GIANT FOOD DRIVE - #FEEDTHEFLOCK

The Baltimore Ravens are joining the Maryland Food Bank and Giant Food once again in the fight against hunger with the 21st Annual Family Food & Funds Drive. In 2016, fans are encouraged to #FeedTheFlock and donate food or funds at the Ravens vs. Bengals game on Nov. 27 for those who are hungry and in need. Donations can also be given online through the virtual food drive. Every donation counts, as it only takes $1 to provide four meals. In Maryland alone, more than 750,000 people suffer from food insecurity. Nearly half of that number, including 99,000 children, are in Baltimore City and Baltimore, Howard and Anne Arundel counties. Join the Ravens, Giant Food and the Maryland Food Bank in food collection efforts to #FeedTheFlock.

SOUTHWEST AIRLINES: TRADING PLACES 2016

On Nov. 14, two players tested out a new occupation on their day off. The Ravens surprised travelers by taking on the role of Southwest Airlines customer service representatives and operations agents. Passengers in the terminal were greeted by Ravens CB Jeraud Powers and G/C John Urschel at Baltimore/Washington International Thurgood Marshall Airport. Southwest Airlines invited the two to trade places with staff, making them responsible for onboarding passengers and giving pre-flight announcements on the plane. Ravens mascot, Poe and Ravens Cheerleaders were also in on the fun.
