

RAVENS IN OUR COMMUNITY

SALUTE TO SERVICE

On Saturday (11/9), the Baltimore Ravens teamed up with USO Metro, Safeway and Coke Consolidated for a special military appreciation event to thank and honor military members and their families. Over 800 participants took part in a special drive-through celebration station on base at Ft. Meade, where they were able to interact with mascot Poe and Ravens Cheerleaders prior to receiving Ravens giveaways, as well as Safeway tailgate bags and Coke products.

On Monday (11/16), several Ravens Legends and local combat veterans participated in a virtual workout, facilitated by Merging Vets and Players (MVP). Following the workout, they took part in a "huddle," which served as an opportunity for the two different groups to have open dialogue, provide peer support and build camaraderie.

Poe and Leidos representatives will visit local Department of Veteran Affairs medical centers to deliver Dunkin' donuts and coffee, and other Ravens and Xfinity giveaways to front line staff. The caravan will make stops at Perry Point VA Medical Center and Baltimore VA Medical Center. The original dates of the caravan will be postponed to a safer time due to COVID-19.

GAMEDAY SUPPORT

This Sunday (11/22), the Ravens Salute to Service gameday programming will include camouflage helmet decals, ribbon pins for coaches, caps and pins for players, on-field military ribbon stencils, Salute to Service wall banners and camouflage colored goal post padding in the end zones. Prior to the game, the Ravens will play a pre-recorded rendition of the National Anthem from a brass quintet in the 229th Maryland Army National Guard Band. Lastly, the Ravens installed a fan cutout section dedicated to service members that will be displayed at the game. Fans had the opportunity to honor a loved one who is actively serving, or has previously served, with a special picture cutout, and all proceeds benefitted the Tragedy Assistance Program for Survivors (TAPS).

PARTNER SUPPORT

Proud Partner of the Baltimore Ravens

This season, the Ravens, Campbell's Chunky Soup and Blue Star Families are surprising military members from across the country with the ultimate "homegating" kit! Those servicemen and servicewomen will be highlighted each week via the @RavensCommunity twitter page. We are proud to support the brave men and women of our armed forces and are happy to help them continue their tailgating tradition of food, family, friends and football from home!
