NATIONAL ANTHEM

The Star-Spangled Banner will be performed this afternoon by Votte Hall.

You may have heard of Votte Hall after he released a hit song titled "Kiss On Me." Votte Hall's sound is best described as R&B mixed in with a soulful style of hip-hop. In 2018, Hall reached the billboard Top 20 with his hit song "Kiss On Me." All the lyrics were written by Hall himself and produced by Super Producer Mr. Hanky.

"Kiss On Me" was the first song that Hall received radio support for, and it truly put Hall on the world map as an international artist. Two years later, Hall is doubling down on his success and teaming up with Mr. Hanky again to release multiple records.

The records are targeted to be released in 2022. Everything he has done related to music has been successfully done independently without the support of a major label. Although he was never opposed to joining a major label, Hall takes pride in creating a label of his own that has garnered much success.

From entrepreneurship to making music and providing entertainment, Hall is the epitome of an ambitious entertainer. Fans and newcomers alike should prepare for the future musical releases that Hall has in store for them.

NATIONAL ANTHEM SIGNER

On hand to interpret the National Anthem for the hearing impaired is The ROAR of the Jaguars member Kinsey.

AMERICAN FLAG

Today's American Flag will be held by Jaguars Season Ticket Members.

HALFTIME

Today's halftime will be performed by David Garibaldi. Throughout his career, David Garibaldi established himself in pop culture with his eclectic painting style, creating life-size street art paintings on canvas in under 10 minutes. He's performed at the NBA Finals, Sean "P Diddy" Combs's birthday party, the White House at the end of the Obama Administration, the Olympics in Sao Paulo Brazil, opened for KISS on their farewell tour, was a finalist on America's Got Talent, and created a series of music videos for JUICE WRLD's posthumous album (all of which went #1 on YouTube). David was also recently honored at the Kennedy Center for his charitable contributions after crossing over $6,000,000.00 in auction proceeds raised from the sale of his paintings.

OPPORTUNITIES REMAIN

Jaguars welcome the AFC East-leading Buffalo Bills in Week 9

| By: J.P. Shadrick

Kam Nedd/©2021

JACKSONVILLE – Seven games down. Ten games remain.

Ten opportunities to try to improve week-to-week and get winning results down the stretch run. Ten opportunities to help quarterback Trevor Lawrence continue to gain experience and develop with the offense.

Ten opportunities for the defense to improve and impact games. Ten opportunities for Head Coach Urban Meyer to continue to find a way to get the team across the finish line and find some winning results.

The Jaguars can only take it one opportunity at a time.

Today's opportunity comes against one of the best teams in the AFC as the Buffalo Bills (5-2) visit the Jaguars (1-6) at TIAA Bank Field.

Last Week

The Jaguars struggled to move the ball offensively, the defense could not slow the Seahawks efficient passing game and undisciplined Jaguars penalties gave the Seahawks more opportunities in a 31-7 final at Lumen Field in Seattle, Wash.

"Just disappointed – obviously, we've got to play better, we've got to prepare better," Head Coach Urban Meyer said immediately after last week's game. "I didn't see that coming. I saw a good week of practice; guys were fresh off a bye week.

"We got down 14-0 and we got out of a . . . we're not built to just be a throw team, and we got out of the run game, and then the penalties were nonsense. I don't know if it was the noise or what was the problem. But we've got to get that corrected."

Jaguars quarterback Trevor Lawrence finished 32 of 54 passing (career highs for completions and attempts) for 238 yards, with an early interception and a late touchdown, while trying to play catch-up most of the game. Running back James Robinson went down early in the game with what was initially reported as a bruised heel, and with the Jaguars trailing early by two scores and at halftime by three possessions, the Jaguars were forced to air it out in the second half.

Lawrence after the game said that for the offense to improve, it starts with his play, but the entire offense struggled throughout last week's loss.

"I know I didn't play well enough today and as an offense, we just weren't clicking," Lawrence said. "I think it's really just taking accountability for everyone's part and what went wrong. For me, third and fourth down, I think I had two missed throws on third down and one on fourth down. Guys that are open and not giving them a catchable ball, I think that's all on me. So, there was three right there. And then guys just making plays when you need to make plays. That's me on the third and fourth down, that's receivers on some catches, it's everybody. [Offensive] line, running backs, tight ends, everybody."

The Jaguars finished 5 of 14 on third downs and were only 1 of 4 on fourth down tries, forced to go for it multiple times with the state of the scoreboard in the second half.

"We took a step back I think in making the plays that we need to make as far as just, good teams do that and good players do that," Lawrence said. "It all starts with me."

On defense, the Jaguars allowed the Seahawks to gain 166 first-half yards and open a 17-0 halftime lead. Key defensive penalties gave the Seahawks offense life, including a penalty for 12 men in the defensive formation, that was followed by a timeout to avoid a second 12-men in the formation call before the next snap.

"In this league that should never happen; there's no excuse, we have to have better communication coming off the field," linebacker Myles Jack said after the game, his first since suffering a back injury in Week 5. "Obviously, it's a hectic environment. There's D-linemen running on trying to get the play. There has to be communication, and if you are running on the field you have to go 1-for-1. You can't just run on the field and say 'Hey, it's my turn to play.'

"It's a lot of things, it's the timing of the substitution, it's guys not communicating when they come on. It's such an easy thing to fix. It's not like it's something hard. Raise your hand, you know who you're supposed to grab when you're coming in. Everybody knows what they're supposed to do, we're just not doing it."

On top of the 12 men in formation penalty, the Jaguars defense was responsible for an unsportsmanlike taunting penalty, two roughing-the-passer calls and an offsides that negated an interception before halftime.

On the other side, Seahawks quarterback Geno Smith completed his first 14 consecutive passes, the most in the league to start a game in 2021, and finished with a career-high 83-percent completion percentage (20 of 24), with two passing touchdowns and one on the ground. Seahawks wide receiver Tyler Lockett finished with 12 receptions for 153 yards, his fifth-best career yardage game.

"It's the craziest thing, we had our best two weeks of practices; honestly, I can truly say that, and the coaches would probably say the same thing," Jack said. "Everybody was locked in, guys were communicating, the energy was there defensively. We did really well, until we got to the game."

"There's going to be fire drills sometimes, but we have to be able to weather the storm. We just didn't do that today."

Today's matchup

The Jaguars won the 2017 AFC Wildcard Playoff game against the Bills 10-3, but since then the organizations have gone in different directions. The Jaguars have a new general manager and head coach and only have a few players left from that team on the 2021 roster, and the Bills since then have been to the playoffs twice, including a trip to the AFC Championship game following the 2020 season.

Quarterback Josh Allen is a major reason for the success in Buffalo.

His 102.9 rating is good for second in the AFC, and ninth in the NFL. He has thrown for 17 touchdowns, tied for fifth in the NFL, against only three interceptions for the season. Allen is also an issue with his legs, last week running for 55 yards on eight carries with a touchdown, his third rushing score of the season.

He spreads the wealth offensively: his favorite target is Cole Beasley, who last week caught 10 passes for 110 yards against the Dolphins. Wide receiver Stefon Diggs has only one 100-yard game this season but has four touchdown receptions. Tight end Dawson Knox has a team-best five touchdown receptions but is expected to miss the game with a hand injury.

The Bills offense ranks sixth in the league in total yardage, with nearly 403 yards per game. They are second in the league on third down at 49 percent, and their 32.7 points per game is best in the league (through Sunday games of Week 8).

The Bills have the top-ranked total defense in the NFL, giving up only 269 yards per game. They are top-five in the league in third-down and red-zone defense. They allow only 15.6 points per game, the lowest allowed in the league. The Bills have 18 takeaways for the season including 11 interceptions – both tied for the NFL lead through Sunday games of Week 8 – with three interceptions each from safeties Jordan Poyer and Micah Hyde. Ten different players have combined for 15 sacks for the Bills defense.

Head Coach Sean McDermott is in his fifth season with the Bills, posting a 43-28 (.606) regular season record.

HISTORICALLY SPEAKING: JAGUARS-BILLS, BYE-BYE BUFFALO

Senior correspondent Brian Sexton examines Jaguars-Bills from a historical perspective ...

JACKSONVILLE – The Jaguars were at the very beginning when they arrived in Buffalo in late December 1996.

A Jaguars team a year removed from its 1995 expansion season – and just weeks removed from a losing record – was suddenly at Rich Stadium to face a Bills team that never had lost a postseason game in Orchard Park, N.Y.

It seemed an insurmountable obstacle for quarterback Mark Brunell and the Jaguars to beat quarterback Jim Kelly and the star-studded Bills – a team that had thrilled the fans in western New York for almost a decade – and to do it on a frozen field in hostile conditions.

But by the time the Jaguars boarded their buses to return to Jacksonville, Buffalo's AFC Dynasty was over.

Watching Kelly throw to wide receiver Andre Reed and handoff to running back Thurman Thomas on the Bills' first drive made it seem as if the Bills never had left the heyday of the K-Gun Offense that went to four consecutive Super Bowls from 1990-1993.

It was 7-0 when Thomas caught a quick screen pass from Kelly and slipped past Jaguars safety Dana Hall for the first touchdown of the game.

For that matter, it still looked as if the Bills were a contender watching nose tackle Ted Washington, linebacker Chris Spielman and safety Kurt Schulz toss three quick three and outs at a Jacksonville offense that had been highly efficient during a five-game winning streak to earn the Wild Card Berth.

When the Bills regained possession midway through the first quarter, Jaguars fans held their breath and prayed for a big play miracle that might give them hope.

Defensive end Clyde Simmons wasn't new to the NFL playoffs, though this was his first playoff game with the Jaguars. On 1st-and-10 from the Bills 24, the former Philadelphia Eagles Pro Bowler broke through the line of scrimmage and extended his ladder-like arms and huge hands just as Kelly tossed to Thomas. The ball never arrived, with Simmons returning the interception 19 yards for the game-tying touchdown.

Jacksonville rejoiced. Buffalo gasped. Game on.

Kelly didn't flinch on the next drive, and Thomas' two-yard touchdown run made it 14-7, Buffalo. Brunell then drove the Jaguars for a field goal that cut the Bills' lead to 14-10 late in the first quarter.

The defense kept the Jaguars close in the second quarter, responding to a Brunell interception with a fourth-down stand deep in Jacksonville territory. The Bills went for it on 3rd-and-2 and linebacker Eddie Robinson made a big play in the hole. Jaguars defensive end Jeff Lageman threw Kelly backward on 4th-and-1 to end the drive.

A game filled with big plays at dramatic moments turned on one few remember. Brunell lined up under center Dave Widell facing a deafening crowd, a cold wind and 3rd-and-14 from the Jaguars 23. Under pressure from defensive end Phil Hansen and Washington, Brunell passed over the middle to tight end Pete Mitchell, whose 47-yard catch-and-run reception gave the Jaguars a first down at the Bills 30.

Everyone watching remembers what happened next. Running back Natrone Means bounced off two defenders and raced 30 yards for a touchdown and the Jaguars' first lead of the game.

Buffalo gasped again.

The game went back and forth with field goals from Bills kicker Steve Christie and Hollis, but the aggressive young Jaguars wouldn't collapse – even when Bills cornerback Jeff Burris broke a 20-20 tie with an interception and touchdown on the third play of the fourth quarter.

Means carried seven times on the ensuing possession to get the Jaguars to the Bills' goal line. The Bills looked exhausted and couldn't shake a Jaguars team that needed legendary Atlanta Falcons kicker Morten Andersen to miss a chip-shot field goal the week to be in New York for the Wild Card Game. The Jaguars looked energized, especially after wide receiver Jimmy Smith took a quick pass and dove into the end zone to tie the game at 27.

The Bills were done; they just didn't know it yet. Jaguars safety Chris Hudson knocked Kelly out of the game, the final play of Kelly's storied career, with a big hit a few plays after Smith's touchdown. Cornerback Aaron Beasley recovered near midfield.

Hollis' game-winning 45-yard field goal swirled in the wind, but true to a team that looked like destiny's darling, it hit the right upright and fell over the crossbar for a 30-27 Jaguars victory in their first game – and Kelly's last – in Buffalo. If that was how the story of the 1996

Jacksonville Jaguars ended, it would have been fairytale finish. But the best was yet to come.

HR PLAY

OF THE WEEK

Crystal's client lost a number of employees in quick succession. During her exit interviews with each employee, she identified patterns in their responses about communication and some important management challenges. She presented findings and recommendations to the CEO and, after sharing with the company's leadership, helped address the issues. Crystal's client is starting to see a reduction in turnover and in reporting of these concerns.

It's World Mental Health Day. Let's break stigmas.

One in five children is living with a significant mental illness, and half of all lifetime mental health conditions start by age 14.

Because kids don't wear their thoughts on their sleeves, it can be difficult to tell when a child is struggling with mental health. No child or family should struggle alone.

Wolfson Children's On Our Sleeves provides free, easy-to-use educational tools and resources to help children, families and advocates improve children's mental wellness.

Visit WolfsonChildrens.com/OnOurSleeves to:

- Sign up for our monthly e-newsletter, featuring actionable mental health information.
- Find tips and tools to help start conversations with kids and teens.
- Learn how to recognize and respond to children in or at risk of crisis.
