IF YOU HAVEN'T HERD

FROM HOCKEY TO FOOTBALL

Growing up in Edina, Minnesota, Doyle had no choice but to lace up the skates and play hockey in a town that is obsessed with the sport.

"Hockey was the No. 1 thing for me," Doyle said to WCPO. "Seems like the first thing you learn how to do (in Edina) is skate."

Despite that initial pull to the sport, Doyle's size made it undeniable that he had to give football a shot. He stopped playing hockey in his sophomore year of high school and started dominating on the defensive side of the ball. He wanted to play defensive end at the next level, but he was told that he was too slow off the ball. He had to make the switch to the offensive side of the ball and it wasn't an easy process.

"The transition was hard. Switching positions was difficult at first. You can be more reckless on the defensive line, just play hard with your head down with some technique and you can still make plays. Offensive line is a lot of fundamentals, technique, more of a mental game. Had to stay balanced."
