Mason and Boldin Host Holiday Helpers

Ravens WRs Derrick Mason and Anquan Boldin (at left) hosted the sixth annual Holiday Helpers event on Thursday (12/16). Together with their charitable foundations, the players donated $10,000 to provide gift cards for 60 youth to enjoy a shopping spree at Target (Pikesville, Md.). Mason and Boldin served as personal shoppers along with Ravens cheerleaders and teammates DT Terrence Cody, TE Ed Dickson, LB Dannell Ellerbe, WR Justin Harper, TE Todd Heap, LB Jarret Johnson and WR David Reed.

The festivities also included Ravens mascot Poe and a karaoke DJ. In addition to the shopping spree, each child received a pre-shopping pizza party, Holiday Helpers t-shirt, a keepsake photograph with their personal shopper and a gift bag with items from the Ravens and Target.

Lady Ravens Support Adopt-A-Family

On Thursday (12/16), the Lady Ravens represented Off the Field (an NFL players' wives association) to assist Sam's Club with The Salvation Army's Adopt-a-Family program. Fourteen Lady Ravens, including organizers Sarah Carr and Nicole Cundiff, visited Sam's Club (Owings, Mills, Md.) to shop for 10 selected families. Through The Salvation Army, each family received up to $800 in gifts and an additional $200 in gift cards for food items. The Lady Ravens purchased items from the families' wish lists, wrapped the gifts and helped distribute them at The Salvation Army's headquarters.
