The Raiders had won the previous three meetings in the regular season; in 1999 (45-0 in Oakland), in 2004 (30-20 in Oakland) and 2008 (31-24). The Raiders also won the first three games the two teams played in 1976 (49-16 in Oakland), 1981 (18-16 in Oakland) and 1993 (27-20 in Los Angeles).

Tampa Bay 42, Oakland 32 (November 4, 2012)

OAKLAND, CALIF. — The Tampa Bay Buccaneers visited the West Coast in Week 9, traveling to California to face the Oakland Raiders. Despite a late push from Oakland, Tampa Bay managed to secure the win thanks to timely big plays from the defense and a record-setting day by rookie RB Doug Martin, who ran for 251 yards and four rushing touchdowns on 25 attempts. The Buccaneers made the first legitimate scoring threat during a five-minute drive in the first quarter, reaching the Oakland 17 to set up a field goal, but K Connor Barth's 35-yard attempt was blocked by DE Lamarr Houston, who returned the ball 34 yards to the Tampa Bay 44. With that turn of events, Oakland went on to put the first points on the board, as K Sebastian Janikowski made good on a 29-yard field goal. The Oakland lead was short-lived, as the Buccaneers made the score 7-3 after QB Josh Freeman first found WR Vincent Jackson on a deep 64-yard pass, and then threw a 20-yard touchdown to Jackson three plays later. Next, Raiders P Shane Lechler attempted a short pass to RB Taiwan Jones on fourth-and-13 to extend the Oakland drive, but Buccaneers S Ahmad Black forced Jones to fumble, and though Jones recovered, he was short of the first down and the Buccaneers took possession of the ball. However, Tampa Bay was held to a punt, and then, after trading punts, the Raiders grabbed the lead away on a 25-yard touchdown pass from QB Carson Palmer to WR Rod Streater. Tampa Bay had the ball with just over a minute before halftime, but Barth's 54-yard field goal attempt to tie the game was short. Martin began his second-half explosion on the opening drive of the third quarter, giving the Buccaneers a 14-10 lead when he raced 45 yards up the middle for a touchdown — the third consecutive game in which the rookie first-round draft pick had scored a rushing touchdown. Following a Raiders punt and a 26-yard punt return by WR/PR Roscoe Parrish, Freeman led Tampa Bay on a 60-yard drive that concluded with a four-yard touchdown pass for the 21-10 lead. With the Raiders driving into Buccaneers territory looking to score, rookie CB Leonard Johnson snagged a Palmer pass intended for WR Denarius Moore. Tampa Bay took full advantage of the turnover, as Martin almost immediately broke free from defenders for a 67-yard scoring run. Oakland responded with an 80-yard drive, concluding with a four-yard touchdown pass from Palmer to TE Brandon Myers, narrowing the game to 28-17 in the beginning of the fourth quarter. Martin tempered the enthusiasm of the home crowd on the next drive, putting up another monster run for a score, this time for a new career-long of 70 yards, taking over Tampa Bay's single-game franchise record for rushing yards. Palmer connected with Myers for a second time on the Raiders' next drive, bringing the score to 35-24 after a one-yard touchdown pass. Oakland then attempted an onside kick, but Black recovered the ball. However, a bobbled handoff from Freeman to RB LeGarrette Blount led to a fumble that was recovered by Oakland and turned into a touchdown on a 13-yard touchdown pass from Palmer to FB Marcel Reece. A completed two-point conversion made the score 35-32. The Buccaneers were then held to a punt, but Black made another key play, intercepting Palmer and returning the ball 34 yards. Tampa Bay then capitalized with a drive that was all Martin, concluding with a one-yard score. With just under two minutes to play, CB E.J. Biggers picked off Palmer, sealing the Buccaneers win.

Dirk Koetter was named the 11th head coach in franchise history on January 15, 2016. He is in his second season with the team, after serving as offensive coordinator in 2015.

In his first season with Tampa Bay (2015), Koetter helped pilot one of the most successful offenses in the NFL and one of the best in team history. The team set the franchise record for total yards (6,014 – 357.0 per game), while posting the second-most rushing yards

(2,162 – 135.1 per game) and second-most passing yards (3,852 – 240.8 per game), along with the fifth-most total points (342 – 21.4 per game). Tampa Bay ranked fifth in the NFL in yards per game (375.9), fifth in rushing yards per game (135.1) and second in the league in rush average (4.75). It marked the first time in franchise history that the Buccaneers have finished in the Top five in total offense.

Much of Tampa Bay's offensive success in 2015 came at the hands of rookie quarterback Jameis Winston, who accounted for 28 total touchdowns (22 passing, six rushing). Koetter also helped guide Winston to 4,042 passing yards, which were the second-most in a single season in team history and the third-most by a rookie in NFL history. Winston's 22 passing touchdowns were tied for the fourth-most in a single season in team history and the fourth-most by a rookie in NFL history. His six rushing touchdowns and 28 combined touchdowns were the most in a single season by a Buccaneers quarterback, while his 28 total touchdowns were tied for the third-most by a rookie in NFL history.

Prior to Koetter's arrival, the Buccaneers ranked 29th in rushing and tied for 29th in sacks allowed in 2014. This past season, under Koetter's guidance, the unit completed an impressive turnaround. Despite starting two rookies on the offensive line, Tampa Bay still managed to block for the NFL's second-leading rusher (Doug Martin – 1,402 yards) and tied for the fourth-fewest sacks in the league. While Martin was a large part of the team's success running the ball, he was aided by running back Charles Sims, who totaled 1,090 scrimmage yards (107 rushes for 529 yards, 51 catches for 561 yards). Sims averaged 6.9 yards per touch, the most by any player in the NFL with at least 150 touches since 2011 (Darren Sproles in 2011, 7.6 avg.). Martin and Sims' combined 2,566 yards from scrimmage were the most by a running back duo in the NFL in 2015 and set a franchise record for backfield teammates.

Koetter also played a key role in revamping the Buccaneers' passing game. Part of the team's success passing the ball came from targeting top wide receiver Mike Evans, who caught 74 passes for 1,206 yards. His 1,206 yards are the seventh-most in a single season in team history and stood as the 11th-most in the league last season. Sims' 561 receiving yards were the fourth-most by a running back in the NFL in 2015, while his four receiving touchdowns set a franchise record and tied for the second-most in the league by a running back.

Koetter joined the Buccaneers after three seasons working as the offensive coordinator for the Atlanta Falcons (2012-14). During his three seasons with Atlanta, the team cumulatively ranked second in the NFL in completion percentage (67.4), third in third-down conversion percentage (44.1), fourth in passing yards (277.2 per game), ninth in passing touchdowns (86), ninth in passer rating (93.9), 10th in points (24.0 per game) and 10th in total yardage (363.5 per game), while posting the second-fewest penalties (243) and penalty yards (2,043), seventh-fewest turnovers (69) and the ninth-lowest interception percentage (2.4) in the league. Koetter was part of the Falcons staff that went 13-3 in 2012 and played in the NFC Championship Game.

Under Koetter, Falcons quarterback Matt Ryan posted the three of the four highest passing yardage seasons in franchise history, as well as three of the five highest completion percentage seasons. In 2012, Ryan set franchise records and personal bests in passing yards (4,719), completion percentage (68.6) and passing touchdowns (32), while recording the second-highest passer rating mark in Falcons history (99.1). Atlanta wide receivers also flourished under Koetter, with Julio Jones setting a franchise record and ranking third in the NFL in receiving yards in 2014 with 1,593 yards. In those three seasons, the Falcons had a different player lead the team in receiving yards each season (Roddy White, 2012; Harry Douglas, 2013; Jones, 2014).

While Koetter was in charge of the Falcons' offense, he coached three players to Pro Bowl appearances (Julio Jones, 2012, 2014; Tony Gonzalez, 2012-13; Matt Ryan, 2012), with Gonzalez earning first-team All-Pro honors in 2012. In his first season with Koetter in 2012, Gonzalez set a franchise record for receiving yards by a tight end, recording 93 catches for 930 yards – the most he had recorded in either category since 2008. That same season, Jones and White combined for 2,549 receiving yards, the most by a duo in the NFL.

Prior to joining the Falcons, Koetter spent five seasons as the offensive coordinator of the Jacksonville Jaguars (2007-11). In his five years with the Jaguars, the team cumulatively ranked third in the NFL in rushing yards (132.0 per game) and sixth in rushing average (4.41). Koetter's Jacksonville offenses also showed a penchant for taking care of the football, tallying the seventh-fewest turnovers in the league during that time.

DIRK KOETTER

Koetter had immediate success in Jacksonville, with his 2007 team setting franchise records in points (25.7 per game, sixth in the NFL) and total offense (357 yards per game, seventh in the NFL). In his first season as the starter, quarterback David Garrard ranked third in the NFL and set a franchise record in passer rating (102.2), throwing a league-low three interceptions, while leading the team to a Wild Card playoff berth and a win over the Pittsburgh Steelers. In 2008, Garrard threw for a career-best 3,620 yards and in 2010 he tossed 23 touchdowns, a career high and a franchise record.

While with the Jaguars, Koetter coached four different players to six Pro Bowl selections, including running back Maurice Jones-Drew, who earned three trips to the Pro Bowl and led the NFL in rushing in 2010 en route to earning an All-Pro selection. Koetter also helped tight end Mercedes Lewis earn a Pro Bowl berth following the 2010 season, when Lewis caught 10 touchdown passes, then tied for the most in a season in Jaguars history.

Before joining the Jaguars, Koetter spent 22 years at the collegiate level, the final six as the head coach at Arizona State (2001-06). In his six seasons with the Sun Devils, Koetter led the team to four bowl games, posting a 40-34 record. Working as both the head coach and offensive coordinator, he helped Arizona State average nearly 30 points per game over six seasons, while ranking in the top 20 in the nation in passing offense in five of his six years. In addition, five of the six Sun Devil teams during Koetter's tenure produced a 1,000-yard receiver and quarterbacks that threw for 20 or more touchdowns in five of six seasons.

Koetter's first head coaching opportunity came at Boise State, where he spent three seasons (1998-2000), finishing with a 26-10 record and two consecutive bowl wins. He was a two-time Big West Coach of the Year and two-time conference champion.

A native of Pocatello, Idaho, Koetter played collegiately at Idaho State (1978-81), helping his team to a Division I-AA national championship as a senior. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in physical education and earned a master's in athletic administration a year later. After getting his master's, he became the head coach at Highland (Idaho) High School, where he worked from 1983-84, going 19-4 and winning the 1984 state championship.

In 1985, Koetter worked as the offensive coordinator at San Francisco State and from 1986-88 was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Texas El-Paso. He then served as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Missouri from 1989-93 and offensive coordinator at Boston College (1994-95) and Oregon (1996-97).

Koetter, 57, and his wife, Kim, have two daughters, Kaylee and Kendra, and two sons, Derek and Davis.

JACK DEL RIO

Jack Del Rio was named the 19th head coach in the 56-year history of the Oakland Raiders franchise on Jan. 15, 2015.

In his first season with the Raiders, Del Rio oversaw significant improvements as the Raiders more than doubled the previous year's win total. Oakland moved up 15 spots in the NFL rankings in turnover ratio, finishing 17th in the league (+1) after ranking 32nd in 2014

(-15). The team improved in five major statistical categories on offense alone, making gains in total offense, rushing, passing, points per game and third-down efficiency. On defense, the Raiders improved in rushing defense, points per game allowed and third-down defense. Six Raiders were selected for the Pro Bowl, matching a franchise record set in 1994.

As defensive coordinator with the Denver Broncos from 2012-14, Del Rio was part of three-straight AFC West titles and helped lead Denver to an AFC Championship and appearance in Super Bowl XLVIII following the 2013 campaign. It marked his second stint under Head Coach John Fox, as the two also spent the 2002 season together in Carolina. In all, he has coached 24 players to a total of 33 Pro Bowl selections.

Prior to joining the Broncos in 2012, Del Rio spent nine seasons at the helm in Jacksonville. During his head coaching tenure (2003 to 2011) with the Jaguars, the club ranked sixth in the NFL in yards per game allowed (317.3) and eighth in points per game allowed (20.3).

Under Del Rio, the Jaguars made two playoff appearances in 2005 and 2007, highlighted by the club's first postseason win in eight seasons with a 31-29 road victory against the Pittsburgh Steelers in a 2007 AFC Wild Card Game.

During his lone season as a defensive coordinator with Carolina in 2002, he inherited the NFL's worst defense statistically (371.4 yards per game allowed) and turned it into the league's second-ranked unit (290.4 yards per game allowed).

As linebackers coach for the Baltimore Ravens from 1999-2001, Del Rio tutored a talented group that included Peter Boulware, Ray Lewis and Jamie Sharper.

Del Rio began his coaching career with the New Orleans Saints under Head Coach Mike Ditka, serving as an assistant strength coach in 1997 before moving on to coach the linebackers in 1998.

A veteran of 11 seasons as an NFL linebacker, he was selected in the third round (68th overall) of the 1985 NFL Draft by New Orleans. Following two seasons in New Orleans (1985-86), he played for Kansas City (1987-88), Dallas (1989-91) and Minnesota (1992-95).

Del Rio was a four-year starter at the University of Southern California, where he earned consensus All-American honors as a senior and was runner-up for the Lombardi Award, given to the nation's best lineman or linebacker.

Del Rio was a three-sport star in football, baseball and basketball at Hayward High School in Hayward, Calif. He earned a degree in political science from the University of Kansas while playing for the Chiefs.

Born on April 4, 1963, in Castro Valley, Calif., Del Rio and his wife, Linda, have three daughters, Lauren, Hope and Aubrey, and a son, Luke, who is a quarterback at the University of Florida.

ALEXANDER THE GREAT

Buccaneers General Manager Jason Licht spent 12 of his first 13 draft picks with Tampa Bay on offense. But in a case of quality over quantity, Licht's first (and only) selection on the defensive side of the ball came in the fourth round of the 2015 NFL Draft, with the Buccaneers selecting LB Kwon Alexander out of LSU. Alexander immediately took over as the starter at middle linebacker and has made his presence known and earned PFWA All-Rookie honors.

ALEXANDER VS. ROOKIE DEFENDERS

In 2015, Alexander made plays all over the field, totaling 93 tackles, five tackles for loss, nine passes defended, two interceptions (15 return yards), 3.0 sacks, two forced fumble and one fumble recovery.

Alexander was one of three players in the NFL with at least 90 tackles, five passes defended, 3.0 sacks, two interceptions, two forced fumble and one fumble recovery (also Lavonte David & Thomas Davis).

ALEXANDER IN BUCCANEERS HISTORY

While Alexander has proven himself an adept tackler, ranking second on the team, he has made his biggest contributions to the team by forcing turnovers. Despite playing only 12 games as a rookie, he created three takeaways (two interceptions, one fumble recovery).

Alexander's two interceptions are tied for the eighth-most by a rookie in team history and are tied for the most ever by a Buccaneers rookie linebacker (also Hugh Green and Dave Lewis).

Alexander tied with former linebackers Keith Browner (2.0 in 1984) and Mason Foster (2.0 in 2011) for the second-most sacks by a rookie linebacker in team history. Alexander joins former S David Greenwood as the only rookies in team history to have at least 2.0 sacks and two interceptions in their first season.

STRENGTH OF THE SOUTH

Over the previous 14 seasons, one could argue that the toughest division in the NFL is the NFC South. Since realignment in 2002, the NFC South is one of only four divisions in the NFL to have every team earn a division championship, and is the only division to have each of its teams make a conference championship appearance. The NFC East, NFC West and AFC West are the only other divisions to have all four teams earn a division championship since realignment.

The NFC South has also been represented eight times in a conference championship game, tied for the best in the NFC and tied for the second-most in the NFL. The NFC South is also tied for the second-most appearances in the Super Bowl (4), the second-most by any NFC division. It is also tied for the most different teams to the Super Bowl of any division, sending three different teams (Tampa Bay, Carolina, New Orleans), a feat that only the NFC West has matched (Arizona, San Francisco and Seattle).

SUPER BOWL APPEARANCES & WINS SINCE 2002

Division	Appearances	Wins
AFC East	5	3
NFC West	5	1
AFC North	4	3
NFC South	4	2
NFC East	3	2
AFC South	2	1

Division	Number
AFC East	11
NFC South	8
NFC West	8
AFC North	7
NFC East	6
NFC North	6
AFC South	5
AFC West	5

The NFC South is also the only division to have more than one team win a Super Bowl (Tampa Bay, New Orleans), since 2002. The NFC South has had a very even split of division champions, with three of the four teams winning three times each and the Panthers having captured five division titles.

NFC SOUTH DIVISION TITLES SINCE 2002

Team	Number
Carolina	5
Tampa Bay	3
Atlanta	3
New Orleans	3

In 2010, the NFC South recorded another impressive feat, as they were the only division to have three teams finish with a winning record, with three of the four teams finish with a double-digit win total (Atlanta – 13-3; New Orleans – 11-5; Tampa Bay – 10-6). It marked just the second time, dating back to realignment in 2002, that a division has had three teams with double-digit wins in the same season (also the AFC South in 2007). The feat was matched by the NFC North in 2012, the NFC West in 2013 and the AFC North in 2014.

In 2008, the NFC South again showed its overall strength, as it finished as one of only three divisions in the League to have three of its four teams with a record of 9-7 or better (also AFC East and NFC East) and is one of two divisions to have all of its teams at 8-8 or better (also NFC East). The NFC South also finished with a remarkable 27-5 overall home record in 2008, the best combined home winning percentage by a division in NFL history (.844), with the next best division last season, the NFC East, holding an 23-9 record at home. The South was also a near-perfect 11-1 at home when facing other South division opponents in 2008. The Bucs contributed significantly to that mark, as they finished 6-2 at home, winning their first six games at Raymond James Stadium in 2008.

BEST COMBINED HOME RECORD BY A DIVISION IN NFL HISTORY

BUCCANEERS DEBUT VIDEO BOARDS & HALL OF FAME CLUBS

On Friday, August 26, the Tampa Bay Buccaneers played their first home game of the 2016 preseason against the Cleveland Browns, offering Buccaneers fans their first opportunity to see the team's all-new video boards and sound system, as well as the team's premium seating Hall of Fame Club. These upgrades are just part one of the comprehensive renovations scheduled for Raymond James Stadium.

Two new main video displays, one towering over each end zone, measure 60 feet high by 160 feet wide for 9,600 square feet each. Four tower displays have also been installed, one in each corner of the stadium, and measure approximately 61 feet high by 43 feet wide for 2,304 square feet each. The total display area of 28,416 square feet is third largest in the NFL.

FACTS & FIGURES

- End zone displays: 60 feet high by 160 feet wide - a total of 9,600 square feet
- Tower displays: 61 high by 43 feet wide - a total of 2,304 square feet
- Total display size: 28,416 square feet-third-largest in NFL
- Sound system: distributed audio throughout the stadium

These displays' excellent image clarity and contrast, sun-cutting brightness, and industry-leading environmental protection will keep them operating as expected in the harsh coastal elements. They are capable of variable content zoning which allows them each to show one large image or to show multiple windows with any variety of live video, instant replays, up-to-the-minute statistics, game information, graphics, animations and sponsorship messages.

This installation also features four additional scoreboard displays – two above each main display – measuring approximately 7 feet high by 45 feet wide. Two ribbon displays, one on each sideline's seating fascia, each measure 6 feet high by 680 feet long. All six displays feature 15HD pixel layouts and provide the ability to supplement content on the main displays as well as highlight sponsors throughout events.

The team also be debuted the Hall of Fame Clubs – an all-new, premium seating concept featuring all-inclusive food and drink options, air-conditioned comfort and one of the best views of the action on the field. The new clubs – which are located on the suite level of Raymond James Stadium – will be limited to 240 seats and feature expansive, 9,500 square-foot, open-floor designs, including prime food and drink options as well as a full liquor bar for purchase.

Membership in the Hall of Fame Clubs provide VIP access to all Raymond James Stadium events including all Buccaneers home games, USF home football games, the Outback Bowl, Monster Jam, concerts and other special events included in one price. Members will also have the option to purchase their seats for the 2017 College Football National Championship Game.

TREASURE CHESTS 5K RUN/WALK & CORPORATE CHALLENGE

On Saturday, October 29 at 8:00 a.m., the Tampa Bay Buccaneers will host the fourth annual Treasure Chests 5K Run/Walk & Corporate Challenge. More than 4,000 participants are expected for the event, which will support breast cancer research and patient services, benefitting the American Cancer Society, the Florida Cancer Specialists Foundation, the Florida Hospital Foundation, and Moffitt Cancer Center. Over the past three years, the Buccaneers have distributed more than $100,000 towards breast cancer research and patient services through this event. The race also coincides with the Buccaneers' involvement in the NFL-wide Breast Cancer Awareness Month, which will be celebrated throughout Sunday afternoon's game at Raymond James Stadium versus the Oakland Raiders.

Registration includes a ticket to Sunday's Buccaneers game, a Treasure Chests 5K t-shirt, a chipped race bib, and a donation to breast cancer research and patient services. The first, second, and third place male and female winners for all age categories will receive medals.

The route for the Treasure Chests 5K Run/Walk & Corporate Challenge winds around Raymond James Stadium. The first 500 people who registered for the race will get even closer to the action, as they will have the opportunity to be part of an on-field halftime experience. Tervis and Coca-Cola are supporting sponsors for Sunday's event. For more information, visit Buccaneers.com/treasurechests5k.

ABOUT THE NFL'S "A CRUCIAL CATCH" CAMPAIGN

For the eighth year, the National Football League, the American Cancer Society and the NFL Players Association are teaming up to support October's National Breast Cancer Awareness Month with "A Crucial Catch: Screening Saves Lives" campaign, reminding women about the importance of having a regular mammogram.

Fans may donate directly to the American Cancer Society at cancer.org/donate.

Since 2009, nearly $15 million has been raised for the American Cancer Society through the partnership, with the majority of contributions coming from the sale of pink merchandise at retail and the NFL Auction website. One-hundred percent of proceeds from pink products auctioned on NFL Auction go directly to the American Cancer Society. The NFL does not profit from the sale or auction of pink merchandise. Fans may learn more information about A Crucial Catch at nfl.com/pink.

Money raised through A Crucial Catch supports the American Cancer Society's Community Health Advocates implementing Nationwide Grants for Empowerment and Equity (CHANGE) program. This initiative provides outreach and breast cancer screenings to women in underserved communities. Healthcare centers in all 32 NFL team markets will receive a $50,000 CHANGE grant to increase access to screenings and additional cancer prevention and early detection programs. Since 2012, grant recipients have contributed to more than 120,000 screenings, and more than 260,000 education and outreach interventions have been provided to women on the benefits and importance of breast cancer screenings.
