency addition of the Bengals in 2020. At 6-3, 335 pounds, he anchors a defensive line that has ranked in the top seven in the NFL in run defense each of the past two seasons. Reader also had a stretch this season in which he batted down or tipped four passes at the line of scrimmage in the span of three games. In Week 15 at Tampa Bay, he had three tackles, a FF and a FR to help Cincinnati climb back from a 17-point deficit. DT B.J. Hill is in his second season with the Bengals and is a key component of the defensive line. Hill was acquired in a trade with the N.Y. Giants shortly before the 2021 regular season, and showed high production with 5.5 sacks (fourth-most on the team) in a reserve role last season. He started all 16 games during the 2022 regular season, and notched Cincinnati's first sack in Week 1 vs. Pittsburgh. He collected his first two career FRs in Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets, while also recording four tackles, a half-sack and a FF. In Week 16 at New England, he came up with a crucial fumble recovery as the Patriots were driving to take the lead in the final two minutes. Hill made another splash play in the Wild Card Playoff win over Baltimore, when he sacked QB Tyler Huntley for a nine-yard loss in the fourth quarter to force a Ravens punt. In the Divisional Playoff victory at Buffalo, he batted down two passes from QB Josh Allen at the line of scrimmage and finished with three tackles. Fifth-year pro Josh Tupou started five consecutive games from Weeks 2-6, but missed the next five contests with a calf injury. He returned in Week 14 against Cleveland and has logged seven tackles (three solos) in the past six games. Tupou played in 17 games with nine starts in 2021, before suffering a right knee injury in the regular-season finale that limited him to just five snaps in the first three postseason games. He returned to action in Super Bowl LVI, helping limit the Rams to just 1.9 yards per rushing attempt. A fourth-round pick of the Bengals in 2021, DE Cam Sample played in all 16 games with one start during the regular season, collecting 16 total tackles with two sacks. He made his first career start in Week 16 at New England and recorded a sack in the second quarter that forced a Patriots punt. Sample was a rotational D-lineman as a rookie in 2021 and recorded 1.5 sacks in 14 games played. DT Zach Carter was selected by Cincinnati in the fourth round of the 2022 NFL Draft, and started eight consecutive games this season from Weeks 4-12, after seeing the field in a limited role over the first three contests. He recorded two tackles and notched his first career half-sack in Week 16 at New England. DE Joseph Ossai, a 2021 third-round pick of the Bengals, missed the entire '21 regular and postseason after suffering a knee injury in his first preseason contest. He returned to action in 2022 and played in all 16 regular-season games, totaling 17 tackles, 3.5 sacks and two FRs. He had a game-altering play in back-to-back contests in Weeks 13-14, beginning with a sack vs. the Chiefs that forced a FG attempt in the fourth quarter. The following week at Tampa Bay, Ossai recovered a fumble in the third quarter that led to a Bengals TD. He scored the team's first defensive TD of the season in Week 18 vs. Baltimore, jumping on a loose ball in the end zone just before halftime. Ossai moved to the United States at age 10 from Ketu Ijanikin, Lagos, Nigeria, and was raised in Conroe, Texas (outside Houston). DE Jeff Gunter was selected in the seventh round of the 2022 draft. He is listed as a DE, but played at different spots along the line at Coastal Carolina and recorded 18 sacks during his collegiate career. Gunter has seen action in 10 games this season, primarily on special teams. The most recent addition to the D-line is DT Jay Tufele, who was acquired on waivers from Jacksonville in August of 2022. Listed at 6-foot-3, 305 pounds, Tufele originally was a fourth-round pick of the Jaguars in 2021 and played in four games last season. With the DT spot missing a few players due to injuries, Tufele took advantage of his opportunity and recorded six tackles, including a TFL, in each of his first two games played this season (Week 6 at New Orleans, Week 7 vs. Atlanta).

Linebackers: Among Cincinnati's most promising young defenders is third-year pro Logan Wilson, who wears the "green dot" as the defense's communicator. Wilson led the Bengals during the regular season with a career-high 123 tackles (83 solos), despite missing Week 7 against Atlanta due to a right shoulder injury. He had 73 stops over the final seven games, including a career-best 17 (14 solos) in Week 14 vs. Cleveland. He continued his dominance in Week 15 at Tampa Bay, totaling 15 tackles (nine solos) and a sack that led to a forced fumble by DJ Reader. The University of Wyoming product missed four games in 2021, but still finished as the team's leader in both tackles (98) and INTs (four). He came up with a clutch forced fumble in the Wild Card Playoff win over Baltimore, as he knocked the ball loose as QB Tyler Huntley was attempting to reach over the goal line, and it resulted in a 98-yard return for a TD by DE Sam Hubbard. Wilson also made several crucial plays during Cincinnati's postseason run to Super Bowl LVI, most notably an INT late in the Divisional Round at Tennessee that set up a game-winning FG. He logged 39 tackles in the postseason, the most by any NFL player in a single postseason since Ray Lewis in 2012 (51). Ranking second on the team with 98 tackles during the regular season is fourth-year pro Germaine Pratt. Pratt switched from S to LB late in his college career at North Carolina State, but earned a starting LB spot with the Bengals midway through his rookie season. In the Wild Card Playoff vs. Las Vegas last year, he intercepted a QB Derek Carr pass on fourth-and-goal late in the fourth quarter that sealed Cincinnati's win. In Week 6 at New Orleans, he totaled 14 tackles, the second-most in a game in his career. Pratt also had one INT, one FF, one FR and six PDs in the regular season. Third-year pro Markus Bailey, a 2020 seventh-round pick of the Bengals, was a rotational player early in the '21 season, but late in the year he took on an increased role due to injury issues at LB. He had 13 tackles in 16 games played in the 2022 season, with six (four solos) coming in the Week 9 win over Carolina. Also a key member of Cincinnati's special teams units, Bailey was in on a momentum-shifting play in Week 15 at Tampa Bay, when the Buccaneers' punt team fumbled a fake-punt attempt and he was the first to make the tackle. A 2020 Bengals fourth-round pick, Akeem Davis-Gaither turned in perhaps the best performance of his career in Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets, totaling a career-high 13 tackles including a TFL. He also paced the Bengals with nine tackles (six solos) in Week 7 vs. Atlanta, and then recorded his first career fumble recovery in Week 8 at Cleveland. Davis-Gaither made his postseason debut in the Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore and came up with an INT on the Ravens' opening drive. The Bengals added second-year pro Clay Johnston to their LB room during the 2021 bye in Week 10 to help with injury and COVID-19 issues. He led all NFL players during the 2022 preseason with 29 tackles, including 20 in the second preseason contest at the N.Y. Giants. In the Divisional Playoff win at Tennessee last season, Johnston tackled Titans RB Derrick Henry for a loss on a two-point conversion to keep the score tied. Third-year pro Joe Bachie returned to the active roster ahead of Week 7 after spending the first six weeks of the season on the Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform list with a knee injury. Bachie recorded three tackles, along with an assisted special teams tackle, in Week 9 vs. Carolina.

Defensive backs: S Jessie Bates III, a 2018 second-round pick of the Bengals, started the first 51 games of his career — the second-most consecutive starts to begin a career by a Cincinnati defender — until a neck injury broke the streak and held him out of the Week 4 game vs. Jacksonville last season. He then returned to the lineup the following week and has not missed a game since. Named the team's designated franchise player during the 2022 offseason, Bates signed the one-year tender offer on Aug. 23 and was placed on the Exempt/Commissioner Permission list. He reverted to the active roster in early September and started in Week 1 vs. Pittsburgh. Bates had 71 tackles (38 solos) and eight PDs to go along with a career-high four INTs in the regular season. In Game 18 against Baltimore, Bates tallied eight tackles (three solos), one PD, one FF, and one INT. He made several critical plays during Cincinnati's postseason run to Super Bowl LVI, including an INT on the first play from scrimmage in the AFC Divisional Playoff at Tennessee and a pick just before halftime of the Super Bowl. In overtime of the AFC Championship at Kansas City, Bates tipped a deep pass from QB Patrick Mahomes that was intercepted by S Vonn Bell, setting up Cincinnati's game-winning drive. Bell, a seventh-year pro, joined the Bengals in 2020 after spending his first four seasons with New Orleans. He has been a team captain in each of his three Bengals seasons, and finished this past regular season with 77 tackles (53 solos), one sack, a career-high four INTs and eight PDs. He also forced two fumbles, and his eight FFs since coming to Cincinnati in 2020 are tied for the sixth-most in the league. In the Divisional Playoff at Buffalo, Bell finished with six tackles (five solos) and a sack on QB Josh Allen for a loss of three yards in the first quarter. Known as one of the team's most reliable performers, he has played 3416 of 3550 possible defensive snaps (96.2 percent) in 53 games as a Bengal. Joining Bell as a 2020 free agent signee in the secondary was CB Mike Hilton, who is widely considered one of the top slot corners in the NFL. Though one of the smallest players on the roster at 5-9, 184 pounds, Hilton is a sure tackler and excellent blitzer. He played in 14 games with four starts during the 2022 regular season, amassing 60 tackles (48 solos) and six PDs. Hilton grabbed his first INT of the year in Week 18 vs. Baltimore, which set up the Cincinnati offense at the Ravens' 32-yard line. He had two TFLs in the Wild Card Playoff win over Baltimore, including his first career postseason sack when he brought down QB Tyler Huntley for an eight-yard loss in the fourth quarter. Hilton again made his presence known all over the field in the Divisional Playoff win at Buffalo, when he led the team with eight tackles (six solos), including one TFL, while also recording a PD. CB Eli Apple was originally slated to add depth after signing with the Bengals in March of 2021, but he ended up starting nearly every game last season (15 of 16 in regular season, all four in postseason). He had two INTs and 10 PDs during the regular season, but his biggest play came just before halftime of the AFC Championship at Kansas City, when he tackled Chiefs WR Tyreek Hill at the one-yard line to keep the Bengals within 11 points at the break. Apple has a familiarity with Bell, whom he played alongside in college at Ohio State, as well as with defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo, who was his position coach with the N.Y. Giants in 2018. Apple had 49 tackles (35 solos) and eight

PDs in 15 starts in the 2022 regular season. He missed Week 8 at Cleveland with a hamstring injury, but returned to the lineup for Week 9 against Carolina. The Bengals selected S Dax Hill with the No. 31 overall pick in the 2022 NFL Draft. Hill brings a highly touted versatility to the Bengals secondary, possessing the ability to line up as a nickel CB and occasionally on the outside, in addition to safety. A three-year standout at Michigan (2019-20), he made his first career start in Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets. Hill started his second game of the season in Week 15 at Tampa Bay and finished with a career-high eight tackles (five solos) in 66 defensive snaps played. Cincinnati followed that draft pick by taking CB Cam Taylor-Britt out of Nebraska in the second round. Taylor-Britt spent the first four games on the Reserve/Injured list with an abdomen injury, but returned to make his career debut in Week 7 vs. Atlanta. He started the final nine games of the regular season and proved himself as an excellent tackler in the secondary. Taylor-Britt led the team with 12 tackles (nine solos) in Week 11 at Pittsburgh, and the following game at Tennessee he logged eight more while also forcing a fumble. He has eight PDs over the past seven games, including two that came in the Divisional Playoff win at Buffalo. Taylor-Britt logged six stops (all solos) against the Bills and recorded his first career INT to seal the victory on Buffalo's final drive. A physically imposing member of the secondary is 6-3, 200-pound CB Tre Flowers, who joined the Bengals on waivers from Seattle in October of 2021. Flowers fills a rotational role for the Bengals, mostly used to cover TEs in passing situations. In the third quarter of Week 15 at Tampa Bay, Flowers jumped a route on third down and grabbed his first INT since the 2019 season. Also joining the Bengals last October was S Michael J. Thomas. In 2021, Thomas went on to play in eight regular-season games (one start) and all four postseason games, quickly becoming a core contributor on special teams. He was elected by his teammates as one of seven team captains, marking the seventh time in the past eight seasons that he has worn the captains' patch. Third-year pro Jalen Davis has also carved out a prominent role on special teams, in addition to serving as a rotational slot CB. Davis joined the Bengals in mid-2020 and was thrust into action quickly while the team dealt with a wave of injuries and COVID-19 issues. The team's most recent addition to the active roster is rookie CB Allan George, who was signed off the practice squad on Jan. 2. George, a college free agent signee who spent four seasons at Vanderbilt, played in four games during regular season and had two solo tackles.

Special teams: First-year punter Drue Chrisman, whose hometown is roughly 35 minutes west of Cincinnati in Lawrenceburg, Ind., was elevated from the practice squad to make his NFL debut in Week 11 at Pittsburgh. Operating in less-than-optimal conditions both as a punter and holder for kicking attempts, he impressed with three punts for 162 yards (54.0), including two that pinned the Steelers inside their own 10-yard line. Chrisman followed up his debut performance by booting five punts for 259 yards (51.8) in Week 12 at Tennessee, with two downed inside the Titans' 20-yard line. He had three punts for 130 yards (43.3) with one pinned inside the 20 in the Week 16 win at New England. In Week 18 against the Ravens, Chrisman had seven punts for 362 yards (51.7 avg.) with three of those being downed inside Baltimore's 20-yard line. Chrisman's best punt of the day was a 56-yarder that went out of bounds at Baltimore's five-yard line. LS Cal Adomitis is handling long-snapping duties for Cincinnati after being signed from the practice squad to the active roster on Sept. 12. Adomitis, who made his NFL debut in Week 2 at Dallas, originally joined the team as a college free agent in May after a five-year career at the University of Pittsburgh. K Evan McPherson became a fan-favorite during his rookie season in 2021, when he produced one of the best debut seasons by a kicker in NFL history. He made five game-winning "walk-off" kicks with no time remaining or in OT — three during the regular season and two in the postseason. He knocked through a 52-yarder in the Divisional Playoff at Tennessee that sent Cincinnati to the AFC Championship, and a week later hit from 31 yards in OT of the AFC Championship at Kansas City to punch Cincinnati's ticket to Super Bowl LVI. He is particularly effective from long range and has converted 14 of 16 FG attempts of 50 or more yards in his career, including a five-for-five mark from that distance this season. Three of the four longest FGs in Bengals history have come off the right foot of McPherson, with two occurring in 2022 — a team-record 59-yarder in Week 1 vs. Pittsburgh, and a 57-yarder in Week 4 vs. Miami. WR Trent Taylor holds the role as Cincinnati's primary punt returner. He had 33 returns during the regular season and ranked fourth in the league in PR yards (340). That total also stands as the fourth-most in a season in team history. HB Chris Evans and HB Trayveon Williams have each been utilized on kickoff returns this season. After not having a kick return opportunity through the first four weeks, Evans amassed 211 yards on 10 returns (21.1 avg.) from Weeks 5-9. He was inactive in Week 11 at Pittsburgh due to a knee injury, but Williams stepped in with an impressive performance of five KORs for 124 yards (24.8 avg.), including a 42-yarder that stands as a Bengals season long. In the nine games since taking over as the team's primary KOR, Williams has 18 KORs for 403 yards (22.4 avg.), with six returns over 25 yards.

THE 2021 SEASON BENGALS-CHIEFS MEETINGS

2021 SEASON
WEEK 17, GAME 16

Cincinnati Bengals 34, Kansas City Chiefs 31
Sunday, Jan. 2, 2022 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals overcame three 14-point deficits (14-0, 21-7 and 28-14) to clinch the AFC North and end an eight-game Chiefs winning streak. After a Kansas City FG tied the game with 6:01 left, the Bengals drained the remaining clock with a 15-play, 74-yard drive which was capped by K Evan McPherson's third "walk-off" FG of the year as time expired. QB Joe Burrow had 446 passing yards and four TDs, while WR Ja'Marr Chase had three TDs on 11 catches, and his 266 yards were a Bengals record, the most-ever by an NFL rookie, and the most in the NFL in 2021. Cincinnati went to 10-6, while Kansas City fell to 11-5.

2021 SEASON

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP

Cincinnati Bengals 27, Kansas City Chiefs 24 (OT)
Sunday, Jan. 30, 2022 at Arrowhead Stadium

The Bengals earned their third AFC Championship and a berth in Super Bowl LVI after staging a dramatic comeback road win over the two-time defending AFC Champion Chiefs. Kansas City raced to a 21-3 lead midway through the second quarter after putting together TD drives of 84, 75 and 72 yards on their first three possessions. But Cincinnati answered when HB Samaje Perine took a screen pass 41 yards for a score to cut the lead to 21-10. With five seconds remaining before halftime, Kansas City had the ball on Cincinnati's one-yard line but opted to try for a TD instead of a FG. The play was stopped for a loss by Bengals CB Eli Apple, and time expired as Cincinnati escaped to escaped to halftime down only 11 points. Cincinnati's offense came to life after the break and pulled ahead midway through the fourth quarter, while the defense held Kansas City's high-powered offense to just three second-half points, which came on a game-tying FG at the end of regulation. Kansas City got the ball first in OT, but Bengals S Vonn Bell intercepted a deep pass from Chiefs All-Pro QB Patrick Mahomes. Bengals QB Joe Burrow then led Cincinnati into FG range for rookie K Evan McPherson's second walk-off FG in as many weeks.

2022 GAME SUMMARIES

Pittsburgh Steelers 23, Cincinnati Bengals 20 (OT) Sunday, Sept. 11, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

Despite five turnovers, including four INTs by QB Joe Burrow, the Bengals were in position to win twice, but two missed kicks led to the loss. Burrow rallied to lead two second-half TD drives, including a six-yard scoring pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase to tie the game at 20-20 with two seconds left in regulation. But K Evan McPherson's PAT attempt was blocked by Steelers S Minkah Fitzpatrick. Then, after holding Pittsburgh on the opening drive of OT, the Bengals drove into range for another potential game-winning kick, this time a FG attempt from 29 yards. But Cincinnati again failed to convert, as a high snap contributed to McPherson sailing it wide left. The Bengals had yet another opportunity for a game-winning kick when they moved into McPherson's FG range with less than two minutes left in OT, but Burrow was sacked on third down for the seventh time of the game to force a punt, and Pittsburgh quickly drove 45 yards to get in position to convert a 53-yard game-winning FG as OT expired.

WEEK 2, GAME 2

Dallas Cowboys 20, Cincinnati Bengals 17 Sunday, Sept. 18, 2022 at AT&T Stadium

The Bengals faced an early 14-3 first-quarter deficit, as Dallas opened the game with back-to-back TD drives. Cincinnati later scored FGs on consecutive drives in the third quarter, while the Bengals' defense held the Cowboys to three punts and a lost fumble on their first four drives of the second half. The Bengals logged a 19-play, 83-yard drive which took 8:54 off the clock in the fourth quarter and ended with a five-yard TD pass from QB Joe Burrow to WR Tee Higgins. Burrow then connected with WR Tyler Boyd on a two-point conversion to tie the score at 17-17 with 3:45 left. A Cowboys three-and-out gave Burrow the ball back with 2:13 remaining, but the Dallas defense forced the Bengals into a three-and-out of their own on the following drive. With less than a minute left, Cowboys QB Cooper Rush, who started in place of an injured Dak Prescott, quickly led the team on a 33-yard drive to put K Brett Maher in range for a 50-yard game-winning FG as time expired. The Cowboys improved to 1-1, while the Bengals fell to 0-2.

WEEK 3, GAME 3

Cincinnati Bengals 27, N.Y. Jets 12
Sunday, Sept. 25, 2022 at MetLife Stadium

The Bengals scored on four of their first five possessions, including an opening-drive TD, to build an early 20-6 lead. QB Joe Burrow had 95 passing yards on that initial drive, capped by a 12-yard TD throw to HB Samaje Perine on a third-and-goal. After a pair of Jets FGs, Cincinnati struck again on the final play of the first quarter when Burrow found WR Tyler Boyd over the middle, and Boyd spun off a hit and ran 45 yards to the end zone. LB Logan Wilson grabbed the Bengals' first INT of the season in the second quarter, picking off a deep pass from Jets QB Joe Flacco and returning it 47 yards. Cincinnati opened the second half with another TD, as a strip sack from DE Trey Hendrickson on the Jets' first possession set the Bengals up at the New York 24-yard line, and four plays later Burrow found WR Ja'Marr Chase alone in the end zone to make it 27-9. Another forced fumble from Hendrickson with 10:03 left in the fourth quarter led to a 13-play, 52-yard Bengals drive that drained the clock. S Jessie Bates sealed the win with an INT in the final minute. Cincinnati improved to 1-2, while the Jets fell to 1-2.

WEEK 4, GAME 4

Cincinnati Bengals 27, Miami Dolphins 15
Thursday night, Sept. 29, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

The Bengals found the end zone on their opening drive for a second straight game, as HB Joe Mixon put Cincinnati ahead 7-0 with a five-yard rushing TD less than five minutes into the first quarter. Miami moved the ball early, but was held to a pair of FGs before the Bengals struck again late in the second period, when QB Joe Burrow hit WR Tee Higgins for a 59-yard TD to extend the lead, 14-6. The Dolphins answered with a TD on a shovel pass from QB Teddy Bridgewater to RB Chase Edmonds with nine seconds left in the first half. Another Jason Sanders FG in the third quarter gave Miami its first lead, but the Bengals responded with two fourth-quarter kicks from Evan McPherson, including a 57-yarder. Bridgewater drove the Dolphins into Cincinnati territory with under four minutes left, but S Vonn Bell ended their chances of a go-ahead TD with his second INT of the game. The Bengals capitalized on the turnover, as Burrow connected with WR Ja'Marr Chase for a 36-yard completion to set up first-and-goal, and three plays later TE Hayden Hurst caught his first TD of the season to cement the win. Cincinnati improved to 2-2, while the Dolphins fell to 3-1.

WEEK 5, GAME 5

Baltimore Ravens 19, Cincinnati Bengals 17
Sunday night, Oct. 9, 2022 at M&T Bank Stadium

The Bengals fell behind 10-0 early in the second quarter and were forced to punt on their first four offensive possessions, but an INT by S Vonn Bell at the Cincinnati 17-yard line kept Baltimore from expanding its lead. The offense capitalized on the turnover with a seven-play scoring drive, finished off with a 19-yard TD pass to TE Hayden Hurst to cut it to 10-7. The Bengals tied it on an Evan McPherson FG before halftime, marking the third time this season they came back from a double-digit deficit. Two Baltimore FGs bookended a 15-play Cincinnati drive in the third quarter that got down to the Ravens' two-yard line, but the Bengals were held out of the end zone on four straight snaps. Joe Burrow engineered a go-ahead TD drive in the fourth quarter that ended with a QB sneak to put Cincinnati in front, 17-16, with 1:58 left. The Ravens answered by going 50 yards to set up a game-winning 43-yard FG from Justin Tucker as time expired. Baltimore improved to 3-2, while Cincinnati fell to 2-3.

QB Joe Burrow and WR Ja'Marr Chase made their return to Caesars Superdome, where they helped Louisiana State win the 2019 college football national championship, and connected on two TDs in the second half to lead the Bengals to a road win. Chase, a New Orleans-area native, gave Cincinnati its first lead of the afternoon on a 60-yard catch and run to the end zone with 1:57 remaining in regulation. Chase finished with seven catches for 132 yards (18.9-yard average), while Burrow completed 28 of 37 passes for 300 yards and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). Former Bengals QB Andy Dalton started for the Saints and helped them build a 17-7 lead early in the second quarter, and New Orleans had 164 rushing yards in the first half against a Bengals defense that came in allowing just 99.6 per game. But the Cincinnati offense flipped its switch late in the second quarter when Burrow recorded a 19-yard rushing TD on a scramble, and the Bengals scored on their final four drives. The Saints still had a chance for the win as the end of regulation approached, but Bengals DT B.J. Hill and DE Sam Hubbard teamed up for a late sack on Dalton to force a fourth-and-17 in the final minute, and his desperation heave on fourth down with 34 seconds left fell incomplete. Cincinnati improved to 3-3, while New Orleans fell to 2-4.

WEEK 7, GAME 7

Cincinnati Bengals 35, Atlanta Falcons 17
Sunday, Oct. 23, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

The Bengals opened the game with four straight TD drives and recorded 537 net yards of offense in a dominant home win. QB Joe Burrow completed 34 of 42 passes for 481 yards and four total TDs (three passing, one rushing). He started the day with a 60-yard TD pass to WR Tyler Boyd on the game's fourth play from scrimmage. Boyd caught eight passes for 155 receiving yards (118 in the first half), while WR Ja'Marr Chase added eight receptions for 130 yards and two TDs. Chase's TDs both came in the second quarter, and both on receptions of over 30 yards. The Falcons scored 17 points in the final five minutes of the first half to cut their deficit to 11 points, 28-17, but the Bengals' defense forced Atlanta to punt on each of its four second-half possessions, and Burrow led a game-ending drive that took the last 8:44 off the clock to secure the win. The Bengals' defense extended to seven the number of consecutive games in which Cincinnati had not allowed a second-half touchdown, just the third such streak since the 1970 NFL-AFL merger. The Bengals improved to 4-3, while Atlanta fell to 3-4.

WEEK 8, GAME 8

Cleveland Browns 32, Cincinnati Bengals 13
Monday night, Oct. 31, 2022 at FirstEnergy Stadium

The Browns recorded 440 net yards offensively, including 172 rushing, to earn their fifth straight win in the Battle of Ohio. Cincinnati was held scoreless in the first half for the first time in 24 games, with two early possessions ended by turnovers in Cleveland territory. A six-point swing off a missed Bengals FG followed by a 55-yarder by Cade York in the final minute of the half gave the Browns an 11-0 lead going into the break. Cleveland finished off two extended third-quarter drives with TDs to grow its lead to 25-0, while Cincinnati was held to just 148 total yards through the first three frames. QB Joe Burrow threw a pair of fourth-quarter TD passes to WRs Tyler Boyd and Tee Higgins, but a 53-yard completion on third-and-nine from QB Jacoby Brissett to WR Amari Cooper helped set up a game-sealing rushing TD by RB Nick Chubb. Cleveland improved to 3-5, while Cincinnati fell to 4-4.

WEEK 9, GAME 9

Cincinnati Bengals 42, Carolina Panthers 21
Sunday, Nov. 6, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

HB Joe Mixon scored a team-record five TDs (four rushing, one receiving) and totaled 211 yards from scrimmage to lead Cincinnati to its third straight home win. The Bengals' offense found the end zone on five of their seven first-half possessions while the defense forced two turnovers en route to a 35-0 halftime lead — the team's largest lead at the break since 1983. Four of Mixon's TDs were scored in the first half. He totaled 153 rushing yards on 22 attempts (7.0-yard average), as well as another 58 yards on four receptions. Bengals QB Joe Burrow completed 22 of 28 passes for 206 yards and a TD. Panthers QB PJ Walker completed just three of 10 passes for nine yards in the first half and was picked off twice in the second quarter, by LB Germaine Pratt and S Jessie Bates III. QB Baker Mayfield played in the second half for Carolina and led three TD drives, though many of the Bengals' starters had been pulled by the end of the third quarter. Cincinnati improved to 5-4, while Carolina fell to 2-7.

WEEK 11, GAME 10

Cincinnati Bengals 37, Pittsburgh Steelers 30
Sunday, Nov. 20, 2022 at Acrisure Stadium

QB Joe Burrow passed for four TDs, with three going to HB Samaje Perine, to lead Cincinnati to its first divisional win of the season. Perine's three scores constituted the first time in team history that a Bengals RB recorded three receiving TDs in a game. The teams traded leads through the first half, before WR Trenton Irwin caught his first career TD midway through the third quarter to give the Bengals a lead they would not relinquish. After the Bengals' defense forced the Steelers to punt for the fifth time in the second half, Burrow led an eight-play, 93-yard scoring drive capped by Perine's third TD reception to put Cincinnati ahead 34-23 with 4:30 left and essentially secure the win. Cincinnati improved to 6-4, while Pittsburgh fell to 3-7.

WEEK 12, GAME 11

Cincinnati Bengals 20, Tennessee Titans 16
Sunday, Nov. 27, 2022 at Nissan Stadium

QB Joe Burrow found WR Tee Higgins for a 27-yard TD in the fourth quarter to break a 13-13 tie, and the offense closed the game on a drive that started with 6:07 left to secure Cincinnati's third straight win. The Bengals' defense held Titans RB Derrick Henry, the NFL's leading rusher entering the game, to 38 yards on 17 carries, and in the second half Tennessee's offense was limited to 125 total yards and six points. The Titans went up 10-3 in the second quarter when Henry took a screen pass 69 yards and fumbled the ball into the end zone, where it was recovered by WR Treyton Burks. Later in the quarter, Cincinnati answered with a 92-yard drive, capped by a rushing TD from HB Samaje Perine, who started in place of an injured Joe Mixon. Both teams traded FGs before the Bengals went on a six-play, 75-yard march that included a back-shoulder catch from WR Trenton Irwin to convert a third-and-12. The following snap, Burrow lofted a jump ball for Higgins at the goal line, and the 6-4 receiver came down with what would be the game-winning TD. Cincinnati improved to 7-4, while Tennessee fell to 7-4.

WEEK 13, GAME 12

Cincinnati Bengals 27, Kansas City Chiefs 24
Sunday, Dec. 4, 2022 at Paycor Stadium

QB Joe Burrow completed 80.6 percent of his passes (25 of 31) and the Bengals overcame a seven-point deficit entering the fourth quarter to earn their fourth straight win. Cincinnati opened the game with back-to-back TD drives to take an early 14-3 lead, but the Chiefs answered with 14 straight points to march in front. Kansas City had the ball and a 24-20 lead in the fourth quarter, before LB Germaine Pratt stripped the ball from TE Travis Kelce and recovered the fumble near midfield. The Bengals capitalized with a 10-play drive which included two third-down conversions, and finished it off with an eight-yard TD pass from Burrow to HB Chris Evans for the go-ahead score. A sack by DE Joseph Ossai on the ensuing drive forced the Chiefs into a 55-yard FG attempt, which K Harrison Butker sailed wide right, and Cincinnati bled the final 3:19 of game clock to clinch the victory. WR Ja'Marr Chase caught seven passes for 97 yards in his first action after missing four games with a hip injury, and HB Samaje Perine added 155 yards from scrimmage (106 rushing, 49 receiving). Cincinnati improved to 8-4, while Kansas City fell to 9-3.

WEEK 15, GAME 14

Cincinnati Bengals 34, Tampa Bay Buccaneers 23
Sunday, Dec. 18, 2022 at Raymond James Stadium

The Bengals scored 34 unanswered points, including 31 in the second half, to storm back from a 17-0 deficit and earn their sixth straight win. Tampa Bay fumbled a fake punt attempt early in the third quarter, giving Cincinnati the ball at the Buccaneers' 16-yard line and swinging the game's momentum.

WEEK 16, GAME 15

Cincinnati Bengals 22, New England Patriots 18
Saturday, Dec. 24, 2022 at Gillette Stadium

The Patriots stormed back from a 22-0 halftime deficit and were driving to take the lead with one minute remaining, but S Vonn Bell forced a fumble that was recovered by DT B.J. Hill to help Cincinnati win its seventh straight. The Bengals recorded 303 offensive net yards in the first half to build their lead, with QB Joe Burrow throwing for 284 yards and three TDs. Burrow finished the day with a career-high 40 completions for 375 yards, and connected with eight different pass catchers. WR Tee Higgins contributed five catches for 128 yards and capped off the game's opening drive with a TD, while WR Trenton Irwin added a pair of TD receptions. New England's comeback began with a 69-yard pick-six by CB Marcus Jones in the third quarter, Burrow's second INT of the afternoon. Patriots QB Mac Jones threw two TD passes in the fourth, including a 48-yarder that was batted into the hands of WR Jakobi Meyers to make it a one-score game. New England had one last chance following the fumble, but could not advance past its own 39-yard line as the Bengals' defense stood tall. Cincinnati improved to 11-4, while New England fell to 7-8.

WEEK 18, GAME 16

Cincinnati Bengals 27, Baltimore Ravens 16
Sunday, Jan. 8, 2023 at Paycor Stadium

Though having already clinched the AFC North Division title by virtue of its winning percentage (after a cancellation of a Week 17 matchup with the Buffalo Bills), Cincinnati played its starters in hopes of possibly improving its playoff seeding and to avoid a potential coin flip that would determine the site of its Wild Card Playoff showdown with the Ravens the following week. Facing a Baltimore side that rested numerous key players, the Bengals jumped out to a 17-0 lead early in the second quarter and at that point had forced two of their four defensive turnovers on the afternoon. In the final minute of the opening half, DE Trey Hendrickson sacked QB Anthony Brown near the Baltimore goal line, forcing a fumble which was recovered by DE Joseph Ossai in the end zone for a TD and a 24-7 Bengals halftime advantage. Cincinnati's offense stalled in the second half, punting on five of its eight possessions while also losing a fumble at its own nine-yard line. Baltimore closed the deficit to 11 with a fourth-quarter FG, and had what appeared to be a 47-yard completion late in the game before WR Sammy Watkins committed a fumble that was recovered by S Vonn Bell, essentially sealing the result. Cincinnati closed the regular season at 12-4, while Baltimore fell to 10-7.

2022 SEASON

AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Cincinnati Bengals 24, Baltimore Ravens 17
Sunday night, Jan. 15, 2023 at Paycor Stadium

DE Sam Hubbard returned a Baltimore fumble 98 yards for a go-ahead TD early in the fourth quarter that proved to be the difference as Cincinnati hung on for a 24-17 Wild Card Playoff win. The Ravens had driven down to the Bengals' one-yard line looking to take the lead, but when QB Tyler Huntley tried to jump over a pile of linemen and reach the ball across the goal line, it was knocked out by LB Logan Wilson and fell into Hubbard's arms to create the game's biggest turning point. After a TD pass from QB Joe Burrow to WR Ja'Marr Chase in the second quarter gave Cincinnati a 9-0 lead, Baltimore responded with 10 unanswered points and went into halftime ahead. The Bengals got back in front with a 12-play, 88-yard drive in which Burrow completed all six of his passes and finished it off with a one-yard sneak into the end zone. Baltimore quickly struck again on a 41-yard TD pass to WR Demarcus Robinson, but that ended up being the final offensive points from either team as both defenses stepped up with key plays. Huntley drove the Ravens inside the Bengals' 30-yard line with under a minute left, but a desperation heave to the end zone as time expired fell incomplete, sealing the win and a trip to the AFC Divisional Playoff for Cincinnati.

2022 SEASON

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Cincinnati Bengals 27, Buffalo Bills 10
Sunday, Jan. 22, 2023 at Highmark Stadium

Cincinnati scored on its opening two possessions to grab a 14-0 first-quarter lead, and never looked back in a snowy AFC Divisional Playoff. The Bengals' offense churned out 412 total yards, including 172 rushing. HB Joe Mixon finished with 123 yards from scrimmage, including 105 on the ground with a 5.1-yard rushing average. QB Joe Burrow threw two TD passes and connected with eight different receivers on the afternoon to lead Cincinnati in advancing to the AFC Championship for a second consecutive year. Defensively, the Bengals held Buffalo to season lows in points and net rushing yards (63), while an INT by rookie CB Cam Taylor-Britt on the Bills' final drive punctuated the dominant performance. Buffalo cut the lead to 17-10 midway through the third quarter, but Cincinnati answered with a 12-play, 75-yard drive capped by a Mixon TD run to regain its two-score advantage. The Bengals set a postseason team record with 30 first downs while committing no turnovers.
