Setting the scene: The Bengals open the preseason at home on Friday night when they host the Green Bay Packers at Paycor Stadium.

Friday will mark Cincinnati's first game action since the AFC Championship at Kansas City on Jan. 29. The Bengals fell short to the Chiefs, 23-20, in their second straight appearance in the conference title game, but they enter the 2023 campaign with much of the same young core still intact for another potential postseason run.

Leading the Bengals' dynamic offense once again is QB Joe Burrow, who in 2022 set team single-season records for completions (414) and TD passes (35) and was selected to his first Pro Bowl. Burrow will not play Friday night after sustaining a calf strain on the second day of training camp practices, which head coach Zac Taylor said would require "several weeks" of recovery.

Sharing the snaps behind center in place of Burrow will be ninth-year veteran Trevor Siemian and first-year pro Jake Browning. Though Bengals coaches and players have agreed that preparing for the regular season without Burrow on the field is not ideal, Taylor believes the reserve QBs — particularly Browning — are taking advantage of this time to develop chemistry with the offense while facing a first-team defense each day.

"This has been really good for Jake to have these opportunities," Taylor said. "We think highly of him. He's locked in and he brings something to the table in the quarterback room. He's a talented player who makes things happen when he's out there. He's done a really good job of evolving in our offense the last couple of years, and now he's getting a chance to get a lot of reps with Trevor."

Defensively, the Bengals boast talent at all three levels that has been added through the draft, free agency and trades. Cincinnati placed an emphasis on signing several of its core defensive pieces to contract extensions during the offseason and did so with LB Germaine Pratt, DE Trey Hendrickson and, most recently, LB Logan Wilson. Wilson, whose extension was announced on Aug. 5, has led the team in tackles in each of the past two years, and alongside Pratt serves as the nucleus of a defense that tied for fifth in the NFL in points allowed per game (20.1) last season.

"I feel like we have one of the best tandems at linebacker in the league," defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo said. "The old cliché of coaches on the field — there's two of them there. They can really affect the game in so many ways, they're both talented guys and I'm thrilled that they're back."

While the Bengals have retained several key contributors, Friday will also be the debut for a number of new additions, including S Nick Scott. Scott, who signed with Cincinnati as a free agent in March, spent his first four pro seasons with the L.A. Rams and brings a veteran presence to the Bengals' secondary. The team also landed TE Irv Smith Jr., a fifth-year pro who will look to provide Burrow with another explosive option in the passing game.

The headliner of Cincinnati's free agency class was OT Orlando Brown Jr., a four-time Pro Bowl selection who will be slotted as the starting left tackle. Brown helped Kansas City defeat the Bengals in the AFC Championship and win Super Bowl LVII just six months ago, but according to Taylor, the newest addition to the offensive line room has already ingratiated himself with his teammates.

"He's a guy that feels like he's been here for a lot longer than he has," Taylor said. "There's no shyness to him. That's how you blend into a locker room and get to know people when you're personable like that and he is, so I appreciate that about him. He asks really good questions, football questions. He wants to be the best."

A majority of the Bengals' 2023 draft class also figures to see extensive action in the preseason opener. Cincinnati selected eight players in April — four defensive, three offensive and one special teamer. The class consists of DE Myles Murphy (first round), CB DJ Turner II (second), S Jordan Battle (third), WR Charlie Jones (fourth), HB Chase Brown (fifth), WR Andrei Iosivas (sixth), P Brad Robbins (sixth) and CB DJ Ivey (seventh).

As is always the case in the preseason, there are a variety of battles to watch for roster spots, playing time and even starting positions. Some of the most notable competitions figure to take place at punter, running back and punt/kick returner.

This marks the second consecutive year that the Bengals open their preseason slate at home. After facing the Packers on Friday, Cincinnati will travel to Atlanta to play the Falcons on Friday, Aug. 18, and remain on the road to take on the Washington Commanders on Saturday, Aug. 26.

The series: The Bengals-Packers series is tied 7-7 in regular season, with the Packers having won the last two meetings, which both were overtime games. That included a 27-24 Green Bay win at Lambeau Field in 2017 and a 25-22 victory in 2021 at Paul Brown Stadium (now named Paycor Stadium).

As the home team, Cincinnati is 4-2 against Green Bay in regular season. As the road team, the Bengals are 3-5 against Green Bay.

In preseason, the Bengals are 11-5-1 against the Packers overall and have won five of the past six preseason meetings, though Green Bay won the most recent preseason matchup, 27-13 at Paul Brown Stadium in 2012.

Complete regular-season series results are on page 208 of the Bengals' 2023 media guide, and complete preseason results are on page 212.

Uniform watch: The Bengals wore nine different uniform combinations during the 2022 season, with four different jerseys, three different pants and three different socks featured at least once. Cincinnati unveiled new uniforms prior to the 2021 campaign, marking the team's first significant redesign since '04.

The Bengals' most frequent — and successful — look over the past two seasons has been white jerseys, white pants (black stripes) and black socks. Cincinnati is 8-2 overall when wearing that combination, including a 4-1 mark in 2022. The team has worn that combination in each of its four road contests over the past two postseasons, collecting a 3-1 record.

Cincinnati also boasts a 3-0 record since 2021 when wearing its orange jersey, which is the team's designated alternate jersey. The Bengals last season donned the orange once, in a 27-24 home win over Kansas City in Week 13.

NFL rules allow teams to wear designated alternate jerseys and/or color rush (CR) uniforms and/or throwback uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. In 2022, with the league's approval for the use of alternate helmets, Cincinnati introduced a new helmet branded as the "White Bengal," featuring a white base coat and the team's iconic black stripes. The Bengals wore the helmet twice last season, in a Week 4 home win over Miami and a Week 11 road victory at Pittsburgh. The team announced the "White Bengal" look will return this season in the Week 3 Monday Night Football matchup against the L.A. Rams on Sept. 25.

Here are the Bengals' records in every possible uniform combination (regular season plus postseason):

* — The league permitted teams to create alternate helmets for the 2022 season. However, teams were required to wear those alternate helmets only with throwback uniforms or color rush uniforms that season, so the Bengals donned their new alternate white helmet with their color rush uniform, which had not been worn since '20, prior to the '21 uniform redesign.

 — NFL rules allow teams to wear designated alternate jerseys and/or color rush (CR) uniforms and/or throwback uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. Orange is the Bengals' designated alternate jersey. The Bengals do not have a throwback uniform.

Bengals career records watch: As the 2023 campaign approaches, here is a look at potential upcoming movement on the Bengals' career records list (regular season):

- K Evan McPherson needs 13 FG attempts to reach 75 in his career, which would qualify him for the Bengals' all-time FG percentage record. McPherson enters his third pro season with an 83.9 career percentage (52 made/62 att.). There are two qualifying former Bengals with higher career FG percentages — Shayne Graham (86.76 percent; 177/202) and Randy Bullock (84.91 percent; 90/106).

THE HEAD COACHES

Zac Taylor was named the 10th head coach in Bengals history on Feb. 4, 2019. The 2023 season is his fifth in the position.

In 2022, Taylor led Cincinnati to a second consecutive AFC North Division title and a repeat appearance in the AFC Championship. The Bengals tied a team record for regular-season wins (12) and consecutive wins (eight), and with a pair of playoff victories in January, Taylor became one of just 13 head coaches in NFL history with five wins in their first six career postseason games. He once again oversaw a dynamic offense that ranked in the top 10 leaguewide in scoring (seventh, 26.1 points per game), total yards (eighth, 360.5), and passing yards (fifth, 265.0).

The Bengals also boasted a versatile defense that held opposing passers to a league-low 58.9 completion percentage while also ranking sixth in points allowed (20.1 per game) and seventh in rushing yards allowed (106.6).

In 2021, Taylor guided the Bengals to their first division championship since '15, before winning three postseason games to claim the AFC crown and a berth in Super Bowl LVI. QB Joe Burrow, playing in his first full season in Taylor's system, was named the NFL's Comeback Player of the Year after leading the league in completion percentage (70.4), while first-round draft pick WR Ja'Marr Chase totaled the most receiving yards by a rookie in the Super Bowl era (1455) en route to Offensive Rookie of the Year honors.

In the postseason, Taylor led the Bengals to their first playoff win in 31 years, a home Wild Card victory over Las Vegas, before the team went on the road to defeat the AFC's top two seeds, Tennessee and Kansas City.

In 2020, Taylor helped the Bengals navigate the league's COVID-19 pandemic protocols which included no in-person offseason program. Still, he guided a rookie Burrow to notable production that included the-most ever completions by a QB through their first 10 games (264) and the fifth-most passing yards (2688).

In 2019, his first season as head coach, Taylor led Cincinnati to second-half turnarounds on both offense and defense. Offensively, the Bengals' per-game rushing average jumped 70.6 yards from the first half of the season (59.5) to the second (130.1), while they allowed 10 fewer sacks (29 to 19). Defensively, Cincinnati notched 11 more sacks in the second half of the season compared to the first, and allowed 84.1 fewer yards per game.

Taylor came to Cincinnati after two seasons (2017-18) with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant wide receivers coach in '17 and quarterbacks coach in '18. In 2018, he helped guide QB Jared Goff to career highs in every major passing category as the Rams won the NFC West and advanced to Super Bowl LIII.

Taylor had a one-year stint at the University of Cincinnati in 2016, serving as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach under head coach Tommy Tuberville.

Taylor broke into NFL coaching in 2012 as assistant quarterbacks coach for the Miami Dolphins. He was elevated to quarterbacks coach from 2013-15, and spent the final five games of '15 as interim offensive coordinator and primary play-caller.

Taylor's coaching career began at Texas A&M University, where he served as offensive graduate assistant and tight ends coach under head coach Mike Sherman from 2008-11. The Aggies played in three bowl games during Taylor's time in College Station.

As a player, Taylor began his college career at Wake Forest (2002-03) before transferring to Butler County Community College in Kansas ('04) and then playing his final two seasons ('05-06) at the University of Nebraska. He set numerous program records, totaling 5850 passing yards and 45 TDs. He was named the Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year as a senior in 2006 after passing for 3197 yards and leading the Cornhuskers to a 9-3 record, an appearance in the Big 12 Championship Game and a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017.

Taylor joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but was waived prior to the start of training camp and never saw NFL action.

Later that year, he joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League, where he spent one season (did not play).

His father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at the University of Oklahoma, playing under Sooners head coach Barry Switzer from 1976-79. Sherwood Taylor later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State University. Taylor's younger brother, Press, played quarterback at Marshall University and currently is the offensive coordinator for the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Taylor was born in Norman, Okla., on May 10, 1983. After attending Norman High School, he earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from the University of Nebraska in 2006. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children — Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah Taylor is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman.

Matt LaFleur was named the 15th head coach in Packers history on Jan. 8, 2019. He is entering his fifth season as Green Bay's head coach and his 15th season in the NFL. He has led the Packers to 47 regular-season wins, the second most in NFL history by a coach in his first four seasons (behind George Seifert, 52 from 1989-92). He has guided Green Bay to a 27-6 regular-season record at home (.818), tops in the NFL since 2019.

From 2019-21, LaFleur became the first coach in league history to win 13-plus games in three straight seasons while guiding the Packers to three consecutive NFC North crowns and the most wins (39) in the league. In 2020, he helped the Packers rank No. 1 in the NFL in scoring (509), touchdowns (66) and giveaways (franchise-record 11). He led Green Bay to a 13-3 record in his first season in '19, the biggest one-year win improvement in team history (plus-seven).

LaFleur served as an offensive coordinator for two seasons (L.A. Rams, 2017; Tennessee Titans, '18) and coached quarterbacks for two seasons with the Atlanta Falcons ('15-16) and four seasons with the Washington Redskins ('10-13). He got his start in the NFL coaching ranks as an offensive assistant with the Houston Texans (2008-09).

LaFleur has been a part of three staffs that have helped their teams lead the NFL in scoring (2016 Falcons, '17 Rams, '20 Packers). In Atlanta, he tutored QB Matt Ryan, who posted a league-high 117.1 passer rating in 2016 on his way to being named NFL Most Valuable Player and Offensive Player of the Year by The Associated Press. With Washington in 2012, LaFleur coached QB Robert Griffin III, who became the first QB in team history to win AP Offensive Rookie of the Year.

LaFleur played QB at Saginaw Valley State (2000-02), where he guided the Cardinals to three straight NCAA Division II playoff appearances and earned second-team All-Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference honors in all three seasons. He ranks No. 3 in school history in passing yards (7,699) completions (560) and passing TDs (67).

LaFleur played in the National Indoor Football League for the Omaha Beef in 2003 and the Billings Outlaws in '04. He began his coaching career as an offensive assistant at Saginaw Valley State in 2003 before working as a graduate assistant at Central Michigan in 2004-05. He also coached QBs/WRs at Northern Michigan in 2006, served as the offensive coordinator at Ashland (Ohio) University in '07, and coached quarterbacks at Notre Dame in '14.

LaFleur was born in Mount Pleasant, Mich. on Nov. 3, 1979. He and his wife, BreAnne, have two sons, Luke and Ty. His younger brother, Mike, is the offensive coordinator for the L.A. Rams. Their father, Dennis, coached 22 seasons (1976-97) on the staff at Central Michigan.

Taylor vs. Packers: The Packers lead the series 1-0, by virtue of a 25-22 overtime victory in 2019 at Cincinnati.

Taylor vs. LaFleur: LaFleur leads, 1-0.

LaFleur vs. Bengals: LaFleur leads, 1-0.

Ken Riley enters Hall of Fame: Bengals legend Ken Riley, the most productive CB in team history, was officially inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on Aug. 5. He joined OT Anthony Munoz as the former Bengals players immortalized in Canton, Ohio.

The honor came posthumously for Riley, who passed away in 2020 at the age of 72. Riley's wife, Barbara, received the gold jacket on his behalf and revealed the bust alongside his son, Ken Riley II, who spoke at the enshrinement ceremony.

"Dad is just getting inducted today, but his whole life he was a Hall of Famer on and off the field," Ken Riley II said.

Riley spent 15 seasons (1969-83) with the Bengals, playing in 207 games. His 65 career INTs constitute the most dominant lead in any major statistical category of the team's record book, nearly doubling the second-place total of 33. At the time of Riley's retirement, that total of 65 INTs was the fourth-most in NFL history, and it still stands tied for fifth-most. He was a member of five Bengals teams that reached the postseason, including the 1981 squad, which he helped lead to Super Bowl XVI.

Following his retirement, Riley spent two seasons as an assistant coach for the Green Bay Packers before taking over as head coach at his alma mater, Florida A&M University. He led the Rattlers' football program from 1986-93, then served as the school's athletic director from '94-2004. Riley was inducted into the FAMU Athletics Hall of Fame in 1982, the Black College Football Hall of Fame in 2015, and the Bengals Ring of Honor in '21.

Coaching continuity under Taylor: Head coach Zac Taylor returns virtually the entire coaching staff for the 2023 season, including defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo, offensive coordinator Brian Callahan and assistant head coach/special teams coordinator Darrin Simmons.

Anarumo, Callahan and Simmons have all been on staff since Taylor was hired in February 2019.

Simmons is the longest-tenured coach on the Bengals' staff and enters his 21st season with the team in 2023. He has led Cincinnati's special teams units each year since 2003. Defensive quality control coach Sigismondo "Louie" Cioffi returns for his 17th Bengals season, after serving as an assistant coach from 1997-2010 and then rejoining the staff in '21. Senior defensive assistant Mark Duffner, who previously was a Bengals assistant from 1997-2002 before returning in '19, now heads into his 11th season in Cincinnati.

Brad Kragthorpe enters his first season in the role of assistant quarterbacks coach, after spending the previous two years (2021-22) as assistant wide receivers coach. Kragthorpe played QB collegiately at Louisiana State from 2013-15, then returned to LSU in '18 as an offensive analyst in QB Joe Burrow and WR Ja'Marr Chase's first season with the Tigers. He joined the Cincinnati staff as an offensive assistant in 2019.

Recapping memorable 2022 season: Coming off a postseason run to Super Bowl LVI the previous season, the Bengals entered the 2022 campaign with high aspirations. Cincinnati, fueled by one of the NFL's most balanced and talented rosters, put together another historic season that included a second straight AFC North Division title and a repeat appearance in the AFC Championship.

Cincinnati finished the regular season 12-4, tying for the most wins in a season in team history. After a Week 8 loss at Cleveland left the team 4-4 heading into November, it proceeded to tie another franchise record with eight consecutive victories, five of which came against teams that qualified for the playoffs the previous year. The Bengals claimed the AFC North crown prior to the regular-season finale, then went on to defeat Baltimore in the Wild Card Playoff and Buffalo in the Divisional Playoff. Cincinnati once again traveled to Kansas City to face the Chiefs in the AFC Championship, but this time came up short in a 23-20 loss to end the season.

The Bengals' offense was once again headlined by QB Joe Burrow, who in his third pro season further established himself as one of the league's elite signal callers. Burrow passed for 35 TDs, eclipsing his own team record set in 2021, while also ranking fifth in the NFL in both completions (414, team record) and passing yards (4475). He was selected to the Pro Bowl alongside his top target, second-year WR Ja'Marr Chase. Chase led the Bengals in receptions (87), receiving yards (1046) and receiving TDs (nine) during the regular season, despite missing four games due to a hip injury. The 2021 AP Offensive Rookie of the Year joined former WR A.J. Green as the only players in team history with consecutive 1000-yard receiving seasons to begin their career. With Chase out of the lineup for Weeks 8-12, fellow WR Tee Higgins was relied on as the team's No. 1 receiving option and finished the year with 74 catches for 1029 yards and seven TDs.

Defensively, Cincinnati allowed just 20.1 points per game, the sixth-lowest average in the NFL, while it held opposing QBs to a league-low 58.9 completion percentage. The Bengals' defense boasted playmakers on all three levels, led by a line that spearheaded the NFL's seventh-ranked run defense (106.6). DE Trey Hendrickson had a team-leading eight sacks and three FFs to earn his second straight Pro Bowl nod. At LB, Logan Wilson and Germaine Pratt each set a career high in total tackles with 123 and 99, respectively, while also combining for 3.5 sacks and three INTs.

Cincinnati's postseason began with a 24-17 home win over Baltimore that notably produced one of the most iconic plays in Bengals history. With the score tied 17-17 early in the fourth quarter and Baltimore possessing the ball at the Cincinnati one-yard line, Ravens QB Tyler Huntley attempted to reach it over a pile of linemen, but was met at the summit by Logan Wilson, who knocked it out of his hands and into the waiting arms of DE Sam Hubbard. Hubbard ran 98 yards to the opposite end zone, evading Ravens TE Mark Andrews in the process, to score what ended up being the game-deciding TD. It was the longest fumble return for a TD in NFL postseason history, and the longest score of any kind in Bengals postseason history.

The following week in a snowy setting at Buffalo's Highmark Stadium, the Bengals jumped out to a 14-0 lead and never looked back, dominating both lines of scrimmage to cruise to a 27-10 victory. Burrow completed each of his first nine pass attempts to lead two straight TD drives, and Cincinnati finished with 412 offensive net yards (172 rushing). Defensively, it held Buffalo to just 64 rushing yards and 10 points, the second-fewest allowed in a game in Bengals postseason history. Cincinnati became the fourth team in NFL history to win both a home and road playoff game in back-to-back seasons.

Several single-season and single-game Bengals records fell during the 2022 regular season. Full details on team individual records entering the 2023 season can be found on page 174 of the '23 Bengals Media Guide. Some of the notable individual records that were set last season include:

QB JOE BURROW

- Completed 414 passes. The previous record was 373, by QB Carson Palmer in 2007.
- Had 606 pass attempts. The previous record was 586, by Palmer in 2010 and QB Andy Dalton in '13.
- Had 35 TD passes. The previous record was 34, by Burrow in 2021.
- Completed 40 passes (Dec. 24 at New England), tying a single-game record set by QB Ken Anderson in 1982.

HB JOE MIXON

- Scored five total TDs (Nov. 6 vs. Carolina). The previous single-game record was four, by FB Larry Kinnebrew (1984), HB Corey Dillon ('97) and WR Marvin Jones (2013).
- Scored four rushing TDs (Nov. 6 vs. Carolina), tying a single-game record set by Dillon in 1997.

K EVAN MCPHERSON

- Kicked a 59-yard FG (Sept. 11 vs. Pittsburgh). The previous record was 58 yards, by McPherson in 2021.

2023 schedule notes: In addition to their six games against fellow AFC North Division teams, the Bengals and the rest of the AFC North will play against all teams in the AFC South and NFC West divisions.

Cincinnati will also play two games — at home against Buffalo and on the road against Kansas City — that were determined by 2022 standings. As first-place finishers in the AFC North, the Bengals are matched up against the first-place teams from the AFC East (Buffalo) and AFC West (Kansas City).

The NFL in 2021 added a 17th game to the schedule, and in '23 that will be a Week 15 home contest against Minnesota. The additional game each year features an interconference matchup, and is based on the prior year's standings on a rotating four-year cycle. These contests match a first-place team from one division with a first-place team in an opposite-conference division that the team is not scheduled to play that season. The second, third and fourth-place teams in each division are matched in the same way. The home conference for this game rotates each season, with the AFC teams hosting the game in 2023.

Here is the list of Cincinnati's opponents for 2023, ordered by the date of the game:

- HOME: Baltimore, L.A. Rams, Seattle, Buffalo, Houston, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, Minnesota and Cleveland.
- AWAY: Cleveland, Tennessee, Arizona, San Francisco, Baltimore, Jacksonville, Pittsburgh and Kansas City.

Back-to-back division champs: The Bengals captured the AFC North Division title in 2022 for the second consecutive season, marking the first time in franchise history that Cincinnati won a division in back-to-back years. The 2022 division title was the team's 11th all-time.

While some databases list the Bengals as repeat division winners in 1981 and '82, the '82 postseason featured a special 16-team format (dubbed the "Super Bowl Tournament") that was implemented by the NFL, as the regular season was reduced to nine games due to a players' strike. Eight teams from each conference were seeded 1-8 based on their regular-season records, so despite the Bengals boasting the top record in the AFC Central, they went in as the conference's No. 3 seed and were not recognized as division champions.

Bengals net three Pro Bowlers: QB Joe Burrow, WR Ja'Marr Chase and DE Trey Hendrickson were all voted to the AFC Team for the 2023 Pro Bowl Games. It was the first Pro Bowl nod of Burrow's career, while Chase and Hendrickson both received their second after being selected last season.

Burrow became the sixth QB in Bengals history to be voted to the Pro Bowl, joining Ken Anderson (1975-76, '81-82), Boomer Esiason ('86, '88-89), Jeff Blake ('95), Carson Palmer (2005-06) and Andy Dalton ('11, '14, '16). The former No. 1 overall draft pick out of Louisiana State finished the 2022 regular season tied for second in the NFL in passing TDs (35), fifth in passing yards (4475) and sixth in passer rating (100.8). He surpassed multiple career milestones, including 11,000 passing yards, 75 passing TDs and 1000 pass completions. Burrow has also thrown at least one TD pass in each of his last 23 regular-season games (dating back to Week 9 of 2021 season), the longest active streak in the NFL and longest streak in Bengals history.

Chase in 2022 led Cincinnati in receptions (87), receiving yards (1046) and receiving TDs (nine), despite missing four games due to a hip injury. In Week 14, he joined Pro Football Hall of Famer Randy Moss as the only players in NFL history with 2000 receiving yards and 20 TD catches under the age of 23. Chase became the seventh player in Bengals history to be voted to the Pro Bowl in each of his first two seasons.

Hendrickson, who concluded his second Bengals season in 2022 after signing as an unrestricted free agent in '21, led Cincinnati in sacks (eight) and was tied for second in TFLs (six). He has 35.5 sacks since the start of the 2020 season, the fourth-most in the NFL in that span.

Chase and Hendrickson both participated in the 2023 Pro Bowl Games, which were held Sunday, Feb. 5 at Allegiant Stadium in Las Vegas.

Burrow's NFL journey: After being selected No. 1 overall by the Bengals in the 2020 NFL Draft, former Heisman Trophy winner Joe Burrow had one of the most productive starts to a career by a QB in league history, as his 264 completions still count as the most ever by an NFL passer through their first 10 career games, while his 404 pass attempts are the second-most in that same category and his 2588 passing yards are fifth.

In Week 11 of his rookie year at Washington, Burrow suffered a season-ending left knee injury, halting a campaign that was on pace to shatter several NFL rookie passing records. He embarked on a rehab process that lasted over eight months and received clearance to participate in training camp in 2021.

Shortly after his injury in 2020, Burrow vowed publicly that he would start Cincinnati's '21 season opener. On Sept. 12 vs. Minnesota, not only did he make good on that promise, but he posted then-career highs in passer rating (128.8), completion percentage (74.1) and yards per attempt (9.67) in a Bengals OT win.

Burrow in 2021 completed a league-leading 70.4 percent of his passes (366 of 520) for 4611 yards and 34 TDs en route to being named the AP Comeback Player of the Year. His passing yardage and passer rating stand as single-season team records. In the postseason, he threw for 1105 yards and five TDs in four games, becoming the first No. 1 overall draft pick in NFL history to lead his team to a conference championship game (let alone a Super Bowl berth) in either of their first two seasons.

On the day before the first official training camp practice of 2022, Burrow was forced to undergo surgery to remove his appendix. He remained involved in team meetings and attended practices on a golf cart during a three-week recovery process, before returning to the field in mid-August. He started the regular-season opener and went on to set Bengals single-season records for completions (414, fifth in NFL) and TD passes (35, tied for second). Burrow then completed 66.1 percent of his passes (72 of 109) for 721 yards and four TDs in three postseason games, guiding the Bengals to the AFC Championship once again. He became the first player drafted No. 1 overall to win five playoff games within his first three seasons.

The Athens, Ohio, native again faces adversity in training camp this season as he works his way back from a calf strain. Burrow sustained the injury on the second day of camp, and head coach Zac Taylor on July 28 told reporters his recovery would take "several weeks."

Hitting the mark: QB Joe Burrow eclipsed 1500 career passing attempts in the 2022 regular-season finale against Baltimore, which qualified him for the career completion percentage record in the NFL Record & Fact Book. With a 68.2 completion percentage, Burrow enters his fourth season as the NFL's all-time leader in the category. Former San Diego Chargers/New Orleans Saints QB Drew Brees ranks second on the list with a 67.7 career completion percentage.

After leading the league in completion percentage in 2021 (70.4; minimum 14 pass attempts per game), Burrow followed up by completing 68.3 percent of his passes in the '22 regular season, good for the second-highest rate in the league. He did so while setting single-season team records for total attempts (606) and completions (414) — both ranked fifth in the NFL.

In Week 16 at New England, Burrow surpassed 1000 career completions in what was just his 41st game. That tied him with former Detroit QB Matthew Stafford as the second-fastest player in NFL history to reach 1000 completions.

With numerous pass-catching options missing time due to injury during the 2022 campaign, Burrow found a way to spread the ball around the entire offense, as six Bengals (three WRs, two HBs and one TE) finished the year with 35 or more receptions. Burrow had 13 games in which he completed a pass to seven or more players.

Here is a look at the fastest QBs in NFL history — in terms of games played — to reach 1000 completions.

PLAYER	TEAM	GAMES TO REACH 1000
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	38
Matthew Stafford	Detroit Lions	41
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	41
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	42
Carson Wentz	Philadelphia Eagles	44
Kyler Murray	Arizona Cardinals	44

Burrow masters the deep ball: A staple of Cincinnati's offense under head coach Zac Taylor has been a willingness to take shots down the field, and no QB has cashed in on more big plays than Joe Burrow. Burrow has 17 career TD passes of 40 or more yards, three more than any NFL QB since he entered the league in 2020.

Burrow also has a league-leading 12 TD passes of 50 or more yards since 2020, which tied with Pro Football Hall of Famers Dan Marino and Fran Tarkenton for the most by any player in NFL history in his first three seasons.

Six of Burrow's 40-plus yard TD passes came during Weeks 3-8 of the 2022 campaign. In Week 3 at the N.Y. Jets, he hit WR Tyler Boyd for a 56-yard TD on the final play of the first quarter. The following game against Miami, Burrow launched a pinpoint pass down the left sideline that was grabbed by WR Tee Higgins and taken in for a 59-yard score. He threw the game-winning TD pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase in Week 6 at New Orleans, a 60-yard catch and run that gave the Bengals their first lead with 1:57 left. In Week 7 vs. Atlanta, Burrow aired out a 60-yard TD to Boyd just two minutes into the first quarter, and in the second quarter found Chase for a 41-yard score. He connected with Higgins again for a 41-yard TD in the fourth quarter of Week 8 at Cleveland.

Burrow additionally has an NFL-best 23 TD passes of 30 or more yards since the start of the 2021 regular season. The next closest player in that category is former Las Vegas QB Derek Carr (16).

Here is a look at the QBs with the most TD passes of 40 or more yards since the start of the 2020 season:

PLAYER	TEAM	40-YARD TDs
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	17
Patrick Mahomes	Kansas City Chiefs	14
Russell Wilson	Seattle Seahawks/Denver Broncos	14
Derek Carr	Las Vegas Raiders	13
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	12
Matthew Stafford	Detroit Lions/L.A. Rams	12

Three-headed monster at WR: The Bengals' offense has featured arguably the top receiving trio in the NFL over the past two seasons, consisting of WRs Tyler Boyd, Ja'Marr Chase and Tee Higgins.

Though each player missed substantial action during the 2022 regular season due to injuries, Cincinnati was one of two teams (L.A. Chargers) with three WRs that recorded 700 or more receiving yards. The Bengals were also the only team with three players that each had a game with 130-plus receiving yards. Boyd, Chase and Higgins all averaged at least 12 yards per reception and had at least one TD catch of 50-plus yards.

In the Week 7 win over Atlanta, they became the first Bengals trio to each log 90 or more receiving yards since Dec. 30, 2001 (T.J. Houshmandzadeh, Darnay Scott and Peter Warrick vs. Pittsburgh). The Week 15 victory at Tampa Bay marked the first time all three players had a TD catch in the same game, with each coming in the second half to help Cincinnati erase a 17-point deficit.

Even with the time missed due to injuries, along with the team officially playing just 16 games, they combined for 2837 receiving yards during the regular season. That total was the fifth-most among any trio of pass catchers in the NFL. Their 3374 combined receiving yards in the 2021 regular season led all trios, with Chase posting a Bengals-record 1455, Higgins going for 1091 and Boyd netting 828.

Chase (1046 yards) and Higgins (1029) both notched 1000 receiving yards for the second straight season, marking the fourth time the Bengals had multiple 1000-yard receivers — WRs Chad Johnson and T.J. Houshmandzadeh also did it twice, in 2006 and '07. In 2021, Chase (21 years old) and Higgins (22) became the first duo in league history to log 1000 receiving yards in the same season before the age of 23.

Boyd, Chase and Higgins have combined for 20 games of 100 or more receiving yards since the start of the 2021 regular season, tied with Minnesota for the most such games by any trio in the NFL.

Chasing history: WR Ja'Marr Chase led the Bengals in receptions (87), receiving yards (1046) and receiving TDs (nine) during the 2022 regular season, despite missing four games from Weeks 8-12 due to a hip injury. The 2021 AP Offensive Rookie of the Year joined A.J. Green (2011-12) as the only players in team history with consecutive 1000-yard receiving seasons to begin their career.

Chase finished the 2022 campaign tied for ninth in the NFL in receiving TDs, 14th in receptions and 17th in receiving yards. He earned his second straight Pro Bowl honor and eclipsed two career milestones — 2000 receiving yards and 20 receiving TDs. His 2000th yard came in just his 24th career game (Week 7 vs. Atlanta), making Chase tied for the fourth-fastest player in NFL history to hit the 2K mark. He recorded his 20th TD catch in Week 14 vs. Cleveland, in what was his 26th game — that tied him as the fourth-fastest since 1970 to reach that number. Chase (22 years old) joined Pro Football Hall of Famer Randy Moss as the only players under the age of 23 with 2000 receiving yards and 20 TD receptions in league history.

Uno heats up in postseason: WR Ja'Marr Chase has a league-leading 588 receiving yards over the past two postseasons, while his 45 receptions are second-most behind Kansas City TE Travis Kelce (50).

Chase in the 2022 postseason caught 20 passes for 220 yards and two TDs, leading the Bengals in each category. He opened with nine catches for 84 yards in the Wild Card Playoff against Baltimore, including a seven-yard TD in the second quarter. It marked his ninth straight game played with at least seven receptions, dating back to Week 5. That tied for the fourth-longest such streak by an NFL player within a single season (including postseason) since 1970. Chase followed that up with five grabs for 61 yards in the Divisional Playoff win at Buffalo, highlighted by a 28-yard catch and run to the end zone that capped off a dominant opening drive.

In the AFC Championship at Kansas City, Chase caught six passes for 75 yards — none more crucial than a 35-yarder on fourth-and-six from the Kansas City 41 on the opening play of the fourth quarter.

Through seven career postseason games, Chase has 45 catches for 588 yards, both the most in Bengals history, while his three receiving TDs are tied with teammate Tee Higgins and former TE Dan Ross for the team's all-time postseason record. He ranked second in the NFL in receptions (25) and receiving yards (368) during the 2021 postseason.

In the win over the Bills, Chase surpassed Randy Moss for the second-most postseason receiving yards by a player in his first two seasons. Former Washington WR Charlie Brown holds the record with 643 yards.

Combining the regular season and postseason, Chase has 3089 career receiving yards, joining him with Moss (3189) and former Louisiana State teammate Justin Jefferson (3016) as the only players in NFL history with at least 3000 receiving yards in their first two years.

Here is a look at the players with the most postseason receiving yards within their first two career seasons in NFL history.

PLAYER	TEAM	RECEIVING YARDS
Charlie Brown	Washington	643
Ja'Marr Chase	Cincinnati	588
Randy Moss	Minnesota	463
T.Y. Hilton	Indianapolis	393

Chase, Boyd pose deep threats: QB Joe Burrow has the NFL's most TD passes of 50 or more yards over the past two seasons, and much of that production can be attributed to WRs Ja'Marr Chase and Tyler Boyd.

Chase has a league-leading six TD receptions of 50-plus yards since 2021, with the most recent coming in Week 6 of the 2022 season. Returning to his hometown of New Orleans to take on the Saints, Chase caught seven passes for 132 yards and two TDs, including a 60-yard catch and run to the end zone with just under two minutes remaining that proved to be the game-winner. It was a memorable encore for Chase at Caesars Superdome, as in his last appearance at the venue he had nine grabs for 221 yards and two TDs to help Louisiana State win the 2019 College Football Playoff National Championship.

Boyd, meanwhile, has four TD catches of 50 or more yards since 2021, the second-most in the NFL behind Chase. Two of those scoring receptions occurred last season, beginning with a 56-yarder on the final play of the first quarter in a Week 3 win at the N.Y. Jets. In Week 7 vs. Atlanta, Burrow and Boyd connected for a 60-yard TD on just the fourth play from scrimmage to give the Bengals an early 7-0 lead.

Here is a look at the players with the most TD catches of 50 or more yards since the start of the 2021 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	TD CATCHES OF 50 OR MORE YARDS
Ja'Marr Chase	Cincinnati Bengals	6
Tyler Boyd	Cincinnati Bengals	4
(six players tied)	—	3

Tee tops 1000 again: Despite missing nearly nine quarters of play throughout the 2022 season due to injuries, WR Tee Higgins managed to record 74 catches for 1029 yards and seven TDs. He is one of five players in Bengals history with multiple 1000-yard receiving seasons within the first three years of his career, alongside WRs Cris Collinsworth (1981, '83), Chad Johnson (2002-03), A.J. Green ('11-13) and Ja'Marr Chase ('21-22). Higgins' 3028 career receiving yards are the second-most by a Bengals player through their first three seasons, trailing only Green (3833).

With Chase out of the lineup due to a hip injury in Weeks 11-12, Higgins was relied on as the team's No. 1 receiver and delivered back-to-back 100-yard performances. He had a season-high nine catches for 148 yards in Week 11 at Pittsburgh, including four for 55 yards during a Bengals TD drive in the second quarter. The 148 yards were the second-most in a game in his career (194 on Dec. 26, 2021 vs. Baltimore). Higgins followed that up with seven grabs for 114 yards and a TD in Week 12 at Tennessee. Three of his receptions went for over 20 yards, highlighted by a contested 27-yard TD that gave Cincinnati a fourth-quarter lead.

Higgins has continued to produce during his brief but impressive postseason career. He ranks second in Bengals postseason history in receptions (31) and receiving yards (457), trailing Chase in both categories, while his three TD catches are tied with Chase and former TE Dan Ross for the team's postseason record. With two TDs in Super Bowl LVI, he also joined Ross as the only players in team history with multiple TDs in a postseason game.

Here's a look at the most receiving yards in a players' first three career seasons in Bengals history (regular season):

PLAYER	FIRST THREE SEASONS	RECEIVING YARDS
A.J. Green	2011-13	3833
Tee Higgins	2020-22	3028
Chad Johnson	2001-03	2850
Cris Collinsworth	1981-83	2839
Darnay Scott	1994-96	2520

Mixon's historic day: HB Joe Mixon had perhaps his best career performance in Week 9 of the 2022 season against Carolina, as he rushed for 153 yards on 22 carries (7.0 average) with four TDs, while catching four passes for 58 yards and a TD. His five total TDs and 30 points accounted for each set a Bengals single-game record, while his four rushing scores tied HB Corey Dillon (Dec. 4, 1997) for the team's single-game mark. Mixon's 211 yards from scrimmage were also a career high.

Mixon became the sixth player in the Super Bowl era with at least 200 scrimmage yards and five total TDs in a game. He also joined Shaun Alexander (Sept. 29, 2002) and Jonathan Taylor (Nov. 21, 2021) as one of three players in the Super Bowl era with at least four rushing TDs and one receiving TD in a game. Mixon's five total TDs and four rushing TDs were both the most by any player in a game during the 2022 regular season.

In just the first half alone, Mixon had 15 rushing attempts for 113 yards and three TDs, becoming the second player in Bengals history with three rushing scores in a single half (Dillon on Dec. 4, 1997). It also marked Mixon's 14th career game with 100 or more rushing yards, which tied FB Pete Johnson for the fifth-most such games in team history. His efforts in Week 9 were rewarded with his third career AFC Offensive Player of the Week recognition.

Here are the most total TDs scored by Bengals players in single games:

PLAYER	DATE	OPPONENT	TOTAL TDs
Joe Mixon	Nov. 6, 2022	Carolina Panthers	5
Larry Kinnebrew	Oct. 28, 1984	Houston Oilers	4
Corey Dillon	Dec. 4, 1997	Tennessee Oilers	4
Marvin Jones	Oct. 27, 2013	N.Y. Jets	4

Mixon hits 5K: HB Joe Mixon surpassed 5000 career rushing yards early in his historic performance against Carolina in Week 9 of the 2022 season. He became the fifth player in team history to reach the 5000-yard milestone, and the first since HB Rudi Johnson in 2006. A 2017 second-round draft pick of the Bengals, Mixon has logged over 1000 rushing yards in three of his six full seasons (missed 10 games in '20 due to injury).

Mixon enters 2023 as one of 10 active NFL players with 5000 or more career rushing yards. Also a threat as a pass catcher out of the backfield, he topped 100 scrimmage yards four times last season, including in three of his final six games played. In the AFC Divisional Playoff win at Buffalo, he had 20 carries for 105 yards (5.3 average), the third-most in a postseason game in Bengals history.

Here is a look at Cincinnati's all-time leaders in rushing yards while playing for the Bengals:

PLAYER	YEARS PLAYED	RUSHING YARDS
Corey Dillon	1997-2003	8061
James Brooks	1984-91	6447
Rudi Johnson	2001-07	5742
Pete Johnson	1977-83	5421
Joe Mixon	2017-present	5378

Defense ready at the start ... : The Bengals enter the 2023 season carrying a streak of 13 consecutive games (including postseason) without allowing a TD in the first quarter of play. Cincinnati closed the 2022 regular season with zero first-quarter TDs given up in each of its final 10 contests, then continued to hold opponents out of the end zone in all three first quarters during the postseason. The 13 consecutive games without yielding a first-quarter TD are the most by an NFL team since New England went 14 straight in 2016.

During the streak, the Bengals have allowed just 12 total points (never more than three in an opening quarter), while collecting three INTs and forcing 13 punts. Cincinnati gave up only four first-quarter TDs in the entire 2022 regular season, tied for the second-fewest leaguewide, while its 52 first-quarter points allowed were the fourth-fewest.

... And tightens after the break: The Bengals' defense, which has proven itself among the best in the league at in-game adjustments under coordinator Lou Anarumo, opened the 2022 season by going seven straight games without allowing a TD in the second half of play. Cincinnati became the first team to not give up a second-half TD in each of its first seven contests since the 1934 Detroit Lions, who carried their streak to eight games.

The 2022 Bengals were also one of just six teams since 1930 to not allow a second-half TD in seven or more consecutive games at any point in the season. The 1973 Miami Dolphins (seven games) and '97 Kansas City Chiefs (10 games) are the only other teams to accomplish that feat since the '70 NFL/AFL merger.

Despite the Bengals' streak being snapped in Week 8 at Cleveland, they remained one of the top defensive teams coming out of halftime. Cincinnati's 142 points allowed in the second half/OT during the regular season ranked as the fifth-fewest in the NFL, while its 8.9 average points given up were the seventh-fewest.

Hubbard a Day 2 draft steal: While DE Sam Hubbard's 2022 campaign will be remembered primarily for his 98-yard fumble return in the Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore, he put together yet another complete season that further established him as a foundational piece on the Bengals defense.

During the regular season, Hubbard tallied 60 total tackles — his fourth straight year with at least 60 — including a team-leading 11 TFLs and 6.5 sacks. He also recorded three PDs and a forced fumble. A third-round pick (77th overall) of the Bengals in 2018, Hubbard ranks second in sacks (30.5) among all players from the '18 rookie class (draft picks and college free agents).

Players' listed positions vary by media outlet (e.g. whether they're classified as a LB or DE), but according to NFL.com's draft record, Hubbard was the 13th defensive lineman selected in 2018 — five DEs and seven DTs came off the board before him. According to NFL.com, there were a total of 40 defensive linemen (20 DEs, 20 DTs) selected in the 2018 draft, along with 32 LBs and one player with his position listed as “edge.”

Hubbard has been the Bengals’ starting RDE since 2019, and during the ‘21 regular season, his 7.5 sacks were second on the team. He has four career postseason sacks, tied with former DE Jason Buck for the most in Bengals history.

Hubbard signed a contract extension with the Bengals in July 2021 that keeps him in Cincinnati through the end of the ‘25 season.

Here’s a look at the career sack leaders from the rookie class of 2018:

PLAYER/POSITION	TEAM	PICK (ROUND)	SACKS
Harold Landry III/EDGE	Tennessee	No. 41 (2nd)	31.0
Sam Hubbard/DE	Cincinnati	No. 77 (3rd)	30.5
Bradley Chubb/DE	Denver/Miami	No. 5 (1st)	28.5
Josh Sweat/DE	Philadelphia	No. 130 (4th)	28.5
Marcus Davenport/DE	New Orleans	No. 14 (1st)	21.5

Trey’s torrid pace: DE Trey Hendrickson has led the Bengals in sacks each of the past two seasons since joining the team as an unrestricted free agent in 2021. His elite production was rewarded on July 27, when he signed a one-year contract extension that keeps him in Cincinnati through the 2025 season.

Hendrickson totaled eight sacks during the 2022 regular season, earning his second straight Pro Bowl selection. That came on the heels of a career-high 14 sacks in 2021, Hendrickson’s first season in stripes, that ranked fifth in the NFL and second in Bengals single-season history behind DE Coy Bacon’s 22 in 1976 (Sacks became an official NFL statistic in 1982, however the Bengals tracked the stat back to ‘76 and thus recognize Bacon as the record-holder). Combined with a team-leading 13.5 as a member of the New Orleans Saints in 2020, Hendrickson has 35.5 sacks over the past three seasons — the fourth-most in the league in that span.

Hendrickson’s top performance last season came in a Week 3 win at the N.Y. Jets, when he erupted for 2.5 sacks and two FFs to claim AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors. He became the first Bengals player since at least 2000 with two-plus sacks and two-plus FFs in a game.

Here are the NFL sack leaders since the start of the 2020 regular season:

PLAYER	TEAM	SACKS SINCE 2020
Myles Garrett	Cleveland	44.0
T.J. Watt	Pittsburgh	43.0
Haason Reddick	Arizona/Carolina/Philadelphia	39.5
Trey Hendrickson	New Orleans/Cincinnati	35.5
Nick Bosa	San Francisco	34.0
Matthew Judon	Baltimore/New England	34.0

Wilson, Pratt form elite LB duo: At the center of Cincinnati’s defense is one of the top LB tandems in the NFL consisting of fifth-year Germaine Pratt and fourth-year pro Logan Wilson. Both players set career highs in tackles during the 2022 regular season, with Wilson’s team-high 123 stops marking the most by a Bengal since Vontaze Burfict (171) in ‘13, and Pratt’s 99 ranking second on the team.

As crucial as the duo has been in helping the Bengals rank in the top-seven leaguewide in run defense each of the past two seasons, Pratt and Wilson have been equally as effective when dropping into coverage. Pratt last season set career highs in INTs (two) and PDs (10), while Wilson’s seven career INTs are the most by any NFL LB since he entered the league in 2020. They also combined for 3.5 sacks and two FFs in 2022.

Though both players have served as consistent contributors for the Bengals in regular-season play, they save their most crucial plays for when it matters most. With 17 seconds remaining in the 2021 Wild Card Playoff vs. Las Vegas, Pratt intercepted a pass by QB Derek Carr on fourth down from the Cincinnati nine-yard line to secure the Bengals’ first playoff win in 31 years. The following week in the Divisional Playoff at Tennessee, Wilson picked off QB Ryan Tannehill in the final minute of the fourth quarter to set up a game-winning FG drive.

This past January in the 2022 Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore, both Pratt and Wilson stopped QB Tyler Huntley as he attempted to reach the ball over a pile of linemen for a potential go-ahead Ravens TD in the fourth quarter. Wilson, who was credited with the FF, knocked the ball free, leading to DE Sam Hubbard’s 98-yard fumble return for a TD that proved to be the difference in a 24-17 victory.

Wilson has totaled a league-leading 62 combined tackles over the past two postseasons, while Pratt ranks second in the category with 49 stops. Both players inked contract extensions in 2023, with Pratt locked in with the Bengals through the ‘25 season and Wilson staying put in Cincinnati through ‘27.

Nothing easy in the air: Cincinnati’s defense held opposing passers to a 58.9 completion percentage during the 2022 regular season, the lowest rate in the NFL, while its 17 passing TDs allowed were tied for the third-fewest leaguewide. The Bengals also allowed just one opponent (Tampa Bay in Week 15) to record 300 net passing yards.

Defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo’s unit also allowed just three QBs to post a passer rating of 100 or higher in 2022 (minimum 20 attempts). Prior to Browns QB Jacoby Brissett finishing with a 133.7 rating in Week 8, Cincinnati had gone 11 consecutive games (including postseason) holding opposing QBs below triple digits. The streak dated back to the 2021 Wild Card Playoff against Las Vegas, and also featured six starting QBs being limited to fewer than 20 completions.

Over the past 23 games (2021 postseason, ‘22 regular season and ‘22 postseason), the Bengals have held passers to a 59.8 completion percentage (496 of 830), while collecting 23 INTs to 29 passing TDs allowed.

Mac is money from deep: K Evan McPherson has quickly earned a reputation as one of the NFL’s top long-range kickers. In two pro seasons, he is 14 of 16 on FG attempts of 50 or more yards, good for the fifth-most FGs from that distance since 2021. It is also the most such FGs within a player’s first 30 games in NFL history. What makes it even more impressive is that McPherson’s 14th FG of 50 or more yards, kicked in Week 11 of the 2022 season at Pittsburgh, came in just his 26th career game. McPherson finished the 2022 regular season a perfect five of five on FG attempts of 50-plus yards.

McPherson is already the team’s career leader in 50-yard FGs. It took him just 14 games into his rookie season to reach the top of Cincinnati’s career chart in that category, breaking the previous record of eight. Referred to by fans as “Money Mac,” McPherson made an NFL-best nine FGs of 50 or more yards during the 2021 regular season and fell just one shy of tying the NFL record for most 50-yarders. His nine such FGs were more than double the previous team record for a single season (four, by K Horst Muhlmann in 1970).

McPherson’s team record: K Evan McPherson kicked a Bengals-record 59-yard FG in the 2022 season opener vs. Pittsburgh, breaking the previous record of 58 yards that he hit on Dec. 19, 2021 at Denver.

He grabbed another spot on the team’s all-time chart in Week 4 against Miami, as his 57-yarder in the fourth quarter tied Randy Bullock for the third-longest FG in Bengals history.

Here is a look at the longest made FGs in Bengals history:

PLAYER	DATE	OPPONENT	FG DISTANCE
Evan McPherson	Sept. 11, 2022	vs. Pittsburgh Steelers	59
Evan McPherson	Dec. 19, 2021	at Denver Broncos	58
Randy Bullock	Dec. 22, 2019	at Miami Dolphins	57
Evan McPherson	Sept. 29, 2022	vs. Miami Dolphins	57
Chris Bahr	Sept. 23, 1979	vs. Houston Oilers	55
Mike Nugent	Nov. 25, 2012	vs. Oakland Raiders	55
Randy Bullock	Oct. 18, 2020	at Indianapolis Colts	55

McPherson in the postseason: While K Evan McPherson is off to a historically strong start to his regular-season career, he has found a way to increase that production in the postseason. In 2021, he went a perfect 20-for-20 on placekicks during the team’s four-game run to Super Bowl LVI, making all 14 of his FG attempts and all six of his PATs. No kicker in NFL history had previously been perfect on as many as 11 FGs in a single postseason.

Two of those kicks were game-winners, as he drilled a 52-yard FG as regulation time expired in the Divisional Playoff at Tennessee, then punched Cincinnati’s ticket to the Super Bowl with a 31-yarder in the AFC Championship at Kansas City. McPherson’s 14 FGs tied former Colts K Adam Vinatieri (2006) for the most in a single postseason in NFL history.

He followed up by making all five of his FG attempts in the 2022 postseason, including two in the Divisional Playoff at Buffalo while dealing with snowy conditions. McPherson’s 19 postseason FGs are the most by a player in his first two seasons in NFL history. He is also the second player in league history to begin his postseason career with 19 consecutive FGs without a miss. San Francisco K Robbie Gould, who previously played for Chicago and the N.Y. Giants, holds the NFL record with an active streak of 29 straight postseason FGs.

Through just seven games, McPherson is the Bengals' postseason career leader in points scored (69) and made FGs (19). His 12 made PATs are the second-most in team postseason history, trailing former K Jim Breech (25).

Here is a look at the most made postseason FGs within a player's first two career seasons in NFL history:

PLAYER	TEAM	YEARS	POSTSEASON FGs
Evan McPherson	Cincinnati	2021-22	19
Chris Boswell	Pittsburgh	2015-16	15
Brandon McManus	Denver	2014-15	10
Stephen Gostkowski	New England	2006-07	9

2023 draft class overview: Cincinnati's eight-player draft class in April featured four defensive players, three offensive players and a special teams player. The group played in a combined 356 games during their collegiate careers.

Here's a closer look at the Bengals' 2023 draft class:

- DE Myles Murphy, Clemson (Round 1, Pick 28): A 6-5, 270-pound edge rusher with highly touted athleticism, Murphy recorded 17.5 sacks in 38 career games at Clemson. He was a second-team All-ACC pick as a junior last season, when he tied for the team lead with 6.5 sacks and posted 11 TFLs. Defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo noted Murphy's ability to line up on the outside or interior of the defensive line.

- CB DJ Turner II, Michigan (Round 2, Pick 60): Turner ran the fastest 40-yard dash at this year's NFL Combine, clocking a time of 4.26 seconds. He recorded 20 PDs and three INTs in a four-year career at Michigan (2019-22), earning a pair of All-Big Ten honors (honorable mention in '21, second team in '22). Turner began his Wolverine career seeing limited action, mostly on special teams, before stepping into a starting CB role as a junior in 2021. That year, he lined up alongside Bengals S Dax Hill.

- S Jordan Battle, Alabama (Round 3, Pick 95): Battle was twice named a third-team All-American at Alabama, where he started at S from 2020-22. He showed off his versatility with 251 career tackles as well as six INTs, three of which were returned for a TD. Battle was a team captain for the Crimson Tide last season, and Bengals coaches have raved about his high character since arriving in Cincinnati.

- WR Charlie Jones, Purdue (Round 4, Pick 131): Jones in his lone season at Purdue led the FBS in receptions (110), while ranking second in receiving yards (1361) and fifth in receiving TDs (12), picking up second-team All-America honors. He lined up at all three receiver positions, displaying a flexibility that offensive coordinator Brian Callahan said the Bengals will look to utilize. Jones also will compete to be the Bengals' primary punt returner, as he was named the Big Ten Return Specialist of the Year in 2021 while at the University of Iowa.

- HB Chase Brown, Illinois (Round 5, Pick 163): Brown put together an impressive career at Illinois, becoming the program's first Doak Walker Award finalist (nation's top running back) and third player to record 1000 rushing yards in consecutive seasons (2021-22). He was a second-team All-American last season, when he ranked fourth in the nation in rushing yards (1642) and eclipsed 100 rushing yards in an Illinois-record 10 straight games.

- WR Andrei Iosivas, Princeton (Round 6, Pick 206): Iosivas is the seventh player all-time drafted by the Bengals out of an Ivy League program, and the first since LB Reggie Williams (Dartmouth) and QB Bob Bateman (Brown) in 1976. At 6-3, 205 pounds, he brings athleticism and big-play ability to the Bengals' WR room. Iosivas finished his Princeton career ranked third in program history in TD catches (16) and sixth in receiving yards (1909), despite playing just three seasons. He also was an All-American in the indoor heptathlon as a member of the Princeton men's track and field team in 2022.

- P Brad Robbins, Michigan (Round 6, Pick 217): Robbins will compete for the Bengals' punting job after spending six seasons (2017-22) at Michigan, where he was a three-time All-Big Ten selection. He finished his career with the second-highest punting average (43.0 yards) in program history, and assistant head coach/special teams coordinator Darrin Simmons said Robbins' hang time was a key factor in the Bengals selecting him.

- CB DJ Ivey (Round 7, Pick 246): The Bengals' final draft pick has already impressed during training camp, with head coach Zac Taylor and secondary/cornerbacks coach Charles Burks each noting his strong plays on the ball. Ivey started 32 of 58 games played over a five-year career (2018-22) at the University of Miami (Fla.), netting six INTs and 17 PDs.

Esiason, Johnson to join Bengals Ring of Honor: The Bengals announced that former QB Boomer Esiason and WR Chad Johnson will be inducted into the team's Ring of Honor at halftime of the Week 3 Monday Night Football game against the L.A. Rams on Sept. 25. They will become the seventh and eighth members of the Bengals Ring of Honor, joining QB Ken Anderson, OT Willie Anderson, team founder/head coach Paul Brown, WR Isaac Curtis, OT Anthony Munoz and CB Ken Riley.

Regarded as one of the greatest locker-room leaders in team history, Esiason played for the Bengals from 1984-92 before returning for a final season in 1997. He earned three Pro Bowl nods (1986, '88-89), and ranks third in Bengals history in both career passing yards (27,149) and TD passes (187). Esiason in 1988 was named NFL MVP while leading the league with a 97.4 passer rating, before steering the Bengals to an AFC title and a berth in Super Bowl XXIII.

Johnson, who was officially known as Chad Ochocinco from 2008-11, earned a reputation as one of the league's most charismatic personalities while also producing at an elite level during his 10 seasons with the Bengals ('01-10). He was selected to six Pro Bowls (2003-07, '09), and remains the team's all-time leader in receptions (751), receiving yards (10,783) and receiving TDs (66).

Bengals president Mike Brown on the 2023 inductees: "Boomer and Chad were both exceptional players. If you look at the statistics, Boomer has a long list of quarterback firsts here. And Chad was a superb athlete who was probably the quickest receiver we have had here. They could have moments when they just carried the team by themselves. Both players are very deserving of this honor."

Established in 2021, the Bengals Ring of Honor recognizes former players, coaches and individuals who have played a significant role in the franchise's storied history and tradition. Inductees are voted in each offseason by Bengals Season Ticket Members.

The Jungle is jammin': The five highest-attended home games (and seven of the top eight) in Bengals history have occurred since the start of the 2022 calendar year. The Bengals beat the Miami Dolphins in Week 4 of the 2022 season in front of a paid attendance of 67,260 at Paycor Stadium, marking the largest crowd for a sporting event in Cincinnati history. That figure surpassed the previous record of 66,277 set in the 2021 Wild Card Playoff victory over the Las Vegas Raiders on Jan. 15. The 2022 Wild Card Playoff win over Baltimore had an attendance of 66,399, which now stands as the second largest in team history.

The attendance figure for Cincinnati's Week 13 win against Kansas City was 66,243 (fourth largest), while previous 2022 home contests against Cleveland (66,222), Carolina (66,160) and Atlanta (66,158) rank fifth, seventh and eighth all-time, respectively. Adding in figures of 65,841 for the season opener vs. Pittsburgh, and 65,849 for the Week 18 matchup vs. Baltimore, the Bengals welcomed an attendance of over 65,000 in seven consecutive regular-season home games for the first time since 2007. That year, Cincinnati hosted over 65,000 in each of its eight regular-season home contests.

Here is a look at the largest home crowds in Bengals franchise history:

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: Fourth-year pro Joe Burrow has put together one of the most promising starts to a career by a QB in NFL history. The No. 1 overall draft pick in 2020 has already reached several career milestones including 1000 completions, 11,000 passing yards and 75 TD passes. He also enters this season with the highest career completion percentage in league history at 68.2 (minimum 1500 passing attempts). Burrow holds Bengals single-season records for passing attempts (606; '22), completions (414; '22), passing yards (4611; '21), TD passes (35; '22), passer rating (108.3; '21) and 300-yard passing games (six; '21). He earned his first career Pro Bowl nod and was an MVP candidate in 2022, when he tied for second in the NFL in TD passes, ranked fifth in completions, fifth in passing yards (4475) and sixth in passer rating (100.8), despite playing in just 16 games. Burrow was named the NFL's Comeback Player of the Year in 2021, when he led the league in completion percentage (70.4) and helped steer the Bengals to an AFC title coming off a knee injury that ended his rookie season after 10 games. He sustained a calf strain on the second day of training camp practices, which head coach Zac Taylor said would require "several weeks" of recovery. Splitting the reps at QB in place of Burrow has been ninth-year veteran Trevor Siemian and first-year player Jake Browning. Siemian, who enters his first Bengals season after joining the team as an unrestricted free agent in May, has played in 35 career games with 30 starts. He was originally a seventh-round pick of Denver in 2015 and has spent time with the Broncos ('15-17), Minnesota ('18), N.Y. Jets ('19), Tennessee ('20), New Orleans ('20-21) and Chicago ('22). Siemian has passed for 7027 yards and 42 TDs for an 81.1 career rating. His most productive season was with the Broncos in 2016, when he started 14 games and completed 289 of 486 passes (59.5 percent) for 3401 yards and 18 TDs with 10 INTs. He was thrust into the starting role for the Saints midway through the 2021 campaign, when he started four games and had an 11/3 TD-INT ratio. Browning has spent the past two seasons on Cincinnati's practice squad, after joining the Bengals shortly before the start of the 2021 season. He originally was a college free agent signee of Minnesota in 2019, and was on the Vikings' practice squad during the '19 and '20 campaigns. Browning received the majority of snaps during the 2022 preseason, completing 42 of 64 passes for 452 yards and one TD. He was a four-year starter (2015-18) at the University of Washington, where he led the Huskies to the College Football Playoff in '16 and finished his career with numerous school records. The most recent addition to the Bengals' roster is second-year QB Reid Sinnett, who signed with Cincinnati as a free agent on July 30. Sinnett brings a solid frame to the QB room at 6-4, 225 pounds, and most recently played for the San Antonio Brahmas of the XFL this past spring. He played in one XFL game, completing 13 of 19 passes for 97 yards, one TD and one INT, before missing the remainder of the season due to an injury. Sinnett has spent time on Tampa Bay and Miami's practice squads, and in 2021 he was on Philadelphia's active roster for 10 games but never saw action.

Running backs: Leading the Bengals running back room is seventh-year pro Joe Mixon, who ranks fifth in team history in career rushing yards (1314) and fourth in rushing TDs (40). Mixon has surpassed the 1000-yard mark in three of his six seasons, and last year he asserted himself as a reliable pass catching option with career highs in receptions (60) and receiving yards (441). Mixon is hoping to get back to his Pro Bowl level of production in 2021, when his 1205 rushing yards were good for third in the NFL while his 13 rushing TDs ranked fourth. He enters the season as one of 10 active players who have reached the 5000-rushing yard milestone. Next on the running backs depth chart is fifth-year player Trayveon Williams. Williams has served as a reserve HB with 34 games of experience, totaling 238 rushing yards on 47 carries along with eight catches for 64 yards. He stepped in as the team's primary KOR midway through the 2022 season, returning 16 kicks for 356 yards (22.3 average), with a 42-yard long in Week 11 at Pittsburgh. Third-year pro Chris Evans had 17 carries for 77 yards his rookie season, but none last year, and looks to earn a more prominent role in the running back room. He was the primary KOR for the first nine games of the 2022 season, a role he overtook late in '21 and maintained through Cincinnati's run to Super Bowl LVI. Evans had three catches for 38 yards last season, none bigger than his eight-yard TD in the fourth quarter of Week 13 vs. Kansas City that proved to be the game-winner. The Bengals used their fifth-round draft choice this past April to select Chase Brown, a compact runner out of the University of Illinois. Brown had an impressive career with the Illini, totaling 3206 rushing yards on 605 attempts (5.3 average) with 18 TDs. He was a second-team All-American, second-team All-Big Ten selection and the first Doak Walker Award finalist (nation's top running back) in program history in 2022. A pair of college free agent signees round out the running back group in Calvin Tyler Jr. and Jacob Saylor. Tyler spent his final two collegiate seasons at Utah State University (2021-22), after three years ('17-20) at Oregon

State. He became the 11th player in Utah State history to reach 2000 rushing yards, posting 2006 with 14 TDs in 25 games played. Tyler's cousin, Christine Michael, played in 38 NFL games over six seasons (2013-18) as an RB with multiple teams. Saylor's closed out his East Tennessee State University career with back-to-back 1000-yard rushing seasons and was a first-team All-Southern Conference pick in both years. He also showcased strong ability as a pass catcher, with 91 career receptions for 781 yards and three TDs.

Wide receivers: The Bengals' wide receiver room is highlighted by one of the most explosive pass-catching trios in the NFL, with the senior member being eighth-year pro Tyler Boyd. Boyd is considered a premier slot receiver that poses a challenge for nickel CBs with his size (6-2, 203) and route-running ability. He ranks fifth in team history in career receptions (446) for 5333 yards and 29 TDs, and posted consecutive seasons of 1000 or more yards in 2018-19. Boyd's four TD catches of 50-plus yards since the start of the 2021 season rank as the second-most in the league behind teammate and third-year pro Ja'Marr Chase. Chase was the team's first-round draft pick in 2021 and has led the Bengals in receptions, receiving yards and receiving TDs in each of his two seasons. He is a two-time Pro Bowler and last season joined Pro Football Hall of Famer Randy Moss as the only players in NFL history with over 2000 receiving yards and 20 TD catches before turning 23. Chase missed four games in 2022 due to a hip injury, but still managed 87 grabs for 1046 yards and nine TDs. A constant deep threat, he has a league-leading six TD receptions of 50-plus yards since his rookie campaign. Another Cincinnati receiver with a proven history of big plays is fourth-year pro Tee Higgins. Higgins, a second-round pick in 2020, has quickly developed into one of the NFL's top young talents. He has posted over 1000 receiving yards in each of the past two seasons, becoming one of five players in team history to do so within his first three years. Higgins had four 100-yard receiving games in 2022, including two when Chase was out of the lineup in Weeks 11-12 and Higgins was featured as the team's No. 1 receiver. At 6-4, he possesses elite athleticism and the ability to high-point the ball when contested by defensive backs. Fellow fourth-year pro Trenton Irwin emerged as a dependable option in the WR room last season and has already flashed during training camp. Publicly lauded by his coaches and teammates for a strong work ethic, he spent parts of his first three seasons on Cincinnati's practice squad and saw limited game action, but then found a role in 2022 when he played in nine contests with two starts. Despite not making his season debut until Week 8 at Cleveland, he managed to record 15 catches for 231 yards and four TDs. His best performance was on Christmas Eve at New England, when he caught three passes for 45 yards and two TDs, all in the first half to help the Bengals build a 22-0 lead. Listed behind Boyd on the depth chart at slot receiver is sixth-year veteran Trent Taylor. Taylor was signed to the Bengals' practice squad in 2021 after three full seasons (missed '19) in San Francisco. In 20 games with Cincinnati he has caught eight passes for 103 yards, with five for 28 in a four-game stretch last season when Chase was out of the lineup. He also has served as the team's primary punt returner since late in the 2021 season. Kwamie Lassiter II looks to earn an increased role in the offense after spending his 2022 rookie season on the practice squad. Originally a college free agent signee of the Bengals, he played in one game last year (Week 12 at Tennessee) as a standard elevation, but did not record any stats. Lassiter was effective in the 2022 preseason, posting 13 receptions for 138 yards in three games. Fifth-year pro Stanley Morgan, a 2019 college free agent signee of the Bengals, provides depth at receiver and excels particularly as a blocker. Morgan also serves as one of Cincinnati's primary gunners on special teams and saw action at KOR in 2021. Five rookies comprise the rest of the WR room, including the team's fourth-round draft choice Charlie Jones. Jones will battle for time at multiple receiver spots as well as punt return duties. He was a second-team All-American last season at Purdue, when he led the FBS in receptions (110), while ranking second in receiving yards (1361) and fifth in receiving TDs (12). Jones was also the Big Ten Return Specialist of the Year in 2021 while at the University of Iowa, where he returned 37 punts for 285 yards and had 25 KORs for 635 yards (25.4 average) with a TD. Sixth-round pick Andrei Iosivas brings in a 6-3, 205-pound frame and looks to carry over the big-play potential he showed at Princeton. He caught 66 passes for 943 yards and seven TDs as a senior in 2022, earning FCS All-America second team status. Iosivas was also an All-American in the indoor heptathlon in 2022 as a member of the Princeton men's track and field team. Malachi Carter signed with the Bengals as a college free agent in May after a five-year career (2018-22) at Georgia Tech. He finished his career with 1417 receiving yards, the 14th-most in school history, on 99 receptions with 10 TD catches. Mac Hippenhammer, the lightest player on the roster at a listed 177 pounds, comes to Cincinnati from Miami University (Ohio). He spent his final three collegiate seasons (2020-22) with the RedHawks, earning two All-Mid-

American Conference honors, after beginning his career at Penn State. Hippenhammer played at Paycor Stadium in 2022, catching four passes for 62 yards and a TD when Miami faced the University of Cincinnati at the venue on Sept. 17. Shedrick Jackson spent five seasons (2018-22) at Auburn University before signing with the Bengals as a college free agent. He played in 53 games for the Tigers, totaling 874 yards on 66 catches with one TD. Jackson's great uncle is Bo Jackson, the former Heisman Trophy winner at Auburn who played four seasons as an RB for the L.A. Raiders (1987-90) and nine seasons in Major League Baseball ('86-94).

Tight ends: Among Cincinnati's key free agent acquisitions during the 2023 offseason was Irv Smith Jr., who enters his fifth NFL season after four years with Minnesota. Originally a second-round draft pick of the Vikings in 2019, he has played in 37 career games with 15 starts and totaled 91 catches for 858 yards and nine TDs. Smith missed the entire 2021 campaign due to a knee injury and was limited to eight regular-season games in '22 due to an ankle injury, but Bengals head coach Zac Taylor has praised his attention to detail and focus early on in training camp. Next on the depth chart is fellow 2019 second-round pick Drew Sample, who since being drafted by the Bengals has established himself as a premier blocking TE in the NFL. Sample looks to get back into the lineup after suffering a season-ending knee injury in Week 2 of the 2022 season. He had a streak of 39 consecutive games played (including postseason) prior to the injury, and has also been a core contributor on special teams for Cincinnati. The Bengals acquired Devin Asiasi on waivers from New England following the 2022 preseason. A fourth-year pro, Asiasi has played in 22 career games and has four catches for 44 yards, but serves primarily in a blocking role. Tanner Hudson adds depth and experience to the TE group, with 33 career games played for Tampa Bay, San Francisco and the N.Y. Giants. Hudson was signed to Cincinnati's practice squad late in the 2022 season and has 15 career receptions for 199 yards. Nick Bowers spent all of last season on the Bengals' practice squad after being waived by Las Vegas at final cuts. The second-year pro saw action in five games for the Raiders in 2021, before spending seven weeks on the Reserve/Injured list due to a neck injury. Bowers played collegiately at Penn State from 2016-19, with 10 grabs for 214 yards and five TDs in his senior campaign. Rookie Christian Trahan joined the Bengals as a college free agent, following a five-year career at the University of Houston (2018-22). Trahan provides Cincinnati with another capable blocking TE, but he also totaled 105 catches for 1185 yards and seven TDs in college. The Bengals on July 24 re-signed Mitchell Wilcox and placed him on the Active/Physically Unable to Perform list. Wilcox, a fourth-year pro who spent his first three seasons with Cincinnati, has 20 career catches for 155 yards and a TD in 31 games. His previous contract with the Bengals expired in March, rendering him a free agent.

Offensive line: The Bengals have invested heavily in revamping the offensive line over the past two offseasons, signing four marquee free agents. The most recent addition is OT Orlando Brown Jr., who comes to Cincinnati after spending three seasons in Baltimore (2018-20) and two in Kansas City ('21-22). A Pro Bowl selection in each of the past four years, Brown will take over the Bengals' starting LOT spot and be tasked with protecting QB Joe Burrow's blind side. He was a crucial part of offensive lines that blocked for Ravens QB Lamar Jackson (2019) and Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes ('22) in their MVP seasons. Brown made his first 32 career starts at ROT, then transitioned to LOT midway through the 2020 season and has started his past 43 games at that spot. The nucleus of Cincinnati's O-line is team captain C Ted Karras, who signed as a free agent in 2022 and almost instantaneously became a vocal leader in the locker room. Karras has experience at all three interior OL positions, but quickly cemented himself as the Bengals' starting center and played 99.4 percent of offensive snaps during the 2022 regular season. He spent five of his first six pro seasons with New England, with the only outlier coming in 2020 with Miami. Karras was a member of Patriots Super Bowl winning teams in 2016 and '18, before earning the starting center role in '19. Joining Karras in the 2021 free agency class was RG Alex Cappa, who spent his first four seasons with Tampa Bay. Cappa was perhaps the Bengals' most consistent performer on the line through most of the 2022 season, starting the first 16 games before suffering a left ankle injury in the regular-season finale that kept him out of all three playoff contests. He was the Bucs' starting RG from 2019-21, and was a member of the Super Bowl LV-winning team though he did not play in the final three postseason games due to an injury sustained in the Wild Card Playoff. Second-year pro Cordell Volson looks to build off an impressive rookie season in which he played every single offensive snap for Cincinnati at LG (1311, including postseason). Volson was a fourth-round draft pick out of North Dakota State University, where he lined up at four different spots along the O-line during his career. Volson played in a school-record 65 games at NDSU, helping the Bison win four FCS national championships while earning three FCS All-America honors. Jonah Williams, the Bengals' first-round pick in 2019, is making the switch to ROT during training camp after spending his first three full seasons as the team's LOT. He has started all 42 regular-season games and all five postseason games he has played in. Williams carried a streak of 37 consecutive starts before suffering a left knee injury in the 2022 Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore that ended his season. He spent the majority of the offseason rehabbing, including all of the team's mandatory minicamp, but has been a full participant in training camp drills. Also competing for the starting ROT role is third-year pro Jackson Carman, who played in all 17 regular-season games as a rookie in 2021 but saw action in just three contests last season. With the O-line affected by injuries heading into the Divisional Playoff at Buffalo in January, Carman was called upon to start at LOT and played perhaps the best game of his young career, as he helped hold the Bills' to one sack and paved the way for Cincinnati's 172 net rushing yards. A native of Fairfield, Ohio (Greater Cincinnati area), Carman played three collegiate seasons at Clemson before the Bengals drafted him in the second round of the 2021 draft. Also contributing to that Divisional Playoff win at Buffalo was G Max Scharping. Scharping was acquired by the Bengals on waivers prior to the start of the 2022 season and played in 14 regular-season contests, before being thrust into the starting RG spot for all three postseason games following Cappa's injury. He spent his first three pro seasons with Houston, splitting time between RG and LG in 48 games played (33 starts). OT Hakeem Adeniji originally was a sixth-round pick of the Bengals in 2020 and has proven to be a key depth piece in the O-line room, particularly in postseason play. He has started each of the team's seven postseason games in the past two years, lining up at RG during the 2021 run to Super Bowl LVI and ROT in last season's trip to the AFC Championship. Adeniji also has 39 games of regular-season experience (15 starts) under his belt. C Trey Hill has served primarily as a special teams contributor in his two Bengals seasons, but started three games (two at C, one at RG) in his 2021 rookie campaign. A 2021 sixth-round pick, Hill has seen action in each of Cincinnati's seven postseason games the past two years. G Ben Brown has been a full participant in training camp and hopes to earn a spot in the O-line rotation after spending his rookie season in 2022 on the Reserve/Injured list. Brown, who joined the team as a college free agent in May of 2022, suffered a biceps injury in last year's preseason opener. Another notable free agent addition this offseason was OT Cody Ford, a fifth-year veteran who originally was a second-round pick of Buffalo in 2019. Ford spent his first three pro seasons with the Bills before playing for Arizona in 2022. He has played in 49 career games with 32 starts — 15 at ROT, nine at RG and eight at LG. Ford lined up alongside Orlando Brown Jr. for two seasons (2016-17) at the University of Oklahoma. OT D'Ante Smith was inactive for all but one game for Cincinnati during the 2022 regular season, but played in all three postseason contests as a reserve lineman. He was originally a fourth-round pick in 2021 and battled injuries as a rookie, seeing action in just two regular-season games. Smith returned in time for the postseason run, playing in both the AFC Championship and Super Bowl LVI. The Bengals added depth with the signing of C Nate Gilliam midway through training camp in 2022. Gilliam spent the entire season and postseason on Cincinnati's practice squad. He previously spent time on the practice squads of the L.A. Chargers and Pittsburgh Steelers. He played four seasons at Wake Forest University (2016-19), earning third-team All-ACC honors in '19. The lone rookie in the Bengals O-line room is G Jaxson Kirkland, who signed with Cincinnati as a college free agent in May. He started all 49 games he played in during a five-year career (2018-22) at the University of Washington, lining up at LG, LOT, RG and ROT. Kirkland garnered first-team All-Pac-12 honors in each of his final three seasons. OT La'el Collins was a key member of the 2021 free agency haul after seven seasons in Dallas — including four as the Cowboys' starting ROT. He started at ROT for the Bengals in the first 15 games of 2022 before suffering a season-ending knee injury in Week 16. Collins has expressed that his rehab is moving ahead of schedule, and the Bengals on July 23 placed him on the Active/Physically Unable to Perform list.

Defensive linemen: Cincinnati native and Archbishop Moeller High School graduate Sam Hubbard is in his sixth Bengals season (fifth as a full-time starter). A third-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2018, Hubbard has 30.5 career sacks (second-most among all players in 2018 draft class), including 6.5 during the '22 regular season. He is also considered among the best DEs in the NFL against the run and led the Bengals last season with 11 TFLs. Hubbard made one of the most memorable plays in recent team history during the fourth quarter of the Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore, returning a fumble 98 yards for what proved to be the game-winning TD. It was his second career fumble returned for a score (regular and postseason). On the other side of the line is DE Trey Hendrickson, who led Cincinnati with eight sacks in 2022 to earn his second straight Pro Bowl nod. Hendrickson joined the team as a free agent in 2021 and in his first year posted a career-high 14 sacks, the second-most in a season in team history. He has 35.5 sacks since the start of the 2020 season, the fourth-most in the NFL in that span. Hendrickson on July 27 signed a one-year contract extension that keeps him in Cincinnati through the 2025 season. DT DJ Reader, a 6-3, 335-pound run stuffer, has anchored the defensive line since signing with the Bengals as a free agent in 2020. Reader is a key component of a unit that has ranked in the top-seven leaguewide in rushing yards allowed per game in each of the past two seasons. He spent six games on the Reserve/Injured list in 2022 due to a knee injury, but returned in Week 11 and started each contest through the AFC Championship. Reader had a stretch from Weeks 12-14 in which he batted down four passes at the line of scrimmage in three games. DT B.J. Hill enters his third season with the Bengals and has become a major contributor on the D-line. Hill was acquired in a trade with the N.Y. Giants shortly before the 2021 regular season, and showed high production with 5.5 sacks (fourth-most on the team) in a reserve role. He started all 16 games in 2022 and posted a career-high 68 tackles with three sacks, one FF, three FRs and four PDs. DE Joseph Ossai heads into his third season as a pro, but second healthy season after missing his entire rookie campaign due to a knee injury. The athletic edge rusher showcased his potential last season with 3.5 sacks as a reserve DE. He then posted six tackles in postseason play, including five with a TFL in the AFC Championship. Second-year DT Zach Carter looks to build off a strong rookie season in which he played in all 16 regular-season games with nine starts. Carter, a 2022 third-round pick out of the University of Florida, contributed to the run defense while totaling 23 tackles, a half-sack and a PD. He played in all three postseason games, starting the Wild Card round and AFC Championship as a second DT. Third-year pro Cam Sample has played in 30 career regular-season games and serves as a rotational DE. The Tulane University product had 25 tackles with two sacks last season. Sample flashed in the AFC Championship, sacking Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes and bringing down RB Jerick McKinnon for a one-yard loss. Sixth-year DT Josh Tupou has been a reliable DT against the run since joining the Bengals as a college free agent in 2017. The 6-3, 340-pound veteran has started 15 games over the past two seasons and logged 31 tackles in that span, including a pair of sacks in 2022. The Bengals selected DE Myles Murphy out of Clemson University in the first round (28th overall) of this year's draft, looking to bolster their pass rushing production. Murphy totaled 17.5 sacks in 38 games at Clemson, earning second-team All-ACC honors last season. He brings premier size and athleticism to the D-Line room at 6-5, 270 pounds. Cincinnati signed free agent DE Tarell Basham in April, adding experience and depth to the defense. Basham has played in 82 regular-season games for four teams (Indianapolis, N.Y. Jets, Dallas and Tennessee), and has 11 career sacks along with five FFs. His most productive season came in 2021, when he played in all 17 games for the Cowboys with six starts and logged 39 tackles, 3.5 sacks and one FF. DE Jeff Gunter, the Bengals' seventh-round draft pick in 2021, enters his second season after seeing action in 10 games as a rookie, primarily on special teams. Gunter had 18 sacks and was a three-time All-Sun Belt Conference selection at Coastal Carolina University. DE Raymond Johnson III played in 15 games as a rookie with the N.Y. Giants in 2021, before being waived and signing with Cincinnati as a free agent prior to the '22 regular season. He spent all of last season on the Bengals' practice squad. The Bengals acquired DT Jay Tufele on waivers from Jacksonville prior to the 2022 season opener and it proved to be a valuable move, as he started two games (Weeks 8-9) while Reader was recovering from a knee injury. Tufele finished with 16 total tackles in seven regular-season games for Cincinnati. DT Domenique Davis, the first player in Bengals history to have played at the University of North Carolina at Pembroke, joined the team as a free agent in the 2022 offseason. He spent the majority of the season on the practice squad, but saw action in two games, recording three assisted tackles. Davis also played 10 games for the Houston Gamblers of the USFL in 2022. First-year DE Owen Carney entered the league as a college free agent signee of Miami in 2022 and played in the preseason for the Dolphins, before being waived at final cuts. He was signed in November to the Bengals' practice squad, where he spent the remainder of the season. Carney was a second-team All-Big Ten pick in 2020 at the University of Illinois. Rounding out the Bengals' defensive line room is rookie DT Tautala Pesefea Jr., a college free agent signee out of Arizona State University. He began his collegiate career at American River College (junior college) before transferring to ASU, where he played in 40 games over four seasons (2019-22). Pesefea earned a starting role in 2022 and posted a career-best 38 tackles with five TFLs and two sacks.

Linebackers: Among Cincinnati's most promising young defenders is third-year pro Logan Wilson, who wears the "green dot" as the defense's communicator. Wilson led the Bengals in tackles the past two regular seasons, with his career-high 123 stops in 2022 marking the most by a Bengals player since Vontaze Burfict (171) in '13. Wilson also has shown a high proficiency when dropping into coverage, as his seven career INTs are the most by an NFL LB since he entered the league in 2020. Wilson was inked to a four-year contract extension on Aug. 5 that will keep him in Cincinnati through the 2027 season. Ranking second on the team in tackles last season with 99 was Germaine Pratt. Pratt, a fifth-round Bengals pick in 2019 who now enters his fifth pro season, has started 54 of 62 regular-season games played. He has proven to be a clutch performer in big stages, as his 49 combined tackles over the past two postseasons rank as the second-most in the NFL behind Wilson (62). Pratt also has three career INTs and 14 PDs. A 2020 seventh-round draft choice of the Bengals, Markus Bailey has grown into a key reserve role in the LB room as well as a valuable contributor on special teams. Bailey has played in 16 regular season games each of the past two seasons, with a combined 50 tackles in that span. He provided a key block on Sam Hubbard's 98-yard fumble recovery return for a TD in the Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore. Akeem Davis-Gaither looks to step into an increased role this season after logging a career-best 37 tackles in 16 games (one start) in 2022. Thirteen of those stops came in a dominant Week 3 performance at the N.Y. Jets. Davis-Gaither also played in all three postseason games, recording his first career INT in the Wild Card Playoff against Baltimore. He enters this season with 748 defensive snaps and 736 special teams snaps played in his career. Joe Bachie spent the first six games of 2022 on the Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform list while recovering from a left knee injury, but returned to the active roster and saw action in 10 regular-season games and all three postseason contests. He resumed his role as a core special teams player, totaling seven ST tackles in 168 snaps. Second-year pro Keandre Jones spent the 2022 season on Cincinnati's practice squad, and played in one game (Week 3 at N.Y. Jets) as a standard elevation. He was called up from the practice squad in December of 2021 and filled a role on special teams during the Bengals' run to Super Bowl LVI. The remaining three Bengals LBs joined the team as college free agents in May, including Shaka Heyward out of Duke University. Heyward was a two-time All-ACC performer for the Blue Devils and started 41 of 51 career games played. He logged 340 tackles and showcased an ability to rush the passer with 11 sacks. Jaylen Moody played in 65 games over a five-year career (2018-22) at the University of Alabama, where he was a member of three Crimson Tide teams that reached the College Football Playoff. Moody was primarily a special teams contributor for his first four seasons, then earned the starting LB spot in 2022 and posting a career-high 49 tackles with two sacks. Tyler Murray is a versatile LB with nine INTs in his college career. He spent two seasons at Troy University (2017-18), two seasons at Charlotte ('20-21) and one season at the University of Memphis ('22) ... In his lone Memphis season, he started all 13 games at LB and logged 67 tackles, six TFLs, two INTs and four PDs.

Cornerbacks: Nickel CB Mike Hilton, a free agency acquisition of the Bengals in 2021, is widely considered one of the top slot corners in the NFL. Though one of the smallest players on the roster at 5-9, 184 pounds, Hilton is a sure tackler and excellent blitzer. He played in 14 games with four starts during the 2022 regular season, amassing 60 tackles, six PDs and an INT. He has also made several notable plays in the postseason over the past two years, including an INT in the 2021 Divisional Playoff at Tennessee and a sack in the fourth quarter of the '22 Wild Card Playoff vs. Baltimore. Arriving in Cincinnati in 2021 alongside Hilton was Chidobe Awuzie, who quickly established himself as the team's No. 1 boundary corner. Awuzie had started all 26 games he played in for the Bengals (including postseason) before suffering a season-ending knee injury in Week 8 of the 2022 season. He has spent the past nine-plus months rehabbing and was removed from the Active/Physically Unable to Perform list and cleared to practice on July 25. Second-year pro Cam Taylor-Britt looks to build off a promising start to his career last season. He spent the first four games on Reserve/Injured while recovering from an abdomen injury, but went on to play in the final 10 contests with nine starts at outside CB. He logged 55 tackles, the eighth-most on the team, along with six PDs and one FF. He started all three postseason contests and had his first career INT to close out the Divisional Playoff win at Buffalo. Sixth-year veteran Sidney Jones IV heads into his first Bengals season after signing with Cincinnati as a free agent in March. Jones, who has spent time with Philadelphia, Jacksonville, Seattle and Las Vegas, brings in 57 games of NFL experience with 27 starts. He has four career INTs and 30 PDs, and originally was a second-round pick of the Eagles in 2017. Jones played collegiately at the University of Washington, where he was teammates with Bengals QB Jake Browning and TE Drew Sample. Cincinnati used its 2023 second-round selection on DJ Turner II, a speedy boundary corner out of the University of Michigan. Turner ran the fastest 40-yard dash at this year's NFL Combine, clocking a time of 4.26 seconds. Turner had three INTs and 20 PDs in four seasons (2019-22) at Michigan, and was named second-team All-Big Ten last season. Jalen Davis serves as a reserve slot CB behind Hilton, but secondary/cornerbacks coach Charles Burks has expressed his opinion that Davis could start for many NFL teams. He has played in 36 games (including postseason), carving out a role on special teams in addition to his CB duties. A college free agent signee of the Bengals in the 2022 offseason, Allan George spent 12 games as a rookie on Cincinnati's practice squad, but played in four contests in the second half of the regular season. He recorded two tackles on 36 total defensive snaps. George played four collegiate seasons at Vanderbilt (2018-21). Marvell Tell III was a fifth-round pick of Indianapolis in 2019 and played in 13 games as a rookie for the Colts, but has not seen any game action since. He spent the entire 2022 season on Cincinnati's practice squad after signing in early September. DJ Ivey, the Bengals' seventh-round pick in April, enters his rookie season after playing in 58 games with 32 starts over a five-year career (2018-22) at the University of Miami (Fla.). At 6-1, 192, he provides a rangy frame and has already displayed his ball skills in training camp. Ivey had six career INTs for the Hurricanes.

Safeties: The Bengals will roll out a new-look starting safety tandem consisting of fifth-year veteran Nick Scott and second-year pro Dax Hill. Scott was among Cincinnati's notable acquisitions during the 2023 free agency period and bring 64 games of NFL experience (17 starts). He spent his first four seasons with the L.A. Rams, starting out as a special teams contributor before gradually increasing his role defensively and eventually becoming the team's starting safety in 2022. Scott is known for his physical play and sure tackling abilities, but also has four INTs and nine PDs. He started each of the Rams four postseason contests on their run to a Super Bowl LVI title. Hill was the Bengals' first-round draft choice in 2021 and played in 15 games as a rookie. Though he is touted for his versatility in the secondary, Bengals coaches are looking to see Hill slotted in as the team's free safety in his second pro campaign. Hill saw action on 130 defensive snaps last season in a reserve role, while also being utilized as a gunner on special teams. Michael J. Thomas, who enters his 10th NFL season in 2023, is the most experienced player on the Bengals roster. Thomas spent time with four teams before joining Cincinnati midway through the 2021 season, and quickly became a crucial part of the special teams operations. He was elected by his teammates to serve as one of seven team captains in 2022, marking the seventh time in the past eight seasons that he wore the captains' patch. Cincinnati took Jordan Battle in the third round of the NFL Draft in April, adding depth and championship pedigree to the safeties room. Battle was a third-team All-American in each of the past two seasons while at the University of Alabama, and helped the Crimson Tide win the College Football Playoff National Championship in 2020. A fundamentally sound rookie with leadership characteristics that match his talent, Battle recorded 251 career tackles and six INTs — three of which were returned for a TD. Tycen Anderson looks to carve out a role on the Bengals' defense after spending the 2022 regular season on the Reserve/Injured list with a hamstring injury. Anderson was designated to return from R/I and cleared to practice prior to the postseason, but never was added to the active roster. He was drafted by the Bengals in the fifth round in 2022 after a five-year career at the University of Toledo ('17-21). He played in all three preseason games last year, starting one at safety. Yusuf Corker spent his entire rookie season in 2022 on Cincinnati's practice squad, which he signed to after being waived by the N.Y. Giants at final cuts. Corker joined the Giants as a college free agent and played in three preseason games. Larry Brooks signed with the Bengals as a college free agent in May following a five-year career at Tulane (2018-22). He was an All-American Athletic Conference Honorable Mention pick last season, when he started all 14 games at S for the Green Wave and had 91 tackles, two INTs, five PDs and two FFs.

Special teams: One of the top position battles in this year's training camp is for the punting role, contested between second-year pro Drue Chrisman and rookie Brad Robbins. Chrisman, a native of Lawrenceburg, Ind. (approximately 35 minutes from Paycor Stadium), took over punting duties for the Bengals in Week 11 of the 2022 season. In seven regular-season games, he had 28 punts for 1338 yards (47.8 average) with two touchbacks and 13 downed inside the opponents' 20-yard line. Chrisman spent the 2021 season on the Bengals' and Pittsburgh Steelers' practice squads, then was on Cincinnati's practice squad again for the first 10 weeks of the '22 campaign before being elevated to the active roster. In three postseason games, he punted nine times for 420 yards (46.7 average). Robbins is a Westerville, Ohio native (north of Columbus), and was selected by the Bengals in the sixth round of April's draft. He was a three-time All-Big Ten honoree during a five-year playing career at the University of Michigan, where he recorded the second-highest punting average (43.0 yards per attempt) in school history. He missed all of the 2018 season and part of '19 with an injury, but went on to play in 34 games from '19-22. Chrisman and Robbins also figure to alternate holding duties on placekicks during the preseason. K Evan McPherson enters his third pro season and has quickly become a fan favorite in Cincinnati. He has earned a reputation as one of the NFL's top kickers from long range, as his 14 FGs from 50 or more yards are the most within a player's first 30 career games in league history. He has kicked the two longest FGs in team history — a 59-yarder in the 2022 regular-season opener vs. Pittsburgh, and a 58-yarder in Week 15 of the '21 season at Denver. McPherson is also 19 for 19 on FG attempts in the postseason, the second-most consecutive FGs without a miss to begin a postseason career in NFL history. Handling long-snapping duties for the Bengals is second-year pro Cal Adomitis, who took over the role in Week 2 of the 2022 season following a season-ending injury to veteran Clark Harris. Adomitis went on to deliver 146 snaps without an unplayable attempt, including postseason. He originally joined the Bengals as a college free agent in 2022 after a five-year career ('17-21) at the University of Pittsburgh. WR Trent Taylor became Cincinnati's primary punt returner late in the 2021 season. In 2022, he ranked tied for second in the NFL in punt returns (33), third in PR yards (340) and eighth in PR average (10.8 yards per return). His 340 PR yards also stand as the fourth-most in a season in team history. HB Chris Evans will be in the mix for the Bengals' kick returner job, a role he held through the first nine games of the 2022 season. In that span, he had 10 KORs for 211 yards, with a 29-yard long in Week 5 at Baltimore. The 2021 Big Ten Return Specialist of the Year, WR Charlie Jones, will compete for both the PR and KOR role.
