WEEKLY NEWS RELEASE

DEC. 11, 2018

OAKLAND RAIDERS (3-10)

AT

CINCINNATI BENGALS (5-8)

WEEK 15, GAME 14
SUNDAY, DEC. 16
AT PAUL BROWN STADIUM

NEXT WEEK: WEEK 16, GAME 15
DEC. 23 AT CLEVELAND BROWNS

GAME NOTES

Kickoff: 1 p.m. Eastern.

Television: The game will air on CBS-TV. In the Bengals' home region, it will be carried by WKRC-TV (Ch. 12) in Cincinnati, WHIO-TV (Ch. 7) in Dayton and on WKYT-TV (Ch. 27) in Lexington. Broadcasters are Andrew Catalon (play-by-play) and James Lofton (analyst).

Radio: The game will air on the Bengals Radio Network, led by Cincinnati flagship stations WLW-AM (700), WCKY-AM (ESPN 1530; all sports) and WEBN-FM (102.7). Broadcasters are Dan Hoard (play-by-play) and Dave Lapham (analyst).

Setting the scene: The Cincinnati Bengals this week host the Oakland Raiders on Sunday at Paul Brown Stadium.

Standing at 5-8 with three games left, the Bengals have a challenging trek ahead of them in a bid to avoid a losing season. Lugging the weight of a five-game losing streak and looking to stabilize the imbalance caused by a series of significant injuries to key players, Cincinnati hopes to find its footing against Oakland this week in their climb to close the 2018 season on higher ground.

Last week, despite being two-touchdown underdogs on the road against a team with the second-best record in the AFC, the Bengals turned in what was considered by many to be an encouraging performance against the L.A. Chargers at StubHub Center. The end result was a 26-21 loss to the Chargers, but the Bengals, who faced deficits of 14-3 early and 23-15 late, fought back for a chance to tie the game with a two-point conversion just after the two-minute warning. HB Joe Mixon scored on a one-yard TD run with 1:50 left to pull the Bengals within two points, 23-21, but QB Jeff Driskel was sacked on the two-point attempt. The Chargers recovered the ensuing onside kick, then added a field goal with just under a minute left for the game's final score.

"We need to win," said head coach Marvin Lewis, when asked whether the team's performance against the Chargers could be taken as a sign of improvement. "That's the only progress that really counts. We (the coaches) have got to keep putting them into position to win, and obviously, they (the players) have got to make the plays to win the game. We've got guys playing big-time football, and we've got to make sure we all are doing it, all the time."

Mixon finished the game with 111 yards rushing on 26 carries (4.3-yard average) and another 27 yards receiving on five catches. It was his fifth game of the season with 115 or more yards from scrimmage. In his second start of the season, Driskel completed 18 of 27 passes for 170 yards, one TD and no INTs (96.2 passer rating). The Bengals' defense allowed just 288 net yards — its fewest of the season — to a Chargers offense which entered the game ranked fifth in the NFL in average net yards (399.4).

Lewis, who never is quick to point out positives after a loss, duly noted that none of that mattered.

"What you did last week doesn't gain you anything," Lewis said. "We have to go back and do it better — find a new way, find a better way. We have to find a way to make more plays and keep (opponents) from scoring points, and for us to score a little more. We have to figure it out."

In preparing for the Raiders, the Bengals will continue to attempt to overcome a long list of injuries. Cincinnati began this week with 14 players on the Reserve/Injured list. That included five players who were starters at the beginning of the season — QB Andy Dalton, WR A.J. Green, TE Tyler Eifert, TE Tyler Kroft and LB Preston Brown — as well as other players whose roles included significant playing time, such as DE Carl Lawson and DT Ryan Glasgow. In addition, a long list of regular starters currently on the 53-player roster have missed multiple games this season due to injuries, including Mixon, HB Giovani Bernard, OT Cordy Glenn, C Billy Price, LB Vontaze Burfict, LB Nick Vigil and CB Darqueze Dennard.

Among the storylines for Cincinnati this week will be the homecoming of a large contingent of former Bengals who are now with the Raiders. Oakland defensive coordinator Paul Guenther was an assistant on Lewis' staff from 2005-17, including four seasons as defensive coordinator from '14-17, and Raiders LB coach David Lippincott was a Bengals assistant from '11-17. In addition, 10 current Raiders players are former Bengals (see "10 former Bengals now in Oakland" item on following page).

In a scheduling/statistical oddity, the Raiders are the third consecutive opponent to face the Bengals one week after defeating the Pittsburgh Steelers, Cincinnati's AFC North Division rival. The Denver Broncos defeated the Steelers 24-17 in Week 12 before facing the Bengals in Week 13, the L.A. Chargers defeated the Steelers 33-30 in Week 13 before facing the Bengals in Week 14, and the Raiders defeated the Steelers 24-21 last week.

The series: The Raiders lead, 20-10, including 2-0 in postseason, but the Bengals have won two straight and three of the last four meetings. The Bengals lead 8-6 as the home team.

The Bengals' win in the most recent meeting in 2015 was the team's first in 11 visits to Oakland dating back to 1968 (the Raiders were based in Los Angeles from 1982-94).

In all games, home and road, the Bengals are 6-14 against the Oakland Raiders and were 4-6 against the L.A. Raiders.

The series includes two playoff games. The Raiders won 31-28 in a divisional game at Oakland in 1975, and won 20-10 in a divisional game at Los Angeles in '90.

Team bests from the series:

Bengals — MOST POINTS: 45, in a 45-21 win at Los Angeles in 1988. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 24 (twice), set in the 45-21 win in '88, then matched in a 34-10 win at Cincinnati in 2012. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 10 (four times), most recently in the 2012 game at Cincinnati.

Raiders — MOST POINTS: 38, in a 38-14 victory at Cincinnati in 1991. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 34, in a 34-0 win at Cincinnati in 1968. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 0, in the 34-0 win in '68.

The last meetings: A summary of the last two Bengals-Raiders meetings — at Oakland in 2015, and at Cincinnati in '12 — are on page 13.

Bengals career records watch: Here is a look at potential upcoming movement in the Bengals' career records book (regular season) this season:

- DE Carlos Dunlap has 72.5 career sacks, 11 short of DE Eddie Edwards* (83.5) for the Bengals' all-time lead.
- DT Geno Atkins has 68 career sacks, 4.5 short of Dunlap (72.5) for second place all-time. Edwards* (83.5) is the Bengals' all-time leader. Atkins passed LB Reggie Williams (62.5) for third place all-time in Game 2 vs. Baltimore.

*—The NFL has counted sacks as official statistics since 1982. However, the Bengals have sack statistics compiled since 1976 and recognize those sacks recorded from '76-81 in its records. Thus, please note that, because the NFL has sacks statistics for all teams only since 1982, the Bengals' sack statistics for players whose careers included seasons prior to '82 will not be included in league information.

Records vs. Raiders: The two longest rushing gains ever against the Bengals were both by Bo Jackson of the Raiders. Jackson had a 92-yarder for a TD at Los Angeles on Nov. 5, 1989, and he had an 88-yarder (no score) on Dec. 16, 1990 at Los Angeles. Also:

- Four times, the Bengals have posted five interceptions against an opposing quarterback. The first of those instances came against Raiders QB Daryle Lamonica on Nov. 2, 1969 at Nippert Stadium.
- Eight times a Bengals defender has logged three interceptions in a game. One of those instances was recorded by CB Ken Riley on Nov. 28, 1982 vs. the L.A. Raiders.
- K Mike Nugent tied the record for the longest field goal in team history with a 55-yarder vs. the Raiders on Nov. 25, 2012.

Individually vs. Raiders: Here is a look at offensive statistics for current Bengals against the Raiders (ordered by total games played):

- QB Andy Dalton (Reserve/Injured): Two games (2-0 W-L record); 64 attempts and 41 completions for 479 yards, five TDs and 0 INTs (112.7 passer rating); Eight rushes for six yards.
- WR A.J. Green (Reserve/Injured): Two games; Eight receptions for 174 yards (21.8-yard average); Two rushes for 21 yards (10.5).
- TE Tyler Eifert (Reserve/Injured): One game; Nine receptions for 104 yards (11.6) and two TDs.
- HB Giovani Bernard: One game; Eight rushes for 63 yards (7.9); Six receptions for 25 yards (4.2).

10 former Bengals now in Oakland: The following Raiders players have previously spent time with the Bengals:

- CB Leon Hall (Reserve/Injured), a first-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2007, was with the team from '07-15.
- DT Froste Rucker, a third-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2006, was with the team from '06-11.
- K Mike Nugent (Reserve/Injured) was with Cincinnati from 2010-16. Nugent is also a native of Centerville, Ohio (Centerville High School), and played at Ohio State University.
- S Reggie Nelson (Reserve/Injured) was with Cincinnati from 2010-15.
- QB AJ McCarron, a fifth-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2014, was with the team from '14-17.
- LB Emmanuel Lamur, a college free agent signee of the Bengals in 2012, was with the team from '12-15.
- DT Clinton McDonald, a seventh-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2009, was with the team from '09 through the '11 preseason.
- WR Brandon LaFell (Reserve/Injured) was with Cincinnati from 2016 through the '18 preseason.
- CB Bene Benwikere was with Cincinnati during the 2017 preseason.
- OT Justin Murray was with Cincinnati late in 2017 through the '18 preseason. Murray is also a Cincinnati native (Sycamore High School) and played at the University of Cincinnati.

More Bengals-Raiders connections: Raiders head coach Jon Gruden played QB at the University of Dayton ... Raiders defensive coordinator Paul Guenther was on the Bengals' coaching staff from 2005-17. He was defensive coordinator from 2014-17. ... Raiders linebackers coach David Lippincott was on the Bengals' coaching staff from 2011-17. Lippincott is also a Cincinnati native and attended the University of Dayton. ... Raiders CB Gareon Conley and DT Johnathan Hankins both played at Ohio State University ... Bengals CB Tony McRae entered the NFL as a college free agent signee of the Raiders in 2016 ... Raiders WR/DB Johnny Holton (practice squad) played at the University of Cincinnati ... Bengals QB Connor Cook (practice squad) entered the NFL as a fourth-round draft pick of the Raiders in 2016 ... Bengals offensive line coach Frank Pollack was on the Raiders' staff in 2012 ... Raiders tight ends coach Frank Smith played (1999-2003) and coached ('04-05) at Miami (Ohio) University ... Raiders assistant defensive line coach Marco Coleman is from Dayton, Ohio ... Raiders defensive backs coach Derrick Ansley coached at the University of Kentucky from 2013-15.

Bengals' O excels in red zone: The Bengals' offense this season has scored TDs on 27 of its 36 trips to the red zone, good for a 75.0 percentage that ranks second in the NFL.

Of Cincinnati's 27 red-zone TDs, 17 have come by pass and 10 have come via the running game. Four of the passes have gone to WR John Ross, four have gone to WR Tyler Boyd, four have gone to WR A.J. Green, and two have gone to TE C.J. Uzomah. TE Tyler Eifert, TE Matt Lengel and HB Joe Mixon each have one TD reception apiece. Mixon also has six of Cincinnati's 10 rushing TDs in the red zone, while HB Giovani Bernard has three and QB Jeff Driskel has one.

The Bengals had three trips to the red zone last week, and converted two TDs and a FG. They've now scored TDs on 15 of their last 17 trips to the red zone (88.2 percent), dating back to Game 6 vs. Pittsburgh.

Entering their Week 5 matchup with Miami, Cincinnati had come away with points on an NFL-best 34 consecutive trips to the red zone (25 TDs, nine FGs) dating back to Game 9 of 2017. But an INT on their first red-zone trip vs. Miami ended the streak, which was the team's longest since 2005-06 (40 straight).

Uniform watch: The Bengals are scheduled to wear black jerseys and white pants this week vs. Oakland. Since 2004, the year of the Bengals' last significant uniform redesign, a number of color options for jerseys and pants have been available. Below are the records (regular season plus postseason) for the different combinations:

JERSEY	PANTS	W-L-T	PCT.
Orange*	Black	6-1-0	.857
Orange*	White	16-6-1	.717
White (CR)*	White (CR)*	2-1-0	.667
Black	Black	16-14-1	.532
Black	White	35-34-1	.507
White	Black	28-33-0	.459
White	White	19-29-0	.396

* — The NFL this season implemented a new rule, which states teams may wear designated alternate jerseys, color rush (CR) uniforms and/or throwback uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. Orange will continue to be designated as the Bengals' alternate jersey, and the team will again use the color rush uniforms (white jersey, white pants) that debuted in 2016. Cincinnati does not have a throwback uniform.

THE HEAD COACHES

Marvin Lewis in 2018 extends his Bengals-record head coaching tenure to 16 seasons, twice that of Paul Brown (1968-75) and Sam Wyche ('84-91), who are tied for second with eight seasons each.

Lewis has 130 career victories, the most in Bengals history by a margin of 66 over Wyche (64). His record is 130-120-3 in the regular season and 130-127-3 including postseason.

The Bengals' 65-46-2 record over the last seven regular seasons (2011-17) gave the team a .584 winning percentage for that span, ranked sixth in the NFL.

Lewis has led his teams to the postseason seven times, including a five-year run from 2011-15. The total number of playoff trips and the five-year streak of consecutive appearances are Bengals records, and the Bengals were one of only four NFL teams to reach the playoffs every year from 2011-15.

Lewis in 2018 ranks second among NFL head coaches in longest current tenure with one team, trailing only Bill Belichick, who is in his 19th straight season with New England. In the category of most seasons as head coach with one or more teams, Lewis ranks third among active coaches, behind Belichick (24th season in '18) and Andy Reid (20).

Lewis has developed an impressive "coaching tree" during his Bengals tenure. Five of his former assistants have become NFL head coaches, and four of those are leading teams in 2018. The list, including their teams and head coaching tenures, includes former Bengals offensive coordinators Jay Gruden (Washington, 2014-18) and Hue Jackson (Cleveland, '16-18), former defensive coordinators Leslie Frazier (Minnesota, '10-13) and Mike Zimmer (Minnesota, '14-18), and former defensive backs coach Vance Joseph (Denver, '17-18).

Lewis was the consensus choice for NFL Coach of the Year in 2009, when the Bengals won the AFC North Division while sweeping all six division games. The Bengals also were AFC North champions under Lewis in 2005, '13 and '15.

Named the ninth head coach in Bengals history on Jan. 14, 2003, Lewis started quickly. His '03 club finished 8-8, six games better than the '02 club, good for the biggest improvement in the NFL.

Lewis came to the Bengals with credentials as a record-setting NFL defensive coordinator, having played a huge role in a championship season. His six seasons (1996-2001) as Baltimore Ravens coordinator included a Super Bowl victory in '00, when his defense set the NFL record for fewest points allowed in a 16-game campaign (165). That team clipped 22 points off the previous mark. The 2000 Ravens are always an entry in discussions regarding the best NFL defensive units of all time.

In 2002, the season before he joined the Bengals, Lewis led the Washington Redskins to a No. 5 NFL defensive ranking, serving as assistant head coach as well as defensive coordinator.

He had his first NFL assignment from 1992-95, as linebackers coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. He aided the development of four Pro Bowl players — Kevin Greene, Chad Brown, Levon Kirkland and Greg Lloyd. Greene has since been inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Lewis began his coaching career as linebackers coach at his alma mater Idaho State from 1981-84. ISU's team (also nicknamed the Bengals) finished 12-1 in Lewis' first season there and won the NCAA Division 1-AA championship.

Lewis played LB at Idaho State, earning All-Big Sky Conference honors for three consecutive years (1978-80). He also saw action at quarterback and free safety during his college career. He received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Idaho State in 1981, and earned his master's in athletic administration in '82. He was inducted into Idaho State's Hall of Fame in 2001.

Born Sept. 23, 1958, Lewis attended Fort Cherry High School in McDonald, Pa. (near Pittsburgh), where he was an all-conference quarterback and safety. He also earned high school letters in wrestling and baseball. He and his wife, Peggy, have a daughter, Whitney, and a son, Marcus. Marcus Lewis joined the Bengals' coaching staff for 2014 and remains on the staff for '18.

Jon Gruden returned as head coach of the Oakland Raiders on Jan. 9, 2018. The naming of Gruden marked his return to coaching after spending nearly a decade in broadcasting, including color analyst duties on the Monday Night Football franchise from 2009-17.

Gruden compiled a 95-81 (.540) regular season mark in 11 seasons as a head coach with the Raiders (1998-2001) and the Tampa Bay Buccaneers ('02-08), and a 5-4 record (.556) in postseason contests, which includes a victory in Super Bowl XXXVII. His career record is 103-95.

The youngest head coach in the NFL at age 34 upon his initial hire by Raiders Owner Al Davis in 1998, Gruden posted a 38-26 record (.594) and led the Silver and Black to back-to-back AFC West titles in 2000 and '01. He guided the Raiders to an AFC Championship Game appearance in 2000, a campaign in which the Raiders set a franchise record with 479 points and led the NFL in rushing (154.4 avg.). In all, Gruden-led teams have claimed five division championships and have recorded six seasons with nine-or-more wins.

Gruden joined ESPN in 2009 as an analyst for Monday Night Football and earned six Sports Emmy nominations.

Gruden spent seven seasons as head coach of the Buccaneers, finishing his time there as the winningest coach in franchise history by compiling a 57-55 (.509) regular-season record, while leading Tampa Bay to three division titles.

Prior to beginning his initial tenure in Oakland, Gruden spent three seasons (1995-97) as offensive coordinator for the Philadelphia Eagles. Before joining Philadelphia, Gruden worked for three years at Green Bay (1992-94) and worked as offensive assistant with the San Francisco 49ers in '90.

Gruden played QB at the University of Dayton, earning three letters and graduating with a degree in communications in 1985. He coached collegiately at Tennessee (1986-87), Southeast Missouri State ('88), Pacific ('89) and Pittsburgh ('91).

Gruden was born on Aug. 17, 1963 in Sandusky, Ohio. Gruden and his wife, Cindy, have three sons, Deuce, Michael and Jayson. His brother, Jay, is head coach of the Washington Redskins, and his father, Jim, is a long-time veteran of professional, collegiate and high school coaching and scouting. His son, Deuce, serves as a strength and conditioning assistant for the Raiders.

Lewis vs. Raiders: Lewis leads 3-2.

Lewis vs. Gruden: Gruden leads 1-0 (2006 with Tampa Bay).

Gruden vs. Bengals: Gruden leads 3-0 (1-0 as Oakland head coach, and 2-0 as Tampa Bay head coach).

BENGALS NOTES

Mixon displays versatility: Bengals HB Joe Mixon has totaled 100 yards from scrimmage five times this season, the most by a Cincinnati RB since Jeremy Hill did it five times in 2014.

The last Bengals RB to reach 100 yards from scrimmage six times in a season was BenJarvus Green-Ellis in 2012. It should also be noted that Mixon missed Games 3-4 earlier this season with a knee injury. Hill played in all 16 games in 2014, while Green-Ellis played in 15 games in '12.

Here are Mixon's five games of 100 or more yards from scrimmage this season.

10-7 vs. Miami	93.....	22.....	115
10-28 vs. Tampa Bay	123.....	15.....	137

Ross the TD machine: Bengals WR John Ross has 18 catches this season, and six of those have gone for touchdowns. That means 33 percent of Ross' catches have been scores, the second-highest percentage in the NFL among players with at least 10 receptions.

And perhaps most surprising is the way Ross has gotten those TDs. Despite coming to Cincinnati as a much-ballyhooed deep threat after running a record 4.22-second 40-yard dash at the 2017 NFL Combine, most of Ross' production this season has come in the red zone. Of his six TDs, four have come inside the 10-yard line, and only one has been longer than 25 yards.

Here's a look at the NFL players with the highest percentage of receptions that have gone for a TD (minimum 10 catches).

PLAYER, TEAM	RECEPTIONS	TDs	PCT.
Jaron Brown, Seattle Seahawks.....	12	5	41.7
John Ross, Cincinnati Bengals.....	18	6	33.3
Kareem Hunt, Kansas City Chiefs.....	26	7	26.9
Aldrick Robinson, Minnesota Vikings.....	15	4	26.7
Dante Pettis, San Francisco 49ers.....	19	5	26.3

Injury tidal wave hits Cincinnati: The Bengals this season have faced perhaps the harshest run of injuries in Marvin Lewis' 16 seasons as head coach (2003-present). With three games left to play, Cincinnati has 14 players on the Reserve/Injured list, including notable names like QB Andy Dalton (thumb), WR A.J. Green (toe), TE Tyler Eifert (ankle), TE Tyler Kroft (foot), DE Carl Lawson (knee) and LB Preston Brown (knee).

Of the 53 players on the roster for the regular-season opener at Indianapolis, 19 have missed at least two games due to injury. Ten of those 19 players are currently on Reserve/Injured, and one more — HB Tra Carson (groin) — was waived from Reserve/Injured with an injury settlement on Sept. 28.

The players missing time have been valuable ones too — 18 of the 46 Bengals active on opening day have since missed at least two games (nine are currently on IR), including 12 of the 22 players to see at least 50 percent of the snaps on offense or defense.

Seven starters on offense from the season opener have since missed at least two games — Dalton (thumb), Green (toe), Eifert (ankle), Kroft (foot), LOT Cordy Glenn (back), C Billy Price (foot) and HB Joe Mixon (knee). Two more regular contributors — WR John Ross (groin) and HB Giovani Bernard (knee) — have missed multiple games as well.

Three defensive starters from the opener — Brown (knee), CB Dre Kirkpatrick (ankle) and SLB Nick Vigil (knee) — have missed at least two games this year. Three more regular contributors — Lawson (knee), DT Ryan Glasgow (knee) and CB Darqueze Dennard (sternoclavicular) — have also missed at least two games (Glasgow and Lawson are currently on Reserve/Injured). Additionally, starting MLB Vontaze Burfict, who missed the opener due to a four-game suspension, has missed three additional games this season due to a hip injury and concussion.

Since Lewis' arrival in 2003, the most Bengals players on Reserve/Injured at the end of a season is 19, in 2010. Lewis' 2007 and '08 teams each ended their seasons with 17 players on Reserve/Injured, while the '03 club had 16.

Boyd grabs the spotlight: Ever since Cincinnati drafted star WR A.J. Green with the fourth overall pick in the 2011 draft, the team has put a major emphasis on surrounding its superstar with a reliable and productive supporting group of pass-catchers. Over the years, that cast has included the likes WRs Marvin Jones, Mohamed Sanu and Brandon LaFell, along with TEs Jermaine Gresham and Tyler Eifert.

Never, though, has someone from that supporting cast been as productive as Bengals third-year WR Tyler Boyd this season. With three games remaining, Boyd's 72 catches and 990 receiving yards have both already eclipsed the previous best seasons by supporting cast members. Marvin Jones' 65 catches in the 2015 season and Brandon LaFell's 862 receiving yards in '16 were the previous bests for a full season.

With Green's season now over due to a toe injury, Boyd has been thrust even further into the spotlight. The third-year pro is on pace for 88 catches and 1218 yards this season. It's unlikely, but still plausible, that he could challenge the 100-catch mark, which has been reached only twice in team history — WR Carl Pickens in 1996 (100) and WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh in 2007 (team-record 112).

25 points does the trick: Since 2011, the rookie season of both QB Andy Dalton and WR A.J. Green, the Bengals own a 45-1-2 record (.958) when scoring 25 or more points. Only Miami has a better winning percentage, at .970 (32-1-0), when topping the 25-point mark over that span.

The Bengals are 5-0 this season when scoring 25 points or more, but they're 0-8 when failing to reach 25. They've hit the mark in wins over Indianapolis (34-23), Baltimore (34-23), Atlanta (37-36), Miami (27-17) and Tampa Bay (37-34).

Here are the top five teams in the NFL since 2011, in terms of winning percentage, when hitting the 25-point plateau.

TEAM	WINS	LOSSES	TIES	WINNING PCT.
Miami Dolphins	32	1	0	.970
Cincinnati Bengals	45	1	2	.958
Arizona Cardinals	35	3	0	.921
New England Patriots	78	9	0	.907
Denver Broncos	51	6	0	.895

Rookie defenders make their mark: Bengals Sam Hubbard and Jessie Bates have made a strong impact in their rookie seasons. Both have seen significant roles on Cincinnati's defense and produced valuable results.

Both Bates, a safety, and Hubbard, a defensive end, have scored touchdowns this season, marking just the third time in Bengals history that multiple rookies have scored defensive TDs.

Bates, the Bengals' second-round selection in April's draft, found the end zone in Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, when he intercepted a Jameis Winston pass and returned it 21 yards for a TD. It was the first pick-six by a Bengals rookie since Nov. 19, 2006 (S Ethan Kilmer).

Hubbard, a third-round selection in April's draft, scored when he recovered a Ryan Tannehill fumble in Game 5 vs. Miami. The score came with 2:37 left to play and helped seal a 27-17 Bengals win.

Entering Week 15, Bates has a team-high 94 tackles, and his three INTs rank second on the team. Hubbard has 32 tackles, including four sacks, to go with his fumble recovery.

Crunch-time Carlos: Throughout his nine-year Bengals career, DE Carlos Dunlap has earned a reputation for making big plays in key moments. This season has been no different. Dunlap, who has a team-high eight sacks this season, has made critical plays all year that played central roles in Bengals wins. Here's a roundup of Dunlap's big plays in key moments so far this season.

- In Game 1 at Indianapolis, with the Bengals trailing by six points late in the third quarter, Dunlap sacked Andrew Luck for an eight-yard loss. The play pushed the Colts back to the Bengals' 37-yard line and set up a 55-yard FG attempt by K Adam Vinateri, which fell short. Cincinnati's offense would take advantage of the short field on the ensuing possession, when a Joe Mixon TD put the Bengals ahead for good.

- In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, with the Ravens driving in the third quarter and trying to cut into Cincinnati's 11-point lead, Dunlap raced around a blocker and hit the arm of Ravens QB Joe Flacco as he was releasing a deep pass. The hit caused the ball to fall well short of the intended receiver and into the arms of Bengals S Shawn Williams for an INT.

- In the fourth quarter of Game 3 at Carolina, Dunlap had batted a pass on third down to force a Panthers punt, a strip-sack of Cam Newton (Panthers recovered) and a tackle for a loss. All three plays came with the Bengals trailing by seven points and attempting to mount a comeback.

- In Game 4 at Atlanta, Dunlap sacked Matt Ryan on third-and-goal from the six-yard line in the third quarter. The sack forced a Falcons FG and allowed Cincinnati to maintain a one-point lead. Atlanta had considerable momentum at the time, after blocking a Bengals punt and recovering at Cincinnati's eight-yard line. The four saved points proved critical in the end, as Cincinnati went on to earn a narrow 37-36 win.

- In Game 5 vs. Miami, with Cincinnati clinging to a three-point lead late in the fourth quarter, Dunlap fought through a holding penalty (called on Dolphins OT Ja'Wuan James) and hit the arm of QB Ryan Tannehill, forcing a fumble that ended up in the hands of DE Sam Hubbard, who raced 19 yards for a TD that put the Bengals ahead 27-17 with 2:37 left to play. On the ensuing Dolphins possession, Dunlap again raced around James, causing Tannehill to scramble away from his pressure and force an errant throw downfield, which Bengals S Jessie Bates intercepted to help seal a Cincinnati win.

- While he didn't have a singular game-changing play in Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, Dunlap did help the Bengals to a win by posting two sacks, a four-yard TFL on a running play and an additional QB hit.

Dunlap's PD frenzy: While it's unlikely that Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap this year will challenge his 2016 total of 15 passes defended, the ninth-year defensive lineman is clearly still making an impact on opposing offenses by batting passes at the line of scrimmage. Dunlap's seven passes defended this season rank third on the team, and the two players in front of him — CB William Jackson (11) and CB Dre Kirkpatrick (nine) — are Cincinnati's starting CBs.

In 2016, Dunlap's 15 PDs led all Bengals defenders and all other NFL defensive linemen. It was the first time since Cincinnati began recording defensive stats in 1976 that a Bengals defensive lineman had ever led the team in PDs.

To paint a clearer picture of just how effective Dunlap has been at batting passes, here's a list of non-defensive backs in the NFL with the most passes defended since the start of the 2016 season.

Dunlap's, Atkins' dominance = team success: Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap and DT Geno Atkins entered the NFL together in 2010 as draft picks of the Bengals, and in the nine seasons since they've established themselves among the top pass-rushing duos in the league. Most importantly though, the record shows that when Dunlap and Atkins are at their most dominant, it usually spells success for Cincinnati.

The Bengals are 10-6 (.625) when Dunlap records more than one sack, and 7-4 (.636) when Atkins records more than one sack. There have been two instances in which both have had more than one sack in the same game (Bengals are 1-1 in those contests), which means Cincinnati is a combined 16-9 (.640) when getting more than one sack from either player.

The Bengals are 7-1 since the beginning of the 2015 season when Dunlap records more than one sack, with the only outlier coming in a 20-17 overtime loss at Denver in 2015. Dunlap had a career-best three sacks in that Denver game and finished 2015 with a career-best 13.5, second-most in Bengals history. Dunlap has one multi-sack game this season, which came in a win vs. Tampa Bay in Game 8 (two sacks).

Since 2015, the Bengals are 5-2 when Atkins has more than one sack. The only outliers during that span were losses vs. Houston and at Minnesota in 2017. Atkins has two multi-sack games this season — two sacks in both Game 2 vs. Baltimore and Game 5 vs. Miami — and the Bengals are 2-0 in those contests.

Dunlap and Atkins signed contract extensions before the 2018 season that will keep them in Cincinnati through the '21 and '22 seasons, respectively. Dunlap (72.5 career sacks) currently stands second on the Bengals' all-time sack list, and Atkins (68) is third. The Bengals' leader in career sacks is DE Eddie Edwards, with 83.5.

Dunlap, Atkins neck-and-neck in career sacks: Just 4.5 sacks separate Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap (72.5 career sacks) and DT Geno Atkins (68), who rank second and third, respectively, on Cincinnati's all-time sack list behind all-time leader Eddie Edwards (83.5). And after signing contract extensions on Aug. 28 that keep them in Cincinnati for the foreseeable future — Dunlap through 2021, Atkins through '22 — the race is on to see who catches Edwards first.

Atkins, who missed nearly half of the 2013 season with a torn ACL, has almost double the number of sacks of the next-closest interior defensive lineman in Bengals history (Tim Krumrie, 34.5). Atkins has seven sacks through 13 games this season, and could still challenge his career-high of 12.5, set in 2012. Atkins has finished in at least a share of the NFL lead for sacks by an interior lineman five times in his eight NFL seasons, including in each of the last three seasons.

Dunlap, who turns 30 after the 2018 season, has averaged 8.1 sacks over his first eight seasons, while Edwards averaged just under seven over 12 seasons. The two-time Pro Bowler (2015 and '16) is has equaled that average this season, with eight sacks through 13 games. In 2015, Dunlap set career-high in sacks, with 13.5, the second-most in Bengals history. Besides his 72.5 sacks, Dunlap's career totals include 18 FFs, eight FRs, 55 PDs, four blocked FGs and three TDs.

NOTE: The NFL has counted sacks as official statistics since 1982. However, the Bengals have sack statistics compiled since 1976 and recognize those sacks recorded from '76-81 in its records. Thus, please note that, because the NFL has sacks statistics for all teams only since 1982, the Bengals' sack statistics for players whose careers included seasons prior to '82 will not be included in league information.

Geno aims for another crown: With three weeks remaining in the regular season, Bengals DT Geno Atkins, who has seven sacks, ranks fourth in the NFL in sacks by an interior defensive lineman. Atkins trails only San Francisco DT DeForest Buckner (nine), Indianapolis DT Denico Autry (eight) and New Orleans DT Sheldon Rankins (eight).

Atkins has finished in at least a tie for the most sacks by NFL interior defensive lineman in each of the last three seasons, and five times in his eight total NFL seasons. He claimed the honor outright in 2012 (12.5 sacks), '16 (nine) and '17 (nine), while sharing it in '11 (7.5) and '15 (11).

It should also be noted that the NFL's sack leader, L.A. Rams DT Aaron Donald (16.5), is now listed by Elias Sports Bureau as a DE after having had his classification switched between DT and DE multiple times this season. According to Elias, Donald's listed position depends on whether he lines up primarily on the inside or outside of the Rams' 3-4 defensive scheme. Donald typically lines up outside NT Ndamukong Suh, which would make him a DE, however the Rams have also employed defensive line formations where a defender is lined up outside of Donald.

Atkins has been selected to the Pro Bowl six times in his eight previous seasons. Those six selections are the most by any Bengals defensive lineman in team history — no other DL has had more than two — and tied with CB Lemar Parrish for the most by a Bengals defensive player (six). He currently stands at 68 career sacks, the most by a Bengals interior lineman and third overall.

Geno on HOF pace: Bengals DT Geno Atkins, who this year is playing his ninth NFL season, currently stands at 68 career sacks, third in team history and the most ever by a Bengals interior defensive lineman.

But a closer look reveals that Atkins is on a Hall-of-Fame pace. Only three DTs in NFL history had more sacks through their first eight seasons than Atkins' 61 entering 2018 — John Randle (85.5), Warren Sapp (72) and La'Roi Glover (61.5). Randle and Sapp are in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

It should also be noted that Atkins missed nearly half of the 2013 season, due to a torn ACL.

Here's a look at the sack totals of notable Hall-of-Fame DTs through their ninth seasons, as well as where they stood at the end of their careers (this list includes only DTs whose careers started after 1982, when the NFL began counting sacks as official statistics):

NAME	YEARS ACTIVE	THRU 9 SEASONS	CAREER SACKS

*—Atkins is playing his ninth season in 2018.

Only A.J.: Cincinnati's A.J. Green was selected in 2017 to his seventh Pro Bowl in seven seasons, making him the only NFL receiver since the 1970 merger to start his career with seven consecutive Pro Bowl nominations. He is also the only Bengal at any position to make the Pro Bowl in each of his first seven seasons. Only one other Bengal, WR Isaac Curtis, made it for as many as his first four seasons (1973-76).

In total Pro Bowl selections, Green's seven selections move him ahead of WR Chad Johnson and CB Lemar Parrish (each with six) for second-most in Bengals history, behind Hall of Fame OT Anthony Munoz, who had 11.

Although he was selected last year, Green opted not to play in the Pro Bowl due to an injury. He also opted not to play in 2016, due to a hamstring injury that cut his season short after 10 games. If selected this year, Green likely would miss the game for a third straight year, due to a toe injury that ended his season in early December.

A comeback for the record book: In Game 5 vs. Miami, Cincinnati erased a 17-point second-half deficit by scoring 27 unanswered points, including 24 in the fourth quarter, in a thrilling 27-17 come-from-behind victory. It was just the eighth time in Bengals history that the team rallied from a deficit of 17 or more points to win.

Here is a look at those eight instances:

DATE	BENGALS' OPPONENT	DEFICIT	FINAL SCORE
9-6-81	Seattle Seahawks.....	21	W, 27-21
12-24-95	Minnesota Vikings.....	21	W, 27-24
11-3-96	at Baltimore Ravens.....	18	W, 24-21
8-31-97	Arizona Cardinals.....	18	W, 24-21
12-24-94	Philadelphia Eagles.....	17	W, 33-30
12-5-04	at Baltimore Ravens.....	17	W, 27-26
10-11-15	Seattle Seahawks.....	17	W, 27-24
10-7-18	Miami Dolphins.....	17	W, 27-17

The comeback also marked just the fourth time in Bengals history, and the first time since 2004, that Cincinnati scored at least 24 points in the fourth quarter. Here is a look at those four instances, which all were Cincinnati wins:

DATE	BENGALS' OPPONENT	4TH-QTR. POINTS	FINAL SCORE
12-17-72	at Houston Oilers.....	28	W, 61-17
12-17-78	Cleveland Browns.....	24	W, 48-16

10-7-18	Miami Dolphins.....	24	W, 27-17

Three Big-12 DPOYs now in stripes: The Bengals this season have three players on their roster who earned at least a share of the Big 12 Conference's Defensive Player of the Year Award in each of the last three seasons.

In 2017, LB Malik Jefferson of Texas — now a Bengals rookie — shared the award with Ogbornia Okoronkwo of Oklahoma. Jefferson racked up a team-leading 110 tackles on the season, including 10 for losses and four sacks, and posted double-digit tackles in six of his team's 12 games.

In 2016, DE Jordan Willis of Kansas State — now in his second Bengals season — won the award outright, after recording 52 tackles, including 17.5 for losses and 11.5 sacks (led Big 12 and tied school record). Willis logged at least a shared sack in eight of 13 games in his senior season of 2016, and he left KSU tied for seventh in Big 12 history in career sacks (26). Willis, whose playing time has increased gradually over his two Bengals seasons, has 16 tackles this year, including one sack, five QB hits, a pass defended and a fumble recovery.

In 2015, DT Andrew Billings of Baylor — now in his third season with the Bengals — shared the award with Emmanuel Ogbah of Oklahoma State. Billings totaled 40 tackles that season, including 14 for losses and 5.5 sacks. Billings, who missed his entire rookie season for the Bengals in 2016 due to a knee injury, saw time as a rotational player in '17, before moving to the No. 1 NT role for '18. He has 26 tackles this season, including two sacks, and six QB hits.

It should also be noted that the 2014 Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, P.J. Dawson of Texas Christian, was a '15 Bengals draftee and was with the team through the '16 season.

Other former Bengals to win the award include CB Terence Newman of Kansas State (2002) and S Roy Williams of Oklahoma (2001). Newman was with the Bengals from 2012-14, and Williams was with the team from '09-10.

15 carries for Gio does the trick: After missing four games (Games 5-8) earlier this season with a knee injury, Bengals HB Giovani Bernard has returned to action the last five games, and has season totals of 47 carries for 197 yards and three TDs.

But when examining Bernard's workload as a rusher throughout his career, a significant trend becomes apparent — the Bengals are 10-1-1 in games in which Bernard has at least 15 rushing attempts, including a 1-0 mark this season (15 rushes for 69 yards in Game 4 at Atlanta).

In the 12 career games in which Bernard has reached 15 carries, he has averaged 78.4 yards, scored seven rushing TDs and topped 100 yards three times.

Gio sets sights on Brooks: HB Giovani Bernard in 2018 has re-started his long pursuit of the all-time Bengals leads in both receptions and receiving yards by a running back. With 259 receptions, Bernard stands 38 short of James Brooks' record of 297. And with 2245 receiving yards, Bernard is 767 short of Brooks' record of 3012. Brooks played eight seasons with the Bengals (1984-91), while 2018 is Bernard's sixth.

Last season, Bernard returned to action to play in every game, less than a year after suffering a torn ACL in his left knee (Nov. 20, 2016 vs. Buffalo). He led the Bengals in yards per carry, at 4.4 (minimum five carries), while also adding 847 scrimmage yards and four total TDs (two receiving, two rushing). This season, Bernard got off to a fast start before being sidelined in Games 5-8 due to an injury to his right knee. He has returned to action the last five weeks, and his season receiving totals include 29 catches for 185 yards.

Bernard averaged 1147 yards from scrimmage over his first three seasons (2013-15), before finishing with 673 scrimmage yards in his injury-shortened '16 campaign (10 games). In his nine games played this season, Bernard has 382 yards from scrimmage.

Some very good rushing numbers: The Bengals have had two games this season in which a player has reached 100 rushing yards, with HB Joe Mixon hitting the mark in Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay (123) and Game 13 at the L.A. Chargers (111). Cincinnati is 1-1 in those games, bringing the Bengals' record to an impressive 47-8-1 (.848) under Marvin Lewis when a rusher reaches 100 yards.

What's more, the Bengals' record under Lewis when a rusher hits the 25-carry plateau is 39-3 (929). Cincinnati, though, is 0-1 this season when a rusher hits reaches 25 carries, after Mixon rushed 26 times in a losing effort at the L.A. Chargers.

"It's not always the rushing yardage total that's most important," Lewis has said. "When you're running the ball a lot, it's a sign that even though the yardage will vary, you're controlling the ball, controlling the clock, and keeping your defense off the field. As it shows for us, that is going to be a winning combo."

"We love seeing a guy get 100 yards, but sometimes he can break one big gain and then get to 100 even though you may not be running as consistently well and controlling the game like you do when you get high-carry numbers."

Bengals draft picks stick in NFL: There are currently 48 players on NFL rosters who entered the NFL as draft picks of the Bengals, the second-most of any NFL team (info as of Dec. 11). Cincinnati was in the top spot prior Week 12, and earlier this season they had a double-digit lead over the second-place team. But a slew of injuries that have landed 14 current Bengals — nine of which originated as Bengals draft picks — on Reserve/Injured has brought that number down significantly.

Of the 53 players on the Bengals' active roster, 42 entered the NFL with Cincinnati, and of those players, only DE Michael Johnson, TE Matt Lengel and OT Andre Smith have played elsewhere. Johnson, a 2009 third-round pick of the Bengals spent 2014 with Tampa Bay before rejoining Cincinnati as a free agent in '15. Lengel, a 2015 college free agent signee of the Bengals, spent time with New England and Cleveland the last two years before re-joining Cincinnati prior to Week 6 this season. And Smith, a 2009 first-round pick of the Bengals, spent '16 with Minnesota and the first 11 games of this season with Arizona, before re-joining the Bengals as a free agent on Nov. 29.

Thirty-three current Bengals originated as draft picks of Cincinnati, including seven first-round picks (including Smith), five second-rounders, six third-rounders (including Johnson), five fourth-rounders, five fifth-rounders, three sixth-rounders and two seventh-rounders. There are also nine players (including Lengel) who entered the NFL as college free agent signees of Cincinnati.

It should also be noted that 12 of the 14 players the Bengals' Reserve/Injured list entered the NFL with Cincinnati (nine draft picks, three CFAs).

Here's a look at the teams with the most draft picks currently on an active NFL roster.

TEAM	DRAFT PICKS ON NFL ROSTERS
Baltimore Ravens	53
Cincinnati Bengals	48
San Francisco 49ers	44
Green Bay Packers	43
Cleveland Browns	42
New England Patriots	42

Marvin's youth movement 2.0: At an average age of 25.38 years old, the Bengals' roster on opening week this season was the youngest in the 16-year tenure of head coach Marvin Lewis, narrowly edging out last year's roster (25.45). Cincinnati also ranked as the second-youngest team in the NFL behind Cleveland (25.19), and came in well below the league average of 26.06. (Opening-week roster information, released each year by the NFL, is considered the baseline for comparing year-to-year roster information.)

The average age dipped this year thanks to seven picks from April's draft making the roster and the departures of veterans like CB Adam Jones, WR Brandon LaFell and S George Iloka. The Bengals' opening-week roster in 2017 ranked as the third-youngest in the NFL, behind Cleveland (24.17) and the L.A. Rams (25.11). Prior to 2017, Lewis' next-youngest opening-day rosters were in 2004 (25.7) and '11 (25.74).

Also on opening day, 35 of Cincinnati's 53 players were 25 years old or younger, compared to just 23 players in Week 1 last year. This year's total marks the most players 25 or younger ever on a Bengals opening-day roster, edging out the 1993 squad (34).

Four Bengals hail from Queen City: The Bengals in the 2018 season have four players — LB Preston Brown (Reserve/Injured), DE Sam Hubbard, P Kevin Huber and DT Adolphus Washington (Reserve/Injured)— who grew up in Greater Cincinnati.

Brown, who grew up in College Hill and attended Northwest High School, is in his first year with the Bengals, after spending his first four NFL seasons with the Buffalo Bills. After signing with Cincinnati as an unrestricted free agent in March, Brown called the opportunity "living out a dream."

"When I started looking around (in free agency), I knew there might be a spot here," Brown said. "And the Bengals definitely jumped to the top of my list when I found out they had interest in me as well."

Brown's first Bengals season came to an end on Nov. 20, when he was put on Reserve/Injured due to a knee injury. He ended the season with 42 tackles and two INTs in seven games played.

Hubbard, a Moeller High School alum, is in his rookie season, after a standout career at Ohio State. The Bengals selected Hubbard in the third round (77th overall) of April's draft, and the rookie has already worked his way into the defensive line rotation. Hubbard this season has four sacks and a fumble recovery for a TD that helped seal a win vs. Miami.

"It's insane," Hubbard said of being drafted by his hometown Bengals. "Seeing that 513 area code pop up on my phone on draft day was just incredible. To get an opportunity to represent the city of Cincinnati one more time, and to do it for the pro team in this city, is a dream come true. I watched every game the Bengals played. I was there when Carson Palmer got hurt in the playoff (in the 2005 season). I've just always been a big fan."

Huber, an Anderson Township native and alum of McNicholas High School and the University of Cincinnati, was a fifth-round draft choice of the Bengals in 2009. He has played in all but two games over his 10-year career in Cincinnati, and he currently stands as the Bengals' career leader in both gross (45.09) and net (39.79) punting average.

"It's already been an amazing nine years," he said of his time in Cincinnati. Huber and his wife, Mindi, have been active in the local community throughout his Bengals career. The couple started their own charity, The Foundation for Underserved Rescues, which "provides resources and support to underserved Cincinnati-area animal rescues."

Washington, a graduate of Taft High School, was signed off of the Cowboys' practice squad on Sept. 26. Washington was originally drafted in the third round of the 2016 draft by the Buffalo Bills, after a standout career at Ohio State.

"Everybody has a dream of going to the NFL, and also the dream of playing for their hometown team," Washington said after signing. "Right now, I'm just living out that dream."

Washington's season also ended prematurely, after a knee injury landed him on Reserve/Injured on Nov. 23. He finished his first Bengals season with six tackles, including a sack, in four games played.

The Huber roundup: Already a considerable presence in the Bengals' record book, P Kevin Huber has solidified his place in team history this season by taking over first place in two more Bengals career punting categories.

In Game 6 vs. Pittsburgh, Huber passed P Lee Johnson (32,196) for most career punting yards in Bengals history. Huber is now up to 33,905 career punting yards.

In Game 12 vs. Denver, the 10th-year pro passed Johnson (746) for most career punts. Huber is now up to 752 career punts. Johnson played 11 seasons (1988-98) for Cincinnati, while Huber is in his 10th.

Huber has particularly excelled throughout his career at pinning opponents inside the 20-yard line. In 2016, just his eighth season, Huber passed Johnson (186) for most inside-20 punts in team history. He's now up to 262 career inside-20 punts.

Huber also owns the franchise's all-time best ratio of inside-20 kicks to touchbacks (4.3-to-1, with 262 inside-20s and 61 touchbacks).

Huber's other top accomplishments with the Bengals include:

- He is the franchise leader in career gross average (45.09) and net average (39.79).
 - He holds the top four Bengals season averages in gross and the top five Bengals season averages in net. His gross record is 46.84, and his net record is 42.10 — both were set in 2014.
 - He shares the team record for longest punt (75 yards) with Kyle Larson.
 - His 33 inside-20 punts in 2012 is a single-season franchise record.
 - His six inside-20 punts on Sept. 14, 2017 vs. Houston are tied with Lee Johnson (Nov. 2, 1997) for the most in a game in Bengals history.
- Huber was an initial-ballot Pro Bowl selection in 2014 and also was named first-team All-Pro by The Sporting News that year.

Huber's touchback streak ties team mark: Bengals P Kevin Huber's streak of consecutive punts without a touchback came to an end at 56 in Game 7 at Kansas City, when his third punt of the game bounced into the end zone. It was his first touchback since Game 10 of 2017. Huber's streak tied P Pat McInally for the longest in team history, and it was also the longest active streak in the NFL at the time it was snapped.

Over his span of 56 punts without a touchback, Huber pinned opponents inside the 20-yard line 22 times.

A stat that matters: During the full term of head coach Marvin Lewis (2003-present), a plus-differential in turnovers is linked to a big plus in wins. And the reverse has gone for a minus.

The Bengals are 79-20-1 in regular season under Lewis with a plus (.795 winning percentage), but they are only 19-73-2 with a minus (.213).

"It makes a huge difference," Lewis says. "You see it game after game. You have to possess the football to win. If you possess the football, good things happen. If you turn the ball over to opponents, you have a much harder day."

The Bengals' experience with turnovers under Lewis is backed up by league numbers. Since the start of the 2003 season, Lewis' first as head coach, here are the records of teams with varying turnover differentials (minus differentials are not included because they are the exact reverse of the plus figure for the same numbers):

DIFFERENTIAL	W-L-T	PCT.
Plus 1	986-459-5	.682
Plus 2	786-163	.828
Plus 3	442-42-1	.912
Plus 4	231-6	.975
Plus 5	101-3-1	.967

Plus teams so far in 2018 are 124-34-2 (.781 winning percentage).

And when it's even? The Bengals are 32-27 under head coach Marvin Lewis in games when the turnover differential has been even, for a winning percentage of .542. Cincinnati, however, is just 1-3 this season with an even differential.

Turnover tables are turned: During the tenure of head coach Marvin Lewis (2003-present), the Bengals rank ninth in the NFL in turnover differential, at plus-41.

Prior to Lewis' tenure, the Bengals had posted a minus turnover differential for five straight years (1998-2002).

Since 2003, NFL teams with just a plus-one differential have won 68.2 percent of those games. At plus-two, the percentage has been 82.8. Teams with any plus have won at a 79.0 percent clip.

Here are the top nine teams in differential since 2003:

TEAM	TAKEAWAYS	GIVEAWAYS	DIFFERENTIAL
New England Patriots	460	287	+173
Seattle Seahawks	428	355	+73
Kansas City Chiefs	419	350	+69
Green Bay Packers	422	361	+61
Carolina Panthers	457	399	+58
Indianapolis Colts	401	348	+53
Baltimore Ravens	440	396	+44
Atlanta Falcons	404	361	+43
Cincinnati Bengals	431	390	+41

Since 2003, the Bengals rank seventh in takeaways (431) and 10th in points off turnovers (1316).

Bengal bites: Marvin Lewis' winningest month has been September (30-24-0, .556), followed closely by November (33-29-1, .532) and December/January (38-35-0, .521 [regular season]). Lewis' only losing month has been October (29-32-2, .476) ... In Game 5 vs. Miami, DEs Michael Johnson (INT return) and Sam Hubbard (fumble return) both scored TDs in the fourth quarter, helping the Bengals to a 27-17 win. It was the first time in Bengals history that two defensive linemen scored TDs in the same game. It was also the first time two defensive linemen scored TDs in the same quarter since Dec. 10, 1989, when Minnesota's Keith Millard and Tim Newton both scored in a Vikings win vs. Atlanta. ... The attendance of 91,653 on Oct. 9, 2016, at Dallas was the largest ever for a Bengals regular-season game, topping a house of 87,786 for a 2004 visit to FedEx Field in Washington. The largest crowd for any Bengals game remains 92,045, for a 1990 season playoff game against the Los Angeles Raiders at the L.A. Coliseum ... The tallest Bengal is DE Michael Johnson, who is 6-7 ... There is a tie for shortest Bengals player between K Randy Bullock and HB Giovanni Bernard, who are both 5-9 ... The heaviest Bengals player is OT Cordy Glenn, at 345 pounds ... There is a tie for lightest Bengals player between WR John Ross and CB Darius Phillips, who are both 190 pounds ... The oldest Bengal is LS Clark Harris, who is 34 (born July 10, 1984) ... The youngest Bengal is HB Mark Walton, who is 21 (March 29, 1997).

BENGALS QUOTES

QB Jeff Driskel, on being thrust into the starting QB spot after a season-ending injury to Andy Dalton:

"At the end of the day, it's my job to be prepared if Andy goes down. That's what I've been doing since I've been here. For the past three years, I've been preparing and making sure that when it's time to go in, I'm ready to give our team a chance to win.

"I've always known I can play at this level. I wouldn't be here if I couldn't. The more you get out there and the more you play well, the more confidence you are going to have in yourself and the people around you. I've just got to keep doing what I'm doing, continue to play well and give this team a chance to win games."

Offensive coordinator Bill Lazor, on QB Jeff Driskel:

"I've been impressed with Jeff. Really, we've been impressed with him every time he's gone into a game. He's poised, he knows where to go with the ball, and he knows how to get the ball out of his hand on time. Plus, he can stay alive if there is pressure there. And he is just going to continue to get better.

"I think our players believe in him, and he's proven it. That's the important part. You can't talk them into feeling good about somebody — that somebody has got to earn it. And Jeff has earned it every day in practice and in the preseason games."

QB's coach Alex Van Pelt, on QB Jeff Driskel:

"Obviously his ability and athleticism are two things that stand out. He has worked hard and put a lot into it. I've watched him grow since I arrived here. He has the skillset. It's just a matter of him putting in the work to refine that skill set."

John Ross, on QB Jeff Driskel:

"He's got confidence. Even before Andy went down, you could just tell in practice. ... Jeff comes in and does the same thing every week. He's consistent, he works hard all the time, and he never complains about anything. He knows how to get the ball to everyone — just as well as Andy does — and he never flinches."

Lazor, on WR Tyler Boyd:

"The guy's a smart football player, a playmaker with great physical abilities. We aren't surprised anymore when we see him catch passes for first downs (on third downs and fourth downs) because we see it happen frequently. He knows he can help win games, and he plays every play the same way. ... We talk all the time about 'play speed.' Guys have different 40 times, but the key is, when the ball is snapped, how fast a player plays. He can play with really great play speed and still be under control — he can change direction and not lose a lot of speed."

WR A.J. Green, on WR Tyler Boyd:

"That guy works his butt off every day. He's confident, and he's got great hands. He's a dog out there. You can't cover him one-on-one with the way he can separate in the seam."

Former Bengals WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh, on WR John Ross (Houshmandzadeh and Ross worked together in the 2018 offseason):

"The quarterback says, 'Set, hut!' and he's gone. He's not just fast. He's quick. He's got good lateral quickness. And he's got some size. He's bigger than you think. He's 5-11 and 190 (pounds). He's short, but he's not small. He's got some thickness to him."

Bengals RB's coach Kyle Caskey, on HB Joe Mixon:

"He's a very disciplined runner right now, and a very disciplined student. He's grown up. As a rookie (last year), he really didn't know what he was getting himself into at times. Now, he has been through it. He has a different mindset now than he had then. He really has taken ownership of where he's at on the team at this point."

Lazor, on HB Giovani Bernard:

"To me the guy is a warrior. Coming off the knee surgery two years ago and what he did last year, I just think he's a warrior. He really is physically unique being able to do what he does with his stature — to play the way he plays. He finishes runs, he doesn't run out of bounds, and he doesn't go down easily. I have great respect for him."

OT Bobby Hart, on his and G Alex Redmond's opportunities with the Bengals:

"No one wanted us, man. Shoot, he was undrafted, and I went in the seventh round and got kicked out of New York. We tell each other that before every game. Nobody wanted us. Each snap we get is a blessing. Now we get to prove that we belong."

Offensive line coach Frank Pollock, on G Clint Boling:

"He helps everybody a ton. He's the leader in the room and the leader on the field. He's a veteran and a smart guy, and he prepares the right way. He has great awareness, and he asks great questions in the meetings. He's one of those guys who already knows the answers, but he's helping the young guys out as well by getting me to offer further explanation."

C Billy Price, on G Clint Boling, who has started at LOT in place of an injured Cordy Glenn:

"He's a hell of a guy, hell of a player and I'm glad we have him in our corner. He solidifies everything, and helps us young players if we're confused by anything."

LB Vincent Rey, on playing for Marvin Lewis:

"Coach Lewis, he's out there on the field and you always feel like he's in the fight with you. We feel like we're fighting for him. Even though we're professionals and we're all grown men, you still go out there and you play for somebody. I do, for him."

DE Carlos Dunlap, on head coach Marvin Lewis in the role of defensive coordinator:

"It's in his DNA to have those reins as a D-coordinator. Him taking over sparked something in him. He's motivated and inspired. I like the energy."

Baltimore Ravens QB Joe Flacco, on DT Geno Atkins, DE Carlos Dunlap and the Bengals' defensive line:

"Their front seven is really good. Geno Atkins is arguably the best at his position. Carlos Dunlap is a monster — he deflects balls, he gets to the quarterback and pins his ears back. They don't rely on pressure by blitzing a lot. They rely on those guys to get to the passer."

DT Geno Atkins, on being an older leader on the defensive line:

"I embrace (the younger players). I used to be one of those young guys coming in and having veterans like Domata Peko, Robert Geathers and Tank Johnson to help me along the way. Now it's come full circle. Now I am doing the same thing by helping them. If I make them better, it's going to help the team in the long run. If everybody gets better, the team wins."

Atkins, after signing a contract extension in August:

"They are the team that drafted me. I love this city and the organization. It's something to have a legacy here. I think it's important to finish where I started. We have unfinished business here. Carlos (Dunlap, who also signed an extension) and I want to bring a Super Bowl to Cincinnati."

Atkins, on the relation between age and career length in today's NFL:

"I don't really consider age honestly, with today's sports science, advancements in how to take care of your body, and all of the knowledge that goes into what we do now with modalities. The training staff helps to try to keep us fresh for game day with their cold tubs, hot tubs, NormaTec (compression) and (electrical) stimulation. I think age isn't even a factor any more. Guys now can continue their career — barring any injuries — until their mid-30s."

Head coach Marvin Lewis, on DE Sam Hubbard:

"He has been way ahead of the curve. We're excited about that. He's really complementing and adding to our football team right now. He's mature beyond his years, and he's a part of our rotation in the defensive line group. I see a bright future for him. That's what we were looking for when we picked him."

S Jessie Bates, on his development on defense:

"Confidence in getting in there and getting your feet wet has been huge. You get comfortable, not only with the coaches, but with the players on the field you are playing with. I'm a younger guy, so I have to communicate with older guys for them to feel comfortable that I know my stuff, so we can play fast as a defense."

Lewis, on nickel DB Darqueze Dennard:

"Darqueze had a really strong season last year (in 2017), and he has continued to grow. More importantly, he has been our quarterback on defense. He (performs) a great deal of verbal communication between the corners and safeties. It's pretty cool to see him grow in that way.

"At one point early last season, he thought playing that spot (nickel DB) was a downgrade. I said, 'No, no, no. That's the most important guy. That's the guy that's setting things in place and making a lot of decisions. He works with the corners, linebackers and the safeties.' When I told him it was the position that was always the most valuable spot wherever I have coached, he embraced it."

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: Third-year pro Jeff Driskel made his first career start on Dec. 2 vs. Denver, after the Bengals placed Andy Dalton on Reserve/Injured on Nov. 26, due to a right thumb injury suffered in Game 11 vs. Cleveland. Driskel, who has spent the last two seasons with the Bengals, is 66 of 101 (65.3) this season, for 645 yards, three TDs and one INT (88.9 rating). He's also rushed 11 times for 64 yards and two TDs. Driskel's NFL debut came earlier this season, in Game 7 at Kansas City, when he entered the contest late in the fourth quarter and passed four-of-four for 39 yards. Driskel first took over for the injured Dalton in the third quarter vs. Cleveland and led two TD drives in an attempted Cincinnati comeback. Driskel finished the game completing 17 of 29 passing for 155 yards and one TD (to Tyler Boyd), which was the first passing TD of his career. He also added a rushing TD on a two-yard QB sneak. Driskel made his first career start the next week, in Game 12 vs. Denver, and passed 25 of 38, for 236 yards, with one TD and one INT (80.6 rating). Driskel made his first road start in Game 13 at the L.A. Chargers, and passed 18 of 27, for 170 yards and one touchdown. Teammates have touted Driskel, who was a 29th-round draft selection of the Boston Red Sox in 2013, for his athleticism, with A.J. Green saying that Driskel "is the most athletic guy on our team." The Bengals have tapped into that athleticism this season and used Driskel as a running threat. In Game 9 vs. New Orleans, prior to Dalton's season-ending injury, Driskel entered the game in the first quarter at quarterback and ran for eight yards on a designed run. He scored his first career NFL touchdown later in the contest, on a 27-yard run. On Nov. 26, the team acquired QB Tom Savage on waivers from the San Francisco 49ers. Savage, who will now back up Driskel, was originally a fourth-round pick of the Houston Texans in 2014. In 11 games this season, Dalton was 226 of 365 for 2566 yards, 21 TDs and 11 INTs (89.6 rating). Dalton owns the top career winning percentage (.575), with a 68-50-2 win/loss record, of any Bengals QB with 10 or more starts. He now stands as the Bengals' all-time leader in career passer rating (88.8) and 300-yard passing games (24), and is second in attempts (3921), completions (2443), completion percentage (62.31), passing yards (28,100) and passing TDs (188).

Running backs: Second-year HB Joe Mixon, a 2017 second-round pick out of Oklahoma, is Cincinnati's No. 1 HB for '18. Mixon this season has 1149 yards from scrimmage on 218 touches — 180-for-866 (fourth in the AFC) and six TDs rushing, 38-for-283 and a TD receiving. Mixon missed Games 3 and 4 due to knee injury, and then returned in Game 5 vs. Miami and totaled 115 yards from scrimmage, including 22 carries for 93 yards and three catches for 22 yards and a TD. His 18-yard TD reception was the first receiving TD of his career and came at a crucial moment early in the fourth quarter, cutting the Dolphins' lead to just seven points and sparking a Bengals comeback. In Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, Mixon had a career-best 123 rushing yards on 21 carries (5.9), with two rushing TDs. In Game 11 vs. Cleveland, Mixon totaled his second-highest yards from scrimmage total of his career, with 155. He rushed 14 times for 89 yards and caught seven passes for 66 yards (career high of 165 yards came vs. Cleveland on Nov. 26, 2017). It was his first career multi-TD game and second-career game of rushing over the 100 yard mark (November 2017 vs. Cleveland, 114 yards). In Game 13 at the L.A. Chargers, Mixon totaled a team-high 138 total yards, including 26 rushes for 111 yards and one TD, and five receptions for 27 yards. It was his third career game of at least 100 rushing yards, and his second time doing so this season. Giovani Bernard has rushed 47 times for 197 yards (4.2) and three TDs this season, along with 29 catches for 185 yards (6.4). Bernard shouldered a heavier load in Games 3-4, in the absence of Mixon. In Game 3 at Carolina, Bernard started in place of the injured Mixon and rushed 12 times for 61 yards and a TD. He also added five catches for 25 yards. In Game 4 at Atlanta, he had 96 total yards (69 rushing, 27 receiving) and had two rushing TDs. It was the third time in his career he has rushed for two TDs in a game, and the first time since 2014 vs. Tennessee. A knee injury sidelined Bernard for Games 5-8 and he returned to action in Game 9 vs. New Orleans. In his return, he rushed two times for six yards and caught three passes for 30 yards. New to the Bengals' RBs room this year is rookie fourth-round pick Mark Walton of the University of Miami (Fla.). This season, Walton has 14 rushes for 34 yards, and five receptions for 41 yards. Walton, who was touted by NFL scouts for his athleticism and versatility, played three seasons for the Hurricanes, and in 30 career games compiled 2630 total yards (2006 rushing, 624 receiving) with 28 TDs (26 rushing, two receiving). As a sophomore in 2016, his only full season as starter, he rushed for the seventh-most yards (1117) and third-most rushing TDs (14) in school history.

Wide receivers: Seven-time Pro Bowler A.J. Green was placed on the Reserve/Injured list on Dec. 5 with a season-ending toe injury. In nine games this season he caught 46 passes (second on team) for 694 yards (second on team) and six TDs (tied for team lead). With Green out for the rest of the season, third-year pro Tyler Boyd, who at just 24 years old suddenly finds himself as a veteran in Cincinnati's receiving corps, has been thrust into the spotlight. This season Boyd leads the team in catches (72), receiving yards (990, seventh in the AFC) and is tied for the team lead with six TDs. This season he has 20 catches of over 20 yards which is tied for second in the AFC, trailing only Kansas City's Tyreek Hill (24). In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, Boyd recorded six catches for 91 yards and a TD. In Game 3 at Carolina, he posted a then career high in receiving yards (132) on six catches, and he added a 27-yard TD reception. It was Boyd's first game of 100 or more receiving yards. In Game 4 at Atlanta, Boyd recorded a career-high 11 receptions for 100 yards. It was his first career game of 10 or more receptions. Boyd played a significant role on the Bengals' game-winning TD drive at Atlanta, with four total catches, including a third-down conversion and two fourth-down conversions that kept the drive alive. In Game 6 vs. Pittsburgh, Boyd caught seven passes for 62 yards and two touchdowns — the first multi-TD game of his career. In Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, Boyd set a new career high in receiving yards (138) on nine catches and one TD. In Game 10 at Baltimore, Boyd continued his emergence in the absence of Green, catching four passes for 71 yards — including catches of 29 and 32 yards. In Game 11 vs. Cleveland, Boyd caught seven passes for 85 yards and a TD — 28-yard pass from Jeff Driskel. Boyd has also caught at least one pass in all 39 of his games played. Second-year pro John Ross began the season with heavy anticipation surrounding him, and when healthy, he's delivered with 18 catches for 200 yards and six TDs (tied for team lead). Ross, who was considered a deep threat when he entered the league, has been a goal-line threat this season, as four out of his six TDs this season have come from the 10-yard line or closer. Ross' first career catch came in Game 1 at Indianapolis, and it went for a three-yard TD. In Game 4 at Atlanta, he caught a 39 yard TD, the longest catch of his career, and finished the game with two catches for 52 yards and a TD. Ross, suffered a groin injury in Game 4 at Atlanta that caused him to miss Games 5-6. He was active for Game 7 at Kansas City but re-aggravated his injury and left the game (no statistics) forcing him to miss Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay. He returned to the lineup in Game 9 vs. New Orleans and caught two passes for 39 yards and a TD — 2-yarder in the first quarter. In Game 10 at Baltimore, he caught two passes for 27 yards and a TD — a 22-yarder in the third quarter. In Game 11 vs. Cleveland, Ross caught three passes for 31 yards and a two-yard TD. In Game 13 at the L.A. Chargers, Ross caught 2 passes for 11 yards and a TD. Ross, the Bengals' first-round pick (ninth overall) in the 2017 draft, gained notoriety in the pre-draft process when at the 2017 NFL Combine he ran a blistering 4.22-second 40-yard dash, considered to be the fastest in the history of the combine's marquee event. Another second-year WR is Josh Malone. Malone has one catch for 12 yards this season, in limited offensive action. Last season, Malone saw action in 11 games (seven starts), with six catches for 63 yards and a TD. The Bengals' jack of all trades is Alex Erickson, a 2016 college free agent signee who currently ranks sixth in the NFL in KOR average, at 24.7 yards per return. He has served as the team's No. 1 PR and KOR since his rookie season. Erickson has seen increased action on offense early this season, due to injuries in the receiving corps, and he's also served as an emergency HB due to injuries to the Bengals' running backs. For the season, Erickson has nine catches for 46 yards, and three rushes for 22 yards. In Game 6 vs Pittsburgh, he had kickoff returns of 47 and 51 yards (season long). In Game 10 at Baltimore, Erickson had a 38-yard punt return, his longest of the season. On Sept. 8, Erickson signed a two-year contract extension that lasts through the 2020 season. Cody Core, a third-year player out of the University of Mississippi is considered a key player on special teams but has also seen action on offense this season due to injuries. In Game 12 vs Denver, Core caught a 30-yard TD, the first of his career. He has 10 catches for 114 yards and a TD on the season. Core was inactive for Games 1-2 due to a back injury. Rookie Auden Tate, a seventh-round Bengals draft pick, was signed from the practice squad on Nov. 5. He made his NFL debut Game 9 vs. New Orleans and in limited action was targeted one time (recording no statistics). Tate made his first career NFL reception in Game 10 at Baltimore (one reception for five yards). Tate made the active roster out of training camp but was inactive for Games 1-6 before joining the practice squad prior to Game 7. At 6-5, 228 pounds, Tate is a big-bodied, sure-handed receiver known for his proficiency in the red zone — 15 of his 16 career TD catches at Florida State came from the 20-yard line or closer.

Tight ends: The Bengals have leaned heavily upon fourth-year pro C.J. Uzomah, after losing Tyler Eifert, Tyler Kroft and Mason Schreck to injuries earlier this season. Eifert suffered a serious ankle injury in Game 4 at Atlanta that landed him on Reserve/Injured. Kroft, who had four catches 36 yards this season after a breakout year in 2017, suffered a foot injury in Game 5 vs. Miami and was placed on Reserve/Injured on Nov.16. Schreck, a 2017 seventh-round pick, figured to see an increased role this year but suffered a season-ending knee injury in Game 7 at Kansas City. Uzomah has been a bright spot for the Bengals in the midst of all the injuries to the TEs. Uzomah has caught 37 passes for 357 yards and two TDs this season. His best performance came in Game 6 vs. Pittsburgh, with six catches for 54 yards. On Oct. 10, the team signed Matt Lengel off of Houston's practice squad to add depth to the injury-riddled group. Lengel entered the NFL as a college free agent signee of the Bengals in 2015, and spent '15 and half of '16 on Cincinnati's practice squad before signing with the New England Patriots. He played in nine games for New England in 2016, including three in the playoffs, and helped the Patriots to a Super Bowl Championship. Lengel made his Bengals debut in Game 6 vs Pittsburgh. Lengel recorded his first catch as a Bengal in Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay for a gain of four yards. In Game 10 at Baltimore, he scored his first TD as a Bengal — a four yard catch. Rookie Jordan Franks, a CFA from the University of Central Florida, was signed off the practice squad on Oct. 23. In his NFL debut, Franks caught his first career pass on his only play from scrimmage, gaining 32 yards and setting up the Bengals' first TD of the game in the first quarter.

Offensive linemen: In March, the Bengals acquired OT Cordy Glenn in a trade with Buffalo, helping secure the LOT position with a proven and reliable veteran. The 6-6, 345-pound Glenn is in his seventh NFL season in 2018 and has played in 88 career games (87 starts). Glenn, though, has missed the last three games due to a back injury, and his status for this week's game vs Oakland is unknown. Glenn played collegiately at Georgia, where in his first three seasons he played alongside Bengals veteran LG Clint Boling. Boling, an eighth-year player in 2018, is the longest consecutively tenured lineman on the roster. Last season, Boling was one of only two Bengals to play all 962 offensive snaps. However, his consecutive snap streak of 1,448 came to an end in Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay when he left the contest with back spasms. Boling, though, did return to starting action at LG in Game 9 vs. New Orleans. In Games 12-13, Boling started at LOT in place of the injured Glenn. The Bengals used their first-round selection (21st overall) in April's draft on Ohio State's Billy Price, who is the team's No. 1 center this season. Price suffered a foot injury in Game 2 at Baltimore, causing him to miss Games 3-8. He returned to the lineup at C in Game 9 vs. New Orleans. Last year at Ohio State, in his first-ever season playing center, Price earned unanimous All-American honors and was named the Rimington Trophy winner as college football's top center. Price was a four-year starter for the Buckeyes — his first three seasons were at G — and his 55 career starts set a school record. A two-time captain at OSU, Price was noted by scouts for his leadership, intelligence and powerful blocking. Listed as the No. 1 RG is Alex Redmond. Close observers will also notice a much slimmer Redmond in 2018, as the G dropped significant weight over the offseason. Redmond is listed at 310 pounds, after being listed at 330 last season. Redmond had started and played in 100 percent of the offenses snaps before missing Game 9 vs. New Orleans with a hamstring injury. Redmond returned to starting action at RG in Game 10 at Baltimore. OT Bobby Hart, the Bengals' No. 1 ROT, joined the Bengals over the offseason after spending his first four seasons with the New York Giants. Hart has played in 46 career games (34 starts). Adding depth to the line is third-year pro Trey Hopkins. Hopkins was thrust into action at C in Game 2 vs. Baltimore, after Price left with a foot injury, and filled in for Price as the starting C in Games 3-8. In Game 9 vs. New Orleans, Hopkins started at RG in place of the injured Redmond. In Games 12-13, Hopkins started at LG for Boling, who had shifted out to LOT. Hopkins has started games at LG, C, and RG this season. Hopkins has been praised by coaches for his versatility and has lined up at all five OL positions in practice. OT Cedric Ogbuehi, the Bengals' first-round draft selection out of Texas A&M in 2015, adds valuable depth to the line. Ogbuehi saw extended action at LOT in Game 11 vs Cleveland, when Jake Fisher, who was starting for the injured Glenn, left with a back injury. Ogbuehi has played in 34 career games (25 starts). On Nov. 29, the team signed 10th-year veteran Andre Smith to provide depth on the offensive line. He was originally a first-round draft pick (sixth overall) out of Alabama in 2009 and spent eight of his previous nine NFL seasons with Cincinnati. He made his '18 Bengal debut in Game 13 at the L.A. Chargers, playing three snaps at ROT when Hart exited briefly. Providing depth at G is third-year pro Christian Westerman. Westerman saw his first extended action on the offensive line this season in Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, filling in at LG for the injured Boling. With injuries along the defensive front, Westerman entered to play defensive line in a goal-line situation in Game 11 vs. Cleveland. Westerman saw his first extended action of the season in Game 13 at the L.A. Chargers, totaling 42 snaps at LG and helping HB Joe Mixon to 111 rushing yards.

Defensive linemen: Ninth-year DT Geno Atkins has seven sacks this season (second on the team), which is fourth among NFL interior defensive linemen. Atkins has finished in at least a tie for the NFL lead in sacks by an interior defensive lineman in five of his eight previous seasons — he claimed it outright in 2012, '16 and '17, and he shared it in '11 and '15. In Game 2 vs. Baltimore had two sacks of Ravens quarterback Joe Flacco. In Game 5 vs. Miami, Atkins had two sacks of Dolphins quarterback Ryan Tannehill. For his career, Atkins has had nine games of two sacks, two of which have come this season. In 2017, Atkins was voted to his sixth Pro Bowl in eight campaigns, the most ever by a Bengals defensive lineman and tied with CB Lemar Parrish for the most by a Cincinnati defender. With 68 career sacks, Atkins stands 4.5 sacks shy of teammate Carlos Dunlap (72.5) for second place in team history. Atkins passed LB Reggie Williams (62.5) for third place in Game 2 vs. Baltimore, when he had two sacks. DE Eddie Edwards is the franchise's all-time leader with 83.5. Dunlap leads the team with eight sacks and his seven PDs rank third on the team. Dunlap has made headlines this season with a number of game-changing plays. In Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, Dunlap recorded two sacks of Buccaneers quarterback Jameis Winston. It was his 10th career game of having two or more sacks, and the Bengals are 7-3 in those games. In Game 1 at Indianapolis, his sack of Andrew Luck proved critical, as it pushed the Colts' FG attempt back to 55 yards, and K Adam Vinateri's kick fell just feet short. In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, he hit QB Joe Flacco's arm as he attempted a pass, altering the flight of the ball and forcing an INT. In Game 3 at Carolina, he strip-sacked Cam Newton in the fourth quarter as Cincinnati attempted to rally, however Carolina recovered. In Game 5 vs. Miami, Dunlap strip-sacked Dolphins quarterback Ryan Tannehill late in the fourth quarter, resulting in a fumble recovery return for a TD to put the Bengals ahead 10 points with 2:37 remaining. In Game 13 at the L.A. Chargers, Dunlap sacked Chargers QB Philip Rivers on third-and-one deep in Chargers territory, forcing a punt and giving the Bengals good field position, which they would capitalize on the next drive with a TD. For his career, Dunlap has 18 FFs, eight FRs, 55 PDs, four blocked FGs and three TDs. Third-year pro Andrew Billings is listed as the No. 1 NT alongside Atkins. Billings has 27 tackles, 2.5 sacks and seven QB hits this season. In Game 7 at Kansas City, Billings sacked Chiefs quarterback Patrick Mahomes to force a third-and-long. In Game 10 at Baltimore, Billings sacked Ravens rookie Lamar Jackson for a loss of seven. A fourth-round Bengals draft selection in 2016, Billings missed his entire rookie season with a knee injury (meniscus tear) suffered early in training camp. He returned last season to play in 15 games (seven starts), in a rotational role at NT. At RDE is veteran Michael Johnson, a 10th-year pro who has played nine Bengals seasons. Johnson suffered a knee injury early in Game 2 at Baltimore and missed Game 3 at Carolina, but he returned to action in Game 4. In Game 5 vs. Miami, Johnson intercepted deflected pass by Ryan Tannehill and raced 22 yards for a TD that helped spark a Bengals comeback win. It was Johnson's first career TD. Johnson has played in 144 of a possible 146 games (including postseason) during his Bengals tenure. Johnson has 29 tackles and 0.5 sacks on the season. Second-year DE Jordan Willis has played in all 13 games this season, with a start at RDE in Game 3 in place of the injured Johnson. For the season, Willis has 16 tackles, one sack, and five quarterback hits. He recorded his first sack of the season in Game 12 vs Denver, sacking QB Case Keenum. DE Sam Hubbard, a Cincinnati native who was a former standout at Moeller High School and Ohio State was selected by the Bengals in the third round (77th overall) of April's draft. Hubbard has 32 tackles, four sacks and a FR on the season. In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, he logged his first career sack, made a TFL and was a regular contributor on defense. In Game 5 vs. Miami, Hubbard made the play of the game, when he recovered a Ryan Tannehill fumble (forced by Dunlap) and returned it 19 yards for a TD. The score put Cincinnati ahead by 10 points with 2:37 remaining, effectively sealing a Bengals win. In Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, he sacked Bucs' quarterback Jameis Winston on a third-and-14 to force a punt. In Game 10 at Baltimore, Hubbard sacked Lamar Jackson to force a third-and-seven, pushing back the Ravens and helping to force a punt. In Game 12 vs. Denver, Hubbard sacked Case Keenum on third-and-seven to force a fourth down which resulted in a missed field goal attempt. He has also served as a lead-blocker for the Bengals in goal line situations and helped HB Joe Mixon to one-yard TD runs in both Game 1 at Indianapolis and Game 10 at Baltimore. In 40 career games at OSU, Hubbard totaled 116 tackles, including 29.5 for losses and 17 sacks. On Nov. 20, the Bengals signed Kasim Edeballi as a free agent. Edeballi is a fifth-year player who was originally a college free agent of the New Orleans Saints in 2014. He played three seasons (2014-16) with the Saints, before spending time in '17 with the Broncos, Lions and Rams, and then rejoining the Saints late in the season. Edeballi has been inactive for his first three games with Cincinnati. On Nov. 22, the Bengals signed DT Niles Scott off the Denver Broncos' practice squad to replace DT Josh Tupou, who went on Reserve/Injured that same day with a pectoral injury. Scott made his Bengals debut in Game 11 vs Cleveland and recorded two tackles. On Nov. 23, the team signed Christian Ringo off the Dallas Cowboys' practice squad. He was originally a sixth-round draft pick of the Green Bay Packers in 2015. He was with the Packers through the 2016 season, and then spent time with the Bengals and Lions in '17. Ringo made his Bengals debut in Game 12 vs. Denver, recording two tackles. In Game 13 at the L.A. Chargers, Ringo recorded three tackles and was credited with half a sack.

Linebackers: Veteran Vontaze Burfict, the leader of the Bengals' LB corps, has helped steer Cincinnati through a myriad of injuries at the position. Burfict, who himself missed three games due to injury and four due to a suspension, has 31 tackles in five games this season. Burfict is typically used at WLB, but has switched to MLB in recent weeks due to injuries in the Bengals' LB corps. SLB Nick Vigil is fourth on the Bengals in tackles (56) despite missing Games 7-11 due to a knee injury suffered in Game 6 vs. Pittsburgh. He returned to action in Game 12 vs. Denver and recorded two tackles and fumble recovery. Jordan Evans, a sixth-round Bengals draft selection in 2017 who filled in for Burfict at WLB in Games 1-4, has 59 tackles (third on team) and 1.5 sacks on the season. In Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, Evans recorded his first career INT when he picked off Jameis Winston. Second-year LB Hardy Nickerson, a 2017 CFA signee of the Bengals, has been an important contributor to the defense and has 42 tackles so far this season. Veteran Vincent Rey, a 2010 college free agent signee out of Duke and the longest-tenured LB on the roster, has 12 tackles in limited time on defense this season. Rey did make his first start of the season in Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, filling in for the injured Burfict. Rey also started in Game 11 vs. Cleveland. Rey led the team in tackles (84) last season, the third time he has done so in his eight Bengals seasons. Rey has the ability to play all three LB spots, and is considered a veteran leader on the defense. Rey holds the distinction as the only player in Bengals history to log three sacks and one INT in a game (Nov. 10, 2013 at Baltimore). Rookie Malik Jefferson of Texas, a third-round pick in April's draft, adds depth to the LB corps in his first NFL season. Noted by scouts for his speed and athleticism, Jefferson played three seasons at Texas and last year was named the Big 12 Co-Defensive Player of the Year after totaling 110 tackles, including 10 for losses and four sacks. Jefferson has played in 11 games this season and has six special teams' tackles. On Nov. 16 the team signed LB Brandon Bell off the practice squad to add depth to the injury-riddled defense. The Bengals waived Bell on final cuts this year before bringing him back to the practice squad on Oct. 23. Bell originally signed with the Bengals as a CFA out of Penn State in 2017 and spent most of his rookie season on the practice squad before signing to the active roster and playing in the final three games. He totaled seven tackles on defense and three tackles on special teams as a rookie. Bell made his 2018 debut in Game 10 at Baltimore (no statistics).

Defensive backs: Third-year pro William Jackson is in his first season as Cincinnati's full-time starter at RCB. This season, Jackson has 34 tackles and 11 passes defended (leads team). Jackson turned heads last season in his first action as a pro, after missing his entire rookie season with a pectoral injury. Last year he had a 75-yard pick-six of Aaron Rodgers in Game 3 at Green Bay. Manning the LCB spot is veteran Dre Kirkpatrick, who is in his fourth season as a full-time starter. Kirkpatrick missed his first game of the season, Game 11 vs. Cleveland with a shoulder injury. Kirkpatrick returned to action in Game 12 vs. Denver to record five tackles. He was sidelined again for Game 13 with an ankle injury. This season, Kirkpatrick has 37 tackles, and his nine PDs. Kirkpatrick has 10 career INTs, including two returned for TDs, in 91 career games. CB Darqueze Dennard, considered the team's primary nickel CB, missed Game 7-9 with a shoulder injury. Dennard returned to start at nickel DB in Game 10 at Baltimore, and recorded six tackles. With Kirkpatrick out with an injury in Game 11 vs. Cleveland, Dennard moved outside to start at LCB. Dennard had made four starts at nickel DB. He has 45 tackles with three passes defended this season. At SS, veteran Shawn Williams is in his third season as starter. On the season, Williams has 88 tackles (second on team), a sack, forced fumble and four INTs (tied for second in AFC) In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, Williams recorded an INT and forced a key fumble on Ravens QB Joe Flacco late in the fourth quarter, thwarting a Ravens comeback effort and helping seal a Bengals win. Williams left Game 6 vs. Pittsburgh with a concussion but returned for Game 7 at Kansas City to lead the team in tackles with 13. In Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, Williams picked off quarterback Jameis Winston and also had two PDs. In Game 10 at Baltimore, Williams intercepted QB Lamar Jackson and returned it 22 yards, helping set up a Cincinnati TD. Williams finished the game with a team high 11 tackles, a pass defended and an INT. Rookie S Jessie Bates, the Bengals' second-round draft pick, has taken over as the No. 1 FS this season.

Through 13 games, Bates leads the Bengals in tackles (94) and is tied for fifth in the AFC in INTs (three). In Game 2 vs. Baltimore, Bates recorded his first career INT, when on the first drive he picked off Ravens QB Joe Flacco and returned it 21 yards to help set up a Bengals TD. In Game 5 vs. Miami, Bates' interception of Dolphins QB Ryan Tannehill late in the fourth quarter helped seal a 27-17 Bengals win. In Game 8 vs. Tampa Bay, the rookie intercepted Jameis Winston and returned it 21-yards for a TD. The pick-6 gave the Bengals an 18-point lead late in the third quarter. In Game 9 vs. New Orleans, he had a team-high 11 tackles. In three seasons at Wake Forest, Bates totaled 179 tackles, including nine for losses, with six INTs, nine pass breakups and two FFs. Third-year pro Clayton Fejedelem was the hero of Game 1 at Indianapolis, when he forced a fumble on Colts TE Jack Doyle, recovered it and returned it 83 yards for a game-sealing TD. The play came with 24 seconds left in the game, as the Colts were driving for a possible game-winning TD. In Game 9 vs. New Orleans, he made his first start of the season as a nickel DB. For the season, Fejedelem has 22 tackles, to go with his FF and FR for a TD. Adding depth to the Bengals' CB rotation is rookie fifth-round pick Darius Phillips. Phillips has seen his playing time on defense increase in Games 6-10, due to injuries in the secondary. He made his first start of the season at nickel DB in Game 13 at the L.A. Chargers. He has 13 tackles on the season. Phillips finished his career at Western Michigan as one of the top defensive/special teams playmakers in college football history, with an FBS-record 12 total returns for TDs — five KOR, one PR, five INT, one FR. Phillips' five career pick-sixes in college tied for the most in FBS history. S Brandon Wilson, a sixth-round Bengals draft pick out of Houston in 2017, has developed into a key contributor on special teams and is tied for team lead with eight ST tackles this season. Providing depth at CB is second-year pro Tony McRae (CB), who spent 2016 and '17 between the Bengals' practice squad and roster. McRae has one pass defended on defense and has six special teams' tackles. McRae suffered a concussion in Game 11 vs. Cleveland. McRae missed Game 12-13 and his status for this week's game is unknown. Before Game 7 at Kansas City, KeiVarae Russell was promoted to the active roster from the practice squad. The third-year player out of Notre Dame played briefly on defense and special teams in his season debut. He has two tackles this season. On Dec. 5, the Bengals activated CB Davontae Harris from the Reserve/Injured list. Harris, a rookie was a fifth round draft selection out of Illinois State this past April. He made his season debut in Game 13 at the L.A. Chargers (no statistics).

Special teams: Seventh-year pro Randy Bullock is 13-for-17 on FGs this season, and 34-for-36 on PATs. Bullock owns an 82.0 career percentage on FGs (114 of 139) and 95.0 percentage on PATs (162 of 170). Last season, Bullock made a career-best 90 percent of his FGs (18 for 20). Bullock also made 93.9 percent of his PATs (31 of 33), his best percentage for a season since the PAT distance was moved to 33 yards in 2015. Veteran long-snapper Clark Harris in 2017 became the first-ever Bengals LS to earn a Pro Bowl nod. Harris has been a paragon of reliability since taking over as Cincinnati's LS in 2009, with no unplayable snaps in 1401 attempts as a Bengal (749 punts and 652 placekicks). On Nov 5, Harris signed a two-year contract extension with the Bengals. During a Pro Bowl practice last season, Harris set a new Guinness World Record for longest recorded snap at 36 yards, eight inches, breaking the previous record of 34 yards by Jase Whitner of Perrysburg, Ohio in 2017. P Kevin Huber, the longest consecutively tenured Bengal on the roster, is in his 10th season as a pro. Huber, a Cincinnati native (Archbishop McNicholas High School) and University of Cincinnati alum, originally joined the Bengals in 2009 as a fifth-round draft choice. In Game 6 vs. Pittsburgh, his punt of 62-yards in the first quarter made him the all-time leader in punt yards in franchise history, passing Lee Johnson' mark of 32,196. Huber is now up to 33,905 career punting yards. In Game 12 vs. Denver, he passed Johnson (746) for most punts in franchise history. Huber is now up to 752 career punts. Huber is also the Bengals' career leader in both gross (45.1) and net (39.8) punting average, as well as total inside-20s (262). Huber also shares the franchise record for longest punt, at 75 yards. Huber has served as the holder on placekicks his entire career. Listed as the No. 1 PR and KOR is third-year WR Alex Erickson. Through 12 games in 2018, Erickson is averaging 24.7 yards on KORs (sixth in NFL), with a season long of 51 in Game 6 vs. Pittsburgh. Listed as Erickson's backup at both positions is rookie CB Darius Phillips, who in college at Western Michigan had five career KORs for TDs and one PR for a TD. S Clayton Fejedelem, considered a leader of the Bengals coverage units on kickoffs and punts, is tied for the team led with eight special teams' tackles this season. Fejedelem led the team in 2017 with 16 ST tackles.

WEEK 3, GAME 3

Carolina Panthers 31, Cincinnati Bengals 21
Sunday, Sept. 23, 2018 at Bank of America Stadium

The Bengals were minus-four in turnovers and surrendered 230 net rushing yards to the Panthers, including 184 to RB Christian McCaffrey. Panthers QB Cam Newton accounted for all four Carolina TDs (two rushing, two passing), despite being held to just 150 yards through the air. Several key Bengals were inactive due to injuries, including HB Joe Mixon (knee), C Billy Price (foot), RDE Michael Johnson (knee) and LB Preston Brown (ankle). In addition, during the game itself, WR A.J. Green (pelvis) and DT Ryan Glasgow (knee) both left in the second half with injuries. Andy Dalton passed for 352 yards and two TDs, but three of his four INTs resulted in 17 Panthers points. WR Tyler Boyd led Cincinnati with a career-high 132 receiving yards and a TD, while TE Tyler Eifert, who battled injuries much of the last two seasons, recorded his most receptions (six) and receiving yards (74) in a game in nearly two years. The Bengals fell to 2-1 but kept a share of the lead in the AFC North, while the Panthers improved to 2-1.

WEEK 4, GAME 4

Cincinnati Bengals 37, Atlanta Falcons 36
Sunday, Sept. 30, 2018 at Mercedes-Benz Stadium

The Bengals won a thriller on their first-ever visit to Mercedes-Benz Stadium. QB Andy Dalton led a dramatic 16-play, 75-yard drive in the game's final four minutes that ended with a 13-yard TD pass to WR A.J. Green with seven seconds left. Dalton completed seven of 12 passes for 65 yards and twice scrambled to avoid potential sacks for another 13 yards rushing on the drive, which included one third-down conversion and two fourth-down conversions. For the game, Dalton completed 29 of 41 passes for 337 yards, three TDs and one INT (109.5 passer rating). WR Tyler Boyd had 11 catches for 100 yards, including four that converted third downs and two on the final drive that converted fourth downs. The Cincinnati defense gave up 495 net yards in the shootout, and allowed Atlanta to convert 11 of 15 third downs. Bengals TE Tyler Eifert had four catches for 38 yards and a TD, but left the game in the third quarter with a serious ankle injury. The victory was the Bengals' first win in Atlanta since 1987. Cincinnati improved to 3-1, while the Falcons fell to 1-3.

WEEK 5, GAME 5

Cincinnati Bengals 27, Miami Dolphins 17 Sunday, Oct. 7, 2018 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati rallied from a 17-0 deficit, scoring 27 unanswered points, including 24 in the fourth quarter. It was just the eighth time in Bengals history that the team rallied from a deficit of 17 or more points to win. It also was just the fourth time in team history that the Bengals scored 24 or more points in a fourth quarter (all wins). Bengals QB Andy Dalton led a nine-play, 67-yard drive that resulted in a 20-yard FG and a 20-17 lead with 3:30 left. It was his 23rd career game-winning drive, which set a new franchise mark. The Bengals' defense was stout overall. Miami gained just 297 yards, converted only four of 13 third downs (30.8 percent), scored just 10 points and never ran a play from scrimmage in the red zone. The Bengals' defensive line harassed Dolphins QB Ryan Tannehill repeatedly and was responsible for 14 of the team's 24 fourth-quarter points. DE Michael Johnson returned a Tannehill INT 22 yards for a TD with 11:43 left to tie the game 17-17. Then, after the Bengals took 20-17 lead, DE Sam Hubbard recovered a Tannehill fumble and returned it 19 yards for a TD with 2:37 left to put the game out of reach. It was the first time in Bengals history that two Bengals defensive linemen scored a TD in the same game, and the first time that two defensive linemen scored in the same quarter of an NFL game since Dec. 10, 1989. WR A.J. Green had 112 yards receiving on six catches. It was his 32nd career game with 100 or more yards receiving, setting a new mark for most in team history. The Bengals improved to 4-1, while the Dolphins fell to 3-2.

WEEK 6, GAME 6

Pittsburgh Steelers 28, Cincinnati Bengals 21 Sunday, Oct. 14, 2018 at Paul Brown Stadium

QB Andy Dalton led the Bengals on a nine-play, 75-yard drive that culminated in a go-ahead TD by HB Joe Mixon with 1:18 to play, but Steelers QB Ben Roethlisberger countered with a seven-play, 77-yard drive of his own in the waning moments, capped by a 31-yard TD by WR Antonio Brown that gave Pittsburgh its sixth straight win in Cincinnati. The Bengals' defense was hit hard by injuries during the game, as S Shawn Williams (concussion), CB Darqueze Dennard (shoulder) and LB Nick Vigil (knee) all left the contest and did not return, while several other defenders missed time. The Steelers took advantage, totaling 481 yards behind a 100-yard rusher in RB James Conner and two 100-yard receivers in Brown and WR JuJu Smith-Schuster. The Bengals' offense, which was without C Billy Price (foot), TE Tyler Kroft (foot), WR John Ross (groin) and HB Giovanni Bernard (knee), was led by Dalton (92.3 passer rating) and Pittsburgh native Tyler Boyd, who recorded the first two-TD game of his career. The contest also marked the first time in 98 Bengals-Steelers meetings (including postseason) that neither team committed a turnover. Late in the game, Dalton moved into second place on the Bengals' all-time passing yardage list, ahead of QB Boomer Esiason (27,149), and P Kevin Huber took over the Bengals' career lead in punting yards, ahead of P Lee Johnson (32,196). The Bengals fell to 4-2, while the Steelers improved to 3-2-1.

WEEK 7, GAME 7

Kansas City Chiefs 45, Cincinnati Bengals 10

Sunday night, Oct. 21, 2018 at Arrowhead Stadium

Few doubted that defeating the Chiefs at Arrowhead would be challenging, particularly with respect to holding Kansas City's offense in check, and that definitely proved to be the case in the contest, which was flexed from 1 p.m. into the Sunday night primetime spot. The Chiefs rolled for 551 yards of offense against the Bengals, the most by a Cincinnati opponent since Cleveland totaled 554 in a 51-45 Browns win at Cleveland Browns Stadium in Game 2 of the 2007 season.

Cincinnati Bengals 37, Tampa Bay Buccaneers 34

Sunday, Oct. 28, 2018 at Paul Brown Stadium

Bengals QB Andy Dalton led an eight-play, 50-yard drive in the final minute that ended with a FG on the game's final play for the win. Cincinnati had leads of 21-0, 27-9 and 34-16 in the first three quarters before Tampa Bay benched QB Jameis Winston after his fourth INT, a pick-six to Bengals S Jessie Bates. Backup QB Ryan Fitzpatrick, a former Bengal, replaced Winston and led the Bucs to 18 unanswered points to tie the game 34-34 with 1:05 left before the Bengals' final march.

WEEK 10, GAME 9

New Orleans Saints 51, Cincinnati Bengals 14
Sunday, Nov. 11, 2018 at Paul Brown Stadium

New Orleans rolled for 509 net yards, including 244 net yards rushing, in the disappointing home loss for Cincinnati. Saints QB Drew Brees played a near perfect game, completing 22 of 25 passes for 265 yards, three TDs and no INTs for a 150.4 passer rating, and the Saints scored on their first nine possessions. The Bengals played without five starters who were inactive due to injuries, including WR A.J. Green (toe). It was the third straight game in which the Bengals had given up more than 500 yards, an NFL first. The Bengals relieved defensive coordinator Teryl Austin of his duties the following day. Cincinnati fell to 5-4, while New Orleans improved to 8-1 with the win, its eighth straight.

WEEK 11, GAME 10

Baltimore Ravens 24, Cincinnati Bengals 21
Sunday, Nov. 18, 2018 at M&T Bank Stadium

Bengals head coach Lewis took over as defensive coordinator in the game, and while the change didn't produce immediate dramatic results with respect to yardage given up — the Ravens gained 403 total yards — Lewis and Bengals players left the game optimistic that the defense was headed in the right direction. Cincinnati played without seven-time Pro Bowl WR A.J. Green for the second straight game, and his absence was noticeable, as the Bengals totaled just 255 net yards against a Ravens defense that entered the game No. 2 in the NFL in both yards and points allowed. QB Andy Dalton completed 19 of 36 passes for 211 yards, two TDs and no INTs, WR Tyler Boyd converted key third downs on all four of his receptions (for 71 yards), and WR John Ross caught a contested 22-yard TD. But Cincinnati totaled just 48 net yards rushing, while giving up 265 to Baltimore, including 117 to Ravens rookie QB Lamar Jackson, who was making his first NFL start. The Bengals had an opportunity to tie or go ahead when they received their last possession with 2:45 left, but a Dalton pass to WR Cody Core on fourth-and-three with 1:46 left was incomplete. Both teams left the game with 5-5 records.

WEEK 12, GAME 11

Cleveland Browns 35, Cincinnati Bengals 20
Sunday, Nov. 25, 2018 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals fell behind 28-0 late in the first half, and that four-score deficit proved too large to overcome. QB Andy Dalton suffered a thumb injury on his throwing hand early in the second half against the Browns and did not return. Jeff Driskel, Dalton's backup, finished the game. Dalton was placed on the Reserve/Injured list the following day. Driskel filled in admirably against the Browns, despite inheriting tough game conditions. The Bengals were down 35-7 when he took the field in the third quarter, and Cincinnati's offense had entered the game without two other injured starters — WR A.J. Green (toe) and LOT Cordy Glenn (back). Driskel, who led the team to two second-half scores, completed 17 of 29 passes for 155 yards and one TD (84.7 passer rating). He also rushed three times for nine yards and another TD. HB Joe Mixon totaled 155 yards from scrimmage — a team high for the season — with 89 yards rushing (14 carries; 6.4-yard average) and 66 yards receiving (seven catches; 9.4). WR Tyler Boyd finished the game with seven receptions for 85 yards and a TD. The Bengals fell to 5-6, while the Browns improved to 4-6-1.

WEEK 13, GAME 12

Denver Broncos 24, Cincinnati Bengals 10
Sunday, Dec. 2, 2018 at Paul Brown Stadium

QB Jeff Driskel made his first career NFL start, after starter Andy Dalton was placed on Reserve/Injured earlier in the week due to a thumb injury suffered in the previous game. The Bengals' offense, however, managed just 10 points, and the team fell to its former DBs coach Vance Joseph, in his second season as Broncos head coach. Driskel completed 25 of 37 passes (67.6 percent) for 236 yards, one TD and one INT (80.6 rating) in his debut as a starter, but the Bengals committed 12 penalties and had three costly turnovers. Denver was led by rookie RB Phillip Lindsay, who rushed for 157 yards and two TDs, including a 65-yarder in the third quarter to give the Broncos a 21-3 lead. WR A.J. Green, who had missed the previous three contests with a toe injury, returned to action but left early in the second quarter after re-aggravating the injury. The Bengals fell to 5-7 while the Broncos improved to 6-6.

WEEK 14, GAME 13

L.A. Chargers 26, Cincinnati Bengals 21
Sunday, Dec. 9, 2018 at StubHub Center

Cincinnati entered the game as two-TD underdogs on the road against a team with the second-best record in the AFC, but turned in what was considered to be an encouraging performance. The end result still was a loss, but the Bengals, who faced deficits of 14-3 early and 23-15 late, fought back to a chance to tie the game with a two-point conversion just after the two-minute warning. HB Joe Mixon scored on a one-yard TD run with 1:50 left to pull the Bengals within two points, 23-21, but QB Jeff Driskel was sacked on the two-point attempt. The Chargers recovered the ensuing onside kick, then added a FG with just under a minute left for the game's final score. Mixon finished the game with 111 yards rushing on 26 carries (4.3-yard average) and another 27 yards receiving on five catches. It was his fifth game of the season with 115 or more yards from scrimmage. In his second start of the season, Driskel completed 18 of 27 passes for 170 yards, one TD and no INTs (96.2 passer rating). The Bengals' defense allowed just 288 net yards — its fewest of the season — to a Chargers offense which entered the game ranked fifth in the NFL in average net yards (399.4). The Bengals fell to 5-8, while the Chargers improved to 10-3.
