

ARIZONA CARDINALS NOTE CARDS

249 Career games played for WR Larry Fitzgerald. On Sunday, Fitzgerald is set to become just the 13th player in NFL history to appear in at least 250 games with a single team. He will be the first WR in NFL history to do so.

191 Receptions for Fitzgerald in 31 games against the Rams. That is more than any other player in NFL history vs. a single opponent. Fitzgerald's catches vs. the Rams have spread across five venues: State Farm Stadium, Sun Devil Stadium, L.A. Memorial Coliseum, Edward Jones Dome and Twickenham Stadium.

0 Fumbles lost by QB Kyler Murray this season, despite playing 943 offensive snaps and piling up 591 total pass/ rushing attempts in 2019. He is the first rookie QB in NFL history to start at least 15 games without losing a fumble. Of the 26 QBs with 600+ snaps in '19, Murray is the only one not to lose a fumble.

8 Forced fumbles for LB Chandler Jones in 2019. That represents an NFL high and doubles his previous career high. Jones has as many (or more) forced fumbles than a quarter of the league's defenses in 2019: Carolina (8), NY Giants (8), Cincinnati (8), Miami (8), NY Jets (7), Denver (7), Oakland (6), LA Chargers (5).

ARIZONA
CARDINALS

WEEK 17

VS

LOS ANGELES
RAMS

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 29, 2019

WITH A WIN...

- Arizona would finish a season with three consecutive wins for the first time since 1998 (3).
- The Cardinals would earn their sixth-ever victory over the Rams at the L.A. Memorial Coliseum.
- Arizona (6) would double its win total from last season (3).

MILESTONES WITHIN REACH...

WR LARRY FITZGERALD

- With a reception, Fitzgerald would have at least one catch in 243 consecutive games, extending the second-longest streak in NFL history (Jerry Rice - 274). He would have at least one catch in all 32 career games against the Rams.
- With 41 receiving yards, Fitzgerald would reach 800 receiving yards in a season for the 12th time. In NFL history only Hall of Famers Jerry Rice (18) and Tony Gonzalez (13) would have more such seasons in their career.
- With a TD reception, Fitzgerald would have 121 TD catches in his career. He would also have a TD catch against all three NFC West opponents in a single season for the seventh time in his career and first time since 2011.

LB CHANDLER JONES

- With a sack, Jones would have 20.0 sacks in 2019, marking the 13th 20-sack campaign in NFL history. It would also give him 50.0 sacks over the last three seasons (2017-19). In NFL history, only four players would have more sacks in a three-year span: Reggie White, Mark Gastineau, Michael Strahan and J.J. Watt.
- With a sack, Jones would have at least a partial sack in 13 of 16 games this season, including in each of the last eight games.
- With 2.0 sacks, Jones would have 21.0 sacks in 2019 and move into the top-5 on the NFL's all-time single-season sacks list.

QB KYLER MURRAY

- With 103 passing yards, Murray would become just the sixth different QB in NFL history with 3,500+ passing yards and 500+ rushing yards in a season. He would join Carolina's Cam Newton (2011) as the only rookies in NFL history to accomplish that feat.
- With two TD passes, Murray would have multiple TD passes in eight games this season, extending his franchise rookie record. In NFL history the only QB to have more such performances during their rookie season would be the Browns Baker Mayfield (9 in 2018).
- With a rushing TD, Murray would have five rushing TDs in 2019. Among Cardinals QBs, only Jim Hart (6 in 1968) would have more in a single season.

RB KENYAN DRAKE

- With 100 yards rushing, Drake would have 100+ rushing yards in three straight games, tying the longest streak in franchise history (Drake would be the fourth player in team history with 100+ in three straight and the first since David Johnson in 2016). It would also give him twice as many 100-yard games in eight outings with Arizona (4) than he had in 54 games with Miami (2).
- With two TDs (of any kind), Drake would join Hall of Famer Ollie Matson (3 straight in 1957) as the only players in franchise history with multiple TDs in three consecutive games.

LB JORDAN HICKS

- With an INT, Hicks would become just the fifth LB in franchise history with at least four INTs in a season, joining Karlos Dansby (4 in 2013), Ronald McKinnon (5 in 1998), E.J. Junior (5 in 1985) and Leon Sanford (5 in 1956).
- With 10 tackles, Hicks would join Seattle LB Bobby Wagner (9) as the only players in the NFL this season with 10+ tackles in at least nine games.

K ZANE GONZALEZ

- With three FGs, Gonzalez (33) would sit alone in second place on the franchise single-season list for FGs made behind only Neil Rackers (40 in 2005).

AWARD-WINNING WEEK PUTS #55 IN RANGE OF 20

Cardinals Pro Bowl LB Chandler Jones had a career-defining performance last week in Seattle, recording six tackles, 4.0 sacks, two tackles for loss, a career-high six QB hits and two forced fumbles in the win over the Seahawks. The outing earned Jones NFC "Defensive Player of the Week" for the second time this season and fourth time in his career.

In a span of 3 hours and 18 minutes, he established a new franchise single-season record for sacks in a season (19.0) and became the NFL leader in both sacks (19.0) and forced fumbles (8) heading into the final day of the regular season.

With the performance, Jones put himself in position for a historic 2019 campaign:
-Can post the 13th 20-sack campaign in NFL history
-Can become 8th player in NFL history to lead the NFL in sacks in multiple seasons
-Can become 7th player in NFL history to lead the NFL in both sacks & forced fumbles

103 YARDS FROM HISTORY IN THE FINALE

Offensive Rookie of the Year candidate QB Kyler Murray enters Sunday needing 103 passing yards to reach 3,500 for the year. Combined with his 544 rushing yards, he would become just the sixth different QB in NFL history with 3,500+ passing yards and 500+ rushing yards in a season.

Murray and Carolina's Cam Newton (2011) would be the only rookie QBs in NFL history to accomplish that feat.
