Setting the scene: The Bengals this week return home to face the Dallas Cowboys on Sunday at Paul Brown Stadium. Cincinnati will be looking to bounce back from a 19-7 loss at Miami last week.

"It's frustrating when you don't pull these games out at the end," said Bengals head coach Zac Taylor. "There are going to be ugly games sometimes that can come down to a late score to see who wins, and we haven't been efficient enough in the second half in really all three phases."

Cincinnati controlled much of the first half at Miami, and jumped out to a 7-0 lead behind a 72-yard TD catch from Tyler Boyd. It was the longest play by the Bengals this season, and also the longest catch of Boyd's career.

But with the Bengals still holding a 7-3 lead late in the second quarter, the game took a turn when Boyd and Dolphins CB Xavien Howard got into a tussle after a third-down play. After the officials convened with the league office in New York, it was determined that Boyd and Howard would both be ejected. Boyd, though, was the only one originally flagged on the play, so despite Howard's ejection, Cincinnati took the brunt of the punishment in the form of a 15-yard penalty. On the next play, K Randy Bullock's FG attempt hooked just outside the left upright. Miami then took over possession with a short field and converted a 48-yard FG as time expired, making the score to 7-6 at the break.

Cincinnati's offense struggled after Boyd's exit, and was held scoreless while gaining just 25 yards the rest of the afternoon.

"They played man coverage about every single snap of the game, so you need your best receivers out there," Taylor said. "But they lost a good corner as well. We both lost guys. We just needed to do better."

Meanwhile, the Dolphins took advantage of a thin Bengals secondary and in the third quarter alone posted 181 total yards, 10 points and an 11:27-3:33 edge in time of possession. It proved too much for Cincinnati to overcome, as the Dolphins cruised to a 19-7 win.

"I have to put our guys in a better position, and we have to make the plays that are there," Taylor said. "But I've got to be accountable for that and put us in better spots. We played the game how we expected it to be played in the first half, and then we weren't good enough in the third quarter, and that's where it got away."

The game, though, will perhaps be remembered most for a fight between both teams midway through the fourth quarter. Led by Dolphins head coach Brian Flores, a group of Miami's players and coaches left their bench area to confront Bengals players and coaches following a kick-catch interference penalty on Bengals WR Mike Thomas. After the play, which left Dolphins WR Jakeem Grant injured (though he did return on the next play), officials ejected three more players, including Bengals S Shawn Williams.

"He got there a little too soon — that's obvious," Taylor said of the play. "It's unfortunate, and you hope (Grant) is fine. But there's no ill will there by Mike Thomas. I can promise you that. He's just being a gunner, trying to go down there and make a play."

This week, Cincinnati welcomes a Dallas team led by a familiar face in former Bengals QB Andy Dalton. The 2011 second-round pick of the Bengals played nine seasons in Cincinnati. When the Bengals terminated his contract in April, he left as the team's all-time leader in completions (2757), touchdown passes (204), passer rating (87.5) and 300-yard passing games (28).

"It'll be different," said Bengals HB Giovanni Bernard of the matchup with his friend and former QB. "Andy is the guy that I came into the league with, and he was really the only quarterback that I knew for a long time. He's done a lot for me and my family, and for a lot of the guys on this team. It going to be weird (on Sunday), and I wish him the best ... but not too much."

*—The NFL has counted sacks as official statistics since 1982. However, the Bengals have sacks compiled since 1976 and recognize those sacks recorded from '76-81 in their records. Thus, please note that, because the NFL has sacks for all teams only since 1982, the Bengals' sack statistics for players whose careers included seasons prior to '82 will not be included in league information.

Uniform watch: The Bengals are scheduled to wear black jerseys and black pants this week vs. Dallas.

Since 2004, the year of the Bengals' last significant uniform redesign, a number of color options for jerseys and pants have been available. Below are the records (regular season plus postseason) for the different combinations:

JERSEY	PANTS	W-L-T	PCT.
Orange*	Black	6-1-0	.857
Orange*	White	16-7-1	.688
Black	Black	18-18-1	.500

White	White	19-32-0	.373

* — NFL rules allow teams to wear designated alternate jerseys, color rush (CR) uniforms and/or throwback uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. As in years past, orange will serve as the Bengals' designated alternate jersey, and for the fifth straight year, the team will use its color rush uniforms (white jersey, white pants), which debuted in 2016. Cincinnati does not have a throwback uniform.

THE HEAD COACHES

Zac Taylor was named the 10th head coach in Cincinnati Bengals history on Feb. 4, 2019.

Taylor's first season as head coach ended with a 2-14 record, however the team showed promise late in the year. On offense, Taylor helped key an improved rushing attack that saw its yards-per-game rushing average jump 70.6 yards from the first half of the season (59.5) to the second (130.1). The team's average yards per rushing attempt also jumped 1.26 yards (3.17 to 4.43) the final eight games, and the offense allowed 10 fewer sacks (29 to 19).

On defense, the team notched 11 more sacks in the second half of 2019 compared to the first eight games, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game (57.5 fewer rushing yards, 26.6 fewer passing yards).

Taylor came to Cincinnati after two seasons (2017-18) with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant wide receivers coach in 2017 and quarterbacks coach in '18. In 2018, he helped guide Rams QB Jared Goff to career highs in every major passing category — completions (364), attempts (561), passing yards (4688), passing TDs (32), completion percentage (64.9), yards per attempt (8.36) and passer rating (101.1). Los Angeles won the NFC West with a 13-3 regular-season record and advanced to Super Bowl LIII against the New England Patriots.

In 2017, Taylor directed the Rams' young receiving corps and helped oversee an emerging passing offense that ranked 10th in the NFL in pass yards per game (239.4).

Prior to his time with the Rams, Taylor had a one-year stint in the college ranks, serving as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Cincinnati in 2016.

Taylor broke into NFL coaching in 2012 with the Miami Dolphins as assistant quarterbacks coach. He was elevated to quarterbacks coach from 2013-15, and spent the final five games of '15 as the Dolphins' interim offensive coordinator and primary play-caller, after the team made coaching staff changes.

During his time in Miami, Taylor was instrumental in the development of QB Ryan Tannehill, the team's first-round draft pick in 2012.

Taylor's coaching career began at Texas A&M University, where he served as offensive graduate assistant and tight ends coach under head coach Mike Sherman from 2008-11.

As a player, Taylor began his collegiate career at Wake Forest (2002-03), before transferring to Butler County Community College in Kansas ('04) and then playing his final two seasons ('05-06) at the University of Nebraska. Taylor had a decorated career with the Cornhuskers, setting numerous school records and passing for a combined 5850 yards and 45 touchdowns. In his senior season of 2006, Taylor was named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year after passing for 3197 total yards and leading the Cornhuskers to a 9-3 record, an appearance in the Big 12 Championship Game and a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017.

Taylor joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but he was waived prior to the start of training camp and never saw NFL action. Later that year, he joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League, where he spent one season (did not play).

His father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at the University of Oklahoma, playing under Sooners head coach Barry Switzer from 1976-79. Sherwood Taylor later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State University. Taylor's brother, Press, played quarterback at Marshall University and is currently passing game coordinator/quarterbacks coach for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Taylor was born May 10, 1983, in Norman, Okla., where he was raised and attended Norman High School. He earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from the University of Nebraska in 2006. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children — Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman.

Mike McCarthy was named the ninth head coach in franchise history on Jan. 5, 2020. Prior to joining Dallas, McCarthy had 13 years of NFL head coaching experience and 13 additional years as an assistant coach in the league.

McCarthy had a 125-77-2 regular-season coaching record with the Green Bay Packers from 2006-18. He owns the sixth-most wins (29th all-time) and fifth-highest winning percentage among active NFL coaches. His teams have qualified for the postseason nine times, won six NFC North Division titles, made four NFC Championship Game appearances and took home a Super Bowl XLV championship.

As the offense's primary play caller, McCarthy helped the Packers' offense rank fourth in the NFL in total offense and third in points-per-game over the time of his tenure with the club. Over that same span, the Packers were third in passing offense. Additionally, his Packers offenses finished in the top-10 in passing yards 10 times, total offense nine times and scoring nine times.

McCarthy's nine playoff appearances overall are the most by a Packers coach since the NFL postseason began in 1933. With the victory over Dallas in the 2016 playoffs, McCarthy surpassed Vince Lombardi and Mike Holmgren for the most playoff victories in team history (10). McCarthy guided the Packers to a franchise-record fourth consecutive division title in 2014.

McCarthy played tight end at Baker University and was all-conference and a senior captain in 1986. He earned his degree in business administration and later coached collegiately at Fort Hays State (1987-88) and Pittsburgh ('89-92).

McCarthy was born on Nov. 10, 1963 in Pittsburgh. He and his wife, Jessica, have five children.

Taylor vs. Cowboys: No previous meetings.

Taylor vs. McCarthy: No previous meetings.

McCarthy vs. Bengals: The Bengals lead 2-1.

BENGALS NOTES

- Tied for eighth in touchbacks on kickoffs (43).

Bates enjoying his best season: Bengals S Jessie Bates this season has been among the top performers — offense or defense — on the team, drawing praise from many observers as one of the top safeties in the NFL.

Bates, a 2018 second-round pick of the Bengals, has started all 12 games this season and has 88 tackles (second on team), including two for losses, along with 13 PDs (sixth in NFL), three INTs and a FF.

And opposing coaches have taken notice when watching the film. "I don't know how many interceptions Jessie Bates, has but this is a good player. I'll tell you that right now," said Dolphins head coach Brian Flores. "And I don't really care how many interceptions he has. This is a damn good player."

But Bates, a team captain, says his focus remains solely on winning.

"That only means so much," Bates said of the wave of recognition he's received. "I play this game to win football games. I'm a leader of this team on the defensive side, and my main goal is to win football games. I look at national media when I need to, but right now I'm just focusing on building the right environment around here."

Bates has started all 44 games of his career. With 88 tackles so far this year, he stands just 12 away from topping 100 in each of his first three seasons.

Wilson goes long: On Cincinnati's opening possession of Game 11 vs. the N.Y. Giants, S Brandon Wilson fielded the kickoff in the end zone and darted 103 yards for a TD. It counted officially as the longest play of any kind in Bengals history, topping a 102-yard kick return by RB Eric Bieniemy (Oct. 26, 1997 at NYG) and a pair of 102-yard INT returns, by CBs Artrell Hawkins (Nov.

3, 2002 at Houston) and Louis Breeden (Nov.8, 1981 at S.D.). It was also the longest play in the AFC this season, and the second-longest in the NFL (Chicago's Cordarrelle Patterson has a 104-yard kickoff return).

According to the NFL's Next Gen Stats service, which uses GPS to track players' speed, Wilson reached a top speed of 21.05 MPH during the return. Last season, Wilson reached 22.03 MPH on a kickoff return for a TD at Baltimore. That counted as the third-fastest in the league in 2019, and still stands as fastest by a Bengal since NGS' launch in '16

Wilson now has two career kickoff returns for TDs, tied with former S/CB Tremaine Mack for the most in team history.

Bengals on historic fourth-down pace: The Bengals' offense this season has successfully converted 17 of its 21 fourth-down attempts, good for an 81.0 percentage that ranks second in the NFL. The Buffalo Bills lead the NFL at 83.3 percent, but they have attempted just six fourth downs (converted five) all season.

Cincinnati's current success on fourth downs ranks among the best in league history. With 17 successful conversions so far this year, the offense needs just three more over the final four games to tie the NFL record of 20, set in 1996 by the Chicago Bears.

Here's a look at the teams with the most successful fourth-down conversions in a single season (since 1977).

SEASON	TEAM	ATTEMPTED	MADE
1996	Chicago Bears	28	20
1996	New England Patriots	34	19
2007	Jacksonville Jaguars	33	19
1994	New England Patriots	35	18
2002	Jacksonville Jaguars	26	18

T.B. chasing 100: Bengals WR Tyler Boyd this season has positioned himself to make a run at 100 receptions, a mark only two Bengals ever have reached. Former Bengals WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh caught a team-record 112 passes in 2007, and WR Carl Pickens had 100 in 1996.

Boyd so far this season has a team-high 73 catches, good for a 6.1-catch per game pace which projects out to 97 for a full 16 game slate.

Houshmandzadeh had 88 catches through 12 games in 2007, and Pickens had 78. Boyd needs to maintain a pace of 6.75 catches over the remaining four games in order to reach 100 for the season.

Boyd's 72 catches currently stand sixth in the AFC and 12th league wide.

Boyd looking for his third thousand: Bengals WR Tyler Boyd this season looks to become just the fourth Cincinnati pass-catcher to record three consecutive 1000-yard seasons. He would join WRs Chad Johnson (six consecutive; 2002-07), A.J. Green (five; '11-15) and Carl Pickens (three; 1994-96).

Through 12 games, Boyd has a team-high 797 yards (on 73 catches), a pace that projects out to 1062 yards over a full 16-game slate.

Boyd topped the 1000-yard mark in both 2018 and '19, despite his running mate, Green, playing just nine of 32 possible games over that stretch. Last season, he finished with a career-high and team-best 1046 receiving yards (on 90 catches), which slightly bested his '18 total of 1028 yards (on 76 catches)

Boyd stands as one of nine Bengals ever to reach 1000 receiving yards in a season, and one of six to hit the mark more than once. Johnson's seven 1000-yard seasons stand as the most in team history, followed by Green (six), Pickens (four), WR Cris Collinsworth (four) and WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh (two). WRs Eddie Brown, Tim McGee and Darnay Scott each had one 1000-yard season.

Higgins eyeing Bengals rookie records: WR Tee Higgins has had an impressive first NFL season, and remains on a trajectory that by year's end could land him among the top rookie pass-catchers in team history.

Higgins' 53 catches through 12 games project out to 70 for a full 16-game slate. That total would be the most ever by a Bengals rookie, ahead of WR Cris Collinsworth (67), WR A.J. Green (65), HB Giovani Bernard (56), WR Tyler Boyd (54) and WR Eddie Brown (53).

Higgins' 729 receiving yards so far project out to 972 over 16 games. That total would rank third in team history among rookies, behind Green (1057) and Collinsworth (1009). Rounding out the top five are Brown (942), and WRs Darnay Scott (866) and Isaac Curtis (843).

Higgins (five TDs) could also approach the 47-year old rookie record of nine receiving TDs, set in 1973 by WR Isaac Curtis. Collinsworth and Brown (both had eight) are tied for second in that category, followed by Green (seven) and WR Chris Henry (six).

Higgins also has two 100-yard receiving games, two shy of Green (four) for most by a Bengals rookie. Curtis and Brown (three) are tied for second place.

Tee tops 125: Bengals rookie WR Tee Higgins had 125 receiving yards (on six receptions) in Game 6 at Indianapolis, marking only the ninth time a Bengals rookie has posted as many receiving yards. It was the first such instance since WR Jordan Shipley had 131 yards at Atlanta on Oct. 24, 2010.

Making Higgins' feat all the more impressive is the fact that it came against a Colts defense that entered the contest leading the NFL in both fewest yards allowed per game (266.0) and fewest passing yards allowed per game (179.6).

Higgins also had a 67-yard reception against the Colts, who entering the game had not allowed a catch longer than 33 yards all season.

Here's a look at the nine instances of a Bengals rookie posting 125 or more receiving yards:

ROOKIE	DATE	OPPONENT	REC. YARDS
Speedy Thomas	Oct. 19, 1969	vs Denver.....	155
Speedy Thomas	Dec. 14, 1969	at Denver	177
Isaac Curtis	Dec. 16, 1973	at Houston.....	144
Cris Collinsworth	Dec. 20, 1981	at Atlanta.....	128
Eddie Brown	Dec. 22, 1985	at New England.....	129
Darnay Scott	Oct. 30, 1994	vs Dallas.....	155
Darnay Scott	Nov. 6, 1994	at Seattle.....	157
Jordan Shipley	Oct. 24, 2010	at Atlanta.....	131
Tee Higgins	Oct. 18, 2020	at Indianapolis.....	125

That didn't take long: Bengals rookie WR Tee Higgins, the team's second round pick in April's draft, turned heads in just his second career start by notching his first multi-TD game. Higgins' two TDs grabs on Sept. 27 at Philadelphia made him the first NFL rookie this year with a multi-TD game, and the first Bengal rookie to reach pay dirt twice since HB Jeremy Hill in 2014.

Higgins also now stands as one of only five Bengal rookies ever to catch at least two TDs in a game, and the first to do it as early as September. The others are WRs Mohamed Sanu (Nov. 25, 2012 vs. Oakland), Darnay Scott (Oct. 30, 1994 vs. Dallas), Cris Collinsworth (Nov. 29, 1981 at Cleveland), and Isaac Curtis (Dec. 9, 1973 vs. Cleveland, and Dec. 16, 1973 at Houston).

Through 12 games, Higgins has 53 catches for 729 yards and five TDs.

Welcome back, A.J.: The Bengals this season have welcomed the return of WR A.J. Green, who is back in Cincinnati's lineup after missing 20 games between late 2018 and the end of '19. Green has played in all 12 Bengals games so far this season, and has 35 catches for 357 yards and a TD.

Green, a 10th-year veteran who prior to Game 1 this season had last played on Dec. 2, 2018, missed all of last season due to a left ankle injury he suffered in the first practice of training camp. He returned to practice mid-way through the season, but re-aggravated the injury and never returned to game action. In 2018, Green was limited by a toe injury (right foot) to just nine games. He suffered the injury on the final drive in Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, missed the next three games, and then re-aggravated it in the first half of Game 12 vs. Denver. He ended the season on Reserve/Injured, but returned healthy for the start of 2019 training camp. Then came the ankle injury.

Green stands as the Bengals' all-time leader in 100-yard receiving games (33), and is second in career receptions (637) and receiving yards (9264). His 64 career receiving TDs rank second in team history, just two shy of all-time leader Chad Johnson (66).

Green is also only the ninth player ever, and the only WR, to begin his career with at least seven consecutive Pro Bowl nominations. That list includes Steelers RB Franco Harris, Giants LB Lawrence Taylor, Chiefs LB Derrick Thomas, Lions RB Barry Sanders, Dolphins OT Richmond Webb, 49ers LB Patrick Willis, Browns OT Joe Thomas and Cardinals CB Patrick Peterson. Green's streak of Pro Bowl nominations ended in 2018, though, after his missed time due to the toe injury.

Bengals tough when A.J. suits up: Bengals WR A.J. Green of course gets plenty of attention for his statistical accomplishments, which place him among the top receivers in Bengals history. But let the record show that Green isn't just a stat-sheet stuffer. When No. 18 is in the lineup, the Bengals are tough to beat.

Here's a look at his impact on Cincinnati's win column when he's on the field:

WHEN GREEN ...	BENGALS' RECORD	PCT.
Plays	68-53-2	.561
Has 100 or more receiving yards.....	22-10-1	.682
Scores a TD	38-18	.679
Has at least 76 receiving yards (topping his career average)	35-22-1	.612
Has at least five catches (topping his career average).....	42-33-2	.558
Plays alongside WR Tyler Boyd and HB Joe Mixon.....	11-10-1	.523

A.J. finds paydirt: Bengals WR A.J. Green has 64 career receiving TDs, which since his rookie year of 2011 ranks as the sixth-most of any NFL player, and fifth among active players. Green ranks second in team history in TD catches, behind WR Chad Johnson (66).

It should be noted that Green has posted those lofty totals despite missing 33 career regular-season games due to injury, including 23 between mid-2018 and the end of '19.

Here's a look at the NFL's leaders in receiving TDs since 2011:

PLAYER	TEAM	RECEIVING TDs
Antonio Brown	Pittsburgh / New England / Tampa Bay.....	75
Jimmy Graham	New Orleans / Seattle / Green Bay / Chicago	74
Rob Gronkowski	New England / Tampa Bay	73
Dez Bryant	Dallas / New Orleans / Baltimore.....	67
Jordy Nelson	Green Bay / Oakland	66
A.J. Green	Cincinnati	64

Green and some gold jackets: Bengals 10th-year WR A.J. Green has 10 career games of at least 150 receiving yards and one TD, making him one of only 10 receivers to ever reach as many games through their first 10 NFL seasons. It should also be noted that Green is still playing his 10th season, and his numbers come despite missing 33 regular-season games to injury throughout his career, including 23 between mid-2018 and the end of '19.

Here's a look at the list of players with 10 or more games with 150-plus receiving yards and a TD through their first 10 NFL seasons:

PLAYER	TEAM	NO. OF GAMES
Jerry Rice*	San Francisco	19
Lance Alworth*	San Diego / Dallas	16
Don Maynard*	N.Y. Giants / N.Y. Titans/Jets	14
Calvin Johnson	Detroit.....	13
Torry Holt	St. Louis	11
Randy Moss*	Minnesota / Oakland / New England	11
A.J. Green	Cincinnati	10
Isaac Bruce*	St. Louis	10
Antonio Brown	Pittsburgh / New England	10
Terrell Owens*	San Francisco / Dallas	10

Gio secures the rock: Bengals HB Giovani Bernard is known mostly for his versatility out of the backfield for Cincinnati, but as the numbers show, he's also among the NFL's best at securing the football. Bernard has carried 829 consecutive times without fumbling, the longest streak in the NFL by a margin of more than 300 carries.

Bengals HB Joe Mixon entered 2020 with the second-longest streak behind Bernard, but a fumble on a carry in the opener ended his streak of 541. It was his first fumble since the 2017 season finale. Still, Bernard and Mixon have combined for just three fumbles on 1686 career rushing attempts.

Here's a look at the NFL's longest active streaks of rushing attempts without a fumble:

NAME	TEAM	RUSH ATT. WITHOUT A FUMBLE
Giovani Bernard	Cincinnati	829
Phillip Lindsay	Denver	512
Saquon Barkley	N.Y. Giants	497
Jamaal Williams	Green Bay	484
Leonard Fournette	Tampa Bay	467

Bernard's streak dates back to Game 5 of his rookie season in 2013 (Oct. 6 vs. New England). That marked the only fumble of his career on a rushing play, with his other five all coming on passing plays.

That, along with Mixon's aforementioned streak, also rank among the longest in Bengals history. The Elias Sports Bureau reports that over the last 30 years, both streaks easily outpace any other fumble-free streak by a Cincinnati rusher. (Elias' records do not go back far enough to confirm this throughout the team's full history.)

Here's a look at the longest streaks of rushing attempts by a Bengal without a fumble since 1990:

PLAYER	RUSH ATT. WITHOUT A FUMBLE	SEASONS SPANNED
Giovani Bernard	829	2013-present
Joe Mixon	541	2017-20
Harold Green	298	1991-93
Jeremy Hill	282	2015-17
Cedric Benson	260	2010-11

Gio passes J.B. for receptions lead: Already considered one of the top receiving running backs in team history, HB Giovani Bernard has further secured that status this season by surpassing a Bengals legend. With 331 career receptions, Bernard now stands as the Bengals' all-time leader in receptions by a running back. He passed former Bengal RB James Brooks (297) for first place in Game 1 vs. the L.A. Chargers. Brooks, however, still holds the Bengals' record for receiving yards by a running back at 3012, which is 240 ahead of Bernard's 2772.

Brooks played eight seasons (1984-91) with the Bengals, and this season is Bernard's eighth with the team.

15 carries for Gio does the trick: Over his now seven seasons in Cincinnati, Giovani Bernard has carved out a spot among the top dual-threat running backs in team history.

But when examining Bernard's workload specifically as a rusher throughout his career, a significant trend becomes apparent — the Bengals are 11-1-1 in games in which Bernard has at least 15 rushing attempts. Bernard has topped 15 carries once this season — a win in Game 8 vs. Tennessee.

In the 13 games in which Bernard has reached 15 carries, he has averaged 77.2 yards, scored eight rushing TDs and topped 100 yards three times.

Balanced Bengals O claws the Jags: In Game 4 vs. Jacksonville, the Bengals recorded 505 net yards of offense — 300 through the air, and 205 on the ground. It marked the first time in the NFL this season that a team recorded at least 300 passing yards and 200 rushing yards in a game (since has been matched). It also marked only the fourth time in team history, and the first since 1988, that the Bengals achieved the 300/200 feat.

Here's a look at the four games in which the Bengals topped 300 passing yards and 200 rushing yards. All four were home wins:

DATE	OPPONENT	PASS YDS	RUSH YDS	TOTAL
12-1-85	Houston Oilers	324	231	555
12-21-86	N.Y. Jets	416	205	621
11-6-88	Pittsburgh Steelers	338	221	559
10-4-20	Jacksonville Jaguars	300	205	505

Bengals overhaul defense: After the 2019 season ended, one of the primary focal points of Cincinnati's offseason ahead figured to be improving upon the team's 29th-ranked defense. The Bengals did just that, welcoming a parade of newcomers in free agency in March, and then following that with a draft that invested four of the team's seven picks on defenders.

The result is a defense that looks markedly different. Gone are six of last year's opening-day starters, along with one additional spot that also has changed hands. New additions to the starting lineup include Carl Lawson at DE, Mike Daniels at DT, Josh Byner and Germaine Pratt at LB, Mackensie Alexander and LeShaun Sims at two of the CB spots, and Vonn Bell at S. Lawson and Pratt were with the Bengals last year, while the rest joined the team over the offseason in free agency. Rookie LBs Logan Wilson and Akeem Davis-Gaither have also seen extended time, as have DT Christian Covington (acquired in a trade with Denver on Sept. 4) and DE Amani Bledsoe (free agent signee in August).

DT D.J. Reader and CB Trae Waynes, two of the headliners of Cincinnati's free agency haul in March, are currently on Reserve/Injured. Waynes suffered a pectoral injury on Aug. 9 and then went on Reserve/Injured on Sept. 9 (after final cuts), but he could return later in the season. Reader suffered a left quad injury on Oct. 11 at Baltimore and was placed on Reserve/Injured on Oct. 12. Bengals head coach Zac Taylor said that Reader will not return this season.

Hubbard a Day 2 draft steal: DE Sam Hubbard, a third-round pick (77th overall) of the Bengals in 2018, ranks third in sacks (15.5) among all players from the '18 rookie class (draft picks and college free agents).

Players' listed positions vary from media outlet to media outlet (e.g. whether a player is classified as a LB or DE), but according to NFL.com's draft record, Hubbard was the 13th defensive lineman selected in 2018 — five DEs and seven DTs came off the board before him. According to NFL.com, there were a total of 40 defensive linemen (20 DEs, 20 DTs) selected in the 2018 draft, along with 32 linebackers on one player classified as "EDGE." There were also, of course, numerous undrafted rookies in 2018.

Here's a look at the career sack leaders from the rookie class of 2018.

PLAYER/POSITION	TEAM	PICK (ROUND)	SACKS
Bradley Chubb/DE	Denver	No. 5 (1st)	20.5
Harold Landry/EDGE	Tennessee	No. 41 (2nd)	18.0
Sam Hubbard/DE	Cincinnati	No. 77 (3rd)	15.5
Darius Leonard/OLB	Indianapolis	No. 36 (2nd)	14.0
Marcus Davenport/DE	New Orleans	No. 14 (1st)	12.0

Geno on HOF pace: Bengals DT Geno Atkins, an 11th-year pro, currently stands at 75.5 career sacks. That total stands third in team history and the most ever by a Bengals interior defensive lineman.

But a closer look reveals that Atkins is on a Hall-of-Fame pace. When compared to defensive tackles already in the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Atkins compares quite favorably at this point in his career.

Here's a look at the sack totals of notable Hall-of-Fame DTs through their 11th seasons, as well as where they stood at the end of their careers. Note that Atkins missed nearly half of 2013 due to a torn ACL. He also has missed five games this season (four due to a shoulder injury, one for personal reasons).

(NOTE: This list includes only DTs whose careers started after 1982, when the NFL began counting sacks as official statistics.)

NAME	YEARS ACTIVE	THRU 11 SEASONS	CAREER SACKS
John Randle	1990-2003	114.0	137.5
Warren Sapp	1995-2007	84.5	96.5
Geno Atkins	2010-present	*75.5	75.5
Cortez Kennedy	1990-2000	58.0	58.0

*NOTE: Atkins is currently playing his 11th season.

Geno has Edwards in his sights: With 75.5 career sacks, Bengals DT Geno Atkins stands in third place on the team's all-time sack list, behind DEs Eddie Edwards (83.5 sacks) and Carlos Dunlap (82.5).

Atkins, who has missed five games this season (four to a shoulder injury, one for personal reasons), has more than double the number of sacks of the next-closest interior defensive lineman in Bengals history (Tim Krumrie, 34.5). Atkins also missed nearly half of the 2013 season with a torn ACL. He has finished with at least a share of the NFL lead for sacks by an interior lineman five times in his 10 NFL seasons.

NOTE: The NFL has counted sacks as official statistics since 1982. However, the Bengals have sack statistics compiled since 1976 and recognize those sacks recorded from '76-81 in its records. Thus, please note that, because the NFL has sacks statistics for all teams only since 1982, the Bengals' sack statistics for players whose careers included seasons prior to '82 will not be included in league information.

Logan Wilson impresses early: Bengals rookie LB Logan Wilson, the team's third-round draft pick out of Wyoming earlier this year, has 27 tackles this season, including four for losses and a sack. He also has three PDs, and his two INTs are tied for second in the NFL among rookies.

Wilson recorded his first career INT off of Eagles QB Carson Wentz in Game 3 at Philadelphia, and then notched his second against Ravens QB Lamar Jackson in Game 5 at Baltimore. His sack was a 10-yard takedown of Ryan Tannehill on a third down in Game 8 vs. Tennessee.

Wilson this season has played in 11 games, with two starts (Games 7 and 9). He missed Game 4 vs. Jacksonville due to a concussion.

Rookie class producing early: Despite the lack of an offseason program to ease the college-to-pro adjustment, the Bengals this year have leaned heavily upon their draft class. The seven players drafted by Cincinnati in April have combined to play in 74 games this season, with 27 starts, good for a pace of 98 games and 36 starts over a full 16 game slate. It should be noted though that both paces have slowed in recent weeks after rookie QB Joe Burrow suffered a season ending knee injury in Game 10 at Washington.

The most combined games played by a Bengals draft class since 1994 (the year the draft went to seven rounds) is 99, achieved by the 11-player draft class of 2017. The most combined starts over the same period is 50, by the nine-player draft class of 1998.

Here's an overview of how each of the seven members of the 2020 draft class have fared so far this season:

- QB Joe Burrow (Round 1, Pick 1): The highest-profile player in the draft class saw his rookie year come to an end in Game 10 at Washington, when he suffered a season-ending knee injury in the third quarter. Burrow finished his rookie campaign with 404 pass attempts, 264 completions (65.3 percent), 2688 yards, 13 TDs, five INTs and an 89.8 passer rating. He also posted five 300-yard passing games, tied for the Bengals record and just one shy of the NFL rookie record. He had been on pace to top several of the team's single-season passing records, in addition to multiple NFL rookie passing records.

- WR Tee Higgins (Round 2, Pick 33): Higgins got a late start to training camp, due to an injury, and then had modest stats early while being eased into the rotation. Then came a breakout two-TD performance in Game 3 at Philadelphia, followed by 100-yard receiving performances in Game 6 at Indianapolis (125 yards) and Game 9 at Pittsburgh (115). He has played in all 12 games, with 10 starts, and has 53 catches for 729 yards and five TDs. He's on pace to challenge several Bengals rookie receiving records (see "Higgins eyeing Bengals rookie records").

- LB Logan Wilson (Round 3, Pick 65): Wilson broke into the regular LB rotation almost immediately, and has been praised by coaches and teammates for his speed, instincts and playmaking ability. He has played in 11 games this season, with two starts (missed Game 4 vs. Jacksonville with a concussion), and has 27 tackles, including four for losses and a sack. He also has three PDs, and his two INTs are tied for second in the NFL among rookies.

- LB Akeem Davis-Gaither (Round 4, Pick 107): Davis-Gaither also has worked his way into the LB rotation, playing in all 12 games (one start) this season with 15 tackles, a half sack and two PDs. Known for his speed and athleticism, he has been used on passing downs in coverage and as a blitzer.

- DE Khalid Kareem (Round 5, Pick 147): Kareem has played in all 12 games, and has 17 tackles and a sack. Coaches have praised his progression and grasp of the system, and his role has grown steadily. His playing time has risen in recent weeks, after the Oct. 28 trade of DE Carlos Dunlap.

- G Hakeem Adeniji (Round 6, Pick 180): Adeniji has played 10 games this season, with four starts (two at LOT, one at ROT, one as a second TE). He filled in as Cincinnati's starting LOT in Games 8-9, in place of injured starter Jonah Williams, and then flipped to ROT for Game 10 after Williams' return. In Game 8 vs. Tennessee, he was a key part of a blocking performance that did not surrender a sack.

- LB Markus Bailey (Round 7, Pick 215): After losing most of his final college season to a torn ACL, Bailey was cleared to practice early in training camp. He has played in six games this season, and has seen action mostly on special teams (one ST tackle).

Bengals draft picks stick in NFL: A familiar trend has emerged this season regarding which teams have the most keen eye for talent in the draft, and the Bengals again are toward the top of the list. As of Monday, Dec. 7, there were 48 players on NFL rosters who entered the league as draft picks of the Bengals. That total is three more than any other team in the NFL.

Cincinnati has been among the top five teams in this category every week since 2018, and has spent long stretches in the top spot. At times, the Bengals have even held a double-digit lead over the second-place team.

Of the 51 players on Cincinnati's active roster, 32 entered the NFL with the Bengals — 27 as draft picks, and five as college free agents.

Of those 27 draft picks, four were first-round picks, six were second-rounders, four were third-rounders, five were fourth-rounders, two were fifth-rounders, four were sixth-rounders and two were seventh-rounders.

Here's a look at the teams with the most draft picks on an active NFL roster, as of Monday, Dec. 7:

TEAM	DRAFT PICKS ON NFL ROSTERS
Cincinnati Bengals	48
Detroit Lions	47
New England Patriots	46
Seattle Seahawks	45
Minnesota Vikings	45

Bengals' picks stay in stripes: A useful measurement of talent evaluation in the draft is the ability of a team's draft picks to make their own active roster. The Bengals have proven to be among the best in the NFL in that category.

As of Monday, Dec. 7, there were 27 players on Cincinnati's roster who entered the NFL as Bengals draft picks. That total is tied for fourth in the NFL.

Here's a look at the NFL teams with the most of their own draft picks on their active roster, as of Monday, Dec. 7:

TEAM	OWN PICKS ON ROSTER
Green Bay Packers	28
Indianapolis Colts	28
Minnesota Vikings	28
Cincinnati Bengals	27
Seattle Seahawks	27

Special teams soar under Simmons: Over the now 18-year tenure of Darrin Simmons, the Bengals have consistently boasted one of the top special teams units in the NFL. Simmons this year has added the title of assistant head coach to his usual role as special teams coordinator, a nod to a successful run that has seen 17 different players from his tenure appear in the team's record book.

Here's an overview of Simmons' players' dominance over the Bengals' record book. For more detailed record information, see the Bengals' records section on page 168 in the 2020 media guide.

The three most accurate FG kickers (by career percentage) in team history — Shayne Graham, Randy Bullock, and Mike Nugent — were all coached by Simmons for their entire Bengals careers. Simmons has also been at the helm for each of the six most accurate single seasons by Bengals kickers.

The five longest consecutive FG streaks in team history have all come under Simmons' watch, as have three of the five longest PAT streaks.

Simmons, who punted at the University of Kansas, has had particular success coaching his former position. Current P Kevin Huber holds the top spot in every Bengals career punting category, along with the top five single seasons for both net average and inside-20s, and the top four seasons for gross average. Former P Kyle Larson, who spent his entire Bengals term (2004-08) under Simmons, ranks within the top four in every career punting category, and shares with Huber the record for longest punt in team history (75 yards).

Simmons has coached three of the Bengals' top four leaders in career punt return average — Adam Jones, Quan Cosby and Peter Warrick.

He's coached four of the team's top six leaders in career kickoff return average — Jones, Alex Erickson, Bernard Scott, Glenn Holt. Five of the six best single seasons by a kickoff returner (based on yards per kickoff return) have come under Simmons. That includes Brandon Wilson's NFL-best 31.9-yard kickoff return average (second in team history) in 2019.

And although the category is not kept as an official team record, it should be noted that LS Clark Harris has executed more than 1600 deep snaps without a single unplayable delivery since joining the Bengals in mid-2009.

Simmons has also coached four players who have made the Pro Bowl as special teamers — Huber, Jones, Harris and RB Cedric Peerman

The Huber roundup: Bengals P Kevin Huber, a 2009 Bengals fifth-round pick who this year is playing his 12th season in stripes, has long been considered the top punter in team history. He has cemented that legacy within the last year by taking over the top spot in the few remaining career punting categories he did not already own.

Huber now stands first in team history in the following categories:

- Punts (897)
- Punting yards (40,574)
- Gross average (45.23)
- Net average (40.16)
- Inside-20 punts (312)

Huber has also taken over many of the Bengals' single-season and single-game records. Among them are:

- He holds the top four Bengals season averages in gross yardage and the top five Bengals season averages in net. His gross record is 46.84 (set in 2014), and his net record is 42.11 (set in '19).
- He shares the team record for longest punt (75 yards) with Kyle Larson.
- His 33 inside-20 punts in 2012 is a single-season franchise record.
- His six inside-20 punts on Sept. 14, 2017 vs. Houston are tied with Lee Johnson (Nov. 2, 1997) for the most in a game in Bengals history.

Huber among NFL's best at pinning 'em: As the evidence shows, no Bengals punter has ever been nearly as successful as Kevin Huber at pinning opponents inside the 20-yard line. The 2009 fifth-round draft choice currently has 312 career inside-20 punts, a margin of more than 100 over the next-best in team history (Lee Johnson, 186).

But the numbers also show that Huber is among the best active punters in the NFL at pinning opponents deep.

Here's a brief look at the active NFL punters with the most career inside-20 punts:

PUNTER	2020 TEAM	NFL EXP.	CAREER INSIDE-20s
Andy Lee	Arizona	17	438
Sam Koch	Baltimore	15	425
Brett Kern	Tennessee	13	370
Kevin Huber	Cincinnati.....	12	312
Johnny Hekker	L.A. Rams.....	9	264

25 points does the trick: Since 2011, the Bengals own a 49-5-2 record when scoring 25 or more points. That's good for the third-best winning percentage (.893) in the NFL when topping the 25-point mark over that span.

The Bengals, though, are 3-4 under head coach Zac Taylor (2-3 this season) when reaching the 25-point plateau.

Here are the top five teams in the NFL since 2011, in terms of winning percentage, when hitting the 25-point plateau:

TEAM	WINS	LOSSES	TIES	WINNING PCT.
Miami Dolphins	41	2	0	.953
New England Patriots.....	90	9	0	.909
Cincinnati Bengals.....	49	5	2	.893
Denver Broncos.....	55	7	0	.887
Kansas City Chiefs	68	11	0	.861

These cats can fly: Since 2016, the NFL's Next Gen Stats service has tracked a variety of in-game measurements using GPS trackers and other technology. One of those measurements is the speed — in miles per hour — that ball carriers reach during a given play.

HB Joe Mixon has the fastest speed this season, after being clocked at 21.19 MPH on his 34-yard TD run vs. Jacksonville in Game 4. S Brandon Wilson also clocked a blazing 21.05 MPH during his team-record 103-yard kickoff return for a TD in Game 11 vs. the N.Y. Giants.

Here are the fastest Bengals since 2016, according to Next Gen Stats:

PLAYER	SPEED (MPH)	DATE/OPPONENT	PLAY
S Brandon Wilson	22.03	10-13-19 at Balt.	92-yard KOR (TD)
WR Alex Erickson	21.52	12-16-18 vs. Oak.	77-yard KOR
CB William Jackson III	21.52	9-24-17 at G.B.	75-yard INT return (TD)
CB William Jackson III	21.33	9-15-19 vs. S.F.	19-yard INT return
HB Joe Mixon	21.19	10-4-20 vs. Jax.	34-yard rush (TD)

Two Bengals hail from Queen City: The Bengals this year have two players — DE Sam Hubbard and P Kevin Huber — who grew up in Greater Cincinnati.

Hubbard, a Moeller High School alum and former Ohio State standout, is in his third Bengals season, after joining the team as a third-round draft pick (77th overall) in 2018. He is in his second season as a full-time starting DE, and has one sack so far this season.

"It's insane," Hubbard said after being drafted. "Seeing that 513 area code pop up on my phone on draft day was just incredible. To get an opportunity to represent Cincinnati for the pro team in this city is a dream come true. I watched every game the Bengals played. I've just always been a big fan."

Huber, an Anderson Township native and alum of McNicholas High School and the University of Cincinnati, was a fifth-round draft choice of the Bengals in 2009. He is the longest-tenured player on the roster and has played in all but two games throughout his career in Cincinnati. He currently stands as the Bengals' career leader in both gross (45.23) and net (40.16) punting average.

Huber and his wife, Mindi, have been active in the local community throughout his Bengals career. The couple started their own charity, The Foundation for Underserved Rescues, which "provides resources and support to underserved Cincinnati-area animal rescues."

It should also be noted that Bengals G Michael Jordan was born in Fairfield, Ohio, just outside of Cincinnati, but his family moved and he attended high school in Michigan.

Burrow's rookie season ends: One of the top statistical rookie seasons in Bengals history came to an end in Game 11 at Washington, as rookie QB Joe Burrow suffered a left knee injury that required surgery and will hold him out of action until 2021.

Burrow ended his stellar season with 404 pass attempts, 264 completions, a 65.3 completion percentage, 13 TDs, five INTs and a passer rating of 89.8. He had five 300-yard passing games, and at the time of his injury — early in the third quarter — he needed just 97 more yards to make that total six, which would have tied former Colts QB Andrew Luck for the most ever by an NFL rookie (Chargers QB Justin Herbert tied that mark in Week 12). Burrow had been on pace to shatter several other NFL rookie passing records, including the marks for attempts, completions and passing yards. He was also on pace to set several Bengals single-season passing records.

The Athens, Ohio-native figures to return to action in 2021, when he will look to continue what has been one of the most productive starts to a career by a QB in league history. Despite missing nearly half of his 10th game, Burrow's 264 completions still count as the most ever by an NFL QB through their first 10 career games. His 404 pass attempts are the second-most ever in that same category, and his 2688 passing yards are fifth.

Earlier this season, in Game 7 vs. Cleveland, Burrow posted one of the top single-game statistical performances by a rookie in NFL history. He passed for 406 yards in the contest, marking just the sixth-ever 400-yard passing game by an NFL rookie, and 11th such game in Bengals history. Burrow's performance vs. Cleveland made him the first QB — of any experience — in league history to record 400 passing yards, three passing TDs and one rushing TD in a game. He was also effective at spreading the ball around against the Browns, as the game was the first in team history in which six different players recorded at least 50 receiving yards.

Bengal bites: The NFL's Next Gen Stats service, which tracks players' speed by using GPS, clocked HB Joe Mixon at 21.19 MPH on his 34-yard TD run in Game 4 vs. Jacksonville. It was the fastest by a Bengal this season. S Brandon Wilson's kickoff return for a TD at Baltimore last season (22.03 MPH) was the third-fastest in the league in 2019, and fastest by a Bengal since NGS' launch in '16 ... This season's Oct. 25 matchup between the Bengals and Browns was the first in NFL history with five combined go-ahead TD passes in the fourth quarter ... The Bengals converted all five of their fourth-down attempts on Sept. 17 at Cleveland this season, marking the first time since 1970 that Cincinnati has gone perfect on as many fourth-down attempts in a single game (Elias Sports Bureau's records do not go back further than 1970) ... The longest-tenured player on the roster is P Kevin Huber, a 12th-year pro who joined the Bengals as a fifth-round pick in 2009 ... The oldest Bengal on the roster is LS Clark Harris, who is 36 (born July 10, 1984) ... The youngest Bengal is WR Tee Higgins, who is 21 (born Jan. 18, 1999) ... The lightest Bengal on the roster is WR Mike Thomas, who is 189 pounds ... The heaviest Bengal is G Quinton Spain, who is 330 pounds ... The tallest Bengal is DT Margus Hunt, who is 6-8 ... The shortest Bengal is Trayveon Williams, who is 5-8.

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: After rookie QB Joe Burrow suffered a season-ending left knee injury on Nov. 22 at Washington, Cincinnati turned to fourth-year pro Brandon Allen to take over at signal-caller. Allen spent the first 11 weeks of 2020 on the practice squad and due to COVID-19 was largely isolated from the rest of the team as an emergency QB. He was signed off of the practice squad on Nov. 23, and made his first Bengals start in Game 11, Nov. 29 vs. the N.Y. Giants. Allen this season has completed 28 of his 48 passes, for 289 yards, two TDs and two INTs. Allen suffered a chest injury in late in Game 12 at Miami and did not return, but he said after the game that he expects to play this week vs. Dallas. Allen originally was sixth-round pick of the Jacksonville Jaguars in 2016, and then later spent time with the L.A. Rams and Denver Broncos. Second-year pro Ryan Finley, a fourth-round pick of the Bengals in 2019, is listed on the depth chart as the No. 2 QB. Finley has passed nine-of-17 for 70 yards and two INTs this season, with most of his action coming in the second half at Washington after Burrow had exited with his injury. As a rookie last season, Finley started three games and completed 41 of 87 passes for 474 yards, with two TDs and two INTs.

Running backs: With No. 1 HB Joe Mixon on Reserve/Injured, eighth-year pro Giovani Bernard now steps into the role of No. 1 HB. Bernard this season has 77 rushes for 253 yards and two TDs. Bernard, considered one of the top receiving threats out of the backfield in Bengals history, also has 36 receptions for 260 yards and two TDs. With 331 career catches, Bernard now stands as Cincinnati's all-time leader in receptions by a running back, after passing former Bengals RB James Brooks (297) in Game 1 vs. the L.A. Chargers. Bernard's 2772 receiving yards are 240 shy of Brooks (3012) for most all-time by a Bengals RB. Bernard also holds the team record for receiving yards in a game by a RB (128, in 2015 at Arizona), and his 89-yard TD run vs. Carolina in '14 is the second-longest rush in team history. Also adding depth in the running back room is fourth-year pro Samaje Perine, a powerful 5-11, 240-pound runner. Perine has played in all 12 games this season, and has seen increased action in Games 7-12 during Mixon's absence. Perine this season has 27 carries for 109 yards and a TD. Perine has also been a solid contributor on special teams and has three ST tackle so far in 2020. Perine and Mixon were college teammates at Oklahoma. Trayveon Williams, a second-year pro and 2019 sixth-round pick of the Bengals, has played in six games this season and rushed six times for 20 yards. The 5-8, 208-pound Williams has also seen action on special teams this season (no statistics).

Wide receivers: After playing only nine of 32 possible games from 2018-19, star wideout A.J. Green has returned to the field and provides a boost to Cincinnati's young offense. Green this season has 35 catches for 637 yards. Green caught his first TD of the season in Game 10 at Washington. Green recorded season-highs in catches (eight) and receiving yards (96) in Game 6 at Indianapolis. Green missed seven games in 2018 due to a toe injury (right foot), then returned healthy for '19 training camp before suffering a left ankle injury in the first practice of camp that ended up costing him the entire season. Green currently stands second in team history in career receptions (633) and receiving yards (9223), and is second in receiving TDs (64); Chad Johnson, who played 10 Bengals seasons, is first in all three categories — 751 catches, 10,783 yards and 66 receiving TDs. Green's 33 career 100-yard receiving games are also the most in Bengals history, and his 10 career games with at least 150 yards and one TD are the most among active players. Additionally, Green also stands as the only NFL WR since the 1970 merger to start his career with seven consecutive Pro Bowl nominations, although that streak ended in 2018 after his toe injury. Fifth-year pro Tyler Boyd has developed into one of Cincinnati's top offensive weapons, and this year he looks to become just the fourth Bengal ever to record three straight 1000-yard receiving seasons. Boyd so far leads the team in both catches (73) and receiving yards (797). In Game 12 at Miami, Boyd had a 72-yard TD reception, good for the longest catch of his career. The 6-2, 203 pound WR notched his first 100-yard receiving game of the season in Game 3 at Philadelphia, with 125 yards on 10 catches. In Game 7 vs. Cleveland, Boyd tied a career-high with 11 catches (for 101 yards). Boyd has caught at least one pass in all 68 of his career games played, and currently has nine career 100-yard receiving performances and five games with at least 10 catches. Cincinnati this year invested a second-round pick in Tee Higgins of Clemson, a big (6-4, 216) and physical pass-catcher with unique playmaking ability and a nose for the end zone. Higgins has played in all 12 games this season, with 10 starts, and has 53 catches for 729 yards and five TDs. He has two 100-yard receiving games. Higgins earned his first career NFL catch in Game 2 at Cleveland, and then caught his first two TDs in Game 3 at Philadelphia. He is now one of only five Bengal rookies with multiple receiving TDs in a game. In Game 5 at Indianapolis, Higgins recorded his first NFL 100-yard receiving game, and his 125 receiving yards were the most by a Bengals rookie since Jordan Shipley's 131 in 2010. Higgins played three seasons (2017-19) at Clemson, and finished his career with 27 receiving TDs, tied with DeAndre Hopkins and Sammy Watkins for the most in school history. Higgins, the youngest player on Cincinnati's roster (will turn 22 in January 2021), is known for his outstanding athleticism and was an accomplished prep basketball player (runner-up for Tennessee's Mr. Basketball as a junior). Also adding depth in the receiver room is Alex Erickson, who has played in all 72 possible games since joining the Bengals in 2016 as a college free agent. Erickson has mostly been a rotational receiver throughout his career, and has four catches for 34 yards this season. Last year, he stepped into more of a regular role due to injuries at WR and logged career highs in both catches (43) and receiving yards (529). Erickson has also been a key contributor on both punt returns and kickoff returns throughout his career. Also in the mix is fifth-year pro Mike Thomas, who joined Cincinnati as an unrestricted free agent in March. Thomas entered 2020 with just 10 catches for 144 yards, but he has nearly passed those totals so far this season with 13 catches for 132 yards. Thomas spent his first four seasons with the L.A. Rams, where he was coached by then-Rams assistant Zac Taylor. On Dec. 2, third-year pro Auden Tate was placed on IR with a season-ending shoulder injury. Tate finished the season with 14 receptions for 150 yards.

Tight ends: Drew Sample, a 2019 second-round pick of the Bengals, returned healthy this season after a right ankle injury ended his rookie campaign after nine games. Sample this season has 33 catches for 301 yards. In Game 2 at Cleveland, Sample notched career-highs in both catches (seven) and receiving yards (45). Bengals coaches praised Sample as the "best blocking tight end in the draft" coming out of college, and last year noted his mid-year ascension right before his injury. Fourth-year pro Cethan Carter, a special teams ace who contributes mainly as a blocker on offense, has seen extended action on offense this season as an extra blocker. Carter has only six career catches, four this season, (one for a TD), but is considered among the most important special teams players on the roster. He is currently second in special teams tackles with seven, after tying for the team lead with seven last season. Rounding out the Bengals' TE group is third-year pro Mason Schreck, who has played in Games 3-12 (no statistics), earned his first start of the season in Game 7 vs. Cleveland. Schreck, a seventh-round pick of the Bengals in 2017, found his way onto Cincinnati's active roster prior to Week 3, after TE C.J. Uzomah went on Reserve/Injured with a right Achilles injury. Schreck missed most of his first two seasons due to injuries, and then spent a majority of last season on Cincinnati's practice squad before being called up for the final five contests (no statistics).

Offensive linemen: One of the most significant additions to the Bengals' roster this year has been LOT Jonah Williams, Cincinnati's first-round pick in 2019. Williams has started 10 games at LOT in 2020 and has developed into a reliable contributor on the offensive line. Williams exited Game 7 vs. Cleveland early after suffering a stinger, which also kept him out in Games 8 (inactive) and 9 (active DNP), but he has returned to the lineup for Games 10-12. In Game 12 at Miami, Williams was carted off the field with a knee injury, making his status for Game 13 vs. Dallas unknown. After starting every possible game in his three seasons in college at Alabama, Williams missed his entire rookie season in 2019 due to a left shoulder injury he suffered in OTAs. After having surgery in June 2019, Williams was around the Bengals' facility every day last season to attend regular meetings. Next to Williams is LG Michael Jordan, a second-year pro who has started 10 games at LG so far this season for Cincinnati. Jordan missed Game 8 vs. Tennessee due to an illness (not COVID-19 related). Jordan, a fourth-round pick in 2019, was named the starting LG out of training camp as a rookie last year but relinquished the job after early season struggles due in part to a knee injury. He regained the job late in the season and showed significant improvement, helping HB Joe Mixon to 100-yard rushing performances in three of the final four games. Veteran Trey Hopkins, a fifth-year pro and the longest-tenured Bengal on the offensive line, is in his second season as Cincinnati's No. 1 C, and has started 11 games there so far this season. He missed Game 8 vs. Tennessee due to a concussion. Hopkins, who has starting experience at all three interior OL positions, won the No. 1 C job in 2019 training camp and played so well that he earned a contract extension in December (through '22 season). Veteran G Quinton Spain joined the Bengals as a free agent earlier this season, and has played in all five games (four starts) since. He has started games this season at RG, LG and ROT. Spain, a sixth-year player out of West Virginia, was signed to Cincinnati's practice squad on Oct. 30, and then joined the active roster on Nov. 23. For the third straight season, Bobby Hart lines up as the Bengals' starter at ROT. Hart missed Games 8-9 with a knee injury, which he suffered at the end of Game 7 vs. Cleveland, but he returned to action as a reserve in Game 10 at Washington before returning to the starting lineup in Game 11 vs. the N.Y. Giants. Prior to his injury, Hart had started every game at ROT since joining the team prior to the 2018 season, and was a significant part of the blocking effort for HB Joe Mixon's back-to-back 1000-yard seasons in '18 and '19. Returning to the 53-man roster is RG Xavier Su'a-Filo, who missed Games 2-11 after suffering a left ankle injury in the third quarter in the opener against the Chargers. Su'a-Filo joined Cincinnati as an unrestricted free agent in March after previous stints with Houston and Dallas. Prior to Game 4 against Jacksonville, Cincinnati signed Alex Redmond from the practice squad to the active roster, and he has since gone on to start seven games at RG. Redmond, though, exited Game 11 vs. the N.Y. Giants at halftime with a concussion and did not return. Redmond missed Game 12 at Miami and his game status for Game 13 vs. Dallas is unknown. A fourth-year pro and 2019 Bengals college free-agent signee from UCLA, Redmond has played in 30 career games with 23 starts. Also adding depth along the line is rookie OT/G Hakeem Adeniji, a sixth-round pick out of the University of Kansas. Adeniji has played in 11 games, with four starts. His starts have come at LOT in Games 8-9 in place of the injured Williams, and at ROT in Game 10 at Washington in place of Hart. The Bengals took notice of Adeniji at the Senior Bowl, where he showcased his versatility for the North team (Cincinnati coached the South). Adeniji started all 48 possible games during his college career, seeing time at both RT and LT, but Bengals coaches say he also has the ability to play G. A key reserve along the interior of the offensive line is G/C Billy Price, who has starting experience at all three interior OL positions. Price has played in all 12 games so far this season, with one start — at C in Game 8 vs. Tennessee, in place of the injured Hopkins. A Bengals first-round pick in 2018, Price served as Cincinnati's No. 1 C as a rookie, despite battling injuries that held him out of six games. He moved to a reserve role in 2019, but ended up starting eight games (seven at LG, one at RG) due to injuries along the line. On Oct. 28, Cincinnati acquired G/C B.J. Finney in a trade with the Seattle Seahawks. The fifth-year player out of Kansas State University has seen limited action as a Bengal playing in one game so far (inactive for the rest). Second-year player Keaton Sutherland was signed to Cincinnati's active roster on Sept. 28, and has played in one game. Sutherland originally was a 2019 college free agent signee of the Bengals out of Texas A&M, and spent most of his rookie season on Cincinnati's practice squad before joining Miami late in the season (three games, two starts in Miami). Another key reserve this season is Fred Johnson, who has starts at both G and OT this season. At a massive 6-6, 325 pounds, the physically imposing Johnson is considered a raw prospect with natural power and athletic ability. Johnson has played in eight games this season, with three starts at RG (Games 2-3) and one at ROT (Game 8). Johnson originally was a college free agent signee of the Steelers in 2019, then joined the Bengals on waivers midway through his rookie year and went on to see extensive playing time (one start) at LOT down the stretch.

Defensive linemen: With 75.5 career sacks, 11th-year DT Geno Atkins, is in third place on the Bengals' all-time sack list, and stands just eight shy of leader DE Eddie Edwards (83.5). Atkins missed Games 1-4 with a shoulder injury and Game 9 due to personal reasons. Atkins has more than double the number of career sacks as the next-closest interior defensive lineman in team history, and his eight career Pro Bowl nominations are the most ever by a Bengals defensive player ahead of Lemar Parrish (six). Atkins has led the Bengals in sacks five times in his 10 seasons, and also has finished in at least a share of the NFL lead for sacks by an interior defensive lineman five times — he claimed it outright three times (2012, '16, '17), and shared it twice ('11 and '15). Atkins has 14 career games with more than one sack, and the Bengals are 8-6 in those contests. Perhaps the best pure pass-rusher on Cincinnati's roster is fourth-year DE Carl Lawson, who has 4.5 so far this season with 30 tackles. Lawson has appeared in all 12 games this season, and moved into a starting RDE role for seven games this season (5-8, 10-12). Lawson notched his fourth career multi-sack game in Game 3 at Philadelphia, when he took down Eagles QB Carson Wentz twice. The 2017 fourth-round pick of the Bengals has struggled with injuries at times throughout his career, but when healthy he's proven to be a disruptive force. He currently stands at 19 career sacks, but coaches are quick to point to the frequency with which he gets into the backfield. Lining up at RDE is Cincinnati native (Archbishop Moeller High School) Sam Hubbard, who is in his second season as a full-time starter. Hubbard suffered an elbow injury in Game 5 at Baltimore, which landed him on Reserve/Injured for three weeks before returning to the starting line up in Game 9 at Pittsburgh. So far this season, Hubbard has 47 tackles, one sack and one PD. Hubbard played safety in high school before switching to DE at Ohio State, and with the Bengals has also seen brief action at DT in nickel packages. At NT, veteran Mike Daniels adds experience, toughness and a stout presence along the interior of the defensive line. Daniels has played and started eight games this season, and has 10 tackles. He missed Games 2 and 4-6 with injuries, but has returned to the lineup and provided stability on the line through a wave of injuries and roster changes. Cincinnati acquired 6-2, 305-pound DE Christian Covington via a trade with Denver (gave up LB Austin Calitro) on Sept. 4. Covington, a sixth-year player out of Rice University, has played in all 12 games so far this season, with 10 starts (Games 2 and 4-11), and has 29 tackles. Covington originally was a 2015 sixth round pick of the Houston Texans. On Oct. 12, Cincinnati signed free agent DT Xavier Williams, a sixth-year player from the University of Northern Iowa. Williams has played in Games 6-12 (two starts) and has 15 tackles and a sack. Williams started in Game 6 at Indianapolis, just days after he was signed, and contributed four tackles, a sack, and a fumble recovery on the second play from scrimmage that led to a Bengals TD drive. Williams originally was a college free agent signee of the Arizona Cardinals in 2015, and later spent time with the Chiefs and Patriots. On Oct. 19, Cincinnati signed 6-8, 295-pound free agent DT Margus Hunt, who originally was a second-round draft pick (53rd overall) of the Bengals in 2013. He was with Cincinnati through the 2016 season, before spending time with Indianapolis and New Orleans. Hunt has played in five games so far for the Bengals and tallied one PD. Cincinnati spent a fifth-round pick this year on Notre Dame DE Khalid Kareem, who has added depth on the D-line this season. Kareem has played in all 12 games, and has 17 tackles and a sack. A team captain in college and the son of a high school coach, Kareem is known for his length (34 3/8-inch arms, 84-inch wingspan), intelligence and effort. He played as a 3-4 DE for the Irish and was a two-year starter, notching 26 career tackles for losses, including 13 sacks. Prior to Game 2 at Cleveland, Cincinnati called up DE Amani Bledsoe from the practice squad. Bledsoe has played in 11 games (five starts) so far this season, and contributed 15 tackles and two PDs. The 6-4, 280-pound Bledsoe joined the Bengals as a free agent on Aug. 15 and was placed on the Reserve/COVID-19 list on Dec. 6.

Linebackers: Cincinnati's young linebacker room is led by a veteran presence in ninth-year pro Josh Bynes, who signed with the Bengals in March as an unrestricted free agent. Bynes this season has started all 12 games, and has 70 tackles and a sack. Bynes played last season with Baltimore, and previously spent time with Detroit and Arizona. Known for his leadership, intelligence and ability to stop the run, Bynes has been a part of four top-10 defenses and four top-10 rush defenses in his eight previous seasons. Listed as the other starter at LB is second-year pro Germaine Pratt, Cincinnati's third-round pick in 2019. So far this season, Pratt has played in all 12 games this season with 11 starts while tallying 64 tackles and one PD. Considered a green prospect coming out of N.C. State, Pratt spent his first two collegiate seasons at S before switching to LB, and in his only season as a starting LB led the Wolfpack in tackles and earned all-conference honors. Cincinnati this season spent a third-round pick on Wyoming's Logan Wilson, a speedy (4.63-second 40-yard dash at the combine) and instinctive player known best for his outstanding college production. Wilson, who has seen his playing time increase throughout the season, has 27 tackles, two interceptions, three PDs and a sack for 10 yards, despite missing Game 4 against Jacksonville due to a concussion. In Game 5 at Baltimore, Wilson's first game back after a concussion, the rookie jumped in front of a Lamar Jackson pass in the second quarter to tally his second interception of the season. In Game 8 vs. Tennessee, the rookie took down Ryan Tannehill for his first career sack. A high school WR and DB, Wilson switched to LB in college and went on to start all 52 possible games at LB over the next four years. Wilson, a three-time team captain (voted by teammates) in college, first caught the eye of Bengals coaches as a member of the North team at the 2020 Senior Bowl (though Cincinnati coached the South). Cincinnati's coaches did coach Appalachian State's Akeem Davis-Gaither on the South team at the Senior Bowl, and were impressed enough to spend a fourth-round pick on him three months later during the draft. Davis-Gaither earned his first start in Game 5 at Baltimore, has also seen action early this season in Cincinnati's nickel packages with 15 tackles, 2 PDs and a half sack. Known for his speed, motor and instincts, Davis-Gaither topped 100 tackles in each of his final two college seasons and earned 2019 Sun Belt Defensive Player of the Year honors as a senior. Fourth-year pro Jordan Evans, a 2017 sixth-round pick out of Oklahoma, again adds depth and special teams value to the Bengals' linebacker room. So far this season, Evans has added six special teams tackles and one PD. In Game 4 against Jacksonville, Evans snagged his first INT of the season on the first drive of the game. And in the fourth quarter against Jacksonville, Evans earned his first sack of the season, a third-down takedown of Gardner Minshew that held the Jaguars to a FG. Last year, Evans was used as a rotational player on defense (76 snaps, with six tackles and a PD), but was second on the team in special teams snaps and had six ST tackles. Also in the mix this season is rookie seventh-round pick Markus Bailey, a Hilliard, Ohio (outside Columbus) native and Purdue grad. Bailey has played in seven games this season (inactive for the rest), and has seen action mostly on special teams. Bailey was considered one of the most productive defenders in the Big Ten when healthy, however serious knee injuries (left ACL as a freshman, right ACL as a senior) caused his draft stock to slide. Bailey recovered from last year's injury and was a full participant from early in training camp this year. Considered strong against the run and pass, Bailey led the Boilermakers in tackles in two of his three healthy seasons and also had 13.5 career sacks, 153 PDs and six INTs.

Defensive backs: Among the headliners of Cincinnati's free agency haul in March was S Vonn Bell, a fifth-year player out of Ohio State who spent his first four NFL seasons (2016-19) with the New Orleans Saints. Bell came to Cincinnati known for his tackling proficiency, and so far this season leads the team in tackles with 91, 10 of which came in Game 11 vs. the N.Y. Giants. Lining up next to Bell is S Jessie Bates III, Cincinnati's second-round pick in 2018. Bates currently ranks second on the team with 88 tackles, 13 of which came in Game 12 at Miami. Bates has a team-best 13 PDs which ranks tied for sixth in the NFL. Bates also leads the team in INTs this season, with three. Bates topped 100 tackles in each of his first two seasons in Cincinnati, including his rookie season in 2018 when he became just the sixth Bengals rookie ever to lead the team in tackles. Bates has never missed a game (all starts) over his now three seasons, and in 2018 he was the team's first rookie defender in 20 years to start all 16 games (Takeo Spikes, 1998). Shifting to a new role this season is S Shawn Williams, a 2013 third-round pick and vocal veteran leader on the defense. Williams was the Bengals' No. 1 SS from 2016-19, but this year is contributing in a variety of defensive roles. Williams missed the first two games of this season with a calf injury, which he suffered early in training camp. That broke Williams' streak of 36 consecutive games played dating back to late 2017. Williams, though, returned to action in Game 3 and has been eased back into his role. So far this season, Williams has seven tackles on the defensive squad with one PD and has four special teams tackle. Williams led the team in tackles (112) in 2019, after leading the team in INTs (five) in 2018. Leading the Bengals' CBs is 2016 first-round pick William Jackson III, who is in his third season as a full-time starting corner. Now healthy after battling a shoulder injury throughout 2019, Jackson this season has 37 tackles, nine PDs (second-highest on team), and an INT. Jackson's pick came in Game 2 at Cleveland, when he jumped in front of a Baker Mayfield pass and returned it 30 yards to set up a Bengals TD drive. New addition this season is CB Mackensie Alexander, an unrestricted free agent signee who spent his first four NFL seasons with the Minnesota Vikings, is playing a significant role this year as Cincinnati's primary slot CB. So far this season, Alexander has 38 tackles, with eight coming in Game 3 at Philadelphia, and four PDs. Alexander helped the Vikings to top-five NFL rankings in both total defense and passing defense in three of his four seasons with the team. Also adding depth at CB is unrestricted free agent signee LeShaun Sims, a fifth-year player who spent his first four NFL seasons with the Tennessee Titans. Sims notched his first INT as a Bengal in Game 3 at Philadelphia, picking off a pass from Carson Wentz. So far, Sims has 41 tackles, three PDs and one INT on the season. At 6-0, 203 pounds, Sims brings a tough, physical playing style, and is known as a willing tackler. One of the fastest and most versatile players on Cincinnati's roster is S Brandon Wilson, a rotational DB on defense who is best known for his massive special teams impact. Wilson's kickoff return average is 27.2, which is sixth in the league this season, after averaging an NFL-best 31.3 yards last year, the second-best mark in Bengals history. In Game 11 vs the N.Y. Giants, Wilson responded to an opening TD drive by the Giants with a 103-yard kick-off return for a TD to even the score. The 103-yard is the longest kickoff return in Bengal's history. Also adding depth at CB is Jalen Davis, a first-year player out of Utah State who joined the Bengals' practice squad earlier this year before earning a promotion on to the active roster on Nov. 28 after his solid play as a game day elevation. He has played in four games for the Bengals this season, and has three tackles.

Special teams: The longest-tenured player on this year's roster is P Kevin Huber, a Cincinnati native (Archbishop McNicholas High School) and University of Cincinnati alum. Huber, a 2009 fifth-round pick of the Bengals, has played in all but two possible regular-season games over his now 12 seasons with the team. So far this season, Huber has averaged 47.4 yards on 54 punts, (42.6 net) with 16 inside-20s and six touchbacks. Huber stands as the Bengals' career leader in every significant punting category, including punts (897), punting yards (40574), gross average (45.23), net average (40.16) and inside-20 punts (312). Huber also shares franchise record for longest punt (75 yards). Last season was among the most productive in Huber's career, with a career-high 42.11-yard net average and 30 inside-20s to just five touchbacks. Huber also has served as the holder on placekicks for his entire career. Randy Bullock has handled the Bengals' placekicking duties since midway through the 2016 season, when he joined Cincinnati on waivers from Pittsburgh. Bullock has converted 84.9 percent (90 made/106 attempts) of his FG attempts as a Bengal, and now stands just short of Shayne Graham (86.76; 177 made/204 attempts) for best percentage in Bengals history. Bullock has 21 field goals made, and is tied for seventh in field goal attempts (26) and has 87 points. Prior to Game 2 at Cleveland, Cincinnati signed second-year pro Austin Seibert to add depth behind Bullock. Seibert has not yet seen game action for the Bengals. Seibert, a fifth-round pick of the Browns in 2019, is 83.3 percent on FGs for his career, and has connected on 30 of 36 PATs. Handling the long-snapping duties again this season is Clark Harris, the oldest Bengal on the roster (turned 36 in July). Harris has been a paragon of reliability since joining the team in mid-2009, and over his Bengals career has handled 1666 deep snaps (894 punts, 770 placekicks) without a single unplayable delivery. Harris, a Pro Bowler in 2017, is the second-longest tenured player on the roster, behind Huber. S and KOR Brandon Wilson headlines Cincinnati's group of return specialists this season. Wilson this season has averaged 27.2 yards on his 21 kickoff returns, which is tied for fifth league wide. Wilson ranks fourth in the league for kickoff return yards with 571. A sixth-round pick of the Bengals in 2017, Wilson led the NFL last season with a 31.3-yard average on kickoff returns (minimum 20 attempts), good for the second-best single season average in team history. Considered one of the fastest players on Cincinnati's roster, he was clocked by NFL's Next Gen Stats at 22.03 MPH during his kickoff return for a TD in Game 6 vs. Baltimore last year, good for the third-fastest speed by an NFL ball carrier in 2019. Wilson has also been a key cog to Cincinnati's coverage units throughout his career, and this season leads the team with seven special teams tackles. Listed as the No. 1 PR again this season is WR Alex Erickson, who has held that position since joining the Bengals as a college free agent in 2016. Erickson this season has averaged 10.6 yards per punt return, which is fifth in the NFL. In Game 11 vs. the N.Y. Giants, Erickson had a 29 yard punt return late in the fourth quarter for his longest return so far this season. Erickson also is an accomplished kick returner, a position he held from 2016-18 prior to Wilson's breakout campaign in '19, and he owns two of Cincinnati's top five seasons ever for average yards per KOR — AFC-best 27.93 as a rookie in '16, and 26.2 in '18. Playing key roles in Cincinnati's special teams coverage units this season are Wilson, LB Jordan Evans, and TE Cethan Carter. The personal protector on punts this season is HB Giovani Bernard. THE LAST TWO BENGALS-COWBOYS MEETINGS

2012 SEASON
WEEK 14, GAME 13

Dallas Cowboys 20, Cincinnati Bengals 19
Sunday, Dec. 9, 2012 at Paul Brown Stadium

Looking to seal a fifth straight win, the Bengals took a 19-10 lead into the fourth quarter. But the Cowboys came back for a one-point win, outgaining Cincinnati 150-49 in the final period and leading 9-2 in first downs. K Dan Bailey lifted Dallas from a 19-17 deficit with a 40-yard FG as time expired. The Bengals dominated for most of the first three periods, but could not put the game away as Dallas rose up to allow only one TD with three FGs on four Cincinnati red-zone opportunities. The Cowboys attributed some of their comeback resolve to their desire to win the game for the memory of practice squad LB Jerry Brown, who was a passenger in a fatal auto accident on the day before the contest. The Bengals fell to 7-6, while Dallas improved to 7-6.

2016 SEASON
WEEK 5, GAME 5

Dallas Cowboys 28, Cincinnati Bengals 14
Sunday, Oct. 9, 2016 at AT&T Stadium

The Bengals trailed by 28 points in a game (28-0) for the first time since the 2012 season opener and suffered only their fifth loss in the last 21 games against an NFC opponent. The Dallas rookie duo of QB Dak Prescott and RB Ezekiel Elliott, supported by one of the NFL's best offensive lines, ruled the day. Prescott posted a 117.9 passer rating, and Elliott gained 171 yards from scrimmage, including 134 yards rushing on 15 carries (8.9-yard average). The Bengals offense was unable to get on track until the fourth quarter. The Cowboys scored TDs on their first three possessions and put the game effectively out of reach when Elliott authored a 60-yard TD run on Dallas' first offensive play of the second half. The Bengals fell to 2-3 while the Cowboys improved to 4-1.

2020 GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 1, GAME 1

L.A. Chargers 16, Cincinnati Bengals 13 Sunday, Sept. 13, 2020 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals took the field in the season opener inside a Paul Brown Stadium without fans, due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The game also marked the much-anticipated debut of Bengals rookie QB Joe Burrow, the No. 1 overall pick in the 2020 draft. After a first half in which Burrow was sacked three times and pressured numerous others, Cincinnati's offense found its footing late, but two fourth-quarter turnovers thwarted Cincinnati's chances. HB Joe Mixon fumbled for the first time in more than two years — a span of 541 rushing attempts — leading to a Chargers go-ahead FG. Then, Burrow led a drive to the Chargers' 23-yard line before throwing an INT to Chargers DE Melvin Ingram III. Down three points with 3:08 remaining, Burrow led one final drive that spanned 14 plays and 84 yards. With seven seconds left, he connected for an apparent go-ahead TD with WR A.J. Green, who played for the first time since Dec. 2018, but the play was nullified by an offensive pass interference penalty on Green. K Randy Bullock then pushed a potential game-tying 31-yard FG wide right with two seconds left, erasing the possibility for an overtime period.

WEEK 2, GAME 2

Cleveland Browns 35, Cincinnati Bengals 30 Thursday night, Sept. 17, 2020 at FirstEnergy Stadium

Cleveland's FirstEnergy Stadium had 6000 fans in attendance for a Thursday Night Football matchup in what was Ohio's first major sporting event with fans present in six months, due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Bengals rookie QB Joe Burrow, who was making his second career start, set an NFL rookie record for completions in a game with 37, but he did so on 61 passing attempts, the most ever by a Cincinnati QB in a non-overtime contest. Cincinnati ran 30 more plays than Cleveland (83-53), had a seven-minute edge in time of possession, and converted all five of its fourth-down attempts. But the Bengals struggled to stop Cleveland's rushing attack, as the Browns racked up 215 rushing yards and three TDs behind RBs Nick Chubb and Kareem Hunt. Cincinnati failed to record a sack, while Cleveland took down Burrow three times and pressured him numerous others. The Bengals dropped to 0-2, while the Browns improved to 1-1.

WEEK 3, GAME 3

Cincinnati Bengals 23, Philadelphia Eagles 23 Sunday, Sept. 27, 2020 at Lincoln Financial Field

The Bengals and Eagles battled to the second tie in series history, inside a Lincoln Financial Field without fans due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Bengals QB Joe Burrow, who was making his third career start, threw for 312 yards and two TDs — both to fellow rookie Tee Higgins — and posted his first career 100-plus passer rating. But Cincinnati struggled to block Philadelphia's defensive front, as the Eagles sacked Burrow eight times and allowed only 48 yards rushing. Still, Cincinnati led the entire fourth quarter, until Eagles QB Carson Wentz scored on a seven-yard scramble with 21 seconds left to force overtime. Cincinnati's offense slowed in OT, producing just two first downs. Philadelphia lined up for a potential game-winning 59-yard FG with 19 seconds left in the extra period, but after a false start, the Eagles reconsidered and punted. The Bengals and Eagles both fell to 0-2-1.

WEEK 4, GAME 4

Cincinnati Bengals 33, Jacksonville Jaguars 25 Sunday, Oct. 4, 2020 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati earned its first win of 2020. It was the also the first win in the career of Bengals rookie QB Joe Burrow, who passed for an even 300 yards and became the first rookie in NFL history to throw for at least 300 yards in three consecutive games. But the day's biggest performance came from Bengals HB Joe Mixon, who revealed after the game that he was in the hospital the night before due to a chest injury. After getting the green light to play from the Bengals' medical staff on Sunday morning, Mixon scored three TDs (two rushing, one receiving) and recorded 181 yards from scrimmage, including 121 of his 151 rushing yards in the second half during a steady rain. Cincinnati's offense posted 500 total yards, and for the first time since 1988 recorded at least 200 rushing yards and 300 passing yards in a single game. Cincinnati moved to 1-2-1, and Jacksonville fell to 1-3.

WEEK 7, GAME 7

Cleveland Browns 37, Cincinnati Bengals 34 Sunday, Oct. 25, 2020 at Paul Brown Stadium

In just their second-ever meeting, QBs Joe Burrow and Baker Mayfield led an offensive shootout between the host Bengals and visiting Browns. Burrow posted 406 passing yards — the sixth-most ever by a rookie — to go with his three passing TDs and one rushing TD. Burrow's day was highlighted by a 10-play, 80-yard drive that ended with a fourth-down, go-ahead TD pass to HB Giovani Bernard with 1:06 to play. But the Browns' offense was equally as impressive. After starting the game with zero completions in his first five attempts with an INT, Mayfield did not throw another incompleting the rest of the contest (save for a spike to stop the clock late). It was the first game in NFL history with five combined go-ahead TD passes in the fourth quarter, and that scoring frenzy was capped by a 24-yard pass from Mayfield to WR Donovan Peoples-Jones with 11 seconds left to give the Browns the win. Cincinnati fell to 1-5-1, while Cleveland improved to 5-2.

WEEK 8, GAME 8

Cincinnati Bengals 31, Tennessee Titans 20 Sunday, Nov. 1, 2020 at Paul Brown Stadium

The 5-1 Titans visited Paul Brown Stadium as heavy favorites and faced a one-win Bengals team missing its leading rusher and four starting offensive linemen. The only other game in team history that featured at least four starters along the offensive line who did not start Cincinnati's previous contest was the first game with replacement players during the 1987 player strike. The Bengals' makeshift line, though, held the Titans without a sack and helped Cincinnati record a time-of-possession advantage of nearly 12 minutes. And, despite weather conditions which saw wind gusts up to 35 MPH throughout the afternoon, Bengals rookie QB Joe Burrow completed 70.3 percent of his passes, posted a 106.7 passer rating and had 249 passing yards with two TDs. The Titans, powered by a running game that averaged 7.5 yards per attempt, made a late push with two fourth-quarter TDs, but the Bengals' offense countered with two of their own and held on for a 31-20 win. Bengals HB Giovani Bernard, who filled in for injured starter Joe Mixon, recorded 78 yards from scrimmage and had two TDs — one on a 12-yard run and one on a six-yard pass. Cincinnati improved to 2-5-1, while Tennessee dropped to 5-2.

WEEK 10, GAME 9

Pittsburgh Steelers 36, Cincinnati Bengals 10
Sunday, Nov. 15, 2020 at Heinz Field

After dealing with its first COVID-19 cases over the bye the previous week, Cincinnati traveled to Pittsburgh to take on the undefeated Steelers under some of the most unique circumstances in team history. In all, four eligible players (including practice squad) and four assistant coaches were unavailable for the game for reasons related to COVID-19. And, in addition, five listed Bengals starters were held out of the contest due to unrelated injuries. Cincinnati kept the game close early behind a strong first half from QB Joe Burrow, but the rookie completed just five of his 15 pass attempts for 24 yards over the final two periods. Steelers QB Ben Roethlisberger, who was held out of his team's facility all week due to COVID-19 procedures, threw for 333 yards and four TDs against a depleted Bengals secondary. And after the Bengals lost yet another defensive starter — CB Mackensie Alexander — to injury in the first half, the Steelers used two second-half TD passes to WR Chase Claypool to widen the margin and cruise to a 36-10 win. Cincinnati dropped to 2-6-1, while Pittsburgh improved to 9-0.

WEEK 11, GAME 10

Washington Football Team 20, Cincinnati Bengals 9
Sunday, Nov. 22, 2020 at FedExField

The visiting Bengals fell at Washington in a contest overshadowed by a serious knee injury to rookie QB Joe Burrow. The Bengals took a 9-7 lead into halftime, thanks to a first half in which the offense ran nearly twice as many plays (42-23) as Washington and had a more than an eight-minute edge in time of possession. Burrow and the offense moved the ball with ease on a Washington team that entered the game leading the NFL in pass defense, as the rookie's 21 first-half completions were the most by a Bengal before halftime in nearly 38 years (Ken Anderson had 27 on Dec. 20, 1982 at San Diego). Burrow was not sacked all day, but early in the third quarter, a Washington defender crashed into his left knee immediately after he released a pass. Burrow exited the field on a cart, and the game's momentum flipped. Burrow's replacement, Ryan Finley, struggled while Washington outscored the Bengals 13-0 the rest of the way. The next day, Bengals head coach Zac Taylor announced that Burrow would have surgery and miss the rest of the season. Cincinnati dropped to 2-7-1, while Washington improved to 3-7.

QB Brandon Allen started the Bengals' first game after losing standout rookie QB Joe Burrow to a season-ending knee injury. Allen had spent the previous 11 weeks on Cincinnati's practice squad and, due to COVID-19, had been largely isolated from the rest of the team while serving as the team's emergency QB. On Cincinnati's first possession, S Brandon Wilson returned the kickoff 103 yards for a TD, good for the longest play of any kind in team history. Cincinnati's offense, though, struggled for much of the game, as six of its 10 possessions (not including a kneel-down at the end of the first half) ended in three or fewer plays. But the Bengals' defense kept things close and gave Cincinnati a chance to win late. Allen cut New York's lead to two points with a TD pass to rookie WR Tee Higgins with 2:33 left, then Cincinnati's defense forced a Giants three-and-out and a punt. But on Cincinnati's first play, with the ball at the 50-yard line and 57 seconds left, Giants DL Jabaal Sheard sacked Allen and forced a fumble, which the Giants recovered to seal a 19-17 win. The Bengals dropped to 2-8-1, and the Giants improved to 4-7.

WEEK 13, GAME 12

Miami Dolphins 19, Cincinnati Bengals 7
Sunday, Dec. 6, 2020 at Hard Rock Stadium

The host Dolphins and visiting Bengals played an eventful and chippy game that featured 14 combined penalties and five ejections. Cincinnati controlled much of the first half and held a 7-6 advantage at halftime, behind a 72-yard TD pass from QB Brandon Allen to WR Tyler Boyd. But Boyd left the game late in the second quarter due to an ejection for fighting, and Cincinnati's offense never recovered. After Boyd's exit, the Bengals totaled just 25 yards and were held scoreless. Meanwhile, the Dolphins took advantage of a thin Bengals secondary and in the third quarter alone posted 181 total yards, 10 points and an 11:27-3:33 edge in time of possession. The two teams got into a fight during the fourth quarter after Dolphins players and coaches left their bench area to confront Bengals players and coaches following a kick-catch interference penalty on Bengals WR Mike Thomas. The fight resulted in three more ejections, including Cincinnati S Shawn Williams. Miami rode its strong second-half performance to a 19-7 win. The Dolphins improved to 8-4, while the Bengals fell to 2-9-1.
