WEEKLY NEWS RELEASE — NOV. 17, 2026

CINCINNATI BENGALS (7-2)
AT
WASHINGTON COMMANDERS (3-5-1)

WEEK 11, GAME 10
MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL, NOV. 23
AT NORTHWEST STADIUM

NEXT WEEK: WEEK 12, GAME 11
NOV. 29 VS. NEW ORLEANS

GAME INFORMATION

Kickoff: 8:15 p.m. Eastern.

Television: The game will air nationally on ESPN-TV. In the Cincinnati market, the ESPN broadcast also will be simulcast on WLWT-TV (Channel 5). Broadcasters are Joe Buck (play-by-play), Troy Aikman (analyst), Lisa Salters (sideline reporter), Laura Rutledge (sideline reporter) and Russell Yurk (rules official).

Radio: The game will air on the Bengals Radio Network, led by Cincinnati flagship radio stations WLW-AM (700), WCKY-AM (1530) and WEBN-FM (102.7). Broadcasters are Dan Hoard (play-by-play), Dave Lapham (analyst) and Tony Pike (analyst).

In addition, the game will air nationally on Westwood One Radio. Broadcasters are Kevin Kugler (play-by-play) and Ross Tucker (analyst).

Setting the scene: The Bengals play in a standalone window for the third straight week when they face the Washington Commanders at Northwest Stadium on Monday Night Football.

Cincinnati is riding a five-game winning streak which has vaulted the team to a 7-2 record and first place in the AFC North Division. The Bengals have scored 30 or more points in each of the five contests, including 38 in their Week 10 home victory over Pittsburgh on Sunday Night Football. Since the streak began in Week 5, head coach Zac Taylor's group leads the NFL in points per game (36.2), net yards per game (409.2), net passing yards per game (316.0), first downs per game (25.2) and third-down conversion rate (58.8 percent). But despite the recent surge that has neared historic levels of production, Bengals players and coaches alike have not allowed their focus to extend beyond the next matchup.

"Just take it one game at a time," said Taylor. "I've got a lot of confidence in how we're playing and you don't want to do anything to stymie that. But at the same point, I know we're going to have a tough test on the road next week (at Washington), against a unique-style defense. We're going to have to go earn it again."

Spearheading the offensive charge is seventh-year QB Joe Burrow, who leads the league this season in several passing categories including completion percentage (74.7), TD passes (27) and passer rating (117.7). During the win over the Steelers, he joined Pro Football Hall of Famer Peyton Manning as the only QBs in NFL history with four or more total TDs in five consecutive games. Burrow also recorded his seventh career stat line with at least 350 passing yards and four passing TDs, tying Hall of Famer Tom Brady for the most such games in league history.

Burrow is flanked by perhaps the top pass-catching duo in the NFL in Ja'Marr Chase and Tee Higgins, who each rank in the top 10 leaguewide in receiving yards and TDs this year. Chase has registered at least 10 catches and 140 yards in each of the past three weeks, culminating in a season-high 231 yards against Pittsburgh. Higgins has five TDs over his past four games and is averaging 15.5 yards per reception on the season (824 on 53 catches).

Defensively, an infusion of veteran offseason acquisitions has led the way as Cincinnati held three of its past four opponents to under 20 points. The Bengals are tied for ninth in the NFL in sacks this season (26), led by 6.5 from free agent signee Boye Mafe. DT Dexter Lawrence II has added five sacks and nine TFLs, tied for the second-most among all defensive tackles. The Bengals also rank third in the league in red zone TD percentage allowed (40.0).

A victory against the Commanders on Monday night would mark the seventh time in team history in which the Bengals had a winning streak of six games or more in a single season. Cincinnati last hit that number in 2022, when it closed out the regular season with eight wins in a row to claim the AFC North title. The Bengals have won both of their matchups against NFC opponents this season, defeating Tampa Bay in Week 1 and Atlanta in Week 9.

Washington is coming off a road win over the N.Y. Giants in Week 10 to move to 3-5-1 on the season.

The series: The Commanders won both of the two most recent meetings, 38-33 at Paycor Stadium in 2024 and 20-9 at FedExField in '20, to take the lead in the all-time series at 6-5-1. However, prior to those contests, Cincinnati had gone four straight games without a loss, with wins in three straight matchups in 2004, '08 and '12, as well as a tie at Wembley Stadium in London in '16.

The Bengals have played fewer games against Washington (12) than against any other long-established NFL team except the N.Y. Giants (also 12). The only team with fewer than 10 meetings against Cincinnati is Carolina (eight games), which did not begin play until 1995.

Though the Bengals-Commanders series history isn't comprised of a lengthy list of matchups historically, it does include a pair of noteworthy and significant results for the Bengals, both occurring in the 1980s:

- In the 1988 season finale, at Riverfront Stadium, the Bengals won 20-17 in overtime, finishing 12-4 and clinching the AFC home field advantage for the playoffs. But it took a stroke of good fortune to reach Jim Breech's 20-yard winning field goal 7:01 into the overtime. On the final play of regulation, Washington K Chip Lohmiller had a 29-yard FG try glance off an upright for a miss. The Bengals went on to win their two home playoff games and advance to Super Bowl XXIII.
- In Game 15 of 1985, the Bengals traveled to RFK Stadium, fresh off a 50-24 shelling of Dallas that had Cincinnati tied at 7-7 for the AFC Central lead. The playoffs seemed to beckon when the Bengals took a 24-7 lead, but Washington scored 20 unanswered points to win, 27-24. Washington WR Art Monk caught 13 passes for 230 yards, both figures setting Bengals opponent records at the time. The Bengals' playoff hopes were extinguished prior to their season finale the next week. Their only title hope was in a three-way tie with Pittsburgh and Cleveland, and prior to Cincinnati's finale at New England, a Pittsburgh loss to the N.Y. Giants in a Saturday game clinched the title for Cleveland.

A complete recap of past Bengals-Commanders results is on page 224 in the Bengals 2026 Media Guide.

Bengals career records watch: As the Bengals continue the 2026 season, here is a look at potential upcoming movement on the team's career records lists (regular season), along with notable movement that already has occurred this year:

● QB Joe Burrow has 184 career TD passes, which are the fourth-most in team history and three shy of QB Boomer Esiason (187) for third-most. QBs Andy Dalton (204) and Ken Anderson (197) hold the top two spots on the team's career list.

● Burrow has 3146 career passing attempts, the fifth-most in team history and 71 shy of QB Carson Palmer (3217) for fourth. Anderson (4475), Dalton (4449) and Esiason (3564) hold the top three spots.

● Burrow has 23,605 career passing yards, and in Week 8 surpassed Palmer (22,694) for fourth-most in team history. Anderson (32,838), Dalton (31,594) and Esiason (27,149) hold the top three spots.

● Burrow has completed 2175 career passes, and in Week 4 surpassed both Esiason (2015) and Palmer (2024) to move into third on the team's all-time list. Dalton (2757) and Anderson (2654) hold the top two spots.

● Burrow has 31 career games with 300 or more passing yards, the most in team history. He surpassed Dalton (28) for the team's all-time record in Week 4.

● WR Ja'Marr Chase has 61 career receiving TDs, the fourth-most in team history and two shy of WR Carl Pickens (63) for third. WRs Chad Johnson (66) and A.J. Green (65) hold the top two spots.

● Chase has 29 career games with 100 or more receiving yards, the third-most in team history and two shy of Johnson (31) for second. Green (33) holds the team record for most such games.

● Chase has 584 career receptions, and in Week 3 surpassed Pickens (530) for third-most in team history. Johnson (751) and Green (649) hold the top two spots.

● Chase has 7715 career receiving yards, and in Week 5 surpassed WR Isaac Curtis (7101) for third-most in team history. Johnson (10,783) and Green (9430) hold the top two spots. Chase also surpassed Pickens (6887) for fourth in Week 2 of this season.

● WR Tee Higgins has 51 career receiving TDs, the sixth-most in team history and two shy of Curtis (53) for fifth.

● K Evan McPherson has accounted for 633 career points, the fifth-most in team history and 27 shy of K Doug Pelfrey (660) for fourth.

● McPherson has made 132 career FGs, the fifth-most in team history and 21 shy of Pelfrey (153) for fourth. McPherson in Week 1 surpassed K Horst Muhlmann (120) for fifth.

● McPherson has 237 career made PATs, the fourth-most in team history and 10 shy of K Mike Nugent (247) for third. Kickers Jim Breech (476) and Shayne Graham (248) hold the top two spots.

Records vs. Washington: Here is a brief look at the Cincinnati and Washington records set in the Bengals' record books in the series:

● On Dec. 17, 1988, Washington RB Jamie Morris set an NFL record for rushing attempts in a game that still stands today when he rushed 45 times against the Bengals. He gained 152 yards, but the Bengals won 20-17 in overtime.

● In the 2016 meeting with Washington at Wembley Stadium in London, the Bengals tied the team record for most first downs in a game with 35, matching the mark set on Dec. 17, 1989 vs. the Houston Oilers. The London game resulted in a 27-27 tie.

Individually vs. Commanders: Here is a look at offensive statistics for current Bengals players in Cincinnati games against Washington (ordered by total games played):

● QB Joe Burrow: Two games; 51-of-72 passing for 527 yards and four TDs; three rushes for 16 yards (5.3-yard average).

● WR Tee Higgins: Two games; six receptions for 65 yards (10.8).

● TE Drew Sample: Two games; two receptions for 29 yards (14.5).

● TE Erick All Jr. (Reserve/Injured): One game; Four receptions for 22 yards (5.5).

● HB Chase Brown: One game; Seven carries for 62 yards (8.9); Two receptions for seven yards (3.5).

● WR Ja'Marr Chase: One game; Six receptions for 118 yards (19.7) and two TDs.

● TE Mike Gesicki: One game; Four receptions for 47 yards (11.8).

● WR Andrei Iosivas (Reserve/Injured): One game; Five receptions for 52 yards (10.4) and one TD.

Uniform watch: Cincinnati will wear white jerseys, white pants (black stripes) and black socks this week at Washington. It is the Bengals' most frequently worn combination since their uniform redesign in 2021, as they have featured this look 23 times and compiled a 15-8 record. This includes four road playoff contests following the 2021 and '22 seasons, in which the team went 3-1. The Bengals last wore this combination in Week 7 of this season at Baltimore.

The Bengals' redesign in 2021 marked the team's first significant change in uniform since '04. There are three different color options for the current jerseys — black, white and orange. The pants feature four options — black with orange stripes, white with orange stripes, white with black stripes, and orange with black stripes. Options for sock color include black, white and orange.

In 2022, with the league's approval for the use of alternate helmets, Cincinnati introduced a new white helmet with its iconic black stripes. When paired with white jerseys and white pants (with black stripes), a new uniform combination was created and was branded as the "White Bengal." The team has worn the white helmet seven times and collected a 6-1 record in those games. It made its first appearance of this season in the team's most recent contest a 38-18 home victory over Pittsburgh in Week 10. The Bengals will don the white helmet again in Week 17 against Baltimore on Thursday Night Football.

Here is a look at the Bengals' records in every possible uniform combination (regular season and postseason only) since the team redesigned the uniform in 2021:

 — The league permitted teams to create alternate helmets for the 2022 season. However, teams were required to wear those alternate helmets only with alternate, throwback or color rush uniforms (CR) that season. The Bengals donned their new alternate white helmet in 2022 with their color rush jersey, which at the time had not been worn since '20, prior to the '21 primary uniform redesign. In 2023 and thereafter, the Bengals were permitted to wear their alternate white helmet with their primary white jersey.*

^ — NFL rules allow teams to wear designated alternate and/or throwback and/or color rush uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. The Bengals' designated alternate uniform includes the team's orange jersey. The Bengals do not have a throwback uniform.

+ — The Bengals added orange pants with black stripes to their uniform lineup in 2024.

More MNF: Here's a further look at some history and milestones of the Bengals' MNF experience:

- Most recent appearance: The Bengals' most recent appearance on MNF was a Week 4 matchup last season at Denver at Empower Field at Mile High. The Broncos won that contest, 28-3.
- First appearance: During the inaugural season of MNF, on Nov. 2, 1970, the Bengals lost 21-10 to Pittsburgh at Three Rivers Stadium. The loss dropped the Bengals to 1-6, but the game was pivotal. The Bengals won their final seven games to finish 8-6 and win the first AFC Central Division championship. It was the Bengals' first season in the NFL after two years in the AFL. The 1970 Bengals still are one of only four teams in NFL history to start 1-5 or worse after six games and make the playoffs. The other teams were the 2015 Kansas City Chiefs (started 1-5; was 11-5 Wild Card), the '18 Indianapolis Colts (1-5; 10-6 Wild Card) and the '20 Washington Football Team (1-5; 7-9 NFC East Division champs).
- First home appearance: On Nov. 17, 1975, the Bengals defeated Buffalo 33-24 at Riverfront Stadium. The win lifted Cincinnati to an 8-1 record, en route to an 11-3 season which holds the mark for best regular-season winning percentage (.786) in franchise history.
- Most MNF regular-season appearances in a season: For the Bengals, it has been three, in both 1978 and '89. The Bengals also were on MNF three times in 2007, but one game was in preseason.
- Widest Bengals victory margin: 21 points, in a 34-13 win at Cleveland on Oct. 22, 1990.

Memorable MNF wins: A 37-28 home win over Denver in 2014 arguably ranks as the most memorable Bengals Monday night victory. The Bengals upended an 11-3 opponent in the game, with a fourth-quarter comeback, and clinched a playoff berth. The Broncos led 28-27 after three periods, but WR Brandon Tate's 49-yard punt return set up a 23-yard Mike Nugent FG for a 30-28 lead, and CB Dre Kirkpatrick sealed the win with a 30-yard return of an intercepted Peyton Manning pass for a TD with 2:41 left.

Another memorable MNF win came Nov. 17, 1975 at Riverfront Stadium, when QB Ken Anderson and the Bengals outdueled RB O.J. Simpson and the Buffalo Bills in an offensive showcase. The final score was 33-24. Simpson rushed for 197 yards and two TDs, but Anderson bombarded the Bills with 30 completions in 46 attempts for 447 yards, two TDs and no INTs. Overall, the game produced 57 first downs and 888 total net yards between the teams. The win lifted the Bengals to an 8-1 record as they stormed toward an 11-3 mark that still rates as their best ever campaign for regular-season winning percentage (.786).

As a 14-point underdog in 2020, Cincinnati pulled off an upset on MNF against visiting Pittsburgh, which entered the contest having won their last 11 games over the Bengals. Led by third-string QB Ryan Finley, the 2-10-1 Bengals posted 27 points on an 11-2 Steelers team which entered the contest allowing an NFL-low 18.2 points per game. Cincinnati was helped by three takeaways in the first half, and jumped out to a 17-0 lead at the break while holding Pittsburgh QB Ben Roethlisberger to just 19 passing yards, his fewest ever before halftime in 230 career starts. The Steelers came alive after the break with 17 second-half points, but the Bengals' run-heavy offense (41 rushes, 13 passes), coupled with multiple key defensive stops, helped Cincinnati hold on for the win.

On Dec. 4, 2023, in a thriller at Jacksonville which included five ties and six lead changes, the visiting Bengals kept their playoff hopes alive when K Evan McPherson converted a game-winning 48-yard FG with 3:17 left in overtime. In just his second career start in place of injured Joe Burrow, QB Jake Browning completed 32 of 37 passes (86.5 percent; still the fifth-highest in team history) for 354 yards and one TD (and he rushed for 22 yards and another TD), with the memorable performance being highlighted by four completions in the extra period to move Cincinnati into FG range. The Bengals answered a pair of Jaguars TDs in the first half with two rushing scores from HB Joe Mixon, then grabbed their first lead early in the third quarter when Browning found WR Ja'Marr Chase down the left sideline for a 76-yard TD. Chase had 11 catches for 149 yards, while Mixon had 117 scrimmage yards (68 rushing, 49 receiving). Browning later was recognized as AFC Offensive Player of the Week.

Most memorable MNF loss: The most-remembered Monday night loss in Bengals history is considered by many to be the 50-34 shootout won by the Chargers at San Diego on Dec. 20, 1982.

The two clubs combined for 1102 net yards, the second-most in NFL history at the time. The Chargers had 661 and the Bengals 441.

QB Ken Anderson's 40 pass completions in that game still stands tied for the Bengals' all-time record (QB Joe Burrow also logged 40 completions in 2022 at New England). San Diego's Wes Chandler had 260 receiving yards (on 10 catches), still the most yards ever by a receiver against Cincinnati.

Most crucial MNF loss: The only time the Bengals played a Monday night game to close a season was on Christmas night, Dec. 25, 1989 at Minnesota.

The defending AFC Champion Bengals needed a win to secure a playoff berth, but the Vikings prevailed, 29-21. Cincinnati QB Boomer Esiason passed for 367 yards and three TDs, but he also suffered three INTs.

A MNF cancellation: The Bengals' 2022 appearance on Monday Night Football — vs. Buffalo in Week 17 — was initially postponed and later canceled after Bills S Damar Hamlin suffered cardiac arrest and collapsed on the field at Paycor Stadium.

The incident occurred midway through the first quarter of the Jan. 2 contest, with Cincinnati holding a 7-3 lead and driving with the ball. Hamlin received immediate emergency attention on the field, then was taken to the University of Cincinnati Medical Center, where he spent the next six days before being transferred to the Buffalo General Medical Center to continue his recovery. He was discharged from the Buffalo medical facility on Jan. 11 and cleared to continue his rehab at home. He made a full recovery and currently still is on the Bills' active roster.

After Hamlin had been taken off the field by an ambulance, both teams left the field and the contest was postponed shortly thereafter. The status of the game remained uncertain in the following days until the NFL announced later that week on Thursday that it officially would be canceled. The Bengals and Bills, who each hosted their regular-season finale the following Sunday, were the only two teams in the league to officially play only 16 games in 2022.

Overall at night: In regular season, the Bengals are 34-59 at night, including 6-18 on Sunday night, 15-28 on Monday night, 12-9 on Thursday night, 0-1 on Friday night and 1-3 on Saturday night.

THE HEAD COACHES

Zac Taylor was named the 10th head coach in Bengals history on Feb. 4, 2019. The 2026 season is his eighth in the position.

In 2025, Taylor once again orchestrated an offense which ranked near the top of the NFL in several metrics, including sixth in net passing yards per game (235.6), fifth in third-down efficiency (43.4 percent) and second in red zone TD percentage (66.7). After QB Joe Burrow sustained a toe injury early in the year that ultimately caused him to miss nine games, the team acquired QB Joe Flacco in a trade with Cleveland, and Taylor helped the 18th-year veteran quickly assimilate in his system. Over his six starts for the Bengals, Flacco ranked second leaguewide in completions (154) and fifth in passing yards (1636). With Burrow behind center for the final six weeks of the regular season, Taylor guided Cincinnati to top-10 league rankings in scoring (sixth; 27.7 points) and total yards (fourth; 369.7). Taylor also again helped WR Ja'Marr Chase compile an All-Pro season in 2025, as the fifth-year standout finished third in the NFL in receptions (125) and fourth in receiving yards (1412). Chase's running mate, sixth-year WR Tee Higgins, tied for second in the league with a career-high 11 receiving TDs. Taylor additionally continued to expand third-year HB Chase Brown's role in the offense, as he posted his first career 1000-yard rushing season and had a career-high 69 catches for 437 yards. The 2025 campaign also saw Taylor work with first-year defensive coordinator Al Golden as Cincinnati improved in nearly every statistical metric in the second half of the season compared to the first. Following the team's Week 10 bye, the Bengals tied for fifth in the NFL in takeaways (12) and tied for seventh in sacks (22).

In 2024, Taylor guided the Bengals to their fourth consecutive winning season with a record of 9-8. After falling to 4-8 in early December, he led Cincinnati to five straight wins to vault back into the AFC playoff picture. He oversaw one of the NFL's most dynamic offenses, serving as play-caller for a unit that led the league in passing yards (272.9) and ranked sixth in scoring (27.8). Burrow set numerous single-season Bengals records and led all NFL QBs in passing yards (4918) and TD passes (43), while Chase became the youngest player in the Super Bowl era to win the receiving "Triple Crown," as he paced the league in catches (127), receiving yards (1708) and TD catches (17). The individual performances earned Burrow his second career Pro Bowl nod and the NFL's Comeback Player of the Year award, while Chase was named a first-team All-Pro by the Associated Press.

In 2023, Taylor led Cincinnati to a 9-8 mark despite a few key players missing time due to injuries. In 2021 and '22, he led the Bengals to back-to-back AFC North titles, marking the first time in team history Cincinnati won its division in consecutive years.

The 2021 division title was the Bengals' first in six years. The team went on to win three postseason games and claim the AFC Championship (Cincinnati's first since 1988) and a berth in Super Bowl LVI. Burrow, playing in his first full season in Taylor's system, was named the NFL's Comeback Player of the Year after leading the league in completion percentage (70.4), while Chase took home Offensive Rookie of the Year honors after posting the most receiving yards by a rookie in the Super Bowl era (1455, since surpassed).

In 2022, the Bengals made a repeat appearance in the AFC Championship. After entering November with a 4-4 record, Taylor helped Cincinnati tie team regular-season records for consecutive wins (eight) and total wins (12) to earn the No. 3 seed in the AFC playoffs. Offensively, the Bengals ranked fifth in the NFL in passing (265.0) and seventh in scoring (26.1), while defensively Cincinnati held opposing passers to a league-low 59.8 completion percentage. After the 2022 postseason, Taylor's postseason record improved to 5-2.

In the postseason, Taylor guided Cincinnati to its first playoff win in 31 years, a home Wild Card victory over Las Vegas, before the team went on the road to defeat the AFC's top two seeds, Tennessee and Kansas City.

Taylor came to Cincinnati after two seasons with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant wide receivers coach in 2017 and quarterbacks coach in '18. He broke into NFL coaching with Miami as assistant quarterbacks coach in 2012, then was elevated to quarterbacks coach for the Dolphins from 2013-15.

Taylor had two stints in the college coaching ranks, serving on staff at Texas A&M (2008-11) and Cincinnati (2016). At UC, he served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach under head coach Tommy Tuberville.

Taylor played QB at Wake Forest (2002-03), Butler County (Kan.) C.C. (2004) and Nebraska (2005-06). In 2006, he was named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year and led the Cornhuskers to an appearance in the Big 12 Championship Game and a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017. He joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but was waived prior to the start of training camp. He then spent the 2007 season with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League (did not play).

Taylor was born on May 10, 1983, in Norman, Okla. He graduated from Nebraska in 2006 with a degree in communication studies. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children — Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman. Taylor's father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at Oklahoma (1976-79), then later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State. Taylor's younger brother, Press, played QB at Marshall and currently is the offensive coordinator for the Chicago Bears.

Dan Quinn was named the 31st coach in Washington history on Feb. 3, 2024. Quinn joined the Commanders with 21 years of coaching experience, most recently serving as the defensive coordinator for the Dallas Cowboys from 2021-23.

In 2021, he was named Assistant Coach of the Year by the Associated Press. From 2021-23, Quinn's unit ranked No. 5 in the NFL in points per game (19.9), No. 7 in net yards allowed per game (327.0), No. 6 in sacks (141) and No. 1 in interceptions (59).

Prior to his time in Dallas, Quinn spent six seasons (2015-20) as the head coach of the Atlanta Falcons where he led Atlanta to Super Bowl LI. He finished his career with the Falcons with a 43-42 regular-season record and a 3-2 postseason record.

Before his time in Atlanta, Quinn served as the defensive coordinator for the Seattle Seahawks for two seasons (2013-14) and oversaw a defense that helped guide Seattle to consecutive Super Bowl appearances. The Seahawks defense ranked No. 1 in the NFL in fewest yards allowed (270.4), points allowed (15.2) and passing yards allowed (178.8), all while holding offenses to just 91.6 rushing yards per game during Quinn's tenure with the team.

Before joining Seattle for his second stint, Quinn coached for the University of Florida (2011-12), the Seattle Seahawks ('09-10), N.Y. Jets ('07-08), Miami Dolphins ('05-06), San Francisco 49ers ('01-04), Hofstra University (1996-'00), Virginia Military Institute ('95) and William & Mary ('94).

Quinn played on the defensive line at Salisbury for four seasons (1990-93) and was a four-year letter winner and two-time co-captain. He also lettered in track and field and held the school record in the hammer throw until 2012. Quinn was inducted into the Salisbury Athletic Hall of Fame in 2005. He has no pro playing experience.

Quinn was born in Morristown, N.J. on Sept. 11, 1970. In 2024, he and his wife, Stacey, started Quinn's Corps, which helps serve members of the military both at home and abroad.

Taylor vs. Commanders: The Commanders lead, 2-0.

Taylor vs. Quinn: Quinn leads, 1-0.

Quinn vs. Bengals: The series is tied, 1-1 (the Bengals won when Quinn was head coach of the Falcons in 2018 at Atlanta, and Quinn won as as Commanders head coach in 2024 at Cincinnati).

BENGALS NOTES

2026 Bengals captains: The Bengals this season have seven captains who were elected via a players-only vote. Wearing the captains' patch are three offensive players, three defensive players and one special teamer.

The offensive captains are seventh-year QB Joe Burrow, sixth-year WR Ja'Marr Chase and 11th-year C Ted Karras. Burrow (2020-present) and Karras ('22-present) both have been captains every season they have played for the Bengals. This marks the sixth captaincy overall for Karras, who also wore the patch for the Miami Dolphins in 2020. Chase holds the role for the second straight season, after being recognized for the first time in his career in 2025.

The defensive captains are fifth-year S Bryan Cook, eighth-year DT Dexter Lawrence II and fourth-year CB DJ Turner II. Cook and Turner are serving as captains for the first time in their respective careers, while Lawrence wears the patch for a fifth time after being voted a captain in each of the past four seasons while with the N.Y. Giants.

Sixth-year K Evan McPherson was voted a captain on special teams for the second time in his career. He previously served as a captain in the 2024 season.

Offense surges in win streak: The Bengals have performed as the NFL's most efficient offense in several metrics during their current five-game winning streak. From its Week 5 win at Miami through its most recent victory over Pittsburgh in Week 10, Cincinnati has led the league in points per game (36.2), TDs per game (4.8), first downs per game (25.2), total net yards per game (409.2), net passing yards per game (316.0) and third-down percentage (58.8).

The Bengals' 316.0 net passing yards per contest since Week 5 are 35.3 more than the next closest team in that span (Green Bay, 280.7). It also is more than the total net yardage per game of 14 teams in that span.

The Bengals have scored at least 30 points in five consecutive games for the first time in team history. The last NFL team to put up 30 or more points in five straight contests was Buffalo, which accomplished the feat eight games in a row from Weeks 7-15 of the 2024 season.

Here are the teams with the highest net passing average since Week 5:

TEAM	NET PASSING YDS/GAME SINCE WEEK 5
Cincinnati Bengals	316.0
Green Bay Packers	280.7
Jacksonville Jaguars	274.6
N.Y. Giants	272.0
Dallas Cowboys	270.5

Excelling in the red zone: The Bengals are the only NFL team this season that ranks in the top five in the league both in red zone offensive TD percentage and red zone defensive TD percentage. Cincinnati's offense has scored a TD on 27 of its 38 possessions that have reached the opponent's 20-yard line (71.1 percent), the fifth-best rate by any team. Defensively, the Bengals have given up just 12 TDs on their opponents' 30 trips to the red zone (40.0 percent), the third-lowest clip in the NFL.

Coming out of their Week 6 bye, the Bengals have scored a TD on 17 of their 20 red zone appearances, with the three outliers being a turnover on downs in Week 8 vs. Tennessee, a QB kneel in the final minute of the Week 9 win against Atlanta, and a FG on the opening drive of Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh. Of the 17 TDs, 14 were scoring passes by QB Joe Burrow. He has thrown an NFL-leading 20 red zone TDs this season, while WR Tee Higgins is tied for second among all players with five receiving TDs in the red zone. Mike Gesicki has added four red zone TD catches, tied for the third-most by a TE.

Cincinnati's defense has limited its opponents to a FG on 11 red zone possessions. There also have been seven instances in which the Bengals held a team to zero points on a red zone drive, tying Jacksonville for the most red zone possessions with no points allowed this season.

First half dominance in past two games: The Bengals have scored 24 points in the first half of each of the past two games, shooting out to a halftime lead that led to a pair of dominant wins. They joined Buffalo (Weeks 1 and 2) as the only teams in the league this season with 24 or more points in the first half of consecutive games.

Of Cincinnati's 24 first-half points in Week 9 against Atlanta, 17 were scored in the second quarter. The Bengals then followed up with 21 second-quarter points in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh. They now lead the NFL this season in total points scored in the second quarter of play (96) and second-quarter point differential (plus-64).

In the Week 10 victory, Cincinnati possessed the ball for 14 minutes in the opening quarter. The Bengals became the first team with a time of possession of 14 minutes in the first quarter of a game since the San Diego Chargers (14:03) in Week 10 of the 2013 campaign. Cincinnati outgained Pittsburgh 143-3 in total net yards in the first quarter, while accumulating 10 first downs compared to zero for the Steelers.

Joe Burrow has the two highest passing yardage totals in the first half of a game by any QB this season, with 302 in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh and 239 the previous week against the Falcons. He completed over 75 percent of his attempts in the first half of both games while posting a passer rating above 130. Much of his production came via connections with WR Ja'Marr Chase, who caught eight passes for 142 yards and a TD in the first half against Atlanta, then had seven grabs for 146 yards over the first two quarters against Pittsburgh. Chase became the first NFL player since at least 1978 with 130 or more receiving yards in the first half of consecutive games.

Joe matches Peyton: QB Joe Burrow has accounted for four or more TDs (passing and rushing) in each of the past five games, joining Pro Football Hall of Famer Peyton Manning as the only players in NFL history with four TDs in five consecutive contests. Manning accomplished the feat during his 2004 MVP campaign with Indianapolis.

Since Week 5, Burrow leads the NFL in completion percentage (77.6), passing yards per game (324.8), TD passes (20) and passer rating (133.2), while ranking third in total passing yards (1624) and fourth in yards per attempt (8.9). His 324.8 passing yards per contest are over 25 more than the next closest QB during that stretch (Green Bay's Jordan Love; 299.5).

Burrow is the third QB in league history to average at least 300 passing yards and four TD passes over a five-game span. Each of the three previous instances came during MVP seasons, as Manning accomplished the feat in 2004 with Indianapolis and '13 with Denver, while Tom Brady did it in '07 with New England. Each of those QBs and seasons, including Burrow this year, also are the only instances in which a QB threw a combined 20 TD passes over a five-game stretch.

Burrow has four games with at least four TD passes since Week 5. No other QB in the NFL has more than two games with four scoring passes this season. He tied his career high with five TD passes in Week 8 against Tennessee, which marked his third game since 2024 with that many TD throws — the most such games in the league in that span.

Burrow also has completed over 70 percent of his passes and had a passer rating above 115 in each of the five games during his current streak.

Here is a look at the QBs with at least four combined rushing and passing TDs in four or more consecutive games (regular season):

PLAYER	TEAM	YEAR(S)	CONSECUTIVE GAMES
Peyton Manning	Indianapolis Colts	2004	5
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	2026	5
Dan Marino	Miami Dolphins	1984	4
Drew Brees	New Orleans Saints	2018	4
Tom Brady	Tampa Bay Buccaneers	2020-21	4

Joevember returns: Since entering the NFL in 2020, Joe Burrow ranks second among all QBs in completions per game (25.5), third in passing yards per game (281.6) and tied for fifth in passer rating (102.5) in games played in the month of November. Several of his most notable career performances have occurred in November, including seven 300-yard passing games and five games with four or more TD passes.

Burrow's career high for TD passes in a game is five, which he has registered three total times. Two of those came in November, as he threw five scoring passes in Week 9 of the 2024 season against Las Vegas, and in Week 8 of this season vs. Tennessee. He also has three 400-yard passing games in the calendar's penultimate month, going for 462 in Week 8 of this season vs. Tennessee, 428 in Week 10 of 2024 at Baltimore and 409 in Week 10 of '26 vs. Pittsburgh.

Burrow earned his first career AFC Offensive Player of the Month for games played in November of 2024, when he recorded 1035 passing yards and 12 TD passes with just one INT over a three-game stretch. During that month, he became the first QB in NFL history to register at least 50 passing attempts, 350 yards and three TDs while throwing zero INTs in consecutive games.

Perhaps Burrow's most memorable November showing was in Week 13 of last season, when he helped lead Cincinnati to a road win over the Ravens on Thanksgiving night. Making his first start after missing nine games due to an injury, he passed for 261 yards and two TDs, with both scoring passes coming in the second half.

Burrow's TD tally: QB Joe Burrow leads the NFL with 27 TD passes in nine games played this season. If he throws for three TDs on Monday night at Washington, it would mark the eighth time in league history in which a QB recorded 30 or more scoring passes within their team's first 10 games of a season. The previous QBs to accomplish that feat were Peyton Manning (2004 with Indianapolis, '13 and '14 with Denver), Tom Brady ('07 with New England), Aaron Rodgers ('11 with Green Bay), Patrick Mahomes ('18 with Kansas City) and Russell Wilson ('20 with Seattle).

In Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh, Burrow recorded his 13th career game with at least four TD passes, which are tied for the most since he entered the NFL in 2020 alongside QB Aaron Rodgers. It also was his 35th game with at least three scoring passes, the third-most in a player's first seven seasons in NFL history behind Mahomes (38) and Pro Football Hall of Famer Dan Marino (42).

Each of Burrow's four TD passes in Week 7 of this season at Baltimore came in the second half, helping Cincinnati storm back from a 13-point halftime deficit with 35 unanswered points. He became the first QB with four scoring passes in the second half of a game since Houston's C.J. Stroud in Week 9 of the 2023 season. It also is tied for the most TD passes in the second half of a game in Bengals history, alongside his own total in Week 15 of 2022 at Tampa Bay and former QB Andy Dalton in Week 16 of '19.

Burrow owns the three highest single-season passing TD totals in Bengals history, with 43 in 2024 (led NFL), 35 in '22 (tied for second) and 34 in '21 (eighth).

Burrow's career total of 184 TD passes are the sixth-most in a player's first seven seasons in NFL history. In Week 8 of this season against Tennessee, he threw his 175th TD pass in what was his 84th regular-season game, making him the third-fastest QB ever to reach that milestone. The only QBs to record 175 TD passes in fewer games were Mahomes (72 games) and Marino (76).

Burrow racks up the yardage: QB Joe Burrow has the two highest single-game passing yardage totals in the NFL this season, with 462 in Week 8 vs. Tennessee and 428 in Week 4 vs. Jacksonville. His total against the Titans marked the third-most passing yards in any game of his career, behind a Bengals-record 525 yards in Week 16 of the 2021 season against Baltimore, and 481 in Week 7 of the '22 campaign against Atlanta.

Burrow threw for 409 yards in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh, which marked his 10th career game with 400 or more passing yards. That is the most such games in the NFL since he entered the league in 2020. He also has nine games with at least 400 passing yards and three TD passes, tying Pro Football Hall of Famer Dan Marino and Kansas City QB Patrick Mahomes for the most such games in a player's first seven seasons in NFL history.

Burrow's 2795 passing yards this season rank second in the NFL. He has finished in the top five in the league in that category twice in his career, ranking fifth in the 2022 season (4475) and first in '24 (4918). His 2024 total set a Cincinnati single-season record and ranked 22nd in NFL history.

Burrow also leads the NFL this season with 310.6 passing yards per game. The last QB to average more than 300 passing yards per game over the course of an entire season was Mahomes in 2022 (308.8).

On the mark: QB Joe Burrow, now in his seventh pro season, holds the NFL record for career completion percentage at 69.14 percent (minimum 1500 passing attempts). He has completed 2175 of 3146 passes for 23,605 yards (7.5 yards per attempt), with 184 TDs and 57 INTs.

In Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh, Burrow completed 79.5 percent of his passing attempts (35 of 44), marking his 42nd career game with a completion percentage of 70 or higher. That is the most such games by a player in his first seven seasons in NFL history, with Kansas City QB Patrick Mahomes (2017-23), Baltimore QB Lamar Jackson ('18-24) and Miami/Atlanta QB Tua Tagovailoa ('20-26) tied for second with 38 games each in their first seven years.

Burrow's performance against the Steelers also was his seventh consecutive game with a completion percentage above 70. He is one game away from tying the NFL record (minimum 15 passing attempts), as former San Francisco QB Joe Montana completed 70 or more percent of his passes in eight straight contests in 1989, while Tagovailoa also did it in 2024 with Miami.

Burrow currently leads the NFL this season with a completion percentage of 74.7 (minimum 14 attempts per team's games). Among all games this year in which a QB had 40 or more passing attempts, Burrow has the two-highest completion rates — 79.5 percent in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh, and 79.2 percent in Week 8 vs. Tennessee (completed 38 of 48 passes).

Burrow has ranked in the top five in the NFL in completion percentage three times in his career. He led the league in 2021 with a 70.4 percent rate, ranked second in '22 (68.3) and fourth in '24 (70.6). His official clip of 70.552 percent in 2024 set a Bengals single-season record, narrowly edging out QB Ken Anderson's completion rate of 70.550 in 1982.

Here is a look at the all-time leaders in career completion percentage (min. 1500 attempts):

PLAYER	TEAM(S)	YEARS	COMP. %
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati	2020-26	69.14
Brock Purdy	San Francisco	2022-26	68.27
Tua Tagovailoa	Miami/Atlanta	2020-26	68.03
Drew Brees	San Diego/New Orleans	2001-20	67.69
Jimmy Garoppolo	New England/San Francisco/ Las Vegas/L.A. Rams	2014-25	67.36

The King of Completions: QB Joe Burrow leads the NFL this season with 254 completions through nine games. He is the only QB in the league to complete at least 35 passes in multiple games, a mark he has already reached three times — he had a season-high 39 in Week 4 vs. Jacksonville (tied for second-most in his career), 38 in Week 8 vs. Tennessee (fourth-most) and 35 in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh (tied for ninth).

Burrow threw his 3000th career passing attempt during the Bengals' Week 7 win at Baltimore. His 2057 completions at the time he hit that mark are the most in NFL history in a player's first 3000 attempts, well ahead of the next closest total of 2008 by former Arizona QB Kyler Murray.

Burrow currently has 2175 career completions, which are the third-most in Bengals history and sixth-most since he entered the NFL in 2020. In Week 4 of this season, he surpassed both Boomer Esiason (2015) and Carson Palmer (2024) on the team's all-time list.

Burrow has finished in the top five leaguewide in completions twice in his career, ranking fifth in 2022 (414 completions) and first in '24 (460). His 460 completions in 2024 set a Bengals single-season record and were the sixth-most in a season in NFL history.

Here is a look at the QBs with the most completions in their first 3000 passing attempts in NFL history:

PLAYER	TEAM	COMPLETIONS THROUGH 3K ATTEMPTS
Joe Burrow	Cincinnati Bengals	2057
Kyler Murray	Arizona Cardinals	2008
Kirk Cousins	Washington	2006
Dak Prescott	Dallas Cowboys	1997
Justin Herbert	L.A. Chargers	1996

Among his peers: QB Joe Burrow has ranked near the top of the league in virtually every passing category since entering the NFL as the No. 1 overall pick in the 2020 draft. Here is a look at where he stands among all QBs since the start of his rookie campaign:

- First in completion percentage (69.14; minimum 900 passing attempts)
- Second in passer rating (102.9; min. 900 att.)
- Fifth in TD passes (184)
- Sixth in completions (2140)
- Sixth in passing yards (23,605)

Joe to Ja'Marr: QB Joe Burrow and WR Ja'Marr Chase, who helped steer Louisiana State to a national title in 2019 before becoming teammates on the Bengals in '21, now are in their sixth NFL season together. They have connected for 55 TDs at the pro level, including six this season.

Burrow, who is 29 years old, and Chase, who is 26, are one of four duos in NFL history to reach 50 TD passes by a QB and receiver both under the age of 30. They joined Pro Football Hall of Famers Dan Marino and Mark Clayton (65 TDs with Miami), John Hadl and Hall of Famer Lance Alworth (53 TDs with San Diego Chargers) and Daunte Culpepper and HOF Randy Moss (53 TDs with Minnesota).

Burrow and Chase's 55 TDs also are the most by any QB-WR duo since the start of the 2021 season, six ahead of Detroit QB Jared Goff and WR Amon-Ra St. Brown (49). Per the NFL's Next Gen Stats service, 23 of Burrow's TD throws to Chase have been deep passes (20 or more air yards), the most by any duo since 2021.

Burrow's 47-yard TD pass to Chase on the Bengals' first drive of Week 9 against Atlanta marked their 19th scoring connection of 40 or more yards. That tied former San Francisco QB Joe Montana and WR Jerry Rice for the third-most such TDs by any QB-receiver duo since 1980. The only duos with more are Indianapolis' Peyton Manning and Marvin Harrison (21 TDs) and San Francisco's Steve Young and Jerry Rice (20 TDs).

Chasing history: WR Ja'Marr Chase is coming off an 11-catch, 231-yard performance in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh. His 231 yards were the most by any NFL player in a game this season and the fifth-most in any game since he entered the league in 2021. It also went in as the fourth-most in a game in Bengals history, with Chase owning three of the top four totals on that list.

Chase now has four games in his career with 200 or more receiving yards, which already are tied for the third-most in NFL history. Pro Football Hall of Famer Lance Alworth and former Detroit WR Calvin Johnson are tied for the league record with five games apiece. Chase's previous 200-yard games occurred in Week 7 of 2021 at Baltimore (201), Week 17 of '21 vs. Kansas City (Bengals-record 266) and Week 10 of '24 at Baltimore (264).

Chase also has 29 career games with at least 100 receiving yards, which already are the third-most in Bengals history and the third-most by a player under the age of 27 in league history. The only players with more 100-yard receiving games before turning 27 were Hall of Famer Randy Moss (38 games) and Minnesota WR Justin Jefferson (37).

Chase's 47-yard TD catch in Week 9 vs. Atlanta was his seventh scoring reception of the season. He joined Moss as the only players in NFL history with at least seven receiving TDs in each of their first six seasons. The previous week against Tennessee, Chase recorded his 60th career receiving TD in what was his 85th regular-season game played. He became the fourth-fastest player in league history to reach that milestone, trailing Hall of Famers Jerry Rice (69 games) and Randy Moss (78), and former New England TE Rob Gronkowski (71).

Since entering the NFL as the No. 5 overall pick by the Bengals in the 2021 draft, Chase leads the league in receiving yards (7715) and receiving TDs (61), while ranking second in total receptions (584). He has climbed Cincinnati's all-time receiving charts in quick fashion, as he already ranks third in franchise history in receptions, third in receiving yards, third in 100-yard receiving games and fourth in receiving TDs.

Chase holds a current average of 88.7 receiving yards per game (7715 in 87 games), the second-highest mark in NFL history behind L.A. Rams WR Puka Nacua (96.2).

Chase's production from 2021-25 rivaled some of the NFL's all-time greats in the early stages of their respective careers. He is the only player in league history with at least 500 receptions for 50 receiving TDs in his first five seasons, and he is one of five players ever to begin his career with five straight 1000-yard seasons. The players who accomplished that feat before Chase were Hall of Famer Randy Moss, former Cincinnati WR A.J. Green, former Tampa Bay WR Mike Evans and Jefferson.

Chase was voted to the Pro Bowl in each of his first five seasons, joining Green as the only players to accomplish that feat in their Bengals career. He is one of six players in team history with five or more Pro Bowl selections overall, alongside OT Anthony Munoz (11 Pro Bowls), DT Geno Atkins (eight), Green (seven), Johnson (six) and CB Lemar Parrish (six).

In the 2024 campaign, Chase became the sixth player in the Super Bowl era — and the youngest — to claim the receiving "Triple Crown," as he led the NFL in receptions (127; Bengals single-season record), yards (1708; Bengals record) and TDs (17; tied Bengals record). He was voted a first-team All-Pro by the Associated Press in both the 2024 and '25 seasons, becoming the fourth Bengals offensive player to receive multiple All-Pro honors in his career. The other players to do so have all been inducted into the team's Ring of Honor — OT Anthony Munoz (nine All-Pro selections), OT Willie Anderson (three) and WR Chad Johnson (two).

Always open: After leading the NFL with a Bengals-record 127 receptions in 2024, WR Ja'Marr Chase followed up with 125 catches in '25, which ranked third in the league and second in team history. He became the third player in NFL history with at least 125 receptions in consecutive seasons, joining former Pittsburgh WR Antonio Brown (2014-15) and former New Orleans WR Michael Thomas ('18-19).

Chase has recorded 10 or more catches in each of the past three games, marking the second time in his career in which he had double-digit receptions in three straight contests. His 11 grabs in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh marked his 19th career game with at least 10 receptions, which surpassed former New Orleans WR Michael Thomas for the most such games in a player's first six seasons in NFL history. It also is the most such games across the league since the start of his 2021 rookie season, with the next closest in that span being 13 games by Dallas WR CeeDee Lamb. It additionally is the most games with double-digit receptions in a career in Bengals history, with former WR A.J. Green's 10 such performances ranking second.

Chase totaled 10 or more catches five times during the 2025 season, including a stretch of three straight contests from Weeks 6-8. That marked the first time in Bengals history in which a player registered double-digit catches in three consecutive games.

Chase set a Bengals single-game record with 16 catches in Week 7 of last season against Pittsburgh, breaking his own previous team record of 15 receptions (Week 5 of 2023 at Arizona). He now owns the four highest single-game reception totals in team history.

Chase's four career games with 14 or more catches are tied with Brown for the second-most in NFL history. Former L.A. Chargers/Chicago and current Indianapolis WR Keenan Allen holds the record with six such career games.

1+5=6: WR Ja'Marr Chase leads the NFL with 32 receiving TDs since the start of the 2024 season, as he had a Bengals-record 17 in the '24 campaign (led NFL), eight in '25 and seven so far in '26. Not far behind him in that category is teammate Tee Higgins, whose 27 total TD catches in that span rank third leaguewide. Higgins caught 10 scoring passes in 2024 (tied for sixth in NFL), then set a career high with 11 last season (tied for second). He has six this season, including two in consecutive games in Weeks 8-9. That marked the first time he had multiple scoring receptions in back-to-back contests.

Higgins' two TD catches in Week 9 against Atlanta were joined by a 47-yard scoring reception from Chase. It marked the 16th game since the start of the 2021 season in which both players had a receiving TD, which are the most such games by any NFL duo in that span and the most by any duo in Bengals history. The next closest Cincinnati tandem is former WR A.J. Green and TE Jermaine Gresham, who had a TD catch in the same game on 10 occasions.

Chase's 61 career receiving TDs lead the NFL since the start of his 2021 rookie campaign. It also is the fourth-most TD catches in Bengals history, and just five shy of WR Chad Johnson's team record of 66.

Higgins' first TD grab against the Falcons was the 50th of his career. His current total of 51 TD catches are the sixth-most in Bengals history and tied for the fourth-most in the NFL since he entered the league as a second-round draft pick of Cincinnati in 2020. He is the third player in team history with double-digit receiving TDs in consecutive seasons, joining former WRs Carl Pickens (1994-96) and A.J. Green (2012-13).

Chase and Higgins are the third pair of teammates in NFL history each with at least five TD receptions in the same season six times, joining Carl Pickens and Darnay Scott (1994-99 with Cincinnati) and Jerry Smith and Pro Football Hall of Famer Charley Taylor ('66-70, '72 with Washington).

Here are the league leaders in receiving TDs since 2024:

PLAYER	TEAM	RECEIVING TDs SINCE '24
Ja'Marr Chase	Cincinnati Bengals	32
Amon-Ra St. Brown	Detroit Lions	30
Tee Higgins	Cincinnati Bengals	27
Davante Adams	Las Vegas/N.Y. Jets/L.A. Rams	26
Jaxon Smith-Njigba	Seattle Seahawks	26

Chase and Higgins' monster day: In Week 8 vs. Tennessee, Ja'Marr Chase and Tee Higgins became the seventh WR duo in NFL history to each post at least 10 receptions, 140 receiving yards and a receiving TD in the same game. Chase finished with 11 grabs for 141 yards and a score, while Higgins had 10 catches for 155 yards and two TDs.

The previous duos to accomplish that feat were Denver's Ed McCaffrey and Rod Smith (Nov. 19, 2000), Cincinnati's T.J. Houshmandzadeh and Chad Johnson (Dec. 5, '04), Arizona's Anquan Boldin and Larry Fitzgerald (Nov. 16, '08), Houston's Andre Johnson and Kevin Walter (Sept. 19, '10), the N.Y. Giants' Victor Cruz and Hakeem Nicks (Sept. 12, '12), and Miami's Tyreek Hill and Jaylen Waddle (Sept. 18, '22).

The Week 8 win over the Titans also marked the fourth time Chase and Higgins each had 100 or more receiving yards in the same game. The previous instances were Week 16 of the 2021 season against Baltimore, Week 17 of '24 vs. Denver and Week 9 of '25 vs. Chicago.

Terrific Tee: WR Tee Higgins ranks sixth in the NFL this season in receiving yards (824), fifth in receiving yards per game (91.6) and tied for seventh in receiving TDs (six).

Higgins is one of five players in the league this season with 140 or more receiving yards in three games. He posted a season-high 157 yards on 11 receptions in Week 4 vs. Jacksonville, had 148 on six grabs in Week 7 at Baltimore and then followed up with 155 on 10 catches in Week 8 vs. Tennessee. His 303 combined receiving yards in Weeks 7 and 8 are the most in any two-game span of his career. He earned his first career AFC Offensive Player of the Week honor for his performance against the Titans.

Higgins has climbed the ladder on several Bengals' all-time receiving charts this season. He eclipsed 6000 career receiving yards in Week 7, and recently has surpassed former WRs Darnay Scott (5975), Tyler Boyd (6000) and Eddie Brown (6134) to move into seventh in team history. His current receiving yardage total of 6265 is 433 shy of tying Cris Collinsworth (6698) for sixth. Higgins also has 51 receiving TDs, which are the sixth-most in Bengals history and two shy of Isaac Curtis (53) for fifth.

Higgins has reached the 1000-yard receiving milestone in two seasons in his career, accomplishing the feat in 2021 and '22. He also had over 900 yards in two other seasons, registering 908 in his 2020 rookie campaign and 911 in just 12 games played in '24. He has 18 career 100-yard receiving games.

Gesicki's TD streak: TE Mike Gesicki had a receiving TD in five consecutive games from Weeks 3-8. It marked the fifth-longest streak of consecutive games with a TD catch in Bengals history, and the longest such streak by a tight end.

The only players in team history to record a scoring reception in more consecutive games are former WRs Carl Pickens (10 straight games from 1994-95 and seven games later in '95), A.J. Green (nine games in 2012) and T.J. Houshmandzadeh (eight games in '07).

The only TEs in the NFL with longer streaks over the past 10 seasons (2017-26) are Kansas City's Travis Kelce (six games from '20-21) and Baltimore's Mark Andrews (six games in '24).

Adding in his TD catch in Week 1 vs. Tampa Bay, Gesicki has six scoring receptions this season, which already matches his career high set in 2020 while playing for Miami. He became the third TE in NFL history with a TD reception in six of his team's first seven games of a season, joining Pro Football Hall of Famer Antonio Gates (2010 with the San Diego Chargers) and Julius Thomas ('13 with Denver).

Gesicki's six receiving TDs on the season are tied for seventh in the NFL and tied for second among TEs.

Defense on sack spree: Cincinnati is tied for ninth in the NFL with 26 total sacks this season. The Bengals have recorded three or more sacks in six games, including Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh, when they got to QB Aaron Rodgers three times for a combined loss of 25 yards.

Nine Bengals players have recorded at least one full sack this season, with a trio of offseason additions leading the way — DE Boye Mafe has a team-high 6.5 sacks, while DT Dexter Lawrence has five and DT Jonathan Allen has four. Mafe compiled a streak of four straight games with a sack from Weeks 4-8. He also has two strip-sacks on the year, both of which were recovered by Cincinnati.

Though the new-look Bengals defensive line has contributed to an overall improved pass rush, Cincinnati has been among the NFL leaders in sacks dating back to last November. Since Week 13 of the 2025 season (Thanksgiving week), the Bengals have totaled 46 sacks, which are the fifth-most by any team. Of the 15 games the Bengals have played in that time frame, they have recorded three or more sacks in 11 of them.

The Bengals have recorded six of their sacks this season when their opponent is in the red zone, tying for the second-most red zone sacks in the NFL behind Detroit (seven).

2026 veteran defensive additions: Highlighting the Bengals' offseason acquisitions were four defensive veterans who already are playing significant roles for the team in 2026. Three signed with Cincinnati as unrestricted free agents and one — DT Dexter Lawrence II — was acquired via trade. Here is a closer look at those additions, ordered by the date of their signing:

- S Bryan Cook: A Cincinnati native who played his final two collegiate seasons (2020-21) at the University of Cincinnati, Cook signed with his hometown Bengals on March 12, the first full day of free agency. He was a member of two Super Bowl-winning Chiefs teams in 2022 and '23, and is coming off career highs in tackles (82) and passes defensed (six) in the '25 campaign. Cook opened his Bengals tenure with a forced fumble and fumble recovery against Tampa Bay. He missed the Week 4 contest against Jacksonville due to an ankle injury, but has registered 34 tackles in his five games since returning, including a season-best 10 stops in Week 9 against Atlanta.
- DE Boye Mafe: Mafe won a Super Bowl title with Seattle in February, then signed with Cincinnati just over a month later on March 12. A second-round draft pick of the Seahawks in 2022, he racked up 20 sacks over his first four NFL seasons. In 2023, he recorded a sack in seven straight games, the longest streak in Seahawks history. He leads the Bengals with 6.5 sacks this season (tied for 11th in NFL), with two being strip-sacks that led to Cincinnati recoveries.
- DT Jonathan Allen: Allen signed with the Bengals for his 10th NFL season on March 13, providing Cincinnati with a proven interior defensive lineman. He spent his first eight years (2017-24) with Washington, before playing for Minnesota in '25. A two-time Pro Bowler (2021-22 seasons), he has 49.5 career sacks, the fifth-most by any NFL defensive tackle since he entered the league. He has four sacks for the Bengals this season, with the most recent coming in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh which forced the Steelers to settle for a FG in the second quarter.
- DT Dexter Lawrence II: Perhaps one of the most notable transactions of the NFL offseason occurred on April 19, when less than a week ahead of the draft, the Bengals sent the 10th overall selection to the N.Y. Giants in exchange for Lawrence. A three-time Pro Bowler and two-time second-team All-Pro (Associated Press), Lawrence established himself as one of the game's top interior defensive linemen over his seven seasons with New York. He has 49 career TFLs and 35.5 sacks while regularly drawing double-teams from opposing offensive lines. He has five sacks already this season, including a key third-down sack late in regulation in Week 8 vs. Tennessee. His nine TFLs on the year are tied for sixth in the NFL and tied for second among defensive tackles.

Turner shuts it down: After a breakout 2025 season in which he tied for third in the NFL with 18 passes defensed, Bengals CB DJ Turner II has followed up with six PDs so far in '26. His 24 PDs since the start of last season are tied for fifth-most in the NFL.

Turner's 18 PDs in 2025 were the most by a Bengals player in a season since 2009, when CB Leon Hall recorded 24 and CB Johnathan Joseph had 20. Turner's top statistical effort last season came in Week 6 at Green Bay, when he posted a career-high five PDs. He became the first Cincinnati player with five in a game since Joseph also logged five on Nov. 8, 2009 against Baltimore.

Turner also registered his first two career INTs and forced two fumbles during the 2025 season. He was the only player in the NFL last year with at least 15 PDs, two INTs and two FFs.

Turner added two more FFs in Week 8 of this season against Tennessee, with the first one leading to a recovery by Bengals CB Josh Newton in Cincinnati territory.

A second-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2023, Turner earned a full-time starting CB role midway through the '24 campaign. He suffered a season-ending collarbone injury in Week 11 of 2024, but since returning at the start of the '25 season, he has appeared in 26 straight games with 25 consecutive starts.

A record streak ends: K Evan McPherson's missed 43-yard FG attempt in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh was his first miss since Week 9 of last season. He had made 25 consecutive FGs in that span, which marked the longest streak in Bengals history and was the longest active streak in the NFL prior to the miss.

Of McPherson's 25 FGs during the streak, 10 came from a distance of 50 or more yards. Perhaps his best single-game performance over the course of the streak came on Thanksgiving night of last year, when he went six-for-six on FG attempts in a win at Baltimore. The six FGs were a career high for McPherson, tied for the second-most in a game in Bengals history and tied for the most by any kicker in 2025. He was recognized with his fourth career AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honor.

McPherson then collected his fifth weekly award following Cincinnati's win over Tampa Bay to open this season, when he knocked through each of his four FG attempts including a pair from beyond 55 yards. He went on to convert each of his eight FGs during the Bengals' three games played in September, earning AFC Special Teams Player of the Month honors for the second time in his career (also won in December 2021).

McPherson holds an active streak of 33 consecutive made PATs, all of which have come this season. His total PATs lead all kickers, and he is one of just three kickers to make at least 25 PATs without a miss.

Here is a look at the most consecutive made FGs in Bengals history (regular season):

PLAYER	YEAR(S)	CONSECUTIVE FGs
Evan McPherson	2026	25
Shayne Graham	2007	21
Shayne Graham	2005-06	17
Mike Nugent	2014	15
Evan McPherson	2021	15

Money Mac from deep: Of Evan McPherson's 13 made FGs this season, six have been from a distance of 50 or more yards, which are tied for the fourth-most such kicks in the NFL. His most recent long-range boot was a 57-yarder late in the first half of the Week 9 win over Atlanta.

McPherson opened the season with FGs from 58 and 55 yards in Week 1 vs. Tampa Bay. He became the first kicker in Bengals history to make multiple FGs from at least 55 yards in a game. He followed up with kicks from 57 and 51 yards in Week 2 at Houston, then made a 50-yard attempt in Week 3 at Pittsburgh.

McPherson's 58-yarder against the Buccaneers tied for the fourth-longest made FG in Bengals history. He owns 10 of the 12 longest made kicks in team history, including a team-record 63-yarder in Week 12 of the 2025 season against New England.

McPherson now has 35 career made FGs from 50 or more yards, which are more than four times the amount of the next closest total by a Bengals kicker (three former Cincinnati kickers have eight such FGs). It also is the fifth-most 50-yard FGs in the NFL since he entered the league in 2021.

Overall for his career, McPherson has made 132 of 157 FGs, good for the third-highest percentage in team history (84.08). During the Week 1 victory over Tampa Bay, he surpassed former K Horst Muhlmann (120) for fifth on the Bengals' all-time FG list.

Here is a look at the longest made FGs in Bengals history:

PLAYER	DATE	OPPONENT	FG DISTANCE
Evan McPherson	Nov. 23, 2025	vs. New England Patriots	63
Evan McPherson	Sept. 11, 2022	vs. Pittsburgh Steelers	59
Cade York	Dec. 22, 2024	vs. Cleveland Browns	59
Evan McPherson	Dec. 19, 2021	at Denver Broncos	58
Evan McPherson	Sept. 13, 2026	vs. Tampa Bay Buccaneers	58

Rehkow's ranks: Third-year P Ryan Rehkow holds the Bengals' career records for both gross punting average (49.02 yards; minimum 100 punts) and net punting average (42.56; min. 100). Both marks also rank near the top of the NFL, with his gross average ranking third among all punters and his net average ranking ninth since the start of the 2024 season.

Rehkow earned AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors for the first time in his career following his performance in Week 7 of this season against Baltimore. He punted four times for 184 yards (46.0 average), with each attempt downed inside the Ravens' 20-yard line and three downed inside the 10. It marked his seventh career game with four inside-20 punts, which are tied with former Houston/current Tennessee P Tommy Townsend for the most such games by any punter since the start of the 2024 campaign.

Rehkow's 15 inside-20 punts this season have increased his career total to 68, which are fifth-most among all Bengals punters since the statistic began being tracked in 1976 and tied for the fifth-most since 2024.

Rehkow's gross average of 50.5 yards per punt during the 2025 season ranked second leaguewide and set a Bengals single-season record, surpassing his own team mark of 49.1 in his '24 rookie year. He averaged 50 or more yards per punt in 11 games last season.

Rehkow opened his career with a historic debut in Week 1 of the 2024 season, as his 64.5 yards per punt against New England set an NFL single-game record which still stands. Highlighting his performance that day was a team-record 80-yard punt. He finished his rookie campaign with a net punting average of 42.9 yards, good for a Bengals single-season record and sixth in the NFL that year. Following that season, he was recognized on the Pro Football Writers of America All-Rookie Team.

The Jungle can jam: Each of the 20 highest attended home games in Bengals history, in terms of announced attendance figure, have occurred since the start of the 2022 calendar year. Four of those games have been this season, including the most recent contest in Week 10 against Pittsburgh, which had the fourth-largest announced crowd in team history (66,860).

The Bengals had an announced crowd of 65,000 or more in 30 consecutive regular-season home games from Week 1 of the 2022 campaign through Week 12 of '25. That was the longest such streak in team history, surpassing a span of 24 straight games from 2005-07. The largest home attendance figure in team history is 67,260, which came in Week 4 of the 2022 season when the Bengals defeated Miami on Thursday Night Football. That figure also marked the largest announced crowd for a sporting event in Cincinnati history.

Here is a look at the five largest announced home crowds in Bengals history (all are at Paycor Stadium):

DATE	OPPONENT	RESULT	ATTENDANCE
Sept. 29, 2022	Miami	W, 27-15	67,260
Oct. 27, 2024	Philadelphia	L, 17-37	67,239
Nov. 5, 2023	Buffalo	W, 24-18	66,965
Nov. 15, 2026	Pittsburgh	W, 38-18	66,860
Sept. 13, 2026	Tampa Bay	W, 33-27	66,625

Trumpy, Brooks enter Bengals Ring of Honor: A pair of Bengals legends in former TE Bob Trumpy and HB James Brooks were inducted into the team's Ring of Honor at halftime of Cincinnati's Week 8 game against Tennessee. They became the 13th and 14th members of the Bengals Ring of Honor, which was established in 2021 to recognize former players, coaches and individuals who have played a significant role in the franchise's storied history and tradition.

Trumpy, who entered the NFL as a 12th-round pick of the Bengals in their inaugural 1968 season, spent his entire 10-year playing career ('68-77) with Cincinnati. He scored the team's first-ever receiving TD on Sept. 15, 1968, and went on to play in 128 games with 120 starts. Among all tight ends in team history, he has the most receiving yards (4600), receiving TDs (35), yards per reception (15.4) and Pro Bowl selections (four). The honor came posthumously for Trumpy, who passed away on Nov. 2, 2025.

Brooks played eight seasons (1984-91) in Cincinnati and was one of the most versatile and complete running backs to don the Bengals jersey. He remains the franchise's career record holder for average yards per carry (4.8), while ranking second in team history in rushing yards (6447) and tied for fifth in rushing TDs (37). He also had 3012 receiving yards, which contributed to a total of 9459 yards from scrimmage, the fourth-most ever by a Bengal. He holds three of the team's top 10 scrimmage yardage totals in a season, highlighted by a franchise-record 1773 yards in 1986.

Ring of Honor inductees have been voted in each offseason since 2021 by Bengals Season Ticket Members. Previous inductees include QB Ken Anderson, OT Willie Anderson, team founder/head coach Paul Brown, WR Isaac Curtis, HB Corey Dillon, QB Boomer Esiason, WR Chad Johnson, OT Dave Lapham, NT Tim Krumrie, OT Anthony Munoz, CB Lemar Parrish and CB Ken Riley.

Bengal bites: The average age of the Bengals' active roster is 27.2 years ... The Bengals have netted 28 AFC Player of the Week honors (Offensive, Defensive or Special Teams) since the start of the 2021 season, which are the third-most by any NFL team in that span, regardless of conference ... The longest-tenured player on the Bengals' active roster is TE Drew Sample, who is in his eighth season with the team ... The oldest player on the roster is QB Joe Flacco, who is 41 (born Jan. 16, 1985) ... The youngest player on the roster is C Connor Lew, who is 21 (born Aug. 30, 2005) ... There is a tie for the tallest player on the roster between OTs Orlando Brown Jr. and Amarius Mims, who both are listed at 6-8 ... The shortest player on the roster is HB Tahj Brooks, who is listed at 5-9 ... Brown, Mims and DT Dexter Lawrence II are tied for the heaviest player on the roster at 350 pounds ... K Evan McPherson and CB DJ Turner II are tied for the lightest player on the roster at 185 pounds.

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: Seventh-year QB Joe Burrow currently leads the NFL this season in completions (254), completion percentage (74.7), TD passes (27), passer rating (117.7) and passing yards per game (310.6). He has accounted for four or more total TDs (passing or rushing) in each of the past five games, joining Peyton Manning as the only QBs in NFL history to do so over a five-game stretch. He has hit several career milestones this season, most recently recording his 175th TD pass in Week 8 in what was the third-fewest games (84) in league history to reach that mark. The No. 1 overall pick in the 2020 NFL Draft, he is the NFL's all-time leader in career completion percentage (69.14 percent; minimum 1500 attempts). He missed nine games during the 2025 season due to a toe injury, but returned to action last November and has since started 15 straight contests. Burrow in his career has accumulated three Pro Bowl selections, two AP Comeback Player of the Year awards and nine AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors, most recently capturing that recognition in Week 7 of this season at Baltimore. He ranks in the top five in Bengals history in every passing category, including being the franchise's all-time leader in passer rating (102.9) and 300-yard games (31). Nineteenth-year veteran Joe Flacco re-signed with Cincinnati this offseason after starting six games during Burrow's injury absence in 2025. He was acquired by the Bengals in a trade with Cleveland last October, and made his first Bengals start just five days later. Over the span of his six starts, he ranked second in the NFL in completions, tied for third in TD passes and ranked fifth in passing yards. Now 41 years old (born Jan. 16, 1985), he is the oldest player on the Bengals' roster and the oldest QB to start a game in team history. Flacco spent his first 11 seasons with Baltimore, highlighted by a Super Bowl victory following the 2012 season, and has also seen game action for Denver (2019), the N.Y. Jets ('20-22), Cleveland ('23 and '25), and Indianapolis ('24). He ranks in the top 25 in NFL history in career passing yards (14th; 48,176) and TD passes (22nd; 272). Flacco has seen limited action in three games this season, with two appearances coming late in the fourth quarter of victories in Week 7 at Baltimore and Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh.

Running backs: Fourth-year HB Chase Brown leads the Bengals with 441 rushing yards on 113 carries this season, while also adding 246 receiving yards on 47 catches. He had two TD catches and logged 83 yards from scrimmage in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh, and two weeks earlier posted a season-high 101 scrimmage yards in Week 8 against Tennessee. Brown enjoyed a breakout 2025 campaign in which he set career highs in rushing attempts (232), rushing yards (1019), receptions (69) and receiving yards (437). He was one of five players in the NFL last season with at least 1000 rushing yards and 400 receiving yards, and his catch total marked the most ever in a season by a Bengals running back. A native of London, Ontario, his 1456 yards from scrimmage were the most in a season by a Canadian-born player in NFL history, and were highlighted by a Bengals-record streak of six straight games with 100 or more scrimmage yards from Weeks 7-13. His twin brother, Sydney Brown, currently plays defensive back for the Falcons. Complementing Brown in the run game is 10th-year veteran Samaje Perine, who has 288 scrimmage yards this season (193 rushing, 95 receiving) and three TDs. His season highs in both rushing attempts (14) and yards (68) came in Week 5 at Miami. He currently is in his second Bengals stint, as he played for the team from 2019-22 before spending '23 with Denver and '24 with Kansas City. Since returning to Cincinnati in the 2025 offseason, he has played in 24 games and serves as a versatile contributor in rushing, receiving, pass protection and special teams. Originally a fourth-round pick of Washington in 2017, he has suited up for 134 games in his career. Tahj Brooks, a sixth-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2025, has seen action late in the fourth quarter of wins against Baltimore (Week 7) and Pittsburgh (Week 10) this season, totaling six carries for 18 yards. He played in 16 contests as a rookie last season, logging 45 yards on 16 rushing attempts along with 10 KORs for 258 yards. At Texas Tech University, he set school career records for rushing attempts (879), rushing yards (4557) and 100-yard rushing games (23). He earned All-Big 12 honors and was a semifinalist for the Doak Walker Award (nation's top RB) in each of his final two seasons.

Wide receivers: Sixth-year WR Ja'Marr Chase has been selected to the Pro Bowl in each of his first five seasons and already ranks third in Bengals history in receptions (584), third in receiving yards (7715) and fourth in receiving TDs (61). Cincinnati's first-round draft choice (No. 5 overall) in 2021, he is one of five players in NFL history to begin his career with five consecutive 1000-yard receiving seasons. He also is one of just three players in league history to record at least 125 catches in consecutive seasons, doing so in 2024 and '25, and in both years he was recognized as a first-team All-Pro by the Associated Press. In 2024, he became the sixth player in the Super Bowl era to claim the receiving "Triple Crown," leading the NFL in catches, receiving yards and receiving TDs, and he then followed up in '25 by ranking third leaguewide in receptions (125) and fourth in yards (1412). Through nine games this season, he is tied for third in the league in TD receptions (seven) and ranks fourth in receiving yards (878). He has recorded at least 10 catches and 140 yards in each of the past three games, including a season-high 231 on 11 grabs in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh. Chase is one-half of arguably the top receiving duo in the NFL alongside seventh-year pro Tee Higgins. Higgins currently ranks sixth in the NFL with 824 receiving yards on 53 catches this season. He has gone for over 140 yards three times already, with a season-best 157 in Week 4 vs. Jacksonville, 148 in Week 7 at Baltimore and 155 in Week 8 vs. Tennessee. In Week 9 against Atlanta, he recorded five receptions for 32 yards and two TDs, with his first being the 50th of his career. Since entering the NFL as a second-round pick of the Bengals in 2020, he is tied for fourth leaguewide in TD catches (51) and ranks 13th in receiving yards (6199). He brought in a career-high 11 receiving TDs in 2025 (tied for second in NFL) after scoring 10 in '24, and in doing so became the third player in Bengals history with double-digit TD catches in consecutive seasons. His other totals in 2025 were 59 receptions for 846 yards, helping him earn his first career Pro Bowl nod. One of the top stories out of training camp was Dohnte Meyers, who made the team's initial 53-man active roster after originally signing a Reserve/Future contract in January. A slot receiver listed at 5-11, 186 pounds, he led Cincinnati in receptions (11) and receiving yards (121) during the preseason. He has 20 catches for 242 yards so far in the regular season, and scored his first career TD on a 15-yard catch just before halftime of Week 10 against the Steelers. He posted season highs in receptions (seven) and yards (82) in Week 4 vs. Jacksonville. Meyers spent the past two seasons with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian Football League, where he had 89 receptions for 1405 yards and nine TDs in 19 games played. He enjoyed a breakout 2025 season in which he averaged 16.2 yards per catch (65 for 1056 yards) and helped the Roughriders win the Grey Cup. He began his college career in 2018-19 at Presbyterian College (FCS) in Clinton, S.C., then spent the '21-22 seasons in Cleveland, Miss. at Delta State University (NCAA Division II). Cincinnati used one of its two fourth-round draft choices this past April to select Colbie Young out of the University of Georgia. Young has seen action in seven games with two starts this season, totaling two catches for nine yards. He missed two contests due to a knee injury, then made his return in Week 7 at Baltimore. A 6-4, 218-pound athlete, he had a five-year college career that saw him go from Lackawanna College (junior college; 2021), to the University of Miami (Fla.; '22-23) to Georgia ('24-25). In four seasons at the Division I level, he had 116 catches for 1437 yards and 13 TDs. Mitch Tinsley caught three passes for 49 yards in his season debut in Week 4 against the Jaguars, after being signed by the Bengals off Houston's practice squad just five days prior (Sept. 29). He currently is in his second stint with Cincinnati, as he earned a spot on the active roster coming out of training camp last year and had eight catches for 116 yards and two TDs in 2025. He originally signed with the team in February 2025, after spending his first two pro seasons with the Washington Commanders. He was with the Bengals through this year's preseason, then was waived on final cuts and spent the first three weeks of the regular season on the Texans' practice squad. He has added two catches for 11 yards over the past three games.

Tight ends: A second-round draft choice of the Bengals in 2019, Drew Sample has played in 104 career games with 67 starts and served as a key blocking TE in Cincinnati's offense. He missed most of the 2022 season with a knee injury, but has since suited up for 60 consecutive games with 42 starts since the start of the '23 campaign. In addition to his blocking responsibilities, he has contributed 125 career catches for 899 yards and seven TDs. His most recent scoring catch came in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh, a three-yarder in the second quarter that gave the Bengals their first TD of the night. Mike Gesicki's six receiving TDs this season are tied for the second most by any TE in the NFL and are tied for seventh among all players. He already has matched his career high set in 2020, when he played for Miami. He had a scoring catch in five straight games from Weeks 3-8, which marked the longest such streak in his career and the longest streak by a TE in Bengals history. A 2024 Bengals free agent acquisition, Gesicki has played in 39 games for Cincinnati and serves as an athletic pass catcher who often lines up as a slot receiver. In his first season with the Bengals, he recorded the second-most receptions by a TE in team history (65), totaling 665 yards. Originally a second-round pick by Miami in 2018, he spent his first five seasons with the Dolphins before playing for New England in 2023. Rookie Jack Endries scored his first career TD on his first reception in Week 8 vs. Tennessee, taking in a one-yard pass from Burrow just before halftime. He then made his first career start the following game against Atlanta. A seventh-round pick in the 2026 draft, Endries has seen action in six games this season, totaling three receptions for nine yards while earning a gradually increased role on offense. He was a productive pass-catching TE during his collegiate career at the University of California (2023-24) and the University of Texas ('25). In 39 games (all starts) at the college level, he had 124 receptions for 1376 yards and seven TDs, with 33 for 346 and three scores coming with the Longhorns last season. He was named honorable mention All-ACC in 2024, when he led California in catches (65) and receiving yards (623) while playing with former Golden Bears QB and the No. 1 overall pick in the '26 draft, Fernando Mendoza. Cam Grandy re-joined the Bengals in late October after spending the first six games of the regular season on Minnesota's practice squad. A college free agent signee of Cincinnati in 2024, he played in 13 games with seven starts over his first two seasons with the team, recording seven catches for 35 yards while contributing as a run-blocking TE. He earned FCS All-America honors in 2023 at Illinois State, where he led all Missouri Valley Conference tight ends with 612 receiving yards on 63 catches. He has seen action in Cincinnati's past three games, contributing primarily on special teams.

Offensive line: The nucleus of the Bengals' offensive line is center Ted Karras, who is in his 11th NFL season and fifth with Cincinnati. A 2022 free agent acquisition, he has been voted a team captain in each of his four Bengals seasons and started 79 straight games, including postseason. Off the field, he is involved in numerous charitable efforts in the Cincinnati area and has twice been named the team's Club Winner for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award (2023 and '25). Karras spent five of his first six pro seasons with New England, where he was a member of two Super Bowl-winning teams (2016 and '18). He also had a one-year stint with Miami in 2020. Four-time Pro Bowler Orlando Brown Jr. has started at LOT in all 54 games he has played in for the Bengals since signing with the team as a free agent in the 2023 offseason. He spent his first three NFL seasons (2018-20) with Baltimore, then played for Kansas City for two seasons and helped the Chiefs win Super Bowl LVII in the '22 campaign. He lined up for all 1110 offensive snaps for Cincinnati last season, anchoring a pass protection unit that contributed to the Bengals ranking sixth in the NFL in net passing yards per game (235.6). His father, the late Orlando Brown Sr., played nine NFL seasons (1994-99, 2003-05), spending time with Cleveland and Baltimore. Lining up at ROT is Amarius Mims, who has emerged as one of the top pass protectors in the NFL this season. According to the NFL's Next Gen Stats service, Mims did not allow a single pressure in 45 pass blocking snaps against Pittsburgh All-Pro OLB T.J. Watt across their two matchups this season. He also took 58 pass blocking snaps in Week 4 vs. Jacksonville, which were the most without allowing a single pressure in the past seven seasons by any NFL offensive tackle. Cincinnati's first-round draft pick in 2024 (No. 18 overall), he has started at ROT in 39 of 41 career games played and committed just one holding penalty (called during his rookie season). Prior to the NFL, he spent three seasons (2021-23) at the University of Georgia, where he was part of back-to-back national championship-winning teams in '21-22. Dalton Risner has started at RG in each of his last 13 games played, including the first eight contests of this season. He signed with the Bengals as a free agent following training camp in 2025 and played in 14 games with 11 starts (nine at RG, two at LG) last year. An eighth-year veteran in 2026, he previously played for Denver ('19-22) and Minnesota ('23-24), and has logged 110 games of regular-season experience with 101 starts. Risner exited the Week 10 contest against Pittsburgh early with a knee injury. Dylan Fairchild has started at LG in all 24 games he has played in for Cincinnati since entering the league as a third-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2025. His 961 offensive snaps played as a rookie last season were fifth-most on the team. Fairchild started 24 collegiate games across four seasons (2021-24) at the University of Georgia, where he finished off his career with second-team All-America honors in '24. He also has an impressive background in wrestling, as he compiled a 67-0 career record at West Forsyth High School in Cumming, Ga., and won two Georgia state titles in the Class 7A heavyweight division. Javon Foster started at ROT in the team's second preseason game this year against Chicago, then lined up at LOT in the preseason finale at Philadelphia. He spent the 2025 season on Cincinnati's practice squad, after seeing action in four games for Jacksonville as a rookie in '24. Foster entered the league as a fourth-round pick of the Jaguars, following a five-year career (2019-23) at the University of Missouri. He played in 49 contests with 38 starts for the Tigers, highlighted by a 2023 season in which he earned first-team All-SEC and third-team All-America honors. Lining up at offensive tackle opposite Foster in those two preseason contests was Jalen Rivers, a fifth-round pick of the Bengals in 2025. Currently listed as a backup at LG, Rivers played in 16 games with seven starts at RG as a rookie last season. He started at LOT in each of his final 21 games played at the University of Miami (Fla.), where he collected second-team All-ACC honors in 2023 and honorable mention in '24. He was the Bengals' nominee for the Salute to Service Award last season, as his father, mother and stepfather all served in the U.S. Navy. Rivers entered the Week 10 game against Pittsburgh in place of an injured Risner and played 34 offensive snaps. G Jacob Bayer has been a special teams contributor and reserve O-lineman this season, after spending the final eight games of the 2025 campaign on Cincinnati's practice squad. He originally was a free agent signee of Buffalo in the 2025 offseason, following a collegiate career that included two seasons at Lamar University in Beaumont, Texas, and two at Arkansas State University. He was a first-team All-Sun Belt Conference performer in 2023, then followed up with second-team status in '24. Bayer lined up for 168 offensive snaps for the Bengals this preseason, the second-most among the team's O-linemen. The starting center for the Bengals' final two preseason games was rookie Connor Lew, who Cincinnati selected in the fourth round of this year's draft. The youngest player on the Bengals' active roster (turned 21 on Aug. 30), Lew started 25 out of 31 games played over a three-year career (2023-25) at Auburn University. That included a streak of 19 consecutive starts that was halted by the knee injury which occurred midway through last season. He was a Southeastern Conference All-Freshman Team pick in 2023, when he was credited with zero sacks allowed on 228 pass block snaps, according to Pro Football Focus. Cincinnati acquired OT Myles Hinton on waivers from Philadelphia in late August. Listed at 6-6, 342 pounds, Hinton was a sixth-round draft pick of the Eagles in 2025 and spent his entire rookie campaign on the Reserve/Injured list due to a back injury. He played his first three collegiate seasons (2020-22) at Stanford University, then spent the '23-24 seasons at the University of Michigan.

Defensive line: Perhaps the headline addition of the offseason for Cincinnati was DT Dexter Lawrence II, who the Bengals acquired in a trade with the N.Y. Giants less than a week before the NFL Draft. An eighth-year veteran, Lawrence has played in 118 career regular-season contests with 111 starts, been voted to the Pro Bowl three times and been named to the AP All-Pro Second Team on two occasions (2022 and '23). He has 35.5 career sacks, the 10th-most by any DT since he entered the league as a first-round pick of the Giants in 2019. Five of those sacks have come in his first Bengals season, with the most recent being a fourth-quarter sack in Week 8 vs. Tennessee that knocked the Titans out of FG range in the final minute. Lawrence also has nine TFLs on the year, the sixth-most in the league and tied for second-most among defensive tackles. Lining up next to Lawrence on the interior of the Bengals' defensive line is two-time Pro Bowler Jonathan Allen. Allen, a former first-round draft pick of Washington in 2017, signed with Cincinnati as an unrestricted free agent this March. He spent his first eight NFL seasons with the Commanders, then played for Minnesota in 2025. His career stats include 72 TFLs and 49.5 sacks, which are the fifth-most among all DTs since he entered the NFL. He has posted four sacks through the first nine games of this season, with the most recent coming in the second quarter of Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh which forced a Steelers FG attempt. Offseason addition Boye Mafe leads the Bengals with 6.5 sacks, which includes 4.5 over a four-game stretch from Weeks 4-8. He has two strip-sacks, both of which were recovered by Cincinnati, and has logged 25 total tackles. An athletic edge rusher, Mafe signed with the Bengals in March after helping Seattle win Super Bowl LX a month prior. He entered the NFL as a second-round pick of the Seahawks in 2022, and over his first four seasons he played in 68 of a possible 72 games, including postseason. He now is up to 26.5 sacks in his career, which includes a Seahawks franchise-record streak of seven consecutive games with a sack in 2023. One of Lawrence's former Giants teammates, DT B.J. Hill, came to Cincinnati via trade shortly before the 2021 season. Hill has played in 88 regular-season games and seven postseason contests for the Bengals. He has 27.5 career sacks, with four recorded in the 2025 season. He also has a knack for batting down passes at the line of scrimmage with 17 career PDs. Hill missed three games earlier this season due to an Achilles injury, but returned to action in Week 5 at Miami and has recorded 13 tackles and a PD over the past four contests. He made his first start of the season in Week 9 against Atlanta, contributing three assisted stops. Cincinnati's other starting DE is fourth-year pro Myles Murphy, who so far this season has 17 tackles, 2.5 sacks and a forced fumble. He most recently got in the sack column in the third quarter of Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh, taking down QB Aaron Rodgers for a seven-yard loss. Murphy is building off his top statistical campaign in 2025, when he posted career highs in total tackles (52), TFLs (six), sacks (team-leading 5.5) and PDs (three). He started just one game over his first 38 career appearances, then has made the start in each of the Bengals' last 18 contests dating to Week 9 of last season. He logged a season-high six tackles in Week 8 against Tennessee. DT T.J. Slaton Jr. started all 17 games in his first Bengals season in 2025, netting 52 tackles, four TFLs and three sacks. Originally a fifth-round draft choice of Green Bay in 2021, he spent his first four seasons with the Packers. Slaton has 14 stops, a QB hit and a FR so far in 2026, with his recovery setting up a Bengals FG drive in the season opener vs. Tampa Bay. He had a pair of tackles the following week at Houston, including a stop on third-and-short to force a Texans FG attempt. He logged a season-best three solo tackles in Week 5 at Miami. Third-year DE Cedric Johnson is an emerging contributor along the Bengals' defensive line. He has two sacks this season, both coming in Week 2 at Houston, and has added eight tackles. Johnson began the 2025 season on the Reserve/Injured list due to a calf injury, but has played in 17 straight contests since returning to action last October. A sixth-round Bengals draft pick in 2024, he now has seen action in 27 career games, totaling 27 tackles with five sacks and two fumble recoveries. Second-year DE Shemar Stewart made his 2026 debut in the Week 2 win at Houston and registered a sack late in the fourth quarter. He has appeared in six games this season, recording three tackles with the sack. Cincinnati's first-round pick in 2025, he missed most of this year's training camp due to a lower-body injury sustained in the team's first practice, but returned to participation in early September. Stewart played in eight games with five starts as a rookie last season, contributing 11 tackles with two TFLs and a sack. A product of Texas A&M, he was noted during his draft process for standout physical traits, and was one of two players in the 2025 class to produce a perfect 10.0 on the Relative Athletic Score (grades players' measurements compared to peer group). DT Kris Jenkins Jr., the Bengals' second-round draft choice in 2024, has two sacks this season while serving as a rotational interior D-lineman. He has played in 38 career games with 13 starts for Cincinnati, netting 79 tackles, seven TFLs and 6.5 sacks. Jenkins capped off his collegiate career at the University of Michigan with second-team All-America honors while helping the Wolverines win the national championship in 2023. His father, Kris Jenkins Sr., played 10 NFL seasons (2001-10) as a DT with Carolina and the N.Y. Jets, earning four Pro Bowl selections. Rookie DT Landon Robinson, a seventh-round pick of the Bengals, earned a spot on the 53-man roster after leading the team with 2.5 sacks during the preseason. In 2025, his final season at the United States Naval Academy, he had 6.5 sacks, was named the American Athletic Conference Defensive Player of the Year and was a first-team All-American. He grew up in Fairlawn, Ohio, and attended Copley High School in Copley, Ohio, before finishing out his high school career at the Naval Academy Preparatory School in Newport, R.I.

Linebackers: Cincinnati's second-round draft choice in 2025, Demetrius Knight Jr. ranks second on the Bengals with 71 tackles this season. He also has been involved in two takeaways, with a fumble recovery which he returned 27 yards for his first career TD in the season opener vs. Tampa Bay, and an INT in Week 7 at Baltimore that set up a fourth-quarter scoring drive. In Week 8 against Tennessee, Knight teamed up with DT Dexter Lawrence II to bring down RB Tony Pollard in the end zone for a safety, giving Cincinnati a third-quarter lead. Knight has started at LB in 23 of 26 career games played, and last season ranked second on the team and second among all NFL rookies with 106 tackles. He has recorded 10 or more tackles four times, including a career-high-tying 12 stops in Week 2 of this season at Houston. He spent his final collegiate season at the University of South Carolina in 2024, after a year ('23) at North Carolina-Charlotte and four seasons ('19-22) at Georgia Tech. Knight's fellow starting LB, Barrett Carter, leads the team with 74 stops this season and recorded his first INT of the year in the fourth quarter of Week 9 against Atlanta to help seal the win. Carter also crossed the century mark in tackles last season, recording 102 (third among all rookies). He was selected by the Bengals in the fourth round of the 2025 draft after a four-year career at Clemson University that saw him earn two All-ACC honors. In addition to his total tackle amount this season, he has five TFLs, 1.5 sacks, five PDs and two FFs. Oren Burks has played primarily on special teams this season, recording eight ST tackles and seven defensive tackles through nine games. A ninth-year veteran, he signed with the Bengals as a free agent in 2025 after spending time with Green Bay ('18-21), San Francisco ('22-23) and Philadelphia ('24). He emerged as one of the Eagles' top defensive performers during their run to a Super Bowl LIX title. Burks saw action in all 17 games with nine starts in his debut Bengals season last year, contributing 34 tackles defensively and 14 on special teams. Joe Giles-Harris was signed off the practice squad to the active roster ahead of the Bengals' Week 3 game at Pittsburgh. He has played in all nine games this season (first two as practice squad elevation) and ranks second on the team with nine special teams tackles. He also paced the Bengals in that category in 2025, recording 20 ST tackles in just 10 games played. Originally a college free agent signee of the Jaguars in 2019, Giles-Harris played his first two pro seasons ('19-20) with Jacksonville, then spent time with Buffalo from '21-22 and New England from '23-24. The most recent addition to the linebacker room is Jack Kiser, who Cincinnati acquired on waivers from Jacksonville on Oct. 12. He has played in the Bengals' past four games, recording two tackles on defense and three on special teams. A fourth-round draft pick of the Jaguars in 2025, Kiser saw action in 14 games in his rookie season and totaled 10 defensive tackles along with four special teams stops. He did not play in a game for Jacksonville early this season prior to being waived. He spent six seasons (2019-24) at the University of Notre Dame, where he played in a school-record 70 career games including the final three years ('22-24) under current Bengals and then-Fighting Irish defensive coordinator Al Golden.

Defensive backs: Fourth-year CB DJ Turner II was voted a team captain for the first time in his career this season, after emerging as one of the NFL's top boundary CBs in 2025. He tied for third in the league with a career-high 18 PDs last season, while adding his first two career INTs and two FFs. A second-round draft pick of the Bengals in 2023, he missed the final six contests of the '24 season due to a collarbone injury, but has since suited up for the past 26 consecutive games. He is tied for second on the team with six PDs this season while adding 24 tackles. He forced two fumbles in Week 8 vs. Tennessee, the first of which led to a Bengals recovery when the Titans were driving in Cincinnati territory. He then tied his season high with five tackles in Week 9 against Atlanta. Turner was a two-time All-Big Ten honoree at the University of Michigan and clocked the fastest 40-yard dash time by any player at the 2023 NFL Combine (4.26 seconds). A Cincinnati native who spent his final two collegiate seasons (2020-21) at the University of Cincinnati, Bryan Cook returned to the Queen City as an unrestricted free agent signee of the Bengals in March. He spent his first four NFL seasons with Kansas City, where he was a member of the Chiefs' back-to-back Super Bowl winning teams in the 2022 and '23 campaigns. He earned a starting safety role for the Chiefs entering the 2023 season and has started each of his last 57 games played, including his first eight games with the Bengals. Cook has 46 tackles, a half-sack, a FF and a FR this season, with both his forced fumble and recovery coming in Week 1 vs. Tampa Bay. He missed the Week 4 contest due to an ankle injury, but has 34 tackles in five games played since returning, including a season-high 10 stops in the Week 9 win over the Falcons. He attended nearby Mount Healthy High School, then began his college career at Howard University before transferring to Cincinnati. S Jordan Battle leads the Bengals with eight PDs this season, while tying for eighth in the NFL with three INTs. He also has the fourth-most INTs by any player since the start of the 2025 campaign, with seven. He had his first career multi-INT game in Week 5 of this season at Miami, picking off QB Malik Willis on consecutive Dolphins possessions. He tied his career high with 12 tackles in Week 8 vs. Tennessee and added two PDs. A third-round pick of the Bengals in 2023, Battle has been a full-time starting safety since the late stages of the '24 season. Last season, he led Cincinnati in tackles (112) and INTs (four), both of which were career highs. CB Dax Hill is tied with Turner with six PDs this season. A former teammate of Turner's at the University of Michigan, Hill was Cincinnati's first-round pick in the 2022 draft and lined up at safety for his first 32 career games, before transitioning to CB ahead of the 2024 season. He primarily has been an outside corner, but moved to nickel CB recently after Jalen Davis was placed on the Reserve/Injured list. He has three INTs and 30 PDs over his four-plus pro seasons, with a career-high 11 PDs in 2025. He recorded his first TFL of this season in Week 9 against Atlanta. His brother, Justice Hill, currently plays RB for the Baltimore Ravens. DJ Ivey has seen a substantial increase in his defensive role over the past six games and totaled 13 tackles along with four PDs in that span. That stretch includes his first career start in Week 4 vs. Jacksonville, a pair of PDs in Week 5 at Miami, and a career-high six tackles (four solos) in Week 7 at Baltimore. Ivey has primarily been a core special teamer for the Bengals since entering the league in 2023 as a seventh-round draft pick of Cincinnati. He has 15 career special teams tackles and a fumble recovery on punt coverage, while also registering 27 defensive stops. Ivey played in 58 games during his college career at the University of Miami (Fla.), then earned a roster spot coming out of his rookie training camp with Cincinnati. Tacario Davis, Cincinnati's third-round pick in this year's draft, has played in all nine games in his rookie season. He recorded a career-high four tackles and a PD in Week 3 at Pittsburgh. A rangy CB with a 6-4 frame, Davis had a strong preseason with 11 tackles, two PDs and an INT. He spent his final college season in 2025 at the University of Washington, where he started seven games but missed time throughout the year due to injuries. He played the previous three years at Arizona State University, where in 2023 he led the Pac-12 Conference with 15 PBUs. He was recognized as an all-league performer in three different conferences during his college career, as he was named honorable mention All-Pac-12 in 2023, second-team All-Big 12 in '24 and honorable mention All-Big Ten in '25. PJ Jules made his first career start in Week 4 against the Jaguars, seeing action on 40 snaps at safety and recording a career-high four tackles. He leads the Bengals with 10 special teams tackles this season, after tying for second on the team in that category with 16 in 2025. He spent his entire rookie season in 2024 on Cincinnati's practice squad, following a final collegiate season in '23 at Southern Illinois University in which he logged 111 tackles and earned consensus first-team FCS All-America honors. Josh Newton, a fifth-round pick of the Bengals in 2024, has seen increased playing time in the secondary over the past four games. He had his first career fumble recovery in Week 8 vs. Tennessee, and broke up a pass on third down early in the game to force a Titans FG attempt. Newton has played in 37 games with eight starts in his young career, netting 49 tackles, 13 PDs, an INT and a FR. He finished his collegiate career at Texas Christian University (2022-23), after three seasons ('19-21) at the University of Louisiana-Monroe. The Bengals signed third-year S Russ Yeast off the practice squad to the active roster on Oct. 20. Yeast has played in five games this season (two as a practice squad elevation), recording three defensive tackles and four stops on special teams. Originally a seventh-round draft pick of the L.A. Rams in 2022, he played in 32 games with 10 starts over his first two seasons in Los Angeles. He then spent time with the Rams, Carolina and Houston in 2024, before joining the Bengals' practice squad ahead of the 2025 campaign. He has five career PDs, all coming in 2023 with the Rams. S Kyle Dugger, a free agent acquisition this offseason, has played in four games for Cincinnati while missing five contests due to a quadriceps injury. A second-round draft choice of New England in 2020, he spent his first five-plus seasons with the Patriots, then was traded to Pittsburgh last October and started nine games for the Steelers. He has 11 INTs with three pick-sixes, including one against the Bengals in Week 11 of last season. Dugger contributed mainly on special teams early this season, then saw his first extended action on defense in Week 3 against the Steelers and recorded eight tackles along with a PD.

Special Teams: Seventh-year K Evan McPherson ranks in the top five in Bengals history in FG percentage (84.1; third), PATs (237; fourth), made FGs (132; fifth) and points scored (633; fifth). He has made 35 FGs from a distance of 50 or more yards, which is a team record and the fifth-most among all NFL kickers since he entered the league as a fifth-round draft choice of the Bengals in 2021. He owns 10 of the 12 longest made kicks in team history, including a record 63-yarder in Week 12 of last season. McPherson was named AFC Special Teams Player of the Month for September this year, after converting each of his eight FGs and eight PATs over Cincinnati's first three games. He had his first missed FG of the season in Week 10 vs. Pittsburgh, ending a Bengals-record streak of 25 consecutive made FGs that began in November 2025. Ryan Rehkow has been Cincinnati's punter and holder on placekicks since joining the team as a free agent in the 2024 offseason. Now in his third season, he maintains the Bengals' career records for gross punting average (49.02 yards; minimum 100 punts) and net punting average (42.56; min. 100). He has 68 punts downed inside the opponent's 20-yard line, the fifth-most by a Bengal since the stat began being tracked in 1976, and tied for fifth-most in the NFL since the start of the 2024 campaign. Rehkow has 15 inside-20 punts with just one touchback this season. He was named AFC Special Teams Player of the Week for the first time in his career following Week 7 at Baltimore, when three of his four punts were downed inside the Ravens' 10-yard line. Last season, he ranked second in the NFL and broke his own Bengals single-season record with 50.5 yards per punt. William Wagner has recorded 210 long snaps without an unplayable delivery since joining the team as a college free agent in the 2025 offseason. In 2024 at the University of Michigan, he was a finalist for the Patrick Mannelly Award, given to the top long snapper in college football. WR Dohnte Meyers has returned 31 kickoffs for 818 yards this season (26.4 average), including a season-long 81-yarder on the opening kick of Week 5 at Miami that set up a Bengals TD. He also has 13 punt returns for 103 yards (7.9), highlighted by a career-long 31-yarder in the Week 7 win at Baltimore which set up a third-quarter scoring drive. Over his two seasons (2024-25) with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the CFL, Meyers logged 11 KORs for 319 yards (29.0) along with nine PRs for 94 yards (10.4). Also in the mix to return kickoffs is veteran HB Samaje Perine, who has 27 career KORs for 702 yards (26.0), including a career-high 17 for 430 last season with Cincinnati. His first KOR of this season came in Week 3 at Pittsburgh, a 26-yarder that set up a Bengals TD drive in the first quarter. Second-year HB Tahj Brooks has 15 career KORs for 380 yards (25.3), including five for 122 yards this season. He had a 27-yard return on his lone KOR of Week 3 at Pittsburgh.

THE LAST BENGALS-COMMANDERS MEETINGS

2020 SEASON

WEEK 11, GAME 10

Washington Football Team 20, Cincinnati Bengals 9

Sunday, Nov. 22, 2020 at FedExField

The visiting Bengals fell at Washington in a contest overshadowed by a serious knee injury to rookie QB Joe Burrow. The Bengals took a 9-7 lead into halftime, thanks to a first half in which the offense ran nearly twice as many plays (42-23) as Washington and had a more than an eight-minute edge in time of possession. Burrow and the offense moved the ball with ease on a Washington team that entered the game leading the NFL in pass defense, as the rookie's 21 first-half completions were the most by a Bengal before halftime in nearly 38 years (Ken Anderson had 27 on Dec. 20, 1982 at San Diego). Burrow was not sacked all day, but early in the third quarter, a Washington defender crashed into his left knee immediately after he released a pass. Burrow exited the field on a cart, and the game's momentum flipped. Burrow's replacement, Ryan Finley, struggled while Washington outscored the Bengals 13-0 the rest of the way. The next day, Bengals head coach Zac Taylor announced that Burrow would have surgery and miss the rest of the season. Cincinnati dropped to 2-7-1, while Washington improved to 3-7.

2024 SEASON

WEEK 3, GAME 3

Washington Commanders 38, Cincinnati Bengals 33

Monday night, Sept. 23, 2024 at Paycor Stadium

Washington scored on all six of its offensive possessions which didn't end halves to defeat Cincinnati on Monday Night Football. The Bengals also were efficient offensively, totaling 436 net yards and coming away with points on six of their seven drives, but they ultimately could not climb back from a double-digit deficit in the second half. The game marked the NFL's first matchup since 1940 in which neither team punted nor committed a turnover. Commanders rookie QB Jayden Daniels completed 91.3 percent of his passes (21 of 23), which set both an NFL rookie record and a Bengals opponent record for a single game (minimum 20 attempts). Bengals QB Joe Burrow finished with 324 passing yards and three TDs, including his 100th career TD pass to WR Ja'Marr Chase on the game's opening drive. Cincinnati fell to 0-3, while Washington improved to 2-1.

WEEK 1, GAME 1

Cincinnati Bengals 33, Tampa Bay Buccaneers 27
Sunday, Sept. 13, 2026 at Paycor Stadium

The Bengals' defense had four takeaways which were converted into 24 points in a season-opening win. All of the takeaways were fumble recoveries, including three on consecutive Buccaneers drives in the first half. LB Demetrius Knight Jr. scored on a 27-yard fumble return for a TD. The Bengals built a 17-point lead in the third quarter before a Tampa Bay FG and 38-yard pick-six by LB Josiah Trotter made it a one-possession game. K Evan McPherson made all of his four FG attempts, including a pair in the fourth quarter to regain a double-digit advantage. The Buccaneers pulled to within one score again with 3:19 left, but the Cincinnati offense responded with an eight-play, 59-yard drive to drain the remaining clock. Bengals defensive veteran free agent acquisitions made an impact, as Jonathan Allen and Boye Mafe both had a sack, while S Bryan Cook had a FF and FR.

WEEK 2, GAME 2

Cincinnati Bengals 20, Houston Texans 6
Sunday, Sept. 20, 2026 at Reliant Stadium

WR Ja'Marr Chase had two TD catches and Cincinnati's defense held Houston to just six points in a road win. The Texans elected to go for it on fourth-and-inches inside the red zone midway through the second quarter, but DT Dexter Lawrence II broke through the line and tackled RB David Montgomery for a loss to force a turnover on downs. The Bengals' offense responded with an 81-yard drive capped by a 32-yard TD pass from Burrow to Chase, who came down with an acrobatic catch near the front pylon. Burrow found Chase for another TD in the third quarter to increase the lead to 17-3. K Evan McPherson knocked through a pair of FGs from beyond 50 yards, while defensively the Bengals kept the Texans to 60 total rushing yards. Cincinnati recorded four sacks, with two coming from DE Cedric Johnson. The Bengals improved to 2-0, while Houston fell to 0-2.

WEEK 3, GAME 3

Pittsburgh Steelers 30, Cincinnati Bengals 27

Sunday, Sept. 27, 2026 at Acrisure Stadium

The Bengals were driving inside Steelers territory while trailing by three in the game's final minute, but a fumble by QB Joe Burrow was recovered by Pittsburgh DE Sebastian Joseph-Day to seal Cincinnati's road loss. The two offenses combined for 763 net yards and traded scores throughout the afternoon, with Burrow and Steelers QB Aaron Rodgers each throwing three TD passes. Burrow connected with TE Mike Gesicki for a TD on a fourth-down play to put the Bengals ahead early in the fourth quarter. The Cincinnati defense forced a punt on the ensuing Steelers drive, but it was muffed deep in Bengals territory and Pittsburgh capitalized on the turnover with a tying FG. Another Steelers FG gave them the lead later in the period, set up by a 47-yard gain by TE Darnell Washington. Bengals WRs Ja'Marr Chase and Tee Higgins each had a TD catch and went for over 90 yards, while Steelers RB Jaylen Warren churned out 127 yards on 17 carries (7.5 average). Cincinnati fell to 2-1, while Pittsburgh improved to 2-1.

WEEK 4, GAME 4

Jacksonville Jaguars 22, Cincinnati Bengals 17

Sunday, Oct. 4, 2026 at Paycor Stadium

Jacksonville RB Chris Rodriguez Jr. scored a 25-yard rushing TD to extend the Jaguars' lead to 22-10 with 6:35 left in regulation. The Bengals answered with a 71-yard drive ending in a TD sneak by QB Joe Burrow, then forced the Jaguars to punt on the ensuing possession to get the ball back with a chance to win. The Bengals drove to Jacksonville's 21-yard line in the final minute while trailing by five points, but the Jaguars stopped HB Chase Brown a half-yard short on fourth down to stave off a late comeback. Burrow passed for 428 yards, but he threw two INTs in Jaguars territory. With WR Ja'Marr Chase out for most of the game due to injury, WR Tee Higgins served as Burrow's primary target and finished with 11 catches for 157 yards. The two teams were called for a combined 24 penalties, including three which nullified TDs. Cincinnati fell to 2-2, while Jacksonville improved to 3-1.

WEEK 5, GAME 5

Cincinnati Bengals 31, Miami Dolphins 24
Sunday, Oct. 11, 2026 at Hard Rock Stadium

Bengals QB Joe Burrow threw four TD passes to four different receivers to lead the Bengals to a road victory. Cincinnati's 21-7 halftime lead was jumpstarted by an 81-yard return by WR Dohnte Meyers on the game's opening kickoff which set up an early Bengals TD. S Jordan Battle picked off Miami QB Malik Willis twice on consecutive Dolphins possessions, with his second INT leading to a TD by TE Tanner Hudson before the break. The Dolphins drove to inside Cincinnati's one-yard line in the third quarter, but the Bengals' defense created two straight negative plays and forced Miami to settle for a FG. Cincinnati extended its lead to 18 points, culminating in a highlight-reel 45-yard TD grab by WR Ja'Marr Chase. Late in the fourth, K Evan McPherson set a Bengals record with his 22nd consecutive made FG. The Dolphins eventually cut the deficit to 31-24 in the final minute, but the ensuing onside kick went out of bounds to seal the result. The kickoff temperature of 90 degrees marked the hottest game in October in the history of Hard Rock Stadium. Cincinnati improved to 3-2, while Miami fell to 0-5.

WEEK 7, GAME 6

Cincinnati Bengals 35, Baltimore Ravens 13
Sunday, Oct. 25, 2026 at M&T Bank Stadium

The Bengals scored 35 unanswered points in the second half to run away with a road divisional win. Baltimore built a 13-0 halftime lead fueled by 215 passing yards from QB Tyler Huntley, but Cincinnati came out of the break with TDs on five straight possessions to take command. QB Joe Burrow completed 16 of his 18 passing attempts in the second half for 249 yards and four TDs, each of which went to a different receiver. WR Tee Higgins caught six passes for a game-high 148 yards, with a 13-yard scoring reception that led to the Bengals taking their first lead of the day in the third quarter. After WR Ja'Marr Chase caught a TD in the fourth quarter to put Cincinnati ahead by two scores, LB Demetrius Knight Jr. picked off Huntley in Ravens territory which set up another scoring drive. The Bengals sacked Huntley four times, one which was the first of DE Cashius Howell's NFL career. P Ryan Rehkow had each of his four punts downed inside Baltimore's 12-yard line, giving the Bengals an advantage in field position throughout the afternoon. Cincinnati improved to 4-2, while Baltimore fell to 4-3.

WEEK 8, GAME 7

Cincinnati Bengals 43, Tennessee Titans 36
Sunday, Nov. 1, 2026 at Paycor Stadium

The Bengals scored a TD on their opening possession of overtime and then forced a fourth-down incompletion on the following drive to hold off Tennessee in a high-scoring affair. QB Joe Burrow was picked off three times by Titans S Amani Hooker, but he battled through the turnovers and passed for 462 yards and five TDs. WR Tee Higgins had 10 catches for 155 receiving yards and two TDs, including a score late in the fourth quarter to tie the game at 36. Tennessee's offense crossed midfield in the final minute of regulation, but Bengals DT Dexter Lawrence sacked QB Cam Ward on third down to end the potential game-winning drive. In overtime, Burrow completed four straight passes and then ran for a nine-yard TD to put Cincinnati back in front. WR Ja'Marr Chase added 141 yards and a TD on 11 receptions. The two teams combined for 950 net yards and 52 first downs. Cincinnati improved to 5-2, while Tennessee fell to 1-7.

WEEK 9, GAME 8

Cincinnati Bengals 34, Atlanta Falcons 17
Sunday, Nov. 8, 2026 at Bernabeu Stadium (Madrid, Spain)

The Bengals scored a TD on each of their first three possessions to run away with a victory over Atlanta in Madrid, Spain. WR Ja'Marr Chase got the scoring started for Cincinnati with a 47-yard TD catch on the offense's first drive, and finished the first half with 142 receiving yards on eight receptions. QB Joe Burrow connected on 24 of 29 passing attempts for 271 yards and three TDs, while adding a rushing score on a one-yard sneak that gave the Bengals their first lead. Two of his TD passes went to WR Tee Higgins, who logged multiple scoring receptions for a second straight game. HB Chase Brown added 75 yards from scrimmage, including 57 rushing yards on nine attempts (6.3 per carry). K Evan McPherson drilled a 57-yard FG to give Cincinnati a two-touchdown lead going into halftime, and LB Barrett Carter sealed the win with an INT late in the fourth quarter. Cincinnati improved to 6-2, while Atlanta fell to 3-6.

WEEK 10, GAME 9

Cincinnati Bengals 38, Pittsburgh Steelers 18

Sunday, Nov. 15, 2026 at Paycor Stadium

The Bengals built an early lead and never looked back in a dominant home win over Pittsburgh in a nationally televised Sunday night contest. Cincinnati's offense totaled 484 net yards, including 406 passing, while defensively it held the Steelers to negative net passing yards through the late stages of the third quarter. Bengals QB Joe Burrow threw four TD passes, joining Hall of Famer Peyton Manning as the only QBs in NFL history with four or more total TDs in five consecutive games. WR Ja'Marr Chase caught 11 passes for 231 yards, with 146 coming in the first half. The Bengals possessed the ball for over 14 minutes in the first quarter and built a 17-0 lead before Pittsburgh ran a play in Cincinnati territory. HB Chase Brown had two TD catches, while WR Dohnte Meyers' first career receiving TD late in the first half gave Cincinnati a 24-3 lead at the break. Three Bengals defensive linemen got in the sack column, and the Steelers were limited to just five first downs before the fourth quarter. Cincinnati improved to 7-2, while Pittsburgh fell to 6-3.
