TEAM NOTES

2017 AFC North standings: The Pittsburgh Steelers captured the 2017 AFC North Division championship by a four-game margin over Baltimore. Over the last 10 seasons, the Steelers have won five division titles, while the Bengals have won three and the Ravens two. In that same span, Pittsburgh also leads the group with seven total playoff appearances, followed by Cincinnati with six and Baltimore with five. Cleveland has not won the division or made the playoffs over that stretch.

Here's the AFC North picture at the end of 2017, with only the Steelers moving on to the playoffs:

TEAM	W-L	PCT.	DIV.
Pittsburgh.....	13-3-0	.813	6-0
Baltimore.....	9-7-0	.563	3-3
Cincinnati.....	7-9-0	.438	3-3
Cleveland.....	0-16-0	.000	0-6

2018 opponents: The Bengals' home and away opponents for 2018 are set. The full schedule, with dates and kickoff times, will be released this spring.

In addition to their six games against fellow AFC North Division teams, the Bengals and the rest of the AFC North will play against all teams in the AFC West and NFC South divisions.

Cincinnati's remaining two games — at home against Miami and on the road against Indianapolis — were determined by the 2017 standings. As third-place finishers in the AFC North, the Bengals are matched against the third-place teams from the AFC East (Miami) and AFC South (Indianapolis).

The list of opponents for 2017:

- Home: Baltimore-Cleveland-Pittsburgh plus Denver, Miami, New Orleans, Oakland and Tampa Bay.
- Away: Baltimore-Cleveland-Pittsburgh plus Atlanta, Carolina, Indianapolis, Kansas City and the L.A. Chargers.

Bengals in the Pro Bowl: The Bengals were credited with three selections for the 2017 season Pro Bowl game — DT Geno Atkins, WR A.J. Green and LS Clark Harris.

Atkins and Green were selected in December's initial voting. Harris was added in January when he was chosen by Pittsburgh Steelers head coach Mike Tomlin as a "need" player. The NFL stipulates that the head coach of each Pro Bowl team chooses a "need" player, and those players must be long snappers.

Atkins and Green were no strangers to the Pro Bowl, as Atkins now has been selected to and played in six games, while Green has been selected to seven games and has played in five. For Harris, however, it was his first selection. Harris also became the first-ever Bengals LS to earn a Pro Bowl nod.

In 2017 season game at Orlando, Atkins started the contest and had two tackles (both solos), helping the AFC to post a narrow 24-23 victory. Harris had four long snaps in the game (one FG and three PATs), including one for the game-winning point. Green did not play due to lingering soreness.

Harris, who was named one of the AFC's team captains, also had another noteworthy accomplishment. During a Pro Bowl practice prior to the game, he set a new Guinness World Record for the longest recorded snap ever recorded at 36 yards, eight inches, shattering the previous record of 34 yards, set by Jase Whitner in Perrysburg, Ohio in 2017.

Head coach Marvin Lewis: Lewis in 2017 extended his Bengals-record head coaching tenure to 15 seasons, nearly twice that of Paul Brown (1968-75) and Sam Wyche ('84-91), who are tied for second with eight seasons each.

Lewis has led his teams to the postseason seven times, including a five-year run from 2011-15. The total number of playoff trips and the five-year streak of consecutive appearances are Bengals records, and the Bengals were one of only four NFL teams to reach the playoffs every year from 2011-15. The playoff run ended in 2016, however, when Cincinnati finished 6-9-1. The Bengals' last five losses came by a total of 16 points. Injuries were a greater-than-usual factor, and crucial missed place kicks plagued the team to an extent not seen for many years.

The Bengals' 65-45-2 record over the last seven full seasons (2011-17) under Lewis gives the team a .589 winning percentage for that span, ranked sixth in the NFL.

Lewis has 125 career victories, the most in Bengals history by a margin of 61 over Wyche (64). Lewis' record now is 125-112-3 in the regular season and 125-119-3 including postseason.

Lewis in 2017 ranked second among NFL head coaches in longest current tenure with one team, trailing only Bill Belichick, who was in his 18th straight season with New England. In the category of most seasons as head coach with one or more teams, Lewis ranked fourth among active coaches, behind Belichick (23rd season in '17), Andy Reid (19) and John Fox (16).

Lewis has developed an impressive "coaching tree" during his Bengals tenure. Five of his former assistants have become NFL head coaches, and four of those led teams in 2017. The list, including their teams and head coaching tenures, includes former Bengals offensive coordinators Jay Gruden (Washington, 2014-present) and Hue Jackson (Cleveland, '16-present), former defensive coordinators Leslie Frazier (Minnesota, '10-13) and Mike Zimmer (Minnesota, '14-present), and former defensive backs coach Vance Joseph (Denver, '17-present).

Lewis was the consensus choice for NFL Coach of the Year in 2009, when the Bengals won the AFC North Division while sweeping all six division games. The Bengals also were AFC North champions under Lewis in 2005, '13 and '15.

Named the ninth head coach in Bengals history on Jan. 14, 2003, Lewis started quickly. His '03 club finished 8-8, six games better than the '02 club, good for the biggest improvement in the NFL that year.

Lewis came to the Bengals with credentials as a record-setting NFL defensive coordinator, having played a huge role in a championship season. His six seasons (1996-2001) as Baltimore Ravens coordinator included a Super Bowl victory in '00, when his defense set the NFL record for fewest points allowed in a 16-game campaign (165). That team clipped 22 points off the previous mark. The 2000 Ravens are always an entry in discussions regarding the best NFL defensive units of all time.

In 2002, the season before he joined the Bengals, Lewis led the Washington Redskins to a No. 5 NFL defensive ranking, serving as assistant head coach as well as defensive coordinator.

He had his first NFL assignment from 1992-95, as linebackers coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers. He aided the development of four Pro Bowl players — Kevin Greene, Chad Brown, Levon Kirkland and Greg Lloyd.

Lewis began his coaching career as linebackers coach at his alma mater Idaho State from 1981-84. ISU's team (also nicknamed the Bengals) finished 12-1 in Lewis' first season there and won the NCAA Division 1-AA championship.

Lewis played LB at Idaho State, earning All-Big Sky Conference honors for three consecutive years (1978-80). He also saw action at quarterback and free safety during his college career. He received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Idaho State in 1981, and earned his master's in athletic administration in '82. He was inducted into Idaho State's Hall of Fame in 2001.0

Born Sept. 23, 1958, Lewis attended Fort Cherry High School in McDonald, Pa. (near Pittsburgh), where he was an all-conference quarterback and safety. He also earned high school letters in wrestling and baseball. He and his wife, Peggy, have a daughter, Whitney, and a son, Marcus. Marcus Lewis joined the Bengals' coaching staff for 2014 and remains on the staff for '18.

Coaching staff changes: The Bengals have announced the following coaching staff additions from 2017 to '18:

- On Jan. 8, Teryl Austin was named defensive coordinator, filling the spot opened when Paul Guenther departed to become defensive coordinator of the Oakland Raiders. Austin served as defensive coordinator for the Detroit Lions from 2014-17. Prior to joining the Lions, he spent 10 seasons as a defensive backs coach in the NFL, including stints with the Seattle Seahawks (2003-06), Arizona Cardinals ('07-09) and the Baltimore Ravens ('11-13).

- Also on Jan. 8, Bob Bicknell was named wide receivers coach, filling the spot opened when James Urban departed to become the quarterbacks coach of the Baltimore Ravens. Bicknell, who was wide receivers coach at Baylor University in 2017, has 25 years of professional and collegiate coaching experience. His pro experience includes a total of 10 seasons in the NFL as an offensive assistant coach with Kansas City (2007-09), Buffalo ('10-12), Philadelphia ('13-15) and San Francisco ('16). He also coached eight seasons in NFL Europe with Frankfurt ('98-99), Berlin ('00-03) and Cologne ('04-05). His previous collegiate experience includes seven seasons as an assistant coach at Boston University (1993-97), Temple University (2006) and Baylor ('17).

- On Jan. 11, Frank Pollack was named offensive line coach. Pollack comes to the Bengals from the Dallas Cowboys, where he had been an assistant coach from 2013-17. He was the Cowboys' offensive line coach from '15-17 after being promoted from assistant offensive line coach ('13-14). Prior to the Cowboys, Pollack spent one season with the Oakland Raiders as offensive line coach (2012) and five seasons with the Houston Texans as assistant offensive line coach ('07-11). Pollack began his coaching career at his alma mater Northern Arizona ('05-06). Former Bengals assistant head coach/offensive line coach Paul Alexander now is the Cowboys' offensive line coach.

- On Jan. 12, Alex Van Pelt was named quarterbacks coach. He comes to Cincinnati from the Green Bay Packers, where he served as quarterbacks coach since 2014. He also coached wide receivers in '15, and he coached the Packers' running backs from '12-13. Prior to Green Bay, Van Pelt spent two seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as quarterbacks coach ('10-11) and four seasons on the offensive coaching staff of the Buffalo Bills ('06-09). Van Pelt started his coaching career in NFL Europe as the Frankfurt Galaxy's quarterbacks coach (2005). The Bengals quarterbacks finished 2017 being coached directly by offensive coordinator Bill Lazor.

- Also on Jan. 12, Daronte Jones was named secondary/cornerbacks coach. He joins the Bengals from the Miami Dolphins, where he was assistant defensive backs coach from 2016-17. His previous collegiate experience includes assistant coaching roles at Wisconsin (2015), Hawaii ('12-14), UCLA ('10), Bowie State ('05-09), Nicholls State ('02) and Lenoir-Rhyne ('01). He also coached defensive backs for the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League (2011). He will work closely with Bengals secondary/safeties coach Robert Livingston, who served as one of two Bengals secondary coaches in 2017. Kevin Coyle, the other '17 secondary coach, is not returning for '18.

- Also on Jan. 12, Matt Raich was named defensive assistant/assistant defensive line coach. He comes to Cincinnati from the Detroit Lions, where he was an assistant coach from 2014-17. While with the Lions, he served as assistant defensive line coach from '16-17), defensive assistant/defensive ends in '15) and defensive quality control '14. Raich's NFL coaching experience also includes six seasons with the Arizona Cardinals as linebackers coach ('09-12) and defensive assistant ('07-08), as well as three seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers as offensive assistant ('04-06). Raich previously held collegiate assistant coaching positions at Duquesne (2013), Robert Morris ('00-02; '96-98), Glenville State (1999) and Westminster (Pa.) College ('93-94).

Other changes to the Bengals' 2018 staff include the departure of assistant linebackers/quality control coach David Lippincott, who now is linebackers coach for the Oakland Raiders, as well as title changes for several assistants. A complete list of the Bengals' 2018 coaching staff can be found in the team's rosters on pages 160-161 of this booklet.

Bengals' road offense converts in red zone: Scoring on the road can be difficult for any offense, and so is scoring TDs in the red zone. But the Bengals in 2017 managed near perfection when combining both of those challenges, scoring TDs on 14 of their 16 trips in the red zone as the road team this season.

That 87.5-percent TD conversion rate was the best in the NFL in '17, with the Jaguars (13 of 19; 68.4 percent), Redskins (13 of 19; 68.4 percent) and Lions (13 of 20; 65.0) coming closest.

Prior to Game 9 at Tennessee, the Bengals' road offense had been a perfect eight-for-eight on the year at converting red-zone trips to TDs. A fumbled snap — and Titans recovery — on the first of their two red-zone trips, though, spelled the end of the streak.

In their final road game, the season finale at Baltimore, the Bengals scored TDs on two of their three trips to the red zone. The lone trip without a TD came as time was winding down in the first half. QB Andy Dalton used the Bengals' first down to spike the ball with 35 seconds remaining, however two subsequent passes to A.J. Green fell incomplete and Cincinnati was forced to settle for a 32-yard Randy Bullock FG.

Overall, Cincinnati finished the season 12th in scoring TDs in the red zone, reaching the end zone on 24 of their 43 trips (55.8 percent).

Here's a look at each of the Bengals' road games this season, along with how their offense fared in the red zone.

Bengals career records watch: Here is a look at potential upcoming movement in the Bengals' career records book (regular season) heading into the 2018 season:

- QB Andy Dalton has 22 career 300-yard passing games, one shy of QB Boomer Esiason for the Bengals' all-time lead.

- Dalton also has 3556 career passing attempts, eight shy of Esiason (3564) for second place all-time. QB Ken Anderson (4475) is the Bengals' all-time leader. Dalton passed QB Carson Palmer (3217) for third place all-time in Game 5, Oct. 8 vs. Buffalo.

- WR A.J. Green has 31 career 100-yard receiving games, tied with WR Chad Johnson for the Bengals' all-time lead.

- Green also has 57 career receiving TDs, six shy of WR Carl Pickens (63) for second place all-time. Johnson (66) is the Bengals' all-time leader. Green passed WR Isaac Curtis (53) for third place all-time in Game 9, Nov. 12 at Tennessee.

- Green also has 57 career total TDs, seven shy of Pickens and RB James Brooks (64) for third place all-time. FB Pete Johnson (70) is the Bengals' all-time leader. Green passed WR Isaac Curtis (53) for fifth place all-time in Game 9, Nov. 12 at Tennessee.

- DE Carlos Dunlap has 64.5 career sacks, 19 short of DE Eddie Edwards* (83.5) for the Bengals' all-time lead. Dunlap passed DE Ross Browner* (59) for third place all-time in Game 10, Nov. 19 at Denver, and then he passed LB Reggie Williams* for second place all-time in Game 15, Dec. 24 vs. Detroit.

- DT Geno Atkins has 61 career sacks, 1.5 shy of Williams (62.5) for third place all-time. Edwards* (83.5) is the Bengals' all-time leader.

NOTE: The NFL has counted sacks as official statistics since 1982. However, the Bengals have sack statistics compiled since 1976 and recognize those sacks recorded from '76-81 in its records. Thus, please note that, because the NFL has sacks statistics for all teams only since 1982, the Bengals' sack statistics for players whose careers included seasons prior to '82 will not be included in league information.

Bengals D spreads the INT love: Ten different Bengals recorded an INT in 2017, marking the fourth time in five seasons that at least 10 Bengals have recorded a pick. And until the season's final game, that stat came with a twist.

Prior to Game 16 at Baltimore, no Bengal had more than one INT. Had that stood through one more game, the 2017 Bengals would have been the first team since the 1944 Brooklyn Tigers to have 10 players record an INT in a season without anyone having more than one pick.

But that statistic didn't hold, and the Bengals ended up being quite happy it didn't. In the third quarter, CB Darqueze Dennard picked off a Joe Flacco pass and returned it 89 yards for a score. It was Dennard's second INT of the season.

And although the play put the Bengals up 24-10, it ended up being critical to the Bengals' 31-27 victory, after Baltimore staged a second-half comeback. The Ravens ultimately fell short though, thanks to a dramatic 49-yard Andy Dalton TD pass to Tyler Boyd on fourth-and-12 with 44 seconds remaining, putting the Bengals ahead to stay.

While Dennard finished the season with two INTs, nine other Bengals finished in a tie for second with one: CB Dre Kirkpatrick, CB William Jackson, DE Carlos Dunlap, S George Iloka, LB Vincent Rey, S Shawn Williams, S Clayton Fejedelem, CB Adam Jones and LB Nick Vigil.

Geno earns another crown: For the fifth time in his eight-year career, Bengals DT Geno Atkins finished atop all NFL interior defensive linemen in sacks (9.0). Atkins finished with a narrow edge over Jacksonville DT Malik Jackson (8.0), with Carolina DT Kawann Short (7.5) and Dallas DT David Irvin (7.0) also within shouting distance.

Last year marked the third straight season Atkins finished in at least a tie for the top spot. In 2016, he claimed the honor outright with nine sacks, besting DT Aaron Donald of the Los Angeles Rams, who was second with eight. No other interior lineman had more than seven.

He also was the outright winner in 2012, when he had a career-best 12.5 sacks. He tied for the league lead in 2011 (7.5 sacks) and 2015 (11).

Atkins battled through a toe injury the last three weeks of 2017. The injury limited him to a season-low 12 snaps on Dec. 10 vs Chicago, and 29 on Dec. 17 at Minnesota.

Late in the season, Atkins was selected to his sixth Pro Bowl in eight seasons. His six selections are the most of any Bengals defensive lineman in team history — no other DL has had more than two — and he's now tied with CB Lemar Parrish for the most selections by a Bengals defensive player (six). He has 61 career sacks through 2017, the most by a Bengals interior lineman and fourth overall.

Lawson leads rookies in sacks: Bengals LB Carl Lawson, a pass-rushing specialist out of Auburn, ended his first pro season atop all NFL rookies in sacks, with 8.5. The next-closest rookie was Cleveland DL Myles Garrett and Pittsburgh LB T.J. Watt, who had 7.0 apiece. Among all players, Lawson finished in a tie for 25th, with Arizona LB Chandler Jones leading the way at 17.0.

Lawson finished his rookie season with at least a shared sack in seven games, including two multi-sack efforts. The highlight of his stellar rookie season came in Game 3 at Green Bay, when he registered 2.5 sacks, the most by a Bengals rookie in a game since Justin Smith on Dec. 9, 2001 vs. Jacksonville (three).

Lawson has also had a knack for making sacks in key moments. In Game 7 vs. Indianapolis, his seven-yard sack of Jacoby Brissett on the Colts' final drive, as they were looking to get into range for a potential game-winning FG, helped secure a Bengals victory. And on Dec. 24 vs. Detroit, Lawson's nine-yard sack of Matthew Stafford on fourth-and-15 with one minute remaining in the game ended the Lions' comeback hopes and turned the ball back over to the Bengals.

Carl falls short of Carlos' rookie record: LB Carl Lawson's impressive rookie campaign entered rare Bengals air late in the season. Going into the final game, Dec. 31 at Baltimore, his 8.5 sacks stood just one shy of DE Carlos Dunlap's rookie record of 9.5, set in 2010.

But after being held without a sack in the finale, Lawson finished in a tie for second on the Bengals' rookie sack list, matching DE Justin Smith's 8.5 in 2001.

In 2010, Dunlap played in only 12 games — inactive for four of the first five contests — and didn't record a sack until the team's ninth game (Nov. 14 at Indianapolis). He finished the season on a tear though, recording at least a half sack in seven of the last eight games, including four multi-sack efforts.

Lawson, on the other hand, started hot, with a 2.5-sack effort in just his third game. He maintained a steady pace thereafter, with at least a shared sack in seven of his 16 games.

Lawson led all NFL rookies in sacks, by a margin of 1.5 over Pittsburgh LB T.J. Watt and Cleveland DL Myles Garrett (each with 7.0). In 2010, Dunlap narrowly missed out on the rookie sack crown when Detroit's Ndamukong Suh logged his 10th sack late in the fourth quarter of the Lions' finale.

As far as quarterback pressures, Lawson's 21 QB hits topped Dunlap's rookie season total of 14.

Andy and A.J. stretch the field: Since entering the NFL together in 2011, QB Andy Dalton and WR A.J. Green have connected on more passes of 50 yards or longer (21) than any other QB-WR tandem in the league.

Dalton and Green connected on three passes of 50 yards or longer in 2017 — a 50-yarder vs. Houston, a 77-yard TD vs. Buffalo and a 70-yard TD at Tennessee.

Through 2017, the duo has started 99 of a possible 112 regular-season games together over their seven seasons.

Here's a look at QB-WR duos with the most pass plays of 50 or more yards since 2011 (regular season only).

QB	WR	TEAM	NO. OF 50+ PASS PLAYS
Andy Dalton	A.J. Green	Cincinnati	21
Aaron Rodgers	Jordy Nelson	Green Bay	19
Matthew Stafford	Calvin Johnson	Detroit	15
Matt Ryan	Julio Jones	Atlanta	14
Eli Manning	Odell Beckham	N.Y. Giants	12

Defense's 30-point streak ends at 22: Entering Game 13 vs. Chicago, the Bengals' defense had held opponents under 30 points in 22 consecutive games. It was the longest such streak in team history, and at the time had been the longest active streak in the NFL. But the Bears scored 33 points in a winning effort, marking the first time since Game 6 of 2016 (a 35-17 loss at New England) that the Bengals had relinquished more than 30 points.

Cincinnati continued its 30-point skid the next week, allowing 34 points in a loss at Minnesota. The Chicago and Minnesota losses were the only two games of the season in which the Bengals allowed at least 30 points.

The Bengals' previous record streak was 20 consecutive games, which was accomplished twice. The first began in Game 3 of 1981, a 20-17 loss vs. Cleveland, and lasted through Game 5 of '82, a 23-10 win vs. Cleveland. The second instance started in Game 16 of 1988, a 20-17 OT win vs. Washington, and lasted through Game 3 of '90, a 41-7 win vs. New England. The Bengals went to the Super Bowl in both 1981 and '88.

The Bengals' 22-game streak had been the longest in the NFL since the N.Y. Giants' streak of 23 was snapped in a 51-17 loss vs. the L.A. Rams earlier this season. The Bengals also had been one of three teams, along with the Eagles and Chargers, to hold each of their 2017 opponents to fewer than 30 points. Both of those other streaks, however, ended by the completion of the regular season.

Down as many as six starters at times over the last few weeks of the season, the Bengals slipped to 16th in scoring defense at the end of the season (21.8 points per game), after ranking as high as second earlier in the year (16.6 through Week 6). In 2016, Cincinnati finished eighth in scoring defense (19.7), thanks in large part to a seven-game stretch to close the year in which they held opponents under 20 points six times while allowing a scoring average of 15.0. That followed a 2015 campaign in which they ranked second in scoring defense (17.4). In 2014, Cincinnati ranked 12th in scoring defense.

"My job is to limit points, period," said former defensive coordinator Paul Guenther said. "That's what I get paid to do. It's not holding them to 200 yards but have three plays be touchdowns. Regardless of where they get the ball — if we turn it over (on offense) and it's on the 10-yard line — let's go play defense. Hold them to three. I'm paid to keep them off the scoreboard."

Andy's blemish-free run ends at six: Bengals QB Andy Dalton entered Game 13 vs. Chicago riding a streak of six straight games played (Games 7-12) without an INT. But an interception on a tipped pass midway through the third quarter vs. the Bears ended his run, marking his first interception since the third quarter of Game 6, Oct. 22 at Pittsburgh.

Dalton's streak was only the fourth in Bengals history, and the first since 1998, to reach at least six full regular-season games without an INT. Neil O'Donnell has the most consecutive regular-season games in club history without an INT, with seven in 1998.

Here's a full list of Bengals QBs to go six full games without an INT, along with their yards per attempt and number of TD passes during their streaks:

PLAYER	YEAR(S)	GAMES	YDS/ATT	TD
Neil O'Donnell	1998	7	7.3	11
Ken Anderson	1973-74	6	8.7	13
Ken Anderson	1979-80	6	6.8	5
Andy Dalton	2017	6	7.3	11

The Bengals managed a 3-3 record during Dalton's streak. The team had a losing record during O'Donnell's streak (2-5). The Bengals went 6-0 during Anderson's first streak and 2-4 in his second.

Dalton completed 101 of 171 passes (59.1 percent) for 1246 yards and 11 TDs during his six game stretch. He had a 103.1 passer rating over that span, compared to 102.8 for O'Donnell in his seven-game streak, 123.9 for Anderson in his first six-gamer and 93.1 in his second six-gamer. Dalton topped a passer rating of 100 in four of the six contests, compared to O'Donnell's two of seven and Anderson's five of six (first streak) and one of six (second).

Dalton and Kansas City QB Alex Smith, whose streak of eight games without an INT was snapped in Week 9 at Dallas earlier in the year, were the only QBs to go to at least six consecutive games without an INT in 2017.

Dalton's INT-free run a career-best: Bengals QB Andy Dalton's INT in the third quarter of Game 13 vs. Chicago was his first pick since the third quarter of Game 6 at Pittsburgh, ending a career-best stretch of 193 pass attempts without an INT. The streak, which covered 27 full quarters of play, stands as the second-most consecutive pass attempts by a Bengal without an INT, behind only Neil O'Donnell's 238 in 1998. His streak also stands as the third-longest in the NFL this season, behind 287 straight by Alex Smith and 196 by Matthew Stafford.

Dalton also has INT-free streaks of 147 and 165 attempts, which he accomplished separately in 2016.

Here's a look at the longest streaks of pass attempts without an INT in the NFL in 2017.

PLAYER	TEAM	PASS ATTEMPTS
Alex Smith	Kansas City	287
Matthew Stafford	Detroit	196
Andy Dalton	Cincinnati	193
Tom Brady	New England	188
Drew Brees	New Orleans	166

Only A.J.: Cincinnati's A.J. Green was selected in 2017 to his seventh Pro Bowl in seven seasons, making him the only NFL receiver since the 1970 merger to start his career with seven consecutive Pro Bowl nominations. He is also the only Bengal at any position to make the Pro Bowl in each of his first seven seasons. Only one other Bengal, WR Isaac Curtis, made it for as many as his first four seasons (1973-76).

In total Pro Bowl selections, Green's seven selections move him ahead of WR Chad Johnson and CB Lemar Parrish (each with six) for second-most in Bengals history, behind Hall of Fame OT Anthony Munoz, who had 11.

Although he was selected, Green opted not to play in the Pro Bowl due to an injury. He opted not to play in 2016, due to a hamstring injury that cut his season short after 10 games.

Marvin's youth movement: According to information released by the NFL regarding opening-week rosters, considered the baseline for comparing year-to-year roster information, the Bengals began the 2017 season with the youngest roster (average of 25.45 years old) in Marvin Lewis' 15 seasons as head coach. Lewis' next-youngest editions were in 2004 (25.7) and '11 (25.74). The Bengals' opening-week roster also ranked as the third-youngest in the NFL in '17, behind Cleveland (24.17) and the L.A. Rams (25.11). The average age league-wide was 26.05.

The Bengals' 14 rookie or first-year players on the Week 1 roster were also the most ever for an opening week in the Marvin Lewis era, edging out the 2004 season (13). The total ranked as the third-highest in the NFL, behind Cleveland (16) and Detroit (15). League-wide, teams averaged 10.53 rookie or first-year players.

In terms of NFL experience, the Bengals' average of 3.75 years was the fourth-lowest in the Marvin Lewis era, behind the 2004 (3.57), '06 (3.6) and '08 (3.67) seasons. The Bengals in 2017 tied for the seventh least-experienced roster in the league, with Cleveland leading the way at 2.55 years of experience. The average level of experience across the league was 4.10 years.

The Bengals also totaled only seven players aged 30 or older, which tied for the fourth-fewest in Lewis' tenure, behind the 2011 (two), '04 (six) and '12 (six) seasons. The 2009 roster also had seven players 30 or older. The Bengals' 2015 roster had the most players (11) aged 30 or older.

Eleven of the 44 players to see action in Week 1 (two were active/DNP) were making their Bengals debut, and nine of those players were making their NFL debut.

Defense leans on the 'kids': While the core of the Cincinnati's 2017 defense was no doubt recognizable with veteran stalwarts like Geno

Atkins, Vontaze Burfict and Carlos Dunlap filling up the stat sheets, this edition of the Bengals' defense sported an unusually young surrounding cast. The Cincinnati defense leaned heavily upon the 'kids,' a nickname coined by several analysts for the wave of young Bengals, and the results were impressive.

Fourteen of the 30 Bengals players to see time on defense this season were either rookies, first- or second-year players, including eight who were on the field for more than a quarter of the team's 1146 defensive snaps.

Bengal rookie and second-year players combined to play 4001 out of an available 12,606 snaps (1146 plays, multiplied by 11 players on the field at a time) in 2017, which works out to 31.7 percent. And from a production standpoint, they didn't disappoint, accounting for 11.5 of the team's 41 sacks, three of its 11 INTs, 24 of its 74 passes defended, and 286 of its 986 total tackles (29 percent). And on special teams, rookie DE Jordan Willis had a blocked punt, and second-year CB KeiVarae Russell had a blocked FG.

Nine of the Bengals' 18 draft choices over the last two years (2016-17) were used on defenders, and eight of those players saw action on defense in '17, combining for 3726 snaps. The lone defensive draft selection to not appear on defense, rookie sixth-round pick Brandon Wilson, has been a contributor on special teams (133 snaps).

Here are the Bengals' rookie and second-year players who saw time on defense in 2017: Vigil (759 snaps), CB William Jackson (697), LB Carl Lawson (477), DT Ryan Glasgow (412), S Clayton Fejedelem (376), DE Jordan Willis (360), DT Andrew Billings (334), LB Jordan Evans (311), LB Hardy Nickerson (158), CB KeiVarae Russell (46), LB Brandon Bell (36), Josh Tupou (19), CB Tony McRae (16) and G Alex Redmond (five). Redmond was called into action on defense in Game 13 vs. Chicago and Game 15 vs. Detroit, due to injuries along the defensive line.

Dunlap the playmaker: Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap's playmaking ability was on full display in 2017. The eighth-year pro finished the season with 7.5 sacks, an INT, a FF and seven PDs, and to close observers, it seemed like a majority of those entries in the stat column came at critical points in games. Here are a few highlights from Dunlap's impressive 2017 season:

In the season finale at Baltimore, he had a key sack of Joe Flacco on Baltimore's final drive. The Ravens were facing a second-and-five on their on 32-yard line with 32 seconds remaining in the game. The Bengals were protecting a four-point lead, after having just scored a dramatic 49-yard TD.

In Game 15 vs. Detroit, he recorded a five-yard sack on Detroit's final drive, helping snuff out the Lions' last-ditch comeback effort. He also recorded a pass defended (batted pass) earlier in the game.

In Game 12 vs. Pittsburgh, he recorded a sack, a pass defended (batted pass) and a QB hit.

In Game 11 vs. Cleveland, he had a half sack and an additional QB hit.

In Game 10 at Denver, he recorded two sacks of Brock Osweiler, including a seven-yarder on Denver's final drive as they were driving for a potential game-tying FG attempt. Two plays later, the Bengals forced the Broncos into a turnover on downs.

In Game 7 vs. Indianapolis, Dunlap made perhaps the defensive play of the year for Cincinnati, when he tipped a Jacoby Brissett pass in the fourth quarter, hauled it in and returned it 16 yards for a touchdown. The score, which came with 6:58 remaining in the game and the Bengals trailing by six, put Cincinnati on top to stay, 24-23. It was Dunlap's third career touchdown and second pick-six. Dunlap also recorded a sack of Brissett earlier in the contest.

Dunlap has 64.5 sacks for his career, second in team history behind DE Eddie Edwards (83.5). He passed LB Reggie Williams (62.5) for second place in Game 15, Dec. 24 vs. Detroit, after passing DE Ross Browner (59 sacks) for third place in Game 10, Nov. 19 at Denver.

And at 28 years old — he turned 29 after the season — Edwards' record is beginning to come into focus. Dunlap, who will play his ninth season in 2018, has averaged 8.1 sacks over his first eight seasons in stripes, while Edwards averaged seven sacks over 12 seasons (1977-88).

In 2016, Dunlap earned his second Pro Bowl nod, after after filling up the stat sheet with eight sacks, a team-leading 15 PDs and three FFs.

In 2015, he had 13.5 sacks, second-most in Bengals history. Besides his 64.5 sacks, his career totals include 16 FFs, eight FRs, 48 PDs, four blocked FGs and three TDs scored.

"Carlos brings us a lot, and he needs to keep bringing it for us," said former defensive coordinator Paul Guenther. "The key thing for Carlos is that he's an athlete, and a very big athlete. He's explosive and he just makes plays. He has also developed into a mature guy and a team leader."

Defense's sack streak ends at 34: The Bengals were held without a sack in Game 6 at Pittsburgh, marking the first time in more than two seasons they did not record at least one sack in a game. The 34-game streak (regular season) began in Week 4 of 2015, in a 36-21 home win over Kansas City in which the defense tallied five sacks. It had been the longest active streak in the NFL and the longest since Green Bay's streak of 42 ended in 2015.

The sack streak registers as the second-longest in team history, behind a 50-gamer that stretched over parts of five seasons in the early 1980s (Nov. 8, 1981 to Sept. 15, 1985). The next-longest streak is 32, which spanned from Nov. 8, 2010 to Oct. 21, 2012.

Over Cincinnati's 34-game streak, the Bengals recorded 87 sacks for 545 yards. Twenty-one different Bengals had at least a half sack over the span, and the defense logged more than one sack in 24 of the 34 games. DT Geno Atkins totaled the most sacks during the stretch, with 22, and he recorded at least a half sack in 19 of the games. DE Carlos Dunlap was a close second, with 20, and logged at least a half sack in 16 different games.

In total, Cincinnati recorded 41 sacks in 2017, with 12 different Bengals recording at least a half sack. The defense recorded at least one sack in the team's final eight games.

Geno's sack streak halted at six: Bengals DT Geno Atkins' most productive sack streak of his stellar eight-year career ended in Game 3 at Green Bay, when he was held without a sack for the first time since Game 12 of 2016. Atkins had recorded at least a half sack in six consecutive games. His streak of six tied for the longest streak in Bengals history with DE Eddie Edwards (1983), LB Reggie Williams ('84) and current DE Carlos Dunlap (2010), and it had also been the longest active streak in the NFL at the time.

Over the span of the streak, Atkins recorded 7.5 sacks for 51.5 yards. He had two multi-sack efforts during the streak — two sacks for 19 yards in Game 13 at Cleveland in 2016 (the first game in the streak), and two sacks in Game 2 of '17 vs. Houston.

Atkins has 61 sacks for his career, fourth place all-time in team history and the most ever by a Bengals interior lineman.

Dre's INT a historical oddity: In the first quarter of the Bengals' Game 10 win at Denver, with the Broncos facing a third-and-three at the Cincinnati four-yard line, CB Dre Kirkpatrick picked off a Brock Osweiler pass in the end zone and sprinted down the field toward what would've been his third career pick-six. But, with about 15 yards to go before reaching the end zone, Kirkpatrick fumbled the ball without any apparent disruption by a Bronco. He did manage to recover his own fumble at the Denver one-yard line, but before the Bengals punched it into the end zone three plays later on a one-yard Tyler Kroft TD reception, the blooper had already spread around the internet like wildfire.

Kirkpatrick's 101-yard return, which he shared a laugh about after the game, now stands as the longest INT return in NFL history to not result in a TD. The next-longest INT without at TD was 98 yards, by Cleveland CB Brandon McDonald on Dec. 15, 2008, in a game at Philadelphia.

Jamie Erdahl of the CBS broadcast reported shortly after the play that a visibly fatigued Kirkpatrick became sick upon returning to the sideline, a victim of exhaustion and the Denver altitude (he did not miss any game time).

"They were coming from both ends and I was running this way," Kirkpatrick told reporters after the game. "[WR Emmanuel] Sanders and [WR Demaryius] Thomas were coming. I tried to catch the ball, and I thought they poked it out. I have to hold on to the ball. I didn't know where they were, it was just an act of the moment. I have to hold on to the ball, no excuses for it. I have to put that in."

After the game, Kirkpatrick was the target of good-natured ribbing by teammates and fans. And he's not above self-deprecation, either. As the team boarded its flight back to Cincinnati, Kirkpatrick posted a photo on his Instagram account (drepic6) of a gift someone had left on his seat — an oxygen tank, with a note attached that read, "Who Dey. Great game."

Add Jackson to the list: Early in the second quarter of Game 3 at Green Bay, CB William Jackson jumped in front of Packers WR Jordy Nelson, snagged an Aaron Rodgers pass for an INT and returned it 75 yards for a TD.

It was a big play at the time, giving the Bengals a 21-7 lead, however Cincinnati eventually lost in overtime. Despite the loss though, the INT stood out from a historical perspective, not only because it was a TD, but because it also was the first INT of Jackson's career.

Jackson, a second-year player, became just the 14th Bengal to score on his first career INT and the first since DE Carlos Dunlap did it in 2012. Jackson was the first defensive back to do it since CB Johnathan Joseph scored on his first INT in 2007.

Jackson, from the University of Houston, was the Bengals' first-round pick in the 2016 NFL Draft. He spent his entire rookie season on the Reserve/Injured list with a pectoral muscle tear, thus he recorded the INT for a TD in just his third career game.

Here is a complete list of the Bengals players who scored a TD on their first career INT:

Dalton goes seven-for-3000: A season passing total of 3000 yards is not in itself a stupendous NFL feat — 22 passers reached it in 2017, and 25 reached it the previous season. But hitting 3000 in the first seven seasons of an NFL career still is an event worth noting. Bengals QB Andy Dalton achieved just that in Game 16 vs. Detroit, breaking the 3000-yard barrier for the seventh time in seven seasons (ended the season with 3320 yards). Incidentally, Panthers QB Cam Newton, who was selected first overall in the same draft the Bengals took Dalton at No. 35, also achieved the feat in the same week (Newton totaled 3302 yards).

Dalton and Newton now join cinch NFL Hall-of-Famer Peyton Manning as the only QBs in NFL history to go seven-for-3000. Manning reeled off 13 straight 3000-yarders before missing the 2011 season due to injury.

Dalton chasing Kenny in TDs: Although he was held out of the end zone in 2017, QB Andy Dalton still stands at 19 total TDs for his career, just one short of the franchise record for touchdowns by a QB, held at 20 by Ken Anderson. Dalton played his seventh season in 2017, while Anderson played 16 Bengals seasons (1971-86).

All of Anderson's 20 TDs were rushing scores. Dalton has 18 rushing TDs, and he has 19 total by virtue of being the only Bengals QB ever to catch a touchdown pass. He scored on an 18-yard gadget connection from WR Mohamed Sanu vs. Tennessee in 2014.

The next-most TDs by a Bengals QB is 10, by Jeff Blake.

Dalton and Jack Thompson share the Bengals season record for touchdowns by a QB, at five. Dalton had five in 2014, tying the record first set by Thompson in 1979.

'Crazy Legs' Andy: QB Andy Dalton's 18 career rushing TDs not only puts him in rare company in team history, he's also among the best when compared to his current NFL peers. In the category of rushing TDs by a QB, only Carolina's Cam Newton, whose 54 rushing TDs are beyond similarity, ranks higher than Dalton since 2011. Dalton and Newton both entered the NFL in '11.

Russell Wilson (16) Tyrod Taylor (15) and Andrew Luck (14) round out the top five.

An Andy roundup: Other records and notable accomplishments in QB Andy Dalton's career include:

- He is one of only three QBs in the Super Bowl era to lead a team to the postseason in each of his first five campaigns. Dalton did that from 2011-15, while Baltimore's Joe Flacco did it from '08-12 and Seattle's Russell Wilson did it from '12-16.

- Dalton has posted 42 career games with a passer rating of 100 or more, and the Bengals are 35-7 (.833) in those contests.

- Dalton's .587 winning percentage (63-44-2) is the best of any Bengals QB with 10 or more starts.

- Dalton holds club season records for passing yards (4293) and TD passes (33), both set in 2013.

- He is the only Bengals passer to throw for 300-plus yards in four consecutive games (2013).

- He opened his career with 77 consecutive regular-season starts, a Bengals record for quarterbacks at any point during a career. The previous mark had been 61, posted by Boomer Esiason from 1985-89. Dalton's streak ranks tied for fourth in NFL history for the start of a career by a QB, trailing only Peyton Manning of Indianapolis (208), Joe Flacco of Baltimore (122) and Russell Wilson of Seattle (96 and counting). Dalton is tied with Miami QB Ryan Tannehill, whose streak of 77 ended in 2016 due to an injury.

Lawson joins rare company: In Week 3 vs Green Bay, rookie Carl Lawson wreaked havoc in the Packers' backfield, recording 2.5 sacks on the day. Another sack was wiped off the stat sheet by an unrelated penalty. With the outstanding performance, Lawson joined DE Justin Smith as the only Bengal rookies ever to reach the 2.5-sack plateau in a game (Smith had three on Dec. 9, 2001 vs. Jacksonville). He also became only the second NFL rookie since 2013 to reach 2.5 in a game, joining Washington's Preston Smith, who had three on Dec. 26, 2015 at Philadelphia.

Lawson cut his teeth at Auburn as a defensive end, playing with his hand on the ground and developing a reputation as one of the Southeastern Conference's most feared pass rushers. After he was drafted though, Bengals coaches added linebacker duties to his plate, and he was listed on the Bengals' depth chart throughout the season as the No. 2 SLB.

But with great speed, quickness and strength — his 35 bench press reps of 225 pounds at the 2017 NFL Combine tied for the top mark overall — Bengals coaches found a way to get him on the field in a fashion that suits his strength as a pass rusher. Throughout his rookie season, Lawson's time on defense came exclusively with his hand on the ground, as an edge rusher with the No. 1 nickel defensive unit. He totaled 16 tackles on the year, including 8.5 sacks for 57 yards. He started Game 4 at Cleveland, when the defense opened the game in a nickel defensive package, and played in 447 of a possible 1146 defensive snaps.

Lawson battled injuries while at Auburn — he lost 2014 to a torn ACL, and a hip injury cost him six games and limited him thereafter in '15 — but he still managed 14 career sacks among his 24 tackles for losses. In 2016, while healthy, Lawson started 13 games for the Tigers and recorded nine sacks among his 13.5 tackles for losses, earning All-SEC First Team honors.

Willie praises Lawson: Bengals rookie LB Carl Lawson, a noted leader and two-time team captain in college, earned high praise from former Bengals OT and fellow Auburn alum Willie Anderson earlier this year. Anderson, whose son attended Milton High School with Lawson in Alpharetta, Ga., offered this ringing endorsement of the rookie:

"He's a great kid. A leader. He worked his way up. (He had) no college offers before his senior year, and he and his dad worked hard to make him (one of the top recruits in the country). He dominated high school linemen and continued in college. He had the injuries, but now he knows how to train and take care of himself. He'll give you Takeo-like (former Bengals LB Takeo Spikes) effort and intensity. He's been a captain at both levels and has always been a positive guy that other young players like my son looked up to. Every coach he's ever played for absolutely loves him. No one says a bad word about Carl. He's a warrior."

Green and some gold jackets: Bengals WR A.J. Green in 2017 logged his 10th career game of at least 150 receiving yards and one TD (he had 189 and a TD on Oct. 8 vs. Buffalo), making him one of only six receivers to ever reach as many games through their first seven NFL seasons. The only players to have more such games in their first six seasons were Hall of Famers Lance Alworth (13), Jerry Rice (11) and Randy Moss (10).

Here's a look at the list of players with 10 or more games of 150-plus receiving yards and a TD through their first seven seasons.

PLAYER	TEAM	NO. OF GAMES
Lance Alworth	San Diego Chargers	16
Jerry Rice	San Francisco 49ers	13
A.J. Green	Cincinnati Bengals	10
Torry Holt	St. Louis Rams	10
Calvin Johnson	Detroit Lions	10
Randy Moss	Minnesota Vikings	10

Recovered Gio sets sights on Brooks: HB Giovani Bernard missed the last six games in 2016, down with a major knee injury (ACL) suffered late in the fourth quarter of Game 10, Nov. 20 vs. Buffalo. But Bernard reported to training camp in July fully recovered from the injury and was a full participant in practice from the first snap.

And in 2017, he didn't miss a beat. Bernard played in every game and led the team in yards per carry, at 4.4 (minimum five carries). He also had 847 scrimmage yards and four total TDs (two receiving, two rushing), including a 61-yard catch-and-run in Game 4 at Cleveland.

Bernard's return allowed him to re-start his long pursuit of the all-time Bengals leads in both receptions and receiving yards by a running back. With 230 receptions, Bernard stands 67 short of James Brooks' record of 297. And with 2060 receiving yards, Bernard is 952 short of Brooks' record of 3012. Brooks played eight seasons with the Bengals (1984-91), while 2017 was Bernard's fifth.

Bernard has made his mark as both a rusher and receiver throughout his career. He averaged 1147 yards from scrimmage over his first three seasons, and his injury-shortened 2016 campaign ended with 673 yards in 10 games. Bernard in '16 was 91-for-337 rushing (3.7), with two TDs, and 39-for-336 receiving, with one TD.

A stat that matters: During the full term of head coach Marvin Lewis (2003-present), a plus-differential in turnovers is linked to a big plus in wins. And the reverse has gone for a minus.

The Bengals are 76-19-1 in the regular season under Lewis with a plus (.797 winning percentage), but they are only 18-69-2 with a minus (.213).

"It makes a huge difference," Lewis says. "You see it game after game. You have to possess the football to win. If you possess the football, good things happen. If you turn the ball over to opponents, you have a much harder day."

The Bengals' experience with turnovers under Lewis is backed up by league numbers. Since the start of the 2003 season, Lewis' first as head coach, here are the records of teams with varying turnover differentials.

(NOTE: Minus differentials are not included because they are the exact reverse of the plus figure for the same numbers.)

DIFFERENTIAL	W-L-T	PCT.
Plus 1	932-433-4	.682
Plus 2	752-157	.827
Plus 3	418-40-1	.912
Plus 4	221-6	.974
Plus 5	99-3	.971

Plus teams in 2017 season went 154-41 (.790 winning percentage).

And when it's even? The Bengals are 31-24 in head coach Marvin Lewis' full tenure in games when the turnover differential has been even, for a winning percentage of .564. The Bengals have won 14 of their last 22 with an even differential (.636), dating back to 2012, including a 4-2 record in '17.

Turnover tables are turned: During the tenure of head coach Marvin Lewis (2003-present), the Bengals rank ninth in the NFL in turnover differential, at plus-42.

The Bengals were minus-nine in differential in 2017, with 14 takeaways (11 INTs, three fumbles lost) and 23 giveaways (12 INTs, 11 FL).

In the 2017 season finale at Baltimore, the Bengals had an even differential, with one giveaway (lost fumble) and one takeaway (INT).

Prior to Lewis' tenure, the Bengals had posted a minus turnover differential for five straight years (1998-2002).

Since 2003, NFL teams with just a plus-one differential have won 68.2 percent of those games. At plus-two, the percentage has been 82.7. Teams with any plus have won at a 79.1 percent clip.

Here are the top nine teams in differential since 2003:

TEAM	TAKEAWAYS	GIVEAWAYS	DIFFERENTIAL
New England Patriots	440	273	+167
Kansas City Chiefs	398	335	+63
Seattle Seahawks	407	345	+62
Green Bay Packers	408	349	+59
Carolina Panthers	439	383	+56
Indianapolis Colts	380	328	+52
Baltimore Ravens	430	380	+50
Atlanta Falcons	393	346	+47
Cincinnati Bengals	416	374	+42

Since 2003, the Bengals rank seventh in takeaways (416) and 10th in points off turnovers (1261).

Some very good rushing numbers: The Bengals in 2017 had two games in which a player reached 100 yards rushing — Game 11 vs. Cleveland, when Bengals rookie HB Joe Mixon gained 114 yards on 23 carries (5.0), and Game 15 vs. Detroit, when HB Giovani Bernard rushed for 116 yards on 23 carries (5.0).

Both performances came in winning efforts, bringing the Bengals' record under Marvin Lewis with a 100-yard rusher to an impressive 46-7-1 (.861). What's more, their record with a rusher who hits the 25-carry plateau is 39-2 (951). Reaching 30 rushes as a team usually spells success under Lewis as well. The Bengals were 4-1 when rushing 30 times as a team in 2017, with wins in Game 4 at Cleveland (30 rushes for 86 yards), Game 12 vs. Cleveland (30 rushes, 152 yards), Game 15 vs. Detroit (34 rushes, 142 yards) and Game 16 at Baltimore (30 rushes, 146 yards). In 2016, Cincinnati went 5-1-1 (.786) with 30 or more rushes as a team.

"It's not always the rushing yardage total that's most important," Lewis has said. "When you're running the ball a lot, it's a sign that even though the yardage will vary, you're controlling the ball, controlling the clock, and keeping your defense off the field. As it shows for us, that is going to be a winning combo."

"We love seeing a guy get 100 yards, but sometimes he can break one big gain and then get to 100 even though you may not be running as consistently well and controlling the game like you do when you get high-carry numbers."

The Huber roundup: Already a considerable presence in the Bengals record book, P Kevin Huber in '16 passed Lee Johnson for most career inside-20 punts in Bengals history. Johnson, who punted for more than 11 Bengals seasons (1988-98), had 186 career inside-20 punts, while Huber, who just completed his ninth season, stands at 237. A Bengals fifth-round selection in the 2009 draft, Huber also owns the franchise's all-time best ratio of inside-20 kicks to touchbacks (4.02-to-1, with 237 inside-20s and 59 touchbacks).

Huber's other top accomplishments with the Bengals include:

- He is the franchise leader in career gross average (44.87) and net average (39.72).
- He holds the top three Bengals season averages in gross and the top five Bengals season averages in net. His gross record is 46.84 in 2014, and his net record is 42.10, also in '14.
- He shares the team record for longest punt (75 yards) with Kyle Larson.
- His 33 inside-20 punts in 2012 is a franchise record.

Huber was an initial-ballot Pro Bowl selection in 2014 and also was named first-team All-Pro by The Sporting News that year.

Uniform watch: Since 2004, the year of the Bengals' last significant uniform redesign, a number of color options for jerseys and pants have been available. Below are the records (regular season plus postseason) for the different combinations:

JERSEY	PANTS	W-L-T	PCT.
Orange*	Black.....	6-0-0	1.000
Orange*	White.....	15-6-1	.705
Black	Black.....	16-12-1	.569
Black	White.....	33-32-1	.508
White (CR)*	White (CR)*	1-1-0	.500
White	Black.....	27-30-0	.471
White	White.....	19-29-0	.396

* — Orange is designated as a "specialty jersey" with the NFL and can be worn for only two games per year. Color rush (CR) uniforms have been worn for only Thursday night games since 2016.

Bengal bites: Marvin Lewis' winningest month has been November (33-26-1, .558), followed closely by September (27-23-0, .540). His teams are also above .500 in December/January (38-33-0, .535 [regular season]). Lewis' only losing month has been October (27-30-2, .475) ... The attendance of 91,653 on Oct. 9, 2016, at Dallas was the largest ever for a Bengals regular-season game, topping a house of 87,786 for a 2004 visit to FedEx Field in Washington. The largest crowd for any Bengals game remains 92,045, for a 1990 season playoff game against the Los Angeles Raiders at the L.A. Coliseum ... The Bengals' tallest player in 2017 was DE Michael Johnson, who is 6-7. K Randy Bullock and HB Giovani Bernard were tied for shortest. Both are 5-9 ... DT Josh Tupou was the heaviest Bengal, at 350 pounds ... CBs Dre Kirkpatrick and Tony McRae are the lightest players, at 185 pounds ... Eric Winston, who turned 34 on Nov. 17, was the oldest player ... The youngest player was HB Joe Mixon, who turned 21 on July 24.

CB #22Height: 6-0Weight: 190College: HoustonExperience: 3rd-year player in 20182017 games-starts: 15-5Career games-starts: 15-5Born: 10-27-92Hometown: Houston, TexasAcquired: D1'16

Bengals' top draft pick in 2016 was praised by observers in '17 as one of Cincinnati's top young players after outstanding first season of action ... Did not play in 2016 rookie season after suffering torn pectoral muscle early in training camp ... Thrust into action early in '17, and consistent production earned him increased playing time as season progressed ... Played in 15 games with five starts, with only missed game coming Nov. 19 at Denver due to toe injury ... Saw action on 697 of 1146 possible snaps on defense (61 percent) ... Finished with 14 PDs, which tied for team lead ... His one INT — his career first — came on Sept. 24 at G.B., when he jumped an Aaron Rodgers pass intended for WR Jordy Nelson and returned it 75 yards for a TD; it was only the second pick-six of Rodgers' career, and Jackson became just the 14th player in Bengals history to score on his first career INT (the first since DE Carlos Dunlap in 2012).

Career transactions: Selected by Cincinnati in first round of 2016 NFL Draft (24th overall) ... Signed with Bengals on 6-10-16.

2017 highlights: Played in 15 games with five starts ... Inactive Nov. 19 at Denver with a toe injury ... Started at RCB in Games 6 and 13-16, filling in for injured starter Adam Jones ... Totaled 25 tackles, including one sack ... Had 14 PDs, which tied for the team lead, and one INT ... The INT came on Sept. 24 at Green Bay, when Jackson stepped in front of a pass from Packers QB Aaron Rodgers and returned it 75 yards for a TD ... Recorded a third quarter sack of Titans QB Marcus Mariota on Nov. 12 at Tennessee ... Had a season-high five tackles (four solo) on Dec. 17 at Minnesota ... Had a season-high three PDs vs. Detroit on Dec. 24.

Previous seasons: 2016—Suffered torn pectoral muscle tendon in practice on Aug. 1 ... Placed on Reserved/Injured list on Sept. 4 ... Was eligible to return to roster late in the season, however Bengals opted instead to activate HB Cedric Peerman due to injuries in the backfield.

College: Played three seasons (2013-15) at Houston, after one season (2012) at Trinity Valley Community College (Athens, Texas) ... Houston career totals included eight INTs, 48 total PDs, 115 tackles, three FRs and two FFs ... Though he played only three seasons, his 40 career pass breakups rank third in UH history ... Helped lead '15 Cougars to a 13-1 record, tied for best in school history, and to best national ranking (eighth) since 1979 ... His five INTs in '15 included two returned for TDs ... His Defensive MVP performance in '15 season Peach Bowl win over Florida State included two INTs, two additional pass breakups and a career-high 10 tackles.

Personal: Hometown is Houston, Texas ... Attended Wheatley High School, where he played both WR and DB ... Earned first-team All District honors at DB as a junior and senior, and added 35 receptions for 626 yards and 10 TDs over the two seasons ... Sociology major at Houston ... His FF against Tennessee went out of bounds in the end-zone, resulting in a touchback ... Played 868 of 1146 possible snaps (76 percent), fourth-most among defenders ... Has played in 77 of last 80 games (including postseason).

Four tackles in first career start, Dec. 15 at Pittsburgh ... Started Dec. 29 vs. Baltimore and had nine tackles (led secondary) with two INTs of Joe Flacco, the second returned 21 yards for TD in fourth quarter ... Two tackles in Wild Card playoff vs. San Diego. 2014—Played in Games 1-16 (two starts), and started at LCB in Wild Card playoff for Terence Newman, who played as reserve in his first game back after an illness ... His three INTs (one returned for a TD) tied for second on team ... Also a special teams standout, he tied for third in special teams tackles (nine) and downed four punts at or inside opponent six-yard line ... On Nov. 16 at New Orleans, the first of his two PDs broke up a play to WR Marques Colston in end zone, the first play of a Bengals goal line stand ... Earned AFC Defensive Player of the Week for his two-INT, one TD performance in playoff-clinching win Dec. 22 vs. Denver ... In the Denver game, returned Peyton Manning pass 30 yards for a TD to give Bengals a 37-28 lead in fourth quarter, and his second INT vs. Denver came with 1:07 to play, ending threat that had reached Bengals 19 ... In Wild Card playoff at Indianapolis, forced Colts to settle for a FG with a third-down PD in end zone. 2015—Played in Games 1-16, with 15 starts, and started Wild Card playoff ... On Nov. 5 vs. Cleveland, tied for team high in tackles (five) and had a PD ... Three tackles and team-high three PDs on Nov. 16 vs. Houston ... Three tackles in Wild Card playoff vs. Pittsburgh. 2016—Started at LCB in Games 1-3 and 5-16 ... Inactive for Game 4, Sept. 29 vs. Miami, due to hamstring injury ... Posted 46 tackles, three INTs (tied for team lead) and 10 PDs (second on team) ... On Sept. 11 at N.Y. Jets, his end-zone PD against Brandon Marshall on a fourth-and-goal play in first quarter helped force Jets to settle for FG ... On Sept. 18 at Pittsburgh, had an acrobatic INT of a Ben Roethlisberger deep pass, one additional PD and two tackles ... On Nov. 14 at N.Y. Giants, jumped a sideline route and intercepted Eli Manning pass at Giants 28 in second quarter, returning 21 yards to set up a FG ... On Nov. 20 vs. Buffalo, snagged INT off Tyrod Taylor on the Bengals' 22 in second quarter.

TE #81Height: 6-6Weight: 260College: RutgersExperience: 4th-year player in 20182017 games-starts: 16-16Career games-starts: 46-33Born: 10-15-92Hometown: Downingtown, Pa.Acquired: D3a'15

Third-round 2015 draft choice had by far his best year as a pro in '17, after seeing increased opportunity due to injuries to Pro Bowl TE Tyler Eifert ... Started all 16 games, and played 86 percent of Bengals' offensive snaps ... Totaled 42 receptions (fourth on team) for 404 receiving yards (third on team), and his seven TDs were second-most on the team and fifth among NFL TEs (entered 2017 with just 21 career catches, 221 yards and one TD) ... Had two multi-TD games in '17 — two each on Oct. 1 at Cleveland and Dec. 31 at Baltimore ... Has played in 47 of 49 possible games (including postseason) in first three seasons as a pro ... Also has 18 career special teams tackles through '17, although his ST role has decreased as he has earned more time on offense.

Career transactions: Selected by Cincinnati in third round of 2015 NFL Draft (85th overall) ... Signed with Bengals on 5-28-15.

2017 highlights: Played in and started all 16 games ... Finished with 42 catches for 404 yards (9.6-yard average) and seven TDs ... His TD total was the second highest total on the team and fifth amongst NFL TEs ... Had a season-high 79 yards receiving on two catches on Nov. 5 at Jacksonville; a 59-yard reception in second quarter put the Bengals on the Jaguars' 19-yard line, and the Bengals scored a TD three plays later ... Caught six passes (tied for his season high) for 68 yards and two TDs on Oct. 1 at Cleveland ... Matched season-high total of six receptions for 53 yards and two TDs on Dec. 31 at Baltimore ... Recorded four catches for 23 yards and one TD on Oct. 22 at Pittsburgh.

Previous seasons: 2015—Played in Games 1-16 ... Six starts, three in base offense replacing injured Tyler Eifert and three as part of multiple-TE alignment ... Also started Wild Card playoff, as a second TE ... Had first career reception Nov. 29 vs. St. Louis, for four yards ... Made first career start as part of base offense on Dec. 6 at Cleveland, subbing for injured Tyler Eifert, and had a 17-yard reception ... Caught two-for-31 on Dec. 13 vs. Pittsburgh ... Made second start in base offense on Dec. 20 at San Francisco, and caught three-for-31, including 20-yard TD from QB AJ McCarron in second quarter ... On Dec. 28 at Denver, logged four receptions for 46 yards, including 15-yarder on third-and-eight during Bengals' game-tying drive in fourth quarter. 2016—Played in Games 1-14, with 11 starts ... Inactive for Game 15-16 with knee/ankle injuries ... Logged 10 catches for 92 yards ... Tied for fifth on team in special teams stops (seven) ... Caught three-for-35 on Sept. 18 at Pittsburgh, three-for-29 on Oct. 9 at Dallas, and two-for-19 on Oct. 16 at New England.

College: Played 37 games with 24 starts for Rutgers over three seasons (2012-14), with a redshirt year in 2011 ... Entered NFL Draft following his junior season ... Established his receiving potential as a sophomore, when he led the team in catches (43) and receiving yards (573) ... His totals fell to 24-for-269 as a junior, but Rutgers moved to a run-dominated offensive scheme for 2014, and in adjusting to that switch he improved his NFL stock as a blocker and team player ... Earned Rutgers' 2014 Loyal Knight Award, given to a player "who has displayed great character in sacrificing personal goals for the good of the team" ... In 2014, appeared in 13 games (11 starts) as Rutgers went 8-5 in its first Big Ten season, capping year with Quick Lane Bowl victory over North Carolina ... Named First Team All-American Athletic Conference in 2013.

Personal: Hometown is Downingtown, Pa ... Attended Downingtown East High School, where he played WR as a senior after playing the previous two seasons at TE ... Hobbies include target shooting and video games.

2017 GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 1, GAME 1

Baltimore Ravens 20, Cincinnati Bengals 0 Sunday, Sept. 10, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals had looked forward to their first regular-season opener at home in eight seasons (the last opener at home had been in 2009), but the Ravens made sure that Cincinnati's three-game winning streak in openers ended in front of the team's home crowd at Paul Brown Stadium. Turnover differential and drives inside the opponent's 20-yard line proved to be the major differences in this game. The Bengals were minus-four in turnover differential (four INTs and one fumble to the Ravens' one INT) and failed to score on any of their three drives inside the Ravens' 20-yard line (those drives ended on an INT, a fumble, and on downs). Meanwhile, on three drives inside the Bengals' 20-yard line, the Ravens came away with three scores (one TD and two FGs). QB Andy Dalton recorded his lowest passer rating since November of 2014, though two of his four interceptions occurred on deflected passes. The shutout was just the second in a regular-season opener in Bengals history, and the first since 1979.

WEEK 2, GAME 2

Houston Texans 13, Cincinnati Bengals 9 Thursday, Sept. 14, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals' defense had a solid game, but for the second straight week, the offense's inability to score a TD crippled the team's chances for a win. The defense gave up just 13 points, 98 net passing yards and 266 yards overall, but story of the game was three Cincinnati drives inside the Texans' 20-yard line, and just three field goals to show for it. The Texans had huge play in the game, and it proved to be the difference. QB Deshaun Watson scrambled 49 yards on a broken pass play on third-and-15 for a 49-yard TD with 50 seconds left in the first half. With just under seven minutes left in the third quarter, Bengals QB Andy Dalton hit TE Tyler Eifert for an apparent TD, but the play was taken away because Eifert had stepped out of bounds and the officials ruled he had not re-established himself inbounds before becoming the first player to touch the ball. Bengals DT Geno Atkins had two sacks for the Bengals, extending to six the number of consecutive games in which he had recorded at least a half sack, which tied for the longest such streak in Bengals history. The Bengals fell to 0-2, while the Texans improved to 1-1.

WEEK 3, GAME 3Green Bay Packers 27, Cincinnati Bengals 24
Sunday, Sept. 24, 2017 at Lambeau Field

The Bengals' offense, which had not scored a TD in either of the first two games, scored TDs on two of its first three possessions. Behind those scores and an INT returned for a TD by CB William Jackson, the Bengals jumped out to a 21-7 lead on the defending NFC North Champions and controlled that advantage for most of the game. In the first half, Cincinnati outgained Green Bay in net yards, 192-78, while winning on third downs on both sides of the line of scrimmage, converting four of seven while holding the Packers to two of seven. In the second half, however, the Packers flipped the third downs, converting five of eight and holding the Bengals to zero of five. Behind the direction of QB Aaron Rodgers, Green Bay rallied late with a 12-play, 71-yard TD drive with 17 seconds left to send the game into OT. Then, after the Bengals' offense stalled with a three-and-out on the opening drive of OT, Rodgers connected with WR Geronimo Allison on third-and-10 for a 72-yard pass to the Bengals' seven-yard line, and two plays later, the Packers converted on a 27-yard FG. QB Andy Dalton completed 21 of 27 passes for 212 yards, two TDs and no INTs (124.1 rating), and WR A.J. Green caught 10 passes for 111 yards and a TD. Rookie LB Carl Lawson had 2.5 sacks. The Bengals fell to 0-3, while the Packers improved to 2-1.

WEEK 4, GAME 4Cincinnati Bengals 31, Cleveland Browns 7
Sunday, Oct. 1, 2017 at FirstEnergy Stadium

Both Cincinnati and Cleveland entered the game with 0-3 records, but the Bengals' offense erupted for 31 points while their defense held the Browns scoreless until after the two-minute warning to give the team a much-needed first win. Bengals QB Andy Dalton completed 25 of 30 passes for 286 yards, four TDs and zero INTs (146.0 passer rating). It was his fourth career game with four or more TD passes, and his first since Game 15 of the 2013 season. At one point in the Browns game, Dalton had logged 16 consecutive completions. That was the second-longest streak of completions in a game in team history, behind only the team record of 20 straight completions by former QB Ken Anderson in the 1982 regular-season finale on Jan. 2, 1983 at Houston. TE Tyler Kroft had six receptions for 68 yards and two TDs (all three of those stat categories were career highs for Kroft). HB Giovanni Bernard added three catches for 67 receiving yards and TD. The game marked the return of LB Vontaze Burfict, who missed the team's first three games due to a league suspension. The defense held the Browns to only 21.5 net yards, including just 45 rushing. Cincinnati improved to 1-3, while Cleveland fell to 0-4.

WEEK 5, GAME 5Cincinnati Bengals 20, Buffalo Bills 16
Sunday, Oct. 8, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati bested a 3-1 Buffalo Bills squad for their second straight win. The Bengals' defense was the story of the game. The Bengals allowed the Bills to score just one offensive touchdown and held Bills QB Tyrod Taylor to a passer rating of just 63.6 while sporting a relentless pass rush that sacked him six times, including three times in the fourth quarter alone. The Bills' offense managed only 221 total net yards, including just 36 in the second half. The Bengals earned the win despite three turnovers — two interceptions and one lost fumble. All three of the turnovers were off the hands of WR A.J. Green — two tipped passes, as well as the fumble. Green still contributed heavily to the win, with seven catches for 189 yards and a touchdown. QB Andy Dalton passed for 328 yards. The Bengals improved to 2-3, while the Bills fell to 3-2.

WEEK 7, GAME 6Pittsburgh Steelers 29, Cincinnati Bengals 14
Sunday, Oct. 22, 2017 at Heinz Field

Cincinnati's offense and defense had an uneven balance between them in the game's two halves that led to the disappointing defeat. Entering the game, the Bengals ranked No. 2 in the NFL in both average net yards allowed (262.8) and average points allowed (16.6). But in the first half alone, the Bengals gave up nearly their average in net yards allowed to the Steelers (251) and more than their average in points (20). The Bengals' first-half offense fared better, matching the Steelers TD-for-TD for a 14-14 tie before the Steelers added two FGs in the last two minutes of the half. In the final two quarters, the Cincinnati defense rebounded and held Pittsburgh to just 169 net yards and three FGs, but the Bengals' offense was unable to match. The Steelers recorded two INTs and four sacks in the second half, while holding the Bengals to just 19 net yards and zero points in those last two periods. Cincinnati held Pittsburgh WR Antonio Brown within reasonable check, to just four catches for 65 yards and a TD plus one punt return for seven yards, but other Steelers stars stepped in to pad the stat columns. QB Ben Roethlisberger was 14-of-24 passing for 224 yards, two TDs and no INTs (117.4 passer rating), while RB Le'Veon Bell rushed for 134 yards on 35 carries. The Bengals fell to 2-4 while the Steelers improved to 5-2.

WEEK 8, GAME 7Cincinnati Bengals 24, Indianapolis Colts 23
Sunday, Oct. 29, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati survived a gut-check game and recorded one of its most peculiar victories in recent memory. The underdog Colts entered the game with the league's 28th-ranked offense and 31st-ranked defense, yet dominated both sides of the line of scrimmage. The Bengals suffered a blocked FG, they lost two fumbles with no takeaways, and they had a rookie halfback (Joe Mixon) lead the team in rushing yards with just 18 as well as receiving yards with 91. The game itself had five lead changes and was tied twice. And the contest's most decisive play was no less unusual. With Cincinnati down 23-17 with just over seven minutes left, Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap batted up a pass in the Indianapolis backfield, caught it when it came down, and then outran the pursuing Colts offensive players for 16-yard INT return for a TD and the game's final points. Indianapolis had two more possessions to try to regain the lead, but the Bengals' defense held both times. QB Andy Dalton was sacked three times and under duress for much of the game, yet still managed to record a solid 108.8 passer rating after completing 17 of 29 passes for 243 yards, two TDs and no INTs. The Bengals improved to 3-4, and the Colts fell to 2-6.

WEEK 9, GAME 8Jacksonville Jaguars 23, Cincinnati Bengals 7
Sunday, Nov. 5, 2017 at EverBank Field

Cincinnati totaled a season-low 148 net yards, including just 29 yards rushing, on a season-low total of just 37 offensive plays, while Jacksonville totaled 407 net yards, including 148 rushing, on 78 plays. The Bengals converted just one of eight third downs (12.5 percent) while the Jaguars converted 12 of 18 (66.7). Despite the obvious lopsided numbers, the Bengals were down by only six points at halftime, and just nine points after three quarters. Not until Jacksonville WR Jaydon Mickens scored on a 63-yard punt return on the second play of the fourth quarter was Cincinnati forced to resort virtually entirely to pass plays in an attempt to close the deficit. By that point, however, the Jaguars' defense, which entered the game leading the league in both net passing yards allowed and sacks, was able to shift all of its attention to shutting down the Bengals' passing game. QB Andy Dalton finished with just a 79.9 passer rating, completing 10 of 18 passes for 136 yards. Just before halftime, WR A.J. Green was ejected for fighting with Jaguars CB Jalen Ramsey, who also was disqualified. Green left the game with only one reception for six yards, and no other Bengals WR or TE ended up catching more than two passes. The Bengals fell to 3-5, and the Jaguars improved to 5-3.

WEEK 10, GAME 9Tennessee Titans 24, Cincinnati Bengals 20
Sunday, Nov. 12, 2017 at Nissan Stadium

Cincinnati had a good chance to win the game, trailing Tennessee by three points at halftime, 17-14. After a scoreless third period, the Bengals took their first lead of the game when QB Andy Dalton hit WR A.J. Green for a 70-yard TD and a 20-17 advantage with 5:03 left. The Titans' offense, which the Bengals had held to just 73 net yards in the second half to that point, responded by doubling that output on the following possession. The Titans drove 73 yards on 12 plays to retake the lead, scoring the game's final points on a seven-yard dump-off pass from Mariota to RB DeMarco Murray, who caught the pass on the four-yard line and split two Bengals defenders while extending the ball across the goal line with 36 seconds left. For a second straight week, third downs on both sides of the line of scrimmage were a problem for Cincinnati. The Bengals converted just one of 10 third downs, while the Titans converted seven of 15. QB Andy Dalton finished with a 100.3 passer rating, completing 20 of 35 passes for 265 yards, two TDs and no INTs. WR A.J. Green finished with five catches for 115 yards and a TD. The Bengals fell to 3-6, while the Titans improved to 6-3.

WEEK 11, GAME 10Cincinnati Bengals 20, Denver Broncos 17
Sunday, Nov. 19, 2017 at Sports Authority Field at Mile High

It wasn't a picture-perfect performance for the Bengals, but they made big plays when they needed them, and collectively they were enough to snap a 10-game losing streak in Denver, where they had not won since 1975. The list of big plays included a 101-yard INT return by CB Dre Kirkpatrick in the first quarter (it was the longest in NFL history not to result in a TD), QB Andy Dalton hitting WR Alex Erickson for a 29-yard TD in the second quarter (it was Erickson's first career score), CB KeiVarae Russell blocking a Broncos FG attempt on the last play of the first half, LB Vontaze Burfict forcing a fumble the Bengals recovered early in the fourth quarter, Dalton rushing on an option play for a critical first down to extend a drive and take more time off the clock late in the game, and DE Carlos Dunlap recording his second sack of the game as the clock ran inside of two minutes to help dash Denver's final chances. Despite that lengthy list of positives, Cincinnati still had difficulties. On offense, the Bengals totaled just 190 net yards, including only 49 yards rushing, and 12 first downs. Not counting their two kneel-downs at the end of the game, they had nine rushing plays that went for either zero or negative yards (three for zero, six for negative). And, while the Bengals' offense converted seven of 15 third downs (46.6 percent), their defense allowed the Broncos to convert 12 of 21 third downs (57.1). Dalton finished the game completing 15 of 25 passes for 154 yards, three TDs and no INTs (117.3 passer rating), and all three of his TD passes came on third downs. The Bengals improved to 4-6, while the Broncos fell to 3-7.

WEEK 12, GAME 11Cincinnati Bengals 30, Cleveland Browns 16
Sunday, Nov. 26, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals handily beat the winless Browns, largely on the strength of a solid running game. Cincinnati had entered the contest ranked last in the NFL in net rushing yards (averaging just 68.0 per game), but erupted for a season-high 152 against Cleveland's defense, which had ranked sixth in the league against the run (91.7 rushing yards allowed per game). Bengals rookie HB Joe Mixon had a breakout performance, gaining 114 yards and one TD on 23 carries (5.0-yard average) — it was his first career 100-yard rushing game — while adding another 51 yards receiving on three receptions. The Bengals scored the first five times they had the ball, and QB Andy Dalton completed 18 of 28 passes for 214 yards, two TDs and no INTs for a 111.3 passer rating. It was Dalton's fifth straight game without an interception, the longest such stretch of his career. Despite the Bengals' offensive production, the Browns still led the game in overall yardage output 405-361, though Cincinnati allowed Cleveland to score just one TD in three trips inside the red zone. The Bengals had four sacks, with rookie LB Carl Lawson accounting for 1.5. The Bengals improved to 5-6, while the Browns fell to 0-11.

WEEK 13, GAME 12Pittsburgh Steelers 23, Cincinnati Bengals 20
Monday, Dec. 4, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals put themselves in good position early to secure a win against one of the top two teams in the AFC, jumping out to a 17-0 first-half lead on the strength of a balanced offense and a solid defense. The Bengals outgained the Steelers by 127 yards in the first two periods (253-126), converting six of eight third downs while allowing Pittsburgh to convert just one of five. CB Adam Jones intercepted a Ben Roethlisberger pass on the Steelers' first drive, leading to an early FG by K Randy Bullock. QB Andy Dalton completed 16 of 23 passes for 173 yards, two TDs and no INTs in the first half, twice hitting WR A.J. Green for scores — on eight-yard and 15-yard TD passes. Pittsburgh added their own FG as the half concluded. After a relatively even third quarter in which both teams scored once, Cincinnati still owned a 10-point lead heading into the final period. But in that fourth quarter, the Bengals' fortunes turned sour as Pittsburgh outgained the Bengals by 145 yards (158-13), recorded 11 first downs to the Bengals' zero, had more than an eight-minute advantage in time of possession (11:21-3:39) and scored 13 unanswered points. Roethlisberger completed 13 of 19 passes for 131 yards and one TD in the fourth quarter alone, tying the game 20-20 with 3:51 left on a six-yard TD pass to WR Antonio Brown. The Steelers won the game on the final play, converting a 38-yard FG as time expired. The Bengals finished with 13 penalties, incurring a team-record 173 penalty yards. Cincinnati fell to 5-7, while Pittsburgh improved to 10-2.

WEEK 14, GAME 13Chicago Bears 33, Cincinnati Bengals 7
Sunday, Dec. 10, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati started the game with six starters declared inactive due to injuries, including five on defense. After an early TD and missed PAT by the Bears, the Bengals took a 7-6 lead with just over two minutes left in the first quarter when QB Andy Dalton connected with WR Brandon LaFell for a 14-yard TD pass, but that advantage was short-lived. The Bears regained the lead on a 34-yard FG by former Bengals K Mike Nugent just over two minutes into the second quarter, and then put the Bengals in their rearview mirror. As the game progressed, Chicago took advantage of Cincinnati's depleted defense. The Bears scored 27 unanswered points after the first period, and the Bengals were unable to counter against the expanding deficit. Chicago outgained Cincinnati by 248 yards (482-234) and, aside from the score, held clear advantages in several key stat categories, including first downs (29-14), net yards rushing (232-70), takeaways (2-0) and time of possession (38:09-21:51). The loss left the Bengals with having to win their last three games to avoid a losing season and snapped a 22-game stretch of Bengals opponents failing to score 30 or more points. Dalton's career-long stretch of 193 straight passes without an INT ended in the third quarter. The Bengals fell to 5-8; the Bears improved to 4-9.

WEEK 15, GAME 14Minnesota Vikings 34, Cincinnati Bengals 7
Sunday, Dec. 17, 2017 at U.S. Bank Stadium

For the second straight week, the Bengals entered the game without six regular starters, including five on defense, and in the end, the results were similar to those the previous week. Minnesota, poised to clinch a coveted bye on Wild Card weekend and possibly home-field advantage throughout the NFC playoffs, capitalized on Cincinnati's depleted units and controlled much of the game in front of an enthusiastic and energized home crowd. The Vikings jumped out to 24-0 halftime lead, and the Bengals' offense was unable to counter against a deficit which continued to grow throughout the game. Cincinnati added a late score with 6:22 left when HB Giovanni Bernard had a two-yard TD run for the game's final points, but it was one of few Bengals highlights. On the final stat sheet, the Vikings held significant advantages over the Bengals in net yards (346-161), total first downs (18-8), net rushing yards (124-46) and time of possession (35:52-24:08). QB Case Keenum staged a near flawless game for Minnesota, completing 20 of 23 passes for 236 yards, two TDs and no INTs. Vikings RB Jerick McKinnon caught seven passes for 114 yards on top of his 27 yards rushing. For the Bengals, QB Andy Dalton recorded a 27.3 passer rating — his lowest of the season — while completing 11 of 22 passes for 113 yards, zero TDs and two INTs (one INT was returned for a TD). The loss secured a second straight losing season for the Bengals and officially eliminated their chances of qualifying for postseason. The Bengals fell to 5-9, while the Vikings improved to 11-3.

WEEK 16, GAME 15Cincinnati Bengals 26, Detroit Lions 17
Sunday, Dec. 24, 2017 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Bengals played with a shuffled lineup due to injuries, particularly at OL and LB, and they lost more players as the game progressed. On offense, the Bengals were without both starting OTs (Cedric Ogbuehi and Andre Smith), and they lost HB Joe Mixon early in the first quarter. On defense, the Bengals began without starting LBs Nick Vigil and Kevin Minter, and they lost Vontaze Burfict in the second quarter. But the Bengals' backups played well. At OL, veterans Clint Boling and Eric Winston combined with Christian Westerman and Alex Redmond to block for 142 net rushing yards, the second-highest total of the season. Bernard had 116 rushing yards and a TD on 23 carries and seven catches for 52 yards. On defense, vet Vincent Rey combined with a trio of rookies in Jordan Evans, Hardy Nickerson and Brandon Bell to fill in. Rey had two tackles and an INT. The Bengals held advantages in first downs (28-15), net rushing yards (142-87) and time of possession (32:29-27:31). The Bengals improved to 6-9 and the Lions fell to 8-7.

WEEK 17, GAME 16Cincinnati Bengals 31, Baltimore Ravens 27
Sunday, Dec. 31, 2017 at M&T Bank Stadium

The Bengals stunned the Ravens at Baltimore with a knockout TD in the final minute to eliminate the Ravens from the playoffs. QB Andy Dalton hit WR Tyler Boyd for a 49-yard score on fourth down with 44 seconds left to give the Bengals the win. The Ravens would have qualified for postseason if they had won the game, and they still could have made it with a loss, but the defeat guaranteed their exclusion due to game outcomes elsewhere in the AFC. Dalton barely completed 50 percent of his attempts, going 23 of 44 for just 222 yards, but he had three TDs passes and no INTs (89.4 passer rating). TE Tyler Kroft tied for the team lead with six receptions, including two TD catches. Boyd caught five passes for a team-high 91 yards to go along with his game-winning score. The Bengals' running game was key, as the team rushed for 146 net yards on 30 carries (4.9-yard average). The win helped elevate Buffalo to the playoffs for the first time since 1999, and Bills fans showed their appreciation of Dalton's last-minute heroics by donating heavily to his charity. Bills backers made a large number of $17 contributions ($1 for each of the 17 consecutive non-playoff seasons for the Bills), and in the end, nearly $350,000 in donations were made to the Andy and Jordan Dalton Foundation. The Bengals finished the 2017 season in third place of the AFC North Division at 7-9, while the Ravens finished second at 9-7.
