Raiders 33, Colts 25

- The Raiders defeated the Colts by a score of 33-25, and gave the Raiders a record of 12-3 for the first time since 2000, when the team advanced to the AFC Championship game after finishing the season 12-4.
- By beating the Colts, the Raiders ended a four-game skid against Indianapolis, with their previous win coming on Oct. 14, 2001.
- The Silver and Black improved their all-time record against Indianapolis to 8-6 with today's victory.
- The victory assures the Raiders will maintain possession of first place in the AFC West through Week 16, as the second-place Chiefs will play on Christmas day at home against the Broncos.
- The victory improves Oakland's home record in 2016 to 6-2, a mark that ties the most home wins in a season since 2002.

Game Themes

- RB DeAndré Washington scores two times and totaled over 100 yards in the victory.
- The Raiders' defense pitched a scoreless first quarter for the seventh time this season.
