★ DALLAS COWBOYS 2022 SCHEDULE ★

The Cowboys schedule currently features five games that will be broadcast nationally in primetime, including two from AT&T Stadium. In addition to the two primetime games at AT&T Stadium - both on NBC's Sunday Night Football - and the club's annual Thanksgiving Day national appearance (this year on FOX), the Cowboys will make three national appearances in primetime on the road, one on ESPN's Monday Night Football, one on NBC's SNF and one on Thursday night on Amazon Prime video.

The Cowboys play seven games against teams that qualified for the 2021 playoffs - Cincinnati, Green Bay, LA Rams, Philadelphia (twice), Tampa Bay and Tennessee.

This season marks the eighth time - third time in the last four seasons - that the Cowboys will face both Super Bowl participants from the previous season:

★ WHAT TO WATCH FOR IN WEEK 10 ★

DAK PRESCOTT

- * Dak Prescott has thrown eight touchdown passes in three regular season games against the Packers. With two touchdown passes on Sunday, Prescott would have more touchdown passes against Green Bay than any other non-divisional opponent in his career.
- * Prescott rushed for a touchdown against Chicago (10/30) in Week 8, and with a rushing touchdown against the Packers, he would have back-to-back games with a rushing score for the first time since 2019 (at NYJ, 10/13 - vs. PHI, 10/20).
- * Sunday will mark Prescott's first road game of the season. In his career, Prescott has a 24-18 record on the road, and his 12 game-winning drives away from home are the second-most among quarterbacks since 2016.

TREVON DIGGS

- * Trevon Diggs has three interceptions in 2022. With another interception, Diggs would become the first Cowboys player to record at least four interceptions in back-to-back seasons since Terence Newman had five picks in 2010 and four in 2011.
- * With an interception at Green Bay, Diggs (17) would join Dwight Hicks (18) and Everson Walls (22) as the only three players with at least 18 interceptions through their first 37 career games.

MICAH PARSONS

- * Micah Parsons has seven career multi-sack games, including four in 2022. With a multi-sack game on Sunday, Parsons would be the second NFL defender since 1982 with at least eight multi-sack performances through 24 career games, joining Aldon Smith (nine).
- * Parsons' four multi-sack games this season are tied with Charles Haley (1995) and DeMarcus Ware (2011) for the most multi-sack performances through the first eight games of a season in team history. With 1.5 sacks on Sunday, Parsons would become the only Cowboy since 1982 with five multi-sack games in the team's first nine contests.

TONY POLLARD

- * Tony Pollard leads all running backs with 6.25 yards-per-carry this season, and his five rushes of 25-plus yards are tied for second in the league. Since 2020, Pollard has tallied five touchdown runs of 40-plus yards, the most in the NFL in that span
- * Pollard (2,873) needs 127 scrimmage yards to reach 3,000 career scrimmage yards.

EZEKIEL ELLIOTT

- * Ezekiel Elliott has 72 total touchdowns (60 rushing, 12 receiving) in his career. With one more score, Elliott would pass Jason Witten (72) for the fifth-most overall touchdowns in Cowboys history.

55

LEIGHTON VANDER ESCH

- * Leighton Vander Esch (485) needs 15 tackles to reach 500 career tackles as he plays in his 60th career game on Sunday in Green Bay.

88

CEEDEE LAMB

- * CeeDee Lamb (195) needs five catches to hit 200 career receptions and become the fastest in franchise history to reel in 200 catches (41 games).
- * Lamb (14) needs one more receiving touchdown to tie Dan Reeves (15) for the fifth-most touchdown catches by a Cowboy in his first three seasons. Bob Hayes holds the record with 35 touchdown grabs in his first three years.

DALLAS COWBOYS

- * With a win on Sunday, Head Coach Mike McCarthy would record his 150th regular season win and pass Bill Cowher for the 23rd-most all-time regular season wins among head coaches. A victory against the Packers would also give McCarthy a win against every NFL team, including postseason.
- * The Cowboys have allowed only one of their eight opponents to pass for 200 net yards-or-more this season. If they hold Green Bay under 200 net passing yards, it will mark the third time in franchise history that Dallas held eight of its first nine opponents under 200 net passing yards, joining the 1977 (nine) and 1970 teams.
- * Dallas has excelled with multiple tight ends on the field in 2022, especially in the run game. When Dallas has at least two tight ends on the field, the Cowboys are averaging 5.26 yards-per-carry, good for fourth in the NFL

★ HEAD COACHES ★

MIKE McCARTHY (149-94-2, 16th Year, 22-17 with Dallas)

The Dallas Cowboys named Mike McCarthy the ninth head coach in franchise history on Jan. 8, 2020, handing the reigns of the team to an innovative offensive mind with a championship pedigree.

McCarthy has 15 years of head coaching experience - 13 with Green Bay and two with Dallas - along with 13 years as an assistant coach in the NFL, including six as an offensive coordinator.

As a head coach, McCarthy has racked up a 149-94-2 regular season coaching record, and he owns the fifth-most wins (24th all-time) among active NFL coaches. His teams have qualified for the postseason nine times, won six NFC North Division titles, one NFC East title, made four NFC Championship Game appearances and took home a Super Bowl XLV championship held at AT&T Stadium in Arlington, Texas, following the 2010 NFL season.

In 2021 McCarthy led the Cowboys to the franchise's first NFC East title in three years, along with a 12-5 regular season record. Under McCarthy, Dallas led the league in total offense (407.0), scoring offense (31.2 points-per-game) and takeaways (34).

In his first season with the Cowboys, McCarthy's plan to install a new culture in Dallas was halted by the COVID-19 pandemic. Due to COVID protocols, McCarthy's first offseason with the Cowboys included no in-person meetings or practices and a season-ending injury to his starting quarterback in Week 5. Despite the hurdles, the 2020 Cowboys were in position to win the NFC East entering Week 17 but came up just short.

During his time in Green Bay, McCarthy was known as a prolific offensive mind and the primary play-caller for the Packers. McCarthy's offense finished fourth in the NFL in total offense and third in points-per-game through his 14-year stint with the club.

McCarthy is only the fourth head coach in NFL history to lead a single franchise to eight-or-more consecutive playoff appearances, joining Tom Landry, Chuck Noll and Bill Belichick. Those eight appearances from 2009-16 were more than the rest of the NFC North Division combined over that span (Minnesota, three; Detroit, three; Chicago, one).

McCarthy's nine playoff appearances overall are the most by a Packers coach since the NFL postseason began in 1933, and he guided the Packers to a franchise-record fourth consecutive division title in 2014. With the victory over Dallas in the 2016 playoffs, McCarthy surpassed Vince Lombardi and Mike Holmgren for the most playoff victories in team history (10).

MATT LAFLEUR (42-16, 4th Year)

Matt LaFleur is in his fourth season as the Green Bay Packers head coach, becoming the 15th man to lead the franchise on Jan. 8, 2019.

LaFleur has guided his Packers teams to three consecutive 13-win seasons, the first coach in NFL history to accomplish the feat. Along the way, LaFleur's Packers have won three division titles as he has tallied a 16-4 against NFC North opponents, an .800 winning percentage. Green Bay finished 2021 with an 8-0 home record, the only team in the NFL with an undefeated home slate last year. It also marked the third consecutive season Green Bay won seven-plus home games, tied for the second-longest streak in team history (2010-12).

Prior to arriving in Green Bay, LaFleur served as the offensive coordinator for the Tennessee Titans (2018) and Los Angeles Rams (2017). He coached quarterbacks coach for six years in Atlanta (2015-16) and Washington (2010-13). Before landing in Washington, LaFleur was an offensive assistant for two seasons with the Houston Texans.

Through his first 10 years as an assistant coach in the NFL, LaFleur was a part of offensive staffs that ranked in the top-10 in the league in total yards seven times (2008-09, 2012-13, 2015-17) and finished in the top-five in scoring three times, including a top finished 2016 with the Falcons and 2017 with the Rams.

LaFleur's success in working with quarterbacks is evidenced by Aaron Rodgers winning NFL Most Valuable Player award two times under LaFleur's guidance and Matt Ryan once. Additionally, Todd Gurley (2017) took home NFL Offensive Player of the Year while LaFleur coordinated the offense in Los Angeles.

LaFleur brought six seasons of collegiate coaching experience to the NFL, beginning his career at his alma mater, Saginaw Valley State. He also coached at Central Michigan (2004-05), Northern Michigan (2006), Ashland University (2007) and Notre Dame (2014).

Born in Mount Pleasant, Mich., LaFleur played quarterback at Saginaw Valley State (2000-02), where he led the Cardinals to three straight NCAA Division II playoff appearances. He is third in school annals in passing yards (7,699), completions (560) and passing touchdowns (67), starting his college career as a wide receiver at Western Michigan (1998-99) before transferring to SVSU.

LaFleur played in the National Indoor Football League for the Omaha Beef in 2003 and the Billings Outlaws in 2004.
