8 The Dallas defense has recorded eight takeaways through three preseason games – including a league-high five interceptions – tied with Chicago for the most overall takeaways in the NFL.

19 The Cowboys recorded 8.0 sacks against the Texans, the most in a single preseason game by a Dallas defense in over 19 years, and the most since 6.0 sacks against Seattle (8/12) in 2006.

★ WINNING TRADITION ★

The Dallas Cowboys currently own the league's highest all-time regular season winning percentage by current NFL teams:

Highest Win Percentage - NFL Regular Season

TRAINING CAMP 2019
American Airlines

The Dallas Cowboys returned to Oxnard, California to open their 60th training camp on July 27 at the Residence Inn at River Ridge. Dallas broke camp on Thurs., Aug. 15 prior to their second preseason contest against the LA Rams in Honolulu, Hawaii, and now continue at Ford Center at the The Star in Frisco, Texas from Aug. 20-27. In 2019 the Cowboys practiced in front of 35,596 fans during their stay in Oxnard. This year marked the 14th time the Cowboys have spent at least a portion of their training camp in Oxnard, and the 40th overall training camp in California.

Seven seasons ago, Dallas came back to the west coast after training in the Alamodome in San Antonio prior to the 2011 season. Dallas Cowboys Training Camp is one of the annual highlights for Dallas Cowboys fans. It offers a rare opportunity for Cowboys fans from all over the United States and the world to get an "up close and personal look" at their favorite team with all practice sessions free and open to the public.

★ PRO BOWL COWBOYS ★

Eight Dallas Cowboys were selected to the 2018 NFL Pro Bowl - most since 2014. Five of the eight players representing Dallas were from the offense, including two from the offensive line, with both making return trips to the league's annual all-star game.

Tackle Tyron Smith headlines the offensive line, as the eighth-year pro was selected to his sixth overall and sixth consecutive trip (2013-18) to the game - tied with Rayfield Wright for the most by a Cowboys offensive tackle. Jonining him on the line was guard Zack Martin (2014-18), as he notched his fourth consecutive selection.

Running back Ezekiel Elliott earned his second selection, first since his rookie season in 2016, after leading the NFL in rushing with 1,434 for the second time in three seasons.

Quarterback Dak Prescott received his second Pro Bowl designation as an injury replacement for Drew Brees. Prescott threw for 3,885 yards on 356-of-526 passes - all career-highs - and 22 touchdowns. He also finished second on the team in rushing with 305 yards on a franchise quarterback record 75 carries and six scores.

Wide receiver Amari Cooper was acquired in a midseason trade with the Oakland Raiders and led the team in receiving with 725 yards and six touchdowns on 53 receptions in nine games. Combined with his six previous games with the Raiders in the early portion of 2018, Cooper posted his third 1,000-yard receiving season with 1,005 yards on 75 receptions and seven touchdowns to receive his third trip to the Pro Bowl - first as a Cowboy as a replacement for Michael Thomas.

Three players from the defense also received recognition, headlined by defensive end DeMarcus Lawrence, who made his second appearance in the Pro Bowl after notching a team-best 10.5 sacks to mark the first time a Dallas defender has posted double-digit sacks in consecutive seasons since DeMarcus Ware had a streak of five (2007-11).

Byron Jones was selected to his first Pro Bowl after leading the team with a career-high 15 pass breakups.

Leighton Vander Esch was selected as a replacement for Luke Kuechly. He led the team with a franchise rookie record 176 tackles to become the 11th rookie in franchise history to make the Pro Bowl, third rookie defender (Mel Renfro - 1964; Everson Walls - 1981) and the first rookie linebacker.

★ WINNING HEAD COACH ★

For the first time as a head coach, and first time for the franchise since 2007-09, the Dallas Cowboys posted three consecutive winning seasons following a 10-6 finish in 2018.

Under Garrett's direction, the team secured its second NFC East divisional title with a 13-3 record in 2016, and he was named AP Coach of the Year. He also had an 11-game win streak to establish the longest single-season win streak in franchise history. Garrett won his 50th regular season game at Green Bay (10/16/16) to become only the second head coach in franchise history to reach 50 wins. He tied his personal best with the club's 12th win of the season against Tampa Bay (12/18/16) - tied for the second-most wins by a Cowboys head coach. It also marked Garrett's second 12-win season to give him the third-most 12-plus win seasons by a Dallas head coach. He then bettered his personal-best with his 13th win against Detroit (12/26/16), while tying Jimmy Johnson (1992) and Wade Phillips (2007) for the most wins by a Cowboys head coach in a single season.

Garrett wrapped up the 2014 regular season with a record of 12-4 - the fifth coach to reach 12 wins-or-better in a season in team history. He also secured his first NFC East Division title as the head coach. Against the N.Y. Giants (10/19/14), Garrett passed former head coaches Bill Parcells and Phillips with his 35th regular season win to place fourth in team history. He passed Barry Switzer for third with his 41st victory at Washington (12/28/14), then moved into second over Johnson (44) at Washington (12/7/15).

Including his 10-6 record in 2018, Garrett's current regular season record as the head coach of the Dallas Cowboys stands at 77-59, with the second-most wins all-time in team history:

★ BACK-TO-BACK-TO-BACK ★

The Dallas Cowboys 10-6 finish in 2018 served as the 37th winning season in the franchise's 59 seasons since 1960. Combined with the team's 13-3 record in 2016 and 9-7 finish in 2017, it marked the first time Dallas posted three straight winning seasons since 2007-09.

Overall, it was the fourth time in team history that the Cowboys posted a streak of three-consecutive winning seasons:

Dallas reached that mark in 879 games, second-fastest all-time in NFL history only to Chicago's league-best 863 games. ★ HEAD COACHES ★

JASON GARRETT (77-59, 9th Year)

Jason Garrett was named the eighth head coach in Dallas Cowboys history on January 5, 2011. Garrett became the first former Cowboys player to become the team's head coach. As a backup quarterback during his playing career in Dallas, he started nine-of-23 games played and was a member of teams that won six division titles and three Super Bowl championships.

Garrett was elevated to the Cowboys top job after taking over as the team's interim head coach midway through 2010. He guided the club to a 5-3 mark to finish the season after the team started 1-7. He led Dallas to an 8-8 record, narrowly missing the playoffs and an NFC East Division title in each his first three full seasons as head coach (2011-13). Garrett guided the 2014 squad to an NFL-best tying 12-4 record, the club's 22nd Division title - 18th NFC East title - 31st postseason appearance and 34th playoff win. His team fought through adversity in 2015, slipping to 4-12 on the season. The team bounced back under Garrett in 2016, completing the club's largest one-season turnaround in franchise history with a nine-game difference, finishing with a 13-3 record in 2016. The record included beginning the season 0-1 and going on to win 11 straight games - the longest single-season win streak in team history. Garrett's Cowboys won their second division championship with him at the helm, while earning the NFC's top overall seed and hosting an NFC Divisional Playoff Game for the first time since 2007. He was named AP Coach of the Year for his team's 2016 accomplishments. The 2018 Cowboys finished 10-6, making the playoffs for the fourth time in Garrett's tenure, and giving them three consecutive winning seasons for the first time since 2007-09.

From 2007-13, when Garrett was brought on board as the Cowboys offensive coordinator, the unit finished among the NFL's top-10 in total offense in five of his seven years at the helm: 2013 (10th), 2012 (6th), 2010 (10th), 2009 (2nd) and 2007 (2nd). The team has set single-season records in a handful of categories, including topping 6,000 net yards for the first four times in franchise history (2009- 6,390; 2011 - 6,008; 2014 - 6,138 and 2016 - 6,027). Since his arrival in 2007, the club's cumulative numbers for gross passing yards (39,993) and total points (3,919) represent the best totals over a 10-year span in the history of the organization while the club's 58,567 total net yards are second.

BRUCE ARIANS (50-32-1, 6th Year, 0-0 TB)

Bruce Arians was named the 12th head coach of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers on January 8, 2019. A two-time Associated Press NFL Coach of the Year, Arians is the only coach in NFL history to earn the award multiple times in a three-year span with different teams.

Prior to taking the head coaching job at Tampa Bay, Arians spent five seasons as the head coach of the Arizona Cardinals (2013-17) as well as a 12-game stint as interim head coach of the Indianapolis Colts (2012), compiling a regular season record of 58-33-1. During that span, his 58 wins ranked fourth in the NFL.

Throughout his 25-year NFL career, Arians worked alongside some of the league's top quarterbacks including Peyton Manning, Ben Roethlisberger, Andrew Luck and Carson Palmer. He directed top-10 offenses with three different teams over the last nine seasons of his career.

The Cardinals offense set several single-season team records during Arians' tenure, including points scored (489 in 2015), total touchdowns (59 in 2015) and more. Arians also played a role in developing and coaching Palmer during his historic 2015 season, when he set franchise records for passing yards (4,671), passing touchdowns (35), yards-per-attempt (8.70), and passer rating (104.6) en route to a Pro Bowl selection. Larry Fitzgerald posted the top-three seasons for receptions in Cardinals history under Arians' watch and ranked third in the NFL in catches during that span.

Arians helped the Colts offense rank 10th in yards (362.4 yards-per-game) and seventh in passing yards (258.0) during his time in Indianapolis as offensive coordinator and interim head coach, helping rookie Luck to a Pro Bowl. Arians spent eight seasons with the Steelers and led Pittsburgh to a 55-25 record during his five years as offensive coordinator. He played a role in the development of Roethlisberger, who posted then-franchise records of 32 touchdown passes (2007), 4,328 passing yards (2009) and the all-time franchise record 104.1 passer rating (2007).

Prior to a three-year stint as offensive coordinator in Cleveland (2001-03), Arians spent three seasons with the Indianapolis Colts as quarterbacks coach where he helped tutor Manning during his first three seasons in the league, leading him to two Pro Bowls.

Arians began his career as a graduate assistant at Virginia Tech in 1975 before making his way to his first NFL job with the Kansas City Chiefs as running backs coach in 1989.

★ 2019 QUARTERBACK BREAKDOWN ★

DAK PRESCOTT: With their eyes toward the future, the Dallas Cowboys picked Dak Prescott out of Mississippi State with the team's second selection in the fourth round (135th overall) of the 2016 NFL Draft. The move was a rare one for Dallas, as Prescott became the first quarterback drafted by the Cowboys since Stephen McGee in 2009, and only the fifth in the common draft since Jerry Jones bought the team in 1989. Prescott was slotted as Dallas' third quarterback when 2016 training camp opened, but midway through camp, a leg injury to Kellen Moore put Prescott as the backup to Romo. His role as the primary backup was short-lived as Prescott was thrust into the role as the club's starter after Romo suffered a back injury in the preseason. After losing the season opener, Prescott led the Cowboys on a club-record 11-game win streak en route to a franchise-tying 13-3 record and the NFC East Division crown. Along the way, Prescott set club rookie records with 3,667 yards, 23 touchdowns and only four interceptions on 311-of-459 passing (67.8%) for an NFL rookie record 104.9 quarterback rating while becoming the first quarterback in NFL history drafted in the fourth round-or-later to start all 16 games as a rookie. He also became the first rookie quarterback in team history to be named to the Pro Bowl and the first to win AP Offensive Rookie of the Year. He returned as the incumbent starter and was elected as a team captain by teammates, finishing 2017 with 3,324 yards and 22 touchdowns to become the first quarterback in team history to pass for at least 3,000 yards and 20 touchdowns in each of his first two pro seasons. Prescott extended that streak to three seasons, finishing 2018 with a career-high 526 attempts. He propelled Dallas to a 10-6 record and its second NFC East Division crown on his watch. Prescott owns 32 wins as a starter through his first three seasons to tie him for fifth in wins by a quarterback in his first three seasons since 1970.

COOPER RUSH: Cooper Rush signed with Dallas following the 2017 NFL Draft as a rookie free agent with the hopes of earning a shot as a backup quarterback. He became the only rookie free agent in 2017 to make the active roster out of training camp after dazzling in the preseason, completing 38-of-51 passes (74.5%) for 398 yards and six touchdowns against no interceptions, good for a 135.9 quarterback rating. Rush is one of only 10 NFL quarterbacks since 1999 to pass for at least six touchdowns in a single preseason, and is only the second quarterback to also complete at least 70% of his passes in the same preseason (Aaron Rodgers, 2009-10). He started the season as the club's third quarterback and gameday inactive, but earned his shot as the primary backup starting in Week Seven. As a rookie, Rush saw time in two games, then he played in just one game in 2018 as Prescott's primary backup.

MIKE WHITE: Mike White joined the Cowboys as only the sixth quarterback drafted since Jerry Jones bought the team in 1989 after Dallas used a fifth round selection (171st overall) to select White out of Western Kentucky in 2018. White started 42 games in college between the University of South Florida and Western Kentucky, but was a gameday inactive for all 16 regular season games and both playoff contests as a rookie in Dallas.

TARYN CHRISTION: Taryn Christion appeared in 41 games at South Dakota State with a total of 11,535 passing yards and 104 touchdowns with 2,197 rushing yards and 26 rushing touchdowns. He signed with the Cowboys after being waived by Seattle in May, 2019.

★ RUNNING BACKS ★

EZEKIEL ELLIOTT

21 RB

- ★ Ezekiel Elliott made his second-career Pro Bowl after finishing 2018 as the rushing champion (1,434) and second in total scrimmage yards (2,001). He is just the second Cowboy ever to reach 1,000 rushing yards and 500 receiving yards in a single season (Herschel Walker, 1988), and he is one-of-four players in NFL history with at least 1,900 scrimmage yards in two of his first three years.
- ★ Ranked second in the NFL in total first downs (95 - 73 rush, 22 rec.) and had the most first downs on third down (26).
- ★ Elliott led the Cowboys with 77 receptions, most by a running back in franchise history.
- ★ Elliott led the NFL in rushes of 10-plus yards (41) and 15-plus yards (25) in 2018, and tied for the most 100-yard rushing games on the season with seven.
- ★ Recorded two 200-yard scrimmage games in 2018 (240 vs. DET, 201 at ATL), which led the NFL and tied for the most 200-yard games in a single season in Cowboys history.

★ 2019 RUNNING BACK BREAKDOWN ★

EZEKIEL ELLIOTT: For just the second time in franchise history, the Dallas Cowboys used a top-five pick to select a running back when the team chose Ezekiel Elliott with the fourth pick of the 2016 NFL Draft. Elliott did not disappoint as a rookie, leading the NFL with 1,631 yards to become only the fifth rookie since the NFL merger to win the NFL rushing title. His 1,631 rushing yards - third by a rookie in NFL history - were aided by seven 100-yard rushing games - tops by a rookie in team history - and he totaled 1,994 yards from scrimmage which was third by a rookie in league history. Elliott became the fourth rookie in Cowboys history to be named to the Pro Bowl, and only the fourth rookie, second running back, to be named All-Pro in franchise annals. He also took home FedEx Ground Player of the Year. Despite missing six games in 2017 (league-mandated suspension), Elliott led the league, averaging 98.3 yards-per-game, finishing 10th in the league with 983 yards and tied for 11th with seven rushing scores. His third season was almost as spectacular as his first, winning the rushing crown for the second time in his first three seasons, becoming the second Cowboy (Emmitt Smith - four) with multiple rushing titles. He paced the league with 1,434 yards and also became the first Cowboys running back to lead the team in receptions (77-club running back record) since 2003. For his efforts, he was selected to his second career Pro Bowl.

ALFRED MORRIS: The Dallas Cowboys originally signed Alfred Morris to join Darren McFadden and first round draft pick Ezekiel Elliott in the backfield for the 2016 season, giving the Cowboys rushing attack a stable of talented and experienced runners. He was originally drafted in the sixth round (173rd overall) by Washington, and through four years, Morris rushed for 4,713 yards and 29 touchdowns on 1,078 carries, starting all 64 games of his career. Morris' yardage total of 4,713 was second in the league over that span - 2012-15 - trailing only Adrian Peterson, who accumulated 4,923 yards over those four seasons. Morris saw carries early in the year as Elliott gained his footing in the backfield, and finished with 69 carries for 243 yards and two touchdowns. Morris remained the primary backup for Elliott in 2017 and was thrust into the starting role for six weeks during Elliott's six-game suspension. After 115 carries and 547 rushing yards, Morris was released after the season and signed with San Francisco. Following the injury of Jerick McKinnon in 2018, Morris saw an increased load in production and finished the year with 428 yards on 111 carries. Morris returned to the Cowboys at the beginning of training camp in 2019 to provide a veteran presence with Elliott on Reserve/Did Not Report and add depth to the position in hopes of landing the pimary backup job.

DARIUS JACKSON: The Dallas Cowboys brought back a familiar face when they signed Darius Jackson during 2018 OTAs to provide depth and competition at running back. Jackson, a sixth round (216th overall) pick by Dallas in 2016 spent a majority of his rookie season as a gameday inactive for the Cowboys before his release on Dec. 13. He was claimed off waivers by Cleveland and spent the end of 2016 and all of 2017 with the Browns. After being waived by Cleveland on May 3, 2018, the Cowboys re-signed Jackson two weeks later. After spending the first month of the season in Green Bay, he landed on Dallas' practice squad for a majority of the 2018 season, but did see action in four games. He will look to compete as the primary backup to Ezekiel Elliott heading into 2019.

JORDAN CHUNN: Jordan Chunn appeared in 49 games at Troy, earning multiple awards including All-Sun Belt first-team, College Football News Freshman All-America Team, and was the NCAA Freshman Rushing Touchdown Leader in 2013. Chunn signed with Dallas as a rookie free agent but was released at the end of training camp before immediately signing with the Cowboys as a member of the practice squad, where he spent the entire 2018 season. Chunn signed as a future in January 2019 and will compete for a spot on the roster to add value to the running back stable.

TONY POLLARD: The Dallas Cowboys drafted running back Tony Pollard in the fourth round (128th overall) of the NFL Draft to be a complement to Ezekiel Elliott in the backfield and provide an electric weapon to the offensive arsenal. Pollard shared time in the backfield at Memphis, but his value to the Tigers was never in question. He is tied with three other players for the most kickoff return touchdowns in NCAA history with seven, and of his 25 career touchdowns, 10 were 50-plus yards in length. He averaged 6.8 yards-per-carry on 139 attempts in college, and also caught 104 passes for 1,292 yards with nine touchdowns. Pollard can line up as a traditional running back in the backfield, or out wide as a slot receiver, giving Dallas versatility in lineup formations.

MIKE WEBER: The Dallas Cowboys added Mike Weber in the seventh round (218th overall) of the NFL Draft. Weber played in 38 games and was part of back-to-back Big Ten championship teams at Ohio State, finishing his career with 2,676 rushing yards, 24 touchdowns and a 5.9 yard-per-carry average. Weber, who played one season behind Elliott at Ohio State, will rejoin the Cowboys workhorse in Dallas and provide the offense with a steadfast option behind Elliott in the rushing attack.

JAMIZE OLAWALE: The Dallas Cowboys traded a fifth round pick for Jamize Olawale and a sixth round pick in 2018 to add a true fullback to the offense. Olawale, a former University of North Texas athlete, is beginning his seventh season in the NFL after entering as an undrafted free agent who was signed and cut by the Cowboys. He then signed to the Cowboys practice squad before eventually signing with the Oakland Raiders. Olawale appeared in 77 games with the Raiders, logging 55 attempts for 206 yards and four touchdowns. Primarily a receiving fullback, Olawale caught 39 passes for 425 yards and three touchdowns with a career receiving long of 75 yards. In March 2019, Olawale signed a three-year extension with the Cowboys and aims to be the starting fullback for the foreseeable future.

RYAN YURACHEK: The Dallas Cowboys acquired Ryan Yurachek as a free agent in the 2019 preseason after he was waived by the Oakland Raiders to provide depth at fullback behind veteran Jamize Olawale. He was originally signed by the New Orleans Saints as an undrafted free agent in 2018 until he was waived a month later before being picked up by Oakland. He was later waived and then signed to the Raiders practice squad, where he remained until being signed as a future in early 2019. After being released by Oakland, the Cowboys signed Yurachek in hopes of having him compete for a roster spot in a position of need, as just the second fullback on the roster.

AMARI COOPER

19 WR

- Amari Cooper made his third-career Pro Bowl (as an injury replacement to Mike Thomas), finishing 2018 with 75 receptions for 1,005 yards and seven touchdowns - one-of-19 players in NFL history to record three 1,000-yard receiving seasons in the first four years of a career.
- After his acquistion in Week 9, the Cowboys ranked third in completion percentage (71.0), third in yards after the catch (1,312) and first in third down conversion rate (48.4).
- Named NFC Offensive Player of the Week after setting the Cowboys all-time receiving yards mark on Thanksgving Day with 180 yards on eight catches and two touchdowns.
- Cooper set a career-best and 2018 league-high with 217 receiving yards on 10 catches with three touchdowns against Philadelphia (12/9) - becoming the only player in NFL history to record three go-ahead touchdowns in fourth quarter or overtime of a single game.

★ 2019 WIDE RECEIVER BREAKDOWN ★

AMARI COOPER: The Dallas Cowboys added a big-play threat to their passing game when they traded a 2019 first round pick to Oakland for Amari Cooper on Oct. 22, 2018. Cooper, who was selected by Oakland fourth overall in the 2015 NFL Draft, earned consecutive Pro Bowl trips after becoming just the third player in NFL history with 1,000 receiving yards and 70 catches in each of his first two seasons. After arriving in Dallas, Cooper led the team with 725 yards and six touchdowns while finishing third with 53 catches. He was named to his third career Pro Bowl following the 2018 season as an injury replacement for Michael Thomas. Additionally, Cooper is one of just 10 players in NFL history to begin their career with back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons, and he is tied for fourth in NFL history with 11 receiving touchdowns of at least 30 yards before the age of 24. Cooper is the clear-cut number one receiver for Dak Prescott entering 2019 in a talented stable of Cowboys wideouts.

MICHAEL GALLUP: The Dallas Cowboys added an explosive, big-play threat with their selection of Michael Gallup in the third round (81st overall) of the 2018 NFL Draft. As a rookie, Gallup played in all 16 games, earning starts in eight, and was fourth in receptions (33) and receiving yards (507) with two touchdowns. He is just the sixth Cowboys rookie receiver to average 15.0 yards-per-reception on 30-or-more catches, and the first since Terrance Williams in 2013 (16.7). His progress through his rookie season set him up for future success, and he looks to become the explosive threat he was throughout his collegiate career, teaming up with Amari Cooper to form one of the strongest receiving duos in the NFL.

RANDALL COBB: The Dallas Cowboys signed Randall Cobb as an unrestricted free agent during the 2019 offseason, adding a versatile weapon to their offensive arsenal in order to reignite their aerial attack. Cobb, originally a second round pick (64th overall) by the Green Bay Packers, entered the NFL as a jack-of-all-trades with the ability to score from anywhere on the field, a trait which he put to good use at the onset of his career. He set a franchise rookie record for kick return average (27.7) and then set a franchise single-season record with a league-high 2,342 combined net yards in 2012, topping the previous team mark of 2,250 yards by Ahman Green in 2003. Cobb also recorded 954 receiving yards and 964 kickoff return yards in 2012, becoming the first player in NFL history to post 900-plus yards in each category in the same season. Cobb finished his Packers tenure sixth in receptions (470), 11th in yards (5,524) and touchdown catches (41).

TAVON AUSTIN: The Dallas Cowboys executed a draft day trade in 2018 to acquire the multi-threat and dynamic playmaker Tavon Austin from the LA Rams. Austin, a former first round (eighth overall) selection by the St. Louis Rams in 2013, came to Dallas with the ability to score from anywhere on the field - on offense or special teams. He suffered a groin injury in the first half of the 2018 season that sidelined him for nine games. He returns in 2019 with the same tool set and hopes to make a big impact in the return game for Dallas. For his career, Austin has 26 touchdowns - 14 receiving, nine rushing and three punt returns, and his touchdowns are an average of 32.7 yards - 83.7 punt return, 29.3 receiving and 21.1 rushing.

NOAH BROWN: Looking to add a receiver with size, the Dallas Cowboys drafted Noah Brown out of Ohio State in the seventh round (239th overall) of the 2017 NFL Draft. The 6-2 wideout was a big target for the Buckeyes, and in his first season in Dallas, he played in 13 games with one start, seeing most of his time on special teams, catching four passes for 33 yards on offense. Brown landed on Reserve/Injured with a hamstring injury coming out of training camp in 2018, but was activated later in the season to play in the final eight games, mostly as a blocker.

CEDRICK WILSON: The Dallas Cowboys selected Cedrick Wilson in the sixth round (208th overall) of the 2018 NFL Draft to give the club a tall, versatile and intelligent option at wide receiver. Wilson, a former high school quarterback, converted to wide receiver during his collegiate career and continued to improve. Wilson suffered a shoulder injury in training camp and spent his rookie season on Reserve/Injured.

DEVIN SMITH: The Dallas Cowboys signed Devin Smith early in the 2019 offseason to give the young receiver a chance to compete for a spot on the final roster among a deep wide receiver field, Smith, entering his third pro season, has been slowed through his career because of knee injuries, has appeared in 14 games with three starts after being selected in the second round (37th overall) of the 2015 NFL Draft by the N.Y. Jets.

REGGIE DAVIS: The Dallas Cowboys originally signed Reggie Davis to join the practice squad in November 2018 after he was released by Philadelphia earlier in the season. Davis initially signed with Atlanta as an undrafted free agent in 2017 before being waived and picked up by Cleveland just before the season started. He was soon released and re-signed by Atlanta, where he remained on the practice squad until being waived and picked up by the Eagles in September 2018. Davis ended up with the Cowboys and signed as a future in February 2019 in hopes of etching out a role in a wide receiver room stacked with talent.

JALEN GUYTON: Jalen Guyton signed with the Dallas Cowboys as an undrafted free agent in 2019. He played in 26 games over two seasons at North Texas and garnered 103 catches for 1,580 yards and 15 touchdowns.

JON'VEA JOHNSON: Jon'Vea Johnson signed with the Dallas Cowboys as an undrafted free agent in 2019. He played in 53 career games at Toledo and recorded 122 receptions for 2,223 yards and 23 touchdowns.

★ TIGHT ENDS ★

JASON WITTEN

82 TE

- Jason Witten returns to the Cowboys after a hiatus during the 2018 season, adding the Cowboys all-time leading receiver, 11 Pro Bowl appearances and 68 career touchdown receptions to the Dallas offense.
- Witten has converted 67% of his third down receptions for first downs in his 15-year career, providing a reliable chain-mover to an offense that finished 10th in third down conversions in 2018 (41.4%).
- Dak Prescott has completed 73.7% of his attempted passes to the tight end in his first three NFL seasons, the third-highest percentage in the NFL over that span.

★ 2019 TIGHT END BREAKDOWN ★

JASON WITTEN: After spending the 2018 season in the broadcast booth as the lead analyst for ESPN's Monday Night Football, Jason Witten will make his return to the playing field in 2019. Witten was drafted by the Dallas Cowboys in the third round (69th overall) of the 2003 NFL Draft, and he went on to become one of the top tight ends in NFL history and the most prolific pass catcher in Cowboys history. He is Dallas' all-time receptions leader, surpassing Michael Irvin (750) in 2012, and is second in NFL history among tight ends (fourth all-time) with 1,152. His 12,448 yards are tops in Cowboys history and second in NFL tight end history. He appeared in seven consecutive Pro Bowl games for the most Pro Bowl appearances by a Cowboys tight end, a streak that ended following the 2011 season. He is tied with Bob Lilly for the team-high with 11 overall Pro Bowl appearances. In Week 1 of 2017, Witten became the club's all time receiving yards leader, passing Irvin (11,904). In front of a rookie quarterback and a rookie running back in 2016, Witten finished second on the team in receptions (69) and third in yards (673) and established club records for most games started and consecutive starts. When he stepped away prior to the start of the 2018 season, Witten held club records for most games played (239), most games started (229) and most consecutive games started (179). This season will also make him the club record-holder for most seasons (16). For his work on and off the field, Witten was honored with the Walter Payton Man of the Year Award. A model of durability, Witten has appeared in 247 of a possible 248 games - including playoffs - missing just one game after breaking his jaw against Arizona (10/5/03) and undergoing surgery to have three plates put in on Oct. 6, 2003. He has the club-record with a catch in 130 consecutive games.

BLAKE JARWIN: A big, athletic tight end that can be used as a lead blocker in the run game or as a traditional tight end, Blake Jarwin found a home with Dallas after signing with the team as a rookie free agent following the 2017 NFL Draft. After a short stint on the club's practice squad, Jarwin spent 10 weeks on the active roster, but was active for only one game. After Jason Witten retired leading up to the 2018 season, Jarwin had an opportunity to follow in the footsteps of the club's all-time leading receiver. He logged the first four starts of his career, playing in all 16 games, and he finished with 27 catches for 307 yards and three touchdowns. Jarwin's breakout performance in the 2018 finale should give him more opportunities in the passing game even with the return of Witten in 2019.

DALTON SCHULTZ: The Dallas Cowboys chose Stanford tight end Dalton Schultz with their second selection in the fourth round (137th overall) of the 2018 NFL Draft. With the retirement of both Witten and James Hanna in the 2018 offseason, Schultz was counted to fill multiple roles after serving primarily as a blocker at Stanford. As a rookie, Schultz started seven of the 11 games he played and both playoff contests, helping block for the NFL rushing leader - Ezekiel Elliott (1,434 yards). He also caught 12 passes for 107 yards. With the return of Witten in 2019, Schultz has an opportunity to learn from one of the all-time greatest tight ends in league history to help further his growth and solidify his spot for years to come.

CODEY McELROY: Codey McElroy signed with the Cowboys as a free agent in March 2019. He initially signed with the LA Rams as an undrafted free agent in May 2018 and was later waived just before the start of the 2018 season. He played just one season of college football at Southeastern Oklahoma, recording 14 receptions for 173 yards and five touchdowns. He also walked on to Oklahoma State's basketball team his senior year and appeared in four games.

MARCUS LUCAS: The Cowboys added Marcus Lucas midway through training camp in order to fill a need at the tight end position. Lucas, a first-year player, originally entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent in 2014 after signing with the Carolina Panthers. He spent time in training camp and on the pratcice squad with eight teams before signing with Dallas. Lucas played four seasons at Missouri, apearing in 49 games and recording 130 catches, 1,638 yards and 11 touchdowns.

TYRON SMITH: For just the fourth time in team history, and first time since 1981, the Dallas Cowboys selected an offensive lineman in the first round of the draft when they selected Tyron Smith with the ninth overall pick in the 2011 NFL Draft. He also became the second-highest offensive lineman drafted in Cowboys history behind John Niland, who was selected fifth in the 1966 Draft. Smith stepped in and immediately took over the starting right tackle spot as a rookie, starting all 16 games he played to become the first rookie to start all 16 games along the offensive line since 2005. In his second season, Smith manned the blind side, moving to left tackle. In 2013 Smith returned as the club's starting left tackle and he earned his first career trip to the Pro Bowl as a starter. He signed an eight-year extension during 2014 training camp and was a key part of a line that paved the way for the NFL's rushing leader (DeMarco Murray - 1,845 yards) to earn his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl. He earned his third straight trip to the all-star game following the 2015 season after helping Darren McFadden to his second career 1,000-yard rushing season and the first time in team history the Cowboys had two different running backs top 1,000 yards in consecutive seasons. In 2016 Smith was part of an offensive line that led the way for the league's leading rusher (Ezekiel Elliott, 1,631 yards). En route to his fourth straight Pro Bowl selection, Smith & Co. also helped rookie quarterback Dak Prescott establish league rookie records in quarterback rating (104.9) and completion percentage (67.8). In 2017 Smith was limited to 13 games, suffering from groin and knee injuries through the season, but performed at a level to earn his fifth straight Pro Bowl appearance, helping block for an offense that topped 2,000 rushing yards in consecutive seasons. Smith earned his sixth consecutive Pro Bowl appearance following the 2018 season, starting all 13 games he played on a line that helped lead the way for the leagues rushing leader - Elliott, 1,434 yards - along with an NFC East Division crown.

TRAVIS FREDERICK: After trading down to get the 31st (from 18th) and 74th overall picks in the 2013 NFL Draft, the Dallas Cowboys invested in the foundation of the offensive line for years to come when they selected center Travis Frederick in the first round. As a rookie, Frederick earned the starting nod at center in training camp and became the first rookie to start a game at center for Dallas since 2004. He went on to start all 16 games - the first rookie center in club history to accomplish the feat. Frederick was a key piece to the line in his second season as he started all 16 games, earning his first Pro Bowl and All-Pro honors. He then made his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl following the 2015 season, starting all 16 games in front of another 1,000-yard rusher in Darren McFadden. In 2016 Frederick was part of an offensive line that was named Built Ford Tough Offensive Line of the Year and led the way for the league's leading rusher (Ezekiel Elliott, 1,631 yards). En route to his third straight Pro Bowl selection, Frederick & Co. also helped rookie quarterback Dak Prescott establish league rookie records for quarterback rating (104.9) and completion percentage (67.8). Frederick was again solid in 2017, earning his fourth straight trip to the Pro Bowl, helping block for an offense that topped 2,000 rushing yards in consecutive seasons. Frederick was forced to overcome the greatest challenge of his pro career after being diagnosed with Guillain-Barré syndrome during training camp in 2018. Unfortunately, the illness landed him on Reserve/Injured, and he spent the season working on his recovery. He returns in 2019 in full health and looks to pickup where he left off after earning trips to four straight Pro Bowls.

ZACK MARTIN: For the third time in four NFL Drafts, the Dallas Cowboys selected an offensive lineman in the first round when they picked Zack Martin from Notre Dame in 2014. Martin joined Cowboys first round picks Tyron Smith (2011) and Travis Frederick (2013) as the building blocks for the future of the franchise. In his first season, Martin did not disappoint and was a key part in the league's second-ranked rushing attack. Martin became the first rookie in club history to start all 16 games at right guard and the fourth rookie on the offensive line to start all 16, and he earned a Pro Bowl spot - the only offensive rookie in the NFL in 2014 and the first Cowboys rookie lineman to make the game. He also earned All-Pro honors, becoming only the third rookie in team history to do so. He again manned the right guard spot in 2015, starting all 16 games and earned his second straight Pro Bowl nod and All-Pro honor. In 2016 Martin was part of an offensive line that led the way for the league's leading rusher (Ezekiel Elliott, 1,631 yards). En route to his third straight Pro Bowl and All-Pro selections, Martin & Co. also helped rookie quarterback Dak Prescott establish league rookie records in quarterback rating (104.9) and completion percentage (67.8). Behind the line, Prescott became the second player with 3,500-plus pass yards and less than five interceptions (Tom Brady, 2010 and 2016). The 2017 season was a continuation from his previous three as Martin earned his fourth straight trip to the Pro Bowl, starting all 16 games. Martin then earned his fifth straight Pro Bowl selection following a 2018 season that saw him anchor a line that opened holes for the NFL's rushing leader - Elliott (1,434 yards).

LA'EL COLLINS: The Dallas Cowboys signed La'el Collins as a rookie free agent after he had to pull out of the 2015 NFL Draft for personal reasons. Collins' hard work early in 2015 paid off as he took over the starting left guard spot six games in. By season's end, Collins played in 12 games with 11 starts, helping Darren McFadden to his second career 1,000-yard season, and giving Dallas glimpses of yet another young and talented piece to a dominating offensive front. His second season barely got underway as a toe injury suffered in Week 3 landed him on Reserve/Injured for the season. He returned healthy for 2017 and was the team's starting right tackle, starting all 16 games for the first time in his career. Collins started all 16 games at right tackle for Dallas in 2018, helping pave the way for the NFL's rushing leader as Ezekiel Elliott topped the charts with 1,434 yards and a 4.7 yard-per-carry average.

CONNOR WILLIAMS: The Dallas Cowboys added to a position of strength on the team in the 2018 NFL Draft with the selection of Texas offensive lineman Connor Williams in the second round (50th overall). Williams was a three-year starter at tackle for the Longhorns and became Dallas' starting left guard in training camp. As a rookie, Williams started 10-of-13 games played - and both playoff games - as he helped lead the way for the NFL's rushing champ - Ezekiel Elliott - 1,434 yards.

JOE LOONEY: The Dallas Cowboys signed unrestricted free agent center Joe Looney in 2016 to help fortify the interior positions on the offensive line. Looney was originally drafted in the fourth round (117th overall) of the 2012 NFL Draft by San Francisco. He was inactive for all 16 games as a rookie, then played in four games as a reserve lineman in 2013. Looney saw action in 15 games with four starts - two at right guard, one at left and one at center - in 2014. He was waived by San Francisco prior to the start of the 2015 season, but signed with Tennessee for Week 7 where he started six of the eight games he played for the Titans. In his first season in Dallas, Looney played in all 16 games for the first time in his career. He saw action mainly on special teams, but did start three games on the o-line. He returned in 2017 as a flexible backup at both guard spots or center and played in all 16 games for the Cowboys. The re-signing of Looney prior to the 2018 season payed huge dividends to both Looney and the Cowboys as he was forced to step up and start all 16 games (a first in his career) at center, replacing four-time Pro Bowl selection Travis Frederick, who landed on Reserve/Injured (Illness) one month into the season.

XAVIER SU'A-FILO: The Dallas Cowboys signed Xavier Su'a-Filo following Week 1 in 2018 to add a veteran presence and experienced depth on the interior of the offensive line. The 6-foot-4-inch, 310-pounder was originally selected by the Houston Texans in the second round of the 2014 NFL Draft. He spent the his first seven weeks as a Cowboy as a gameday inactive before making eight straight starts at left guard in place of rookie Connor Williams (knee). Su'a Filo filled right in and helped Dallas to five straight wins and an NFC East Division crown with the league's rushing leader - Ezekiel Elliott (1,434 yards).

CAMERON FLEMING: The Dallas Cowboys signed Cameron Fleming during the 2018 offseason to add competition and experience to the offensive front. The sixth-year veteran was drafted by the New England Patriots in 2014 where he went on to appear in seven games, mostly as a tackle-eligible tight end. He has started 23 of the 61 games he has appeared in and has been a part of two Super Bowl victories against Seattle (XLIX) and Atlanta (LI). He was a key contributor filling in for many injuries during his time in New England. He played in 14 games (mainly on special teams) with three starts in place of Tyron Smith in his first season in Dallas in 2018, and he re-signed with the club for 2019 to continue to provide experienced depth at tackle.

CODY WICHMANN: The Dallas Cowboys signed Cody Wichmann to their practice squad prior to the start of the 2018 season to add depth to the offensive line group. Originally drafted in the sixth round by St. Louis, Wichmann saw action early in his career by starting seven games and playing in a total of 12. The following season, Wichmann's role increased as he started 11 games as a young LA Rams team was developing. Prior to the 2017 season, Wichmann was released by the Rams and then signed on to the Tennessee Titans practice squad, where he was prior to his release and signing to Dallas' practice squad.

ADAM REDMOND: The Dallas Cowboys claimed Adam Redmond off waivers following final cuts in 2018 to add depth to the offensive line prior to the start of the regular season. He appeared in 10 games for Dallas, mainly on special teams, but did see time on the line in two games. Redmond initially signed with the Indianapolis Colts as an undrafted free agent prior to the start of the 2016 season where he was released and added to the Colts practice squad. Redmond was promoted to the active roster in 2017 and played in four games before he was released. The Buffalo Bills then signed Redmond to their practice squad for the remainder of the 2017 season. He is expected to compete for a spot on a deep and talented offensive line unit in 2019.

JAKE CAMPOS: The Dallas Cowboys signed Jake Campos as an undrafted free agent in 2018 who later signed to their practice squad for the entire 2018 season. He signed as a future in January 2019 and looks to provide depth on the Cowboys offensive line. He appeared in 36 games at Iowa State, earning multiple awards, including All-Academic Big 12 all three years and second-team All-Big 12.

CONNOR McGOVERN: The Dallas Cowboys further added to a position of strength with the team's third round selection (90th overall) of Connor McGovern in the 2019 NFL Draft. A three-year starter at Penn State, McGovern saw action at both guard and center throughout his collegiate campaign. The former Nittany Lion made 35 starts in 39 career games and is expected to add depth with the potential to start on arguably Dallas' strongest position on the team in its the offensive line.

MITCH HYATT: Mitch Hyatt signed with the Dallas Cowboys as an undrafted free agent in 2019. A four-year starter, two-time All-American and four-time All-ACC selection, exited Clemson with 57 starts in 58 career games and has the school records for career snaps (3,754) and starts.

DeMARCUS LAWRENCE: With an immediate need for an impact player at right defensive end, the Dallas Cowboys packaged their original second (47th overall) and third round (78th overall) draft choices and moved up in the second round of the 2014 NFL Draft in a trade with Washington to select DeMarcus Lawrence with the 34th overall pick. He was given the opportunity to compete for a starting spot during his first training camp, but a broken foot suffered in practice landed him on the Reserve/Injured-Returnable list, forcing him to miss the first eight games of the season. He played in seven regular season games, missing one with an injured chest, and both playoff games, tallying 11 tackles, one for a loss and six pressures. He had two sacks, two fumble recoveries and a forced fumble in the postseason. In 2015 Lawrence earned the starting nod at end, and finished with 13 starts in 16 games played, leading the team with 8.0 sacks. Lawrence was named to his first career Pro Bowl in 2017 after tying for second in the NFL with a career-best 14.5 sacks and team-leading 52 pressures - the most by a Cowboys defender in a single-season since Charles Haley had 52 in 1994. He earned his second consecutive Pro Bowl selection following the 2018 season after pacing the team with 10.5 sacks, 12 tackles for losses and 39 hurries. In the 2019 offseason, Lawrence signed a five-year contract to keep him in Dallas for years to come.

TYRONE CRAWFORD: With their second selection of the 2012 NFL Draft, the Dallas Cowboys addressed the defensive line with a raw and gifted athlete in Tyrone Crawford in the third round (81st overall). Through his career, Crawford has regularly displayed his versatility, starting at both inside and outside on the line. As a rookie playing in all 16 games in 2012, he posted 33 tackles and five pressures. He worked through the offseason to compete for a starting spot in 2013 but a torn Achilles tendon suffered in training camp ended his season before it started. He returned to full health for 2014, starting the season as one of the team's defensive ends before moving inside and starting 12 regular season games and both playoff contests at tackle. After signing a five-year extension at the start of the 2015 season, Crawford manned one of the inside spots and started all 16 games for the first time in his career, finishing third on the team with 5.0 sacks. Crawford finished 2016 with 4.5 sacks and six stops for losses, playing both inside and outside spots. Crawford started 14-of-16 games played in 2017 and tallied 4.0 sacks (third) and 26 hurries (second). He started all 15 games he played in 2018 and finished third on the defense with 5.5 sacks (career-high), 25 pressures and notched 33 tackles.

ROBERT QUINN: The Dallas Cowboys added an established and dominant pass rusher to line up across from DeMarcus Lawrence when they traded a sixth round pick to Miami to acquire Robert Quinn on March 29, 2019. Quinn, going into his ninth pro season, is a two-time All-Pro and Pro Bowl selection and took home the PFWA Defensive Player of the Year in 2013. In his 111 games played (92 starts), Quinn has tallied 69.0 sacks, including three straight seasons with at least 10.0 (2012-14). His breakout season came in 2013 when he finished second in the NFL with a then Rams franchise-record 19.0 sacks while also setting career-highs with 11 tackles for loss, 34 pressures and seven forced fumbles - the fourth-highest figure in the NFL since 1994 and tied for second in a season in franchise history.

MALIEK COLLINS: The Dallas Cowboys addressed their need on the defensive line with the selection of Maliek Collins with the team's third round pick (67th overall) of the 2016 NFL Draft. As a rookie, Collins played in all 16 games with 14 starts, helping plug up the middle of the defensive line, finishing second on the team with 5.0 sacks. He returned in 2017 as a starter in the middle, starting all 16 games and finishing fifth with 2.5 sacks and third with 24 pressures. In 2018 Collins tallied 16 tackles, 3.0 sacks, four tackles for losses and 20 pressures, starting nine of the 13 games he played.

ANTWAUN WOODS: Antwaun Woods signed with the Cowboys in the 2018 offseason and entered camp fourth on the defensive tackle depth chart. He quickly proved to coaches he belongs and climbed his way to the top, starting all 15 games he played for Dallas in 2018. He finished his first full pro season with 34 tackles, 1.5 sacks, one tackle for loss, 10 pressures, one breakup and a fumble recovery. He will return in 2019 entrenched as a starter in the middle of the defensive line, and will continue to battle to maintain that spot.

DORANCE ARMSTRONG: The Dallas Cowboys drafted Dorance Armstrong in the fourth round (116th overall) of the 2018 NFL Draft in the hopes that his combination of athleticism and relentless motor translated to the pro game. As a rookie, Armstrong played in 15 games with one start and had 15 tackles, a half sack, one tackle for a loss and six pressures. He is expected to have an increased role in Dallas' defensive line rotation in his second professional year.

CHRISTIAN COVINGTON: The Dallas Cowboys signed Christian Covington to a one-year contract in the 2019 offseason, adding an ascending player to the line. Covington, originally a sixth round (216th overall) draft pick by Houston in 2015, has played in 50 games during his four-year career, tallying 65 tackles, 11 tackles for loss, 7.5 sacks and 16 pressures. Covington played defensive end for Houston in their 3-4 base defensive scheme, but he slots in Dallas' rotation as a defensive tackle with the size and pass rush ability to be a disruptive force.

TACO CHARLTON: When the Dallas Cowboys drafted Taco Charlton with the 28th pick in the first round of the 2017 NFL Draft, the club addressed a position of need while staying true to their board, picking up a quality edge rusher. Despite starting only 15 of the 46 games he played at Michigan, Charlton has shown flashes of his big-play potential and his ability to get to the quarterback. As a rookie, Charlton played in all 16 games and was fourth on the team with 3.0 sacks, posting 19 tackles, one for a loss, 11 pressures, one breakup and a forced fumble. In 2018 Charlton started the first seven games of the season before settling into his role as a reserve in the line rotation.

DANIEL ROSS: Daniel Ross originally signed with the Houston Texans as a college free agent in the 2017 offseason after spending two seasons in the CFL. Ross played for the Edmonton Eskimos in 2014 before missing the 2015 season with an injury. He returned to Edmonton in 2016 but played in only one game with the team. Houston signed Ross following the 2017 draft, but he was released at the conclusion of training camp. He signed with Houston's practice squad and then to the Detroit Lions practice squad before landing with Kansas City's practice squad. After signing to Dallas' active roster for the second half of 2017 from the Chiefs practice squad, Ross played in three games and notched one tackle, one sack, one tackle for loss and two hurries. Ross played in 13 games as a reserve lineman in 2018 and posted 10 tackles, three for losses, one sack, 11 pressures, one forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

KERRY HYDER: The Dallas Cowboys added to the depth of their defensive line when they signed Kerry Hyder during 2019 free agency. Hyder, originally a 2014 rookie free agent with the N.Y. Jets, spent a majority of his first two seasons on practice squads - 2014 N.Y. Jets, 2015 Detroit. He had a breakout year of sorts in 2016, playing in all 16 games for the Lions and leading the defense with 8.0 sacks. The momentum from his 2016 season came to a screeching halt in the first preseason game of 2017 as he tore his Achilles tendon. He returned in 2018 to play in seven games and earn the Lions Ed Block Courage Award.

TRYSTEN HILL: The Dallas Cowboys bolstered the interior of the defensive line with their first selection in the 2019 NFL Draft when the club took Trysten Hill in the second round (58th overall). Hill, a high-motor player with exceptional quickness and hustle, should fit well into the Cowboys defensive line rotation as a player with the ability to clog the middle of the trenches. He finished his collegiate career with 71 tackles, 6.0 sacks, 20.5 tackles for losses, 10 pressures and a forced fumble. Hill was part of a UCF Knights defense that helped the team win 25-of-26 games in his final two seasons, including a Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl win against seventh-ranked Auburn following the 2017 season.

SHAKIR SOTO: The Dallas Cowboys signed Shakir Soto as a free agent in April, 2019. He initially signed with Denver as an undrafted free agent and was waived before the start of the 2017 season. He signed with Oakland's practice squad in December, 2017 and then signed as a future a month later. Soto was waived before the start of the 2018 season and later signed as a future with Dallas during the offseason. He played in 52 career games at Pittsburgh, recording 120 tackles and 7.5 sacks.

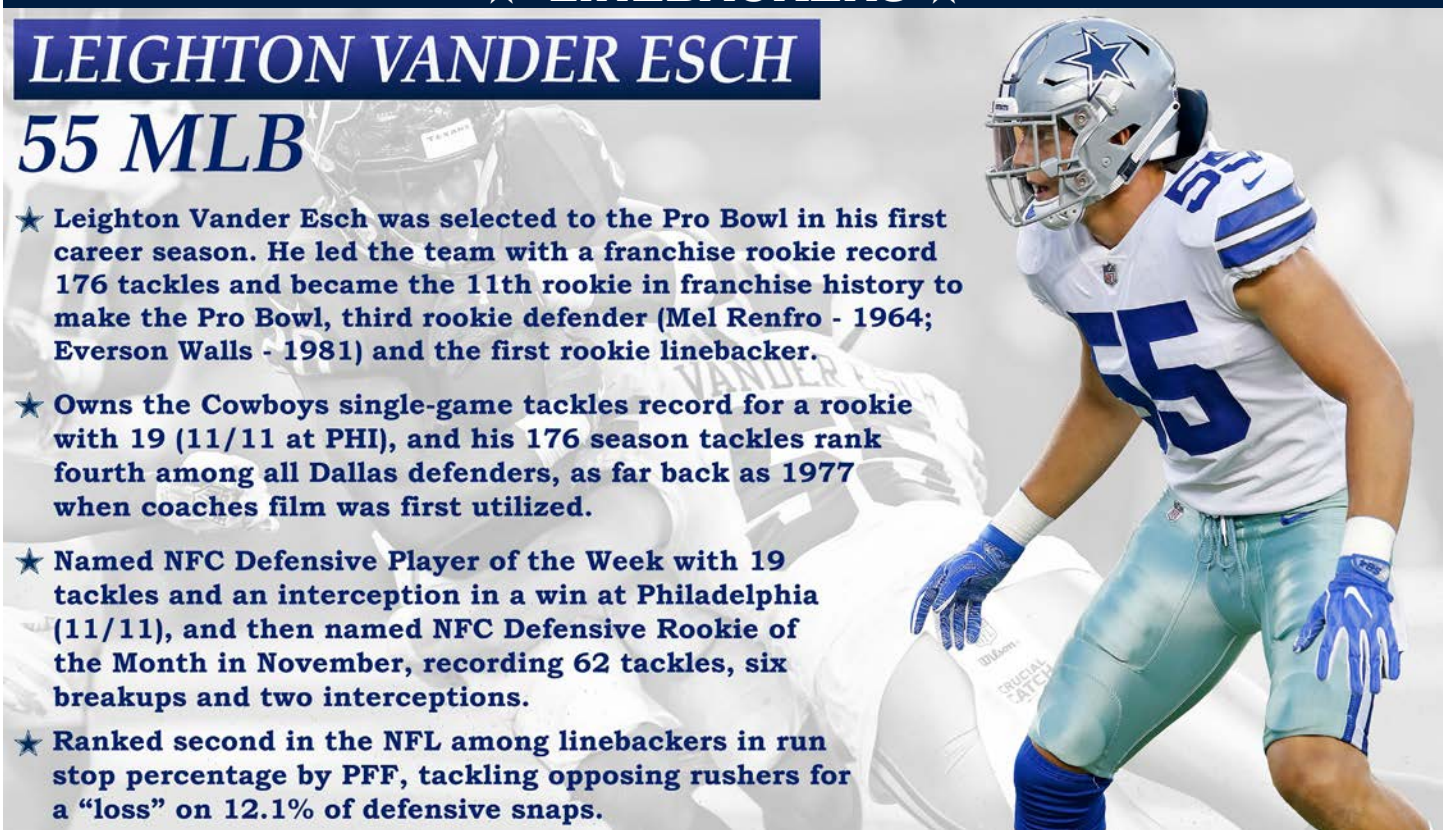

JOE JACKSON: When the Dallas Cowboys added Joe Jackson with their second selection in the fifth round (165th overall) of the 2019 NFL Draft, the club added quality depth on the defensive line, after drafting tackle Trysten Hill with their first selection in the draft. Jackson racked up 24.0 sacks in three years at Miami and will look to be a key part in Dallas' defensive line rotation for years to come.

JALEN JELKS: With their last selection in the 2019 NFL Draft (241st overall), the Dallas Cowboys selected Jalen Jelks out of Oregon. Jelks started each game the past two seasons, earning coaches Pac-12 All-Conference First-Team honors his senior year, as well as a Senior Bowl invitation with 29.5 career tackles for loss and 15.0 career sacks.

★ 2019 LINEBACKERS BREAKDOWN ★

SEAN LEE: Sean Lee, selected in the second round (55th overall) of the 2010 NFL Draft by the Dallas Cowboys, was chosen with intentions of becoming an inside force at linebacker for years to come. After Lee spent his rookie season learning behind solid veteran inside linebackers Keith Brooking and Bradie James, he became a full time starter on the inside in 2011. Lee was also charged with "quarterbacking" the defense in his role as a first-time starter and excelled in the spotlight. He paced the defense with 131 tackles - 52 more than the second place finisher - and tied for the team lead in tackles for losses (eight), interceptions (four) and fumble recoveries (two). Six weeks into his third season, his 77 tackles were a club-high, but that's where his total ended as a toe injury suffered at Carolina (10/21) slammed the brakes on his season. After undergoing surgery to repair the injury and spending the end of the 2012 season and beginning of the 2013 offseason rehabbing, Lee returned to full health in 2013 and resumed his role as the leader of the defense. He again led the team in tackles (123) at the time, but suffered a hamstring and neck injury that sidelined him for a total of five games. Lee worked hard to return for 2014 but suffered a torn ACL in a spring practice that sidelined him for the season. He again dug in and spent the season rehabbing and moved to the weakside in 2015 to start 14 games, missing two with injury, and he paced the club with 156 tackles and 11 stops for losses and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl. In 2016 Lee again led the team in tackles, posting a career-best 174 stops en route to his second consecutive Pro Bowl appearance and AP first-team All-Pro honors. For the third consecutive season - fifth time overall - Lee led the team in tackles, finishing 2017 with 118 while also topping the defense with a career-best 13 tackles for loss. The 2018 season saw Lee take on a different role as a hamstring injury kept him from nine games an he became a mentor to Jaylon Smith and rookie Leighton Vander Esch. Lee posted 37 tackles, a half sack, one tackle for a loss, two pressures and a breakup.

JAYLON SMITH: Despite suffering a horrific knee injury in his last collegiate game - the 2016 Fiesta Bowl - the Dallas Cowboys took a flier on Jaylon Smith and selected him in the second round (34th overall) of the 2016 NFL Draft. With a surgically-repaired knee, Smith suffered from nerve issues in his foot that kept him on Reserve/NFI his entire rookie season. He rehabbed the injury to return to the field in 2017, and he started six of the 16 games he played, finishing just shy of 100 tackles and earning the team's Ed Block Courage award. Smith had a breakout year in 2018, finishing second on the unit with 150 tackles while adding 4.0 sacks, five tackles for losses, 13 pressures, four breakups, two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries with one returned for a touchdown, starting all 16 games and both playoff contests.

LEIGHTON VANDER ESCH: With the selection of Leighton Vander Esch in the first round (19th overall) of the 2018 NFL Draft, the Dallas Cowboys added a rangy, athletic linebacker with a nose for the ball. Vander Esch was an impact player for Dallas as a rookie, stepping in for Sean Lee (hamstring) and starting 11 of the 16 games he played. By season's end Vander Esch led the team with a club rookie record 176 tackles (fourth in a season in team history), and earned a Pro Bowl spot (as a replacement for Luke Kuechly) to become the third Cowboys rookie, first linebacker, to play in the game. Along the way, he took home NFC Defensive Rookie of the Month honors (November) to become the third Cowboys rookie to win the award. After a stout rookie season, Vander Esch should reek havoc on opposing ball carriers, in tandem with Jaylon Smith, as the duo gives the Dallas Cowboys a formidable force with its linebacker corps.

JUSTIN MARCH: Justin March originally signed with the Kansas City Chiefs as a rookie free agent following the 2015 NFL Draft. He injured his knee in the preseason of his rookie year and was placed on Reserve/Injured, but came back strong in 2016 and was named a starter on the Chiefs defense. He started the first five games of 2016, tallying 22 tackles and two pass breakups before breaking his hand and again going on the Reserve/Injured list. He was waived by Kansas City during final cuts in 2017, and was claimed by the Miami Dolphins, where he played in two games without recording any stats. Seattle claimed him off waivers, and he appeared in one game for the Seahawks in a reserve role. After being waived by Settle (10/7), the Cowboys signed him to provide depth on defense and special teams. In 2018 March-Lillard played in all 16 games for the first time in his career, seeing most of his action on special teams, and looks to make a bigger impact for Dallas in 2019.

JOE THOMAS: Joe Thomas signed with the Dallas Cowboys in the early stages of free agency heading into 2018, giving the Cowboys a core special teams player and a veteran presence at the linebacker position. He played in 10 games, limited with a foot injury, and posted five special teams tackles with six on defense in his first season in Dallas. Thomas originally signed with Green Bay as a rookie free agent following the 2014 NFL Draft and played in 42 games over three seasons with the Packers, compiling 115 tackles, 1.5 sacks, 11 breakups and an interception.

CHRIS COVINGTON: In the sixth round (193rd overall) of the 2018 NFL Draft, the Dallas Cowboys added Chris Covington to give the team a strong, athletic and versatile athlete, who saw time at both quarterback and linebacker at Indiana. As a rookie, Covington saw spot duty in five games, primarily on special teams. He will return in 2019 looking to play a bigger role on the defense while also honing his skills on coverage units.

KYLE QUEIRO: The Dallas Cowboys signed Kyle Queiro as an undrafted free agent in 2018. He spent the entire 2018 season on the practice squad before signing as a future in January, 2019. Queiro played in 41 career games with 24 starts at Northwestern as a safety and amassed 132 tackles, nine tackles for loss, 23 pass breakups, eight interceptions - one for a touchdown - a forced fumble and fumble recovery.

JUSTIN PHILLIPS: The Dallas Cowboys signed Justin Phillips as an undrafted free agent in 2019. A team captain, team MVP, All-Big 12 selection and the leading tackler for Oklahoma State as a senior, Phillips produced 98 tackles after starting every game for the Cowboys in 2018.

LUKE GIFFORD: Luke Gifford signed with the Dallas Cowboys as an undrafted free agent in 2019. Gifford played in 29 career games at Nebraska and recorded 109 tackles, including 19 for losses, seven sacks, an interception and a forced fumble.

NATE HALL: The Dallas Cowboys signed Nate Hall as an undrafted free agent in 2019. A starter in 33-of-48 games, Hall finished his career at Northwestern with 259 tackles, 30.5 tackles for loss, five sacks and five interceptions.

★ SECONDARY ★

BYRON JONES

31 CB

★ Byron Jones locked down opposing receivers in 2018, allowing a catch on only 53% of targets against him. He is one-of-three cornerbacks to play at least 50% of defensive snaps in 2018 and allow a catch on fewer than 55% of targets and two-or-fewer touchdowns.

★ Jones allowed a QB rating of only 85.5 on passes against him in 2018 and was a sure tackler when opposing receivers managed to catch a pass against his coverage, allowing only 94 yards after the catch - fifth-fewest in the NFL.

★ Jones led the Cowboys defense in pass breakups (15) and finished fifth on the team with 76 tackles.

★ Part of a Dallas defense that ranked sixth in the NFL in points-per-game (20.3), sixth in big plays (20+ yards) allowed (52) and seventh in total defense (329.3 ypg).

★ 2019 SECONDARY BREAKDOWN ★

BYRON JONES: With the 27th overall pick in the first round of the 2015 NFL Draft, the Dallas Cowboys chose to enhance their secondary with the selection of Connecticut defensive back Byron Jones. A four-year starter in college at both cornerback and safety, Jones began his pro career in Dallas at cornerback but finished his rookie year as a starter at safety. By season's end, Jones started 11 of the 16 games he played and was fifth on the defense with 76 tackles while leading the unit with 12 breakups to become the only Cowboys rookie to record 75-plus tackles and lead the team in breakups. He started all 16 games in 2016 and finished fourth on the defense with 102 tackles with 10 breakups, three tackles for losses and an interception. In 2017 he again started all 16 games and was fifth on the team with 74 tackles with four for losses, six breakups and an interception. Prior to the 2018 season, Jones moved full time to cornerback, earned the starting job and excelled, earning his first career Pro Bowl selection. He finished fifth on the team with 76 tackles with two for losses and a career-high 15 breakups. He has a rare blend of size, speed and athletic ability, and his talents were on display at the NFL Combine where he recorded a broad jump of 12'3 - considered a world record - and a vertical leap of 44.5 inches.

CHIDOBE AWUZIE: With their second round selection (60th overall) in the 2017 NFL Draft, the Dallas Cowboys addressed their need in the secondary with the choice of Chidobe Awuzie from Colorado. As a rookie in Dallas, he played in 10 games with six starts, then in his second season, he took over as one of the starting corners and was third on the team with 84 tackles in 2018. He returns in 2019 looking to improve as a starter in a young cornerback field.

JEFF HEATH: Considered a long-shot to make the team after signing with Dallas as an undrafted free agent in 2013, Jeff Heath defied the odds by not only making the active roster out of training camp, but playing in all 16 games and settling in as one of the team's starting safeties. Heath started his rookie campaign as a special teamer and reserve defensive back, but finished the year with nine starts at strong safety. He was sixth on the squad with 60 tackles, tops with 13 special teams stops, and had a 50-yard fumble recovery for a touchdown, along with an interception, six breakups, one pressure and a forced fumble. He spent 2014 and 2015 as a reserve safety and special teams cover ace, finishing atop the special teams tackle chart in 2015 while also leading the defense with a career-high two interceptions. Heath mixed into the defensive back rotation in 2016, tallying 20 tackles while also playing on special teams. He got a bigger role in 2017, starting all 15 games he played, missing one with a concussion, and finishing fourth on the team with 81 tackles and a team-best three interceptions. The 2018 season saw Heath start all 16 games for the first time in his career, and he placed fourth on the team with a career-best 84 tackles and tied for third with a career-high four tackles for losses.

XAVIER WOODS: Xavier Woods was chosen by the Dallas Cowboys in the sixth round (191st overall) of the 2017 NFL Draft and was placed in the mix for playing time at the safety position as a rookie. Woods also lined up as a nickel cornerback and played in all 16 games, starting four, seeing most of his early season action on special teams. In his second season, Woods elevated his game as a starting safety, starting the final 14 games of the season - and both playoff games - after missing the first two games with a hamstring injury. He developed into a hard-hitter with a nose for the ball, and his work should land him in the starting safety mix for years to come.

ANTHONY BROWN: The Dallas Cowboys improved their depth in the defensive backfield when they drafted Anthony Brown with their first choice in the sixth round (189th overall) of the 2016 NFL Draft. After finishing his collegiate career at Purdue starting each of his final 34 games, Brown stepped up as a rookie, playing in all 16 games with nine starts. He placed sixth on the team with 56 tackles, fourth with eight breakups and was one-of-eight players with an interception. In his second season, Brown duplicated his tackle numbers from his rookie season, again finishing sixth with 56, along with his first career sack, two tackles for loss, a pressure, two interceptions and 11 breakups. In 2018 Brown settled into the role as a the club's starter in the nickel and tallied 46 tackles with a pair of sacks.

KAVON FRAZIER: Kavon Frazier is a hard-hitting safety from Central Michigan who was taken by the Dallas Cowboys with their second selection in the sixth round (212th overall) of the 2016 NFL Draft. Frazier played in nine games as a rookie, seeing most of his action on special teams. He returned in 2017 and made his mark on special teams, finishing second with 11 tackles along with a fumble recovery. He saw more time on defense, posting 32 tackles with two for losses. In his third year, Frazier played in all 16 games and logged the first two starts of his career. He still saw a majority of his time on special teams and looks to take the next step in 2019.

JOURDAN LEWIS: The Dallas Cowboys added a talented and driven cornerback with their third round draft pick (92nd overall) in the 2017 draft when they selected Jourdan Lewis. Lewis was slowed through training camp with a hamstring injury, but bounced back to play in 15 games with seven starts. He finished seventh - tops among rookies - on the defense with 50 tackles, with two for losses and a team-high tying 11 breakups.

Lewis saw time in the slot in 2018, playing in 15 games with one start and notched 16 tackles, one pressure, one breakup, one interception and two fumble recoveries.

GEORGE ILOKA: A safety with premium size and wingspan, George Iloka joins the Dallas Cowboys for the 2019 season with the physical traits and experience to upgrade the back end of the Cowboys defense. Originally drafted in the fifth round (167th overall) by Cincinnati, Iloka played six seasons and 83 games at both safety positions for the Bengals, recording 339 tackles, nine interceptions, 32 breakups and nine tackles for loss. He was released by Cincinnati prior to the 2018 season and signed with Minnesota, where he played 15 games for the Vikings primarily on special teams. His experience playing both safety positions and across multiple special teams units make Iloka a valuable chess piece that second-year passing game coordinator/secondary coach Kris Richard can deploy anywhere on the field.

C.J. GOODWIN: The Dallas Cowboys acquired C.J. Goodwin off the Cincinnati Bengals practice squad following Week 5 of the 2018 season to add depth to a banged up Cowboys secondary. He played in two games before a broken arm sidelined him for eight games. He returned for the finale and played in both playoff games for Dallas. Goodwin signed with Cincinnati prior to the start of the 2018 season after spending the offseason with both the San Francisco 49ers and New York Giants. In 2017 Goodwin played in 12 games as a member of the Atlanta Falcons before being released and signing with the Arizona Cardinals late in the season. Goodwin played in 14 games in 2016 for the Falcons where he made his first career start against San Francisco and was on the Atlanta practice squad in 2015. Goodwin signed as an undrafted free agent with the Pittsburgh Steelers in 2014 and was a member of the practice squad. In 2019 Goodwin will compete for a role in the Dallas secondary and on special teams.

JAMEILL SHOWERS: Jameill Showers arrived in Dallas as a rookie free agent quarterback following the 2015 NFL Draft. He was released at the end of camp but spent the majority of the season on Dallas' practice squad. He returned in 2016, made the switch to safety and again spent the season on the club's practice squad. The 2017 season saw the same for Showers, but in 2018 his fortunes slightly shifted as he tore his ACL in the preseason. He will return healthy in 2019 with the hopes his hard work will earn him a spot on Dallas' final roster.

DONOVAN OLUMBA: Donovan Olumba signed with the Dallas Cowboys as an undrafted free agent in 2018 and spent the 2018 season on the practice squad before signing as a future in January, 2019. He appeared in 46 games in college, totaling 165 tackles, 10 interceptions, 27 pass deflections and two sacks.

DARIAN THOMPSON: The Dallas Cowboys signed Darian Thompson off Arizona's practice squad in 2018 to bolster a young secondary and provide experienced depth at the position. Thompson was originally a third round draft pick (71st overall) by the N.Y. Giants in 2016, and he appeared in 18 games with 17 starts in his two seasons with the Giants. He recorded 82 tackles, six breakups and one interception in New York.

TYVIS POWELL: The Cowboys signed Tyvis Powell as a free agent in August, 2019 to provide depth in the defensive backfield. Powell originally signed with Seattle as an undrafted free agent in 2016 and appeared in eight games for the Seahawks, but was released at the end of the season. After brief stints with Cleveland, Indianapolis and a return to Seattle, Powell signed with San Francisco, where he appeared in three games and recorded two tackles. He remained with the 49ers through most of 2018 and fluctuated between the practice squad and active roster, appearing in seven games with one start and recording five tackles and a forced fumble. Powell was released by San Francisco in November and signed for a short time with the N.Y. Jets, before returning to San Francisco to finish the year. Dallas signed Powell with the hopes of him pushing for a roster spot during training camp.

TRESTON DECOUD: The Dallas Cowboys added developmental depth to their secondary after signing Treston Decoud to their practice squad in Week 1 of 2018. Decoud made Dallas' active roster for one game in the second half of the season, but returned to the practice squad to close out 2018. Originally drafted in the fifth round (169th overall) of the 2017 NFL Draft by Houston, Decoud payed in 10 games for the Texans as a rookie. He looks to break out for Dallas amongst a young corps of athletic cornerbacks.

MIKE JACKSON: The Dallas Cowboys selected Mike Jackson Sr. in the fifth round (158th overall) in the 2019 NFL Draft. Jackson is a tall, physical cornerback who can disrupt action with his play in the secondary. Rated as the No. 1 player in Alabama coming out of high school, Jackson chose to attend Miami where he earned All-ACC honors both his junior and senior year. He finished his collegiate career with 97 tackles, 3.5 sacks, 6.5 tackles for loss, 12 pass breakups and four interceptions. He has the ability to work both inside as the nickel corner and outside on the boundry, adding value to the Cowboys secondary through his versatility.

DONOVAN WILSON: Donovan Wilson adds to the mix at the safety position following the Dallas Cowboys selection of the former Texas A&M product in the sixth round (213th overall) of the 2019 NFL Draft. Wilson was a three-year starter and defensive captain for the Aggies who compiled 207 total tackles, 5.0 sacks, 21.5 tackles for loss, 16 pass breakups and eight interceptions.

CHRIS WESTRY: The Dallas Cowboys signed Chris Westry as an undrafted free agent in the 2019 offseason. Westry never missed a game at Kentucky, where he totaled 34 starts in 51 games and registered 134 tackles, two sacks, 15 breakups, three interceptions and a fumble recovery.

★ Maher made 29 field goals in 2018, seventh-most in the NFL - including two game with four field goals, which is second behind only Richie Cunnigham in a season for Dallas - and tied the Cowboys single-season record with six makes from 50-plus yards.

★ Maher connected on a franchise record 62-yard field goal against Philadelphia in 2018, the longest field goal in Cowboys history. He also made a 59-yarder against Tampa Bay, and owns the two longest makes in Cowboys history.

★ 2019 SPECIAL TEAMS BREAKDOWN ★

BRETT MAHER: Brought in to provide training camp competition to incumbent Dan Bailey, Brett Maher gave it his all and outperformed the veteran through training camp to take over as the Cowboys full-time kicker. Maher had a successful first NFL season, hitting 80.6% of his field goal tries, including a club-record 62-yarder. By season's end, he converted six-of-seven kicks from 50+ to tie Bailey's single-season club record. He also went 32-of-33 on PATs and forced a touchback on 67.5% of his kicks.

CHRIS JONES: Chris Jones originally went to training camp with Dallas as an undrafted free agent in 2011 but was released at the end. The club signed Jones to their practice squad on Oct. 28, 2011 as Mat McBriar was slowed with a leg injury. Eventually filling in for McBriar, Jones had a gross average of 42.6 yards-per-punt, a net average of 40.5 with four punts downed inside the 20-yard line, a long punt of 54 yards and one touchback on 10 punts in two games. Jones then won a training camp battle for Dallas' punting job in 2012 but played in only four games after suffering a knee injury and ultimately landing on IR. He played in all 16 games in 2013, 2014 and again in 2015 where he was second in the NFC, third in the league, with a career-best 42.5 net average. He established a career-high with a 45.9-yard average along with a career-long 66-yard punt in 2016. In 2017 Jones had a career-best 34 punts downed inside the 20 - good for second in team history - while finishing with a 44.1 gross and 41.4 net average. Jones averaged 44.5 yards-per-punt with two touchbacks, 17 downed inside the 20 and a net of 39.6 in 2018. For his career, he holds a gross average of 44.9 yards-per-punt with a net of 40.5 and 164 downed inside opponents' 20-yard line - third in team history.

L.P. LADOUCEUR: Louis-Philippe Ladouceur joined the Cowboys three games into the 2005 season and has provided consistency at long snapper since his arrival. He has played in every game since landing in Dallas (221 straight, including playoffs) - third in team history and the second-most consecutive games played behind Jason Witten, 235. Ladouceur has made clean snaps on all 2,009 tries - 968 punts, 600 PATs and 441 field goals in his career, including the playoffs. He earned his first career trip to the Pro Bowl following the 2014 season.

KASEY REDFERN: Kasey Redfern signed with the Dallas Cowboys as a future in March, 2019. After signing with Jacksonville as an undrafted free agent in 2014, Redfern has not stayed in a single place for long. After traveling around the league and briefly making the roster for Jacksonville, San Diego, Carolina and Cleveland, he signed with Detroit, where he recorded his first and only career punt for 50 yards in 2017. Redfern played in 36 games during his three-year career at Wofford and had 120 punts for 4,841 yards, and was 11-for-19 on field goals.

DREW SCOTT: Drew Scott originally signed with Oakland as an undrafted free agent in the 2018 offseason prior to being waived in the preseason. The Dallas Cowboys signed him as a future in the 2019 offseason hoping he will provide depth behind veteran L.P. Ladouceur. Scott played in 31 career games at Kansas State and served as the primary long snapper in his final 26 games.
