JOHN W. MECOM, JR.
Owner and President

After 14 seasons as chief executive of the Saints, John W. Mecom, Jr., holds a special optimism and excitement for what lies ahead for New Orleans' professional football franchise.

"Everyone in New Orleans identifies with our team," explained the Saints owner and president. "It's nice to be a part of something, but it's even better to feel a part of it. Our fans feel that they are a part of the Saints, and that type of support is a great motivation for all of us working to give those fans a winner."

Mecom was awarded the Saints franchise on December 15, 1966 and became, at age 27, the youngest owner and president in National Football League history. His youthful entry into the NFL was surpassed by an early involvement in the Mecom family business. At an early age, he began on-the-job training at the hand of his father, John Sr., learning the daily workings of the Mecom enterprises from the ground up.

He now manages the Mecom family business network that includes wide-ranging interests in oil, sulphur, ranches and hotels, including the Le Pavillion Hotel in New Orleans and the exclusive Warwick Hotel and Towers in Houston.

In addition to his efforts to bring a winning tradition to the Saints, Mecom's philanthropic efforts in New Orleans have benefited several civic projects. For example, more than $1.5 million has been raised for the Saints-Lions Eye and Ear Clinic through the Saints sponsorship of an annual preseason game to benefit the Louisiana Lions Clubs. A Mecom contribution resulted in the restoration of the locker rooms at Tad Gormley Stadium, a football facility in New Orleans' City Park used by many of the local high schools. Mecom recently positioned the Saints in the forefront of support for the Ronald McDonald House now being planned to support the city's medical community. Also, he has made a substantial contribution toward the construction of a City Park playground (Independence Isle) for handicapped children.

Mecom was born in Houston, Texas on October 11, 1939. He attended the universities of Oklahoma and Texas and played freshman football at Oklahoma. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. At Oklahoma he met his future bride, Kaytly Mulendore of Pawhuska, Oklahoma. They were married in 1962.

His avid interest in sports includes auto racing. In 1966, John and John, Sr. sponsored the winning entry (driven by Graham Hill) in the Indianapolis 500 auto race classic.

John and Kaytly reside in Houston, but also maintain a residence in New Orleans. Their son, John III, is a high school football and basketball player. They have three daughters: Kaytly, Mary Elizabeth and Kathleen.

FRED WILLIAMS
Assistant to the President

Fred Williams was appointed to oversee the administrative operations of the Saints franchise beginning in February.

He prepared for his role as top front office executive by serving as assistant to owner and president John W. Mecom, Jr. since 1971. During that time he has gained firsthand experience in every aspect of franchise operations. His association with the Saints began in 1968 when he joined the Mecom family as a security consultant.

Williams is a native of New Orleans, the first administrative chief from New Orleans in the history of the franchise. He attended Fortier High School and Tulane University.

Prior to joining the Saints, Williams pursued a law enforcement career in New Orleans and served as head of the district attorney's Rackets Bureau. He also served four years in the Marine Corps with special duty in the United Nations peace-keeping force in Palestine.

Williams and his wife, Jessie, live in Slidell. They have five children: Lynn, Jeff, Kevin, Amy and Christopher.

SAINTS RETIRED

The only numbers in the 14-year history of the Saints to be retired are 81 and 31. Defensive end Doug Atkins wore 81. He played from 1967-69. The former University of Tennessee all-American ended his 17-year playing career in the Saints' third year of existence. Jimmy Taylor, the all-pro running back who rose to fame with the Green Bay Packers, wore 31.
O. A. (BUM) PHILLIPS
Head Coach

Long on common sense and short on pretense, O. A. (Bum) Phillips' approach to winning football is as distinctive as his needle-toe boots, flat top haircut, ever-present hat and easy-going "Howdy".
With his arrival as head coach of the Saints on January 22, 1981, it became the new hope of New Orleans fans that Phillips will implement his successful formula quickly and effectively.

During six seasons, 1975-80, as head coach of the Houston Oilers, Phillips raised that franchise to a perennial playoff contender. Prior to his arrival in Houston, the Oilers had turned in back-to-back seasons which they won only a single game.
The challenge in New Orleans takes on similar proportions. The opportunity for success is there, too.

"Opportunity," says Bum, "because we have an owner who is behind us 100 percent and fans who have always supported their team."

Phillips, 57, signed a five-year contract to coach the Saints. That agreement is one page in length, probably the shortest in the history of the National Football League. The contract is, in its simplicity, characteristic of Bum's approach to all things.

Complex formations, intricate offensive and defensive systems, computerization and the like are not Bum's style.

"We tailor the system to fit the players, not the other way around," Bum explains.

Phillips served as a defensive assistant on the San Diego Chargers staff, 1967-71. He joined the Houston Oilers as defensive coordinator in 1974. That season the Oilers finished with a 7-7 record, a vast improvement over the 1-13 finish the previous two years.

In 1975, Bum took over as head coach and general manager and guided Houston to a 10-4 record, defeated every team on the schedule except Pittsburgh and Cleveland and narrowly missed the AFC playoffs.

Following seasons of 5-9 in 1976 and 8-6 in 1977, Bum directed the Oilers into the playoffs, 1978-79-80. Houston appeared in the conference championship games of 1978 (10-6) and 1979 (11-5), but lost to eventual Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh both times. The Oilers again made the playoffs in 1980 (11-5) but were stopped by Oakland, also the eventual Super Bowl champion.

Born in Orange, Texas September 29, 1923, Phillips' coaching career has included 13 years at the high school level, six at the college level and six years as a pro assistant. His six-year career record as a head coach is 59-31.

His college coaching background includes service as an assistant at Texas A&M, 1957; Houston, 1963-66; Southern Methodist, 1971-72; and Oklahoma State, 1973.

Warmth, consideration and cooperativeness are important aspects of the reputation that Bum has built over the years, both in and out of football. These qualities earned him the 1979 Jack Horrigan "Good Guy" Award presented annually by the Professional Football Writers of America.

Bum has given not only his name, but also his personal efforts, to several charitable projects, including raising contributions for the Huguen School/Bob Hope High School in Port Arthur, Texas. In 1981, the Bum Phillips Celebrity Golf Tournament helped raise $1 million for this educational facility for the severely handicapped.

Bum's head coach is wife Helen and together they head a family squad of six children and three grandchildren. Son Wade is the Saints defensive coordinator. The five Phillips daughters are: Susan (Reeves), Cicely (Devore), Dee Jean (Hurta), Andrea and Kim Ann.

1981 Saints Outlook

Bum came along. Archie came back. The 1981 NFL draft produced 17 candidates for this year's roster, including running back George Rogers, the Heisman Trophy winner. And several young veterans gained experience, even as starters, last season.

These are main among many reasons that the range of emotion for New Orleans Saints watchers runs from sheer excitement to active curiosity. Assuredly, everyone from Bourbon Street to Baton Rouge is anxious to see what Bum Phillips will do with the 1981 Saints.

A brighter outlook is based largely on the arrival of Phillips who joined the Saints in January from the Houston Oilers where in six years as head coach he raised that franchise from the bottom of the barrel to the top of the heap. Bum led his squad into the AFC championship game in 1978 and 1979 and reached the playoffs again last season.

Following the 1980 season, veteran quarterback Archie Manning raised questions about his return to professional football this year, citing business opportunities and other considerations.

Manning, who has thrown for more than 3,000 yards in each of his past three years, will be back in 1981 at the controls of an offense that has been effective, even explosive.

"The Saints have always been able to move the football," Phillips assured. We have a good quarterback, good running backs, wide receivers and tight ends. We have two excellent young tackles and an experienced center.

"Obviously, we expect George Rogers to help.

"Offensively, I think we have the makings of a good team."

Defensively, Phillips cited a change in system that makes the unit hard to evaluate.

"I believe the defense can play a whole lot better than last year," he said. "I think the people that we have will fit better in the 3-4 defense that we intend to play. It's much easier to find the personnel to play our defense. In the 3-4 a guy coming out of college can use the same things that he's been taught to do right along. He can use his natural football instincts.

"Also, I think we got some good defensive people in the draft."

Offensively or defensively, the foundation of the Phillips philosophy is the same:

"A defensive alignment doesn't win for you. An offensive play doesn't win for you.

"Players win for you, and you've got to tailor your approach to fit what they can do well."

RULE CHANGES FOR 1981

Several rule changes for the 1981 season were approved by the owners at the annual meetings in March. They are:

1. The use of foreign substances such as stickum on a player’s body or uniform has been banned.
2. If a player reports into the game wearing a jersey number illegal for the position he will play (such as special teams), he must report his position to the referee prior to each play, instead of only when he enters the game.
3. A fumbled kick snap can now be advanced by any member of the kicking team. In the past, only the holder or kicker could do so.
4. The chop block has been banned. In the past, the interior linemen were allowed to use the chop block.
5. Clipping has been redefined. In the past, clipping referred to an offensive block thrown past the line of scrimmage at the back of a defensive player. It will now be clipping if the block is thrown below the waist from behind. Above the waist, the penalty will be a 10-yard walkoff for illegal use of hands instead of the 15 yards that clipping imposes.
6. The rule governing a legal catch has been redefined. In the past, the rule stated that a receiver had to have possession of the ball long enough to perform an act common to the game (run, throw, etc.). Now, a player is ruled to have possession as long as he controls the ball while having both feet in bounds.
7. Intentional grounding has been revised. If a quarterback is judged to have intentionally grounded the ball, the defense now has the option of accepting the longstanding ten-yard penalty and loss of down, or it can now place the ball where the penalty occurred. Thus if a quarterback is called for grounding the ball 20 yards behind the line, it could result in a 20-yard loss instead of ten.

AN OFFER FROM THE NFL...

PRO!

There's a great new magazine coming your way from the NFL. PRO! shows you the hard-hitting action on the field in full-color photography. And PRO! takes you behind the scenes into locker rooms and coaching offices.

No other magazine shows you the game the way PRO! does... from the inside. We're part of the NFL. And PRO! is all football, so there's room to cover the entire league and every phase of the game... in depth!

We want you to experience PRO! football excitement for yourself... with no obligation.

Call now. We'll send you a trial issue and reserve a Charter Subscription in your name. PRO! is not available at newsstands... only by subscription... so be sure to call.

When your trial copy comes, read and enjoy the new magazine from the NFL. And to keep PRO! coming, just pay the invoice that comes with it. You'll get seven monthly issues, August through February, for just $18.

If the trial issue does not live up to your expectations, simply write "cancel" on the invoice and mail it back to us. You owe nothing. And the trial issue is yours.
