THE MATCHUP

The New Orleans Saints will kick off their 50th season inside the Mercedes-Benz Superdome, their home for the last 41 campaigns when they host the Oakland Raiders on Sunday, Sept. 11 at 12:00 p.m. CST. The two teams have met 12 times with New Orleans holding a 6-5-1 advantage. In season openers played inside the Mercedes-Benz Superdome, the Saints have posted an 11-15 all-time mark, however they have never lost in the four contests where Sean Payton has been head coach.

New Orleans enters the 2016 season opener looking to break a string of two consecutive 7-9 finishes. Executive Vice President/General Manager Mickey Loomis and Payton continued a reconstruction of the roster which began in 2015 with several aggressive moves in free agency and the NFL Draft.

At the start of free agency, New Orleans signed TE Coby Fleener to further augment the passing game. To enhance the defense and special teams units, they signed a quintet of veterans in DT Nick Fairley, DE Paul Kruger and LBs James Laurinaitis, Craig Robertson and Nate Stupar. With their first two draft picks, the team selected DT Sheldon Rankins and WR Michael Thomas, while also acquiring an additional second round choice with whom they netted S Vonn Bell.

Once again, New Orleans will be led offensively by QB Drew Brees, who captured the NFL's passing yardage title (4,870) for a league-record sixth time in 2015. RB Mark

Ingram, who led the team with a career-high 1,174 total yards from scrimmage last season, flanks the running back group. In addition to Fleener and Thomas, the Saints offense returns their top two wideouts in 2016, Brandin Cooks, who recorded 84 grabs for 1,138 yards with nine TDs to lead the club in all receiving categories and Willie Snead IV, a former undrafted free agent who garnered a roster spot in training camp and responded with 69 grabs for 984 yards.

Defensively, under the supervision of Dennis Allen and with the multiple additions through free agency and the draft, the Saints defense will look to continue to show improvement, after winning three of their final four contests in 2015. The front four will be led by DE Cameron Jordan, who represented the Saints at the Pro Bowl after recording the second double-digit sack campaign of his career. At linebacker, while Laurinaitis, who reached the century mark in tackles in each of his first seven NFL seasons in St. Louis will man the middle, Stephone Anthony, who led New Orleans with 144 tackles as a rookie in 2015, will bring his playmaking ability and athleticism to the outside. The secondary is headlined by fourth-year S Kenny Vaccaro, who posted a career-high 136 tackles in 2015 and CB Delvin Breaux, a New Orleans native who led the Saints with four total takeaways, including a team-high three interceptions in his first NFL season.

This Week In The NFC South: Carolina opens the 2016 NFL slate on the road at Denver on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. CT, while Tampa Bay and Atlanta resume their division rivalry at the Georgia Dome on Sunday at 12:00 p.m. CT.

Raiders vs. Saints: Game 1

THE COACHES

New Orleans Saints Head Coach Sean Payton has posted an 87-57 regular season record and a 6-4 postseason mark, guiding the team to the postseason five times, to the NFC Championship twice and to the Super Bowl XLIV Championship. He's the club's lone head coach to open a season with 13 straight victories and post a 13game winning streak and has the franchise's top winning percentage (.604). Payton's 51-29 (.638) home record and 42-37 (.532) mark away from the Mercedes-Benz Superdome are the club's top all-time winning percentages in both categories. He's one win short of surpassing Jim Mora (93 victories from 1986-96) for the most victories by a head coach in team history despite having coached 17 fewer games than Mora. In his first season with the club in 2006, he took the Saints to the NFC Championship and was named NFL Coach of the Year by most major media outlets. The Saints are the only team to finish in the top 10 in net yards per game each season since 2006, including finishing second in 2015 with 403.8 ypg. Payton was hired as New Orleans' 14th head coach on January 18, 2006, after serving on Dallas' staff from 2003-05 under Pro Football Hall of Fame Head Coach Bill Parcells. Prior to joining the Cowboys, Payton served on the New York Giants coaching staff from 1999-2002, including the final three seasons as offensive coordinator. His tenure was highlighted by a Super Bowl berth in his first full season calling plays. Payton's prior NFL coaching experience came as quarterbacks coach for Philadelphia from 1997-98. He played guarterback at Eastern Illinois, where he passed for 10,665 yards, then the third-highest total in NCAA Division 1-AA history. The three-time Associated Press All-American selection had professional stints with Chicago of the Arena Football League, Ottawa of the Canadian Football League and the Chicago Bears in 1987. Starting his college coaching career at San Diego State, Payton wrapped two stints as an assistant with the Aztecs (1988-89 and 1992-93) around a stop at Indiana State (1990-91). He moved to Miami (Ohio), where he coached quarterbacks from 1994-95 before doing the same at the University of Illinois in 1996.

Jack Del Rio was named the 19th head coach in Oakland Raiders history on January 15, 2015. Del Rio enters his 31st year in the NFL and his 20th season coaching. Last year, he oversaw significant improvements as Oakland made considerable advances in all phases of the game, after having joined the Raiders after spending the previous three seasons (2012-14) as the Denver Broncos' defensive coordinator. While with the Broncos, Del Rio helped lead the team to three-straight AFC West titles and an appearance in Super Bowl XLVIII following the 2013 campaign. In 2013, while Denver head coach John Fox underwent a heart procedure, Del Rio was named the interim head coach (weeks 10-13), posting a 3-1 record over that time. He was previously the head coach of the Jacksonville Jaguars (2003-2011), with his defenses having ranked in the top six in the NFL in yards per game allowed in 10 of his 18 seasons as a position coach, coordinator or head coach. During that time, he coached 20 defensive players to a total of 29 Pro Bowl selections. A former All-American linebacker at USC, Del Rio was selected in the third round of the 1985 NFL Draft by the Saints and went on to play 11 NFL seasons with the Saints (1985-86), Kansas City Chiefs (1987-88), Dallas Cowboys (1989-1991) and Minnesota Vikings (1992-95). He played in 160 career games, totaling over 1,100 tackles and earning a Pro Bowl selection in 1994.

Nov. 18, 2012: New Orleans Saints 38, Oakland Raiders 17 @ O.Co Coliseum – The Saints put together their most dominating performance of the 2012 season to date on offense, defense and special teams as a road victory at Oakland brought them back to .500 with their fifth win in six games after an 0-4 start.

The Saints jumped ahead 7-0 on their first offensive possession as they drove 80 yards in 10 plays, ending with a one-yard TD pass from QB Drew Brees to TE Jimmy Graham. After the two clubs traded punts on their next two possessions, S Malcolm Jenkins picked off Raiders QB Carson Palmer near midfield and returned the ball 55 yards for a TD.

Following an Oakland touchdown, New Orleans headed to halftime leading 21-7 when Brees found WR Lance Moore for a 38-yard TD with :48 seconds left in the second quarter.

The second half opened with rookie RB Travaris Cadet returning the opening kickoff 75 yards to the Oakland 27, with RB Mark Ingram subsequently reaching the end zone on a spectacular 27-yard run on the next play to push the lead to 28-7. Raiders K Sebastian Janikowski booted a 40-yard field goal when Oakland got the ball back to narrow the gap to 18 points. WHAT TO LOOK FOR

• If the Saints defeat the Raiders, they would capture their first season opener since a 23-17 win over Atlanta in the Mercedes-Benz Superdome on Sept. 8, 2013, snapping a three-game losing streak in season openers.

• A Saints win would give Head Coach Sean Payton a 5 -0 record in season openers at home. It would also give Payton his 94th win as Saints head coach, surpassing Jim Mora as the franchise's winningest head coach.

• A Saints win would improve New Orleans' record to 7 -5-1 against the Raiders, keeping the Silver and Black as one of seven franchises the Black and Gold have an alltime winning record against. It would also extend their winning streak against the Raiders to four games in the alltime series.

• A Saints win would improve New Orleans' all-time record at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome in the regular season back to 156-156.

• A Saints win would give New Orleans a three-game winning streak dating back to the last two games of the 2015 season, their first three-game win streak since they won three consecutive from 10/15/15-11/1/15.

• QB Drew Brees will play in his 218th career game, moving him into a tie for 11th place in games played among quarterbacks all-time with Sonny Jurgensen.

• Brees has 428 career touchdown passes, tied for third all-time with Tom Brady. With one touchdown pass, Brees will take over sole possession of third. Brees has 348 career scoring throws as a Saint and will reach 350 in his New Orleans career with two more.

• Brees and WR Brandin Cooks have connected 12 times for touchdowns. With a touchdown connection between the two, Cooks would move into sole possession of eighth place in Brees' all-time touchdown pass targets past Reggie Bush (2006-10) and Pierre Thomas (2007-14).

• S Roman Harper is expected to play in his 109th career game as a Saint on Sunday. With that, he would move into a tie for 33rd all-time on the Saints games played list with T Dave Lafary and CB Fred Thomas.

• Harper has 743 career tackles as a Saint and with seven stops would reach 750 for his black and Gold career.

• Harper has 18 career sacks, tied for ninth on the NFL's all-time list among defensive backs with Adam Archuleta and Bill Bates. With one, he would move into sole possession of ninth. With two, he would move into a tie for eighth with Charles Woodson.

• Ingram has 3,888 total yards from scrimmage in his career. With 112 total yards from scrimmage, he would reach 4,000 for his career.

• DE Cameron Jordan has 39 career sacks, ranked 13th in club record books. With one takedown on Sunday, he would surpass DE Bruce Clark and move into 12th place.

• If Jordan starts on Sunday, it will be his 65th consecutive start, which is expected to become the third-longest current games started streak among NFL defensive ends.

• LB James Laurinaitis, who has never missed a game in his eight-year NFL career, will play in his 113th consecutive game on Sunday, which is expected to become the second-longest current consecutive games played streak among NFL linebackers.

ROSTER ROLL CALL

Of the 53 players on the opening day Saints roster, 33 were on the active roster, a reserve list or the practice squad at the end of the 2015 season. Among newcomers, the roster includes six unrestricted free agents, four veteran free agents, four draft picks and four rookie free agents.

Of the 53 players, 30 have less than four years of previous NFL experience, including eight players who are entering their first NFL season. The following is a breakdown of New Orleans' roster by years of experience (year entering): 16 years-1, 13 years-1, 11 years-5, 8 years-6, 7 years-2, 6 years-4, 5 years-4, 4 years-8, 3 years-2, 2 years-10, 1 year -2, rookies-8.

HIGHER EDUCATION

40 colleges and universities are represented on the Saints' opening day 53-man roster. Of that total, 11 are represented by multiple Saints, three from Ohio State and two apiece from Alabama, the University of California, Clemson, Colorado, Georgia, Penn State, Oregon, Oregon State, Southern Methodist and Stanford.

MY HOMETOWN

Saints players come from 22 different states, Washington D.C., Germany and Nigeria. Of the 53 players currently on the team's active roster, the state which claims the most members of the team is Texas with nine (quarterbacks Drew Brees and Luke McCown, long snapper Justin Drescher, defensive back De'Vante Harris, running back Daniel Lasco, running back, return specialist Marcus Murphy, punter Thomas Morstead, LB Craig Robertson and safety Kenny Vaccaro).

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

A spot on the practice squad is another avenue to eventually get onto the active roster and have the opportunity to contribute. Entering the 2016 season, New Orleans has seven players on their current 53-man roster who moved up after being on a practice squad before being promoted, all from the Saints practice squad. Below is an overview of these players with extensive practice squad experience. WR Brandon Coleman was originally signed by New Orleans out of Rutgers following the 2014 NFL Draft. Coleman spent the majority of his rookie campaign on the practice squad before being elevated to the active roster for the regular season finale. Fully recovered from a nagging knee injury suffered as a redshirt junior in 2013, Coleman took advantage of his large frame and participation in his first full offseason strength and conditioning program to win a roster spot on the 2015 opening day roster. He made 30 receptions for 454 yards (15.4 avg.) with two touchdown grabs. His biggest game of the year came on the season's final Sunday, as he caught a career-high five passes for a career-high 81 yards against the Atlanta Falcons on January 3, 2016.

G/C Senio Kelemete participated on the Saints practice squad in 2013 after spending the 2012 campaign on the Arizona Cardinals active roster. Through development, the lineman who can play either center, guard or tackle snagged a roster spot with the Saints based on his preseason play and started three games at right guard, one at left guard and started the season's final contest against Atlanta at left tackle. It was his first career start at the position. He became the third Saints player to make a start at left tackle last season. He saw extensive time along the offensive line in four of the last seven contests.

Originally signed as an undrafted free agent out of Shippensburg University by the Pittsburgh Steelers following the 2005 NFL Draft, FB John Kuhn would begin his NFL career on the practice squad of the Steelers from 2005-06, before being elevated to the Steelers active roster, eventually joining the Green Bay Packers and winning Super Bowl XL. Following his time in Pittsburgh, the York, Pa. native spent nine seasons with Green Bay.

TE Chris Manhertz came to the Saints and spent the entire season on their practice squad after spending the offseason and start of training camp with the Bills. From 2010-14, Manhertz played basketball for the Canisius Golden Griffins, averaging 6.5 points and 6.8 rebounds and leading the team in rebounding for three straight years. After spending the entire 2015 season on the Saints practice squad, the New York, N.Y. native enters his first season on an NFL roster.

Initially signed to the Cleveland Browns practice squad after competing on a tryout basis during his rookie season in 2011, the versatile LB Craig Robertson would seize this opportunity, making the 53-man roster the following season. Excelling in the kicking game and as both an inside and outside linebacker in Cleveland, he tallied 315 tackles (201 solo), four sacks, six INTs, 15 passes defensed, two forced fumbles, five fumble recoveries, one TD and 32 special teams stops over 58 games with 37 starts. In 2015, he appeared in 12 games with nine starts and totaled 50 tackles (30 solo), one INT, five passes defensed, one forced fumble, one fumble recovery and nine special teams stops.

WR Willie Snead IV first entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent with Cleveland in 2014 out of Ball State, where he ranked second in club record books in receptions (223) and receiving yardage (2,991). After spending the final three 559 yards with three touchdowns and returned 53 kickoffs weeks of 2014 on the Saints practice squad, Snead snared a roster spot with his standout play in the preseason, where he led the team in receiving with 11 grabs for 148 yards and one touchdown. Appearing in 15 games last season, including eight starts, Snead made 69 receptions for 984 yards (14.3 avg.) and three touchdowns.

LB Nate Stupar came to the NFL as a seventh-round draft pick of the Oakland Raiders in the 2012 NFL Draft (230th overall), later signing to their practice squad. The former Penn State standout would also spend time on the practice squads of the Philadelphia Eagles and San Francisco 49ers over the course of his rookie season. He enters his first season with the Black and Gold looking to compete for a role within the linebacker group, while contributing on special teams.

BUCKING THE ODDS

Players whose names are not called in the NFL Draft each spring face challenging odds in sticking on a team, with every snap or drill in OTAs, minicamps and training camp under evaluation. Yet the 2016 opening day 53-man roster features 16 undrafted players who bucked the odds, 10 of whom started at least one contest for the Saints prior to this season. Undrafted players on the current Saints 53-man roster with NFL experience include CB Delvin Breaux, RB Travaris Cadet, Coleman, LS Justin Drescher, DE Kasim Edebali, LB Dannell Ellerbe, TE Josh Hill, G Tim Lelito, K Wil Lutz, CB Sterling Moore, Robertson and Snead IV.

A New Orleans native who suffered a serious neck injury as a high school senior at McDonogh 35 that did not allow him to play football at LSU where he was committed, the persistent Breaux took a route through the Gridiron Developmental Football League, the Arena Football League and the Canadian Football League. Breaux made his mark the last two seasons with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats, where he was named a CFL All-Star. He parlayed that success into a free agent contract with New Orleans and secured a roster spot in training camp. He started all 16 contests in 2015 and finished with 49 tackles (38 solo), a team-high three interceptions, 23 passes defensed and one fumble recovery. Breaux was voted by his teammates as the club's 2015 Ed Block Courage Award winner.

Signed following a standout college career at Appalachian State, Cadet was one of two undrafted rookies to earn a spot on the 2012 opening day roster. The Miami, Fla. native has played in 48 career regular season games with two starts and has carried for 65 yards, made 62 receptions for for 1,387 yards (26.2 avg.). In 2015, Cadet returned to New Orleans in Week 16 following stints in New England and San Francisco and in over two games, caught nine balls for 146 yards (16.2 avg.) and one touchdown, while rushing four times for 12 yards.

Signed as an undrafted free agent out of the University of Colorado in 2010 by Atlanta and picked up by New Orleans at midseason, Drescher has handled long-snapping duties for 86 consecutive games, also adding four special teams stops.

A Hamburg, Germany native who started playing football in middle school prior to further developing his skills in prep school in New Hampshire, Edebali was signed following the 2014 NFL Draft out of Boston College and in two seasons has played in all 32 games, posting 36 tackles (25 solo), seven sacks, three passes defensed, one forced fumble, one fumble recovery and 18 special teams stops.

Signed as an undrafted free agent by Baltimore out of Georgia in 2009, Ellerbe has played on both the interior and the outside for three teams, appearing in 68 games with 34 starts, posting career totals of 338 tackles (249 solo), 6.5 sacks, three interceptions, 13 passes defensed, a forced fumble, four fumble recoveries, 18 special teams stops and a coverage forced fumble. In his first season with New Orleans, he posted 45 tackles (39 solo), one forced fumble, one fumble recovery and one pass defensed over six games with four starts.

A 2013 undrafted free agent signing by New Orleans out of Idaho State, Hill has played in 46 career games with 13 starts and has posted 36 catches for 340 yards (9.4 avg.) with eight touchdowns and 24 special teams tackles.

Signed as a free agent out of Grand Valley State in 2013, Lelito has started 17 games at guard, center and right tackle while appearing in 47 regular season contests and two playoff games over his three-year career.

Moore comes to New Orleans after spending the 2016 offseason and preseason with the Buffalo Bills and the 2015 campaign with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. The 5-10, 202-pound Southern Methodist product originally entered the NFL in 2011 as an undrafted free agent with the New England Patriots. Moore has started 19-of-56 career games while accumulating 124 tackles, four interceptions, 25 passes defensed and five forced fumbles.

Originally signed by Baltimore as an undrafted free agent following the 2016 NFL Draft, Lutz played in 47 career games at Georgia State. Lutz is the program's career leader in FGs (31), PATs (120) and points (213) and finished his collegiate career 31-of-46 on FGs (67.4 %).

Ahead is a synopsis of several returning players and newcomers through the draft, free agency and trade to the 2016 Saints offensive line:

LT Terron Armstead - The club's first third round draft choice in 2013 out of Arkansas-Pine Bluff, Armstead impressed scouts by running the fastest 40-yard dash time (4.71) by an offensive lineman in the history of the NFL Scouting Combine. Overall, Armstead has opened 29 regular season games and two postseason contests for New Orleans. In the 2016 offseason, Armstead was signed by the club to a five-year contract extension.

G Jahri Evans - The 2006 fourth round draft choice made a rapid ascent from his small school roots at Bloomsburg into one of the NFL's top interior linemen and the top guard in team history. Evans's been named to six Pro Bowls since 2009, as well as being named an AP first-team All-Pro selection from 2009-12 and a second-team selection in 2013. Overall, Evans has started 150 contests at right guard for New Orleans, tied for the 11th-highest total for games played in team record books.

C/G Senio Kelemete - Originally a fifth round selection of the Arizona Cardinals (151st overall) in the 2012 NFL Draft, since first joining the New Orleans practice squad at the start of the 2013 season, this fourth-year offensive lineman has displayed the versatility to play every position on the offensive line. The 6-foot-3, 300-pounder played in all 16 games for the first time in his career in 2015 and opened five games, including contests at both guard positions and at right tackle. In the 2016 preseason, Kelemete is competing for a starting position at guard.

G Tim Lelito - Originally signed as an undrafted free agent out of Grand Valley State in 2013, this lineman proved the jump was not too big from Division II to the NFL as he's started at all three interior positions. In 2015, Lelito won the starting left guard slot in the preseason, but ended up seeing significan action at both guard spots. He opened 11 contests at left guard and two at right guard.

T Andrus Peat - A first round selection (13th overall) in the 2015 NFL Draft out of Stanford, Peat was considered one of the top college offensive linemen in 2014. In his final season in Palo Alto as a junior, Peat started all 13 games at left tackle for the Cardinal, anchoring the left side of an offensive line ranked 18th nationally in fewest tackles for loss allowed (4.62/game) and 42nd in fewest sacks allowed (1.77/game), blocking for an offense that averaged 158.8 yards per game on the ground. DEFENSIVE DRAFT

Over the last two NFL Drafts, New Orleans has shown a commitment to improving the defense, spending nine-of-14 picks on that side of the ball. Five of these players selected over the last two drafts enter the 2016 season on the opening day 53-man roster. Below is an overview of these five players:

In the two games, the Miami, Fla. native posted nine receptions for 146 yards and a TD, while adding 12 yards on four carries, setting several single-game career-highs in both of his appearances. Originally signed by the Saints as an undrafted free agent out of Appalachian State following the 2012 NFL Draft, Cadet spent his first three seasons with the Black and Gold, proving to be effective at running back, wide receiver and return specialist. The five-year NFL veteran had an impressive training camp with New Orleans and after an injury forced starting tailback Mark Ingram to Reserve/Injured, Hightower became the lead back, posting the third-highest rushing yards total in the league from his first start in the team's Week 14 matchup at Tampa Bay through the end of the season. Over eight games with three starts, he rushed for 375 yards on 96 carries (3.9 avg.), with four touchdowns. He added 129 yards on 12 receptions (10.8 avg.). Before being sidelined, Ingram rushed for 769 yards and six TDs on 166 attempts, and added a career-high 405 yards receiving on a career-best 50 catches. His 1,174 total yards from scrimmage marked a new career-high and ranked sixth in the NFL at the time he was placed on Injured Reserve.

Healthy after being limited due to injuries in his senior campaign, Lasco seeks a return to the form of his junior season, when he rushed for 1,115 yards and tallied 1,471 total yards from scrimmage. The Texan excelled at the 2016 NFL Scouting Combine where he posted a broad jump of 11'3" that is the longest ever by a running back at the event to pair with a 41.5 vertical jump that was tied for third all-time at the event by his position group.

• The clubs first-round selection in the 2014 NFL Draft, Cooks enters his third season in the NFL looking to build on his first-career 1,000-yard season. In 2015, the Oregon State product led the club in receiving with 84 grabs for 1,138 yards (13.5 avg.) and a team-leading nine TDs. His receiving yardage total and touchdown reception total each ranked 14th in the NFL. Cooks' 84 receptions ranked 17th in the league, while his 22 third down receptions tied for 20th. His 84 receptions were the most by a Saints receiver since Margues Colston hauled in 84 in the 2010 season.

WIDE RECEIVERS

WILLIE SNEAD IV

• After concluding a collegiate career at Ball State that saw him leave the school ranked second in club record books in receptions (223) and receiving yardage (2,991), Snead then entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent with Cleveland in 2014. Earning a roster spot in the 2015 preseason, the Muskegon Heights, Mich. native turned in a very productive first-professional season, appearing in 15 games with eight starts and making 69 receptions for 984 yards (14.3 avg.) and three touchdowns.

• A talented wide receiver with a large 6-3, 212-pound frame who emerged as one of Ohio State's top weapons over his final two seasons, Thomas played in 39 games and caught 113 passes for 1,602 yards (14.2-average) with 18 TDs. Thomas entered the starting lineup in 2014 with immediate results. All but three of his receptions were posted in his final two seasons. The former Buckeye standout has been impressive throughout camp and looks to translate that from the practice field to game action.
