BATTLE OF LOS ANGELES

SoFi Stadium

Woodland Hills, Calif. – The Los Angeles Rams return to SoFi Stadium this week to host the Los Angeles Chargers in a face off between the two Los Angeles franchises. The Rams enter the contest at 3-4 following a 35-21 road win over the Las Vegas Raiders in Week 7, while the Chargers hold an overall record of 0-6 after falling 22-6 to the Kansas City Chiefs.

The Rams put together a strong performance on both sides of the ball against Las Vegas, with the offense producing 35 points in the road victory. QB Matthew Stafford threw three passing touchdowns in the first half to pass Roman Gabriel (154) and become the franchise's leader in passing touchdowns (155). He is now the first player in NFL history to lead two separate franchises in passing touchdowns. Running backs Kyren Williams and Blake Corum combined for 192 rushing yards and two touchdowns. They became the fifth pair of Rams teammates in the last 50 years to each record 90+ rushing yards and a rushing touchdown in the same game and became the third duo in the NFL this season to achieve the feat. TE Davis Allen caught two touchdown receptions for the first time in his career and became the ninth different Ram to score a receiving touchdown this season, the most in the NFL. WR Puka Nacua has continued to be a reliable target in the passing game, recording 45 receptions for 485 yards and two touchdowns through the first seven games.

Defensively, the Rams will look to carry their momentum from a productive outing against the Raiders into Sunday's matchup. CB Jaylen Watson delivered a standout performance in Week 7, allowing just two receptions on 10 targets for 17 yards while recording a single-game career-best four passes defended. Watson became the first player since Week 17 of the 2024 season to allow two or fewer receptions while forcing at least eight incomplete targets. He joined teammate Trent McDuffie as the only players this season to allow two or fewer receptions while recording at least four passes defended. Additionally, Watson forced six tight windows when targeted, tied for the second-most by any defender this season. The Rams have not allowed a first-quarter touchdown in their first seven games this season, the longest active streak in the NFL.

The Rams have only faced the Chargers twice in the regular season since both teams moved to Los Angeles, splitting the series 1-1. This will be the first matchup between Head Coach Sean McVay and Chargers' Head Coach Jim Harbaugh. The Rams lead the overall series 7-6.

John Madden, Jon Gruden, Mike Tomlin and Zac Taylor each had five postseason wins before they turned 40. McVay turned 40 on January 24, 2026, one day before last season's NFC Championship game.

RECORDS KNOW NO AGE

Sean McVay, who turned 40 this past January, has a 95-61 regular-season record as an NFL head coach. He joins Hall of Famers Curly Lambeau and George Halas as the only head coaches in NFL history with 100 combined wins prior to turning 40.

McVAY HITS 100

Sean McVay coached his 100th career regular season game (in Week 2, 2023). He had a record of 61-39 and the fifth-highest winning percentage amongst active head coaches in their first 100 regular season games.

In 2024, the Rams won the NFC West for the fourth time in eight seasons under Sean McVay (2017, 2018, 2021, 2024) and for the first time since 2021. Only Chuck Knox (five) has more division titles as the Rams head coach.

Last season marked McVay's seventh playoff berth, the most by a head coach in franchise history.

DYNAMIC DUO

With a win over the Raiders in Week 7, Head Coach Sean McVay and General Manager Les Snead passed Marty Schottenheimer and Carl Peterson for the 14th-most wins (regular and postseason) by a head coach/general manager duo in NFL history. McVay and Snead currently rank second in combined wins amongst active head coach/general manager duos, trailing only Kansas City's Andy Reid and Brett Veach.

SUCCESS IN THE WEST

Under Head Coach Sean McVay, the Rams are 33-23 in the regular season against NFC West opponents. The Rams finished 6-0 in the NFC West during the 2018 season. The last time an NFC West team accomplished the feat was the Cardinals in 2008. It marked the first time the Rams swept the NFC West since 1999.

The Rams are 18-9 in NFC West road contests since the start of the 2017 season.

Coach Sean McVay has 15 victories over the Arizona Cardinals since 2017, the most for any coach against an NFC opponent during that span.

The Rams outscored their divisional opponents, 171-112, during the 2017 season, which was a 59-point differential. It was the highest point differential in the division for the Rams since 2001, when the Rams outscored their divisional opponents, 274-160, for a 114-point differential. The 2001 Rams played in a five team division and therefore had eight divisional games that season.

The Rams have won four-or-more games against NFC West opponents in three consecutive seasons, seeking their first four-season streak of four-or-more wins against division opponents since 1999-2004.

CONQUEROR OF THE LEAGUE

After defeating the Titans in Week 2 of 2025, Stafford has beaten 31 of the 32 NFL teams. Only four quarterbacks have beaten all 32 current franchises in the league: Peyton Manning, Brett Favre, Tom Brady and Drew Brees. Stafford is coming off his third season with 40 or more passing scores. Those three seasons are tied for the most by any QB in NFL history along with Aaron Rodgers and Tom Brady.

HISTORIC STRETCH

In Week 10 last season, Stafford set a Rams franchise record for the most touchdown passes in a three-game span (12). Over the same stretch, he is also the first quarterback in NFL history to throw for four or more touchdowns and no interceptions in three consecutive regular-season games.

In Week 13 last season, Stafford broke Tom Brady's record for the most consecutive touchdowns thrown without an interception (28) in NFL history since 1978. In that same period Stafford threw 317 pass attempts without an interception, the longest streak of his career.

BLITZ BUSTER

In the 2025 season, Stafford led the NFL with 27 touchdowns against the blitz, the most by any quarterback in a single season since ESPN began tracking touchdowns against the blitz in 2006.

At just 30 years of age, Myles Garrett stands alone as the only player in NFL History with:

Notably, Garrett is the only one of those three players to be traded following his Defensive Player of the Year season, as Sanders and Stubblefield both moved as free agents.

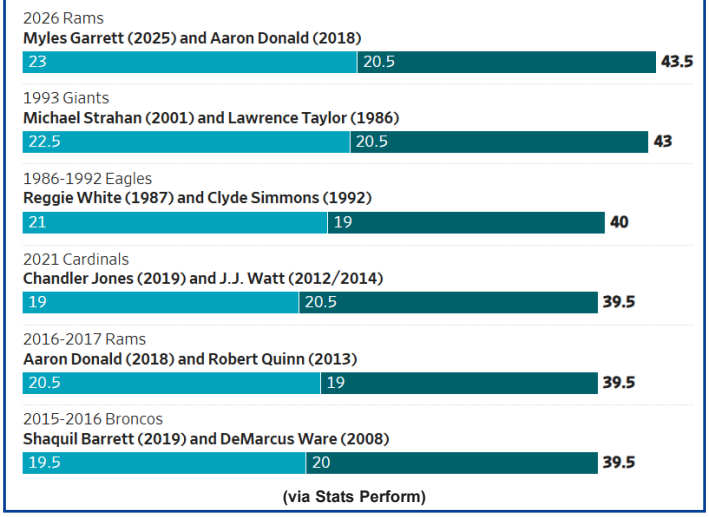

AN UNPRECEDENTED DEFENSIVE DUO

The Rams became the first team in NFL history to have two players with multiple AP Defensive Player of the Year awards, combining to have won five of the last nine Defensive Player of the Year honors.
