BRONCOS WIN 2022 BEST DRAFT AWARD

Following General Manager George Paton's first season at the helm, the Broncos were awarded the 2022 Best Draft Award in March during the 13th annual Inside the League Combine Seminar.

Capturing 31 percent of the 2022 vote, the Broncos edged five other teams (Kansas City, L.A. Chargers, Miami, New England, Pittsburgh) who were named finalists. Denver became just the second AFC club to garner the honor since its inception in 2017.

Cornerback Pat Surtain II (Rd. 1, Pick 9) and running back Javonte Williams (Rd. 2, Pick 35) headlined Paton's first draft class and were named to the Pro Football Writers of America All-Rookie Team. In total, the Broncos' 2021 rookie class appeared in 99 games (42 starts), logging nearly 3,500 combined snaps on offense and defense.

DECADES OF SUCCESS

The Broncos are in their seventh decade of professional football, looking to build off a body of work that ranks as the most consistent in the NFL in terms of winning over the last four decades.

Denver is one of just four teams to record three 90+ win decades since 1960. The Broncos finished one win shy of 90 victories in the 2010s to rank tied for eighth in the league during that span.

Seahawks 17, Broncos 16

Monday, Sept. 12, 2022 • 5:15 p.m. PDT • Lumen Field • Seattle

WEATHER: Sunny, 74°, Wind E 6 mph • TIME: 2:57 • ATTENDANCE: 68,965

The Denver Broncos and new Head Coach Nathaniel Hackett opened the season on the road at Seattle, taking on the Seahawks on Monday Night Football.

Brand new quarterback Russell Wilson made his Broncos debut against his old team and put up impressive stats in a hostile environment, completing 29-of-42 passes (69.0%) for 340 yards with one score for a 101.3 passer rating.

Wide receiver Jerry Jeudy had an impressive day for Denver, catching four of Wilson's passes for 102 yards, the third 100-yard receiving game of his career to this point. Jeudy's highlight came in the second half, grabbing a ball from a Seahawks' defender and turning it into a 67-yard touchdown reception in the second quarter.

On defense, safety Justin Simmons and inside linebacker Alex Singleton led the charge in tackles with each registering nine on the day. Outside linebacker Bradley Chubb also made his presence known to Seattle, sacking Seahawks quarterback Geno Smith twice in the fourth quarter, including a strip-sack, for his fifth-career multi-sack game.

The Seahawks got on the board early, taking the opening drive down the length of the field and was capped off by a 38-yard pass from Smith to tight end Will Dissly to grab the 7-0 lead.

Denver would respond right back with a scoring drive of their own, going 77 yards in nine plays and was wrapped up by a field goal by kicker Brandon McManus to make the score 7-3.

It looked as though Seattle was about to extend their lead on their second drive of the game, but the Broncos defense stood up to the challenge, denying the Seahawks on a fourth down and one from the Denver seven-yard line.

Seattle would convert on their next opportunity to score points though, kicking a field goal on their first possession of the second quarter to make the score 10-3.

It would not take too long for Denver to respond, driving 75 yards on three plays to tie the game after Wilson connected with Jeudy on a 67-yard pass for the score.

Seattle responded right back again, going 75 yards on seven plays to give themselves the lead again, this time at 17-10. A field goal at the end of the half by Denver would cut the lead to 17-13 at half.

The second half got off to a rough start for the Broncos, who would fumble twice at the goal line for Seattle, both of which proved to be costly at the end.

Denver's defense stepped it up in the second half though to keep the Broncos in the game, allowing only 34 total yards in the final two quarters.

The game would come down to the last play of the game, as McManus, who was 3-of-3 to this point, would miss the 64-yard attempt with 0:15 remaining in the game, sealing the win for Seattle.

Broncos 16, Texans 9

Sunday, Sept. 18, 2022 • 2:25 p.m. MDT • Empower Field at Mile High • Denver

WEATHER: Sunny, 77°, Wind N 11 mph • TIME: 3:04 • ATTENDANCE: 76,191

The Broncos fought hard in their home opener to pick up their first win of the season and first win in Head Coach Nathaniel Hackett's career, defeating the Texans 16-9.

In a defensive struggle throughout most of the first part of the game, Denver opened it up in the fourth quarter, scoring 10 unanswered points after entering the final frame trailing by 3.

WR Courtland Sutton was the headline for the offense, totaling 122 receiving yards, the second-most in his career at the time, on seven catches (17.4 avg.). TE Eric Saubert caught the game-winning touchdown pass from QB Russell Wilson in the fourth quarter for the second score of his career while RB Javonte Williams broke the 1,000-yard rushing mark for his career with his 75-yard game.

DE Dre'Mont Jones led the defensive effort, posting his fifth-career multi-sack game while OLB Randy Gregory got in on the action, posting a strip-sack of his own late in the fourth quarter. Denver did not allow a touchdown in the game, marking the first time that has happened since Week 3 of last season vs. NYJ (9/26/21). The defense also held Houston to 2-of-13 (15.4%) on third down in the game.

K Brandon McManus went 3-for-3 on the day, getting him over the 200 career field goals made mark and making him the ninth active kicker at the time to reach that mark and second in Broncos history.

The game would get off to a slow start as both teams would fail to convert on any points on the first few drives, but Denver would get on the board first with a McManus 20-yard field goal.

Houston would return the favor, making a 40-yard kick of their own when they got the ball. The Texans took a 6-3 lead on their next drive after K Kai'i Fairbairn nailed another attempt from 44 yards.

The Broncos would get on the board right before the half to tie the game as McManus would hit from 24 yards with 0:23 remaining in the half.

While Denver got off on the wrong foot in the second half after a LB Christian Kirksey interception, Wilson would be on point the rest of the game, going 8-of-11 for 126 yards with 1 touchdown to help lead the team to the win.

Houston would only manage another field goal after starting in Denver territory and the defenses for both teams would keep the offenses in check for the remainder of the quarter.

It would not take long for the Broncos to get back in front at the start of the fourth quarter, as Wilson found Saubert for the 22-yard score, which would prove to be the game-winning touchdown.

McManus ended the scoring on Denver's next drive, hitting from 50 yards to wrap a 12-play, 54-yard drive that took up 6:12.

The defense held steady to seal the win, including a strip-sack by Gregory which put Houston behind the sticks and put more pressure on Texans QB Davis Mills.

Another punt by the Broncos and three incompletions by Mills wrapped up the game and gave Denver their first win for the 2022 season.

Broncos 11, 49ers 10

Sunday, Sept. 25, 2022 • 6:20 p.m. MDT • Empower Field at Mile High • Denver

WEATHER: Clear, 73°, Wind NW 8 mph • TIME: 3:05 • ATTENDANCE: 77,021

On Sunday Night Football, the Broncos were able to pull out a nail-biter that came down to the final moments of the game, defeating San Francisco 11-10.

In a defensive gem of a game, Denver limited the 49ers to their lowest total yardage since the 2020 season, allowing only 267 yards (88 rush, 179 pass) while also forcing three total turnovers. The front seven also brought pressure all night, racking up four sacks for 32 yards in the contest.

ILB Josey Jewell made his return from injury and made an impact immediately, racking up nine total tackles (5 solo) along with one sack (10 yds.), two TFLs and one fumble recovery. OLB Randy Gregory, OLB Bradley Chubb and DL Mike Purcell also joined in, recording sacks of their own with Purcell forcing 49ers QB Jimmy Garoppolo out of the end zone for the safety.

Offensively, Denver posted its fourth consecutive game with at least 100 yards rushing, dating back to the season finale last year against Kansas City. WR Courtland Sutton also helped lead the offense, posting 97 yards on eight receptions (12.1 avg.).

P Corliss Waitman was the star on special teams, punting 10 times (47.6 gross / 43.6 net) and downing six punts inside of the 20-yard line, a franchise record.

In a game that was defined by its defense, both teams traded punts to begin the game before San Francisco got the early lead after Garoppolo found WR Brandon Aiyuk from three yards out. While the Broncos were unable to respond right away, the defense held its ground and prevented the 49ers from entering Denver territory for the rest of the quarter.

K Brandon McManus got the Broncos on the board in the second quarter, nailing a kick from 55 yards out to post the 34th 50+ yard field goal of his career to bring the score to 7-3. The defense would hold firm after the score, keeping it to a 7-3 game to halftime.

A Denver punt gave San Francisco the ball at their own 43, but a bad snap that was fumbled was recovered by Jewell at the 50-yard line, giving the Broncos the ball.

Another punt, this time downed at the 49ers' 1-yard line, would lead to Purcell chasing Garoppolo out of the end zone and for the safety, bringing the game to a 7-5 score.

Denver would threaten again before the end of the frame, but a McManus 51-yard field goal attempt went wide right, keeping the score at 7-5.

San Francisco got their five-point lead back at the beginning of the quarter after K Robbie Gould nailed a field goal from 51 yards away.

After the teams traded punts again, Denver would sustain a drive, going 80 yards on 12 plays and was wrapped by RB Melvin Gordon III 1-yard touchdown run.

Denver's defense stood tall to close the game as ILB Jonas Griffith would intercept a pass and S Kareem Jackson would recover a fumble to ice the game.

Raiders 32, Broncos 23

Sunday, Oct. 2, 2022 • 1:25 p.m. PDT • Allegiant Stadium • Las Vegas

WEATHER: Indoors • TIME: 3:09 • ATTENDANCE: 62,332

The Denver Broncos fell to the Las Vegas Raiders in their first divisional matchup of the season by the score of 32-23.

Denver had another solid performance by WR Courtland Sutton, who surpassed 3,000 career receiving yards on the day after catching five passes for 52 yards (10.4 avg.) with a touchdown. WR Jerry Jeudy got in on the action as we, posting 53 yards on four receptions (13.3 avg.) with one touchdown.

QB Russell Wilson had a solid performance, posting a 124.9 passer rating after totaling 237 yards on 17-of-25 passing (68.0%) with two touchdowns. Wilson also ran the ball well, racking up a team-high 29 yards on four carries (7.3 avg.) with one touchdown.

Defensively, ILB Josey Jewell tallied a career-high-tying 14 tackles (7 solo) while DT D.J. Jones and CB K'Waun Williams were able to bring down QB Derek Carr behind the line of scrimmage. CB Pat Surtain continued his stellar start to the season, posting another two passes defended while tallying a career-high eight tackles (6 solo).

The Raiders got on the board early as they drove down the field on their opening possession, but were stopped in the red zone and held to only a field goal.

Both teams would trade punts before WR Montrell Washington, who would total 66 punt return yards on three returns, returned a punt from P AJ Cole 30 yards to set the Broncos up with good field position. Denver would take advantage, taking four plays to drive 34 yards and take the 7-3 lead after Wilson found Sutton in the back of the endzone.

The second quarter would see a barrage of scoring, starting with an answer by Las Vegas, traveling 75 yards and finished with a RB Josh Jacobs 10-yard run into the end zone.

K Brandon McManus answered right back for Denver, as he would hit from 28 yards out on the next drive to tie the game at 10.

The Raiders would retake the lead soon after though, as CB Amik Robertson would recover a fumble by RB Melvin Gordon III and take it 68 yards for the score, but a missed PAT by Daniel Carlson kept it to a six-point game.

Denver would answer on the next drive as the Broncos moved down the field, going 75 yards on five plays and led to Wilson finding Jeudy for the 20-yard score with 1:29 remaining in the half. A bad snap though on the point after prevented the Broncos from taking the lead and the score remained tied at 16.

The Raiders would get a field goal from Carlson at the end of the end of the half to retake the lead going into the intermission and would not look back. Las Vegas would get two more field goals the next half before Wilson drove the Broncos 6-plays, 75-yards and ran it in from three yards out to make it 25-23 with 7:16 left.

The Raiders would ice the game on their next drive though, as a 5:14 drive would be ended by another Jacobs score to make it 32-23, giving Denver its second loss on the season.

 Colts 12, Broncos 9

Thursday, Oct. 6, 2022 • 6:15 p.m. MDT • Empower Field at Mile High • Denver

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 69°, Wind NW 6 mph • TIME: 3:30 • ATTENDANCE: 76,667

The Denver Broncos fell to the Indianapolis Colts in overtime by the score of 12-9 on Thursday Night Football.

The defense stepped up in a big way, allowing only 200 or fewer net yards passing in their fifth straight game of the season, the first time a Denver team has accomplished that in as long of a stretch since the 2010 season. The Broncos also posted six sacks in the game, the most by the team since vs. Mia. (11/22/20).

OLB Bradley Chubb posted 2.5 sacks for 13.5 yards in the game, his second multi-sack game of the season and the sixth of his career to bring his season total to 5.5. S Caden Sterns also had a career game, intercepting two of QB Matt Ryan's passes for 25 yards to notch his first career multi-interception game. OLB Baron Browning also notched his first sacks of his career, totaling 1.5 sacks for 13.5 yards.

WR Courtland Sutton led the offense again, recording 74 yards on five catches (14.8 avg.) and had a game-high 51-yard catch from QB Russell Wilson in the third quarter.

Denver got on the board early in the game, as the defense would force a three-and-out and the offense would start at their own 36-yard line. Wilson would help guide the offense down the field, going 49 yards in 10 plays to set up a K Brandon McManus 33-yard field goal to go up 3-0.

That would prove to be the only score of the quarter as both teams would trade punts for the remainder of the frame.

Denver would strike again early in the second quarter though as Wilson would again help lead the offense down the field in 10 plays, going 40 yards to set up McManus from 44 yards out to extend the Broncos lead to six.

Both teams would struggle for field position again for most of the half until the Colts were able to break through and go 52 yards to set up K Chase McLaughlin from 52 yards out to cut the deficit in half right before the break.

The third quarter started the same as the Colts would tie the game with another field goal after forcing Denver to punt on its first possession.

The Broncos would answer right back with a field goal to make it 9-6 after Sterns intercepted Ryan for the second time of the game on the Colts' 27-yard line.

Indianapolis would go on and tie the game late in the fourth quarter after traveling 67 yards on 10 plays to kick the field goal with 0:08 seconds remaining.

The Colts would kick one last field goal in overtime before Denver would storm down the field and get to the Indianapolis five-yard line. The fourth-down attempt by the Broncos would be broken up, giving the Colts the win.
