Jaguars in the conversation to put pressure on first-place Titans as they return home to host Dallas Cowboys

JACKSONVILLE – Last week, the Jacksonville Jaguars ended a streak, and proved a point.

The Jaguars, who had not won in Nashville since 2013 and had lost the last five meetings with the Tennessee Titans, went to Nissan Stadium and cashed in 20 points off four takeaways en route to a 36-22 win over the perennial division champions.

The win moved the Jaguars two games back of the Titans with four games to play, including a head-to-head meeting in Week 18 at TIAA Bank Field.

"As far as the victory, obviously on the road against a great football team here in Nashville, where we obviously haven't done well means a lot – means a lot to myself, the organization, to the Khans to be able to do that, and then for the players to really play well," Head Coach Doug Pederson said after the game. "Listen, they bounced back from last week. You know we've talked a lot about that and how we all felt from last week and knew this was going to be a four-quarter football game."

If the Jaguars can end another streak this week, then the entire NFL will be talking.

The Jaguars have lost 20 straight games to NFC teams.

Today the Jaguars (5-8) can increase the pressure on the first-place Titans with a win over the Dallas Cowboys (10-3) in Week 15.

Jaguars Defense

A week after not forcing a punt in Detroit in a 40-14 loss Week 13, the Jaguars defense responded last week at Tennessee with four takeaways, four sacks, nine quarterback hits and eight passes defended.

Titans running back Derrick Henry ran for 121 yards total, but only two yards came in the second half after the Jaguars took command in the game by two possessions and the Titans had to abandon the running game late.

"You put pressure on a quarterback and balls tend to miss the targets a little bit, and then so I think the pressure and then the guys were in the right spots and made some really critical, or key, I should say, takeaways in this football game," Pederson said. "But hats off to the defense. It's a little bit of a rough start with them running the football, which we knew coming in that that's what they do and they do it well. But, kind of settled in the football game and handled our business much better."

Rookie outside linebacker Travon Walker forced the opening takeaway on a first-quarter sack-fumble, part of a three-tackle day for the 2022 No. 1 overall draft pick.

"The defense, we definitely stepped up to the challenge," Walker said. "We knew we had to come in and play great ball, wanted to give our offense good field position. So that was one of the main things that we were all harping on all week. Just come in, work hard, give it your all, have the juice, and then we're going to be that defense that you've seen flashes from early in the season."

The other three takeaways: an Andrew Wingard interception in the second quarter, a Shaq Quarterman forced fumble from Henry late in the second quarter and an Arden Key fumble recovery on a mishandled direct snap in the fourth quarter.

The Quarterman hit on Henry came at an opportune time just before halftime. With the Titans at the Jaguars' 37-yard line, Henry broke free on reception in the right flat and went for 16 yards near the Jaguars' 20-yard line. As he spun from the impact of the first players in, Quarterman came flying full speed from the middle of the field and separated Henry from the football. Josh Allen recovered in bounds to turn the tables and set up a scoring drive before the break.

After posting 230 total yards in the first half, the Jaguars defense held the Titans offense to only 134 total yards in the second half. The first three Titans' possessions of the second half totaled seven plays (two three-and-outs and a lost fumble).

Outside linebacker Josh Allen knows what last week's win means both in the short term and in the big picture.

"I've never done it (beat Tennessee in Nashville); I've never done it in my career here," Allen said. "I know we're building something special, we talked about this. We know that this was one of the things that we had to do to get to where we need to be. So now we got to move on. We got two games in the next 12 days. We got to be ready for that and go get the next one."

Jaguars Offense

Coming off a toe injury that limited him in practice Wednesday and Thursday, Trevor Lawrence took over last week's game.

The second-year quarterback finished 30-of-42 passing for a career-high 368 yards with three passing touchdowns and no interceptions.

"He's been able to handle everything," Pederson said. "And now he's battling the injury this week and put the team sort of on his back like he did again today just shows the type of player and person that he is and how tough he is. He's the right leader for us. And, we're excited to have him as our quarterback.

"I think, that's the one thing that I'm most encouraged about is just how much more we can pour into him as he leads this team."

Lawrence also ran for a 1-yard touchdown in the third quarter, keeping a defender away with a stiff arm in the backfield and outrunning another to the goal line.

"Honestly, I probably should have handed it, but, like I had like 53 linebacker on the edge, he stepped down one or two steps and I really felt like I could out-run him to the pylon and that's just what I did," Lawrence said. "Luckily, got the stiff arm but he recovered a little better than I thought he would so it was close to being a TFL."

The touchdown capped off a 12-play, 72-yard scoring drive that killed the first 7:07 off the third-quarter clock and put the Jaguars ahead by two possessions, 27-14.

"That's one of those plays if you make it, it's great like it was, but if you don't make them, it's a bad play to take a TFL on the goal line. It was one of those plays, one of those days where we made those plays. Good, great teams do that. I think that is where we are heading and I just excited."

Lawrence's favorite target was tight end Evan Engram: 15 targets, 11 receptions and a career-high 162 receiving yards with two touchdown catches.

"And so, as opportunities came, making plays, getting downfield, making plays with the ball in our hands, (yards after the catch) stuff, that confidence goes up," Engram said. "But also, it's important to kind of stay in the moment, stay centered, and focus on your breathing and just be ready for the next play because a good play or bad play, you want to continue to move on. And then the game kept going on and we kept needing plays, they kept dialing my name and I just wanted to go make plays for the team."

Wide receiver Zay Jones made eight receptions for 77 yards, including a 20-yard, toe-tapping touchdown just before halftime that put the Jaguars ahead 20-14, a lead they would not relinquish.

"All I know—did you see my reaction? I felt as though I had it and then I was nervous because I'm like, 'We're getting in the huddle and nothing's—no one's going to stop it?' Jones said. "And then Cam Robinson did a good job of saying, 'It doesn't matter, we've got to focus.' And I was kind of like, 'Nah, that was a touchdown.' But we got the call, so it was all good."

Dallas Cowboys

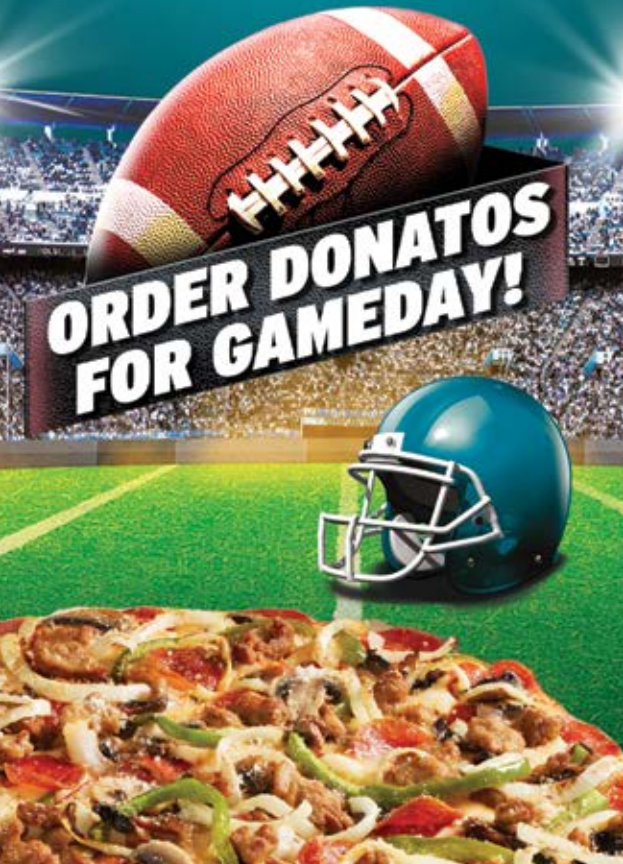

The Dallas Cowboys (10-3) are second place in the NFC East and have won four straight games. On offense, they rank 10th in the NFL in total offense, seventh in rushing and 20th in passing. The Cowboys are 45 percent on third-down, seventh in the NFL, and score touchdowns on 71 percent of red-zone situations, third-best in the NFL. At 27.7 points per game, they are the third-best scoring offense in the league.

The Cowboys have the third-best total defense in football, 23rd against the run but second in the NFL against the pass. Opponents are only 35 percent on third-down against them, the fifth-best total in the NFL, and the Cowboys have 23 takeaways, tied for second-most in the league. Their 48 sacks are second-most in the NFL.

The Cowboys have a massive showdown next week against the first-place Philadelphia Eagles.

The Cowboys lead the all-time series against the Jaguars 4-3, including the last two meetings in 2018 and 2014. This only the second all-time visit for the Cowboys to Jacksonville (2006, the 2014 meeting was in London).

JIMMIE S SAMPSON JR.

Member Since Date: 1995, Day 1!

Seat Location: Section 147, Row M, Seats 16-18

Do you have any gameday rituals? My gameday ritual usually starts the night before since I have to travel usually about five hours. I get my gameday gear in order for whatever I plan on wearing, and I base it on the colors the Jags are wearing. This also includes tailgating preparations and getting the family hyped up.

What's your favorite part of gameday? All the pregame activities! I just enjoy getting here early and socializing with all the fans and getting to know new people. I love all the pre-game shows on the radio as I drive in!

What's your go to food item at TIAA Bank Field? We usually try to theme our tailgating to whatever team we are playing. Atlanta, it's some type of bird. Dolphins, it's seafood. Texas teams, it's steak. Or we enjoy burgers, wings, hot dogs and sausages.

What do you gain from attending a game instead of watching it on TV?

Pure excitement. There is nothing like being at the game. I cannot replace the experiences I've had or the people I've met. The atmosphere on gameday cannot be duplicated at home.

What would you tell someone who is considering purchasing season tickets?

I tell people all the time it's the best decision I ever made. I got them when my son was very young, so we bonded over the long drives to and from each game. Jacksonville is my birth place, and I was here in the late 70's when Robert Irsay landed in the Gator Bowl as he considered Jacksonville potential home for the Colts. Football is about community as much as it is about the game, and it was my way to support and give back. So, I tell them to look at a bigger picture, not just cost. There's no price on memories, friendship and the fun you will have. And, last, but not least, PRIDE! DUUUVAL!!!

A professional golfer, Amelia Lewis, is captured in the middle of her golf swing on a green field. She is wearing a dark blue sleeveless top, a white visor with 'MONEY' written on it, a white skirt, and white sneakers. Her golf club is high in the air.
