

RAVENS IN OUR COMMUNITY

COCA-COLA MILITARY COMBINE

On Nov. 2, the Baltimore Ravens hosted military members from all five branches for the third annual Coca-Cola Military Combine. All participants were then invited to take part in the Ravens' pre-game ceremony for the Ravens vs. Texans Salute to Service game on Nov. 17. The winning team will also have the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to run out with the team during pre-game introductions. Ravens legend DB Lardarius Webb, cheerleaders and mascot Poe were all in attendance for the fun day filled with excitement and competition.

BOBBI ENGRAM FOUNDATION 5K

On Nov. 2, TE's coach Bobby Engram and the Bobbi Engram Sickle Cell Foundation hosted a 5k Run, Walk & Roll to Cure Sickle Cell. The race served to honor Bobby's late daughter, Bobbi, who passed away from complications due to sickle cell disease in 2018. Participants also had the opportunity to meet Ravens players, team president Dick Cass, cheerleaders, mascot Poe and members of the Marching Ravens.

BOZEMAN FOUNDATION HALLOWEEN PARTY

On Oct. 29, The Bradley and Nikki Bozeman Foundation hosted a Halloween costume party. QB Lamar Jackson, LB Patrick Onwuasor, CB Marlon Humphrey and 20 Ravens teammates were in attendance for a night of fun, laughter and crazy costumes. The Bozeman Foundation focuses on the dangers of childhood bullying, while serving to support parents and schools to prevent bullying behavior.
