Jaguars look for a full-team performance at home against the San Francisco 49ers | By: J.P. Shadrick

Kam Nedd/©2021

JACKSONVILLE – The Jaguars are back home.

In fact, it's back-to-back home games in Weeks 11 and 12 before back-to-back trips to face contending teams in Weeks 13 and 14.

The Jaguars need to take advantage of these opportunities ahead of them, starting with today's matchup with the San Francisco 49ers at TIAA Bank Field in Week 11.

It should be a challenge for the 49ers as the game is scheduled to kick off at 1:00 p.m. ET, 10:00 a.m. Pacific, and the 49ers have to travel three time zones away on a short week, after playing against the Los Angeles Rams on Monday Night Football in Week 10.

The Jaguars are still looking for a complete game from all phases. Last week in Indianapolis, the defense stood tall while the Jaguars struggled on offense and in special teams.

Can rookie quarterback Trevor Lawrence jumpstart an offense that is looking for explosive plays? Can the defense continue to play at the level they have the last two weeks?

Head Coach Urban Meyer likes the fight he continues to see out of the Jaguars' locker room.

"I'm a big believer in culture, I am a big believer in leadership, I also have an alignment by working together," Meyer said after last week's game. "We'll see how we show up next week against San Francisco in front of our own crowd."

The second-half performance last week is an example of what this Jaguars team can be.

"That second half where they're on the road against a very good team, they played their tails off and it wasn't pretty, but they could have sucked their thumb and left after the second quarter like you see some teams do, but they didn't do that. So, I hate to use word 'proud,' but I am."

Defense

In last week's loss, the Jaguars' defense settled in after an early surge from the Colts offense, holding them to a total of 16 offensive points. After the Colts went up 17-0, and then 17-6 after a Jaguars touchdown, the Jaguars defense allowed only two field goals the rest of the game in 10 Colts offensive possessions.

Colts running back Jonathan Taylor ran for 93 yards and a touchdown in the first quarter alone but finished the game with a total of 116 rushing yards.

"They were gashing us in the stretch play and (Jonathan) Taylor had some nice runs, Carson (Wentz) made some plays, but like I told you, you guys saw what I saw the second half, we were getting the ball," Head Coach Urban Meyer said after the game.

The defensive players felt good as the game went along.

"I feel like we did well on defense, don't get me wrong," cornerback Shaquill Griffin said. "I feel like we did really well to turn things around. I feel like the main conversation we had going into halftime was getting back to our ball. I feel like first half, you know, you go back to the last game, we looked very energetic, you know, defense. Talking, communicating, having fun with it, enjoying it. The main thing was getting everybody to calm back down."

The Jaguars defense held the Colts offense to 295 total yards, tied for their second-lowest output of the season.

"So going into that third quarter, you could see everybody start to light up a little bit, enjoying this game, talking a little bit more, communicating a little bit more," Griffin said. "You start changing this around and you just have to utilize that and keep that and go into each game, each quarter, got to keep playing our ball."

For Head Coach Urban Meyer, the disappointing part was that the offense could not take advantage of the defensive stops.

"You know the whole playing to win and that field position chart we live by?" Meyer asked. "We were living by it exactly, we were punting the ball down in there, holding them, getting the ball back at about the 40-yard line and we didn't do anything with it. That's a problem."

Offense

The Jaguars offense continued to struggle, especially in the first half. In eight first-half possessions, the Jaguars had six three-and-outs. A total of 110 of the 154 first-half yards came on two first-half scoring drives, ending with a Jamal Agnew 66-yard touchdown run and a Matthew Wright 56-yard field goal.

In the second half, the Jaguars moved the ball 51 yards on nine plays to open the third quarter, but Wright missed a 51-yard field goal. Two drives later, James Robinson leaped onto the pile for a 1-yard score to cap off a 10-play drive.

Robinson finished the day with 12 carries for 57 yards and that 1-yard score and added four receptions for 27 yards in his return from a heel injury.

After all the issues throughout the day, the Jaguars still had the ball, down by six points with just over two minutes to play and with two timeouts and the two-minute warning available.

Trevor Lawrence lost a fumble and the comeback bid ended.

"We had no doubt that we were going to win that game," Lawrence said. "(It) felt like the offense had finally got a little bit of momentum towards the end of that second half. I'm just frustrated, obviously, in myself, but yeah, we had no doubt we were going to drive down the field. We were putting a good drive together. I think we were on the 50 (yard line) or plus-45, somewhere around there, and I just have to take care of the ball."

Lawrence and the Jaguars offense was not sharp in the passing game, with the rookie quarterback finishing 16 of 35 passing for 162 yards. He turned in his second-lowest rating of the season (59.5).

Even with the struggles, Lawrence knows there is still belief and hope among those in the locker room.

"I'm pretty hard on myself, and when you have a chance to win the game and you fumble on the last drive, especially when you have a great drive going and we had all the belief on the sideline, that just stings when you end the game that way," Lawrence said. "I'm disappointed in myself, frustrated, but I know how far we've come. I mean, you look back, compared to the first couple weeks of the season, it's night and day of where we're at."

"We have a locker room full of guys, coaches and players, that believe and we're on the right track. But this one hurts, just because I'm frustrated with myself. I had a chance to go win the game, and (I) have to do that. I had no doubt we were going to win the game. The whole offense believed it. Just have to finish."

Tight end Dan Arnold was the leading target and receiver, finishing with five catches on six targets for 67 yards. He caught a Lawrence pass for a two-point conversion early in the fourth quarter to cut the Colts' lead to three.

The veteran tight end joined the Jaguars earlier this season in a trade from the Panthers but is already giving Lawrence insight on how to respond to adversity.

"He's not going to be defined by – like these moments where he turns the ball over at the end of the game, but it's going to be how you're going to respond from it," Arnold said. "I kind of gave him a little anecdote about myself when I was a second-year player in New Orleans, and I dropped a touchdown pass in the NFC Championship game and there was a lot in the offseason that I let it define me and then I kind of finally just made a decision that I was going to move on from it and I'm going to become a great football player. That's something I don't doubt that he is going to be able to do.

"I have all the faith in him that he is going to be a tremendous player, not only for the rest of this year, but also for 10-15 years. And he knows that too. He's going to get there; these are just growing pains. We'll get there and like I said, the biggest thing is that we have a bunch of guys around that are going to support him no matter what and that's really all there is to it."

Special teams

There were multiple special teams issues last week, but a first-quarter blocked punt was the biggest of all.

Colts linebacker Zaire Franklin looped inside after the snap and rushed unblocked toward punter Logan Cooke and cleanly blocked and smothered the punt. Linebacker E.J. Speed recovered the ball and ran it in for a touchdown from 12 yards out to open a 10-0 Colts lead with 8:32 left in the first quarter.

"There was a twist," Meyer said. "I just saw from those little things you look at on the sideline, the pictures. It was a looper, and we just made an error."

It was Logan Cooke's first career blocked punt.

Kicker Matthew Wright missed the point-after-touchdown attempt following the Agnew touchdown run in the first quarter, his second extra-point miss in nine attempts with the Jaguars. Wright also missed a 51-yard field goal in the third quarter.

ROOKIE OF THE WEEK

Senior correspondent Brian Sexton recently caught up with Jaguars rookie TE Luke Farrell, discussing – among other topics – his rookie NFL season, playing for his college coach (Jaguars Head Coach Urban Meyer) and life as a rookie in Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE – The third day of the NFL Draft is a day for stories. Most sixth- and seventh-round selections aren't well-known, so television cameras delight when a former college turned professional coach calls a father of a former player to say he's picking his son. Jaguars Head Coach Urban Meyer knew what he wanted – and what he was getting – when he called tight end Luke Farrell late on the final day of the '21 draft. Farrell is a hard-nosed blocking tight end with enough quickness and savvy to contribute to the passing game. He's also smart, tough and the kind of dependable player every coach wants – especially Meyer, who was building his first professional team. Farrell has just six catches for 49 yards as a rookie, but he's a durable blocker and top performer on special teams and still learning to play on Sundays.

Question: You're almost midway through the rookie season. How has it been?

Answer: I think overall the experience has been great. It has been a pleasant surprise; I didn't really know what to expect. I think the best part has been how those guys have welcomed me into the room. I think we have an awesome tight-end room, and those older guys just took me under their wing and helped me with whatever I needed. I love our group, the offense and the team so far. It has been great.

Question: Is this the same guy you played for at Ohio State or has Meyer changed in the NFL?

Answer: Ultimately, he's still the same successful, great coach he has been – obviously adjusting a little bit for the NFL game and how the locker room is different as opposed to having 18- and 19-year-old kids to deal with. Ultimately, he still preaches the same stuff that helped us be so successful, culture wise, at Ohio State.

Question: Who were you more excited about connecting with in Jacksonville? Meyer or Trevor Lawrence?

Answer: Obviously, it's wild having Coach Meyer here. I never would have thought when I was playing for him that I would have this opportunity now, so it's kind of fun to look back on. On the other hand, it's nice to be on the same side as Trevor after playing against him and Clemson in the playoffs. That has been amazing and he makes a lot of stuff so much easier on the offensive side.

Question: Tell me about playing with a quarterback like Lawrence – and developing a relationship with – who you might play with your entire career. And a really good one at that.

Answer: That's also something I've been really lucky with; I've played with a lot of really good quarterbacks. Trevor is a generational talent and one thing you notice right away about him is his leadership skills. He commands an offense the way you expect a quarterback to, and it has been awesome to follow his lead on things. I think developing a relationship with him is very important; being on the same page within the offense helps things go smoothly. I'm always working towards earning his trust and being a reliable target for him in the passing game.

Getting to know:

Question: Anything surprise you about life in the NFL?

Answer: I was very lucky to play with so many guys at Ohio State who went to the next level then came back and talked about it. They told me what to expect. The competition level is something I had heard about, but once you experience it first-hand, every day at practice competing that way ... it's hard to completely prepare for that. I was very lucky in that sense to have a good idea of how the NFL works and how a team runs.

Question: You're not used to not winning. What has that been like to get used to playing great teams and finding out what it takes to win at this level?

Answer: That's something that I definitely expected. I know the talent is equal every week and you're always playing the best of the best. It's just different expectations, a different level of work and a mentality that you have to come every week like you're playing the best team and prepare that way no matter what the outcome is. It's been a little bit of an adjustment but something I expected.

Question: Shaking off a loss and getting ready to play again the next week ... is that an adjustment for you?

Answer: Big-time something they emphasized during my time at Ohio State. It was about your reaction. You can't always control what you're given, the event that's in front of you. It's about how you react to it no matter what, good or bad, so that's been my mindset since I was at Ohio State, and it helps you hit the ground running and not dwell on it too long. You have to keep working and it has helped a lot here.

Question: Any doubt in your mind that Meyer will be as successful in professional football as he was in college?

Answer: We still have complete faith in that. Obviously it hasn't quite been what we set out for ourselves expectation wise. But I don't doubt about that. And I think something that has been important to us is sticking together and not necessarily buying into that outside noise and really dialing in on what we can do every day to get better because that's really the most important thing we can focus on.

Question: How is life in professional football in Jacksonville, Florida?

Answer: Well, we went out to practiced today in early November and it's 70 degrees and sunny and that's really tough to beat. I've really grown to appreciate what Jacksonville is all about. I had no idea, really never been here or heard anything about Jacksonville coming in. But I've been pleasantly surprised with the area, the town, the beach, a great fan base and everything I hear is happening around here. It's been great and I feel lucky to have been given this chance and I'm going to make the most of it.
