KEON COLEMAN FAMILY FOUNDATION

"It's always been a thought," Coleman said. "Growing up, always wanted to be able to give back to whatever community I got drafted to and show love to them, show that appreciation to all the fans that come out and support me on Sunday and my teammates. The basis behind it is, I don't have a set cause for whatever individual thing is, but I like the Big Brother Big Sister programs, Boys and Girls programs, after school programs, so pretty much just a variety of different things in the community to help give back to the kids." Coleman said that when he got drafted, his number one goal was to be able to give back to whichever community drafted him. "The Keon Coleman Family Foundation was established out of a deep sense of gratitude and a lifelong commitment to service. Its mission is to strengthen communities by empowering youth, providing resources, and creating opportunities for personal growth. Through mentorship, support programs, and positive role models, the foundation strives to inspire the next generation and help them become leaders in their communities," the website says. From the mission statement on the website, Coleman believes that youth across the country have untapped potential and with the right encouragement, that can lead to growth. Coleman has also benefitted from having mentorship in his life and is passionate about providing those same opportunities for others through his foundation. (Dorian Alerte, buffalobills.com, Nov. 21, 2024)
