JAGUARS OPEN 2026 SEASON AT HOME AGAINST CLEVELAND BROWNS

The 2025 AFC South Champion Jaguars will play the Cleveland Browns in the 2026 regular-season opener at EverBank Stadium on Sunday, September 13.

By John Shipley

Kam Nedd, 2026

JACKSONVILLE – It is showtime. At last.

The Jaguars' path to attempting to repeat as AFC South champions begins in Week 1 when they play host to the Cleveland Browns at EverBank Stadium. The Jaguars will look to start the regular season 1-0 for a second consecutive season.

The Jaguars went 2-1 in the 2026 preseason, with victories over the New Orleans Saints and Tampa Bay Buccaneers and a loss to the Carolina Panthers.

As important for Head Coach Liam Coen as those preseason games was a 2026 Training

Camp in which the Jaguars spent several weeks with "iron sharpening iron" in practices against themselves before a series of joint practices leading into all three preseason games. They grew stronger as the preseason continued, playing increasingly well in joint practices against the Panthers and Buccaneers in Preseason Weeks 2 and 3.

"Last year, we didn't have a lot of these opportunities, and so I think you look at from New Orleans to today, you're pleased with the progression," Coen said following the Jaguars' last full joint practice of the summer – August 25 against Tampa Bay.

"You're pleased with the response," Coen added. "You can't simulate this anywhere in training camp. So, was pleased with where we're at. There's always a ton to clean up, and a lot of our focus now has to go to final cutdowns, finishing this thing up, and really headed towards Cleveland."

The 53-player roster and 17-player practice squad are set, with focus now on the Browns and Week 1. The Jaguars have not lined up for a real snap against an opposing team since a loss to the Buffalo Bills in an AFC Wild Card Playoff last January.

"So much of training camp is going against yourselves," Coen said this week. "You mix it in with the joints, which is great. That simulated work that we got at the joints gives you some glimpses and obviously competing against other teams and quality opponents.

"It just becomes more real, absolutely. "

The Jaguars will be led in Week 1 by a veteran roster returning most starters on both sides of the ball. Coen and the Jaguars preached continuity this offseason, and the tone is set by a locker room with most players entering their second season under Coen and his staff.

"Every day when you wake up and come in the building, those standards, the way we operate, the way we meet, walk through, practice, and then obviously go out and compete on Sundays – there just becomes a standard of the way that we do things," Coen said. "We can't let it go and say, 'Well, we won 13 games last year. We can have a bad practice or we can have a bad meeting or we cannot be on the screws, whether it's in whatever setting we're in.'

"The standard of performance in the locker room has elevated to where maybe I don't always have to say, 'Hey guys, that's not the standard. This is not how we operate. This is not what we want it to look like.'

"Expectations are something that you earn, but it's more so an expectation of standards than it is truly performance, results based, if you will."

A victory Sunday would give the Jaguars their first consecutive seasons with Week 1 victories since the 2017-2018 seasons. The Jaguars finished 13-4 in 2025, winning their last eight games.

The Browns are led by first-year head coach Todd Monken and had plenty of offseason roster change, particularly defensively. Deshaun Watson is expected to start at quarterback, with the Browns finishing 5-12 last season and missing the postseason each of the last two seasons.

"A lot of this game, especially in Week 1, it's so much about our execution, about our guys, our team," Coen said. "You want to be aware of their players, aware of their game wreckers and some of the things that they do, but it's so much more about our team, our execution, our effort and our ability to respond to whatever does occur. Both positive and negative."

In 20 matchups between the Jaguars and the Browns, Jacksonville holds a four-game advantage (12-8) and a tied record (5-5) at home.

The last time the Browns visited Jacksonville was in Week 2 of the 2024 season, with the Browns winning, 18-13. The Jaguars have lost the last three meetings between the teams – the 2024 matchup, 31-27 in 2023 and 27-25 in 2020.

Now, the Jaguars will look to start a new streak against their AFC North opponents while also kicking the 2026 season off on a high note. The Jaguars beat the Panthers, 26-10, in the 2025 regular-season opener – also played in Jacksonville.

The Jaguars will visit the Denver Broncos at Mile High Stadium in Denver in Week 2 before returning to EverBank Stadium in Week 3 to play defending the AFC and AFC East Champion New England Patriots.

After that, the next time the Jaguars will play at EverBank will be when they play host to the Indianapolis Colts in Week 8 on November 1 after their Week 7 bye.

We made sure this veteran was ready for his next tour of duty: Grandchildren.

After multiple combat tours with Army Special Forces, Bryan understood adversity. But a traumatic brain injury from a paratrooper jump stayed with him long after his service. He experienced headaches, memory lapses, difficulty communicating and trouble with his balance. At the UF Health Jacksonville Leon L. Haley Jr., MD, Brain Wellness Program, Bryan found a team helping veterans and first responders facing traumatic brain injuries. By participating in a personalized outpatient program, UF Health specialists helped him improve his communication, balance and confidence. Today, Bryan feels more secure, more focused and more connected to those around him. Now, with the birth of his first grandchild, his next mission comes with a much smaller pair of boots.

Tell us about yourself and your connection to Jacksonville/the Jaguars:

Moved to Jax in 1984. I went to a few Jacksonville Bulls USFL games and really got hooked. I went to all the preseason NFL games in town over the years as we tried to prove we were worthy of a franchise. Once we were in the running in 1993, I knew that if we were awarded a team, I would be all in. That's exactly what happened. 31 years later and I've only missed a couple of games. I try to attend one road game every year.

I had food poisoning once in the 90's that required hospitalization and I persuaded the hospital to release me. It was late in the season and we were in a playoff push. I promised not to go to the game and so I was released. Well guess who I ran into on the upper deck concourse? The very nurse that had granted that request. We both smiled, she gave me a stern look and said, "Take it easy."

Do you have any gameday rituals?

Tailgating has always been a large part of game day. I originally parked in the "Music Shed" with a friend that had a camper and those are some of the best memories. With that no longer an option, I have parked and tailgated all over the area. We have a good group that changes over the years, but we get there early and stay late. It is a day long experience and rarely missed.

What is on your Jaguars bucket list?

Jaguars in the Super Bowl and to attend a London Game.

What's your favorite part of gameday?

It used to be the national anthem and flyover because we were so bad for so long. Now I would say it's watching the game live and talking to fellow ticket holders that I only see at the games. Making new memories with my wife and daughter. It's really the whole thing as an experience, win or lose.

What is your favorite Jaguars moment?

There were many back in the day, but I have to say it was the win over the Chargers in the 2022 playoffs. That was a comeback for the ages. I'm one of the ones that stays regardless of the score, and it really paid off that day. That also sparked a spontaneous trip to Kansas City that was oh so close to a win. Giving Cowboy fans the business that same year was sooo satisfying. It's a close second just because their fans are so obnoxious.

What do you gain from attending a game instead of watching it on tv?

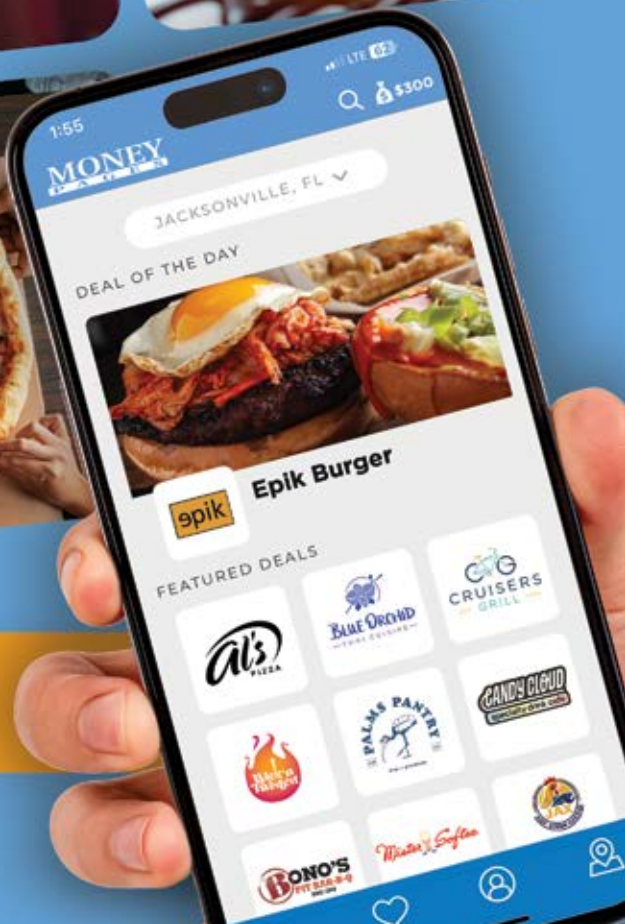

I have to high five people during the game, the more the merrier. Yes, I do that at home and bars as well, but at the game is just a different level of excitement. When we are winning everything else is just better. The beer is colder, the food is better, it's just better.

What would you tell someone who is considering purchasing season tickets?

When the team is competitive, it's a real good value.

PARDON OUR DUST

Stadium of the Future construction is underway and will be ongoing until its grand opening in August 2028. This year, fans can expect that the in-bowl game experience will remain unchanged, but parking, stadium entry and how you access your seats may look different - even from week to week.

In the 2026 season, capacity will be decreased to 42,465 after permanent seat removal and temporary seating is installed. Of the 27,308 seats that will be offline in 2026, 22,005 are in the upper bowl (400 Level). Other impacted seats are in the 200 Level corners over the tunnels and select rows in the North End Zone; lower-level South End Zone seating; lower-level Club seats; and the Terrace Suite. The North End Zone spa deck and Sky Patio will also be closed in 2026.

Steel erection and concourse expansion work will occur during this season, and fans will be able to see the structure supporting the canopy being constructed. Guests will also get to experience the new breezeways created for 2028 on the main concourse.

Grand Staircase 1, 2 and 3 will be completed and available for access to the main concourse and all seating areas.

For any wayfinding or mobility assistant questions, please find a Guest Experience Representative, located on the plaza level and main concourse.
