ARIZONA CARDINALS (1-0)

State Farm Stadium | September 20, 2020 | 1:05 PM

THIS WEEK'S PREVIEW

Following an offseason unlike any other in the league's long history, NFL teams were back in action last week. Kickoff Weekend featured seven games in which teams overcame fourth quarter deficits and two of those teams square off this Sunday at State Farm Stadium.

Both Arizona and Washington enter Week 2 coming off victories vs. division opponents in which they trailed by double-digits early and were forced to overcome fourth quarter deficits. The Cardinals earned a 24-20 come-from-behind victory at San Francisco while Washington came back from 17-0 down vs. Philadelphia by scoring 27 unanswered points for a 27-17 home win.

Sunday's game begins the Cardinals 15th season at State Farm Stadium. For the second time in three seasons (Week 1 of 2018), it will be Washington whom the Cardinals face in their home-opener. But this week's game will be like no other event held at State Farm Stadium. After millions of fans passed through the turnstiles and Arizona sold out all 144 games played at State Farm Stadium in the first 14 seasons at the world-class venue, Sunday's game will be the first-ever game held without fans in attendance.

The clash between Arizona and Washington is a continuation of a long rivalry between former division rivals. On Sunday, the teams will meet for the 125th time in a series that dates back to 1932 when the Cardinals were based in Chicago and the Washington franchise was located in Boston.

The Cardinals have played Washington more times (124) than any other team besides the NY Giants (126), with many of those games coming when the teams played together in the NFC East (1970-2001). Arizona is hosting Washington at State Farm Stadium for the fourth time in the last seven seasons.

This week's game marks the first-ever head-to-head matchup between Cardinals QB Kyler Murray and Washington signal-caller Dwayne Haskins Jr. A pair of former record-breaking playmakers at the college level, both are in their second NFL season after being taken in the first round of the 2019 NFL Draft (Murray #1 overall; Haskins #15).

Murray has quickly formed a strong bond with new WR DeAndre Hopkins, to the tune of a career-high 14 receptions for the three-time 1st-team All-Pro wideout last week. New to the NFC in 2020, Hopkins has faced Washington just twice in his career and had nine catches for 145 yards and two TDs in those contests. Fellow All-Pro WR Larry Fitzgerald has faced Washington eight times, piling up 52 receptions for 674 yards and three TDs.

Following this week's game, the Cardinals host the Detroit Lions at State Farm Stadium while Washington travels to Cleveland to face the Browns.

Kliff Kingsbury became an NFL head coach for the first time when he was hired by the Cardinals on January 11, 2019, coming to Arizona after six seasons (2013-18) as the head coach at his alma mater, Texas Tech. In Kingsbury's first season with the Cardinals, the offense went from #32 overall in scoring in 2018 to #16 in 2019 and went from #32 overall in scoring drives in 2018 to number #9. Known for his work with QBs in the college ranks, Kingsbury helped guide first-year signal-caller Kyler Murray, the #1 overall pick in the 2019 draft, to AP NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year honors last season. While at Texas Tech, Kingsbury served as the play-caller for one of college football's most explosive offenses that ranked in the top-20 in total offense all six seasons. A former star QB at Texas Tech, Kingsbury was drafted by the Patriots in the sixth round of the 2003 NFL Draft and also spent time with the Saints and Jets during his playing career.

Hired as the 30th coach in Washington franchise history on January 11, 2020, Ron Rivera is in debut season with the team. He was hired by Washington after eight-plus seasons in Carolina, where he led the Panthers to a Super Bowl appearance, an NFC Championship and three NFC South titles. A two-time (2013, 2015) AP NFL Coach of the Year award winner, Rivera led the Panthers to the second Super Bowl appearance in team history following their franchise-best 15-1 record in 2015. A second-round draft pick by the Bears in 1984, Rivera played nine seasons in the NFL before working his way up the coaching ranks with stints in Philadelphia, Chicago and San Diego before taking over in Carolina.

15TH SEASON AT STATE FARM STADIUM

The Cardinals will begin their 15th season at State Farm Stadium when they host Washington on Sunday

Opened in 2006, State Farm Stadium has proved a catalyst for the Cardinals success in the last decade-plus.

The Cardinals have posted a winning record at home in eight of 14 seasons at State Farm Stadium, earning four playoff berths and three NFC West titles during that time. The Cardinals finished .500 or better just twice and made the playoffs only one time in 18 seasons prior.

Below is a look at the results in 14 seasons at State Farm Stadium compared to 18 seasons at Sun Devil Stadium.

Overall Comparison Statistic	14 seasons at State Farm Stadium	18 seasons at Sun Devil Stadium

In five seasons between 2013-17, the Cardinals posted a winning record each season, which represents the longest such streak in franchise history. Between 2007-17 Arizona posted a record of .500 or better in 11 consecutive seasons.

14 SEASONS AND 144 SELLOUTS

Arizona sold out every game (preseason and postseason included) in the first 14 seasons at the venue. There were only 12 games that sold out in time to be televised locally in 18 years at Sun Devil Stadium.

BIRD GANG BRINGS THE NOISE - ONE OF THE NFL'S LOUDEST VENUES

Dating back to the inaugural year at State Farm Stadium in 2006, Cards opponents have accumulated 179 accepted false start penalties in the regular season. That is the most for any home team in the NFL during that span.

PRESSURE IS COMING ON SUNDAY

The quarterbacks and offensive linemen for both Arizona and Washington will have their hands full with the opposing team pass rush this week.

Sunday's game features the NFL's most prolific pass-rusher over the last few seasons (Chandler Jones) and a diverse pass rush in Washington that posted twice as many sacks (8) as any other team in the NFL in Week 1.

The headliner for each defense are two of the NFL's premiere sack artists over the last decade in Jones and Washington's Ryan Kerrigan. Jones (1.0) and Kerrigan (2.0) accounted for 3.0 total sacks in Week 1.

Among active NFL defenders, Jones' 97.0 career sacks ranks third while Kerrigan comes in fifth with 92.0.

Active NFL Leaders - Career Sacks

3	Chandler Jones (2012)	97.0
4	J.J. Watt (2011)	96.0
5	Ryan Kerrigan (2011)	92.0

When they get to the QB, both Jones and Kerrigan have a knack for forcing the ball loose. Dating back to Jones' rookie season in 2012, he leads the NFL with 27 forced fumbles while Kerrigan ranks fifth with 22.

KERRIGAN LEADS HIS FRANCHISE - JONES ON THE CUSP

With two sacks in last week's game, Kerrigan (92.0) passed Dexter Manley (91.0) to become Washington's all-time career sacks leader. Jones is just 6.0 sacks shy of becoming the Cardinals all-time sacks leader.

MURRAY VS. HASKINS - ROUND ONE

Sunday's game between Washington and Arizona at State Farm Stadium features two starting QBs who both electrified college football in 2018 before being taken in the first round of the 2019 NFL Draft.

Arizona's Kyler Murray (Oklahoma) and Washington signal-caller Dwayne Haskins Jr. (Ohio State) were both record-shattering QBs in their final college season. Between them, they accounted for 10,201 total yards (passing/rushing) and 108 TDs in 2018 alone.

Murray (5,362) led the nation in total yards in 2018 while Haskins (4,939) ranked #2 overall.

Murray and Haskins 2018 Statistical Breakdown

Statistic	Murray	Haskins
Passing Yards	4,361	4,831

In their college careers, Murray and Haskins totaled:

Statistic	Murray	Haskins
300-Yard Games	10	9
Games with 2+ TD Passes	14	14
Career-High Passing TDs	6	6

- Following the season, Murray took home the Heisman Trophy while Haskins finished #3 in voting. Murray was then taken #1 overall by the Cardinals in the 2010 NFL Draft while Haskins was the 3rd QB taken (15th pick overall) behind Murray and Giants QB Daniel Jones.

- Ohio State and Oklahoma faced off once during their tenures but neither QB started the game. It was in the 2017 season-opener and Murray was backing up Baker Mayfield while Haskins backed up J.T. Barrett.

WHAT'S CHANGED SINCE THEY LAST MET

On Sunday it will have been exactly two years and 12 days since Arizona and Washington last met in the regular season (Week 1 of '18 season). In that time, however, much has changed.

Both the Cardinals (Kliff Kingsbury) and Washington (Ron Rivera) have new head coaches and coaching staffs. Of the Cardinals 22 starters from their Week 1 contest vs. Washington in '18, just eight (Fitzgerald, Humphries, Cole, Pugh, Peters, C. Jones, P. Peterson, Baker) will be in the starting lineup on Sunday.

For Washington, only four of the 22 starters from last week's opener vs. Philadelphia (Roullier, Scherff, J. Allen, Payne) were in the starting lineup in Week 1 of '18.

CARDINALS TAKE DOWN 49ERS IN SEASON-OPENER AT LEVI'S STADIUM

AZ COMES BACK FOR 24-20 WIN

The Cardinals defeated the defending NFC Champion San Francisco 49ers 24-20 in the season-opener at Levi's Stadium last week. With the victory, Arizona earned its first Week 1 win since 2015 and first Week 1 road victory since 2010.

With the victory last Sunday, Arizona improved to 5-2 at Levi's Stadium. The Cardinals also improved to 9-2 in their last 11 games against the 49ers.

COMING FROM BEHIND FOR THE WIN

• The Cardinals (who trailed 13-10 entering the 4th quarter) were one of seven teams to come back to win after trailing in the fourth quarter on Kickoff Weekend (Chicago, Jacksonville, Las Vegas, the Los Angeles Chargers, Titans and Washington). That is the most 4th-quarter comeback victories on Kickoff Weekend since 2016 (nine teams).

• Arizona trailed 10-0 early and entered the 4th quarter trailing 13-10 but went on to earn the comeback victory. In 2019, the Cardinals were 0-7-1 in games they trailed entering the fourth quarter. Prior to last week, the last time the Cardinals won a game in which they trailed entering the fourth quarter was on 10/28/18 vs. San Francisco (trailed 12-3 entering the fourth and won 18-15).

• The Cardinals comeback victory was the result of two long fourth quarter TD drives (94 and 75 yards). It marked the first time since 2016 (12/18 vs. New Orleans; 75 and 75 yards) that Arizona had multiple TD drives of 75+ yards in the fourth quarter/OT of a game.

ON TOP OF THE STANDINGS AFTER WEEK 1

By earning a road win against a division opponent in Week 1, Arizona jumped into the early lead in the NFC West in 2020. Three of the four teams in the division earned victories last week.

The NFC West joined the AFC West as the only divisions with at least three wins on Kickoff Weekend.

HOPKINS' RECORD-BREAKING DEBUT

Making his Cardinals debut, WR DeAndre Hopkins established a career-high with 14 receptions on Sunday against the 49ers, finishing with 151 receiving yards.

Hopkins' 14 receptions are the most in franchise history in a season-opener and tied for the second-highest single-game total in franchise history.

Last week's game marked the 10th time in his career Hopkins has posted 10+ receptions in a game and the eighth time he has had at least 150+ receiving yards.

It marked the second time in his career - and the second consecutive season - that Hopkins has posted 100+ receiving yards in Week 1. He finished the 2019 season-opener at New Orleans with 111 yards on eight receptions.

TIED FOR THE NFL RECEPTIONS LEAD IN WEEK 1

BIG NUMBERS FOR OFFENSE IN WEEK 1

The Cardinals finished last week's game in San Francisco with 404 total net yards (180 rushing; 224 passing) against a 49ers defense that finished last season ranked #2 overall.

It marked the fifth time Arizona reached 400+ total yards in 17 games under head coach Kliff Kingsbury. Arizona reached 400+ yards just once over the two seasons combined (2017-18) prior to Kingsbury's arrival.

The Cardinals posted 404 total yards and 29 first downs vs. San Francisco. It marked just the fourth time in franchise history the team had 400+ total net yards and 25+ first downs in a season-opener.

RUN GAME STARTS FAST IN 2020

Arizona's ground game got going quickly in last week's season-opener, posting 180 yards and two TDs on 36 attempts (5.0 avg.) despite a pair of kneel downs for minus-9 yards to end the game.

It marked the fourth time the Cardinals have rushed for 180+ yards in a game under Kingsbury. Arizona had just four such games in the six seasons combined (2013-18) prior to his arrival.

The Cardinals 180 rushing yards represented the second-highest total in the NFL in Week 1.

DEFENSE STANDS TALL - TWICE

The Cardinals offense posted eye-popping numbers in the victory over San Francisco, but it was the defense that made a pair of stands to change the momentum and ultimately seal the victory.

• Trailing 10-7 early in the second quarter, San Francisco had a 4th-n-goal from inside the AZ one-yard line when LBs Devon Kennard and De'Vondre Campbell (both signed as free agents in the offseason) teamed up to stop 49ers RB Raheem Mostert on a run up the middle.

• With the Cardinals holding a 24-20 lead with under a minute remaining in the 4th quarter, San Francisco had the ball 3rd-n-5 at the AZ 16-yard line. QB Jimmy Garoppolo attempted a pair of passes to WR Trent Taylor: the third down attempt was batted down by second-year CB Byron Murphy Jr. in the end zone. The fourth down sideline pass was enough for a first down but was again batted down by a diving Murphy.

Arizona's defense held the 49ers to just two conversions on 11 3rd down attempts (18%) and stopped San Francisco on both fourth down conversion attempts.

ANOTHER BIG GAME ON THE GROUND

Murray reached 100 rushing yards in the fourth quarter in the win over San Francisco last week to become just the second QB in franchise history to rush for 100+ yards in a game. His two kneel downs to end the game took nine yards off his rushing total and dipped it below the century mark.

As it stands, his 91 rushing yards represent the fourth-best single-game total in franchise history by a QB. Despite having played in just 17 career games, Murray already owns four of the top-eight single-game rushing performances by a QB in franchise history.

Murray's 544 rushing yards in 2019 set a single-season franchise record for a QB, surpassing the previous mark of 501 (Hall of Famer Charley Trippi in 1951).

MURRAY DOES IT ALL IN WEEK 1 WIN

Second-year QB Kyler Murray threw for 230 yards and a TD and also rushed for 91 yards and a TD in leading the Cardinals over San Francisco in last week's season-opener. It was his second career game with both a passing and rushing TD.

In leading the Cardinals to a come-from-behind victory, Murray completed 11-of-16 pass attempts for 112 yards and rushed for 81 yards and a TD on 10 carries in the second half on Sunday.

ANOTHER LONG TOUCHDOWN RUN

Murray's 22-yard TD run in the fourth quarter was his second career TD run of 20+ yards (also had a 22-yarder at Cincinnati in Week 5 last season). Murray and Baltimore's Lamar Jackson are the only two QBs with multiple TD runs of 20+ yards dating back to last season.

KYLER A RARE PERFORMER AMONG CARDINALS QBs

There have now been three games in franchise history in which a QB passed for 200+ yards and rushed for 90+ yards. Murray is responsible for two of those performances.

404

Total net yards (180 rushing; 224 passing) for the Cardinals in their win over San Francisco last week. - Arizona would improve to 10-5 in regular season home openers at State Farm Stadium.

MILESTONES WITHIN REACH

WR Larry Fitzgerald

- With a reception, Fitzgerald would have at least one catch in 245 consecutive games, extending the second-longest streak in NFL history (Jerry Rice - 274).
- With nine receptions, Fitzgerald would have 647 career receptions at State Farm Stadium. He would pass Jerry Rice (646 at Candlestick Park) for the most receptions in a single venue in NFL history.
- With 100+ receiving yards, Fitzgerald would have 50 career 100-yard games to extend his franchise record. He would have more than the players in second and third place on the franchise all-time list combined (49).

LB Chandler Jones

- With a sack, Jones would have 4.0 sacks in five career games against Washington, including at least one in each of the last three games. Washington QB Dwayne Haskins Jr. would become the 44th different QB Jones has sacked in his career. Jones would also have 62.0 sacks in 66 career games with Arizona.

WR DeAndre Hopkins

- With a reception, would extend his streak to 112 consecutive games with a reception. He would have at least one catch in every game of his NFL career.
- With five receptions, Hopkins would have 5+ catches in 20 consecutive games, extending the longest active streak in the NFL. It would also tie for the second-longest such streak in league history. The all-time record is 36 consecutive games by Antonio Brown (2013-15).
- With 10+ receptions, Hopkins would become the first player in franchise history with 10+ receptions in each of the first two games of a season.

RB Kenyan Drake

- With a rushing TD, Drake would have at least one rushing TD in five consecutive games. That would tie for the longest streak in franchise history (5 by Ottis Anderson, Jim Otis, Donny Anderson, MacArthur Lane and Elmer Angsman).

KEEPING UP WITH THE CARDINALS

Last year the Cardinals launched a new media site on NFL Online Media Guide (www.NFLOMG.com).

The all-encompassing media resource has taken on special importance in following the Cardinals in 2020. Due to safety precautions put in place during the ongoing COVID-19 outbreak, hard copies of the game release, game books, transcripts and other team produced materials are not passed out during the week or on game day at State Farm Stadium.

The Cardinals OMG site is updated continuously and includes the following and more:

- Traditional media guide information
- Player bios that will feature career and seasons stats updated in real-time.
- Official league statistics from NFL GSI
- Tweet-ready charts and stat grids that update in real time
- Customizable in-game reports
- Final game books and statistics
- Records and milestones tracked live
- Postgame quotes

EXTRAORDINARY DUO

With the acquisition of WR DeAndre Hopkins this offseason, the Cardinals receiving corps now includes the only wideout to earn 1st-Team All-Pro honors each of the last three seasons (Hopkins) and the receiver who currently ranks second in NFL history in both receptions and receiving yards (Larry Fitzgerald).

Between the two All-Pro's, Fitzgerald and Hopkins have combined for:

Statistic	Total
Total Seasons Played	23
Pro Bowls	15
1 st -Team All-Pro Selections	4
Games Played	362
Seasons of 1,000+ Receiving Yards	14
Seasons of 10+ TD Receptions	8

Receiving Yards	25,870
TD Receptions	174
100-Yard Receiving Performances	80

Games with 10+ Receptions	27

In their combined 23+ NFL seasons (370 possible games), Fitzgerald and Hopkins have missed a total of eight games. Neither player has ever posted of a season of fewer than 50 receptions or fewer than 700 receiving yards.

GREAT THINGS ACCOMPLISHED AT A YOUNGE AGE

In Week 11 of the 2019 season at Baltimore, Hopkins (27 years, 5 months, 12 days) became the second-youngest player in NFL history to reach 600 career receptions - behind only Larry Fitzgerald.

NFL History – Youngest Players to Reach 600 Receptions	Player	Age	Years
	Larry Fitzgerald	27 years, 3 months, 20 days	2004-10
	DeAndre Hopkins	27 years, 5 months, 12 days	2013-19

Three weeks prior (Week 8 vs. Oakland), Hopkins (27 years, 4 months, 22 days) became the third-youngest player in NFL history to reach 8,000 career receiving yards behind only Fitzgerald and Hall of Famer Randy Moss.

NFL History – Youngest Players to Reach 8,000 Receiving Yards	Player	Age	Years

	Larry Fitzgerald	27 years, 3 months, 20 days	2004-10
	DeAndre Hopkins	27 years, 4 months, 22 days	2013-19

Fitzgerald reached 600 career receptions and 8,000 career receiving yards in the same game (Week 15 at Carolina in 2010).*

ZOOMING IN ON ARIZONA

Among the many safety precautions taken at the outset of the COVID-19 pandemic earliest this year were changes in the way athletes and the media interact.

On March 23 - with both players and most media working from home - Cardinals newly acquired LB Devon Kennard became the first NFL player ever to hold a press conference conducted entirely via Zoom.

Over the next 142 days, Arizona held over 50 press conferences with players and staff before Kennard returned to speak with media over Zoom on the first day of training camp.

His was the first of 66 virtual press availabilities over the three weeks of training camp.

STAY INFORMED OF MEDIA SCHEDULE

All media availability with Cardinals players and coaches this season are being conducted virtually via Zoom.

Members of the media are strongly encouraged to follow the Cardinals Media Relations Twitter account (@AZCardinalsMR) to receive up-to-the-minute info on times and participants for player and coach Zoom media availability both during the week and on game days.

PRO BOWL TALENTS STICKING AROUND

Earlier this offseason, the Cardinals acquired three-time 1st-team All-Pro WR DeAndre Hopkins in a trade with the Houston Texans. Last Tuesday (9/8), the team signed him to a contract extension that will keep the four-time Pro Bowler in Arizona through the 2024 season.

"I know this is a place that I want to be," Hopkins said of signing the extension. "This is an organization that I want to help build and become a contender for the years to come long as I'm here. And for me, that was something that was big and really something that my team also thought was big. The way that I play the game and what I bring to the game, being part of a team long term and helping build it is how I want my legacy to be remembered."

15 DAYS PRIOR - BAKER SIGNS HIS EXTENSION

On August 25, the Cardinals signed S Budda Baker to a four-year contract extension that keeps the Pro Bowl defender under contract with Arizona through the 2024 season.

"The bottom line is you can't find a player who plays with more intensity and passion," GM Steve Keim said of Baker after the deal was announced. "I can promise you there's very few of those guys across the National Football League. When you talk to guys like (Steelers head coach) Mike Tomlin and other coaches across the league prior to the game, the one name that comes up quite a bit is Budda Baker: 'That guy's different.'"

COLLECTING TALENT FROM STATE #48

The Cardinals current roster includes seven players who played either high school or college football in the state of Arizona. That includes 2020 seventh round pick RB Eno Benjamin - who had a record-breaking career at Arizona State. Benjamin (222nd overall) was selected in nearly the same spot as the last ASU player drafted before him: S Pat Tillman (7th round, 226th overall) in 1998.

The selection of Benjamin in 2020 marked the third consecutive year that the Cards drafted a player who played high school or college football in Arizona. In 2018 the team drafted WR Christian Kirk and in 2019 it was CB Byron Murphy, Jr.

A LOCAL KID RETURNS TO AZ, FOLLOWS IN FATHER'S CARDINALS FOOTSTEPS

One of the Cardinals top signings of the 2020 free agency period was LB Devon Kennard. He is the son of former Cardinals offensive lineman Derek Kennard Sr., who also played for the Los Angeles Express of the USFL in addition to the Saints and Cowboys.

Following his playing career, Derek returned to Arizona to raise his family. Devon grew up in Phoenix and starred at Desert Vista High School before attending USC.

When Devon took the field last week in San Francisco, the Kennards became the third father-son duo to play for the Cardinals, joining the Butlers (Kevin and Drew) and the Metcalfs (Terry and Eric).

ELEVATING A FRANCHISE

The 2020 season is the 14th since owner Michael Bidwill began leading the organization. His leadership during that time has been instrumental in transforming the franchise both on and off the field.

Highlights of Bidwill's tenure:

- Leading the list of Bidwill's accomplishments with the Cardinals is the creation of State Farm Stadium. Since it opened in 2006, the team sold out all 144 games (preseason and postseason included) played at the world-class venue that has been awarded three Super Bowls.

- In addition to his role in helping Arizona land Super Bowls XLII and XLIX, he led the effort to land Super Bowl LVII (2023) in the spring of 2018. Michael was instrumental in getting the 2015 Pro Bowl moved to Arizona; played a week before Super Bowl XLIX and the 2015 Pro Bowl combined to deliver a record economic impact of $720 million to the region.

- By the time it hosts Super Bowl LVII, State Farm Stadium will have undergone $100 million in improvements including parking infrastructure, state-of-the-art wifi, video boards, sound system upgrades and club-area enhancements since it staged Super Bowl XLIX.

- Of the Cardinals seven all-time postseason wins, five have come with Bidwill's leading the team. Arizona has played in nine postseason contests over the last 13 seasons, after playing just seven prior to his tenure as team president.

- AZ has appeared in the NFC Championship Game twice since 2008, including a victory in the 2008 conference title game that led to the team's first-ever Super Bowl appearance (Super Bowl XLIII).

- In January of 2018, Michael was one of five owners named to the NFL's Player-Owner Committee focused on social and racial justice initiatives. In December of 2014, Commissioner Roger Goodell tapped Bidwill to chair the league's Conduct Committee.

- In January of 2019, Michael received the Paul Tagliabue Award from the Fritz Pollard Alliance for demonstrating integrity and leadership in the area of career development for minorities and advocating for diversity.

KEIM HAS BUILT SOME OF THE BEST

Steve Keim was promoted to GM on January 8, 2013 after 14 seasons in the Cardinals organization. The team has experienced unprecedented success during his tenure as GM. The teams put together by Keim have been some of the most successful in franchise history.

- In 2014, the Cardinals tied the franchise record for wins in a season (11) before setting a new mark in 2015 when Arizona won 13 games and earned its first-ever postseason bye.

- During Keim's tenure, Arizona has established franchise records for wins in a season (13 in 2015), points in a season (489 in 2015), led the NFL in total offense for the first time in team history (#1 in 2015) and led the NFL in sacks for the second time ever (48.0 in 2016).

- Selected QB Kyler Murray with the #1 overall pick in the 2019 NFL Draft. Murray was named the NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year following a record-setting season.

- Among the trades negotiated by Keim during his tenure as GM are the acquisition of QB Carson Palmer from Oakland in 2013, acquiring LB Chandler Jones from New England in 2016 and the trade that landed WR DeAndre Hopkins from Houston in 2020. During the 2019 season, Keim also orchestrated a trade with Miami for RB Kenyan Drake.

- Arizona has featured a top-10 defense four times and a top-10 offense twice dating back to Keim's first season as GM. The Cardinals had a top-10 defense in three consecutive seasons (2015-17) for the first time since the 1970 merger.

- Named Sporting News 2014 NFL Executive of the Year and earned back-to-back NFL Executive of the Year honors from Pro Football Talk (2013-14).

CARDINALS TAKE PART IN PUSH FOR JUSTICE

Throughout the 2020 season, Cardinals players and coaches are joining the rest of the NFL in honoring and memorializing victims of systemic racism and showing their support for Social Justice efforts by displaying names or phrases as decals on the back of their helmets and patches on their caps.

The season-long effort highlights the actions being taken to reach solutions, engages fans to act, and gives players and coaches a platform on gameday to share their voice and efforts to inspire change. Together, the NFL is joining its players and coaches in building awareness, educating fans, and paying homage to those who deserve to have their legacies live on.

The NFL will partner with players to tell the stories of the victims or phrase that they have chosen to honor on their helmets. Fans will be able to learn more about these stories and how to get involved at nfl.com/inspirechange.

Among the Cardinals players taking part in the campaign in 2020:

Player	Helmet Decal Cause
RB Kenyan Drake	Stop Hate
WR DeAndre Hopkins	Denmark Vesey
QB Kyler Murray	End Racism
DL Corey Peters	End Racism
QB Brett Hundley	George Floyd
OL Kelvin Beachum	Breonna Taylor
K Zane Gonzalez	Vanessa Guillen
WR Andy Isabella	It Takes All of Us
LB Devon Kennard	It Takes All of Us
DL Rashard Lawrence	Stop Hate
DL Zach Allen	Stop Hate

CARDINALS SPEAKING UP

Throughout the offseason, numerous Cardinals players spoke up about their own experiences and the importance of coming together to make meaningful change a reality in the United States.

DL Corey Peters - 8/28/20

DL Corey Peters spoke about how important it is that everyone engage in the conversations and understand other viewpoints:

"One thing we want to do is be sensitive to one another, have compassion for one another and you know, we can disagree with certain things peacefully and all work towards the same goal of not only winning but make this a better country for everybody."

OL D.J. Humphries - 8/28/20

OL D.J. Humphries spoke about his children being a major motivator in trying to help bring about change:

"I know how to accept what the world has for you. I know how to maneuver in this world. But for my children, that's not what I want. I want my children to grow up in a fair world and grow up in a world where what the Constitution says is how it really is."

Head Coach Kliff Kingsbury - 8/27/2020

Kingsbury talked about what the Cardinals players and coaches have been discussing and learning from each other during recent events across the country:

"I had a great conversation with my dad over the summer, and his perspective on things that was really valuable as we get closer to the season – the anthem, discussions and things of that nature."

"My dad was a longtime football coach but also a Marine. He served in Vietnam, received a Purple Heart. Talking to him, there were two words that really stood out. One was respect, and the second thing was understanding. Respect viewpoints people have on this topic. They're very personal and very passionate. And respect their right to express themselves."

"You've got to understand, at its core, what this is really about. It's always been about drawing attention to the social injustice that continues to take place. We saw it again this week with Jacob Blake. It's about increasing awareness that racism exists, police brutality against people of color continues to happen, and let's not confuse it with something else and make the narrative different."

"My biggest takeaway from talking to my dad is that kneeling doesn't reflect a lack of patriotism or respect for the military in any way, just like standing during the anthem doesn't mean you're OK with racism or social injustice. It's important to respect and understand that. These are important issues that need to be addressed, and important conversations that need to be had. I'm grateful that I've been able to be around a great group of guys that have enlightened me – hearing their stories and their struggles. Those conversations will continue throughout the year. I just hope we can all continue to push in the right direction."

QB Kyler Murray - 6/17/20

Following the death of George Floyd and the resulting protests around the country, Murray spoke the change he saw happening in real time:

"There is a lot of hate in this world, but at the same time, what's happening and what we're seeing right now, it's huge. I don't condone rioting and stuff like that, but the peaceful protests, I think they're great, they're amazing. Whether it takes years, I feel like we're getting there. At least we're making a step towards it."

In his first two seasons, Kirk piled up 111 receptions for 1,299 yards and six TDs despite missing seven games due to injury.

ONLY ANQUAN WAS FASTER TO 100

Playing in his 22nd career game in Week 14 vs. Pittsburgh last season, Kirk reached 100 receptions for his career. In franchise history, the only player to have 100 catches in fewer games was Anquan Boldin (16).

CARDINALS SEE AN UP-AND-COMER IN EDMONDS

Drafted by the Cardinals in the fourth round (134th overall) in the 2018 NFL Draft out of Fordham - RB Chase Edmonds is in his third NFL season in 2020.

Much like fellow 2018 draftee WR Christian Kirk, the Cardinals see big things ahead.

"We all feel like he's a starting running back in this league, and he does, too," head coach Kliff Kingsbury said of Edmonds. "When he had his opportunities, he shined, and he continues to shine. He can catch it, run it, block, play special teams, and he's really bright football-wise. He's everything you want."

EDMONDS SHINES NEAR HIS OLD STOMPING GROUNDS

Filling in for injured David Johnson, Edmonds saw the most extensive action of his career in the Cardinals Week 7 victory over the Giants last season. He took advantage, finishing with career highs in total scrimmage yards (150), rushing yards (126) and TDs (3).

He rushed for 126 yards and three TDs on 27 carries and added four receptions for 24 yards. Edmonds' three rushing TDs covered 20, 20 and 22 yards. He became the first player in franchise history - and just the sixth player in NFL history - with at least three rushing TDs of 20+ yards in a game.

KINGSBURY'S RECORD-BREAKING RUN GAME

When Arizona hired Kingsbury in 2019, much of the talk surrounding the hire involved the former Texas-Tech head coach implementing a pass-heavy "Air-Raid" system in the desert.

Although the passing offense made significant strides in 2019, it was the rushing attack that showed the biggest improvement last season.

After finishing #32 in the NFL in both rushing yards and rushing average in 2018, the Cardinals finished the 2019 season having averaged over 5.0 yards per rush attempt as a team for the first time in franchise history. Arizona averaged a franchise-record 5.03 yards per rush attempt last season (1,990 yards & 18 TDs on 396 attempts).

21 NOW WITH 25 INTERCEPTIONS

The Cardinals selected CB Patrick Peterson with the fifth pick in the 2011 NFL Draft, and in his first nine seasons, he earned eight Pro Bowl selections and was named first-team All-Pro three times. PETERSON RETURNS MOTIVATED FOR 2020

Peterson on his offseason preparations (August 21, 2020): "I believe this offseason was one of the hardest offseasons that I grind. ... I put my body through certain situations this offseason that were much different than my previous offseasons, so I'm just ready.

"I'm just extremely focused, extremely dialed in and just ready to play some of my best football I've ever played in my 10-year career."

BUDDA PICKS UP WHERE HE LEFT OFF

Recently signed to a four-year contract extension, S Budda Baker enjoyed a breakout campaign in 2019.

Arizona's second-round pick (36th overall) in the 2017 NFL Draft, Baker was named to his second Pro Bowl last season, becoming the eighth Cardinals safety to earn the honor and the first player in franchise history selected as a special teamer (2017) and position player (2019). He also became the 15th player in team history selected to multiple Pro Bowls in his first three NFL seasons.

After leading all NFL DBs and ranking fourth overall with a career-high 147 tackles last season, Baker had a career-high 15 tackles in the 2020 season-opener against San Francisco, which tied for second in the league in Week 1.

MURPHY RISES TO THE CHALLENGE

In 2019, after starting CB Robert Alford suffered a season-ending injury during training camp, CB Byron Murphy Jr. was pressed into action and started all 16 games as a rookie.

He finished the season with 10 passes defended, which ranked third by a first-year player in franchise history, trailing only Dominique Rodgers-Cromartie (19 in 2008) and Patrick Peterson (13 in 2011).

During the Week 1 victory at San Francisco – with Arizona protecting a four-point lead and 47 second left in the game – Murphy again answered the bell with back-to-back pass deflections to end the 49ers scoring threat and seal the win.

Just three players in Cardinals history – Rodgers-Cromartie, Peterson and A.J. Jefferson – had more passes defended than Murphy (12) through the first 17 games of their career.

ANOTHER GAME, ANOTHER INTERCEPTION FOR HICKS

Hicks secured his 10th-career INT – and his third in a five game stretch – when he picked off 49ers QB Jimmy Garoppolo in Week 11 last season. Dating back to his rookie year in 2015, Hicks' 10 INTs lead all active NFL LBs.

KICKING HIS WAY TO THE TOP

In 2019, K Zane Gonzalez had the best year of his career – and one of the best seasons by a kicker in franchise history – earning Pro Bowl alternate status.

The NFC "Special Teams Player of the Month" for October, Gonzalez made 31 FGs, which ranked fourth in the NFL last season and marked the third-highest total in team history.

Prior to last year, Gonzalez's career high for FGs was 15 in 2017. He had seven more FGs in 2019 (31) than he had in his first two NFL seasons combined (24).

Since joining the Cardinals in 2017, Lee is tied for the NFL lead with a 47.9-yard punting average.

SPECIAL TEAMS COMES UP BIG

Third-year LB Ezekiel Turner – a PFWA All-Rookie pick as a special teamer in 2018 – made one of the biggest plays of the game in Arizona's Week 1 victory over San Francisco.

He set up the Cardinals first TD of the game in the first quarter when he blocked a 49ers punt, which was recovered by LB Dennis Gardeck and returned to the SF 10-yard line. It was the Cardinals first blocked punt since the 2018 season finale, which was also recovered by Gardeck for a TD.

CARDINALS COVID-19 RELIEF EFFORTS (TEAM INITIATIVES)

Since the COVID-19 pandemic hit the country earlier this year the effects of the outbreak have reached every corner of the U.S. and has had a devastating impact on citizens and businesses across the nation. The Cardinals organization – along with the players and staff – immediately mobilized to donate time, money and other resources throughout Arizona to assist the individuals, businesses, schools, frontline health care personnel and other organizations that have been so greatly affected by the crisis.

$1 MILLION FOUNDING CONTRIBUTION TO THE AZ CORONAVIRUS RELIEF FUND

On March 24, the Cardinals made a $1 million founding contribution to the AZ Coronavirus Relief Fund. As part of the Arizona Together initiative launched earlier that day by Governor Doug Ducey, the fund was set up established to provide financial support to organizations working to mitigate the impacts of COVID-19 in Arizona. Initially, it focused on the following immediate needs:

- Funding of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) for frontline medical personnel.
- Non-profit organizations that support the most vulnerable Arizonans through food banks, homeless shelters, domestic violence facilities, and other services.
- Providing disadvantaged students with the technology necessary to transition to online learning.

“Like so many in our community, this unprecedented crisis has us asking what we can do to help and what might have the greatest impact,” said Cardinals Owner Michael Bidwill said of the donation. “We are grateful for the creation of this relief fund, and proud to support its critically important mission and hope that others throughout the community can join this effort in whatever way that they are able. As a team, we will continue to work on additional ways to make a difference and know that as a community we will get through this challenging time together.”

To assist local businesses during the crisis, the Cardinals made a $100,000 donation to Local First Arizona, Arizona’s Coronavirus Micro Grant Fund

MILLION MEALS DONATION TO LOCAL FOOD BANKS

In early April, the Cardinals and State Farm partnered on an historic initiative to address a pressing local need arising from the COVID-19 pandemic. The number of people seeking assistance from local food banks more than doubled as a result of the unparalleled crisis. Unfortunately, the number of donations to them decreased just as dramatically.

As part of their on-going commitment to improve the local community, State Farm and the Cardinals helped tackle the issue by donating over a million 1,000,000 meals that were distributed to five non-profit organizations throughout the Valley. The five groups involved in the “Million Meal” donation were:

- St. Mary’s Food Bank
- St. Vincent DePaul
- United Food Bank
- Phoenix Rescue Mission
- Midwest Food Bank

ORGANIZATION LAUNCHES “CARDINALS CARRY-OUT” INITIATIVE TO ASSIST INDEPENDENT, LOCALLY OWNED RESTAURANTS

On April 13 the team launched “Cardinals Carry-out” - an unprecedented initiative with a dual purpose: assist independent, locally-owned restaurants hit hard by the coronavirus crisis and recognize those working on the front lines of the pandemic in the medical community, law enforcement and emergency services.

Cardinals players and fans nominated their favorite establishments for inclusion on the team’s interactive statewide map and supported them with take-out business.

In the spirit of the NFL Draft, the team selected establishments from the map each day and purchased meals which were delivered to nurses, doctors, first responders and others who work daily to combat the impact of COVID-19.

When it was launched, the first 47 establishments on the map reflected the favorites of Cardinals players and staff as well as those near area hospitals suggested by Local First Arizona. Within the first week, over 800 restaurants throughout the state have been added based on recommendations from fans.

“It’s great that a major sports team would put together such a thing that is community driven and helps restaurants navigate these tough times...we’re kind of in survival mode but we’re going to make it out,” said Chris Hove, owner of Perfect Pear Bistro in Chandler which was recommended by defensive lineman Zach Allen.

HOSTING CRITICAL BLOOD DRIVES, DRIVE-THROUGH TESTING AND PPE DRIVES AT STATE FARM STADIUM

One area hit particularly hard by the COVID-19 crisis was the local blood donation community, where the supply reached critically low levels during a crucial time in March. In a seven-day span between March 19 and March 26, nearly 200 blood drives in Arizona were cancelled, resulting in the loss of more than 5,000 blood donations for hospital patients.

To assist in meeting this direly pressing need, the Cardinals partnered with Dignity Health and Cigna to host a major one-day blood drive at State Farm Stadium. In conjunction with Scottsdale-based Vitalant (pronounced “vye-TAL-ent” and formerly known as United Blood Services) the event took place at State Farm Stadium on March 31. All donation slots for the drive were filled within hours of the event being announced.

The outpouring of support from the community resulted in two additional blood drives being scheduled at State Farm Stadium. On back-to-backs on April 7-8, in conjunction with the American Red Cross, the Cardinals partnered with Anheuser-Busch to host blood drives at State Farm Stadium and all donation slots were again filled.

On April 15, the Cardinals and Project C.U.R.E hosted a Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) drive at State Farm Stadium. The event was to help collect equipment for use by those in the local healthcare community, including eye protection, face shields, surgical masks, N95 masks, gloves, shoe covers and hand sanitizer.

In May, the Cardinals and Dignity Health partnered to participate in the state’s drive-through COVID-19 testing blitz by hosting events open to the public at State Farm Stadium.

CARDINALS COVID-19 RELIEF EFFORTS (PLAYER INITIATIVES)

KLIFF KINGSBURY – $50,000 DONATION TO THE NAVAJO RELIEF FUND (NRF)

The Native American population in Arizona was hit particularly hard by the COVID-19 outbreak and the Cardinals head coach was among the many who stepped up to help. In April, Kingsbury donated $50,000 to the Navajo Relief Fund to assist one of the communities that was most affected – the Navajo Nation. The NRF was established to help with the shortage of healthy food, safe drinking water, healthcare and supply stores in remote reservation communities. During the pandemic, the fund served as urgent need in making available food, water and other basic supplies.

DEANDRE HOPKINS – $150,000 DONATION TO THE ARIZONA CORONAVIRUS RELIEF FUND; #THEREALHEROES PROJECT

It didn't take long for the All-Pro wideout to make a significant impact in Arizona. On March 27, 2020 - just a week after being acquired by the Cardinals — Hopkins announced a $150,000 donation to the AZ Coronavirus Relief Fund, which was established to provide financial support to multiple organizations trying to deal with the impact of COVID-19. Money raised by Arizona Relief Fund goes to purchasing Personal Protective Equipment for medical personnel working with the coronavirus patients; supporting non-profits that aid the most vulnerable such as food banks, homeless shelters and domestic violence facilities; and providing technology for disadvantaged students needed for online learning.

Hopkins was among the sports stars who participated in a national project to recognize and celebrate health care workers for their efforts on the front lines of the coronavirus pandemic. "The Real Heroes Project" was a collaboration involving Hopkins and athletes from a combined 14 leagues. Others include New Orleans Saints QB Drew Brees, New York Yankees All-Star outfielder Aaron Judge, U.S. women's soccer stars Carli Lloyd and Alex Morgan, and Hockey Hall of Famer Wayne Gretzky. In the PSA – which was released on National Nurses Day - Hopkins recognized local nurse Tracy Thomas, an RN at Dignity Health St. Joseph's Hospital and Medical Center. She was selected in recognition of the incredible work she has done leading the COVID-19 Response

CHANDLER JONES – DONATED 150,000 MEALS TO FOOD BANKS IN ARIZONA AND NEW YORK

In late March, the Cardinals All-Pro LB donated over 150,000 meals to food banks in both Arizona and his hometown of Endicott, NY to assist with families affected by the Coronavirus outbreak. Jones provided meals to St. Mary's Food Bank and Midwest Food Bank of Arizona while also donating to Mother Teresa's Cupboard through the Catholic Charities of Broome County in New York.

JORDAN HICKS – $100,000 TO IMPACT CHURCH COVID-19 RELIEF EFFORTS; ANIMAL ADOPTION INITIATIVE

Following a career year on the field in his first season with Arizona, Hicks joined his wife, Ivana, to announce in April that they would match and donate up to $100,000 to their church in Scottsdale – Impact Church – to assist single mothers during the pandemic. Those efforts included providing meals and helping cover rent and mortgage payments. Hicks' donation also helped facilitate a COVID-19 drive-through testing initiative at the church that saw over 500 people receive free tests.

Hicks and his wife also organized an animal adoption campaign in Austin that saw 260 animals adopted in under a week. The couple partnered with Austin (TX) Pets Alive to provide new pet owners with a care package that included a crate, pet food, treats, a leash and a toy.

KYLER MURRAY – $25,000 DONATION TO GENYOUth FOR ITS COVID-19 EMERGENCY SCHOOL NUTRITION FUND

With schools across the country closed because of the coronavirus, the reigning NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year stepped up in April to help children who counted on school meals to be fed on a daily basis. He donated $25,000 to GENYOUth for its COVID-19 Emergency School Nutrition Fund, which was established to provide resources that allowed school meal programs to continue despite school closures.

ISAIAH SIMMONS – DONATED 60,000 MEALS TO HARVEST COMPASSION CENTERS IN ARIZONA

Within a week of becoming the #8 overall pick in the 2020 NFL Draft, the former Clemson star was already reaching out to help people in Arizona struggling as a result of the pandemic. Simmons teamed up with the Cardinals and Bose to donate 60,000 meals to the Harvest Compassion Center for its facilities in Phoenix, Maryvale and Chandler. Harvest Compassion Center is a food and clothing bank dedicated to providing a hope-filled environment to the underserved in the greater Phoenix area. HCC locations offer free food, hygiene, baby, home and clothing items to the many Arizonans living below the poverty line.

LARRY FITZGERALD – DELIVERING MEALS TO HEALTHCARE WORKERS AND FRONTLINE STAFF

One of the most prolific WRs in NFL history, Fitzgerald long ago set the standard for making an impact in the community – and those efforts continued during the COVID-19 outbreak. In late April, he teamed with Steak 44, Ocean 44 and Dominick's to deliver meals to healthcare workers all over the Valley. In addition to helping those who have gone above-and-beyond to serve the community during the pandemic, it also served as a very personal cause for Fitzgerald, who's late mother, Carol, was a nurse.

COREY PETERS – STARTED VIRTUAL BOOK CLUB FOR ARIZONA HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

A passionate advocate for reading, the Cardinals starting DT set up an in-person book club a few years ago. When the pandemic hit, forcing the closure of schools and the enforcement of social distancing, Peters saw an opportunity to make the book club virtual. So in May, he launched the virtual book club "The Corey Peterson Playbook" to help provide an educational outlet for all Arizona high school students during the COVID-19 crisis.

PATRICK PETERSON – DONATED TO ARIZONA FIRST RESPONDERS ON MEMORIAL DAY WEEKEND

With Memorial Day occurring in the middle of the pandemic, the Cardinals All-Pro helped keep the spirit of the holiday when he teamed with Pit Boss Grills to donate grill products and gift cards to Arizona first responders. Peterson had his followers on social media nominate a first responder of their choice and he selected three winners on Memorial Day who each received a new top-of-the-line grill, grilling products and a gift card from Bashas supermarket.

DEVON KENNARD – DELIVERED MEALS TO FOUR VALLEY FIRE DEPARTMENTS; VIRTUAL HOSPITAL VISITS

In May, Arizona native – and Cardinals 2020 free agent signing – Kennard gave back to his hometown when he teamed with Salad and Go to provide dinner for firefighters at four different fire stations in the Ahwatukee area.

Every year Cardinals players and staff make numerous visits to Phoenix Children's Hospital to lift the spirits of the children and their families in pediatric units. Due to COVID-19 and the resulting safety restrictions, those visits have taken a new form. In late August, Kennard became the first Cardinals player to take the controls of a telepresence robot in order to spend time with children at PCH. While Kennard was at training camp at State Farm Stadium, he was able to drive the robot through the halls of PCH and interact with children through a video monitor.
