THE MATCHUP

The New Orleans Saints (4-8) will go on the road for the second-consecutive week following Sunday's 13-0 loss at the San Francisco 49ers, to face the Tampa Bay Buccaneers at Raymond James Stadium, who enter the game at 5-6. The Monday Night Football contest will be nationally televised on ESPN (WVUE-FOX 8 locally).

The Saints and the Buccaneers have met 61 times in the regular season and once in the postseason, with New Orleans holding a 39-22 regular season advantage and Tampa Bay having captured the only playoff contest. In addition to looking to avenge the September 18 20-10 loss to the Buccaneers at the Caesars Superdome, the Saints remain very much alive in an NFC South race where a victory would secure a season series split and close an already close division race with Tampa Bay. 34 contests in the series have been decided by seven points or less.

In a black and blue NFC battle on Sunday in San Francisco, the fight for field position was at a premium for the Saints and the 49ers. Two fumbles by New Orleans proved to be the difference in the contest on a day where an improving Saints defense surrendered 20 points or less for the fourth time in five games, allowed only 3.3 yards per carry on the ground and gave up only one touchdown on three red zone possessions.

This impressive defensive performance came from contributors who have been stalwarts all season as well as some who have recently ascended to the lineup. Linebackers Zack Baun, Demario Davis and Kaden Elliss combined for 25 tackles with Elliss leading the way with a career-high 14 stops (career-best 12 solo). Since moving into a more extensive role following an ankle injury to Pete Werner three weeks ago, Elliss has led the team with 31 tackles, 2.5 sacks, one pass defense and one forced fumble.

Offensively, with the 49ers intent on stopping the run, QB Andy Dalton completed 18-of-29 passes for 204 yards, while avoiding any interceptions. Rookie WR Chris Olave led the club in receiving yardage with five receptions for 62 yards, including three receptions for 51 yards in the second half.

In the NFC South this week: 5-7 Atlanta will host Pittsburgh on Sunday and 4-8 Carolina will have a Week 13 bye.

Dennis Allen was hired as the 17th head coach in New Orleans Saints history on February 8, 2022. Now in his 27th year coaching and 21st in the NFL, Allen has spent 12 seasons in New Orleans in two stints, including the last six-and-a-half campaigns as the team's defensive coordinator. He succeeds Sean Payton, who coached the team for 16 seasons, including the 2009 campaign, when Allen was secondary coach and ended with the Super Bowl XLIV championship. When Allen took control of a Black and Gold defense in Week 11 of the 2015 season that was ranked 32nd in opponent net yards per game and opponent points per game, he methodically molded a unit that has finished in the top 10 in both categories each of the last two years, effectively synchronizing with the team's offensive and special teams units. Before rejoining the Saints coaching staff in 2015, Allen served as head coach of the Oakland Raiders from 2012-14 and as defensive coordinator of the Denver Broncos in 2011. Prior to his first stint in New Orleans from 2006-10, Allen was also an assistant in Atlanta from 2002-05.

Allen played safety at Texas A&M from 1992-95, where he started the final 21 games of his career before being signed as an undrafted free agent by the Buffalo Bills in 1996. Prior to entering the National Football League coaching ranks in 2002, Allen served as a graduate assistant at his alma mater from 1996-99 and as secondary coach at the University of Tulsa from 2000-2001. He earned a bachelor of business administration degree and a master's in kinesiology from Texas A&M.

Raised in Hurst, Texas, Allen and his wife Alisson have a daughter, Layla and a son, Garrison.

Named the 13th head coach in franchise history on March 31, Todd Bowles enters his first season as head coach in Tampa Bay following a three-year stint as the team's defensive coordinator. From 2019-201, Tampa Bay ranked third in the NFL in takeaways (82) and third in sacks (142), joining the Steelers as the only teams to place in the top five of both categories. Over the past two seasons, the Buccaneers have allowed the sixth-fewest points per game (21.5) and the fifth-fewest yards per game (329.4). Bowles joined the Buccaneers after spending the previous four seasons as Jets head coach (2015-18).

Under Bowles, the Jets posted one of the best run defenses in the NFL, holding teams to just under 4.0 yards per carry, the sixth-lowest figure in the league during that span and allowing only 44 rushing touchdowns, tied for eighth-fewest in that timeframe. The Jets also allowed opposing offenses to convert only 36.0% of third down attempts. Opposing passers completed just 60.6 percent of their passes against the Jets under Bowles, the third-lowest mark in the NFL.

Prior to serving as the head coach of the Jets, Bowles spent two seasons as the defensive coordinator of the Arizona Cardinals (2013-14), where he won NFL Assistant Coach of the Year honors in 2014. During Bowles' time in Arizona, the Cardinals, defense allowed the third-fewest rushing touchdowns (14), the fifth-fewest points per game (19.5) and the fifth-fewest rushing yards per game (96.6). Bowles' defenses in Arizona also showed a knack for taking the ball away, recording the fifth-most interceptions in the NFL (38) and the most defensive touchdowns in the league, with nine.

Bowles spent one year with the Philadelphia Eagles (2012), serving as the team's secondary coach, before being named interim defensive coordinator for the final 10 games of the season. Before joining the Eagles, Bowles worked as the assistant head coach/secondary coach for the Miami Dolphins for four seasons (2008-11). In the 2011 season, he was named interim head coach for the final three games of the year, going 2-1. Bowles also worked as the defensive backs coach for the Dallas Cowboys from 2005-07, coaching three players to the Bowl. His NFL coaching career began in 2000 as the defensive backs coach of the Jets prior to spending four years with the Cleveland Browns, working as the team's nickel package coach (2001-03) and secondary coach (2004).

Bowles played collegiately at Temple and played eight years in the NFL, with Washington (1986-90, 1992-93) and San Francisco (1991). He was a starter on the 1987 Washington team that won Super Bowl XXII.

LAST MEETING

Buccaneers 20, Saints 10; September 18, 2022 @ Caesars Superdome – The New Orleans Saints may have been in position to break Tampa Bay.

Or, maybe not, because it's impossible to say definitively what "may" have happened if "this" or "that" had been successful or unsuccessful. All that is known for sure is what actually did happen.

And what happened for the Saints, in a 20-10 loss to the Buccaneers on Sunday in the Caesars Superdome, was this: A golden opportunity was lost in the third quarter, one which reverberated and raised the "what if" temperature by an extra 100 degrees in a game where points were at a premium due to the stinginess of two high-level defenses.

On the drive after Tampa Bay tied the score at 3 with a 47-yard field goal, New Orleans opened its next drive at its 25 following a touchback. And the Saints went about constructing their most balanced and effective drive of the game, a mix of three passes (for 25 yards) and five runs (for 30 yards) that pushed New Orleans to first-and-10 from the Tampa Bay 20-yard line with 1:19 left in the quarter.

But with the Saints in scoring position, and touchdowns scarce among the two combatants, New Orleans couldn't throw what undoubtedly would have amounted to an offensive haymaker.

Running back Mark Ingram II took the handoff off left guard, manipulated his way through heavy traffic and as he anticipated contact, covered the football with both hands.

It wasn't enough.

As safety Logan Ryan and linebacker Lavonte David converged for the tackle, Ryan attacked the ball and executed a perfect punch-out at the 11-yard line. When linebacker Carl Nassib recovered at the 10, New Orleans went from the possibility of a lead-taking field goal and, perhaps, backbreaking touchdown, to an empty red zone trip and a score that remained 3-3.

With 71 seconds remaining in the third quarter, there remained sufficient time and opportunity for the Saints to rebound from the turnover and win the game. But the lost fumble was a heavy blow for the offense, which didn't again operate with that kind of rhythm and balance down the stretch.

Ahead is a synopsis of several returning players and newcomers through the draft and free agency to the 2022 Saints offensive line:

Tackle/Guard James Hurst - An eight-year NFL veteran who was signed as a free agent from Baltimore in 2020, Hurst has 130 career regular season appearances with 75 starts at three different positions on the inside and outside. His versatility came in handy in 2020, as he started two contests at left tackle and one at left guard and the Saints gained over 200 yards rushing each time. In 2021, Hurst moved into the lineup for eight games at left tackle in place of an injured Armstead, two at left guard in place of an injured Andrus Peat and three at right tackle for an injured

Ryan Ramczyk, starting contests at three different positions. Hurst has started 11 games at left tackle, returning to the lineup in Week 12, after missing the Week 11 contest (concussion).

Right Tackle Ryan Ramczyk - The Black and Gold used their second first round selection in the 2017 NFL Draft to snag Ramczyk out of Wisconsin, one of the best linemen in the entire draft. After opening all 16 games and both post-season contests in 2017 and being selected as a PFWA All-Rookie, he has been selected as an AP All-Pro selection three times since. After missing seven contests in 2021, Ramczyk has rebounded to open every game in 2022.

Center/Guard Josh Andrews - Signed by New Orleans in the 2022 offseason, Andrews has appeared in 45 career NFL games with seven starts for five clubs. Spending the first nine weeks on the practice squad, Andrews his first two career starts at center the past two weeks for New Orleans in place of an injured Erik McCoy.

Guard/Center Cesar Ruiz - The hard-working, talented and intelligent lineman is a perfect fit for New Orleans' culture with the 24th pick in the 2020 NFL Draft out of the University of Michigan. The three-year letterman played in 36 games in college, starting his last 31 including the final 26 at center, earning All-Big Ten in 2019. Ruiz settled in at right guard in the last 15 games, with nine starts, as well as both postseason contests. When McCoy suffered a lower leg injury in the first quarter of the 2021 season-opening win over Green Bay, Ruiz transitioned over to his natural position, where the Saints did not give up a sack and started four contests in the middle. He returned to right guard on Oct. 25 at Seattle and was the only lineman in 2021 to not miss a start. The 44 consecutive starts along the offensive line for Ruiz is the longest current streak for a Saint.

Tackle/Guard Andrus Peat - A first round selection (13th overall) in the 2015 NFL Draft out of Stanford, Peat was considered one of the top college linemen in 2014. In his first eight seasons, he's played in 89 regular season games with 84 starts, opening a contest at every position except center. In 2020, he opened 13 contests at left guard as he was part of the NFC Pro squad for the third consecutive season. In 2021, he opened the first six contests, where New Orleans got off to a 4-2 start before suffering a season-ending pectoral injury. In his return to the starting lineup in the 2022 season opener in Atlanta, New Orleans rushed for 151 yards. In back-to-back weeks, Peat was been a part rushing efforts of 200-yards plus by the club for the first time since 2020. Peat returned to the lineup on Sunday at San Francisco after missing two contests with a triceps injury.

Tackle Landon Young - A mainstay at left tackle for his entire college career at the Kentucky, Young played in 49 contests with 30 starts in his college career. The Lexington, Ky. native was selected by New Orleans in the sixth round of the 2021 NFL Draft and held up to the competition in training camp to snare a roster spot. Young opened one contest at right tackle in 2021 and serves as Ramczyk's backup on the right side, also playing jumbo tight end. On October 13 at Pittsburgh, he slide over to left tackle for the second half to replace Hurst (concussion) and opened this the November 20 win over the Rams at one of the league's most challenging positions.

Offensive Lineman Calvin Throckmorton - This 6-5, 309 pound former four-year starter on the Oregon line was signed as an undrafted free agent in 2020, possessing the flexibility to play all five positions along the offensive line. After spending his rookie season on the practice squad, Throckmorton increased strength in the 2021 offseason and made strides in training camp. In his NFL debut in the 2021 season opening-win, Throckmorton was called to play right guard following a lower leg injury to McCoy in the first quarter, subsequently starting four contests. He then moved into left guard, Oct. 25 at Seattle following a shoulder injury to Andrus Peat and opened the last ten, opening three in 2022 in place of an injured Peat and seeing extensive action in the interior in other contests.

The Saints have stopped the run week to week impressively since 2017. In seven straight games in 2018, they didn't surrender 100 rushing yards to an opponent for the first time since 2007 and had a seven-game run in 2020. In 2021, the Saints didn't give up 100 yards rushing in their last four contests. Below are the longest streaks in team history the defense has gone without surrendering 100 yards. Between 2017-20 they didn't allow a 100-yard rusher in a 55 straight games (regular season/postseason), the longest streak in NFL history. After the last streak ended, New Orleans again had the longest current NFL streak of not surrendering a 100-yard rusher until the 2022 season opener when 120 rushing yards were given up to Atlanta RB Cordarelle Patterson. New Orleans gave up a season-low 38 yards rushing in the Oct. 30th 24-0 shutout of Las Vegas, the lowest total surrendered since giving up only 34 in Week 9 vs. Atlanta in 2021. The 38 yards were tied for the 24th-lowest single-game total in club history and marked the ninth time that the Saints defense has given up fewer than 40 yards rushing since Allen assumed control of the New Orleans defense in the middle of the 2015 season.

WIDE RECEIVERS

JARVIS LANDRY

• Signed by New Orleans as a free agent after the 2022 NFL Draft, this former Litcher High and LSU standout returns home as one of the league's most accomplished receivers has quickly established chemistry with the Saints offense to become one of its top targets. Posting career totals in 130 career games with 116 starts with Miami (2014-17), Cleveland (2018-21) and the Saints (2022), the five-time Pro Bowler has produced 711 catches for 7,856 yards with 38 touchdowns. He ranks fifth in the NFL in receptions since coming into the league as a second round pick of the Dolphins in 2014. Landry is just one of five players to have 700-plus catches since 2014. Since being drafted in 2014, Landry is ranked fifth in the league in receptions (711), eighth in first down receptions (405) and 11th in receiving yards (7,856).

HOMECOMING

Landry made an immediate impact in the uniform of his home state team on September 11 at Atlanta, grabbing a team-leading seven passes for a team-high 114 yards (club-best 16.3 yards per reception), with four of his catches going for first downs. Landry was particularly clutch on New Orleans' drive for the game-winning field goal late in the fourth quarter, when he made a difficult catch for a 40-yard gain, the longest reception of the game for the Saints. Playing in all four games, Landry has fought through an ankle injury that has sidelined him for the five games and returned to the lineup on November 13 at Pittsburgh with three grabs for 37 yards then posted three grabs for 33 yards with his first touchdown as a Saint in the November 20 win over the Los Angeles Rams. He will look to build on his 23 receptions for 258 yards with the scoring grab over the final five games of the season in helping New Orleans make a push up the NFC South division race.

TWO AT A TIME

Since Week 2 of his rookie season in 2014 until Week 2 of the 2021 campaign, Landry caught at least two passes in 111 consecutive games. His streak was the best in the NFL since 2014 and was the fourth-longest all-time.

BACK TO BACK TO BACK

With 3.5 sacks on January 2, 2022 vs. Carolina preceded by two takedowns apiece at Tampa Bay on December 19, 2021 and vs. Miami on December 27, Jordan became the first player to have multiple takedowns in three consecutive games in the NFL since he had a similar stretch from November 22-December 9, 2018.

ADDING TO THE COUNT

After splitting a sack of Pittsburgh Vegas QB Kenny Pickett on November 13 in Pittsburgh, Jordan has sacked 45 players in his 12-year NFL career.

MONDAY NIGHT MAYHEM

Jordan has had some of his biggest performances on one of the NFL's biggest spotlights, Monday Night Football. Since 2012, Jordan's 12 sacks on Monday Night Football are first in the NFC and second in the NFL. Overall, since sacks were first formally recognized in the NFL in 1982, Jordan's 12 sacks on Monday nights is tied for 16th all-time. With one takedown on December 5 at Tampa Bay, Jordan would move into a tie for 12th, with two the top ten.

FOUR IN A ROW

Jordan has had three consecutive contests of at least one sack in 2013, 2014, 2016, 2017-19 and 2021-22. With at least one sack in the final four contests of 2021, Jordan did so twice in a season for the first time. In the January 9 season finale at Atlanta, when Jordan dropped Falcons signal-caller Matt Ryan for the 23rd time, he finished the campaign with least one takedown in four consecutive games for the second time in his career, which matched a stretch from October 6-October 27, 2019. In the October 9 win vs. Seattle, with two sacks of Seahawks QB Geno Smith, Jordan has recorded takedowns in three consecutive games for the ninth season and with takedowns in his last two contests will have the opportunity to do so for the second time this season on Monday night vs. Baltimore.

ONE OF 15

With three sacks of Buccaneers QB Tom Brady in 2021, Jordan is now one of only 15 NFL players to have at least 15 sacks against two opponents, 17 against Tampa Bay and 23 against Atlanta, after dropping former Falcons signal-caller Matt Ryan twice in 2021. Jordan's 23 takedowns of Ryan are the most a player has had against an individual quarterback in NFL history.
