

RAVENS IN OUR COMMUNITY

PASS IT FORWARD

Continuing their four-month activation of the 2018 “Pass It Forward” campaign, the Baltimore Ravens and Verizon surprised fans through random acts of kindness at various Baltimore-area locations on Monday, Oct. 29. The campaign’s goal is to create a positive social movement that begins with these events and encourages recipients to “Pass It Forward.” In turn, fans are encouraged to share their own personal random acts of kindness. DB/LB Anthony Levine Sr. and ILB Patrick Onwuasor distributed pizza and soft drinks to fire station employees, followed by surprising unsuspecting customers at a 7-Eleven Gas Station and Convenience Store with $25 gas gift cards.

PROS VS. GI JOES

On Oct. 26, the Ravens hosted a Pros vs. GI Joes event, in support of the NFL’s Salute to Service initiative. The event was held in the auditorium of the Under Armour Practice Facility. After Friday’s practice, several players, including S Tony Jefferson and DT Brandon Williams (below), played video games with servicemen currently serving overseas. Pros vs. GI Joes provides troops, serving all over the world, with once-in-a-lifetime opportunities to take on their favorite professional athletes or celebrities in head-to-head video game competition. Servicemen stationed in Kabul, Saudi Arabia and Jordan logged in to participate in the gaming competitions with Ravens players in Owings Mills.

BRANDON CARR SUPPORTS BREAST CANCER PATIENTS

On Monday, Oct. 29, CB Brandon Carr partnered with the National Breast Cancer Foundation (NBCF) to provide a full day of support to patients undergoing treatment. In celebration of Breast Cancer Awareness month and to honor his late mother, Carr visited with patients at MedStar Franklin Square Medical Center in the morning. He followed that with the packaging of HOPE Kits in the afternoon at the Under Armour Performance Center with current players, staff and volunteers. HOPE Kits are a tangible expression of hope and comfort that are filled with thoughtful items, such as fuzzy socks, lip balm and lotion. In addition, Carr provided 24 women with custom-fitted wigs.
