LOS ANGELES CHARGERS IMPACT FUND

ABOUT THE CHARGERS IMPACT FUND

"Believe in yourself. There is nothing you can't do if you set your mind to it."

—Alex Spanos

Driven by love of family, gratitude for community, and a passion for giving back, Alex and Faye Spanos established the Chargers Impact Fund in 1995 to help people see the best in themselves and achieve their dreams.

Born into a blue-collar family of Greek immigrants, Alex began working in his father's bakery at age eight. The values of hard work and perseverance – paired with a courageous spirit and what would become trademark unwavering honesty – quickly formed the foundation that drove his success in business. As he grew into a titan of industry, eventually realizing his life-long dream of owning a professional football team, Alex remained convinced that his success was due to the support he received from his wife Faye, his family, and his community.

Alex and Faye's gratitude and optimism served as catalysts for what ultimately became a legacy of decades-long philanthropy. The more they gave back, the richer their lives grew – be it through the experiences they had, personal stories they learned, or relationships they nurtured.

Though Alex and Faye passed in 2018, their legacy of giving lives on through the work of the Chargers Impact Fund. Modeled after their belief that a solid family foundation and the ability to lean on each other are critical to future success, the Impact Fund brings fans, volunteers, players, and donors together to create supportive environments in which the next generation can thrive.

LA FOR EVERYONE

VISION

MISSION

We bring people together to empower youth, generate access, and create opportunity in under-resourced neighborhoods so today's dreams can become tomorrow's reality.

VALUES

Kindness	We believe in the power of kindness to cultivate a connected and compassionate Los Angeles.
Family	"We believe that we are all members of one family, whose common good depends on everyone's personal involvement" — Alex Spanos
Service	We partner with leaders on the frontlines of impacted communities. Our work supports these leading organizations.
Optimism	We are a bright spot for our community. We recognize the difficult issues many Angelenos are facing, and we inspire joy and happiness.

LEARN

BOLT ACADEMY

Presented by Rize Credit Union, Bolt Academy is a unique partnership between the Los Angeles Chargers Impact Fund, Inglewood Unified School District, and Brotherhood Crusade.

Selected juniors and seniors from Inglewood high schools participate in a six-month after-school program designed to build leadership and career-readiness skills. In 2024, Bolt Academy also became an accredited A-G class in Inglewood Unified School District – a first of it's kind for an NFL team. Students who successfully complete the program have the opportunity to gain firsthand experience working with the Chargers on game days.

Bolt Academy students spend nearly a year in the program, developing confidence, life skills, and career-readiness training that help prepare them for future career paths.

- In 2025, 43 Inglewood Unified School District scholars participated in Bolt Academy through either the after-school training model or the in-class model. Since launching in 2021, Bolt Academy has impacted nearly 1,000 students.

BOLTS BOOK CLUB

Bolts Book Club encourages literacy and expands access to free books for students throughout the Los Angeles community.

- 7,744 books were distributed to young people in 2025.
- More than 25,000 books have been distributed since the program launched in 2020.
- 250 students completed more than 60,000 minutes of reading through the 2025 Bolts Book Club Summer Reading Program.

RHYMES WITH REASON

Supported by the Chargers Impact Fund, Rhymes with Reason provides learning modules that strengthen reading skills and vocabulary through music lyrics at Boys & Girls Clubs of Metro Los Angeles clubhouses.

- 123 students participated in Rhymes with Reason programming, spending an average of three hours learning through the program.

COMMUNITY CORNER

The Community Corner at Chargers home games provides nonprofits and youth organizations with an unforgettable game-day experience thanks to the generosity of Chargers players.

- Five players donated to the program in 2025, enabling 480 individuals from 21 nonprofit and community organizations to attend Chargers home games during the 2025 season.

CHARGERS CHAMPIONS

Since its launch in 2000, Chargers Champions has provided more than $6 million to support schools, teachers, and students in San Diego and Imperial Counties with access to critical funding for physical fitness, nutrition, and athletic programs.

More than 165 schools have received funding for projects including outdoor fitness trails, weight rooms, running tracks, heart monitors, and jogging program equipment.

- In 2025, $150,000 in grants was awarded to five schools.

BIKES FOR KIDS

The Impact Fund's long-standing partnership with the Bikes for Kids Foundation helps provide safe, active transportation and recreation to students throughout Southern California. Over the past 21 years, more than 4,000 new bikes and helmets have been distributed to under-resourced communities.

- 130 bicycles were assembled by 30 volunteers and distributed to second- and third-grade students at Washington Elementary STEM Magnet in Pasadena in 2025.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

MISSION STATEMENT

We believe community is built through kindness, connection, and care. The Chargers Community Relations team brings this mission to life through volunteerism, surprise-and-delight experiences that honor everyday heroes, and programs that strengthen the human-animal bond.

KINDNESS

BOLTS COMMUNITY CREW

The Bolts Community Crew is a volunteer platform that harnesses the passion of the Bolt Fam to create meaningful impact across Southern California.

- 140 volunteers participated in Chargers volunteer opportunities throughout 2025.

VOLUNTEER IMPACT HIGHLIGHTS:

- Volunteers assembled 140 bicycles for the Chargers Impact Fund's annual Bikes for Kids giveaway.
- In partnership with Operation Gratitude, volunteers assembled 1,000 care kits for active-duty service members and veterans.
- Thirty volunteers removed nearly 50 pounds of trash from Dockweiler Beach during the annual beach cleanup in partnership with Heal the Bay.
- One hundred volunteers supported a community tree-care initiative in South Gate, helping maintain 15-gallon street trees through watering, mulching, staking, and general maintenance.

ACTS OF KINDNESS

Through intentional acts of kindness, the Chargers spread joy and gratitude through Make-A-Wish experiences, letters to military members, and visits with first responders.

- Make-A-Wish Visits: Three Make-A-Wish experiences were hosted throughout the season, welcoming youth from across the country to tour SoFi Stadium, attend a game, and meet their favorite players after watching practice.
- Super Bowl Surprises: Five deserving community members were surprised with tickets and accommodations to attend the Super Bowl in San Francisco.
- Inspire Change Changemakers: Homeboy Industries Co-CEOs Shirley Torres and Steve Delgado were surprised by Susie Spanos with the news that they had been selected as the team's Inspire Changemaker honorees. The NFL's Inspire Change Changemaker Award recognizes an individual in each NFL team market making a difference in their community with their social justice work. In recognition of their work with Homeboy – the world's largest gang rehabilitation and re-entry program – Homeboy Industries received a $10,000 grant in their honor.

Supporting Firefighters:

- Chargers 2025 first-round draft pick Omarion Hampton toured Pacific Palisades Fire Station 69 on his first day in Los Angeles following the NFL Draft.
- In partnership with the LAFD Foundation and TCL, the Chargers' Tuli Tuipulotu and R.J. Mickens surprised local firefighters with brand new televisions for their homes and station as well as tickets to attend a game at SoFi Stadium.
- Cameron Dicker visited Los Angeles City Fire Station 51, where he "adopted" the station through the LAFD Foundation by donating new gym equipment and supporting renovations to its weight room.

CONNECTION

The Chargers bring people together to foster meaningful connections and demonstrate that, regardless of one's circumstances, every person can make a positive impact on the world around them.

TURKEY BOWL

Fifty community members from Homeboy Industries participated in the organization's first annual holiday Turkey Bowl. The Chargers hosted a flag football tournament and shared a meal with more than 100 community members from Homeboy Industries in the week leading up to Thanksgiving.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

In honor of Black History Month, Bolt Academy alumni visited the African American Firefighter Museum in downtown Los Angeles. Students learned about the history of African American firefighters from retired fire captains before touring Fire Station 94 in Crenshaw and hearing firsthand from active-duty firefighters about their experiences and careers.

ANIMAL WELFARE

The Chargers support pets throughout the region through adoption events, spay and neuter clinics, wellness initiatives, and shelter and rescue partnerships - turning everyday acts of kindness into lifelong connections between people and their pets.

Because pets play an important role in a thriving family unit, the Chargers connect fans and community members with organizations and services that improve quality of life for both people and animals. Since 2020, the organization has strategically partnered with local shelters, rescues, and nonprofit organizations to raise awareness for animal welfare causes and expand access to pet care resources.

Through these partnerships, the Chargers have hosted and supported pet adoptions, pet wellness events, and spay and neuter clinics throughout Southern California.

IN 2025:

- Pet Adoptions: 61 pets were adopted through Chargers-supported adoption events, with hundreds of animals featured throughout the year.
- Pet Wellness: Hundreds of pounds of pet food were distributed, and more than 150 toys were donated to local community members and adopters during the Chargers' annual holiday pet adoption event in partnership with the Michelson Found Animals Foundation.
- Spay and Neuter Support: 19 pets received spay or neuter services during a December clinic held in partnership with the Michelson Found Animals Foundation.

- Chargers Pup: The fifth Chargers Pup, Zeus, was introduced following the graduation of Chargers Pup Storm, who was gifted to a military veteran during Training Camp. Presented by Easterseals the Chargers Pup program, allows fans to follow the journey of a dog preparing to become a life-changing companion for a person with disabilities. The initiative not only highlights the transformative role of service animals but also celebrates the independence and support they provide to their humans.
- Pet Calendar: 12 adoptable dogs from LA Animal Services and Pasadena Humane were featured in the annual pet calendar photoshoot alongside members of the team, helping showcase the wonderful animals available through local shelters.
- Most Valuable Pup of the Game (MVP): 20 shelter animals from LA Animal Services, Pasadena Humane, Annenberg Pet Space, and LA County Animal Care and Control were featured as the Chargers' Most Valuable Pups of the Game throughout the 2025 season and were recognized at every home game at SoFi Stadium.

- Crucial Catch Gameday: 30 cancer patients and survivors from UCLA Health were honored during the Chargers' annual Crucial Catch game. - Community Service Project: 100 volunteers from Chargers staff, military partners, and community organizations participated in a community beautification project in South Gate, helping care for 15-gallon street trees through watering, mulching, staking, and general maintenance.

- Operation Gratitude Volunteer Event: Chargers staff partnered with Operation Gratitude to assemble 1,000 care kits for active-duty service members and veterans.

WALTER PAYTON MAN OF THE YEAR NOMINEE – CAMERON DICKER

The Chargers proudly nominated kicker Cameron Dicker as the team's Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year nominee for the 2025 season, one of the league's most prestigious honors recognizing excellence on and off the field.

Throughout the year, Dicker made a significant impact across the organization's community initiatives. Whether supporting cancer patients, visiting hospitals, participating in youth-focused events, or engaging with individuals with disabilities, he remained a consistent and enthusiastic presence at Chargers community programs.

Furthering his personal commitment to service, Dicker launched his own foundation, Wholeheartedly, to create sustainable, hands-on opportunities that strengthen communities and support those in need.

In 2025, Dicker surprised teachers affected by the January wildfires with shopping sprees to help rebuild their classrooms, hosted bowling nights for participants in Big Brothers Big Sisters programs, and planned Thanksgiving and holiday events to support individuals experiencing homelessness and local youth.

Through both team-led and personal philanthropic efforts, Cameron Dicker exemplified what it means to lead wholeheartedly by showing up consistently, giving generously, and inspiring others to do the same.

ALEX & FAYE SPANOS

REMEMBERING ALEX SPANOS

Alexander Gus Spanos, Chargers owner and Spanos family patriarch, was the embodiment of the American dream. Alex's legacy is one of perseverance, compassion, philanthropy and, most of all, a passion for his family — a family that will carry on his spirit for generations to come.

Alex was, quite simply, a force of nature who inspired everyone he encountered, rising from humble beginnings to become an American business icon. He was a devoted husband, loving father, doting grandfather and great-grandfather, celebrated businessman, loyal friend, generous philanthropist and a compassionate man who cared deeply for his community.

Born in South Stockton to Greek immigrants Constantinos "Gus" Spanos and Evanthia Tsopelas Koumentakou in 1923, Alex's tireless work ethic and fearlessness was instilled in him at an early age. When he was eight years old, he began working at his father's bakery, waking up at 4 a.m. to bake bread and pastries before school. He worked 15-hour days for seven days a week through his early adulthood.

While pursuing an engineering degree at Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, his studies were put on hold following the attack on Pearl Harbor. In 1942, Alex left college to enlist in the U.S. Air Force and was stationed at Tarpon Springs, Florida. It was there that he met the love of his life, Faye Papafaklis, who remained by his side for the next 77 years.

Once Alex's military service ended in 1946, he came home to Stockton and enrolled in the University of the Pacific. After going back to work at his father's restaurant making $40 a week, he married Faye in 1948 and the happy couple welcomed their first son, Dean, in 1950.

With another baby on the way and his family struggling to make ends meet, Alex left his father's restaurant and set out to create a catering business of his own. Alex and Faye began making bologna sandwiches at their house and, after taking out an $800 loan to purchase a truck, launched A.G. Spanos Agricultural Catering. Selling sandwiches to local farmers in the San Juan Valley, a mere six months later, he was able to buy a house for his family and pay off his father's debts. By 1951, the 27-year old Spanos had $35,000 to his name.

Alex made more money in the four months after leaving his father's bakery than in the 20 years he worked at the store. This proved to be the first of many daring business ventures Spanos would pursue. By 1956, he had earned enough to comfortably provide for his family, which now also consisted of two daughters, Dea and Alexis, and another son, Michael.

At the suggestion of his accountant, Alex began investing in real estate even though he knew little about the field. Relying on his work ethic and fearless attitude, he earned his first million within a year and come 1960, had established A.G. Spanos Construction. By the mid-seventies the company had grown to become the number one builder of apartments across the nation.

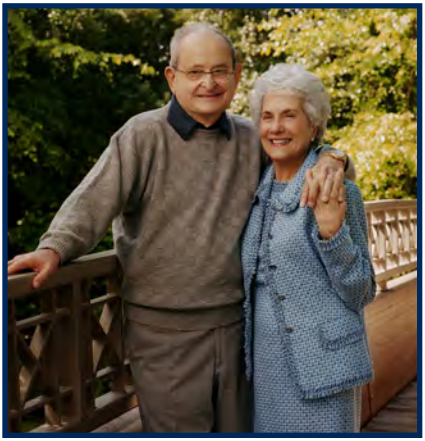

Now firmly established in the business world, Alex began his pursuit of a childhood dream — owning a professional sports team. With football his top passion, on August 1, 1984, dreams became reality when Alex purchased the San Diego Chargers.

Although Alex had a renowned reputation in the real estate and development industry, he had to prove himself all over again in the NFL. He described this part of his life as one that, at times, was filled with heartbreak but ultimately brought him the highlight of his career when the Chargers beat the Steelers to play in Super Bowl XXIX.

Equally passionate about the franchise's impact off the field as much as between the white lines, Alex implemented many Chargers community outreach programs that exist to this day. The Chargers Community Foundation alone — which he created and funded — has donated more than $13 million over the years to support critical causes, individuals in need and organizations supporting the community. In 1994, Alex handed control of the team to his son, Dean. His passion for the Chargers, however, remained fierce as ever, traveling to every game with wife Faye — home or away — until health issues in 2008 made travel too difficult.

Philanthropy was of the utmost importance to Spanos, which is why he made significant contributions to educational institutions, the arts, relief assistance programs, veterans groups and hospitals. Devoutly Greek Orthodox, Alex was deeply proud of his heritage, instilling many of his traditions in the growing Spanos family. From raising funds to rebuild a 140-year-old church to providing relief after a natural disaster, Alex gave back to the Greek community as well. In 2008, he was awarded the Medal of the Commander of the Order of Honor for his humanitarian efforts in Greece by the President of the Hellenic Republic.

While Alex accomplished much over his 95 years, nothing compared to the pride he felt for his family — a major reason he surrounded himself with them at every turn. He involved them in his company at an early age, often crediting them for helping build A.G. Spanos Companies into the country's largest family-owned construction company. While Alex may be gone, he will never be forgotten. His legacy is sure to be carried on by those who loved him most — his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

REMEMBERING FAYE SPANOS

Faye Spanos was born in 1926 to Greek immigrant parents in Tarpon Springs, Florida. She was by nature, a loving and sweet person who found joy in everything. When she was just 18 years old, she met the love of her life, Alex Spanos, who was in the Air Force and stationed at Drew Field in Tampa at the time. After a long-distance courtship, Alex and Faye married in 1948 in Faye's hometown of Tarpon Springs.

Once married, Faye and Alex settled in Stockton, Calif. and worked side by side in the kitchen at the Roma Lunch Bakery, an establishment owned by Alex's father. The young couple began to build their family as they welcomed their children.

As their children grew, so did her husband's success in business. Faye accepted his financial prosperity by opening her heart and home and sharing their good fortune first with their large extended families and then, with their community. As someone who personified kindness, grace and compassion, she and her husband made donations benefitting schools, children, the arts, hospitals and people in need.

Faye taught everyone around her by example, never admonishing, never reprimanding and never raising her voice. Guided by faith, she lived her beliefs every day of her life and treated everyone with the dignity and respect they deserved.

Faye Spanos' name in Greek derives from the Greek word for light. And throughout her life Faye was the light and rock for Alex and for her family. She was a blessing to all who met her and the essence that brought balance, encouragement, faith, support and love to her family.

DEAN A. SPANOS

CONTROLLING OWNER AND CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

Under the leadership of Dean Spanos, the Los Angeles Chargers continue to make bold moves that position the franchise for long-term success in the nation's second-largest media market. Guided by Spanos' strategic direction and expertise in the construction business, the organization opened The Bolt in July 2024 — the first dedicated NFL team training facility and headquarters ever constructed in Los Angeles. The Bolt and the team's iconic SoFi Stadium home, which sits just four miles from the 150,000 square-foot architectural masterpiece, places the Chargers squarely at the intersection of innovation, entertainment and professional sports.

In January 2024, Spanos, along with President of Football Operations John Spanos, oversaw the search that led to the Chargers' hiring of Jim Harbaugh as head coach, bringing the former Bolts quarterback home following a 15-0 season that culminated with a College Football Playoff National Championship as head coach for the University of Michigan. Spanos also hired one of the NFL's top talent evaluators as general manager in longtime Baltimore Ravens personnel executive Joe Hortiz. With these personnel moves, Spanos, who has led the team through numerous franchise records and victories including the team's most recent playoff berth in 2024, is looking to return the Bolts to an era of dominance they enjoyed not long ago. During an 11-season run from 2004-14, the Chargers won 113 games including four playoff victories and five AFC West championships (2004, 2006-09). Only three teams in the NFL won more games during that span.

Named President of the Chargers in early 1994 — the same year the team culminated its most memorable season with an appearance in Super Bowl XXIX — Dean, along with his father Alex Spanos, also secured Super Bowl XXXII (1998) and Super Bowl XXXVII (2003) for their community, with each event netting in excess of $300 million for the local economy.

In 2015, Spanos handed over the reins of day-to-day leadership to sons A.G. and John. Eldest son A.G. Spanos now serves as President of Business Operations while John Spanos heads up the other side of the business as President of Football Operations.

Dean's leadership is also present throughout the National Football League. As a member of the NFL's Management Council Executive Committee (CEC), he played an integral role in negotiating the NFL's current labor agreement. Spanos also sits on the NFL's Business Ventures Committee — having served as Chairman in 2015 — which has oversight regarding various league commercial activities, including consumer products, sponsorship, events, marketing and new business initiatives. In addition to his current committee work, Spanos also owns previous committee time that includes membership on the NFL's International and Legislative Committees.

Aside from football, Spanos also serves as CEO of the A.G. Spanos Companies, and along with his brother, Michael, oversees all construction operations nationwide.

TRADITION OF GIVING

The Spanos family has a multi-generation commitment to community involvement and is recognized both as one of the NFL's most philanthropic families as well as one of Southern California's most active and caring contributors to local causes. Their financial contributions of more than $15 million and their emotional support for youth, sports, education and our brave men and women in uniform have been a hallmark of their team ownership and legacy.

Spanos currently serves as Chairman of the Chargers Impact Fund, which donated $2.5 million to Lulu's Place to build the Alex & Faye Spanos Legacy Field in Westchester and develop education curriculum at the campus. The funding directly assists the team's youth football initiatives — including the Snoop & Housh Flag Football League, Chargers Youth Tackle Teams, and Girls Flag Football. The facility is slated to be open in early 2027. Spanos was honored in June 2022 by the Loukoumi Make A Difference Foundation with its Inspiration Award for his commitment to encouraging youth and young adults to serve their communities and follow their career dreams.

In March of 2020, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, Spanos directed an immediate donation of $250,000 to the LA Food Bank to help prepare for what he knew would be a tremendous increase in need. He also directed additional, significant donations to support other regional Food Banks, first responders, the American Red Cross and other non-profits working throughout Southern California to assist people struggling through the pandemic. The Chargers then partnered with KCBS-TV in Los Angeles and iHeart Radio to co-host a fundraiser that ultimately netted more than $1.6 million in donations for LAUSD students most in need, providing them with free meals, supplies and much-needed technology to help maintain their studies from home.

As 2020 continued and issues surrounding systemic racism sparked national outrage and new types of dialogue, Spanos led the team through tough internal conversations, which resulted in a new partnership with Liberty Hill Foundation to create a Social Justice Mentoring Initiative for the team's players and staff and system-impacted youth. Under his leadership, the Chargers and the Chargers Impact Fund also made a five-year financial commitment to help launch the Alliance — an unprecedented partnership of all 11 sport teams in the LA region who are coming together to level the playing field through sport by providing access and opportunities to youth from consistently under-resourced communities.

In April 2019, thanks to the generosity of Spanos and the Chargers organization, the Boys & Girls Club of Metro Los Angeles opened their newly renovated multi-sport field and teen center with a press conference and ribbon-cutting hosted by Spanos. In June of 2018, Spanos and the Chargers announced a three-year, $1.2 million commitment to the Summer Night Lights program — helping to expand sports programming across all 32 park locations — including uniforms for participants, referees and increased access to sports clinics. In 2018 Spanos also served as the honorary chair of the Boys & Girls Clubs of America's annual 2018 Pacific Youth of the Year Gala.

The generosity of the Spanos family reaches throughout California and has often extended into other states when needs have arisen. When wildfires struck Los Angeles, Ventura and San Diego Counties in December 2017, the Spanos family stepped up with a $250,000 donation to the American Red Cross — less than three months after committing $500,000 to Hurricane Harvey relief efforts and hosting a food and supply drive in Los Angeles for victims in flood-ravaged areas of Houston, Texas. When wildfires ravaged San Diego County in 2003, and again in 2007, the family made identical $1 million donations to aid affected families and the recovery effort.

Known for his generous backing of youth and high school football, Spanos and the Chargers were honored by National Pop Warner with its prestigious NFL Team of the Year Award in 2015 — a recognition of the team's outstanding support for youth football and cheer at all levels. The Chargers, who were also honored in 2007, were the first team in the NFL team to be so honored twice.

In 2014, the A.G. Spanos Heart and Vascular Center at Mercy General Hospital in Sacramento opened thanks to a lead gift of $15 million from the family, the largest gift Mercy General had ever received. In speaking at the opening, Dean said the family's commitment to Mercy General Hospital was to ensure that no one from the region would ever be turned away from proper care for lack of space or the kind of critical care they needed.

Also in 2014, Spanos pledged $500,000 to the University of California-San Diego to upgrade and expand the existing Alex G. Spanos Training Facility, which was then renamed and opened as the Alex G. Spanos Athletic Performance Center. UCSD is the Chargers' former training camp home, and this gift raised the value of the family's support of the institution to more than $1.6 million.

In 1995, the Spanos family took their commitment to the community a step further by creating The Chargers Community Foundation, now known as the Los Angeles Chargers Impact Fund. Since its inception, the Fund has provided nearly $13 million to support a wide range of services and programs directly benefiting children and families. In 1999, Dean Spanos created the Fund's largest ongoing program, Chargers Champions, which has provided over $6 million in direct assistance to schools, teachers, and students. The program provides grants to improve fitness, nutrition and athletic programs on school campuses.

Spanos has also been a long-time contributor to many other important charities and organizations working to improve the lives of children and families, including: the Make-A-Wish Foundation; American Cancer Society; Susan G. Komen; Girl Scouts; Special Olympics of Southern California; the Salvation Army; and Huntington's Disease Society.

COMMUNITY HONORS

In appreciation of their ongoing generosity, Dean and Susie Spanos have often been the recipients of numerous accolades. They were recognized in March as the first-ever Beacon of Light honoree at the annual gala for the American Cancer Society Southern California and Dean was recently honored by the Los Angeles Business Journal as a selectee on the LA500 Arts & Philanthropy, which recognizes influential business, community, academic and civic leaders in the Los Angeles region. In October 2025, the Los Angeles Chargers Impact Fund was inducted into the Boys & Girls Clubs of Metro Los Angeles Hall of Fame for their ongoing dedication, support and service to local youth through financial investment and community outreach programs.

Additionally, the Chargers were honored in 2024 with the Community Inspiration Award from Luskin Orthopedic Institute. In 2018, the family and the Chargers were honored as Red Cross LA's Humanitarian Organization of the Year and presented with the Mayor's Award from the Association of Corporate Growth (ACG) Los Angeles — both in recognition of the impact they have made in the greater Los Angeles community. The Spanos family was also recognized with the Inaugural Carousel Spirit Award from the Festival of Children Foundation in Orange County. In 2021, Dean and Susie were honored with the Ambassador of Hope Award from Make-A-Wish Orange County and the Inland Empire, celebrating more than 20 years of partnership and support from the Spanos family and Chargers organization. In January 2023, Spanos was inducted into the National Football Foundation Leadership Hall of Fame at YouTube Theater in SoFi Stadium.

Among other honors received over the years, the Association of Fundraising Professionals recognized Spanos and the Chargers as San Diego's Outstanding Philanthropic Corporation; the Salvation Army named Dean and Susie their Most Valuable Philanthropists; they received the Huntington's Disease Society of America's top national award — the Harold Leventhal Community Service Award and national Pop Warner's top honor, The Warner Award was bestowed on Spanos for his ongoing commitment to youth football and the Little Scholars education initiative. The San Diego Business Journal presented the family with their Outstanding Community Service Award for family-owned businesses; Dean and Susie received the Herb Klein Spirit of San Diego Award from the San Diego Regional Chamber of Commerce — their highest community honor and the Rotary Club of San Diego's prestigious Heilbron Award was presented in recognition of the team's "pay it forward spirit — giving not only of itself but also its professional expertise to advance the well-being and success of others in the community."

In 2006, President George W. Bush appointed Spanos to the Board of Trustees for the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and Spanos has the unique distinction of being a second-generation recipient of the renowned Ellis Island Medal of Honor, received 16 years after his father was similarly honored.

BUSINESSMAN AND FAMILY MAN

Dean Alexander Spanos was born in Stockton, Calif. He earned varsity letters in football and golf at Lincoln High School and later received Lincoln High School's Hall of Fame Award, which honors alumni whose contributions and accomplishments are representative of the school. Dean was recognized for his achievements in the areas of business as well as athletics.

Spanos continued his golfing career at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, graduating in 1972 with a degree in business administration. He maintains close ties with his alma mater, having served as a regent at the university. An avid golfer post-college, Dean has been on the winning team in five Pro-Am tournaments, including back-to-back wins in 1990 at the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic and the AT&T National Pro-Am at Pebble Beach with partner Hubert Green. He successfully defended his title at the Hope Classic the following year. Spanos' first win came with Green at the 1985 Bing Crosby Pro-Am at Pebble Beach, where he was awarded the "Most Valuable Amateur" trophy for supplying the most help to his professional partner.

Susie Spanos is a spokeswoman for the NFL's annual A Crucial Catch cancer screening campaign and is a breast cancer survivor herself. She was honored as a "Woman of Dedication" by the Salvation Army and was also named the Woman of the Year by the San Diego Leukemia Society for her philanthropic work in the community. As a long-time arts patron, Susie is a member of the Angels of the Arts group for the Segerstrom Center for the Arts, promoting excellence in the performing arts through cultural and social activities. She currently also serves on the Board of the Debbie Allen Dance Academy, a nonprofit studio that furthers the art of dance with a focus on disenfranchised Black and Latino communities.

In addition to leading the Playmakers, comprised of significant others of Chargers football players, coaches and football operations staff, Susie also currently serves as a Board member for the NFL Foundation overseeing the millions of dollars provided by the Foundation into communities across the country. Most recently, as the COVID-19 pandemic raged throughout Southern California, Susie brought together friends and Chargers' talent to host a virtual cooking fundraiser to raise much-needed funds for the Midnight Mission's HomeLight Facility, serving families experiencing homelessness in Inglewood, Calif.

Over the years, Susie has also supported numerous other charitable organizations including the San Diego Women's Foundation, the Salvation Army and Las Patronas. Susie was also a driving force in supporting and growing the San Diego Blood Bank's umbilical cord blood program and helping the Chargers' annual blood drive become one of the most successful in the nation.

Dean and Susie have two sons, A.G. and John, five grandsons and a granddaughter.

A.G. SPANOS

PRESIDENT OF BUSINESS OPERATIONS

Named President of Business Operations for the Chargers in May 2015, A.G. Spanos is responsible for all day-to-day operations, including marketing, sales, communications, digital media and community relations. He also represents the organization at NFL and ownership meetings.

Previously, Spanos served as Executive Vice President — Chief Executive Officer from 2011-15, Executive Vice President — Executive Officer from 2008-10, and Director of Marketing Programs and Business Development from 2003-07.

Spanos has guided the Chargers organization through numerous changes over the past several years, notably the team's significant investment in digital media and subsequent emergence as a best-in-class, nationally recognized content creator. He collaborated closely with the NFL and Nike on the team's brand relaunch and widely acclaimed uniform redesign, and most recently led the process for two new alternate uniforms unveiled for the 2025 season — merging innovation with the franchise's iconic identity. Spanos also played a key role in the team's successful transition to SoFi Stadium ahead of the 2020 season.

In July 2024, the organization opened The Bolt, the first dedicated NFL team training facility and headquarters ever constructed in Los Angeles. Spanos worked closely with Chief of Staff Fred Maas on securing the 14-acre site, in El Segundo, Calif., which sits less than four miles from SoFi Stadium, LAX and popular South Bay beaches. The Bolt's extraordinary design, technological prowess, prime location and dynamic event space place the building squarely at the intersection of entertainment and professional sports. It's ability to serve as a destination for television and commercial shoots as well as campaign photoshoots, combined with a third-floor private, members-only club, ensure that The Bolt will be a prime asset in the Chargers' business portfolio. Prior to The Bolt, Spanos led the organization's efforts to secure space for training camp and a practice facility in Costa Mesa during the 2017 offseason.

Throughout these transitions, Spanos has ensured that making a positive impact in the community has remained constant. In 2018 alone, the Chargers were honored as Red Cross LA's Humanitarian Organization of the Year and presented with the Mayor's Award from the Association of Corporate Growth (ACG) Los Angeles — both in recognition of the impact they have made in the greater Los Angeles community. In 2020, The Chargers Community Foundation — established by the Spanos family in 1995 — was renamed The Los Angeles Chargers Impact Fund. To date, the entity has provided nearly $13 million to support a wide range of services and programs directly benefiting children and families. Spanos currently serves as Co-Vice Chair for the Impact Fund.

In 2020, he participated in the Inglewood Airport Area Chamber of Commerce's State of the City alongside Mayor James T. Butts while in 2018, Spanos accepted the James T. Butts Award from the same Chamber of Commerce in honor of his grandfather and Spanos patriarch, the late Alex Spanos. The recognition highlighted Alex Spanos' business leadership and commitment to the community.

Spanos played football as a freshman at Tufts University in Medford, Mass., before returning to California to continue his education at the University of Southern California, where he earned a bachelor's degree in marketing from the Marshall School of Business. In 2023, he was inaugurated as the Chairman of the Board of the Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce in a special ceremony at an event on the field of SoFi Stadium and is currently an active board member.

Spanos is the eldest son of Owner and Chairman of the Board Dean Spanos and his wife, Susie. A member of YPO-Los Angeles, he and his wife, Kamri, reside in Laguna Beach with their four sons.

JOHN SPANOS

PRESIDENT OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

John Spanos was named President of Football Operations for the Chargers in May 2015 and oversees all football-related functions of the team, including player personnel, coaching, player finance and the salary cap, medical, equipment, video, player engagement and security.

The 2026 season will mark Spanos' 31st year in the NFL and his 28th with the team. Spanos began working for the Chargers in 1995, originally in the football operations department as a seasonal assistant. He assisted the department for five straight summers, assisting with contract negotiations and helping manage the salary cap for the final three.

In the summer of 2001, Spanos worked in New York at the NFL Office's Management Council department — which oversees and enforces the collective bargaining agreement. He returned the following year to help in the same capacity for the 2002 season before returning to California. In 2008, he was among a select list of NFL executives invited to participate in the NFL's Executive Education Program at the Stanford Business School in Palo Alto, Calif.

He began working full-time as a scout for the Chargers in 2003. Spanos worked his way up through the organization, including positions as a pro and college scout (2003-05), assistant director of college scouting (2006-07), director of college scouting (2008-12) and executive vice president of football operations (2013-14). Throughout his time with the club, Spanos has continued to work closely with Executive Vice President of Football Administration/Player Finance Ed McGuire to manage the salary cap and retain some of the team's top players.

Spanos' ascension within the organization coincided with one of the most successful eras in franchise history. From 2004-09, the Chargers won 67 regular-season games, good for the third-most in the NFL over that span. The team also won three playoff games during that stretch, reaching 70 total wins from 2004-09, which was fourth-most in the league. The Chargers won the AFC West five times from 2004-09 and advanced to the AFC Championship Game in 2007.

Named Executive Vice President of Football Operations in 2013, Spanos helped assemble a squad in 2018 that tied for the AFC's best record at 12-4 and reached the divisional round of the playoffs following a wild card victory at Baltimore. Most recently this offseason, Spanos led the search that resulted in the hires of Joe Hortiz as general manager and Jim Harbaugh as head coach, bringing the former Chargers quarterback back into the fold after he led Michigan to a 15-0 record and National Championship. The Bolts began the tenures of Hortiz and Harbaugh with back-to-back 11-win seasons and a pair of playoff berths.

Spanos has helped the Chargers acquire and retain some of the most prolific talent in football since 2003, as the team had 37 players make a combined 91 Pro Bowls over that span — including 20 that have been named to 45 all-star games since 2013. In addition to acquiring star players, four players in the last 13 drafts went on to earn Rookie of the Year honors.

Spanos serves as the Chairman of the Board for the National Invitational Camp, which oversees the running of the annual NFL Scouting Combine. He is also a trustee for the NFL Player Benefit Board and a co-chair on the NFL's Future of Football Advisory Committee. He formerly served as the Chairman of the Board for National Football Scouting and is an Honorary Member of the University of California-San Diego (UCSD) Athletic Board. In addition to his scouting board roles, Spanos is also a board member for the Los Angeles Chargers Impact Fund.

In June 2010, Spanos was named one of the "Top 40 Under 40" Greek-Americans by Greek America Magazine. The acknowledgment came in recognition of his achievements in both business and community leadership. He often represents the organization at various team and community events, notably speaking at the kickoff event for 2018 Summer Night Lights alongside Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti.

Spanos was born in Stockton, Calif. He attended The Bishop's School in La Jolla, Calif., where he lettered in football as a wide receiver and defensive back. He also lettered in golf and basketball and was a member of three CIF championship teams. After Bishop's, Spanos attended Wake Forest University, graduating with a degree in business.

John and his wife, Jodie, have two children.

At the time, the deal was the largest contract signed by a running back in NFL history. McGuire also negotiated Justin Herbert's multi-year extension, securing the Bolts' record-setting, franchise quarterback as he entered his fourth pro season. At the time, Herbert's deal was the largest contract in NFL history in terms of average annual salary.

In addition to Herbert, McGuire negotiated new contracts and extensions for several key players over the last few years, locking up some of the team's best players for the foreseeable future, including standouts Derwin James Jr., Khalil Mack, Rashawn Slater and Cameron Dicker.

The El Segundo-based facility boasts expansive views of the LA Basin — including the Downtown skyline, Griffith Observatory and iconic Hollywood sign — and sits within four miles of LAX, popular South Bay beaches and SoFi Stadium. The Bolt's extraordinary design, technological prowess, prime location and dynamic event space place the building squarely at the intersection of entertainment and professional sports.

Maas previously served as the executive chairman of MRV Systems LLC, a manufacturer of marine robotic vehicles for the oceanographic and defense industries. Prior to his role at MRV, he was the Chairman and CEO of the San Diego Centre City Development Corporation (CCDC), which oversaw, on behalf of the city, all redevelopment activities for downtown San Diego.

Maas was a principal and served as President and CEO of Black Mountain Ranch, a 4,660-acre property that his partnership acquired in 1988. Then undeveloped land, Black Mountain Ranch is now home to several large-scale residential communities, including Santaluz and Del Sur.

JOE HORTIZ

GENERAL MANAGER

29TH NFL SEASON | 3RD SEASON WITH CHARGERS

Joe Hortiz enters his third season as General Manager for the Los Angeles Chargers. He was hired as the 10th General Manager in franchise history, bringing his shrewd eye for talent and roster construction to the Bolts after most recently serving as the director of player personnel for the Baltimore Ravens from 2019-23 after holding a variety of roles while advancing through Baltimore's personnel department.

Entering the 2026 season, Hortiz continued his track record of developing homegrown talent by extending safety Derwin James Jr., who earned his fifth career Pro Bowl selection after the 2025 season. James was an Associated Press second-team All-Pro in 2025 and recognized as AFC Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts in a Week 3 home victory over Denver.

Hortiz constructed a roster in 2025 that had the depth to weather the storm of an NFL season, finishing with 11 wins and a playoff berth for the second-straight year. In addition to James, the team was led by quarterback Justin Herbert earning his second career Pro Bowl nod, while second-year tackle Joe Alt, third-year outside linebacker Tuli Tuipulotu and fourth-year kicker Cameron Dicker each were named to their first career Pro Bowl. Dicker continued his success as the most accurate kicker in NFL history by earning All-Pro recognition from Sporting News and a pair of AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors.

As in previous campaigns, Hortiz made impactful acquisitions for the 2025 season. Free agency saw the Bolts sign linebacker Del'Shawn Phillips, who's special teams prowess resulted in being named an AP second-team All-Pro. Hortiz also made an in-season trade for outside linebacker Odafe Oweh from Baltimore, who contributed with 10.5 sacks while with the Bolts (7.5 in regular season, 3.0 in postseason). Oweh's 7.5 sacks were the most by any player with a single team after having played in a game for another team earlier in the same season since sacks became an official stat in 1982, while his three sacks set a single postseason game franchise record.

Hortiz immediately helped the Chargers return to the playoffs in 2024 with a roster that featured 33 players who joined the team prior to or during the season. His first draft class featured players who made in impact as rookies, headlined by selecting tackle Alt at No. 5 overall. The class also showcased wide receiver Ladd McConkey in the second round and a pair of cornerbacks taken in the fifth round — Tarheeb Still and Cam Hart. Alt earned All-Rookie honors from the Professional Football Writers of America, while McConkey set franchise rookie records in receptions (82) and receiving yards (1,149). Still earned AFC Defensive Player of the Week recognition for his performance in Week 13, which saw him post two picks, including one he returned for a 61-yard touchdown that proved to be the winning score.

On top of his success in the draft, Hortiz fortified the roster through extensions, waiver claims and trades. Prior to the start of training camp in 2024, he extended Dicker, who went on to earn back-to-back AFC Special Teams Player of the Week awards in Weeks 17 and 18. Hortiz also traded for defensive back Elijah Molden, who became a key contributor on defense and was extended this past offseason.

Hortiz, who helped build Baltimore's Super Bowl XLVII-winning roster, brought 26 seasons of NFL experience to Los Angeles, along with a track record of building complete teams through the draft and free agency. As one of the chief personnel evaluators for the Ravens from 2019-23, Hortiz helped the organization compile rosters to make the playoffs in four of those seasons and posted a 56-27 record in that span, including a league-best mark of 13-4 in 2023.

As Baltimore's director of player personnel, Hortiz helped run a personnel department that drafted five players that went on to earn Pro Bowl recognition. He was part of a staff that traded for linebacker Roquan Smith in 2022 and defensive end Calais Campbell in 2020, as well as signed key pieces like outside linebacker Jadeveon Clowney, wide receiver Odell Beckham Jr., and guard Kevin Zeitler. In his first season as a director of player personnel in 2019, Hortiz helped compile a roster that posted a 14-2 record, the best in franchise history.

In 10 years (2009-18) as Baltimore's director of college scouting, Hortiz's eye for talent was on display, as he oversaw a process that ended up drafting 13 players to combine for 25 Pro Bowls and six Associated Press first-team All-Pro selections. Hortiz had a lasting impact on the organization from 2009-23 after his role expanded, as the Ravens drafted 18 Pro Bowlers and seven AP first-team All-Pros in that time. He helped bring in eventual five-time AP first-team All-Pro and six-time Pro Bowl kicker Justin Tucker as an undrafted free agent in 2012, as well as select some of the top players in the NFL in recent memory, capped by the 2018 draft class that included tight end Mark Andrews and quarterback Lamar Jackson, who earned league MVP honors in his second season.

Hortiz got his start with the Ravens as a personnel assistant in 1998, working in that role until he became an area scout for the team from 2001-05. He then became a national scout for three seasons (2006-08), with a focus on the eastern half of the country, helping the team select quarterback Joe Flacco in the first round of the 2008 NFL Draft, who went on to eventually be named Super Bowl XLVII MVP. Hortiz graduated from Auburn University with a bachelor's degree in accounting, working as an undergraduate assistant coach for the Tigers football team from 1995-97.

Hortiz and his wife, Jennifer, have four sons — Joey, Jack, Jamie and Julian.

JIM HARBAUGH

HEAD COACH

24TH NFL SEASON | 5TH SEASON WITH CHARGERS

The Los Angeles Chargers hired Jim Harbaugh as the 19th head coach in franchise history, returning the former Bolts quarterback from the 1999 and 2000 seasons to Southern California. Harbaugh posted a 144-52 record as a collegiate head coach and has a 71-36-1 record as an NFL head coach. As head coach, Harbaugh led the Michigan Wolverines to a National Championship, while previously coaching the San Francisco 49ers to three-straight NFC Championship Games, including an appearance in Super Bowl XLVII.

In six seasons as an NFL head coach, Harbaugh has coached 25 players to a combined 39 Pro Bowl appearances. Among coaches with at least 60 games coached, his .679 winning percentage in the regular season (66-31-1 record) is the ninth-best in NFL history. Harbaugh's teams have allowed just 17.9 points per game in those six seasons, the eighth-best mark for any NFL head coach with at least 80 games coached since the 1970 NFL-AFL Merger.

Harbaugh began his tenure as the Bolts' head coach with back-to-back 11-win seasons and a pair of playoff appearances, continuing his renowned reputation as a winner. Over his two years at the helm, Harbaugh coached eight different Chargers to a combined nine Pro Bowl selections. In that span, the Bolts have had the NFL's fourth-ranked defense (304.8 total net yards allowed per game) the No. 3 scoring defense (18.9 points allowed per game) and the fifth-best passing defense (193.4 net passing yards allowed per game).

In 2025, Harbaugh led the Chargers to an 11-6 regular-season record and coached five players to the Pro Bowl, including three that were named an all-star for the first time. The team posted a 5-0 record in prime-time games and a 5-1 record in the division, marking the most wins in primetime in a single season in franchise history. The five division wins were tied for the most by a Chargers team since realignment in 2002. Los Angeles' offense eclipsed 2,000 rushing yards on the season despite 10 different players appearing along the line. The unit was led by Pro Bowl quarterback Justin Herbert, who orchestrated the Bolts rank third in the NFL and lead the AFC on third down, converting 45.8 percent of attempts (115-of-251). Herbert finished the year with 2,285 career completions, setting all-time NFL records for the most completions through the first six seasons of a career and the most completions by any player before turning 28-years old.

Herbert connected consistently with wide receivers Keenan Allen, Quentin Johnston and Ladd McConkey to be the NFL's only trio of receivers to each eclipse 50 catches, 700 yards and four touchdowns on the season. Allen returned to the Bolts to set the franchise receptions record (985) and eclipsed 1,000 career receptions in his 159th game, setting the all-time NFL mark for the fastest to reach that mark by more than 10 games. The veteran pass-catcher continued his excellence on third down, leading the NFL in third-down receptions (34) and receiving first downs on third down (29). Meanwhile, Johnston record his second-straight season with a team-best eight receiving scores, tied for the second-most in the AFC in 2025. Harbaugh also helped McConkey continue the impressive start to his career by tying a franchise record for the most receptions within the first two seasons of a career (148).

Defensively, the Bolts continued to be among the NFL's toughest under Harbaugh, ranking No. 5 in the NFL in both total defense (285.2 total net yards allowed per game) and passing defense (179.9 net passing yards allowed per game). The unit was also among football's most clutch, ranking inside the top five on third down (fifth) and in the red zone (fourth). Los Angeles' defense was again led by safety Derwin James Jr., who earned his fifth Pro Bowl selection and added Associated Press second-team All-Pro honors. He earned the first AFC Defensive Player of the Week of his career in the Week 3 victory over Denver after becoming the sixth NFL player and first defensive back since tackles for loss began being tracked in 2008 to have 10 solo tackles, a sack and four tackles for loss in a single game. The pass rush was led by third-year outside linebacker Tuli Tuipulotu enjoy a breakout season, pacing the Bolts with a career-best 13.0 sacks, 23 quarterback hits and 20 tackles for loss en route to his first career Pro Bowl nod and an All-AFC selection from the Professional Football Writers of America.

The Chargers continued to perform as one of football's best field goal units, as kicker Cameron Dicker made 38-of-41 field goals (92.7 pct.) and 34 extra points to total 148 points scored. Dicker earned the first Pro Bowl of his career and was named an All-Pro from Sporting News, becoming the seventh player in NFL history to have three consecutive seasons with at least 30 made field goals. He tied his career long and franchise record with a 59-yard field goal and twice earned AFC Special Teams Player of the Week, marking the fifth and sixth Special Teams Player of the Week awards of his career. Dicker continued to be the most accurate kicker in NFL history, finishing the year with 129 career made field goals on 138 attempts (93.5 pct.), the only player ever to make more than 90 percent of field goal attempts (min. 100 att.). The special teams saw linebacker Del'Shawn Phillips total 24 special teams tackles, earning second-team AP All-Pro honors as a special teamer as his 24 special teams stops ranked second in the NFL and were the most by a Charger in a season in the last 30 years.

In 2024, Harbuagh coached the Bolts to an 11-6 record in the regular season, orchestrating a six-win turnaround from the previous season, and tutored four players to earn Pro Bowl recognition. The Los Angeles offense protected the football as well as any unit in the history of football, committing just eight turnovers to set the franchise record and tie for the second-fewest offensive turnovers in a single season in NFL history. Key to that was Herbert, whose three interceptions and 0.6 interception percentage on the year were each the second-best in a season in NFL history among players with at least 450 pass attempts. Herbert also had a stretch of 357 pass attempts without an interception, the fifth-longest streak in NFL history. McConkey emerged as a premier receiving threat, setting franchise rookie records with a team-high 82 catches and 1,149 receiving yards, while also hauling in seven touchdowns. Meanwhile, the offensive line featured one the best tackle duos in football in Rashawn Slater and rookie Joe Alt.

A hallmark of Harbaugh-coached teams is a stingy defense, with the Bolts 2024 unit proving to be just that, allowing a league-best 17.7 points per game. The defense also ranked No. 5 on third down (35.7 pct.) and seventh in passing defense (206.9 net passing yards per game), while pacing the NFL in red zone defense, allowing just 18 touchdowns on 40 drives in the red zone. On top of Pro Bowl recognition, James was named AFC Defensive Player of the Month for December/January and was named an AP second-team All-Pro after being just one of four NFL players — and the only defensive back — to have 70 tackles, five sacks, an interception and five passes defensed in 2024. The unit was led by second-year linebacker Daiyan Henley's 142 tackles, posting a league-best nine games with at least 10 tackles. Rookie cornerbacks Tarheeb Still and Cam Hart to take over starting roles during the season, with Still earning AFC Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts in the Week 13 victory at Atlanta.

On special teams, kicker Cameron Dicker set career highs by making 39 field goals and scoring 150 points, both setting single-season franchise records by a kicker. He tied a franchise long with a 59-yard field goal and, in Week 16, he made a 57-yard fair catch free kick field goal to close the first half, believed the to be the longest such kick in history and the first make since 1976. Dicker capped the season by winning AFC Special Teams Player of the Week back-to-back in Weeks 17 and 18, his third and fourth career Special Teams Player of the Week honors.

Harbaugh rejoined the Chargers after spending the previous nine years at his alma mater as head football coach for the University of Michigan. He led Michigan to an 86-25 record along with three-consecutive Big Ten Championships, three-straight appearances in the College Football Playoff and a perfect 15-0 record during his final season in Ann Arbor, Mich., that saw the Wolverines crowned 2023 National Champions.

As head coach for the Wolverines, Harbaugh coached the top defense in the nation, allowing just 291.0 yards per game in that nine-year span. Michigan had a top-five defense in the country five times over those nine seasons, including twice as the top-ranked defense in the nation. His keen eye for talent and ability to develop players was on display at Michigan, as he coached nine eventual first-round NFL Draft selections over his nine-season tenure, including defensive end Aidan Hutchinson (No. 2 in 2022), linebacker Devin Bush (No. 10 in 2019) as top-10 picks.

Harbaugh returned to his alma mater after spending four seasons (2011-14) as the head coach of the San Francisco 49ers, leading the team to a 49-22-1 record and three-consecutive NFC Championship Games, including a victory in 2012 to represent the NFC in Super Bowl XLVII. He was named 2011 NFL Coach of the Year by The Associated Press after his first season with San Francisco, when he led the 49ers to an NFC West division crown with a 13-3 record. That season, the defense led the NFL with 38 takeaways and ranked No. 1 in rushing defense, allowing just 77.3 yards per game on the ground.

Leading the 49ers to the franchise's first NFC Championship crown in over a decade-and-a-half, a game in which San Francisco orchestrated a 17-point comeback, Harbaugh's 2012 unit led the NFC in total defense (294.4 total net yards per game) and passing defense (200.2 net passing yards per game). In 2013, Harbaugh led a resilient group that won each of their final six games to clinch a playoff spot before winning two postseason bouts and appearing in the NFC Championship Game for the third-straight season.

Harbaugh coached 17 players to a combined 30 Pro Bowls with the 49ers — the second-most Pro Bowlers in the NFL in that time. Eight of those players were also recognized as AP first-team All-Pros, including linebackers Patrick Willis (twice) and NaVorro Bowman (three times). Over Harbaugh's four years with San Francisco, the 49ers led the NFL in rushing defense (92.0 yards per game), while ranking No. 2 in scoring defense (17.4 points per game), third in total defense (310.2) and No. 4 with 122 takeaways.

Prior to being a head coach in the NFL, Harbaugh spent four years at the helm at Stanford University (2007-10) and three at the University of San Diego (2004-06). He turned around a Stanford program that went 1-11 in 2006 and led the Cardinal to 29 wins over his four seasons in Palo Alto, Calif., including a 12-win season that culminated in an Orange Bowl victory in 2010. Harbaugh broke into the head coaching ranks at San Diego, leading the Toreros to a 29-6 record in three years.

Harbaugh began his coaching career as the quarterbacks coach for the Oakland Raiders from 2002-03. In his first season with Oakland, the Raiders went to Super Bowl XXXVII, while quarterback Rich Gannon earned MVP honors and was named a Pro Bowler and an AP first-team All-Pro.

In 15 years as an NFL quarterback (1987-2001), Harbaugh played for five organizations, including with the Chargers from 1999-2000. He got his start in coaching while he was still playing in the NFL, working as an unpaid assistant at Western Kentucky from 1994-2001, where his father, Jack, was the head coach. Harbaugh was selected with the 25th overall pick in the 1987 NFL Draft by Chicago and went on to start 140-of-177 career games played, throwing for 26,288 yards and 129 touchdowns. He led the NFL in passer rating in 1995, earning Comeback Player of the Year recognition and a Pro Bowl selection after leading the Colts to an AFC Championship Game appearance. Harbaugh eventually went to the Chargers for two seasons and is one of four Bolts quarterbacks to throw for 400 yards in a single game.

Harbaugh played quarterback at the University of Michigan, finishing his career as one of the most efficient passers in college football history. RYAN FICKEN

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR
20TH NFL SEASON | 5TH SEASON WITH CHARGERS

Ryan Ficken enters his fifth season as special teams coordinator with the Chargers in 2026 after turning the unit around to be one of the NFL's best over his first four years in Los Angeles. Over his four seasons with the Bolts, Ficken coached the unit to convert a league-high 95.3 percent of all its kicks (field goals and PATs combined) and rank No. 3 in the NFL with an 11.7-yard punt return average.

Ficken's fourth season with Los Angeles was highlighted by the continued success for the field goal operation, as kicker Cameron Dicker made 38-of-41 field goals (92.7 pct.) and 34 extra points to total 148 points scored. Dicker earned the first Pro Bowl of his career and was named an All-Pro from Sporting News, becoming the seventh player in NFL history to have three consecutive seasons with at least 30 made field goals. He tied his career long and franchise record with a 59-yard field goal and twice earned AFC Special Teams Player of the Week, marking the fifth and sixth Special Teams Player of the Week awards of his career. Dicker continued to be the most accurate kicker in NFL history, finishing the year with 129 career made field goals on 138 attempts (93.5 pct.), the only player ever to make more than 90 percent of field goal attempts (min. 100 att.). Ficken helped coach a pair of players to high impact on coverage units — as linebacker Del'Shawn Phillips totaled 24 special teams tackles and rookie linebacker Marlowe Wax added 15 stops on special teams. Phillips earned second-team All-Pro honors from The Associated Press as a special teamer, as his 24 special teams tackles ranked second in the NFL and were the most by a Charger in a season in the last 30 years.

In his third season with the Bolts in 2024, Ficken continued to lead one of football's top punt return units, as the team's 12.0-yard punt return average ranked No. 6 in the NFL and third in the AFC. Dicker set career highs by making 39 field goals and scoring 150 points, both setting single-season franchise records by a kicker. He tied a franchise long with a 59-yard field goal and, in Week 16, he made a 57-yard fair catch free kick field goal to close the first half, believed to be the longest such kick in history and the first make since 1976. Dicker capped the season by winning AFC Special Teams Player of the Week back-to-back in Weeks 17 and 18, his third and fourth career Special Teams Player of the Week honors. Dicker and wide receiver Derius Davis (as return specialist) were both named first-alternates for the Pro Bowl on special teams.

Ficken continued to keep the special teams a strength for the Chargers in his second season with the team in 2023. His unit averaged 16.0 yards per punt return, setting a single-season franchise record and ranking No. 2 in the NFL. Ficken coached the most disciplined unit in football, as the Chargers had just two penalties on special teams that season, the fewest in the NFL. Dicker made 31-of-33 field goals (93.9 pct.), tying for the fourth-most made field goals in a single season by a Chargers kicker in history. Along with Dicker making all 35 extra point attempts, the team's 97.1 total kicking percentage (66-of-68) ranked No. 2 in the NFL. Dicker ended the season with a 94.5 career field goal percentage (52-of-55), the best by any kicker in NFL history with at least 50 career attempts.

Meanwhile, Davis stepped in as one of the best returners in the NFL during his rookie season. He led all qualified returners with a 16.0-yard punt return average and paced the AFC with 385 punt return yards. Davis earned AFC Special Teams Player of the Week after taking one of his punt returns for an 87-yard touchdown on Monday Night Football at the New York Jets. Punter JK Scott was also recognized as AFC Special Teams Player of the Week after he set a career high and single-game franchise record with seven punts placed inside the 20-yard line in the Week 13 victory at New England. Scott's 42.3-yard net punting average in 2023 was a career high and surpassed his mark from 2022 (41.5) as the best in a single season by a Charger in over 20 years. Davis (as a return specialist), Scott and long snapper Josh Harris were all named Pro Bowl alternates on special teams.

In his first season with the Bolts in 2022, Ficken coordinated a special teams unit that led the NFL by allowing just 3.1 yards per punt return, which was the best average allowed by any Chargers team in 50 years. He also oversaw the AFC's top kicking unit, making 31-of-33 field goals (93.9 pct.) despite deploying three different kickers on the year due to injury. The team's 93.9 field goal percentage ranked No. 2 in the NFL in 2022 and led the AFC.

That year, Los Angeles' unit saw three specialists win Special Teams Player of the Week — Dicker, Scott and kicker Dustin Hopkins. The Bolts were the first known team to have two different kickers win the weekly honor in the same season. Dicker was also named the AFC Special Teams Player of the Month for December/January, becoming the third Charger to earn an AFC Player of the Month award in their rookie season. Ficken tutored Dicker to earn All-Rookie honors from the Professional Football Writers of America and set the NFL's rookie single-season field goal percentage record among players with 15 attempts by making 21-of-22 field goals (95.5 pct.). Scott, Harris and wide receiver DeAndre Carter (as a return specialist) were all named Pro Bowl alternates on special teams.

Ficken spent the first 15 years of his NFL career with the Minnesota Vikings, serving as the team's special teams coordinator in 2021 after assisting the unit for the prior eight seasons. He directed a special teams unit that led the NFC and ranked second in the league in kickoff return average (26.5), as kicker Greg Joseph led the conference with 33 made field goals, including a conference-best seven makes of 50-plus yards. Ficken's unit was ranked ninth in the NFL by Pro Football Focus, while punter Jordan Berry's gross average of 46.5 yards per punt ranked the best in franchise history. Under Ficken's guidance, running back Kene Nwagnwu led the NFL with two kickoff return touchdowns and was named PFWA All-Rookie as a kick returner. Nwagnwu, fullback C.J. Ham and long snapper Andrew DePaola were all named alternates for the Pro Bowl on special teams.

In the eight seasons (2013-20) prior, Ficken assisted with a special teams unit that produced seven different players to earn NFC Special Teams Player of the Week. He also helped coach wide receiver Cordarrelle Patterson to be twice named a Pro Bowler at kick returner (2013, '16 seasons) and win NFC Special Teams Player of the Month in September 2013.

Ficken helped Minnesota lead the NFL with three fumble recoveries on punt coverage in 2020, as rookie safety Josh Metellus recovered two of the fumbles and led all NFL rookies with nine special teams stops. Running back Mike Boone won NFC Special Teams Player of the Week after forcing one of the fumbles in a Week 4 win at Houston. One season prior, kicker Dan Bailey won the weekly conference award three times as the Vikings kicking unit totaled 121 points (postseason included) and made 22 field goals in a row, the longest streak in the NFL to close out the 2019 season. In 2017, kicker Kai Forbath was named NFC Special Teams Player of the Week after making a career-high six field goals in the Week 7 win vs. Baltimore. In the NFC Divisional Round victory over New Orleans, Forbath set the franchise record for the longest made field goal in the postseason, connecting from 53 yards out with less than two minutes remaining in regulation.

In 2016, Patterson was named to his second Pro Bowl after helping the Vikings pace the NFL with three total return touchdowns. Patterson's 31.7-yard kickoff return average led the league, as he became the first player to own the NFL's top mark in kickoff return average in three separate seasons. Minnesota led the NFL in kickoff return average in back-to-back seasons in 2015-16. Cornerback Marcus Sherels totaled two punt return touchdowns in 2016, tying the NFL lead. Sherels had a 77-yard punt return for a touchdown in 2015, earning him NFC Special Teams Player of the Week in a Week 8 win at Chicago.

Ficken assisted the kickoff coverage to hold opponents to a return average of 20.7 yards, the fourth-best mark in the NFL in 2014. In a Week 13 win over the Panthers, wide receiver Adam Thielen blocked and recovered a punt, returning it 30 yards for a touchdown en route to NFC Special Teams Player of the Week recognition. In Ficken's first season coaching special teams, Patterson was named an AP first-team All-Pro at kick returner and received his first Pro Bowl nod as the kick returner after setting Minnesota's single-season franchise records in kickoff return yards (1,393), kickoff return average (32.4) and kickoff return touchdowns (two), leading the NFL in all categories. Patterson's 109-yard kickoff return touchdown in Week 8 remains the longest kickoff return score in NFL history. In the punt return phase, Sherels set the team record with a 15.2-yard-average, ranking second in the NFL. In a Week 7 win at the Giants, Sherels finished the game with a single-game Vikings record of 119 punt return yards.

Before assisting with the Minnesota special teams unit, Ficken coached four seasons (2009-12) for the Vikings as assistant wide receivers coach. He helped Sidney Rice and Percy Harvin III garner Pro Bowl recognition in Ficken's first season at the position. Ficken contributed to Harvin's development, which saw the Florida product win NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year recognition in 2009 after hauling in 60 passes for 790 yards and six touchdowns, moving the chains on 42 of those receptions. That same season, Rice recorded the first 1,300-yard receiving season in franchise history, finishing the campaign with 83 catches for 1,312 yards and eight touchdowns. Harvin went on to lead the Vikings with 71 catches for 871 yards (12.2 avg.) and five scores in 2010, before hauling in a career-best 87 catches for 967 yards (11.1 avg.) and six touchdowns in 2011.

Ficken began his NFL career by serving as the assistant running backs coach for Minnesota for two seasons (2007-08). His first year featured 2007 NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year Adrian Peterson, as Minnesota's run game led the NFL in 2007 with an average of 164.6 yards per game and as Peterson finished with 1,341 yards and 12 scores on the ground, adding Pro Bowl MVP to the trophy case in his first professional season. Peterson set the NFL's all-time single-game rushing record with 296 yards during his rookie season. The following year, Peterson led the NFL with 1,760 rushing yards, earning AP first-team All-Pro recognition and his second Pro Bowl selection.

A native of Centennial, Colo., Ficken broke into the coaching ranks as a defensive assistant (2004-05) and offensive assistant (2006) at UCLA after his playing career at Arizona State. During his time as a graduate assistant at UCLA, Ficken studied comparative education. Ficken played wide receiver two seasons (1998-99) for the Sun Devils and earned his bachelor's degree in business administration. As a player, he received the team's Scholar-Athlete Award and was a member of Gamma Beta Phi, the National Scholastic Honor Society.

JULIAN CAMPENNI

ASSISTANT DEFENSIVE LINE
1ST NFL SEASON | 1ST SEASON WITH CHARGERS

Julian Campenni joins the Los Angeles coaching staff in 2026 as assistant defensive line coach, marking his first NFL experience. He comes to the Bolts after coaching the last two seasons at Rutgers University.

With the Scarlet Knights, Campenni spent his first season at Rutgers coaching defensive ends, before transitioning to tutor the outside linebackers in 2025. He joined Rutgers after a five-season tenure at Bowling Green State University (2019-23), advancing from defensive line coach from 2019-21 to adding defensive run game coordinator duties in 2022. Campenni coached with the Green Bay Packers in the Summer of 2022 as part of the NFL's Bill Walsh Diversity Coaching Fellowship.

In his final year with the Falcons, Campenni was also an assistant head coach, helping the team lead the country with a plus-28 turnover differential and ranking No. 25 in the nation in total defense while playing a schedule that featured facing off with three conference champions. The defense paced the Mid-American Conference in 2023 with 11 fumble recoveries, ranked third in sacks per game (2.54) and No. 4 in rushing defense (146.2 rushing yards allowed per game), earning a bid to the Quick Lane Bowl. From 2021-22, the Falcons recorded 71.0 sacks, the most over a two-year period in program history.

A native of West Pittston, Pa., Campenni played four seasons at the University of Connecticut (2012-15), starting 38-of-47 career games along the defensive line. As a senior, he was a team captain and earned second-team All-American Athletic Conference honors.

STEVE CLINKSCALE

DEF. PASSING GAME COORDINATOR/DEFENSIVE BACKS
3RD NFL SEASON | 3RD SEASON WITH CHARGERS

Steve Clinkscale enters his third season with the Chargers in 2026, his first as defensive passing game coordinator/defensive backs coach after spending the previous two years with the Bolts as defensive backs coach. He is one of football's most experienced secondary coaches, spending each of his 25 years as a coach, including 23 at the collegiate level, coaching defensive backs.

In 2025, Clinkscale coached a defensive backs group that helped the Chargers rank No. 5 in the NFL in both total defense (285.2 total net yards allowed per game) and passing defense (179.9 net passing yards allowed per game). The unit was also among football's most clutch, ranking inside the top five on third down (fifth) and in the red zone (fourth). Clinkscale coached a defensive backs room that featured safety Tony Jefferson leading the team with four interceptions. Safety Derwin James Jr., was close behind with three interceptions and ranked second on the team with 94 tackles (50 solo), adding a pair of sacks. James was recognized with the fifth Pro Bowl of his career and added Associated Press second-team All-Pro honors. He earned the first AFC Defensive Player of the Week of his career in the Week 3 victory over Denver after becoming the sixth NFL player and first defensive back since tackles for loss began being tracked in 2008 to have 10 solo tackles, a sack and four tackles for loss in a single game.

Clinkscale coached a defensive backs group for the Chargers in 2024 that featured 11 different players to make starts throughout the season, including a pair of in-season acquisitions. The defensive backs were key to the unit leading the NFL in scoring defense, allowing just 17.7 points per game. Los Angeles was also the best red zone defense in football, allowing touchdowns on just 45.0 percent of red zone drives.

The group was led by James, who was named to his fourth Pro Bowl and an AP second-team All-Pro after being just one of four NFL players — and the only defensive back — to have 70 tackles, five sacks, an interception and five passes defensed in 2024. James earned league recognition as AFC Defensive Player of the Month for December/January after posting three sacks, seven tackles for loss, an interception and a pair of pass breakups in the final six weeks of the season.

Clinkscale was tasked with onboarding a pair of rookie cornerbacks in Tarheeb Still and Cam Hart to take over starting roles during the season, with Still earning AFC Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts in the Week 13 victory at Atlanta. Clinkscale also helped get defensive back Elijah Molden up to speed after his acquisition via trade at the end of the preseason, as the Washington product set single-season career bests in tackles (72), interceptions (three) and pass breakups (seven).

Prior to the Chargers, Clinkscale was the co-defensive coordinator/defensive backs coach at the University of Michigan, leading a unit that served as a stalwart for the top-ranked total defense in college football, allowing just 247.0 total net yards per game en route to a College Football Playoff National Championship and perfect 15-0 season. The Wolverines also led the nation with an average of just 10.4 points allowed per game, permitting just 17 defensive touchdowns in 15 games — the second fewest by any unit in the country despite playing two more games than the leader.

From 2022-23, Clinkscale, under the guidance of Chargers Defensive Coordinator Jesse Minter, the Wolverines ranked No. 2 in the nation in total defense (268.8), earning the program's first berth in the College Football Playoff.

The Wolverines were champions of the Big Ten Conference and appeared in the College Football Playoff in each of Clinkscale's three seasons in Ann Arbor. Over his tenure, two Michigan defensive backs were named All-Americans, as cornerbacks Mike Sainristil and Will Johnson earned first-team All-Big Ten on top of their All-America acknowledgement. Clinkscale's guidance also led to safety Daxton Hill to first-team all-conference honors and an eventual first-round draft selection, as cornerback D.J. Turner, a second-team All-Big Ten honoree was eventually taken in the second round of the annual draft.

Prior to his tenure at Michigan, Clinkscale spent five seasons at the University of Kentucky (2016-20). Leading the defensive backfield, Clinkscale added the title of defensive pass game coordinator from 2020-21. Over his final three seasons in Lexington, the Wildcats' defense ranked top-four in the Southeastern Conference in pass defense, leading the conference in 2019 and 2020. Kentucky's defense posted a conference-best 16 interceptions in 2020, ranking third nationally.

In his first season at Kentucky (2016), Clinkscale helped mold a secondary that provided all 13 of the team's interceptions, as all-conference safety and eventual two-time Super Bowl champion Mike Edwards hit the century mark in total tackles and recorded three of interceptions. The following season, Edwards earned his second All-SEC nod.

In 2018, Clinkscale helped Kentucky achieve one of the best seasons in program history, posting a 10-3 record – the best mark for a Wildcats squad since 1977 — and finishing No. 12 in the final AP poll. Under Clinkscale's direction, Edwards claimed his third All-SEC acknowledgement, becoming just the second defensive back in program history to record over 300 tackles in a career, adding 10 interceptions and two takeaways returned for touchdowns. Following the season, Edwards was selected in the third round of the 2019 NFL Draft. Despite Edwards' departure, Clinkscale led his productive secondary unit to rank second nationally in fewest touchdown passes allowed (nine) and third in passing yards allowed per game (167.8) in 2019. Clinkscale also mentored Lonnie Johnson for two seasons (2017-18) at Kentucky before he would go on to be selected in the second round (54th overall) of the 2019 NFL Draft by the Houston Texans.

Clinkscale served three seasons as defensive backs coach at the University of Cincinnati (2013-15), adding defensive coordinator responsibilities in his final season, helping the Bearcats appear in a bowl game following each of his three years. As defensive coordinator in 2015, Clinkscale's unit ranked third in the American Athletic Conference in passing yards allowed per game (216.5).

Prior to coaching the cornerbacks at the University of Illinois in 2012, Clinkscale had a three-year tenure at the University of Toledo (2009-11), where he was special teams coordinator and cornerbacks coach for the Rockets.

Under his direction, Clinkscale's kickoff return unit tanked top-20 in the nation in 2010 (11th) and 2011 (17th), as Eric Page became one of the top returners in the country. Clinkscale helped Page earn All-Mid-American Conference recognition at three different positions in 2010, as he was the only player at the FBS level to return three kickoffs for touchdowns. Page was recognized as a finalist for the Paul Hornung Award as a junior in 2011, which is given annually to the nation's most versatile player. Defensively, Toledo's defense consistently improved as a unit under Clinkscale leading the defensive backfield. Under his direction, the Rockets ranked among the country's leaders in takeaways each of his three seasons. Prior to Toledo, Clinkscale spent 2008 as defensive backs coach at Western Carolina University.

Clinkscale entered the coaching ranks at his alma mater, Ashland University, in 2001, leading the defensive backs over a seven-year tenure (2001-07). Under his guidance, two Eagles earned All-America nods — Devin Conwell and Toure Carter — as Conwell was named 2005 GLIAC Defensive Back of the Year one season after leading all of Division II in solo tackles per game. The Eales ranked second in all of Division II in scoring defense in 2005.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Clinkscale was a four-year starter and team captain at Ashland (Ohio), capping his playing career by participating in the 2000 Snow Bowl, a Division II All-Star Game. Clinkscale earned his bachelor's degree in sports science with a concentration in therapeutic recreation from Ashland in 2000.

Clinkscale and his wife, Elaine, are parents to six children — Isaiah, Elijah, Zion and Zivon, Brandon Jr. and Carlo Jr.

SHANE DAY

OFF. PASSING GAME COORDINATOR/QUARTERBACKS
18TH NFL SEASON | 5TH SEASON WITH CHARGERS

Shane Day enters his fifth season as a coach for the Chargers in 2026, this time as offensive passing game coordinator/quarterbacks coach. He has tutored the quarterbacks in all four of his previous seasons with the Bolts, holding the title passing game coordinator in addition to his position coach responsibilities for two of those years (2021-22). One of the top quarterback gurus in football, Day has coached a pair of players to Pro Bowl selections, including Chargers quarterback Justin Herbert in 2021 and 2025. In back-to-back years from 2024-25, Day helped coach offenses that led the NFL in fewest giveaways.

In 2025, Day coached Herbert to his second career Pro Bowl, as the quarterback orchestrated the Bolts rank third in the NFL and lead the AFC on third down, converting 45.8 percent of attempts (115-of-251). Herbert finished the year with 2,285 career completions, setting all-time NFL records for the most completions through the first six seasons of a career and the most completions by any player before turning 28-years old. The team posted a 5-0 record in prime-time games and a 5-1 record in the division, marking the most wins in primetime in a single season in franchise history. The five division wins were tied for the most by a Chargers team since realignment in 2002.

In his first season back with the Chargers in 2024, Day's impact on the offense was evident, as Herbert turned in the most efficient season of his career. The fifth-year signal caller set career bests in passer rating (101.7) and interceptions thrown (three), with Herbert's interceptions and 0.6 interception percentage marking the second-best in a season in NFL history among players with at least 450 pass attempts. Herbert also had a stretch of 357 pass attempts without an interception, the fifth-longest streak in NFL history. As a unit, the Los Angeles offense committed just eight turnovers in 2024, setting a franchise record and tying for the second-fewest offensive turnovers in a single season in NFL history.

Before returning to the Bolts, Day worked as a senior offensive assistant with the Houston Texans in 2023, assisting the offense to lead the NFL in fewest giveaways (14) and rank No. 2 with 41 passing plays of 25-plus yards. He also helped quarterback C.J. Stroud be selected to the Pro Bowl and earn Offensive Rookie of the Year honors from The Associated Press and the Professional Football Writers of America. Under Day's tutelage, Stroud eclipsed 4,000 passing yards and threw 23 touchdowns to lead the Texans to an AFC South title and a playoff victory, becoming the first quarterback selected with a top-five NFL Draft pick in over a decade to win a postseason game as a rookie.

In his first stint with the Chargers from 2021-22, Day coordinated the passing attack and coached quarterbacks, helping Los Angeles to a postseason appearance in his second season with the team. He coached Justin Herbert turn in a pair of record-setting seasons for the Bolts, setting all-time franchise marks in passing yards (5,014) passing touchdowns (38) and games with 300-plus passing yards (nine) in 2021 and completions (477) and passing attempts (699) the following season. Herbert was named a Pro Bowler following the 2021 season, starting at quarterback for the AFC, and was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week three times that year. He became the third-youngest player to throw for 5,000 yards in a single season (23 years, 305 days) and is the only player to throw for 5,000 yards and rush for 300 yards in the same season. In the team's Sunday Night Football victory over Pittsburgh in 2021, Herbert threw for 382 yards and ran for 90, becoming the only player ever to top 350 passing yards and 90 rushing yards in a single game.

Day coordinated a passing attack that ranked No. 3 in the NFL from 2021-22 (276.0 net passing yards per game). The unit that finished 2022 as the third-best passing offense in football (269.6) and tied for second in 2021 (282.4). The Los Angeles offense led the NFL in 2021 with 22 fourth-down conversions and seven two-point conversions, while also ranking No. 4 in total offense (390.2 total net yards per game). That season, the unit set single-season team records for first downs (401), passing touchdowns (38) and fewest fumbles (10). The Bolts offense also scored 181 fourth-quarter points in 2021, good for the second-most in a season in NFL history.

With Day's influence on the offense, running back Austin Ekeler led the NFL with 38 touchdowns from 2021-22, while his 13 receiving scores led all running backs. In 2021, Ekeler hauled in eight touchdown catches, joining all of Famer Marshall Faulk (2000 and '01) as the only running backs in the common draft era (since 1967) to post multiple seasons with eight or more receiving touchdowns. Day also coordinated a passing attack that saw the team's single-season receptions record set each year — wide receiver Keenan Allen has 106 catches in 2021, while Ekeler had 107 receptions in 2022. Meanwhile, in 2021, wide receiver Mike Williams registered five go-ahead touchdowns in the fourth quarter or overtime, the most by any player in a single season in NFL history.

Prior to joining the Chargers, Day spent two seasons (2019-20) directing the quarterbacks for the San Francisco 49ers. Over those two years, three different 49ers quarterbacks recorded starts. In 2019, Day coached Jimmy Garoppolo to be named Sporting News Comeback Player of the Year after finishing top-five in the NFL among qualified passers in both touchdown passes (27) and completion percentage (69.1). Garoppolo led San Francisco that season to win the NFC West with a 13-3 record and represent the NFC in Super Bowl LIV. Garoppolo's 102.0 passer rating in 2019 was the best in a season by a 49ers quarterback in over 20 seasons (Hall of Famer Steve Young, 104.7 rating in 1997).

Day returned to the Bay Area after working with the Miami Dolphins for three seasons (2016-18), coaching the team's tight end group. In his first season in South Florida, the team posted 10 wins, winning nine of the team's final 11 games. After losing Pro Bowler Jordan Cameron in Week 3, Day coached Dion Sims to finish the 2016 season with a career-high four touchdown catches. In 2018, Day was tasked with helping transition second-round pick Mike Gesicki to the NFL.

Before his time with the Dolphins, Day was an assistant offensive line coach in Washington. He coached there two seasons (2014-15) under then-offensive coordinator Sean McVay. Day helped coach tackle Trent Williams to a pair of Pro Bowl nods and a second-team AP All-Pro selection following the 2015 season. During his tenure with Washington, Day worked with an offensive front that protected quarterback Kirk Cousins, who led the NFL in 2015 with a 69.8 completion percentage.

Day was a two-sport athlete as an undergraduate at Rhodes College in Memphis, Tenn., playing football and baseball. A letter-winning wide receiver on the football team, Day began as a middle infielder for the Lynx baseball team before finding a contributing role as an outfielder. Day later earned a degree in English from his hometown institution, Kansas State University, in 1999.

After his playing career, Day entered the coaching ranks at the high school level. He worked as a salesman at Sears and as a high school laboratory associate, while doubling as a high school football coach. Day first worked with the wide receivers at Auburn (Wash.) Riverside High in 2001 before coaching quarterbacks and eventually earning the offensive coordinator position.

Day spent the 2006 season as an offensive quality control coach at the University of Michigan, helping tutor eventual NFL quarterback Chad Henne. Day then broke into the NFL, serving in the same capacity for three seasons (2007-09) with San Francisco. In his first stint with the 49ers, Day mainly helped the running backs group in 2007 before focusing on the offensive line for the next two years.

After his time in the Bay Area, Day coached quarterbacks for the Chicago Bears for two seasons (2010-11). His first season saw quarterback Jay Cutler lead the Bears to win the NFC North with an 11-5 record and advance to the NFC Championship. In 25 starts at quarterback under Day, Cutler led the Bears to a 17-8 record in the regular season. Cutler's .680 winning percentage as the starter was the third-best in the conference over that span among quarterbacks with at least 20 starts.

Day left the Windy City to return to the college ranks, coaching quarterbacks from 2012-13 at the University of Connecticut for two seasons. After the team started 0-9 in 2013, Day took over offensive play-calling duties, leading the Huskies to average 33.7 points per game and a 3-0 record in the final three games of the season.

MIKE ELSTON

DEF. RUN GAME COORDINATOR/DEFENSIVE LINE
3RD NFL SEASON | 3RD SEASON WITH CHARGERS

With 23 years of coaching experience at the collegiate level, leading and teaching some of the best defensive players in college football over two-plus decades, Mike Elston joined the Chargers in 2024 as defensive line coach for his first foray into the NFL. Elston held that position for two years before a promotion to defensive run game coordinator/defensive line coach beginning in the 2026 season.

Last season, Elston coached a defensive line group that helped the Chargers rank No. 5 in the NFL in both total defense (285.2 total net yards allowed per game) and passing defense (179.9 net passing yards allowed per game). The unit was also among football's most clutch, ranking inside the top five on third down (fifth) and in the red zone (fourth). The group was led by second-year defensive lineman Justin Eboigbe, who set a career high and ranked third on the team with six sacks. Eboigbe had a pair of games with two-plus sacks, making him one of just four NFL interior defensive linemen in 2025 to have multiple multi-sack games. The group also saw defensive lineman Teair Tart be among one of the most disruptive defensive linemen in the NFL, totaling 32 tackles and breaking up four passes, including two in the season-opening victory against Kansas City in São Paulo, Brazil.

Elston coached a defensive line in 2024 that anchored the NFL's top scoring defense, allowing just 17.7 points per game. The group's hard-nosed mentality was key to the defense being the league's best in the red zone, allowing just 18 touchdowns on 40 drives in the red zone. The Los Angeles defense was also ranked No. 5 on third down (35.7 pct.) and seventh in passing defense (206.9 net passing yards per game).

The defensive line featured Morgan Fox, who led the room with 3.5 sacks, and Poona Ford, who set career bests in tackles for loss (eight) and pass breakups (five), while picking off the first pass of his career and tying career highs in sacks (three) and quarterback hits (nine). Ford's Week 1 performance made him just the second interior defensive lineman in the last 15 seasons to have a tackle for loss, an interception and multiple pass breakups in a single game. Elston also helped transition fullback/defensive lineman Scott Matlock to contribute on offense as well as defense, as Matlock played over 120 snaps each on offense, defense and special teams, becoming the first NFL player to do so in the last 15 years.

Elston arrived in Los Angeles after directing the defensive line at his alma mater, the University of Michigan, helping the unit guide the Wolverines to a CFP National Championship and perfect 15-0 record in 2023. Elston's front helped Michigan defense lead the nation in total defense (247.0) and scoring defense (10.4), allowing just 17 defensive touchdowns over 15 games, the second fewest by any unit in the country despite playing in two more games than the leader.

The former Maize and Blue linebacker returned to Michigan in 2022, helping four Wolverines defensive linemen earn All-Big Ten recognition, as Mike Morris was named Smith-Brown Big Ten Defensive Lineman of the Year and Mazi Smith, who joined Morris with All-America honors, was later selected in the first round of the 2023 NFL Draft by the Dallas Cowboys. The Michigan defense finished top-10 in the nation in total defense, scoring defense, rushing defense and defensive pass efficiency en route to an appearance in the College Football Playoff.

Prior to his time in Ann Arbor, Elston spent 12 seasons at the University of Notre Dame in a variety of capacities, helping the Irish reach 11 bowl games, including two CFP appearances and one BCS National Championship Game berth. Elston tutored 12 eventual NFL Draft selections while at Notre Dame, including five defensive linemen selected from 2019-21.

Elston started his decade-plus tenure in South Bend as special teams coordinator/defensive line in 2010, a post he would hold for two seasons, before serving primarily as the defensive line coach from 2012-14. Elston added the role of recruiting coordinator in 2015, coaching linebackers for two seasons, before returning to lead the defensive line in 2017. He then was Notre Dame's associate head coach from 2017-20, while continuing to direct the defensive line, before advancing to run game coordinator in 2021, his final season with the Irish. Notre Dame reached double-digit wins in each of Elston's final five seasons coaching for the Irish.

As run game coordinator in 2021, Elston helped direct a defense that ranked top-10 in third-down conversion rate (10th) and defensive touchdowns allowed (seventh), as the Irish appeared in the 2022 PlayStation Fiesta Bowl and finished the season ranked eighth in the final AP Poll. One season prior, Notre Dame's defense ranked sixth in the nation in third-down conversion percentage, totaling six straight games of allowing less than 100 yards rushing by the opponent in 2020, paving the way toward the program's second appearance in the College Football Playoff. The Irish's run support was guided by standout efforts from defensive linemen Myron Tagovailoa-Amosa and Kurt Hinish, who joined linebackers Ade Ogundeji and Daelin Hayes as All-Atlantic Coast Conference honorees.

Elston helped lead a Notre Dame squad that reached 12 wins for just the second time since 1990 in 2018, as the Irish made their first appearance in the College Football Playoff in his first season as associate head coach/defensive line. His defensive front combined for 23.5 sacks and over 40 tackles for loss in 2018. Elston's guidance and development proved critical in 2015, Elston's first season coaching the linebackers group, as consensus All-American linebacker Jaylon Smith became the only Power 5 linebacker to eclipse 100 tackles in back-to-back seasons. Elston's path also included the development of Stephon Tuitt and Louis Nix III, who were selected in the second and third rounds, respectively, of the 2014 NFL Draft, as the pair became the first tandem of Notre Dame defensive linemen to each be chosen in the top three rounds of the same draft since 1997. Elston's group in 2012 helped the defense remain stout, allowing just four rushing touchdowns — the fewest by any team in the FBS that season.

After his playing career culminated, Elston remained at Michigan, serving as a student assistant for the Wolverines' 1997 National Championship season, his first step in the coaching profession. After assisting the staff as a video intern in 1998, Elston moved into a graduate assistant role, working with the outside linebackers in 1999 and 2000, before landing a full-time position at Eastern Michigan University in 2001. Elston spent three seasons at Easton Michigan (2001-03), advancing to recruiting coordinator/defensive line over his final two years.

Elston then spent three seasons at Central Michigan University, starting as the Chippewas defensive line coach before being promoted to co-defensive coordinator/defensive line in 2005, before overseeing the special teams units and coaching linebackers in 2006. As co-defensive coordinator/defensive line coach in 2005, Elston's mentorship of Dan Bazuin helped the eventual MAC Defensive Player of the Year lead the nation with 26.5 tackles for loss and secure a conference-record 16 sacks. Coaching the CMU linebackers in 2006, two of his players earned All-Mid-American Conference recognition, as Thomas Keith led the conference in tackles.

After his time at Central Michigan, and prior to his tenure at Notre Dame, Elston coordinated the special teams units at the University of Cincinnati for three seasons (2007-09), elevating to assistant head coach in his final season with the Bearcats in 2009. Over his three years at Cincinnati, a Bearcat was named Big East Special Teams Player of the Year, starting with punter Kevin Huber in 2007, followed by returner Mardy Gilyard in back-to-back seasons (2008 and 09). NICK HARDWICK

ASSISTANT OFFENSIVE LINE
14TH NFL SEASON | 14TH SEASON WITH CHARGERS

Nick Hardwick, who spent a decade-plus anchoring the offensive line for the Chargers, enters his third season as the team's assistant offensive line coach in 2026.

In 2025, Hardwick helped coach an offensive line group that contributed to a top-15 offense and 11-win season despite more than 10 different players appearing along the line. His tutoring helped weather the storm for the unit to protect quarterback Justin Herbert to throw for 3,727 yards and pave the way for the offense to eclipse 2,000 rushing yards on the season. Hardwick helped second-year tackle Joe Alt earn his first Pro Bowl selection despite being limited to six starts due to injury.

During his first season coaching with the Bolts in 2024, Hardwick helped coach an offensive line group that protected Herbert to have the most efficient year of his career, setting career bests in passer rating (101.7) and interceptions thrown (three). Herbert's three interceptions and 0.6 interception percentage were the second-best in a season in NFL history among players with at least 450 pass attempts. A stalwart at center, Hardwick — a third-round draft selection in the 2004 NFL Draft — was a member of five Chargers teams that claimed AFC West Division crowns and appeared in the postseason on six occasions. Hardwick was named to the Pro Bowl in 2006 after leading an offensive front that helped the Bolts secure an AFC West Division title and top seed in the postseason, and was selected as a Pro Bowl alternate each of the subsequent four seasons. He was named the team's Lineman of the Year on three occasions (2011-13) and was selected to the Chargers' 50th Anniversary All-Time Team in 2009.

Hardwick was instrumental in protecting two of the league's top passers of this century, quarterbacks Philip Rivers and Drew Brees, as Hardwick's Pro Bowl recognition in 2006 coincided with Hall of Fame running back LaDainian Tomlinson being named NFL Most Valuable Player after setting the NFL record for most touchdowns scored in a single season in NFL history (31).

As a rookie, Hardwick started all 14 appearances on the offensive line, as Brees was named 2004 NFL Comeback Player of the Year after leading the Chargers to 12 wins and an AFC West Division title. Over his final nine seasons, Hardwick protected Rivers as he went on to lead the Bolts to four division crowns and five playoff appearances over the pair's tenure together. In that time, Rivers was selected to five Pro Bowls and was the NFL's single-season leader in passing yards (2010), passing touchdowns (2008) and passer rating (2008). Hardwick's second-to-last season with the Bolts saw Rivers earn NFL Comeback Player of the Year after the Chargers won four-straight games to close out the regular season and defeated the Bengals in the AFC Wild Card Round.

Before joining the Bolts coaching staff, Hardwick spent two seasons coaching on the staff at Westfield (Ind.) High School. Since retirement, Hardwick has also been heavily involved in the Chargers Legends program, helping to establish the connection and continue the fellowship between Chargers greats over the franchise's 60-plus-year history. Staying close to the team after retiring, Hardwick called Chargers games over the radio airwaves from 2015-17.

A native of Indianapolis, Ind., Hardwick was an All-Big Ten offensive lineman at Purdue University, helping lead the Boilermakers to bowl games following each season of action after initially joining the team as a walk-on.

Sanjay Lal enters his third season as wide receivers coach of the Los Angeles Chargers in 2026, marking his 20th NFL season as a coach and his 31st year of coaching experience throughout all levels of football.

Lal continued to coach the wide receivers in 2025 for the Chargers, helping the group contribute to a top-15 offense and 11-win season. He tutored wide receivers Keenan Allen, Quentin Johnston and Ladd McConkey to be the NFL's only trio of receivers to each eclipse 50 catches, 700 yards and four touchdowns on the season. Allen returned to the Bolts to set the franchise receptions record (985) and eclipsed 1,000 career receptions in his 159th game, setting the all-time NFL mark for the fastest to reach that mark by more than 10 games. The veteran pass-catcher continued his excellence on third down, leading the NFL in third-down receptions (34) and receiving first downs on third down (29). Lal helped Johnston record his second-straight season with a team-best eight receiving scores, tied for the second-most in the AFC in 2025. McConkey set an NFL postseason rookie record in the team's AFC Wild Card matchup with 197 receiving yards, while his 86-yard touchdown grab in the game was the second-longest reception by a rookie in NFL postseason history.

Lal coached a receivers room that featured a league-high 11 different wide receivers to haul in passes in 2024. The group's 13.6-yard receiving average was good for the eighth-best average by a team's receiving corps in the NFL. He also helped develop Johnston to new heights in his second pro season, as the former first-round pick led the team with a career-high eight touchdown catches, while also setting career highs in receptions (55) and receiving yards (711).

Prior to his time with the Chargers, Lal spent the last two seasons (2022-23) as the offensive passing game coordinator/wide receivers coach for the Seattle Seahawks, where he helped orchestrate a passing offense that ranked No. 3 in the NFL in completion percentage (67.1) and red zone scoring (90.8 pct.) over that span. He helped quarterback Geno Smith earn Pro Bowl recognition each of those seasons along with Associated Press Comeback Player of the Year honors in 2022.

Lal oversaw a receivers group that featured DK Metcalf, who set the franchise record for the most receiving yards over the first five seasons of a career (5,332) along with being named to the Pro Bowl for the second time in his career in 2023. Lal also was instrumental to the development of Jaxon Smith-Njigba this past season, as the rookie totaled 63 receptions, the second-most ever by a rookie in franchise history. In 2022, Lal helped wide receiver Tyler Lockett register 84 catches for 1,033 yards and nine touchdowns, his fifth-straight season with at least eight touchdown grabs. That year, Metcalf set a career high with 90 receptions, good for the fourth-most in franchise history.

Before he returned to Seattle, where he served as a senior offensive assistant in 2020, Lal coached the wide receivers for the Jacksonville Jaguars in 2021. In his first season in the Pacific Northwest, Lal helped Lockett and Metcalf each top 1,000 yards to lead the Seahawks to an NFC West title. That year, Metcalf was a second-team AP All-Pro and recorded a franchise-record 1,303 yards and 10 touchdown grabs, while Lockett set a franchise record with 100 receptions.

Born in London, England, Lal lived in Iran, Kuwait and Mexico throughout his childhood before moving to Plano, Texas, for middle school and a year of high school and, ultimately, Northern California to finish his prep career. After graduating from Miramonte High School in Orinda, Calif., Lal walked on as a wide receiver at UCLA in 1989. He then transferred to the University of Washington, playing three seasons for the Huskies (1990-92), contributing to the program's National Championship victory in his first year and helping the squad appear in a pair of Rose Bowls, ultimately being inducted into Washington's Hall of Fame. Lal spent time as a professional player with the Oakland Raiders, St. Louis Rams and the Scottish Claymores of NFL Europe.

Lal broke into the coaching ranks at his alma mater, Miramonte High School, working as the school's passing game coordinator/wide receivers coach from 1996-2002. He then spent the next four seasons in Northern California coaching at the college level, working on staff at Los Medanos College (2003), Saint Mary's College (2004) and the University of California (2004-06).

In his first experience as an NFL coach, Lal worked for the Oakland Raiders as assistant wide receivers/quality control coach from 2007-08 before being promoted to wide receivers coach from 2009-11. After his time in Oakland, he spent the next eight seasons as a wide receivers coach with four teams — the New York Jets (2012-14), Buffalo Bills (2015-16), Indianapolis Colts (2017) and Dallas Cowboys (2018-19), helping develop young receivers along the way.

During his final season with the Jets, Lal coached wide receiver Eric Decker to 962 yards and five touchdowns on 74 receptions (13.0 avg.), including a Week 17 performance that saw Decker record single-game career highs with 221 receiving yards and 10 catches. Lal stayed in the Empire State to coach wide receivers for the Buffalo Bills, helping Sammy Watkins eclipse 1,000 yards and catch nine touchdowns in his first season in Upstate New York. Following the Bills, Lal spent the 2017 season with the Indianapolis Colts, coaching a wide receivers room led by T.Y. Hilton, who was named to his fourth-straight Pro Bowl after recording 966 yards and four scores on 57 receptions (16.9 avg.).

Lal then went to the Lone Star state to coach receivers for the Dallas Cowboys from 2018-19, helping the squad to an NFC East title and appearance in the Divisional Playoffs during his first season with the team. Under his tutelage, Amari Cooper was named to the Pro Bowl twice and was twice named NFC Offensive Player of the Week in 2018 after being acquired by the Cowboys via trade. In his second season with Dallas, Lal led a wide receiver group that featured two 1,100-yard receivers in Cooper and Michael Gallup, the first Cowboys pair to do so since 2007. Cooper led Dallas with 79 catches for 1,189 yards and eight touchdowns, while Gallup became the third-youngest Cowboys receiver to hit the century mark in receiving yards in team history. Lal oversaw the third-down gameplan for the Cowboys, helping Dallas rank No. 10 in the NFL in 2018 and tied for second in 2019. Over his two-year tenure in Dallas, the Cowboys were the sixth-best third-down offense in the NFL, converting 43.0 percent of their opportunities.

POSTSEASON HISTORY

1960 AFL Championship Game
Houston Oilers 24, Los Angeles Chargers 16
Sunday, Jan. 1, 1961 - Jeppesen Stadium (Houston, Texas)

The American Football League's first championship game took place Jan. 1, 1961 between Eastern Divison champion Houston Oilers and Western Division champion Los Angeles Chargers in Jeppesen Stadium, home of Eastern titlists. Outcome: Houston 24, Los Angeles 16. In 50 degree weather with 70 percent humidity due to week-long rains, Chargers took on Oilers before live crowd of 32,183 and television audience of approximately 45 million viewers. Ben Agajanian kicked field goals of 38 and 22 yards to give Chargers 6-0 first quarter lead. In second quarter, Houston's George Blanda hit Dave Smith on 17-yard touchdown pass, added conversion and kicked 18-yard field goal. Agajanian kicked 27-yard field goal with five seconds left in half to make score Houston 10, Los Angeles 9 at half. In third quarter, Blanda completed seven-yard touchdown pass to Bill Groman and kicked conversion. Chargers responded when Paul Lowe slanted over from two-yard line and with Agajanian's conversion score was Houston 17, Los Angeles 16, at end of three quarters. In fourth quarter, Blanda and Billy Cannon teamed up on 88-yard pass-run touchdown play to conclude scoring. Player of game honors went to Cannon, with Blanda and Lowe deadlocked vote behind. Lowe's total yardage on day was 271 yards compared to Cannon's 259. Inability of Chargers to take ball in for touchdowns early in game, settling for three first-half field goals on each occasion, and several bad breaks late in game proved to be difference.

1961 AFL Championship Game
Houston Oilers 10, San Diego Chargers 3
Sunday, Dec. 24, 1961 - Balboa Stadium (San Diego, Calif.)

The 1961 American Football League Championship game in San Diego's Balboa Stadium was carbon copy of previous season's title game in that Houston Oilers beat San Diego Chargers 10-3. On Jan. 1, 1961, Oilers edged Chargers, 24-16, in Houston's Jeppesen Stadium. Live audience of 29,556 fans and nationwide television audience estimated in vicinity of 40 million viewers witnessed monument to defensive football at its best. Crowd at stadium was limited because game was played on Christmas Eve and game was telecast into Los Angeles area and many San Diegans received LA's ABC affiliate, Channel 7. Oilers scored on 46-yard field goal by George Blanda midway through second quarter and added clincher, 35-yard touchdown pass by Blanda to Billy Cannon, late in third quarter. Chargers only scoring came on 12-yard field goal early in final period. Indication of evenness of ballgame is that both clubs had total net offense of 256 yards.

1963 AFL Championship Game
San Diego Chargers 51, Boston Patriots 10
Sunday, Jan. 5, 1964 - Balboa Stadium (San Diego, Calif.)

Before 30,127 in Balboa Stadium and 30 million more on national television, Keith Lincoln ran, caught and passed like no other athlete ever has in professional title match as Californians crumbled Boston Patriots, 51-10. Chargers' offense produced 610 yards. Lincoln accounted for 349 of them in virtuoso performance that included touchdown sprint of 67 yards, touchdown reception of 25 yards, 206 yards gained rushing, 123 gained pass receiving and 20 gained passing. Lincoln's heroics were mightily abated by others on San Diego team that played with brilliance. It was powerhouse show by team that had failed in two previous tries to win AFL title. But Patriots, with league's proudest defensive outfit, were no match for San Diegans. Splendidly prepared by Sid Gilman to combat Boston's almost constantly rushing linebackers, Chargers scored on their fourth scrimmage play, as well as their sixth and 10th. Patriots' ground attack suffered after fullback Larry Garron incurred head injury midway through second period. Garron later returned to game but remained in it only briefly.

1964 AFL Championship Game
Buffalo Bills 20, San Diego Chargers 7
Sunday, Dec. 26, 1964 - War Memorial Stadium (Buffalo, N.Y.)

Lou Saban sent his Buffalo Bills out for post-Christmas gift after three lean years and one near miss in American Football League. Bills found what they were looking for and wrapped up defending champion San Diego Chargers, 20-7, for AFL Championship before 40,242 howling hometown fans. Chargers started out as if they meant to repeat their 51-10 conquest of Boston Patriots in 1963 title game. They boomed from their own 20 in four plays with payoff 26-yard strike from retiring quarterback Tobin Rote to tight end Dave Kocourek. Keith Lincoln's PAT at 2:16 of first period was last time San Diego got on scoreboard. Disaster soon struck visitors when Lincoln was forced out of action with broken rib on "the tackle heard around world" by Buffalo linebacker Mike Stratton. Coupled with absence of Lance Alworth, injury to Lincoln left Chargers offense impotent. Buffalo forged to 13-7 halftime lead on field goals from 12 and 17 yards by rookie ace Pete Gogolak and four-yard touchdown run by halfback Wray Carlton. Bills tallied again in final quarter on sneak by quarterback Jack Kemp.

1965 AFL Championship Game
Buffalo Bills 23, San Diego Chargers 0
Sunday, Dec. 26, 1965 - Balboa Stadium (San Diego, Calif.)

It was same two teams that met in 1964 Championship game with scene shifting from East to West Coast. But there obviously was no hometown advantage for San Diego Chargers. Coach Lou Saban's Buffalo Bills found 59-degree weather much to their liking in San Diego's Balboa Stadium, rolling to 23-0 victory before 30,361 downhearted fans. San Diego's offensive unit was unable to generate any type of serious attack after first quarter and Jack Kemp-led Bills broke loose in second period. Kemp teamed with end Ernie Warlick for initial score, 18-yard pass play capping 60-yard drive. Just 2:20 later, Bills struck again on 74-yard punt return by Butch Byrd and at halftime, Buffalo was ahead 14-0. In second half, Chargers were able to contain Buffalo's ground game and Kemp's passing, but couldn't stop talented toe of placekicker Pete Gogolak. His soccer-style kicks connected twice in third quarter from 11 and 39 yards and once more in final period from 32 yards.

1979 AFC Divisonal Playoffs
Houston Oilers 17, San Diego Chargers 14
Saturday, Dec. 29, 1979 - San Diego Stadium (San Diego, Calif.)

The Chargers 1979 season, featuring one of best teams in franchise history, ended in disappointment as Bolts fell to Houston Oilers, 17-14, in Divisonal Playoff game at San Diego Stadium. Chargers were rolling early and took 7-0 lead on Clarence Williams' one-yard touchdown on Bolts first offensive possession of game. But Houston scored 10 unanswered points in second quarter and led at half, 10-7. On opening drive of third quarter, San Diego reclaimed lead when Lydell Mitchell scored on eight-yard run for 14-10 lead. Houston came back later in quarter as Mike Renfro caught 47-yard touchdown pass from Gifford Nielsen and Oilers jumped back out to 17-14 lead. Chargers tried to fight back in fourth quarter, but two Dan Fouts interceptions proved costly and Houston upset Chargers and eliminated them from playoffs.

1980 AFC Championship Game
Oakland Raiders 34, San Diego Chargers 27
Sunday, Jan. 11, 1981 - Jack Murphy Stadium (San Diego, Calif.)

Oakland took 28-7 lead in first half and then held off late San Diego bid to beat Chargers for American Football Conference championship. On third play from scrimmage, Raiders quarterback Jim Plunkett had pass bounce off hands of his intended receiver Kenny King and into grasp of Raymond Chester, who took pass in for 65-yard score. San Diego's initial drive was halted when John Jefferson slipped on wet turf and Dan Fouts' pass zipped into hands of defender Lester Hayes. Chargers tied score minutes later on 48-yard pass from Fouts to Charlie Joiner but Oakland retaliated with 76-yard scoring drive, aided by Plunkett pass to Cliff Branch for 48 yards and pass interference penalty. By end ofthe first quarter, Oakland led 21-7, and two quarterbacks had combined for 314 yards passing. Oakland later scored on three-yard run by Mark Van Eeghen, making score 28-7. San Diego scored near end of first half on eight-yard pass from Fouts to Joiner. In third quarter, Rolf Benirschke kicked field goal and Chuck Muncie scored from six yards to narrow Raiders' lead to 28-24. Oakland then marched 68 and 37 yards to set up two Chris Bahr field goals while running 10:38 off clock. Trailing 34-24 Chargers drove for field goal from Benirschke that left them one touchdown behind with 6:52 to play, but Oakland controlled ball for final 6:52 and held on for victory.

San Diego Chargers 41, Miami Dolphins 38 (OT)
Saturday, Jan. 2, 1982 - Orange Bowl (Miami, Fla.)

The Chargers traveled to Miami's Orange Bowl to face AFC East Division champion Miami and won epic struggle, 41-38, on 29-yard Rolf Benirschke field goal at 13:52 mark of first overtime period. San Diego jumped out to early 24-0 lead, only to have Dolphins close gap under direction of substitute quarterback Don Strock. Score was 24-17 at halftime and in second half Dolphins knotted score at 24 and again at 31 before assuming their first lead, 38-31, on 12-yard run by Tony Nathan. But late in fourth quarter after Dolphin turnover, Dan Fouts threw eight-yard TD pass to James Brooks with 58 seconds left in regulation to tie game, 38-38. With four seconds left Dolphins had chance to win it but Miami's 43-yard field goal try was blocked by Kellen Winslow, sending game into overtime. In OT Benirschke missed 27-yard attempt and Uwe Von Schamann had another attempt blocked, this time by Leroy Jones. Ultimately, Chargers' game-winning drive was highlighted by receptions of 20 and 29 yards by Wes Chandler and Charlie Joiner, respectively. Fouts set division playoff passing records for completions, attempts and yards, as did Winslow with 13 catches. Chandler had 56-yard punt return for touchdown for Chargers, first-ever punt return for touchdown in AFC divisional playoff game. Chargers broke total 15 divisional playoff team records and tied two others.

1992 AFC Divisonal Playoffs
Miami Dolphins 31, San Diego Chargers 0
Sunday, Jan. 10, 1993 - Joe Robbie Stadium (Miami, Fla.)

The Chargers history-making season ended with 31-0 loss to Miami Dolphins in Joe Robbie Stadium. Intermittent downpours and soggy field slowed both teams early as each squad was forced to punt on their first four series. Second quarter proved disastrous for San Diego. Stan Humphries was intercepted three times with each leading to Dolphins touchdown and 21-0 halftime lead for Miami. San Diego also suffered fumbled snap on punt attempt in period. Chargers could not get on track in second half either, as Miami chalked up 10 more points and forced two more San Diego turnovers. Chargers' defense was on field most of game (37:08). Junior Seau recorded personal-best 19 tackles. Dolphins special teams put Chargers in poor field position on several occasions, including punts, which pinned San Diego's offense back on its own five, six, four and 15-yard lines.

1994 AFC Divisional Playoffs
San Diego Chargers 22, Miami Dolphins 21
Sunday, Jan. 8, 1995 - Jack Murphy Stadium (San Diego, Calif.)

The Chargers advanced to AFC Championship Game with 22-21 victory over Miami Dolphins in front of San Diego-record home crowd of 63,381 fans. Win moved Chargers to AFC title round for only third time in team history and first time since 1982. Dan Marino threw three first-half touchdown passes and Dolphins led 21-6 at half. San Diego's offense came alive and dominated third quarter. Chargers took opening drive of second half and marched 15 plays to Dolphins' one-yard line before losing ball on downs. But on Miami's first play from scrimmage, Reuben Davis stopped Bernie Parmalee in end zone for safety to make score 21-8. San Diego took ensuing kick and Natrone Means finished 54-yard drive with 24-yard scoring run, breaking several tackles along way and Dolphin lead was trimmed to 21-15. Teams traded possessions through fourth quarter before Stan Humphries hit Mark Seay for what would prove to be game-winning touchdown. But before that could happen, Marino moved Dolphins to San Diego's 30-yard line with 35 seconds left and positioned Pete Stoyanovich for 48-yard field goal attempt, but kick sailed wide right. San Diego dominated game's time of possession, controlling ball 39:20 compared to Miami's 20:40. Another factor was San Diego's running game, which rolled up 202 of team's 466 total yards. Means rushed for personal best 139 yards and Humphries completed 20 of 26 attempts in second half.

1994 AFC Championship Game
San Diego Chargers 17, Pittsburgh Steelers 13
Sunday, Jan. 15, 1995 - Three Rivers Stadium (Pittsburgh, Pa.)

The Chargers advanced to Super Bowl for first time in franchise history with stunning 17-13 upset victory over heavily-favored Pittsburgh Steelers in Three Rivers Stadium. San Diego started game slowly and Pittsburgh led Bolts 10-3 at end of first half, while outgaining San Diego in total yardage, 229 to 46. Steelers opened second half with field goal to extend lead to 13-3. Later in quarter, Stan Humphries connected with Al Pupunu on 43-yard touchdown strike to close gap to 13-10. Score remained as such until late in fourth quarter when Humphries threw another 43-yard touchdown pass, this one to Tony Martin, and Bolts claimed their first lead of game at 17-13. Pittsburgh took ensuing kickoff and drove to Chargers' nine-yard line with two minutes left in game, but San Diego's defense stopped Steelers on downs, including dramatic pass defensed on fourth down by linebacker Dennis Gibson that sealed victory and silenced Three Rivers crowd.

SUPER BOWL XXIX
SAN FRANCISCO 49ERS 49, SAN DIEGO CHARGERS 26
SUNDAY, JAN. 29, 1995 - JOE ROBBIE STADIUM (MIAMI, FLA.)

The Chargers were no match for high-powered San Francisco offense as 49ers scored early and often en route to handing San Diego 49-26 defeat. Steve Young passed for four first-half touchdowns as 49ers jumped out to 28-10 lead at halftime. barrage continued in second half and Young finished night with 325 yards and six touchdown passes. Chargers' offense was forced to play catch-up most of game, and as result, quarterback Stan Humphries passed 49 times, completing 24 for 275 yards with one touchdown, but two interceptions proved costly. Natrone Means became youngest player in Super Bowl history to score touchdown when 22-year-old dived over 49ers' defense for a one-yard scoring plunge in first quarter. Chargers rookie Andre Coleman tied Super Bowl record for longest kickoff return when he went 98 yards for touchdown in third quarter. Following kickoff return, Humphries passed to Mark Seay for first two-point conversion in Super Bowl history. Later, after 30-yard Humphries to Tony Martin touchdown pass late in fourth quarter, Humphries completed his second two-point conversion of game, this time to Alfred Pupunu. Linebackers Dennis Gibson and Junior Seau led Chargers with 11 tackles apiece, while Seau added sack. Raylee Johnson paced Chargers with two sacks.

2004 AFC Wild Card Playoffs
New York Jets 20, San Diego Chargers 17 (OT)
Saturday, Jan. 8, 2005 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, Calif.)

The Chargers' 2004 postseason came to early end as in 20-17 overtime loss to New York Jets in Wild Card Playoff Game at Qualcomm Stadium. Sellout crowd of 67,536 braved elements as Drew Brees led furious fourth quarter comeback during which Chargers outscored New York 10-0 to send game into overtime. Given new life by roughing-the-passer penalty on what appeared to be San Diego's last play of game, Brees found Antonio Gates in end zone for one-yard touchdown pass with 11 seconds left to send game to extra period. It was only second overtime playoff game in team history. Both teams traded possessions in extra period before Nate Kaeding's game-winning attempt from 40 yards sailed wide right, opening door for New York to drive down and kick game winner with five seconds left in overtime. Keenan McCardell scored game's first touchdown on 26-yard catch. He was initially ruled out of bounds, but San Diego challenged call and ruling was reversed. It was McCardell's sixth-career touchdown catch in postseason. Brees opened game by completing his first eight passes and on McCardell touchdown drive, he was 5 of 5 for 61 yards and touchdown. He finished night 31 of 42 (.738), setting team playoff record for completion percentage.

2006 AFC Divisional Playoffs
New England Patriots 24, San Diego Chargers 21
Sunday, Jan. 14, 2007 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, Calif.)

The Chargers' record-breaking season came to end in heartbreaking fashion when New England Patriots overcame eight point deficit in fourth quarter to defeat Chargers, 24-21, in AFC Divisional Playoff game before record crowd of 68,810 in San Diego. After sluggish start by both teams, San Diego took 14-3 lead in second quarter on touchdown runs by LaDainian Tomlinson and Michael Turner, but Bolts defense gave up late score and Patriots trailed only 14-10 at half. New England added field goal in third quarter to climb within point, but Chargers drove 83 yards in nine plays early in fourth and took 21-13 lead when Tomlinson scored from three yards out. Game appeared to be all but over when Marlon McCree intercepted Tom Brady on following drive, but Patriots' Troy Brown stripped McCree during runback and Patriots recovered. Five plays later, Reche Caldwell caught four-yard touchdown pass and Pats tied it up on successful two-point conversion. Chargers got ball back with chance to reclaim lead but instead went three-and-out and New England took 24-21 lead on 31-yard field goal with 1:10 left in quarter. Chargers rallied one last time, but Nate Kaeding's 54-yard field goal attempt with just few seconds left came up short and Patriots escaped with win.

2007 AFC Wild Card Playoffs
San Diego Chargers 17, Tennessee Titans 6
Sunday, Jan. 6, 2008 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, Calif.)

The Chargers won their first playoff game since 1995 on cool day with intermittent rain showers before capacity crowd at Qualcomm Stadium. Bolts overcame slow start and 6-0 deficit at half to rally and outscore Titans 17-0 in third and fourth quarters to win game, 17-6. Chris Chambers and Vincent Jackson became first pair of Chargers to each record more than 100 yards receiving in playoff game since 1983 as Chambers went for 121, while Jackson tallied career-high 114, including touchdown catch that proved to be eventual game winner. Nate Kaeding field goal to open third quarter made score 6-3 and after defensive stop, Philip Rivers tossed 25-yard TD pass to Jackson for 10-6 lead. Tennessee drove deep into San Diego territory on their next drive, but Rob Bironas pushed 38-yard field goal wide to left and Chargers made them pay. Rivers engineered 12-play, 72-yard drive and LaDainian Tomlinson scored from one yard out on fourth-and-one play to put game away. Chambers 39-yard catch on 3rd-and-10 play set up score. Late in game Tennessee was stymied in its comeback effort by three-and-out and Drayton Florence interception. Titans finished their year 10-7, while Chargers advanced to face Indianapolis in AFC Divisional Playoff round.

2007 AFC Divisional Playoffs
San Diego Chargers 28, Indianapolis Colts 24
Sunday, Jan. 13, 2008 - RCA Dome (Indianapolis, Ind.)

The Chargers advanced to AFC Championship game in New England with 28-24 win in final-ever game at RCA Dome. Contest included multiple lead changes that were sparked by handful of reserves who were forced into action after key starters were sidelined with injuries. Down 7-0, Philip Rivers threw interception and Colts drove to Chargers' 17-yard line, but Antonio Cromartie forced fumble by Marvin Harrison to end threat. Chargers capitalized, tying game on touchdown pass from Rivers to Vincent Jackson. Late in second quarter, Cromartie snagged his second takeaway when slightly overthrown Peyton Manning pass went off Reggie Wayne's fingertips. Cromartie returned interception 89 yards for what appeared to be go-ahead score, but holding call during return brought play back to midfield and teams went to locker room with Indy up 10-7. Chargers scored on their opening possession of second half and took their first lead at 14-10. Indianapolis then drove to Chargers' four, but rookie safety Eric Weddle interceped pass intended for Kenton Keith. On last play of third quarter, Rivers tossed his third touchdown pass of day, short screen that Darren Sproles took 56 yards to house, but euphoria of 21-17 lead was temporarily dampened as Rivers left game with sprained right knee suffered on play. With Rivers out, LaDainian Tomlinson also battling sore knee and Colts retaking lead 24-21, backups Billy Volek and Michael Turner were called on to carry load. And they delivered with Volek giving Chargers lead one final time on one-yard quarterback sneak with 4:54 remaining. Colts had two late tries to reclaim lead, but Bolts defense buckled down with two stops on downs, including one at Chargers' seven yard line and another that started far down field thanks to 66-yard punt by Mike Scifres as Chargers held on for victory.

2007 AFC Championship Game
New England Patriots 21, San Diego Chargers 12
Sunday, Jan. 20, 2008 - Gillette Stadium (Foxborough, Mass.)

Despite playing with torn ACL in his right knee, Philip Rivers started and played entire game. Contest was played in subfreezing weather with kickoff temperature of 23 degrees and wind-chill factor of nine degrees. Chargers were doomed by their inability to score touchdowns inside red zone, instead settling for four Nate Kaeding field goals. NFL rushing champion LaDainian Tomlinson, who was suffering from strained MCL in his left knee, tried to go, but was unable to complete game. Chargers struck first following Tom Brady interception. Chargers were also hurt by turnovers as second-quarter interception thrown by Rivers resulted in TD and 14-6 lead for Pats. Chargers made another run at Patriots in third quarter, intercepting Brady on opening drive. It would lead to one of game's most critical plays. After turnover, Chargers drove to New England's four, but on 3rd-and-1, Michael Turner was tackled for two-yard loss by former Bolt Junior Seau and Chargers had to settle for another field goal. New England made Chargers pay three series later as Wes Welker caught six-yard pass from Brady and Patriots extended their lead to 21-12. After San Diego punt, New England took ball with 9:13 to play in fourth quarter and killed entire clock, overcoming 2nd-and-18 early in drive. With win, Patriots advanced to Super Bowl XLII to face New York Giants.

2008 AFC Wild Card Playoffs
San Diego Chargers 23, Indianapolis Colts 17 (OT)
Saturday, Jan. 3, 2009 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, Calif.)

The San Diego Chargers' miracle season of 2008 stayed alive as Bolts rallied from 17-14 fourth quarter deficit behind outstanding defensive effort and legs of Darren Sproles to defeat Indianapolis Colts, 23-17, in overtime in Saturday night home playoff game at Qualcomm Stadium. After trailing 7-0 and 10-7, Chargers rallied and led 14-10 at half. In third quarter, Colts caught Chargers off-guard while substituting defenders and made them pay with 72-yard TD pass from Peyton Manning to Reggie Wayne. San Diego's defense settled down though and did not allow Colts any more points. Key defensive stand late in fourth quarter, fueled by Tim Dobbins' sack of Manning at Colts' one-yard line, allowed offense time for one final drive in regulation. Philip Rivers drove Bolts to Colts' eight-yard line and Nate Kaeding's field goal from 26 yards out tied game with 31 seconds left. San Diego won coin toss in overtime and Rivers led offense on 11-play, 75-yard march that ended with 22-yard touchdown run by Sproles to win game in overtime. Sproles finished night with 328 all-purpose yards, third-most ever by player in NFL Playoff game. Dobbins' sack that enabled Bolts to begin comeback was first of his career.

2008 AFC Divisional Playoffs
Pittsburgh Steelers 35, San Diego Chargers 24
Sunday, Jan. 11, 2009 - Heinz Field (Pittsburgh, Pa.)

The Chargers' run through AFC Playoffs came to abrupt end in Pittsburgh as Steelers dealt Chargers 35-24 setback on cold and snowy day in Steel City. Chargers staked out to early lead on long touchdown catch by Vincent Jackson and led or were tied for most of first half, but game's momentum changed right before and right after halftime. Down 10-7, Pittsburgh drove 66 yards for touchdown just before halftime, giving them their first lead of night at 14-10. Steelers got ball first coming out of locker room and drove 77 yards for another score that extended lead to 21-10. Darren Sproles' 63-yard kickoff return gave ball to Chargers at Pittsburgh's 23-yard line, but Philip Rivers' first-down pass was tipped and intercepted by Steelers. Though replays showed ball appeared to hit ground, play withstood instant replay challenge and Pittsburgh maintained possession. Chargers' defense held and forced punt, but punt inadvertently hit unknowing Eric Weddle and Steelers recovered and took over at Chargers' 23. Again Chargers defense would hold, stopping Pittsburgh on downs at one, but with Bolts offense unable to get out of shadow of its own goal line, Steelers got ball again in San Diego territory and 49 yards later, Steelers scored to take 28-10 lead. San Diego managed pair of late touchdowns, including 62-yarder by Sproles, who finished game with 274 all-purpose yards, but Pittsburgh held Bolts at bay and held on for win.

2009 AFC Divisional Playoffs
New York Jets 17, San Diego Chargers 14
Sunday, Jan. 17, 2010 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, Calif.)

The No. 5 seed New York Jets upset No. 2 seed Chargers. San Diego's defense opened game with four straight three-and-outs, not allowing Jets first down until 8:11 remained in second quarter. Stephen Cooper set up Chargers' first touchdown of game, forcing three-and-out with four-yard tackle for loss on 3rd-and-4. On ensuing drive, Kris Wilson caught 13-yard touchdown pass for 7-0 lead. Antonio Gates helped set up TD with brilliant one-handed 23-yard reception to 16. Quentin Jammer had solid afternoon, breaking up third-down pass in second quarter to force punt and intercepting another in third quarter. Paul Oliver provided pressure and hit on Jets' quarterback Mark Sanchez on interception and Steve Gregory, in coverage, tipped pass that Jammer picked off. Jacob Hester got his hand on late fourth-quarter punt by Jets, contributing to just 26-yard punt. On ensuing possession, Philip Rivers scored TD on one-yard sneak with 2:20 left. Vincent Jackson, who had game-high 111 yards receiving, set up Rivers TD with 12-yard catch to one on 3rd-and-7.

2013 AFC Divisional Playoffs
Denver Broncos 24, San Diego Chargers 17
Sunday, Jan. 12, 2014 - Sports Authority Field (Denver, Colo.)

The Chargers' storybook season came to an end on Jan. 12 in the AFC Divisional Playoffs at Denver's Sports Authority Field as the Broncos defeated the Bolts, 24-17, to eliminate San Diego from the AFC Playoffs. Weather was a factor early in the game as winds at kickoff were blowing across the field at 17 mph with gusts up to 27 mph. Despite the unfavorable conditions, the Chargers didn't go down without a fight, rallying from a 17-point deficit to get within seven points late in the fourth quarter. Down 24-7 with 8:12 left in the fourth quarter, the Chargers scored a touchdown, recovered an onside kick and kicked a field goal to get within seven points at 24-17. That would be as close as the Chargers would get, however, as Denver took possession with 3:53 remaining in the game and converted two first downs, including a 3rd-and-17, to run out the clock and advance to the AFC Championship Game.

2018 AFC Wild Card Playoffs
Los Angeles Chargers 23, Baltimore Ravens 17
Sunday, Jan. 6, 2019 - M&T Bank Stadium (Baltimore, Md.)

The Threes and D. That's what the Los Angeles Chargers used to defeat the Baltimore Ravens 23-17 in Sunday's AFC Wild Card Round from M&T Bank Stadium. Rookie kicker Michael Badgley converted on five field goals, while Los Angeles' defense forced two turnovers, sacked quarterback Lamar Jackson seven times and held Baltimore to 229 yards of total offense -- the fewest allowed in postseason team history. Badgley set a single-game postseason team record for made field goals and points. Chargers Defensive Coordinator Gus Bradley featured seven defensive backs on the field for much of the game. Later in the quarter, the rookie kicker converted from 53 yards out to increase the Chargers' lead to 6-0. Badgley added his third field goal in the second quarter, a 40-yarder off a Phillips interception of Jackson. His fourth was a 34-yarder as time expired in the second quarter to put Los Angeles up 12-0 at halftime.

Rookie WR Ladd McConkey sets single-season franchise rookie records in receptions and receiving yards.

2025

Jan. 8 — The Los Angeles Chargers announce targeted funding totaling over $1 million in response to wildfires that sparked across Los Angeles and burned countless acres and neighborhoods due to unprecedented wind conditions. The funds are directly funneled to organizations with boots on the ground, including the American Red Cross, Los Angeles Fire Department Foundation and Team Rubicon.

Jan. 11 — Rookie WR Ladd McConkey turns in a historic performance in the AFC Wild Card, setting an NFL postseason rookie record with 197 receiving yards. He scored on an 86-yard touchdown catch, the second-longest reception by a rookie in NFL postseason history.

Feb. 18 — The National Football League announces the Los Angeles Chargers as the designated team for the second-ever regular-season game in São Paulo, Brazil, as part of the 2025 International Games. The game will make the Bolts the first NFL franchise to play games on five continents and just the fourth to play games in seven different countries.

March 31 — The Los Angeles Chargers join the NFL's Global Markets Program as the international marketing rights holder for Greece. The Bolts are the first NFL team with rights to Greece, the homeland of the Spanos family.

April 23 — The National Football League announces that the Los Angeles Chargers will play in the 2025 Hall of Fame Game in Canton, Ohio, kicking off a weekend celebrating tight end Antonio Gates, the all-time leader for touchdown receptions by a tight end (116), as one of four individuals in the Hall of Fame Class of 2025. The contest marks the third time the Bolts play in the Hall of Fame game.

April 26 — In the fifth round of the 2025 NFL Draft, Maria Olson — the Interim Ambassador at the U.S. Embassy in Athens — announces wide receiver KeAndre Lambert-Smith as the No. 158 overall selection by the Chargers live from the balcony of Hotel Grande Bretagne with the iconic Acropolis illuminated in the background, blending the ancient spirit of Greek culture with the modern pulse of the NFL.

July 15 — The Los Angeles Chargers reveal new alternate uniforms to wide acclaim, building on the team's 2020 uniform announcement to make the best uniforms in sports better again. The alternates include Chargers Power and Super Chargers alternate uniforms, along with the addition powder blue pants to the team's primary uniform kit. The alternate uniforms are a celebration of defining eras in both Chargers and NFL history. The Chargers Power uniforms honor the Air Coryell offense of the late 1970s and early 1980s, where Hall of Famers Dan Fouts, Charlie Joiner and Kellen Winslow, along with dynamic receivers Wes Chandler and John Jefferson, headlined the Chargers prolific offense built by Hall of Fame Head Coach Don Coryell. The new 'modern throwback' Super Chargers uniforms highlight the 1994 AFC Championship team and appearance in Super Bowl XXIX as well as the legendary players who wore it and for the NFL records built and shattered during its 1992 – 2006 run, including Hall of Famer LaDainian Tomlinson, who broke the NFL's single-season touchdown record in the original navies.

Aug. 2 — TE Antonio Gates, who spent 16 seasons with the Chargers and set the all-time record by a tight end with 116 touchdown catches, is inducted into Pro Football Hall of Fame as the 12th Charger enshrined in Canton, Ohio.

Sept. 5 — The Chargers open the 2025 season by hosting the Kansas City Chiefs in São Paulo, Brazil, as part of the NFL's 2025 International Games. The Bolts defeat the Chiefs, 27-21.

Sept. 21 — Los Angeles defeats Denver, 23-20, in the first game at SoFi Stadium of the 2025 season to improve to 3-0 on the season. With all three victories coming against AFC West opponents, the Chargers are the third team since realignment in 2002 to defeat division opponents in each of the first three games of a season, joining the 2006 Chicago Bears and 2003 Minnesota Vikings.

Sept. 28 — OLB Tuli Tuipulotu sets career highs by posing nine tackles, five tackles for loss and 4.0 sacks. Tuipulotu's 4.0 sacks tie for the third-most in a single game in franchise history.

Oct. 5 — WR Keenan Allen eclipses 1,000 career receptions, becoming the 16th player in NFL history to reach that mark. He accomplishes the feat in his 159th career regular-season game, doing so faster than any player in NFL history.

Oct. 12 — WR Keenan Allen finishes the Week 6 contest with 401 career receptions from QB Justin Herbert, becoming the first player in NFL history to register 400 receptions from multiple passers (401 from Herbert, 520 from QB Philip Rivers).

Oct. 23 — S Rodney Harrison is inducted as the 44th member of the Chargers Hall of Fame in a halftime ceremony. The Bolts debut the new Super Chargers alternate uniforms in the matchup, an ode to the uniform combination donned by Harrison during his Chargers career. In the Thursday Night Football bout against Minnesota, QB Justin Herbert leads the Bolts a 37-10 win, finishing the game with 2,146 career completions to set the mark for the most completions through the first six seasons of a career in NFL history.

Nov. 9 — In the fourth quarter of the Chargers' 27-10 victory over Pittsburgh on Sunday Night Football, WR Keenan Allen hauls in his 956th career reception with the Bolts, surpassing Hall of Fame TE Antonio Gates for the most in franchise history.

Dec. 8 — Los Angeles defeats Philadelphia in overtime, 22-19, for the team's fifth prime-time victory of the season. The 5-0 record under the lights is the best in a season in franchise history.

Dec. 14 — The Chargers defeat Kansas City, 16-13, to move to 5-0 against AFC West opponents. The five division victories tie for the most by the Chargers in over 15 years. The game ties as the second-coldest regular-season game in team history (15°F at kickoff, 10° wind chill) and the coldest since 1978.

Dec. 21 — The Bolts reach 11 victories for the second-straight season under Head Coach Jim Harbaugh after defeating the Dallas Cowboys, 34-17, on the road. QB Justin Herbert reaches 2,264 career completions to set the record for the most completions by any player before turning 28 years old. LB Del'Shawn Phillips totals four special teams tackles to reach 23 on the year, the most by a Chargers player in a single season since the turn of the century.

Jan. 11 — OLB Odafe Oweh totals 3.0 sacks in the team's AFC Wild Card matchup in New England, setting the single-game postseason franchise record. Oweh's two strip sacks make him the only player in team history with multiple forced fumbles in a single postseason game.

Feb. 18 — The Los Angeles Chargers Impact Fund announces a $2.5 million gift to Lulu's Place — a state-of-the-art center for youth focused on academic, athletic and wellness programs for underserved youth in Los Angeles. The gift, which is the largest single investment by the Chargers Impact Fund to date, will also aid construction of the Alex and Faye Spanos Legacy Field, which will support Chargers youth football initiatives — including the Snoop & Housh Flag Football League, Snoop Youth Football League and Girls Flag Football. The transformational project features a partnership between the Los Angeles Chargers and the TGR Foundation that will impact local youth, including in the classroom with comprehensive science, technology, engineering, arts and math (STEAM) educational programming. Chargers President of Football Operations John Spanos and Head Coach Jim Harbaugh make the announcement with Tiger Woods (Founder of TGR Foundation), Hrag Hamalian (President, TGR Learning Labs and National Programs) and Doug Kimmelman (Founder of Lulu's Place) to unveil the historic collaboration at a special Careers in Sports Media event for local youth during The Genesis Invitational, hosted by TGR Foundation at Riviera Country Club in Pacific Palisades.

March 10 — The Bolts sign Pro Bowl OLB Khalil Mack to extension.

May 27 — The Bolts sign Pro Bowl S Derwin James Jr.., to multi-year contract extension.

DANIEL JEREMIAH

ANALYST

Jeremiah, a former NFL scout who spent a combined eight seasons with three NFL teams prior to joining the NFL Network in 2012, continues to partner with radio play-by-play announcer Matt "Money" Smith and sideline reporter Shannon Farren as the color analyst on KFI AM-640's Chargers game broadcasts.

A 2000 graduate of Appalachian State, where he was a three-year starter at quarterback, Jeremiah began his NFL career as a personnel assistant with the Baltimore Ravens scouting department in 2003 and was promoted to area scout in 2005. Moving to the Cleveland Browns as a National Scout prior to the 2007 season, most recently he served as a West Coast scout for the Philadelphia Eagles from 2010-12.

Jeremiah has been a contributor to various NFL Network programs over the years, offering Xs-and-Os look at players, teams and trends. The El Cajon, Calif., native has played a vital role to coverage of the NFL Draft over the years on NFL Network.

SHANNON FARREN

SIDELINE REPORTER

Shannon Farren hosts The Gary and Shannon Show on KFI AM-640 Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. - 12 p.m. Before the show debuted in 2015, she spent 15 years reporting on news and sports in Sacramento, Seattle and Los Angeles. 2026 will be Farren's ninth season working the sidelines for the Chargers.

CHARGERS PRESEASON TELECAST

CBS Los Angeles enters its fifth year as the exclusive local television home of Chargers preseason football games in Los Angeles.

NOAH EAGLE

PLAY-BY-PLAY

Noah Eagle enters his fifth season handling the play-by-play duties for the Chargers preseason contests. He calls college football for NBC on Big Ten Saturday Night in primetime as well as the NBA on NBC. He was formerly the play-by-play voice for the Los Angeles Clippers. Eagle also served as an announcer for one of Netflix's 2025 Christmas Day NFL games, the 2024 Paris Olympic Games, SEC football on CBS and college football and basketball on FS1. In May 2024, Eagle received the Sports Emmy award for Outstanding Personality/Emerging On Air.

Eagle held the same role for NFL coverage on Nickelodeon for two seasons (2020-21) on Wild Card Weekend along with the network's coverage of Super Bowl LVIII. The inaugural game totaled over two million viewers, marking the network's most-watched program among total viewers in nearly four years. Eagle received critical acclaim and the broadcast was recognized with a national Emmy award.

A 2019 graduate of Syracuse University, Eagle is the son of CBS NFL play-by-play broadcaster and fellow Syracuse graduate Ian Eagle. The elder Eagle also calls NBA and college basketball games on CBS, TNT and TBS and Brooklyn Nets games on the YES Network.

Noah Eagle joins Hall of Famer Dan Fouts in the booth for Chargers preseason games. Fouts called NFL games with Eagle's father, Ian, on CBS for 10 years (2010-19).

DAN FOUTS

ANALYST

Dan Fouts, Pro Football Hall of Famer and former All-Pro quarterback, returns to the preseason booth for the Chargers.

Before his return to CBS, Fouts worked for ABC from 1997 to 2008 as an analyst alongside Keith Jackson. He served as play-by-play announcer for ABC's coverage of Pac-10 college football (2006-2007). Before that, Fouts spent two years working with Al Michaels and Dennis Miller as an analyst on ABC's Monday Night Football.

Fouts' 32-year broadcasting credits include the Super Bowl, Pro Bowl, Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Aloha Bowl and the NFL Playoffs. In 1998 he and broadcast partner Brent Musburger had cameos in the hit film "The Waterboy," starring Adam Sandler.

Fouts played 15 seasons with the Bolts, where he was a six-time Pro Bowl selection. His years as pilot of the "Air Coryell" offense led him to retire with 42 team records and eight NFL records. His 43,040 total passing yards ranked No. 2 in NFL history at the time. Fouts earned NFL and AFC Player of the Year honors in 1982, and was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1993, his first year of eligibility. Fouts currently serves on the Hall of Fame's Advisory Committee and is one of the first inductees to serve as a voter for Hall of Fame eligibility. He also served on a blue ribbon panel of former and current players, coaches, executives and media members to select the NFL's All-Time team in celebration of the league's 100th season.

SOFI STADIUM

SoFi Stadium is the crown-jewel of Los Angeles and stadiums around the world. The venue is the centerpiece of Hollywood Park, a nearly 300-acre sports and entertainment destination in Inglewood, Cailf. Capacity for the state-of-the-art stadium is 70,000 and expandable up to 100,000, with more than 260 luxury suites and 13,000 premium seats.

On February 13, 2022, SoFi Stadium hosted its first major sporting event in Super Bowl LVI. The College Football Playoff National Championship and WrestleMania were also held at the venue in 2023, while the stadium will be the site of Super Bowl LXI in 2027, as well as the Opening and Closing Ceremonies of the 2028 Olympic Games. Hollywood Park is 3.5 times the size of Disneyland Park and, when completed, will feature retail, office, hotel, residential and recreational space.

Towering 122 feet above the field and providing the best experience for fans is The Infinity Screen — the largest videoboard ever created for a sports venue. The dual-sided board is the first-of-its-kind, weighing in at 2.2 million pounds and 120 yards in length. The Infinity Screen is the only 4K end-to-end videoboard in a sporting venue, features 80 million pixels and provides the largest graphics control system ever seen. The structure also features more than 260 speakers attached to the videoboard.

Providing protection just 70 feet above the videoboard is an Ethylene Tetrafluoroethylene (ETFE) canopy, making SoFi Stadium is the world's first-ever indoor-outdoor stadium. The canopy features 46 mechanical panels that can open to release hot air, promoting passive air circulation throughout the building. Constructed with 17.8 miles of cables, the canopy's 3.6-million-pound wire frame cable net system is the first of its kind in the United States and the largest on the planet. Adjacent to the stadium and sitting under the same roof canopy is the 2.5-acre American Airlines Plaza and the 6,000-seat YouTube Theater.

SoFi Stadium is the fifth home stadium for the Chargers in history, and the first with a turf playing surface. The Bolts registered the first victory at their new home in a 39-29 win over Jacksonville in 2020, where eventual Rookie of the Year Justin Herbert became the first rookie in history to register a victory when posting for 300-plus passing yards, three passing touchdowns and a rushing score while throwing no interceptions.
