

ARIZONA CARDINALS NOTE CARDS

- 112.2 Passer rating for QB Kyler Murray in his two career primetime appearances (vs. SF on TNF in 2019; @ Dal on MNF in 2020). He threw for 429 yards, 4 TDs and 0 INTs in those two games, adding 107 rushing yards and a TD on 10 carries. He had TD passes of 80 (@ Dal) and 88 (vs. SF) yards in those contests.
- 11 Rushing TDs for Arizona this season, an NFL high. Of those 11, an NFL-high four have covered 20+ yards. QB Kyler Murray (2), and RBs Kenyan Drake (1) and Chase Edmonds (1) each have a TD run of 20+ yards.
- 166 Rushing yards for RB Kenyan Drake in the Cardinals last game against Seattle (12/22/19), a career high. Drake finished that game with 166 yards and two TDs on 24 carries, including a career-long 80-yard TD run in the first quarter.
- 18.7 Points allowed per game by the Cardinals defense this season, which ranks second in the NFL behind only Baltimore (17.3). After holding the Cowboys #3 ranked scoring offense to just 10 points last week, Arizona will go head-to-head with Seattle's #1 ranked scoring offense (33.8 ppg) on Sunday.

SEATTLE
SEAHAWKS

WEEK 7

CARDINALS

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 25, 2020

WITH A WIN...

- Arizona would improve to 5-2 in 2020, including 2-0 in divisional matchups. It would mark just the third time since 1988 (6-1 in 2014; 5-2 in 2015) the Cardinals had at least five wins in the first seven games of a season.
- The Cardinals would snap a seven-game winless streak at home against Seattle. Arizona would earn its first home win against the Seahawks since 2012.
- Arizona would earn its 14th primetime win dating back to 2008. In 38 seasons between 1970 and 2007, the Cardinals had total 10 primetime wins.

MILESTONES WITHIN REACH...

WR LARRY FITZGERALD

- With a reception, Fitzgerald would have at least one catch in 250 consecutive games, extending the second-longest streak in NFL history (Jerry Rice - 274).
- With a reception, Fitzgerald would have 647 catches at State Farm Stadium, the most in NFL history at a single venue. Currently, Fitzgerald is tied with Jerry Rice (646 at Candlestick Park) for the most receptions at a single venue.
- With a TD reception, Fitzgerald would have 121 TD catches in his career. That would include 14 TDs receptions vs. Seattle.

WR DEANDRE HOPKINS

- With a reception, Hopkins would extend his streak to 117 consecutive games with at least one catch. He would have at least one reception in every game played in his NFL career.
- With eight receptions, Hopkins (55) would establish a franchise record for receptions in the first seven games of a season.
- With 129 receiving yards, Hopkins (730) would establish a franchise record for receiving yards in the first seven games of a season. He would surpass the current record of 729 held by Roy Green (1984).

QB KYLER MURRAY

- With two TD passes, Murray would tie Jake Plummer (32 from 1997-98) for the most TD passes in franchise history in a player's first two NFL seasons.
- With a rushing TD, Murray (7) would establish a franchise single-season record for rushing TDs by a QB. He is currently tied with Jim Hart (6 in 1968).
- With both a rushing and passing TD, Murray (6) would become the first player in franchise history to post at least six games with both a passing and rushing TD in a single season. He would also become the first player in NFL history to accomplish the feat six times in the first seven games of a season.
- With three TD passes, Murray would have 13 TD passes in 2020. Only two players in franchise history - Carson Palmer (16 in 2015) and Kurt Warner (14 in 2008) would have more through the first seven games of a season.

RB KENYAN DRAKE

- With 100 yards rushing, Drake would have seven career 100-yard games and five in 15 total outings with the Cardinals. It would also give him 100+ rushing yards in back-to-back games for just the third time in his career.
- With a rushing TD, Drake would have 13 rushing TDs in 15 games played with Arizona. It would also give him 12 rushing TDs in his last 10 games.
- With two rushing TDs, Drake would have multiple rushing TDs in a game for the fourth time in his career - all of which would have come with Arizona. Two of those performances would be against the Seahawks.

LB HAASON REDDICK

- With a sack, Reddick (5.0) would establish a career high for sacks in a season. Prior to 2020, his career high for sacks was 4.0 in 2018.

WR CHRISTIAN KIRK

- With a TD reception, Kirk would have a career high four TD catches in 2020. It would also give him four TD catches in the last four games.

CARDINALS-SEAHAWKS MOVES TO SUNDAY NIGHT

On Thursday, the NFL announced it had moved this week's Cardinals-Seahawks divisional showdown to prime time on NBC's Sunday Night Football.

Combined with last week's 38-10 victory over the Cowboys on Monday Night Football, the Cardinals will now play in prime time in consecutive weeks for the first time since playing in three straight in Weeks 5-7 (Thursday-Monday-Sunday) of the 2016 season.

Arizona last appeared on Sunday Night Football on 10/23/16 when they hosted the Seahawks at State Farm Stadium. Arizona will be making its 10th appearance on SNF since NBC began airing the broadcast in 2006.

Both of the matchups between the Cardinals and Seahawks in 2020 will be played in prime time. Arizona and Seattle will meet on Thursday Night Football at Seattle in Week 11. Sunday's game marks the sixth prime time matchup between the Cardinals and Seahawks in the last eight seasons.

NBC's Sunday Night Football finished the 2019-20 TV season as primetime's #1 TV show in all key metrics for an unprecedented ninth consecutive year - adding to its record for the most consecutive years atop the charts (since 1950).

O-LINE HELPING IN ALL PHASES IN 2020

Arizona has the NFL's #5 ranked offense in 2020. A major factor in that production is the work put in by the members of the team's offensive line.

The Cardinals are third in both of ESPN's pass-block and run-block win rates this season, the only team in the NFL top-3 in each category.

Below is a look at where the Cardinals rank in 2020 in both pass protection and in the run game.

Keeping Kyler Clean in the Passing Game

QB Kyler Murray has been well-protected behind the line of scrimmage this season. Through 6 games in 2020, the Cardinals rank:

- 10th in the NFL in sacks allowed (9)
- 8th in the NFL in total QB pressures (37)
- 7th in the NFL in sack percentage (4.2)
- 2nd in the NFL in sack yardage (38)

Through 6 games in 2019, Arizona ranked 27th in sacks allowed (21) and 29th in sack yardage (153)

Helping Everyone Succeed in the Run Game

The Cardinals have one of the NFL's top run games in 2020. Arizona ranks:

- 4th in rushing yards per game (161.0)
- 3rd in runs of 10+ yards (29)
- 3rd in runs of 20+ yards (9)
- 2nd in rushing average (5.28)
- 1st in rushing TDs (11)
- 1st in rushing average before contact (4.20)

Both of the Cardinals primary RBs are averaging over 4.5 per rush attempt - Kenyan Drake (4.6) & Chase Edmonds (4.9). Add in Murray (7.3) and Arizona (3) joins Baltimore (3), New England (3) and Cleveland (3) as the only teams in the NFL that have at least three players (min. 20 rush attempts) averaging 4.5+ yards per carry in 2020.

PLAYING THE PERCENTAGES

Below is a look at the Cardinals situational percentages in 2020:

Red Zone TD percentage is 80.0%; ranks 2nd behind the Seahawks (88.9%).

Goal-to-Go percentage is 100% (14-of-14); tied with the Bucs and Titans for #1.

4th Down Conversion percentage is 100% (5-of-5); tied with Bills and Titans for #1. --AZ is 18-of-25 on 4th down dating back to 2019; 72.0% conversion rate ranks #1.
