

MY CAUSE MY CLEATS

Against the Pittsburgh Steelers on 12/5, Baltimore Ravens players revealed their passions beyond the game and wore their hearts on their feet through My Cause My Cleats. Players had the opportunity to pick a cause that is important to them and represent their chosen organization on custom-designed cleats.

TE Mark Andrews – JDRF Diabetes Foundation: As a type 1 diabetic, Mark Andrews has continuously spread awareness and empowerment to those who also have the condition. JDRF is a nonprofit organization that funds type 1 diabetes research and provides community and activist services to the T1D population.

C Bradley Bozeman – The Bradley & Nikki Bozeman Foundation: The Bradley & Nikki Bozeman Foundation is committed to strengthening communities through a variety of initiatives that include food security, youth engagement and education equality. The goal is to level the playing field for all children.

DB/LB Anthony Levine Sr. – 4Every1 Foundation: The Anthony Levine 4Every1 Foundation is dedicated to helping at-risk youth and their families build better futures through mentorship, educational opportunities and life-changing experiences. Their work includes SAT prep, a digital literacy collaborative and summer football clinic.

LB Patrick Queen – Autism Awareness: The puzzle piece has been used as a symbol for autism awareness, promoting solutions across the spectrum and throughout the life span for the needs of individuals with autism and their families.

LB Kristian Welch – Warrior Rising: Warrior Rising empowers U.S. military veterans and their immediate family by providing them with opportunities to create sustainable businesses, perpetuate the hiring of fellow American veterans and earn their future.

