PLAY 60 KICKOFF ASSEMBLIES

For the fourth-consecutive year, the Ravens partnered with the Carroll County school district to execute the Play 60 Challenge through the school system's existing Project ACES (Active Children Excel in School) program. On Tuesday (10/8), Ravens TE Ed Dickson, S Michael Huff and LB Jameel McClain hosted an event with students at Spring Garden (Hampstead, Md.) Elementary School to kick off the Play 60 Challenge/Project ACES. By combining forces, the Play 60 Challenge/Project ACES program will reach 26 elementary schools throughout Carroll County, totaling over 14,000 students.

The Baltimore Ravens and Mid-Atlantic Dairy Association continued their promotion of the in-school Play 60 Challenge on Tuesday (10/8) as part of the national NFL Play 60 campaign aimed at getting children active for at least 60 minutes a day. Ravens FB Kyle Juszczyk and DT Brandon Williams, along with Ravens cheerleaders and mascot Poe, hosted an assembly for students at Essex (Baltimore, Md.) Elementary School to discuss the importance of physical activity in their everyday lives.

BCA INITIATIVES

During the month of October, the Baltimore Ravens support Breast Cancer Awareness Month through a variety of initiatives, highlighted by last Sunday's Ravens vs. Packers game at M&T Bank Stadium. The initiatives incorporated at that game included the distribution of over 50,000 pink ribbons to fans who entered the stadium, an on-field ceremony honoring 22 women – a combination of breast cancer survivors and those currently undergoing treatment – prior to kickoff and the numerous pink elements worn by players, coaches, cheerleaders and mascot Poe during the game. The merchandise worn was collected after the game and will be auctioned off at www.nfl.com/auction, with proceeds benefitting the American Cancer Society. Breast Cancer Awareness Month was also recognized on the high school level when the Catonsville Comets hosted the Milford Mill Millers at their homecoming game on Friday (10/11). Both varsity teams sported pink gear, and the field was decorated with breast cancer awareness banners, all donated by the Ravens.
