

RAVENS IN OUR COMMUNITY

COAT DISTRIBUTION

The Baltimore Ravens hosted their 13th-annual Ravens Coat Giveaway at the Helping Up Mission men's homeless shelter on Monday, Nov. 21. Ravens players, including P Sam Koch, WR Steve Smith Sr. and RB Terrance West, distributed coats and warm weather gear to Baltimore men in need. The Helping Up Mission is a community leader helping men fighting addiction and homelessness in the Baltimore area get their lives back. Its comprehensive recovery programs address root issues of substance abuse and poverty. Each day, it serves 1,200 meals and provides shelter for 500 men.

UNDER ARMOUR SHOE GIVEAWAY

On Monday, Nov. 28, Ravens S Matt Elam and DE Kapron Lewis-Moore joined Under Armour staff to donate and deliver shoes to students at Dr. Carter G. Woodson Elementary/Middle School and George Washington Elementary School. In October, the Ravens hosted these students at their fifth-annual Ravens TEAM Challenge at Banner Field of Latrobe Park as part of the 2016 NFL/United Way Hometown Huddle. The students received new Under Armour shoes as a reward for their ongoing dedication to the NFL's PLAY 60 initiative, which encourages students to get physically active for at least 60 minutes a day, before, during and after school.

PLAY 60 SCHOOL ASSEMBLIES

On Monday, Nov. 28, the Baltimore Ravens hosted reward assemblies for the top performing schools from their Ravens PLAY 60 Challenge, as part of the national campaign aimed at getting children active for at least 60 minutes per day. Ravens players, along with cheerleaders and mascot Poe, hosted three assemblies for students to discuss the importance of physical activity in their everyday lives and participate in activities promoting the PLAY 60 message. The Ravens visited Deer Park and West Towson Elementary Schools, located in Baltimore County, as well as Robert Moton Elementary School in Carroll County.
