Foxworth Gives the Gift of Reading

On Tuesday (12/21), Ravens CB Domonique Foxworth hosted a holiday event at the Inner Harbor Barnes & Noble for the second consecutive year. Fifty youths enjoyed a Chipotle lunch before participating in a book shopping spree. Foxworth provided each child with a $50 gift card, as well as a special gift picked out by the cornerback. CB Lardarius Webb (pictured to the right of Foxworth) joined his teammate to assist the youth in selecting books.

McGahee Hosts Annual Holiday Event

Ravens RB Willis McGahee hosted his fourth annual Gift of Giving event on Tuesday (12/21). Held at the Hilton Homewood Suites (Columbia, Md.), more than 30 Howard County families were treated to a seated meal, an onsite salon/spa visit, and the youth were able to choose gifts both for themselves and one for a loved one.

Flacco Visits Hospital for the Holidays

On Tuesday (12/21), Ravens QB Joe Flacco visited Union Memorial Hospital (Baltimore, Md.), a division of MedStar Health. Joined by Ravens cheerleaders and mascot Poe, Flacco roamed from room to room visiting patients and staff.

Ravens Spread Holiday Cheer

On Tuesday (12/21), 60 students from Belmont Elementary School (Baltimore, Md.) received a holiday bowling and games party at Dave & Buster's (Hanover, Md.). Former Ravens LB Bart Scott financed the event and solicited the help of Ravens RB Curtis Steele (above right) and CB Fabian Washington (above left) to host the party. The Ravens players encouraged the youth when they bowled, ate lunch and played games. The players also served as Santa's helpers as they distributed gifts to each child.

Houshmandzadeh Assists Single Mothers

WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh delivered dinner fixings and gifts to more than 90 single mothers at Robert C. Marshall Recreation Center (Baltimore, Md.) on Tuesday (12/21). In partnership with Giant Food, Houshmandzadeh supplied each mother with a holiday meal. Houshmandzadeh purchased a turkey and a ham, while Giant donated several side items. Each family also received holiday gifts and an autographed photograph from the wide receiver, who greeted each family and posed for pictures.
