

Back to School: Ready, Set, Learn!

As summer came to a close and classes kicked off, Ravens players swooped in to ensure the Baltimore community was all set for a successful school year! From backpacks to haircuts, they brought the energy and excitement to gear students up for a great start!

Roquan Smith visited 100 students from Hamilton Elementary and Middle School on August 25. Each received a backpack, school supplies and a haircut!

Derrick Henry passed out 200 backpacks at Curtis Bay Elementary School on August 18.

Ravens Cheerleaders also made a special appearance.

Smith joined in on the fun by playing Jenga with the students!

Backpacks and highfives!

The students were smiling from ear to ear.
