BIRDS' EYE VIEW

TE Trey McBride has been off to a historic start in 2026 as his 33 receptions are the third-most in the NFL this season and tie for the second-most by a TE in NFL history with Hall of Famer Antonio Gates (2007) and Darren Waller (2019) through the first four games of any season.

After catching 7 passes @ NYG, McBride became the first TE in NFL history to start a season with at least seven receptions in each of his team's first four games. He is one of just two players (Saints WR Chris Olave) to have 7+ receptions in each of the first four games this season.

Last week, McBride joined Hall of Fame TE Kellen Winslow Sr. (391) as the only two TEs in NFL history to have 380+ receptions in their first 70 career games.

With 7 receptions this week, McBride would pass Jimmy Graham for the most catches by a TE in his first five seasons.

RECEPTIONS BY TE IN 1ST 5 SEASONS

JIMMY GRAHAM - 386 REC

TREY MCBRIDE - 380 REC

JASON WITTEN - 348 REC

KELLEN WINSLOW SR. - 344 REC

T.J. HOCKENSON - 341 REC

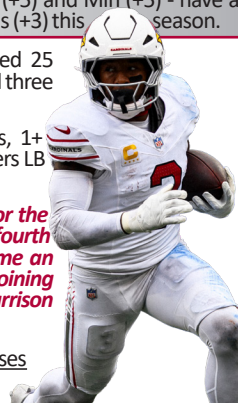

Last week, four Cardinals defenders (LBs Josh Sweat and Zaven Collins and DLs Walter Nolen III and Darius Robinson) each recorded their first sacks of the 2026 season. After posting two INTs and a FF, the team is up to 7 takeaways on the season. It marks Arizona's highest number of takeaways through four games since 2021 (9). Just three teams - Jax (+6), KC (+5) and Min (+5) - have a better turnover margin than the Cardinals (+3) this season.

Through four games this season, S Budda Baker has recorded 25 tackles (14 solo), a tackle for loss, 1.5 sacks, one interception and three passes defended.

He is one of just three players to have 25+ tackles, 1+ sacks, 1+ interceptions and 3+ passes defended this season joining Panthers LB Devin Lloyd and Packers S Evan Williams.

At his current pace, Baker is on track to surpass 100 tackles for the seventh time in his career. Baker would become just the fourth defensive back in NFL history (since 1982 when tackles became an official stat) to have at least seven seasons with 100+ tackles, joining Antoine Bethea (eight), Lawyer Milloy (seven) and Rodney Harrison (seven).

He is also on pace to set single-season career-highs in passes defended, quarterback hits and sacks.

CRUCIAL CATCH

As part of the Cardinals Crucial Catch efforts, WR Michael Wilson and RB Evan Hull visited cancer patients undergoing chemotherapy at Dignity Health Cancer Institute at St. Joseph's on Tuesday. The players spent time with patients and their families, offering encouragement and conversation while bringing some Cardinals spirit to those going through treatment. They also distributed Cardinals blankets, beanies, personal care items and snacks through the Cardinals Comfort Cart.

Wilson also surprised patients with tickets to Sunday's game, giving them an opportunity to cheer on the Cardinals in person. The visit was part of the Cardinals ongoing commitment to supporting cancer patients and their families while raising awareness and encouraging early detection through the NFL's Crucial Catch campaign.
