ANTHEM

PRESERVATION HALL JAZZ BAND

At a moment when musical streams are crossing with unprecedented frequency, it's crucial to remember that throughout its history, New Orleans has been the point at which sounds and cultures from around the world converge, mingle and resurface, transformed by the Crescent City's inimitable spirit and joie de vivre. Nowhere is that idea more vividly embodied than in the Preservation Hall Jazz Band, which has held the torch of New Orleans music aloft for more than 50 years, all the while carrying it enthusiastically forward as a reminder that the history they were founded to preserve is a vibrantly living history. PHJB marches that tradition forward once again on So It Is, the septet's second release featuring all-new original music. The album redefines what New Orleans music means in 2017 by tapping into a sonic continuum that stretches back to the city's Afro-Cuban roots, through its common ancestry with the Afrobeat of Fela Kuti and the Fire Music of Pharoah Sanders and John Coltrane, and forward to cutting-edge artists with whom the PHJB have shared festival stages from Coachella to Newport, including legends like Stevie Wonder, Elvis Costello and the Grateful Dead and modern giants like My Morning Jacket, Arcade Fire and the Black Keys.

TOP 5 PLAYOFF GAMES

#7 SUPER BOWL XLIV (SAINTS 31, COLTS 17)

Sean Payton completed the initial task he was hired for in his fourth season as the Saints defeated Peyton Manning and the Indianapolis Colts to win their first Super Bowl. New Orleans never led in the contest until only 5:42 remained in the fourth quarter, when quarterback Drew Brees led a nine-play, 59-yard drive that ended with a two-yard touchdown pass to tight end Jeremy Shockey and a successful two-point conversion throw to wide receiver Lance Moore. Victory was sealed when cornerback Tracy Porter intercepted Manning and returned his pass 74 yards for a touchdown with 1:30 left.

#2 2009 NFC CHAMPIONSHIP (SAINTS 31, VIKINGS 28)

The Saints won and advanced to the Super Bowl for the first time as Garrett Hartley booted a 40-yard field goal in overtime. Minnesota had tied the contest at 28 apiece late in the fourth quarter and was driving for a go-ahead score at the end of the fourth quarter when Tracy Porter picked off Brett Favre to force overtime. The win was sweet for the Saints because they had lost their previous four meetings against the Vikings and also the first two playoff games between the two clubs.

#2 2006 NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF (SAINTS 27, EAGLES 24)

In hosting the franchise's first home divisional playoff contest, the Saints were victorious as Deuce McAllister helped New Orleans control the clock, rushing for a franchise postseason-record 143 yards on the ground with one touchdown, while adding four catches for 20 yards and a touchdown. With New Orleans trailing 21-13 early in the third quarter, two straight touchdowns by the runner would be the difference. New Orleans won the time of possession battle 35:24-24:36 and outgained the Eagles on the ground 208-123. Sean Payton also got his first career playoff win, as he would be a consensus selection for NFL Coach of the Year.

#4 2009 NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF (SAINTS 45, CARDINALS 14)

Reggie Bush raced for a 46-yard touchdown late in the first quarter, as New Orleans completed their first postseason step to their Super Bowl XLIV Championship with a win in the divisional round. Bush had a club postseason record 217 all-purpose yards as he added an 83-yard punt return for a touchdown in the third quarter, while a punishing New Orleans defense did not allow Arizona to score in the second half.

2000 NFC Wild Card Playoff (SAINTS 31, RAMS 28)

ayle Benson provides leadership for the New Orleans Saints and New Orleans Pelicans as Owner, succeeding her husband, Tom Benson, who passed away on March 15, 2018, after serving as the Owner of the Saints since 1985 and the Pelicans franchise since 2012. The New Orleans native is an accomplished business professional and philanthropist with strong ties to the local community and who is dedicated to contributing to the growth and enhancement of the Gulf South region.

After marrying in 2004, Mr. and Mrs. Benson worked together to build championship-level NBA and NFL organizations. housed in state-of-the-art facilities at the Ochsner Sports Performance Center, Mercedes-Benz Superdome and Smoothie King Center, while making a positive impact in the community away from the basketball court and football field as well.

With the Saints franchise under the guidance of the Bensons, the team has reached new heights since 2006, when they entrusted Executive Vice President/ General Manger Mickey Loomis to hire Sean Payton as head coach and sign unrestricted free agent quarterback Drew Brees. Since those moves, the franchise has reached its highest point of success, posting a 119-85 record over the last 12 years, featuring six playoff berths, four division titles, two NFC Championship appearances and the Super Bowl XLIV title. Off the field, the completely renovated Mercedes-Benz Superdome has been sold-out on a season ticket basis for every campaign since 2006, with a waiting list of over 73,000 people and 122 consecutive sellouts. The club has also positioned itself as a leader in the community, assisting with the recovery from several natural disasters, while also working to enhance the region as a whole.

Following in the footsteps of her late husband, who played a significant role in the city of New Orleans hosting five Super Bowls during his ownership tenure, Mrs. Benson was instrumental in helping the city land Super Bowl LVII. The game to be played in 2024, will mark the 11th time that Louisiana and the Crescent City will serve as a host, tying with Miami for the most Super Bowls by a host city. The economic impact of Super Bowl XLVII, played in 2013, which Mr. Benson successfully campaigned for, was $480 million, not to mention the exposure and charitable contributions the NFL makes during Super Bowl week that extends for generations. Mrs. Benson's committed to continuing to bring Super Bowls to New Orleans.

Immediately upon the Bensons' purchase of the former Hornets franchise from the NBA in 2012, construction began on a state-of-the-art basketball practice facility to house the entire organization together and the franchise would be rebranded as the Pelicans. Through agreements with the State of Louisiana upon the purchase of the Pelicans, the Smoothie King Center has undergone a complete renovation since the 2012 purchase, featuring a new centerhung HD scoreboard, which debuted in 2015, along with several additional fan upgrades. Through this commitment, NBA All-Star Weekend was awarded to New Orleans in 2014 and 2017, making the city one of just six current NBA markets to host the mid-season event at least three times. On the court, after inheriting a team that finished with the worst record in the NBA's Western Conference in 2011-12, the Pelicans have built through a combination of the draft, free agent signings and trades to become a stable and successful organization, reaching the playoffs in 2018 for the second time since the Bensons assumed ownership and advancing to the second round after sweeping the Portland Trailblazers in the first round.

Community investment and giving back have been hallmarks of the Bensons' ownership of the Pelicans and Saints, a tradition that will continue under Mrs. Benson's stewardship as she will look to continue to enrich the New Orleans community through multiple initiatives, including philanthropic work in the health and wellness, education and arts sectors. As dedicated corporate citizens, the Saints and Pelicans annually put millions of dollars back into the community in financial supports, in-kind donation, charitable appearances and donations of goods and services.

Commitment to the health and wellness of the local community have been at the forefront through multiple gifts that established and upgraded the Gayle and Tom Benson Cancer Center on the main campus of Ochsner Medical Center, the area's leading health service network of hospitals and clinics. In addition to serving on the Ochsner board, Mrs. Benson has led 100-plus volunteer committee members in hosting the Moonlight and Miracles event the last four years, the organization's annual gala to benefit the Ochsner Cancer institute. The event has raised over six million dollars since its conception to benefit cancer patients in the region.

Supporting the efforts of former Saints safety Steve Gleason and his Team Gleason organization, which helps provide people with ALS and other debilitating conditions an environment where they can live vital and productive lives with meaningful freedom and independence, Mr. and Mrs. Benson committed five million dollars to the Team Gleason House for Innovative Living at the New Orleans St. Margaret's facility in 2014.

Mrs. Benson is a committed supporter of the area's educational institutions on all levels, serving on the boards of St. Mary's Dominican High School, Archbishop Hannan High School, the New Orleans Center for Creative Arts, and Tulane University. Mrs. Benson and her late husband also supported numerous local high schools and universities with gifts, including Dominican, Brother Martin High School (formerly St. Aloysius, Tom Benson's alma mater), Jesuit High School, Stuart Hall School, Loyola University New Orleans, Tulane and Xavier University of Louisiana.

In 2012, the Bensons made two significant gifts to enhance local educational institutions. They established the Brother Nicholas, S.C. Building Endowment to support Brother Martin. They also donated $7.5 million towards the construction of an on-campus football stadium at Tulane, appropriately named "Benson Field."

A member of the Board of Trustees for the New Orleans Museum of Art, Mrs. Benson served as one of the chairs for NOMA's Odyssey Ball in 2014, as the event raised over $700,000 — the most in the gala's history and continues to be a major supporter of the annual event. The funds raised help ensure the museum's ability to present worldclass exhibitions, public programs, and educational initiatives. She also has been active in supporting NOMA project "Art for Art's Sake," an annual tradition that promotes art in the City of New Orleans.

In addition to serving on the board of several local educational institutions and NOMA, Mrs. Benson also is a member of the Audubon Commission, which oversees the Audubon Nature Institute and served on the Mayor Transition Committee of New Orleans Mayor-elect LaToya Cantrell with Dr. Norman Francis and Walter Isaacson.

A long-time advocate of faith-based causes and spirituality, Mrs. Benson has been a longtime trusted and valued member of the local Catholic community. She's served on Archbishop's Community Appeal campaigns for four different Archbishops over the course of the past 30 years. She has worked tirelessly with the Archdiocese of New Orleans' Catholic Charities organization and its umbrella agencies that feature nearly 50 programs and three affiliated ministries that deliver health and human services to the poor and vulnerable in the eight civil parishes which the Archdiocese serves, as well as food and nutrition services statewide. Mrs. Benson has also worked closely with St. Louis Cathedral's Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults (RCIA) program, as well as with the same program at the Holy Name of Jesus Parish. Mrs. Benson's support of the Church has been recognized on numerous occasions. She has received the Medal of the Order of St. Louis Award for her dedication to the Church. In 2010, she became an Honorary Oblate of Mary Immaculate. In 2012, Mr. and Mrs. Benson received from Pope Benedict XVI the Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice award-for outstanding service to the Church and the Pontiff, the highest Papal award granted to a lay person.

Mrs. Benson began her professional career in 1968 as a manager for noted New York-based costume jeweler Celebrity Jewelry, overseeing and managing the daily operation of over 40 sales associates. She then branched out into real estate development which allowed her to successfully integrate her passion for interior design with property management. Her first real estate transaction occurred in 1978 when she purchased a home in New Orleans's Irish Channel and then sold the property eight months later. She would go on to purchase, manage and eventually sell several more properties, primarily in the city's Uptown district.

In 1975, Mrs. Benson began a 30-year career in the design industry under a business she called Gayle Bird interiors, a business where she achieved tremendous success. Throughout the course of her career she was recognized with numerous professional awards and served as an inaugural member on the Louisiana State Board of Licensing for four years. She directed numerous major design efforts with her clients, including the Mercedes-Benz Superdome, several of the city's most prestigious hotels, local supermarket chains and automobile dealerships.

In 2000, Mrs. Benson worked with the Mercedes-Benz Superdome on renovations to the iconic New Orleans landmark's third and fourth level public spaces, in addition to renovations on select suites. She also owned and developed a commercial real estate building on the corner of Laura and Octavia Streets, a women's clothing private enterprise called "Toujours la Ligne" and a designer's showroom called "Designers Resource" which served as a wholesale location for designers and architects seeking to purchase fabric, wall coverings and accessories. The Men of Fashion Committee recognized Mrs. Benson during her career as one of the "Top Ten Best Dressed Women in New Orleans."

In addition to her ownership of the Saints and Pelicans, Mrs. Benson established GMB Racing Stables in 2014 with an initial purchase of seven colts and hiring three veteran trainers, all with Louisiana ties. In 2016, two of the thoroughbreds, Mo Tom ad Tom's Ready participated in the Kentucky Derby. Her Lone Sailor horse ran in the 2018 Kentucky Derby. She also serves as the Owner of three local automotive dealerships, Best Chevrolet, Cadillac of New Orleans and Mercedes-Benz of New Orleans and the Dixie Beer brand, which Mr. and Mrs. Benson purchased in 2017.

Mrs. Benson was born in New Orleans and grew up in Old Algiers. She began her education in Catholic schools and in 1966 graduated from Martin Behrman High School. **

TOM BENSON 1927-2018

n a career in business and professional sports that spanned over 70 years, Tom Benson was an endearing figure in his hometown of New Orleans as well as throughout the NFL and the NBA. Mr. Benson served as the owner of the New Orleans Saints since 1985 and the New Orleans Pelicans since 2012 until his death on March 15. 2018. He was survived by his wife Gayle.

Thomas Milton Benson, Jr. was born on July 12, 1927 in New Orleans. Raised in the city's St. Roch neighborhood, Mr. Benson graduated from St. Aloysius High School (Now Brother Martin) in 1944. Following his graduation, he enrolled at Loyola University New Orleans to study business and accounting. He interrupted his education to enlist in the U.S. Navv in 1945, where he was assigned to the USS South Dakota. Upon the conclusion of World War II, Mr. Benson returned home to New Orleans and continued his business administration studies.

In 1948, he went to work as a bookkeeper for the Cathey Chevrolet Co. in New Orleans and by 1956, at age 29, Mr. Benson was on his way to manage a Chevrolet dealership as a junior partner. Six years later, he took full control of the company and established a multi-dealership organization with outlets throughout the New Orleans area and South Texas. In 1972, Mr. Benson entered the banking business and eventually took his banking network public as Benson Financial World.

By the 1980's Mr. Benson had built a highly successful network in the automotive and banking industries in both Southeast Louisiana and South Texas, but while a fan of the game of football and the Saints, the sport had yet to become one of his passions. However, he realized the importance of the New Orleans Saints to his hometown and on May 31, 1985, he purchased the team after learning that the NFL franchise was on the verge of being sold to parties interested in relocating the team.

Not surprisingly, success soon followed as the Saints entered the most compelling and memorable period in franchise history under Mr. Benson's leadership after having previously not enjoyed a winning record or a playoff berth. In 1986, in one of his first personnel moves as Owner, he hired Jim Finks as president/ general manager and Jim Mora as head coach. In 1987, the Saints broke through with a 12-3 record and hosted their first playoff contest. In its first 18 seasons of existence, the Saints won a total of 78 games. Under Benson's guidance, the franchise exceeded that win total in only nine years by 1993. The Saints reached even greater heights in 2006, when he entrusted Executive Vice-President/General Manager Mickey Loomis to hire Sean Payton as head coach and sign free agent quarterback Drew Brees. Since those moves, the franchise has reached its highest point of success, posting a 119-85 overall record over the last 12 years, capped by the Super Bowl XLIV Championship. Overall, since being purchased by Mr. Benson in 1985, the Saints have earned 11 playoff berths, six division titles and captured Super Bowl XLIV in 2009, building a foundation for continued success, on and off the field. Mr. Benson's commitment to winning and serving the community was an opportunity to reward the team's fans, whose support has reached new heights with the Mercedes-Benz Superdome being sold-out on a season ticket basis for every campaign since 2006, with a waiting list of over 73,000 people. By the end of the 2017 season, the consecutive sellout streak had extended to 122 games.

During Mr. Benson's ownership, 50 of his players were Pro Bowl selections, including two AP NFL Offensive Player of the Year selections by Brees and him being named AP Athlete of the Year and Sports Illustrated Sportsman of the Year in 2010 and three offensive or defensive Rookies of the Year. Also four of Benson's players were inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. Benson created a team Ring of Honor that features players from the past, while creating a special place for Saints stars of the future to be recognized. Possessing the desire to give back to the great game of football, in 2014 Mr. Benson pledged two significant gifts totaling $11 million to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, $10 million was earmarked for the immediate renovation of the Hall's onsite stadium, which hosts the annual enshrinement ceremony, the NFL Hall of Fame Game, two high school football teams and two college teams in Canton, Ohio, which was renamed "Tom Benson Hall of Fame Stadium." The additional one million dollars is the first donation towards the establishment of the Hall of Fame's Legends Landing program, a mixed-use residence that will include room for Hall of Famers and former NFL Players.

Mr. Benson also played a key role among NFL owners in various capacities for his 33 years of ownership of the Saints, including serving 25 years as Chairman of the Finance Committee, one of the League's most difficult, time-consuming and influential positions, with his most recent term ending in 2013. The assignment was evidence of the respect and esteem in which successive NFL commissioners and his fellow owners held him.

In 2012 Mr. Benson purchased the Hornets franchise from the National Basketball Association, which was successfully rebranded as the Pelicans. The objectives in his ownership of the basketball team were the same as his stewardship of the Saints: to produce a team on-the-court that will compete for championships every year, while making a significant positive impact off-the-court in the community. Upon the ownership transfer, construction immediately started on a state-of-the-art basketball practice facility adjacent to the Saints practice fields, which now comprises the Ochsner Sports Performance Center, with the entire Pelicans organization being housed together for the first time in the franchise's history. Through agreements with the state of Louisiana upon the purchase of the Pelicans, the Smoothie King Center has undergone nearly a complete renovation since the 2012 purchase, featuring a new center-hung HD video scoreboard in 2015, along with several fan upgrades. On the court, after Mr. Benson inherited a team that finished with the worst record in the NBA's Western Conference in 2011-12, the Pelicans have built through a combination of the draft, free agent signings and trades to become a stable and successful organization, reaching the playoffs for the second time in 2018 since the purchase of the club, advancing to the second round.

In addition to the success and the commitment to the community by the Saints and Pelicans, the efforts of ownership have also paid great economic dividends for the city of New Orleans and the surrounding areas. Since Mr. Benson first purchased the team in 1985, the city has hosted five Super Bowls, including Super Bowl XLVII, with him being the driving force behind each campaign to secure the contest. Each Super Bowl has been an economic windfall, the 2013 game in New Orleans totaling $480 million, not to mention the exposure and charitable contributions the NFL makes during Super Bowl week that extends for generations. Through Mr. Benson's commitment to the Pelicans and his hometown, NBA All-Star Weekend was awarded to New Orleans in 2014 and 2017 with his lobbying playing a significant role. The most recent All-Star Weekend brought approximately $45 million in spending to Louisiana, and made the city one of just six current NBA markets to host the mid-season event at least three times.

Dedication to the Gulf South were among Mr. Benson's most rewarding endeavors. Since 2005, the Saints have positioned themselves as a leader in the recovery of the region in the wake of Hurricane Katrina. Immediately after the storm, they established the Saints Hurricane Katrina Fund, which raised over one million dollars to benefit worthy causes that helped in the region's recovery. The club was among the first major businesses to return to New Orleans, and in 2006 had a thrilling season where they reached the NFC Championship Game for the first time, becoming an inspiration for a region on the mend. In 2010, the club established the Saints Gulf Coast Renewal Fund, which raised over $1.5 million through the raffle of a Super Bowl ring and the 2012 raffle of Saints and Pelicans game day experiences. Over one million dollars has been distributed to charities, such as the local chapters of the Second Harvest Food Bank and Catholic Charities to help provide support of those affected by subsequent natural and manmade disasters, including the 2010 Gulf of Mexico oil spill, Hurricane Isaac and flooding throughout the State in 2016. The efforts of the organization have continued to lift the community, with the team serving as an economic engine and a pacesetter in philanthropic contributions. In 2008, Mr. Benson was selected by the Volunteers of America as the winner of its annual Good Samaritan Award in Philanthropy in recognition of his work in the wake of Hurricane Katrina. In 2015, he was honored by New Orleans CityBusiness as one of the region's 35 "Driving Forces" for his contributions to the community since Hurricane Katrina.

Mr. Benson also worked through investment to helped stimulate the development of the city's Central Business District, directly adjoining the Mercedes-Benz Superdome, starting with the 2009 purchase of the formerly vacant and blighted Dominion Tower and the unoccupied New Orleans Centre. The two important commercial spaces, which were vacant since Katrina struck New Orleans in 2005, have returned that region of the CBD into a more vibrant and viable sector of the city and revitalized an area that was largely ignored for four years following Hurricane Katrina. The renovated Benson Tower has served as a boon to this important business corridor, while "Champions Square," which made its debut in 2010 adjacent to the former mall, is continually being developed and enhanced into a world-class sports and entertainment destination. This economic investment plan, which included 2009 agreements on both a private and public level, has revitalized the Mercedes-Benz Superdome area, and the agreement with the state included a dramatic modernization of the stadium which was completed in 2011.

Following the debut of the renovations, the Saints, under the leadership of Mr. Benson, and Mrs. Benson and Mercedes-Benz USA reached a ten-year agreement to rename the facility the "Mercedes-Benz Superdome." The stadium upgrades and rebranding include a legion of new enhancements that have significantly improved the fan experience for all events at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome and kept the building competitive with new facilities across the country, allowing it to continue to host elite events including Super Bowl XLVII, the 2012 NCAA Men's Basketball Championship and the upcoming 2022 Final Four, two College Football Playoff semifinal contests and the CFP championship game. Recognizing the need for the stadium to be consistently upgraded, Mr. and Mrs. Benson most recently collaborated with the state on a multi-million dollar enhancement project for which they contributed $25 million, resulting in significant technology-related enhancements to improve the fan experience, headlined by the addition of two state-of-theart LED video boards that debuted in 2016.

Mr. Benson's contributions in the sports, business and charitable arenas were recognized by several honors, including his induction into the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame (2014), the Junior Achievement Business Hall of Fame (New Orleans Chapter-2013), the New Orleans Saints Hall of Fame (2012), the San Antonio Business Hall of Fame (2011) and the Texas Business Hall of Fame (2007).

Community involvement and giving back was the hallmark of Mr. Benson's career as a local business leader and Owner of the Saints and Pelicans. As products of local schools, Mr. and Mrs. Benson established the Brother Nicholas, S.C. Building Endowment in 2012 to support Brother Martin High School. In 1986, his alma mater honored Mr. Benson as their Alumnus of the Year. With Mr. Benson having been educated at Loyola New Orleans, he and Mrs. Benson, made a pledge for the construction of a new Jesuit Center in 2010, contributed to the creation of the Jesuit Social Research Institute in 2008 and he helped fund the first phase of construction of a chemistry wing in 1999. In 2010, Mr. Benson was honored by Loyola with the school's Integritas Vitae Award, the institution's highest honor, annually presented to an individual who exemplifies the qualities Loyola seeks to instill in its students. Mr. and Mrs. Benson also supported numerous local high schools and colleges with generous gifts. In supporting Tulane University's construction of an on-campus stadium, the Green Wave started playing on "Benson Field" in 2014.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson also made several significant gifts to higher education in San Antonio, Texas. They funded the building of a football stadium located on the University of Incarnate Word Campus, known as Gayle and Tom Benson Field and Benson Fieldhouse, which also services the school's teams. The football squad took to the field for the first time in 2009 and continues to grow. Mr. Benson was inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame in 2013. In addition, Mr. and Mrs. Benson also established an endowment fund at Central Catholic High School in San Antonio that is dedicated to the memory of the late Robert Carter Benson, who graduated from the school in 1962, and donated the school's "Benson Memorial Library."

A longtime advocate of faith-based causes and spirituality, Mr. Benson was a longtime trusted and valued member of the local Catholic community and his and Mrs. Benson's support of the Church were recognized. For his humanitarian and philanthropic endeavors that have positively affected the lives of so many individuals and groups, Mr. Benson was honored in 2012 by the Catholic Church with an Oblate Doctor of Humane Letters (to a person who has achieved the human purpose for which Divine Providence Placed Him on Earth) certificate that honors his "realities of the most noble of human endeavors, weighted by criteria arising from the deepest human values." The certificate also honors "excellence in the area of life where excellence makes the most difference," and further cites his "attributes and accomplishments that come closest to what God would be interested in honoring." In 2012, Mr. and Mrs. Benson received from Pope Benedict XVI the Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice award—for outstanding service to the Church and the Pontiff, the highest Papal award granted to a lay person.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson also displayed their commitment to the health and wellness of the local community with a significant gift establishing the Gayle and Tom Benson Cancer Center on the main campus of Ochsner Medical Center. The center was built and has since been upgraded following multiple gifts to the area's leading health service network of hospitals and clinics. Supporting the efforts of former Saints safety Steve Gleason and his Team Gleason organization which helps provide people with ALS and other debilitating conditions and environment where they can live vital and productive lives with meaningful freedom and independence, Mr. and Mrs. Benson donated five million dollars in 2014 to the Team Gleason House for Innovative Living at the New Orleans St. Margaret's facility.

Particularly close to the U.S. Navy, the military branch in which he served, Mr. Benson was the only enlisted man to serve on the Board of Trustees of the National Naval Aviation Museum in Pensacola, Fl. and was honored with an award from the crew of the submarine U.S.S. Louisiana. In 2007, Mr. Benson was honored by the U.S. Navy Memorial with the Lone Sailor Award, presented to those who exemplify the core values of honor, courage and commitment. In 2009, Benson was presented with the U.S. Army's "Army Strong" Award in recognition for his position in the community while demonstrating leadership and Army Values on a daily basis. A leading advocate for the National World War II Memorial in Washington D.C., Mr. Benson was also a major contributor and past director of The National WWII Museum in New Orleans, with his pledges helping fund both the Pacific Exhibit Grand Opening and the Midway Theater. In 2011, he was among five NFL owners honored with an American Spirit Award by the museum for his service in the war. *

ince he was hired as head coach of the New Orleans Saints in 2006, Sean Payton has established himself as one of the most successful coaches in the NFL. Payton has led the Saints to six playoff berths, four NFC South division titles and in 2009 captured the franchise's first World Championship with a 31-17 win over the Indianapolis Colts in Super Bowl XLIV.

Payton has a 112-76 overall record (.596), including a 7-5 postseason mark (.583) after the franchise had won only one playoff game prior to his arrival. Payton holds the club's top win total and winning percentage for a head coach.

As Payton enters the 2018 campaign he continues to represent the Saints as the model of stability not only within the NFC South, as he is the longest tenured head coach within the division, but also within the National Football League as only New England's Bill Belichick (2000), Cincinnati's Marvin Lewis (2003) and Green Bay's Mike McCarthy (hired one week prior to Payton in 2006) have been with their teams longer. Payton is also one of just eight active coaches to lead a team to a Super Bowl victory. The others are Belichick, Seattle's Pete Carroll, Oakland's Jon Gruden (with Tampa Bay in 2002), Baltimore's John Harbaugh, McCarthy, Philadelphia's Doug Pederson and Pittsburgh's Mike Tomlin.

Payton's presided over the NFL's most prolific offense since his arrival, leading the league in net yards per game in 2006, 2008, 2009, 2011, 2014 and 2016, and finishing first in scoring in 2008 and 2009. These are the only six times the Saints have led the NFL in offense. Ranking in the top ten offensively every season since Payton arrived, the Saints have the third-longest streak (12 seasons) in the NFL since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger. In team history, the Saints have scored at least 45 points on 21 separate occasions with 17 of these outputs occurring under Payton's watch, including two in 2017. Defensively, New Orleans has finished in the top five twice (2010 and 2013). He has also sent a total of 44 selections to the Pro Bowl and earned the honor of coaching the NFC squad following the 2006 and 2017 seasons.

The 2017 Saints produced an 11-5 regular season record, producing their first playoff berth since 2013, behind a squad that led by QB Drew Brees offensively and DE Cameron Jordan defensively featured seven players selected to the Pro Bowl, tied for the most in club history and four draft picks selected to the PFWA All-Rookie Team, two more than any other club. In RB Alvin Kamara and CB Marshon Lattimore, the 2017 Saints were the first team to have both the Associated Press NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year and Defensive Rookie of the Year since 1967. New Orleans, one of three NFC South teams to make the postseason, upended Carolina (11-5) and Atlanta (10-6) to finish first in the division and advanced to the Divisional Playoff round after capturing a 31-26 Wild Card victory over the Panthers in the Mercedes-Benz Superdome. The Saints' bid to reach their third NFC Championship game under Payton was cut short in Minnesota, where New Orleans fell to the Vikings 29-24, after coming back from a 17-0 halftime deficit to hold a 24-23 fourth quarter lead during a thrilling battle.

Offensively, New Orleans was the only team to rank in the top five in the NFL in both rushing yards per game (129.4) and net passing yards per game (261.8), while giving up only 20 sacks, the second lowest total in the league and turning the ball over a franchise-low 18 times. Brees was selected to his club-record tenth Pro Bowl as a Saint as he completed 386-of-536 passes (72.0%) with 23 touchdowns, eight interceptions and a 103.9 rating. Brees' completion percentage set an NFL record. His eight picks were his lowest total as a Saint. RBs Mark Ingram II and Alvin Kamara and WR Michael Thomas provided additional highlights on offense. Kamara led the team with 1,554 total yards from scrimmage, seventh in the NFL, as he carried 120 times for 728 yards with eight touchdowns and led NFL running backs in receiving yardage with 82 grabs for 826 yards and five touchdowns. His 6.1 yards per carry led the NFL. Adding a 106-yard kickoff return for a touchdown in Week 17, the longest play in club history, he set the club rookie record for touchdowns (14). Ingram ranked second on the club with 1,540 total yards from scrimmage as he and Kamara became the first running back duo in NFL history to each reach 1,500 yards. Ingram led the team in rushing with 230 carries for a career-high 1,124 yards and career-best 12 touchdowns. Thomas set a club record with 104 receptions for 1,245 yards and five scores. In addition to Brees, Ingram, Kamara and Thomas, RG Larry Warford, a free agent acquisition, also was named to his first Pro Bowl.

The Saints defense saw improvement in virtually every major statistical category. New Orleans moved up ten spots in total defense, including from 32nd to 15th against the pass. After ranking 31st in opponent points per game in 2016, New Orleans moved up to tenth in 2017, surrendering only 20.4 points per game. Led by Jordan, a first-team Associated Press All-Pro who posted a career-high 13 sacks, New Orleans racked up 42 takedowns (tied for seventh in the NFL). Lattimore, who led NFL rookies with five interceptions, joined Jordan as a Pro Bowl selection.

On special teams, New Orleans ranked sixth in the NFL in kickoff return average (22.9), as Kamara brought back the team's first kickoff for a touchdown since 2009 and K Wil Lutz tied the single-season franchise record with 31 field goals.

In 2016, Payton had the Saints in playoff contention right until Week 16 despite seasonending injuries to four Week One starters. Rebounding from a 0-3 start, the Saints won four of their next five contests to get right back in the middle of the postseason picture.

Payton accomplished the balancing act of adding youth to his squad while keeping the Saints in the thick of the playoff hunt, which would pay off with a breakthrough campaign in 2017. He nurtured the on-field growth of rookie and secondyear players, including S Vonn Bell, DT Tyeler Davison, Lutz, DT David Onyemata, T/G Andrus Peat, DT Sheldon Rankins and Thomas, each of who played significant roles for an emerging team. He also fostered impressive production from veteran players such as Brees, Ingram, Jordan, LB Craig Robertson, T Zach Strief and C Max Unger.

The offense finished first in the NFL for the sixth time under Payton's direction (426.0 ypg.), leading the league in passing (317.1 vpg.), third down conversion rate (48.6), first downs (395) and yards after the catch (2,439). The offense was led by Brees, who completed 471-of-673 passes (70.0%) for 5,208 yards with 37 touchdowns and a 101.7 passer rating, leading the NFL in passing yardage for the seventh time and surpassing 5,000 yards for the fifth time. Ingram became the first Saint with 1,000 yards rushing (1,043) since 2006, Thomas, who set club rookie receiving records with a team-high 92 grabs for 1,137 yards with nine touchdowns, combined with fellow wideout Brandin Cooks (1,173 yards) to give New Orleans only the second offense in NFL history that featured a 5,000-yard passer, a 1,000-yard rusher and two 1,000-yard receivers. The offensive line, surrendered only 27 sacks, the NFL's sixth-lowest total.

Defensively, a young unit moved in the right direction, surrendering only 90.6 rushing yards per game, and ranking sixth in the NFL over the final 13 weeks of the season, allowing under 100 yards rushing in eight games, the fewest in a single season since 2013 (seven). Jordan both started every game up front for the Saints and led the team with eight sacks. Robertson, signed in the offseason, opened all 15 games he appeared in and posted a career-high and team-high 131 tackles. After missing the first seven games with a leg injury, Rankins posted four sacks in nine contests. Bell led the secondary with 98 stops.

After a slow start to the 2015 campaign, a team that featured 17 players who had not appeared in a regular season contest prior to the season opener won three of their last four games and finished 7-9, making strides in all phases. A high powered, quick-striking offense held its place among the elite in the NFL as the Saints finished second in the NFL in total net yards per game (403.8) and first in net passing yards per game (310.6), third down conversion rate (47.7%) and first downs (381). While maintaining their explosive profile, the offense reduced their turnovers from 30 in 2014 to only 19 in 2015. Brees completed 428-of-627 passes (68.3%) for an NFL-best 4,870 yards, 32 touchdowns and a 101.0 passer rating. Cooks enjoyed a breakout campaign, leading the team with 84 receptions for 1,138 yards with nine touchdowns.

Defensively, the Saints had six players with no prior NFL experience start games for the club in 2015 and the development showed towards the end of the season when they surrendered under 20 points in two of their final four contests. Of the club's 21 defensive takeaways, nine were by players in their first year. Jordan reached double digit sacks for the second time in his career and represented the Saints at the Pro Bowl.

An opportunistic special teams unit scored two touchdowns, their most since 2008 and tied for the group's most since Payton took over in 2006. They also scored the first defensive two-point conversion since the NFL rules change was instituted in 2015, blocked three kicks and booted two game-winning field goals.

The 2014 Saints finished 7-9, but rebounded from a 2-4 start to win three games against playoff teams and captured their last four contests away from home to finish at least .500 on the road for the first time since 2011, ending the campaign half a game out of first place in the NFC South. New Orleans finished first in the NFL in net yards per game (411.4), third down efficiency (48.3%), first downs (395) and opponent punt return average (4.1). Four Saints (Brees, G Jahri Evans, TE Jimmy Graham and Ingram) were selected to the Pro Bowl. Brees tied for first in the NFL in passing yardage (4,952).

In 2013, Payton guided the Saints back to the postseason with an 11-5 mark, finishing 8-0 at home for the second time in three seasons. Ranking fourth in the NFL both on offense (399.4 ypg.) and defense (305.7 ypg.), New Orleans was one of the league's most balanced clubs as they were the only team to rank in the top five in both categories. The defensive improvement of 134.4 net yards per game from 2012 was the biggest by a club since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger. In opponent points per game, after surrendering 28.4 in 2012, the Saints gave up only 19.0 in 2013 as they improved in the league rankings from 31st to fourth. After reaching the playoffs for the fourth time in five seasons, Payton led New Orleans to the franchise's first road postseason victory with a 26-24 win at Philadelphia in the Wild Card round. Five players (Brees, Evans, Graham, G Ben Grubbs and Jordan) were selected to the Pro Bowl.

In 2011, the Saints went to the playoffs for the third consecutive season and captured their third NFC South title with a 13-3 record, tying a club record for regular season victories first set in 2009. It was the first time that the club has had at least 11 wins in three straight campaigns. Taking advantage of the Mercedes-Benz Superdome's environment, the Saints posted an undefeated 8-0 record at their home stadium for the first time. With five road victories, the Saints also enjoyed another first in posting winning records at visiting stadiums in three consecutive seasons. In fact. three of the top six road campaigns in team history (7-1 in 2009, 6-2 in both 2006 and 2010) have come under Payton. His regular season road winning percentage (.534) is tops in club history.

Payton oversaw a record-setting year on offense for the Saints in 2011, as New Orleans set an NFL single-season mark with 7,474 net yards, while also posting a team-record 547 points, then the fourth-highest total alltime. Brees set NFL single-season records for completions (468) and completion percentage (71.2%) and what was then a mark for yardage (5,476). The team set NFL records for total net yards (7,474), completions (472), third down conversion rate (56.7%) and fewest fumbles (6), while also setting what were then league marks for net passing yards (5,347) and first downs (416). A reconfigured offensive line with three new starters surrendered only 24 sacks, tied for the second-lowest total in the league. Five players represented the team at the Pro Bowl.

In 2010, Payton led the Saints to their second straight postseason appearance with an 11-5 record. New Orleans converted an NFL-best 48.8% of their third down attempts and ranked sixth in the NFL in total yards (372.5 ypg.). In addition, the team finished third in passing (277.6 ypg.). The Saints finished fifth in the NFL with 351 first downs. The offensive line gave up only 26 sacks, which was the NFL's fifth-lowest total. Five Saints were Pro Bowl selections.

Defensively, the team took a big step forward, making the jump from the 25th ranked total defense in 2009 to fourth overall (306.3 ypg.) in 2010. It marked the first time since 1997 that they ranked among the league's top five. Most significant was a jump in pass defense, moving from 26th (235.6 ypg.) in 2009 to fourth (193.9 ypg.) in 2010. The club moved up from 20th to seventh (19.2 ppg) in opponent points per game. The defense also significantly improved their opponent third down conversion ranking from 14th (38.0%) to fifth (34.5%).

In 2009, en route to the Super Bowl XLIV title, Payton guided the Saints to the team's second NFC South title in four seasons with a 13-3 record. Along the way the Saints set a franchise-record for most regular season wins in a season (13). Their 16 overall victories were the most in the club's history. The Saints also posted the franchise's longest winning streak and best start when they won their first 13 contests. Payton once again was named as the top head coach in the NFL by numerous media outlets and recognized football chapters.

The Saints finished as the NFL's top-ranked offense (sixth in rushing and fourth in passing) for the second straight year. An opportunistic defense recorded 26 interceptions with an NFL-leading five returned for touchdowns. New Orleans also ranked second in the league in opponent red zone touchdown percentage (39.3%). The Saints set what were then team records in scoring (510) and touchdowns (64) and battled through the postseason with victories over Arizona (NFC Divisional Playoff) and Minnesota (NFC Championship) en route to Super Bowl XLIV. Seven players were named to the Pro Bowl for the first time in franchise history.

In 2008, the Saints ranked first in the NFL in offense and set what were then team records for total yards (6,571), net passing yards (4,977) and first downs (354), also tying what was then a team record for single-game scoring in a 51-29 win over Green Bay. The offensive line surrendered a franchise-low 13 sacks.

In 2007, the Saints endured injuries and a slow start, but put together a four-game winning streak to get back into playoff contention. New Orleans finished fourth in the NFL in total offense while also holding nine opponents to 17 points or less.

Payton scrapped the traditional timetable for rebuilding a club in 2006. In his opening season as a head coach, the Saints jumped out to a 3-0 record - a first in team history, equaling the team's win total from the previous year - and clinched the NFC South title before the regular season finale. New Orleans led the NFL in total offense, went to the postseason for the first time since 2000 and advanced to the NFC Championship for the first time. When the 2006 season came to a close, Payton was voted the Coach of the Year by the AP, Pro Football Weekly/ Pro Football Writers of America, The Sporting News and the Maxwell Club. He and his staff coached the NFC squad in the Pro Bowl.

Payton was hired as the 14th head coach in Saints history on Jan. 18, 2006 after serving as a member of the Dallas Cowboys coaching staff from 2003-05 under 2013 Pro Football Hall of Fame inductee Bill Parcells. Prior to his final season with the Cowboys, Payton was promoted to assistant head coach/passing game coordinator and was responsible for the team's play-calling after serving as assistant head coach/quarterbacks from 2003-04. In 2005, the Cowboys tied for second in the NFC with 318 first downs. When he arrived, Dallas had ranked 31st in passing the previous year but immediately improved to 17th.

Payton went to Dallas following four years with the New York Giants (1999-2002), the last three as offensive coordinator after spending his first season as quarterbacks coach. He solidified his reputation as one of the game's brightest offensive minds in his first full season as coordinator, when the Giants captured the NFC title and went to Super Bowl XXXV. New York scored 328 points - the club's highest total since 1990 - and finished 13th in the NFL in offense.

Payton was first assigned play-calling duties prior to a game against the New York Jets on Dec. 5, 1999. The Giants responded with 41 points and 490 yards - both season highs and he retained that assignment over the final five games. Appointed the offensive coordinator the following season, over the next three years the Giants passing attack continually improved, ranking 13th in the NFL in 2000, tied for eighth in 2001 and sixth in 2002.

In 2002 the Giants also finished sixth overall in total offense, the team's highest ranking since 1985. In the previous decade, New York hadn't ranked above 20th. Prior to joining the Giants, he spent 1997 and 1998 as Philadelphia's quarterbacks coach. In 1997, the Eagles ranked second in passing and third in total offense in the NFC.

Payton has had particular success tutoring quarterbacks. Brees has thrived since arriving in New Orleans, as he holds or has tied a total of 26 club career, single-season and single-game records, ten of them NFL marks. Since signing with the Saints, Brees has completed 5,097 of 7,485 attempts (68.1%) for 58,097 yards with 408 touchdowns and a 99.6 rating. He has led the NFL in passing yardage a league-record seven times.

Since his first year as a play-caller in 2000, every passer under Payton's guidance has thrown for over 3,000 yards. In addition to Brees since 2006, the three starters he worked with in Dallas - Drew Bledsoe in 2005, Vinny Testaverde in 2004 and Quincy Carter in 2003 - all surpassed the milestone. While in New York, Giants QB Kerry Collins had 4,073 yards in 2002.

Payton wrapped two coaching stints at San Diego State University (1988-89 and 1992-93) around a stop at Indiana State (1990-91). During his second stretch with the Aztecs, Payton was running backs coach, working with Heisman Trophy runner-up Marshall Faulk before becoming quarterbacks coach.

Following the 1993 season, Payton moved to Miami (Ohio) (1994-95) where he was quarterbacks coach. He spent 1996 as quarterbacks coach at Illinois before entering the NFL with Philadelphia.

Payton earned a bachelor's degree in communications at Eastern Illinois, where as a guarterback he had 10,665 passing yards, then the third-highest total in NCAA Division I-AA history. The three-time AP All-American selection had professional stints with Chicago of the Arena Football League, Ottawa of the Canadian Football League and the Chicago Bears in 1987. Payton was inducted into the Eastern Illinois Hall of Fame in September of 2000 and had his jersey retired in a ceremony in September of 2010. He received an honorary doctorate from his alma mater in 2013.

Payton was born Dec. 29, 1963 in San Mateo, Calif., and raised in Naperville, III. Payton has a daughter, Meghan and a son, Connor. 💠

Dennis Lauscha - President

Dennis Lauscha, a New Orleans native who was named team president of the Saints in 2012, oversees the club's financial operations, government affairs, its marketing, ticket and suite sales, legal, stadium, community affairs, human resources, information technology and facilities departments. He has also served as president of the New Orleans Pelicans since 2012. He is a representative for both clubs at NFL and NBA Owner's Meetings.

With his 2012 promotion with both clubs capping a steady rise through the executive ranks of the Saints, Lauscha first joined the club as treasurer in 1998 and later earned the additional titles of vice president, senior vice president and executive vice president. In addition to his duties with the Saints and Pelicans, the New Orleans native maintains multiple roles within other holdings of Gayle Benson, maintaining a role in the management of her automotive dealerships, Zelia, LLC, Dixie Beer and GMB Racing.

Lauscha had a key role in negotiations for lease extensions and facility upgrade agreements with the state of Louisiana to enhance the Mercedes-Benz Superdome and Smoothie King Center, the respective homes of the Saints and Pelicans. Both clubs are tethered to these continually upgraded facilities long-term, with Lauscha also playing a key role in upgrading the facilities for the clubs at the Ochsner Sports Performance Center.

The Jesuit High School product graduated from the University of Alabama with a bachelor's degree in business. He has also received a master's of business administration from Loyola University in New Orleans and is a licensed Certified Public Accountant.

Mickey Loomis - Executive Vice President/General Manager

Mickey Loomis has been an integral part of the New Orleans Saints front office since 2000 and was promoted to General Manager in 2002. He took on the additional title of executive vice president later that year and is responsible for the club's entire football operations. Loomis enters his 17th year in his current position and 19th with the Saints, is a veteran of 34 years in the NFL and during his time in New Orleans has been honored with the most prestigious awards presented to a league executive. The most satisfying achievement of Loomis' career has come in helping mold a roster that has produced many of the franchise's finest moments since 2006, including the Super Bowl XLIV championship.

Loomis was a near-unanimous selection as the 2006 National Football League Executive of the Year, after being the key figure in the hiring of Head Coach Sean Payton, the signing of QB

Drew Brees and essentially rebuilding a team that would advance to the NFC Championship. WHITNEY

AGE: 22 HOMETOWN: Waveland, MS COLLEGE: University of Southern Mississippi

DEGREE/MAJOR: Forensic Science YEARS WITH THE TEAM: Rookie

FAVORITE QUOTE: "Never let the fear of striking out keep you from playing the game." — Babe Ruth Whitney has dreamed about being a Saintsation since she attended her first Saints game at the age of nine. Her dream becomes reality as she takes the field for the first time this season. Whitney graduated from Our Lady Academy with honors and served as captain for the St. Stanislaus Cheerleading Squad. She then went on to The University of Southern Mississippi and graduated Magna Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Science in forensic science and a minor in chemistry. During her time at Southern Miss, she was a member of the Dixie Darlings dance team and served as captain for two years. She was a Luckyday Scholar, part of the Honors College and a member of Phi Mu sorority.

HOW DO YOU DEFINE SUCCESS? By achieving happiness in whatever you do

WHAT KEEPS YOU MOTIVATED? Whatever the "end goal" is that I'm trying to achieve. I try to keep tunnel vision and focus in on what I want. I just tell myself that all of the sacrificing and trials I may have to go through will all be worth it in the end.

WHAT ARE YOU GRATEFUL FOR? My family. They are my number one supporters and push me to give 100 percent in all that I do. My mom, dad and eight-year old little brother all serve a different purpose in my life whether it's needing something handy, getting life advice or just enjoying the little things and having fun. They are my best friends, and I couldn't imagine my life without them.

HOW DO YOU BALANCE BEING A MEMBER OF THE SAINTSATIONS WITH THE DEMANDS OF YOUR DAILY LIFE? Time management! Every Sunday night I plan out the entire week to make sure I stay on track. I actually feel like it's easier for me to prioritize things when I have more going on, because I set deadlines for myself. My college experience really helped me learn how to do this well.

TELL US ABOUT THE TOP THREE ACCOMPLISHMENTS YOU'RE MOST PROUD OF OUTSIDE OF JOINING THE SAINTSATIONS. I am most proud of not only graduating from USM with a degree in Forensic Science, but graduating with Latin distinction. The entire process of researching and completing an Honors Thesis was very rewarding, and the three words "Magna Cum Laude" written on my diploma feels like a well-deserved pat on the back for all of my hard work. I am also very proud of being voted as a captain of the Dixie Darlings at USM for two years. I learned so much about myself and really expanded my leadership skills. Finally, I'm so proud of being a big sister to the sweetest little brother I never thought I would have. We have a 13-year age gap, and he can't wait to cheer on his favorite NFL team and now favorite Saintsation!

WHO INSPIRES YOU? Walt Disney. He had such huge dreams and an immeasurable imagination. What I think is most admirable about him is that he wasn't scared to set those dreams in motion, no matter silly they seemed to others. He went for it, and that's what I strive to do especially now that I've graduated college.

DO YOU HAVE ANY SECRET TALENTS? Fun fact: I can sing and play guitar, and I made it to the finale show of the American Idol Experience in Walt Disney World!

WHAT IS YOUR DAILY MORNING RITUAL LIKE? Every weekday I get up, go to the gym, eat a small breakfast and head to work. However on the weekends, I like to sleep in and enjoy a big breakfast with French vanilla coffee. I always go to church on Sundays with my family!

TOP-SEEDED SAINTS HOST SURGING PHILADELPHIA EAGLES IN NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF MATCHUP

ollowing a first-round bye after clinching the number one postseason seed in the NFC, the New Orleans Saints (13-3) host the Philadelphia Eagles (10-7) in the Divisional Playoffs at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome. Today's game marks the first time the club will host an NFL Divisional Playoff as a top-two seed since the 2009 season.

The Saints enter the contest following a banner 2018 campaign under Head Coach Sean Payton. During a 13-3 campaign, the Saints had a a ten-game winning streak from September 16 to November 22.

New Orleans closed the regular season with the league's No. 6-ranked rushing offense and the second-ranked rushing defense, with a club-record five players selected to the Associated Press All-Pro team. QB Drew Brees was selected as a second-team All-Pro and as the NFC starter in the Pro Bowl, breaking his own NFL record for completion percentage and leading the NFL with a career-high 115.7 passer rating. LT Terron Armstead, who protected Brees' blind side, joined the quarterback as both an All-Pro and Pro Bowl selection. RT Ryan Ramczyk was an All-Pro, while C Max Unger was selected to the Pro Bowl.

Brees was far from alone in creating the offensive fireworks for the Saints, as WR Michael Thomas was selected first-team All-Pro and as a Pro Bowl starter after recording a league-best and club-record 125 receptions for a team-record 1,405 yards and nine touchdowns, enjoying the most prolific pass-catching season ever for a Saint. The New Orleans running game was once again led by Mark Ingram II and Alvin Kamara, who combined for 1,538 rushing yards, 102 receptions for 879 yards and 25 total touchdowns.

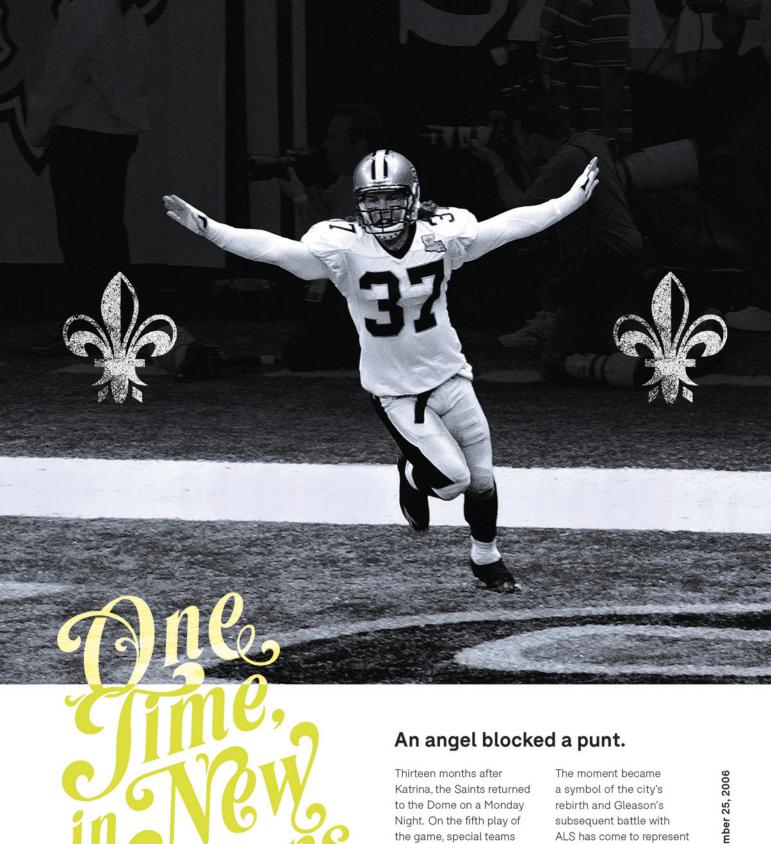

On defense, DE Cameron Jordan was voted to his fourth Pro Bowl and his second straight year as an All-Pro after posting his fourth double-digit sack season with 12 takedowns. DT Sheldon Rankins provided a solid complement to Jordan on the interior when he posted eight sacks.

LB Demario Davis, a key free agent acquisition, emerged as a leader of the defense, leading the team with 110 tackles, five sacks, two forced fumbles and one fumble recovery.

Philadelphia enters today's game after a 16-15 win over the Chicago Bears in the NFC Wild Card Playoff at Soldier Field. The Saints and the Eagles met Nov. 18, a 48-7 New Orleans win. The Eagles lead the regular season series 16-12, while the Saints have a 2-1 postseason edge. *

player Steve Gleason flew up the middle and blocked Atlanta's punt as millions screamed, cried, and danced. the city's "No White Flags" mentality. A statue now commemorates the play outside the Dome.

PLAYERS TO WATCH

DREW BREES #9 QUARTERBACK

The 39-year old Brees, the NFL's all-time leader in completions, completion percentage and passing yardage, continues to drink from the Fountain of Youth. In 2018, the signal-caller started the first 15 games of the season, completing 364-of-489 passes (74.4 pct.) for 3,992 yards with 32 touchdowns, only five interceptions and a 115.7 passer rating. Brees led his team to a 13-2 record in his starts, helping them command the NFC's number one seed for the postseason, as he surpassed his prior NFL record for completion percentage. His rating led the NFL and set a new career-best, while he rushed for a career-high four touchdowns. The Saints' most experienced player in the postseason with 13 appearances, Brees' leadership will be pivotal as the Black and Gold look to advance in the tournament facing the defending Super Bowl Champions.

NICK FOLES #9 QUARTERBACK

Foles, who hails from the same high school as Brees (Westlake High School in Austin, Texas) has shown some of his elders' magic in the past two seasons for Philadelphia, which will come in handy in the first postseason meeting between Super Bowl MVP quarterbacks. Taking over for an injured Carson Wentz late in the 2017 season, Foles rolled through the postseason for the defending Super Bowl champions, completing 77-of-106 passes for 971 yards with six touchdowns, one interception, a 115.7 passer rating and one rushing touchdown. In 2018, Foles posted a 4-1 record in place of an injured Wentz, including leading Philadelphia to three straight victories to end the season to qualify for the playoffs. Then, in the NFC Wild Card Playoff at Chicago on Sunday, he engineered a 12-play, 60-yard drive that ended with a two-yard touchdown pass to WR Golden Tate to put the Eagles ahead with 56 seconds left. Foles' comfort with running the Eagles offense will be crucial to the Green's postseason hopes against the Black and Gold.

INGRAM AND KAMARA: A FORMIDABLE TANDEM

his relationship shouldn't work or, at best, there's reason that it wouldn't be much more than a mutual, professional respect. For starters, one is married and a father, settled in as an eight-year veteran, the Walter Payton Man of the Year nominee for the New Orleans Saints, and is a player whose charitable work includes a Christmas shopping spree for children whose parents are incarcerated.

The other is a second-year phenom to whom the phrase "free spirit" would apply only if you raised it to the 41st power. His hair is in locks, he wears a bullring in his nose (including during the game), he'll sport a grill postgame, his red Christmas cleats look fashionable even though they don't remotely blend with his team's black and gold, and he's got enough swag — and influence — to have enticed Airheads to make a signature flavor for him.

Add in that their playing styles don't really match. The former player runs with an intensity that borders on menacing. True, he has enough speed to pop outside, get from zero to 60 and take it 70 yards, and he often runs past defenders with ease. But he does real work inside the tackles better than most — he literally dragged a Tampa Bay defender to the end zone on a 17yard touchdown run, as the defender clutched a handful of jersey and skidded on his back for the final five or six yards. And that has been key to his having 50 rushing touchdowns, a Saints franchise record.

The latter player glides. True, he'll get between the tackles and display a toughness that either people failed to recognize or acknowledge, and many of his single-season record, 14 rushing touchdowns came on dirt-under-the-fingernails runs. But in open space, against a single defender (or sometimes two), is where you see the magic: The deceleration and acceleration, the deceptive quicks, the ability to get the inside shoulder in front of a would-be tackler to eliminate the angle and gain an extra two, five, eight yards, the willingness to hurdle another human body with an ease that's breathtaking.

Third, and perhaps most significant, they play the same position and compete for touches. And if ever there was an issue that could lead to one player side-eyeing another, that registers high on the list.

This relationship shouldn't work. But Mark Ingram II and Alvin Kamara love each other.

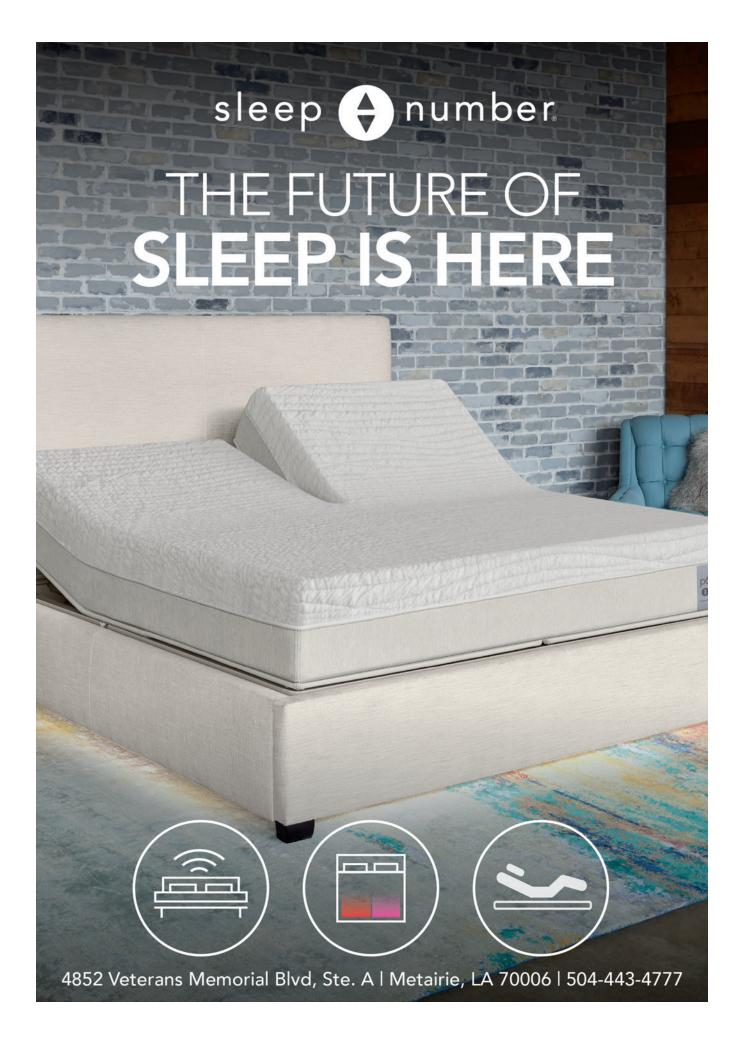

Sure, you'll hear the word "brotherhood" tossed about regarding the linking that occurs in a National Football League locker room, and "bonding" is another term of endearment. But Ingram and Kamara are different.

They conduct postgame interviews together. One can finish the other's sentence. When one succeeds, the other celebrates as if it's his own accomplishment. When Ingram missed the first four games of the season due to suspension, no one greeted his return more gleefully than did Kamara.

It looks like it shouldn't work, but it does.

"I think it's just genuine," said Ingram, who not only is the franchise all-time leader in rushing touchdowns, but also has 55 career touchdowns, tied with Deuce McAllister for second on the Saints' all-time list, behind WR Margues Colston's 72. "Since he came in, we have kind of a connection, just because he had gone to Alabama (Kamara redshirted at Alabama in 2013 before going to transferring to a junior college and going to Tennessee) and we knew some of the same people."

"That kind of brought us together right there. And just the fact [that] there was never any animosity, and there could have been. Going back when it was me, him and Adrian (Peterson, at the beginning of the 2017 season), there was never any animosity, never any jealousy or anything like that. I think everyone really helped each other out and just wanted to do what was best for the team. We didn't know how it was going to work out, but we just wanted to be prepared for it all and just put our best foot forward to help this team win games.

"We just became tight over the time. He sits next to me in film, and we talk and help each other. I think just over time, the connection grew, and man, it's just love. When you have someone that you're with all the time and you're working together all the time, but you're also competing for carries, it's like...we never had any issues.

"We've always shown love to one another, we've always been there for one another, and I think that's just something, that brotherhood, that's going to last a lifetime. It goes deeper than this game. No matter what happens past this year or anything like that, I think that brotherhood will always be there just because it's genuine. It's hard to find genuine people that you just connect with on that level."

Kamara feels much the same way.

A significant portion of his team-leading 883 rushing yards and 18 touchdowns tying Dalton Hilliard's single-season record, set in 1989 — were posted during Ingram's absence. But no one missed "Deuce-Deuce" more than his running partner, who doesn't at all mind sharing the load — and the connection - with Ingram.

"That's the way it happened," Kamara said. "I don't think it's a thing of where we're just teammates. It's like a brotherhood. We're close, as close when we leave here as we are when we're here. Like I've said since I've been here, that's helped me a lot since I've gotten in to the NFL. For him to be at the same position — different places in life, but definitely as close as anyone, anywhere.

"I think it's just genuine caring and support for each other. He wants me to do good, and I want him to do good. I have thought it before, like, two running backs who are competing for the same position, the same touches. But we don't look at it like that. We just look at it like, as long as we're both doing what we need to do, the team will be successful."

The team has been just fine with a run game powered by Ingram and Kamara.

In the last two regular seasons, with the Saints winning consecutive NFC South Division titles (the first back-to-back division crowns in franchise history), the production of Ingram and Kamara has been a major factor for the success.

Together, they combined to rush for 1,852 yards and 20 touchdowns in 2017, and then posted 1,528 yards and 20 rushing touchdowns in 2018. Separately, Ingram ran for 1,769 yards and 18 touchdowns over the twoyear period, and Kamara ran for 1,611 yards and 22 touchdowns. In the two seasons, they also have combined to catch 241 passes for 2,121 yards and 10 touchdowns, with Kamara (162 catches, 1,535 yards, nine touchdowns) taking the lead.

In 2017, they became the first Pro Bowl running backs from the same team since 1975.

They wouldn't have it any other way.

"I'm married and I have kids, and he's young and single, but I've been in his shoes before," Ingram said. "So anything he needs, he can reach out to me and I can help him through my experiences, through some of my successes and my failures. Just being a big brother, him being my little brother, us just being humans. If people care about each other — if people genuinely cared about one another — I think this world would be a better place.

"That's my dude, man. That's my guy. I don't know how we got that tight. It just happened over time and now we're tight. We're cool, and we're going to be like that forever." *

MICHAEL LEWIS CONTINUES TO REPRESENT HIS COMMUNITY

hometown hero from the New Orleans area, Michael Lewis was not your regular football player. Unlike most NFL players, Lewis did not play football when he attended Grace King High School in Metairie. In helping support his family, Lewis worked several jobs which prevented him from playing formally. Most famous among these odd jobs was serving as a beer truck driver, giving him the nickname "Beer Man".

When Lewis finally got the urge to play the game, he was offered a spot in the Professional Indoor Football League for the Louisiana Bayou Beast, based in Baton Rouge from 1998-99, where his 5-8, 173-pound frame made him elusive on offense and in the return game.

After surpassing expectations in the PIFL and with the New Jersey Red Dogs of the Arena Football League, Lewis received invitations to attend several NFL training camps, participating in camp with the Philadelphia Eagles in 2000. At the end of the 2000 regular season, Michael Lewis joined the team's practice squad, where he was part of the squad that won the franchise's first playoff game. In 2001, he was sent to NFL Europe to further develop his skills for Rhein Fire.

When he returned to New Orleans for training camp, Michael Lewis made his mark on the team, where he earned a roster spot with his play in the return game in the preseason. He developed the best returner in the NFL in 2002, when he set an NFL record for combined kick-punt return yardage with 2,432 yards, including 1,807 on kickoffs and 625 on punt returns. At the conclusion of the season, he was selected to the Pro Bowl and as an Associated Press All-Pro.

Overall, Lewis played seven seasons in the NFL. He ranked in the top four in the NFL in punt return yards twice (2002 and 2004). At the start of the season in 2005. Lewis suffered a serious knee injury, but he returned at midseason in 2006 to handle return duties for the club that advanced to the NFC Championship for the first time. In 2007, he closed out his career with the San Francisco 49ers.

Following the conclusion of his NFL playing career. Lewis returned to New Orleans and has been a stalwart in the community. For several seasons, he served as a "Team Ambassador" for the team, receiving a Super Bowl XLIV ring for his off-the-field and community outreach efforts with the club. In 2015, he was inducted into Saints Hall of Fame and the following year was named to the Saints All 50th team.

While maintaining several business interests in the area, Lewis remains as one of the club's most active alumni locally. He participates in the annual Saints Celebrity fan cruise working with Carnival cruise lines. In 2017, Deuce McAllister and Michael Lewis spoke on behalf of the Saints for the NFL's Character Playbook to discuss healthy relationships and character with local students. In the 2018 off-season, he participated in an NFL Play 60 Camp in Vancouver with current Saints players Terron Armstead, David Onyemata and Cameron Jordan. He also stays close to the game by training prospects for the NFL Draft. Through all these on and off the field ventures, home is where the heart is for Michael Lewis.

With 118 regular season victories together, the head coach/starting quarterback combination of Sean Payton and Drew Brees ranks second all-time in NFL record books.

The 49 sacks by the New Orleans defense in 2018 is tied with the 2013 squad for the most by a Sean Paytoncoached team in franchise history. The 49 quarterback takedowns were tied for the fifth-highest total in the National Football League.

Doug Pederson - Head Coach

Doug Pederson was named head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles on January 18, 2016, having served as the Kansas City Chiefs offensive coordinator (2013-15). In just his second season as an NFL head coach, Pederson led the Eagles to a 13-3 regular-season record, an NFC East title, the No. 1 seed in the NFC playoffs and to victory in Super Bowl LII against the New England Patriots. As a first-year head coach with the Eagles in 2016, Pederson helped develop rookie quarterback Carson Wentz, who set a team and all-time NFL rookie record with 379 completions. Under Pederson's direction, Wentz also posted franchise rookie records in pass attempts, passing yards and passing touchdowns. Pederson, who enjoyed a 12-year playing career in the NFL, began his pro coaching career in Philadelphia where he served under Andy Reid as an offensive quality control coach (2009-2010) and quarterbacks coach (2011-12). Pederson attended Northeast Louisiana, where he was a threeyear starter at quarterback and graduated with a B.B.A. in business management. A 12-year NFL veteran, he played quarterback for the Green Bay Packers, Miami Dolphins, Eagles and Cleveland Browns. Pederson served as a backup quarterback for the Packers when the team won Super Bowl XXXI and began coaching as head coach at Calvary Baptist Academy (Shreveport, LA).
