WEEK 1

Tennessee Titans 12, Denver Broncos 20

73,747 Empower Field at Mile High Sep 7, 2025

12 20

Tennessee Titans	3	6	3	0	— 12
Denver Broncos	3	7	3	7	— 20

The Denver Broncos started off the 2025 season on the right foot, defeating the Tennessee Titans 20-12 in their Week 1 matchup at Empower Field at Mile High.
In Denver's first Week 1 win since 2021, the Broncos' defense led the way, limiting Tennessee to just 133 total yards of offense in the contest. It was the fewest yards allowed by the club in its season opener in team history.
The Broncos also did not allow the Titans to score a touchdown, marking their second straight regular-season game without allowing their opponent to reach the end zone.
WR Courtland Sutton recorded 61 receiving yards on six catches (10.2 avg.) with one touchdown in the contest. With that performance, he eclipsed Emmanuel Sanders for the 10th-most receiving yards in team history while also tying Eric Decker for the 10th-most receiving touchdowns in team annals.
Tennessee would get on the board first as the Titans took their opening drive 33 yards and ended with a 50-yard field goal to take the early 3-0 lead.
Denver would respond back though, as QB Bo Nix led a 10-play, 44-yard drive that set up a 39-yard field goal from K Wil Lutz. With that field goal, the Broncos scored points on the opening drive of the season for the fourth straight year.
The defenses for both teams would take over after that, as no team would score until Tennessee got another field goal with 2:19 left in the second quarter to make it 6-3. The Broncos also got a takeaway early in the quarter as a forced fumble by S Talanoa Hufanga was recovered by S Brandon Jones.
The Broncos would take the lead for the first time late in the half, as Nix connected with Sutton on a 22-yard pass for Sutton's 33rd career touchdown catch to make it 10-6. The Titans would answer before the half as a 71-yard kickoff return set up a 42-yard field goal to send the game into halftime with a score of 10-9.
Tennessee would get the lead back on their first drive of the second half as an interception by Nix resulted in another field goal for the Titans to make it 12-10.
The Broncos re-gained the lead on the next drive, as Denver traveled 48 yards on 13 plays and ended with a 33-yard field goal by Lutz to make it 13-12.
The scoring would end in the fourth quarter, as a 50-yard rush by rookie RB R.J. Harvey helped set up RB J.K. Dobbins' first touchdown with the Broncos on a 19-yard carry to make it 20-12.
The Titans would get the ball three more times, but Denver's defense stifled them to clinch the win and start the season 1-0.

Denver Broncos	7	14	7	0	— 28
Indianapolis Colts	6	14	3	6	— 29

On their first road trip of the season, the Denver Broncos would take their first loss, falling to the Indianapolis Colts 29-28 at Lucas Oil Stadium.
QB Bo Nix would record his eighth career game with a 100+ passer rating and sixth career game without being sacked. On the game, he completed 22-of-30 passes for 206 yards with three touchdowns and one interception (111.2 rtg.).
RB J.K. Dobbins also had a solid performance, rushing 14 times for 76 yards (5.4 avg.) with one touchdown. He became the first Bronco since 2021 to total over 50 yards rushing and one rushing score in consecutive games.
In a highly offensive game, the Colts got on the board first as they would take their first drive of the game 61 yards, but Denver would prevent them from reaching the end zone. A 29-yard field goal by Indianapolis would make the score 3-0.
Denver answered right back though, as it would take six plays to go 64 yards to reach the end zone when Nix found WR Marvin Mims Jr. for a 23-yard score to make it 7-3.
The Colts would get three back as they got another field goal on their next drive then take the lead early in the second quarter after a one-yard touchdown rush would give Indianapolis a 13-7 lead.
The Broncos got the lead right back though, as they would get a touchdown from Nix to WR Troy Franklin to take the 14-13 lead. Franklin would finish the game with career highs of eight catches, 89 receiving yards and an 11.1 receiving average.
Denver expanded their lead after a two-yard touchdown pass from Nix to Trautman with 3:03 remaining in the half. The Colts would close the lead though before the half as a seven-yard touchdown pass would get the score to 21-20 right before half.
Denver would get their eight-point lead out of half as Dobbins got his second rushing touchdown of the season from five yards out on the first drive of the half to make it 28-10.
The Colts would start to claw back as they got a field goal on their first drive of the half to make it a 28-23 game.
After a Nix interception at the beginning of the fourth quarter, the Colts would again drive down the field,. Denver's defense prevented Indianapolis from reaching the end zone, settling for another field goal to make it 28-26.
A missed field goal by K Wil Lutz would allow the Colts to get the ball back with 3:15 remaining in the game. After a penalty negated a missed 60-yard field goal attempt at the end of the game, the Colts would win with a walk-off 45-yard attempt to win the game 29-28.

Denver Broncos 20, Los Angeles Chargers 23

70,740 SoFi Stadium Sep 21, 2025

23

Denver Broncos	0	7	10	3	— 20
Los Angeles Chargers	3	7	3	10	— 23

The Denver Broncos fell in their first divisional matchup of the season on a last second field goal, losing 23-20 to the Los Angeles Chargers on the road.
WR Courtland Sutton finished the contest with six catches for 118 yards (19.7 avg.) with one touchdown, his ninth career 100-yard performance-overtaking ninth in the club's all-time receiving yards list. RB J.K. Dobbins also finished with 83 yards on 11 rushing attempts (7.5 avg.) with one score, becoming the first Bronco since 2008 to rush for a touchdown in each of the first three games of a season.
Denver's defense put on the pressure all game, as they racked up five sacks, including 14 quarterback hits. OLB Nik Bonitto led the team with two sacks while OLB Jonathon Cooper (1.0), DT D.J. Jones (1.0), and DE John Franklin-Myers (1.0) all got in on the action.
The Broncos were able to limit the Chargers early as their opening drive would go 56 yards on eight plays, but had to settle for a field goal to make it 3-0. After the teams traded possessions, including one that ended with an interception by S Brandon Jones, the Chargers finally broke through with a two-yard touchdown to make it 10-0 with 1:53 remaining.
Denver would answer right back though, as a 52-yard connection between Sutton and QB Bo Nix just 1:10 later made it 10-7 with 0:46 left in the half.
The Broncos would take the lead back on their first drive of the second half as Dobbins carried the ball three times for 66 yards, including a 51-yard rush, to give Denver a 14-10 advantage.
After a forced fumble by OLB Jonah Elliss that was recovered by S JL Skinner on the ensuing kickoff, the Broncos extended their lead 17-10 with a field goal by K Wil Lutz.
Los Angeles would fight back though, as a field goal with 5:38 remaining in the third quarter would make the score 17-13 going into the final frame.

Cincinnati Bengals 3, Denver Broncos 28

Cincinnati Bengals	3	0	0	0	— 3
Denver Broncos	7	14	0	7	— 28

The Denver Broncos got back on the winning track on Monday Night Football after defeating the Cincinnati Bengals, 28-3.
The Broncos totaled 512 yards of offense on the night, the most by the club in a single contest since the 2014 season. On the defensive side of the ball, Denver's defense produced their seventh game without allowing a touchdown under defensive coordinator Vance Joseph, the most in the NFL since 2023.
QB Bo Nix had a one of his best performances yet, setting a new career high with 326 passing yards while tying his career best with 29 completions. RB J.K. Dobbins also produced at a premium, becoming the first Bronco since the 2022 season to eclipse the 100-yard rushing mark with his 101-yard performance.
With five catches for 81 yards (16.2 avg.) with one touchdown on the game, WR Courtland Sutton overtook eighth place in team history in receptions (397).
The Bengals got onto the board first, as they took their opening possession of the game 62 yards on 12 plays, but could not punch the ball into the endzone. A 26-yard field goal would make it 3-0 Bengals and proved to be all they would be able to get on the scoreboard.
After punts by both teams, Denver would take their second possession 64 yards down the field on nine plays, ending with Nix's fifth career rushing touchdown from six yards out to make it 7-3.
It wouldn't take too long for the Broncos to expand on that lead, going 80 yards on their next drive to increase their lead to 14-3 after WR Marvin Mims recorded his first career rushing score from 16 yards out. Nix helped lead the way down the field on the drive, converting two third down opportunities with passes to Sutton that went 19 and 22 yards.
After it seemed the teams would go into the half at 14-3, Denver made a quick drive with 1:09 left in the second quarter. Nix would find Sutton in the end zone from 20 yards out, marking Sutton's 35th receiving touchdown of his career to make it 21-3.
Both defenses would button up in the second half, as the third quarter would go scoreless, but the Broncos would punch through one last time with 5:48 left in the fourth quarter. RB RJ Harvey would catch a pass from Nix from the 12 yard line and take it in for his first career touchdown to make it 28-3.
After a quick three-and-out by Cincinnati, the Broncos would be able to ice the game to take the primetime win and get back to .500 on the season.

Denver Broncos 21, Philadelphia Eagles 17

Denver Broncos	3	0	0	18	21
Philadelphia Eagles	3	7	7	0	17

The Denver Broncos kept up their winning ways as they defeated the defending Super Bowl Champion Philadelphia Eagles in Week 5 by the score of 21-17.
Scoring 18 unanswered points to end the game to clinch the victory, the Broncos got a win coming back from down 14 points entering the fourth quarter on the road for just the second time in team history.
The Broncos rushing attack kept churning in the contest, finishing the game with 130 yards on 29 carries (4.5 avg.) with one touchdown. With that performance, the Broncos have rushed for at least 100 yards and one touchdown in each of the first five games of a season for just the third time in team history and the first time since 1978.
OLB Nik Bonitto also had a career day, tying his career high with 2.5 sacks to up his total to 7 on the season. Bonitto becomes just the fourth player in team history to record multiple sacks in three straight games while his seven sacks are the second most by a Bronco through five games in a season.
The game started on a strong foot for the Broncos as on their second drive, they would go 32 yards and set up a 55-yard field goal by K Wil Lutz to take a 3-0 lead.
Philadelphia would answer right back though, as on their next drive they would drive 70 yards to get a field goal on their own to tie the game at 3-3. The Eagles also took over the lead on their next possession, as they went 90 yards on seven plays and ended with a two-yard touchdown pass to make it 10-3.
While the rest of the half would end up being a defensive struggle, the Eagles would try to pull away at the start of the second half, scoring on a 47-yard pass to take the 17-3 lead.
Denver entered the fourth quarter down 14 points and would start to chip away at that deficit, scoring on their first drive of the fourth quarter after RB J.K. Dobbins rushed in from two yards out. Dobbins would finish the game with 79 rushing yards on 20 carries (4.0 avg.) with one score.
The Broncos would tie it up on their next drive after TE Evan Engram scored his first touchdown as a Bronco from 11 yards away. WR Courtland Sutton helped drive the Broncos down the field and would finish the game with eight receptions for 99 yards.
Sutton also surpassed Vance Johnson for the eighth-most receiving yards in team history.
After another forced three-and-out by the Broncos defense, the offense would drive down the field one more time, setting up another field goal by Lutz to make it 21-17. After a failed Hail Mary by Philadelphia at the end of the game, Denver clinched its third win of the season.

WEEK 6

Denver Broncos 13, New York Jets 11

61,155 Tottenham Hotspur Stadium Oct 12, 2025

11

Denver Broncos	10	0	0	3	— 13
New York Jets	6	0	5	0	— 11

The Denver Broncos kept up their winning ways in Week 6 as they swept their two-game road trip, ending with a 13-11 defeat of the New York Jets in London.
On a day that the defenses dominated, the Broncos' pass rush set the tone for the game, racking up nine total sacks. That number tied for the most by the club in a single game since at least 1970.
OLB Jonathon Cooper led the way for Denver, racking up a team-high 2.0 sacks, including the game clinching takedown in the fourth quarter. S Brandon Jones, OLB Nik Bonitto, S Talanoa Hufanga, ILB Justin Strnad, DL Eyioma Uwazurike, DL Zach Allen and DL John Franklin-Myers also got in on the action.
Denver's defense also stifled the Jets' passing attack, as they allowed -10 net yards passing on the game. That marks the lowest net passing yard total against the Broncos in a game in team history and the second-fewest allowed by any NFL team since 1990.
The Broncos also did not allow their opponent to score a touchdown in the game for a league-high third time this season.
The Jets got on the board first, as a fumble by the Broncos on the third play of the game set them up with good field position at the Denver 37-yard line. The Broncos' defense held firm though, as they forced a 52-yard field goal.
The Broncos would answer right back though, as QB Bo Nix helped lead a drive that would go 23 yards on seven plays and ended with K Wil Lutz's 57-yard field goal to tie it at three apiece. Lutz, who now has the two longest field goals in Tottenham Hotspur Stadium history, went 2-for-2 on the day with field goals, with his 57-yarder being his longest since joining Denver in 2023.
Another field goal by the Jets on the next drive would make it 6-3, but the Broncos would take their first lead of the game next as a 16-yard touchdown pass from Nix to TE Nate Adkins would give them a 10-6 lead.
Both offenses would struggle the rest of the half though, as they would trade punts the rest of the half to go into the break with Denver leading 10-6.
The Jets would string together a longer drive on their opening possession, driving 37 yards to set up another field goal to make it 10-9. A Broncos' holding call in the end zone later in the quarter would cause a safety to give the Jets an 11-10 lead late in the frame.
Nix would help orchestrate a game-winning drive late in the fourth quarter though, going 65 yards to help set up a Lutz field goal from 27 yards out to give Denver the 13-11 lead.
That is all it would take, as the Broncos would shut down the Jets' offense on their attempt to get into field goal position and help clinch Denver's fourth win of the season.

New York Giants	7	6	6	13	— 32
Denver Broncos	0	0	0	33	— 33

The Denver Broncos kept up their winning ways in miraculous fashion in Week 7, coming back from 19 points down at the start of the fourth quarter to pull off the 33-32 victory over the New York Giants.
Denver's 19-point fourth quarter comeback is tied for the largest fourth quarter comeback in team history and tied for the seventh-largest overall comeback in team history. The Broncos also scored all 33 points in the fourth quarter, which is the most points scored by the team in a quarter in team history and is tied for the second-most points scored by any team in the fourth quarter in NFL history.
QB Bo Nix finished the game 27-of-50 for 279 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions (83.7 rtg.). He became the first player in NFL history to record 2+ passing touchdowns and 2+ rushing touchdowns in a quarter.
OLB Jonathon Cooper helped lead the way defensively, recording a team-high 1.5 sacks in the contest while DT Malcolm Roach, OLB Que Robinson and OLB Dondrea Tillman also got in on the action.
The game got off to a slow start offensively as both defenses held firm until a 44-yard touchdown strike from the Giants in the first quarter to get the scoring started. Another touchdown from 13 yards out would get the score to 13-0, but a missed PAT kept the score there.
Both defenses wouldn't give ground the rest of the half as they would shut the offenses down until halftime.
The Giants would get the jump out of the half as well, as another New York touchdown from 31 yards out to make it 19-0 before the end of the third quarter.
The fourth quarter would get the Broncos' offense rolling as Nix would find WR Troy Franklin on a deflection to get the first points of the game for the home team. A two-point conversion would cut into New York's lead to 19-8.
The Giants would score on their next drive though off their own deflection, making the score 26-8. Denver would not quit though, as Nix would then lead a drive that ended with a seven-yard rush along with another two-point conversion to make it 26-16.
An interception by ILB Justin Strnad, his first career pick, would give Denver great field position that it took advantage of. Nix found RB R.J. Harvey for the two-yard pass to make it 26-23.
Nix would then lead another drive after the Broncos forced another punt and scored using his legs from 18 yards out to take Denver's first lead of the game with 1:51 remaining in the game.
The Giants would get a touchdown of their own with 0:37 left, but a missed PAT would keep the score at 32-30.
Nix then led another drive to set up a game-winning 39-yard field goal by K Wil Lutz, his 11th career game-winning field goal.

Dallas Cowboys 24, Denver Broncos 44

Dallas Cowboys	3	7	7	7	— 24
Denver Broncos	14	13	3	14	— 44

The Denver Broncos increased their hot streak after defeating the Dallas Cowboys by the score of 44-24 to increase their winning streak to five and their home winning streak to nine.
Denver's six touchdowns and 44 points in the contest were the most by the club in a single game in seven years, having last reached those marks in 2018.
RB RJ Harvey had his breakout game, totaling three touchdowns (2 rush, 1 rec.) to become the first Broncos rookie since Clinton Portis in 2002 to record three scores in a game. RB J.K. Dobbins also reached the 100-yard mark for the second time in 2025, becoming the first Bronco since Latavius Murray in 2022 to record multiple 100-yard rushing games in the same season.
QB Bo Nix completed 19-of-29 passes for 247 yards with four touchdowns and one interception (117.4 rtg.), posting his third career game with four passing scores. WR Troy Franklin also totaled his first career multi-touchdown game while WR Pat Bryant scored his first career touchdown.
On defense, the Broncos held Dallas to its lowest yards per play mark (5.0) while OLB Dondrea Tillman and CB Jahdae Barron posted their first career interceptions. DL John Franklin-Myers also reached the 30 career sack mark in the contest.
The game got off on the wrong foot for the home squad as Nix threw an interception on the opening drive. Denver's defense mitigated the damage though, allowing just a field goal from the Cowboys to go down 3-0.
The Broncos responded right away, as Nix would lead s five-play, 74-yard drive that finished with a 40-yard touchdown run by Harvey to take the 7-3 lead. It was Harvey's first career rushing touchdown and the longest touchdown run by a Broncos' rookie running back since Phillip Lindsay in 2018.
Denver would increase their lead on their next drive, as a 25-yard pass from Nix to Franklin would set the score at 14-3.
The Cowboys would start to claw back though, as an 11-play touchdown drive in the second quarter would bring them back to within four.
It wouldn't take long though for the Broncos to get those points back, as on their next possession, Harvey would take the ball in again for his second touchdown of the game to make it 20-10. The scoring would end with 0:39 left in the half as a 24-yard touchdown pass from Nix to WR Pat Bryant, Bryant's first career score, would make it 27-10.
The Cowboys would come out of the half on fire, as they took their first drive of the frame down the field for a touchdown to make it 27-10. A K Wil Lutz 42-yard field goal though would give the Broncos the 30-17 lead, which was followed by Franklin's second score of the game on Denver's next drive to make it 37-17.
Another Denver touchdown later in the frame from Nix to Harvey would set the score at 44-17 before a 35-yard touchdown pass for the Cowboys would end the scoring at 44-24.

Denver Broncos	0	7	0	11	— 18
Houston Texans	3	9	3	0	— 15

The Denver Broncos extended their winning streak to six games after traveling to Houston and defeating the Texans 18-15 in the Lone Star state. K Wil Lutz made his 12th career game-winning field goal, and second in three weeks, to give the Broncos the win heading back to Denver.
The Broncos completed the fourth quarter comeback again in the contest-their league-high-tying fourth this season-after recording 11 points in the final frame to clinch the victory.
Denver's defense led the way, limiting the Texans to five field goals in the contest. It is the fourth game this year in which the Broncos did not allow their opponent to score a touchdown, which is the most such games by the club in a season since 2006.
The Broncos' defense also tallied four sacks on the day, increasing their season total to 40. That is the most by a team through Week 9 since 1989 with the Minnesota Vikings (43).
RB J.K. Dobbins also had a stellar performance on the ground, rushing for a team-high 61 yards on 15 carries (4.1 avg.) while RB RJ Harvey recorded his fourth receiving score of the season. His four touchdown catches are the most by a Broncos' rookie running back in team history.
WR Courtland Sutton also climbed the record books with his 36th career receiving touchdown, which is tied for the ninth most in team history.
Special teams got the game started, as the Texans would drive down the field on their first possession but a missed 51-yard field goal kept the game scoreless. Denver tried to respond with a field goal of their own, but it was blocked and the game stayed 0-0.
Houston would get their first points on their next drive though, as a 23-yard attempt made it 3-0. They would expand that lead to 6-0 mid-way through the second quarter after a 41-yarder made its way through the uprights.
Denver would answer right back with a touchdown from QB Bo Nix to Sutton from 30 yards out to make it 7-6. It was Nix's 17th consecutive game with a touchdown pass, the second-longest active streak in the NFL.
The Texans would re-take the lead before the end of the half though, as two field goals would make the score 12-9 going into the break.
Another field goal by Houston on their first drive of the second half would make it 15-7 but that would be all they could muster the rest of the game as Denver's defense shut them down.
The Broncos' offense picked it back up in the fourth quarter, as early on Nix would find Harvey from 27 yards out then find WR Troy Franklin on the two-point conversion to tie the game at 15.
The teams would continue to fight for field position the rest of the way until the final drive, where Nix's 25-yard rush would help set up a 34-yard game-winning field goal by Lutz to give Denver the win.

Las Vegas Raiders	7	0	0	0	— 7
Denver Broncos	0	7	3	0	— 10

The Denver Broncos won a hard-fought AFC West matchup on Thursday night to increase their winning streak to seven and their home winning streak to 10, defeating the Las Vegas Raiders 10-7.
The Broncos defense led the way, recording their sixth game of the season limiting their opponent to under 20 points. Denver also reached six sacks on the game, marking their league-high-tying fifth game of the season eclipsing five sacks.
OLB Nik Bonitto got back on the sack sheet, racking up 1.5 sacks in the game. S Talanoa Hufanga, DL Zach Allen, DT Malcolm Roach, DL Eyioma Uwazurike, DL John Franklin-Myers and OLB Jonathon Cooper also got to the quarterback in the contest.
OLB Dondrea Tillman also helped the defensive effort, recording his second interception of the season while S JL Skinner blocked his first career punt in the contest.
The Raiders got on the board to begin the game, scoring a touchdown on an eight-play, 41-yard drive after the teams traded punts. The rest of the first quarter and most of the second quarter would continue to be a defensive struggle and the teams continued to trade punts.
The Broncos got on the board though as the half wound down, going 53 yards on five plays to tie the game at 7-7 . That is how the half would end, as the teams returned to the locker rooms all squared at seven apiece.
The defensive hold continued in the third quarter, as both teams continued to struggle to put up points until a blocked punt by Skinner, the first blocked punt by a Bronco since 2018, helped set up a 32-yard field goal by K Wil Lutz to make it 10-7.
More elite defensive play in the fourth quarter would continue to keep the score at 10-7, helping the Broncos to their eighth win of the season.

WEEK 11

Kansas City Chiefs 19, Denver Broncos 22

75,911 Empower Field at Mile High Nov 16, 2025

22

Kansas City Chiefs	3	3	7	6	— 19
Denver Broncos	6	0	7	9	— 22

The Denver Broncos head into the bye week red hot, extending their winning streak to eight games as they defeat the Kansas City Chiefs 22-19.
QB Bo Nix completed 24-of-37 passes for 295 yards (89.4 rtg.) in the game as he recorded his eighth career fourth-quarter comeback, which is the most in the NFL in that span. Nix also completed 8-of-12 passes for 123 yards (100.3 rtg.) on third down in the game.
Denver's defense came up clutch in the contest, recording their seventh game of the season allowing less than 20 points. They also totaled three sacks, increasing their season total to 49, which is the most by a team through 11 games since the 2000 New Orleans Saints (49).
CB Ja'Quan McMillian had his breakout game, notching two sacks and one interception against the Chiefs. He became just the sixth cornerback in NFL history and the first cornerback in team history to record multiple sacks and one interception in a game.
K Wil Lutz tied a career high, converting all five of his field goal opportunities in the game. He also notched his 13th career game-winning field goal, drilling a 35-yarder in the dying seconds of the game.
The Broncos started out with back-to-back scores on their first two drives, as Nix led a 14-play, 54-yard drive to set up a 29-yard field goal by Lutz. A 70-yard punt return by WR Marvin Mims, who finished the game with a career-high 101 punts return yards, helped set up another field goal by Lutz from 24 yards to make it 6-0.
The Chiefs would answer right back though, as they would get field goals on back-to-back drives to tie the game up 6-6. The half would end that way, as both defenses made it a difficult game for the offenses.
Kansas City started with the ball in the second half, but a pick by McMillian gave Denver the ball. On their ensuing drive, the Broncos punched it in after an 89-yard drive that was capped by a four-yard score on the ground by RB Jaleel McLaughlin.
Kansas City would answer right back though, as they would score a touchdown from two yards out to tie the game at 13 apiece.
After another Broncos field goal, the Chiefs would take their first lead of the game after a 21-yard touchdown pass, but a blocked extra point by T Frank Crum, the first of his career, kept it a three-point game.
Lutz would tie the game up with 4:10 left in the contest with a 54-yard field goal, his third 50+-yard field goal of the season. Denver's defense then came up huge with another three-and-out on the Chiefs, wrapped up by a sack by McMillian.
Nix then finished the game, leading Denver on a 58-yard drive to set up Lutz's game-winning field go to go into the bye week with the win.

The Denver Broncos returned from the Bye Week and continued their winning ways, defeating the Washington Commanders in overtime 27-26 to win their ninth straight game and fourth straight on the road.
QB Bo Nix led the way for the Broncos, completing 29-of-45 passes for 321 yards with one touchdown and one interception (83.7 rtg.). It was Nix's second-most passing yards in a single game and his first career 300-yard performance on the road.
WR Courtland Sutton also had a historical performance, becoming the third-fastest player in team history to reach 6,000 receiving yards in his 110th game. He also passed 700 yards on the season, becoming the fourth Bronco to tally 700 receiving yards in five straight years.
RB RJ Harvey also tallied 35 yards on 13 carries (2.7 avg.) with two touchdowns, totaling eight scores in 2025. His eight touchdowns tied him for the fifth-most by a Broncos' rookie running back in team history.
OLB Nik Bonitto recorded another sack in the game to cross the double-digit threshold on the season. He joined Von Miller as the only Broncos since 2000 to record double-digit sacks in back-to-back seasons.
Denver got on the board quickly, taking their opening drive 59 yards on 11 plays and was capped by a K Wil Lutz 33-yard field goal to make it 3-0. Lutz would also get another field goal after a LB Dre Greenlaw interception to make it 6-0 before a Commanders' touchdown made it 7-6.
The Broncos would answer at the end of the half though, as Nix led a 10-play, 64-yard drive that ended with a diving throw from Nix to Sutton to take a 13-7 lead at the break.
Washington would come out of the half with a score of their own to make it 14-13 quickly, but the Broncos would again answer with an 11-play, 72-yard drive that was capped by a one-yard score from Harvey. Washington would get two field goals though in the fourth quarter, including the game-tying kick as time expired to send the game into overtime.
Harvey would again score, this time from five yards outs, in overtime to help the Broncos take a 27-20 lead. Washington would not go away quietly, as they would get a touchdown themselves, but would ultimately not succeed on their two-point attempt as the pass was batted down by Bonitto for the win.

24 — 17

Denver Broncos	7	7	7	3	24
Las Vegas Raiders	7	0	0	10	17

The Denver Broncos reached double-digits in their winning streak after defeating the Las Vegas Raiders 24-17 on the road, improving their record to 11-2.
In the game, QB Bo Nix completed 31-of-38 passes for 212 yards (89.9) while also rushing for one touchdown in the game. With his rushing score, he became the first quarterback in team history to record at least four rushing touchdowns in back-to-back years.
Nix also entered the Top-10 in team history in passing yards in the contest while WR Courtland Sutton jumped WR Steve Watson for the sixth-most receiving yards (6,113) in team annals.
OLB Nik Bonitto helped the defensive effort in the contest, racking up two sacks on the Raiders. With his two sacks, he recorded his seventh multi-sack performance since the start of 2024, which is the fourth most among all NFL players in that span.
The game started off with fireworks by both teams, as the Broncos methodically went down the field on 14 plays to score on an eight-yard rush by Nix to make it 7-0. Nix would complete his first six passes of the game on the drive.
The Raiders would answer right back though, as they took 10 plays to go 70 yards for the touchdown to tie the game at 7-7.
The Broncos got back in the lead though after WR Marvin Mims Jr. returned a punt at the Raiders' 48-yard line and took it the distance for the touchdown. Denver's first punt return score since 2020, it was Mim's first career punt return touchdown.
Both teams would continue to trade possessions the rest of the half as the Broncos would go into half with a 14-7 lead.
After forcing a Vegas punt on their first drive of the second half, Denver then took 14 plays to go 86 yards on their first possession and ended with a three-yard touchdown by RB RJ Harvey to make it 21-7. Harvey's ninth offensive score of the season is tied for the fourth most by a Broncos rookie running back in team history.
A K Wil Lutz on the Broncos' next drive would increase the score to 24-7 before a Raiders touchdown and field goal at the end of regulation would bring the game to a close at 24-17.

Green Bay Packers	3	13	7	3	— 26
Denver Broncos	0	14	13	7	— 34

The Denver Broncos kept their winning streak rolling in an interconference matchup with the NFC North leading Green Bay Packers, defeating them 34-26.
With the win, the Broncos won their 11th consecutive game, which is their longest win streak in a single season since 2012 (11 games). They have also won 12 straight home games, which is the longest streak since 2012-13 (13 games).
QB Bo Nix had another career game, completing 23-of-34 passes for 302 yards with four touchdowns (134.7 rtg.) against the Packers. It was his fourth career game with 4+ passing scores and his fifth career 300-yard passing performance.
WR Courtland Sutton made history as well, entering the Top-5 in team history in receiving yards with 113 yards on seven catches. With that performance, he has now recorded 100 yards in a game 10 times, which is tied for the ninth most games in team history.
Defensively, CBs Pat Surtain II and Riley Moss both notched their first interceptions of the season which OLB Jonah Elliss, OLB Dondrea Tillman, OLB Jonathon Cooper and DL Zach Allen notched sacks.
The Packers got off to a hot start, scoring on their first five drives of the game, including two field goals on their first two possessions to take a 6-0 lead.
Denver would then get back into the fight, as a 10-play, 70-yard drive orchestrated by Nix finished with a 20-yard pass to WR Michael Bandy, the first of his career, for a touchdown to take a 7-6 lead.
Green Bay answered right back though, as they would take the ball 75 yards and finish with a 14-yard passing touchdown to retake the lead 13-7.
The Broncos would answer again though, as Nix found WR Lil'Jordan Humphrey, his first score of the season, for a five-yard touchdown to make it 14-13. The Packers would get the last points of the half though, as a field goal as would make it 16-14 going into the break.
Green Bay would get the chance to double-dip on points coming out of the half, as they would take the opening drive of the second half 71 yards and end with a 40-yard touchdown run to make it 23-14.
After a Broncos three-and-out, the Packers looked to try to close things out, but the game too a momentum shift when Surtain picked off a deep pass to give Denver the ball again. The Broncos would take advantage of it, with Nix finding Sutton for a 14-yard pass in the end zone to make it 23-21.
Nix would get another touchdown on the following drive as he found WR Troy Franklin deep for a 23-yard pass in the end zone to take the 27-23 lead, which they would not give up the rest of the game.
A field goal by Green Bay made it 27-26, but RB RJ Harvey scored his 10th touchdown of the season, tied for the third most by a rookie in team history, to make it 34-26 and five Denver the win.

Denver Broncos	0	10	7	3	— 20

The Denver Broncos lost for the first time since their Week 3 game, falling to the Jacksonville Jaguars by the score of 34-20 at Empower Field at Mile High.
QB Bo Nix recorded his sixth career 300-yard performance in the game, totaling 352 yards on 28-of-47 passing. WR Courtland Sutton also notched his seventh touchdown catch of the year and 39th of his career.
Denver also totaled five sacks in the game, their sixth contest of the season with five sacks. With that game, they tied their franchise record of 63 sacks on the season while DL John Franklin-Myers notched his second career multi-sack game.
Jacksonville got on the board first, going 66 yards on 10 plays at the end of the first quarter and ending with a 12-yard touchdown pass to make it 7-0
The Broncos answered right back though, as Nix led a five-play, 65-yard drive on the very next possession that ended with a 15-yard pass to Sutton to tie the game at seven apiece.
Denver would force a three-and-out and then take the lead for the first time after a 54-yard field goal by Lutz made it 10-7.
Jacksonville would end the half though with 10 unanswered points, finishing with a field goal as time expired to make it 17-10 at the break.
RB RJ Harvey would tie the game up again shortly into the second half, as he took a 38-yard handoff into the end zone to tie the game at 17. WIth that score, he claimed sole possession of the third-most touchdowns by a rookie running back.
The Jaguars would get back-to-back scores, as two touchdowns by the visitors made the score 31-17 to finish off the third quarter. They'd take advantage of a Broncos turnover as well and convert it to a field goal to take a 34-17 lead early in the fourth.
A field goal by Denver would make it 34-20 early in the frame, but that would prove to be the final points of the game.

WEEK 16

Denver Broncos 20, Kansas City Chiefs 13

73,045 | GEHA Field at Arrowhead Stadium | Dec 25, 2025

13

Denver Broncos	3	3	7	7	— 20
Kansas City Chiefs	0	7	3	3	— 13

The Denver Broncos reached the 13-win mark on the season after sweeping the season series against the Kansas City Chiefs for the first time since 2014 on Christmas night by the score of 20-13.
With a loss by the Chargers two days later, the win also proved to be crucial as the club clinched its first AFC West crown in 10 seasons.
Denver had three players (Nix, Harvey, McLaughlin) eclipse 40 yards rushing, the first time it had as many players reach that mark in a game since 2012. Harvey also became the first rookie in club history to record a touchdown in five straight games in the contest.
WR Courtland Sutton also made history in the game, surpassing the 1,000 receiving yards mark in back-to-back seasons for the first time in his career. He became the first Bronco to do so since Emmanuel Sanders and Demaryius Thomas in 2016.
QB Bo Nix also became just the third quarterback in NFL history to reach 25 passing scores and 3,500 passing yards in each of his first two seasons and the first ever win 20 games, pass for 7,500 yards and 50 touchdowns.
The Broncos also set a new franchise record with one sack in the game to take them to 64 for the season. That set a new team record for a single season while also tied for the 12th most in NFL history.
Denver got on the board first as they took the opening drive 56 yards on 14 plays and taking off 8:02 from the clock. A 27-yard field goal by K Wil Lutz would give Denver the 3-0 lead.
Kansas City would get back though, as they took advantage of an interception and converted it into a touchdown to make it 7-3. Another Lutz field goal with 22 seconds left in the second quarter would make it 7-6 going into the half.
Kansas City would take their opening possession in the second half 28 yards and would set up a 53-yard field goal to extend their lead back to four points.
That would not last long though, as a Nix nine-yard scramble into the end zone the next drive would cap a 72-yard possession for the Broncos to make it a 13-10 game.
The Chiefs would get a field goal early in the fourth quarter set up by a 44-yard punt return to tie the game up at 13-13, but the Broncos would go on another long drive on their next possession. Denver would take up 6:18 on 14 plays and convert from the KC one-yard line after Nix found Harvey in the end zone for the score to make it 20-13.
Kansas City would drive down the field, but end up just short as the Broncos clinched their 13th win of the season.
