MILITARY APPRECIATION DAY

QB Joe Flacco

The Ravens' second open training camp practice was held on Aug. 11, 2013 at M&T Bank Stadium. All fans were welcomed to attend the practice, though there was a particular emphasis placed upon those fans who are currently serving or who have previously served in the military. Multiple sections of the stadium were designated solely to military members and their immediate family. Along with the special seating, veterans and active service members were given an exclusive and limited patriotic Ravens t-shirt. Family members received camouflaged Ravens-themed eye black stickers. Head coach John Harbaugh and QB Joe Flacco addressed the military sections prior to practice, expressing his appreciation and gratitude for their support. At the conclusion of practice, all players stayed on the field to sign autographs for fans. During this practice which drew over 25,000 fans, M&T Bank Stadium hosted close to 3,000 service members.

Numerous days throughout training camp, the Ravens hosted groups of service members or wounded warriors to the Under Armour Performance Center. Members of Under Armour's Wounded Warrior Program ventured to the Owings Mills facility to watch practice and meet players at its conclusion. The other groups consisted of men and women currently serving with the Maryland National Guard and Maryland Air National Guard. Children of military members stationed at Aberdeen Proving Ground were also invited to practice.
