

RAVENS IN OUR COMMUNITY

HISPANIC HERITAGE FOOTBALL CLINIC

For the past seven years, the Baltimore Ravens have made an extra effort to celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month through their annual Hispanic Heritage football clinic. On Monday, Sept. 21, in conjunction with the NFL's Play 60 movement, Ravens players, cheerleaders and mascot Poe provided a free football clinic for close to 200 children, ages 5 - 13, from the Maryland Hispanic youth organizations EBLO and Centro de la Comunidad. S Terrence Brooks, DT Carl Davis, DB Anthony Levine Sr., RB Terrence Magee and S Nick Perry joined the celebration by helping run several different stations throughout the afternoon.

HISPANIC HERITAGE LEADERSHIP AWARD

At their home game against the Cincinnati Bengals on Sunday, Sept. 27, the Ravens honored Yolanda Maria Martinez with the NFL's 2015 Hispanic Heritage Leadership Award for her dedication and work within the Hispanic communities of Baltimore. Martinez is the Founder and CEO of Respira Medical, a company dedicated to serving over 80,000 patients requiring custom-tailored homecare programs. She has also served on numerous boards and affiliations including Chair of the Governor's Commission on Hispanic Affairs, Executive Board of the NAACP-Baltimore and past President of the Baltimore Hispanic Chamber of Commerce. Martinez has chosen the Latino Provider's Network, Inc. to receive a $2,000 grant from the Hispanic Heritage Foundation to support its continued work in Baltimore's Hispanic community.
