DETROIT LIONS (0-2)

VS.

ARIZONA CARDINALS (2-0)

State Farm Stadium | September 27, 2020 | 1:25 PM

THIS WEEK'S PREVIEW

After defeating Washington 30-15 in the home-opener last Sunday, the Cardinals will try to improve to 3-0 on the year when they host the Detroit Lions at State Farm Stadium this week.

Familiar opponents over the last two decades, the Cardinals and Lions are squaring off for the 17th time in the last 22 years (1999-2020) and for the eighth time in the last nine years. Sunday's game will mark the third time the Cardinals have hosted the Lions at State Farm Stadium in the last three seasons. Arizona is also hosting Detroit for the sixth time in the last nine seasons.

The Lions hold a 33-28-6 advantage in the all-time series but the Cardinals have won seven of the last 10 meetings. They last faced each other in Week 1 last season, when Arizona came back from an 18-point fourth quarter deficit to tie the game at 24 with under a minute remaining before the teams traded FGs in OT as the game ended in a 27-27 tie.

Sunday's game at State Farm Stadium features quarterbacks who were #1 overall picks. Arizona QB Kyler Murray and Detroit QB Matthew Stafford - two of the eight active QBs taken #1 overall in the NFL Draft - square off for the second time. The Cardinals made Murray the #1 overall pick in 2019 while Stafford was taken #1 overall by the Lions in 2009.

WR Larry Fitzgerald will be playing his 112th career game at State Farm Stadium on Sunday when he faces the Lions for the 13th time in his 17 NFL seasons. The Cardinals All-Pro wideout enters Sunday's game with 57 receptions for 681 yards and six TDs against the Lions.

Far less experienced against Detroit is fellow All-Pro WR DeAndre Hopkins. Following a record-setting start to his Arizona career, Hopkins will be facing the Lions for just the second time (2016).

Facing his former team will be Cardinals LB and Phoenix native Devon Kennard, who played the last two seasons (2018-19) with the Lions before signing with his hometown team in the offseason. With 4.0 sacks in his last two games played at State Farm Stadium (3.0 last season with the Lions; 1.0 last week vs. Washington), Kennard will look to keep his sack streak going against former teammate Matthew Stafford.

Following this week's game the Cardinals face a three-game road stretch that will feature consecutive games on the East Coast (Week 4 @ Carolina; Week 5 @ NY Jets) before a Monday Night matchup in Dallas in Week 6. Detroit will return home to face New Orleans at Ford Field.

MURRAY'S FIRST-OF-A-KIND START IN 2020

QB Kyler Murray has led the Cardinals to a 2-0 record to start the 2020 season while throwing for 516 yards and two TDs and adding 158 rushing yards and three TDs.

He is the first QB in the Super Bowl era to pass for 500+ yards and rush for 150+ yards through the first two games of a season.

Murray is also the first QB in NFL history with 150+ rushing yards and 3+ rushing TDs in the first two games of a season.

#DETvsAZ - WEEK 3 HIGHLIGHTS

- This week's game marks the 68th all-time matchup between the Cardinals and Lions, including the eighth meeting in the last nine seasons.
- With a win this week, Arizona would improve to 4-1 in its last five games.
- With 22 catches in two games, WR DeAndre Hopkins established an NFL record for most receptions in a player's first two games with a team. Hopkins' 22 receptions lead the NFL and represent the highest total in franchise history through the first two games of a season.
- The first three players signed by the Cardinals in free agency this offseason were LBs Devon Kennard and DeVondre Campbell and DL Jordan Phillips. Through the first two games, the trio has combined for 19 tackles, 3 TFL, 2.0 sacks, 2 QB hits, 2 passes defended and a forced fumble.
- The 2020 season marks just the second time in franchise history (1976) Arizona posted 400+ net yards and 20+ first downs in each of the first two games of a season. The team has never done it in the first three games.

ALL-TIME SERIES

This week's matchup between the Cardinals and Lions represents the 68th all-time regular season meeting in a rivalry that dates back to 1930. The Lions hold a 33-28-6 advantage in the all-time series but the Cardinals have won seven of the last 10 meetings between the two teams.

Arizona and Detroit have been frequent opponents in the regular season over the last two decades. This week's matchup is the 17th meeting between the two teams in the last 22 years (1999-2020) and the eighth in the last nine years.

This Sunday's game will mark the third time the Cardinals have hosted the Lions at State Farm Stadium in the last three seasons. Arizona is also hosting Detroit for the sixth time in the last nine seasons.

The series dates back to the days of the Chicago Cardinals and the Portsmouth (OH) Spartans. They first squared off in October of 1930, playing to a 0-0 tie in at Universal Stadium in Portsmouth, OH. Coincidentally, the last game they played against each other was also a tie (27-27) in the 2019 season-opener.

Matt Patricia

Kliff Kingsbury became an NFL head coach for the first time when he was hired by the Cardinals on January 11, 2019, coming to Arizona after six seasons (2013-18) as the head coach at his alma mater, Texas Tech. In Kingsbury's first season with the Cardinals, the offense went from #32 overall in scoring in 2018 to #16 in 2019 and went from #32 overall in scoring drives in 2018 to number #9. Known for his work with QBs in the college ranks, Kingsbury helped guide first-year signal-caller Kyler Murray, the #1 overall pick in the 2019 draft, to AP NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year honors last season. While at Texas Tech, Kingsbury served as the play-caller for one of college football's most explosive offenses that ranked in the top-20 in total offense all six seasons. A former star QB at Texas Tech, Kingsbury was drafted by the Patriots in the sixth round of the 2003 NFL Draft and also spent time with the Saints and Jets during his playing career.

Named the 27th head coach in franchise history on February 5, 2018, Matt Patricia is in his third season with the Lions and his third season as a head coach in the NFL. Prior to being named head coach in Detroit, Patricia spent six seasons (2012-17) as defensive coordinator in New England. Patricia had been with the Patriots organization since 2004 and helped the franchise win three Super Bowl Championships, six AFC Conference titles and 13 AFC East titles. During Patricia's six seasons as defensive coordinator in New England, the Patriots accumulated an NFL-best 75-21 record and second in points allowed per game (19.2).

CARDS OPEN HOME SLATE WITH A WIN

Following a 30-15 victory vs. Washington last week in their 15th home opener at State Farm Stadium, the Cardinals remain at home this week as they host the Detroit Lions.

With the victory over Washington last week, Arizona improved to 10-5 in home openers at State Farm Stadium.

Opened in 2006, State Farm Stadium has proved a catalyst for the Cardinals success in the last decade-plus.

The Cardinals have posted a winning record at home in eight of 14 full seasons at State Farm Stadium, earning four playoff berths and three NFC West titles during that time. The Cardinals finished .500 or better just twice and made the playoffs only one time in 18 seasons prior.

Below is a look at the results at State Farm Stadium compared to 18 seasons at Sun Devil Stadium.

Overall Comparison Statistic	14+ seasons at State Farm Stadium	18 seasons at Sun Devil Stadium

In five seasons between 2013-17, the Cardinals posted a winning record each season, which represents the longest such streak in franchise history. Between 2007-17 Arizona posted a record of .500 or better in 11 consecutive seasons.

14 SEASONS AND 144 SELLOUTS

Arizona sold out every game (preseason and postseason included) in the first 14 seasons at the venue. There were only 12 games that sold out in time to be televised locally in 18 years at Sun Devil Stadium.

BIRD GANG BRINGS THE NOISE - ONE OF THE NFL'S LOUDEST VENUES

Dating back to the inaugural year at State Farm Stadium in 2006, Cards opponents have accumulated 180 accepted false start penalties in the regular season. That is the most for any home team in the NFL during that span.

FITZ ON THE VERGE OF STADIUM HISTORY

Last week's home-opener vs. Washington was WR Larry Fitzgerald's 111th career game at State Farm Stadium. He has now appeared in 111 of 113 regular season games played at the venue since it opened in 2006. Fitzgerald has also played in all 15 home openers at State Farm Stadium.

The 11-time Pro Bowler caught seven passes against Washington last Sunday, giving him 645 career receptions at State Farm Stadium. He enters this week's game vs. Detroit needing just two receptions to pass Hall of Famer Jerry Rice (646 at Candlestick Park) for the most receptions in NFL history in a single stadium.

THE LAST TIME THEY MET

On Sunday - for the second time in their last nine home games - the Cardinals are hosting the Detroit Lions at State Farm Stadium. The last time the two teams met was in Week 1 last season when they played to a 27-27 tie.

Below are some highlights from the Week 1 matchup last season:

- Arizona overcame an 18-point 4th quarter deficit to tie the game 24-24 with just 0:43 remaining in the 4th quarter on a Kyler Murray to Larry Fitzgerald 4-yard TD pass. The teams then traded FGs in the OT period.

- It was the 41st game in Cardinals history to end in a tie but just the second in the last 34 years (1987-2020). It was the sixth all-time tie between the Lions and Cardinals.

- Improbable Comeback: Entering the game, the Cardinals had a 2-288 record in games in which they trailed by at least 18 points in the 4th quarter. Arizona had lost 96 consecutive games in which it trailed by at least 18 points in the 4th quarter before coming back to earn a tie vs. Detroit.

- After scoring just once on its first 10 drives, Arizona scored on five of its final six drives in the comeback.

- Murray Leads Comeback in Debut: Making his NFL debut, Murray completed 29-of-54 pass attempts for 308 yards, 2 TDs, an INT and a 75.2 pass rating against the Lions. He sparked the comeback with his performance in the 4th quarter and OT when he completed 20-of-29 pass attempts (68.9%) for 238 yards, 2 TDs, 0 INTs and a 116.7 passer rating. He became the first rookie QB in franchise history to throw for 300+ yards in his first-ever game.

#1 OVERALL PICKS

There is only one Week 3 match-up that features quarterbacks who were #1 overall picks. That game will take place in Arizona when Cardinals QB Kyler Murray squares off against Lions QB Matthew Stafford at State Farm Stadium.

It marks the second consecutive season Murray and Stafford have squared off at State Farm Stadium. Arizona and Detroit met in Week 1 last year and played to a 27-27 tie. It was the first and only game in either QB's career that ended in a tie.

The Cardinals made Murray - the 2018 Heisman Trophy winner - the #1 overall pick in the 2019 NFL Draft out of Oklahoma. Stafford was taken #1 overall by the Lions in the 2009 NFL Draft out of Georgia.

There are eight QBs taken with the #1 overall pick in the NFL Draft currently active.

ARIZONA IMPROVES TO 2-0 WITH VICTORY OVER WASHINGTON

2-0 AND TIED ATOP THE NFC WEST

The Cardinals defeated Washington 30-15 in Arizona's 2020 home opener at State Farm Stadium last week. Arizona has now started a season 2-0 for the first time since 2015 and just the sixth time in the last 30 seasons (2020, 2015, 2014, 2012, 2008, 1991).

After going 2-11-1 in the month of September over the previous four seasons (2016-19), the Cardinals have now kicked off the first month of the 2020 season with a 2-0 record.

LEADING THE WAY IN THE NFL'S TOP DIVISION

Through two weeks, Arizona sits atop the winningest division in the NFL. The NFC West has compiled a 7-1 record so far in 2020. No other division has more than five wins. The NFC West is just the second division since division realignment in 2002 to have a least seven wins through the first two weeks of a season (AFC West in 2002).

The NFC West is also the only division in which each team has a positive point differential.

2020 NFC West Standings

Team	W	L	PF	PA	Hm	Road	Div	Conf
Arizona	2	0	54	35	1-0	1-0	1-0	2-0
L.A. Rams	2	0	57	36	1-0	1-0	0-0	2-0
Seattle	2	0	73	55	1-0	1-0	0-0	1-0
San Francisco	1	1	51	37	0-1	1-0	0-1	0-1

OFFENSE CONTINUES TO ROLL

After posting 404 total yards in the victory over San Francisco in Week 1, the Cardinals upped that total in Week 2 and finished with 438 total yards (160 rushing; 278 passing) in the victory over Washington.

It marks the sixth time Arizona reached 400+ total yards in 18 games under head coach Kliff Kingsbury. Arizona reached 400+ yards just once over the two seasons combined (2017-18) prior to Kingsbury's arrival.

The 2020 season marks just the second time in franchise history (1976) that the Cardinals have posted 400+ net yards and 20+ first downs in each of the first two games of a season.

Only five times in franchise history have the Cardinals had more net yards in the first two games of a season than they have in 2020. Arizona's 842 yards are the most through two games since the team had 903 yards in 1984.

Franchise History – Most Yards Thru 2 Games

5	1965	846	201	645
6t	2020	842	340	502
6t	1959	842	351	491

The Cardinals have 340 rushing yards and 502 net passing yards in 2020. It's just the second time in franchise history Arizona has had 300+ rushing yards and 500+ passing yards through two games. In 1984, the Cardinals had 378 rushing yards and 525 passing yards through two games.

Through two games, the Arizona offense ranks:

LONG SUNDAY DRIVES IN 2020

Of the Cardinals six scoring drives in last week's win, four consisted of at least 10 plays and three covered at least 70 yards. Through two games, Arizona has five scoring drives of 10+ plays (14, 12, 1, 10, 10) and five scoring drives of 70+ yards (94, 75, 75, 75, 74).

SPREADING THE BALL AROUND

In the victory over Washington, Arizona had four different players post 50+ receiving yards – DeAndre Hopkins (68), Andy Isabella (67), Christian Kirk (57) and Larry Fitzgerald (50) – and two different players rush for 60+ yards – Kenyan Drake (86) and Kyler Murray (67).

DEFENSE GETS IT DONE AGAIN

On the birthday of defensive coordinator Vance Joseph, Arizona's defense held Washington scoreless in the first half and allowed just 15 points in the win last week. Dating back to last season, it marks the third time in the last four games Arizona held an opponent to 20 points or fewer.

Through the first two weeks of the 2020 season, Arizona ranks second in the NFL allowing just 17.5 points per game.

SACKS FOR EVERYONE

Four different Cardinals defenders recorded their first sack of the season in the victory over Washington last week: Corey Peters, Devon Kennard, Jordan Phillips and Haason Reddick. Through two games, seven different Arizona defenders have a sack.

FREE AGENT TRIO MAKING STRONG EARLY IMPRESSION

The first three players signed by the Cardinals in free agency this offseason were LBs Devon Kennard and DeVondre Campbell and DL Jordan Phillips. Through the first two games this season, the trio has combined for 19 tackles, 3 TFL, 2.0 sacks, 2 QB hits, 2 passes defended and a forced fumble.

DEFENSE MAKING A STAND

After making a game-changing goal line stand in Week 1 at San Francisco, the Cardinals defense held Washington to one TD in three red zone possessions and no TDs in two goal-to-goal situations last week.

PILING UP YARDS ON THE GROUND

After posting 180 rushing yards and two TDs on 36 attempts (5.0 avg.) in Week 1 at San Francisco, the Cardinals rushed for 160 yards and two TDs on 32 attempts (5.0 avg.) vs. Washington last week. It marks the first time since 1979 the Cardinals rushed for 160+ yards in each of the first two games of a season.

Last week's contest marked the seventh time the Cardinals have rushed for 150+ yards in 18 games under Kliff Kingsbury. Arizona had seven such games in the three seasons (2016-18) prior to his arrival.

Through two weeks, Arizona's 340 rushing yards rank fifth in the NFL.

3	L.A. Rams	344	79	4.4
4	Baltimore	341	67	5.1
5	Arizona	340	68	5.0

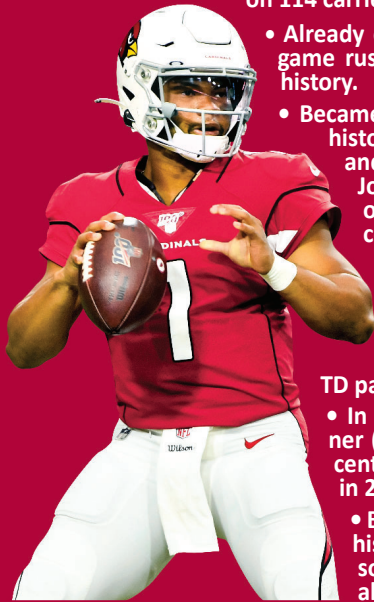

In 18 games under Kingsbury, the Cardinals have rushed for 2,330 yards and 22 TDs on 464 carries (5.02 avg.). That is an average of 129.4 yards per game.

With the victory over Washington last Sunday, Arizona improved to 6-1 in games it has rushed for 150+ yards under Kingsbury.

KYLER MURRAY - AT A GLANCE

- Voted a team captain in 2020.
- Named the 2019 AP NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year.
- In 18 NFL starts, has completed 401-of-620 pass attempts (64.7%) for 4,238 yards and 22 TDs while rushing for 702 yards and seven TDs on 114 carries (6.2 avg.).

- Already owns five of the top nine single-game rushing totals by a QB in franchise history.

- Became just the 6th different QB in NFL history with 3,500+ passing yards and 500+ rushing yards in a season. Joined Cam Newton (2011) as the only rookies in NFL history to accomplish the feat.

- Set franchise rookie records for wins by a QB (5), passing yards (3,722), TD passes (20), completions (349), attempts (542), and games with multiple TD passes (8).

- In franchise history, only Kurt Warner (3x) had a better completion percentage in a season than Murray had in 2019 (64.39).

- Became the first rookie QB in team history to start all 16 games in a season and was only rookie QB to start all 16 games in 2019 (NFL's first since 2016).

- His 544 rushing yards were the most by a QB in franchise history, surpassing the previous record of 501 (Hall of Famer Charley Trippi in 1951).

- First QB in team history to throw for 3,000+ yards and run for 500+ yards in a season.

- First QB in team history with 20+ TD passes and 4+ rushing TDs.

- Joined Carson Palmer and Kurt Warner as the only QBs in franchise history to have a passer rating of 90+ in at least seven games in a single season.

- One of three rookies in NFL history with at least five 300-yard passing performances: Andrew Luck (6 in 2012) and Daniel Jones (5 in 2019).

- Between Weeks 4-10, set an NFL rookie record with 211 consecutive pass attempts without an INT.

- First player in NFL history with 20+ completions in each of his first six games.

- Joined Cam Newton (2011) as the only QBs in NFL history to throw for 300+ yards in each of their first two career games.

- Became the first Cardinals rookie QB to start a season opener since Lamar McHan in 1954.

BRINGING HOME R.O.Y. HONORS

In February, Murray was named the Associated Press 2019 NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year. He became the third player in team history to be selected as the NFL's Offensive Rookie of the Year: RB Ottis Anderson (1979) and WR Anquan Boldin (2003).

RARE NUMBERS IN YEAR ONE

With 3,722 passing yards and 544 rushing yards in 2019, Murray became just the sixth different QB in NFL history with 3,500+ passing yards and 500+ rushing yards in a season. Murray and Carolina's Cam Newton (2011) are the only rookie QBs in NFL history to accomplish the feat.

MURRAY DOING IT ALL TO START YEAR TWO

In leading the Cardinals to back-to-back wins to start the 2020 season, QB Kyler Murray has thrown for 516 yards and two TDs while rushing for 158 yards and three TDs.

In doing so, he became the first QB in the Super Bowl era to pass for 500+ yards and rush for 150+ yards through the first two games of a season.

In Week 1 at San Francisco, Murray threw for 230 yards and a TD and also rushed for 91 yards and a TD. Last Sunday vs. Washington, he threw for 286 yards and a TD while rushing for 67 yards and two TDs on just eight carries.

Below is a breakdown at what Murray has accomplished in the first two games:

MURRAY THROUGH TWO GAMES IN 2020

- Became the first QB in NFL history to rush for 150+ yards and 3+ TDs in the first two games of a season.

- Is the first Cardinals player in franchise history - regardless of position - to rush for 150+ yards and 3+ TDs in the first two games of a season.

- Became the first Cardinals QB with a passing and rushing TD in consecutive games since Jim Hart accomplished the feat in 1969.

- Had TD runs of 14 and 21 yards against Washington in Week 2, becoming the first Cardinals QB with multiple rushing TDs of 14+ yards in a game since Hall of Famer Charley Trippi (18 and 26 yards) against the Chicago Bears on 12/16/51 at Wrigley Field.

A RARE PERFORMER AMONG CARDINALS QBs

Against San Francisco in Week 1, Murray threw for 230 yards and rushed for 91 yards. There have been three games in franchise history in which a QB passed for 200+ yards and rushed for 90+ yards. Murray is responsible for two of those performances.

Franchise History – Games w/ 200+ Pass Yds & 90+ Rush Yds

RUNNING IT IN FROM A DISTANCE

Murray had TD runs of 14 and 21 yards vs. Washington last week. His 21-yard TD run in the fourth quarter was his third career TD run of 20+ yards (22-yarder at San Francisco in Week 1 of 2020; 22-yarder at San Francisco in Week 11 of 2019).

He is the only QB with at least three TD runs of 20+ yards dating back to last season.

HOPKINS' RECORD-SETTING START

After catching a career-high 14 passes in his Cardinals debut at San Francisco in Week 1, WR DeAndre Hopkins followed up with eight catches for 68 yards and a TD in last Sunday's win over Washington.

With 22 catches in two games, Hopkins established an NFL record for most receptions in a player's first two games with a team. The previous record of 19 was set by Earl Cooper (San Francisco) in 1980 and matched by Eric Metcalf (Atlanta) in 1995.

Rnk	Player (Team)	Rec	Year

AZ COMES BACK IN WEEK 1

The Cardinals defeated the defending NFC Champion San Francisco 49ers 24-20 in the season-opener at Levi's Stadium. With the victory, Arizona earned its first Week 1 win since 2015 and first Week 1 road victory since 2010.

With the victory, Arizona improved to 5-2 at Levi's Stadium. The Cardinals also improved to 9-2 in their last 11 games vs. the 49ers.

COMING FROM BEHIND FOR THE WIN

• The Cardinals (who trailed 13-10 entering the 4th quarter) were one of seven teams to come back to win after trailing in the fourth quarter on Kickoff Weekend (Chicago, Jacksonville, Las Vegas, the L.A. Chargers, Tennessee Titans and Washington). That is the most 4th-quarter comeback victories on Kickoff Weekend since 2016 (nine teams).

• Arizona trailed 10-0 early and entered the 4th quarter trailing 13-10 but went on to earn the comeback victory. In 2019, the Cardinals were 0-7-1 in games they trailed entering the fourth quarter. Prior to the win over the Niners, the last time the Cardinals won a game in which they trailed entering the fourth quarter was on 10/28/18 vs. San Francisco (trailed 12-3 entering the fourth and won 18-15).

• The Cardinals comeback victory was the result of two long fourth quarter TD drives (94 and 75 yards). It marked the first time since 2016 (12/18 vs. New Orleans; 75 and 75 yards) that Arizona had multiple TD drives of 75+ yards in the fourth quarter/OT of a game.

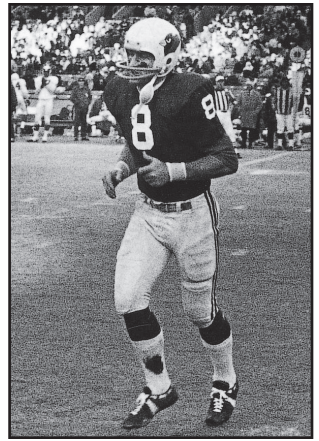

THE PASSING OF A LEGEND

Last week, Hall of Fame safety Larry Wilson passed away at the age of 82.

A legendary figure in NFL history, Wilson spent more than 43 years with the Cardinals organization. Some of those highlights:

- A seventh-round selection in the 1960 Draft out of Utah, he played 13 seasons for the Cardinals
- Earned 8 Pro Bowl selections and was named 1st-team All-Pro 5 times
- Was named to both the NFL's 75th and 100th Anniversary teams
- Enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1978
- Held a variety of roles in the Cardinals front office from 1973-2002 including VP & General Manager from 1988-93

- Inducted into the Cardinals Ring of Honor at State Farm Stadium in 2006, his #8 jersey was retired at the end of his playing career - and is one just five retired jersey numbers in franchise history

Wilson played in 169 games and his toughness and versatility as a player have come to define the safety position. During his career, he is credited with originating the safety blitz, a tactic that was originally named "Wildcat" after Wilson's nickname.

To celebrate the NFL's 100th season last year, Wilson was one of six safeties (Jack Christiansen, Ken Houston, Ronnie Lott, Emlen Tunnell, Ed Reed) selected to the NFL 100 All-Time team after previously being named to the All-NFL team in 1994 to commemorate the league's 75th anniversary.

His 52 INTs are a Cardinals franchise record as are his 800 career INT return yards. Wilson led the NFL with 10 INTs in 1966, a year in which in established a franchise record with INTs in seven straight games, which also is tied for the second-longest streak in NFL history.

Regarded as one of the toughest players in NFL history, Wilson once intercepted a pass in a 1965 game against the Steelers with casts on both hands to protect broken fingers. He returned the INT 35 yards for a TD, giving the Cardinals a 21-17 victory.

Following his playing days, Wilson embarked on a 30-year career as a team executive with the Cardinals. He worked as the team's director of pro scouting (1973-76), director of pro personnel (1977-78) and also served as interim head coach for the final three games of the 1979 season, earning victories over the San Francisco 49ers and New York Giants.

Wilson was appointed to Vice President and General Manager with the team during the Cardinals inaugural season in Arizona in 1988, a position he served through 1993. Wilson continued his role as the team's Vice President until his retirement in 2003.

Larry Wilson was born on March 24, 1938 in Rigby, ID. He is survived by Nancy, his wife of 40 years, as well as daughter Christie, son Larry, Jr. and numerous grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

REMEMBERING LARRY IN THEIR OWN WORDS

Nancy Wilson (Larry's wife of 40 years)

"Larry Wilson was the kindest, most humble person that I will ever know. To most, he was this ferocious and fierce football player who some described as pound for pound the toughest player of his generation. To me, he was the most generous and gentle soul you would ever meet. For Larry, it was always about everyone else and what he could do for them. And especially in the times we live, that's something that that we could use more of today."

Michael Bidwill (Cardinals Owner)

"Besides my father, Larry Wilson was the most influential male figure in my life. He was someone who truly lived his faith and demonstrated it daily in the kindness he showed every single person he met. Any of us lucky enough to be in his orbit - whether that was for a few minutes or four decades - was always better off from the experience. I will remember Larry Wilson first as a fantastic person but then obviously as one of the greatest players the National Football League has ever seen. It's fitting that his passing coincides with the league's 100th birthday because his toughness and the way he revolutionized his position make him one of our game's most unforgettable figures. Whether on the field playing with casts on both hands or brightening the lives of every person he knew, Larry's selflessness defined who he was and how we will all remember him."

Roger Goodell (NFL Commissioner)

"For more than 40 years, Larry Wilson played a remarkable role in the history of the Cardinals and National Football League as a Hall of Fame player and team executive. While he will be recognized for his toughness and excellence on the field and his many contributions to the Cardinals organization, we will also remember Larry as loyal, humble and kind to everyone he met. Larry enriched the lives of many players and colleagues around the league."

Larry helped revolutionize the safety position in his 13 years as the versatile anchor of the Cardinals' defense. His toughness and football instincts earned him recognition as one of the greatest to ever play the game."

BY THE NUMBERS

645

Career receptions for WR Larry Fitzgerald at State Farm Stadium. He needs just two catches to pass Jerry Rice (646 at Candlestick Park) for the most receptions at a single stadium in NFL history.

17.5

Points allowed per game by the Cardinals defense this season, the second-lowest total in the NFL behind only Baltimore (11.0).

26.1

Opponent third down percentage (6-of-23) allowed by the Cardinals defense through two games. That percentage leads the NFL.

7-1

Combined record for the four teams in the NFC West in 2020. The division leads the NFL in wins and is the only division in the league in which all four teams have a positive point differential.

2

Seasons that Arizona has posted 400+ net yards of offense and 20+ first downs in each of the first two games of a season: 2020 and 1976.

842

Total net yards for the Cardinals offense in 2020 (340 rushing, 502 passing). That is the highest total through the first two games of a season since the team posted 903 in 1984.

22

Receptions for WR DeAndre Hopkins in 2020. That represents the highest total in NFL history for a player in his first two games with a team. It also represents a franchise record in the first two games of a season.

20

Consecutive games in which Hopkins has at least five receptions. That is the longest active streak in the NFL and is tied for the second-longest such streak in NFL history.

1

Players in the Super Bowl era who have thrown for 500+ yards and rushed for 150+ yards in the first two games of a season: Kyler Murray. The second-year signal-caller had 516 passing yards and 158 rushing yards in the first two games of 2020.

3

TD runs of 20+ yards for QB Kyler Murray in his first 18 career games. He is the only QB in the NFL with at least three TD runs of 20+ yards dating back to last season. Between 1960 and 2018, the Cardinals had three total TD runs of 20+ yards by a QB.

2-0

Arizona's record in 2020. The Cardinals had a 2-11-1 record in the month of September in the previous four seasons (2016-19) combined.

61.0

Sacks for LB Chandler Jones in 66 career games with the Cardinals. His 61.0 sacks dating back to 2016 are eight more than any other player in the NFL has during that span (Aaron Donald ranks second with 53.0).

160

Rushing yards for the Cardinals in last week's win. Combined with their 180 rushing yards in Week 1 at San Francisco, Arizona rushed for 160+ yards in the first two games of a season for the first time since 1979.

6-1

Arizona's record under Kliff Kingsbury when the team rushes for 150+ yards in a game.

340

Rushing yards for the Cardinals in 2020, which ranks fifth in the NFL.

10

Tackles for LB De'Vondre Campbell in last week's win over Washington, to go along with two tackles for loss and two passes defended. Campbell joined Budda Baker (2019 vs. SF) and Adrian Wilson (2012 vs. Mia) as the only Cardinals defenders in the last nine seasons to post 10+ tackles, 2+ tackles for loss and 2+ passes defended in a game.

3

Career receptions of 50+ yards (88t, 55 and 54) for Cardinals second-year WR Andy Isabella, the most recent of which came last week vs. Washington (54). Isabella has three catches of 50+ yards on 11 career receptions and is averaging 23.3 yards per catch in the NFL.

7

Different Cardinals players who have a sack in 2020: Corey Peterson (1.0), Angelo Blackson (1.0), Haason Reddick (1.0), Chandler Jones (1.0), Devon Kennard (1.0), Zach Allen (1.0) and Jordan Phillips (1.0).

4.0

Sacks for Phoenix native LB Devon Kennard in his last two games at State Farm Stadium. Kennard had a sack last week vs. Washington and had 3.0 sacks when he faced Arizona in Week 1 last season as a member of the Lions.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN WEEK 3

WITH A WIN THIS WEEK...

- Arizona would start a season 3-0 for the first time since 2015 and for just the fifth time since the 1970 merger (2015, 2014, 2012, 1974).
- The Cardinals would improve to 3-0 in the month of September. That would surpass the total number of wins the team had in the month of September in the previous four seasons (2 from 2016-19) combined.
- Arizona would improve to 4-1 in its last five games.

MILESTONES WITHIN REACH

QB Kyler Murray

• With both a passing and rushing TD, Murray would join Jim Hart (4 straight in 1968) and Charley Johnson (3 straight in 1962-63) as the only players in history with both a passing and rushing TD in at least three consecutive games.

WR Larry Fitzgerald

• With a reception, Fitzgerald would have at least one catch in 246 consecutive games, extending the second-longest streak in NFL history (Jerry Rice - 274).

• With two receptions, Fitzgerald would pass Jerry Rice (646 at Candlestick Park) for the most receptions in a single venue in NFL history.

• With 100+ receiving yards, Fitzgerald would have 50 career 100-yard games to extend his franchise record. He would have more than the players in second and third place on the franchise all-time list combined (49).

LB Chandler Jones

• With a sack, Jones would have 3.0 sacks in four career games against Detroit. It would also give him 62.0 sacks in 67 career games with the Cardinals.

WR DeAndre Hopkins

• With a reception, it would extend his streak to 113 consecutive games with a reception. He would have at least one catch in every game of his NFL career.

• With four receptions, Hopkins (26) would establish a franchise record for receptions in the first three games of a season. J.T. Smith (25 in 1989) holds the current mark.

• With five receptions, Hopkins would have 5+ catches in 21 consecutive games, extending the longest active streak in the NFL. It would represent the second-longest such streak in league history.

KEEPING UP WITH THE CARDINALS

Last year the Cardinals launched a new media site on NFL Online Media Guide (www.NFLOMG.com).

The all-encompassing media resource has taken on special importance in following the Cardinals in 2020. Due to safety precautions put in place during the ongoing COVID-19 outbreak, hard copies of the game release, game books, transcripts and other team produced materials are not passed out during the week or on game day at State Farm Stadium.

The Cardinals OMG site is updated continuously and includes the following and more:

- Traditional media guide information
- Player bios that will feature career and seasons stats updated in real-time.
- Official league statistics from NFL GSI
- Tweet-ready charts and stat grids that update in real time
- Customizable in-game reports
- Final game books and statistics
- Records and milestones tracked live
- Postgame quotes

2020 ARIZONA CARDINALS MEDIA GUIDE

EXTRAORDINARY DUO

With the acquisition of WR DeAndre Hopkins this offseason, the Cardinals receiving corps now includes the only wideout to earn 1st-Team All-Pro honors each of the last three seasons (Hopkins) and the receiver who currently ranks second in NFL history in both receptions and receiving yards (Larry Fitzgerald).

Between the two All-Pro's, Fitzgerald and Hopkins have combined for:

Statistic	Total
Total Seasons Played	23
Pro Bowls	15
1 st -Team All-Pro Selections	4
Games Played	364
Seasons of 1,000+ Receiving Yards	14
Seasons of 10+ TD Receptions	8
Seasons Leading NFL in TD Receptions	3
Receptions	2,043
Receiving Yards	25,998
TD Receptions	175
100-Yard Receiving Performances	80
Games with multiple TD Catches	29
Games with 10+ Receptions	27

In their combined 23+ NFL seasons (372 possible games), Fitzgerald and Hopkins have missed a total of eight games. Neither player has ever posted of a season of fewer than 50 receptions or fewer than 700 receiving yards.

GREAT THINGS ACCOMPLISHED AT A YOUNGE AGE

In Week 11 of the 2019 season at Baltimore, Hopkins (27 years, 5 months, 12 days) became the second-youngest player in NFL history to reach 600 career receptions - behind only Larry Fitzgerald.

NFL History – Youngest Players to Reach 600 Receptions	Player	Age	Years
	Larry Fitzgerald	27 years, 3 months, 20 days	2004-10
	DeAndre Hopkins	27 years, 5 months, 12 days	2013-19

Three weeks prior (Week 8 vs. Oakland), Hopkins (27 years, 4 months, 22 days) became the third-youngest player in NFL history to reach 8,000 career receiving yards behind only Fitzgerald and Hall of Famer Randy Moss.

NFL History – Youngest Players to Reach 8,000 Receiving Yards	Player	Age	Years
	Randy Moss	26 years, 9 months, 25 days	1998-03
	Larry Fitzgerald	27 years, 3 months, 20 days	2004-10
	DeAndre Hopkins	27 years, 4 months, 22 days	2013-19

Fitzgerald reached 600 career receptions and 8,000 career receiving yards in the same game (Week 15 at Carolina in 2010).*

ZOOMING IN ON ARIZONA

Among the many safety precautions taken at the outset of the COVID-19 pandemic earliest this year were changes in the way athletes and the media interact.

On March 23 - with both players and most media working from home - Cardinals newly acquired LB Devon Kennard became the first NFL player ever to hold a press conference conducted entirely via Zoom.

Over the next 142 days, Arizona held over 50 press conferences with players and staff before Kennard returned to speak with media over Zoom on the first day of training camp.

His was the first of 66 virtual press availabilities over the three weeks of training camp.

STAY INFORMED OF MEDIA SCHEDULE

All media availability with Cardinals players and coaches this season are being conducted virtually via Zoom.

Members of the media are strongly encouraged to follow the Cardinals Media Relations Twitter account (@AZCardinalsMR) to receive info on times and participants for player and coach Zoom media availability both during the week and on game days.

CARDS CAPTAINS

The Cardinals have eight captains for the 2020, as voted by their teammates. Four players are serving as a captain for the first time in their career.

OFFENSE

WR Larry Fitzgerald - 10th time being named a captain
 QB Kyler Murray - 1st time captain
 OL D.J. Humphries - 1st time captain

DEFENSE

DL Corey Peters - 3rd time being named a captain
 CB Patrick Peterson - 6th time being named a captain
 LB Chandler Jones - 3rd time being named a captain
 LB Jordan Hicks - 1st time captain

SPECIAL TEAMS

LB Dennis Gardeck - 1st time captain

PRO BOWL TALENTS STICKING AROUND

Earlier this offseason, the Cardinals acquired three-time 1st-team All-Pro WR DeAndre Hopkins in a trade with the Houston Texans. Prior to their season-opener (9/8), the team signed him to a contract extension that will keep the four-time Pro Bowler in Arizona through the 2024 season.

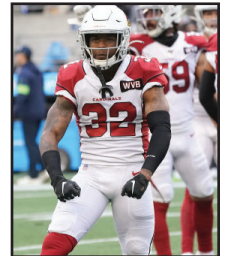

"I know this is a place that I want to be," Hopkins said of signing the extension. "This is an organization that I want to help build and become a contender for the years to come long as I'm here. And for me, that was something that was big and really something that my team also thought was big. The way that I play the game and what I bring to the game, being part of a team long term and helping build it is how I want my legacy to be remembered."

15 DAYS PRIOR - BAKER SIGNS HIS EXTENSION

On August 25, the Cardinals signed S Budda Baker to a four-year contract extension that keeps the Pro Bowl defender under contract with Arizona through the 2024 season.

"The bottom line is you can't find a player who plays with more intensity and passion," GM Steve Keim said of Baker after the deal was announced. "I can promise you there's very few of those guys across the National Football League. When you talk to guys like (Steelers head coach) Mike Tomlin and other coaches across the league prior to the game, the one name that comes up quite a bit is Budda Baker: 'That guy's different.'"

COLLECTING TALENT FROM STATE #48

The Cardinals current roster includes six players who played either high school or college football in the state of Arizona. That includes 2020 seventh round pick RB Eno Benjamin - who had a record-breaking career at Arizona State. Benjamin (222nd overall) was selected in nearly the same spot as the last ASU player drafted before him: S Pat Tillman (7th round, 226th overall) in 1998.

The selection of Benjamin in 2020 marked the third consecutive year that the Cards drafted a player who played high school or college football in Arizona. In 2018 the team drafted WR Christian Kirk and in 2019 it was CB Byron Murphy Jr.

Arizona Products on the Cardinals Roster

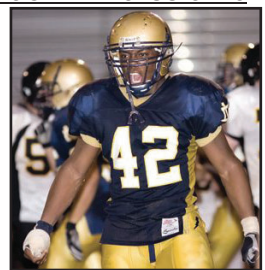

Player	High School (City) / College	Draft Rnd - Year (Team)
RB Eno Benjamin	Arizona State	7th-2020 (Cardinals)
K Zane Gonzalez	Arizona State	7th-2017 (Browns)
QB Brett Hundley	Chandler (Chandler)	5th-2015 (Packers)
LB Devon Kennard	Desert Vista (Phoenix, AZ)	5th-2014 (Giants)
WR Christian Kirk	Saguaro (Scottsdale)	2nd-2018 (Cardinals)
CB Byron Murphy Jr.	Saguaro (Scottsdale)	2nd-2019 (Cardinals)

A LOCAL KID RETURNS TO AZ, FOLLOWS IN FATHER'S CARDINALS FOOTSTEPS

One of the Cardinals top signings of the 2020 free agency period was LB Devon Kennard. He is the son of former Cardinals offensive lineman Derek Kennard Sr., who also played for the Los Angeles Express of the USFL in addition to the Saints and Cowboys.

Following his playing career, Derek returned to Arizona to raise his family. Devon grew up in Phoenix and starred at Desert Vista High School before attending USC.

When Devon took the field in Week 1 at San Francisco, the Kennards became the third father-son duo to play for the Cardinals, joining the Butlers (Kevin and Drew) and the Metcalfs (Terry and Eric).

CARDINALS 2020 ROOKIE CLASS HIGHLIGHTS

TEAM CAPTAINS, ALL-AMERICAN LINEBACKERS, ASU STANDOUT AND RUGBY STAR AMONG '20 DRAFT HAUL

- All five of the Cardinals 2020 NFL Draft picks who made the active roster served as team captains during their time in college, including DL Rashard Lawrence, who was a three-time captain at LSU.
- Like QB Kyler Murray last year, the Cardinals drafted a pair of players in 2020 (Josh Jones & Eno Benjamin) who were recruited by Cardinals head coach Kliff Kingsbury while he was at Texas Tech.
- Undrafted rookie QB Chris Streveler - who played the last two seasons with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the CFL - made the Week 1 roster. It marks the 15th time in the last 17 seasons - and 8th time in the last nine seasons - that an undrafted rookie made the Week 1 roster.

FIVE OF SIX DRAFT PICKS MAKE ROSTER

The Cardinals selected six players in the 2020 NFL Draft. Of those six selections, five made the active roster.

*On practice squad

LEKI FOTU - ROUND 4a (114TH) - UTAH

- Name pronounced LECK-ee / FOH-too
- Fotu was a star rugby player growing up. He played on the USA Rugby Boys High School All-American team and also trained with the London Wasps' rugby team in 2013. He was such a star rugby talent in high school, he stopped playing football as a junior. It was his mother, Toa, who convinced him to give football another chance. He returned for his senior year, earn All-State honors and a scholarship to Utah.
- As a senior in 2019, Fotu was a team captain who earned 2nd-Team All-America honors and was named 1st-team All-Pac-12.

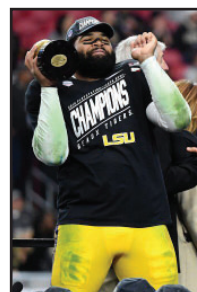

ISAIAH SIMMONS - ROUND 1 (8TH) - CLEMSON

- Simmons was the first linebacker selected in the 2020 draft.
- A major reason Simmons chose to wear jersey #48 with the Cardinals was that Arizona is the 48th state.
- In 2019, became the first FBS player since Buffalo's Khalil Mack (2013) to record at least 100 tackles, 16 tackles for loss, 8.0 sacks and multiple INTs in a season.
- Posted a team-high 107 tackles (16.0 for loss), 8.0 sacks, 10 passes defended, three INTs, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery in 15 games (all starts) last season.
- The 2019 Butkus Award Winner (nation's top LB), Simmons was named unanimous 1st-Team All-American and the ACC Defensive Player of the Year. Initially recruited as a safety, it took Simmons just two seasons to become the top linebacker in college football.
- At the 2020 NFL Combine, Simmons ran a 4.39 40-yard dash, tied for the seventh-best total at any position.
- A versatile talent, Simmons lined up at five different positions for Clemson in 2019 and played at least 100 snaps at safety, inside linebacker, outside linebacker and slot cornerback.
- Was a two-time state champion in the long jump in high school and also participated on the track team at Clemson during his redshirt freshman season. "Oh my gosh, I'm telling you, the kid could have been an Olympian," Clemson track coach Chris Bostwick said of Simmons. "He had that kind of ability."
- Graduated in December with a degree in Sports Communications, earning his degree on the same day he was named just the sixth unanimous All-American in Clemson history.

RASHARD LAWRENCE - ROUND 4b (131ST) - LSU

- Three-time permanent team captain at LSU (2017-19) who played in 44 games (34 starts) in four years with the Tigers.
- Lawrence was a captain of LSU's National Championship team last season.
- Played the best game of his college career at State Farm Stadium. In LSU's Fiesta Bowl win over UCF in January of 2019, he earned Fiesta Bowl Defensive MVP honors after totaling five tackles, 4.0 tackles for loss and 2.0 sacks.
- A two-time member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll, Lawrence graduated from LSU with a degree in Sports Administration and had a grade point average over 3.0.

ENO BENJAMIN - ROUND 7 (222ND) - ASU

- First ASU player drafted by the Cardinals since the team took S Pat Tillman (7th round, 226th overall) in 1998.
- A star at ASU, Benjamin was the "Most Hated Man in Tucson." He has a clothing line that includes a T-shirt emblazoned with "Tucson's Most Hated."
- In three seasons at Arizona State (2017-19), appeared in 35 games and totaled 2,867 rushing yards and 27 TDs while adding 82 receptions for 625 yards and four TDs.
- Broke the ASU single-season rushing record (1,642 yards in 2018) and single-game rushing record (312 yards vs Oregon in 2018).
- Like 2019 Offensive Rookie of the Year Kyler Murray, Benjamin was a record-breaking high school player in the state of Texas. Their hometowns were just 12.5 miles apart and both earned All-American honors during their prep careers.

JOSH JONES - ROUND 3 (72ND) - HOUSTON

- Drafted by Arizona at #72 overall, ProFootballFocus.com had him listed as the 14th-best player in the 2020 NFL Draft.
- In four seasons at Houston (2016-19), started all 45 games he appeared in at left tackle.
- Wasn't the most highly-recruited football prospect coming out of George Bush High School, mainly because until his senior year his focus was basketball. As a sophomore, he played alongside current Phoenix Suns standout Kelly Oubre, Jr.
- Jones did get some attention as a football recruit in high school. He was recruited by then-Texas Tech head coach Kliff Kingsbury as well as Sean Kugler, then the head coach at UTEP.
- As a senior at Houston last season, Jones allowed just one sack, no QB hits, and three hurries. Pro Football Focus gave him a 93.2 grade for the year, the highest grade ever given to a collegiate offensive tackle.
- In his final three seasons at Houston, Jones allowed just 18 pressures while playing 1,282 pass-blocking snaps during that span.

CHRIS STREVELER - UNDRAFTED - SOUTH DAKOTA

- Played 35 games in two seasons (2018-19) with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the CFL where he threw for 2,698 yards and 19 TDs and ran for 1,167 yards and 22 TDs.
- Led the Bombers to a Grey Cup championship in 2019, completing 156-of-234 passes for 1,564 yards and 8 TDs, adding 127 carries for 726 yards and 12 TDs.
- Started all 23 games played in two seasons (2016-17) at South Dakota where he threw for 6,081 yards and 54 TDs to go along with 1,543 rushing yards and 20 TDs.
- Earned 1st-team All-American and MVFC Offensive Player of the Year honors as a senior in 2017. Was the runner-up for the Walter Payton Award given to the top offensive player in FCS football

ELEVATING A FRANCHISE

The 2020 season is the 14th since owner Michael Bidwill began leading the organization. His leadership during that time has been instrumental in transforming the franchise both on and off the field.

Highlights of Bidwill's tenure:

- Leading the list of Bidwill's accomplishments with the Cardinals is the creation of State Farm Stadium. In the first 14 seasons after opened in 2006, the team sold out all 144 games (preseason and postseason included) played at the world-class venue that has been awarded three Super Bowls.

- In addition to his role in helping Arizona land Super Bowls XLII and XLIX, he led the effort to land Super Bowl LVII (2023) in the spring of 2018. Michael was instrumental in getting the 2015 Pro Bowl moved to Arizona; played a week before Super Bowl XLIX and the 2015 Pro Bowl combined to deliver a record economic impact of $720 million to the region.

- By the time it hosts Super Bowl LVII, State Farm Stadium will have undergone $100 million in improvements including parking infrastructure, state-of-the-art wifi, video boards, sound system upgrades and club-area enhancements since it staged Super Bowl XLIX.

- Of the Cardinals seven all-time postseason wins, five have come with Bidwill's leading the team. Arizona has played in nine postseason contests over the last 13 seasons, after playing just seven prior to his tenure as team president.

- AZ has appeared in the NFC Championship Game twice since 2008, including a victory in the 2008 conference title game that led to the team's first-ever Super Bowl appearance (Super Bowl XLIII).

- In January of 2018, Michael was one of five owners named to the NFL's Player-Owner Committee focused on social and racial justice initiatives. In December of 2014, Commissioner Roger Goodell tapped Bidwill to chair the league's Conduct Committee.

- In January of 2019, Michael received the Paul Tagliabue Award from the Fritz Pollard Alliance for demonstrating integrity and leadership in the area of career development for minorities and advocating for diversity.

KEIM HAS BUILT SOME OF THE BEST

Steve Keim was promoted to GM on January 8, 2013 after 14 seasons in the Cardinals organization. The team has experienced unprecedented success during his tenure as GM. The teams put together by Keim have been some of the most successful in franchise history.

- In 2014, the Cardinals tied the franchise record for wins in a season (11) before setting a new mark in 2015 when Arizona won 13 games and earned its first-ever postseason bye.

- During Keim's tenure, Arizona has established franchise records for wins in a season (13 in 2015), points in a season (489 in 2015), led the NFL in total offense for the first time in team history (#1 in 2015) and led the NFL in sacks for the second time ever (48.0 in 2016).

- Selected QB Kyler Murray with the #1 overall pick in the 2019 NFL Draft. Murray was named the NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year following a record-setting season.

- Among the trades negotiated by Keim during his tenure as GM are the acquisition of QB Carson Palmer from Oakland in 2013, acquiring LB Chandler Jones from New England in 2016 and the trade that landed WR DeAndre Hopkins from Houston in 2020. During the 2019 season, Keim also orchestrated a trade with Miami for RB Kenyan Drake.

- Arizona has featured a top-10 defense four times and a top-10 offense twice dating back to Keim's first season as GM. The Cardinals had a top-10 defense in three consecutive seasons (2015-17) for the first time since the 1970 merger.

- Named Sporting News 2014 NFL Executive of the Year and earned back-to-back NFL Executive of the Year honors from Pro Football Talk (2013-14).

CARDINALS TAKE PART IN PUSH FOR JUSTICE

Throughout the 2020 season, Cardinals players and coaches are joining the rest of the NFL in honoring and memorializing victims of systemic racism and showing their support for Social Justice efforts by displaying names or phrases as decals on the back of their helmets and patches on their caps.

The season-long effort highlights the actions being taken to reach solutions, engages fans to act, and gives players and coaches a platform on gameday to share their voice and efforts to inspire change. Together, the NFL is joining its players and coaches in building awareness, educating fans, and paying homage to those who deserve to have their legacies live on.

The NFL will partner with players to tell the stories of the victims or phrase that they have chosen to honor on their helmets. Fans will be able to learn more about these stories and how to get involved at nfl.com/inspirechange.

Among the Cardinals players taking part in the campaign in 2020:

Player	Helmet Decal Cause
RB Kenyan Drake	Stop Hate
WR DeAndre Hopkins	Denmark Vesey
QB Kyler Murray	End Racism
DL Corey Peters	End Racism
QB Brett Hundley	George Floyd
OL Kelvin Beachum	Breonna Taylor
K Zane Gonzalez	Vanessa Guillen
WR Andy Isabella	It Takes All of Us
LB Devon Kennard	It Takes All of Us
DL Rashard Lawrence	Stop Hate
DL Zach Allen	Stop Hate

CARDINALS SPEAKING UP

Throughout the offseason, numerous Cardinals players spoke up about their own experiences and the importance of coming together to make meaningful change a reality in the United States.

DL Corey Peters - 8/28/20

DL Corey Peters spoke about how important it is that everyone engage in the conversations and understand other viewpoints:

"One thing we want to do is be sensitive to one another, have compassion for one another and you know, we can disagree with certain things peacefully and all work towards the same goal of not only winning but make this a better country for everybody."

OL D.J. Humphries - 8/28/20

OL D.J. Humphries spoke about his children being a major motivator in trying to help bring about change:

"I know how to accept what the world has for you. I know how to maneuver in this world. But for my children, that's not what I want. I want my children to grow up in a fair world and grow up in a world where what the Constitution says is how it really is."

Head Coach Kliff Kingsbury - 8/27/2020

Kingsbury talked about what the Cardinals players and coaches have been discussing and learning from each other during recent events across the country:

"I had a great conversation with my dad over the summer, and his perspective on things that was really valuable as we get closer to the season – the anthem, discussions and things of that nature."

"My dad was a longtime football coach but also a Marine. He served in Vietnam, received a Purple Heart. Talking to him, there were two words that really stood out. One was respect, and the second thing was understanding. Respect viewpoints people have on this topic. They're very personal and very passionate. And respect their right to express themselves."

"You've got to understand, at its core, what this is really about. It's always been about drawing attention to the social injustice that continues to take place. We saw it again this week with Jacob Blake. It's about increasing awareness that racism exists, police brutality against people of color continues to happen, and let's not confuse it with something else and make the narrative different."

"My biggest takeaway from talking to my dad is that kneeling doesn't reflect a lack of patriotism or respect for the military in any way, just like standing during the anthem doesn't mean you're OK with racism or social injustice. It's important to respect and understand that. These are important issues that need to be addressed, and important conversations that need to be had. I'm grateful that I've been able to be around a great group of guys that have enlightened me – hearing their stories and their struggles. Those conversations will continue throughout the year. I just hope we can all continue to push in the right direction."

QB Kyler Murray - 6/17/20

Following the death of George Floyd and the resulting protests around the country, Murray spoke the change he saw happening in real time:

"There is a lot of hate in this world, but at the same time, what's happening and what we're seeing right now, it's huge. I don't condone rioting and stuff like that, but the peaceful protests, I think they're great, they're amazing. Whether it takes years, I feel like we're getting there. At least we're making a step towards it."

CHANDLER JONES - AT A GLANCE

- In April of 2020, was named to the NFL's 2010-19 All-Decade Team.
- Three-time Pro Bowler and two-time 1st-Team All-Pro.
- One of six NFL defenders to earn multiple 1st-team All-Pro selections in the last three seasons (2017-19). Became the fifth defender – and first LB – in Cardinals history to be named a 1st-team All-Pro multiple times.
- Leads the NFL in sacks (97.0) and forced fumbles (27) since entering the league in 2012. Just five players in NFL history had more sacks in their first eight seasons than Jones (97.0).
- Leads the NFL and ranks second in franchise history with 61.0 sacks since joining the Cardinals in 2016. Also tied for second in the league with 67 tackles for loss and 17 forced fumbles during that span.

- Had 13.0+ sacks in each of the last three seasons (2017-19), trailing only Pro Football Hall of Famer Reggie White (four) for the most consecutive 13.0-sack campaigns in NFL history.
- Only four different players in NFL history had more sacks in any three-year span than Jones had between 2017-19 (49.0).
- Only player in the NFL with 10.0+ sacks in each of the last five seasons (2015-19) and the first player in Cardinals history with at least four 10.0+ sack campaigns (2016-19).
- Earned Pro Bowl, first-team All-Pro (AP, PFWA, Sporting News) and NFC Defensive Player of the Year (NFL Committee of 101) honors after establishing a single-season franchise record with 19.0 sacks (second in the NFL) and setting career highs with eight forced fumbles (tied for first) and seven strip-sacks (first) in 2019.
- In 2019, became the third NFL player – first since Reggie White (1986) – to post 4.0+ sacks in multiple games in a season.
- Has at least one sack in 43 of 66 games with the Cardinals. No player in the NFL has more games with a sack than Jones during that span.
- Has been named NFC Defensive Player of the Month twice, AFC Defensive Player of the Month, NFL Rookie of the Month, AFC Defensive Player of the Week and NFC Defensive Player of the Week three times.
- Graduated from Syracuse University on Mother's Day in 2020 almost three years after his mother, Camille, passed away.

JONES' DOMINANCE NOTHING NEW

Jones' success over the past few seasons is nothing new. Since he arrived in the NFL in 2012, he has had six seasons with double-digit sacks.

He is also the only player in the NFL with 10.0+ sacks in each of the last five seasons (2015-19).

Since entering the NFL in 2012, Jones leads the NFL in both sacks (97.0) and forced fumbles (27).

A SUCCESSFUL OFFSEASON FOR JONES

A career year in 2019 was followed by a memorable offseason for Jones.

- In April, he was named to the NFL's 2010-19 All-Decade Team.
- On May 10, he graduated from Syracuse University with a degree in Human Development & Family Sciences.
- In March, he donated 150,000 meals to food banks in Arizona and in his hometown of Endicott, NY to assist families affected by the COVID-19 pandemic.

ANOTHER STANDOUT SEASON FOR #55

Jones started all 16 games in 2019, finishing with 53 tackles, 19.0 sacks, 11 tackles for loss, 26 QB hits, five passes defended, eight forced fumbles, seven strip-sacks and three fumble recoveries.

JONES IN ELITE COMPANY

Jones had 19.0 sacks in 2019, marking the third consecutive season (2017-19) he posted at least 13.0 sacks. Jones had a then career-high and NFL-leading 17.0 sacks in 2017 and 13.0 sacks in 2018.

With 13.0+ sacks in 2020, Jones can join Reggie White as the only players in NFL history with 13.0 or more sacks in at least four consecutive seasons.

LARRY FITZGERALD - AT A GLANCE

- An 11-time Pro Bowl selection, ranks second in NFL history in receptions (1,389) and receiving yards (17,167) and sixth in league annals with 120 TD receptions.

- Named a team captain in 2020, marking the 10th time in his career he has earned the honor.

- Selected by the Cardinals 3rd overall in the 2004 NFL Draft, is in his 17th season in Arizona in 2020. In team history, only QB Jim Hart (18) played more seasons with the team.

- Has played more games with the Cardinals (252) than any other WR in NFL history has played with a single team.

- Has an active streak of 86 consecutive starts, the longest active streak among NFL WRs.

- One of 10 WRs named to the NFL 100 All-Time Team in December 2019, joining nine Pro Football Hall of Famers as the only active player in the group.

- In April of 2020, named to the 2010-19 All-Decade Team by the Pro Football Hall of Fame's 48-member selection committee.

- Selected to a franchise-record 11 Pro Bowls, joining Hall of Fame WR Jerry Rice (13) as the only WRs in NFL history selected to the Pro Bowl at least 11 times.

- His streak of 245 consecutive games with a reception is the second-longest in NFL history. Has a catch in 251 of 252 career games played.

- His 1,389 career receptions are the most for any player in NFL history with a single team, surpassing the previous record held by Rice (1,281 with SF).

- Named a co-winner (along with QB Eli Manning) of the 2016 Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year award.

- At #69 on the NFL Networks Top-100 Players of 2020, has now made the All-100 Team in all 10 years of its existence. He is the only non-QB to accomplish that feat.

- The 2019 season marked the 13th time in 16 seasons he led the Cards in receiving yards. In NFL history, only Jerry Rice (15 times) led his team in receiving yards more times.

- Has caught at least one pass in all 42 different stadiums he has played in during his NFL career and has at least one TD reception in 27 different stadiums.

- In February of 2018, joined PGA pro Kevin Streelman in winning the Pebble Beach Pro-Am golf tournament. Became the first African-American amateur to win the event – which dates back to 1937 – and the first professional athlete to win the title since Dan Marino in 1988.

SEASON #17 FOR FITZ

Fitzgerald is in his 17th NFL season in 2020 - all of which have come in a Cardinals uniform. No active player has spent more seasons with just one team than Arizona's 2004 first round pick.

In the 2019 season-opener against the Lions, Fitzgerald appeared in his 235th career game, establishing a new franchise record for career games played. He surpassed the previous record for games played held by former K Jim Bakken (234).

245 STRAIGHT WITH A CATCH

After catching seven passes in last week's win over Washington, Fitzgerald has at least one catch in 245 consecutive games, the second-longest streak in NFL history behind Jerry Rice (274 straight).

Fitzgerald's streak of 245 consecutive games with a catch is the longest in NFL history with a single team.

Fitzgerald has at least one catch in 251 of 252 career games played. His streak began in Week 9 of his rookie season in 2004 at Miami.

10 MORE IN THE POSTSEASON

In addition to his 120 career TD catches in the regular season, Fitzgerald has 10 TD catches in nine career postseason games.

Fitzgerald is one of just eight players in NFL history with 10+ TD receptions in the postseason. Of those eight, only Fitzgerald (9) has played in fewer than 15 career playoff games. Only Hall of Fame WRs Jerry Rice (22 in 29 games) and John Stallworth (12 in 17 games) and Patriots TE Rob Gronkowski (12 in 16 games) have more TD receptions in the postseason.

A Career Full of Accomplishments:

- Franchise career leader in receptions (1,389), receiving yards (17,167), receiving TDs (120), total TDs (120) and 100-yard receiving games (49). His nine 1,000-yard seasons are also a franchise record. His reception and receiving yardage totals both rank second in NFL history behind Jerry Rice while his 120 receiving TDs rank sixth in league annals.
- Led the NFL with 107 receptions in 2016, marking the second time in his career (103 in 2005; tied with Steve Smith) he had done so. He became the first player in NFL history to lead the NFL in receptions at least 11 years apart. Prior to Fitzgerald, the longest span between leading the league in receptions was six by Jerry Rice (1990, 1996).
- Led the NFL in receiving TDs in both the 2008 (12) and 2009 (13) seasons. In addition to his 10 receiving TDs in 2007, he became the first player in franchise history to record at least 10 TDs in three consecutive seasons.
- Fitzgerald (11) joins Hall of Famer Jerry Rice (13) as the only wide receivers in NFL history to be named to the Pro Bowl at least 11 times.
- Fitzgerald had more receptions in his first 200 career games (1,116) than any player in NFL history.
- One of just seven players in NFL history to record at least 1,400 receiving yards in a season four times in their career: Jerry Rice (6), Julio Jones (5), Randy Moss (4), Marvin Harrison (4), Antonio Brown (4) and Andre Johnson (4).
- At 28 years, 74 days old, he became the third-youngest player in NFL history to reach 70 career receiving TDs behind only Randy Moss (26 years, 269 days old) and Hall of Famer Jerry Rice (28 years, one day old).
- At 32 years, 97 days old, he became the youngest player in NFL history to reach 1,000 career receptions.
- At 31 years, 102 days old, he became the youngest player in NFL history to reach 900 career receptions.
- At 30 years, 57 days old, he became the youngest player in NFL history to reach 800 career receptions.
- At 30 years, 85 days old, he became the youngest player in NFL history to reach 11,000 receiving yards.
- In 2010, he became the first player in NFL history to record 90+ receptions five times in their first seven seasons.
- During the 2008 postseason, he broke virtually every major playoff receiving record, establishing new single-season marks for receptions (30), receiving yards (546) and TDs (7). His four 100-yard receiving games in the postseason established a new NFL record for consecutive games with 100 yards receiving.
- His 10 TD receptions in nine career postseason games are an NFL record for a player in their first nine career playoff contests.
- With a then franchise-record 103 receptions during the 2005 season, he became the youngest player in NFL history to record a 100-catch campaign when he reached the mark at 22 years, 123 days old.
- At 29 years, 44 days old, joined Randy Moss (28 years, 314 days) as the only players in NFL history to reach 10,000 career receiving yards before the age of 30.
- One of just five players in NFL history to record 15,000+ receiving yards and 100+ TD receptions in their career.

DEANDRE HOPKINS - AT A GLANCE

- Four-time Pro Bowl (2015; 2017-19) and three-time 1st-team All-Pro (2017-19) selection. Joins Eagles C Jason Kelce as the only offensive players in the NFL named 1st-team All-Pro each of the last three seasons (2017-19).

- His 22 catches with Arizona are the most in NFL history for a player in his first two games with a team. In his Cardinals debut, established a career-high with 14 receptions.

- One of three players in NFL history with at least 600 receptions, 8,500 yards and 50 TDs in his first seven seasons (Marvin Harrison; Torry Holt).

- In NFL history, only Marvin Harrison (665) had more receptions in his first seven NFL seasons than Hopkins (632).

- Has been top-20 on list of the NFL Network Top 100 Players in four of the last five seasons and earned his highest-ever rating (#8) in 2020.

- Since entering the league in 2013, ranks third in the NFL in receptions, third in receiving yards and second in TD receptions.

- Dating back to 2017, his 512 total targets and 32 TD receptions lead the NFL. In the same span, ranks second in the NFL in receptions (337) and third in receiving yards (4,334).

- Has appeared in 112 of a possible 114 games in his NFL career and has missed just one game (in 2017) due to injury.

- Has at least one reception in all 112 career games played during the regular season, the fifth-longest active streak in the NFL.

- In 2019, had 104 receptions for 1,165 yards and seven TDs while being named to the Pro Bowl for the third consecutive year and being named 1st-team All-Pro for the third straight season.

- Has surpassed 100 receptions three times in his career, has five seasons of 1,000+ receiving yards, three seasons with 10+ TDs and has posted 100+ receiving yards in a game 31 times in the regular season.

- Only active NFL player with at least 100 receptions, 1,500 receiving yards and 11 TD receptions in multiple seasons (2015; 2018).

HISTORIC FIRST SEVEN SEASONS

Hopkins put up some historic numbers during his first seven seasons, totals that placed him among some of the best receivers to ever play in the NFL.

In league history, only Hall of Famer Harvin Harrison (665) had more receptions in his first seven NFL seasons than Hopkins (632).

A CATCH IN EVERY GAME

WR Larry Fitzgerald has an active streak of 245 consecutive games with at least one reception that dates back to his rookie season in 2004. It's the second-longest receptions streak in NFL history.

Hopkins has a streak of his own, having caught at least one pass in all 112 games he has played in his NFL career.

That represents the fourth-longest active streak in the NFL and the seventh-longest streak to begin a career in the Super Bowl era.

AN ARIZONA SUCCESS STORY

RB Kenyan Drake - acquired by Arizona in a trade with Miami in Week 9 - has rushed for 789 yards and nine TDs on 159 carries (5.0 avg.) in 10 games with the Cardinals, adding 32 receptions for 185 yards.

Last season, Drake posted 100+ rushing yards in three of eight games played for Arizona, surpassing the number of 100-yard outings he had in 54 games with Miami (2).

Drake rushed for a career-high 166 yards and added a pair of rushing TDs on 24 carries (6.9 avg.) against the Seahawks in Week 16. That performance came after he rushed for 137 yards and a career-high four TDs the previous week vs. Cleveland.

Drake has posted three of the four highest single-game scrimmage yardage totals of his career in his 10 games with Arizona. His 184 total scrimmage yards against the Seahawks in Week 16 were the second-highest total of his career.

DRAKE KEEPS ON SCORING

Opposing defenses have had a hard time keeping RB Kenyan Drake out of the end zone since he joined the Cardinals in the middle of last season.

Drake has as many rushing TDs in 10 games with Arizona (9) as he had in 54 games with Miami (9).

FOUR STRAIGHT WITH A RUSHING TD

Drake scored the game-winning TD against the 49ers in Week 1 on a one-yard run with just over five minutes remaining. It gave him at least one rushing TD in four consecutive games. Only five players in franchise history had a rushing TD in more consecutive games.

Drake's streak was snapped last week vs. Washington.

A FOUR TD PERFORMANCE VS. THE BROWNS

In Week 15 vs. Cleveland last season, Drake led the Cardinals to a victory by rushing for a 133 yards and a career-high four TDs. He became the first Cardinals player to rush for at least four TDs in a game since RB Ronald Moore had four vs. the L.A. Rams on 12/5/93. In franchise history only Ernie Nevers - who had an NFL single-game record six rushing TDs vs. Chicago on 11/28/29 - had more rushing TDs in a game than Drake had vs. the Browns.

KIRK POISED FOR BREAKOUT YEAR IN 2020

Much of the attention this offseason has been on Larry Fitzgerald and DeAndre Hopkins - but Arizona has a budding star at WR in third-year pro Christian Kirk.

In his first two seasons, Kirk piled up 111 receptions for 1,299 yards and six TDs despite missing seven games due to injury.

ONLY ANQUAN WAS FASTER TO 100

Playing in his 22nd career game in Week 14 vs. Pittsburgh last season, Kirk reached 100 receptions for his career. In franchise history, the only player to have 100 catches in fewer games was Anquan Boldin (16).

BREAKING OUT BY THE BAY

Kirk had the best game of his career in the Cardinals matchup at Tampa Bay in Week 10 last season, setting career highs in receiving yards (138) and TD receptions (3) on six catches. Kirk had as many TD receptions vs. the Bucs (3) as he had in his first 18 career games (3).

Kirk became one of just five players in the NFL last season who had 130+ receiving yards and three or more receiving TDs in a game.

CARDINALS SEE AN UP-AND-COMER IN EDMONDS

Drafted by the Cardinals in the fourth round (134th overall) in the 2018 NFL Draft out of Fordham - RB Chase Edmonds is in his third NFL season in 2020.

Much like fellow 2018 draftee WR Christian Kirk, the Cardinals see big things ahead.

"We all feel like he's a starting running back in this league, and he does, too," head coach Kliff Kingsbury said of Edmonds. "When he had his opportunities, he shined, and he continues to shine. He can catch it, run it, block, play special teams, and he's really bright football-wise. He's everything you want."

EDMONDS SHINES NEAR HIS OLD STOMPING GROUNDS

Filling in for injured David Johnson, Edmonds saw the most extensive action of his career in the Cardinals Week 7 victory over the Giants last season. He took advantage, finishing with career highs in total scrimmage yards (150), rushing yards (126) and TDs (3).

He rushed for 126 yards and three TDs on 27 carries and added four receptions for 24 yards. Edmonds' three rushing TDs covered 20, 20 and 22 yards. He became the first player in franchise history - and just the sixth player in NFL history - with at least three rushing TDs of 20+ yards in a game.

OFFENSIVE HIGHLIGHTS IN 2019

• Posted 400+ net yards in a game five times in 2019 after totaling 400+ net yards just once over the previous two seasons combined (2017-18).

• Scored 25+ points in game nine times, including eight times in the final 12 games. From the beginning of October (Week 5) through the end of the season, only New Orleans (10), San Francisco (9) and Baltimore (9) scored 25+ points in more games than the Cardinals (8).

• Arizona's seven games without a turnover in 2019 were the most in a season in franchise history.

• Arizona averaged a franchise record 5.03 yards per rush attempt as a team in 2019 after rushing for 1,990 yards and 18 TDs on 396 attempts. The Cardinals 1,990 rushing yards were the most in a season since 1988 (2,027), the team's first in Arizona.

• 2019 marked just the sixth time in franchise history (2016, 1984, 1975, 1949, 1948) the Cardinals had at least 20 passing TDs and 18 rushing TDs in a season.

• The Cardinals rushed for 200+ yards in a game three times in 2019. It is the first time since 1983 (3x) that Arizona had 200+ rushing yards in at least three games.

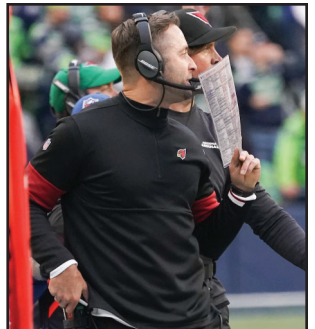

• In Week 5 at Cincinnati, the Cardinals posted 500+ net yards and 250+ rushing yards in a game for the first time since 1960.

KINGSBURY'S RECORD-BREAKING RUN GAME

When Arizona hired Kingsbury in 2019, much of the talk surrounding the hire involved the former Texas-Tech head coach implementing a pass-heavy "Air-Raid" system in the desert.

Although the passing offense made significant strides in 2019, it was the rushing attack that showed the biggest improvement last season.

After finishing #32 in the NFL in both rushing yards and rushing average in 2018, the Cardinals finished the 2019 season having averaged over 5.0 yards per rush attempt as a team for the first time in franchise history. Arizona averaged a franchise-record 5.03 yards per rush attempt last season (1,990 yards & 18 TDs on 396 attempts).

The previous record for team rushing average (4.87) was established in 1960.

P2 IN YEAR #10

- Six-time team captain (2013, 2015-18, 2020) has totaled 427 tackles, 25 INTs (one returned for a TD) and 108 passes defended in 140 games (all starts) during his first 10 NFL seasons. Only five players in Cardinals history had more INTs than Peterson had in his first nine seasons (25).

- Started all 128 games during his first eight NFL seasons, becoming the first Cardinal since at least the 1970 NFL-AFL merger to start 100+ consecutive games to begin his career.

- In April of 2020, named to the 2010-19 All-Decade Team by the Pro Football Hall of Fame's 48-member selection committee.

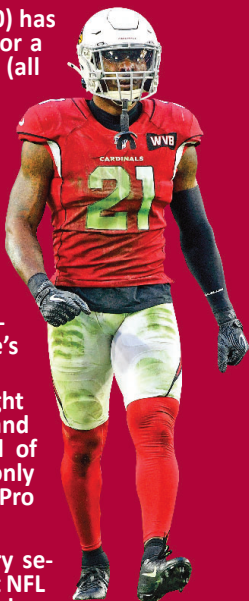

- Voted to the Pro Bowl in each of his first eight NFL seasons – seven times at CB (2012-18) and once as a kick returner (2011). Joined Hall of Famers Jim Brown and Barry Sanders as the only players in NFL history to be chosen to eight Pro Bowls before their 29th birthday.

- Peterson is the only player in team history selected to the Pro Bowl in each of his first eight NFL seasons, and his eight consecutive Pro Bowl selections are a franchise record.

- Earned first-team All-Pro honors three times with two selections at CB (2013, 2015) and one as a kick returner (2011).

- Named NFC Defensive Player of the Week three times (Week 15, 2019; Week 10, 2014; Week 4, 2013), NFC Special Teams Player of the Week twice (Week 9, 2011; Week 12, 2011) and Special Teams Player of the Month once (November 2011).

- Became the first NFL defender since at least the 1970 NFL-AFL merger to have a reception and a completion in the same game vs. Det (9/15/13). Peterson's gloves and the football used on the pass completion were sent to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, OH.

21 NOW WITH 25 INTERCEPTIONS

The Cardinals selected CB Patrick Peterson with the fifth pick in the 2011 NFL Draft, and in his first nine seasons, he earned eight Pro Bowl selections and was named first-team All-Pro three times. Considered one of the game's best cover corners, he has proven to be one of the most unique talents in NFL history. PETERSON RETURNS MOTIVATED FOR 2020

Peterson on his offseason preparations (August 21, 2020): "I believe this offseason was one of the hardest offseasons that I grind. ... I put my body through certain situations this offseason that were much different than my previous offseasons, so I'm just ready.

"I'm just extremely focused, extremely dialed in and just ready to play some of my best football I've ever played in my 10-year career."

BUDDA PICKS UP WHERE HE LEFT OFF

Signed to a four-year contract extension this offseason, S Budda Baker enjoyed a breakout campaign in 2019.

Arizona's second-round pick (36th overall) in the 2017 NFL Draft, Baker was named to his second Pro Bowl last season, becoming the eighth Cardinals safety to earn the honor and the first player in franchise history selected as a special teamer (2017) and position player (2019). He also became the 15th player in team history selected to multiple Pro Bowls in his first three NFL seasons.

Baker led all NFL DBs and ranked fourth overall with a career-high 147 tackles last season, and no player in the league had more solo tackles in 2019.

5	LB Jordan Hicks (AZ)	93

According to league stats, only one DB in team history – S Tim McDonald (155 in 1989) – had more tackles in a season than Baker (147) last year.

STRONG START FOR #32

Baker picked up right where he left off, registering a career-high 15 tackles in the 2020 season-opener against San Francisco. He trails only Seahawks S Jamal Adams (22) for the most tackles by an NFL DB this season with 20 through two games.

BAKING UP TROUBLE IN THE BACKFIELD

The 195-pound DB has a proven ability to make plays behind the line of scrimmage. His 15 tackles for loss rank third among NFL DBs since 2018.

MURPHY RISES TO THE CHALLENGE

In 2019, after starting CB Robert Alford suffered a season-ending injury during training camp, CB Byron Murphy Jr. was pressed into action and started all 16 games as a rookie.

He finished the season with 10 passes defended, which ranked third by a first-year player in franchise history, trailing only Dominique Rodgers-Cromartie (19 in 2008) and Patrick Peterson (13 in 2011).

During the Cardinals Week 1 victory at San Francisco – with Arizona protecting a four-point lead and 47 second left in the game – Murphy again answered the bell with back-to-back pass deflections to end the 49ers scoring threat and seal the win.

Just four players in Cardinals history – Rodgers-Cromartie, Peterson, Eric Green and A.J. Jefferson – had more passes defended than Murphy (12) through the first 18 games of their career.

CARDS HAVE A TACKLING MACHINE IN HICKS

LB Jordan Hicks – signed as a free agent in 2019 after four years with the Eagles – put together a breakout campaign in his first season with the Cardinals.

Hicks had a career-high 150 tackles (third in the NFL) to go along with 1.5 sacks, 11 tackles for loss, three INTs, two forced fumbles and a fumble recovery in 2019.

4	S Budda Baker (AZ)	147
5	LB Luke Kuechly (Car)	144

In the Cardinals Week 2 win over Washington, Hicks matched a team high with 10 tackles, including one loss. It marked his 10th game with at least 10 tackles since joining Arizona in 2019, which leads the NFL during that span.

4t	Darius Leonard (Ind)	8

He broke a franchise record previously shared by LB Ronald McKinnon and S Pat Tillman for the most 10-tackle performances in a single season with nine.

ANOTHER GAME, ANOTHER INTERCEPTION FOR HICKS

Hicks secured his 10th-career INT – and his third in a five game stretch – when he picked off 49ers QB Jimmy Garoppolo in Week 11 last season. Dating back to his rookie year in 2015, Hicks' 10 INTs lead all active NFL LBs.

Hicks is tied for the fifth-most INTs among all active NFL LBs, and he has played the fewest games (61) among those in the top-10.

DEFENSIVE NEWCOMERS MAKE THEIR MARK

The Cardinals invested in the defense during the offseason, adding three veteran free agents to the front seven – LB De'Vondre Campbell, LB Devon Kennard and DL Jordan Phillips.

Two games into their Cardinals tenures, the trio have made a significant impact on a defensive unit that is much improved compared to last season. Collectively, they have combined for 19 tackles, three tackles for loss, 2.0 sacks, two QB hits, two passes defended and a forced fumble.

In Arizona's season-opening victory against San Francisco, Kennard and Campbell teamed up to stop 49ers RB Raheem Mostert on fourth-and-goal from inside the Cardinals one-yard line to preserve Arizona's three-point lead.

CAMPBELL

- Signed a one-year contract with Arizona after spending four seasons with Atlanta, who drafted him in the fourth round (115th overall) in 2016.
- Had a very productive outing against Washington in Week 2, finishing with 10 tackles, two tackles for loss and two passes defended. Joined Budda Baker (10/31/19 vs. San Francisco) and Adrian Wilson (9/30/12 vs. Miami) as the only Cardinals defenders in the last nine seasons (2012-20) to record at least 10 tackles, two tackles for loss and two passes defended in a game.
- Marked his seventh career outing with 10+ tackles, five of which have come in his last 15 games dating back to last season.

KENNARD

- Seventh-year NFL veteran played 83 games (65 starts) with the Giants (2014-17) and Lions (2018-19) before joining the Cardinals on a three-year deal.
- Notched his first sack as a Cardinal when he dropped Washington QB Dwayne Haskins for a five-yard loss in Arizona's home-opener in Week 2.
- Including his 3.0 sacks in last year's season-opener as a member of the Lions, the Phoenix native has 4.0 sacks in his last two games at State Farm Stadium.

PHILLIPS

- Played 76 games (35 starts) for the Dolphins (2015-18) and Bills (2018-19), and signed a three-year contract with the Cardinals in March.
- Set career highs with 9.5 sacks, 31 tackles and 13 tackles for loss last season, trailing only Aaron Donald (12.5) for the most sacks among NFL DTs in 2019.
- Strip-sacked Haskins at the Cardinals 15-yard line to end a Washington scoring threat just three plays after Arizona turned the ball over.

KICKING HIS WAY TO THE TOP

In 2019, K Zane Gonzalez had the best year of his career – and one of the best seasons by a kicker in franchise history – earning Pro Bowl alternate status.

The NFC "Special Teams Player of the Month" for October, Gonzalez made 31 FGs, which ranked fourth in the NFL last season and marked the third-highest total in team history.

LEE STILL ON TOP OF HIS GAME

In his first season with Arizona in 2017, P Andy Lee set a franchise single-season record for gross punting average (47.3) and then topped himself by leading the NFL with a new franchise single-season record (48.6) in 2018.

In his third season with Arizona and 16th season in the NFL, Lee ranked second in the league with a 47.8-yard average in 2019.

NFL Leaders – Gross Punting Average (2019)

Rnk	Player (Team)	Punts	Avg.

3	Johnny Hekker (LAR)	66	47.4
4	Brett Kern (Ten)	78	47.1
5	Ty Long (LAC)	48	47.0

Lee has finished in the top-10 in punting average in 13 of his 16 NFL seasons. That includes ranking 7th (2017), 1st (2018) and 2nd (2019) in punting average in his three seasons with the Cardinals.

A LEADER IN ARIZONA

Since joining the Cardinals in 2017, Lee is tied for the NFL lead with a 47.9-yard punting average.

His three seasons in Arizona have resulted in the three highest single-season punting averages in franchise history. His 47.8-yard punting average in 2019 is the second-highest total in team history.

SPECIAL TEAMS COMES UP BIG IN 2020

Two games into the 2020 season, the Cardinals have benefitted from big plays on special teams:

- Third-year LB Ezekiel Turner – a PFWA All-Rookie pick as a special teamer in 2018 – made one of the biggest plays of the game in Arizona's Week 1 victory over San Francisco. He set up the Cardinals first TD of the game in the first quarter when he blocked a 49ers punt, which was recovered by LB Dennis Gardeck and returned to the SF 10-yard line. It was the Cardinals first blocked punt since the 2018 season finale, which was also recovered by Gardeck for a TD.
- K Zane Gonzalez connected on a 56-yard FG just prior to halftime against San Francisco. It was the longest FG of his career and tied for the fourth-longest FG in franchise history.
- LS Aaron Brewer – now in his ninth NFL season and playing in his 119th career game in Week 1 – recovered the first fumble of his career in the first quarter. Covering a punt return, Brewer jumped on a ball forced loose by TE Darrell Daniels at the Washington 40-yard line. Six plays later QB Kyler Murray scored on a 14-yard TD run to give Arizona a 14-0 lead.

CARDINALS COVID-19 RELIEF EFFORTS (TEAM INITIATIVES)

Since the COVID-19 pandemic hit the country earlier this year the effects of the outbreak have reached every corner of the U.S. and has had a devastating impact on citizens and businesses across the nation. The Cardinals organization – along with the players and staff – immediately mobilized to donate time, money and other resources throughout Arizona to assist the individuals, businesses, schools, frontline health care personnel and other organizations that have been so greatly affected by the crisis.

$1 MILLION FOUNDING CONTRIBUTION TO THE AZ CORONAVIRUS RELIEF FUND

On March 24, the Cardinals made a $1 million founding contribution to the AZ Coronavirus Relief Fund. As part of the Arizona Together initiative launched earlier that day by Governor Doug Ducey, the fund was set up established to provide financial support to organizations working to mitigate the impacts of COVID-19 in Arizona. Initially, it focused on the following immediate needs:

- Funding of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) for frontline medical personnel.
- Non-profit organizations that support the most vulnerable Arizonans through food banks, homeless shelters, domestic violence facilities, and other services.
- Providing disadvantaged students with the technology necessary to transition to online learning.

“Like so many in our community, this unprecedented crisis has us asking what we can do to help and what might have the greatest impact,” said Cardinals Owner Michael Bidwill said of the donation. “We are grateful for the creation of this relief fund, and proud to support its critically important mission and hope that others throughout the community can join this effort in whatever way that they are able. As a team, we will continue to work on additional ways to make a difference and know that as a community we will get through this challenging time together.”

To assist local businesses during the crisis, the Cardinals made a $100,000 donation to Local First Arizona, Arizona’s Coronavirus Micro Grant Fund

MILLION MEALS DONATION TO LOCAL FOOD BANKS

In early April, the Cardinals and State Farm partnered on an historic initiative to address a pressing local need arising from the COVID-19 pandemic. The number of people seeking assistance from local food banks more than doubled as a result of the unparalleled crisis. Unfortunately, the number of donations to them decreased just as dramatically.

As part of their on-going commitment to improve the local community, State Farm and the Cardinals helped tackle the issue by donating over a million 1,000,000 meals that were distributed to five non-profit organizations throughout the Valley. The five groups involved in the “Million Meal” donation were:

- St. Mary’s Food Bank
- St. Vincent DePaul
- United Food Bank
- Phoenix Rescue Mission
- Midwest Food Bank

ORGANIZATION LAUNCHES “CARDINALS CARRY-OUT” INITIATIVE TO ASSIST INDEPENDENT, LOCALLY OWNED RESTAURANTS

On April 13 the team launched “Cardinals Carry-out” - an unprecedented initiative with a dual purpose: assist independent, locally-owned restaurants hit hard by the coronavirus crisis and recognize those working on the front lines of the pandemic in the medical community, law enforcement and emergency services.

Cardinals players and fans nominated their favorite establishments for inclusion on the team’s interactive statewide map and supported them with take-out business.

In the spirit of the NFL Draft, the team selected establishments from the map each day and purchased meals which were delivered to nurses, doctors, first responders and others who work daily to combat the impact of COVID-19.

When it was launched, the first 47 establishments on the map reflected the favorites of Cardinals players and staff as well as those near area hospitals suggested by Local First Arizona. Within the first week, over 800 restaurants throughout the state have been added based on recommendations from fans.

“It’s great that a major sports team would put together such a thing that is community driven and helps restaurants navigate these tough times...we’re kind of in survival mode but we’re going to make it out,” said Chris Hove, owner of Perfect Pear Bistro in Chandler which was recommended by defensive lineman Zach Allen.

HOSTING CRITICAL BLOOD DRIVES, DRIVE-THROUGH TESTING AND PPE DRIVES AT STATE FARM STADIUM

One area hit particularly hard by the COVID-19 crisis was the local blood donation community, where the supply reached critically low levels during a crucial time in March. In a seven-day span between March 19 and March 26, nearly 200 blood drives in Arizona were cancelled, resulting in the loss of more than 5,000 blood donations for hospital patients.

To assist in meeting this direly pressing need, the Cardinals partnered with Dignity Health and Cigna to host a major one-day blood drive at State Farm Stadium. In conjunction with Scottsdale-based Vitalant (pronounced “vye-TAL-ent” and formerly known as United Blood Services) the event took place at State Farm Stadium on March 31. All donation slots for the drive were filled within hours of the event being announced.

The outpouring of support from the community resulted in two additional blood drives being scheduled at State Farm Stadium. On back-to-backs on April 7-8, in conjunction with the American Red Cross, the Cardinals partnered with Anheuser-Busch to host blood drives at State Farm Stadium and all donation slots were again filled.

On April 15, the Cardinals and Project C.U.R.E hosted a Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) drive at State Farm Stadium. The event was to help collect equipment for use by those in the local healthcare community, including eye protection, face shields, surgical masks, N95 masks, gloves, shoe covers and hand sanitizer.

In May, the Cardinals and Dignity Health partnered to participate in the state’s drive-through COVID-19 testing blitz by hosting events open to the public at State Farm Stadium.

CARDINALS COVID-19 RELIEF EFFORTS (PLAYER INITIATIVES)

KLIFF KINGSBURY – $50,000 DONATION TO THE NAVAJO RELIEF FUND (NRF)

The Native American population in Arizona was hit particularly hard by the COVID-19 outbreak and the Cardinals head coach was among the many who stepped up to help. In April, Kingsbury donated $50,000 to the Navajo Relief Fund to assist one of the communities that was most affected – the Navajo Nation. The NRF was established to help with the shortage of healthy food, safe drinking water, healthcare and supply stores in remote reservation communities. During the pandemic, the fund served as urgent need in making available food, water and other basic supplies.

DEANDRE HOPKINS – $150,000 DONATION TO THE ARIZONA CORONAVIRUS RELIEF FUND; #THEREALHEROES PROJECT

It didn't take long for the All-Pro wideout to make a significant impact in Arizona. On March 27, 2020 - just a week after being acquired by the Cardinals — Hopkins announced a $150,000 donation to the AZ Coronavirus Relief Fund, which was established to provide financial support to multiple organizations trying to deal with the impact of COVID-19. Money raised by Arizona Relief Fund goes to purchasing Personal Protective Equipment for medical personnel working with the coronavirus patients; supporting non-profits that aid the most vulnerable such as food banks, homeless shelters and domestic violence facilities; and providing technology for disadvantaged students needed for online learning.

Hopkins was among the sports stars who participated in a national project to recognize and celebrate health care workers for their efforts on the front lines of the coronavirus pandemic. "The Real Heroes Project" was a collaboration involving Hopkins and athletes from a combined 14 leagues. Others include New Orleans Saints QB Drew Brees, New York Yankees All-Star outfielder Aaron Judge, U.S. women's soccer stars Carli Lloyd and Alex Morgan, and Hockey Hall of Famer Wayne Gretzky. In the PSA – which was released on National Nurses Day - Hopkins recognized local nurse Tracy Thomas, an RN at Dignity Health St. Joseph's Hospital and Medical Center. She was selected in recognition of the incredible work she has done leading the COVID-19 Response

CHANDLER JONES – DONATED 150,000 MEALS TO FOOD BANKS IN ARIZONA AND NEW YORK

In late March, the Cardinals All-Pro LB donated over 150,000 meals to food banks in both Arizona and his hometown of Endicott, NY to assist with families affected by the Coronavirus outbreak. Jones provided meals to St. Mary's Food Bank and Midwest Food Bank of Arizona while also donating to Mother Teresa's Cupboard through the Catholic Charities of Broome County in New York.

JORDAN HICKS – $100,000 TO IMPACT CHURCH COVID-19 RELIEF EFFORTS; ANIMAL ADOPTION INITIATIVE

Following a career year on the field in his first season with Arizona, Hicks joined his wife, Ivana, to announce in April that they would match and donate up to $100,000 to their church in Scottsdale – Impact Church – to assist single mothers during the pandemic. Those efforts included providing meals and helping cover rent and mortgage payments. Hicks' donation also helped facilitate a COVID-19 drive-through testing initiative at the church that saw over 500 people receive free tests.

Hicks and his wife also organized an animal adoption campaign in Austin that saw 260 animals adopted in under a week. The couple partnered with Austin (TX) Pets Alive to provide new pet owners with a care package that included a crate, pet food, treats, a leash and a toy.

KYLER MURRAY – $25,000 DONATION TO GENYOUth FOR ITS COVID-19 EMERGENCY SCHOOL NUTRITION FUND

With schools across the country closed because of the coronavirus, the reigning NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year stepped up in April to help children who counted on school meals to be fed on a daily basis. He donated $25,000 to GENYOUth for its COVID-19 Emergency School Nutrition Fund, which was established to provide resources that allowed school meal programs to continue despite school closures.

ISAIAH SIMMONS – DONATED 60,000 MEALS TO HARVEST COMPASSION CENTERS IN ARIZONA

Within a week of becoming the #8 overall pick in the 2020 NFL Draft, the former Clemson star was already reaching out to help people in Arizona struggling as a result of the pandemic. Simmons teamed up with the Cardinals and Bose to donate 60,000 meals to the Harvest Compassion Center for its facilities in Phoenix, Maryvale and Chandler. Harvest Compassion Center is a food and clothing bank dedicated to providing a hope-filled environment to the underserved in the greater Phoenix area. HCC locations offer free food, hygiene, baby, home and clothing items to the many Arizonans living below the poverty line.

LARRY FITZGERALD – DELIVERING MEALS TO HEALTHCARE WORKERS AND FRONTLINE STAFF

One of the most prolific WRs in NFL history, Fitzgerald long ago set the standard for making an impact in the community – and those efforts continued during the COVID-19 outbreak. In late April, he teamed with Steak 44, Ocean 44 and Dominick's to deliver meals to healthcare workers all over the Valley. In addition to helping those who have gone above-and-beyond to serve the community during the pandemic, it also served as a very personal cause for Fitzgerald, who's late mother, Carol, was a nurse.

COREY PETERS – STARTED VIRTUAL BOOK CLUB FOR ARIZONA HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

A passionate advocate for reading, the Cardinals starting DT set up an in-person book club a few years ago. When the pandemic hit, forcing the closure of schools and the enforcement of social distancing, Peters saw an opportunity to make the book club virtual. So in May, he launched the virtual book club "The Corey Peterson Playbook" to help provide an educational outlet for all Arizona high school students during the COVID-19 crisis.

PATRICK PETERSON – DONATED TO ARIZONA FIRST RESPONDERS ON MEMORIAL DAY WEEKEND

With Memorial Day occurring in the middle of the pandemic, the Cardinals All-Pro helped keep the spirit of the holiday when he teamed with Pit Boss Grills to donate grill products and gift cards to Arizona first responders. Peterson had his followers on social media nominate a first responder of their choice and he selected three winners on Memorial Day who each received a new top-of-the-line grill, grilling products and a gift card from Bashas supermarket.

DEVON KENNARD – DELIVERED MEALS TO FOUR VALLEY FIRE DEPARTMENTS; VIRTUAL HOSPITAL VISITS

In May, Arizona native – and Cardinals 2020 free agent signing – Kennard gave back to his hometown when he teamed with Salad and Go to provide dinner for firefighters at four different fire stations in the Ahwatukee area.

Every year Cardinals players and staff make numerous visits to Phoenix Children's Hospital to lift the spirits of the children and their families in pediatric units. Due to COVID-19 and the resulting safety restrictions, those visits have taken a new form. In late August, Kennard became the first Cardinals player to take the controls of a telepresence robot in order to spend time with children at PCH. While Kennard was at training camp at State Farm Stadium, he was able to drive the robot through the halls of PCH and interact with children through a video monitor.
