

RAVENS IN OUR COMMUNITY

NOVEMBER FOOD COLLECTION

On Sunday, Nov. 1, the Baltimore Ravens launched their November Food Collection efforts at their home game against the San Diego Chargers, in conjunction with Giant Food and the Maryland Food Bank (MFB). MFB and M&T Bank volunteers were joined by the Lady Ravens Association, a group comprised of Ravens players' and coaches' wives, to collect monetary and non-perishable food donations outside all M&T Bank Stadium entrance gates. In celebration of the Ravens' 20th season and 20 years of supporting the Maryland Food Bank, this year's collection goal is 20,000 pounds of food.

MAN UP! EVENT

In honor of National Domestic Violence Awareness Month, House of Ruth Maryland held its second-annual "Man Up!" event on Tuesday, Nov. 3, at M&T Bank Stadium. The event was a continuation of the organization's initiative to engage and educate men about intimate partner violence. The Ravens, who entered into a three-year partnership with the House of Ruth in 2014, were the event's sponsor, and president Dick Cass (pictured bottom left) and team chaplain Johnny Shelton spoke about the importance of the "Man Up!" campaign.
