IF YOU HAVEN'T HERD

SUPER BOWL STITCHES & PIZZA PIES

Connor McGovern, just 4 years old at time, was running around the linoleum floors with friends, planted his foot in a dog's water bowl and wiped out. "I was a little kid, screwing around in the kitchen, hit the corner wall," McGovern said. "So, I split my head open, so I had to go the ER, and the game was on." That game was Super Bowl XXXVI, a showdown between the underdog New England Patriots and the St. Louis Rams. His family rushed him to the hospital – both to get him treated and to catch the end of the game. Growing up in Larksville, Pennsylvania, the McGovern family was split mainly into Eagles and Steelers fans. Connor wanted to be different. At Wilkes-Barre General Hospital, McGovern first made a proclamation. Then, Adam Vinatieri made a 48-yard field goal as time ran out. "I told my parents whoever won that game I'll be a fan of," McGovern said. "And that's how I became a Patriots fan." The Patriots went on to win 20-17. McGovern got about seven stitches in his head and healed up fine. ... When McGovern was in Dallas, he started learning how to cook and bake more often. "Over like the two years of COVID and everything, started perfecting it, tweaking things how I like it," McGovern said. "And then finally built up the confidence, and then every few weeks I'd have the O-line over down there and start making them (pizza and) got more and more comfortable with it."
